

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

HONS & COKE ATTORNEYS AT LAW AGENTS The Germania Life Insurance Co. The Greenwich Fire Insurance Co. WAILUKU, MAUI

A. N. KEPOIKAI ATTORNEY AT LAW WAILUKU, MAUI

JOHN RICHARDSON ATTORNEY AT LAW LAHAINA, MAUI

ANTONIO TAVARES ATTORNEY AT LAW MAKAWAO, MAUI

J. M. KANEKUA ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW Office: Occidental Hotel, corner of King and Ahalea Streets. HONOLULU, H. I.

CHAS. CREIGHTON ATTORNEY AT LAW HONOLULU, H. I.

ATKINSON & JUDD ATTORNEYS AT LAW Office over Bishop & Co's bank, cor. Mendenhall and Kaunamau Streets. HONOLULU, H. I.

DAVIS & GEAR ATTORNEYS & COUNSELLORS AT LAW Practice in all the Courts of the Territory of Hawaii and in the Federal Courts. ROOMS 302, 209, 203 Judd Building HONOLULU, T. H.

JOHN WEBBICK, M. D. PHYSICIAN & SURGEON WAILUKU, MAUI

DR. DINEGAR PHYSICIAN & SURGEON KIHEI, MAUI

W. F. MCCONKEY, M. D. PHYSICIAN & SURGEON PALA, MAUI

R. J. MCCETTIGAN, M. D. PHYSICIAN & SURGEON HANA, MAUI

DR. L. A. SABBY PHYSICIAN & SURGEON SPECTACLESVILLE, MAUI

W. RUSSELL BOOTE, D. D. S. DENTIST Office, MAIN AND MARKET WAILUKU, MAUI

WONG TUCK MERCHANT TAILOR 111 Market Street, opp. Saloon. WAILUKU, MAUI

CHING HOU RESTAURANT & COFFEE SALOON FRESH BREAD EVERY DAY WAILUKU, MAUI

JAS. T. TAYLOR, M. Am. Soc. C. E. CONSULTING HYDRAULIC ENGINEER 106 Judd Bldg. HONOLULU

I. K. KAHOOKELE SURVEYOR WAILUKU, MAUI

BEARDSLEE & PAGE ARCHITECTS & BUILDERS Office Rooms 2 and 4, Arlington Annex. Tel. 426; P. O. Box 778. HONOLULU, H. I. Sketches and correct estimates furnished at short notice.

HOWARD & TRAIN ARCHITECTS Suite 7, Model Block, First Street Telephone 999 HONOLULU, H. I.

HARDY & NAONE CARPENTERS, CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS MAKAWAO, MAUI TELEPHONE No. 202.

S. B. HARRY Carpenter & Builder Estimates Furnished WAILUKU, MAUI

R. C. SEARLE Auctioneer FOR THE DISTRICT OF Lahaina Maui, T. H.

GREEN & CROWELL Contractors & Builders Estimates Furnished on all Classes of Buildings. WAILUKU, MAUI

BIEMARK Livery, Feed & Sale Stable Wm. GOODNESS, Prop. Hacks, Carriages, Buggies Saddle Horses ON SHORT NOTICE CARRIAGES MEET ALL STEAMERS

Maui Stable HANS AMUNDSON, PROP. Hacks and Saddle Horses AT ALL HOURS Vineyard Street, Wailuku, Maui Telephone No. 235

WAILUKU STABLES JOHN DOREGO, PROP. HACKS Carriages, Buggies and Saddle Horses ON SHORT NOTICE Carriages meet Steamers TELEPHONE NO. Opp. Iao Saloon, Wailuku, Maui

WONG TUCK MERCHANT TAILOR 111 Market Street, opp. Saloon. WAILUKU, MAUI

CHING HOU RESTAURANT & COFFEE SALOON FRESH BREAD EVERY DAY WAILUKU, MAUI

SEND TO

THE WHITE HOUSE

420 Fort St Honolulu

AND TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE SPECIAL SALE OF HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

WE BUY FOR CASH

Table listing various household goods and their prices, including Bed Spreads, Lace Curtains, Mosquito Net, Cotton Face Towels, Linen Table Towels, Table Runners, NAPKINS, and Sheetings.

WE SELL FOR CASH

MAIL ADDRESS

AMERICAN DRY GOODS ASS'N

P. O. BOX 100

FOREIGN NEWS

The Rescue of Shields.

New York, Oct. 16.—A cable to the Star from Manila says: The rescue of Captain Devereux Shields and fifty-one men of Company F, Twenty-ninth Regiment, who were captured in September by the insurgents in the Island of Mariquina, was due to the prompt, energetic and decisive campaign of the adequate force that was dispatched to their aid as soon as it was known that they had fallen into the hands of the enemy.

Threats of Massacre.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Shanghai telegrams report that the local mandarins have received a dispatch from Prince Tuan announcing that the court is now in safe keeping, and exhorting them to have patience until winter declines the allies; to keep the arsenals constantly at work and everything ready for a massacre of all foreigners when the proper time arrives.

Peace Negotiations with China.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—M. Thiebaut, charge d'affaires of the French Embassy, today presented a memorandum to the State Department from the French Government asking that peace negotiations with China begin immediately in accordance with the favorable action of the powers on the recent French note.

German Chancellor to Resign.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Persistent reports said to be based on official information are current to the effect that Prince Hohenlohe's resignation of the imperial chancellorship is pending.

Another Potha Caught.

Losbox, Oct. 17.—A dispatch received here today from Lord Roberts under date of Pretoria, October 16th, reports a number of minor affairs but says that the only incident of importance was the surrendering of Unis Botha's brother, Commandant General Botha, at Volksrust, October 13th.

Russia Ready for War.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Moscow correspondent of the Standard attaches significance to a speech made by the Russian general in command at Wilna to some troops who had been ordered to China, but recalled to Odessa on the very eve of sailing. He says that the general in addressing the troops made this explanation: "The Czar decided it was necessary to bring you back to Wilna so you might be ready here to join us again if a foe we shall be ordered to meet."

New China Rumors.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Times has the following from Hongkong, dated yesterday: The situation in the Wei-Hai-Wei Prefecture is serious. In six districts the cities are in the hands of the rebels. If an outbreak should occur in Canton its suppression would be difficult.

HONGKONG, Oct. 12.—The reformer, Sun Yat Sen, according to dispatches from Canton, has unfurled the reform flag in the important town of Wei-chow, on East River. This act has given rise to considerable excitement in military circles in Canton, as it is believed the object of the reformers in raising their flag at Wei-chow is to demand Canton of troops, so that they can seize the city.

Take the Offensive.

MANILA, Oct. 11.—The west coast of the island of Leyte in a state of turmoil, the rebel leaders are actively plundering, the disturbers following off tactics, raiding and attacking and then returning to the garrisoned towns, while the Americans pursue in the mountains. General Mison's officers are surrendering and his soldiers are attempting to escape to Samar by boats are being captured and his organization broken up.

North Pole Expedition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Still another American attempt to be made to the North Pole, and the announcement is made that it is to be carried through it takes $1,000,000 to accomplish it. Robert B. Peary, an Arctic explorer, is to be the leader of this expedition and his chief backer is to be William Ziegler. The first official announcement of this expedition was made by the American Consul in Copenhagen.

TELEGRAPHIC ITEMS

The Porte still negotiates to pay the America indemnity.

The Gold Democrats have issued an address arraigning Bryan.

Lord Roberts will return to England the latter part of this month.

Sir Thomas Lipton cornered pork in Chicago, and it jumped $2 in one day.

The Filipinos are alleged to be offering rewards for the ears of Americans.

The coal strike shows little change, both strikers and owners holding their position.

Vancouver, B. C., laboring men are inaugurating a crusade against Chinese and Japanese.

Amer Bland, an American mining man in Corea, was hacked to pieces by his native employees.

Crops are reported to be in better condition in India. The plague is raging there worse than ever.

Senator Clark will spend a year's income, or $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 to get a vindication in Montana.

More than $200,000,000 will be asked for the support of the Army and Navy during the next fiscal year.

Pupils of San Bernardino High School are out on a strike, as a result of differences with teachers.

W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., has bet a New York banker that he can run his auto from York to Minneapolis in fifteen days.

It is announced that there were 20,000 spectators at the sixty-eighth production of the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

Chamberlain is severely criticized for the speech in which he says that every seat lost to the Government is a seat sold to the Biers.

Two men were blown out to sea from Nome in an open boat, and were eight days adrift without water. They were delirious when arrested.

A submarine boat will search for the hull of the steamer Lexington, which was sunk off Bridgeport, Conn. half a century ago with 500,000 on board.

The chief South American Republics will participate in the Spanish American Congress, to meet at Madrid next month. The Congress will strive to promote Spanish commercial competition with the United States.

A young woman, identified as Mrs. res. has been arrested for kidnaping $100,000 worth of United States bonds.

A young woman, identified as Mrs. res. has been arrested for kidnaping $100,000 worth of United States bonds.

A young woman, identified as Mrs. res. has been arrested for kidnaping $100,000 worth of United States bonds.

Hoffman & Vetlesen NEW GOODS!!

JUST RECEIVED A Big stock of goods of all kinds personally selected by our Mr. Vetlesen.

Come and see our Steel Ranges, Blue Flame Stoves, Sewing Machines, Bath Tubs, Hammocks Etc., Etc., Etc.

TELEPHONE No. 75 Goods will be delivered at Wailuku Monday, Wednesday and Friday; at Wailuku Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday; and at all other places in Wailuku.

A. J. RODRIGUES General Merchandise

LADIES DRESS MAKERS AND TRIMMINGS FRESH GROCERIES PINEAPPLES HAMS BACON LARD

Goods delivered in Wailuku, Monday, Tuesday and Saturday; in Wailuku daily. TELEPHONE No. 10

Paia Plantation Store GOODS

Retail at Wholesale Prices Freight Paid on all Orders of $10 and upwards

Photographs H. L. CHASE

Portrait and Landscape Photographs ISLAND VIEWS Main Street, Wailuku

Windsor Hotel

WAILUKU, MAUI Hacks and Carriages Telephone No. 255 Lodging House formerly Wailuku Hotel 100 Cents per Night

Maui News

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY

OFFICE: BAILEY BLOCK, MAIN ST. WAILUKU, MAUI, H. I.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

One year (in advance) $2.50
Six months 1.50

Resubscribers of the News should communicate with the postoffice at Wailuku, Maui, Hawaii, for change of address. State your name which will be used in the future if desired.

G. B. ROBERTSON, Ed. and Prop.
M. L. O. J. ROBERTSON, Bus. Mgr.

Saturday, OCTOBER 27

MAUI BLUE BOOK

Hon. J. W. Keala, Circuit Judge	Wailuku
J. K. N. Keala, Clerk Circuit Court	Wailuku
Judge G. B. Robertson, Dist. Magistrate	Wailuku
" Kabonahala, " "	Maui
" Kabonahala, " "	Maui
" Kakaiahi, " "	Maui
" Joseph, " "	Hana
" Pihama, " "	Kipahulu
" Mahoe, " "	Molokai
" Kabonahala, " "	Louai
L. M. Baldwin, Sheriff	Wailuku
A. N. Haywood, Deputy Sheriff	Wailuku
W. H. King, " "	Maui
C. R. Lindsay, " "	Lahaina
E. Whitlock, " "	Hana
G. Trimble, " "	Molokai
W. E. Saffery, Captain Police	Wailuku
S. Kalamia, " "	Maui
M. Kautanaha, " "	Lahaina
Lindsay, " "	Hana
F. J. Frawley, " "	Molokai
C. H. Dickey, Tax Assessor	Haliu
W. T. Robinson, Deputy Assessor	Wailuku
W. O. Allen, " "	Paia
G. Dennis, " "	Lahaina
G. Gross, " "	Hana

GERMANY'S PROGRAM IN CHINA.

The German note announcing the Kaiser's immediate program in China coincided with Count Von Waldsee's arrival on Chinese soil. During the past few weeks thousands of German soldiers also have been landed there, while the German division of battle ships must now be approaching the coast. That Germany means to pursue a course of aggression seems no longer doubtful. The Kaiser's demand that the "few" persons "who have proved to be the original and real instigators of the outrages against international law which have occurred at Peking" be delivered up to the foreign powers for punishment, before any peace negotiations with China be opened—this demand is so extreme that it seems to banish hope of a speedy settlement and to leave China and the powers in what amounts to a state of war.

The demands of Germany seem aimed straight at the empress regent, who is, or has been until recently, the lawful ruler of China. It has been charged ever since these troubles arose that she was the "original" and "real" instigator of the outrages in Peking. The English, who apparently sympathize with the German position, are very bitter against the empress, and all along have declared that she should be punished. Dr. Morrison, the London Times' Peking correspondent, has steadily laid the responsibility for the attacks upon the legations not upon the boxers but upon the Chinese government, of which the empress regent was the head. As early as July 5, it may be added, Mr. Brodriek said in the House of Commons for the British government that the imperial authorities at Peking would be held "personally guilty" of any injuries sustained by Europeans. Great Britain's present position appears to differ from Germany's only in the fact that Lord Salisbury does not yet insist that the punishment of the guilty ones who were in authority shall precede negotiations for a settlement.

If the Chinese have an atom of self respect they will never consent to surrender their empress regent, or even lesser members of the government, to foreign powers to be punished as those powers may choose for offenses which could be adequately proved only after an impartial investigation. It is true that attacks were made upon the foreign legations at Peking, but the foreign fleets had already bombarded and taken the Chinese forts at the mouth of the Peiho river. The Chinese had grievances against foreigners, and, when that bombardment had taken place, it is very possible that the imperial government considered itself at war. Even then, of course, no possible excuse existed for besieging the legations, yet if China is an empire to which diplomatic officers are accredited, it seems proper that in case of international difficulties so closely approaching war its government be treated as a government, and not as the chief of a wild central African tribe. To insist upon certain things, which should properly be matters for consideration in the negotiations for peace, before opening those negotiations, is to deny to China fundamental rights as a sovereign power. The utter collapse of Chinese statehood may as well be admitted at once if these conditions are insisted upon. Certainly the Chinese could not be blamed for objecting to such measures. They are ready to negotiate for a settlement. In the negotiations the powers can state their demands concerning punishment and reparation, and if the Chinese decline to concede them, the powers will be at liberty to use further coercion. But why should any nation, with a semblance of pride, consent to determine one of the subjects of negotiations before negotiations had commenced, as Minister Wu expresses it?

The exact proposition made to the various powers by the German government is that "the cabinets concerned should instruct their representatives at Peking to indicate those leading Chinese personages from whose guilt in instigating or perpetrating outrages all doubt is excluded." This amounts to subjecting an indefinite number of Chinese to a "star chamber" trial by a few foreigners who are in Peking as the diplomatic agents of foreign governments. And those few foreigners, moreover, are men whose judicial sense has naturally been somewhat shattered by the bitter experiences they have been subjected to the past summer. At least, it would be fairer to have a new set of men try the case so that exact justice might be done, especially in view of the enormous issues at stake.

The German note has every appearance of having been intentionally couched in terms so severe that a speedy and peaceful settlement with China would be impossible. The note comes from the power which, a few years ago, as reparation for the death of two missionaries, exacted from China the sea port of Kiao Chou and substantially the whole province of Shantung. It comes from the power whose territorial hunger is known to be more ravenous than that of any other nation and which now possesses as an asset empire the murmur of its envoy in the streets of Peking. True, the German foreign minister has declared that his government did not "desire the partition of China," but that phrase is very far from forbidding the further dismemberment of China in the supposed interests of the German empire.

The Law and the Flag.

The extent to which our laws follow the flag into new possessions is dealt with in a decision rendered by Commissioner Hermann of the General Land Office. He decides that the appropriations for surveying public lands does not apply to the island of Porto Rico. The commission says that as there exists no United States law for the survey and disposal of Porto Rican lands, which, under the cession from Spain inure to our government, "it would appear that Congressional legislation will be necessary before any action can be taken."

"Congress alone," he says, "has inherent power and control over the lands belonging to the government. The executive branch can exercise only such power as Congress may delegate. Until the office of the surveyor general has been discontinued in any state the commissioner of the general land office does not become ex officio surveyor and perform duties of surveyor general. No surveyor general has been authorized for Porto Rico, and no plan of surveys has been prescribed."

Citing the special extension to Alaska of the general survey laws, the decision holds that if the surveys could not have been made in Alaska until specifically authorized by Congress, the inference is that they cannot be made in Porto Rico until so authorized. The commissioner recommends that some means be adopted by commission or otherwise, to ascertain the location and quantity of land whose title remained in the crown at the date of cession of Porto Rico to the United States.

The Peking Massacre.

A co-operative force must be collected at the mouth of the Peiho from all the nations whose envoys have been murdered. This force must be strong enough to sweep all before it. In the United States must be represented, not for vengeance, an unchristian and unworthy desire, but for justice—inexorable justice; delayed it may be and slow, but which when it smites, will smite without respect of persons from Prince Tuan to the most ignorant rioter known to have shared in this fell, foul work. Japan, as the executor of an international mandate, could have planted her flag at Peking weeks ago. It will not be easy for those who objected to her doing so to escape blame for what has happened because she did not do so.

At the recent Atlanta, Ga., meeting of the Young People's Christian Union of the Universalist Church a resolution imposing total abstinence on the members and enlisting their efforts for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors was defeated by a large majority. The opposition was based on the idea that such a resolution would be a restraint on the liberty of individual action.

Carroll D. Wright estimates 1,803, 300 wage workers in labor organizations in the United States. He credits the A. F. of L. with 1,000,000 of these.

A Denver preacher is advocating municipal control of the saloon business. This should, at least, be a change from saloon control of municipal business.

If more British troops are needed in China, Oom Paul can spare a few.

The News greets its readers this week with the announcement of another new enterprise, larger in its scope than any yet announced. This time, Kahului is the lucky winner and Wailuku extends hearty congratulations. There are yet many opportunities to embark in paying enterprises on Maui. One by one they are being developed, and each one that comes strengthens all the rest. As long as such opportunities remain undeveloped, it will be the policy of this paper to point them out. This does not mean that Wailuku is to be boomed in any sense of the term. And it is to be hoped that no one will come to Maui and start a new business before having carefully figured out the chances and demonstrated its success. But it is to be hoped, at the same time, that the many excellent opportunities now offered to develop good paying businesses will not have to wait long for the right man to come along.

It is a mistake for any firm doing business in any town to believe that advertising in their town paper will not pay. Such advertising, intelligently done, will pay for itself many times over. Of course a formal advertisement, left standing too long will become dusty and shop worn, but a live advertiser, who insists in telling through the advertising columns of his town paper, in an attractive form, just what he has to sell and what he wants to sell, can depend on it that his advertisement will find interested readers who want exactly what he has got for sale. This truth is demonstrated over and over again in live business communities, but the merchants of Maui have yet to learn by experience the true value of printers' ink.

The recent rains on central Maui will mean many thousands of dollars in the pockets of the shareholders of sugar stock in this favored region. Almost every afternoon rain bearing showers drift across the Haiku, Paia and Spreckelsville plantations. The other afternoon when a heavy shower was falling, the people of Wailuku saw a resplendent rainbow, one end of which seemed to be resting on the Spreckelsville mill. And for once there was a big pot of money at the end of that rainbow.

It was a bold move on the part of the independents to throw L. O. Carter and E. Macfarlane overboard. Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad, and it does seem an act of madness on their part. Perhaps the true explanation is that the independents feel that they are strong enough to run things without help. Election day will disabuse their minds, so far as Maui is concerned, and there are certain indications that Wilcoxism will receive its eternal quietus at the next election.

The people of Maui should at once organize a horticultural society. There are enough people interested in such matters to make the society a success, and there is very much good and needed work to be done by such a society. It would, for one thing, enlist the interest of the people with small land holdings in the planting of fruits well adapted to the soil and climate, and directly and indirectly do much to promote the interests of the Island, and at the same time supply a long felt want for Island fruits.

It is not to be doubted that Germany will push China into a war, and the other great powers of the world realize that fact. And it is not to be doubted that nothing but a liberal slice of China will be ceded to Germany as a result of that war, and the great powers of Europe realize that fact also. The great powers are not worrying, however, as they will each receive a slice, when the time for division comes.

There has been considerable criticism of a friendly nature concerning the personnel of the MAUI NEWS ticket, and the questions, "why was this man put on", or "why was that man left off" has been repeatedly asked. To all such we would say that the reasons for making the ticket were fully stated at the time it was published. If poor judgment was used, point it out.

While developing the material side of Wailuku, her citizens are not unmindful of the spiritual side, and when last week it was proposed to raise funds and invite a minister to come and help us to be better men, women and children, the citizens of the town responded at once, and in three of four days, $1200 was raised for that purpose. Don't Wailuku deserve to grow and wax fat?

They have a great big plumbers' trust in Honolulu, Wailuku can sympathize with Honolulu, for we had a taste of that same here recently, during the laying of the water pipe in Wailuku. Fortunately the gentleman engaged here made his fortune and retired from business, and now our plumbing work is being done at fair rates.

Bryan has flung the traditions to the winds, in taking the stump in his own behalf as candidate for presidential honors, but he is gaining votes thereby. It is an undignified position for him to occupy, but it is bringing him close to the voters.

The indications are that the native vote of Maui is beginning to drift back to its first love, the independent party and Bob Wilcox. Poi talks. Chicken luau argues. Head them off!

Flag Poles

An Invoice of Realty Excellent Spars from 30 to 60 feet long.

Straight; free from Knots.

KAHULUI R. R. CO. KAHULUI.

KAHULUI

R. R. CO.

IMPORTERS

And Dealers in

COAL

BUILDING MATERIAL

AGENTS

Wilder S. S. Co.

Terminals at Wailuku, Spreckelsville and Paia.

CENTRAL OFFICE

Kahului, Maui.

TELEPHONE No. 1

Maui Soda AND Ice Works

R. A. WADSWORTH Proprietor

Constantly on Hand

Ice
Soda Water
Ginger Ale
Root Beer
Celery & Iron
Strawberry Soda
and Fruit Syrups.

Delivery wagon will visit Wailuku Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays; Haiku, Tuesdays and Fridays; Kihei, Mondays and Thursdays; Kahului, Mondays and Saturdays; Spreckelsville, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Post Office Address: Maui Soda & Ice Works Kahului, Maui, T. H.

ESTABLISHED

BISHOP & CO BANKERS

Honolulu, H.

TRANSACT A

A General Banking and

Exchange Business

Commercial and Traveler's

Letters of Credit Issued available in all the principal cities of the world.

Special attention given to the business entrusted to us by our friends of the other islands, either as deposits, collections, insurance or request for exchange.

Read the MAUI NEWS

Stationery

OF ALL KINDS

can be had at the office of the

Maui

News

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Foreign and

Island News

We also have a complete and up-to-date line of Job Type and are prepared to do

FINE

ARTISTIC

JOB WORK

PRINT

Letter Heads

Bill Heads

Statements

Envelopes

Programmes

Invitations

Cards

Circulars

Posters

Etc., Etc.

All work executed in a

NEAT AND

SATISFACTORY

MANNER

When in need of Printing of any kind

GIVE US A CALL

THE

Maui News

LOCALS

W. H. Field of the Maui Drug Store Co. takes a flying trip to Honolulu today, returning on Wednesday next.

The Maunaloa Seminary, at Makawao, will open for the winter term on November 5, with Miss Alexander as principal.

Lots of rain on central Maui this week, which is doing the cane crops a great deal of good, simply raining money, in fact.

The Kinau brought no mail on Tuesday night, and it was in the afternoon of Wednesday before the Glendale mail reached Wailuku.

Mr. Arthur Waal, of the Lahaina post office went to Honolulu on the Mauna Loa on Monday and returned to Lahaina on Tuesday's Maui, a full fledged "presidential" postmaster.

Mr. Ferd Hons will succeed David Meyer as General Freight Agent of the Kahului R. R. Co., and John L. Regan, of Honolulu, has accepted the position of freight clerk at the Kahului R. R. depot.

Grimwood & Richardson have completed a preliminary survey of the grade and water supply of Iao Valley for electrical purposes, but the unusual amount of rain at present has delayed further operations temporarily.

H. Herbert Horsey, general manager for Eastern Asia, of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company of Toronto, Canada, is on Maui this week in the interests of his company. Bishop & Co's Bank will be the Agents for the Islands.

Mr. Wadsworth, of the Maui Soda & Ice Works, wishes to impress it emphatically upon his correspondents that his post office address in KAUAI, MAUI, and not Wailuku. Parties writing him will please make a note of this and save delay.

Cyrus Green and Frank Correa were tried and acquitted on the charge of illicit liquor traffic in the Wailuku District Court. Frank Garcia and John Medeiros were tried, convicted and each fined $100 without costs. Their cases will be appealed to the next term of the Circuit Court.

A check for $1000 was sent from Honolulu to the ladies who are promoting the "Settlement" in Wailuku, by the last "Claudine". A number of prominent Hawaiian gentlemen and ladies of Wailuku have also subscribed generously to the enterprise, and it will be pushed to completion at once.

Mr. Chas. E. Jacob, representing the Provident Insurance Company of New York, has been on Maui for a couple of weeks, and has done a good business. On Sunday evening last, he dined and dined a number of gentlemen at Schrader's New Hotel, preparatory to a trip to Hilo. He leaves for Hilo Tuesday but will return in a week to write up some left-over cases.

Mr. Wadsworth, of the Maui Soda & Ice Works, has this week ordered from the Coast a new three-ton ice machine, and also a latest improved power soda machine capable of turning out 1500 dozen bottles per day. Mr. Wadsworth has lived and done business here for some years, and consequently knows what the community needs. Such enterprise is commendable, and deserves success.

The tunnel being run in Iao Valley by Manager Wells, under superintendency of Mr. Carl Waldeyer, has reached a length of 770 feet and has developed a million gallons of water per 24 hours. The head of the tunnel is now 35 feet below the surface, in gravel, and is reaching a heavy water bearing strata. It will probably be run 250 feet further, and will be completed in a couple of months.

Mr. Rosecrans, principal of the Ulapalukua school visited Wailuku last Saturday. He states that the reason why Dr. Dinegar did not visit and inspect his school was that the doctor was sick and telephoned a message to that effect to a neighbor. The message was not delivered, and Mr. Rosecrans, not understanding the delay, wrote to the Superintendent of Schools about it. On learning the cause of the delay, Mr. Rosecrans wrote an explanation to the Honolulu papers and asked them to give it the same publicity which they had given his letter to the Superintendent of Schools.

ANOTHER!

Electric Light Plant, Steam Laundry, Cold Storage, Ice, and Soda Water Plant.

All Under one Roof and Management.

The largest enterprise yet heralded by the News, has been inaugurated, and within four months will be in active operation.

This will be an electric light plant, a cold storage, an ice and soda water plant and a steam laundry, all under one management. The plant will be established at Kahului, a site for that purpose having already been secured. The capital stock of the enterprise will be $25,000, the whole of which has already been paid in. Local capital has taken $10,000 of the stock, and the promoters have put up the rest. The reason for putting up the whole of the money at once is that some years ago a somewhat similar enterprise was undertaken, and the treasurer skipped with the funds.

Mr. Grimwood, of Grimwood & Richardson, and Mr. W. H. Field of the Maui Drug Store are the prime movers in the enterprise. The directors of the company will be Mr. Grimwood, Mr. Field, W. T. Robinson and Attorney J. L. Coke of Wailuku, and Col. W. H. Cornwell of Waikapu.

The power for the electric light plant will temporarily be a gasoline or steam engine, and eventually electric power from Iao Valley. Wires will at once be strung from Kahului to Wailuku, so that lights may be furnished here at an early date.

An up-to-date ice machine will be installed, and distilled water will be used in the manufacture of ice and soda water. A proposition was made to the local ice and soda plant to join the enterprise, but we understand that the proposition was not entertained. It is probable, however, that there will be a coalition later. Cold storage will be an important feature of the enterprise, and a small gasoline steamer, fitted with cold storage will be one of the assets of the company. This steamer will ply between Maui and Honolulu, bringing fat beef and mutton, and treating the Honoluluans to delicate Maui and Molokai mutton.

A steam laundry will be put in at once, and the management promise that within four months the entire plant will be in full blast.

New Hotel at Kahului.

Plans have been perfected for the new hotel at Kahului, and as soon as carpenters arrive from Honolulu, work will be begun and pushed to a finish.

The hotel will be a two story frame building with six large, well ventilated rooms up stairs. On the first floor will be the dining room, parlors, sitting room, reading room and smoker, one large bed room, kitchen, bath rooms, pantries, etc.

The hotel will stand just west of the new wharf, close by the water's edge. Large lanais will surround both the lower and upper floor, the latter to probably be enclosed with glass on the makai side, making a fine observatory.

The hotel is being built by the H. C. & S. Co., at the suggestion of Supt. Filler, and is intended for the convenience of travellers rather than a money making proposition. If well managed, however, it cannot help paying.

Costs Six Dollars.

It costs six dollars to thrash your step-father in Wailuku. The other day a Hawaiian plead guilty to licking his father, a venerable old man, before the District Magistrate, and was sentenced to three months hard labor. On appeal to the Circuit court in mitigation of sentence, the fact developed that it was only his step-father whom he licked, and the price was reduced to six dollars. What it costs to thrash your mother-in-law has not yet been passed upon by the District Magistrate.

Sad Death of a Kihai Miner.

On Monday last, the sad news reached Wailuku that Mr. John McAuley of Kihai had been instantly killed by an explosion of giant powder. His partner Thomas Nolan gives the following graphic account of the accident.

"We were about ready to blast on Monday afternoon at 5:10, P. M. I went to the mouth of the shaft and gave the three bell signal to the engineer to stand by, and the engineer signalled back, "all right." I then fired my holes, and just as I had finished, I heard Jack call out to his Jap helper, "Get out of the shaft as quick as you can." I and my Jap helper were standing by the hoist bucket and I sung out "Come on Jack, quick."

He answered back "I've one more hole, Tom." I called to him again, and just then I heard one of Jack's shots go off. I got no answer, and I think he was killed by that shot. I and the two Japs ran behind the machinery for protection, and as the first shot put out the lights, we stood there in the dark till all the shots went off. I then found my way to the bucket and signalled to hoist. When I reached the top I called the foreman, and we went back down and found Jack by the bulkhead, dead."

A rock had struck Mr. McAuley on the back of the head, crushing in his skull and killing him instantly. There was no other wound on the body.

The remains were brought to Wailuku and impressive funeral services held at the Catholic Mission, Father James officiating.

Mr. McAuley was from Sausalville Tuolumne County, California, where he leaves a wife and three children. Just a few hours before accident, he had received a letter from his wife, and was reading it to the boys and rejoicing at hearing from home.

Deceased was about 35 years old and was a sober and steady man highly esteemed by his employers and held in affectionate regard by his comrades.

Comes to Wailuku.

Mr. David Meyer, who left Wailuku six years ago to accept a position with the Kahului Railroad Company, has resigned his position as general freight agent, and will come to Wailuku on the first on the month to reside, with his family. He has rented and will occupy the residence formerly occupied by Attorney George Hons.

Mr. Meyer has been a trusted and valuable employee of the Railroad Company, whom Supt. Filler will regret to lose, and whose place will not be easily filled. Mr. Meyer will find no trouble in securing profitable employment in Wailuku, and the firm or business which secures his services may reckon itself lucky.

Mr. Meyer belongs to the energetic, progressive and liberal minded class of citizens whom Wailuku needs, and his advent amongst us will be a cause of congratulation.

The Salvation Army Meetings.

Meetings will be conducted as follows:
Wailuku, Sat. Eve. Oct. 27, at 7:30 P. M.
Wailuku, Sun. Eve. Oct. 28, at 7:30 P. M.
(Jail Sun. Oct. 28, at 11 a. m.
Junior Sun. at 3, p. m.
Wailuku Band of Love, Mon. Oct. 29 at 2:30
Hamakua-poko, Tues. Eve. Oct. 30, at 7:30 p. m.
Paia Wed. 31, at 7:30 p. m.
Kahului Thur. Eve. Nov 1 at 7:30 p. m.
Kihai Fri. Eve. Nov. 2, at 3, p. m.

BORN.—On October 23, 1900, to Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Carley, at Paia, a daughter.

Davey

PHOTOGRAPHIC Co. LIMITED. MOTT-SMITH BLOCK. Corner Fo and Hotel Streets.

HONOLULU

POLITICS.

THE MAUI NEWS TICKET

For Delegate to Congress

HON. SAMUEL PARKER.

For Senators, Second Senatorial District

H. P. BALDWIN
A. N. KEPOKAI
W. H. CORNWELL

For Representatives, Third Representative District

JOHN RICHARDSON
C. H. DICKEY
GEORGE HONS
J. HAPAI NUI
F. H. HAYSELDEN
D. H. KAHAULELIO

Attorney George Hons went to Hana this week on a political trip.

D. P. Eldredge, democratic candidate for representative, is making an active and winning fight.

Prince David, accompanied by several other democratic speakers will visit Maui next week and make another tour of the Island.

Bob Wilcox came over to Maui on Wednesday in company with his gas tank well filled with arguments in favor of returning Bob to Congress. He returned to Honolulu last night.

Hon. T. B. Lyons, candidate for senator, and Hon. Thomas Clark, candidate for representative for Maui, have been to Molokai and Kaui, but returned on the Mauna Loa last night.

The name of Philip Pali would have gone on the MAUI NEWS ticket had it not been that Molokai is entitled to representation of some sort, and nobody on Maui, not even excepting Bro. Coke, the "carpet bagger", seems to know who Paia Naki is or was or ever hopes to be. Mr. Pali is, however, a bright and progressive young Hawaiian.

Bob Wilcox possesses a wonderful influence over the ignorant Hawaiian voters, and the News would argue stoutly for their immediate disfranchisement, if it were not that Bob Wilcox's prototype on the mainland, Mr. Bryan, were polling so many ignorant hale votes this fall. If we argue for the disfranchisement of the one, consistency would compel us to ask for the disfranchisement of the other.

The Hawaiian women of Wailuku are determined to see that their husbands are not ginned out of a vote at this election. They called a meeting the other day, and by formally enacted resolutions, determined that early on the morning of election day they will round up their lords and masters and corral them in the skating rink, from which they will be led forth in squads to the polls under escort of a committee of their wives and sweethearts, and made to exercise their right of suffrage, before they are liberated.

Pithy Point.

The secret vote is the thing that does the trick.—Hawaii Democrat.

"The Republican party is an overshoot of the democratic party."
—John E. Bush.

Hawaii may take the prize for heavenly twins. A fusion of republicans and democrats is talked of to beat a third party.—Globe-Democrat.

There will never be peace among the nations until there is some way devised for making the jingoes get to the firing line and do the fighting.
—Star.

"How are you going to vote this time?" Inquired the horny-fisted Son of Toll.

"For my bread and butter," answered the Plodding Wage Earner who wore a Sam Packered egg on his hat.

"I don't believe there is a trust in the United States. The State laws make trusts impossible, and I want to tell you that every trust law in the statute-books of State or nation was enacted by the Republican party."
—Mark Hanna.

REPUBLICAN PARTY

NOMINEES

For Delegate to Congress

HON. SAMUEL PARKER.

For Senators, Second Senatorial District

H. P. BALDWIN,

A. N. KEPOKAI,

MAINEKI H. REUTER,

For Representatives, Third Representative District

J. K. NARILA

C. H. DICKEY

HENRY LONG

GEO. HONS

PHILIP PALI

D. H. KAHAULELIO

DEMOCRATIC PARTY

NOMINEES

For Delegate to Congress

HON. DAVID KAWANANAKOA,

For Senators, Second Senatorial District

W. H. CORNWELL,

THOMAS CLARK

T. B. LYONS

For Representatives, Third Representative District

JOHN RICHARDSON

F. H. HAYSELDEN

D. P. ELDRIDGE

J. HAPAI NUI

PAIA NAKI

CANDIDATES

GEORGE HONS

REPUBLICAN PARTY NOMINEE

For REPRESENTATIVE.

NOTICE.

Quong Fung & Co. will close their store on October 1st, 1900. All bills against the store must be sent in at once as the manager leaves for China, October 10th. All persons indebted to the Quong Fung Store must call and settle at once, or their accounts will be placed in the hands of a collector.

AH YOU, Manager.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS.

On September 1st, the following regulations in regard to freight handled by the Kahului Railroad Company, will go into effect.

1. No freight will be received at any of the depots unless accompanied by a Shipping receipt, stamped as the law directs. Bills may be obtained of any of the Station Agents.
2. No freight will be received unless delivered at depot 30 minutes before departure of trains.
3. Freight for shipment per S. S. "Claudine" to Honolulu or way ports must be delivered, at Kahului before noon of day of sailing, and freight for East Maui ports must be delivered at Kahului before 9 a. m. of sailing day.

Kahului Railroad Company.

R. W. FILLER,

Manager, Kahului, Maui, August 23rd 1900.

For Sale.

Kula Corn Land.

A tract of fine corn land in Kula, consisting of 104 acres, now owned by L. Von Temsky and Lee Tat Sun.

A very low price will be asked to avoid expense of Court partition and sale. Inquire of DAVIS & GEAR, Attorneys at Law, Judd Building, Honolulu, H. T.

Advertise

Your business in the MAUI NEWS

W. H. KIN

Corner Main & Market Streets, WAILUKU, MAUI.

Carpenter & Builder
Plans and estimates furnished.

WAGON & CARRIAGE REPAIRING

LARGE STOCK

—OF—
First Class Material on Hand.

Cabinet Work a Specialty.

W. H. KING

Kinder Beach

Plumbers & Pipe-Fitters

Material furnished for Connect on with City Water Mains.

Wailuku, Maui, H. I.

Wailuku Saloon

G. MACFARLANE & Co., Ltd. Proprietors.

Pure American and Scotch Whiskeys
Selected Brandy
Beer & Wines

Ice Cold Drinks

Opp. Wailuku Depot
WAILUKU, - - MAUI

LAHAINA SALOO

MATT. McCANN PROPRIETOR

Choice Brands of American & Scotch Whiskey

Beer, Ale AND Wine

Ice Cold Drinks.

Lahaina, Maui H. I.

W. C. Peacock & Co. LIMITED.

GREEN RIVER WHISKY

Ushers Scotch O. V. C. Special Reserve

PABST BEER & TONIC FREEBOOTER GIN.

Marie Brizard & Roger French Brandy and Liqueurs

Standard Champagne and Table Wines.

All Leading Brands
PHONE 4, HONOLULU
BRIDGE STREET HILO, HAWAII

LOVEJOY & Co.

Liquor Dealers

AGENTS FOR

Rainier Bottled Beer, of Seattle

C. Carpy & Co., Uncle Sam Wine Cellars and Distillery, Napa, Cal

Jesse Moore Whiskey
Cream Pure Rye Whiskey

Long Life Whiskey
Lexington Club Old Bourbon Whiskey

Walnutine
J. F. Cutter's Whiskey

Moet & Chandon White Seal Champagne

A. G. DICKINS, Manager
WAILUKU, MAUI, T. H.

THEIR ONLY JOY

By Charles Welsh.

Copyright, 1905, by Charles Welsh.

(In the smoking room of the Players' club, New York.)

Frank Gayman blowing an enormous cloud—My love, I must write to Cecile! She looks for a letter from me every day, and I hate to disappoint her. She says my letters are her only joy, and it must be pretty dull for her down there at Newport with only Hilda for a companion.

(Writes.) "My Darling Wife—I have been so busy that I have not been able to get up town to the house to dinner, so I have just dropped in here."

(Enter George, his clerk.) "Busy, Frank?"

"No; only writing to my wife."

"Oh, drop that and come and have a game of billiards."

"Well, I don't care if I do."

"They go to billiards. After an hour's play."

"What do you say to a look in at a roof garden for an hour or two, Frank? It's too jolly hot for anything else."

"I'm with you, George."

(At the roof garden.) "Why, there are the Dennis girls, and alone!"

The Dennis girls (together)—Oh, you forsaken husbands! This is the way you console yourselves for the absence of your lawful spouses, is it?

"Yes. Come along and join us."

(Cooling liquids, badinage and flirtation for the next two hours; later on, supper for four at a Bohemian restaurant.)

(Midnight. Frank at home preparing to retire.) "Gee whiz! I never wrote to Cecile." (Seizes a postcard and writes.)

"At Home, Midnight."

"Important business all day. Too late for more. Letter tomorrow. Yours, "FRANK."

(Gayman puts on hat and overcoat, rushes out, puts card in letter box, returns and soliloquizes as he gets into bed.) "That was a lucky thought. Only just saved my bacon that time."

(The same day in the drawing room of a Newport cottage.) "Now, Hilda, dear, don't talk to me. I must write to my husband. You can't understand what we can have to write about every day? Why, I should be the unhappy woman in Newport if I did not get a letter from Frank every day. Ever since we were engaged we have always very busy, as usual. We never have an idle minute. We read and bathe and swim and botanize and lead a thoroughly healthy and simple, plain living existence."

(Looking up again.) "Where did you put those chocolates, Hilda, dear? Thanks. I always like to have candy near me to nibble at. It seems to give one something to do. That's why men are so fond of smoking, I suppose. These are very good. Frank is so funny. He hates to see me eating sweets. Says they are bad for one's health."

(Turns again to her letter.) "We have lots of riding and boating. Hilda rows finely now, and we have great times on the water."

"Oh, by the way, Hilda, what are you going to do this evening? Nellie Vibert's coming to dinner, is she? You two girls won't care to have an old married woman like me listening to all your talk, so I'll go out with Baron von Knoblauch in his canoe. I want to learn to navigate a canoe, you know. But I shan't tell Frank. He'll only be nervous. He always expects I shall get drowned or break my neck or something."

"Oh, no! The baron isn't really a noisy fellow. It's only his way. I knew him ages before I was married. Frank, I believe, almost hates him, but I can't help that. Poor fellow! He tells me all his secrets, and I give him the best advice I can. You know we never met until after I was engaged to be married. (Sighs.) I suppose it was fate. Of course I never cared for him, but it seems so strange and so sad that one should be able to have such an influence over a person's whole life when one only likes a person. It seems so unequal. But how can you help these things happening?"

"What's that you say? It's unsafe and compromising to make such propositions to a girl that is engaged or married? You ought not to talk like that about things you can't understand. I think it's an awful mistake for a girl to try to be cynical. Yes, though you are older than I am, you will always be considered a girl until you marry. I'm sure Frank like this because I like you, and I don't want you to slight in your own light. It is such a pity for a nice girl like you to get a reputation for being jealous and spiteful."

"Now, Hilda, don't be a little goose. I never said you were old and ugly. You often don't look a day older than 23, and you are quite too effective in that last hat you had from Mme. Lambert. Here, have some chocolates and let me finish my letter."

(Writes.) "I can't say I admire your taste in playing golf with Amy Dearborne. However, I hope you keep your temper better than when you play with me, and I'm sure you don't say naughty words when you find a shot when Amy Dearborne is there. I want you to get me some bright red chiffon do-soie. If I write for it to London's, they will send me some of last year's rubbish, and I want the latest shade from Paris, and you might ask them if they have anything good and new in

"I'm with you, George."

(At the roof garden.) "Why, there are the Dennis girls, and alone!"

The Dennis girls (together)—Oh, you forsaken husbands! This is the way you console yourselves for the absence of your lawful spouses, is it?

"Yes. Come along and join us."

(Cooling liquids, badinage and flirtation for the next two hours; later on, supper for four at a Bohemian restaurant.)

(Midnight. Frank at home preparing to retire.) "Gee whiz! I never wrote to Cecile." (Seizes a postcard and writes.)

"At Home, Midnight."

"Important business all day. Too late for more. Letter tomorrow. Yours, "FRANK."

(Gayman puts on hat and overcoat, rushes out, puts card in letter box, returns and soliloquizes as he gets into bed.) "That was a lucky thought. Only just saved my bacon that time."

(The same day in the drawing room of a Newport cottage.) "Now, Hilda, dear, don't talk to me. I must write to my husband. You can't understand what we can have to write about every day? Why, I should be the unhappy woman in Newport if I did not get a letter from Frank every day. Ever since we were engaged we have always very busy, as usual. We never have an idle minute. We read and bathe and swim and botanize and lead a thoroughly healthy and simple, plain living existence."

(Looking up again.) "Where did you put those chocolates, Hilda, dear? Thanks. I always like to have candy near me to nibble at. It seems to give one something to do. That's why men are so fond of smoking, I suppose. These are very good. Frank is so funny. He hates to see me eating sweets. Says they are bad for one's health."

(Turns again to her letter.) "We have lots of riding and boating. Hilda rows finely now, and we have great times on the water."

"Oh, by the way, Hilda, what are you going to do this evening? Nellie Vibert's coming to dinner, is she? You two girls won't care to have an old married woman like me listening to all your talk, so I'll go out with Baron von Knoblauch in his canoe. I want to learn to navigate a canoe, you know. But I shan't tell Frank. He'll only be nervous. He always expects I shall get drowned or break my neck or something."

"Oh, no! The baron isn't really a noisy fellow. It's only his way. I knew him ages before I was married. Frank, I believe, almost hates him, but I can't help that. Poor fellow! He tells me all his secrets, and I give him the best advice I can. You know we never met until after I was engaged to be married. (Sighs.) I suppose it was fate. Of course I never cared for him, but it seems so strange and so sad that one should be able to have such an influence over a person's whole life when one only likes a person. It seems so unequal. But how can you help these things happening?"

"What's that you say? It's unsafe and compromising to make such propositions to a girl that is engaged or married? You ought not to talk like that about things you can't understand. I think it's an awful mistake for a girl to try to be cynical. Yes, though you are older than I am, you will always be considered a girl until you marry. I'm sure Frank like this because I like you, and I don't want you to slight in your own light. It is such a pity for a nice girl like you to get a reputation for being jealous and spiteful."

"Now, Hilda, don't be a little goose. I never said you were old and ugly. You often don't look a day older than 23, and you are quite too effective in that last hat you had from Mme. Lambert. Here, have some chocolates and let me finish my letter."

(Writes.) "I can't say I admire your taste in playing golf with Amy Dearborne. However, I hope you keep your temper better than when you play with me, and I'm sure you don't say naughty words when you find a shot when Amy Dearborne is there. I want you to get me some bright red chiffon do-soie. If I write for it to London's, they will send me some of last year's rubbish, and I want the latest shade from Paris, and you might ask them if they have anything good and new in

"I'm with you, George."

(At the roof garden.) "Why, there are the Dennis girls, and alone!"

The Dennis girls (together)—Oh, you forsaken husbands! This is the way you console yourselves for the absence of your lawful spouses, is it?

"Yes. Come along and join us."

(Cooling liquids, badinage and flirtation for the next two hours; later on, supper for four at a Bohemian restaurant.)

(Midnight. Frank at home preparing to retire.) "Gee whiz! I never wrote to Cecile." (Seizes a postcard and writes.)

"At Home, Midnight."

"Important business all day. Too late for more. Letter tomorrow. Yours, "FRANK."

(Gayman puts on hat and overcoat, rushes out, puts card in letter box, returns and soliloquizes as he gets into bed.) "That was a lucky thought. Only just saved my bacon that time."

(The same day in the drawing room of a Newport cottage.) "Now, Hilda, dear, don't talk to me. I must write to my husband. You can't understand what we can have to write about every day? Why, I should be the unhappy woman in Newport if I did not get a letter from Frank every day. Ever since we were engaged we have always very busy, as usual. We never have an idle minute. We read and bathe and swim and botanize and lead a thoroughly healthy and simple, plain living existence."

(Looking up again.) "Where did you put those chocolates, Hilda, dear? Thanks. I always like to have candy near me to nibble at. It seems to give one something to do. That's why men are so fond of smoking, I suppose. These are very good. Frank is so funny. He hates to see me eating sweets. Says they are bad for one's health."

(Turns again to her letter.) "We have lots of riding and boating. Hilda rows finely now, and we have great times on the water."

"Oh, by the way, Hilda, what are you going to do this evening? Nellie Vibert's coming to dinner, is she? You two girls won't care to have an old married woman like me listening to all your talk, so I'll go out with Baron von Knoblauch in his canoe. I want to learn to navigate a canoe, you know. But I shan't tell Frank. He'll only be nervous. He always expects I shall get drowned or break my neck or something."

"Oh, no! The baron isn't really a noisy fellow. It's only his way. I knew him ages before I was married. Frank, I believe, almost hates him, but I can't help that. Poor fellow! He tells me all his secrets, and I give him the best advice I can. You know we never met until after I was engaged to be married. (Sighs.) I suppose it was fate. Of course I never cared for him, but it seems so strange and so sad that one should be able to have such an influence over a person's whole life when one only likes a person. It seems so unequal. But how can you help these things happening?"

"What's that you say? It's unsafe and compromising to make such propositions to a girl that is engaged or married? You ought not to talk like that about things you can't understand. I think it's an awful mistake for a girl to try to be cynical. Yes, though you are older than I am, you will always be considered a girl until you marry. I'm sure Frank like this because I like you, and I don't want you to slight in your own light. It is such a pity for a nice girl like you to get a reputation for being jealous and spiteful."

"Now, Hilda, don't be a little goose. I never said you were old and ugly. You often don't look a day older than 23, and you are quite too effective in that last hat you had from Mme. Lambert. Here, have some chocolates and let me finish my letter."

(Writes.) "I can't say I admire your taste in playing golf with Amy Dearborne. However, I hope you keep your temper better than when you play with me, and I'm sure you don't say naughty words when you find a shot when Amy Dearborne is there. I want you to get me some bright red chiffon do-soie. If I write for it to London's, they will send me some of last year's rubbish, and I want the latest shade from Paris, and you might ask them if they have anything good and new in

"I'm with you, George."

(At the roof garden.) "Why, there are the Dennis girls, and alone!"

The Dennis girls (together)—Oh, you forsaken husbands! This is the way you console yourselves for the absence of your lawful spouses, is it?

"Yes. Come along and join us."

(Cooling liquids, badinage and flirtation for the next two hours; later on, supper for four at a Bohemian restaurant.)

(Midnight. Frank at home preparing to retire.) "Gee whiz! I never wrote to Cecile." (Seizes a postcard and writes.)

"At Home, Midnight."

"Important business all day. Too late for more. Letter tomorrow. Yours, "FRANK."

(Gayman puts on hat and overcoat, rushes out, puts card in letter box, returns and soliloquizes as he gets into bed.) "That was a lucky thought. Only just saved my bacon that time."

(The same day in the drawing room of a Newport cottage.) "Now, Hilda, dear, don't talk to me. I must write to my husband. You can't understand what we can have to write about every day? Why, I should be the unhappy woman in Newport if I did not get a letter from Frank every day. Ever since we were engaged we have always very busy, as usual. We never have an idle minute. We read and bathe and swim and botanize and lead a thoroughly healthy and simple, plain living existence."

(Looking up again.) "Where did you put those chocolates, Hilda, dear? Thanks. I always like to have candy near me to nibble at. It seems to give one something to do. That's why men are so fond of smoking, I suppose. These are very good. Frank is so funny. He hates to see me eating sweets. Says they are bad for one's health."

(Turns again to her letter.) "We have lots of riding and boating. Hilda rows finely now, and we have great times on the water."

"Oh, by the way, Hilda, what are you going to do this evening? Nellie Vibert's coming to dinner, is she? You two girls won't care to have an old married woman like me listening to all your talk, so I'll go out with Baron von Knoblauch in his canoe. I want to learn to navigate a canoe, you know. But I shan't tell Frank. He'll only be nervous. He always expects I shall get drowned or break my neck or something."

"Oh, no! The baron isn't really a noisy fellow. It's only his way. I knew him ages before I was married. Frank, I believe, almost hates him, but I can't help that. Poor fellow! He tells me all his secrets, and I give him the best advice I can. You know we never met until after I was engaged to be married. (Sighs.) I suppose it was fate. Of course I never cared for him, but it seems so strange and so sad that one should be able to have such an influence over a person's whole life when one only likes a person. It seems so unequal. But how can you help these things happening?"

"What's that you say? It's unsafe and compromising to make such propositions to a girl that is engaged or married? You ought not to talk like that about things you can't understand. I think it's an awful mistake for a girl to try to be cynical. Yes, though you are older than I am, you will always be considered a girl until you marry. I'm sure Frank like this because I like you, and I don't want you to slight in your own light. It is such a pity for a nice girl like you to get a reputation for being jealous and spiteful."

"Now, Hilda, don't be a little goose. I never said you were old and ugly. You often don't look a day older than 23, and you are quite too effective in that last hat you had from Mme. Lambert. Here, have some chocolates and let me finish my letter."

(Writes.) "I can't say I admire your taste in playing golf with Amy Dearborne. However, I hope you keep your temper better than when you play with me, and I'm sure you don't say naughty words when you find a shot when Amy Dearborne is there. I want you to get me some bright red chiffon do-soie. If I write for it to London's, they will send me some of last year's rubbish, and I want the latest shade from Paris, and you might ask them if they have anything good and new in

(That horrible groom you are so fond of does not charge hay enough to feed two elephants instead of two horses. You ought to be living for next to nothing now, and I consider $30 a dozen for Quickkill whisky is perfectly sinful. Surely you can get a cheaper brand. Did you send the carriage to be repaired? You don't need it while I am away, I am sure. You always say you don't care for riding alone, and I should think you would enjoy going about on your wheel or would find walking healthy. Thanks, dear; I shall be glad of another check next week. The money seems to melt away like ice in the sun. Don't be disappointed at not hearing from me tomorrow. We are going to a big picnic, so I shan't have time to write. And now goodbye. With best love, your ever loving wife,

"CECILE."
(Throwing down her pen.) "There! That's done! Yes, it is rather a bother writing every day, but I make a point of doing it, for I know my letters are poor Frank's only joy. And now I must run away and change, for I asked Baron von Knoblauch to drop in to lunch. You don't mind, dear, do you?"

Superstitious Samba.

Few of the older down town colored residents can be induced to cross Washington square after nightfall, says the Philadelphia Record. In fact, some of them cannot be persuaded to pass the limits of the square after nightfall under any consideration. This fact led Policeman Skinner of the Nineteenth district into a queer predicament the other night. While on duty he noticed an aged colored man acting in a very suspicious manner. The old fellow timidly approached the square and hesitated about entering. The policeman was about to step up and make inquiry when the man asked a passerby what square it was. "Why, Washington square," was the reply.

Without another word the old man darted away, with the policeman in pursuit. When caught, he could give no explanation, and it was decided to lock him up. This necessitated a trip across the square, and the captive begged piteously: "Don't take me across dat, mister policeman. Dat's an old graveyard, and I'll done hab no luck all my life if I step on dem dead men."

The policeman brushed up his history a bit and found that the old man was right about the graveyard and let him go his way. A number of Revolutionary soldiers are buried in the square.—St. Paul Press.

He Was a Pusher.

A physiognomist would have said after a glance at the young man with the pink eyebrows that he was one to push himself forward at every opportunity, and proof would have been at hand to corroborate the diagnosis. A lady who boarded the Metropolitan car found every seat taken, and the young man was the first to offer her his. As she bowed her acknowledgments he looked more closely at her and queried: "Aren't you Mrs. Bluefields?" "Yes, sir," was the reply. "Husband has an office on F street?" "Yes."

"I thought so. I am one of the clerical force in his office, you know?" "Well?"

"Oh, that's about all! One of the clerical force, you know, and if it comes handy you might tell your husband that I gave up my seat to you. Everything goes when a fellow is looking for a step up and a raise of salary."—Washington Post.

Oldest Family in Britain.

The family of the Earl of Mar and Kellie in the Scottish peerage, the present holder of the title being Walter John Francis Erskine, can trace its descent further than any other British family. "Of the title of Mar," said Lord Hilles, "it is one of the curiously whose origin is lost in its antiquity. It existed before our records and before the era of genuine history." The Earl of Mar was witness to a charter of donation by Malcolm Canmore to the Cistercians of Locheleven of the manor of Kilgarnock in 1065. The Campbells of Argyll date from 1190 and the Grosvenor family from 1090. Prince Medimo of Italy claims that his is the oldest family in Europe, as he traces his descent as far back as Maximus Quintus Fabius, three centuries before the Christian era. Four Russian families—Braguzanki, Davitoff, Ineritinski and Muzraiskii—claim to be able to trace descent from the great Israelite King David.—Tit-Bits.

Genuine Courtesy.

The car was crowded; therefore quite a number of passengers suspended themselves from the straps and swayed with every motion of the car. A young man in the garb of a mechanic clung to a strap with one hand, while the other hand clung to a dinner pail. He was standing in front of a woman who was richly dressed and seemingly blessed with an abundance of the world's goods.

As the car swung round a corner the strap to which the young man clung parted with a snap, and the young man was precipitated into the lap of the woman. As soon as he could recover his standing position he raised his hat and apologized by saying: "Pardon me, madam. I am sorry to disturb you, but really this is the first time the street car company ever conferred a favor on me."

The woman immediately returned the compliment and the compliment—Gladstone's World.

Hard to Understand.

"Did you say he has studied music?" said the gentleman with the little white hair and the solemn face. "Yes, he has." "What?" "He has studied music." "Yes, he has studied music. I don't understand why he should per-

SHIPPING NEWS

Repairs on the old wharf at Kahului are rapidly nearing completion. New piles and flooring have been put in where needed.

The Leelanaw, loaded with mules, and the Zelandia, loaded with shrimpers, reached Honolulu last Sunday morning. Merely a coincidence.

Pilots' fees at the port of Kahului are $1.50 per foot on the vessel's draught, in or out of port, and $10.00 for anchoring a vessel off the port.

Freight for shipment per S. S. "Claudine" to Honolulu or way ports must be delivered at Kahului before noon of day of sailing, and freight for East Maui ports must be delivered at Kahului before 9 a. m. of sailing day.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The official report of the trial trip of the battleship Wisconsin off Southern California is contained in the following brief telegram received by Secretary Long from Admiral Kautz, commanding the Pacific Station at Santa Barbara:

"Wisconsin completed satisfactory official trip, making 17,251 knots, subject to tidal corrections."

Those who are fond of traveling will hail with delight the news of a direct steamship route from the Coast to Tahiti. This charming land has until now been accessible only by slow sailing vessels, but on November 1st the popular steamship Australia will sail direct, making the trip in ten and one-half days. A reduced round trip rate has been made for the first trip.

The "American" the pine vessel of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, is making her trial trip. She is the first of the following list of new ships of this company: the "Hawaiian," "Oregonian," "California," "Alaskan" and "Arizonan." The last two vessels will be of 12,000 tons capacity and will be fitted to accommodate a number of saloon passengers. They will ply between Philadelphia, the Pacific coast and the Islands.

The steamer Sierra, first of the Oceanic Company's fine new vessels to be launched at Cramps shipyard for the San Francisco-Sydney route, sailed from Philadelphia on October 10 for San Francisco, and will due in about fifty days. Captain Houdlette for a long time master of the Australia and later of the Mariposa; commands the Sierra, and the chief engineer is W. F. Neiman, late of the Australia. N. C. Walton, Jr., is her purser, and former Steward Hamigan of the Mariposa, occupies a similar position on the new craft.—Advertiser.

Vessels in Port--Kahului

Am. Bk. Carrollton, H. E. Jones, Am. Sch. Dora Blum, Smith from S. F., Mdse.

Arrived.

Oct. 20, Am. Sch. Dora Blum, Smith 19 days from S. F. Mdse.

Departures.

Oct. 20, Am. Bk. Carrollton, Jones; for Tacoma, in ballast.

Proposed Departure.

Nov. 31, Am. Sch. Dora Blum, Smith for S. F.; sugar.

Expected.

Bk Columbia from Tacoma. Sch Mary Dodge from Tacoma. Sch S. T. Alexander from Tacoma.

Honolulu Postoffice Time Table.

DATE	NAME	FROM
" 9	City of Peking	Yokohama
" 10	Munak	San Francisco
" 12	Alameda Colonies	"
" 17	Coptic	San Francisco
" 19	Gaelic	Yokohama
" 24	America	Maru S. F.
" 24	Aorangi	Colonies
" 24	Australia	San Francisco
" 27	Mlowera	Victoria, B. E.
" 27	Hongkong	Maru Yokohama
" 31	St. Janeiro	Yokohama
" 31	City of Peking	S. F.
" 10	Munak	Colonies
" 12	Alameda	San Francisco
" 17	Coptic	Yokohama
" 19	Gaelic	San Francisco
" 24	America	Maru Yokohama
" 24	Aorangi	Victoria; B. E.
" 27	Mlowera	Colonies
" 27	Hongkong	Maru S. F.

Bailey's Honolulu Cyclery Co., LIMITED. Stearns Bicycles

AT $25, $40, $50 Cushion Frames, $60. 1900 Chainless $75.00 FULLY GUARANTEED

The Milwaukee Patent Puncture Proof Tires. Sole Agency and only place where the guarantee on these tires can be filled is at

Bailey's Honolulu Cyclery, Ltd. HONOLULU

AGENTS For the Morgan & Wright Hack Tires.

ANNOUNCEMENT! REMINGTON STANDARD TYPEWRITER

For the convenience of the general public we have transferred our Remington Typewriter Department to the store of the Pacific Cycle & Manufacturing Co., Ehlers Block Fort St.

An experienced Typewriter Repairer has full charge of this business and quotations on new machines or estimates on repair work of any class of typewriters will be cheerfully furnished upon application at the—

PACIFIC CYCLE & MFG CO. H. HACKFELD & CO., Ltd.

Sole Dealers, REMINGTON STANDARD TYPEWRITER For the Territory of Hawaii.

Try Gruenhagen's

Chocolate Bon Bons packed in handsome boxes. This Space Reserved

You'll find them only at

H. MAY & Co., LIMITED

—Dealer in— Groceries HONOLULU, T. H.

The Bank of Hawaii LIMITED.

Incorporated Under the Laws of the Republic of Hawaii. CAPITAL $400,000.00 OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

Chas. M. Cooke, President; P. C. Jones, Vice-President; C. H. Cooke, Cashier; F. C. Atherton, Assistant Cashier. Directors—Henry Waterhouse, Tom May, F. W. Macfarlane, E. D. Tenny, J. A. McCandless.

Solicits the Accounts of Firms, Corporations, Trusts, Individuals, and will promptly and carefully attend to all business connected with banking entrusted to it. Sell and Purchase Foreign Exchange, Issue Letters of Credit.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT. Ordinary and Term Deposits received and interest allowed in accordance with rules and conditions printed in pass books, copies of which may be had on application. Judd Building, Fort St., Honolulu.

Pacific Cycle & Mfg. Co. AGENTS FOR STERLING and IVER JOHNSON Bicycles

DEPT. IN CHARGE OF REPAIRING WORK. All kind of Repairs by Expert Workmen. For Northern Assurance Co. Christian Australian & Co. HONOLULU. In 1887 first of GENERAL REPAIRING AGENTS.

Benson, Smith AND Company DRUGGISTS

Honolulu, H. I.

</