FOREIGN NEWS

The Czar.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 22. 2:30 P. M.—A private telegram from Paris makes the assertion that the Czar is dead. There is no confirmation from any other source.

St. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—Alarm is growing over the Czar's condition. Notwithstanding the bulletins of favorable character sent out from Lavidia, it is believed here that the patient is in the gravest danger. Russia has become deeply religious and prayers are being offered up daily from the various churches in all the large cities of the Empire for the Czar's recovery.

Clark's New Road.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 22.—The talk which has been current for the past three months, regarding a direct railroad connection between this city and Los Angeles, took final shape today in the agreement for incorporation of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company and the enterprise now seems assured.

The capital stock of the company was placed at $25,000,000 of which $6,000,000 has already been paid up.

The road, when completed, will have a trackage of 1100 miles and will absorb the Los Angeles Terminal Railroad, fifty-one miles in length, with all its property and franchises, including between 3000 and 4000 acres of land and embracing all the wharfage of the San Pedro harbor, about two miles in length.

The Irrigation Congress.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—The National Irrigation Congress began its ninth annual session here last night. President Elwood Mead, of Wyoming presided. Scipio Craig, of California, made a motion that the motto of the congress be "Save the Forest and Store and Floods," and that a committee on resolutions be instructed to draft a memorial setting forth the objects of the congress and showing the importance of the reclamation of the arid lands in the United States and to report Saturday.

The Boer War.

MASERE, Basutoland, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—Natives report that former President Steyn and General De Wet, with a thousand men, traversed the British lines between Alexandria and Waddingham's store and attacked a British post, subsequently retiring by the road to Dewetsdorp, in the Orange River country.

BLOEMFONTEIN, Nov. 22.—The Boers, under Brand, were defeated November 18th at Baderspan with heavy losses, the Lancers charging through the Boer line, doing deadly damage, as a number of riderless horses demonstrated. Brand himself was wounded. The British casualties were not serious.

China Still Unsettled.

NEW YORK, November 21.—A special to the Sun from Washington says: After a silence of more than a week Minister Conger has again been heard from, but the information he sends is not of a character to encourage the Government in its hope that the Chinese troubles will be adjusted soon. In a telegram received at the State Department today Conger said that the punishment programme contained in the Chinese imperial edict of October 31st was not satisfactory. He indicated that the punishments imposed on Prince Tuan and other dignitaries were lenient and that some of the Boer leaders were not included in the list. The dispatch was sent apparently in response to instructions telegraphed Conger recently, giving him authority to determine whether the punishments to be inflicted by the Chinese Government were satisfactory without further advice from the State Department.

TELEGRAPHIC ITEMS

The late storm swept over the entire California coast.

Bands of Chinese robbers are plundering Manchuria.

Von Walderssee has sent a column of Germans to the great wall.

Stanford Ahumani demand an investigation of Dr. Ross' enforced resignation.

It is denied that the Indians who were on the warpath in Mexico came from San Carlos.

The 400 men who sat at a chamber of commerce dinner at Delmonico's lately represented nearly one billion dollars.

Storm victims of La Grange, Tenn., have sent out an appeal for help. The town is in ruins and the inhabitants destitute.

Aglipay, a renegade priest, and now a rebel leader, writes to Manila for election news, and shows no signs of giving up.

Lieut. Col. Webb C. Hayes, son of ex-President Hayes, has reported at Peking and has been made a volunteer aide on General Chaffee's staff.

General Macabulos, a former Filipino chief, is preparing to start in pursuit of Aguinaldo with 100 picked natives. The rebel chief is supposed to be in Northern Luzon.

The British warship Phensant is being rushed from Esquimaux to Panama, owing to the seizure of a British ship by the Colombian rebels. The Icarus will follow.

A dispatch to the Temps from Rome says the Pope visited the Basilica of St. Peter and experienced such fatigue that he had to take to his bed. It is further claimed that he fainted twice.

At the session of the chamber of deputies the minister of marine said the Italian troops in China did their duty without participating in the excesses, which they justly deplored.

The large British steamships Indravelli and Indrapura and two others of similar size, will run between Portland, Ore., and Asiatic ports. Each vessel has a carrying capacity of about 9,500 tons.

The torpedo-boats Blakeley and De Long have been launched at South Boston. The Blakeley is named after the commander of the fighting ship Wasp in the war of 1812. The other is named after De Long of Arctic fame.

It is expected the fight between General Miles and Adjutant General Corbin will be renewed by the issuance of a bulletin by the latter officer publishing certain information from General Chaffee praising the American field guns in China. Miles is incensed at the action of Corbin in announcing over his own signature information from Chaffee, the nature being such as to cast discredit upon Miles.

The Circuit Court at Lahaina will probably adjourn today.

Rev. W. Ault will be in Wailuku and hold services at the usual hour tomorrow morning.

Every body has gone to Lahaina this week, to attend Court, and Wailuku feels lonesome.

There is heavy travel at Wailuku this week, and the hotels are scarcely able to handle the traffic.

On account of the heavy travel between Wailuku and Lahaina, the stage makes a trip both ways each day.

Ring up the MAUI NEWS office for your job work. Orders by telephone receive prompt attention. Honolulu prices.

Contractor Bridges is making rapid progress on the "Settlement" building, and will have it ready for occupancy early in January.

The attention of the lady readers of the News is invited to the White House ad. this week. You will find what you have been looking for, in it.

The glorious weather and brilliant moonlight nights at Wailuku this week are making amends for the stormy weather recently experienced.

The semi-weekly Star arrived this week, sparkling with good things which it had copied from the News, — uncredited, — notably the big Kahikinui land deal.

Mrs. H. A. Baldwin and family, who have been spending a few weeks in Honolulu, returned on Wednesday's Claudine, accompanied by Mrs. Alexander.

Mr. Grimwood, of Greenwood & Richardson, of Honolulu, came over on Wednesday's Claudine, to look after the interests of this enterprising firm on Maui.

Mr. O. R. Wilkins and wife arrived at Wailuku on Wednesday, from Yakima, Washington, and will remain here some time for the benefit of Mrs. Wilkins' health.

Supt. Taylor in company with Supt. Rowell, came over on Wednesday's Claudine, to look into the matter of repairs to the pipe line of the Wailuku water works.

D. B. Maconachie and C. H. Coulson, representing the hardware and grocery department of Theo. Davies & Co. of Honolulu have been selling up Maui this week.

Mr. McCoy, of the new York Mutual Life, left for Hawaii on Tuesday evening, returning on the Kinau this morning. He takes the Claudine for Honolulu tonight.

The services of Mr. R. E. Wilbur of Hanu have been secured as sugar boiler at the Kipahulu mill, this season. Last season, he was sugar boiler at Hamoa Plantation.

The News was a "false alarm" last week, as to the successor of Charlie Maikai, at the Kahului wharf. John Makahio, a very efficient man is his successor, and not Mr. Napoleon.

Mr. H. A. Vavrick has been appointed policeman at Spreckelsville Plantation. Mr. Vavrick was for three years a sergeant in the U. S. regular army, during the latter portion of which he saw some active service in the Philippines.

A. N. Hayselden, Wailuku's efficient deputy sheriff, recently bagged and prosecuted three Japanese liquor cases. For lack of sufficient proof, the defendant was discharged in one case, in the second case a conviction was had, and the third case was nolle-prosed. In each case, the defendant was of the gentler sex.

On Thursday morning, the newly constructed dam at the head of the ditch which has from time immemorial brought the waters of Iao river to the two patches of Wailuku, and also incidentally supplied a large portion of drinking water, was washed out. It will be repaired at once, as irrigation is a sine qua non for rice and taro.

The road from Wailuku to Lahaina has been put into passable condition for traffic, but much work is still needed. Antone do Rego was the first to drive a hack over the dangerous portion of the road near Kama-nuwalui gulch. On his first trip, the track was so narrow that he had only eight inches to spare, at two places on the path road.

A Model Camp.

When Camp Wood was abandoned as a quarantine station, the buildings were purchased by the H. C. & S. Co., for the use of the laborers of the Kahului Railroad Company, and more than one hundred of them are domiciled there now.

At the invitation, and in company with Superintendent Filler, the News man visited the camp on Wednesday afternoon, to observe its sanitary conditions. The population of the camp consists of Hawaiians, Chinese and Japanese, some of whom are single men and some who have families. The grounds are covered with a growth of soft, velvety grass, and are kept absolutely free from all rubbish and garbage which is gathered every morning and carried nearly half a mile from the camp. Lime is freely used, and the houses and grounds are perfectly free from all disagreeable odors.

When the buildings were first turned over to Supt. Filler, he removed the rough board floors, and fitted every building in the camp with neat, tongued and grooved floors. The buildings are kept neatly whitewashed, inside and out, and the occupants are required to keep the floors of their rooms scrupulously clean. Each family has one or more rooms of its own, and the single men are assigned to rooms in groups of not more than five to one large room. No cooking is allowed in the living rooms, kitchens having been built near the living rooms, for culinary purposes. Supt. Filler states that at first he had some difficulty in making the occupants keep their premises clean and finally he adopted the plan, after ineffectual warnings, of simply taking the offending members, with their household goods and putting them out into the road without further warning. Two or three repetitions of this was sufficient, and as a result, every room in the camp is kept as neat and clean as a parlor.

A number of the rooms of the single men were inspected, and the most careful housewife could have found nothing in their condition to complain of. Then the families of the married men were visited in their homes, and everything was as spick and span as a new pin. The women seemed proud of the neat appearance of their rooms, as they well might be.

A camp boss is in charge of the premises, and it is his duty to see that everything is kept in good order in the camp. Supt. Filler has carefully weeded out all inefficient men, and as the Kahului Railroad Co. pays good wages, he has the pick of the best men on the island for laborers. The people in the camp can afford to live well, and as a result, their physical condition and mental and moral characters seem to have undergone a change so that they absolutely look different and more manly. It would be a good idea for some of the plantation managers on Maui to visit the camp and imitate some of the reforms there initiated.

Another thing for which Mr. Filler deserves much credit is the number of trees which he has set out in the camp. In a few years beautiful rows of trees will adorn every avenue in the camp. This improvement in the condition of the laborers was not undertaken as a philanthropic, but rather as a utilitarian measure, and the company is already reaping the fruits of its work, in securing a well fed, well housed, healthy and contented set of industrious and reliable laborers.

Pala Notes.

The output of the Pala Mill, this season, was but little short of 7000 tons. The last of the crop, 2300 sacks, was shipped on the S. T. Alexander, this week. The mill is about ready for the new crop, and grinding will begin about the middle of December.

Paul Besser, chief engineer, left for Honolulu some time since, and has been succeeded by Mr. J. Cushingam, who is an old timer on Maui. He fitted up and ran the old Wailuku sugar mill by water power, during the time of Mr. William Bailey. He also fitted up the present Wailuku Sugar Co's mill with its machinery.

The Pala Plantation Store and office have been enlarged and fitted up with a degree of taste which reflects credit on Manager Lindsay. Mr. Hagencamp is in charge of the store, and has a fine stock of goods, tastefully arranged. A large stock of Christmas goods for the store arrived on the Lurline.

Mr. Fred Armstrong, chemist and sugar boiler at the Pala Mill left for Honolulu last Saturday, on a two week's vacation.

William Mozzett is at work renovating the steam plows on Pala Plantation.

Rev. E. G. Silva, a Portuguese protestant minister, has located at Pala, and a chapel is to be erected soon for his congregation, near the Pala hospital. Mr. Silva is a talented young man, and will exercise a healthy moral influence among his people. Quite a number of the Portuguese who came over last week, or the Maui, are protestant, and will be under his ministrations.

The corrugated iron warehouse, built by Supt. Filler, on the site of the old Pala depot, is a pretentious looking building, but for the present will be used as a warehouse only, under charge of Mr. Sparks. The passenger and freight depot is a separate building under charge of Mr. A. K. McLane.

It would be greatly to the convenience of the travelling public, if there were three instead of two round trips per day from Pala to Kahului. If the schedule could be so arranged that one train could reach Pala at, say 11:45, leaving for Kahului and Wailuku at 12 m., it would be a great accommodation to the public.

Wailuku Water Supply.

Within a few days after the pipes of the Wailuku water system were washed out, Supt. Bal had made a temporary connection at the first crossing, which supplied Wailuku and Kahului with an abundant supply of water.

On Wednesday, Superintendent Rowell of Honolulu arrived in town and spent the day in Iao valley. On his recommendation, Supt. Bal with a force of men at once proceeded to make a permanent connection at the first crossing. This will remain a permanent point of diversion, but as soon as funds are in hand, the pipe line will again be completed to the third crossing, tapping the stream purchased by the government. When this is done water will be taken from this source exclusively, except when the pipe line is again damaged by high water, in which case water can at once be taken from the point of diversion at the first crossing.

Mr. Rowell states that he finds that about 500 feet of pipe, in addition to what is now on hand, will be needed to repair the pipe destroyed by the flood.

Mr. Rowell states that there are no funds now available to repair the damage done above the first crossing, but that as soon as there is money for that purpose, the repairs will be made. His attention was called to the fact that hydrants with fire plugs have not yet been put in at the prominent street corners, and he stated that he would give orders to have them put in at once, or as soon as some one could be found who could put them in.

While on Maui, Mr. Rowell will inspect the damaged Kula roads, with the view of having them repaired. This will be a much needed work, as the recent storms have rendered them almost impassible.

New Military Company.

On next Thursday evening, Dec. 13, an election of officers will be held at Wailuku by our new military company. Major J. W. Pratt, of the General Staff will be present, and after having enlisted and sworn in the members of the Company, he will preside at the election of one Captain, one 1st Lieutenant and one 2nd Lieutenant.

The movement to organize a military company in Wailuku was recently initiated by Mr. W. G. Scott, and a petition, numerously signed, was forwarded to Honolulu. On December 3d, General Order No. 10, was issued from the Adjutant General's Office, calling for the above election, and appointing Major Pratt to enlist the Company.

The government will arm and equip the Company, and with the material on hand, Company I. will be a banner military company.

All members are earnestly requested to be present next Thursday evening and assist in the organization of the company and the election of officers.

St. PAUL (Minn.), November 27.—Senator Cushman K. Davis, Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, died at his home in this city tonight at 8:40 o'clock. He had suffered greatly during two months of sickness and gradually sank away, being unconscious for several hours before death and, so far as could be known, suffered no pain at the end.

SAN JUAN, (Porto Rico), November 24.—One hundred and fourteen Porto Ricans of both sexes, bound for Hawaii, are due at New Orleans on the steamer Arkadia on November 28th. They are routed for San Francisco by way of the Southern Pacific. It is not considered probable that they will be detained by Treasury agents at New Orleans on the ground that they are contract laborers. Should the experiment prove satisfactory thousand of Porto Ricans will probably be sent to Hawaii.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Three more Sisters of the Order of St. Francis have gone from this city to the leper colony in the Hawaiian islands. Of the three one was a former Syracuse girl, Miss Anna Schilling, daughter of Louis Schilling.

The party goes direct to San Francisco, sailing December 6 for Hawaii. From there the Sisters go to Molokai to institute a great work.

WASHINGTON, November 26.—The United States will retain possession of the Isle of Pines, whatever final disposition may be made of Cuba. It will be fortified and a strong garrison kept there for the protection of U. S. interests.

NEW YORK, November 27.—Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama is quoted in a Tribune special from Washington as saying in an interview about the Nicaragua canal project: "I can see no reason why the canal measure should not go through this session. Every Senator who has thus far returned to Washington has expressed his willingness and determination to vote for it, and I have no doubt that a large majority of the Senate will vote for the bill when the time arrives."
