WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

One of the royalist prints is again exerting itself to prove that the United States forces overthrew the Queen, saying that a letter exists which shows—actually—that Minister Stevens recognized the new government "three minutes" before Mr. Dole and his triumphant party entered the doors of the Hawaiian Capitol.

If the American marines overthrew the Queen why did she not say so in her official protest of January 17th?—a protest which covered about everything else. The only acts done against herself and her authority at that time, of which she and her ministers complained, were those of "certain persons claiming to have established a Provisional government."

Now if the royalist papers can show how it came about that Liliuokalani forgot to mention that the American forces had coerced her and alleged, instead that the Provisional authorities were guilty of the overt acts; if they can show any international or other law which makes the landing of foreign troops to protect foreign life and property during a revolt an act of coercion against the local authorities; if they can prove by an item of sound evidence that Minister Stevens connived at the revolution or gave it military support before it had won its own way to power—why then they will have a case to bring before the United States authorities.

ONE INTERVIEW ONLY.

In our last night's issue we used the following words in a leader entitled, "What of the Queen?" "Certainly, her right to treat with a foreign envoy, had not been denied, as witness her unhindered interviews with Commissioner Blount."

question of whether one interview or two was had by the ex-Queen with the United States' Commissioner, does not lessen the force of the STAR's proposition that had Mrs. Dominis been deported, she would not be in a position now to trouble the official ear of any envoy with her alleged royal claims and pretences.

It has become a proverb in the newspaper guild that the New York Herald always turns up on the defeated side of every national issue. That journal, while conceded to be the most expert American news gatherer, has never of late years shown capacity to judge public sentiment in the United States, nor to gauge the current of politics there. The reason for this is that its editor lives abroad and guides the policy of the Herald by cable.

WHILE the resolutions of regret over the death of Capt. Gilbert C. Wiltse were in excellent time and taste, the services of that commander here ought to receive more enduring and public recognition than that which obtains in a legislative minute. The name of the English sailor who restored the Hawaiian flag, fifty years ago, was given by a grateful monarch to a public square of Honolulu.

An Indian paper, discussing the recrudescence of leprosy in India, says that Doctor Manson discovered that leprosy is caused in China by the introduction of the poison into the blood by mosquitoes. In Japan, minute precautions are taken against mosquitoes and other insects; where they abound leprosy is endemic.

Dr. G. JAEGER'S Aim at the Drake. And you are bound to hit some of the ducks. This is precisely the same with Wampole's Tasteless Preparation OF Cod Liver Oil.

It aims to cure Consumption, Hits the Mark, too, and it most effectively breaks up Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness and all Throat and Lung troubles that cause this disease.

It is natural logic to conclude that if WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL has power to prevent Consumption, it surely is able to cure these lesser emergencies.

This vigor-making, fat producing preparation is Absolutely Tasteless, in so far as Cod Liver Oil is concerned. All you notice is a delightful flavor of Wild Cherry and Anise.

But the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is there all the same. It is a great blood enricher. Best of all it is a natural food that in its stomachic effects, actually assists its own assimilation.

In Pulmonary or Bronchial troubles it is unequalled. No one doubts the value of Cod Liver Oil, but not every one is able to take it. WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION removes the nauseous objection and actually makes Cod Liver Oil palatable.

ELEVEN GOOD REASONS.

DR. CORWIN'S ANNEXATION ARGUMENT.

A Former Pastor of the Fort Street Church Addresses a Chicago Ministers' Meeting.

The Rev. Eli Corwin, D. D., pastor of the foreign residents' church (the Fort Street Congregational) in Honolulu, between the years 1858 and 1868, when Commissioner Thurston, Carter and Castle and General S. C. Armstrong were boys in his parish, read a paper on "The Annexation of the Hawaiian Islands" before the Congregational ministers' meeting yesterday says the Chicago Inter-Ocean. He gave as among the more manifest reasons for the annexation of the Islands to the United States the following:

1. Those Islands have been developed physically, financially, intellectually, socially and spiritually chiefly by the American residents. A nation which our countrymen have created most naturally gravitates in this direction.

2. The Hawaiian people were, in the lifetime of a single generation, from 1820 to 1860, lifted up from abject barbarism to take their place among the civilized and Christianized nations of the earth almost solely through the labors and beneficent influence of the American religious community on the islands.

3. The American foreign residents and their children born on the islands have been the champions of civil as well as religious liberty for the native Hawaiians, and have been most influential in securing all the civil rights enjoyed by those who, little more than half a century ago, were degraded serfs, having no title to the lands they tilled or to the fruit of their toil, extorted from them by their kings and chiefs, who ruled them with a heartless tyranny.

4. Fully two-thirds of the property on the islands belong to the American residents who have come into possession of it by intelligent and honest industry, and by developing the agricultural and commercial resources of that wonderland; so that while they have been enriched the natives have not been impoverished, but have partaken of the general prosperity.

5. While the Americans, the Germans, the better class of progressive British, and some of the other foreign residents have been the staunchest advocates of civil and religious liberty, as they are now the most earnest advocates of annexation, another small class of British residents have been the leaders of a party of obstruction, jealous of American influence, advocating a retrogression toward absolutism in politics, and a lowering of the standards of morality which the missionaries and their children approved and illustrated. Notably during our civil war the English who sought to maintain the dominance of British influence favored the blotting out of American ideas from the Hawaiian constitution and the curtailing of the liberties of the people, as they now bitterly oppose annexation and plot to restore a justly deposed and detested monarchy.

6. The future of the Islands as to political stability, financial prosperity, security of life and property, educational advancement, social culture, and spiritual progress, depends very largely upon the supplanting of a thoroughly corrupt and untrustworthy monarchy, which has repeatedly broken the most positive promises and violated solemn oaths; has attempted to license the death-dealing opium traffic and to establish a demoralizing lottery among a people too easily led into the vice of gambling, and has patronized a retrogression toward the morally loathsome old heathen customs, and a restoration of the horrid orgies of the ancient heathen worship.

7. The United States should promptly and heartily welcome the generous offer of the Islands by the government, not only because annexation is every way desirable for the Islands, but because duty demands, and parental instincts dictate that we throw our protecting arms about our own children, whose filial voice we recognize, and who, with a heroic loyalty alike to Hawaii and their fatherland, have staked everything upon this issue.

8. A clear prevision of this as the ultimate destiny of the Islands has prompted all our great statesmen, without distinction of party, to guard the independence of this group till it should be ripe for annexation. Now that the long-cherished and eagerly-coveted fruit is ripe and ready to fall, it would indicate a paralysis of statesmanship not to reach out our hands to take it.

9. The contiguity of these Islands to our western coast, the intimacy and growing importance of our commercial relations, their position as the half way house at the grand crossing of our Pacific commerce, the extent of which but a few years hence no man can estimate; our need of them as a coaling station, which we can not afford to have under the control of a maritime rival; our need of them as a base of operations in conducting a war, whether with a South American, a European or an Asiatic power, and our need of them as a central position from which to do our share of policing the Pacific in times of peace, guarding our growing trade from the piracy which already watches for such a prize—these all urge us in the imperative mood and the present tense to risk no further delay for which a too-late repentance can make no amends.

10. As a business transaction, it cannot be had policy to accept the generous offer, if by the outlay of three or four millions we may secure assets richly worth $12,000,000, with all the collateral advantages thrown in. Promptly to seize this opportunity is to secure a fortune. What folly, then, to delay when simply for the taking we may possess these priceless gems of the Pacific seas, these matchless emeralds in a coral setting. These jewels which the old world monarchs are coveting are worth more than all the patronage our President has to dispense. Why spend one's time in hunting ducks and lading out political pap, when it is time westward to let the old eagle fly? O for one hour of a vigorous foreign policy! "O for the touch of a vanished hand" in our weak diplomacy.

1. In the dark days of our nation's peril the American community on the Hawaiian Islands lavished of its treasures hundreds of thousands of dollars, and gave the best and bravest of its young men that our flag might not be trailed in the dust. Coldly to repel them when they seek an alliance with their fatherland and lay the richest treasures at their feet is but poorly to repay them for their patriotism.

"At the strategic point where we pass from the limits of Occidental civilization to the borders of the semi-barbarous Orient," continued the speaker, "there is a clashing of forces in which American and Asiatic ideas are contending for the mastery. Can Christian America be indifferent to the issue? The restoration of a rotten royalty and a maggot-infested monarchy that fairly smells to heaven, if not in the other direction, with its political putrescence is a calamity to be resisted by every liberty-loving Hawaiian, though it should involve the expenditure of the last dollar of his money and the last drop of his blood. There come occasions when forcible resistance to tyrants is the first of Christian duties, and this is one of them.

The Inter-Ocean makes editorial comment on the above as follows:

THE PRESIDENT AND THE PREACHERS.

Among "the more manifest reasons for the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States" yesterday assigned by the Rev. Dr. Corwin before the meeting of the Congregationalist ministers of Chicago, and approved by them, are those of kindred, of morals, and of justice.

It has been mainly by American missionaries, and by the American traders and planters that the condition of the natives of Hawaii has been raised from that of serfs to that of freemen. The monarchy of Hawaii prior to 1820 was absolute, despotic, savage and tyrannous. Neither life nor property was safe from the anger or the greed of the native kings. Between 1820 and 1850 the natives had been reclaimed from barbarism, imbued with ideas of freedom, taught the meanings of wages and of contracts, and induced into the philosophy and practice of civilized trade and civilized agriculture, and this almost wholly by American influence.

Most of the Germans, British, and other foreigners who have become residents of the islands since 1850 have acted in concert with the Americans and with the more enlightened natives toward further limitations of the powers of the native monarchs and further extensions of the commercial, political and religious liberties of the people. But there has been and still is a coterie of foreign residents, mainly of British origin, who are hostile to all political and moral progress, and specially hostile to progress in the direction of republicanism. These have sought to strengthen the powers of the native monarchs, to encourage the native population in its old-time habits of vice, and to obstruct alike the evangelical work of the churches and the political work of the party of progress. These British residents sought to enlist the Hawaiian monarchy in aid of the Confederacy during the time of our civil war. They now are rejoicing in the aid that President Cleveland's "my representative" is giving to the party of reaction and of hatred to Americanism.

So much for the morality of the situation. Kinship also pleads. Most of the men who conduct the business of Hawaii and make it a place fit for civilized people to dwell in are of American descent. They have converted lands that but a few decades ago were as valueless as those of Ashantee and Dahomey into flourishing plantations, or into populous villages or cities. While enriching themselves they have enriched the natives. They have been benefactors of the race.

Return to the rule of the native monarchs means depreciation of the property of our kinsmen in Hawaii, abridgement of their liberties, perhaps loss of all that they now possess. The monarchs of Hawaii have been swayed by all the vices of monarchy. Always vicious, they never have been intelligent. They have been as stupid as the Bourbons and as treacherous as the Stuarts. It is somewhat strange to find a President of the Republic of the United States of America using his personal influence in behalf of the perpetuation of such a dynasty.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

[The following communication will be read with attention. That the writer expresses the sentiment of the best portion of the people, and of all intelligent Americans born or long resident in the Islands, there can be no question. We trust he will keep The Evangelist advised of Hawaiian affairs from time to time, as their importance may suggest.—ED. EVAN.]

To the Editor of The New York Evangelist: Dear Sir: In your issue of March 9th my esteemed friend "Clericus" writes with intelligence concerning our revolution and the overturn of the Hawaiian monarchy. It is, however, evident that he has become biased by the misrepresentations of the New York Evening Post, some of whose language he quotes, which materially perverts the facts as formerly stated by me in that paper. I particularly object to the expression, "the conquest of the islands." These islands were effectually conquered for Christian civilization two generations ago. For the purposes of absolutism and profligate tyranny the monarchy has been diligently striving to restore heathenism. Some of the disgusting details of that effort have been given by correspondents from Honolulu. I may specify Walter G. Smith in the New York Tribune, and Professor William T. Brigham. The monarchy was overturned, after long and patient endurance, for the purpose of maintaining free institutions already established for fifty years.

This movement and effort is not made "against the bulk of their own inhabitants," meaning, doubtless, the aboriginal population remaining of 35,000. The revolution is made as much in their interest as in that of the nearly 25,000 whites, who include most of its active supporters. The natives are not actively opposed to annexation, save a majority of those in Honolulu, who have long been corrupted by the palace. I am certain that the natives generally will soon cheerfully acquiesce in this movement, as being one that is manifestly and thoroughly for their material and moral interests in every respect.

The Post was thoroughly inaccurate in speaking of the supporters of annexation as "a small body of our own traders now established there." This white community is a large one as measured by the whole population. It forms two-fifths of the permanent population, if we exclude the Asiatics, most of whom are transient residents, not having brought their families with them and in no proper sense domiciled. These whites own four-fifths of the assessed property, which they have created and developed by their industry and skill. They do all the commercial, manufacturing and planting business.

This white community is not an exotic. A large moiety of the whites were born here, as were many of their parents before them. Both parents of both Messrs. Thurston and Carter, two of our commissioners to Washington, were born here. They are grandsons of old residents on both sides. Our whites are largely "to the manor born." We are acclimated and assimilated. Mind you, this is not properly a tropical climate, it is sub-tropical; while knowing little cold, Hawaii knows nothing of the extremes of heat. Our climate, unlike that of the East and West Indies, is favorable to white labor. We derive our cool, dry climate from the cold sea around us, the return current from Alaska. With annexation there will be a rapid immigration of good American people, who will find here congenial homes on the broad and beautiful tracts now used only for grazing.

Our Portuguese citizens are true whites, mainly of excellent quality, equal to French Canadians in character, but far less bigoted in religion. Our Protestantism is making rapid progress among them, through the capable missionary labors of the children of the Madeira exiles to America of forty years ago. The Portuguese are eager for annexation, which is full of promise to them in material benefits.

Hawaii has produced the only American colony in the world, one that has diffusing, leavening, propagating power. That colony now desires to become united to its parent. It claims to be able to make Hawaii a worthy section of the union. As the great "Cross Roads of the Pacific," we claim to possess a unique value, both commercial and strategic, which will render this group a coveted prize to whatever great nation shall possess it, in the now accelerating development of Pacific commerce. We dread the impending prospect of falling to England, whose Canadian and Australian colonies stretch meeting hands to us from the north and the south.

Hawaii has now come to the parting of the ways. Its destiny must speedily be decided. The native monarchy has ceased longer to be a possibility. Our civilized material development has wholly outgrown that. We are not strong enough to stand alone with so many diverse internal elements unfavorable to unity. We are compelled to seek foreign protection. Will America take us as the great strategic outpost of your vast Pacific coast, or must we turn to England?

A commission from Washington is supposed to be on its way here to examine and report upon our case. We welcome such inquiry with enthusiasm. Above all, we confide in the care and guidance in all our affairs, of that Divine Hand which has so marvelously fostered and cherished for seventy years in Hawaii this beautiful and growing Christian civilization.

SERENO E. BISHOP.

M. McINERNY.

Are we to be, or not to be, a part of the Great Republic, seems to be the burning question of the day, and one we had rather leave to wiser heads than ours to solve; and while great statesmen are wrestling with this momentous question, we want to have a little "pore-pore" with you on some other subjects, that concern you as well as ourselves.

Has it not occurred to you that you've been wearing that old hat long enough! In these progressive times if you intend to be "in it," you've got to keep pace with fashion. No matter how otherwise well dressed you may be, unless your hat is the correct thing you bear a shabby appearance.

We have already laid in a stock of the Latest Hats of the coming Spring and Summer styles, in hard felts, soft felts and straws, and including a line of the celebrated "Fidora" Hats, at present all the rage in the United States. There is therefore, no necessity for you to hang on any longer to that old Tile that bears such a strong resemblance to the hat "your father wore."

Believing that business will be better in the near future, we have not hesitated to keep our stock full in all lines. Take collars for instance: We have almost everything you could wish for. If you wear a standing collar, just come in and take a look at our "Narenta" or "Ardonia," or if you prefer a turn down collar, try the "Winnipeg" or "Goswell;" we have have lots of others, and can't fail to suit you. Cuffs in abundance, links or otherwise.

Neckwear in profusion, scarfs windsors 4-in-hands, and a special lot of "Boys' Bows;" suspenders in great variety, leather and woven ends, good strong, serviceable goods.

We might go on indefinitely, but space is valuable, and to enumerate everything we carry would fill a pretty fair sized Book. If there is anything you want in the men's line, just drop in and see us, and if we can't suit you, we don't believe any one can.

If you should want a pair of nice shoes, let us try a hand at fitting you. Did it ever occur to you

How much a man is like his shoes, For instance, both a soul may lose. Both have been tanned; Both are made tight by Cobblers; Both get left and right; Both need a mate to be complete; And both are made to go on feet.

They both need healing; oft are sold, And both in time will turn to mould. With shoes the last is first; with men The first shall be the last; and when The shoes wear out, they're mended new; When men wear out, they're mended dead too.

They both are trod upon, and both Will tread on others nothing loth. Both have their ties, and both incline When polished, in the world to shine; And both get out. Now would you choose To be a man, or be his shoes.

They Have Come!

Those Razor Straps you have been waiting for several weeks, are here. They are so good that it has been said of them, that if you lay your razor, and one of these straps down together on your washstand, the razor will keep a fine edge; still, we recommend following the directions printed on each strap.

Anti-Rattlers.—We have a new kind which you can put on to the shafts of your buggy, without breaking four fingers and a thumb. They prevent two things—rattling and swearing.

Boardman's Pat. Wrench.—4 sizes, just the kind of combination wrench to have about the house.

Try the new Keystone Egg Beater, if you want a beater that will do quick, clean work.

Hose, 1/2-in. to 2-in., 3 and 4-ply plain or wired, just received; cheap and good quality; also carbolized. We have a large stock of "Hubbuck's," "Pioneer," and cheaper brands of "White Leads and Zinc. Also, Oil, Turpentine, and all painters' supplies, and you will do well to see our Stock and get our Prices before you paint your house.

American Flags,—6 to 18 feet long, came by the last steamer to us. They are a fine lot, sewed bunting.

Fire Arms and Ammunition.—A new lot of Sporting and Target Rifles, Colt's new Navy, Smith and Wesson, and cheaper Revolvers, came last week and can now be seen. We carry the most complete assortment of Cartridges in town, from 22 to 50 cal., and always have plenty of them.

Leather.—We have received within the past sixty days, by steamer and sail, 69 Rolls of Leather, containing 9088 lbs., and 5347 ft.; also, 3 bales containing 142 doz. sheep skins, so it looks as if we meant to keep our Stock of Leather up, although by getting it in large lots, we are able to keep the prices down.

Salt.—We are headquarters for Hawaiian Salt, as we make it. That the quality is good, and Price Low, is easily shown by the large quantity we sell every week.

Blight Compound.—Five gallons will make 65 gallons of wash. You spray your Lime and Orange Trees with this wash, and the Blight will do the rest, die and drop off the trees. We have the compound at our store, or can give you an order on the Gov't. Nursery for it, but don't forget to bring a 5-gallon can to put it in. We sell spraying outfits.
