MR. CLEVELAND'S POLICY.

The annexation question in the United States took a new phase when the word reached there about the lowering of the flag. It at once went into politics. Before that time it had not been made a distinctive issue in the partisan press and hustings, but the opportunity which the event of April 1 gave the Republican papers to assail President Cleveland could not be resisted and so they went at him hammer and tongs.

Ordinarily such a Republican rising would have been hurtful to the cause because it would have turned the Democratic party, now dominant in American affairs, against the annexationist movement. Happily the effect was otherwise. The strongest Democratic papers in the country were smart enough not to let the Republicans again monopolize a patriotic issue, so they joined hands against their own administration.

Really this is sad. One of the royalist papers contradicts our statement that the Boston's troops landed to protect American property, with an alleged remark of Col. Blount that the landing struck him as a huge joke.

Under the new press act the names and places of residence of the proprietors of each Hawaiian journal must be kept standing in its columns. As the proprietors of the STAR number about a hundred, it is to be hoped that some modification of the rule may be made which will permit the names of the managing directors only to appear.

If all the iron that has entered the soul of the Bulletin since the STAR's success was gained could be sold for junk and the proceeds given to the unhappy creditors of the royalist organ, there might be some chance of that moribund print getting through the summer.

The lawn party this afternoon given by the Missionary Gleasers on the grounds of W. R. Castle was most enjoyable. There were a great many present and the special entertainments as well as the music, delighted everybody.

THE NORDHOFF LETTER.

Some Echoes From the Chorus of Public Indignation.

EDITOR STAR:—I will not attempt to answer Nordhoff's letter, as I have no time to nail all of his lies, but one little extract is quite sufficient to show his utter unreliability.

He writes as follows: All of both parties frankly acknowledged that the natives, forty thousand in number and all of proper age, able to read and write and brought up under American missionary training, with a very few exceptions, are strongly opposed to annexation.

I wish to emphasize this fact—confessed by all the annexationists I have seen—that the natives are so strongly opposed to annexation, there are against these 40,000 natives, 1,928 Americans, men, women and children, most, though by no means all of whom want and cry out for annexation. The leaders of these are heads of the falling provisional government.

You will note his intentional deceitful expression, "natives all of proper age 40,000—Americans, including women and children, 1,928."

Referring to Thrum's Almanac, 1893, page 12, you will find: Native males, including boys all ages, 18,364; Half-castes, males, 3,085; Hawaiian-born, foreign parents, 3,099; American, males, 1,298; British, " 982; German, " 739; Norwegian, " 155; Portuguese, " 4,770; Other European nationalities, 417.

Just one remark more: All my family belongs to "Hawaiian born, foreign parents," and they all are good Hawaiians and American annexationists. I also believe that more than one-half of all natives and half-castes are on our side and that the rest will follow within two months after annexation.

Rebuke Number Two.

EDITOR STAR:—Mr. Nordhoff had been only one day in Honolulu when he sent off his remarkable letter of April 8th to the N. Y. Herald. Did the editors of that paper consider that report on the Hawaiian question as a finality, which would be conclusive once for all with the President and Senate? Without referring to the dates, nothing more is needed than the contents of the letter to prove that the ideas were supplied by the ex-Queen's envoys on board of the Albatross. The writer may possibly have glanced at the Holonoman after landing.

As a sample of Mr. Nordhoff's blundering—I will not call it by a worse name—take his statement of the supporters of annexation as consisting of the "1,928 Americans, men, women, and children." He excludes all the rest of the 20,000 whites, the great majority of whom, including about all the very intelligent and capable Portuguese, "want and cry out for annexation." His reasoning is evidently this: the United States have no call to consider the claims of any but the American born people in Hawaii. The wishes of all other whites are of no account whatever.

He especially ignores with scorn the claim upon American consideration of the two or more thousand whites of American descent who were born in Hawaii. These are strongly American in sentiment and in attachment to the fatherland, where large numbers of them were educated. The claims of American born residents to a voice in the matter are very commonly decided as that of mere adventurers and traders, here by suffrage. Then when a much larger number of Americans born here ask to be heard, they are calmly ignored by this judicial arbiter of our fate, as not Americans at all, and therefore having no claim to be considered!

The peculiar force of our claim to be dealt with as an acclimated American Colony in Hawaii is that the many thousand whites born here, are largely of American birth, and are mostly educated in schools of American tone, and trained in an American business and social atmosphere. Americans visiting here unconsciously forget that they are not still in America. They feel at home—not in a foreign land. All this goes to prove how ripe the time has become for consummating in law the union that already exists in feeling.

Mr. Nordhoff was a strong royalist when here twenty years ago. All his sympathies then were with King Lot and his arbitrary constitution. He is still on the side of divine right and absolute power, and sees nothing but wrong in the acts of those who refuse to be trampled on by degraded and arbitrary monarchs. Our people had many kind thoughts toward this man when he landed here. He has proved himself unworthy of regard. He may perhaps have been born in the United States. An American heart he does possess, nor understand. HAWAII.

New Police Buttons.

The Police department received new buttons by the last steamer to replace the old ones on their uniforms. The bear the letters H. P., surmounted by the outspread figure of the American eagle. They are an exact fac-simile of police buttons as worn by American policeman. They won't have been changed when annexation comes.

Aim at the Drake

And you are bound to hit some of the ducks. This is precisely the same with

Wampole's Tasteless Preparation

Cod Liver Oil.

It aims to cure Consumption, Hits the Mark, too, and it most effectually breaks up Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness and all Throat and Lung troubles that cause this disease.

It is natural logic to conclude that if WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL has power to prevent Consumption, it surely is able to cure these lesser emergencies.

This vigor-making, fat producing preparation is Absolutely Tasteless, in so far as Cod Liver Oil is concerned. All you notice is a delightful flavor of Wild Cherry and Anise.

But the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is there all the same. It is a great blood enricher. Best of all it is a natural food that in its stomachic effects, actually assists its own assimilation.

In Pulmonary or Bronchial troubles it is unequalled. No one doubts the value of Cod Liver Oil, but not every one is able to take it.

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION removes the nauseous objection and actually makes Cod Liver Oil palatable.

THURSTON'S OPINIONS.

HE GIVES THEM TO A CHICAGO AUDIENCE.

A Symposium at the Union League Club—An Exhibition of Hawaiian Pictures.

"What Shall Be the Future Political Relations Between the United States and the Sandwich Islands," was the subject selected by the committee of political action, of the Union League Club for discussion at last night's adjourned quarterly meeting.

The stereopticon exhibition came first. It lasted an hour, and, as Mr. Irwin explained, it was "An imaginary trip to Hawaii."

At the conclusion of Mr. Irwin's lecture he was enthusiastically applauded, and then President Peck introduced Mr. Thurston, who said, in part:

"I am glad to be a guest of the Union League Club to-night. The cause that I represent is one that is growing, and I am especially glad to be able to present my views of annexation to the brains of Chicago."

Mr. Thurston then described the many evolutions that have recently disturbed Hawaii. He compared the sentiment in the islands on the occasion of these outbreaks to the wave of feeling which swept over the United States when Sumter was fired on.

"We want," said he, "not necessarily to come in as a State. We want a responsible government. We have no politicians there, and we want to be sure when we go to bed at night that we can get up in morning and know that there is no revolution on hand."

Mr. Thurston said that of the 20,000 white population not 1 per cent would oppose annexation, if a vote were taken. He declared that with a prospect of the destruction of Hawaii's royalty the hearts of the people have bounded with joy, and will not go back to the rule of the Queen without making a protest that will be most decisive.

In concluding, Mr. Thurston said that the annexation of Hawaii does not necessarily mean the introduction of a general annexation business for America. He said that with annexation, Hawaii would get an impetus in business that would equal that given some of the Western States, and that the island commerce would, in every way, be a benefit to the United States. At the conclusion of Mr. Thurston's lecture, President Peck proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Thurston and Mr. Irwin for the splendid entertainment furnished during the evening. The vote was passed with hearty assent.

Hauling Down the American Flag.

The American flag hauled down! Such is the news from Hawaii—news in some respects the most humiliating and astonishing that this country has received since the flag was hauled down at Fort Sumter. For the first time in the history of the Republic the symbol of American authority has been withdrawn from territory which had been formally declared under American protection. For the first time in American history American prestige has been deliberately degraded by an American President. It is no wonder that some of the gallant officers of the Mithican said, as they turned away from the scene, that they felt as if they "had no right to witness the act." Every American worthy of the name must feel a personal sense of shame and indignation at such a cowardly and treacherous retreat from a position assumed with the consent and by the invitation of the Hawaiians themselves, and recognized by the express or tacit approval of civilized mankind.

The Cleveland government will hereafter be known as the Administration which hauled down the American flag. By that term it will go down to history; by that designation it will be stigmatized in the mind and memory of every true American. The Hawaiian Islands are American territory by every claim of justice, of vested interest and of world wide recognition. The Americans gave Hawaii civilization and rescued the people from degrading barbarism. Americans control the property interest of the islands, and the best people of the islands are Americans born in Hawaii. The islands are necessary to the United States, for imperative reasons apparent to any one who has studied the naval and commercial interests of the country. The hoisting of the American flag in Hawaii was dictated alike by patriotism, by prudence and by intelligent foresight. It was approved by the American people, with the exception of that element whose opinions are controlled by British affiliations and whose aim is to please the public opinion of London.

The wrong and shame of hauling down the American flag at Hawaii should be redressed. Public opinion should make itself heard, even in the White House, and the obstinate and jealous politician who apparently imagines that he can play fast and loose with the honor and the interest of the nation should be made to feel the force of that opinion. When President Harrison framed the annexation treaty with Hawaii, he consulted not his own judgment only, but the virtually unanimous wishes of the American people. In reversing the course of the previous Administration Cleveland has the people of the United States, who apply indorsed that course, to reckon with.

Apart from the blot on the national honor of hauling down the American flag on territory which justly belongs to the United States, there is another and deplorable aspect to this despicable act. It will and perhaps it has already been considered an invitation to insurrection and massacre. The Hawaiian Islands have among their population many thousands of ignorant and barbarous Asiatics with evil passions that readily find expression in outrage and violence. The flag of the United States has been a warning that a power capable of suppressing disorder and of inflicting condign punishment on law breakers, was present to protect the substantial and intelligent portion of the residents. All that is now changed. The flag that guaranteed peace and security no longer floats in Honolulu. The vessels which brought news of the lowering of the flag also brought news of the apprehensions which that incident had naturally excited, and of the resolution of the men of American blood and descent not to surrender, except to irresistible force, the free government which has been organized in place of that royalty which had proved itself as worthless as it was mischievous.

It goes without saying that men of the American race will defend their rights, whatever the odds against them, and however basely abandoned they may be by that authority which should have felt it a duty to extend over Americans everywhere the shield of the power of the Republic. If bloodshed and massacre and European interference are the results of hauling down the American flag in Hawaii, the people of the United States will understand where the responsibility rests.—New York Press.

M. McINERNEY.

Are we to be, or not to be, a part of the Great Republic, seems to be the burning question of the day, and one we had rather leave to wiser heads than ours to solve; and while great statesmen are wrestling with this momentous question, we want to have a little "port-wine" with you on some other subjects, that concern you as well as ourselves.

Has it not occurred to you that you've been wearing that old hat long enough! In these progressive times if you intend to be "in it," you've got to keep pace with fashion. No matter how otherwise well dressed you may be, unless your hat is the correct thing you bear a shabby appearance.

We have already laid in a stock of the Latest Hats of the coming Spring and Summer styles, in hard felts, soft felts and straws, and including a line of the celebrated "Fidora" Hats, at present all the rage in the United States. There is therefore, no necessity for you to hang on any longer to that old Tile that bears such a strong resemblance to the hat "your father wore."

Believing that business will be better in the near future, we have not hesitated to keep our stock full in all lines. Take cuffs for instance: We have almost everything you could wish for. If you wear a standing collar, just come in and take a look at our "Narenta" or "Ardonia;" or if you prefer a turn down collar, try the "Winnipeg" or "Goswell;" we have have lots of others, and can't fail to suit you. Cuffs in abundance, links or otherwise.

Neckwear in profusion, scarfs, windsors 4-in-hands, and a special lot of "Boys' Bows," suspenders in great variety, leather and woven ends, good strong, serviceable goods.

We might go on indefinitely, but space is valuable, and to enumerate everything we carry would fill a pretty fair sized Book. If there is anything you want in the men's line, just drop in and see us, and if we can't suit you, we don't believe any one can.

If you should want a pair of nice shoes, let us try a hand at fitting you. Did it ever occur to you

How much a man is like his shoes; For instance, both a soul may lose. Both have been tanned; Both are made tight by Cobblers; Both get left and right; Both need a mate to be complete; And both are made to go on feet.

They both need healing; oft are sold, And both in time will turn to mould. With shoes the last is first; with men The first shall be the last; and when The shoes wear out, they're mended new;

When men wear out, they're men dead too.

They both are trod upon, and both Will tread on others nothing loth. Both have their ties, and both incline When polished, in the world to shine; And both get out. Now would you choose To be a man, or be his shoes.

AN AFFAIR OF HEARTS.

COURTSHIPS OF A MARRIED JOURNALIST.

C. E. Washburne's Strange Infatuation and the Troubles it has Led Him Into.

Just before his departure for San Francisco yesterday the Monowai, C. E. Washburne announced to representatives of the press and others that he should return and marry a daughter of John Cummins. Mr. Washburne is a newspaper man of the coast metropolis and left there for Honolulu February 3. His wife, a refined, sad-faced lady was at the wharf to bid him good-bye and wish him a safe and speedy return. The two had been married for some years and lived in a cottage of their own at Berkeley.

It appears from the story which Mr. Washburne told freely and apparently wished to have known here that he had not lived happily with his wife and so fell an easy victim to the charms of Miss Cummins. He seemed to have made his choice deliberately as he had taken abundant pains to acquaint himself with the attractions of other native and half white women and reached the conclusion that she was the pick of the flock.

A gentleman believed to be Mrs. Washburne's lawyer arrived on the Mariposa to investigate. He said to a STAR reporter that, some weeks ago, Mr. Washburne had written his wife giving full details of his courtship and of his relations with various women here, to the end that she might secure a divorce and release him from his marital vows. The wife was nearly distracted and went weeping to her husband's acquaintances, who advised her to go to an attorney. She did so, and the result was a letter from the lawyer, which Mr. Washburne received about six weeks since, that if he would deed over his interest in the Berkeley homestead to his wife she would free him from his bonds.

In the meantime Washburne had written his better half asking for a loan of $50 with which to buy an engagement ring for Miss Cummins. As Mrs. Washburne had no funds and no inclination to meet the demand if she had been solvent, the newspaper man was obliged to await his regular remittances. These were liberal and Mr. Washburne had no trouble, finally, in sealing his new compact with a solitaire.

The unfortunate hero of these adventures is 26 years old, and in times past, has done capable work in his profession. It is the charitable belief of those who know him here that he is afflicted with one of the forms of acute mania and that, if he secures asylum treatment of the proper kind, he will live to atone, if possible, for his deplorable errors.

On his departure yesterday his inamorata and her female friends were at the dock, hanging leis about his neck and filling the air with their "alohas."

Washburne's father and mother are living, but they separated several years ago.

THE POSTOFFICE.

The Postmaster General Suggests Wise Improvements.

Postmaster General Oat is in favor of having the lower story of the building adjoining the postoffice and now used by J. A. Magoon and C. W. Ashford vacated. He wants to put the Postal Savings and money order departments there and to use all the regular postoffice space for the accommodation of those who mail and receive letters and buy stamps. This will permit an increase of the number of mail boxes and the addition of a stamp window which shall always be open during business hours. Under the proposed arrangement the general delivery will also be continuously at the public service.

By keeping the office open during the time that through steamers are in port it is believed that a vast number of postage stamps will be sold to tourists for collections.

Mr. Oat's plan will involve the hiring of a new clerk, but it will offset the expense of that by the extra business done and the convenience which it will afford to the Honolulu public.

FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Siva-Siva Dancing Girls and Boxing Kangaroos.

On the Monowai yesterday was quite motley assortment of freaks from the Southern Hemisphere, designed for show at the World's Fair. Chief amongst them were four Siva-Siva dancing girls who, under the guidance of Manager Stevenson of Apia, will open as a tropical attraction in songs and dances in Chicago upon their arrival there. Three boxing kangaroos were also on exhibition, in large wooden cages on the upper deck and hardly look the sluggards that they really are. J. Tait of Sydney is manager of this attraction and shows with especial pride the Australian wonder "Jack," who has boxed every other kangaroo into southernness in Australia. The animals stand, on an average, six and a half feet high and are marvels of strength and agility. They box with gloves on and soon knock out the best of professional sparrers.

The Next Mails.

The next mail from the coast will arrive on the Belgic, Thursday. It will be followed by the Australia's mail on the 17th and the Monowai's on June 1. The Oceanic is due to leave here tomorrow with American and European mails.

Relics of the Ancients.

A Portuguese recently sold a coin to Dr. J. A. Macquire which dates back to the reign of Antiochus, 600 years before Christ. Since the announcement of the find was made a friend of the STAR has brought in a piece of cloth which he unwound from an Egyptian mummy named Penpi, who died in the time of the prophet Elisha, 14 years before the founding of Rome. The cloth is as bright and firm of texture as though woven ten years since. There were nineteen meters of it about the mummy, the outside pieces being tarred with some fragrant paste.

A TYPICAL INTERVIEW.

How Commissioner Blount Gives Out Information.

"Good morning Mr. Commissioner," said the STAR reporter to Colonel Blount. "You seem to have loosed the dogs of war in the United States."

"So it seems?"

"Well, I haven't seen the papers yet—at least, no Eastern papers."

"Is there anything new in your investigations?"

The Commissioner turned a cold eye STAR-wards and looked astounded. "I can't say," said he.

"When do you expect to return?"

"I really don't know. Haven't made up my mind."

"Don't you think it unfortunate," ventured the reporter, "that the annexation cause has been made a party issue in the United States?"

"I didn't know as it had been."

"How are you enjoying yourself here Mr. Commissioner?"

Mr. Blount reflected: "Oh, very well," said he cautiously, "I can't say as I am having a hilarious time."

"Pleasant day?" inquired the reporter.

Commissioner Blount looked suspiciously about but did not commit himself.

Native Juries.

The item about native juries in this paper which awakes the logorrhoic tremors of the dying Bulletin, was ascribed to Prosecuting Attorney Wilder. It was simply a news report of his remarks and cannot be construed as a STAR attack, dastardly or otherwise, upon those to whom it referred. Invalids are usually irritable and this accounts, no doubt, for the recurring criticisms of the two royalist organs upon this journal.

An Important Omission.

By the accidental dropping of a line yesterday in setting an item of Court proceedings, Kalamakee, the discharged district magistrate, was accused of having feloniously branded a horse. The missing line read, "having merely admonished a man for." Mr. Kalamakee's offence was in letting the horse offender go too easily.

Rain and Snow.

There has been a good supply of rain on the Island of Hawaii. During the month of April, 24 inches fell on the Volcano Road, 21 in Hilo Town, from 6 to 10 inches in Hamakua, and so on down to 6 inches in Kohala. Snow fell on the mountain's on the 8th of April.

The Opium Theft.

Mary Sutherland, who was arrested yesterday for implication in the Station House Opium theft, was remanded until Monday morning, and released on her own recognizance. The police are still looking for A. W. Walker who is charged as being the guilty man.

Scurrilous Attacks.

Several annexationists have received packages of torn newspapers lately through the postoffice containing inner enclosures of a scurrilous kind. Abuse, obscenity, threats and pictures of skulls and cross bones abound. An investigation is under way.

Vicious Dogs.

Complaints are loud and frequent concerning the existence of two ferocious bulldogs on School near Nuuanu street. One badly frightened two ladies last night by a vicious attack from which they were rescued only after the dog had been severely beaten.

Police Court.

Geo. C. Ross a clerk in the Interior Department was the loser of two suits yesterday in the Police Court and judgement against him entered in favor of J. M. Camara for $196 and J. E. Gomes for $148.

The Vancouver Mails.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.—Messrs. Huddart Parker and Co.'s new steamer Miowera has been laid up, and her sister ship, the Warrinoo, is also to be laid up—pending arrangements for the Vancouver mail service—on her arrival from New Zealand. Regarding the terminus of the line, Mr. James Huddart thinks Sydney is the most suitable in every respect, and he can't entertain favorably the claims of Melbourne. He is anxious that the question of subsidy or no subsidy shall be decided without delay, as he is prepared to start the service at once.—New Zealand Herald.

[The first steamer of the new line will arrive at Honolulu, May 25th.]

NEWS NOTES FROM HILO.

A POTPOURRI OF POLITICS AND PUNGENCY.

Receiving the Natives—Development Notes—The Road Board—Rain-fall Statistics—The Carrier Dove.

HILO, May 3.—As we write, the indications are that before long Hilo will be its old self again. The weather has been sultry and now black clouds are beginning to bank up, and when onocellar rain drops begin to patter the streams and ditches become full to overflowing and miniature oceans spread across the streets, the heart of the patriotic Hiloite will swell with pride, and he will rejoice in having his home in this dew-kissed metropolis. Little does the Honoluluite realize the peculiar pleasure of a stay among us. How refreshing the air and our enlivening shades "for talking and whispering lovers made." But there are halcyon days to him 'n' us, after wearying of the jarring and interminable scenes of business life, flies to us to forget for a while his worries and troubles.

And now gentle reader, we invoke thy tender compassion for a while, our tempers are not easily ruffled, we can even endure a pan diluted below the consistency of water, but there are limits beyond which—commend us sooner to Job's blessings and friends. A gloom has settled over the place and we'll it might, when—

"There was a signal from New York, That was ally to think I could talk; Non-annexation would I saw, With the greatest of gall, This scurrilous rattle beyond gawk."

Thus the course of annexation has gone to the wall, this catastrophe has been brought about through the efforts and eloquence of a something named Carter. This poor little thing thought it would take up the gauntlet for the past Hawaiian, whom the hated missionary is driving to the wall with his cruel offer of a dollar a day for a day's labor, and so the Chinese Joss house was chosen, fit emblem of a worthy cause, in which to hold the meeting of the Hui Aha Aina. Whether the Chinese dragon god looked with complacency on this invasion of his realm, or whether he immediately resigned in disgust and volunteered his services as missionary for the next trip of the Morning Star, terras cash in United States gold coin, your chronicler is not prepared to say, further than the meeting was called to order and the usual prayer offered by that great apostle of fair elections Mr. E. Kekoa, who an unfeeling judge had convicted and sentenced to loss of civil rights. This victim of circumstances after stating the object of meeting to be the reading of letters received from Hon. Nawahi and Henry West called upon the Hon. Col. J. T. Baker to take the chair which this bold warrior did subsequently introducing the what-is-it of the day, called Carter. And so in due course of time the 150 or so Hawaiians assembled, fired with the ardor of patriots, pricked up their ears in endeavoring to make out the meaning of an unintelligible jargon in Hawaiian by this poor little thing who knocked around and stumbled in a ludicrous manner over a language it did not understand.

With the perspiration standing in beads upon its forehead it then launched forth in a violent invective against the government. With a fearful glance and withering scorn it hurled shot after shot upon the hated missionaries and the wicked commissioners and, finally wound up in a peroration of burning eloquence but rapid sense.

This poor little addequate whose appearance might be vastly improved by the removal of a few hairs around his chin, and a clean white collar around his throat really thinks it made a sensible speech and it leaves in a few days for a trip through Hamakua. Unfortunately the poison spread by a lot of renegades is working among an element that can ill afford to lose their means of subsistence, especially in this case among a number of policemen, and so the guillotine has been quite busy here lately and a number of heads have rolled in the basket. Their places have been filled from among the Portuguese who, we are pleased to say, are firm annexationists to a man; in fact have ever been with the law-abiding and reform element in past crises and though late in receiving it, should long since have been given recognition.

Almost the entire contingent of Hawaiians holding public office on this Island is composed of royalists of the most offensive type who secretly and openly grasp every opportunity that presents itself to cast discredit upon, and embarrass the government. Imagine a United States government official presiding over a meeting of anarchists devising ways, and means to subvert the government to their own ideals, and the parallel is perfect.

Politics, however, do not appear to enter very deeply into the calculations of the pioneers and settlers who have lately taken up land through the country, notably on the Volcano road. As to lots along the latter all the frontage has now been taken up to the 22d mile. The far reaching economic result by opening up this land to settlement can be seen by a glance at the rent roll which now amounts to over $1,100 per annum. Of course this will not come in until the end of the third year, but in the meantime extensive improvements are being made on the land, foremost among them being the operations conducted by the Kona Coffee & Commercial Co., of which McMasen, late of Colorado, is managing director. This gentleman besides possessing marked executive ability, brings to bear upon the work the results of previous experience in coffee culture. Other smaller interests are likewise pushing actively ahead. A number of parties, however, have taken out papers for land, with no other end in view than to speculate with their holding, taking undue advantage of the three years free location clause, to look around in the meanwhile for a substitute to whom they sell out at an advance. This abuse of liberal privilege should be strictly prohibited and the non-assignment clause be as literally interpreted, as in the government homestead act.

Volcano road construction is still crawling its snail pace along, and the progress made per month for some time past does not spread a meter of a mile. This is hardly a good policy, as the work should be pushed, and where the cost of superintendence is close on to $350 per month, or say $1000 per mile, more labor should be employed.

At last a new Road Board has been appointed for the district of Puna which means business, much to the sorrow of the succulent roaster. No more can the Kentucky racer essay to test the leverage ability of his proboscis on the macadamized band of boudiers by curtesy yclept a road. No more will the clarion tones of the gentle stamina flammescens wandering disconsolately along, ring out a welcome to your correspondent, which on dark nights makes his hat and hair a parachute.

And if the Puna Road Board has gone energetically to work at mending roads, how shall we express our appreciation of the performances of the one in Hilo, whose policy seems to be to dig away the streets leaving a more narrow ridge to walk and ride upon. This may be all very well for an acrobat with light rope ascension but the majority of plebeians decidedly object.

Mr. E. N. Hitchcock reports 19.79 inches of rain during the month of April for the town of Hilo. In the district it is probably less, while Mr. Watt of the Hamakua plantation who is in town fears that the severity of rain and rain now prevailing through Hamakua is largely owing to the excessive denudation of the forests in that locality. This theory is certainly worthy of careful reflection.

The four-masted schooner Carter D. ve leaves for San Francisco this morning with 1418 tons of sugar obtained from the Hakakua, Waimaku, and Waikaea plantations. A. R. L.

They Have Come!

These Razor Strops you have been waiting for several weeks, are here. Try the new Keystone Egg Beater, if you want a beater that will do quick, clean work.

Hose, 1/2-in. to 2-in., 3 and 4 ply plain or wired, just received; cheap and good quality; also carbonized. Fire Arms and Ammunition.—A new lot of Sporting and Target Rifles, Colt's new Navy, Smith and Wesson, and cheaper Revolvers, came last week and can now be seen. We carry the most complete assortment of Cartridges in town, from 22 to 50 cal., and always have plenty of them.

Leather.—We have received within the past six days, by steamer and sail, 66 Rolls of Leather, containing 9088 lbs., and 5347 ft.; also, 3 bales containing 142 doz. sheep skins, so it looks as if we meant to keep our Stock of Leather up, although by getting it in large lots, we are able to keep the prices down.

Salt.—We are headquarters for Hawaiian Salt, as we make it. That the quality is good, and Price Low, is easily shown by the large quantity we sell every week.

Blight Compound.—Five gallons will make 65 gallons of wash. You spray your Lime and Orange Trees with this wash, and the Blight will do the rest, die and drop off the trees. We have the compound at our store, or can give you an order on the Gov't. Nursery for it, but don't forget to bring a 5-gallon can to put it in. We sell spraying outfits.

THE BABY'S BLACK OATHS.

One of Brunswick's Four-Year-Olds Learned to Swear.

There was a very amusing episode in one of Brunswick's prominent families the other day, and a young American, not more than four years old, was the interesting subject.

It seems that the little fellow had been allowed to play out on the streets a greater part of the day, and in this way had, unfortunately, fallen into the company of some older boys, who were among Brunswick's champion swearers.

As was perfectly natural, the little fellow was not very slow to learn his lesson of profanity from the fluent and able teachers who had taken him in charge, and a few days after he had met them his mother heard him fire a volley of oaths at his nurse, that would have made the oldest and blackest sinner envious.

Of course he was severely punished, but the child seemed hopelessly fascinated with this emphatic way of talking, and his mother was perfectly powerless to correct it by any of the ordinary modes of punishment, so she finally resorted to extreme measures, and told him he must leave home.

"I will not keep a child in my house who will swear," she said. "You may take your clothes with you, and I will give you a lunch for to-night, but you must not come back here at all."

The little fellow received his sentence in silence, and then went saddy to work bundling up the few clothes he thought he would need on his lonely wanderings. It was all his mother could do to keep back the tears at the bare suggestion of such cruelty to her child, which the solemn seriousness of his face told her too plainly he believed to be inhumanly real.

But, recognizing the necessity of sustaining her part, she conquered her emotions and seemed to be thoroughly determined in her purpose, and indifferent to the consequences, she kissed him good-by and carried him to the door.

He kissed his little sister good-by, too, and she was clinging to him and crying as if her heart would break. The little sinner stood there on the threshold for a moment, looking glomily out on the wet and dreary streets, and then asked his mother where he could spend the night.

"The policemen may give you a bed in the barracks," said she, "but you can't stay here."

He looked out once more on the cold streets, and, as the tears began to well up into his eyes, he turned to his mother and said, with voice quivering: "I'll be — if I go!" — Brunswick (Ga.) Times.

EMPEROR AND POPE.

Reception of Germany's Ruler at the Vatican.

ROME, April 23.—Shortly after noon the German Emperor left the Quirinal for the residence of Herr Von Buelow, the Prussian Minister at the Vatican, where he took lunch with the Papal officials prior to his audience with the Pope. During lunch the Emperor chatted cordially with Cardinal Ledochowsky.

At 2 o'clock Empress Augusta Victoria arrived at the legation, and immediately after the Emperor, Empress and suite and Herr Von Buelow proceeded in the Prussian court carriages to the Vatican. Italian troops were drawn up in a line on each side of every street through which the imperial party passed, and behind the soldiers were packed cheering thousands of Italian citizens.

The Vatican was filled with the high dignitaries of the church and representatives of the Catholic nobility of Italy. Their Majesties were received in Clementine Hall by Monsignor Sambeth, Prefect of Ceremonies, Monsignor Azevedo, the Grand Chamberlain, and other members of the Papal Court.

The Emperor was in Hussar uniform, and during the short pause in the first hall the Swiss guards did him military honors.

At the door of the Fellow Chamber their Majesties were met by the Pope. He led them to three chairs, which had been placed near the middle of the room, sat down with them and conferred with both for fifteen minutes. The Emperor then rose, the Pope summoned the Major Domo, who accompanied Her Majesty to the Galleries and presented to her Commander Friconi and the Museum officials. Under their guidance she proceeded to the Ducal Hall, the Sistine Chapel and the other rooms in which the art treasures of the Vatican are shown.

Meantime the Emperor remained in conversation with the Pope, while Freiherr Marschall von Biberstein was in attendance in the ante-chamber. The interview lasted fifty-eight minutes after the departure of the Empress. The Pope was more affable than usual, while the Emperor, although amiable, seemed to be somewhat preoccupied and nervous. At the end of the interview the Emperor's suite was presented to the Pope. On leaving the Emperor was accompanied by the Pope, contrary to the etiquette of the Vatican, through the ante-chamber to the throne room. As they parted the Emperor made a movement as if to kiss the Pope's hand. The Pope quickly withdrew his hand, then grasped the Emperor's and shook it cordially three times.

The Emperor joined the Empress and visited with her St. Peter's and the Treasury. The departure of the Imperial party from the Vatican at 4:40 was accompanied by a repetition of the ceremonies with which they were received.

This evening the Emperor and Empress worshipped in the chapel of the German Embassy.
