PRESIDENT-HUNTERS IN NEW JERSEY

HONOLULU MEN ARE ACCUSED OF OPIUM SMUGGLING

Honolulu Millionaires Mentioned

For some time last year Star reporters were trying to trace up rumors that the several opium smuggling cases being handled by the Federal authorities contained much bigger sensations beneath the surface. It was persistently current gossip that some high-ups in the business community here were implicated in the deals that resulted in the arrest of a "tourist" upon a cable order the moment he arrived in San Francisco from Honolulu, together with the apprehension here and in Hilo of several steamship officers and employees and two policemen of the latter town.

"Wait and see," was all that could be got out of the sphynxlike district attorney, Breckons, but one grand jury report after another was anxiously awaited in vain—nothing but comparatively small fry were caught in the net.

Now comes news from San Francisco that millionaire residents of Honolulu are implicated in the opium ring's operations, though the report of Harry Moffitt, the Federal secret service agent, who spent two months here investigating the matter. The Examiner of the 18th Inst. contains the following: (Continued on page Four)

Kuhio Denies Local Rumor

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, May 13.—Shown the Star's publication of the rumored proposal of the Kuhio League to the effect that Kalaninuiho is to be offered the mayoralty of Honolulu, Robert W. Shingle to be named as Delegate and the Chamber of Commerce be allowed to name seven Republican candidates for Supervisors of the City and County of Honolulu, Kuhio absolutely repudiated all knowledge of any such proposal.

"Tommyrot" was as near as the Delegate would come to a discussion of the plan.

(The suggestion came from Kuhio's side to a member of the Republican Territorial committee, though not ostensibly from Kuhio himself. Kuhio's repudiation of it would indicate that it was a tentative plan rather than a definite one.—Ed. Star.)

Hawaiian Park Bill Is Sidetracked

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, May 13.—Recent efforts on the part of Delegate Kalaninuiho to induce the Committee on Territories to take up the Hawaiian National Park bill have met with the flat refusal of the chairman to allow this measure to be considered during the present session. With the practical certainty of a prolonged session the Delegate has moved to urge the House committee to take up the park bill on the ground that with adjournment day still far away there was ample time to discuss the measure.

Chairman Flood, who has said from the first that he was not in favor of considering this bill during the present session, continues to hold that view.

It is evident that the park bill, because it would necessitate an appropriation, is to be made one of the objects of Democratic "economy," and will not be considered during the present session—although, with the date of adjournment now practically put over to the middle of the summer at least, the committee would be able to find ample time for its consideration.

FOR REFUSAL TO WASH DISHES A SOLDIER GOES TO PRISON; THREE MILITARY SENTENCES

"Put me in the mill if you want to, I'll be damned. If I wash dishes." So spoke Private John V. Franklin of Troop F, Fifth Cavalry, to a sergeant who had ordered him to perform this species of military labor. Private Franklin has since learned that it was neither a wise nor valiant remark, for a general courtmartial, which sat recently at Schofield Barracks, found Private Franklin guilty of insubordination, sentenced him to the "mill" at hard labor for one month and assessed him three months' pay. General Murray, who reviewed the findings approves them, with the remark that the sentence is inadequate.

The reviewing officer was more lenient with Private Robert Cunningham of the 105th company, Coast Artillery Corps. Cunningham was found guilty of assaulting a superior officer, misconduct which led to his arrest by the civil authorities, absence without leave and violation of the 62nd article of war which covers various things not otherwise specified in the articles of war. Cunningham for these offenses was sentenced to be dishonorably discharged from the army with the forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and to serve a term of one year at hard labor in prison. General Murray mitigated this sentence to six months at hard labor and a fine of $72.

Private Charles Guffre, while a member of the 17th recruit company, disappeared from Fort McDowell, California, Feb. 4, and ten days later appeared at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, and surrendered himself. The private having shown a creditable desire to rejoin the army by traveling a number of weary leagues to give himself up was lightly dealt with. The charge of desertion was changed to that of absence without leave, to which he pleaded guilty and received a sentence of one month's imprisonment.

REIDFORD FIRM ON VALUATIONS

The trial of the Mahuku site case was resumed this morning with R. R. Reidford still on the stand on behalf of the respondents. He was subjected to searching cross-examination at the hands of United States District Attorney Breckons, after which Attorney Olson put more questions to him on re-direct.

The questions and answers were chiefly technical. Breckons endeavored to break down Reidford's valuation of the property under discussion by the witness stuck to his guns. He stated that in the Fort street block between King and Merchant streets the property in the middle of the block is more valuable than that of the makai corners.

HONOLULU BOY WINS PREFERMENT

Ernest N. Smith, son of Walter G. Smith and a graduate of Punahou, has been elected a member of the Burlingame, Cal., Board of Trustees by a majority of two to one on the Republican Progressive ticket. He was opposed by a Southern Pacific man and beat the highest man on the opposition slate. Mr. Smith has had his choice of trustee positions and is chairman of the finance committee. He is with Hale Brothers, merchants, of San Francisco, and also has charge of the advertising of the Easton addition to Burlingame.

McClellan Gives Up

(Special Cable to The Star.)
WASHINGTON, May 24.—George McK. McClellan has resigned as private secretary of Delegate Kalaninuiho, his resignation to take effect at the close of the session of Congress. He will engage in the practice of law either in Hawaii or California.

ACCUSED MAN LAUGHS AT LAW

The three men indicted by the territorial grand jury yesterday afternoon appeared before Judge Robinson this morning and were arraigned, their pleas going over to next week. Manuel Ropoz Freitas, who is charged with assault and battery with a dangerous weapon, seemed to think the court proceedings a huge joke. Twice during the reading of the indictment he broke out into roars of laughter. Judge Robinson said he failed to see the joke, but the prisoner kept that as his own little secret.

Three of the indictments are against Chin Fan. One accuses him of criminal assault on a girl less than fourteen years of age, the two others of a similar crime against girls less than twelve years of age. Ivan Gustkin is also accused of criminally assaulting a girl under fourteen years old.

The Hawaii Promotion Committee will hold its weekly meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Will Likely Except Hawaii

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—The House Committee on Immigration is still considering the immigration bill passed by the Senate. Very strong pressure is being brought to bear to have the Committee eliminate the entire literacy test carried in the bill. It is believed if the literacy test is retained it will be modified so as to except Hawaii from its provisions.

WICKERSHAM ASKS BAR ASSOCIATION TO NOMINATE JUDGE HARDY'S SUCCESSOR

For the first time in its history the Hawaiian Bar Association has been requested directly from Washington to recommend a person for a Territorial judgeship.

It happened this morning when a cablegram was received by the Association from Attorney General Wickersham requesting it to recommend a suitable person for appointment as successor to Judge Hardy, of the fifth circuit court, Kaula, resigned.

The attorney general, it will be remembered, followed the recommendations of the local bar association in preference to those of Governor Frear, when he appointed Chief Justice Robertson and Associate Justice De Bolt to the supreme court.

"It is the first time such a request has been received by the association," President D. L. Withington of that body said this morning, "but I regard it as quite appropriate. In fact I have been working for this for some time."

"The Kaula appointment is a somewhat difficult matter," Mr. Withington continued. "While the judge, having to reside there, should be a man who will get along well with the people of that community, he ought at the same time to be a pretty fair lawyer."

"So far as I can learn, the association is favorable to Mr. Ashford. Whether he would take the position is another question, as his practice is probably worth more than the salary of the judge."

"Mr. Ashford was turned down by the association for another judgeship, not on his own account but because of certain methods used by others to push him."

The Kaula judgeship will come before the annual meeting of the association on Wednesday next, as had been decided some days before the request for action came from Attorney General Wickersham.

ABANDONMENT OF ARMY POSTS WILL NOT BE HASTILY ADOPTED

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—Members of the Senate and House military committees are planning to provide for the retention of desirable military posts and the abandonment of others through the appointment of a joint army and congressional commission with authority to examine all of the military posts of the country and to recommend to the next congress what the status of each military post shall be in the future, and which posts shall be abandoned and which shall be retained. The committees of the Senate and House are not inclined to follow the recommendations of the Secretary of War and the Chief of Staff in the matter of abandoning posts without making a careful investigation of the entire subject, and in order to do this intend to provide in the army appropriation bill for the creation of a commission of eminent retired army officers and members of the House and Senate military committees to examine the posts and report to congress when it reassembles December next. It is expected the commission will have as members Lieutenants General S. B. M. Young and Arthur MacArthur; Majors General George M. Randall, Jesse M. Lee and Charles F. Humphrey; Senators Warren and Foster, Representatives Slayden and Anthony. Pending the report of the commission no action will be taken upon the recommendation of the Secretary of War for the abandonment of various western army posts.

PURSE OF $2000 GIVEN TO BERGER BY CITIZENS

With tears streaming down his cheeks, and his rugged shoulders shaken by emotion he could not repress, Captain Henry Berger received today the envelope containing a certificate of deposit for $2000 in his favor, expressive of the esteem in which he is held by scores of his fellow citizens in Honolulu. The presentation took place at the noon-day luncheon at the Commercial Club, in the presence of several hundred business men who occupied every available bit of space in the large dining hall. George W. Smith, representing the committee of the Merchants' Association and of the Chamber of Commerce, made the presentation, at the close of a most pleasing and sympathetic address.

"Seldom has any occasion ever brought together a larger or more representative body of business men in Honolulu, than did this lunch given by the Commercial Club in honor of Honolulu's bandmaster—a servant of the people who has served them faithfully and zealously for forty years through storm and peace, and only now lays aside his baton temporarily for a brief visit to his native land. And every man who attended this so with a most kindly aloha for the man who has played his part in Hawaii's affairs as earnestly and efficiently, and who probably left his imprint as deeply as any other one man."

At the large round table at the head of the room, with Captain Berger in his characteristic white uniform in the place of honor, were seated G. Fred Bush, vice president of the Commercial Club, who performed the duties of toastmaster; F. A. Schaefer, George W. Smith, W. O. Smith, J. P. Hackfeld, C. P. Iaukea (representing ex-Queen Liliuokalani), E. J. Spaulding and P. W. Macfarlane.

SHINYO MARU CARRIES BULLION

Has Fine Trip From San Francisco--Cavalry Will Stay With T. K. K.--Titanic Survivor Here--Mose Hunt As Professor

Reporting a perfect passage from San Francisco the T. K. K. liner Shinyo Maru arrived off port early this morning and was brought alongside the Alakea dock in fine style by Pilot Macaulay. She leaves again at three o'clock this afternoon.

There is only a small passenger list, forty being the number in the first cabin, sixty-nine in the second and ninety-two Asiatics, made up of fifty-four Japanese and thirty-eight Chinese.

H. Bredhoff and B. Brodsky of the Vanity Film Exchange company are the two layover passengers for this port. They go on by the next steamer to Hongkong.

Among those passing through are Miss M. R. Allen who goes to Yokohama to be married, F. D. Bartlett and H. B. Van Linderen, accompanied by their wives, go to Yokohama to join the American Trading Company.

H. W. Robinson of Los Angeles is booked for Hongkong and is accompanied by his wife. Robinson is head of a big business firm in Los Angeles and is taking G. Fisher to instruct him in the methods of Oriental buying.

Although the craft is small, space is provided for sufficient food for four days for five passengers. Provision is also made to carry rockets and other equipment.

Three air tanks give the craft sufficient buoyancy to support 19 people if necessary. Mr. Martin came to Nelson recently from Belleville, Ont., and has several other inventions which he proposes to demonstrate shortly.

Mr. Martin states that the device could be utilized also for equipping life-saving stations and gasoline launches.

TOMMY BURNS TRIES AGAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—After an absence of over two years from the squared circle, Tommy Burns will again try his hand at the game and see if he can line himself up for a match with Jack Johnson for the title. Burns will hook up with Jack Connell at Edmonton, Canada, on May 23 in a twenty-round contest. Burns has been training for some time, and in a letter to the writer says he is in his oldtime form.

If Burns makes a good showing with Connell he will hunt up a match with either Sam Langford or Jack Johnson for the near future. Tommy's knee, which was badly injured some time ago, is as strong as ever again and the former champion does not think it will bother him any more.

After the Connell match Tommy intends to take a run down to New York and see what's doing in the boxing line thereabouts. He will talk business with one of the promoters in regard to a match with either of the colored boxers.

HILO FOURTH

Hilo Tribune: On the "Glorious Fourth" the people of Hilo will have all sorts of choices to make regarding the way that they will spend the day and, by the exercise of some little skill they may, possibly, be able to fit everything in, so as not to miss anything.

The horse races, prize fights, dances and some other features are all in the hands of competent managers. The "ponies" will be taken care of by that good old sport, John O'Rourke, who probably knows more about the "sport of kings" than anybody else in Hawaii.

The prize fights will be managed by H. Melton Ayres, who is so an fait with the "noble art." On the evening of July Fourth, the young gladiators will punch one-another to their hearts content.

The ball that will wind up the great day for most people, will possibly be under the auspices of the National Guard. That the function will be a splendid one, goes without saying.

KID HERRIGAN AND GREEN SPAR WITH GEORGE INGLE

There was the customary training session at the Orpheum last night and the usual crowd of spectators.

Young Gans was not present, having suffered from a stitch in his side during the day. On this account he decided to lay off from work with the gloves for a night.

Kid Herrigan was on hand, however, and also a boxer named Green who once on a time fought Ben de Mello in Hilo town.

Herrigan and Ingle sparred two good rounds and then "Plug" Milne went into action and boxed four rounds with "Uncle Ben's" next opponent. Both Ingle and McCarthy express a big opinion of the "Kid" as a boxer.

Greene wound up a useful evening's work with two rounds with Ingle. The latter sandwiched a couple of rounds of rope-skipping between bouts with his sparring partners.

Young Caples will work out at the Orpheum today and Young Gans is also expected to be on hand to add to the gaiety of the proceedings.

Probable Trial Horse.

"Plug" Milne, who weighs about 130 pounds and who is doing regular work in the Inglecamp, may be chosen as the first opponent for Yamogata, the Japanese pugilist who arrived from Seattle by the S. S. Marama yesterday. Milne is about the same weight as the oriental boxer and should be able to give the visitor a satisfactory tryout.

Ben de Mello will arrive from Hilo by the steamer Mauna Kea tomorrow morning and will take a long hike on the road on Sunday.

On Monday he will establish a training camp and start in earnest. Just whom de Mello will select for sparring partners is not known but it is understood that he has that end of his arrangements all settled and that he will not suffer from lack of opponents.

George Tate will, it is said, manage the Portuguese while he is in Honolulu and it is more than likely that Camp Very will be selected as his training quarters.

The winners of an event will be credited with five points; the second with three points, and third will be given one point. Gold and silver medals will be awarded to the winner and second in each event.

The following schools and clubs have made entries: Myrtles, Healanis, Punahou, Hui Nalu, Outrigger, The Healanis and Outrigger have also entered in the junior events.

MOANA TENNIS

Yesterday afternoon in the Moana Hotel tennis tournament the Donna teams won two matches from the Moana representatives.

Faithful and Parker defeated Sinclair and Macaulay, 9 to 7, 6 to 3.

Young and Littlejohn defeated Anderson and Gray, 6-1, 6-3.

This afternoon the Moana and the Donna again play, with the teams reversed. The winners will play off the finals against Forj Roger tomorrow.

AN OLD ACQUAINTANCE.

S. F. Bulletin: Frankie Smith, the local lightweight, who broke his hands several weeks ago in a bout with Charley Reilly, is again on the warpath, and wants to try his hand again in the short-bout game with any of the lightweights. The bone broken in the Reilly fight has set, and Smith says it is as strong as ever, he having tried it out. Smith is a mighty good boy, and has made some great highs at the "Home of Quarrels" on Steiner street. His great fights against Honan, Murphy and Reilly are still remembered by the fans.

Andre Gobel, France, won the covered courts tennis singles championship at the Olympic Games, defeating C. P. Dixon of Great Britain.

CORNELL WON.

BOSTON, Massachusetts, May 24.—The Cornell varsity crew in a desperately hard rowed race yesterday afternoon outdistanced both Harvard and Princeton. Harvard followed with a fairly good lead on the Tiger. The Cornell freshmen added to the jubilation of the Ithacans by walloping the Crimson freshmen in quick time and with daylight showing between the boats.

BAILEY IS A PUZZLING PROBLEM FOR MANAGER OF ST. LOUIS TEAM

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—What to do with Bill Bailey is a tough problem for Manager Wallace of the local American-league team. Bailey is a lanky Texan who pitches from the port side. So long as he can keep runners off the bases he is a wonder, but when one or two troublesome batters get on the bases Mr. Bailey "blows up." He gets as nervous as a cat and as wild as a hawk. There is no telling where he will or will not throw the ball. He is usually good for five or six innings before making his ascension. St. Louis fans have been sore on Bailey for some time, and last year he was sent to Memphis for further seasoning. The management of the Browns is afraid to let him go for fear he will develop into a phenomenon. Detroit has wanted him, and McAleer tried to get him for the Washington team two years ago. He is being tried again with the Browns, and if he can avoid the "rattles" he will add strength to the team.

SPORTS FROM COAST PAPERS

Yale and Princeton tied in their annual track-meet held on the Yale field. The score was 58 1/2 points.

By a bare margin of one match in doubles, Harvard won the tennis tournament with Princeton.

Stanford University is to send a crew to the Poughkeepsie races for the first time in the history of rowing that a coast crew has entered this famous event.

Santa Clara college track team defeated the St. Mary's team by a score of 75 to 47.

In the Olympic Games Gobel and Gertner, France, won the covered courts men's doubles from Hatterwell and Kempe, Sweden.

Walter Coffey knocked out Bert Fahan (Sailor Bert Bowers) in the nineteenth round.

Tom Jones has taken over the management of Al Kaufman.

Mrs. E. M. Kannam of Great Britain was victorious in the covered courts ladies' singles at the Olympic Games, defeating Miss Castenschiold, Denmark.

Johnny Conlan and "Digger" Stanley may fight for the world's bantamweight title in Madison Square.

Fred Thompson, twice all-round champion of America, will not be a member of the American team to the Olympic Games.

The referee stopped the Laneford-Barry fight in the eleventh round, the latter being completely outclassed.

The Newmarket Handicap of $50,000 was won by H. P. Whitney's All Gold.

Johnny Kilbane outfought Jersey City Frankie Burns in a ten-round bout.

A ROWING BOOM IS STARTED IN HILO

Hilo Tribune: That the sport of rowing should flourish in Hilo, is the opinion of many Honolulu sportsmen and, when the Editor of the Tribune was leaving the capital city he was asked to do all he could to start the game here. And why not? Rowing is the most healthful of sports, and the men who train for races have to live clean lives, that makes them all the better citizens.

There is any amount of available material in Hilo and the surrounding districts, and the getting together of a crew, or two crews, for that matter, should be easy enough. The matter of money should not be a bar. If a crew from Hilo appears on Regatta Day in Honolulu, it will be a boat for this town and the people who reside here.

At the present time there are only three boat clubs that compete in the large races on Regatta Day. The Myrtles, Healanis and Punuenes form the trio. The last named crew was the admiration of everybody last September, and the way they bucked up and did their level best, earned the cheers and congratulations of all good sportsmen.

The Maui boys were, with one exception, a green lot of oarsmen. They practically learned the art of rowing in a tank. They only had a couple of weeks proper rowing on Honolulu harbor. Still, they did very well and, although defeated, were by no means disgraced.

Hilo has far more advantages than the Maui crew have. Behind the breakwater here, there is a sheet of water that would make an ideal training course, and a shell and barge crew could soon work themselves into condition. Then the Desha boys are old hands at the rowing game, and they could soon shape up a crew that would be an honor to Hawaii. Think it over.

STARS VS OAHUS

Challenges and counter-challenges are flying in the air.

Yesterday the manager of the victorious Star team heard from the Oahus to the effect that they stood ready and willing to play the news champions at Makiki on Sunday afternoon.

The Star manager has replied to the Oahu def that his bunch of ball tossers will meet the Ehlerites on Sunday morning next on any local ground agreeable to the challengers.

The line-up of the Stars will be: Theo. Kissel (capt.), c; George Lindo (The Wonder), p; Vincent Nascimento, 1b; Dimond, 2b; August Games, 3b; Clarence Rawlins, ss; Ah Sun, lf; Pete Walkul, cf; Abraham, rf.

A speedy answer from the Oahus will be appreciated.

MORAN MAY TRAVEL.

Owen Moran's representative, Jimmy Johnson, claims to have received an offer of three fights in Australia. He is to receive $5000 for the first contest, with the privilege of 35 per cent of the gate receipts for the second and third events should he be victorious in the first.

Moran has been getting some fair money for his recent bouts in the East, but he has not been keeping busy, and it is more than likely that he may accept the offer of Hugh McIntosh.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE STUMP

Judge Humphreys, who is a historical student of painstaking methods, recalls in this issue the story of President Andrew Johnson's stump defence of his administration against the bitter radicalism of his time—which came directly after the Civil War. The incident he speaks of was the common experience of the President during his "swing around the circle." It was most unedifying, as Taft's tour may be regarded in future by his friends, and it helped to relegate Johnson to an obscurity in which he remained until his home State—which knew him best—sent him back to Washington several years later, as a member of the United States Senate.

But all such undignified proceedings will end, because there will be no necessity for them, if Congress and the States adopt the Clayton amendment to the Constitution, providing for a one-term presidency. One prime fault with the successive term method is that a president shapes his first term to prepare for it instead of doing his best work for the country as a whole. This implies that he, if opposed for re-nomination, will descend to the wrangles of the stump. If given a six-year term only he will not have to do personal politics and will have no greater ambition than to be a successful President of the whole nation. Then he will do as well in his office as he now tries to do only in a second term.

Johnson is regarded at best as a stump president and we should have liked it better if President Taft had obeyed his first impulses, which accorded with his life history, and had refused to become one. Doubtless he would be better off now by letting his cabinet ministers do the platform fighting.

THE PARTY AND ROOSEVELT

Roosevelt's power to hypnotize the crowd in the street was shown again the other day at Newark, N. J. The spectators gave him the greatest ovation of his life. If it was any greater than the one which saluted his name, when Governor Hughes uttered it, in an address at the Jamestown fair in the presence of some thousands of Democratic and ex-Confederate citizens, it must have roared like massed field batteries. The crowd had responded to compliments to Lee, Stonewall Jackson and General Grant with ordinary salvos, but when Roosevelt's name was mentioned the buildings shook. Whatever fighting spirit there is in Americans, whatever love for a dime novel adventure and lick-the-world propaganda, big armies, big navies and a prostrate foe, responds to the mere mention of Roosevelt. But wherever men deliberate calmly there is a different spirit.

It is this spirit which is sure to be heard from in the elections, especially if the Democrats should nominate a safe man like Harmon against a nominated Roosevelt and the conservative Republicans can be sure of keeping the Senate and regaining the House. Conservative Republicans, with Congress in their hands, would probably direct their attention to the control of Congress, voting against third termism as represented by the presidential nominee. By this course, no matter who is elected president, they would control the situation.

THE SKIPPER'S RESPONSIBILITY

Leniency towards ship captains upon whose ships opium is found will no longer be granted by the government. It is expected that a captain will use as much pains to find concealed opium as he does to find concealed stowaways. Nevertheless, much injustice may come to such an officer unless he can have the right to examine cargo and passengers' baggage. A stowaway cannot hide from close inspection, but how can a ship captain know that a bale of cut hay in the hold or a family trunk in the trunkroom is not full of distilled poppy? In a search for stowaways, officers and men have no object in overlooking them. So, how could the captain help it? To punish him would not stop smuggling, but it might put a faithful and safe navigator in jeopardy.

VICTORIOUS CORNELLIAN

It is difficult for any other varsity crew to defeat the Cornell oarsmen. There is still at Cornell a large community of strong-armed youths, the product of several generations of country-bred men and as Cornellians they inherit the training methods of Courtney, the greatest American oarsman of his time. Situated as they are, close to a lake which is forty miles long and four miles wide, in its widest part, Cornell men are naturally drawn to water sports. They row and swim and sail, almost by instinct, and it is easy to cull the material from them for an exceptional rowing crew. Cornell's triumph over Harvard and Princeton was nothing unusual; but if the victory had been the other way, and as complete, it would have caused general surprise among people who are interested in such things.

It is probable that the Chester Rowell referred to in the obituary news from California, is the more distinguished one whose Lincoln-Roosevelt League began the crusade which overturned the Republican politics of the State. Chester Rowell, the keen and fertile politician, though editor of a small paper in a minor city, was personally the best known active journalist in the commonwealth. Able men edit the San Francisco dailies, but they are hidden under the fame of owners and are compelled to be merely anonymous forces in the debate of issues. But Rowell was able to speak in his own name and earn personal repute.

It is to be hoped that San Diego won't secede from California. The chief of police there says that "every citizen" in view of the I. W. W. menace, "is ready to shoulder a musket and protect his home." This is precisely the spirit of South Carolina in 1861, in view of the abolition menace to the homes and plantations. A cooler judgment should convince San Diego that California has law enough to secure the rights of all concerned there and an ample force to back it. The indignant citizens should leave their muskets or gopher guns at home and cool off in their incompressible bay.

While the promotion of Mr. Uyeno, the Consul General of Japan, pleases his friends, all will regret his departure. Mr. Uyeno is a good official, doing faithful duty to his government and promoting peaceable relations between his countrymen here and the Americans. Personally he is a man of dignity, courtesy and tact—having all the qualities that go to make an ideal consular representative. If he lives, Mr. Uyeno should be heard of yet in the sphere of high diplomacy.

Wilbur Wright, the aviator, is too useful a man to spare and every one who has watched his course will hope for his recovery from typhoid fever, the seeds of which the sanitary neglect of some of the southern towns where he has been doing business have sown in his system. Mr. Wright is a son of the famous Methodist bishop of that name and a cousin of Miss Mary Krout, whose Hawaiian work has been of much value to this Territory.

Lucky Berger! His old friends gave him a fine send off and so large a purse that, when its American gold is changed into German thalers, he will have money enough to make Rothschild wish he were a handmaster.

The predictions which await fulfillment on Hawaii, and which the recent earthquake recalled, were not new stunts in Kilauea but an eruption of Mauna Loa. That is what Hawaii is waiting for.

As the result of the recent McClellan stir it wasn't the other man who resigned.

UNTIMELY OPTIMISM

By WALT MASON.

I was sitting by my gate weeping o'er an unkind fate. Everything was wrong that day, for my chickens wouldn't lay, but just loafed around the coop; and old Dobbin had the croup, and the cow had gone insane—she had suffrage on the brain—and the cat was having fits, and the dog, a lovely Spitz, seemed to have the rabies bad, and my heart was sick and sad. So I sat there shedding brine from these china eyes of mine, weeping like some stricken deer till the yard was full of tears. Then an optimist came by; he had sunshine in his eye, and he slapped me on the back till I heard my wishbone crack. And there came this cheerful spasm from the large and yawning chasin-in his beaming countenance: "Do not worry! Sing and dance!" So I slew him where he stood, with a chunk of wet elm wood. For I've found that when I'm sore optimism is a bore, and I do not care to hear people utter words of cheer. If you murmur and console I can stand your rigmalar; if you come and help me cuss I'll enjoy the little fuss. When all things are going right and I'm reeking with delight, then the optimist may come, making sunny language hum.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

JOE COHEN—The Juvenile Bostonians look good to me and I think they will make a big hit.

JACK WEDAY—There is no telling but what I might have got those stowaways yesterday if they had only called on me.

G. P. AFFONSO—There is a rumor going round that A. K. Vieira has been arrested for throwing his shadow on the street.

JARED G. SMITH—Although not so large as last year's, my tobacco crop is looking very well. All the difficulties of the tobacco industry will in time be overcome.

W. H. MCINERNEY—The yacht Hawaii is about due to reach San Pedro, unless she has had unfavorable winds, which I do not believe. She has been out nineteen days today.

PURSER CAVARLY (Shinyo Maru)—My arrival in port this morning marks the hundredth time I have been here. I am still just as big a booster for Honolulu as ever.

MARSTON CAMPBELL—The work of installing the new electric motor at Beretania pump is completed and means that the Manoa valley water shortage is at an end.

W. O. AIKEN—About three years was spent in drawing up that course of study which Principal Copeland tried to introduce, and which he hasn't even been permitted to read.

TREASURER CONKLING—It looks rather bad for Taft but you never can tell. Presidential election is like a football game; you don't know what the result is going to be until time has been called.

HARRY LAKE—I consider that the recent boxing shows in Honolulu have been excellently conducted, and that, I am given to understand, is the opinion of the mayor, supervisors and county attorney's department.

JOHNNY MARTIN—I don't often enter a theater but I did drop into the Liberty the other night just to see how a bit of painting was drying, and I must say as 'ow I consider the acoustics of the building most remarkable.

KIRK B. PORTER—This cemetery accommodation problem is a more serious one than most people think. Here we are with a certain number of graveyards and these nearly filled to capacity and the human race will not cease to be mortal just because all our graveyards are crowded.

JOEL COHEN—Some people are curious critics of a show. You ask a fellow after the opening performance what he thinks of the layout and he replies in an airily noncommittal way. Next morning he will be whooping for the company or double-damning it according to the opinion which he read in the paper over his coffee. It would be a fine thing if more people would cultivate an opinion of their own.

A. S. HUMPHREYS—The President is reported as having said in a speech at Trenton, yesterday, that he felt humiliated at being the first of all the Presidents who has been forced by circumstances to depart from the cherished tradition that has kept all of his predecessors out of the turmoil of politics and away from all political controversy.

This was an inaccurate statement of political history.

Andrew Johnson took the stump in defense of his administration in 1865, and was driven to cover by a howling mob while attempting to speak from the balcony of the Southern Hotel at St. Louis, on September 10, 1866. The following extract from the Cleveland Leader, September 4, 1866, reporting President Johnson's speech and his reception in that city is illustrative of the temper of that time.

"Who is he—what language does he speak? What religion does he profess—that can come and place his finger upon one pledge I ever violated, or one principle I ever proved false to (Voice 'New Orleans?') Another, 'Why don't you hang Jeff Davis?') Hang Jeff Davis? (Shouts and cries of

"Down with him!") Hang Jeff Davis? (Voice 'Hang Wendell Phillips!') Why don't you hang him? (Cries of 'Give us an opportunity!') Haven't you got the court? Haven't you got the Attorney General? Who is your Chief Justice, who has refused to sit on his trial? (Groans and cheers). I am not the Chief Justice! I am not the Attorney General! I am no jury! But I'll tell you what I did do. I called upon your Congress, that is trying to break up the Government. (Hisses and cries of 'A lie!') Great confusion. Voice 'Don't get mad!') I am not mad. (Hisses.)"

MILLIONAIRES MENTIONED.

Following story: "The most gigantic opium smuggling plot ever known in the United States is being unearthed by Government officials in San Francisco and important arrests of those who are implicated in the ring are expected hourly.

"The Government has been quietly gathering evidence for several months and it is known that several officials holding important positions with steamship companies in this city are among the list of those who will be taken into custody.

"Several stevedores who have purchased valuable realty holdings in San Francisco and across the bay are also to be called upon to explain how they acquired their wealth.

"Saloonmen who have been friendly to the opium ring and where the smugglers have made their rendezvous have been shadowed by secret service agents and have told all they knew about the smugglers.

"Yesterday afternoon every available customs inspector was ordered off the docks and sent into the city in civilian clothes to gather as much information as possible and also to keep certain suspected persons under surveillance.

"Among other evidence which the Government has secured is the fact that in front of a certain saloon on the water front a hack was loaded with suit cases filled with opium which was taken up into Chinatown and sold to the regular receivers of the drug.

"Another saloon in Third street is known to have been a clearing house for the drug for smugglers who came up Third street from the Pacific Mail dock after the opium had been smuggled ashore from the trans-Pacific steamers.

"About a year ago the Government began to turn an eye to the suppression of the opium-smuggling into this port. Special Agent Harry Moffitt of the United States Secret Service was sent to Honolulu. He was gone about two months and sent to Washington an exhaustive report which is said to have implicated residents of Honolulu who are said to be millionaires.

"At the same time the customs officials at this port made several sensational seizures on the steamers Man churia and Mongolia."

THE THEATERS

Big Vaudeville Show at Bijou. A dramatic company, an acrobatic troupe, a song and dance team and four of the best motion pictures combined to make the Bijou's program the best in the history of the theater.

The new people, Knotts and Lawrence, made a very favorable impression on their initial appearance and demonstrated that the favorable comments they created elsewhere were not unfounded. Neat in dress and appearance, possessors of good voices, good dancers and full of rapid fire repartee they quickly made themselves popular favorites. Knotts' rendition of the parody on "Alexander Rag Time Band" heard for the first time in Honolulu last night, promises to be as popular as the original. The team on the whole is a decided addition to the Bijou program.

May Nannery & Co. appeared in a very powerful one act drama entitled "The Penalty Paid." In this playlet Miss Nannery was seen at her best and showed that her dramatic prowess is not on the wane. She carried her heavy part through admirably well. Her support was very good, particularly in the scene with her husband when she denounced him, which called for emotional acting.

The Yokohama Troupe of acrobats were the big favorites, their every turn being applauded with gusto. They performed seemingly impossible feats again last night. The four reels of pictures specially selected by the manager were very much appreciated. One film of different scenes and events in the principal cities of the world might easily have been a feature film anywhere. It is both instructive and entertaining.

The Trained dog troupe, fifteen strong, will be the big attraction at the people's popular theater next week. May Taylor, she of the "hello everybody" salutation, will also grace the festive boards. These additions prove conclusively that the Bijou's management gives the best in the line of talent.

HATTIE MAY BE IN HILO

Hattie Keola, a paroled student at the Girls' Industrial School, about whose absence from town a hue and cry has been raised by the school authorities during the past two days, is said to have left Honolulu for Hilo a day or so ago.

Hattie, who is about sixteen years of age, has been on parole for more than a year and has been living with Miss Wolf, in Pihoko lane, though still attending classes in the Industrial school.

Hattie left school on Wednesday afternoon but did not return to her home that night. Consequently her connections began to get anxious about her. The missing girl had another year to remain at the school.

$2000 GIVEN

Captain Berger was seated between Tomstmaester Bush and Mr. Hackfeld, president of the firm of H. Hackfeld & Company, and almost directly across the table from George W. Smith, who made the presentation.

After the lunch had been served, Chairman Bush in a few appropriate words explained the purpose of the gathering, and introduced Mr. Smith, who in a brief address that was eloquent; and that expressed most feelingly the sentiments of practically everyone in the community for Captain Berger, commended his faithfulness, and the fidelity to duty which he has shown always in serving his adopted land. The pleasure and help which the bandmaster's efforts have brought to untold thousands, the speaker said was something that would be difficult to estimate in dollars and cents.

Queen a Contributor.

With the $2000 presented to Captain Berger, was a list of the individuals and firms which had contributed to the amount; and it contained the names of practically all of the business and professional men in the community. In the list also appears the name of ex-Queen Liliuokalani, and she was represented at the lunch by her private secretary, C. P. Iaukea, who in her behalf expressed her aloha to Herr Berger, and wished him a most happy vacation and safe return. The Queen, said Mr. Iaukea, held a deep regard for the Bandmaster, who in years ago had set to music various bits of verse written by her, including Hawaii's most popular song, "Aloha Oe." She wanted Mr. Berger to know that it gave her great pleasure to know that he was about to have a well earned vacation; and Mr. Iaukea stated that she had had tears in her eyes as she had bade him wish her former chief musician, a bon voyage and safe return.

The Captain's Thanks.

Captain Berger was utterly overcome for a time after he had been handed the token of appreciation from his fellow citizens; and he stood in his place and wept copiously, while there were not a few others whose eyes were misty in sympathy. Then the old man pulled himself together, and his voice grew firm as he warmed up to the duty of thanking his friends for their generosity.

He commended the culture of Hawaii, which he declared is higher than on the mainland, and complimented the business men who had made this possible by supplying the money which has been necessary to keep music to the fore. Some of his speech was very funny and produced much mirth. He said that he wasn't a politician, but of late years he had to play politics to keep the band running. But it isn't altogether a congenial game with the kapellmeister, for he declared—"If you try to serve everybody you can't play politics because then you have to do everybody."

Other Felicitations.

"Who knows what part Berger's music has had in bringing about peace in Hawaii at different times in her history," wrote Judge Sanford B. Dole, who was unable to be present at the lunch, but took this means of expressing his sentiments and well wishes to Captain Berger. Judge Dole's letter touched also upon the uncertain period of the overthrow of the monarchy, and the troublous times of the "P. G." government.

Besides the speakers already mentioned, short addresses were made also by J. F. Hackfeld, president of H. Hackfeld and Company and F. A. Schaefer, both fellow countrymen of Berger's. The latter reviewed the incidents which led up to Berger's being engaged as bandmaster—the visit of a German warship, and the delight which the ship's band produced for some time in Honolulu, with the result that Hawaii finally decided to

DR. BURNHAM SAYS MOST LOCAL SHOWS ARE SEWAGE

Declaring that "none of us like drinking sewage and that is what we feel has been served to us in the average performance" in this town and, furthermore, that it is a certainty that the best thinking people of the city do not go to them, Dr. Minnette Burnham, in a letter written to the management of the Liberty theater congratulating it on the showing made by the Juvenile Bostonians last night, raises once more the old question of what Honolulu really wants in the theatrical line.

Dr. Burnham is very severe when dealing with the average performance here and states that it is a pleasure to be able to attend a show that can be enjoyed as much the day after. Her letter is as follows: "Ye Liberty Theater,

"Gentlemen: It was my pleasure to attend the performance given in your comfortable theater last night. I feel so grateful to you for giving me a good show and one which one can enjoy as much the day after as when it is before you. My very soul has been made sick by the vulgar, indecent things one must see and hear in the usual show in this city. So disgusted have some of us felt with the shows which are so usually given that I seldom attend one of them and I know of a certainty that the best thinking people of the city do not go to them.

"I write this hoping I may be one of many who will encourage the manager of Ye Liberty to give this hungry city something pleasurable and therefore profitable.

Do Not Like Sewage.

"None of us like drinking sewage and that is what we feel has been served to us in the average performance. We trust we may look to you for clean, wholesome, pleasurable performances and trusting we shall not go to greater disappointment.

"Most respectfully yours, (Dr.) MINNETTE BURNHAM. "Boston Building, Honolulu."

COPELAND MAY COME BACK AND FIGHT ANOTHER BATTLE

Principal J. A. Copeland, commander-in-chief of the insurgents and member of the committee on mathematics of the board of supervising principals, won't play any more and intends to stay in his own back-yard until the commissioners meet tomorrow morning and settle the many differences that have arisen among the supervising principals.

Then and not until then will Mr. Copeland consent to stop putting and play with the other children once more. For Mr. Copeland is indignant at the way his suggestions were received in the first place—consequently when he was appointed to serve on the committee for mathematics, he is declared to have said, "You wouldn't listen to me before, so you don't need to now." And he left the committee meetings and has not appeared since.

Meanwhile, the opposing faction

the old guard—is waiting in breathless apprehension to see what Mr. Copeland will do next—whether he will simply stand to one side and throw stones or whether he will wade into the fray and use both hands and feet to advantage when the time comes.

For the committee have about completed their reports which will be read at the supervising principals' meeting this afternoon. According to members of the committee, no action will be taken on the reports until the commission meets tomorrow morning, as there is much conjecture and little knowledge as to the attitude of the commission on the work being done by the supervisors.

It is also expected by many that, although Mr. Copeland left the meetings by the front gate and with an air of offended dignity, yet he will doubtless make a sudden reappearance during the commission meeting and manage to make himself heard.

ATTORNEY KINNEY DECIDES TO BECOME A BLUENOSE

W. A. Kinney, the attorney who has helped to make history in Hawaii in various ways, his latest appearance in the limelight focus being his services to Delegate Kublo in the fight against Governor Frear in Washington, is not coming back to Honolulu. Even the redoubtable politician and lawyer is going to leave the land of the free and the home of the brave, and settle down as a buccolic squire in the land of Evangeline, modernly known as Nova Scotia and anciently as Acadia.

have a band of its own, and the German Emperor was asked by King Kalakaua to send a director, resulting in the advent of Henry Berger.

SPANIARDS BALK AT EMPLOYMENT

Because it has been found impossible to secure them employment on plantations where they wished to go, seven families of Spaniards, now at the territorial immigrant station, have refused to go to plantations where their services are needed, and declare they will not leave the immigrant station unless their demands are granted. Secretary Kearns issued an ultimatum to the men this morning, giving them until 5 o'clock this afternoon to make up their minds to go where there is room for them. He told them if they did not the Territory would support them no longer and they would have to leave the station.

At one o'clock this afternoon, the Spaniards were still defiant and will probably be ejected when the moment of grace expires. Work on the marine barracks and officers' quarters at Pearl Harbor naval station will be delayed, to await a decision in Washington on the question of location. Changes in the structural plans are also pending at the

In a letter to a friend in Honolulu Mr. Kinney relates that his father having left him a tract of 2000 acres of land in Nova Scotia he has concluded to make his home there in future. One potent reason for this momentous decision is that the climate of that country is favorable to the health of his son, which has been somewhat precarious in his native islands.

One of Mr. Kinney's uncles was a member of the first parliament of the Dominion of Canada, when the British provinces were confederated in 1867.

CHINESE BONE MEAL FOR HAWAII

China produces large quantities of bonemeal, used extensively for fertilizer, and according to a report lately made by American Consul George E. Anderson, of Hongkong, Hawaii is taking increasingly large quantities of it. He says:

"There has been a considerable increase in shipments of bonemeal from India and the East Indies to the United States by way of Hongkong during the past few months. Considerable trade has been carried on in this commodity for some time between India and the Pacific coast, Hawaii and Australia. Hongkong has been a port of transshipment, where the meat has been stored and shipped after being brought within the requirements of the American quarantine laws. Shipments from India have generally been made on option of transshipment at Hongkong for the United States, including Hawaii, or to Australia. After considerable agitation freight rates across the Pacific on this commodity were lowered, with the result that the trade has almost doubled in the past year or two months. There is strong demand for this fertilizer in Hawaii for sugar plantations and the Pacific coast is increasing its imports apparently in proportion to lowering freight charges."

CLEAN-UP DAY MOTTOES TO HEED

"Make your neighbors front yard jealous of your back yard."

"Don't stop at the lot line. Look well to the alley."

"Don't be a hang-back-clean up and dispose of your rubbish before clean-up day."

"Get away your own dirt and rubbish, don't expect your neighbor to do it for you, if you want to retain his respect."

Some of the above excerpts are taken from a pamphlet issued by the Chicago Board of Health in the interests of clean-up day; the rest are direct quotations from Acting Governor Mott-Smith himself, who is managing clean-up day.

The acting governor spent most of the morning going over the territory to be included in the coming clean-up day, districting the city and assigning health officials and inspectors to districts. Various improvement clubs will take up districts in the city. Some of these districts are apart from the garbage collection districts and will be improved by the clubs assigned to them.

Seventeen regular sanitary inspectors and forty mosquito inspectors have been assigned to the work of cleaning up when clean-up day comes round.

GOOD FEATURES AND BAD ONES

Henry Clews' financial letter (New York, May 11): Considering somewhat adverse conditions the $85,000,000 New York city bond issue must be regarded as a positive success. The average price realized, 100.747, was not low in view of the fact that investors are insisting upon and obtaining better returns. The success was all the more remarkable because of the recent flood of new issues since January 1, aggregating $1,028,000,000, compared with $836,000,000 a year ago. Evidently there is no lack of capital seeking employment when the requirements of safety and profit are met. Very shortly another new important bond issue will be made; that of $26,000,000 New York State 4 per cent.

This ready demand for the better class of investments is encouraging. It shows that in the estimation of shrewd buyers fundamental financial conditions are sound. Of course there is a limit to buying capacity. There is danger also of an oversupply of new issues.

In the speculative situation there was a sharp change. During the first half of the week the weakest section of the market was in Steel securities; the fact that the last quarterly dividend of the Steel Corporation was to be entirely paid out of surplus creating a bad impression. The recovery, however, was prompt, for the steel industry is very active and the various producers are turning out an enormous output. To put the steel industry upon a really healthy and satisfactory basis will require some advance in the prices of steel products. Whether buyers can be induced to meet such demands is a question which must now be tested. Thus far buyers have had the upper hand and refused to meet such demands.

The stock market was temporarily unsettled by strenuous political agitation.

While the government crop report was somewhat better than expected, there is nothing in it on which to base any enthusiasm. It indicates at best a winter wheat crop of 60,000,000 bushels below last year. This will be offset by larger crops of corn, oats, etc., taking the place of abandoned wheat acreage. One good feature is the wet spring insures a good hay crop, and the outlook for oats is excellent, so feed stuffs should be cheaper. Political conditions have already been largely discounted.

In the labor situation there is no change for the better. Important disputes are still pending, and if further concessions are made to labor it means continued high prices and further enhancement in the cost of living; not to speak of diminished profits and a consequent impairment of national savings, the chief source of new capital.

Another good feature is the easier monetary conditions abroad as substantiated by a reduction in the Bank of England rate. British trade is exceedingly active, particularly the cotton industry, which is surpassing all records. The financial and commercial situation in Germany is also good; all of which tends to stimulate our own foreign trade. Monetary conditions in the United States are entirely satisfactory, and this is an important element in stock market support.

Some one has said that the chief problem of this country is not the labor problem, but the leisure problem.

This seems somewhat ironic to those of us who are so rushed with work that we never have a minute we can call our own. But nevertheless, there is a leisure problem, and it is one that needs considering.

The hours of work among those who work on time are gradually being shortened. And though some of those who are thus benefited have recreation or work waiting to fill this extra time, many of them do not. This is evidenced by the groups of men and boys standing on street corners or drifting into saloons or pool-rooms because they do not know what to do. These have no resources within themselves for utilizing this spare time, and so they take what is offered them. And few yet have thought to offer something worth while. So far only those are on the job of filling this idle time, who can make money by doing so. So here indeed is a leisure problem for those interested in the common good.

Still larger is the leisure problem of the women who no longer have the household cares that formerly were theirs. By this is not meant the very wealthy, for they have so many social duties that they really have very little leisure time. But in hotels and apartment houses and boarding houses are women by the thousands who have leisure time. The hours hang heavy on their hands. They shop, play cards, read novels,—do anything to kill time. But many are not happy in these diversions. They are bored dissatisfied, irritable; and finally, often become nervous wrecks, simply because they sit with idle hands and idle minds in this busy, bustling world.

So here is a problem for those who like to work at such things,—a great lot of valuable time that is not being used, many people who would like to have something to do, and much work to be done. For that there is much work needing to be done, nobody will deny. So the problem is to combine these three factors into a force for productiveness and happiness.

And the best time to take note of this leisure problem is now in its very inception, before the forces in it become destructive to society. For unfortunately that is the direction in which many of them turn, if unguided. The idle men and boys loafing on street corners turn to evil. The idle women turn to amusements and luxuries that are bad in their effect upon the community. Here and there in these groups are some who will pull out. But the majority take the course of least resistance,—and for some insurmountable reason this seems to be the broad, and not the narrow, way.

So those in the vanguard, those who can devise the means to meet a need will find here a problem requiring careful study, and whose solution will vitally affect the future welfare of our country, either for good or ill.

BOSTONIANS ARE WINNERS

The Juvenile Bostonians opened at the Liberty theater last night to a packed house.

They presented a melange of music and merriment called "The Ransom," which isn't anything of a play per se but which affords an excellent vehicle for the introduction of some exceedingly timely specialties.

The Bostonians are all young and good-looking. In addition they dress well and sing better. The tout ensemble, therefore, can not fail to be pleasing.

The audience liked the show last night and it is safe to say that they will continue to manifest their appreciation as long as the engagement continues. There wasn't a single selection last night that wasn't recalled over and over again.

Whether the company opened in their best, worst or happy-medium offering it must be written down that they made distinctly good and Joe Cohen is to be heartily congratulated on another success.

And now a word as to the individuals:

Thom Hellen as Pedro showed herself to be a most finished little actress. She sang the evergreen "Mona" as it has never been sung here before and introduced a pleasing ditty in "Moonlight."

Lois Mason made a shapely Mona and brought down the house with her sweet singing and yodeling.

Doris Canfield as Sir Reginald Blake occupied the limelight of the piece and her songs, sung with excellent nerve, were the hit of the evening.

Ethel Stoddard, a mite who played Stella, jumped into instant favoritism with the house and her songs, "Haven't You Forgotten Something, Dear," and "Skiddy-Ma-Rink-a-Dink-a-Boom," are being whistled by the gamins on the street today.

Fatsy Henry, as Pete Whiten, the cowboy, played a sparkling part and displayed a pleasing voice.

The little girl who sang "If Someone Would Only Care for Me," was sweetly pathetic in her number and, unless appearances deceive, is a clever little miss.

Dixie White, as Sam Randall, was distinctly fetching and her song, "On the Right Side of the Right Girl at the Right Time and Place," is a winner.

The songs "Polar Bear Man" and "Old Doctor Brown," by Pete and the boys, were the medium for the introduction of some piquant patter and both pleased mightily.

All in all the Bostonians are "the goods" without doubt and it is a moot question if Pollard's Lilliputians have anything on them in cleverness, versatility or dramatic talent.

A GENTLE HINT.

Hostess—Next time you call, Mr. Boreleigh, I want you to give me your opinion of my portrait.

Boreleigh—Delighted, I'm sure! Boreleigh—Delighted, I'm sure! When do you expect it.

Hostess—Oh, not, for six months, at least.—Boston Transcript.

Embroidered cream net forms the tunic and there is a smart little coat of cream lace, pleated net frills being set at neck and sleeve edge of the underbodice. ASYLUM GROUNDS BEING ENLARGED

Work of extending the grounds of the insane asylum at Kelihi was begun today and will be rushed to a rapid completion, according to Acting Governor Mott-Smith.
 It is proposed to take out the present jog existing in the road and put all the lands into one enclosure, as, according to the acting governor, the present grounds are too small and constricted for the inmates.
 It is also planned to substitute wet-farming for dry-cropping as has already been done in substituting taro for sweet potatoes.

ARKANSAS MAN ASKS FOR LAND

The fever for public land that has seized so many local residents in this grip has crossed the ocean and has rapidly spread inland, even penetrating to the inmost recesses of Arkansas where it has reached the Arkansas Egg Farm of Pettigrew, Arkansas.
 An employe of the egg farm, whose name the acting governor did not give out, has evidently been attacked by the malady, for this morning Mr. Mott-Smith opened a letter bearing the Pettigrew postmark which besought for instantaneous news regarding public lands in Hawaii.
 The inquirer was especially anxious to become a small farmer, as he had been told that there was untold wealth awaiting the farmer in a small way who embarks in the islands and he furthermore desired to obtain his land without coming in person for it, as he explained he wished to send his application and after the drawing to have a proxy choose his land.
 The letter has been turned over to the land commissioner.

SPRECKELS HEIRS STILL FIGHTING

According to the following news article in the Call, the Honolulu real estate men on the way to San Francisco, in rivalry for the purchase of valuable Spreckels property here, may on arrival find they are on a wild goose chase:
 The recent decision of the State Supreme Court overruling Probate Judge Coffey and holding that the will of Claus Spreckels was valid is not to end the legal battle over the late sugar magnate's $5,000,000 estate.
 The will ignores two of the children, John D. and A. B. Spreckels, on the ground that the father provided for them during his lifetime, and gives the estate to the other children, Rudolph and C. A. Spreckels and Mrs. Emma Ferris of London.
 Recently Judge Coffey entered in his court a minute record ordering the distribution of the estate as though Claus Spreckels had died intestate, or equally among the five children. The battle will be continued over this minute record, and no matter what disposition of the case is made before Coffey one or the other side will take an appeal to the Supreme Court.
 This minute record was the aftermath of the application of the attorneys of the three favored children for a final distribution of the estate under the Coffey decision that the will was invalid. They had previously asked for a partial distribution on the theory that the will was legal. John D. and A. B. Spreckels opposed the action. It was on that latter and the two brothers' opposition that the lower court ruled the will illegal.
 John D. and A. B. Spreckels' attorneys held that the other three children are bound by their application for a final distribution and the Coffey minute order in spite of the Supreme Court's later action in upholding the will.

BIG CLEANUP ON ISLAND OF KAUAI

Three thousand and forty-five loads of garbage have been removed, 2124 minor and 376 major nuisances have been abated on four plantations of the Island of Kauai, according to Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the Board of Health, who made a report yesterday afternoon at the Board meeting upon the progress of work at present being conducted on the Garden Island.
 According to Dr. Pratt, the above figures are for work done on the McBryde, Waimea, Hawaiian Sugar, and Kekaha plantations during the past three months by the board of health.
 It was decided to prosecute the cemetery situation further and aides were appointed to assist Dr. Shepherd in his work of investigating cemetery conditions. Steps to provide a new cemetery site will not be taken until the new report upon the cemetery conditions is made at the next meeting of the Board of Health.

CLEAN-UP PLANS ARE ADVANCED

"There was not a meeting of the Central Improvement Committee yesterday," said Mr. von Damm today, "but one of the executive committee. A clean-up day was not settled upon, but certain details of a possible one were discussed. When action is taken it will be taken by the Central Improvement Committee."
 The meeting decided to recommend that Saturday, June 15, be a day of initial inspection and instruction by inspectors, who will request all householders to first get out rubbish and dispose of it on or near the premises; that on Wednesday, June 19, inspectors make an inspection of garbage collected since the preceding Saturday and make a report thereon, which report will be prepared during the night, so that on the morning of Thursday, June 20 (which may be a holiday), the committee will know exactly how many teams should be sent to a district in order to facilitate the movement of garbage, and that on Saturday, June 22, final inspection be made and results with recommendations be reported to the board of health and the board of supervisors.
 Acting Governor Mott-Smith will be in general charge of the clean-up arrangements as manager. All of the improvement clubs will be requested to meet before the time set for clean-up, and all details will be completed at a meeting of the Central Improvement Committee. The plan submitted by Ed. Towse at last general meeting, based on last year's campaign, formed the basis of discussion yesterday. President B. von Damm of the central body will preside over the clean-up executive committee, and there will be captains of districts as last year.
 The meeting appointed Messrs. Mott-Smith and Towse a districting committee and Mott-Smith, von Damm and W. Walters a finance committee to report to the general meeting. Those present were President B. von Damm, Secretary George Guild, Acting Governor Mott-Smith, Ed. Towse, W. F. Wilson, Daniel Logan and Sol. Mahelona.

TEACH CHILDREN LIFE MYSTERIES

Urging that children in the higher grades of the public schools be instructed in the physiology and hygiene of sex, in order that the future of the human race be safeguarded through knowledge, rather than suffer further through ignorance, Dr. W. C. Hobdy closed a series of six lectures on sex problems at the Y. M. C. A. last night.
 Dr. Hobdy arraigned the double standard of morals, denouncing the unfairness of a system which permits one course of conduct for a man and another for a woman. He argued that the single standard could only be made possible through the education of the coming generation on matters from knowledge of which, hitherto, they have been carefully shielded.
 The series of lectures by Dr. Hobdy, six in number, had a large average attendance and in the opinion of those who attended them supplied invaluable information.

RAYMOND WANTS MORE TERRITORY

At the meeting of the land board this morning it was decided to sell the Kanto tract of land on the island of Maui at auction.
 This tract, which comprises ten thousand acres of grazing land, adjoins the Raymond ranch and has been bid for by Dr. Raymond, who is desirous of obtaining an indefinite lease upon it at a rental of $200 a year.
 This was the most important piece of business transacted during the session, most of the morning being taken up with exchanges and approvals of sales of small pieces of government property.
 The most important exchange effected was with Chen Wai Fat for 567 square feet of Lillha street for a piece of government land adjoining the rice fields of the Chinese.
 The land fronting on the street is needed by the government in widening the thoroughfare.

 Old Case Decided.
 Judge Whitney this morning filed a decision in the ancient case of Lawrence H. Dee versus Elizabeth Foster, the decision being in favor of the defendant.
 The suit was brought in 1900, Dee endeavoring to get possession of certain property which he claimed Foster had fraudulently transferred to his wife. Judge Whitney holds, however, that there is no evidence of intention to defraud but that the transfer to Mrs. Foster was merely the act of a bridegroom in love with his wife, the Fosters having been but just married when the transfer was made. The case arose from the celebrated Kamalo plantation deal.

LIKENS HIMSELF TO LINCOLN MORE AND RESEMBLES HIM LESS THAN ANY MAN IN THE HISTORY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 13.—President Taft's first day of his final campaign through Ohio, which came to an end with a speech here tonight, was marked by the most pronounced verbal assaults upon Colonel Roosevelt to which Taft so far has given public utterance. In speeches that were filled with indignant attack that bubbled over with uncomplimentary adjectives, Taft discharged his oratory at his predecessor.

He started out upon his last campaign to urge the people of Ohio to support him in the primaries of May 21st at Marietta in a cold rain, which finally fled before the sun.

Although in substance all of the dozen speeches the President made were much like those he delivered in Massachusetts and Maryland, they differed widely at times in the words used to score Roosevelt.

One of the attacks on Roosevelt, which raised a laugh, delivered at Dennison, ran like this:

"I think it would be dangerous to put a man with Roosevelt's present constitutional views and with the election he would necessarily feel by reason of getting something that all the great Presidents have never got—it would not be safe to put him in the White House again.

Not Necessary for Job.

"He says the reason the American people are going to elect him is because he is necessary for the job. That is the description he gives. Well, I hope the American people will not think he is necessary for the job. I want to call your attention to what the job is which he proposes. It is the millennium that he is going to bring about when he gets into office. All bosses are going to disappear, politicians are going to be fewer and he is going to have a finger in every community in every state, in every county, and everything is going to heaven.

"If that be true, the millennium is coming, and if that is the job he is to do it is going to take longer than four years. I beg of you to ask him when he comes here whether he would take a fourth term; ask him whether he is going to take a fifth term and why he should not continue in office during his life."

Another sally that brought a response was much like that delivered at Cambridge. Speaking there of the job Roosevelt said the people wanted him to do, President Taft asked:

"Suppose Mr. Roosevelt were elected to the skies in a chariot, like the prophet of old and were to disappear from sight, how do you suppose this country would get along, anyhow?"

"My friends, it is a dangerous thing to put in the White House a man for the third term with his views of the Constitution and with his views of himself. In every announcement he makes you would think he were the whole show and that there was not anybody else in the country.

Vanity and Egotism.

"It's I, I, I, and therefore I say that if you feed that vanity and that egotism by giving him something that Washington did not get and Jefferson did not get and Jackson did not get and Grant could not get you are going to put him in office with a sense of power and with a view of constitutional restrictions that will be dangerous to this country."

Taft compared Roosevelt and Lincoln with a smile.

"Mr. Roosevelt likens himself to Abraham Lincoln more and resembles him less than any man in the history of this country," he remarked.

Taft called upon the Roosevelt backers to find one indictment if he had done wrong, asked for more facts and less "lurid headlines and lung power," and dubbed the campaign the former President is making against him "accusatory and libelous."

In a joint appeal to the war veterans and to the negroes, Taft charged that under the constitutional system that would permit proposed measures of "reform," the practical repeal of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, for which the veterans fought and which protect the negro race, would depend on the result of one election. That was what Roosevelt proposes to do, he said, by destroying the independence of the judiciary.

"Let Mr. Roosevelt point out what thing I have done or failed to do under the influence of anybody, and then I will say that he has made a point, but while he continues merely in the general denunciation to say that the bosses are all for me and all against him, I say he is conducting a campaign that is not worthy of the man who has had the veneration, the respect and the honor put upon him by the American people."

COCONUT PEST IN SOUTH SEAS

In view of the recent revival of enterprise in coconut planting in those islands, the following from the Western Pacific Herald, Suva, Fiji, will be of local interest:

Mr. Frank P. Jepson, government entomologist, returned to Fiji in the steamer Tofua from Samoa, whither he proceeded five weeks back to investigate on the spot the life history of the rhinoceros beetle, which was reported to have done such severe damage to the coconut plantations in that group.

Mr. Jepson can not say enough for the hospitable manner in which he was treated by the Samoan government. The officials went out of their way to assist him in every possible way both in his investigations and socially, so much so that he was very loth to leave and would have liked to have had another month in Samoa.

He found that the damage had been greatly exaggerated by the general public, although the official report sent to Fiji by the British consul was correct.

There are two badly-infected districts, and in these 75 per cent. of the coconut trees are affected. One or two per cent. of the trees have been killed, but in many cases this has been caused by the natives themselves, whilst searching for the beetle with spears. The yield has been slightly affected in about 30 per cent. of the affected trees.

In other districts where the beetle is prevalent, 50 per cent. show signs of visits by the beetle, whilst about 10 per cent. of these have been put back a little.

Mr. Jepson has some very interesting photographs showing the ravages of the pest, and how it bores into the trees and eats the leaves. It bores into the base of the leaf and eats the young leaves, the heart of the tree being its objective.

It is a diapaused point in Samoa as

TEN THOUSAND STRONG, AN ARMY OF WOMEN AND MEN SYMPATHIZERS MARCHED IN THE NEW YORK PARADE FOR THE SUFFRAGE CAUSE

NEW YORK, May 6.—The parade of believers in the cause of woman suffrage was a demonstration the like of which this city and perhaps the entire country has never seen before. The marchers numbered 10,000 and included nearly a thousand men. An immense crowd, larger than that which greeted the homcoming of Theodore Roosevelt from his African trip, turned out to see the show. The parade took nearly two hours to pass a given point. Most of the women wore white straw hats that had been specially designed for the occasion. There were some elaborate costumes, the most conspicuous being that of Mrs. Marie Stuart, who, dressed as Joan of Arc, wore a suit of shining mail and rode astride a large white horse. After the parade was over there was a mass meeting at Carnegie hall. Among the prominent marchers at the head of divisions were (1) Mrs. McGee, (2) Mrs. Ellis Worth and (3) Mrs. Philip Lydig.

FATAL ACCIDENT AND OTHER HAPPENINGS ON ISLAND OF MAUI

Simpson Goes to Crater Hotel--Jurors For Lahaina Term--Labor Union at Paia--Work on Roads

WAILUKU, May 23. — (Weekly Times.)—A sad accident happened last week, Wednesday, May 15, on the trestle work between Camp 5 and Spreckelsville. A Portuguese named Jo Gouvea, engaged as brakeman on the engine "Maui No Ka Ohi," jumped off the train to throw a switch, and running back to catch up with the slow moving train of eighteen cars, loaded with keawe wood, he stumbled over a stick that dropped from one of the cars. In falling he endeavored to catch hold of the end boards of a car but missed and rolled underneath the wheels, which went over his right leg, crushing it below the knee. The train was stopped immediately and the poor young man picked up and brought to the Punone hospital, where he died four days later. A coroner's jury turned in a verdict of accidental death. Joe Gouvea was only 21 years of age, and leaves a sorrowing mother and two brothers, Peter and Manuel.

At the inquest Dr. F. Sawyer, the plantation physician, stated that Joe was getting on very nicely for the first 36 hours, but suddenly he became very much worse and gave evidence of a severe form of blood poisoning, due to a bacillus called the gas bacillus. After having obtained the consent of the two brothers, Dr. Sawyer, with the assistance of Dr. Wm. Osmer of Wailuku, proceeded to amputate the patient's leg. Joe's condition after the operation was better

"Pop" Simpson Changes Base.

T. A. Simpson, of the Maui Hotel, will leave Wailuku on Saturday, having accepted the position as manager of the Crater Hotel on Hawaii. It is with sincere regret the many friends Mr. Simpson has made in Wailuku in the short time he has been here see him go. Simpson is one of those quiet, goodnatured, nice fellows, who minds his own business and leaves others strictly alone. Therein lies probably the real secret of his popularity. The Crater Hotel, which he is to manage, is situated about a mile and a half this side of the Volcano House, and was formerly owned by Peter Lee, but belongs now to a company. It has accommodations for about twenty-five people.

SEVERAL RECENT CASUALTIES IN "CONQUEST OF THE AIR"

LONDON, May 13.—The English aviator, E. V. H. Fisher, with a passenger, who has as yet not been fully identified, but is supposed to be Victor Louis Mason, the American mining promoter, were killed at the Brookmans aviation grounds tonight.

Mason was a friend of the British naval air man, Commander Sampson, who gratified his wish for an air trip by asking Fisher to take him up. The pair circled the Brookmans course half a dozen times in a Howard-Flinders monoplane. They were coming down when the machine seemed to sidle suddenly, and then dived down straight like a stone for about 150 feet.

Both Men Found Dead.

Aviator Sopwith, who was flying about at the time, saw what had happened and swooped down to the spot to see what he could do. He found both men dead, the machine a wreck and the petrol tank burning. Mason's clothes were on fire at the time, but Sopwith and several men whom he called to his aid succeeded in extinguishing the fire before the bodies were burned up.

It appeared to be certain that both men were killed instantly. Their injuries were dislocated.

Mason Was Alger's Secretary.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Victor Louis Mason was appointed private secretary to Secretary of War Alger in 1897, and retained his position when Elihu Root succeeded Alger. In 1908 he was assistant secretary of the National Republican Committee, having charge of President Taft's campaign. He was vice president of the Development Company of America, director of the Imperial Copper Company, the Tombstone Consolidated Mining Company, the Poland Mining Company and the Gila Copper Sulphide Company.

Amateur Aviator Killed.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—Ray Wheeler, amateur aviator, is dead, and Pefe Glasser, a companion, probably fatally injured, as the result of a plunge into a telegraph pole at Kinloch Park tonight.

The accident occurred when the monoplane was caught in a whirlwind 100 feet above the earth. The force of the vortex dashed the machine among the poles and wires before Glasser, who was guiding, had time to get the machine above the danger. Wheeler and Glasser were thrown thirty feet from the machine. The gasoline tank exploded and set fire to the wreck.

Wheeler's skull was crushed and right leg broken in three places and his right arm fractured. He died on the way to the hospital.

McMillen Badly Hurt.

PERRY (Iowa), May 13.—Aviator Ralph McMillen was seriously injured during an exhibition flight here tonight, when, more than 100 feet in the air, the engine of his biplane went dead and McMillen attempted to glide to earth, but was unable to control the machine, and it turned almost completely over during the descent and fell into a creek. He suffered two broken legs, a broken shoulder bone and numerous other injuries, but probably will recover.

Harry Williams, who accompanied him, was badly bruised but not seriously hurt.

Gull Did for Rodgers.

PASADENA, May 13.—The body of a seagull tightly wedged between the fuselage and the rudder of his aeroplane, breaking the control wires when he tried to turn his eye straight over the ocean, caused the death of Elizabeth P. Rodgers, the experimental aviator at Long Beach, Cal., tonight. This is the statement given out today by his widow, Mrs. Robert Rodgers. Verification is made by Frank Shafer, the chief mechanic for Rodgers, who found the dead gull entangled in the mechanism.

The statement was made by Mrs. Rodgers to refute the stories that her husband carelessly ventured too near the earth while chasing the seagull. She declares that his greatest fear while making flights of the beach was the danger of a soft landing entangled in the control wires of his aircraft. Instead of pursuing the gull, as has been alleged, Rodgers was endeavoring to avoid them, says Mrs. Rodgers.

The dead gull was secured so tightly between the rudder and the tail framework of the machine that it was necessary to break the machine to extract it. With the fuselage made immovable by the gull, the control wires were snapped when Rodgers attempted to veer his machine after he had made his last successful flight.

THE LATE MRS. H. R. HITCHCOCK

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

Mrs. H. Rexford Hitchcock of Honolulu, Molokai, died of apoplexy on Tuesday evening. On Saturday she took a long automobile ride to Kalahe, Molokai, the home of her brother, Henry Meyer. The distance was 18 miles, and after arriving she complained of headache and went right to bed. She did not get over the headache, but seemed to grow steadily worse, until she became unconscious on Tuesday and died that evening about seven o'clock. The shock to her large family has been great and her many friends scattered over the entire group of islands will be deeply grieved at the sudden death of a woman whose aim in life was always to help those around her.

Mrs. Hitchcock leaves a husband, H. Rexford Hitchcock, who is very well known through Hawaii, having held a number of important offices in Honolulu and in Maui county. She also leaves three sons, the oldest of whom, H. Rexford Hitchcock, Jr., is in Harvard College, and has been most prominent there in his studies and in athletics. For some years past Mr. Hitchcock has been farming at Pukoo.

Mrs. Hitchcock has a number of brothers living on Molokai at this time. Theodore Meyer is supervisor for Molokai, Henry Meyer a policeman, Otto Meyer storekeeper at Kaulakakai. Her father was for many years superintendent of the loper settlement, but did not live there but on his ranch above Kaulakakai. Since his death the government has made the position a resident one.

The funeral will not take place until the other members of the family who are in Honolulu arrive by special steamer. Miss Patricia Hitchcock, sister of Mr. Hitchcock, was visiting her brother at the time of his wife's death, and has been of wonderful assistance to the family in their deep bereavement.

Church Matters.

Revs. Collins G. Barnhart and Henry P. Judd have been holding a ministers' school and Sunday school teachers' institute on Molokai. They went over on Saturday morning. Mr. Judd preached in the morning at the Kalahe church, and Mr. Barnhart at the Wailuku church in the afternoon. Both services were well attended.

The institute was held at Wailuku church the whole of Monday and was most successful. Sixty were in attendance. Two of these were ministers in regular churches on Molokai, six were Sunday school teachers and eleven were deacons. It is expected that this institute will be repeated on Molokai at some time again in the near future. All who attended were loud in their praises of the work that the two visiting ministers accomplished.

The organization of the Wailuku Japanese church took place last Sunday afternoon at the church. The attendance was good considering the fact that the services were held in the afternoon, when it is difficult for the people to attend in large numbers, yet the time was convenient for those from a distance. Also there were many other attractions on during the day which took large numbers of Japanese away.

Rev. Rowland B. Dodge made a statement concerning the application of the church to the Maui Association for the organization of their body. Rev. Frank S. Scudder of Honolulu offered the prayer over the newly formed body of Christians, while Rev. T. Hort, of Honolulu, preached a strong and helpful sermon (Continued on page ten.)

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 3.—James E. Deering, one of the defendants cited to appear on May 6 in the government's suit against the Harvester trust, is a son of W. A. Deering, whose harvester company was for many years the chief rival of the trust. The Deering concern is now a part of the greater corporation.

THE MORNING CABLE REPORT

NEW YORK, May 24.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt received one of the greatest ovations in his career when he alighted from his train yesterday morning, at the Pennsylvania station in Newark to begin his campaign in New Jersey.

Roosevelt announced that he came to gain their votes at the coming primary and "hoped they would vote as they cheered, but not quite so often." President Taft opened the international congress of navigation and then hurried over to Trenton. In an address there he declared that "I feel humiliated to be the first of all the Presidents of the United States who has been forced by circumstances to depart from the cherished tradition that has kept all my predecessors out of the turmoil of politics and away from all political controversy."

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, May 24.—General Huerta, commanding the federal army at the battle around Relimo, has sent dispatches to the government here announcing a complete victory for the federal forces. According to these dispatches the rebels under Orozco are in full retreat, pursued by the federal cavalry and the rurales.

The battle started early in the morning, the federal horse advancing under cover of a heavy fire from the field artillery. In the crash that followed the rebel infantry gained a slight advantage, and even drove back the attackers and captured one of the rapid fire guns, which was enflaming the line. The fire of the federal guns proved too heavy, however, and after more than five hours of desperate fighting in which, according to the Huerta dispatches, the soldiers of Orozco lost more than six hundred killed, the rebel general drew off.

The fight soon became a rout. The federal cannon were rushed forward and kept pounding the broken fragments of Orozco's army. The rurales, which had a long standing grudge to satisfy, were also sent forward and ere following the retreating army. More than 4000 men were engaged on each side.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—With the transport Prairie, bearing 750 marines on her way south from Philadelphia, and frantic messages from Americans in Cuba declaring that they are in peril from the threatened uprising of the blacks on the island, the state department here admits that it is anxious.

Dispatches from President Gomez, who is now in Havana, announcing that he has called for volunteers to quell the risings and hopes to have a sufficient force to hold the malcontents, have done little to relieve the strain here. Gomez is reported as having issued a statement denouncing the insurgents, and warning them not to tamper with American property or lives. The Cuban President asserts that he is "not anxious."

BUDAPEST, Austria-Hungary, May 24.—Seven strikers have been shot down by the police and troops and at least one hundred and fifty persons of both sexes have been wounded, in the general strike which is now paralyzing this city.

The local authorities say that they have the situation under control, and that traffic, which has been suspended, will be resumed tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Captain Robert Dollar of California, head of the famous Dollar line of steamers, appeared before the house committee yesterday and earnestly pleaded for the passage of the law allowing American ships free passage through the Panama Canal. He declared that in this way only could congress aid in the rehabilitation of American shipping.

LOS ANGELES, California, May 24.—Chester Rowell, of Fresno, died here late last night.

The cable leaves doubt as to whether the Chester Rowell referred to is Dr. Chester Rowell, owner of the Fresno Republican, one of the richest men of the Fresno raisin country, and formerly a power in California politics, or his nephew Chester Rowell, editor, political reform leader, formerly president of the Lincoln-Roosevelt league, and the La Follette league, and whose embracing of Roosevelt's cause in the last primary election undoubtedly did much to aid the Rough Rider to win by the tremendous plurality given him in the Golden State.

SAN DIEGO, California, May 24.—The chief of police here last night made public what he declares are the details of a plot on the part of the industrial workers of the world, to murder four of the city's officials and the president of a bank here. According to the details given out by the police the conspiracy was well under way when it was discovered and foiled. The plan was to choose six members of the industrialists by lot and allow them to work out the details of the plot. In a statement given out later the chief declares that he believes every citizen of San Diego is ready to shoulder a musket "and protect their homes."

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—President Taft yesterday opened the great international congress of navigation here. Engineers from all over the world are in attendance. Among the other important subjects which will be discussed is the sinking of the Titanic, and steps which may be taken to avert such catastrophes in the future.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—The government yesterday issued a circular to the shipping men of the Coast, announcing that in the future no leniency will be shown toward any captain upon whose ship opium is found. The step is taken following the discovery of several installments of the smuggled dope.

DAYTON, Ohio, May 24.—Physicians who have been attending Wilbur Wright, the famous aviator and inventor of the aeroplane, announced last night that he is desperately ill with typhoid fever and that the chances are about one in one thousand for his recovery. Wright is unconscious.

In Japanese. Other parts were taken by the Japanese evangelists of Maui, Rev. L. B. Kaumeheua and Mr. Yee Kui, who brought greetings from the Hawaiian and Chinese Christians of Waialuku.

The new church has been established in Waialuku sixteen years, but up to this time has not been organized into a regularly formed ecclesiastical body. Forty-five members signed the roll for the new church. These men represent a strong body of Japanese who are prominent in all kinds of business in and about Waialuku.

PERU HAS GREAT RAILROAD PLAN

Consular Trade Report: The Peruvian Congress has passed a bill for construction of the Ucayali Railroad, which will connect the most easterly railway head in Peru with Amazon River navigation. The line will extend 270 miles from Goyllarisquisca, terminus of the Cerro de Pasco Railroad, to the port of Pucallpa, on the Ucayali River. The route will follow the Huallaga River, crossing the mountains which separate it from the Ucayali River, and will cross the extensive Sacramento pampa.

It is planned to run 2000-ton steamers from Pucallpa to Iquitos, where connection will be made with ocean-going vessels. Steamboats are now operating from Pucallpa 300 miles south on the Ucayali River. Huanuco, 6000 feet above sea level and with 10,000 population, is the largest city en route.

By the concession, which needs only the signature of the President to become effective, the Peruvian Government will issue $10,000,000 in bonds, payable in installments with the completion of each twenty-five miles of the road, to the Amazon & Pacific Railway Co., a corporation organized in New Jersey. The bonds will bear six per cent interest, with one per cent for a sinking fund, and are to be secured by the tobacco tax. The concession includes the right to extend the railroad 100 miles from Cerro to the Pacific coast, and upon its completion a further payment of $2,500,000 in Peruvian bonds is to be made. Five years are allowed for construction of both branches, which are to become Government property after the concessionaire has operated them for twenty-five years. In addition to the bonds mentioned Peru is to convey 5,000,000 acres of land, the title to which becomes accomplished when the President approves the bill, the concessionaire, A. W. McCune, having already deposited $150,000 as security for the execution of the contract.

Speaking of the country through which the road would pass, Mr. McCune said that the Sacramento pampa contains 80,000 square miles and is the largest in the world. The engineers who surveyed the road, he said, were the first of the white race known to have crossed the vast plain, which they found inhabited by about 250,000 people.

The West Coast Leader, a weekly paper of Lima, considers that this railway will be of great strategic and commercial importance, and will open up a vast productive area of eastern Peru, and give direct communication between the capital and the Atlantic navigation system.

COCOANUT PEST

to where the beetle lays its eggs, whether in the heart of the tree or elsewhere. Even if it does choose the heart sometimes, there is no doubt that decomposing vegetable matter is a favorite spot. The government of Samoa recognize this and set traps composed of rotten cocoanut trunks and vegetable matter. Here the beetle lays its eggs. A government overseer, with gangs of native labor, visits the traps every six weeks, and collects all the beetles, grubs and eggs that are in the traps. Mr. Jepson, by the way, has an interesting collection of the beetle in all its stages—the eggs are slightly less than an 1/8th of an inch long.

Then the natives throughout the islands have to devote one day per week free to searching for the beetle, and it is hoped eventually to get it under control.

Since November, 1910, the natives have brought in to the government close on six millions of the grubs, over 10,000 beetles, and over 35,000 eggs. This surely should cause a diminution in the pest.

There seems to be no doubt that the rhinoceros beetle is a serious pest to the cocoanut palm, and we are very fortunate that we are free from it. No efforts should be spared to keep it out of the colony.

Mr. Jepson is preparing an official report on his investigations, which will be published as soon as possible.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM.

When your shoulder is so lame that every movement of your arm pains you severely you may know that you have muscular rheumatism. Prompt relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and massaging the affected parts with the palm of the hand at each application. Do not use your arm any more than is necessary for a day or two as every movement tends to aggravate the disease. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents for Hawaii.

ISLAND OF MAUI

organized at Paia last Thursday evening by deputy organizer Kalei Kahaukalo assisted by J. Pacheco of Hilo, who is financial secretary of the labor union in "the rainy city." M. Ross of Wailuku and Manuel du Ponte made rousing speeches. Quite a crowd had gathered to listen to the speech-making which was well applauded and resulted in the enrollment of quite a number of natives as well as Portuguese and others, who all dug up the necessary fees and took the pledge to support the order and be good citizens.

Breaches of Law.

Philip Kalalani of Makawao had rather an unpleasant call from another native Thursday night, who, being considerably under the influence of Dago red, insisted upon making an entrance into the house and at once started in to clean up the floor with the occupants. Philip, his wife and a little six-year-old girl appeared in court as witnesses on Friday last against the offender, who wisely pleaded guilty and took his medicine, $50 and costs, or a hundred days on the reef if no cash on hand. Father, mother and child presented a sad spectacle in court, decorated as they were with a black eye each, the father having in addition a nasty gash over his left eye.

A charge has been placed against Manuel Corriera, son, of Kuau for catching fish with poisonous grass. The case will be heard before the Makawao district magistrates on Friday next.

Road Work.

The new grade on this side of the Maliko gulch road is in very bad shape. The soft dirt, not being covered with harder material, has been ground down to a pulverized layer of dust, in some places over a foot deep. But it will be worse still after a heavy downpour, which will render the road well nigh impassable. Pauwela side of the gulch is in fine shape, having been covered with a layer of gravel taken from the beach in the gulch.

The macadamizing of the road near the Paia hospital is going on in full blast and will be much appreciated by the up country people, who have found it almost impossible to pull up the hill between the hospital and church, either with a team or an auto, in wet weather.

Obituary.

Jim O'Neil, an old kamaaina of Hamakua, who has lived under the care of the Tavares family for the past twenty years, died at the Baldwin Home on Tuesday and was buried in the Kuaui Catholic cemetery.

Bau Kee, the oldest Chinese merchant and restaurateur in Paia, died in Honolulu on Monday last. Bau Kee went to the metropo for treatment a week or two ago.

Personal and Social.

Mrs. J. J. Dowling of Honolulu is on Maui. Mrs. Dowling is well known among the old residents of Maui, having one lived at Spreckelsville, where her late husband held a position some fifteen years back. Mr. Dowling was operated upon in Honolulu a short time ago and died. Mrs. Dowling has a homestead in the Pauwela section. She may settle in Wailuku if a certain piece of property she has in mind can be bought at a reasonable price.

The Ladies' Aid Association of Wailuku Union church met at the home of Mrs. E. Vincent yesterday afternoon. Nine ladies were present. Mrs. W. F. Crockett read a story, "Is Romance Dead," which proved very interesting. Some nice refreshments were served.

County Attorney D. H. Cate and family went to Honolulu on Tuesday's ferry boat.

J. J. Camara, manager of the Maui Stables, has resigned his position and gone to Honolulu. T. Burlem, the proprietor of the stables, has appointed Joe Costa to succeed him.

Harry Smith, the Maui bottle king, spent last Sunday and Monday around the Kulaha homestead section, making a thorough investigation of the prospects for starting a truck farm and "settling down for life," as he puts it.

Mrs. Joe Mitchell, wife of the Hamakua police officer, came near having a very serious accident last Sunday. While trying to alight from a moving auto at Pauwela she fell and struck her head on the hard road, rendering her unconscious for over an hour.

The members of the Maui polo team are strenuously practicing. They have some of the finest ponies in the country.

Dr. McLennan has returned and resumed practice. Office, King street, opposite Advertiser office. Hours, 10 to 12, 2 to 4, 6 to 7.
