MAKAWELI GIRLS GIVE A DANCE

(Special to the Garden Island)

MAKAWELI, Oct. 30.—Morrison Hall was the scene of much delight last Saturday evening, when the young ladies of this place gave a dance. The decorations were extremely tastily arranged and the young ladies certainly deserve great praise for the way in which they managed the affair, which was the most enjoyable of the season.

Planting By The Road-Side-Trees Are Being Destroyed—Koloa Soccer Team Issues Challenge

The Rev. and Mrs. Hans Isenberg gave an elaborate dinner Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Isenberg, being guests of honor, the occasion being in celebration of their twentieth wedding anniversary. During the dinner hour, and after, the Lihue band rendered appropriate airs much to the delight of the guests.

Places were laid for twenty. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Rev. and Mrs. Isenberg, and the pleasure of extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Isenberg, were Mrs. McGauley, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. T. Purvis, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Rohrig, and Messrs. Walter and Alexander McBryde.

MRS. PALMER GIVES A TEA

Mrs. Palmer entertained at tea, last Tuesday afternoon to a number of the Lihue ladies. A dainty table was spread beneath a great, spreading hau tree, which formed an exceedingly pleasant retreat. Those present were Mrs. Hogg, Mrs. Gandy, Mrs. Broadbent, Mrs. Moragne, and Mrs. Hopper. Delicous refreshments added the finishing touches to one of the pleasantest teas given this season.

PLANTING BY THE ROAD-SIDE

On a recent trip we were very much pleased to see that an attempt is being made at planting trees along the sides of the public road. Equally displeased, however, were we to see that some careless or unthoughtful person or persons seem to be destroying this noble work by allowing cattle to trample the small trees down. Let us all unite in protecting these trees and to encourage the planting of more of them. Plant the trees and properly care for them and within the next decade we will be amply repaid for one toll by their cool and refreshing shade. We sincerely trust that the work of destruction will discontinue and instead thereof, a campaign of carefulness may be established.

Writer Threatens to Produce Evidence of Successful Diversified Farming But Fails to Make Good.

A Gift Which Will be long Appreciated by All True Lovers of the Various Kinds of Sport.

(Special to the Garden Island)
HANAMAULU, Oct. 26.—A three year old son of John Fernandes, a laborer in the plantation here, and residing in the camp manka of the government road, was so badly burned on Tuesday morning that death followed on Wednesday at the hospital where the little fellow had been taken after being burned.

Editor GARDEN ISLAND
Dear Sir:

Your letter in the last issue of your paper relative to "Diversified Farming," is regarded by the undersigned entirely misleading and by no means justified by past experience. I will show where I get my ground for my charges in the following:

1st. That Prof. Starret has forgotten more than the editor ever knew.

2nd. That he is evidently the mouth-piece for the planters and would curry favor by taking the stand he has.

3rd. That evidence is abundant wherein success has been made in the growing of vegetables and other things than cane.

4th. That the GARDEN ISLAND is the only paper that has ever dared attack the progressive spirit of our country, and last but not least the editor is by no means familiar with the subject under discussion which renders anything he might say of little consequence.

SMALL FARMER.

The above communication has been received by the editor, who hereby publishes it verbatim. We will take up the above charges in the manner in which they are put.

1st. The writer claims that Prof. Starret has forgotten more than we have ever known. This may or may not be true, but the fact remains however, that it seems he really has forgotten that anybody else has knowledge of diversified farming. We may not know a deuce of lot, but as long as our correspondent lives, we can feel sure that we are not in a class entirely by ourselves.

2nd. In this paragraph, the writer charges us with being the mouth-piece of the plantations, and that we are playing to favor the planters. Nothing could be further from the truth. In the first place, the planters are in no need of assistance in this direction, and if they were, this paper would be in no position to render them help to even an appreciative degree. As to currying favor, etc., we can very justly say that such an attempt on our part is entirely unnecessary as this paper is so well and popularly known, that further efforts in that direction are useless. Did we not appreciate the assistance from a source upon which the entire Hawaiian Islands depend for their very existence, we would not consider ourselves loyal to the source from which we derive our living.

Paul Rutsch, brother to Fritz Rutsch, recently arrived from Germany and has accepted a position as assistant instructor in the Lihue German School.

Defendant's appeal from Waimea District Court.

W. J. Sheldon for Plaintiff. A. G. Kaulukou for Defendant.

16. Pilani Paikahawai vs. John Koani and Paulo Koani. Trespass.

Defendants' appeal from Kawaihau District Court.

J. M. Kaneakua for Plaintiff. Chas. S. Dole for Defendants.

17. J. I. Silva vs. Manuel Gabriel Sr. and McBryde Sugar Co., Gaineshee.

Assumpsit for $71.50.

Defendant's appeal from Koloa District Court.

Wm. J. Sheldon for Defendant.

18. John Nobriga and Olympia Nobriga, his wife, vs. Enoka Lovell. Damages.

Defendant's appeal from Lihue District Court.

Sam'l F. Chillingworth for Plaintiff.

S. K. Kao for Defendant.

Assumpsit for $4.20.

Because our opinions are parallel with those of the sugar planters, does not necessarily indicate any compact by any means.

3rd. Here he states that abundant evidence can be had, showing diversified farming pays. We are from Missouri, and to bring our writer up a trifle we can furnish him with names and addresses of men who have spent money and time in experimenting with various fruits and vegetables, without results. Some have raised quantities of potatoes for instance, but by the time transportation and commissions were paid not enough remained to pay growing expenses.

Experiments have been made in Kapaa and are being made in Kalaeo. Diversified advocates will point to the latter and exclaim "see what can be done!" But to all such shallow brained numbskulls, we would kindly suggest a perusal of the books belonging to stores where these "Homesteaders" do their trading and without the aid of which that speck of "diversified" agriculture would go out of existence. Some of these men are probably so deeply in debt that they will never be able to get even again which fact is certainly not a very great inducement to wade in and get your feet wet.

4th. That this is the only paper that has ever dared attack the progressiveness etc., is another one of the writers most idiotic charges. We can't imagine where he could get such an idea, since the paper has become known throughout the Territory as one of the most progressive of all the island weeklies. This charge is so ridiculous that it becomes humorous and bespeaks the writer of the charge, as being a pinheaded simpleton of the simplest variety.

The writer in this paragraph also charges us with being unfamiliar with the subject and winds up by telling our readers that anything this paper might say would be of no consequence. If of no importance why did he trouble himself to take up the scudgel?

He is either a natural born fool or devotee of some of these diversified farming experts, either of which amounts to about the same thing,

A Chat Concerning Our Honolulu Advertisers--Who They Are

Continued Next Week.

Lewers & Cooke Ltd.

This name is significant of everything that is best in the grocery line. One of the oldest firms in the city, it has gained for itself a reputation for fairness and quality of goods that is only gained through years of successful business management. "Value for the money" might well be taken as the motto of this well-known firm.

Roman, The Hat Cleaner.

Next door to the Central Fire Station, on Beretania Street, is Roman the Hat man. He is Honolulu's live wire in the Hot line, and can furnish hats in more styles than any three other firms in the City. His hat cleaning department is also up-to-date and his business from outside islands is increasing as the result of his thoughtfulness in paying freight, one way or all work which comes in.

Ehlers & Co.

One of the most important Dry Goods firm is that of Ehlers & Co., whose name is a household byword among the families from Hawaii to Kauai, for a mail order department which spreads itself, like a gigantic spider's web throughout the various islands, this firm has one of the largest inter-island trades of the many wholesale houses in Honolulu. Headquarters were recently enlarged in order to accommodate the increasing trade which has marked this very enterprising firm since its organization many, many years ago. This firm can furnish anything from a pin to a complete store and do it promptly.

T. H. Davies & Co., Ltd.

With branch stores throughout the various islands, this firm has one of the largest inter-island trades of the many wholesale houses in Honolulu. Headquarters were recently enlarged in order to accommodate the increasing trade which has marked this very enterprising firm since its organization many, many years ago. This firm can furnish anything from a pin to a complete store and do it promptly.

The Kaimuki Land Co.

In this Company, Honolulu can increased to such an extent as to boast of one of the most enter-able him to put up a beautiful concrete building. It is located on a busy section of Fort Street and the firm enjoys a large clientele from the outlying islands.

The Hotel Majestic

This hotel is conducted by Mrs. Blaisdell, a former Kauai resident, who makes a specialty of catering to the inter-island trade. The Majestic is conveniently located, being in the Sach's Building on the corner of Beretania and Fort streets, and three transfer points. Mrs. Blaisdell's pleasing personality, combined with the first-class accommodations of the hotel, keeps this popular house filled with guests.

The Curio Den.

On Fort Street almost opposite the Club Stables is The Curio Den, the home of everything in the curio line, with expert McNamara in charge. It is the home of the visiting tourists who never fail to find just what they are looking for.

McInerny Shoe Co., Ltd.

In the McInerny Shoe Co., Ltd., Honolulu, has a shoe store which for variety of styles and prices, remain without an equal. Mr. Wm. McInerny, manager of this magnificent store, is an expert shoe man, being one of the best judge of shoes in Honolulu. The quality and styles of the McInerny Shoe is well-known throughout the islands which is partly the result of the large mail order business this very widely known house enjoys.

California Harness Shop.

Hammom & Son, one of the oldest established harness shops in the islands, here can be found a corps Honolulu, have added a auto of efficient and most obliging trimmer's outfit to their business and clerks, any of whom it is a pleasure are kept busy with an extra force to meet. The store sells every-of men in order to keep up with thing in hardware and crockery trade. They are located on Merchant & King St., opposite the trade, having representatives who rising and successful real estate firms, in the city. Their advertising campaign indicates thorough knowledge of the business. Kaimuki homes are owned by persons scattered throughout the entire islands, and the buyers are yet rapidly increasing. Kaimuki is considered the health spot of Honolulu. It is here that the Home for the incurables is situated; Here to has recently been established the Brigg's Sanitorium, which was placed here owing to the very desirable climate. Any one who is interested in Kaimuki would do well to communicate with the Kaimuki Land Co., who will furnish prospectus and full information regarding Honolulu's "Garden of Eden."

Associated Garage.

One of the best equipped automobile houses of the city is the Associated Garage. Beginning about three years ago, it has steadily grown until it has now assumed its present proportions. Manager Hall is thoroughly familiar with the auto business from hub to top and much of the success of this Hundreds of men, and thousands firm is due to his forethought in the selection of cars suitable to his trade.

Honolulu Brewery.

The Honolulu Brewing Co., is manufacturing a beer which has no equal in the Islands. It stands to reason, that home brewed beer need not contain ingredients to insure its keeping through shipment from one climate to another. This being true, then, the home-brewed beer must be superior since all imported beer must be doctored before entering our climate. Primo has made a reputation for itself which is difficult if not entirely impossible to estimate. It is meeting with tremendous popularity wherever sold.

E. O. Hall & Son.

This name stands for the most reliable hardware store in the islands. Here can be found a corps of efficient and most obliging trimmer's outfit to their business and clerks, any of whom it is a pleasure are kept busy with an extra force to meet. The store sells every-of men in order to keep up with thing in hardware and crockery trade. They are located on Merchant & King St., opposite the trade, having representatives who make their regular trips to the other islands, whose merchants are heavy purchasers. Manager White is a trained hardware man and his large clientele receives the benefit of his knowledge in securing the best value in goods for the least money.

Honolulu Iron Works.

In this vast plant is forged every conceivable piece of machinery from a coupling pin to a three million dollar sugar mill complete, and much of the success of this Hundreds of men, and thousands firm is due to his forethought in the selection of cars suitable to his trade.

Who Really "Done" It.

In one of the large cities a primary teacher was one day instructing her class in the composition of sentences. She wrote two sentences on the blackboard, one a misstatement of fact, and the other wrong grammatically. The sentences were: "The hen has three legs" and "Who done it?"

"Willie," she said to one of the youngsters, "go to the board and show where the fault lies in those two sentences."

Willie slowly approached the board, evidently studying hard. Then he took the crayon and wrote: "The hen never done it. God done it."

Ambition Talk No. 4

Action is the most important factor in success. We fail not because we cannot see but because we don't act. Twenty men know what to do to one who does it. Every city and town has its soap-box inhabitants who can tell you how and why the leading citizens got what they got—plug-cut specialists who prophesied every successful business move before it was made.

They knew just what to do in every instance; but the other fellow did it. The trouble with such wise crows was not that they could not see, but that they did not act. Mental knowledge never evolves into power until it culminates in action. A man might know everything in the world—history, philosophy, psychology, transcendental therapeutics and bridge whist—and yet starve to death.

He might be the greatest scholar that ever opened a book, but if he were not willing or able to crystallize some little fraction of his knowledge into power the only person who would ever know he was alive would be the census enumerator.

Knowledge never counts, unless coupled with action. Action always counts, whether backed by knowledge or inspired by insanity.

Human service, the only thing that gives a man the right to live, be he miner or scholar, laborer or millionaire, can only be performed by men who unite knowledge with action—who supplement the know how by the do how. The only People who count are those who learn how to do a thing right and then do it.

C. HOPPER, MANAGER

In case a special session of the legislature is called the first matter to receive attention should and will be, a reconsideration of the Teachers' Schedule.

The November term of the Circuit Court of the Fifth Circuit will be convened by Hon. Judge Hardy tomorrow morning. The docket is larger than the last and some interesting cases are to be tried.

The failure to secure juries in the McNamara trial is not a surprise as the particulars in the deed which the brothers are charged with committing, have had such publicity that few there are within the bounds of the States who have not learned enough concerning the case to cause them to form an opinion either pro or con.

Should yellow fever get a foothold in Honolulu, there is no doubt but that the Board of Health would be able to successfully manage to stamp it out. However individuals who have objected to destroying their mosquito brooders, would do well to ponder awhile on the impossibility of successfully mixing all-headedness with common sense and an appreciative regard for the safety of the community in which they reside.

Those responsible for survey of the Hanalei Bay for the new wharf, certainly understood just what was wanted as the troubled condition of the water within the last few days has shown. As the survey was made during a perfect calm, it was difficult to know without a perfect knowledge of the bay just where to run the line. Now if the Board of Public Works will get a riggle on, it might yet be possible to complete the wharf before the continual rough weather sets in.

This revolutionary leader in China undoubtedly struck the right note when he issued that order compelling all his followers to sever their queues. Besides an ingenious diplomatic move, it is said that the affair is looked upon by the Chinese Government forces as being too "quid" for anything like safety.

"Why children, our room is so nice and quiet, that I really think we might hear a cough-drop," said a prominent teacher in one of the lower grades the other day. "May I let the class hear the water-fall?" continued the witty school marm. "Please Miss Blank" piped up an observing little tot, "more better we hear one dew-drop." "No can do," came from another source, and the tinkle of the recess bell rescued the teacher from a contest of wits a continuation of which would have proven the youngsters winners by big odds.

"Promotion without additional monetary consideration," says a prominent subscriber, "can only be realized when a fellow dies and is promoted to heaven."

The teachers' schedule committee slightly varies from this view, as indicated by the numerous promotions among the teaching staff of the Territory. A body of men who deliberately affix their signatures to a law whereby a last year's Normal graduate might step into a position at a salary equal to that of an experienced teacher, is certainly far from being on the right road to "heavenly promotion."

THERE may be no graft in the administration of the Department of Public Works, but there are things connected with the Hanalei wharf contract which would be improved by an explanation. For instance the failure to advertise for bids in a local paper, thereby doing as little as possible to aid local contractors in competing for the work. If the Board of Public Works is so very sensitive as to criticism of its administration, it could do much to prevent further injury to its sensitiveness by "delivering the goods" in due time and doing away with this everlasting mystifying method which naturally creates a feeling of dissatisfaction with the Public. Again, a public official is responsible to the people and if such official is so satisfied with himself as to feel above criticism, it doesn't necessarily follow that others should share his opinion. Kauai stands ready to back a clean administration, and will challenge any other.

We will hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may.

ELSEWHERE in this issue is to be found a communication from "Small farmer," in which a severe call-down is administered to your editor, due to an article on "Diversified farming," appearing in our last issue. Among his various charges is to be found one referring to our not possessing the progressive spirit usually found in a successful paper, etc. We will view his charges as of no consequence, and pass on to a suggestion of a policy which we think would work satisfactorily both to "small farmers" and planters alike. First of all, our correspondent has sized us all wrong in regard to our ideas on small farming. We favor small farming, most emphatically, but when we say "small farming" we mean a farm of say thirty acres, twenty-five of which at least should be planted in cane, the rest to be used for pasture, garden and building purposes.

Our reason for suggesting cane is that it is without doubt, the surest and most profitable crop known to the islands to-day. To further illustrate our views, let us take a trip through the states and in so doing, investigate the prevailing crops in different sections and states. In Missouri, for instance, farmers plant the bulk of the farm in corn. In Minnesota they plant all but a small acreage in wheat, because wheat is their staple crop. They, in each instance, plant a small vegetable garden which produces vegetables for their present and future needs; they keep a few pigs, a cow or so and raise a few chickens, all on the few acres not devoted to the main crop upon which they must depend for paying taxes and putting aside something for rainy days.

Now another point is this: if vegetable raising could be done with such enormous profits, would not these same states, which are within an hour's ride of the best markets of the world, plant the bulk of their land in vegetables instead of the standard crops? Does not this argument apply to the sugar-cane industry in Hawaii? There is this difference—the vegetables raised in Hawaii are inferior to those imported. Again, our potatoes are put on the market and are hard sellers at two and three cents, while imported potatoes, sell at four cents per pound. It is also a known fact (tho' sad it is) that our home-grown spuds have not the keeping qualities that are possessed by the imported potatoes which is another draw-back to growing them on a large scale here.

As to the policy of the majority of plantations, there is not one of them but would be perfectly willing to assist the small planter in raising cane and to give him a liberal price for it at the mill. Some are doing this at present, with very satisfactory results to planters and plantations alike. Let the government kick the present land policy over the pali and present homesteads of not less than thirty acres and in addition to this get water turned on them. Show the people that we really wish settlers and give them a chance to make a living and to lay away something for a rainy day and there will be no difficulty in securing a class of labor which is so eagerly sought and so vitally necessary to our sugar interests. What can a man do on a five-acre lot? Under the present conditions—those under which Starrett will dilly-dally and try to fool the people—we will say that one hundred men take land in one vicinity and that Uncle Sam opens up a water system for these hopeless farmers. Bye-and-bye, the question of who should have water first, will result in a squabble which will probably culminate in the entire settlement wanting it at the same time, and in the meantime the valuable crops of onions, potatoes, etc., are burning up and the experts who have gotten these unfortunate to fritter their time and money away in this manner, could very likely be located in some other part of the world, lecturing on successful diversified farming in Hawaii.

But how different would the situation be, were these same men provided with homes of from 30 to 40 acres each, with all but a few acres planted to a crop that has made Hawaii what it is: a crop to which the city of Honolulu to-day as well as every other important center of these islands—owes its very existence; a crop which makes the maintenance of the Honolulu Iron Works—a firm which feeds thousands of our Hawaiian families year in and year out—necessary; a crop which amounted in the last year to $52,000,000. This crop, as we all well know, is sugar-cane. Let the experts bawl their heads off; the diversified farmer advocate turn up and preach onions, potatoes, etc., from beet-tops, but any one who has a reasonable amount of common sense will see the advantage of planting a sure crop, over that of following the advice of an expert whose real knowledge of the conditions here wouldn't last him over night.

Kauai's Young People "Dogs That Laughed"

JOHNNY'S chicken it was that big dog Rex laughed at—Johnny's little feeble-minded chicken that one of the neighbors had given him for helping her pick currants.

There were no other chickens for Johnny's chicken to go with after he brought it home. They were living—that is, Johnny and the rest of the family—in a summer cottage high up in the mountains just for two or three months, and his mother did not think of such a thing as keeping hens.

Johnny found an old packing-box and placed it in a shady spot under the trees, and after he had made a perch he put the chicken in, with some meal-dough and water.

The chicken did not seem very lively. When Johnny came up home from playing with the neighbor's children it was noon, and the chicken was standing just where he had left it. At night it sat in the box and did not try to fly up to its perch.

Johnny explained that Mrs. Baker had told him she thought it was a feeble-minded chicken, but that he might have it, and if he gave it extra care maybe it would amount to something.

After a few days the chicken ventured out of the box and wandered a few feet away, feebly picking at things in the grass.

Sometimes it would stand still anywhere it happened to be, looking as if it felt lost, until somebody came along and gently carried it back to its box.

Once or twice Johnny picked it out, in the morning, before he went away to play. He tied one end of a string to its leg and the other end to a little stake which he drove in the ground, in a nice cool grassy place, where it could reach the clear water dripping down from the spring.

By and by, sometimes, the chicken began to take longer walks; it even came up to the cottage porch a few times. But it did not seem to grow any, and it still had a way of stopping to think, right in the middle of the path.

Rex had not taken the least notice of the chicken in all this time, except to look at it now and then as if he were idly wondering what it could be doing there, and what it might be good for anyway. And that was the reason why everybody was so surprised when one evening, as Rex and the rest of the family were out together under the trees in the moonlight, the big dog suddenly made up his mind to have a frolic with the little feeble-minded chicken.

"I think he laughed because the chicken looked so ridiculous," said Katy.

"I think he laughed because it was so foolish for such a big dog to be chasing 'round after a little bit of a feeble-minded chicken!" said Josey.

"I think he laughed because the chicken thought he was going to hurt it, when he wasn't," said Uncle Tohy, "just as Hugo laughed at the jays."

"And that's a mean kind of teasing," said Johnny, "only Rex and Hugo don't know any better."

Anyway—the dogs laughed; everybody was sure of that.

Rex never noticed the chicken again. It died, one day, a peaceful natural death, and Johnny buried it under a wild-rose bush.

Some Oriental War News

PEKING, Oct. 26.—This city is under martial law. Canton is in the hands of the rebels whose armies are marching on Peking with serious opposition. More cities are falling into the hands of the rebels who are meeting with unbroken success. The National Assembly is on the verge of defiance towards the government.

The Assembly has sent an ultimatum to the throne, threatening to disband unless its demands are complied with, and a wide rumor is afloat that mutiny exists in the army. Taitai of Shanghai, has deserted his post and taken refuge in foreign concessions.

TOKIO, Oct. 25.—The revolutionary movement is spreading with incredible speed throughout the north and south. Chanchan is reported captured, and Kingklang one of the few remaining Federal strong-holds, opened its gates yesterday to the rebels. Federal forces are in great danger in the city of Nanking.

A dispatch from Shanghai under date of Oct. 25, to this paper, Gen. Yint Chang reports a battle with rebels in which he was victorious. This is the first report of a victory for the federal army since the beginning of hostilities.

Telan, considered a strong federal post, has gone over to the revolutionary side. The government is growing short of necessary funds with which to carry on the war, as indicated in the recent request to the various powers extend the time limit in payment of the indemnity fund.

GOLBURN AT MANILA NEW KAPAA LEASE

O. A. Steven, agent of the Sugar Planters' labor bureau who has just returned from a long stay in the Philippines, says that H. C. Coburn, former manager of the Kauai Railway company, and now also a recruiting agent in the Philippines, is making things hum on the Hawaii, the vessel used by the agent around the Philippine islands. Coburn is known as a man that gets things done, and when he stood on the deck of the little steamer, over six feet high and as broad as a doorway, and began to give orders, everybody from the captain down hustled to execute them. Steven is back for a vacation and rest, and will assimilate some cold weather by going to the Coast, up to Seattle and Vancouver, and across to the Orient again on one of the Empress liners.

The Makee Sugar Company is negotiating with the Territory for a parcel of land, containing a little over 3000 acres in the Kapaa district. It is stated that the Governor is drafting a rough form of an agreement and this will be presented to Senator Fairchild, who is the representative of the company in the matter. The lease is far different from any thing that has ever been drawn of a like nature in the Territory. There are improvements that amount up to between $20,000 and $25,000 that are to be added to the land if it is leased to the sugar company, and these improvements, the Governor stated will stand for rent until the amount has been used up and after that the company may have the land on a cash basis if there is no demand for it from the outside. At the rate of lease it is figured that the rent money and the improvements will even up in about five years.—Bul.

PLEASE DON'T LAUGH

He Did Not Understand.

Pat had been seized with violent pains and was hurried to a hospital. The physician in charge, after diagnosis, informed him that he had appendicitis, and that an operation was necessary as his appendix must be removed immediately.

Pat had not the least idea of what an appendix was, and so informed the physician, who laughingly told him that after the operation he would leave the appendix in the window so he could see it when he was able to sit up.

Some days after the operation Pat's curiosity got the better of him, and he raised up in bed to take a look at his appendix. To his amazement a monkey was sitting on the window-sill, and when he saw Pat he began to make faces and chatter at a great rate.

The astonished Irishman gave the monkey a long, hard look, and then exclaimed: "Don't do that, me boy, don't do that. Can't you see your mother is a very sick man?"

She Left Her Feet Behind.

A Good old Scotch minister, calling unexpectedly on a widow who lives in a cottage on the outskirts of the village, surprised her in the midst of washing a lot of clothes. She hurriedly hid behind a clothes-horse and told her little boy to say that she was out.

The visitor knocked at the door. "Well Jamie," he said, "and where is your mother?"

"My mother's not in; she's down street on a message," promptly replied the lad.

"Indeed," replied the minister, with a glance at the bottom of the screen. "Well, tell her I called; and say that the next time she goes down to the village she should take er feet with her!"

One On George.

"Oh, My!" she exclaimed impatiently; "we'll be sure to miss the first act. We've been waiting a good many minutes for that mother of mine."

"Hours, I should say," he replied, rather tartly.

"Ours?" she cried joyfully. "Oh, George, this is so sudden!"

One On Him.

"I never judge a woman by her clothes," observed a "smart" young man to a lady friend.

"No," put in the young lady, "a man who gets to as many burlesque shows as you do wouldn't."

There Was Plenty Left Over.

One Sunday morning a certain young pastor in his first charge announced nervously:

"I will take for my text the words, 'And they fed five men with five thousand loaves of bread and two thousand fishes.'"

At this misquotation an elderly parishioner from his seat in the amen corner said audibly:

"That's no miracle—I could do it myself."

The young preacher said nothing at the time, but the next Sunday he announced the same text again. This time he got it right:

"And they fed five thousand men on five loaves of bread and two fishes."

He waited a moment, and then, leaning over the pulpit and looking at the amen corner, he said:

"And could you do that, too, Mr. Smith?"

"Of course I could," Mr. Smith replied.

"And how would you do it?" said the preacher.

"With what was left over from last Sunday," said Mr. Smith.

She Declined.

Simpson gallantly escorted his Boston hostess to the table.

"May I," he asked, "sit on your right hand?"

"No," she replied, "I have to eat with that. You'd better take a chair."

That the new Ball Park which was recently dedicated to the public by the McBryde Plantation, is the kind of gift that is most appreciated.

That Walter McBryde has a great big heart and works it overtime when it comes to interesting himself in athletic sports.

That if all our influential men would show as much interest in their employees' sport would become what it should.

That it's nice to be married.

That it's not nice (to hubby) to come home to a pick-up dinner.

That pink tea habits should remember that hubby comes home to be fed.

That a touch of the wifely hand in arranging the dinner is appreciated by hubby.

That every woman should try the experiment and maybe hubby wouldn't have grouch so often.

That trouble is brewing in a prominent family.

That it may eventually reach Honolulu.

That if it does there'll be something doing.

That some well-known parties may feel it their duty to "beat it."

That it would be best to follow the old saying and "do it now."

That the Waimea basketball team feel sore over the drubbing which enjoys them.

Hanalei Happenings

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Werner made a visit to Lihue.

Last Saturday Mr. Menefoglio, manager and electrician of the electric power house at Wainiha, and his wife and children were the guests of Mrs. Deverill.

Sunday, Mrs. Deverill, Miss Deverill, Annie, and Herbert made a flying trip of about 125 miles in an automobile to the southern side of the island to visit Mrs. Deverill's son.

On Friday afternoons at school there is always an interesting company of girls engaged in sewing. Lately they have been busy making garments from a bolt of unbleached muslin which came into their possession a few weeks ago.

Talk about energy and enthusiasm! If a person wishes to see a good sample of it just let him visit Mrs. Ahil's room while the little tots are singing "This is the way we wash our clothes so early in the morning."

Some of the garden seeds came at last, and it would have done one good to watch the eager boys last Friday afternoon mark off the beds and plant the seeds. A few flower seeds came also and the girls took possession of them and planted them by the cottage.

The other day after nearly all the pupils had gone home, it was discovered that the flag cord had fallen to the ground. The teacher was at loss as to how to get the cord in place again, but the problem was soon solved as the ever-resourceful George and Sanger, happened to be present. Sanger, with the cord in his mouth, climbed the pole like a squirrel, and, under George's directions, attached the cord to the top of the pole and brought it down again.

To The People Of Kauai

Grasp this opportunity before it is too late! A few dollars properly invested might put you on Easy Street. Be a sport and take a chance. If you fail, go to it again. Wealthy people were poor, but took a chance and made good. Your third man work for a salary and rent a house all their lives. They lack nerve to assert themselves. A trip to the Coast or an auto ride would sober their savviness for a year. The farmer takes a chance when he plants; the ship may sink; your house may burn down, but only a coward loses courage.

Lakeview No. 2 Oil Co. Hits Big Gas Well-Mud and Water Throw High Over the Derrick.

It is thought by oil men who have visited the property that the company has just over the main oil sand, and that within the next few feet the well will encounter a flow that will compare favorably with the new well of the Lakeview, the Consolidated Midway, the standard and other producers of that locality.

The fact that when the gas pressure in this well broke loose there was over 1200 feet of water in the hole, and before the shale could break up into the casing this whole column of water had to be lifted by the gas pressure, leads those who are keeping close tabs on conditions in this vicinity to believe that something more than common can be looked for when this well penetrates to the main sand.

A deep well assures a big gusher for years, as it drains the oil from the upper levels.

Lakeview No. 1 stock cost $100 and sold for $2000 per share.

The price of Lakeview No. 2 is now $600, and have no doubt it will jump to $1000 per share.

This is your opportunity to take a gamble in almost a sure proposition.

Men and women desirous of improving their condition in life should read carefully as act quickly as no more shares will be sold after the well comes in.

I have only a few thousand shares left.

Another Revolution Faces The Manchus

A second revolution, independent of the first, faces the manchu government. The up-rising is reported as being in the Province of Kausuh. The capital city has been captured and the government troops have either been taken or joined the rebels. The leader has proclaimed himself Emperor.

America May Take A Hand

As a precautionary measure, the U. S. A. has sent an extra war ship to China, it having gotten away on Thursday last.

Another City In State Of Revolt

The City of Foo Chu has revolted and the rebels have seized the Customs House and other government property. Canton is reported captured and the Emperor and family are on the hike for Manchuria.

He Spoke To Him.

Willie, accompanied by Father and Mother, was crossing the ocean. Father and Mother were both seasick, but Willie was immune. Throughout the trip he had been annoying the passengers. Finally his mother, turning to the father, said, in a very weak voice, grasping between each word: "Father—I wish—you'd—speak to—Willie."

Father, turning a sea-green face toward that rampant youngster, spoke in a languid voice:

"How-de-do, Willie?"

We have been censured for expressing our belief that Governor Frear will be reappointed. We cannot help feeling the way we do when we understand that President Taft is a sensible man and can see through as neat a little Democratic scheme as the present rumpus over the Governorship question seems to be. The astonishing part of the whole thing is that a man who should have a good deal of experience in the ways of the world as Delegate Kuhio should have acquired so blindly led astray.—O Luso.
