ROOSEVELT CALLS IT A TAFT TRICK

HE REJECTS THE PROPOSALS FOR A COMPROMISE IN OHIO

Col. Parker And Holstein Fight Frear

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, May 31.—Hon. H. L. Holstein, speaker of the Hawaiian House of Representatives, and Republican National Committeeman for the Territory accompanied by Col. Sam Parker, is in the city. Mr. Holstein will remain here for several days and then go to Chicago to attend the meeting of the Republican National Committee which will arrange the details for the coming National Convention and pass upon the contests in the various states between rival delegations. While here Messrs. Holstein and Parker will call upon the President and place before him the facts concerning the Republican convention in Hawaii, which selected delegates to the National convention. They contend that an investigation of the facts and circumstances concerning the convention, and of the controversy relative to Governor Frear's desired reappointment, will show that an attempt has been made on the part of the Governor's friends to deceive the administration in their efforts to show that his reappointment is demanded by the citizens of the territory. It is doubtful if Messrs. Holstein and Parker call upon Secretary Fisher in reference to the matter, as they believe that he has prejudged the case and that it would be useless to submit facts to him.

HERE TO AID DEVELOPING CAROLINES

There arrived in the Siberia this morning a notable visitor of eight years ago, in the person of Nikola Kaumanns, Imperial German Special Commissioner for Agriculture to the United States. He called on the old friend of his former visit, Emil A. Berndt, manager of W. W. Dimond & Co., Ltd., on arrival.
Mr. Kaumanns is here on a mission that will be of great interest to many people here, it being to study the cotton, pineapple and other industries of the islands, with a view of applying the knowledge gained to the development of the Caroline Islands. He expresses himself as being very much amazed at the growth of the pineapple industry in Hawaii. Mr. Kaumanns will remain in these islands about ten days.

Francis Gay For Governor

If there is any foundation to the rumor that has been circulated about town for the past week, the moneyed interests on the island of Kauai are bringing pressure to bear at Washington in an effort to have Francis Gay appointed Governor of the Territory of Hawaii to fill the vacancy created by the expiration of Governor Frear's term.
One man declared this morning that the sentiment in favor of Gay for governor is very strong and is being propagated among residents of the other islands.
Mr. Gay was reached over the telephone at his Kailhi residence this morning and when asked regarding the rumor declared that "there was nothing in it."

Medeiros Gets $7000

John Carlos Medeiros, has won, in the supreme court, his suit for damages against Hognomu Sugar Co., in which he claimed $25,415 damages and was awarded $7000 by a jury, for injuries sustained from the falling of a tree on defendant's land upon him while traveling on the public highway. Justice De Bolt is author of the decision. E. A. Douthitt appeared for plaintiff for defendant.

POLICE OFFICER STIFFLY FINED

Officer Nobriga was fined $20 and costs in the police court this morning for assault and battery on Ah Long, alleged to have been committed on May 19 in Pauoa valley.
Nobriga was acting as peacemaker between Ah Long and his wife when the alleged assault was committed.
Complainant had four witnesses who swore glibly that Nobriga had pounded their countryman considerably.
Nobriga had no witnesses but testified to having grabbed some papers from Ah Long which he was going to take to headquarters as they had a hearing on the case.
Nobriga stated that Ah Long got fresh and invited the officer to take him to the police station. He then started to go away and Nobriga, catching hold of his arm, took him at his word and ran him in.
The judge undoubtedly based his

What Naval Bill Holds For Hawaii

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, May 31.—Carrying a grand total of $2,352,500 in special items for Hawaii, the naval appropriation bill recently reported will be of interest to the people of the islands. Considering the heavy cuts made by the committee on various other estimates for construction, the people of Hawaii may congratulate themselves on the size of the total given above. That the action of the committee will be approved by the House is expected, while the Senate will do nothing more than raise some of the items for Hawaii, in any event. Following are the detailed items carried by the bill of particular interest to Hawaii:
"Naval Station, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii: Dry dock (limit of cost is here by increased to three million three hundred and fifty thousand dollars), to complete, one million and fifty thousand dollars; waterfront development, one hundred thousand dollars; street paving, twenty-five thousand dollars; water system, seven thousand dollars; power distribution, mains and conduits, seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars; mess hall, twenty-five thousand dollars; paint and rigging, fifty thousand dollars; carpenter shops, sixty thousand dollars; storehouses, three hundred and fifty thousand dollars."

HONOLULU MONEY THROWN AWAY IN TRYING TO MAKE THE CHINESE DRINK BEER

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, May 31.—An attempt to educate the Chinese palate to the proper appreciation of beer has failed flat, according to a report made to the Bureau of Manufactures by Consul General Anderson at Hongkong. A corporation organized in that city, largely with capital from Honolulu, with the object of establishing a brewing business on the south Asiatic coast has gone into voluntary liquidation. The Chinaman failed to entice over lager and refused to be enticed away from his native alcoholic beverages by the "suds."
The brewery established at Hongkong was thoroughly modern with American machinery, with a capacity of 100,000 barrels per year. The concern was capitalized at $500,000 gold. Had it not been for the fact that a large ice plant was operated in connection with the brewery, bankruptcy would have resulted much sooner.
For a time the steadily increasing sales greatly encouraged the company, but after the first sensation of novelty had worn off the Chinaman returned to their native beverages, and refused to drink the "German joy" even when tempted by larger schooners and the tricolored "Bock" sign. China consumes a considerable quantity of very cheap Japanese beer, and a little of the more celebrated bottled beers of Germany—but has still to be convinced of the joys of the American brew.

ANOTHER CRUEL PARTING CAUSED BY DOG QUARANTINE

WANTED.—Refined educated person to dance attendance on the whims of a Skye terrier for four months. Must be kind and sympathetic.
Presidents may come and go, nations rise and fall, but Mrs. F. Martin, who arrived in the steamer Siberia from San Francisco this morning, declares that her beautiful, little, long-haired Skye terrier, which incidentally she values at one thousand dollars, shall never be separated from her and she will take up her abode in the quarantine preserves for the next four months in order to be near her darling.
Hard-hearted, cruel Dr. Case demanded this morning that the essence of dogdom be placed in a common quarantine station along with a number of ordinary common dogs who were really not fit to associate with there was no help for it.
The temporary parting between dog and mistress was a sight sad enough to bring tears to the eyes of a strong man like Jack Weday. Even the reporters, accustomed as they are to witness human grief, turned their backs during the last few moments.
Reposing on a silken cushion and with its brush and comb, scented soap and toothbrush in another receptacle, this aristocrat of a world from which are drawn man's true friends and oftentimes woman's lifetime solace, was taken in the hot sun to a common quarantine station.
Auwe, auwe, what is life coming to?

SAME OLD JAP, NEW OFFICER

Sheriff Hays arrived on the S. S. Siberia this morning. He comes from Pasco, Washington, for the purpose of taking back with him Aral, the Japanese wanted for grand larceny from the Oriental Trading Company of Seattle.
Hays is armed with a warrant of arrest for Aral and extradition papers. The Japanese absconder got away with about $1500 belonging to the Oriental Trading Company and was on his way back to Japan when arrested here by cabled requests and description.

GOVERNOR FREAR IS HELD UP WAITING FOR OAHU ASSESSMENT

Tax Assessor Wilder didn't have the assessed valuation of the island of Oahu ready yesterday. Consequently he couldn't turn it in to Treasurer Conkling. Treasurer Conkling was unable to submit it with the report of the other islands to Acting Governor Mott-Smith. Acting Governor Mott-Smith didn't have it to send to Governor Frear at Washington, and Governor Frear, not knowing the assessed valuation of the Territory of Hawaii, is unable to visit President Taft, Secretary Fisher or any one else in Washington in regard to territorial matters.
Governor Frear is frantic. He has cabled twice to Acting Governor Mott-Smith, asking for the assessed valuation figures. The acting governor has telephoned more than twice to Treasurer Conkling for the figures not yet forthcoming and Treasurer Conkling has written a few fiery letters to the assessor's office asking for the Oahu valuation figures to be submitted without delay.
No results. This morning Deputy Assessor Neely thoughtlessly wandered toward that part of the Capitol lawn upon which Mr. Conkling's office opens and consequently the Cerebus of the treasury hauled him inside and made a verbal request that the tax office submit the figures in question without delay.

BIKE RIDER'S FATAL SPILL

Word was received from Ewa this morning that a Filipino had been killed last night while riding a bicycle near Aiea mill.
From the scanty information to hand it appears that the Filipino, whose name could not be ascertained this morning, was coasting down a hill and, losing control of his wheel, collided with a telephone pole, injuring himself so badly that he died shortly after.

IMPROVED STEAMER SERVICE DICTATES GENEROUS OUTLAY FOR THE HAWAIIAN EXHIBIT

service with the islands from San Francisco is excellent; although he also believes that the increase in traffic will probably more than keep pace with the improved shipping. Designs for the new Matson liner, which have been accepted, Mr. Waldron says, indicate a very fine vessel, with passenger accommodations that will excel anything at present on the Pacific. The new boat will have accommodations for 250 first-class passengers, and will be ready for service, according to Captain Matson, within a year's time.

"Hawaii should not spend less than $150,000 on an exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915.
"By 1915 transportation facilities are likely to be much improved, so that the tourist business we shall get will fully justify a generous outlay in advertising at the Fair.
"The new Matson liner, to be completed within a year, will be truly a magnificent passenger vessel. Two other similar vessels are likely to be built by the company, closely following the one now planned."—F. L. Waldron.

THIS IS PAYDAY FOR THE ARMY

Payday is being celebrated at the various army posts today and paymasters disbursed several score thousand dollars to the soldiers and officers.
Second Lieut. Burton O. Lewis has been granted a leave of absence for twenty-five days according to orders received at Department headquarters by the Siberia this morning.
Figures on enlistments in the army for April as received at headquarters this morning show a total of 1965 men. Of these 854 whites and 203 negroes enlisted in the various infantry regiments, while 350 whites and 34 negroes joined the cavalry regiments.

DEATH CLAIMS VETERAN WHO TOOK PART IN MEMORIAL DAY

One of those who rode to the Nuanu cemetery yesterday to place flowers on the graves of his former comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, Richard H. Sampson, employed as watchman on the American-Hawaiian wharves, was suddenly stricken by paralysis last night and died at the Queen's Hospital at eight o'clock this morning.
"Dick" Sampson had passed the three score and ten mark and was a well-known figure on the waterfront. The news of his death came as a great shock this morning, for most of those who knew him watched him riding proudly past in the procession yesterday, never dreaming for a moment that he was to be called so suddenly to take his place beside his former comrades and the heroes of the nation.

Arrangements were made today for the funeral which will take place tomorrow afternoon from Silva's undertaking parlors.

SHIPPING AND WATERFRONT NEWS

PORT COLLECTOR ASKS NOMINAL FINE

Says Practically Impossible to Prevent Opium Coming on Board Big Steamers--Siberia From Coast This Morning--Bennington Ready For Here--General Notes

That U. S. San Francisco authorities are taking a more reasonable view of the responsibility of a captain is evidenced by the action of Collector Stratton after Captain A. Zedler of the Pacific Mail steamer Siberia, that arrived from the coast this morning, was fined $250 for allowing opium to be on board his vessel.

Immediately following this judgment Collector of the Port Frederick S. Stratton made a recommendation that the fine should be reduced to a nominal figure, as it was his opinion that it is practically impossible for the master of a large vessel like the Siberia to prevent small quantities of opium being taken on board by members of the crew.

If the authorities at Washington see it in the same light as the port collector does captains of vessels trading to the Orient will have a big weight taken off their minds. It is understood that the collector's action follows an agitation made for some time past now in this direction.

CHANGES IN PACIFIC MAIL.

News by the Pacific Mail steamer Siberia that arrived here this morning from San Francisco en route to the Orient definitely upholds the news already published here that Captain Emery Rice is to take charge of the Mongolia, being taken out of the China.

Captain Henry E. Morton of the Mongolia leaves his ship to take charge of the Duke de Montpensier's yacht for a year.

Captain Roger Allman will be in command of the trim Pacific Mailer China when she arrives from the coast next Thursday. The appointment of Allman to the choice berth was officially announced by the company officials and sets at rest numerous predictions as to who would get the job when Captain Emery Rice remained behind to assume the command of the liner Mongolia.

Captain Allman has been in the service for many years, having had considerable experience on both the China and Panama runs. His last command was the steamer City of Panama, in the lower coast service, and two trips ago, when this vessel ran into stormy weather off Lower California and was threatened with destruction, Skipper Allman had an opportunity to show his worth. Against dangerous odds he brought the steamer safely back to port, although she was badly battered by the heavy seas. As an officer on the Korea and other Oriental liners, Captain Allman had long experience operating between San Francisco and the coast of Asia.

CAPTAIN CARROLL DEAD.

SEATTLE, May 19.—Captain James Carroll, for several years port captain of Seattle for the Pacific Coast Steamship company and one of the most widely known mariners on the Pacific coast, died here early today of paralysis, aged 72 years.

FLEET INCREASED.

To the fleet of the Harrison line, which operates a service between Europe and San Francisco and other North Pacific ports, another freighter has been added with the launching of 6500-ton vessel and will probably be used in the company's Pacific service.

The Harrison line, which was established to this port about a year ago, will operate via the Panama canal when the great waterway is opened for traffic, and in anticipation of this route the company is building several new steamers. At the present time the steamers of the fleet come to the Golden Gate via the Straits of Magellan.

While at the present time orders for vessels are rather scarce in European yards, the chief centers of industry are said to have enough work on hand to keep them busy until the end of the year. In addition to the launching of the Benefactor another important event of similar character was the launching of the British steamer Indrani of 9000 tons for the India line of Liverpool. The Kosmos line has four or five new liners building, some of which will be used in the company's Pacific service on the opening of the canal.

WAR SHIPS ARE ASSIGNED.

VALLEJO, May 21.—Following is a partial assignment of the war ships of the Pacific Coast as received at Mare Island today: For Bremerton--Battleship Oregon, Cruisers Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Milwaukee, Charleston, St. Louis, New Orleans, Chattanooga and Galveston, tug Fortune, torpedo boats Fox and Davis, submarines A-5 and A-15, Mare Island--Cruisers Maryland, California, South Dakota, Denver, Albany, Marblehead; torpedo boats Paul Jones, Preble, Lawrence, Stewart, Farragut, Hull, Hopkins, Truxton, Goldsborough, Rowan and Whipple; submarines Pike and Grampus. These two stations will be regarded as the home ports until January 1, 1913.

SONOMA LEAVES TOMORROW.

The Oceanic steamer Sonoma leaves San Francisco tomorrow morning on her first trip to this port since she was overhauled. She takes up the Sierra's running and will be followed for one trip by the Ventura.

She is booked to leave the coast port at 11 o'clock and should make this port on Friday morning.

INTER-ISLAND BOATS IN.

Two inter-island steamers arrived from ports this morning bringing sugar cargoes and a quantity of sundries.

The Maul brought 4770 bags of sugar from the Kolos Sugar company and 5230 from Grove Farm at Ahukini.

The Noeau brings 3696 bags of sugar from Hanolet, 150 bags of rice, 113 bags potatoes, two polo ponies for Arthur Rice and sundries.

The Noeau reports that there are 5000 bags of sugar on hand at Kilauea and 25,000 at Keala.

BENNINGTON FOR HERE.

The San Francisco Chronicle has the following story in connection with the old gunboat Bennington. It is more probable, however, that she will be used as a molasses boat here.

The old gunboat Bennington is going to end its career as a floating warehouse at Honolulu. The former warship now belongs to the Matson Navigation company and is at the Union Iron works, being put into shape for its career as an adjunct to the merchant marine. The Bennington yesterday was taken off the drydock, where the last traces of its former independence were removed. Its propeller was taken off, struts removed and the hole through which the shaft once protruded plugged up.

The Bennington has been fitted with tanks for the storage of molasses, and will be permanently stationed in Honolulu harbor. The Matson company now maintains the old berk Mohican at Honolulu as a floating warehouse, and with the addition of the Bennington will be well equipped with storage space, where cargoes for San Francisco can be assembled. Much of the freight that comes here originates in the different islands and is taken to Honolulu by steamers of the inter-island fleet. For its available wharf space Honolulu does an enormous business. Space for storage is at a premium. The inter-island boats that bring the freight for shipment to Honolulu must discharge it quickly and be about their business. These two floating warehouses will make this easy.

The Bennington also will be used as a warehouse for freight from here for island ports other than Honolulu. The San Francisco steamers will discharge their freight directly into the Bennington, which will distribute it to the inter-island vessels as they put in an appearance.

SIBERIA ON TIME.

Reporting a fine passage from San Francisco the Pacific Mail steamer Siberia arrived early this morning and docked at the Alaska street wharf. She brings a number of passengers for here but has a very light passenger list for the Orient.

She brought 467 sacks of mail and 785 tons of cargo. Her through cargo list shows 1009 tons.

There are twenty-nine passengers for here in the cabin, eighteen second and none in the steerage. The through passengers number twenty-nine first class, eight second and 139 Asiatics.

The Siberia will discharge her cargo today and get away at five o'clock this afternoon in continuation of her voyage to the Orient.

F. Andrews, acting freight clerk of the Siberia, is new in the position. He was promoted for this trip.

Chinese Players Made a Big Hit In Washington

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, May 17.—The Hawaiian Chinese baseball team which recently played Georgetown university here made a decided hit among the sports who follow the various form of outdoor amusements. They made up in strategy what they lacked in weight in the sixteen-inning game with Georgetown men, and only lost out through one of the players taking an exceedingly long chance. During their stay in Washington the members of the club were entertained by Delegate Kuhio by a drive over the city, a sight-seeing tour through the public buildings, a lunch at the capital and a big dinner at one of the downtown hotels in the evening.

H. C. Byrd, one of Washington's best sporting writers, has the following to say of the Hawaiian team: "There were no two innings in which the Hawaii nine played the same kind of a game. It was one complete attempt to trick the Blue and Gray bunch, and many times success attended the efforts. Whenever Georgetown expected a sacrifice and the first and third basemen played close, then it was that the brown men swung hardest at the ball, and vice versa. Once when Georgetown men were looking for the batter to clout the ball he laid down a perfect bunt along the third base line, and as fast as Davis is he did not get to the ball before the runner was at first. It was bunt with two or one or none down; the Chinese team seemed to have no preference, just so there was a chance to fool the opposing players."

On the base lines there were continual attempts on the part of the Chinese nine to draw throws, which they did at times and which gave them several runs. In the field there were little intentional slips that gave plenty of opportunity for the Blue and Gray men to place themselves in a hole. The center fielder, Sing Hung, had a way of catching fly balls with men on the bases which had the appearance of trapping or dropping the ball. It was an attempt to get the Georgetown runners to leave the bags with the idea that the ball had been misad.

The shortstop uncorked a new way of playing that position with a man on first. Instead of shifting the least bit at the sign to waste the ball he would maintain a position within two or three feet of the ball during the entire time that first base was occupied. It made it much easier for him to receive a throw from home, but it left a lot of room for the hit and run play through the position he had practically left vacant.

Yes, there was some peculiar baseball uncorked by that team, but it was all that made it able to play on even terms with the Blue and Gray nine. It was by taking advantage of the little slips on the part of Georgetown that the Chinese nine was able to make the showing it did. Georgetown looked much the stronger team, both in the field and at bat, but it was in the really finer points that the foreign aggregation showed to advantage, just the part of the game in which it would not be expected to do much.

None of the pitchers used by the Chinese team seemed to have much on the ball, but they were continually outguessing the batters. Time and again the Georgetown men would swing at balls that were not good by feet simply because they had been fooled.

There were times, though, when the Blue and Gray men hit in mighty hard luck. Once with two men down and third and second occupied, Daly hit the ball at the second baseman on a line at about a mile-a-minute gait. On two other occasions line drives were hit directly at somebody when men were on the bases.

Kan Yen, who did the catching for the Chinese team, had a good arm and was able to shoot the ball down to second on a line, but it generally went into center field. He had little or no control over the ball after it left his hand.

L. Tin, who held down third, was mainly responsible for almost every run scored by Georgetown. Poor throws to first by him at different stages of the game gave the Blue and Gray chances for runs that were made and which it otherwise would not have scored. The youngster when he threw to first as soon as he got hold of the ball always made a perfect throw, but whenever he took time to steady himself it was practically impossible for him to get the ball anywhere that it could be handled in time to put out the runner.

The game started as though it would be a prolonged affair, and it was, though not in the sense that was expected. The Chinese scored three runs and Georgetown two in the first inning, and everybody thought that there would be a total of about ten or twelve runs for each team at the end of the nine periods, but after the batting rally by the Blue and Gray in the seventh neither side was able to get a tally across the plate, and the quality of the play of the two teams seemed to improve as the contest wore on.

The University of Hawaii might have won the game in the regulation time had it not been for an exceedingly long chance taken by one of the men on third base. A runner was on second with nobody out and went to third on a ground ball hit to Hollander, whose throw was dropped by O'Connor, the runner trying to score on the play. It looked like poor baseball to try to score with the ball in the infield, nobody out and two men on the play. It looked like poor baseball, though, that the Chinese had been getting away with, and it was a very close decision that had to be given at the plate.

The Chinese team which appeared here yesterday is a better team than the Jap nine which played here last year. It is composed of much faster fielders, and seemed able to hit a little better than did the men from the land of the Mikado.

There was one exceptionally fast fielder on the Hawaii nine yesterday, one who is much better than the average American college player, the shortstop. A. Ayau could field his position much better than the average American boy and hit better than the majority of his team.

The Chinese have the reputation of holding tenaciously to old customs, but the ones who appeared at Georgetown yesterday did not come under that class by a long shot. There was nothing oldtimey about those boys. They acted and looked just as any plain United States team would.

PARK OPENED.

HANAPEPE, May 26.—The opening of the baseball season on the new Eleele grounds was attended with great enthusiasm. Mr. W. D. McBryde officiated at the occasion dedicating the park in a few well chosen remarks to Alexander & Baldwin. At the conclusion of his remarks he started the game by throwing the first ball across the plate.

A fifteen-foot shark was caught at Pearl Harbor last Sunday by Fred Johnson and his corps of accomplished fish-storyists.

John Ferreira will shortly leave for the Coast and may bring back some runners when he returns.

HANOGATA IS PUGILIST AND VARSITY MAN

Fred Hanogata, the Japanese boxer whose nomme de guerre is Yamogata, is a good-looking young man, twenty-three years of age.

He only discusses his boxing career when questioned on that point and might be, judging from his appearance, anything but a boxer.

Hanogata was born in Tokio and Fred Hanogata whose ring name is Yamogata and who is matched to box four rounds with "Plug" Milne at the Athletic Park tomorrow afternoon.

He entered a grammar school in Seattle and then went through the Broadway high school.

After leaving the latter institution he was at the University of Washington for a year.

Hanogata was always fond of athletics and developed into a pugilist expert.

He saw several white boxers in action in Seattle and one day put the gloves on with one of them more out of curiosity than anything else. He was surprised to find that he was hitting and guarding himself almost instinctively against the attack of his experienced opponent and then and there made up his mind to go in for boxing seriously, more especially as he was frequently told that he would make a good boxer if he took lessons and tried to perfect himself in the art of self-defense.

Takes Up Boxing.

One night Hanogata attended an athletic entertainment given by the Seattle Press Club. Jujitsu and boxing figured on the program. He expressed his desire to learn boxing from a newspaperman who was present and was given a letter of introduction to Lonnie Austin, the well-known boxing expert of Seattle.

Austin became interested in him and took him up. Under his tutelage the Japanese developed rapidly and was in time matched to box a man from Oklahoma who outweighed him seventeen pounds. He won easily, knocking his larger opponent down three times in the second round.

His second fight was with a Seattle boxer and he fought four rounds to a draw.

His only reverse was in the last bout that he had with a clever boxer named Conroy. He lost a close decision and claims that he was the victor of a put-up job on the part of the referee.

"There was a white man at the ringside," said Hanogata this morning, "who wanted to bet $100 that I could beat three tub-guys like Conroy in the same ring."

Hanogata boxes four rounds with "Plug" Milne tomorrow afternoon at the Athletic Park and will enter the ring weighing about 130 pounds.

Many marathons were training in Kapiolani Park yesterday.

Cheerful View Of Yacht Race From San Diego

SAN DIEGO, May 18.—Alonso Jee-roy, one of the best lads that ever fell off a bowsprit or contracted malaria, made a trip last summer to his old home in Merrie England, and while in the land of his forebears Lon visited Sir Thomas Lipton aboard the baronet's steam yacht, the Shamrock. Among other things talked of was the big yacht race to Honolulu. It seems that Lon's suggestions have borne fruit, for in addition to other trophies contemplated for Pacific coast contests, Sir Thomas has practically agreed to give a handsome up to the winner of the Pacific ocean classic—the Honolulu race.

Much Interest Aroused.

All along the coast this race is arousing intense interest among seafaring men—commercial, naval and yachtsmen—and the 1912 ramble will go down in the logbook of time as the contest de luxe. A big fleet of white wings will assemble at San Pedro preparatory to the start, June 11. Seattle will send two craft, Vancouver and Victoria one each. San Francisco two and possible three all of which will carry the Panama-Pacific exposition's official flag. San Pedro will be represented by three or four, among them Yankee Girl, the San Diego built craft while Honolulu will have one entry.

Whether San Diego will be in the running depends on the success of the finance committee of the S. D. Y. C. in soliciting funds to pay necessary expenses to equip a craft for this big event. While the committee has had fairly good success there still remains about $500 to be raised. Now a few words about the yacht that is to fly the S. D. Y. C. pennant and Panama-California exposition's flag in the Honolulu scramble if sufficient money is raised to properly outfit the craft.

Story of the Lurline.

About twenty years ago in San Francisco John D. Spreckels built a 90-foot schooner-rigged yacht, principally for pleasure cruising, although it won cups galore in Golden Gate waters, and no expense was spared to turn out an AI craft. From keelson to topmast every detail was worked out with skill and the result was a yacht such as never had been seen on the Pacific coast before.

AUTO PARTIES WILL WITNESS FISTIC SPORT

Both Ingle and de Mello closed up their hard work yesterday and today are doing only light training stunts. Last night at the Orpheum Ingle boxed four rounds with Young Caples.

De Mello at Camp Very yesterday afternoon boxed two rounds each with Young Layman, Denny Leary and Young Nelson.

Both principals in the main event are as fine as silk and a similar remark applies to every one of the preliminary fighters.

Paton to Referee.

The Ingle-de Mello go will be refereed by Mike Paton and Johnny McCarthy will adjudicate the preliminaries. Both these men have had a large experience of the game and understand its every angle. The public and the pugilists will be well served by their selection.

The bouts will be staged in the following order:

Gans vs Moriarty.
Bauersack vs Caples.
Yamogata vs Milne.
Ingle vs de Mello.
The Yamogata-Milne bout is put third out of deference to the request of a large number of Japanese fans who will be unable to get to the Athletic Park before five o'clock.

Arrangements for Autos.
Autos will be admitted to the arena tomorrow afternoon, a charge of one dollar being made for each occupant.

Whether in pleasure cruising or racing this handsome schooner-yacht has always made good. Several years ago Mr. Spreckels sold the now famous craft to Commodore Sinclair of the South Coast Yacht club, and the commodore lost no time in getting into the Honolulu game. Twice he sailed this grand old racer into Honolulu harbor hours ahead of all competitors. Then Sinclair sold it and it came to local waters. With the prestige of years of successful racing and with the reputation among sailors all along the coast as a lucky craft, it is proposed by the S. D. Y. C. to enter in the Honolulu race this yacht with a history of fame honestly won, this one best bet in local yacht racing—the Lurline of San Diego.

Davis Cannot Go.

It was the intention of A. E. Davis, Lurline's present owner, to enter and race the famous cup grabber himself, but business demands in the east of an imperative nature forced him to abandon the plan. Then he met the racing committee of the S. D. Y. C. and made a brief talk.

"If you boys want to race the Lurline to Honolulu take her."

On behalf of the club the committee accepted the generous offer and has been busy since then trying to finance the proposition. In round numbers $1500 is required to put the pride of the coast into the limelight, for every local yachtsman believes Lurline is invincible, and $1000 has already been subscribed. It is up to San Diego to furnish the remaining $500, so when the committee calls on you, gentlemen, kindly dig. It will be mazuma well invested.

Captain Lew Harris, an old time deep blue sailor, and like the Lurline, with a splendid reputation as a winner, will be in command. Among those mentioned as his crew are Roy Kees, Bert Hill, Frank Wyatt, George Leary, George Swanson, E. W. Dorr, Charley Smith, Art McCallan, John Lindahl, Arthur Simpson, Ernest Clark, Ned Payson, Ted Langdon, Herman Halcomb and Frank Barlow. Certainly a fine bunch of alert lads with considerable nautical "know how" under their caps.

The Lurline will officially represent the Panama-California exposition, and every man aboard will be a San Diego booster of the Collier-Sefton brand.

The machines will be parked in the infield back of the ring and the autos will practically be ringside seats. Many auto parties are being made up for the occasion.

Bill Prestidge and a corps of workers will get busy on the erection of the ring this evening immediately after baseball practice is over. The back of the work will be broken tonight and the finishing touches put on tomorrow.

All tickets unclaimed by 2 p. m. tomorrow will be put back in the box and sold.

TOM M'FARLAND MAY BOX HERE

The sporting editor of the Star received by this morning's mail a letter from Tommy McFarland, the San Francisco lightweight, with whom George Ingle boxed a four-round draw just previous to sailing for the islands.

McFarland is willing to make a trip to Honolulu provided suitable arrangements can be made.

McFarland is a scrapper of parts, having fought a ten-round draw with Ad Wolgast.

He beat Jake Barada in twelve rounds, won from Bert Keyes in twenty rounds, and fought a twenty-round draw with Willie Ritchie, the boy who recently made such a sensational showing against Champion Wolgast.

NEW THEORY ABOUT KILAUEA.

The theory which Professors Day and Shepard have developed that Kilauea is an isolated volcano, generating its own heat, is most interesting and significant. It has been noted before that there was no apparent connection between the fires of Kilauea and those of the volcano of Mauna Loa, on a shoulder of which mountain Kilauea is located, though some regard our most active volcano as susceptible to a cause of eruptive action which makes itself manifest about the same time all over the world. Such simultaneous courses may be due to lunar influences rather than to common subterranean energy.

What produces the heat of Kilauea? This question is answered by the theory that it is radium, the only natural product which emits heat and light without loss of substance. Radium might well account for Kilauea and other volcanoes though the extinction of a crater might indicate that it is not the only lava-producing source. Radium, once starting action, would not be likely to subside. It has also been theoretically named as the substance of comets. At any rate the radium theory for volcano-action is much more plausible than that the airless core of the globe is a mass of tidal fire, when pressure ought to make it more solid than surface rock.

But we shall know more about this when an analysis is made of the gases collected from the surface of the molten lava and bottled.

CHINESE LABOR.

If the Dillingham bill shall be so altered as to permit the limited entrance here of Chinese, the fact will be welcome to the employing class of these islands. The Chinese have long been as popular in Hawaii as they are unpopular on the Pacific coast—a fact which goes to show how responsive they are to good treatment and how little our social system is corrupted by labor union influences. Hawaii's Chinese have ever shown the admirable virtues of industry, perseverance, honesty, frugality and tractability. As factors in agricultural pursuits they are ideal; and they are a respective element in the commercial life of the islands. While the Japanese are mainstays of the cane industry, it is not wise to give any class of field labor a great predominance such as the Japanese enjoy. Chinese would give the labor situation a new balance.

PANAMA LEGISLATION.

Congress must provide regulations at this session for the operation and maintenance of the Panama Canal. The enactment of the bill recently taken up by the House is regarded of such great importance that in the discussion of plans for securing an early adjournment as possible it was placed first in order after the passage of the inevitable supply bills. The passage of the bill will mark one of the greatest achievements in the world's history and begin a new chapter in the chronicle of international commercial, industrial and diplomatic affairs.

The Panama Canal is unique in all respects. Its initiation involved intricate questions requiring skillful diplomacy and tactful legislation. Its construction meant the testing of the highest engineering knowledge and is a tribute to the genius of those who have had it in charge. The efforts of the French government to open the pathway between the two oceans met with tragic failure. Their experiment offered little encouragement and furnished but few lessons of value to America at the time that President Roosevelt took the initiative leading to the building of this great highway of the seas. Untried difficulties were met and conquered, original methods invented, and the United States has succeeded where all others have failed.

The legislation necessary at this time must be enacted in the absence of precedents. Members of Congress in both the House and the Senate have familiarized themselves as much as possible with the affairs of the Canal Zone. Repeated journeys have been made there, and exhaustive hearings held at which the testimony of experts has been given on all phases of the situation, both as to the canal itself, and in every line of business, commerce and navigation affected. Armed with this information the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce prepared and reported the bill now up for final enactment.

The principal items in the bill over which there is a disagreement are the questions, first, whether or not steamships in which railroad companies have a financial interest shall be permitted to use the canal; and second, what tolls shall be paid by vessels coming through. These are vitally important to the commercial interests, and much influence has already been brought to bear upon the members in shaping the proposed legislation.

The House Committee first reported the bill recommending that before steamships belonging to companies the stock of which or any part of it was owned by railroads should be admitted to the canal, it should be proven that they were not operating in restraint of trade. It was alleged in defense of this provision that vessels engaged in coastwise trade were owned by railroads, and that they stifled competition under present conditions. Since the opening of the canal will greatly increase the importance of the coastwise trade, it was argued that the railroads would have greater opportunities for favorable traffic regulations if they would control the water traffic as well as the land transportation.

The recommendation of this provision aroused further agitation of the question. The Interstate Commerce Committee took the matter up again, and finally reported the present provision in the bill which provides that it shall be unlawful for any railroad company "or other common carrier subject to the Act to Regulate Commerce to own, lease, operate, control, or have any interest whatsoever (by stock ownership or otherwise, directly or indirectly, through any holding company, or in any other manner) in any common carrier by water with which said railroad or other carrier aforesaid does or may compete for traffic; and in case of the violation of this provision each day in which such violation continues shall be deemed a separate offense."

With reference to this provision the committee declared that while the bill was primarily designed only to provide for the administration of the canal, it was competent to legislate concerning coastwise trade. "It would not be fair," said Chairman Adamson, "to discriminate among our coastwise vessels, all of which are important. The apprehension of railroad owned vessels driving competition from the canal may or may not be exaggerated, but it is certain that the evil, which is only anticipated there, already exists in the coastwise trade on both coasts, as well as on our lakes and rivers. The committee thinks it wise and opportune to broaden the amendment."

To render this provision still more effective the committee added another provision thereto conferring jurisdiction upon the Interstate Commerce Commission to determine questions of fact as to the ownership in steamship lines of railroads, and making the order of the commission in such cases final.

It is intimated that this provision will be very much revised by the Senate Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals when it comes before them. In the first place, many members of the committee are bitterly opposed to having such legislation included in the bill for the administration of the affairs of the canal, and declare that it is not a proper subject to be taken up in that connection.

Others oppose it on the ground that it is unfair to prevent railroads from owning stock in steamship companies, where it can be shown that such ownership is not in restraint of trade. Some believe that the functions of the Interstate Commerce Commission will be made too broad if they are extended even thus far to the affairs of the Canal Zone. The matter will receive a thorough airing in the Senate, and a sharp fight will be made before it will be agreed to. There are many Republicans, it is stated, who do not agree with the message of President Taft of 1910, in which he said:

"I suggest as a wise amendment to the interstate commerce law a

THE HELPFUL PACKAGE

By WALT MASON.

The man who has a bundle finds homage in the air; the knowledge of his fund'll precede him everywhere, and every blooming maiden will always treat him nice, the man with guilders laden, the man who has the price. And moralists may thunder about our lust for gold, and say it is a blunder the rich man to uphold; our slavish adoration of gold and silver yen is threatening the nation, demoralizing men. Though he's abused in sonnets and cussed from pole to pole, we always doff our bonnets to him who has the roll. I rather like the kicker who often deftly swears at sinful get-rich-quicker and multi-millionaires; for wealth, that is a blessing when moderate it seems, becomes a thing distressing when carried to extremes. Oh, we are surely wiser when we our lids uplift, not to the sordid miser, but to the man of thrift; and like a silly farce'll seem ugly things we say of him who has a parcel of boodle put away.

provision prohibiting interstate commerce railroads from owning or controlling ships engaged in the trade through the Panama Canal. I believe such a provision may be needed to save to the people of the United States the benefits of the competition in trade between the eastern and western seaboard which this canal was constructed to secure."

The section relating to tolls reported by the House Committee on Interstate Commerce authorized the President to fix and change toll charges not to exceed $1.25 per ton, based on net registered tonnage, and not less than the proportionate part of the estimated cost for maintenance and operation. This charge is to be imposed without preference or discrimination upon all vessels of all nations. The only exception was made in the case of vessels belonging to the government of Panama and the United States. The latter include those of the Panama railroad, all the stock of which is owned by this country.

There is much opposition to this provision. It comes from commercial organizations in all parts of the country, though the more general protest is made by organizations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. A small minority of the Interstate Commerce Committee filed their dissenting report on the tolls provision. They urged that it has never entered into the conception of Congress to erect a tollage in the path of domestic trade, and charged that such a provision was an abandonment of our historic policy of free commercial intercourse between the states. It was an elementary proposition, they said, that tolls levied upon vessels engaged in commerce between our eastern and western seaboard increase the amount the transcontinental railroads may charge for the same service.

The tolls question is vital to the cost of the administration of the canal. The estimates of Col. Goethals show that it will amount annually to about $4,000,000. This is a matter that will enter materially into the consideration of the question before Congress finally decides it; though approval of it has twice been expressed by the House.

It seems unlikely that now, with the fruitpicking season under way, there are a large number of Portuguese idle in California. The cherries are being picked and packed; plums, peaches, melons and grapes will come in turn and in work of this kind the male Portuguese and his wife and children are adepts. Generally speaking, California is a busy place for labor in the warm weather, not only in the fruit fields but in agriculture. The time to pick up plenty of workers there is in the dead of winter. Then, from the rain and frost belt, Hawaii looks particularly attractive to the jobless stranger.

The mention in the Star of the possibility of having the Newfoundland banks patrolled for icebergs was justified by the news of a practicable plan which has been evolved at Washington. The cruiser Birmingham will go to the grand banks, near where a new southern route for transatlantic steamers has been located, search for bergs and give general warning of them by wireless. She will try and report the limits of the icepack. The Birmingham's sister ships, the Chester and the Salem may be added to the patrol if the first vessel makes good.

Low Rates To Volcano

It is probable that the Mauna Kea leaving here Saturday, June 8, at four o'clock will go out with one of the biggest excursion parties that has yet taken advantage of low volcano rates. But it is not an excursion, in the sense in which the term is used; it is the first trip of the steamer under the new schedule and the company has adopted the thirty dollar rate and will continue it, for these short trips, until September 30.

Passengers will have about thirty hours at the crater and all expenses of the trip is covered by the thirty dollars. The steamer will arrive back in Honolulu early Tuesday morning so that but one day will be lost from business.

Holiday Crowd Attends

Bijou Performance.

The "standing room" sign so dear to the hearts of the theatrical impresarios was in evidence all through the performances at the Bijou theater last night. It was a truly holiday crowd that attended the show and the applause that emanated from the overflowing audience was convincing evidence that the performance was a very fitting close to a day of enjoyment.

The Yokohama troupe and the trained dogs, the two headliners, pulled so strong for first honors that it was hard to tell which act was the most popular. Dainty May Taylor sang her way into popular favor. It's useless to go into detail regarding the vaudeville program. Suffice it to say that the quality of acts now being shown at the Bijou can't be improved upon, and that the public appreciates it and will support a program of its kind is proved by the fact that the large open air theater was filled all this week, with the S. R. O. sign in evidence Monday and last night.

At the Empire.

Knotts and Lawrence featured "Are There Any More at Home Like Mary" at the Empire last night, with the audience joining in the chorus. The May Nannery company appeared in an emotional sketch which called for forceful acting on the part of the lady members of the company. The pictures were quite interesting.

Success at Liberty.

Bertha's Billions, the new piece staged by the Juvenile Bostonians at the Liberty theater last night, was a decided hit from start to finish. As announced beforehand the single numbers were away above what has been heard before and the tout ensemble was good.

The big hit of the evening was undoubtedly Billie O'Neill's song, "By the Saskatchewan." A pretty chorus effect is worked in connection with this and encore after encore was called for. It is the best number that has been heard yet.

Lois Mason with her yodel song again made a big hit and is looked forward to with pleasure. The "bunch," under the leadership of Dode Canfield, scored a big hit with their "Rum Tum Diddle" chorus. They came from all parts of the house and kept the audience enjoying the fun for nearly ten minutes.

Thom Helen was again in good voice and scored hits both in her single number and also in her duets with Lois Mason.

The show throughout received favorable criticism at the hands of everybody last night and is worth seeing.

STEAMER SERVICE

Not only is the Matson company to build this new vessel, but Mr. Waldron states that he has very strong reason to believe that two other similar boats will probably be under construction by the same company before the first one is in commission. "Hawaii should be fittingly represented at the San Francisco fair in 1915," thinks Mr. Waldron. "This is going to be a very important event; and, with the prospect that by that time passenger accommodations will be considerably improved, we should be justified in doing our best. The part we took in the Seattle exposition was all right, but we should make a good deal better showing at San Francisco. In my judgment not less than $150,000 should be considered for the purpose."

Mr. Waldron stated that he did not hear very much talk as to the probable result of the passage of the Canal bill by the House, by which American shipping is to have free use of the great waterway, and which bars ships owned in whole or part by a transcontinental railroad. The measure will bar the Pacific Mail, but whether or not it will result in the company's changing its plans regarding building more ships, he had not heard discussed. He is certain, however, that the opening of the Canal is going to result in a tremendous increase of shipping on the Pacific coast.

While in San Francisco, Mr. Waldron attended the banquet to Secretary Knox, and he was also a guest at the dinner given by R. P. Rithet and George Rolph in honor of Governor Frear and his father, which was attended by some twenty others including Mayor Rolph, of San Francisco, and President Moore, of the Fair Company.

Returning with their father from attending the Hitchcock Military Academy, at San Rafael, were Masters Stanley and Redvers Waldron. This is their first year at the school, and they are much pleased with their experience, but glad to be home again.

MRS. BRUNS IS DENIED ALIMONY

What Judge Whitney thinks of the Bruns divorce suit is well demonstrated by his ruling today on the motion of the libellant for temporary alimony, costs and attorney's fees, pending appeal to the supreme court. The judge promptly denied the motion. The Bruns divorce case is the one that has become known in the courts as the "mother-in-law case."

Rikichi Hiraki has filed suit for divorce against Mitsui Hiraki on the double ground of desertion and adultery. Kame Morishita has brought suit for divorce against Goichi Morishita on the ground of desertion and non-support.

In the matter of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company versus John D. Paris a bill of exceptions has been filed by the defendant, predating an appeal to the supreme court.

In the matter of the Kapilani Estate versus Mary H. Atcherley, Judge Whitney this morning ruled that Lyle A. Dickey and E. M. Watson are parties defendant.

The case of Frank Sullivan versus the ship Edward Sewall is set for tomorrow morning in the federal court.

The case of Pow Sin, charged with violation of the opium laws, is set for hearing tomorrow in the United States District Court.

SEPTUAGENARIAN FALLS BY ROAD

Word was received by the police this morning that an aged Portuguese was dying in a house near Kipapa gulch.

Dr. Emerson started at once for the scene in the police auto and found that Pedro Domingos, a colored Portuguese, over seventy years of age, had dropped by the wayside exhausted while tramping from Honolulu to Waialua in search of work.

He was discovered by an employee of Lord & Young who sheltered him in his home till Dr. Emerson arrived.

The doctor invigorated old Domingos with shrewd application of stimulants and brought him to Honolulu, the paradise of the square meal.

Domingos was starving, that is what was mainly the matter with him.

COUSENS WINS THE PEACE PRIZE

Clayton W. Cousens, a science student in the freshman class of the College of Hawaii, has been awarded the $50 cash prize offered by the Peace Committee of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce for the best essay on "International Peace."

Mr. Cousens won against twelve other contestants. Although only the one prize was offered, the committee this morning, after receiving the report from the judges, which included honorable mention of three other essayists, decided to divide another $50 among these and consequently the following additional prize winners are announced:

1st, R. Alexander Anderson, Oahu College, special prize, $20.

2nd, Adelaide C. Downen, Oahu College, special prize, $15.

3rd, Gregory K. Koanohi, Kamehameha School, special prize, $15.

The judges to whom the papers were submitted on May 15, were Judge W. L. Whitney, Rev. W. B. Oleson, and Mrs. D. L. Withington. The essays were submitted under assumed names, and the awards were made without the judges knowing the identity of the writers.

Mr. Cousens, winner of the first prize, has been in Honolulu but a year, having come from Ithaca, N. Y. He is a brother-in-law of Prof. A. L. Andrews, head of the English department of the College of Hawaii, with whom he makes his home. The Star will publish this paper, which is an excellent one, in a future issue.

The committee of the Chamber of Commerce having the matter in hand consists of W. A. Bowen, Robert F. Lange and Gilbert J. Waller.

The committee is much pleased with the success of the contest, and expresses the belief that the interest aroused among the students of the various schools of the territory will have a very helpful effect in spreading the doctrine of world peace through the Islands. The contest was open to all students over fifteen years of age, in any school in the territory. It is possible that a similar contest will be arranged for next year.

FINE EXCURSION FOR LINK'S PARTY

S. F. Call: A "Champ Clark special," carrying the California and Hawaii delegations to the democratic national convention at Baltimore, will leave San Francisco over the Western Pacific Monday, June 17, at 10 o'clock in the evening, continuing on via the Denver and Rio Grande to Denver, the Rock Island lines to Chicago and the Pennsylvania line to Baltimore, where it will arrive early Monday morning, June 24.

The California delegation has invited all democratic delegates west of Colorado to avail themselves of the palatial special until the accommodations are taken up. If necessary a second section will be added. The special will be one of the most elaborately equipped ever sent out by any American railroad.

The fare to Baltimore and return, via any direct route, will be $107.50. By direct route is meant any route except by the north and through Portland. For $15 additional the northern return may be taken. Those desiring to visit New York may purchase round trip tickets to that city for $108.50. This ticket will allow a 10 days' stopover at Baltimore and at Washington, too, if desired. The final return hunt on round trip tickets will be October 13, so those democrats desiring to loiter in the east will have considerable loitering time.

Approximate rates for Pullman accommodations will be $64 for a drawing room, $57 for a compartment, $19 for a lower and $15.20 for an upper berth. Reservations are being made through John F. Murray here or through any railroad agent in any city.

Stops will be made along the Feather river so that the passengers may appreciate the scenery and at other points, including eight hours at Salt Lake, 3 hours and 20 minutes at Canyon City for those passengers desiring to take the Sky line drive overlooking the Royal Gorge; at Colorado Springs 21 hours to take in Pike's Peak, Manitou, Garden of the Gods and other wonders; at Denver 6½ hours.

Buffet, club, smoking and dining cars, with a spacious observation car, will be attached to the special.

Frear's View Is Sustained

The winning by the Territory of Hawaii of its second test case, this being the one against Manuel Nicolau de Souza, an applicant for a homestead patent in the Kalwiki III tract, on the ground that he had not fulfilled the conditions of homesteading, is only another proof that Governor Frear's contention was correct that the right of purchase lease was not good homesteading, inasmuch as the holder of the lease frequently tried to evade its provisions, according to Deputy Attorney General Smith who was discussing the test case this morning.

"This means that Governor Frear's policy has been vindicated," said Attorney General Smith. "The governor had long contended that the right of purchase leases were fraudulently evaded and that consequently homesteading under right of purchase leases was not good homesteading."

When Ah Long arrived at the police station he bore no mark of violence whatever, whereas Nobriga suffered from the results of the assault by Mahaulu for some days.

SOCIAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

A great institution for the residents of the islands is the College of Hawaii though it may be said to be now in its swaddling clothes. Today is the one day in the year when this genial as well as distinguished couple, meet all the pupils of the College in a social way and each year as these receptions are given they become more popular.

The home of Professor and Mrs. Gilmore could not have been better planned for an occasion of this character nor could the decorations of the various rooms have been more in harmony with the surroundings when the several hundred invited guests called to pay their respects to their hosts. SUBSTITUTE SUGAR TARIFF BILL OF SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—
The Committee on Finance in submitting its report on the Underwood Free Sugar Bill offered a substitute for the bill, the text of the schedule therein being as follows, the preamble bringing the act into force six months after its passage:

First. Sugars, tank bottoms, sirups of cane juice, melada, concentrated melades, concrete and concentrated melades, testing by the polariscope not above seventy-five degrees, ninety-five one-hundredths of one cent per pound, and for each additional degree shown by the polariscope test, thirty-five one-thousandths of one cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion; molasses testing not above forty degrees, twenty per centum ad valorem; testing above forty degrees and not above fifty-six degrees, six cents per gallon; sugar drainings and sugar sweepings shall be subject to duty as molasses or sugar, as the case may be, according to polariscope test. Provided, That every bag, barrel, or parcel in which sugar testing by the polariscope less than ninety-nine degrees is packed shall be plainly branded by the manufacturer or refiner thereof with the name of such manufacturer or refin-er, and the polariscope test of the sugar therein contained, accurately within one-half of one degree, and a failure to brand any such bag, barrel, or parcel as herein required shall be deemed and taken to be a mis-branding of food within the meaning of the Act of June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and six, entitled "An Act for preventing the manufacture, sale, or transportation of adulterated or mis-branded or poisonous or deleterious foods, drugs, medicines and liquors, and for regulating traffic therein, and for other purposes." And the requirements of this proviso shall not apply to any sugar shipped or delivered to a refiner to be refined before entering into consumption.

Second. Maple sugar and maple sirup, four cents per pound; glucose or grape sugar, one and one-half cents per pound; sugar cane in its natural state or unmanufactured, twenty per centum ad valorem; sugar cane de-fected, shredded, artificially dried, or which has been subjected to any manufacturing or other process, fifty per centum ad valorem.

Third. That nothing in this Act contained shall be so construed as to abrogate or in any manner impair or affect the provisions of the treaty of commercial reciprocity concluded between the United States and the Republic of Cuba on the eleventh day of December, nineteen hundred and two, or the provisions of the Act of Congress heretofore passed for the execution of the same, and that upon the taking effect of this Act all Acts and parts of Acts in conflict with the provisions hereof shall be repealed.

Remarks by Committee.
In concluding its report on the Free
Sugar Bill, the majority of the committee made the following statement:
"The committee believes that an appreciable reduction in the sugar schedule would end the further development of the home beet-sugar industry; would close many of the weaker beet-sugar plants; would permanently destroy the cane-sugar production in the South, and that free trade in sugar would wreck our continental and a large portion of our insular sugar industry, thus reestablishing in the refiners a complete monopoly of the sugar business.

"From whatever viewpoint the question be considered, your committee fails to discover wherein the American consumer could be assured of any direct benefit by reason of a reduction of the duty on raw sugar, or any compensation for arresting the growth of, or destroying an industry which already contributes $45,000,000 annually to American industry, and which possesses such potentiality for further increasing our national wealth and prosperity.

"The committee is convinced that the goal of cheaper sugar for American consumers can be reached most quickly and surely through:
"The added competition which would result from the further expansion of the domestic beet-sugar industry and that the direct and indirect benefits accruing to the farmer by reason of such expansion would be of greater value than the entire sum we expend for sugar.

"To make even a slight reduction of duty on raw sugar or in any manner to indicate to prospective sugar-development capital that our governmental policy concerning the further expansion of our beet-sugar industry is not fixed and unwavering would be injurious to the welfare of the Nation.
"Because of the fact that the Dutch standard and differential paragraphs of the present sugar schedule yield no revenue, because they give the refiners an undue advantage and because of the further fact that their removal would not work a serious hardship to our home producers, your committee begs to report a substitute bill which abolishes the Dutch standard and the differential and retains the present rates of duty on importations of raw sugar."

WAIANAES MADE AUSPICIOUS VISIT

A crowd of about seven hundred attended the baseball at the Athletic Park yesterday afternoon and saw the Waianaes put it all over the J. A. C.

game, in which ten innings resulted in a score of 6 to 5.

In the curtain-raiser the Stars defeated the J. A. C. Jrs., 6 to 4. The looked like winners until the Stars

The Plantation Leaguers made a delphia women are protesting against

Business Care Brings Nervous Wear

The petty cares of business life wear away nervous strength, and this applies as much to the clerk at the desk as to the manager in his luxurious office. A thousand little details of duty requiring attention exhaust the nervous energy and cause one to fret over trifling things that would not require a second thought under conditions of perfect health.
Nervous fretful persons of either sex are usually poorly nourished and in all such cases the surest and quickest permanent relief is to be had by the use of

Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Extract which first quickens the appetite and aids the digestion and enriches the blood, thus providing the tired nerves with the nourishment they need. This condition banishes the wakefulness that so many nervous people suffer from and permits them to enjoy sound restful sleep. Get Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Extract at your druggists—and be sure you get STEARNS'—the genuine.

Pocket Knives

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE. We have a few each of a lot of different styles and sizes of the well known brands of high grade pocket knives such as Worsteholm, Keen Kut-ter, etc., and you can get them for the next few days for much less than the regular prices.

There will be a reduction of 20 per cent on some, and 25 per cent on others, and it is a chance to get a guaranteed first-class knife for a low price.

This is to make room for a big shipment of pocket cutlery that will soon come in. The sooner you come the more you will have to pick from.

The best makes known, in perfect condition—something to cut with at a cut price.

ROSE LEE TYLER WINS HER SUIT

Rose Lee Tyler, a vaudeville singer, has scored a victory in the supreme court in her suit for $200 on a contract against Hen Wise and Kate Milton, with the Honolulu Amusement Company as garnishee. In a decision written by Justice Perry, her exceptions to the adverse judgment of Circuit Judge Cooper are sustained and a new trial is granted. W. B. Lymer was her attorney, while J. A. Magoon appeared for the defendants.

The supreme court, in concluding a review of the testimony says that Wise had testified that he was "perfectly satisfied" and "wanted her to continue. The quality of music," the decision continues, "that she contracted to furnish for one week and was able and willing to furnish for eleven weeks additional. If it was not such as to please Honolulu audiences the error of judgment was that of the defendants and for that they and not the plaintiff must suffer. If there was no such error of judgment the duty was the defendant's to find a place or places at which the plaintiff was to appear and perform her undertaking."

The law of the case is laid down in the syllabus as follows:
 "Where the undisputed evidence shows that W. employed T. in Chicago to perform as a singer in Honolulu for a period of twelve weeks at a stated salary, without any condition as to the theater or theaters in Honolulu at which T. was to appear, evidence that during a conversation between the parties in San Francisco, while T. was on her way to Honolulu under the contract, W. informed T. that she would appear at a theater operated by the H. A. Co. does not in itself justify a finding that the contract was thereby modified by the addition of a provision that T.'s performance would be at the theater so named."
 "A mere scintilla of evidence is insufficient to support a finding of fact. Certain findings in this case held to be unsupported by evidence."
 As no new evidence will be admitted on the new trial, Miss Tyler is bound to obtain judgment on the law as declared by the appellate court.

NICE PRESENT TO CAMPBELL

Today, officially, is Marston Campbell's last day in office as superintendent of public works, but as he intends to continue in the discharge of the duties until Governor Frear returns from the mainland, the superintendent let May 31 slip from his mind, except as a day to continue his routine duties, forgetting that it was the date on which his resignation should take effect.
 Consequently he was a little surprised when F. M. Friesell, followed by thirty-one other employees of the public works department, crowded into his private office this morning.
 In Mr. Friesell's arms was a four-piece solid silver coffee set which he extended toward the superintendent of public works, who was so surprised that he could only gasp with astonishment as he listened to Mr. Friesell's presentation speech.
 According to those present, a very perceptible interval of time elapsed before Mr. Campbell could reply to the members of his staff, thanking them for their kindness in remembering him and expressing himself as hoping that he would always receive such loyal support as his present employees had given him.
 On the tray of the set is the engraved inscription: "Presented to Marston Campbell by the employees of the Department of Public Works, Honolulu, June 1, 1912."

She will depart at once for San Francisco to take a steamer for Honolulu, where her husband and three children await her. The princess, who is an attractive woman some 30 years old, walked with the aid of crutches and was assisted down the gang plank to the pier.

FRAZIER BOOSTING

The Kansas City Star, in a notice of the arrival of two hundred men from Pacific Coast cities wearing bear skins stamped "San Francisco, 1912," on their way to the 1912 convention of advertising men in Dallas, says:
 One of the live members of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America and one who comes the farthest distance to attend the Dallas convention is Charles R. Frazier of Honolulu.

Mr. Frazier is traveling 8000 miles on the round trip to Dallas, primarily to help get the 1913 convention for San Francisco and secondarily to benefit by the enthusiasm and information that will be found at the Dallas convention.
 "We of Honolulu join with the men of the Pacific coast in calling the men of the East to see and know the West. And knowing it, they will appreciate it, and realize the wonderful field that lies ready with an almost-ripened harvest ready for the reapers. It will be a great thing for the West to have the convention in San Francisco in 1913. But it will be a far greater and a more important thing to the East."

FREAR ASSERTS CHAMPIONSHIP OF TAFT IN SAN FRANCISCO

Under a double column portrait of Governor Frear the San Francisco Chronicle of May 21 contains the following mention of Governor Frear, with an interview:
 William F. Frear, governor of the Territory of Hawaii, arrived from the islands yesterday, en route to the Republican National Convention at Chicago as a Taft delegate. He is one of six elected from the Territory, the entire delegation being pledged to the President. The others are Prince Kawanakoa (Prince Cupid) and George F. Renton, who, with Frear, are from the island of Oahu, John T. Moir of Hawaii, Harry A. Baldwin of Maui and Charles A. Rice of Kauai.

Governor Frear will go from San Francisco to Boston, where his family has been some months. After the reunion, all will go to Chicago, and after the convention will return to the islands via San Francisco. Of the political situation in the islands, Governor Frear said yesterday:
 "The Territory is sending to Chicago a solid delegation in favor of the President. He is very popular over there, because our people realize that there, because our people realize that he has been their friend, just as he has been the friend of California, and that he has made one of the best Presidents since the formation of the Republic.

 "Everyone in the islands was much interested in the California campaign and our delegation is filled with regret that this State did not discharge its debt of gratitude to the President by giving him the delegation. Our delegation is instructed for the President and will vote for him to the last."
 Prince Cupid, Hawaii's delegate in Congress, is also a delegate to the National Convention. He has long been a consistent opponent of Governor Frear and has preferred charges against him at Washington looking to his deposition. In the present instance, however, they have met on common ground, each being enthusiastic in his support of the President and will vote for his re-nomination.
 A precinct presidential primary was held in the district presided over by former Governor Geo. Carter, which was overwhelmingly in favor of President Taft. It was the only such primary held in the islands.

A BIG SENDOFF FOR DR. HAND BIBLE STUDENTS WILL GRADUATE

Big night tonight at the Y. M. C. A. The young men of that institution, and the elders too for that matter, are tendering a farewell to Dr. Hand, the retiring physical director which will take the character of indoor Olympian games in a measure.
 For the first time in the history of the new building, the Games Hall will be thrown open for a public basketball game between the Punahou team and the All-Star seniors. Dr. Hand, who has a reputation as a basketball umpire, will officiate at this match and he will also have general direction of the other games.
 Another feature which has not been in evidence since the opening night of the physical department, when there was a demonstration of apparatus, will be a gymnastic exhibition in which the best talent of the association will appear. In addition a team of expert hand ball players will demonstrate the advantages of that game in training.
 For the women, the event of the evening will be the opening of the bowling alleys to them, immediately after the basketball game, and this complimentary entertainment on the part of the association is likely to be thoroughly appreciated during the evening.

Following is the program of the graduation exercises of the Honolulu Bible Training School, to take place at Kawaiahaou church on Sunday, at 11 a. m.:

YANKEE NAVY AT TARGET PRACTICE

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

WITH twelve inch guns roaring and their projectiles piercing canvas or dropping into the sea the Atlantic battleship fleet of the American navy, the greatest Yankee fighting command ever assembled in one place for battle practice, demonstrated recently in Hampton Roads its readiness for instant sea service if needed. There were some remarkable scores made, which had not up to the time of writing been made public by the navy department. But enough was known to make it certain that never before had the American sailors shot better with their monster ordnance.

Most of the scores of battleships did well at target practice in its various branches—individual and division firing, single gun and broadside discharges, etc.—but three of the big ships covered themselves especially with the glory that was abundant enough to go around. They were the Utah, the New Hampshire, the Rhode Island. These were destroyed the first run over the course. It was a surprise to the members of the seventeen battleships now present, all striving to win the trophy and pennant which the Michigan now holds, and I am pleased to say that we are waiting to see the boat come alongside with one well earned treasure.

If that doesn't breathe pride in a ship, then the American bluejackets are an unfeeling lot, without care whether their shells destroy targets or not.

The navy department men say that the Utah has established a remarkable record with her ten twelve-inch guns in demolishing the target while steaming in squadron at a speed of fifteen knots, the movements of the target being unknown. The Utah's record was all the more unexpected, say the men in Washington, because most of the officers in charge of the guns of the Utah, the navy's latest big acquisition, with the Florida, had never had previous experience in battle practice. The gunners of the new ship were considered "raw" compared with those of the other vessels.

But the Utah had one great big advantage in having a commanding officer to whom accurate firing with naval guns is not at all new. He is Captain W. S. Benson, who was in command of the cruiser Albany when she won the gunnery trophy for vessels of her class. Again, the Utah was aided by the fact that her giant engines use oil fuel, which makes practically no smoke to interfere with the sighting of the gunners.

The Utah's men, of whom there are almost a thousand, say the ship is remarkably steady, her turbine engines, with their comparative absence of vibration, making her a fine gun platform. "At Portland, Me., when she was steaming under oil on her trial trip, from the inside you couldn't tell whether she was moving or not. Now, if you were a gunner and had to do with vibrations you'd like that, wouldn't you?" said one of the battleship's engineers. And the questioner had to admit that he would, especially when it came to a question of accounting to the people of the United States for the $500 or so which it costs the taxpayers every time one of the twelve inch guns of the Utah is fired. If the whole armament of the super-Dreadnought, including the torpedoes, were fired at once, the cost would amount to something like $25,000. The Utah carries ten twelve-inch guns, arranged in pairs in turrets, two forward and three aft. Each one of them cost about $5,000 and can be fired 300 times before its usefulness is gone by reason of the action of the powder and gases.

Ever since the time of the Spanish-American war, when the American ships, although they disposed of Spain's weaker navy in justice, did not make a large percentage of hits, the navy department has devoted time and brains to the matter of improving naval marksmanship. "The shots that hit are those that count" is a navy axiom that is impressed on all the officers and men, and there is keen rivalry among the vessels for the honor of flying the black balled flag which indicates supremacy in gunnery. Last year the Michigan flew the bunting proudly, but as has been recorded, she has had to yield the palm this year.

Target practice off Hampton Roads and elsewhere means a lot of hard work for officers and men. There are the erection of the targets, the maneuvering of the ships, the handling of the ammunition, the loading and firing of the guns, the inspection of the targets after fire and many other details. The strain on the nerves comes mainly, of course, when the big guns commence their ear splitting booming. When the order to fire comes the great gun emits a deafening roar and a sheet of flames. It recoils with the shock, but soon recovers, and then follows anxious watching and the desire to hear the report of the landing of the projectile. If it scores a hit, well and good. If not, there are scowls and frowns, for each shot counts in the total.

In a recent interview Rear Admiral Osterhaus, commander in chief of the Atlantic battleship fleet, said, speaking of the target practice in Chesapeake bay: "The Utah, the Delaware, the Michigan, the New Hampshire and the Rhode Island are close together in their scores. Some ships did not do so well, but in nearly every case where a ship failed to meet expectations it was attributable to some condition of weather or material which placed it at a disadvantage. The entire firing showed a uniformly high accuracy. There was little wild firing. "At the great ranges now fired the natural error of gunfire prevents a high percentage of hits. For instance, the theoretical average of hits of a gun on a stable platform ashore, perfectly aimed and with precise calculations of observation, windage, etc., is only 10 per cent at 15,000 yards. The theoretical ratio of hits to shots increases as the range decreases."

Of course it costs much money to put a fleet of twenty battleships through a series of maneuvers with firing of the big guns and little guns. It has been estimated that spring training, such as the Atlantic battle fleet completed recently, cost Uncle Sam's treasury the large sum of $3,000,000. This is about 3 per cent of the money which it takes yearly now to maintain and strengthen the navy in order to keep up with the world's procession of super-Dreadnoughts, Dreadnoughts, ordinary battleships, armored cruisers, lighter cruisers, torpedo boat destroyers, torpedo boats, submarines, auxiliary vessels, etc. But naval officers and department officials say the $3,000,000 is well expended, for if America is to have a big navy at all, they argue, money must be spent to keep it on a high plane of efficiency.

PERIL OF CAESARISM

By Arthur Withington, in Newburyport, Mass., Herald.

A short paragraph that I showed the editor of the Herald as a jeu d'esprit being published without my consent, I suppose I must assume the responsibility and with it the solemn lecture of Mr. Blood in public and the cat-like scratching of a private letter. I apologize to Mr. Pearson for causing a somewhat unpleasant experience.

The discussion of the present political campaign is a serious matter. I have had a personal pride in the fact that of the six great political reformers in the country three were lawyers and three printers, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and John P. Altgeld, Benjamin Franklin, William Lloyd Garrison and Henry George. Having been nurtured in the atmosphere of the practical democracy of these men, it is revolting to see a pseudo democracy which advocates nothing—fundamental but all kinds of quackeries from the protecting of fools from buying patent medicines to the whispering in one's ear because Taft appointed Judge White, chief justice, "the Catholic church is in this," used as the instrument to elevate a man of unlimited ambition and to see the real reform killed by hero worship, even as that fake follower of Robespierre in the French Revolution, Napoleon, killed a million men and republicanism at the same time.

There is but one cry now, "The rule of the people." As Lord Brougham said "All we see around us, king, lords and commons, resolve themselves finally into twelve men in a jury box." So long as we have the grand inquest of twenty-three men drawn by lot from the freemen of the county of Essex, and a trial by a jury of his peers of twelve men drawn in the same way, we have the rule of the people. And whenever that right coming down as it does from Magna Charta is assailed as it was in 1894, when judges sitting in courts of equity attempted to administer the criminal law without a trial by jury there will be found some giant intellect like John P. Altgeld to make an "assault on the courts" which has merit in its cause. The positive legislation desired by the people can be had the moment they make a demand and there are plenty of cowardly legislators to pass half-baked laws like our presidential primary system on the mere whisper that the people want it. In fact there are a thousand men in Massachusetts today searching for a popular issue to advance their political prospects. What is difficult is arousing people to take an interest in real political reforms and not the enacting of the reforms after the interest has been created.

The one great obstacle that democracy has to contend with is the tendency to make a hero of a leader and when that leader has not the power of self-abnegation so often displayed by Abraham Lincoln to ride over the ruins of democracy and in the name of liberty erect an empire. It is most fitting that John S. C. Abbott, the most gushing of the biographers of Napoleon, should have a nephew in Lyman Abbott, the most abject promoter of the idolatry of Theodore Roosevelt. It is this idolatry of Theodore Roosevelt which is the symptom of disease. It means that he who believes in personal government as distinct from government by the people is having his day. I know of no great reformer or no person of my personal acquaintance who has fought for great reforms for twenty years who has any faith in Roosevelt. His support is a personal support playing upon prejudice. Who has ever heard in his state of any reform that Matthew Hale or Arthur Hill has ever advocated or now advocates? Where did James R. Garfield, William Allen White, Charles J. Bonaparte and George W. Perkins win their radical spurs? In fact Theodore Roosevelt's career is marked by his opposition to great reformers. He began his career by running for mayor of New York against the greatest force in modern political reform, Henry George. In 1896 he said he expected to meet John P. Altgeld on the field of battle and he hoped to see him lined up under a wall and shot. In 1910 amidst the most tremendous English reform movement he rushed to call on Joe Chamberlain and didn't think Lloyd-George worthy of his attention.

I believe Theodore Roosevelt could convince himself, if elected for a third term, that his rule was indispensable, and we have on the authority of one of his chief supporters the doctrine that whatever is right is constitutional. It is but a step to convince himself that anything is right. With that disposition and that theory government of laws has passed away and with it trial by jury and government by the people. It would be the simplest thing for a president to foment a war and, with friend Gen. Leonard Wood as chief of staff, set up a military despotism if the American people give Theodore Roosevelt the encouragement of their support. Those that think this is a wild dream have but to remember how the statements of "the king business" in New York in 1910 and that Taft was an

ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE

By Nathan N. Withington, in Newburyport, Mass., Herald.

How are the mighty fallen! What strange vicissitudes in the life of man, and especially in the career of a public man! A year ago Senator La Follette was the chief apostle of the Republican insurgents, their acknowledged leader and without a rival. He had distinguished himself as governor of Wisconsin and made that state a model on which other states aimed to frame their public policy. He had, as a new senator, forced his way against the opposition of older senators of both parties to a new man, to recognition in the front rank in that august body. Only a few weeks ago he was the acknowledged head of what was called the progressive movement in the republican party, and if President Taft was to have a rival set up against him Senator La Follette was the only person to be seriously considered. He could say with Nebuchadnezzar, "See, this great Babylon which I have builded," when suddenly as the great Babylonian king he was turned out to grass with the common herd of the field, and has nothing left of his former trophies but a few delegates from North Dakota and Wisconsin and one or two scattering. It is like the transformation scene in a theater.

I have a profound sympathy with Senator La Follette, for in my small way I have had a similar experience. When I was four years old Andrew Jackson was president of the United States, and was even more talked about than any previous president since Jefferson. There were two kinds of candy in those days, one of sugar, called a Gibraltar because it was so hard, and the other of the same may water, but Roosevelt takes the increase.

This makes the case doubly aggravating, that while the Senator had cultivated the field and raised the crop, it should be seized by one who had done nothing in the tillage. Nobody had ever heard of Roosevelt as an insurgent or as favoring insurgency until La Follette had blazed the way and done all the intellectual parts of the work. But that is in line with the ex-president's whole career. He does not originate ideas nor policies, but puts electric energy into the ideas and policies of others, and this energy is sometimes not in strict line with the constitution and laws of the Union. Senator La Follette is a man of great energy and force of character and notably superior to the other in intellect and original ideas, but he can not compare with the man who has superseded him in the titanic force which Roosevelt puts into every undertaking.

Here is a remarkable situation as affecting the republican party. The split between the Taft and Roosevelt supporters is wider and deeper than that which separates either faction from the democratic party, while so far as personalities are concerned it is hard to see how a La Follette man can aid the cause of one who has inflicted such bitter wrong and disappointment upon their favorite. We have had a pretty warm time in the political world in the few weeks past, and a hot time is in prospect.

ANOTHER LAND PATENT DENIED

HILLO, May 30.—The second of the test cases brought by the Territory against the applicants for patents to homesteads in the Kauwili III tract, Hakalau, was decided yesterday in favor of the Territory. In the case decided by Judge Parsons yesterday, Manuel Nicolau de Souza was denied his application for patent on the grounds that he had not fulfilled the conditions of homesteading as regards the cultivation of a portion of the land or the planting of trees. The decision also states that the nonpayment of interest clause in the homestead agreement is unfulfilled.

This case differs from that of the Henderson test case in that it was brought under a right-of-purchase lease, although the points made by the government were similar to those advanced against the Henderson claim, which was under a homestead lease.

Judge Parsons' decision followed along the lines laid down by the supreme court in the appealed Henderson test case.

CHINESE IS SHOT BY DRUNK FILIPINO
WAIMEA, May 28.—A Filipino laborer in Camp 4, Makawell laboring under a misapprehension, caused much excitement the other night, when he attempted to shoot up a Chinaman. One shot was fired, the ball passing through the Chinaman's hand, causing a painful though not necessarily a fatal wound. The police interrupted the proceedings with the result that one more boarder is registered at Sheriff Crowell's popular hostelry.—Garden Island.

THE MORNING CABLE REPORT

CHICAGO, Illinois, May 31.—Two hundred and four contests over delegations to the national convention of the Republican party must be decided by the national committee before that convention opens for business June 15. Of these contests, the Roosevelt managers have filed 177. Mr. Taft's managers have filed 27. From now on the time of the Republican national committee will be devoted to the decisions on these contests.

Mr. Roosevelt's campaign managers in Illinois last night gave out an official statement in which they claim that the former President will go into the convention with five hundred and eighty-one delegates pledged to his support, whereas Mr. Taft will have but 191 delegates upon whose votes he can absolutely rely. In this estimate they count largely upon the delegates from Southern States.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Private Secretary Hilles may be selected to head Mr. Taft's campaign for election in the event that the President is nominated at the coming convention in Chicago. It is reported that he is the President's choice for chairman of the national committee in case Taft forces succeed in wresting the victory from the followers of Mr. Roosevelt.

HAVANA, Cuba, May 31.—President Gomez was notified last night that the federal troops in and around Oriente, which were preparing to attack the bands of insurgents, had been forced to delay their forward movement because of drains on their strength from supply guards for American plantations. In the meantime dispatches from the seat of the trouble report that the rebels are devastating the country.

From Santiago comes word that the federal forces encountered the bandits yesterday afternoon and after an hour's fighting succeeded in routing them with heavy loss. The fight was near Mayala.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Several thousand dollars have been raised among the high government officials, foreign diplomats and others prominent in Washington official life to provide a memorial to Major Archibald Butt, late aid to President Taft, who died in the frightful Titanic disaster. President Taft himself contributed handsomely to the memorial fund.

interim president in 1908 were ridiculed.

If the issue is plainly put there can be no doubt of the result. The danger lies in the appeal in the name of reform together with that insidious, stiletto warfare which was carried on locally and throughout the Commonwealth. It is stated frankly in the May number of McClure's. There the appointment of Judge White, a Roman Catholic, as chief justice, the holding of a military mass on the White House grounds, the attending a Catholic service by President Taft on Thanksgiving Day are exaggerated into issues deserving national attention. They were worked in Newburyport for Roosevelt's advantage.

To those who see in Roosevelt a second Lincoln I would commend these immortal lines of Lowell: "And some innate weakness there must be

In him who condescends to victory Such as the Present gives and cannot wait.

Great captains with their guns and drums Disturb our judgment for the hour But at last silence comes.

"These all are gone, and, standing, like a tower,

Our children shall behold his fame. The kindly, earnest, brave, foreseeing man.

Sagacious, patient, dreading praise not blame, New birth of our new soil, the first American."

Which of the Republican candidates "condescends to victory" or "dreads praise not blame?" Which cannot wait for the wise years to decide?

NAVY APPROPRIATION MEASURE INTRODUCED
WASHINGTON, May 15.—The navy appropriation bill, carrying $18,719,537, approximately $7,500,000 less than last year, was introduced today in the house.

A wireless system around the world, with stations on the Pacific, canal zone, Hawaii, Samoa, Guam and the Philippines, is proposed, with an appropriation of $1,000,000, of which $400,000 is to be available next year.

The usual two battleships are not carried, but two fuel ships at $1,207,320 each, six destroyers at $1,054,500 each, one tender to them at $1,636,200 and four submarines at $584,200 each are proposed.

An increase of more than $2,000,000 for pay of officers and men is provided. This will be largely taken up by the crews of the new ships.

POMPEII'S NEWLY UNEARTHED TREASURES

PERHAPS a text for a lecture on the vagaries of rhetoric is to be found in the assertion of Professor Vittorio Spinassola that the recent excavations of Pompeii mark the dawning of a "new era" on the city. How can a "new era" dawn on a city buried for 1833 years

SAVANTS AFTER VOLCANO SECRETS

HILO, May 30.—As a result of a series of hazardous experiments carried out by Professors Day and Shepard and their assistant F. U. Dodge, all the theories of the old school of scientists regarding the origin of volcanic fires appear to have been smashed. Following the experiments made by the party in the fire pit itself, Professor Shepard is now on his way to Honolulu with tubes of volcanic gas, to be chemically analyzed in the laboratory of the College of Hawaii.

The apparent deductions to be made from the outcome of the experiments point to the fact that Kilauea is an isolated volcano, having no connection whatever with any other volcano and generating its own heat. The party of scientists descended into the firepit on Tuesday and for the first time in the history volcanology succeeded in pumping several glass tubes full of the unscathed gas directly from the surface of the boiling lava. Working on the unstable floor of the firepit, breathing through respirators, the scientists succeeded in rigging up their gas pump in such a way that it could be swung over the lava cone fifty feet away from them, from the top of which the boiling lava is cascading. Here a number of the tubes were filled and hermetically sealed.

That Little Hacking Cough

Hard coughs are bad enough, to be sure. But it's often the little, hacking, tickling, persistent cough that means the most, especially when there is a history of weak lungs in the family. What should be done? Ask your doctor. He knows. Ask him about the formula on the label of every bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask him if this medicine has his full approval for throat and lung troubles. Then do as he says. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

ELECTRIC HOUSE CONVENIENCES

According to the Wall Street Journal, "the sale of electric flat-irons last year was double that of 1909 and the sale in the coming year bids fair to record an increase of more than 50 per cent over 1911. We are in an electrical age of housekeeping, personal comfort and convenience. Cook stoves, toasters, water-heaters, fans, vacuum cleaners, sewing-machine motors, etc., are being demanded by the public in such quantities as to test the capacities of manufacturing plants. This is a growth all to the advantage of the stockholders. The ratio of profit in these appliances far exceeds that in heavy machinery or in lamps; and, as the volume of sales grows important, the effect upon earnings will be distinctly appreciable.

The broadening of scope in electrical industries must be considered by every investor in electrical securities. Not only does the advantage pertain to the shares of manufacturing concerns, but every share and bond of current selling companies becomes a beneficiary. Energy sold for household use through the agency of these newly developed appliances is sold at a time when demand for lighting is non-existent. It is all 'velvet' to the company. It uses machinery that otherwise would be idle and unproductive. It requires no extra outlay for the central station; it brings a generous return. In a way it is a by-product.

"Not many years ago Thomas A. Edison told of a dream in which he foresaw the time when the lighting business of the electric company would have become secondary to the demand for household and business conveniences. Being still in his full vigor, Mr. Edison may easily live to see the dawning of that day. "Since the beginning of the year 1912 all of the principal manufacturers of electrical apparatus show increased shipments and increased orders. Gross business booked by General Electric during this quarter was almost $20,000,000, which is an in-

Garden Island: More than one of Kauai's citizens can testify to the ability of Joe Cohen, Honolulu's big show man, in selecting material suitable to the demands of the theater-goers. The Hugo minstrels were well worth taking the trip to town for that express purpose. What a pity 'tis that Kauai cannot find some way by which it might induce such players to visit us. Joe Cohen is a show promoter of the first water and well deserving of the high praise he so often receives.

Pompeii, Herculaneum and Stabiae, lying on and near the Gulf of Naples about twenty miles south of the present site of the city of Naples. The disaster was sudden and overwhelming, and about 2,000 persons perished in Pompeii alone. The city was buried in cinders and ashes and faded from the memory of man. For fifteen hundred years it lay entombed. In 1594-1630 an aqueduct for the nearby town of Torre Annunziata was tunneled under the ruins, but no substantial notice was taken of them. It was not until 1748 that the Neapolitan government acted in the matter of bringing forth the objects of immense historical and archaeological interest, which lay under the ashes. Since then the excavations have been fairly continuous.

The present government of Italy, successor of the kingdom of Naples, holds in its own hands the right to excavate and will under no circumstances permit outsiders to dig in the ruins. Time after time foreign scientists, eager to uncover more rapidly for the world the rich treasures of Pompeii, have proffered assistance. Foreign capitalists, interested in history and art, have offered money to help in the work. All these offers have met with polite and firm refusal. Italy wishes to retain for itself all the glory of excavating what was once the country seat of some of its wealthiest citizens.

The recent excavations in Pompeii have aroused men of knowledge throughout the world, for they have been made in a section of the city which had been considered unpromising. They lie in what has been named the "Street of Abundance," running northeast from the center of the city. Its name is a good description, for its houses were evidently homes of luxury and of businesses of high grade. For example, a recent dispatch from Rome says: "Six houses have been brought to light by the excavators in the ruins of Pompeii. One of them was found to contain 300 valuable bronzes. Another, which, it is believed, belonged to a banker, contained 3,000 golden pieces as well as a number of Greek and Latin books." Among the remains of interest recently found in the "Street of Abundance" is the house of Obellius Firmus, believed to have been one of the wealthiest citizens of Pompeii, with the skeleton of himself, his wife, two children and two slaves. The skeleton shown in the picture is that of a man who sought refuge in a tree from the storm of hot ashes. But it proved a vain hope. The branch broke, he fell and was overwhelmed, and now, eight centuries later, his body, with the treacherous bough, has been unearthed and will be exhibited as all that remains of an ancient Pompeii.
