TAFT CLAIMS THE OHIO CONVENTION

GERMAN VISITING SQUADRON ARRIVES IN CHESAPEAKE BAY

To Answer The College Professors

Silence of the board of agriculture and its chief thus far toward the hostile campaign of College of Hawaii professors, with regard to the board's fruitfly control measures and methods, proves not to be a silence of submission to the attacks, or of contempt for them either for that matter.

President Giffard, who before he accepted the executive office of the board had been in charge of the fruitfly control from the first as an honorary member of the board, challenges a discussion of the campaign and its results in public. He invites Dr. Wilcox, the federal agent in charge, and Mr. Fullaway, entomologist, of the Hawaii Agricultural Experiment Station to address a public meeting on the subject. These specialists are offered every means at the disposal of the board for investigation preliminary to their public deliverances.

As yet the date of the public meeting has not been fixed. Following is Mr. Giffard's note of invitation to the federal experts:

for the purpose of investigation in the field and laboratory. The official records giving data of all inspections of districts and precincts, experimental work and correspondence are open to your inspection at any time.

A like invitation is also extended to Mr. D. Fullaway, your entomologist, whom the board desires, with your permission, to also address the meeting on the same subject, after making the necessary investigation.

In extending this invitation to you and Mr. Fullaway, the purpose of the board is to court a free and full investigation of the subject and to secure an independent and unbiased opinion on whether or not the work of controlling the fruitfly is being carried out on systematic and scientific lines. If it is not, the board will gladly change its methods and adopt some more concrete scientific plan suggested by you. On the other hand, if the board is doing the work as thoroughly as can be expected in view of the comparatively small appropriation at its command, the public should be so informed in order to refute the charge which has been made through the public press that the present method of control was a farce.

Honolulu, June 1, 1912.
Dr. E. V. Wilcox, Honolulu.
Dear Sir: You are cordially invited by the Board of Agriculture to make an address before a public meeting of that body on the methods of combating the Mediterranean fruitfly in Honolulu, as carried out by the board since November last. The board places every means at your disposal

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) W. M. GIFFARD
President SAC Executive Officer
Board of Agriculture and Forestry.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC MAY DOMINATE THE TRADE OF HAWAII

That the Southern Pacific Railroad plans to take the sugar carrying contract away from the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company within the next few years, and through this means dominate the shipping business with the Islands, is a rumor which has been in circulation in local commercial circles since the arrival of the last mails from the coast. Just who received this information, or how well founded it is, cannot at this moment be learned, since sugar men generally are mum on the subject; but that the matter has at least received consideration is fairly certain.

The plan is a most ambitious and far reaching one. If it really has any authenticity it means that the Southern Pacific, in conjunction with its Pacific Mail Steamship line, purposes taking Hawaiian sugars entirely away from the Eastern market, and marketing it through the country from the Pacific coast, through its great rail distributing system. It counts on having all Hawaiian sugar refined on the west coast, and counts upon the rapid growth of population in the Western states to make the absorption of the over half million tons annually consumed more easy. It means that the keen intellects directing the great railroad system believe it economically sound to carry sugar east from San Francisco by rail, against the present system of carrying it to the Atlantic coast and then hauling it half way or more west across the continent.

It also means a blow by the Southern Pacific at the Panama Canal trade, from which its ships are debarred by the measure approaching final passage if there is anything in the report.

FEDERAL MONEY NEAR AT HAND FOR FIGHTING THE FRUITFLY

The bill appropriating $35,000 for fighting the Mediterranean fruitfly in this Territory, which was introduced by Representative Kahn of California, has passed both houses of Congress, is now in conference committee and will shortly be submitted to President Taft for signature. It is expected that the money will be available on July 1.

President W. M. Giffard, of the board of agriculture and forestry, has received a communication from Dr.

L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology in Washington, informing him of the status of the bill as above, and also asking him for his advice and cooperation in the expenditure of the fund.

Dr. Howard informs Mr. Giffard that he will have an official representative of his bureau come here in the early part of July and work in cooperation with the board of agriculture and forestry. He will extend the methods

Desertion Is Denied By Kuhio

(Special Cablegram to the Star.)
WASHINGTON, June 3.—Delegate Kulanianoaale denies the report that he has deserted Taft.

ARTESIAN WATER HAS NO BACTERIA

Artesian well water is much safer to drink than the mountain water, according to a report submitted to the department of public works by Miss Louise Gulick, who has been making chemical analyses of the city water supply.

At the College of Hawaii, where the water is being examined, it was found that there are no bacteriological signs in the artesian water, that it is of the purest quality and no cases of illness have ever been traced to its use.

It was found that the mountain water, although fair, is not of so good a quality during warm weather, as the heated condition of the atmosphere causes microscopic fermentation.

TO MAKE KAUAI MORE SANITARY

President Pratt of the Board of Health and A. R. Keller, newly appointed consulting sanitary engineer for the Kauai plantations, are working on the plans of the new sanitary system which is to be installed by the Board of Health and the Kauai Planters' Association upon the Garden Island.

Professor Keller will leave for Kauai next week and will go over the ground covered by the plans upon which he and Dr. Pratt are now working. Each of the five plantations will be carefully inspected, both in regard to their improving present sanitary provisions and constructing new systems.

At the present time, according to Dr. Pratt, four of the plantations have a crude sewerage system, but on Koloa plantation no provisions for sanitation have been made. Work on the Koloa plans is nearly completed and the Koloa plantation will probably be the first one upon which the work of sanitary construction will be started.

The project involves a prodigious amount of detail and includes several difficult problems of engineering to be solved.

RAPID TRANSIT PAVING FIGHT

Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell made a vigorous arraignment of the Rapid Transit Co. this morning on account of its determination to appeal from the supreme court's decision to the United States supreme court. He declared that by so doing the company would only cause a delay of two or three years in the pavement of King street, as the United States supreme court's ruling could only be the same as that handed down last week by Chief Justice Robertson.

Mr. Campbell spent the greater part of the morning in conference with Deputy Attorney General Smith after the latter had returned from the supreme court, where he had been arguing with D. L. Withington, attorney for the Honolulu Rapid Transit Co. in

To Cut Out Other Island Entry Ports

In the interests of economy for the service, Hilo, Mahukona, Kahului and Koloa are to be abolished as entry ports in the customs district of Hawaii, if recommendations to be made by Special Agent W. H. Tidwell, of the department, are carried out.

This is the rumor which is current in commercial circles today, and which is causing no little perturbation. Mr. Tidwell, who has been here since the 8th of last month looking into the affairs of Collector Stackable's office, and who sails for San Francisco by the Mongolia on the 11th instant, declines either to affirm or deny the report.

"I am not at liberty to discuss my findings, or the probable tenor of my report with anyone except Collector Stackable," stated Agent Tidwell when seen by a Star reporter in Mr. Stackable's office this morning. "My report will not be prepared until I reach San Francisco, when it will be forwarded in due course to Washington. I am very sorry that I am not permitted to discuss the matter."

Mr. Tidwell's headquarters are in San Francisco. His instructions under which he is in the Territory are general in character, simply requiring him to examine into and to report upon the customs service in the district of Hawaii, and its administration.

Whether or not the special agent will suggest the discontinuance of the entry ports in question is unknown, but it is very certain that they will not be discontinued unless Congress can be prevailed upon to take the

The assessed valuation of the territory of Hawaii is $177,792,911 of which $6,873,361 is involved in appeals, leaving a total of $170,919,550 uncontested. This is an increase of $16,335,518 over last year's figures not counting in the appeals. If the appeals are added in, the increase is approximately $23,000,000.

These figures were arrived at by Acting Governor Mott-Smith and Treasurer Conkling this morning, who spent the entire first part of the day in making out the assessed valuation report of the territory and preparing it in code form to be cabled to Governor Frear who is at Washington.

By islands, the figures are as follows: Oahu, $84,146,767; Maui, $33,741,445; Hawaii, $39,891,769; Kauai, $20,120,939. Appeals on Oahu total $1,686,895; on Maui, $804,121, and on Hawaii, $4,383,345.

Total expenditures up to date out of the loan fund $1,500,000 bond issue amounted to $1,104,980.34.

The acting governor expressed himself as very much pleased with this year's report and spoke very highly of Treasurer Conkling's work.

"The very large assessed value of the territory as compared with last year's figures is very good and shows that the territory is increasing rapidly in prosperity," said the acting governor.

"Besides this, the figures show careful, conscientious work in assessing the value of the territory and Tax Assessor Wilder and the other island assessors are to be congratulated along with Treasurer Conkling."

The entire report when made up into code form numbers fifty-six words in length.

"I used the Excelsior code, not my own," said the acting governor.

BIG MILITARY EXHIBITION ON THE FOURTH OF JULY

The army will take an active part in the Fourth of July celebration here this year, according to tentative plans which General Macomb has in mind. He has been asked to supply troops to aid in the celebration and has agreed to do so.

As now planned the cavalry and artillery will give a big military exhibition, it being understood that there will be no parade.

The exhibition will be given in Kapiolani Park. The cavalry will present the monkey drill in which fine horsemanship is called into play, and will wind up with a cavalry charge.

The field artillery program will include a drivers' contest, battery drill and going into action at the gallop, the guns firing the national salute at the conclusion of the exhibition.

Orders have been issued to the coast artillery to prepare for practice with the heavy siege guns and howitzers now at Schofield Barracks where they have reposed in a shed since their delivery in the islands two years ago. The practice will be held in August, one company of Coast Artillery going out to the barracks at a time. The big guns are cumbersome weapons, necessitating six-horse teams to move them, but are useful in reducing strong fortifications where lighter pieces would not prove effective.

New rules regarding the examination of officers for promotion, received from the war department, have in the opinion of those who have examined them, made the examinations more practical through exemptions from examinations on subjects where officers hold certificates of proficiency from a service school. These exemptions are but for stated periods and only apply to those who passed the school examinations with high percentages, although the exemptions differ for each arm of the service.

PRESIDENT'S OHIO PLAN IN CONVENTION

(Associated Press Cables to the Star.)
COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—The Republican State convention opened today. The Taft men claim 408 delegates out of 754, and have eleven votes in the State committee, giving them control of the committees and of the next State Central committee. The Roosevelt men have nine votes. Burton will be temporary chairman and says that the outlook does not favor compromise.

Chairman Burton's opening speech is believed to foreshadow the Chicago platform. The high living problem, he said, is not attributable to the tariff. He urged that scientific methods be used to achieve monetary and tariff reforms.

EVIDENCE OF SUGAR COMBINE.
NEW YORK, June 3.—In the sugar case today a letter from Havemeyer to Morey was introduced which showed that the writer would be satisfied with anything Morey and Oxnard did. The government wanted to prove an agreement between beet and cane interests.

GERMAN WARSHIPS COME.
FORT MONROE, Va., June 3.—President Taft received the German squadron in person here today. The Moltke, Bremen and Stettin, the German warships, were also received by the third division of the North Atlantic fleet.

CUTTING DOWN EXPENDITURE.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—The House committee has eliminated the provision for the Taft tariff board from the sundry civil appropriation bill. Heavy reductions are made in the canal bill and the public buildings appropriation bill. The committee allows $25,000 for the President's annual traveling expenses.

SPRECKELS' AUSTRALIAN LINE.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—Postmaster General Hitchcock has accepted the proposal of the Oceanic S. S. Co. of San Francisco to carry the mails between the latter port and Australia, thus restoring the American flag to the Pacific postal route.

BATTLESHIP PROGRAM RESTORED.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—The Senate Naval committee has restored the two warships to the naval appropriation bill which were cut out by the House committee.

AGAINST TRUST OWNED SHIPS.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—The House has passed a bill to protect shipping. It refuses clearance to trust ships, while under fines, confiscations and penalties.

ARIZONA REPUBLICANS.
TUCSON, June 3.—The Taft and Roosevelt men have split in the Republican State convention, getting six delegates each to Chicago.

BASEBALL CHANGE.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—Reidy supplants Long as manager of the Seals.

RUEF DISBARRED.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—The Supreme Court has disbarred Abe Ruef.

(Morning Cable Report on page ten)

HAWAII EFFECTUALLY CORNERED THE ONION SEED MARKET

Due to the foresight of Superintendent S. T. Starrett of the market division, the Territory practically has a corner on the entire amount of Bermuda onion seed to be found West of the Mississippi.

Last year Starrett foresaw that the onion seed in existence was not enough to go around and, when called upon to purchase it in quantities for the institution of the onion industry in the Hawaiian Islands, he slipped quietly over to the mainland and bought all in sight, at the same time securing all the available supply in the Canary Islands where the most of the seed used in the States comes from.

In one instance Starrett bought 300 pounds at $2.25 a pound and the man who sold it to him wrote recently and offered him $3 a pound for any or all of the lot. Starrett expects the price to go to $10 a pound but the stock owned by the Territory to the extent of several hundred pounds is not for sale save to those who wish to plant it at the average cost rate.

Not only have the Territorial purchases of seed cleaned the mainland markets. Paul Smith on behalf of the market division raked the markets of Berlin, London and Paris for seed while in Europe and found there was none for sale.

With the seed worth almost its weight in gold, Starrett is considering placing the supply owned by the Territory in burglar proof vaults, each can in his possession having a present market value of $200.

Inasmuch as Hawaii has the lead in onion seed the prospects for high prices for the crop to be planted in the fall are considered excellent, for falling seed, Texas and the other great onion producing sections will be in dire straits.

BUFFET COST TWENTY-FIVE

In the police court this morning Sam Kanohoani, charged with assault and battery on another Hawaiian man, was fined $25 and costs.

George Watson, charged with profanity, was fined $5 and costs.

Rufino Lopez, charged with burglary, was committed to the circuit court for trial.

SHIPPING AND WATERFRONT NEWS

KAIMILOA WILL NOT BURN NOW

Teak Timbers Found And Old Battleship Towed Back to Port--Lurline on Wednesday--Virginian in This Morning--Harbor Notes

No vandal hand will ever apply the match to the weathered timbers of Hawaii's only battleship. The Kaimiloa will not go up in smoke and even now lies in the harbor in spite of the obituaries that were written over her demise.

Just at the last moment and when a match was lit and ready to be applied, Junk King Brown discovered at the gallant craft was in part built of teak. Teak it might be stated incidentally is worth so much a pound there is enough in the old vessel to top up to a fair amount of big round planks. Therefore the change of mind on the part of the junk king.

The James Makoe steamed down to Kaimiloa Harbor on Saturday and once there towed the naval relic to her accustomed place in Honolulu Harbor. Work will be started soon on tearing her to pieces plank by plank in order to get the teak timbers out of her. This will take a longer time than the burning method but the junk king will make money. The end result will not be quite so fine and will not give the publicity that a real fire would, but at the same time it fits better with Brown's ideas of what right and proper on such an occasion.

Likeli Off Dock.
The Inter-Island steamer Likeli has been taken off the drydock and will be put on the run once more. Her engine will be taken by the Maui. During the time she was high and dry a chafing plate was put over the engine where the anchor has torn the members about.

Weday for Turnkey.
John Weday, that heroic figure of the waterfront who was the terror of idlers and a typical sleuth of modern times, has been transferred to the station of turnkey at the police station. "Gone but certainly not forgotten" is the notice that has been filed to the wall over the place here Jack used to stand during the daytime.

His place has been taken by Arthur Carter. Carter was formerly a waterfront officer and left to take control of the inspection of baggage in connection with the Inter-Island inspection of the fruit fly. During the time he was on the job before, he was a hardworking and capable officer and the waterfront should see some smart captures being made again.

Lurline on Wednesday.
According to a wireless message received by Castle & Cooke last night the steamer Lurline, en route from San Francisco to Honolulu, was 805 miles off port and steaming through fine weather.

She has forty-two cabin and nine steerage passengers for this port and brings 362 sacks of mail. The cargo includes fifty-one packages, seven automobiles and 3322 tons of general freight.

She has 650 tons for Kahului and should arrive here at daylight Wednesday morning and will dock at the Hackfeld wharf.

The Pacific Mail steamer Nile is due here today from the Orient. She brings 150 tons of cargo and will get away tomorrow morning.

Harbor Officer Jack Weday has been transferred to the police station where he will take over the duties of turnkey. His place on the waterfront has been taken by Arthur Carter.

According to a report received by the agents, the intermediate steamer China which should reach port on June 6 brings 500 tons of general cargo from the coast.

The Norwegian steamer Prometheus left on Saturday for Makatea to load fertilizer for this port. She has been awaiting the arrival of Chief Engineer Halversen who arrived on the Siberia. The vessel will probably make two more trips to the island and then go back to the China coast trade. This time she goes to Papeete for coal and then to Makatea where she will load 2300 tons of phosphate.

The revenue cutter Thetis left on Saturday afternoon for her annual cruise through Alaskan waters. She takes on board the floating grand jury and court which settles the disputes of the frozen country.

Harry E. Walker, waterfront reporter of the Advertiser, left in the Thetis Saturday as a guest of Captain Cochran. He will remain on board during the Alaskan tour.

The Inter-Island steamer Kinau reports the schooner Minnie A. Caine at Port Allen.

The Maui arrived from Kawaihae yesterday bringing 74 bales of wool and seventy-five head of cattle.

The Iwalani was among the arrivals yesterday, coming from Kailua and bringing 4500 bags of sugar. She reports 2000 bags of Kipahulu, 6000 of Honolulu and 4000 of K. D. Co.

The Noeau arrived from Kaula, bringing 3300 sacks of Walman sugar. She reported a heavy swell running at that port.

The Mikahala made port outward bound from Maui and including among the items of cargo were eight cows, twelve pigs, some calves, forty-one pigs and sixteen crates of chickens.

The American ship Marion Chilcott arrived yesterday from Gaviota bringing her usual consignment of oil to the Independent Oil company. She has made rather a slower passage than usual.

The Inter-Island steamer Kinau arrived from Kaula ports yesterday with 6000 bags of sugar.

SUGAR WAITING SHIPMENT.
The Inter-Island steamer Kinau that arrived yesterday reports the following sugar waiting shipment:

Mak. 42,500, K. K. B. 6900, G. & R. 300, K. P. 12,520, G. F. 12,320, M. R. 46,907, K. S. M. 350, K. S. Co. 6500, I. P. 18,950.

VANCOUVER TO BENEFIT.
VANCOUVER, May 24.—With glowing reports of the intense interest concerning British Columbia shown by the people of Eastern Canada and the United States, Theodore M. Knappen, manager of the Coquitlam Terminal company, returned yesterday from a month's absence in the interests of his company.

"The old attitude of Eastern Canada toward the West," said Mr. Knappen, "has been wonderfully transformed in the last few years. The Eastern people now begin to understand that the West is an entirely different proposition from the East and that Eastern experience is of little value in judging the West. Almost every person in even the small Eastern towns who pretends to be of some substance now has his Western Canadian investments and is looking for more."

"In the States I found the people disposed to concede the approaching greatness of Vancouver. The feeling is general among observant people in the States that Vancouver is likely to profit more from the completion of the Panama Canal than any other city on the Coast. A port of world-wide importance may only have a handful of people, but when a great port becomes a great distributing center it becomes a world-wide city. It is a strange and interesting fact to consider that the construction of a 45-mile ditch, 4000 miles away from Vancouver, is the means of making Vancouver supreme in the northwestern quarter of the North American continent, yet that is the way the big men of finance and commerce I talked with in Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul figure the effect of the great canal on Vancouver."

DOCK FOR KINGSTON.
KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 15.—The Government has been approached by capitalists in regard to maintaining a large drydock in Kingston harbor for repairing ships en route to or from the Panama Canal. No proposals have been submitted to date, but the Government is prepared to give all the guarantees required.

With this view the Government recently acquired an option on Kingston Pen. The plan is to operate an up-to-date coaling station in connection with the drydock.

RICHARDS STREET WHARF.
Charley Lucas is making a good job of the new Richards street wharf shed and expects to finish it about the end of this month.

The work has been rushed through without any delay and he will finish a long way ahead of schedule time.

TO RAISE LIBBY-MACK.
The work of raising the oil submarine Libby-Mack will be undertaken today by the steamer James Makoe.

When the quaint little vessel has been raised and the oil taken out of her she will be weighted down with sufficient ballast to allow of the oil filling her completely. This will have the effect of keeping her steady in the water and also of preventing a further upending.

HACKFELD WHARF WORK.
The job of pulling down the old Mauna Loa wharf shed and erecting it on the Ewa end of the Hackfeld wharf is going ahead rapidly.

The timbers are rapidly being put in place and it should not be very long before the Hackfeld wharf is covered over its entire length.

LUMBER BOATS BUSY.
An indication of the way in which the lumber business is booming in Honolulu is to be seen at the Railroad wharf.

Three windjammers are discharging their lumber cargoes and another is lying off in the harbor waiting for a berth. The boats have been there for some time now, as the process of unloading is a slow one.

Joy Led Stars To Big Victory Over Champions

A very satisfactory crowd witnessed the Oahu Senior League games at the Athletic Park and saw the P. A. C. defeat the Asahis, 6 to 3; and the Stars win from the Hawaiis, 8 to 3.

The Asahis started off with a rattle and scored thrice in the first three innings.

The Portuguese came with a wet sheet in the third. Lino hit safe, Madeira got a pass and Souza's timely three-bagger scored both the aforementioned players. Bushnell reached first by sacrifice of shortstop who misplayed his hit and Souza brought in the third tally. Ornellas hit to left field and made first and Bushnell scored on a passed ball.

When the Stars went to bat in the ninth the score was four to one in their favor. They made assurance doubly sure, however, by rolling up a quartet in their final essay.

Winnie reached first. Burns ditto. Sumner walked. Joy's biff between second and third brought in Winnie. Burns scored in a wild pitch. Sumner romped in on the strength of Hoopi's hit to left. Dunlay walked. Schuman struck out. With the bases full Kentnor was given free transportation and Joy ambled in.

George Ingle won his bout with de Mello

George Ingle won his bout with de Mello every inch of the fifteen rounds. The Portuguese, at that has improved a whole lot since he boxed Ingle in Walluku a year ago. He has loosened up and his freer. Ingle, however, has improved much more proportionately than has de Mello. If he takes care of himself and goes easy there is no reason why he shouldn't get mighty close to the top of the lightweight tree before another year has flown, providing, of course, that he is suitably matched and managed.

Ingle will be nineteen years old next January. On Saturday he weighed 131 1/2 pounds against de Mello's 145 pounds.

De Mello fought the best he knew.

He might have been better instructed but the result would have been the same, anyway. Ingle boxed headily, carefully and well. He calculated on the battle going the limit of fifteen rounds and winning the decision, and laid his plans accordingly.

Ingle showed a couple of good hands and a guard which takes a great deal of penetrating. De Mello wasted energy and effort in trying to get to the point but was not once successful. The only damage that he inflicted was on the kidneys and he would have done better to have made this vital point his sole object of attack.

Yamagata gave away ten pounds to "Plug" Milne and won a four-round decision on points greatly to the delight of his assembled countrymen. The Japanese showed cleverness in landing and evading, though he gave no evidence of being the possessor of any punch to speak of. Milne will improve with practice. He can also stand a bit more training than he underwent for his bout with the Jap.

Yamagata went into the ring on Saturday without having his hands taped. He was a stranger in a strange land and his preparation for the contest had been of a negligible description. His showing, taking everything into consideration, was a very fair one and his next performance will be watched with interest by a good many.

A DUSTY TOWN.

Complaint is made by a visiting German official that Honolulu's streets are dirtier than they used to be, and that dust is too much in evidence. This is because we have not had the customary amount of rain and because we adhere to the system of political street work. The soaking rain which has been long delayed, would carry out the dirt through the storm sewers and leave the streets fresh and clean; while, between times, we could easily collect the accumulating dust of the highways, and dispose of it, if we went at the task in a business-like way.

Adherence to the political method quickly exhausts the funds by employing lazy sweepers who but half do their work and laying them off when the money gives out. If we had motor-sweepers and a few well-trained men the streets could be taken good care of as they should be. With motors all is easy. Street flushing is practicable after there has been rain enough in the mountains to supply the reservoirs and give them an overflow. If, at such times, the downtown hydrants were allowed to run awhile, particularly at night, the water which occasionally is lost in the sea could be made to do some good before it gets there.

Our street-cleaning and sprinkling problems would be much simplified if the city had a salt-water system to draw upon for such purposes; but with the water now on tap supplemented by motor cleaners, the good name of Honolulu as a clean city could be measurably restored. Indeed it could be by the street-sweepers if the men were required to do a fair day's work for a full day's pay.

BIRDS AS CROP PROTECTORS.

The conservation of American bird life, which would be equivalent to its introduction here, is getting much attention from the government, the magazines and newspapers and from the thoughtful public. In a statistical publication for 1911, it is stated that the annual loss to agriculture in the United States, chiefly from insect foes, is over a billion and a half of dollars, and that there would be no agriculture at all if it were not for insectivorous and seed-eating birds. The pests, it appears, are added to by new crops.

The wholesale devastation which birds make among the small enemies of agriculture is intelligently set forth by the Breeder and Sportsman in a recent number. That journal tells us that, despite the enormous fecundity of insects, the birds manage to preserve the equilibrium of nature. The need is shown by examples. The green leaf louse or aphid, reproduces its kind at the rate of ten sextillion to the pair in one season; the common potato bug will reproduce from fifty to sixty millions in a season; a pair of gypsy moths, unchecked, would stop the growth of leaves all over this continent. Their enemies, the birds, meet their danger by eating all the time.

"Mr. Treadwell of the Boston society of Natural History fed a young robin sixty-eight angleworms in one day. A young crow will eat twice its weight a day in almost anything set before it. Mr. Forbush has seen two parent grosbeaks in eleven hours make 450 trips to their nest, carrying two or three larvae at a time.

Columns could be filled with the stories of devastation of the great food crops of the world wrought by insect attacks, and of the final rout of the invaders by the bird legions. On the approach of winter tit-mice and wrens paid daily visits to moth-infested trees and before spring the eggs of the moth were entirely destroyed. Seagulls once saved Utah from an army of crickets, and in 1865 the blackbirds redeemed Nebraska from the locusts.

"A severe outbreak of forest tent caterpillars occurred in New York, and parts of New England in 1898. Thousands of acres of woodland were devastated and great damage was done to the sugar maple orchards of New York and Vermont. Birds—warblers, orioles, sparrows, robins, cuckoos and cedar birds—attacked the caterpillars vigorously and by 1900 the plague had been so reduced that the injury was not seen.

"The failure of the French harvests not many years ago was due to the reckless slaughter of birds and the destruction of their eggs by children. It is related that King Frederick of Prussia, who was especially fond of cherries, on seeing the sparrows destroy his favorite fruit gave orders for their extermination. Of course many other birds were killed along with the sparrows. Within two years the cherries and most of the other fruits had disappeared and the repentant king was obliged to import birds to protect the trees."

Hawaii feels that diversified agriculture is impracticable here because of the insect pests; but science shows that the period of impossibility may be cut short by giving birds a chance to eat the insects and that there is no other way. All that stands against this recourse is the plea that the birds may harm the cane, but this could not apply, it would seem to the non-boring insect-eaters, the work of which would make small farming practicable. Flycatchers might even keep the Mediterranean fly within bounds; and the grosbeak would, it is said, assail the worms which now afflict so many vegetable crops. Is there any reason why such bird life should not be imported freely?

THE YELLOW CORRESPONDENT'S WORK.

The news that goes abroad from Honolulu through the regular Associated Press channel is usually correct and non-sensational, but the average work of the Honolulu special correspondents of mainland papers is a public bane. The Star has already remarked on the damage done by the correspondents who sent out versions of the Ramus hallucination, and who said, particularly, that 600 lepers were at large in our streets; but there follows another example of current news-exaggeration which is almost as harmful.

Lately, the island of Hawaii, had an ordinary earthquake shock, like scores that happen in California, and are hardly mentioned in the local press. No harm was done; no one had reason to be terrorized; no property was damaged. But in the eager hands of a "special correspondent," the seismic shiver took all the proportions of a catastrophe, and it was so written as to make a man unfamiliar with the geography of the group suppose that the earthquake affected Honolulu where the cablegram was dated. "Horses frightened by the sounds and by the shocks," says the voracious chronicler, "broke loose and ran through the city streets. Men, women and children were panic-stricken and many were injured in wild flights through the city to reach the outlying sections." What city? Apparently Honolulu, though the island of Hawaii where this quite ordinary tremor occurred is about 200 miles from this one, is separated from it by two islands and by wide arms of the sea. Not a shiver was felt in Honolulu or in Oahu.

But here is the "special" cable itself as it appears in the San Diego Union of May 24:

HAWAII SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKE.

Severest in Island's History; Volcanoes Active; People Terror-Stricken.

By Special Cable to the Union. Honolulu, H. T., May 24.—The severest earthquake in the history of the island of Hawaii shook all the islands of the group early yesterday. The severest shocks were felt on Hawaii.

Reports from other islands are that little damage was done, but that the population are terror stricken.

The volcano Lokuawooowoo has renewed activity and is belching smoke and ashes. A terrifying roaring sound preceded the quake. There were three distinct shocks, the first being the most severe. The lakes on the islands seemed swept by a gale, the waters lashed high in waves.

Horses, frightened by the sounds and by the shock, broke loose and ran through the city streets. Men, women and children were panic stricken and many were injured in wild flights through the city to reach the outlying sections.

Several new volcanoes are reported in eruption from various

MORE SUNSHINE

By WALT MASON.

Old Bildad is a cheerful jay; he goes around the city and scatters sunshine on his way, and sings a cheer-up ditty. He has a helpful word for all, and we should all be joyous when we have heard his caterwaul—and yet his spicils annoy us. For Mrs. Bildad does the chores around their humble cottage; she builds the fires and scrubs the floors and stews the oatmeal pottage. A woman's in an evil pass who has a husband burly, and yet must plant the garden sass and hoe it late and early. Poor Mrs. Bildad, worn and gray, like one bay horse is toiling; she's hustling round by night and day to keep the pot a-boiling. She works the churn with fingers sore, the morning milk she's skimming, while Bildad sits in Beeswack's store and does his sunny jinning. And so we don't admire him much, this sunny, helpful neighbor; that optimism needs a crutch which isn't backed by labor. The sorehead who supplies his wife and kids with tempting dinners does more to glorify this life than fifty lazy grinners.

Copyright, 1912, by George Matthew Adams. WALT MASON.

parts of the islands. Mauna Loa, the famous volcano, is smoking and others are belching smoke in clouds, which hang heavy over the islands. The heavens above Honolulu are still clouded with smoke. As yet little serious damage to property has been reported.

The average person on the coast simply knows the whole group as "Hawaii" and the correspondent does not differentiate the islands, so as not to weaken interest in his hot-flavored tale of the earthquake. He is working on "space" and wants to occupy as much room in the paper he writes for as he can, being paid by the column of print. Unless he colors or embellishes his story into a record of real human interest he will not see the matter in print at all. It must thrill or it won't sell. Hence the inventive commercial fancy has taken a quite commonplace seismic shake, far from Honolulu as Bakersfield is from San Diego and made it alarming to the friends of people who are living or touring on unshaken Oahu. According to him the earthquake is "the severest in the history of Hawaii," which is not saying much; the population was terror-stricken," when it probably did no more than to turn over in bed; "the lakes of the island seemed swept by a gale," when Hawaii has no lakes; "many were injured in wild flights," when nobody is known to have even stubbed his toe; and besides "Lokuawooowoo," whatever that may be, "several new volcanoes are reported in eruption from various parts of the islands," which is the correspondent's high bid for membership in the Ananias club. And to cap the climax: "the heavens above Honolulu," which phrase again identifies this innocent city with the magnified shiver far away, "are still clouded with smoke." If they were it must have been with tobacco smoke.

All this misinformation, this high-flavored mixture of falsehoods and fairy tales probably made about a dollar for some "special correspondent," but did an unknown amount of harm to the reputation of Honolulu abroad.

The advice of John Barrett for the United States to keep the peace with Mexico is sound. Since the Drago doctrine was set up, all Latin America stands together either actually or morally. Barrett's business is to promote peaceful relations south of our line, and no one knows better than he how quickly a war for intervention against Mexico would menace them.

Wisconsin is not appealing to Wm. Barnes of New York to "swing the New York delegation" to the Taft nominee for temporary chairman of the convention. It is quite the other way. Barnes is doing the appealing to Wisconsin but the latter, though anti-Roosevelt, is coy about it.

The plan for admirals and vice admirals is one to organize the navy better and give its flag officers a rank equal to that of foreign commanders who have the same fleet duties to perform. It is simply a common-sense proposition which should have been adopted long ago.

Mrs. Alice Mackintosh was, herself, a tower of strength to the Episcopal community of Hawaii, and it is fitting that her memorial should be a tower of stone at the cathedral of St. Andrew.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

JUNK KING BROWN—I am sorry to disappoint the newspapers but the old Kaimulua has teak timbers and I can not afford to burn her.

HARBORMASTER FOSTER—There is no need to be bashful about calling up this office for information. That is what we are here for.

CAPTAIN SUSMAN—I heard someone describe a surfboard as an ironing board. It is very appropriate, as the waves certainly have a way of ironing you out when you first learn the sport.

FRANK MERVIN—I have seen many boxing contests in San Francisco but I have never seen one that was pulled off in better shape or at which the crowd was more orderly.

BOSTONIANS WILL TAG SATURDAY

Next Saturday there will be something doing every minute of the day. The King's Daughters are to sell tags to everyone they meet and there will be no chance of dodging them, for they have enlisted the services of a hundred pretty girls.

Out of this number there will be twenty of the Juvenile Bostonians and they are planning all sorts of things. Last night they held a caucus at the hotel and mapped out their plan of campaign. One of them will be on every—but, there, it wouldn't be fair to go and give their plans away at this stage of the game.

At the same time when those kids have finished rushing round this old city there will be very few people who won't be without a tag sticking on them. Little Stubby Myling says that she will put a tag on Stage Manager Joe Bly, but she had to confess that she will have to pin it on his coat tails, because it is too high for her to reach the lapel of his coat.

Those kids will be all over the place and by the time the hundred girls get through the day the famous Democratic Meal Ticket convention will not be in it.

than was the case at Saturday's exhibition at the Athletic Park.

APAU AKAU—The weather in the States has handicapped the Chinese baseball team more than anything else. It has been so different from what we have been used to in Hawaii—so cold and rainy.

C. K. CHARLEY—I think I have a good chance in the Haleiwa race. I have run well in several other races here but the distance has been too short for me. Thirty-six or forty miles is what I like best.

ADJUTANT GENERAL CAMPBELL—The officer in command of the detail encamped on Punchbowl as a timber guard reports that there has been no further cuttings, and we have assurances that it will not be renewed until the courts have passed upon the matter.

SECRETARY KEARNS (Board of Immigration)—It is not probable that the completion of the Panama Canal will enable us to secure any of the labor employed here. We have already investigated and found that the rate of pay the men have been receiving there is more than they could secure here, so it is doubtful if they would come here.

SUPERINTENDENT STARRETT (market division)—I have received samples of the crates which we will use in shipping onions to the mainland. They are made of oak wood in a factory on Hawaii and will prove an advertisement for the islands as well as a handsome shipping receptacle for the onions.

THE MAY WEATHER

In the month of May the mean temperature in Honolulu was 75 degrees, which is the normal for that month. The highest was 82 on the 30th, the lowest 65 on the 10th, the greatest daily range 13 on the 7th and the least daily range 7 on the 4th. The absolute maximum for May for 22 years has been 87, and the absolute minimum 60 degrees.

The mean atmospheric pressure was 30.08 inches, the highest being 30.16 on the 27th and the lowest 30.01 on the 2nd.

The total precipitation for the month was 0.42 inch, the greatest in 24 hours having been 0.11 inch on the 27th and 28th. The normal rainfall for the month of May here is 2.33 inches, so that last month has been extremely dry. Since January 1 the accumulated deficiency has been 9.73 inches.

There were 3 clear days, 23 partly cloudy, 5 cloudy and 11 days on which one-hundredth of an inch or more of precipitation occurred.

The prevailing direction of the wind was northeast, the total movement 6460 miles, the average velocity 8.7 miles an hour and the maximum velocity, for five minutes, 22 miles an hour, this breeze being from the northeast on the 6th.

Mr. Stockman has no miscellaneous phenomena—such as auroras, halos, thunderstorms, etc.—whatever to report for May.

CO-DEFENDANTS IN MUTUAL SCRAP

In the trial of the Mahuka site case, which was resumed in the United States district court this morning, R. W. Breckons and C. C. Biting, representing the government, had only to sit back and gloat while two of the respondents, the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., and the Hawaiian Trust Company, fought a battle between themselves.

Testimony had already been given to the effect that the trust company pays a monthly rental of $240. But Richard Cooke, the witness on the stand this morning, representing the Bank of Hawaii, testified that of this $240 about $120 represents payment for the good will of the safe deposit business which was taken over when the lease was made to the Hawaiian Trust Company by the Bank of Hawaii.

This pitted the two respondents against one another, and the morning was taken up in argument, each of the two respondents insisting upon its claims, one that the contentions of the Bank of Hawaii is correct, the other that it is anything but correct. When the noon recess was taken no decision had been arrived at, the court still being under the influence of the deluge of words emitted by the opposing attorneys.

Although it was expected that the trial of the second Mahuka site case would be comparatively short and that little of general public interest would develop, several very interesting points have been raised and the trial promises to last much longer than was at first anticipated.

STOCKS ARE FIRM

Sugar stocks continue to hold firm, with a slight general tendency upward. Waiialua advanced on the board this morning 50 cents, selling at 132. 131 1-2 was bid, and 132 1-2 asked at close. Pioneer shows a slightly bearish tone, dropping off 25 cents since Saturday morning, and selling at 35 flat; 34 7-8 bid and 35 1-8 asked at close. H. C. & S. sold again at 46, while Hawaiian Sugar brought 47 1-2 for 300 shares sold on curb. The stock is being held at 48.

WOMAN'S BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The Woman's Board of Missions will hold its annual meeting in the chapel of Central Union church tomorrow. It will be an all-day gathering, the morning session opening at 10:30 o'clock and the afternoon session at 1:30.

Luncheon will be served in the parish house at 12:15.

A cordial invitation to each and every part of the day's doings is extended to all interested in such work as the Board of Missions represents, gentlemen as well as ladies, including strangers in the city.

THE THEATERS

Another Headline Act at Bijou Tonight.

Following up the standard it has set, the Bijou management has secured another new act that has been the headline attraction in all the big theaters in the States and in Europe. The act, which travels under the name of the Barts Trio, is an acrobatic team and consists of two men and a young lady.

The trio will open a short engagement at the Bijou tonight when they will give startling feats of flying with the aid of a lot of apparatus. Some of their stunts are marvelous beyond description. This will prove the greatest acrobatic exhibition ever seen here, not even barring the Flying Jordans who will be remembered by old-timers here.

The other big headline act, "Lordy's Fourteen Dogs," will be seen in their famous act with new features introduced. This is the most wonderful dog act on the stage today and is interesting to young as well as old. The fourteen dogs represent fourteen different pedigrees and furnish a study in natural history in itself.

Winsome little Mae Taylor, everybody's favorite, will appear in songs that will be whistled around town tomorrow. She is a very clever little woman and makes a hit in whatever she does, be it singing, dancing or talking. For the latest in new frowns watch her. She keeps right up to date with her wardrobe.

The pictures have been personally selected by Mr. Magoon and will embrace the best subjects obtainable. Miltner's orchestra, the best in town, will render a program of popular and classic selections.

Hoffman's Holiday.

Following the receipt of a cable to say that he had been left a fortune Hoffman set out to enjoy himself. On the first day out he met a pretty girl and fell in love with her. Then her lover appeared on the scene and finding that the girl really loved Hoffman determined to set matters right. He told the newly rich man that he must either marry the girl or shoot himself. This Hoffman agreed to do and signed a contract to carry out the matter. Just as the wedding was to take place the girl's husband put in an appearance. What could Hoffman do under the circumstances?

The juvenile Bostonians will show most of the happenings in Hoffman's Holiday at the Liberty tonight and there are some funny situations there should be something doing all the time.

Special songs have been selected to go with the piece and the favorites will be right on deck with the goods. Lois Mason with her yodeling songs, Thom Hellen, Patsy Henry, Billie O'Neill and Little Stubby Myling have all got special numbers picked out while Doris Canfield has also got a special one hidden away.

The kids are getting used to the place now and are getting more in touch with the audience. Each piece they have put on has gone better than the one before and Hoffman's Holiday is promised as even being better than Bertha's Billions, which scored a big hit last week.

Two pictures will be thrown on the screen before the curtain goes up, so that there will be something doing all the time.

are usually the result of the wholesale preparation of some mother's recipe or doctor's prescription which has been found especially successful in relieving the ailments for which it is prepared, and which has stood the test of time.

Such is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, originally prepared from roots and herbs for female ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. For nearly forty years it has proven a great benefactor to the women of America in relieving female diseases of every nature. Its wonderful success proves its merit.

TO CUT OUT

According to business men who discussed the matter this morning, it seems more likely that if anything results from Mr. Tidwell's visit, in connection with these entry ports, it will be to cut down the salaries of the deputies who have direct charge of them. These officials, it is said, get $900 per annum, except Hilo, where the salary is $1200. The positions are for the most part held by persons who have other regular occupation, and who are not dependent upon the salary for their livelihood.

Reports show that the business of these ports has not increased during the past few years, and in fact in some instances has fallen off, but it is very certain that the business and shipping interests of the islands will resist very stoutly any effort made to require all clearances and entries to be made through the port of Honolulu. The small saving to the government, it is stated, would be insignificant compared with the loss and inconvenience which would be occasioned to private interests by such a move.

According to rumor, Mr. Tidwell's report will probably largely deal with recommendations for retrenchment in the expenses of the administration of the office which will take the form of reductions in salaries. It is rumored that Mr. Tidwell's idea of the propriety for inspectors ranges from $40 to $60 per month, for those positions now paying from $2.50 to $4 per day. Office deputies will probably also have to submit to a severe cut in case the special agent has his way.

It has been truly said that the mother's business, that of making men and women, is the most important of all parents, and a calling for which the most skilled and thorough training is needed.

Yet many a mother with a precious child in her arms suddenly realizes that she knows little or nothing about caring for the child, either physically or mentally. All at once, she feels ignorant, helpless, unfit. Yet she yearns with the strongest of all love—mother-love—to give her child every aid possible to help him toward perfection and happiness.

Many another mother, though she has been trained and though she is capable, has her hands over-full, and needs help. And still other mothers, as the little flock increases, lose their enthusiasms. And to these mothers, anything which can bring back their high purpose, is like restoring their youth.

These are some of the problems that those interested in the welfare of parents and children have been pondering. It was to meet these needs that the After School Club of America was organized. And it is one of the best allies the mother can have in the big work of her life, the training of her children.

The After School Club starts with the principle that moral training begins when the child is one day old; and by means of books, monographs, discussions of various kinds, and personal correspondence, helps the mother in a definite practical way to care for the child from the day it is born. This necessarily begins with the diet, health and infantile habits of the baby, and develops into general physical care, mental training and moral guidance.

This, perhaps, is the primary purpose of the Club. But it does not stop here. For the children as well as the parents have their share in it. It helps equip the child with the best of literature, and to throw around this literature the most wholesome and stimulating influences, which will act and react upon the life of the child in the home, in the school, on the playground, in society, and as he takes his place in the world.

To the mothers of the country in general it is what the School of Mothercraft is to the mothers of New York. It is not a pumping station to deluge mothers with good advice. Rather it is a storehouse of the best material upon which the mother may draw to supply whatever need she may feel in the training of her children.

A prominent clubwoman, speaking before the International Congress of Home Education at Brussels, said to the After School Club, "The purpose of the Society is that of crystallizing the entire Child's Welfare Movement into an organization for studying child-life in all its phases, and giving the benefit of this study to thousands of parents, teachers, and individual boys and girls throughout the United States. There are several important features of the Club, one of the most important being the Mother's Counsel, which takes the finding of specialists in matters relating to home education, books and reading, the rearing and training of children, and puts this information into the homes where it can be made of actual and immediate use. This department writes frequent letters to mothers on problems of child-life and experience, gives expert confidential advice on various personal questions, sends or calls attention to pertinent magazine articles, suggests suitable books to particular needs, helps to form Story-Telling Clubs, helps to form Junior Civic Leagues, and issues monographs on questions of child-training."

The club grew out of a conference of leading educators and child-welfare workers; and it is one of the best movements of the day for the truest welfare of children, and hence for the future good of the country. It numbers among its advisers and helpers such national characters as Hamilton Mabie, Jane Addams, Mrs. Robert L. La Follette, and many other workers for betterment in various fields. And it helps every mother. It brings its expert advice and counsel right to the special problem any mother in its membership may wish to lay before it. One mother writes: "I feel it is such a great opportunity to have some one like you to be of help to me in bringing up my children. They are two problems, and I do not know what to do." She then tells the characteristics of her children; and straight in reply goes a letter from an expert who has made a sacrifice study of such problems suggesting the best way to handle her children.

Another mother writes of a nervous child who is beginning to stammer. Expert medical advice is sent, not as to drugs, but as to surroundings and the family attitude toward the trouble, and other practical hints that will help cure it.

Another mother writes: "I have noticed a marked improvement in Jane's English since she started her Journal and her letters to the Club."

But from all over the country pour in these letters from parents and children, and back go letters full of practical help, of enthusiasm, of inspiration.

Very aptly has the Club taken for one of its mottoes, "One deed there is, all others shall outlast— To help a little child."

SOCIAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

One of the largest military hops ever given on Oahu was that of Lela-hua Saturday evening, which was tendered the officers and ladies of the First Infantry by the officers of the cavalry, infantry and artillery contingents already stationed at Schofield Barracks. Invitations were sent to the officers and ladies at the posts in Honolulu as well as many of the townpeople. The Post Hall was beautifully decorated with ferns and flags and the full dress uniforms of the officers and handsome gowns of the ladies lent much to the brilliancy of the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Irwin with a number of friends motored to Haleiwa for dinner on Saturday. The dinner table was prettily decorated with pink oleanders and maidenhair fern. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin's guests included Mr. and Mrs. Templeton Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dillingham. After dinner the guests enjoyed dancing to the sweet strains of a Hawaiian quintet club.

Mrs. Francis Gray and Mrs. George Willey who have been visiting on Haleiwa for the past month will arrive in the Kilauea tomorrow morning to spend some time in Honolulu with their cousin, Mrs. Eben P. Low.

Mrs. Reed and her daughter, Mrs. Homer N. Preston are spending the week at Haleiwa Hotel.

Mr. Evelyn Woods Low who has been attending school in the east will return to Honolulu on the twenty-eighth of June to attend the wedding of his sister, Miss Annabel Low, to Mr. Albert Ruddle of Hilo, announced for the twenty-ninth of this month.

The grounds and the hall at the Armory were artistically decorated with flags and palms on Saturday for the luau, given by the Hawaiian Guild of Saint Andrews Cathedral. Many tourists as well as townfolk gathered around the luau tables to partake of the Hawaiian viands, and few left the grounds without the dainty leis which were sold by pretty Hawaiian maids. In the evening many of the younger folks danced to the strains of music furnished by the Hawaiian band.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Galt, Mrs. Eben Low, the Misses Carol, Clorinda and Laura Low and Mr. Jack Galt motored around the island yesterday stopping at Haleiwa for luncheon.

Mrs. Butler and Miss Butler, the mother and sister of Mrs. R. Buchly, are guests at Haleiwa for the week.

The closing exercises of the first class to graduate from the College of Hawaii will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the college grounds in Manoa. An invitation to be present at the exercises is extended to the public.

A goodly number of officers and ladies from Schofield Barracks motored to Haleiwa yesterday to spend the day at the beach.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions of Central Union church will be held tomorrow morning at half-past ten, in the church parlors. An invitation has been extended to the missionary boards of the other churches to attend tomorrow's meeting. At twelve o'clock the morning session will be adjourned and at twelve-fifteen luncheon to which the men are also invited will be served in the parish house. The afternoon meeting will be in session from half-past one until half-past two. A musical program has been arranged by the committee in charge of the affair.

Miss Thelma Parker has been treating her friends to a series of surprises since she left here this spring for her home in Honolulu, promising to come back soon to share with her mother, Mrs. Fred Knight, the new home abuilding in the western part of the city. According to her letters, she will be married to Henry G. Smart on July 26, the ceremony taking place at the Parker ranch on the island of Hawaii, with a week's honeymoon trip to the volcano. Miss Harriet Bradford, a San Francisco girl attending an Eastern school, will be her only attendant. Miss Parker is now interested in a new home which they plan to build in Honolulu sometime this year.

Miss Parker inherited a ranch of over a hundred thousand acres, most of this in plantations. This was the gift of her late father, one of the sons of Colonel Sam Parker. Miss Parker's father received the property from his mother, who was a native Hawaiian. It has enhanced in value tremendously and is continuing to increase. The income from it approximates two hundred thousand a year. This is organized into a trust fund, which Miss Parker recently created on coming into her inheritance. One-half of it is for her use, one-fourth goes to her mother and the balance to be devoted to charitable, educational and public welfare. This is the most generous gift to the credit of any of our heiresses, showing the unusual generosity of the donor in that it is given away during lifetime when its possessor might spend it herself. Alfred W. Carter, an attorney of prominence in Honolulu, is the trustee for Miss Parker.

Mr. Smart went to Honolulu on the same boat that conveyed Miss Parker, their meeting having been on board the Korea. He is the son of a Methodist minister of Virginia. He is employed by a brokerage firm in Honolulu.—Examiner, May 19.

Princess Abigail Wahikaaahuula Kawanakoa, the royal Hawaiian beauty, who says that lovers are serious people, but shouldn't be, arrived in San Francisco on Thursday, and kept herself in seclusion in her apartments at the Fairmont Hotel, denying even her closest friends the privilege of seeing her. She sails for Honolulu on the steamer Sonoma today. Princess Kawanakoa was accompanied only by a woman companion,

THE TAILOR-MADE GIRL IN A TROTABOUT COSTUME.

Trim and neat, and eminently suited for traveling and shopping wear, is this tailored hat of blue milan which accompanies a trotabout frock of blue whipcord. The frock is made on simplest lines and is accompanied by a smart black patent leather belt and a cool, turned down collar of heavy crocheted lace. The blue milan hat has a pleating of blue ribbon around the crown and a pert quill in a gray tone dashed with orange. Buttoned boots of tan calf and cream silk gloves embroidered in self color complete a practical spring costume.

and neither of them signed the hotel register. The Princess left strict orders with the hotel clerk that she was not to be disturbed either by callers or by the telephone. She had had her mail forwarded to the Palace Hotel and friends were watching for her arrival at that hostelry, and did not suspect that she was in the city. Her sister, Mrs. George Beckley, who was Beatrice Campbell, arrived in San Francisco several days ago, but even she had not called at the Fairmont yesterday.

It is reported that Princess Kawanakoa is seriously ill. On the advice of her physician she was ordered to go to Europe a year and a half ago for an operation, the performance of which, her physician advised, would be the only guarantee for the prolongation of her life. She has been in Germany for the last eighteen months, and when she left London a month ago she sailed under the name of Mrs. Campbell, and is reported to have arrived in New York city on crutches. While in New York she saw no one but Mrs. Jay Gould Jr., (formerly Ann Graham) and Mrs. Hubert Vos, family relations.

This news will be cause for grave concern among her many friends in this city. Princess Kawanakoa, who was Miss Tibbie Campbell of San Jose before her marriage to Prince David Kawanakoa, has been famous for many years for her beauty and wit, and has been a social favorite wherever she went, and has a host of friends among the royal and official set of England and Europe. The Princess has been a widow for three years.—Chronicle, May 25.

INTER-ISLAND HAPPENINGS

KOHALA, May 29.—The Midget contains the following budget of a week's happenings.

Paauhau.

Quite an excitement was caused on the Kalopa part of the plantation by a cane fire on Tuesday. There was a regular gale blowing at the time the fire started from a home-steader's land, and the flames seemed to jump fifty to a hundred feet at a time. The house of another home-steader was surrounded by the fire at one time and it looked as if there would be little chance of saving it, but fortunately the fire was got under control in time.

Mr. Smith, manager, has been very much "cold sick" for the last ten days. This sort of thing is not indigenous to Paauhau, and the malady must be of imported origin.

Mr. De Colto, of Paauhau Store, was a witness of the sad accident to a Japanese driver at Honokaa, on Sunday. Mr. De Colto saw the mule dragging the man along after it, and tried to stop it, but the animal swerved to one side and got past him, to be stopped a little later on.

A party of Honokaa and Paauhau gentlemen went into Hilo on Saturday to be initiated into the mysteries of Free Masonry. When these have taken their Master's degree, there ought to be enough members of the brotherhood to start a lodge in Hamakua.

Honokaa.

A short time ago one of our most prominent property holders and citizens, Mr. P. Hart, lost a number of children through the bubonic plague, and his home had to be burned. Through the good work of Tom Rickard, a poor boy, going around, and assisted by Mr. George Kaiser, and with the help of the good managers of the different plantations in Hamakua, and the citizens and friends of Mr. Hart, the community has succeeded in building a new and commodious house for him and his family.

Children's Sunday.

Children's Day will be observed in Kohala by a union service of all the Sunday schools. This will be held in Iole Church, at 11 o'clock Sunday, June 2.

Over three hundred children are expected to be present and take part in the exercises. The offering for the day will be devoted to helping defray the transportation expenses of the children. As they are coming from all over the district this is no small item.

Won't you show by your presence and material aid that you are interested in this gathering? Should any one wish to make a present to this transportation fund, donations will be received by Mrs. McDougall, Mrs. Bond, Mr. Nalpo and Mr. Nahiwa.

Kohala.

It is rumored that Charles E. King's glee club will be in Kohala June 10, and will give an entertainment that night. If such should be the case, Kohala should turn out en masse to hear them, for you'll more than get your money's worth.

Mrs. Geo. Barker gave a birthday supper to her husband on Thursday evening. Mr. Barker has reached his fifty-ninth year. He has seen a large part of the world. He can beat Edison's Talking Machine, when it comes to that business. He still has a rolicking spirit, somewhat stubborn at times. The guests of the evening were taught a few true points on Hawaiian history from him.

Rev. Woo Ye Bew and family took the boat for Honolulu last Friday.

The daughter, Mary Woo, will graduate from the Normal School this year. Kaahue, the Niuli station master, is reported to have stolen a bride last Saturday night.

Mr. Nahiwa is drilling a children's chorus to give 'The Children's Messiah' again next year, with some choruses from the real "Messiah" by the Choral Society. Anyone wishing to own a copy of "The Messiah" should leave an order, with $1, with Mrs. H. H. Renton before she leaves, and she will secure the books.

Mr. Peter Beamer, of Hilo, is on one of his regular tours of Kohala. He came over from Waimea Thursday. Mrs. Beamer is with him and two Japanese salesmen. Mr. and Mrs. Beamer were guests of the Akinau and Williamses at Makapala.

A horse patiently stood between the shafts of a buggy. An oversight on the part of some one; he had not hooked the traces to the shaft. A couple got into the buggy. The driver said, "Get up!" The faithful horse went; the buggy balked. One said, "Oh my, the horse is b'g!"

Why not plan for a Fourth of July celebration in Kohala? With the help of a few prizes, it would be easy to have athletic contests by the Filipinos, Japanese, and others—exhibitions of their national sports—a baseball game and in the evening a concert of patriotic songs, the singers in Colonial costumes. Who seconds the motion?

We understand that Mr. J. P. Woods is planning to build a $10,000 house at Kaahue. The lumber will be ordered from Honolulu, and as soon as it arrives, probably early in July, work will begin.

We, also, quaked with that earthquake Wednesday night last week; just a playful little shakelet.

On May 18, Mr. Olaf Sorensen, assistant manager of the Parker ranch, was wedded in Honolulu, to Miss Juliette Hartwell, daughter of Chief Justice Hartwell. The bride and groom were given a reception at Waimea, later, which was attended by a number of Kohala people. The Midget extends congratulations.

We learn that a new garage is being built at Union Mill, which is to house an agency of von Mamm-Young Co., Honolulu. It will be in charge of a Japanese, with a branch at Niuli.

Hawii Ice Works is putting up a fine quality of aerated water, in great variety. We can speak a good word especially for their ginger ale. It tickles the gastric nerve just right.

Rev. Mr. Mori, pastor of Nuuanu avenue Japanese Church, arrived in Kohala last week, as the representative of the Hawaiian Board in studying the work being done here, and the feasibility of building a house for the evangelist.

The ladies of the King's Daughters conducted a rummage sale at the Hawaiian chapel, Kapaau, last week. It was a success, as their affairs always are.

It's all right for the sanitary inspector to remove the microbe trap from his own upper lip.

Besides the Sunday school institute which he had planned to hold at Waimea, Mr. Judd also held one at Kaahue, on his way back home.

That was a mighty welcome shower that fell on Sunday night.

The new building reported in our last issue as being erected opposite the butcher shop at Hawii, belongs to Hawii plantation. It is to be a sort of combined theater and dance hall, and is to have provision for displaying moving pictures. It is for the direct benefit of the laborers of the plantation. This is certainly the "right idea," for anything that will make the life of the plantation laborer better and pleasanter will eventually redound to the benefit of those who have the farsightedness to do everything reasonable for their workmen.

News was received last Saturday of the birth of a daughter to Mrs. Edgar D. Congdon (nee Miss Edith Jones) in New York city, on May 9.

Mr. Hori, who was here last week, representing The Hawaiian Board, is endeavoring to awaken interest in day nurseries on the various plantations, where the babies of Japanese mothers can be cared for by competent nurses, for a nominal sum, leaving the mothers free to work. It is a plan that has worked well on other islands, and among the immigrant and other working women in Eastern cities.

About eighty men are now at work on the Kohala Ditch extension, making tunnels. In a short time work will begin on the reservoirs.

Mr. E. F. Bishop made the round trip on the steamship Wilhelmna, visiting Pahala while on the Big Island.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney spent Saturday at Pahala.

Mr. C. M. Cooke and Mrs. Dora Isenberg are making a tour of Hawaii. They have been several days the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ogg and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolters.

Our Supervisor has now covered quite a piece of the Volcano road with a-a. Once this is rolled, we shall have a fine boulevard.

Waimea.

Mr. D. McAllister, of Walkii, the prosperous "corn" station of the Parker ranch, was a blithe departing passenger on Friday's Mauna Kea for a visit to the metropolis. We all hope he has a royal time!

Mr. H. A. Truslow, the congenial bookkeeper of the ranch, at last, after ceaseless toil and persistence, can claim to have, on his ample grounds near his cozy bungalow, one of the very best tennis courts in the country round! Visions now loom up, in the minds of "we Waimeas," of perhaps having one of our number soon on his or her way to compete in the tournaments at Hilo. (Ah, such a chance!)

Miss Dorothy Livingston has returned after a delightful week's visit with Mrs. Jack Low in Kukuhaele, charming Mr. Bryan Girdler also helped to make her stay the joyful one it was. (ahem)

The Hakalaus Saw Hot Baseball. It was a hot and most exciting game played May 19 at 1:45 p. m. on the Hakalaus baseball ground, between the Honomu and Hakalaus baseball teams.

The Hakalaus really had some close rubs against the Honomu "Greens." The Greens hadn't handled a ball for a coon's age; it was only three weeks ago since they got into trim again.

The Hakalaus played a good fair game, and went ahead at the start; while the "Greens" bunched all their scores but two in the last two innings. The score was 10 to 5 in favor of the "Greens."

Noah's Ark Found?

A relic of the past, that once burnt up the muddy roads of Kohala, made a flying trip, recently, from the factory at Kapaau to the innermost end of Kohala. Greatest sensation of the year! A flagpole stuck impudently into the air from behind. It went so fast that the flag was lost on the road. It was either "The Flying Dutchman," or the "Phantom Phord"—which?

Its horn be-hawed as it met every Jack-of-Kona on the road. Some faces it met were filled with horror; some were frightened; some wondered. It met the Sanitary Inspector, and he immediately condemned it.

This was shocking to the chauffeur's feelings. To was lucky, however, that he did not meet "Hed" Beckley and have to pay for all the damage done to his mar-velized rig.

"Noah's ark," as some called it, tried to steal past The Midget office, but the eagle-eyed Midget devil spied it. "Toot, toot, toot!" saluted the jimb of Satan. "Toot, toot, toot!" answered the crazy old Rip Van Winkle on wheels.

It sped on. At Kalopphi the gas-oil equine motors ran out of breath. But water from a stream was substituted.

On it sped, scattering chickens right and left, as it made a wild dash through Halawa town, while all the people rubber-necked.

Arrived at last at Niuli, wonder of wonders! It balked at Makapala, where an expert from San Francisco is putting it into shape with a Tomtom.

It will appear next month. Look for it! Get your life insured! We mention no names. Now leave a brick at us!

Papaaloa.

On May 17, Mr. Joseph E. Swain and brother James Swain, John de Caires and Mr. Antonio Roberto surprised their old acquaintances by calling on them unexpectedly.

Mr. Joseph E. Swain had left for the Coast a very short time ago while the others have been there for some years. After all, there is no place like Hawaii to live, they said.

Mr. Joseph E. Swain will be employed by Mr. John T. Brown, to run the stone crusher which will crush the stone for the Kihalaui homestead road.

The Kihalaui homestead road is progressing very slowly, as the rock has to be carried from a distance.

Mr. H. Meyer, the Waipunalet butcher, is to go to Hilo to have an operation performed on his shoulder.

The promoters of the Papaaloa Holy Ghost Feast are advised that liquors will not be allowed at the feast, as predicted by Rev. Father Idenbald, pastor of the Catholic church at Papaaloa.

Pohakupuka.

The railroad bridge at the mouth of the Maulua tunnel, on the Hilo side, is under construction. It will be over a thousand feet long, and will have a height of 150 feet, making it the largest bridge on the extension. It is estimated that it will take nearly three months to complete it.

Mr. M. A. Oliveira, of Kabinano, has announced that he will in a short time make headway for his old country. Good luck Mr. Oliveira.

The new immigrants have arrived and a number of them have been located at the Waikamalo new camp, had been built for the purpose.

The principal of the Pohakupuka School has been told that as soon as the new location for the school is gotten by the department, the supervisors will immediately do the rest.

Hamakua.

Mr. John K. White, of E. N. Holmes' store, is now the happy dad of a large baby boy, who arrived last week to make three a company in that home.

When the Wallele docked at the Kukuhaele landing, last Saturday, it was seen that the popular pursuer, "Doc" Howard, was not at his post of duty. His place has been filled by Willie Kekuewa, one of Kohala's boys.

Eel fishing, by some Japs and Hawaiians, has been the exciting event along some parts of our coast during some calm nights. The catch has been large, and several eels measured nine to twelve feet long.

The road men, under some experienced lunas, are putting the road below M. De Fontes' place at Kapulea in a better condition.

Kapoho.

The safe in the depot has gone on a strike and has refused to unlock. As there is no time lock on it, we think it must have struck for more money. A safe expert is expected out here soon to adjust the difficulty.

Mr. and Mrs. Weatherby and daughter Helen, of Olan, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lyman.

Miss Elderts, of Kapaou, is here visiting friends.

Mr. J. F. Hackford and wife motored through Waiohina on Monday.

South Kona.

As one guarding all in-coming vehicles, passing Papa School from Kauway, Mr. E. K. Iona, teacher at Papa School, must be a busy fellow; for he has to see that no fruits are brought in from Kau.

This is one of the methods the promoters of Kona are carrying out in the fight against the Mediterranean fly pest.

The whole police force of our district hurried past the Alae School, May 22, in pursuit of the murderer of a Japanese in Hamakua.

VIGOROUS OLD AGE

Even ruddy-cheeked youth is not more beautiful than the mature vigor of healthy old age. This, however, is not seen so often as it should be, partly because many persons mistakenly suppose that weakness and ill-health are inseparable from ripe maturity of years.

Yet in the majority of cases enfeebled old persons require nothing but the simple, natural treatment afforded by Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Extract which acts by increasing the appetite, aiding digestion and putting more iron into the blood. It has neither the taste nor smell of cod liver oil, but is as pleasant to the taste as a superior table wine. It is as valuable to old persons as to young ones and many of its most remarkable effects have been achieved with the aged. Get it at your druggists and be sure you get STEARNS'—the genuine.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC

From the standpoint of Hawaii, the scheme would be a most beneficial one because of the greatly increased traffic which it would give between here and San Francisco. Where at present the American-Hawaiian freighters sailing for Salina Cruz carry no passengers, the additional ships of the Pacific Mail would doubtless all carry a full complement of passengers. Instead of being interested primarily in the Oriental trade, the Pacific Mail company would doubtless inaugurate a local service in addition, greatly to Hawaii's benefit.

The report has it that, in order to make the plan effective, the Southern Pacific will so fix the freight rates across the continent that practically all the country west of Chicago may be reached with Hawaiian refined sugar in competition with Eastern sugars. The present coast refineries would be enlarged sufficiently to handle all the crop, or other refineries built—possibly here in Hawaii, or perhaps at other points of the Pacific coast.

FIRST ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT OF THE COLLEGE OF HAWAII

This afternoon at four o'clock, upon the campus of the permanent buildings, the first annual commencement exercises of the College of Hawaii will be held. It is a red letter day to go down in the college calendar, producing the firstfruits of an institution destined to equip the present and future generations of Hawaii with higher education, adapted to all industries and professions, without having to leave their home neighborhood and associations. While many will still go abroad for university training, including numbers who will do so from the home college for further advancement, the institution will give to thousands the chance heretofore denied of acquiring high degrees of technical knowledge in the

COMFORTABLE AND ATTRACTIVE HOMES FOR CANNERY GIRLS

If an abundant labor supply can be attracted and held by living conditions that are the acme of comfort, even approaching the luxurious, then has the big firm of Libby, McNeill & Libby solved for itself the labor problem in connection with its big pineapple cannery on the other side of Iolani. In extensive grounds, which in time will be exceptionally beautiful with growing trees and plants, buildings have lately been completed for the accommodation of the several hundred girls who are needed in the work of getting Hawaii's most luscious product into the cans. And it is in these buildings that seemingly everything has been embodied that thought could suggest and money buy, that would make life attractive to the average normal young woman.
Not only are the dormitories, kitchens, dining hall, etc., fitted up with all the modern conveniences in the way of plumbing, etc., but a big dancing hall, with electric piano player, moving picture outfit, and all accessories, has been provided for the entertainment of the girls during their leisure.
But the cuisine arrangements should prove the great drawing card. It is stated that the girls will be furnished board (rooms and other accommodations being free) for thirty cents per day. Moreover, that it will be good board, too. Not only this, but girls who complete the season are to be given a rebate of fifteen cents per day on this exceedingly low rate.
The girls' quarters are in charge of a matron, while the homes of a number of the executive staff of the cannery are also within the same enclosed grounds. Of course, a large part of the help needed in the factory will be brought from Honolulu, but it is said that thus far there has been a surplus of applicants.
The cannery is now working nearly full time, and within the next two or three weeks will be running under full pressure, as the bulk of the season's crop will be ripening within that time.

grade and clerical positions in the custom house service, at Honolulu, on June 22. John W. Short, secretary of Hawaii district, at the custom house, will furnish all necessary information to intending candidates.

Last of the catalogued events in connection with the Episcopal convocation and jubilee will be a historical meeting in the Davies memorial hall, at a quarter to eight this evening. James H. Boyd will read a paper of reminiscences of St. Alban's College, the predecessor of Iolani; Solomon Meheula, who taught the English alphabet to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, will tell of his experiences; Edmund Stiles will read a short paper, and a historical sketch by Sisters Beatrice and Albertina will also be read. The meeting will be open to the public.
A banquet managed by the senior class of the College of Hawaii was held by the faculty and students at the Waianae House, Waikiki, on Saturday evening. The old Greek torch of truth and wisdom was handed down by Miss Gulick, one of the graduates, to William Melnicke, of the junior class. Leslie Clark was toastmaster, and speeches were made by Dr. Andrews and President Gilmore. Musical numbers were given by Joshua Pratt on the violin and Misses Ripley and Chapin on the piano. Mr. Akou gave a comic reading and the Japanese students contributed to the entertainment.

Yesterday the executive committee of the Central Improvement Committee completed the work, begun Friday night and Saturday morning, of appointing committees for Clean-up day. It also accepted an offer from J. Alfred Magoon of the use of a store in the Magoon building, at Alakea and Merchant streets, for headquarters. Some recommendations to the general meeting in Alexander Young hotel roof garden on Friday evening next, the use of which had been kindly granted by Manager Hertsche, were adopted. The rest of the preliminary arrangements up to the day was left to the Clean-up day executive committee. Following is the list of committees:

an effort to persuade the company not to make an appeal and thus involve unnecessary litigation.
The argument resulted in the supreme court's giving the territory until Wednesday to draw up a judgment against the traction company and then to submit it to the court for approval, while the company is unshaken in its determination to make an appeal to Washington.
After returning from court, the deputy attorney general went directly to the office of the superintendent of public works to discuss what steps to take before filing mandamus proceedings.
Deputy Attorney General Smith is in favor of putting the matter up to the supervisors and see what they wish to do about it. The superintendent of public works and deputy attorney general have a plan which they will submit to the supervisors at the meeting this evening for approval. At the present time, they wish nothing said about this plan.
The superintendent of public works is not in favor of waiting for two or three years while litigation drags on through the higher court, but thinks that a better way out of the difficulty may be found.
"The traction company should go ahead with this work and conform to the people's wishes," he declared this morning after his conference with the deputy attorney general.
"The territorial supreme court has made its ruling and the company should conform to it. In the franchise which its own attorneys drew, there is a clause inserted stipulating that they shall pay for the paving between their tracks and it is not fair that they should attempt to place this burden upon the people of the territory."

CUBAN ANNEXATION IS FEARED BY HAWAIIAN SUGAR PLANTERS

Local sugar men view with mingled feelings the developments of the pliki in Cuba. In the light of its immediate effect, a vigorous rebellion just now might be profitable to Hawaii financially, through the curtailment of the big sugar crop which the Cuban sugar men are rushing to market, and which undoubtedly is influencing the price of the commodity.

However, over two-thirds of the crop has already been harvested, so a curtailment of the output at this stage would probably not have a very marked influence on prices.

On the other hand some of the Hawaiian planters have been having a cold sweat for fear the Cuban turmoil spells annexation of the West Indian republic by the United States. There is a strong suspicion that certain financial interests have some part in the present trouble. Of late years a larger and larger amount of American capital has been invested in Cuban sugar and other agricultural enterprises. What is more natural than that this capital should speed any movement which would tend to wipe out the 80 per cent differential duty which Cuban sugar now has to pay to get into the United States market? Cuba's resources have been thus far only slightly developed, and it is certain that, with the duty removed, the output of the island will enormously increase almost at once. Such an addition to the world's sugar supply, especially when it can get into the United States without restriction, is believed to be a menace to all other domestic sugar production, inasmuch as Cuba can probably not only produce sugar considerably cheaper than Hawaii, but also has the advantage of a much lower freight rate to market.

It will be remembered that the last time the United States was forced to intervene in Cuba, the republic was warned that another time would likely mean the permanent occupation of the island by American authority. Hence the uncertainty and anxiety which the present turmoil occasions.

JOHNS HOPKINS PROFESSOR SAYS LEPROSY IS CURABLE

"Leprosy Now Curable" is the heading of the following article in Popular Mechanics by Leonard K. Hirsberg, A. B., M. D., Johns Hopkins University:

That leprosy can be cured is announced from the Johns Hopkins University Clinics by Prof. W. Williams Lord, one of the most conservative dermatologists in the United States, who, with Dr. T. Caspar Gilchrist, is in charge of the work of Johns Hopkins University in the prosecution of investigations of diseases of the skin. Dr. Lord has given close attention to the study of practically every case of leprosy that has appeared in Baltimore since 1890. Like many other scientists he has given much of his time to the investigation of this dread malady. A method of cure or prevention has been sought for thousands of years and yet the disease remained an unconquered plague.

About 1895 a woman afflicted with leprosy was admitted to the Johns Hopkins Hospital where she remained until her death several years later. The careful examination of the tissues of this patient and subsequent experiments upon the few lepers who since came under his care finally led to the rejection of a number of inefficient modes of treatment and the development of an entirely new method by which all later cases have been successfully treated.

Leprosy manifests itself first in peculiar discolorations of the skin. Odd spots are found that are iridescent, sensitive and painful. In these areas and at other points, quickly noticed by specialists, the multitude of microscopic lepra bacilli thrive and spread. Dr. Lord's method of curing the disease, which has been adopted in the Hawaiian Islands, is said to be extremely simple. Ordinary carbonic-acid gas, compressed into a solid pencil, an accepted method for removing warts and recognized for many years in the treatment of less serious skin troubles, is utilized to remove the more malignant malady. Although this "snow" pencil itself is no novelty, it remained for the Baltimore physicians to extend its field of use. It is made by allowing a thin spray of carbonic-acid gas, previously compressed into liquid form, to escape into a felt bag where the carbonic acid is deposited—as a fine hoar frost or snow, while a thermometer held there will register about 100 deg. Fahr. below zero. The deposit of frost or snow is then made into a solid pencil which is placed within a hard-rubber tube. Pressed, a bit at a time, from the tube and placed upon the skin, it has some what the same effect as radium, but in this instance it is the extreme cold that destroys the diseased tissues and germs and thus cures the trouble; for, as it melts, the temperature about the infected zone falls to a very low degree of temperature.

Besides this local treatment the cure includes a cleansing of the patient's system by internal administration of chaulmoogra oil.

SUIT TO SMASH COFFEE TRUST

NEW YORK, May 18.—Attorney General Wickersham today moved against the so-called coffee trust, or Brazilian valorization scheme. In a petition in equity filed in the United States court here the valorization plan is declared to be a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The court is asked to decree the scheme unlawful, to enjoin the valorization committee from withholding coffee from the market and to appoint a receiver to sell the 599,000 bags, valued at $10,000,000 now alleged to be stored in warehouses of the New York Dock Company.

The government also applied for a temporary injunction restraining the valorization committee from removing or disposing of coffee held in America pending the termination of the issue.

The members of the valorization committee have agreed among themselves, the government charges, to withhold from the market large quantities of coffee under their control for the purpose of raising the price to an unreasonable extent. They have thus attempted, it is declared, to restrain the coffee trade throughout the world.

The Brazilian State of Sao Paulo, the greatest coffee district in the world, is party to the agreements which are declared unlawful in America. The government holds that the Brazilian State was induced to enact laws and enter into agreements in connection with the valorization plan.

IMPORTS OF LUXURIES INTO UNITED STATES THIS FISCAL YEAR

Luxuries imported into the United States during the fiscal year which ends with next month will exceed 200 million dollars in value. Under this term, "luxuries," are included such articles as diamonds, art work, lace and embroideries, champagne and other wines, tobacco and manufactures thereof, ostrich feathers, artificial flowers, toys, perfumeries and cosmetics, jewelry, manufactures of gold and silver, and numerous others of this general character.

In many of these articles, especially the more important ones, the imports of the fiscal year 1912 will exceed in value those of any earlier year. Art works, for example, show for the nine months ending with March, a total exceeding by fifty per cent the highest record of any earlier year, and will approximate forty million dollars in value for the full fiscal year, as against twenty-two and a half million dollars in 1911 and twenty-one million in 1910.

Diamonds will also show a large total for the fiscal year 1912. The nine months' figures thus far received by the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, show for diamonds and other precious stones a total of thirty and a half million dollars, indicating for the full year a total of about forty-one million dollars, thus exceeding the record of any earlier year except 1910, when the total was nearly forty-eight million dollars, and 1907, when the total was forty-two and a half million. Uncut diamonds will amount to about one-fourth of the grand total of precious and semi-precious stones.

Laces and embroideries are also an important factor in the general group of "luxuries," or articles of voluntary use, imported. They will amount in value in the current year to about forty-four million dollars. The growth in the importation of the great group has been very rapid, the total of 1902, a decade ago, having been less than thirty million dollars and the increase in the decade fully fifty per cent. This total of forty-four million dollars, includes laces and embroideries, edgings, insertings, ruchings, trimmings, tuckings, lace window curtains, and other articles of this general character, whether made of cotton, silk, or the group of raw materials usually termed "fibers," such as flax, ramie, etc. Those manufactured from cotton, however, form more than three-fourths of the total value of the group.

The Bureau of Statistics this year for the first time separates the group, "cotton, laces and embroideries," into its principal constituents. The first nine months under this new and more detailed grouping shows, of cotton embroideries, about thirteen million dollars; laces, about eleven million dollars; lace window curtains, three-quarters of a million dollars; nets and nettings, three-quarters of a million; and hand-made laces, a little over a half million dollars.

Other articles and groups of articles which may properly be termed "luxuries" are tobacco and manufactures thereof, which will amount for the year to about thirty-two million dollars; toys, about nine million dollars; ostrich and other feathers, artificial flowers, champagne and other wines, beads and ornaments, musical instruments, perfumeries and cosmetics, and manufactures of gold and silver.

Europe is the section of the world from which most of these articles of luxury are drawn. Of the thirty million dollars' worth of art works imported in the nine months ending with March, France supplied fifteen and a half million dollars' worth, the United Kingdom nearly eleven million dollars' worth, and Germany a little more than one million dollars' worth. Of cotton laces, embroideries, etc., imported, Switzerland supplied about one-third of the total, the remainder being drawn from France, Germany, and the United Kingdom. Cut diamonds are also drawn chiefly from Europe, though the products, in most cases, of the African mines. Of the seven and a half million dollars' worth of uncut diamonds imported in the latest period for which official returns have been received five million dollars' worth was from the United Kingdom, and one million dollars' worth from Belgium. Of the eighteen million dollars' worth of diamonds, cut but not set, imported in the nine months ending with March, seven million dollars' worth were from Belgium, six and a half million dollars' worth from Netherlands, three and one-third million from France, and one and one-third million from the United Kingdom. Of the champagne imports, a very large proportion, approximately nine-tenths, are from France.

TEARFUL WILLIE FOR GOVERNOR THE LATEST MAUI WITTICISM

WAILUKU, May 30.—(The Weekly Times.)—About half of the corn fields in Kula, so beautiful a few weeks ago, are now a picture of distress, dried and parched to death. Acres upon acres of corn, stretching for miles along the road, are now drooping towards mother earth and hanging their heads like a funeral procession of mourners at a funeral. It is claimed by the Kula farmers that, owing to the drought, about one-half of the crop has already been lost.

Two dumpcars employed on the Maliko road got away from the brakes last Saturday and ran over the bluff, landing 100 feet below. When picked up they were only a tangled mass of wood and iron. Fortunately nobody was hurt.

It is rumored that the Maui soap-borator will accompany his uncle Barron on his tour of the island next week to lay his plans in the race for representative on the democratic ticket. Let us hope that it is only a rumor, as Mr. Du Ponte has been too hard a worker in the G. O. P. ranks to be classed a bolter.

The supervisor of our district, Mr. W. F. Pogue, paid Paia a visit last Monday evening and spoke for an hour on what was now being done for the district in re the Paia and Makawao waterworks, the pipes for which are already on the way from the coast. He also touched on the matter of moving the court house from its present location to Paia, which he considered a move in the right direction (no pun intended) as did also the crowd of residents who had gathered to listen to the chairman of the board of supervisors, who has always taken a lively interest in the welfare of his old district, which has stood by him at the polls and will again, as all right-thinking people are only too anxious to give the man that has tried so hard to build up the district a fair chance to complete his work so well begun.

Mr. Pogue also listened very attentively to the plea of a number of speakers for street lights and oiled roads through the dusty little town of Paia, which would benefit all travelers as much as the Paia people, as it is the main road connecting all of the lower lying villages of the district, Kailua, Peahi, Pauwela and Haku.

Mr. Pogue was accompanied by Mrs. Pogue, their young daughter and two sons. As it was a nice, moonlight night they enjoyed the trip very much.

POPE PIUS X, WHO PASSED HIS SEVENTY-SEVENTH BIRTHDAY YESTERDAY.

ROME, June 2.—Pope Pius reached his seventy-seventh birthday anniversary today. Owing to the fact that he had been indisposed in health recently, there was no celebration of the day. During the morning, however, many of the cardinals, Vatican officials and other Italian and foreign churchmen and laymen left their cards and many addresses and telegrams of congratulations were received by His Holiness from all parts of the world.

THE MORNING CABLE REPORT

CHICAGO, June 2.—Last night the Roosevelt managers here announced that the first test of real strength in the national convention would come next Thursday when the claims of Mr. Howell, national committeeman from Nebraska, will come up before Victor Rosewater, acting chairman of the national committee.

This struggle may decide the complexion of the national committee prior to the hearing of the mass of contests which await decision of that body. Howell is one of the committeemen who claim the right to sit upon the committee prior to the convention. If he is successful the Roosevelt forces will undoubtedly control the committee.

MADISON, Wisconsin, June 3.—Mr. McGovern, chairman of the Wisconsin delegation to the Republican convention, yesterday declared that he had positively refused to appeal to William Barnes, Jr., of New York, to swing the New York delegation in opposition to Elihu Root for temporary chairman of the convention. Roosevelt men claim that this is an indication that the President can not secure the La Follette delegates which Wisconsin is sending to Chicago.

NEW YORK, June 3.—William Barnes Jr., leader of the New York delegation to Chicago, in an interview yesterday, declared that he has sent out four hundred appeals to delegates to stand for the appointment of Senator Root as temporary chairman. He declined to make any statement regarding the nature of the replies he has received.

OYSTER BAY, Long Island, June 2.—Looking anything but fagged after his strenuous weeks of campaigning Colonel Roosevelt yesterday gave out an interview to a number of newspaper men. During the course of his talk he asserted that he will follow the unwritten law that avowed candidates for nominations remain away from conventions. "That is," added, "unless some grave emergency in the shape of unfair play should arise before the convention opens." He assured the newspaper men that he is confident of the nomination.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Senator Lorimer left here last night for Washington. After his departure intimate friends declared reports that the senator intends tendering his resignation as soon as he arrives at the capital are "absolutely without foundation."

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, June 3.—Word was brought here last night that in the absence of its garrison, the plantation at Lamaya had been looted and sacked by a band of 800 negroes. The place is about thirty miles north of this city and troops have been dispatched as hurriedly as possible to the spot.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, June 2.—The American consul at the little town of Daiquiri, on the coast some miles southeast of this city, reports that the situation in and round that place is critical, and that the least turn in events is liable to result in bloodshed. Three hundred refugees from the Spanish-American company's mine have fled into this city and are begging for assistance. The rebels are reported to have invaded the mine property, demanding explosives for use against the federals.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, June 3.—Word has reached here officially that the inhabitants of eastern Sonora have risen against Orozco, the leader of the rebels, and have threatened to drive him out of that section of the country. From Ocampo comes the word that the rebels there are in desperate straits. They are in need of money with which to buy more provisions and their ammunition has almost run out.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—In a statement made for the customs officials here yesterday Third Officer C. B. Kenney, of the Pacific Mail liner Siberia, stated that there has been an opium den on board marked "hospital." He made other revelations regarding the smuggling of the drug. The records show that there have been 1928 fms of the stuff seized on the last five voyages of the vessel.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—It was announced here last night that the World's Fair Commissioners are planning a wonderful marble reproduction of the famous Greek Parthenon to crown Telegraph Hill by 1915. This building cost approximately $350,000.

BREMEN, Germany, June 3.—Lieutenant Stille, and his companion Herr Buchtaetter, an aviator, fell through the air a distance of approximately two hundred feet here yesterday afternoon, and were dashed to pieces at the very feet of a crowd of several thousand persons who had been watching the aeroplane in flight. The machine was smashed into a mass of twisted wires, torn canvas and broken frames.

WYTHEVILLE, Virginia, June 2.—Claude Allen of the band who entered a court room and shot down the judge and a number of others, was found guilty yesterday of murder in the second degree, in the killing of Judge Massie. He was sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment. The government intends to proceed against him for the murder of Sheriff Webb, in the fight with the posse that followed the shooting in the courthouse.

LIVERPOOL, England, June 3.—The giant steamer Carmania caught fire while lying at her dock last night and before the flames could be extinguished her upper works were burned. The cargo which she was taking on was damaged, although the exact extent has not been learned as yet.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 2.—The king yesterday formally opened the stadium in which the Olympic games will be held. There was an enormous crowd present, but the ceremonies were simple.

A picture of the stadium was given in the Star of Thursday last.

NEW YORK, June 2.—A body of fifty waiters from the Savoy marched out of the dining room just after the dinner hour crush began yesterday. They gathered in Fifth avenue, opposite the famous Cornelius Vanderbilt block and the crowd was rapidly augmented by the arrival of waiters and cooks from the Brevoort, Netherland, Breton Hall and De-moulo's restaurant, who had also walked out and left full dining rooms in their respective hotels. Large numbers of sympathizers also joined the mob. Trouble started when a messenger from headquarters announced that the managers of the hotels absolutely refused to meet the demands of the strikers or to listen to any suggestion of arbitration. Someone threw a stone and broke a window in a three million dollar residence across the street. The crowd blocked the street. On the arrival of the police the crowd refused to obey the order to disperse.

Many took refuge behind the wall of Central Park and bombarded the police with stones from there. Finally the police fired into the air above the heads of the rioters and the mob broke and fled in all directions. Nine alleged ringleaders in the rioting were arrested and held on heavy bail by the night court.
