FLOYD ALLEN, MURDERER OF A JUDGE, IS FOUND GUILTY

Kalakaua's House to Be Headquarters

With 954 enlisted men and officers and others sufficient to make up the total of 1400 the First Infantry will arrive in port early tomorrow morning in the transport Sherman.

Immediately after leaving the ship the infantry will take trains for Schofield Barracks where a canvas camp has been prepared for them. The men will remain under canvas until the permanent steel and concrete barracks now building at Castner are completed.

Although the last to arrive the First Infantry will be provided with barracks accommodation first. The old country home of King Kalakaua is being remodeled and repaired and will probably be occupied by the commanding officer of the regiment.

The pineapple land belonging to the government, which has been under lease, will be merged into the reservation as fast as the crops are removed, as it is claimed that the present limits of the reservation are too confining for extended maneuvers. It is also reported that when other leases in the rich tract of land, lying between the two ranges, expire, the government will not renew them.

Post Paragraphs.
General Macomb, commanding the department, visited Castner yesterday to view the work of the permanent quarters. Four officers' quarters are practically completed save for the flooring.

Capt. Raymond S. Pratt, First Artillery, has been granted leave of absence for one month.

Members of F. Battery, First Field Artillery, are extremely anxious to learn the procedure required to secure the special prize awarded to the battery for its display in the Washington's Birthday parade. The men spent much time and quite a little money on the float and understood that a special prize had been awarded their exhibit. It has, however, failed to materialize, although the battery is desirous of adding it to its other trophies.

To Follow Up Deserters.

Two deserters from the U. S. army are believed to have stowed away on the ship Edward Sewall now on its way around the Horn for Philadelphia. Judging from the stories of treatment received by stowaways on deep water sailing vessels, it is considered probable that the two in question will welcome a term at hard labor in a military prison.

REPORTS ON SUGAR TARIFF

(Special Correspondence of The Star.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—The majority (Republican) of the Senate finance committee has reported a substitute bill for the Underwood free sugar measure. It eliminates differentials and the Dutch standard.

The minority (Democratic) presents a report that recommends a reduction of thirty-three percent from the present schedule.

BRECKONS.

Hitchcock's Art Exhibit

D. Howard Hitchcock's yearly exhibit of paintings will be introduced to the members of the Kiloahana Art League and their friends tonight at the rooms of that organization. There are twenty-seven canvases and they indicate a great advance in the work of Hawaii's leading artist—which is no light praise. Several of the best of them have been sold already, but all will be on view tonight and next week. Photographs of a few of the works have been seen by a Star man, which testify emphatically to their strength of conception and execution, and photography makes a severe test of painting as a rule. There are no finer reproductions of Hawaiian scenery, either the quieter or the sublimer types, than Hitchcock's pictures.

Kauai Kicks At the Fly Regulation

Even harmless cocoanuts were held up for a time by the agents of the fruit fly commission on Kauai, according to reports which have come up from the Garden Island. In this case, however, the shipper was able to convince the guardian of Honolulu's welfare that the pestiferous little insect had not dropped any eggs in the door-mat covering of the bins of nuts, and so they were finally allowed to pass.

J. E. Higgins, horticulturist of the U. S. Experiment Station, who returned from a trip to Kauai this week, states that he heard a good deal of complaint regarding the embargo.

"I know nothing about the restrictions in question," said Mr. Higgins this morning, "nor even whether there are any; but I heard that there were from Kauai people. It was said down there that no fruits or vegetables of any kind were permitted to be shipped from there to Honolulu."

Mr. Higgins confirmed the story published in yesterday's Star that several shipments had been held up. "I was told," he said, "that a shipment of 100 bags or more of Irish potatoes had been refused shipment; and also that a lot of cabbages had been turned down. I also heard that some cocoanuts had at first been refused shipment, but afterward permitted to go."

Mr. Higgins disclaims any knowledge as to why such a regulation should be considered necessary — if there is one.

As stated in the Star yesterday, nobody seems to be in Honolulu with authority to make a statement regarding the case. All the information that could be gained from the office of the Territorial Board of Agriculture and Forestry was to the effect that there is such a regulation in force, but that President Giffard and Commissioner Albert Waterhouse, both of whom are out of town, are the only ones authorized to discuss the matter. There has been much speculation on the subject since the Star's article appeared yesterday, as to why such an ordinance should be considered necessary, in light of the fact that all the pests on the calendar originate first in Oahu, and nothing could probably be brought from another island that does not already flourish here. As one man put it: "It's going to be a job with any small farm efforts. If that regulation can't be removed, a farmer simply couldn't live on one of the outside islands, if barred from Honolulu with his produce, no matter how successful he might otherwise be."

CONVICTED OF COURTROOM TRAGEDY

(Associated Press Cables to the Star.)
WYTHEVILLE, Va., May 17.—Floyd Allen, who took the leading part in the courtroom tragedy at Hillsville, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree. The others will be tried immediately.

BASEBALL MEN MAY STRIKE.
PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The Detroit baseball players threaten to strike unless Cobb, who was suspended indefinitely yesterday for thrashing a slurring spectator, is reinstated.

A CHICAGO JUDGE FINED.
CHICAGO, May 17.—Judge Owen has been fined $500 for interfering with the Democratic convention.

FREIGHT HANDLERS' STRIKE.
NEW ORLEANS, May 17.—The freight handlers of the country will go on a strike tomorrow.

NOBLE MURDERER ON TRIAL.
ROME, May 17.—Baron Paterno's trial for the murder of the Princess Trigona has begun.

SECRET SERVICE AGENT HERE AFTER A JAPANESE ABSCONDER

Secret Service Agent M. R. Proebstel of Seattle, arrived by the S. S. Sierra this morning.

His mission is to take back to the Coast (Hacht Aral, a Japanese who was arrested here on the S. S. Persia on May 11.

Aral is wanted for grand larceny, the complainants being the Oriental Trading Co., Pasco, Wash., branch.

The Japanese had worked for the company for five years on the railroad in the capacity of bookman or shift boss.

When pay-day approached he went to Pasco to get the money for the me and returned on the train to pay off.

On April 25 he made the trip to Pasco but failed to return, taking with him $1900 of the company's money.

Instead he went to San Francisco and took passage by the S. S. Persia for Japan where he planned to live in comparative affluence as long as the money lasted.

Proebstel has had a large and varied experience in secret service work, particularly on the Canadian border.

DISPUTE ABOUT CITY FINANCES

On the occasion of voting $15,927 for two more Seagrave combination chemical and hose wagons, the supervisors last night fell at odds with each other about city and county finances. Some held that a deficit of $4000 existed now, while others maintained that the new taxes and license fees, the latter coming due in July, would carry the board safely through the term.

An appropriation of $4400 was made for paving Bishop street, from Merchant to Queen, with bitulithic. A resolution was passed asking the engineer for comparative estimates for paving King street, from Alakea to Nuuanu, with ohia blocks and with bitulithic. Comparative estimates were also asked for paving the west side of Emma street with bitulithic and with oiled macadam.

Engineer Whitehouse reported the Kahala and Hauula bridges in bad condition, the former requiring $200 and the latter $1000 to mend.

Captain H. Berger was granted six months' leave of absence as bandmaster with full pay, after a service of forty years in that capacity.

J. Picanco was awarded the contract, on his bid of $7095.70, for completing the upper Nuuanu avenue improvement.

KALIHI STATION IN GOOD ORDER

Sanitary conditions at Kalihi hospital and at the Kapiolani girls' home were reported to be excellent by the board of health which made a tour of inspection about the premises of the buildings yesterday afternoon.

After routine business has been completed at the board meeting yesterday afternoon, President Pratt announced that a trip of inspection about the premises of the Kalihi boys' home, Kalihi hospital and the Kapiolani home for girls was to be made.

A few moments later two a-tomobile load of board members were on their way to the Kalihi settlement and, when the inspection was completed an hour later, all expressed themselves as being well pleased with conditions.

New roadways have been put in and two new buildings are nearly completed, making the institution one of the most modern and up-to-date on sanitary lines in the world.

The regular meeting of the members of the Hawaii Promotion Committee will be held at the rooms of the committee, Bishop street side, Young Hotel building, at 3:30 this afternoon.

Long Dog Gone Lost

"Betty" has disappeared and Chief McDuffie and his men are looking for her, for "Betty" is more than an ordinary character—at least her sponsor, Miss Katherine Parrish of Queen's Hospital, thinks so. It is she who has raised the hue and cry which has brought about the vigorous search for "Betty."

To begin with, "Betty," according to the description supplied by her guardian, is what might be termed a "real long dog." In enumerating her various physical attributes to the police following the disappearance last night Miss Parrish said: "Betty has a long body with long ears and a long tail. Her general color scheme is white but her ears are brown affording a pleasing tout ensemble."

"She must be a dachshund," said the minion of the law.

"Yes, I think she has a dash of bound in her but not enough to make her dangerous."

"What is her facial appearance?" queried the detective.

"Betty has a beautiful slender face, her nose is canine Grecian and her eyes are a soft and loving brown."

LIKELY BE LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Chung Nung, the Chinese convicted this week of criminal assault upon a little four-year-old Hawaiian girl, comes up for sentence by Judge Robinson tomorrow morning. It is anticipated that the judge will sentence the Oriental to life imprisonment instead of to death, as the law gives him this discretion in the matter.

ATTORNEY LITTLE NOT DISPOSED TO STAY SOLD OUT BY CLIENT

Attorney Little, the ex-able seaman who came from the coast on the Edward Sewall and later appeared in the United States district court as the attorney for adler Frank Sullivan in a damage suit for $30,000 which was later compromised for either $40 or $50, is not disposed to abide by the terms of the compromise. It was announced this morning that he would insist upon the case being heard by the Federal judge.

Just how Little expects to bring this about is problematical. It is true that no discontinuance of Sullivan's suit has yet been filed, but that is a mere matter of detail which can easily be attended to.

Little, of course, is considerably peeved because he was not considered in the settlement between Sullivan and Captain Quirk of the Sewall. Sullivan and the captain settled the matter between themselves, Sullivan received his money and disappeared, and Little was left out in the cold.

Little evidently thinks he is entitled to some reward for his strenuous efforts, and it is for this reason, probably, that he contemplates forcing the case to trial.

MORGAN COMPANY ELECTS OFFICERS

The recently incorporated firm known as the Jas. F. Morgan Company, Limited, held its first meeting yesterday afternoon, and effected its formal organization, by electing officers and directors for the ensuing year. The officers are as follows: John L. Fleming, president; W. D. Baldwin, vice president; A. H. Rice, secretary-treasurer; John Waterhouse, auditor. Directors: W. D. Baldwin, A. H. Rice and J. L. Fleming.

The incorporators of the new corporation are W. D. Baldwin, J. P. Cooke, A. H. Rice, John Waterhouse and J. L. Fleming.

The company will carry on a brokerage and real estate business along the same lines as heretofore established, but expects to do so on a larger scale than previously. J. L. Fleming holds the seat on the stock exchange for the company, and A. H. Rice has been named as alternate to Mr. Fleming.

LAW'S DELAYS NOT BAD HERE

To appeal a case to the supreme court of Hawaii and get a hearing takes much less time, according to Attorney Lymer, than anywhere else in the United States.

Mr. Lymer recently appeared as the attorney for Rose Lee Tyler in her suit against Hen Wise and Kate Minton for damages for breach of contract. The plaintiff lost, Judge Cooper deciding in favor of the negro theatrical man. Lymer noted an appeal.

That was less than two weeks ago, yet in the interval the transcript of the evidence has been prepared, the briefs written and submitted, and the case will come up for argument next Wednesday before the supreme court. This is looked upon as a record time in appeal cases.

Attorney Lymer states that the matter is urgent. Rose Lee Tyler, he says, was brought to Honolulu by Hen Wise on a contract to appear with his theatrical company for twelve weeks. But she was only allowed to play one week, when Wise

WORLD FAMOUS SINGER HERE; NATIVE DAUGHTER IS COUNTESS

Countess de Cisneros, formerly known as the "Singing Bird of California," but now looked up to as the leading contralto of the world, was an arrival in the steamer Sierra this morning from San Francisco. Her husband, Count de Cisneros, is also making the trip.

They leave for Australia in the Matama next Wednesday and on arrival the Countess will make final arrangements for the big operatic season she is to open there. Last year she was with Madam Melba and her success then is leading her back again to the big country down south.

Countess de Cisneros is a Native Daughter and won her first laurels singing in California. Although she is there very little now, she still has a soft spot in her heart for that state and thinks it is the fairest in the whole Union.

"I learnt to sing in California," she said this morning, "and although of course my work calls me all over the world now I always like to get back there and see my old friends again. I am a genuine Native Daughter of the Golden West and am proud of the fact."

"I was with Madam Melba in Australia last year during the big tour of her operatic company and now I am going back with a company of my own. Some of the members will come through here next month and others are coming from England."

May Sing Here.
Asked as to whether she would sing in Honolulu she stated that she did not know. "If arrangements can be made I will only be too glad to give a concert," she continued, "but I leave next Wednesday again and it does not give much time."

Magnificent is the only word to describe Countess de Cisneros. She stands nearly six feet high and has a wonderful figure. As she stood on the deck of the Sierra this morning, braced against the slight roll of the steamer, with the wind trailing her draperies out behind her, and on her head a large picture hat, it was the only word that came any way near describing her.

The Countess hopes to run across some of her old Californian friends during her short stay in town and she is staying at the Moana.

Tentative arrangements for a concert are already under way, the great trouble being that the Opera House

CIVIL RIGHTS ARE RESTORED

After a lapse of ten years, the civil rights of William Davis were restored this morning by Acting Governor Mott-Smith. On November 29, 1901, Davis, then a boy of seventeen, was convicted of assault and battery with a deadly weapon on a Chinaman.

He was sentenced to pay a fine of $1000 and costs, which was paid by the defendant without delay, but it was not until today that his civil rights were restored to him by Governor Mott-Smith in a full and free pardon.

Davis is now married and is employed as engineer on a steam-roller.

HOLD UP ON RIVER STREET

Last night about 11:40 Lock Tong, cook aboard the steamer Kasual, was held up at the corner of Hotel and River streets, by H. E. Wallace and A. Santos, a Portuguese negro.

Santos grabbed the Chinaman and held his arms while Wallace went through his pockets, securing $1.65 in change.

Lock Tong jumped into a passing hack and followed the two men. He passed Officer Haumea on his beat and called to him for help. The officer started after the robbers, captured them and took them to the police station. They made no resistance whatever, and are evidently not cut out for highwaymen, for neither displayed the nerve of a sick horse.

Wallace was discharged from the American ship Edward Sewall and then enlisted aboard the U. S. S. Theta. After stopping aboard four days he deserted.

A charge of robbery has been placed against the men.

NEW OCEANIC SCHEDULE OUT

Cowell Will be on Ventura Bridge-- Sierra Has Fine Trip--Sherman in Tomorrow--Harbor Notes

The arrival of the Oceanic liner Sierra from San Francisco this morning marks the last time she will be seen here until July 22, the intervening run being taken by the steamer Sonoma of the same line.

Following this the Sierra will make her appearance in this port once a month, the intervening trips being made by the Sonoma and Ventura of the Oceanic fleet that are to take up the running between San Francisco and Australia, leaving the first named port on July 2 for the initial run.

This means a general revision of sailing dates throughout and will also mean a general change in the Oceanic company's program to here. The Sierra goes back to San Francisco this time to be placed on the drydock and given a thorough overhauling and cleaning.

Although nothing definite was known on board this morning it was stated that the crew of the Sierra will all be laid off for six weeks in San Francisco while the ship is being overhauled. It was thought in this port that most of the crew would be transferred to the Sonoma, but it appears that other arrangements have now been made.

Cowell For Captain?

Chief Mate Cowell of the Ventura, and who is at the present time in charge of that vessel, is slated for the bridge when she pulls out on her initial trip to Australia from San Francisco on July 30. If the promotion is made the move will be a popular one and his many friends are hoping that he will be giving the coast off orders when she clears the coast port.

As far as can be ascertained he is Better Mail Service.

With the sailing of the two steamers on the Australia run a mail service every two weeks will be established between America and Australia instead of the monthly service of the present time. The great advantage of this will be that letters can be answered from the Australian end in a month instead of in ten weeks as at the present time.

Nineteen Day Trip.

The Oceanic company is promising a nineteen day trip between San Francisco and Sydney with calls at Honolulu and Pago Pago.

First class fares from San Francisco are as follows: To Honolulu $65, round trip $110. To Pago Pago (Samoa), $160, round trip $240. To Sydney $200, round trip $300. Big reductions are made for second and third class accommodations. Arrangements are also made and figures given for continuation of the trip beyond Sydney to various points by rail and steamer and the ticket for the full journey may be purchased through the steamship company.

IMPROVEMENTS ON SIERRA.

Assistant Passenger Agent Gilmore seen after he started work in his office this morning was able to confirm the rumor that Chief Mate Crowell is to be appointed Captain of the Ventura.

"The Sierra," stated Gilmore who returned on her this morning, "will be thoroughly renovated. She will have the present stacks taken out and new ones put in. The ones in her, at present are old and too high. The new stacks will be very low.

"In all probability cabins will be fitted on the upper decks with bath-rooms in them. This matter is not quite decided on as yet.

"On the voyage from here last time, although we left an hour after the Honolulu, we passed her three hours out and arrived right on time in San Francisco."

WAILALE IN TODAY.

The Inter-Island steamer Wallele arrived from ports this morning with a general cargo.
The list included twenty-four cases of empty bottles, eighty empty carboys, nineteen boxes of empty bottles, five empty drums, thirty-two packets of sundries, seventy-five head of cattle, 8727 bags of sugar.

She reports the steamer Nihaun unloading at Honolulu.

CANNOT DETAIL VESSELS.

S. F. Examiner, May 6.—The Secretary of the Treasury notified the customs officials yesterday that the Attorney General has rendered an opinion that holding vessels and refusing clearance papers for the purpose of collecting a fine imposed upon the master for violating the revenue laws is illegal. An instance of this character occurred last March when Captain John Morton, who was fined for having opium discovered upon his vessel, refused to pay the fine. The Federal authorities at this port for an hour or so refused to sign the clearance papers of the Mongolia but later the matter was adjusted by Captain Morton paying the fine under protest.

SOLDIERS FOR HAWAII.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 10.—The army transport Sherman, with the First regiment, United States Infantry, on board, sailed early today for Honolulu, where the regiment will be stationed.

From Honolulu the Sherman will continue on to Guam and the Philippines. In addition to the First Infantry there were on board nearly 300 recruits for the Twenty-second Infantry, which is stationed at Manila.

The First Infantry, under command of Colonel George K. McGunagle, has been stationed at Vancouver barracks for almost four years. It will be succeeded by the Twenty-first Infantry, which is due to arrive within the next week on the transport Thomas.

CREW SUFFER TORTURES.

A terrible story of shipwreck was related on the arrival at Liverpool of the Leyland liner Cuban, from New Orleans, by a member of the crew of the full-rigged ship Erne, formerly of Liverpool, but now owned in Canada.

The Erne, under the command of Captain Fickett, was on a voyage from Boston to Monte Video with a cargo of lumber, including a deck load, and on the 3rd February, while in the North Atlantic, encountered a terrific gale, which washed away the deck cargo, the ralls, and the rigging. Although the next day, Sunday, the gale increased in violence, and on the Monday, while Mrs. Fickett, who was on board with her husband, was in the cabin a huge wave swept over the after part of the vessel and carried the lady right through a large mirror into another compartment. A second wave brought her back again in a badly injured condition, and she fainted from her injuries and loss of blood. She was carried into the chartroom, where a passenger, the captain, and the second officer remained by her. Later in the day, when one of the men who had been compelled to remain in the fore-cabin went aft he found that the captain, his wife, the passenger, and the second officer were missing, "together with the only lifeboat that remained, and it is alleged by the survivors that they had left the vessel in the boat, which in such a sea could not have remained afloat very long.

Some members of the crew were huddled under the fore-cabin and others were lashed to the rigging. From the Monday night to the Wednesday morning they had neither food nor water, and some of the men became deranged by their terrible sufferings and jumped into the sea. One of the last to succumb to the privations was Chief Officer Elliot, who told a survivor that he had a wife and family residing in Liverpool. He fought to the last, but from sheer weakness fell off the lifeboat and was never seen again. At 8:30 a. m. on Thursday the wreck was sighted by the Cuban, and in a lifeboat manned by Chief Officer Leight and four men the nine survivors of the Erne were safely transferred to the steamer just as the former vessel was about to sink.

SUGAR ON HAWAII.

Purser Kekuewa of the Inter-Island steamer Wallele that arrived this morning reports the following sugar waiting shipment: Papaaloa, 16,500; Paaulu, 31,700; Ooakala, 5653; Kukaiau, 4450; Kukuiahaele, 6500; Paanahu, 12,700; Honokaa, 5,500.

SIERRA'S QUIET TRIP.

Arriving off port early this morning the Oceanic liner Sierra was passed very quickly by the doctor and docked at the Oceanic wharf about half past seven o'clock. She had a small passenger list and Purser Smith reports a fine trip throughout.

Although the crowd on board was small there was something doing every day and the main event pulled off was the championship of the North Pacific at the cribbage table.

This is now held by Mrs. Mary H. Doughty and she is prepared to defend her title against all comers. As usual the passengers were more than pleased by the way in which Purser Smith, the best known man holding that position on the Pacific and the best liked, looked after their interests.

"The only thing we are sorry for," stated one of them this morning, "is that he is to say off a trip and we shall miss his genial face when we return again."

Captain Houdlette reports a fine passage throughout and nothing out of the way during the run. The Sierra only brought a few sacks of mail.

PASSENGERS BOOKED.

The government vessel Navajo rescued three Japanese in distress yesterday while on her way to Pearl Harbor. The Japanese were in a sampan that had broken down and had been adrift for twelve hours. They had neither sails nor oars and were flying a distress signal. A launch was sent out to them and they were finally towed to Aiea, a distance of ten miles.

A trial of the auxiliary schooner Luika that Father Rouger contemplated buying was made yesterday afternoon. The engine did not run satisfactorily, however, and some alterations will have to be made to it. Father Rouger is disappointed with the result.

The Inter-Island steamer Ivalani sailed yesterday for Kipahulu and Molokai.

The steamer Helene of the Inter-Island fleet left today for Papaaloa and other ports of call.

The power sampan Makena arrived yesterday with another load of meat from the Raymond ranch on Maui.

The barkentine Mary Winkleman is on her way to Hawaii according to cable advices. She left Eureka yesterday with a cargo of redwood.

The Kilauea left for Kona and Kau ports today at noon.

The Matson tug Intrepid is being repaired as fast as possible. She was damaged by collision with the steamer Helene.

With the First Infantry and a lot of cargo the transport Sherman is expected to arrive from Portland tomorrow morning.

The craft forming the Miller fleet had the government "plaster" taken off yesterday and are now free to go whether they will.

It is estimated that two weeks will be spent repairing the dredge California.

INGLE AND BEN DE MELLO SURE TO MEET ON JUNE FIRST

Arrangements for the fifteen round bout between Ben de Mello and George Ingle are going ahead and the scrap will surely come off on June 1.

The place of the encounter has not been named as yet. The Orpheum theater has been dismantled and it is improbable that the contest will be staged there.

Negotiations are under way for the use of the Asahi theater on Maunakea street. It was in this arena that Dick Sullivan met Jack Cordell and other celebrated goes were pulled off.

There is also a chance that the coming contest may be staged in the open air. This would be an innovation for Honolulu and, while it would be an experiment, should pan out profitably for the promoter.

Ingle will start training in earnest tomorrow. He is working regularly at his trade of riveter at Pearl Harbor and this tends to keep him in shape all the time.

De Mello is hard at it in Hilo and, according to a recent letter, is training harder for his third contest with Ingle than he did for either Jim Hoag or George Gilmore.

Young Gans and Moriarty of Schofield Barracks will box a six-round preliminary at 124 pounds and the other preliminary event will be a six-round go between Trooper Battersock and Wahlani, the former to weigh 150 pounds ringside.

The card has a sterling look and should provide the best fight menu that local fight fans have had dished up for their edification for many a day.

JOHNNY EVERS, CUBS SECOND BASEMAN

CHICAGO, May 3.—Johnny Evers, the Cubs' second baseman, who was out of the game for a considerable portion of the 1911 season on account of a nervous trouble, is back in the game this year and is playing as good ball as ever. "As good ball as ever" in Evers' case means just about as good as it is possible to be played, for he is conceded to be the equal of perhaps any player of that position. Evers is regarded as knowing more about "inside baseball" and any other man in the game today.

THOMPSON SET NEW RECORD

F. C. Thompson, a Californian, now a student at Princeton University, last week eclipsed Martin Sheridan's record as the all-round inter-collegiate champion of the world by 192 points. Thompson had as his competitor, Bredemus, the athlete who won the all-round championship at the St. Louis world's fair. Thompson's work was nothing short of phenomenal, and his time and distances will be interesting to the various athletes who will compete in the Olympic trials:

100-yard run, 11 seconds.

16-lb. shot put, 43 feet 8-12 inches.

High jump, 5 feet 9 1-2 inches.

1-2 mile walk, 3 minutes 31 seconds.

16-lb. hammer, 123 feet.

Pole's vault, 10 feet 9 1-2 inches.

120-yard hurdles, 16 1-5 seconds.

56-lb. weight, 24 feet 5 inches.

Broad jump, 21 feet 7 1-2 inches.

One-mile run, time 5:24.

Thompson won the world's all-round title at Chicago two years ago and repeated his performance last year although his marks were not as good as those established in competition last week.

SPORTS FROM COAST FILES

Miss Daisy Curwen of England has beaten the world's record for women by swimming 100 meters in 1 minute 22 1-5 seconds in the Olympic elimination trials.

A testimonial benefit was tendered Young Togo, the Japanese feather-weight pugilist, who has lost the sight of one eye and is threatened with total blindness, by his countrymen and admirers at Dreamland Rink last Wednesday night.

Johnny Kilbane and Jimmy Walsh fight in Boston May 21.

Paul Kohler won a ten-round decision over Clarence Fe ns.

The U. S. Olympic Games selection committee meets on June 10.

It will cost between $60,000 and $70,000 to send a representative American team to Stockholm and care for them while there. Up to date less than half that sum has been subscribed.

Jack White of Chicago beat Frankie Conley in twelve rounds. Conley broke his wrist in the sixth. White showed remarkable improvement since his defeat by Rivers.

BOXING FOR NIPPONESE

Eddie Robinson, the manager of Young Togo, whose pugilistic career was cut short by failing eyesight, leaves San Francisco with his family on the 29th of this month for Japan, where he expects to boom the fight game.

He has planned to open fight clubs in Tokio and Yokohama and is carrying a truckful of boxing gloves and other paraphernalia which he will introduce to the Nipponese.

WOLGAST AND CROSS MATCHED

NEW YORK, May 5.—Ad Wolgast, the champion lightweight, accepted today by telegraph an offer of a $12,500 guarantee to meet Leach Cross in a ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden on May 29, according to the promoters.

This paper has frequent inquiries about cottages for rent or purchase, furnished rooms and desirable boarding places. If you have either, let the fact be known in The Star's "Classified" page.

CHILLINGWORTH TO ENTERTAIN

Charles F. Chillingworth, the well-known local sportsman, has come to the front with an offer of an automobile for the press in connection with the Haleiwa races to be held on June 11.

He has also invited all the boys who will journey down to Haleiwa every night to be his guests that evening at Waiwala's far-famed hostelry.

Nigel Jackson stated this morning that everything is coming along nicely in connection with the races and that he expects to try off for a week before June 11 for the purpose of personally superintending the details of the races.

THE BENAISSANCE

By H. M. AYRES.

The flag of the world's half-masted, We were struck by a bolt God-hurled But though ten thousand suffered, We know all's well with the world.

TWO JAPANESE MAY BATTLE

According to cable advices, Yamagata, Joe Cohen's lightweight protégé, is on the way from the Coast and will be prepared to meet any local lightweight within a reasonable time after his arrival. He weighs in the neighborhood of 128 pounds.

A match between Yamagata and George Ingle is on the tapis and George is the boy who may be relied on to give the Japanese a thorough trying-out.

Eddie Robinson, manager of Young Togo, leaves for Japan via Honolulu on May 29 and he may bring with him Yujiro Watanabe, a light-weight boxer who has made good in the four-round game in San Francisco.

It looks as if Ingle would be given another chance to try conclusions with a son of Dai Nippon on his arrival and it is probable that a match between the two for the Japanese championship of the Pacific will be arranged for the instruction and amusement of Oriental fight fans and others.

WAS THIS A COINCIDENCE?

Before Isidor Straus started on his trip to Europe, in returning from which he and Mrs. Straus were drowned together on the Titanic, he sent his favorite driving horse Bess to roam at will in the fine pastures of the Bedford Hill (N. Y.) farm or the Montefiore Home until he should get back. Bess had been Mr. Straus' pet for years and he would not let any one work her in his absence. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Straus were told last week of the strange coincidence that the horse died the night the devoted old couple went to death together. Bess was looked in her stable as usual on the night of Sunday, April 14. Next morning she was found dead in her stall. The veterinary surgeon who examined her could discover no cause for her death.

C. K. CHARLEY ENTERS RACE

Latest of entries in the Haleiwa marathon is that of C. K. Charley, the game little Kaimuki milk-carrier.

Charley has taken part in a number of long-distance races in these islands and, while he has never had quite enough speed to win, he has always displayed unlimited grit and stamina.

Charley is in good shape. He is always in good shape, for that matter, for his arduous daily work ensures this.

The Haleiwa race will suit him to a nicety and every competitor in the grind from Waiwala to Waikiki will have to reckon with the Chinaman.

He hasn't caught the judge's eye yet, but every runner has his day and it is highly probable that June 11 next will be a winning day for C. K. Charley.

CLEANING UP THE CITY.

The plan for another clean-up day which has been proposed by Mr. Towse and seconded by the Central Improvement committee ought to enlist the aid of all good citizens. With last year's experience to guide the willing workers and with Acting Governor Mott-Smith overseeing the plan of campaign, confidence in the undertaking may be assured as a matter of course. If the public does its part, the town will get the full benefit proposed for it.

It may be taken for granted that not less than 10,000 tons a month have accumulated in this city since the original clean-up day, nearly a year ago. That would make 120,000 tons in all, less the number carted away by the garbage men in a small part of the town. There may be 150,000 tons piled in obscure places, thrown under outbuildings and the like, or upon vacant lots, to say nothing of other debris. The people who bury their tins are few and far between; and the garbage collection service is, as we have said, limited. Figures or estimates may vary, but everybody knows that there is enough rubbish about to keep as many men and teams removing it as were employed in 1911.

It will not do to let the matter go until the condition gets worse. This is the beginning of the warm weather and much waste of water, a condition favorable to mosquito growth. In fact mosquitoes are resuming their activity, especially in the suburbs, where the tin can abounds, and if we clean up the city now we shall better serve the tourist interests of this island and the Territory at large and do more to insure our own comfort. Besides, the longer we wait the more rubbish we shall have to eventually move and the more discomfort we shall have to endure.

It is a rather pompous phrase: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," but it is a true one and unremitting vigilance and labor is also the price of public cleanliness. A city situated as this one is and under a constant fire of misrepresentation about its sanitary methods, needs to keep the subject of municipal cleanliness constantly before its mind. Clean-up days should come at least twice a year, especially in a tropical port. A sanitary reputation is as necessary to us as a good reputation is to a man; and aside from that a reputation for maintaining it is the best excuse for an improvement association.

A BROADER VIEW PROPOSED.

The promises which have been made for a great wireless station here will, if they are carried out, put Honolulu in closer touch with the news fields of the world and give the press a wider view of events. News by cable is very costly, but news without the burden of cable expenses ought to be correspondingly cheap if had under contract for a large service. With such facilities the news field here ought to be peculiarly attractive to publishers and readers alike; for the difference of time between the greater news centers and Honolulu is such as to cover the whole of the news-producing field of America and Europe in reportable time. Thus, when an afternoon paper closes its final forms at 3 o'clock it is about 5 o'clock in San Francisco and that news-distributing center has already had the news of the East coast up to 8 o'clock and of Europe up to 11 o'clock, thus embracing the best part of the news-producing period. The morning press has a similar advantage as to the news of Asia. As things are the afternoon press publishes the most important general news first, and as things could be under a reasonable wireless service it would not be eclipsed at any time in the matter of news detail. Our readers may be sure that, if the wireless does what is expected of it the Star will be in a position to do the rest.

A DIFFERENCE OF METHODS.

The British criticism of the American Senate's inquiry into the loss of the Titanic, mention of which appeared in the Star's cablegrams at the time, was quite acute and not without justification. For example, his from the leader of the Daily Mail:

The committee of the American Senate which is inquiring into the Titanic catastrophe has now ascertained the main outlines of the story of that unprecedented disaster. In view of the early assembling of the British court which is to investigate the whole question of that ship's loss and determine the responsibility for it we may hope that the Senators will release as soon as may be the British witnesses now before them. It is not easy to see what good purpose can be served by the continued detention of these witnesses in Washington. The Senate committee is not a body of experts whose finding will carry universal assent. On the contrary, there is no naval assessor among its members. No officer of the United States Navy sits upon it. It has no technical knowledge, and its proceedings have already elicited unfavorable comment in American newspapers and among Americans in Europe because they show a want of familiarity with nautical matters and with the sea.

The want of such knowledge is a fatal handicap. The chairman of the committee, Mr. Smith, has specially distinguished himself by his quaint interrogatories. He asked Mr. Lightoller, "Are the watertight compartments intended as a refuge for passengers?" To another witness he put the question, "Did the Titanic go down by the bows or by the head?" Yet another witness was asked, with reference to the ship said to have been seen from the Titanic when she was sinking, "Did you see the ship's starboard red light?" though it is well known that the starboard light is green. Some of his questions have been naive almost to the point of childishness, as those asking where icebergs came from and what they were composed of. Again, an attack on the personal character of a witness was made in a manner which could not be permitted in a British court. The enlightened opinion of both continents will hold that little good is to be achieved by the prolongation of an investigation on these lines.

Moreover, strictly speaking, under international law, the officers and men of the Titanic are answerable only to a British court. There is no wish on this side to strain that point, but its cogency is unquestionable. The Titanic sailed under the British flag; she was lost on the high seas. It was, therefore, on British territory that the catastrophe took place. It is of the extreme importance that her loss should be the subject of full and careful inquiry by a court of experts, with legal power to enforce its judgment, at the earliest possible date. For such an inquiry the witnesses must be forthcoming in England. We hope then, that in Mr. Acland's words, "we may trust to the usual good sense of the American Senate and American people not to desire to detain persons whose attendance may be required by the Statutory Court of Inquiry in this country."

The inquiry, such as it was, seemed to have been called for by opinion here but there was, as the Mail says, a lack of expert testimony. No man can make good in a maritime inquiry unless he had some maritime experience, which would have been instantly coming to a committee of the British parliament. In the British act of legislation there are navy and army men to be called upon, like Lord Beresford and Earl Roberts, but our own law-makers do include a membership from the active lists of either service. And why it often happens that our military and naval policies change often and are so much at cross-purposes with the real interests of nation. We have to rely almost wholly on lay wisdom to settle our high professional import. It is the custom of Great Britain to recruit experts in many lines for its parliament. Thus when a question concerning Egyptian administration comes up there is a Cromer at hand to speak on it with authority. If India is the theme, Lord Curzon is there. Central Africa used to bring out Stanley and South can questions revolve about the several members of parliament who served there. Parliament is full of men who know the empire all its concerns. With us such a catastrophe as that of the Titanic be referred to any back country farmer in Congress who never saw inside of a ship or the outside of an iceberg.

Governor Frear's visit to Washington cannot be expected there of the presidential order issued some years ago regarding Territorial executives. While having no inside information of it, we assume that the gubernatorial matter will be settled and that a return visit of the Secretary of the Interior will not follow. As to the absurd rumor that the Governor will resign, such a thing is not contemplated; though if he were asked to name a successor he would probably choose a man who, like Secretary Mott-Smith, would continue his beneficial policies. The Governor may or may not meet the exuberant McClellan in Washington who was not able to conceal from that official the part he took in furthering the recent "investigation" farce.

DIOGENES

By WALT MASON.

That old philosopher who spent his best years in a tub, and growled in peevish discontent—he was a tiresome dub. In youth he stained the landscape red and lit the places high; in age with sore and aching head, he raised a doleful cry. The world, he said, was out of plumb, and men were mostly fakes, because his mouth was feeling bum, and he was full of aches. He lay upon his hogshead couch, and ranted, wept and sighed, and worked up such a frightful grouch that it has never died. It seems surprising that his fame, like Banquo's ghost, won't down while men who played a wiser game have failed of all renown. While this old duffer kicked and whined a million cheerful jays, who never murmured or repined, went on these usual ways, and they have moldered into dust, unhonored and unsung, while fame rewarded him who cussed until he broke a lung. We should rejoice that times have changed; the chronic grouch today is shunned as one who is deranged, whose head is full of wry.

Why should a steamer line which has railway connections which give it freight enough to assure it a permanent stay on its routes, suffer from animosity because of that good fortune, on the part of any one who shares the benefits of its service and has no competitive interests to look after?

The current number of The Friend—the Cousin's edition—is the most valuable number of that interesting paper the Star has ever seen. It deserves the interest of everybody concerned by relationship, civic pride or acquaintance with early missionary efforts in Hawaii. The paper is rich pictorially and in biographical and reminiscent sketches.

The Inter-Island boats need the wireless about as much as our automobiles need the block system. They are never far enough from land stations of the wireless and of people with telephones that reach ports not to make rockets answer for distress signals.

The supervisors who are in dispute as to whether they have a surplus or a deficit to handle should employ H. Gooding Field to tell them. Meanwhile the public betting is heavy on the deficit.

The less the rules of the party are changed to suit the strategy of a defeated faction the easier it will be to hold the control which the rank and file have vested in the majority.

A town like a home must have more than one clean-up day a year if it is going to be presentable.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

INSPECTOR FENNEL—I wish Hawaii had an anti-treating law.

FREST GILMORE—Our first graduating class will number four.

FRANK McINTYRE—I hear it denied that the new assistant manager of the Inter-Island will be put into tilt.

PURSER SMITH (Sierra)—We had a fine trip from San Francisco and I have never traveled with a nicer lot of people.

SAM CHILLINGWORTH—The next time I meet a dog I shall run over it. I had a nasty smash yesterday on the motorcycle when trying to avoid one.

"POP" CUNHA—I have sold Saint's Rest, up Manoa, to Harry Armitage and am going up Nuanuu valley, near the Country Club, to plunge into society.

J. T. STACKER—I called on Billy Kerauds the other day and found him the real Billy I used to know. He remembered when we last met over thirty years ago.

H. H. WALKER—The stock market seems a little firmer today, probably owing to the report that the Senate is likely to pass a very slightly modified sugar tariff bill.

JOE COHEN—The way that the public has been patronizing the minstrel show indicates that people will pay to see high class attraction if the companies are brought here.

POSTMASTER PRATT—We no longer send a letter of advice with postal orders and no return card comes from registered letters unless you write a request for it on the envelope.

LAND COMMISSIONER TUCKER—We are expecting lively times on June 8 when the Koko Head and Makiki lots are sold at auction. Both tracts will be bought up as fast as possible no doubt.

D. L. CONKLING—If there are any Roosevelt men in town, they are laying low, for sentiment here is too one-sided to even admit of argument on the question of the relative merits of Taft and Roosevelt.

CAPTAIN HOULETTE (Sierra)—This will be the last trip here for some time. The Sonoma takes up the running on the next trip. After that we shall only come here once a month.

ANDREW ADAMS—In awarding public contracts the main question should be whether the wouldbe contractor is likely to do the work satisfactorily. While the bond is important nobody wants to have trouble over the contractor's delinquencies with his sureties.

F. G. KRAUSS—If we can get a school established in our new home-stead tract at Haiku, Maui, a number of families will probably begin their residence on their lands a-pace. Otherwise they will probably not go over till next April, when the law requires that they must begin their residence on their lands.

J. E. HIGGINS—The people on Kauai are much disturbed over the quarantine which they say has been imposed against their fruit and vegetables being shipped to Honolulu. I heard that a shipment of coconuts was at first refused shipment, but afterwards allowed to go. I also heard of some potatoes and some cabbages being held up.

The Manoa plan of local initiative and direct assessment in whole or in part, in the matter of street improvements, was reported upon briefly by the legislation committee of the Central Improvement League, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, and more time given the committee to carry on its investigations.

Chairman Towse, of the committee, stated that the subject has proved to be a very big one. That to draw up a bill that would stand the test of the courts is no small matter, and will probably require an able lawyer's time for some weeks. In the meantime all of the members have written to the mainland for information as to what has been done in this line in other cities, and it will be a month or so before the returns from this correspondence are all in and summarized. It is anticipated that some very valuable information will be secured through this means.

The membership of the committee which is handling the matter is Ed. Towse, D. L. Whittington, C. W. Ashford and J. A. Gilman.

As has been before explained, the proposed law will permit residents of a certain section or district to vote upon the matter of street improvements in their neighborhood; bonds possibly then being issued by the county for doing the work, and a part of the cost (one-half to two-thirds) levied against the abutting property affected, the payments being spread over the term of the bonds—possibly ten years. In this way, it is held, any section of the city may have its streets paved at its own initiative, and the cost made easy to all concerned.

A. Q. Marcellino, clerk in the auditor's office, was granted leave of absence of six weeks. He is an alternate delegate to the Republican national convention in Chicago.

Murray made a proposal, approved by the Kiloahana Art League's outdoor circle, to use the iron fence surrounding the Capitol grounds—if removed as somewhat generally advocated—for fencing Nuanuu stream at Aala park to prevent accidents such as have been not infrequent along the stream.

RAPID FIRE WORK WITH ICECREAM

Food Commissioner Blanchard is pushing his ice-cream investigation work to a rapid completion. Yesterday, several dealers were taken by surprise, samples of their ice-cream being taken and analyzed inside of two hours.

In each case, according to the food inspector, the amount of butter-fat in the finished product was only about 6 per cent, or eight per cent less than the standard fixed by law.

"The work will be completed by the end of this week and prosecutions will shortly follow," said Mr. Blanchard this morning.

"Publicity is usually sufficient for the white dealers and, when they see their names printed as violators of the law, they usually bring their ice-cream up to standard, but the orientals are different. They have to be prosecuted and, after they have paid a heavy fine, they realize that they must conform to the law.

"I shall probably draw up a list of violators of the law and have it published shortly," concluded the food inspector.

LONG DOG GONE LOST

"How about her bark?"

"Betty has the dearest bark you ever heard, a sort of soft contralto."

"Does she know any tricks?"

"I should say she does. She shakes hands with everybody and has the prettiest little habit of nibbling the toes of those with whom she comes in contact. She likes to wipe her feet on persons who take her in their laps and she knows her meal times as well as a human being. Betty is but five months old and, oh, I forgot to tell you, she has one loose tooth, a milk tooth you know."

"Did Betty have any friends or associates among her own kind?"

"Only one, a little blue puppy, looked like gun metal you know, with white polka dots scattered over him, but he had nothing to do with her disappearance, for he was at home after she had gone. Do you think you can find her?"

"With that description," said the detective as he closed his book, "I can find her more easily than I could Cerberus if he was alive, and that dog, if you will remember, had more than the usual number of heads and a rattlesnake's tail."

AMERICAN BEET SUGAR ADVANCES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Locally and in the east there was considerable interest in sugars yesterday. American Beet Sugar moved up three points in New York, due, according to the judgment of sugar operators here, to a firm belief that the Senate committee will recommend that the House pass a bill to put sugar on the free list do not pass. It is predicted, in fact, that the Senate will receive that report very soon and there is a conviction that actual news of the committee's hostility to the bill has leaked out to the interests now buying.

Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar yesterday declared an extra dividend of fifty cents, payable June 30. This is the company's second extra dividend for that amount this year, and

By the Sierra this morning the Blackbear Millinery Shop received an elegant new line of hats and trimmings direct from the eastern market. Some of the most exquisite creations are among the lot.

It has been said, and is being said yet, that America is short on art. It is quite true. We had to clear forests and plant cornfields and reap wheat-fields and build cities before we could sit down and paint pictures or weave tapestries or carve sculpture. We could scarcely take time to make the home beautiful. In fact, with many, home was simply the place to rest and recuperate for the work in hand. Our minds while in the house were not thinking how pretty and restful were the furnishings; but were planning coming tasks, wondering how to make a few more dollars, or meet the bills that were falling due.

But a change is coming, is already here, in this respect. We have made the dollars, many of us; or we are beginning to see that we do not need so many as we thought. We are getting a new conception of the home. We are finding out that artistic, harmonious furnishings rest us quite as much as a comfortable chair or an easy bed; in fact, more. For they lay a finger of peace, of tranquillity, upon the spirit. For if the mind is not soothed, we will toss restlessly upon the softest couch. We have come to perceive that the home that is beautiful and satisfying is worth just as much as money in the bank. And the art of home-building in its most comprehensive sense is going forward by leaps and bounds.

Indicative of this is a pilgrimage abroad this spring of those interested in making the home beautiful. The party, under a well-known director of art, will make a tour of the art centres abroad, for the special purpose of studying art decoration, or perhaps more truly art development, of the home. They will study household furnishings, art, architecture, sculpture, carving,—anything that will serve to make the home more beautiful. And they will study these in famous homes, in castles, in palaces, in art galleries, among the Roman and Greek antiquities,—wherever they can find beauty, which to their trained, keen eye can be adapted to household use.

Then with all the data they can collect, they will return and go to the task of adapting it to American needs. And their efforts are not directed toward making the homes of the rich more beautiful. But it is hoped that every little home in America will feel the influence of this movement. Furniture will take on better lines, more simple ornament, because of it. Colorings for home furnishings will become softer, more harmonious. The ornaments of the home will be more artistic. Into all home furnishings, it is hoped, that this influence will penetrate. It will take some time, but gradually it will make itself felt.

In the little party are teachers of manual arts in the public schools, art students, interior decorators, furniture makers, designers of all kinds so that what they absorb will spread in many directions.

It is a scheme big with promise for the future beauty of the American home. When we once do become interested in art, when we make everything about us artistic, there will be art given to the world, second to none. For when the American gets in earnest, he accomplishes things.

And art in the home is far more important to our well-being than art in art galleries. To have beauty about us where the eye can fall upon it every day, in fact every minute, of home life, is to do a tremendous thing for the American people. Even to arouse us to the value of having the home beautiful is much. For, once women are awakened to it, they will study the matter for themselves far more thoroughly than they are doing at present. They will put into the home the simple, neutral-colored floor-coverings and wall-papers and portieres that are the best backgrounds for the other furnishings. They will do away with much of the show and glitter and over-furnishing of today, and choose fewer and more truly beautiful articles, articles that will always delight and never grow tiresome. For truly has it been said, that a thing of beauty is a joy forever.

THE THEATERS

Bijou's Program Draws Large Audiences.
Despite the large number of counter attractions the Bijou theater had a full house last night, which goes to show that it's giving the best show in town and proves conclusively that the people of Honolulu are able and willing to support a first class show.

The big headline act last night was the Japanese troupe. They repeated their opening night success and added a number of new and different feats to their already hazardous act. The ease with which they perform shows the result of careful and conscientious training. The troupe is on its way home after performing in London and the States. For a season it was the biggest attraction of Ringling Bros. Circus.

The Saxophone players again delighted the music loving contingent with their exquisite playing. They furnished a very pleasant surprise as well as a rare treat by playing "Aloha Oe" and got all the music that was in the old favorite. They have a very extensive repertoire of selections and always respond to an encore with a new piece of music.

The Walstein Trio are still skating their way into the good graces of their audience. Special mention should be made of the Biograph Co's pictures of New York and Pennsylvania which show President Taft with his broad smile enjoying a leisurely game, and reviewing a Sunday school parade of children. They also show an aviation race at Long Island, amateur athletic sports under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Press, and a headlong collision between two locomotives. The collision was arranged under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. After the engines were put under full speed the crew was seen jumping from the engine. After the collision the wreck looked like a big scrap heap. This picture is well worth seeing.

Homer's Odyssey at Ye Liberty.
Tonight the Ye Liberty theater will show Homer's Odyssey which is considered the most wonderful creation of the age of picture building. The film, which is 3462 feet long, shows over 1000 actors and was produced at a cost of over $200,000 and it took two years to perfect.

The Monopol Film Co. of New York, owners of the film, have engaged the services of the great Wm. Burns National Detective agency to protect them against any infringements of their rights under the copyright law. The film has been endorsed by the presidents of all the leading colleges, the clergy, and some of our best statesmen. As an instructive subject to students it is invaluable. Arrangements have been perfected whereby it will be shown at the Liberty for a few nights beginning this evening.

PEACE ESSAYS FROM SCHOOLS

Thirteen young essayists of the schools of Hawaii have turned in essays on the subject of International Peace. In hope of winning the fifty dollars offered as a prize by the Arbitration and Peace Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The contest opened on January 18 and closed last Wednesday night, May 15. Chairman W. A. Bowen, of the committee, has all of the papers still unopened in his possession, and they will be turned over at once to the board of judges which consists of Judge W. L. Whitney, Rev. W. B. Otson and Mrs. L. Withington.

Under the rules of the contest, the papers are all signed with pen names and the real names of the writers will not be known to the judges, who have until the 31st inst. in which to pass upon them.

The Chamber of Commerce committee which has the matter in charge is much pleased with the interest which has been displayed in the competition. It is considering a plan of making the occasion of the awarding of the prize one of considerable note—possibly holding a public presentation, at which a number of the best essays may be read, as a part of a formal program.

THE NEW PANNIER GOWN.
After some agitation on the part of dress makers and womankind in general, it has finally been admitted that the pannier is an established factor in spring fashions. The new pannier skirts are really very graceful and the hips are kept as slender and straight as ever. This rich restaurant dinner gown has been called the "Butterfly Gown" because of the wonderful embroidered butterfly at one side which is in peacock, orange and gray tones, with an emerald colored cabochon in the center. The gown is made of chiffon and chintilly lace over pale green satin and the pannier is of dotted net. Black silk gloves embroidered with pale green accompany the gown.

MISS PARKER'S FORTUNE

S. F. Examiner.

"Now, what do you think of this latest manifestation of feminine independence? Little Miss Thelma Parker who looks like a well-bred little gypsy with her inky black hair in an artistic tangle and her eyes forever laughing at the world, has had the lawyers over in Honolulu set it down in an iron-clad, steel-riveted document that her fortune is not to be subject to the control of any husband." And neither is Mrs. Fred Parker's, the charming mamma of the little heiress. Sounds ominous, doesn't it?

Word comes from Honolulu that Miss Parker placed her entire estate in a trust in the hands of Alfred W. Carter of Honolulu, she to receive half of the income, her mother a quarter and the other quarter to be a perpetual gift to various educational, philanthropic and public welfare purposes. Magnificent gift, when this quarter share easily sums up about fifty thousand a year, and keeping on increasing all the time.

No such gift has been bestowed during the life of any one of our heiresses nor by any of our dead and gone millionaires, for that matter.

But with all these gladsome tidings comes word that Miss Parker is to be married in Honolulu in July instead of coming here as she had at first planned. Seems that Mamma Parker objected to the marriage of her daughter and young Henry Gaillard Smart, because of the youthfulness of the children—Thelma being just past eighteen and young Smart just twenty-one. But they finally won consent. At any rate, Miss Parker is preparing her trousseau. The honeymoon is to be spent at the Parker ranch at Waimea, Hawaii, and then back to Honolulu where the young couple will make their home.

Mr. Smart and Miss Parker met on the Korea when the young heiress left here a few months ago, with endless assurances to her friends here of her immediate return to occupy the new house a-building in the western part of the city. But that meeting on the Korea changed the entire aspect of affairs. Mr. Smart is the son of a Methodist clergyman of Norfolk, Virginia, a typical Southerner who has already won all Honolulu by his chivalrous gallantry and Southern accent. He is a dollarless young chap, but by no means what any one would call poor, being splendidly educated—and did any one ever hear of a Southern gentleman being poor? Perish such a grubby, sordid thought.

UNION THUGS ASSAULT BOYS IN THE CHICAGO PRESS STRIKE

Somewhat of a curio is the issue of the Chicago Daily News of May 4. Ordinarily that paper consists of twenty-four pages, but on the date in question its size was reduced to four pages. This was on account of a strike of the stereotypers. The issue in question contains a report of strike events in part as follows:

Brutal attacks on newsboys, many of them youngsters not out of short trousers, and a walkout on the part of the stereotypers marked the progress of the strike against the Chicago daily newspapers late yesterday and today. Numerous arrests were made by the police in cases where thugs overturned the news stands, knocked down, beat and kicked the boys who attempted to sell papers in spite of the jeers and taunts hurled at them by strike sympathizers.

The stereotypers violated a contract with the newspapers by starting a sympathetic strike. The action was taken in defiance of a specific order from James J. Freely, international president of the stereotypers' union warning the local members of the union from taking any such action. The strike of the stereotypers followed a conference with the publishers. The stereotypers had previously voted to strike in sympathy with the pressmen. They requested the publishers to permit a committee from the Stereotypers' union to sit as judge and jury on the issues between the publishers and the Pressmen's union. The publishers informed the stereotypers that the pressmen had refused to submit their alleged grievances to arbitration, and that they had sacrificed their contract which was the basis of their employment.

Serious Riot in Loop.
The most serious riot of the strike developed at 2 p. m. today when three newsboy sluggers who attempted to maltreat a negro newsboy who was selling papers at the corner of West Madison street and 5th avenue were seized by Lieut. Larkin and four policemen before they could wreck newspapers from him. One powerful slugger was seized by the lieutenant and Policeman Olson of the central detail. He immediately struck the lieutenant in the face. Clubs were drawn and the slugger was subdued.

While the lieutenant and the slugger were rolling about in the street the latter tore himself loose and fled, bleeding and bruised, into an alley. His companions were captured and hurried to the South Clark street station.

While the policemen were fighting with the sluggers, a crowd closed in upon the bluecoats and unintentionally hindered the police. Several Italian newsboys were in this group and, seeking to add bravado to the sluggers' deed, shoved two other negro newsboys who were selling papers. Policemen, however, soon put a damper on their ardor. Two of the Italians were promptly seized and placed in a patrol wagon. The negro newsboys then resumed the sale of their papers. "It was a cowardly assault on the part of these men," said Lieut. Larkin. "I guess these sluggers and ruffians will realize that the police can easily handle them. If they keep on they will all land in jail. We'll protect every corner and the public."

Shots Fired Near Tribune.
Two shots fired into an alley adjoining the Tribune building at 2 a. m. today caused excitement. They were fired by Max Annenberg, circulation manager of the Tribune, who says that he fired into the air in order to frighten away a crowd of men who stood in the alley apparently waiting for copies of the Tribune to appear. Previously he had ordered them away and when they refused he fired into the air. At the first crack of the revolver the men fled in different directions. Three of them were captured by the police. When locked up at the South Clark street station they gave the names of George Bell, C. M. Stricker and George Reader.

Bell is a driver for the Daily Socialist and was formerly a driver for the Tribune. Stricker was formerly a driver for the Examiner. Reader said that he was a machinist. The police declare that the men were loitering about the Tribune building at an hour of the night which precluded their having any legitimate business there. When the shots were fired they had moved into the alley between the Tribune building and the Saratoga hotel.

Gang Threatens Woman.
Policemen of the North Halsted street station were summoned today when four men entered the Fullerton avenue station of the Northwestern elevated road and threatened a woman who was selling newspapers. The men had disappeared when the patrol wagon arrived, and no arrests were made. The station agent said the men fled when he went to a telephone to summon the police.

The men pulled the newspapers from the newsstand, and said to Mrs. Theresa Gonzales, who conducts the stand: "You've got to stop selling these papers or something will happen to you."

They then tore up the papers and fled down the stairs.

Nearly Every Boy Attacked.
Only a small proportion of the actual number of assaults made on newsboys were reported to the police. In almost every case where a boy attempted to sell copies of the afternoon editions yesterday he was set upon by a gang of thugs, who, not content with tearing his papers up, knocked him down and kicked him until he was rescued by the police. In several cases the boys were taken to hospitals in a serious condition.

One small boy at the southeast corner of East Monroe street and South Wabash avenue was attacked about 4 p. m. His papers were scattered in the street, he was knocked to the sidewalk and only saved from more serious injury by the arrival of Patrolmen Stephens and Sticken. They made one arrest and Mounted Officer Geary came up in time to capture a second man who was alleged to have been guilty of slugging the mite of a boy. The latter was cut about the mouth and a mark over his right eye caused the police to believe that he had been hit with a blackjack.

Try to Drown a Boy.
Seven men alleged to be strikers caught one boy who was selling papers, carried him to the Madison street bridge and were about to throw him into the river when a platoon of police arrived and saved the boy's life. Several arrests were made, the prisoners being locked up at the Desplaines street station.

There was an incipient riot at the station of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. A gang of thugs set upon a small newsboy. Two arrests were made, the prisoners giving the names of "Con" Healy and "Mose" Ransom.

Frank Pietro, a newsboy, at South State and Monroe streets, was knocked down and brutally beaten. The mob tore up his papers. The thugs escaped when a force of police loomed up in the distance.

Henry Hessner, who has a stand at Madison street and Wabash avenue, was attacked by nine sluggers. One struck him on the head, knocking him senseless. Then the other eight kicked him as he lay helpless on the ground. Policemen who went to Hessner's assistance captured one man, who refused to give his name. Hessner says that he knows the names of several of his assailants and warrants for their arrest will be issued today.

Police Guard Doubled.
Expecting that further attempts will be made to interfere with the distribution of newspapers today, the police guard at every corner in the loop district has been doubled, every member of the department is being held in reserve and Chief McWeeny declares that he will maintain order at any cost. Uniformed officers are to be sent out with every wagon carrying papers to trains or distribution agencies. The police have received instructions to arrest every known thug found acting in a suspicious manner and the records of all prisoners will be looked up when they are taken to the stations, the police maintaining that the strikers have enlisted in their cause sluggers who are known to have prison records.

McWeeny Makes Statement.
"Cowardly attacks by mobs on unprotected men, rioting and disorder by strikers or any others will not be tolerated for an instant," said Chief of Police McWeeny.

"The calling of the strike does not give strikers or their sympathizers the right to break laws."

URGES HIGHER PAID TEACHERS

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 6.—Higher paid and more thoroughly equipped teachers are urged for the public schools of the country by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, in his annual review of educational conditions to be distributed by the bureau of education. The report, which deals with a period covering the first ten years of the present century, shows that, though the average monthly salary of male teachers increased thirty-eight per cent, and the salary of female teachers twenty-seven per cent, the average annual pay of teachers, including those in the big cities and high schools, is less than $500.

"In some states," Dr. Claxton says, "the wage scale for teachers falls far below the countrywide average. In eleven states the average annual salary for teachers is less than $400; in eight it is less than $300; in two less than $250. For salaries like this it is clearly impossible to hire the services of men and women of good native ability and sufficient scholarship, training and experience to enable them to do satisfactory work.

"Moreover, a very large percentage of the teachers are men and women less than twenty-one years old. In the country at large less than one-half have had adequate preparation for their work. In some states less than twenty-five per cent have had the full preparation given by normal schools and in most of the states less than ten per cent of the teachers in the country schools have had such preparation."

The report shows that in the period covered the average number of days attended by each child enrolled in the public schools increased fourteen per cent; the value of school property increased seventy-five per cent; the income of public schools increased eighty-three per cent. It also shows that the expenditure for public education is less than $5 per capita in twenty-five states and less than $2.50 per capita in ten states. The number of public schools increased seventy per cent.

JUNE MID-PACIFIC

Ending its third volume with the June number, the Mid-Pacific Magazine—or Alexander Hume Ford's dynamo—well maintains its good work of Pan-Pacific promotion. Its illustrations give beautiful glimpses of Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia, the Philippines, Japan, San Francisco and Mexico, also show the American trolley car in Russia and in Egypt. The Pacific personalities section contains sketches with portraits of Amos P. Wilder, W. Cameron Forbes, Joseph Platt Cooke, William R. Castle and E. S. Goodhue.

Other contents with names of authors are: Some Pacific Volcanoes, A. H. Ford; Down in Pune, Sol. Sheridan; Bagulo, H. E. Walker; The Southern Lakes of New Zealand, Oscar Voulich; Japan in Hawaii, H. M. Polwart; Making Farmers in Australia, J. M. Giles; Banana Culture in Hawaii, J. E. Higgins; The Trolley and the Pacific, H. F. Alexander; The Story of Hawaii, and Editorial Comment.

The Mid-Pacific is probably the cheapest magazine of its class anywhere, the price in the United States and possessions being $2 a year in advance.

COLLEGE HAWAII EXTENSION WORK

Prof. Vaughan MacCaughy, of the College of Hawaii, furnishes the following data relative to the short course for teachers, which has reached successful completion:

1. With minor exceptions the course was given as announced. Miss Louise Gulick, not listed on the printed program, gave a very instructive illustrated lecture on "Simple Experiments in Bacteriology, suitable for the higher grade." Due to absence from the city, or similar reasons, several of the instructors scheduled were unable to participate. Professor Ballou, upon request, gave an extra, illustrated demonstration upon "Air Pumps and Water Pumps."

2. The attendance, though variable showed a satisfactory average. The maximum was fifty-two, minimum twenty-nine, average twenty-five. The audiences comprised principals and teachers of the public and private schools, students from the Territorial Normal school, officials and members of various Territorial departments, and general public.

3. Many of the lectures were supplemented and illustrated by stereopticon illustrations, demonstrations, experiments, charts, and diagrams, specimens and models, and similar material, which added to the interest of the meetings.

4. At a number of the meetings opportunity was afforded for general discussion, which was participated in by principals and teachers.

5. Arrangements have been made for the publishing, through a local agency, of the lectures given in this course. In this way teachers in outlying districts may receive some of the benefits of the course.

6. Many expressions of interest in the course have been received, together with numerous requests that it be continued in another year. The character of these expressions and requests, together with the above data, warrants the conclusion that the course has been a distinct movement in the improvement of teachers in service.

BEGINNING OR END.

A lot of people in the world enjoy going away for the "week-end" and a majority of those who live in Honolulu select Halewa as the best place for a change of climate and environment. The selection is a good one and shows judgment but there is no reason for confining it to the week-end. There is just as good a climate at the beginning of the week and the water is just as fine. The beach is free from coral always and the hotel replete with all conveniences for guests. A postoffice, telephone and telegraph station at Halewa enables the guests to "get outside" with the same facility as the person who remains in Honolulu. The rates are low.

COUSINS' NUMBER OF THE FRIEND

The Friend for May, just issued from the Star press, is denominated the "Cousins' Number," and it commemorates the "Grandmothers' Tea Party" held last month by the grand dames of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society. Its cover is a work of art, designed by James A. Wilder, son of the only great-grandmother of whom the society boasts, and is printed in three tints finely blended and distributed. Heavy shaded script is used for the lettering that comprises, besides the title of the periodical, the dates 1852 and 1912, signifying the age of the society, the subtitles above mentioned.

There are many illustrations in the number, including reproductions of old daguerreotypes of some of the venerable ladies belonging to the society. Many historical sketches, dealing with the society and its members, appear. From the first the following extract is taken, showing the origin of the society.

"Sixty years ago, in 1852, Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, the first of the second generation of the missionary families to Hawaii to become a missionary, arrived in Honolulu with his bride en route to Micronesia. Their coming stirred the large number of missionary children here to organize the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society to perpetuate the work of their parents. From the outset the social as well as missionary ideal was made prominent. The charter members numbered 153. The society was not exclusive, but admitted others of like spirit. For its first half century the missionary end was kept foremost and the work accomplished was phenomenal."

Credit is given in a publisher's notice, besides that to Mr. Wilder already noted, to Mr. Potter of the Sugar Planters' Association and Miss Ruth Shaw for illustrative and decorative work, and to Miss E. V. Warriner of the Friend staff for the literary part relating to the "Cousins."

A roster of "grandmothers residing in the islands and their living descendants" is given, the grandmothers being as follows:

Mrs. W. D. Alexander, (Abigail Baldwin), with four children, five grandchildren; Mrs. L. A. Andrews, (Mrs. Susie M. Belsey), with two children, four grandchildren; Mrs. J. B. Atherton, (Juliette Montague Cooke), with four children, nine grandchildren; Mrs. Stafford L. Austin, (Caroline Hannah Clark), with five children, thirteen grandchildren; Mrs. D. D. Baldwin, (Lois G. HERO OF THE SOUTH--THE MAN WHO "DOES THINGS"--AN IMPRESSION OF AMUNDSEN

By CONRAD C. EITEL.

Have you suffered, starved, and triumphed, Grovelled down, yet grasped at glory, Grown bigger in the bigness of the whole, "Done things" just for doing, letting babblers tell the story, Seeing through the nice veneer the naked soul?

The simple things, the true things, the silent men who "do things." R. W. SERVICE.

"A man capable of carrying out great ideals."

So it was that the great Nansen described Amundsen the other day. Coming from a phlegmatic Scandinavian—one whose writings have shown that he carefully weighs each word and exacts a voucher for its accuracy—this is indeed high praise. And the ice-test of character is as severe as the refining of gold by fire. The world remembers that it was Amundsen who first navigated his little ship, the Goja, through the North West Passage, that goal for 500 years of British effort with which the names of Franklin and McClure are ever associated. It is in those dreary, monotonous months of polar darkness, when each man's nervous system, rebelling against unnatural strain, causes him to unmask his inner soul that is presented the rare chance of an X-ray examination of a man's true character. It is then that a man's soul stands forth before his fellows as naked as eventually before the seat of Final Judgment.

Few people know what these ideals are. Amundsen is not likely to tell you. He is the kind of man who starts you by the announcement of actual performance. No boasting of what he will do. No parade. He just does it. Take the way that he has achieved his latest triumph. There was the grudgingly given statement that he intended to enter the lists for this international competition. Then one morning the world woke up to find that this quiet Norwegian had won. And the victor modestly says:—"Oh! It was not difficult—just a sledge ride." That was the way he described it to me. But then he is the same man who said "We killed the dogs and ate them." Just like that. When a canine banquet is treated with such meagre mention one begins to wonder what the sledge ride was like.

His ideals are great. So much for his natural reticence. Whatever his ideals, they are great. Leader of the party which first navigated the North-west Passage, now the discoverer of the South Pole, this enterprising Norwegian is again bound northwards. "For scientific investigation in the Polar Sea." Perhaps. But same morning the world will get another Amundsen bomb.

This Scandinavian "who does things," and does them so startlingly, has been much maligned. Some people have openly expressed annoyance at his intrusion into what has become regarded as a preserve for British explorers. Every Britisher was supposed to be born with a clear title to enter for the South Pole Stakes. But a Scandinavian? No. What did he want coming down here for, any way? Yet the world at large will say that it was an open event and that the best man has won. And there is a touch of romance in the story of how he came to do it—the story as given to me by Amundsen himself.

"I started out," said Amundsen, "with the idea of drifting through the Behring Sea to the other side of the North Polar Ocean. But people are not easily interested in these drifts, which take several years. Funds did not come in readily. But I had made up my mind, and I was determined not to be beaten. Finally I had to do something absolutely rash. I had to start off on this long voyage with what funds I had. How much? Well, this voyage has cost me less than £4000. On the voyage I racked my brains as to how I should proceed. Then the inspiration came. When I had proved myself by reaching the South Pole my country would help me to go north."

To reach the Behring Sea the Fram had to go south, and it was from Madeira that the world first heard of Amundsen's change of plans. Even then it was only a hint. "We are going to the Antarctic Continent," was the scanty information given forth.

He called his little ship's company together, and explaining his plans, told them it was necessary before attempting the northern scheme to endeavor to reach the South Pole, and to a man they gave him their loyal support. Thus with Amundsen, the conquering of the South Pole has merely been a means towards an end. But what this end is it will be interesting to watch.

No Doubt of Achievement. Has he reached the South Pole? The scandal and doubt as to the Cook and Peary race for the north is reflected in this question. But one has only to meet Amundsen to scout any idea of dishonesty in regard to the southern victory. Besides, Amundsen placed his charts before Captain Davis, formerly of the Shackleton expedition ship Aurora, and the latter says the evidence is irrefutable. "If Dr. Cook had submitted such proof," said the captain, "there would have been no chance to dispute his title to the northern achievement." Why, Amundsen has actually charted quite a large portion of the Antarctic Continent! "Every Britisher is sorry Scott did not win the race, but as sportsmen they must admire Amundsen's pluck."

Born just outside Christiania, Amundsen may be said to have been born and bred in the ice. Captain Davis, on the Aurora, very aptly summarized the reasons for his success as being courage, experience, and attention to detail. None of the "small things" were neglected. The men gave more care to the dogs than to their own comfort. Everything had to be calculated to a nicety. There was no motor-car, no motor-sledge, no ponies—just the dogs the Norwegians so thoroughly understood. The whole expedition was so simple—consisting of nineteen men, including the crew of the Fram. It was so unostentatious, it was so economical.

Aversion to Lionizing. Like most "men who do things," Amundsen is not fond of being "lionized." He is, however, just the sort of man to appeal to Australians. Democratic to the backbone, he denies an audience to none. Always affable and cheery, he has a sort of reluctant smile, but one feels that—like the man—it is thoroughly genuine. And when you talk business to him he gives his whole attention to it. His face becomes fixedly serious, and his eyes introspective. One can see in this a reflection of the financial worries which are inseparable from ice exploration, and of which he has had full measure. And if further evidence is required that the path of the explorer is not strewn with roses, you have only to look at his wrinkles and his hair; he is fast getting grey, though he is not yet forty. The other day Amundsen signed 200 copies of a polar chart, so that a consumptive home in Hobart could benefit, and in other ways he has shown that he has a soft heart. In physique he is tall and "hard as nails." There is a polish and refinement about him which speaks a high education, and, though he speaks English with a markedly foreign accent, Australian audiences will have no difficulty in understanding him. Altogether he impresses you as being a great man—and one whom Australians should delight to honor.

Of Norse Blood. Norway has since the earliest times produced men of Amundsen's calibre. The Sagas of the ninth and tenth centuries give us a vivid idea of the early Norseman. In 874 one of the fleets of these hardy Norsemen reached Iceland, and soon after the discovery of "White Shirt," or Greenland as it is now known, followed. There is little doubt that Karlafeni reached the coast of Labrador in the early part of the 11th century. And it would seem as if Amundsen, embodying the grand northern spirit of energy, had been destined to carry out at the other end of the world the glorious traditions of his countrymen. It is almost with a feeling of regret that we let rust that the last of the great earth stories had been told. We felt that the world was smaller. But on reflection we realize that the old order changeth for the new. As knowledge by great effort is acquired, other fields for further effort arise. The craving for knowledge will ever spur men on to efforts such as these, and, although the goal of many explorers, that great white silence around the Pole, ever alluring, ever beckoning, ever receding, has

BAHA DEDICATES A TEMPLE SITE

CHICAGO, May 1.—Abdul Baha, master of the Bahais and voice of the long dead Bab, this afternoon dedicated the site of Mazrui L'Azkar or "the dawning place of the most high," the world center place of administration and prayer for Bahalism.

Mounted in a modern taxicab, the seer from ancient Persia arrived at the Wilmette site of the proposed building shortly before one o'clock, after mystifying his followers by unexpected delay. He had been counted on to arrive two hours before and was "lost" between the Plaza hotel and this village.

"The Dawning Place of the Most High," where the Bahais plan to erect a temple, is situated in Linden avenue. It is on a small hill studded with black tree trunks. Here about 300 Bahais from all parts of the world had gathered in a great nine cornered tent.

The taxicab containing the robed figure of the son of Baha'O Llah circled the hill before "the Master" alighted. He strode at once into the tent and stood in the center of his believers. He wore the creamy robe and fez that have garbed him almost all of his time in Chicago.

"I call our new temple the God Willing," said the Persian through his interpreter, Ameer Fareed. "We must build it within that circle—symbolizing the universal embrace of the teaching of Baha'O Llah. The building itself may have nine angles, nine entrances and nine gardens.

"See what a beautiful bouquet it will be!" The Persian broke off when he noticed one of those in the crowd shiver. "I'm afraid you are cold," he said. "We're not!" called back several members of the crowd. "Then you are denizens of Chicago," smiled the Persian leader.

Following the address the disciple of peace walked to a spot near the tent, and in the center of the temple site. Here he turned over a spadeful of earth and was followed by delegates from South Africa, India, Germany, France and China. In the crowd was also one who professed being a believer in the teachings of Zoroaster. As the earth was turned those in the audience sang:

"May we now receive His spirit, And its radiance shed afar. Now and here in love abiding, In the realm of El-Ab-Ha."

The ceremony through, the crowds formed two lines from the tent to the awaiting taxicab. Abdul Baha moved down the lane and stepped into the machine. A moment later his creamy fez was nodding farewell.

ANOTHER BOUQUET FOR PHILIP HALL

Willows, Cal., Journal, May 2.—Philip C. Hall, the Hawaiian singer assisted by Miss Georgie Germain will give a concert at the Christian church next Monday night for the benefit of the church. Mr. Hall, who was born in Honolulu, is a very noted singer. He has been soloist in several of the important churches at San Francisco and Oakland since coming to America. He will sing concert songs of a high order. He has an exceedingly rich tenor voice. Miss Germain will be his accompanist and will probably give a piano solo. Mr. Hall will sing one or more Hawaiian songs.

INFANTRY FOR HONOLULU.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 2.—Swarming with 1400 troops and 220 passengers and officers, the United States army transport Sherman is at her dock and at nine o'clock tomorrow will swing down the Willamette with her nose pointed for Honolulu, Guam and the Philippines. In command of its officers, the 953 enlisted men of the First Infantry marched aboard the transport this afternoon, followed by an admiring throng from Vancouver, Wash., and Portland friends, who were on hand to bid farewell to the historic regiment.

Now been reached, there will be only a momentary pause. The hero of this latest effort is already planning fresh enterprises. He has set an example which will sound the call, "Wake up!" in every land—and not less in our own.—Sydney Daily News.

A three-line "want ad." in the "Classified" page of The Star will cost only 90 cents a week. Can you beat it?

MRS. AVA WILLING ASTOR, WHO IS IN THIS COUNTRY TO LOOK AFTER HER DAUGHTER'S INTEREST IN ESTATE

MRS. AVA WILLING ASTOR
COPYRIGHT 1912 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NEW YORK, May 4.—Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who divorced the late Colonel John Jacob Astor three years ago, came from England with her ten-year-old daughter, Muriel, immediately upon learning of Colonel Astor's death. She is in seclusion at the Ritz-Carlton hotel. Mrs. Astor, it is understood, will not remain in this country. The principal object of her presence is to look after the interests of Miss Muriel, who is an heir under the will of Colonel Astor.

HISTORY OF AN ISLAND

Founded on Personal Experience.

By CAPTAIN R. W. NYE. Twenty days previous to arriving at the island this terrible disease broke out and the consequence was, when I dropped my mudhook in the bay, I had fourteen cases of the worst scurvy that ever was on shipboard. I went on shore and saw the governor of the island, Don Romon Pecheca, and from him permission to let my crew come on shore. There was at that time lots of fruit and vegetables. For the worst cases I had holes dug in the ground and put them in with their heads out and then filled in with loose dirt.

Lord, how, those poor devils did yell but 'twas the only remedy to save their lives or limbs. Four hours a day for one solid week I performed this operation and at the end of two weeks I had my crew in as fine a condition as when I left the home port eleven months previous. I recruited the convicts were all transferred to the island of San Lucas in the Gulf of Nicoya twenty miles above the town of Puenta Arenas, where all of the Pacific Mail steamers call on the Panama run to and from San Francisco.

In the year 1874 I had occasion to call there as my men were down with the scurvy and it was the only land I could get to in time to save them. I had been cruising on the off shore grounds for sperm whales for six months and was picking up quite a good season's work, and through hanging on for another 100 of oil barrels the winds fell light and hauled well to the eastward, so that I could not fetch the Galapagos Islands and getting down into the doldrums swamp hole, as I call it, there, where it is nothing but squally weather, I barely fetched this island.

My crew would drink nothing but rain water and as there were fish in abundance they almost lived on them. (Continued on page ten.)

BLANCHARD WILL HOLD EXHIBIT IN PURE ICECREAM CAMPAIGN

Residents of the territory who "just dote on ice-cream, y' know" will have an opportunity to go as far as they like in the near future if Food Commissioner Blanchard's plans do not miscarry. For Commissioner Blanchard is going to hold a public ice-cream exhibit at which microbed ice-cream, ice-cream still inhabited by microbes, ice-cream containing 14 per cent butter-fat, ice-cream containing more than 14 per cent and ice-cream containing much less will be exhibited.

Samples of every kind made in Honolulu and on the other islands will be placed on free exhibition in a designated place and all over a certain age-limit will be invited to eat samples of every kind.

Plans are being formulated by the food inspection department now for the exhibit, which will be held some time before the legislature convenes—perhaps next month.

In announcing the exhibit, the food commissioner wishes to have it distinctly understood that he is not going to open a free ice-cream parlor or anything of the sort, but that the idea of holding the exhibit is to settle a long fought-out controversy as to just how much butter-fat should be contained in ice-cream—whether the people think that the present stipulated percentage of fourteen is too much or too little.

"When we started our campaign against bad ice-cream conditions but fall—principally against the dealers whose ice-cream was not up to the standard in percentage of butter-fat contained therein, the hue and cry was raised by the dealers that fourteen per cent was too much and that the people did not like their ice-cream so rich," said Mr. Blanchard this morning.

"These same dealers at the next meeting of the legislature will doubtless attempt to have the standard of butter-fat reduced on the plea that their customers do not want their ice-cream so rich.

"To settle this question, I am planning to hold an exhibit of all kinds of ice-cream including that product that is below the standard in percentage of butter-fat and also that which is the standard product.

"This exhibit will be held before legislature time and consequently, when it comes time to settle the question, the people will know what they really want.

"It is not that the ice-cream containing too little butter-fat is harmful, but it is the idea of misrepresentation.

COLONEL VS. CLARK, PROPHECY.

TOPEKA, Kas., May 4.—"Theodore Roosevelt will be the republican and Champ Clark the democratic nominee for president this year, and Champ Clark will be elected."

That is the prophecy made today by Mrs. Jerry Simpson, widow of the former 7th district congressman. Mrs. Simpson is a spiritualist, and relates several recent talks with the spirit of her husband.

"It was at Wichita, only a short time ago, that I talked with Jerry about politics," Mrs. Simpson said today. "He said he took the same interest in politics that he had always taken.

"Who will be named by the republicans?" I asked him.

"Theodore Roosevelt," he replied.

"Who by the democrats?"

"Champ Clark."

"Who will be elected?"

"Champ Clark. I am for him, doing all I can for him, and he will be elected."

tation in selling a product named ice-cream when it is nothing more than diluted condensed milk frozen.

"Shaved ice is harmless enough but a dealer has no right to sell it as ice-cream and charge an ice-cream price for it. That is the idea of regulating a butter-fat percentage so that customers will know they are getting what they have asked for.

"Present conditions of ice-cream are pretty poor. Sanitary conditions are all right but the product is hopelessly adulterated and comes below the standard in many ways."

Three cases were found yesterday afternoon by Food Commissioner Blanchard where the dealers implicated had used as little as 6 per cent butter-fat in composition of their ice-cream. In each instance, the dealer was an oriental and carries on business in the white business district.

One of these cases was that of a Chinese whose case was carried to the supreme court as the result of the ice-cream investigation last summer but was later dropped.

Food Commissioner Blanchard had no sooner purchased ten cents' worth of the product from the boy at the fountain when the owner came hurrying forward, protesting that he did not sell ice-cream.

"It is frozen milk I sell," he repeated again and again, but the food inspector pointed to the sign outside the door which read "Ice Cream."

The three dealers will be prosecuted immediately, for violating the law regarding ice-cream.

NEW YORK'S BIG SUFFRAGE PARADE

NEW YORK, May 4.—The weather man provided a warm sun and a cloudless sky today for the biggest woman's suffrage demonstration in the history of New York. For nearly a year preparations for the great parade have been under way and there was little for Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch and her assistants to do today except to marshal the various divisions of their forces for the parade at 5 p. m. and the mass meeting in Carnegie hall at 6.

Fifteen thousand women—and men, too—who had asked for places in the parade, received a last word of exhortation from Mrs. Blatch during the morning. "Remember," she said, through a printed card with which each parader was provided, "you march for the mightiest reform the world has ever seen. The orderly appearance of our procession depends upon each individual marcher. The procession will start at 5 o'clock and not one minute later. Remember, the public will judge illogically, of course, but not less strictly, your qualifications as a voter by your promptness."

Men marchers, a host which Mrs. Blatch thought might reach 3000 in number, were disappointed to learn that Col. Roosevelt had declined the invitation to lead their division. The colonel explained that he had several important engagements in Maryland and therefore would not be able to accept. His place was taken by R. C. Reagle, secretary of the Men's league for woman's suffrage.

The program of the parade provided for a procession made up of eleven divisions, led by an equestrian squad of 100 riders, a band and a company of outdoor suffragist orators, each carrying her little green platform slung like a knapsack across her shoulder. The eleventh division bringing up the rear of the parade, was assigned to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont's organization of department store clerks, preceded by the newly organized baby carriage brigade. In order that Mrs. Belmont's followers might feel no hesitation at appearing in their workaday clothes, she announced that she would wear a white suit, "three years old" and one of the 39 cent parade hats, which were officially selected by the suffragette leaders a few weeks ago.

The tenth division, which comprised the regular members of the woman's suffrage party, hired a dozen brass bands for their section of the parade and provided each member with a yellow pennant and a tiny yellow electric torch.

THE MORNING CABLE REPORT

WASHINGTON, May 17. — Roosevelt gains were reported from many different districts yesterday. Idaho held her convention and, though her delegates will go to the convention in Chicago uninstructed, the sentiment in the State convention at Lewiston is reported to have been overwhelmingly in favor of the Rough Rider. Montana elected for Taft, instructed to vote for the President as long as his name shall be before the convention.

The Minnesota convention added four votes to the Roosevelt column. The former President won twenty-four votes at the presidential primaries held the other day. Yesterday the four delegates-at-large were also instructed to vote for him.

The West Virginia convention held in Huntington, sent a solid delegation to Chicago instructed for Roosevelt. WASHINGTON, May 17.—The fight on the question of whether vessels owned by railroads shall have equal rights with ships not so owned in the Panama Canal opened with vigor before the House yesterday. A large delegation from the Pacific Coast is here supporting the policy of discrimination against railroad owned steamships.

ATLANTIC CITY, New Jersey, May 17.—Calls from the Barnegat life saving station notified the life savers here that the United States submarine boat Tuna, one of the latest and most improved of the submarines, had run aground in a gale near this city late yesterday afternoon. There are five men on board the submarine and it is feared that it will be impossible to save them. The life savers are standing by, and further assistance has been asked by the Brooklyn navy yard and the Norfolk yard has been notified to send any assistance required at once.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The third officer and quartermaster of the Pacific Mail liner Siberia were arrested on board that vessel here yesterday afternoon, charged with having smuggled opium on board. The vessel was searched from stem to stern by the customs officers and, although the search proved unsuccessful, the authorities still believe that large quantities of the drug are hidden on board. The ship is being guarded by double guards from the customhouse, and another search will be made this morning.

HISTORY

In 1881 I went there to water and recruit ship and found the island deserted. I let all of my crew go on shore and forage. There were lots of fruit and also a lot of vegetables in the ground. Hogs and chickens were abundant but wild, so the boys had some fine sport with the guns. It was a picnic for the lusty whalers—fresh meat galore. They were a mixed crew of all nations, as you used to find in a whaler in those days. None of them had ever heard of the supposed treasure that was buried there, as they were ignorant.

Salter's Yarn. We were homeward bound with a full ship a couple of months later, well up into the southeast trades. My wife and myself were having our after supper walk on the weather side of the quarter deck when the conversation of one of the boatsteerers attracted my attention. I stopped at the break of the quarterdeck and listened. He was talking in Spanish to the mate about his little episode on the island. It appears he had shot a wild pig and was packing him down the hillside to the ship and sat down to take a rest. As it felt cold under him he scraped away the leaves and there was a large pot, bottom side up, buried in the ground. The bottom was round like a whaler's try pot. My heart thumped pretty hard just about then. I said, "Juan, come here." "Yes, sir," said he. "Why did you not report that to me while we were there?" "Well, sir, I did not think it was worth mentioning—nothing but a common try pot, sir."

"All right; that will do, Juan." When we got home I offered Juan de Sales a third mate's job on the next cruise, which he eagerly accepted. I was determined to unearth that pot and find out what was under it. But, as luck would have it, Juan got the smallpox and kicked the bucket. That is one of my near shots at buried treasure that slipped through my fingers. I have been there often since and hunted but in vain. In 1901 I buried up in San Francisco an expedition that was bound to that same island to search for the treasure on the other end of the island by telling the promoter this same story.

In such cases demurrage will be waived up to the time of the sailing of the first vessel whose destination is the port for which the freight is intended. No. 3. Inter-Island Cargoes: Domestic freight from Inter-Island ports, for delivery within the City and County of Honolulu, must be removed within two (2) working days after the day of the arrival of the vessel bringing such freight. No. 5. Gasoline, Etc.: Gasoline, kerosene, distillate, benzine and other products of petroleum; also paint and paint oils, if in leaky containers, must be removed by the consignees from the wharf by 5 o'clock p. m. of the day of their being discharged. None of the above articles shall be discharged from any vessel, except between the hours of 7 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. of any day. Upon failure to so remove said articles prior to 5 o'clock p. m. of any day, the Harbor Master must remove said articles; all charges in connection therewith being borne by the consignee. No. 6. Demurrage: Demurrage will be charged at the following rates per ton per day: On freight originating in the City and County of Honolulu, or destined for Honolulu delivery, 25 cents. No freight, subject to demurrage, shall be removed from the dock by the consignee or other person until all charges thereon shall have been paid and a written release, given by the Harbor Master. No. 7. Definition of a Ton: For the purpose of computing demurrage, a ton is 2000 pounds, or 40 cubic feet, as listed on a ship's manifest which discharges such freight. No. 8. Definition of a Day: Twenty-four (24) hours shall constitute a day, commencing at 12 o'clock midnight; and fractional parts thereof shall be charged as a full day. No. 9. Penalty for Violation of Rules and Regulations: Any person or persons who shall violate any of the above Rules or Regulations shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to the penalties as provided by Section 9, Act 163 of the Session Laws of 1911. Approved Wednesday, May 8, 1912. MARSTON CAMPBELL, Chairman, Board of Harbor Commissioners. EMIL A. BERNDT, Secretary, Board of Harbor Commissioners. NOTICE. During my absence from the Territory, Mr. Charles P. Osborne will carry on my undertaking business as usual. The embalming branch will continue to be carried on by two experienced assistants whose specialty is shipping cases, and work first-class as scores of letters on file testify. H. H. WILLIAMS, Honolulu, April 24, 1912. GOLF AND TENNIS. The place for recreation and a quiet time is Haleiwa. The golf links are as good as any in the country, the wind from the sea constantly blows in and the view of the country adds to the attractions of the place. There is a tennis court, as well, and the best swimming beach on this island; no coral, no broken bottles. The table at Haleiwa attracts many tourists who leave satisfied and well pleased with what they have seen and with their entertainment. The management of the hotel has an automobile in the rent service and guests secure it for rides through the country where the pine are growing yellow on their plants.

Business Care Brings Nervous Wear

The petty cares of business life wear away nervous strength, and this applies as much to the clerk at the desk as to the manager in his luxurious office. A thousand little details of duty requiring attention exhaust the nervous energy and cause one to fret over trifling things that would not receive a second thought under conditions of perfect health. Nervous fretful persons of either sex are usually poorly nourished and in all such cases the surest and quickest permanent relief is to be had by the use of which first quickens the appetite and aids the digestion and enriches the blood, thus providing the tired nerves with the nourishment they need. This condition banishes the wakefulness that so many nervous people suffer from and permits them to enjoy sound restful sleep. Get Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Extract at your druggists—and be sure you get STEARNS'—the genuine.

DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATORS

The World's Standard

Used Exclusively by 98% of World's Creameries

Ten years ago there were a dozen different makes of creamery or factory separators in use. To-day over 98 per cent of the world's creameries use De Laval separators, exclusively.

When it comes to buying a separator why not profit by the experience of the creameryman, which qualifies him to advise you correctly.

He knows which separator will give you the best service and be the most economical for you to buy. That's why 98 per cent of the world's creameries use the De Laval exclusively.

There can be no better recommendation for the De Laval than the fact that the men who make the separation of milk a business use the De Laval to the practical exclusion of all other makes. They know from experience. Easiest to turn, wash, skim the cleanest, lasts the longest.

LOCAL PROBLEMS OF ADVERTISING

The meeting of the Honolulu Ad. Club yesterday noon was one of the most interesting yet held, from every viewpoint. The luncheon was in the Bathkeller of the Young hotel, and during its progress letters were read and the addresses of the day submitted. Mr. Childs, of Theo. H. Davies & Company, read the first paper and Mr. McGrew, manager of the Crossroads Bookshop, the second. Both were on the subject of the problems of advertising in Honolulu. Mr. McGrew's paper was as follows:

Advertising in Honolulu is certainly a problem unlike advertising in any other city in which I have ever been. It is necessary for us to approach people from an altogether different standpoint than that used by extensive advertisers throughout the larger cities in the United States.

Sensational or fake advertising, in my opinion, would be absolutely worthless. I doubt if, in the first place, it would get any results whatever, and if it would get any results the first time, I believe that it would be very hard for the merchants using this style of advertising to get any business whatever, thereafter.

I think, however, that the general rules for advertising apply here the same as elsewhere. In the first place, in order to get results, we must keep everlastingly at it. We must never think that we have our customers cinched, because we haven't. There are a few stores in this town still doing business along those lines. They think that they have always had the business and always will have it, and apparently make no effort to get new business or keep what they have. It will not last, however, because live business men from the states are realizing the opportunities which are here and are slowly creeping in and by their live and wide-awake methods of doing business and of advertising they will make good here and get the business before we realize it.

Special sale advertising should always bring big results. Somehow, I don't think it brings the results here that it should, but I think that the time is coming when special sales in Honolulu will be one of the best sources of advertising that we will have. Special sales always bring people into your store that have never been there before, and if your store makes the right kind of appearance it will impress them that they have made the mistake of not buying there before. I think that an excellent idea is to back up your advertisement in the newspaper by a window display of the same goods.

Windows are, perhaps, the best advertisement a store can have, anyway. While, of course, it always acts as a suggestion of what a person wants or perhaps needs, there are also a great many people that dislike going into a store and bothering the clerks when they don't know exactly what they wish, while if they can see exactly what they want in the window, they can go in and ask for it without wasting either their own time or anyone else's. Windows should always be attractive and should contain things of a more or less popular nature, as they are always more interesting to the public than every-day necessary things.

It looks as if bill-boards are not as good an advertising medium here as they were at one time. Personally, I don't believe that the bill-board ever was as good a medium here as it is on the mainland, for the simple reason that the bill-boards are not used, at least very much, for the advertising of theatricals. In large cities on the mainland, where the theaters have a change of amusement every week or so, people become more or less in the habit of watching the billboards for the announcements, not that they go to all the shows that come along, but for the simple reason that the theater is a topic which is discussed very generally and most people like to know more or less about it and keep up on what is doing at the local theaters. Naturally this increases the value of billboard advertising.

There is another point which I don't believe has ever been touched upon at any of these luncheons and that is the difficulty to get the proper cooperation between the advertisers and the newspapers. Many times when we ask for special type, we are told that we can't have it because it belongs to the job-rooms. Other times, unless we specify distinctly what position it is we wish in the paper, we are liable to find our advertisement in a very peculiar place. For instance, one of my own ads went to one of the local papers without the position being marked upon it. When the paper was issued, I got a copy, looked up my advertisement, and found it on the lower right hand corner of the sporting page. While, perhaps the ad was not absolutely wasted, most any other page in the paper would have appealed more directly to people interested in our line than that particular page.

Another thing that occurred recently was a quarter page saloon ad which was run at the bottom of the page of the Monday issue of one of our local papers, the top of which was taken up by the "Sermon Reviews" of the Sunday previous. And altogether too often when we go to the newspaper office in regard to our advertisement, instead of being treated as a customer, we are treated more as if the paper was accommodating us by allowing us to use their space. I am glad to say that this isn't true of all the newspapers in the city, but it is to be regretted that it is true of any, as it is difficult for an advertiser to keep up his enthusiasm in advertising when the man that has advertising for sale treats it as a secondary matter.

When Mr. Fitzmaurice was here, I heard him deliver his first lecture. He said during the lecture that a few days previous he had attended a press luncheon and that some one had made the remark that they ought to get together and boost Hawaii and keep on boosting it until they believed in it themselves. That may be all right in the press or promotion business but it won't go in the mercantile business. We must back up our advertisements by delivering the goods and I think that Hawaii would be a great deal better off if it would back up its advertisement by providing something for the tourists to do when they come here, increasing the efficiency of the steamship service, providing for better hotel accommodations during the rush season and improving our roads so they can automobile with some comfort. If Honolulu doesn't do that, some other city that better appreciates the value of the tourist trade is going to get what rightly belongs to us.

ANOTHER CLEANUP FOR HONOLULU

Another cleanup day for Honolulu is in sight—or rather it should be called a cleanup week, for that is what the report of the special committee of the Central Improvement League adopted by unanimous vote at the meeting held yesterday afternoon, calls for. The date for this big event to start has not been definitely fixed, but will take place some time in June, in all probability.

The committee's report recommends the placing of the matter in the hands of Hon. E. A. Mott-Smith, as director, and it also suggests a full set of district managers and committees to handle the work. The objects to be attained, are set forth by the committee, as follows:

- 1. Hold and gain upon the advance made by the antimosquito campaign;
- 2. Gather and dispose of "overlooked" garbage;
- 3. Make way everywhere for sunlight and breeze;
- 4. Add to the reputation of Honolulu as a city of beauty and health;
- 5. Lessen danger of fire;
- 6. Improve conditions in the tenement neighborhoods;
- 7. Teach sanitation;
- 8. Demonstrate necessity of a free garbage service;
- 9. Arouse civic pride;
- 10. Express cooperation and mutualism as the important factors in the protection development and growth of our town.

The officers to form the executive committee were proposed as follows:

President, B. von Damm; manager, E. A. Mott-Smith; executive committee: B. von Damm, E. A. Mott-Smith, George Guild, E. A. Berndt, William Wolters, Rev. Father Valentin, A. D. Castro, C. W. Ashford, Sol. Mahelona, Dr. Haida, C. K. Ai, Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, Charles Hustace, Jr., George R. Carter.
