The Right of the Government of the United States of America

Proceed with the Settlement of Hawaiian Affairs.

The Advertiser and the Star, the government and the annexation club organs, are very much exercised over a telegraphic despatch from the N. Y. Herald's Washington correspondent announcing that an election would probably be ordered in these islands to determine the form of government the Hawaiians prefer, and which appears in a "special" despatch from Washington to the S. F. Chronicle. (any matter of news of such importance reported in the Chronicle must be "the whole truth," or it would not be published.) In fact that despatch has put both of these papers into "a fit" which proves conclusively that there must be more "truth" than poetry in what the Herald's correspondent says. These admirable sheets have informed us that the Government of the United States of America cannot hold an election here to determine a permanent form of government; that that Government cannot take any steps for or make any negotiations for a future government here without the consent and endorsement of the "Provisional" government, the government at present in existence, placed there by Mr. J. L.
Stevens when representing the United States of America. It is a matter of no concern to this community whether the present government has or has not received any diplomatic or any other dispatches confirming the telegram referred to. There is no doubt that the information contained in the Chronicle's despatch is correct. These sheets are bold with their threatening assertions. They should not be too hasty, perhaps the day will come when all that they have said will have to be taken back.

A Provisional Government, is a temporary government or a government for the occasion temporarily established, such is the status of the present government as stated in section II of its own proclamation of the 17th of January last, wherein it says, it is "to exist until terms of union with the United States of America have been negotiated and agreed upon."

The present government assumed control under protest from Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani. That protest was acknowledged and received for and on behalf of the Provisional Government by Sanford B. Dole, Chairman of Executive Council of the Provisional Government. In her protest the Queen states that, "I yield to the superior force of the United States of America whose Minister Plenipotentiary, His Excellency John L. Stevens, has caused United States troops to be landed at Honolulu and declared that he would support the said Provisional Government". In the next section of her protest she says, "I do

PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, SEPT. 26, 1893

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The ball given at the Palace last night, was according to the Advertiser a semi-official cast in that the government combined with a certain political organization in gathering a number of its supporters together as a last, and dying kick in memoriam of the now defunct annexation scheme. The very "democratic" assembly which met at the Palace, was, so to say, the last of the annexation promoters in the last ditch. The amusing mixture of the "missionary families" with the American lottery-element, and the drol hundred was characteristic of the political situation in Hawaii. The first element working for political power and their pockets, the second, for places under any government, and the third, for easily earned bread and butter, made a rather incongruous combination, and must have made a peculiar impression on the strangers who visited the ball. The gathering neither represented the citizens of Hawaii, nor Honolulu society, or at least, not the "full-dress" society of the Hawaiian capital. If the Boston officers enjoyed the company they are to be congratulated.

The Advertiser in a deep and mysterious manner tries to explain why Admiral Skerret did not prohibit his subordinates from participating in the political demonstration directed against the Hawaiians of last night and says that Europeans can not look through the glasses of "western civilization." "Western civilization" is a very good word and undoubtedly a very nice thing, but we yet believe that "western civilization" in regard to everything pertaining to military and naval matters can be vastly improved not alone in the actually arts of war but more especially in the line of discipline, etiquette, and corps d'esprit. The Boston officers snubbed the Admiral and their brother officers on the Philadelphia by saying away en masse from the ball given at the Hotel. If the parties mentioned are ready to pocket the snub they are welcome to do so but it doesn't make Europeans admire "western civilization."

That the ladies who managed the ball at the Hotel and issued the invitations which the Boston officers did not accept meekly pocketed the insult and again undertook the functions of managing and receiving at the palace ball, need surprise nobody. The ladies in Honolulu are not over-sensitive where ever naval officers are concerned—but that fact is as old as the hills and is being illustrated weekly, daily, yes, hourly.

It is evident that the editor of the Advertiser must have written his editorials for this morning's issue "after the ball was over."

because he has really succeeded in becoming more unfathomable than ever before. He starts telling us something about Honolulu's water-supply, branches off by deploring the defeat of the Reform Party in 1890—a defeat for which he, by the way, always has assumed a great portion of the honor and credit, but which he now says, was accomplished by the "boodlers and riff-raff"—and he then indulges in a splenetic attack on Claus Spreckels, whom he calls the "chief Hawaiian boodler and politician." After that feat, he kicks at the alleged royalists retained in government positions, and finishes with a final slap at the Queen. This conglomeration in an editorial column headed "The Ball" makes us confirmed in our suspicions, that brother, Johnstone must have had

That terribly tired feeling After the Ball.

We believe that it is the first time that Claus Spreckels has been dubbed a boodler by any journal or citizen of Hawaii. He has been given extremely many, more or less, complimentary names from the pens and mouths of his political enemies in Hawaii, since he invested his money here but we have not till now heard him describe as a boodler. The man who has brought more money here for investment than all the other planters put together, who has developed, and by his energetic and enterprising example encouraged the sugar industry, who has filled our harbors with steamers and vessels, and who to-day pays an immense proportion of the revenues of the country into the treasury, can hardly be termed a boodler. He has before been called a highway-robber and a pirate—well he may have "stood the planters up" and made them accept his terms,—the planters who fought him and tried to destroy and ruin him in these Islands, but a boodler is a man who through under-handed means, and a sneaking manner tries without increasing the wealth of a community to drain the treasury with his vulgare claws, who by manipulating, compromising, lying and promising, gains his ends on the same principle as the Jesuits; but there is nothing under-handed about Claus Spreckels. He prefers fight to compromise every day in the week—and he never gets defeated.

STATISTICS.

We republish to-day from our issue of Thursday the 21st inst., the valuable statistical table compiled by Hon. A. Marques and will in this issue further analyze the present status of the Hawaiian population. The estimated changes in the population since the census was taken in 1890, have been calculated partly from the returns in the Custom House, in regard to arrivals and departures of different nationalities, and partly from the increase in the birth rate over the death rate as estimated by the Board of Health.

We see then that the increase in the population is mainly artificial. We term it so, because only a small portion of the increase is due to excess of birth while the larger portion is due to immigration to the Islands of Asiatics. These Asiatics are laborers of a temporary and transient character, and never becoming permanent settlers or forming a permanent portion of the inhabitants of Hawaii. The figures will show that while the increase in the population amounted to 9,112 souls from 1834 to 1890, it has reached the amount of 8,894 souls from 1890 to July 31st, 1893. If the increase should be continued in the same proportion in the future, the result to Hawaii will be disastrous. We have pointed out the transient character of the increase, but it is still worthy of notice that this increase consists nearly solely of men and that only a very small proportion of women are imported. The effect on the moral status of the country by such an unfortunate condition should not be overlooked.

The classification of the population as to nationalities show that the Hawaiians are 45.14 per cent. of the whole population, while the Asiatic amount to-day to 37.26 per cent. (in 1890 to 30.74 per cent.) The balance of the population under the heading of Other Foreigners amounts to 24.12 per cent., but in that amount is included the Hawaiian born foreigners amounting to 8.32 per cent. Of these other foreigners, the Portuguese introduced here as plantation laborers, and as a whole, an ignorant class amount to 9.57 per cent., while the Hawaiian born Portuguese amount to 4.57 per cent. The Americans reach the ridiculously small per-centage of 2.14 per cent. of the whole population, or a per-centage of 4.72 of the native population. As everybody is aware, it is untrue that this American 2.14 per cent. of the whole population favors annexation, or is in sympathy with the revolutionists—but, even if they are the British here amount to 2.48 per cent. of the population nearly all of whom are opposed to annexation, and the British and Germans together to 2.63 per cent., or somewhat more than the per centage in America

We showed our Thursday issue why the Americans certainly cannot build their claim for political supremacy in Hawaii on their wealth, and we will show that they can do so still less by reason of the political strength of the American colony. There are according to our table 45,581 males over 15 years of age, of whom only 13,593 have claimed the right to vote and registered. Of these 70.31 per cent are natives, 1.09 per cent. Hawaiian born foreigners, and 28.60 other foreigners including 15,333 illiterate Portuguese. The Americans clamoring for supremacy reach the notable proportion of 4.66 per cent. of the total amount of voters or 6.06 per cent. of the native voters. They have among them in actual figures only 637 voters, while the Britishers registered as voters amount to 505, and the half-castes alone to 777.

It should moreover be remembered that the abnormal situation exists in this country that a man can vote without being a naturalized citizen. Were only such entitled to vote, the figures given by us would be materially changed and the Americans as well as the Portuguese and other foreigners be completely "out of sight."

They are all perfectly willing to assume the rights belonging to all naturalized citizens in all countries they are very unwilling to assume the duties devolving on a man who makes up his mind to become a permanent resident and a loyal citizen of a country. It would be well if we could finally impress on the minds of the annexationists both here and in America the following figures relating to Americans in Hawaii: They are 2.14 per cent. of the whole population, and 4.66 per cent. of the voters; only 177 out of 1,198 males over 15 years own real estate, only 1,330 (out of a total of 41,908) are tax-payers. They pay only 26 per cent. of all the taxes annually paid into the treasury—including the taxes paid by the anti-annexationist Claus Spreckels, who pays more than one-half of the 26 per cent. paid by "Americans." Only 101 of them are actually engaged in the sugar-industry, which is the marrow and bone of Hawaii, and a great majority of them have refused to give up their American citizenship, and swear allegiance to Hawaii.

On WHAT then do they base their claim to dispose of the future destiny of these Islands—and echo answers: On NAUGHT.

A committee of the P. G. Councils is now sitting on the military expenditures. We desire to present them with a little exercise in arithmetic—or some other branch of mathematics. If sixty (60) soldiers at a total cost of $2,000 per month were unnecessarily too numerous to guard a Queen on her throne surrounded by her loyal people what degree of popular devotion accrues to a Provisionally dote-ful, hatch-way who cannot even give a ball at other people's expense without being guarded by 200 soldiers under arms at $17,000 a month? A reward is offered for the best solution.

The famous male of the public works department has evidently been shelved for another pet. The Superintendent was at least seen driving around with a monkey on his knee this morning.

"After the Boston Ball" Notes.

It is said, that the Palace Building was desecrated last night.

That the entertainment given there was the poorest ever seen or attended in Honolulu.

That Portuguese women with babes in their arms were parading through the ball room.

That the supper was poor, that no sandwiches were provided, that the salad oil was rancid, that there were unbuttered junks of bread served.

That guests grumbled about the condition of the supper.

That all styles and conditions of clothing were worn last night.

That the guests followed the Star's suggestion in that respect.

That as at 10 o'clock the female portion and children of the Punchbowl slopes brigade, made a grand charge on the supper tables, there was not any supper left at 11 o'clock.

That the following duet was heard at the ball: Tourist. "So that duffer that shaves his head instead of his jaws is your General, eh?" Kamaaina, correcting him. "No, he is only Commander-of-the-forces-with-the-rank-of-colonel." Tourist. "Lord; what a muff! Why, I'll bet he don't know how to draw his sword." Kamaaina. "Perhaps you are right, but—you should see him draw his sword."

That the "prominent native Hawaiians" at the ball last night about whom the Advertiser speaks consisted of Messrs Kawa'nnui, Josepa and John Ena—a trio indeed!

That the "Diplomats" whom the Star said, would be at the ball last night were not to be seen.

That Lucien Young was silent and speechless last night. Had anybody been cruel enough to put a padlock on his over-flowing mouth?

That the lady patronesses did not follow the Star's suggestion, and occupy seats on the Dias. Was it respect for the Queen, or the fear of an evil conscience that prevailed and caused the better course.

That one Hawaiian Royalist went, because he wanted to "show off" his pretty bride, and that he has been kicking himself all night and all day, because there was nobody to "show off" to.

That one thousand persons did not attend the ball, that it was the slimmest gathering of society people ever seen in this city, and that the Advertiser is ashamed to publish the names of those present.

That the ball was referred to as a "grand fiasco," by one who was present.

That the annexationists are sending abroad by the mail this afternoon a list of the invited guests for political purposes, that it will be a misrepresentation, that will not be believed after the HoloMUA is read.

That a gentleman guest went to the punch room for a drink, on approaching the punch bowl a large Portuguese lady just finished drinking what she wished from a glass and threw the remainder back into the bowl.

That the gentlemen did not take any punch.

THAT INVESTIGATION.

We have learned with decidedly pleasurable sensations, that an investigation has been ordered, and is now in progress, on the part of some of the P. G. patriots, into the expenditures of certain others of the P. G. patriots,—and that the patriots of the alleged "army" are the bright, particular patriots who are to be investigated. This action may seem ungrateful to the heroes who are about to be thus subjected to the calcium light of official inquiry. To think that such illumination should be turned upon their patriot deeds, especially after their performance of the somewhat rare feat, (vide one of themselves, in an earlier issue of the "organ,") of having not only "given up their lives" for the holy cause, but being "willing to do it again." Why should such heroic "freaks" be investigated? We feel confident that we are but voicing the sentiment of the patriots afore said, in declaring that in their heroic modesty, they court no such prominence as that they are threatened withal, and that they would much prefer to "fight, bleed and die," continuously and repeatedly, in the service of their (borrowed) country, rather than be exposed to the scrutinizing inquiries of a cold and cruel investigating committee, who understand naught of true patriotism, mayhap, (especially in the matter of expenditures,) to say nothing of the rank and rampant royalists, who may misconstrue their holy motives. Since that good and wise old Doctor Johnson has defined "patriotism" to be "the last resort of a scoundrel," we are not disposed to deny that the Provisional Government's military heroes are, for the most part, genuine patriots, nor that their patriotism has been conspicuously displayed in their service of the present most saintly of all earthy governments, too saintly, alas, to long continue in life. The HoloMUA has no doubt that an efficient investigation will unearth great big chunks of "patriotism" in the financial management of the "force," such as would make good old Doctor Johnson proud of his definition, as above quoted. But for the present we do not propose to assist the committee overmuch in their exertions. Still, we will keep our eye peeled to see that they do not permit themselves to be metamorphosed into a whitewash brigade. But it may prove interesting to the committee to inquire into the price paid for snare drums, and to ask who furnished the same? Let us know whether that conspicuous and resplendent patriot, the Commander-of-the-forces-with-the-rank-of-Colonel, could have obtained those drums for $10.00 each, but those to furnish them himself, (in his capacity of the Hawaiian News Company), for the thrifty figure of $14.00 each? We'd like to know, you know. And how reassuring to be able to silence the ungodly yelpers who are shouting "thief" at the holy ones in office, by showing that Holy Willie, the Quarter-Master-General, has neither bulled the prices, nor unduly expanded the military market for his own wares. Come to think it over: yes: certainly, let the patriots be investigated.

Mr. Thomas P. Cummins

one of the most popular young Hawaiians in Honolulu, is being pestered by questions, why he has resigned his position in the office of Grinbaum & Co., in this city. He desires us to state that he did not resign from the firm mentioned, but that he was dismissed by Mr. C. Bolte, the manager, for refusing to lease certain property belonging to him to the Waimanalo Plantation at the terms offered by Mr. Bolte.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Boston left at 1:30 o'clock p. m.

The Oceanic leaves this afternoon at 4 p.m. for San Francisco.

We regret to learn of the serious illness of Mr. Th. W. Everett at his home in Waikapu, Maui.

The Hawaiian 4-masted schooner from Tacoma en route to France arrived this forenoon. She called at this port to procure her register.

The Ball was a howling success. That is to say the soldiers and government employees howled for the Star lunch which the Portuguese had already scoffed—in bags!!

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas upon the arrival of the "new royalist" who came into their household last Saturday. We also congratulate the young lady on the fact that the Boston ball, was a thing of the past before her being able to attend such festivities.

The Oceanic.

The O. S. S. Oceanic, Captain W. M. Smith, arrived last night at 7:30 o'clock, 11 days out from Yokohama. She brought 354 tons of cargo for this port and 1600 tons in transit for San Francisco. Also 116 Chinese passengers for Honolulu. She departs at 4 p. m. to-day.

under this protest and impelled by said force yield my authority until such time as the Government of the United States shall upon the facts being presented to it undo the action of its representative and reinstale me in the authority which I claim as the Constitutional Sovereign of the Hawaiian Islands".
The present government accepted the entire terms embodied in that protest when it was endorsed by Sanford B. Dole.

In accordance with the terms of that protest the facts relating to the dethronement of the Queen have been presented to the Government of the United States of America. The Provisional Government under section 2 of its proclamation has sent Commissioners innumerable to arrange terms of union, and to negotiate treaties.
Both parties in submitting their claims to the United States of America have therefore by such action recognized that Government to be their arbitrator, by whose decision both parties will have to abide.

As arbitrator the Government of the United States of America has the lawful right to take any steps that it may choose towards the determination and settlement of the present political differences. So when it is reported that the Government of the United States of America proposes to order certain proceedings carried out, it is childish on the part of the Advertiser and the Star clique to squirm and wriggle and say, that the United States Government will have to obtain the permission of this government before it can proceed.

Those who seem to overlook the fact, that the Government of the United States has recognized our present government merely as a matter of form pending the investigation. The attention of the cliques represented by the Advertiser and the Star might be drawn to the fact, that no other Power has recognized this government even as a government de facto.

HAWAIIAN ANNEXATION.

This is what the New York Herald of the 2nd of September says, on Hawaiian annexation:

"Elsewhere in the Herald this morning Mr. Charles Nordhoff disposes of a batch of annexation attacks naturally aroused by his telling Hawaiian despatches.

"He shows, that the jingo claim that the natives want annexation is contrary to the facts.
They are strongly opposed to it, and that is sufficient reason why the United States should not annex the islands, since annexation without the consent of the people would be simply forcible seizure. But even if the Hawaiians did want it, that would not settle the question. It is not the policy of the United States to annex a distant group of islands simply because they desire to be annexed. The question is whether we want them.

"In this case the people of the United States, as well as the people of Hawaii, are opposed to annexation. That should settle the matter."

Merchant.
