Schwarz Concert A Rare Treat

Not only Lihue residents, but many from all over the island, filled the Tip Top theater last Friday evening, eagerly anticipating the rare pleasure before them. For the fame of Josef Schwarz, as an artist of distinction had penetrated even to this end of the world where good music is a rare treat. The conventional scene of the theater was covered with a profusion of yellow and gold hemorichalis, the bright day lily which was introduced to the islands several years ago by Mrs. Hans Isenberg. Delicate blue agapanthus was interspersed among the great clusters of gold. It was to Mrs. Isenberg that Kauai owes the very unexpected privilege of hearing so great an artist, for as her guest Mr. Schwarz had consented to give a concert, the proceeds of which should be at her disposal. Truly it was a princely gift both of beauty and usefulness. The crowded house brought in proceeds to the amount of $700 which is to be shared by the Hui Aloha and the Young Women's Christian Association of Kauai. With one half the Hawaiian ladies of the Hui Aloha plan to renovate the little Hawaiian church at Nawiliwili; with the other the Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. A. will equip their summer camp, a dream at last come true. The graciousness of the donors will long be remembered by many grateful beneficiaries.

Yet even more poignantly, perhaps, will the large audience of Friday night recall the magnificent voice which poured out, unstinted, in wave upon wave of sound. With the very able and sympathetic assistance of Alexander Smallens at the piano, Mr. Schwarz began, testing out his audience a little at first, with the dignified and sonorous "Arioso" of Handel. In the Verdi aria which followed, the artist showed great range and depth of feeling which appealed to the audience. But it remained for the first selection in English, "Dream in the Twilight" by Richard Strauss, to bring audience and artist into close sympathy. To the great delight of the listeners, this selection was repeated. This whole group of four songs, two by Strauss and two by Schubert, has met with spontaneous enthusiasm among the Honolulu reviewers and true it is that they were sung with exceptional feeling and sympathy. Offenbach's "Mirror Song" from "The Tales of Hoffmann," technical and brilliant, was likewise rendered, in its beautiful head tones particularly, with complete ease and command.

One should then have been prepared for the brilliance and power of the unusual group of Russian songs which closed the program. But it seemed as if the human voice could command no further resources. Yet in a Russian atmosphere the great volume of sound and feeling seemed completely at home. The second, "Over the Steppe" by Gretchaninoff, seemed perfectly suited to the singer's resonance and power. The final selection, "The Flea," by Moussorgski, was essentially dramatic and afforded the artist an unexcelled opportunity to display his unusual ability as an actor-rollicking at first with a gay laugh, then gradually growing more and more sinister and bitter, until the final laugh became a sneer.

It was truly a gorgeous program. Its crowning glory, however, remains yet to be mentioned. For some time the artist merely felt about the soul of his audience, doubting a little perhaps, whether it were a soul to which he could speak. Gradually, the appreciation of his listeners became unmistakable, until a very storm of applause greeted the end of the program. Nor would it be stilled before the accompanist announced the first encore, the prologue from Paganini. Every wish was fulfilled in its beautiful interpretation, artistic in its repressed emotion, yet so gloriously swelling forth at the end, exhibiting astounding flexibility of voice and tone. Huge applause greeted this selection which perhaps during the whole wonderful evening was the favorite. Nothing daunted, the applause continued. And when Mrs. Schwarz, the artist's wife, was seen to beckon to her husband to return for a second encore, delight knew no bounds. The audience was captured. Stately, tall, with iron gray hair, mobile, expressive features, and of majestic stage presence, the beloved artist, captivated in turn by the spontaneity of his listeners, appeared yet again. Each seemed to play up to the other with increasing delight. And the joy was unfeigned, when, with lavish hand, the singer flung out first one operatic selection and then another, Paganini, La Favorita, Hamlet. These princely gifts seemed too good to be true. Flowers had been showered upon the singer by girl ushers, a huge lei of roses from the Hui Aloha, and another lei and flowers hurried down the long aisle by young Girl Reserves who had charge of the ushering. And so at last there was mutual understanding and appreciation. A great artist had sung himself into the hearts of his hearers, even as Rachmanninoff had written for him: "I am no prophet—I speak to hearts with songs, and wake the spark of God in them."

KAPAA NOTES

The Juan Carlos tailor shop and general store closed its doors last week, the general business depression being apparently the cause. The principal creditors are Theo. H. Davies & Co., of Honolulu and S. M. Tomas Co., of Kilauea.

Kauluna Kaunwai and Miss Daisy Contrades, well known locally were married at Anahola on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Kaunwai is a member of the local police department.

Eddie Fernandez and his fun makers, side shows, etc., were here for four days last week, and despite the alleged hard times, departed apparently at the long end of the game.

For the first time for more than a year, Antonio Fernandez, local movie man, watched the crowd with a smile last Sunday. The theater was full, nearly every seat being taken before the performance started to see that much advertised feature, "The Sheik."

Albert Bush, homesteader, until recently with the Ahukini Railway & Terminal Co., has joined the staff of Coney & Morris, contractors, and is now stationed at Hanalei in connection with the construction of the new Hanalei government wharf.

B. Y. Lee, proprietor of Yuen Kee Chop Suey house, is so enthusiastic over the success of the Makees, that he not only treated them to a special dinner on Monday evening for their victory over Makaweli last Sunday, but he has promised that if the Makees make it three straight this year, he is going to outdo his former efforts, and give the team another Chinese dinner, better than the first, in regular Canton style, if you know what that means. Three championships in three years is aiming rather high, but the boys all feel that they can do it.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF COMMERCE CHAMBER TO BE HELD FRIDAY

The Kauai Chamber of Commerce will hold an important special meeting on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Lihue court house. The meeting is called to consider Governor Farrington's proposal that Congress transfer the local public utilities from the Interstate Commerce Commission to the Public Utility Commission of Hawaii. This is a question that affects every resident of the island and a big attendance is expected.

Other matters of importance will be brought up. The following letter has been received from Raymond C. Brown and will be considered:

"In a meeting, May 1, the executive council of the territorial civil convention, a feeling was expressed that a convention should be held sometime this year or prior to the convening of the 1923 session of the territorial legislature.

"The decision as to whether or not a convention should be held, is delegated to the executive council, but in order to secure more general opinion on the two questions, it was decided to submit the matter to each of the constituent organizations and I will be pleased if you will take this matter up in your next meeting for decision. After decision, I should appreciate a reply."

It is also reported that a move will be made to have an inter-island boat at Ahukini each week, where it is now possible for boats to land their passengers and freight directly on the dock. The road to Ahukini has been completed and cars can easily be run to the harbor in any and all kinds of weather.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY HELD MEETING MONDAY

The Kauai Historical Society held its regular annual meeting at the church library rooms last night. There was an unusually good attendance. The officers, who have served ever since the organization of the society, were unanimously re-elected for another year.

There was a good deal of discussion in regard to recovering and marking places of exceptional interest, and a growing interest in these places was manifested.

Provision was made for securing the stump of the one remaining original tree of the old Brown place at Kumala, Wailua and making from it some suitable article of furniture for the new public library.

A resolution was passed endorsing the request of the Chamber of Commerce and board of supervisors for the addition of the Puaki Ridge to the Polihua park.

There was some considerable discussion as to the feasibility of having the Haena caves and immediate surroundings put aside for public use after the manner of parks and preventing them from defacement. A special committee was appointed for this purpose.

Mr. Lydgate gave a talk on the Ancient Hawaiian House, illustrated by a model of the same.

This called forth interesting facts and reminiscences from S. W. Wilcox and others, which added much to the interest of the occasion.

Altogether it was a very delightful evening.

The Kauai Fair Is Shaping Up Fine

The success of the Kauai Fair is assured. The planters association of this island will enter an exhibit of sugar cane which will eclipse any attempt heretofore made in this line, and the Kauai Fruit & Land Co., Ltd. will prepare an exhibit of pineapples both of the whole and canned fruit, which will be most ambitious to say the least. Demonstrations by these large concerns will be educational in their nature and may help those who are largely interested in these two industries.

The poultry raisers of Kauai will also present their wares for exhibition, and as a great many people are interested in chickens, ducks and turkeys, these ought to be of value to the visitors. Some valuable animals will be exhibited.

A great deal is being said about polar pies, and the name being new to a number of Kauaians, questions are flying fast and furious as to what they are. But really there is nothing mysterious in are name. We do not really know what they are but are venturing a guess that the Mokihana Club, who will import these pies, will give us some frozen sweet which will be most delicious. Perhaps our guess is wrong, but we are willing to let Saturday, May 27th, decide the issue.

Those who are directing the fair wish to thank those who are giving unstintingly of their time in the preparation of the great event. The fact that it is going to be a community fair has secured the co-operation of the various elements in our midst.

REMEMBER THE DAY, Saturday, May 27th, 10 o'clock a. m. to midnight.

THE OPENING OF THE LIHUE PARISH HOUSE

The new memorial parish house of the Lihue Union church, erected by Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wilcox in memory of their sons, is to be formally opened Friday afternoon, May 19th, at 4 o'clock. Everyone interested is cordially invited to be present. There will be short program in which Albert W. Palmer of Central Union church will give the address, "The Church as a Community Servant."

In the evening at 8 o'clock there will be a children's performance of Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream. Between the acts the Pastoro Trio will render Mendelssohn's Midsummer Night's Dream music, the overture and the scherzo, continuing with Schubert's Humoresque and Tchaikowski's Valse des Fleurs, selections well fitted to the spirit of the play. Music of the three fairy songs of the play has been composed for the occasion by Miss Margaret Clarke of Honolulu, who will herself play the accompaniments. The performance is under the direction of Miss Ethel Damon and Mrs. Catherine Cox of Honolulu, assisted by Miss Edith Rice who has personally designed and supervised the costumes, by Mrs. Bayless and the teachers of the grades and the high school, as well as by many others who have given freely of their time. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend both the dedication at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the play in the evening at 8 o'clock.

WILL C. KING DIES OF HEART FAILURE

Will C. King, for many years a resident of the Garden Island, died at his home in Honolulu last Thursday morning of heart failure. Mr. King had been in poor health for the past several years.

For several years Mr. King was the manager of the Hawaiian Sugar company's store. His health being poor, he resigned and moved to Honolulu, but later moved back to Koloa where he was employed by the Koloa Sugar company. About six years ago he returned to Honolulu and has lived there ever since.

NEW RESIDENCES TO BE BUILT IN LIHUE

Lihue's new residential row is to receive two new additions soon. Eddie Fountain and Martin Brier have purchased lots on the front street from the Lihue Plantation company and are planning to build in the very near future. They have already plowed and fenced their grounds prior to building.

There is now only one more lot open along this line. When that is closed a street will have to be opened and more lots sold back of those or homeseekers will have to look elsewhere for locations.

Boy Steals $300; Idea From Movies

Adam Ah You, a 13-year-old school boy, confessed to breaking into the store of Pang Him in Nawiliwili last week and stealing some $300, in the juvenile court last Wednesday morning.

The case had been reported to the police by Pang Him, and Enoka Lovell Jr., was assigned to the case. Enoka made some investigations at the scene of the crime and noticed the boy acting rather suspiciously around the store. Acting on a hunch, Enoka suddenly walked up behind him and grabbed him as if he were going to arrest him, and the boy blurted out, "It wasn't me," even before Enoka accused him.

Enoka then measured his foot in the footprints around the house and they tallied exactly. The boy stoutly maintained his innocence so Enoka released him so as to secure additional evidence. He warned all the storekeepers to watch out for the boy and to notify the police if he spent any unusual sums of money with them.

Enoka, still working on his hunch was convinced that the boy would then try to spend the money by mail and he set watch at the post-office early Wednesday morning. Enoka arrived at the Lihue post-office just after 5 o'clock in the morning and the boy showed up a few minutes later and attempted to mail some letters. Enoka prevented him from doing so and confiscated the letters. There were three letters and each had a sum of money in them, one even to the amount of $60.

The boy then broke down and confessed to stealing the money and turned what was left over to the police. He had made out an order on a well known mail order house for almost $200 worth of goods and which included a cowboy suit, a saddle, a lariat, a bride, a guitar, ukulele and a complete baseball outfit.

He was tried before Judge Wm. C. Achi Jr., in the juvenile court on Wednesday morning, and the judge decided that as this was his first offense and that he always had a good record up to this time, to place him on probation for a period of six months. He will report to the judge in his chambers every Saturday morning during the period of his probation.

Adam told the court that he got the idea for the crime by watching a serial picture at Nawiliwili, called "The Great Gamble." He also told the court that he happened to go under the store to retrieve a ball that had gone there and saw the opening in the floor and went up thru and stole the money which he had seen Him put into a trunk.

FOUNDERS' DAY FOR THE NEW LIBRARY

May 24th will be observed each year as it comes around as Founders' Day by the Kauai Public Library Association. On this occasion there will be appropriate exercises in honor of the memory of A. S. Wilcox, at the Mokihana hall from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m.

For this first Founders' Day the following program has been arranged:

Brief address by Rev. J. M. Lydgate, "Mr. A. S. Wilcox and His Benefactions."

Solo by Mrs. W. H. Rice.

Brief address by Rev. Royal G. Hall, "The Library and the Community."

Solo by Mrs. H. T. Sheldon.

Statement by Frank Crawford, president of the association on the progress and present status of the library.

Vocal Solo by Judge Wm. Achi.

Vocal Solo by Mrs. Rogers.

Refreshments and orchestra music on the lawn will follow. Sketch plans of the memorial building will be on exhibition.

Everyone interested in books and reading, and especially everyone interested in a public library for Kauai is cordially invited.

ESPISCOPAL SERVICE

There will be a celebration of the Anglican communion at the residence of J. H. Hall, Lihue, at 7:30 p. m., on Thursday, May 18. Celebrating the Episcopal priest from Wailua, Rev. M. E. Carver.

PERSONALS

Allan Fayo was an incoming passenger on the Kinau last Wednesday morning.

W. C. Achi Sr., father of Judge Achi of Lihue, is making a visit with his son and family.

W. Blackstead of Hanamaulu returned Friday from a short business trip to Honolulu.

Gaylord P. Wilcox arrived this morning to attend the dedication exercises of the Lihue parish house.

Y. Y. Tsue returned from a short business trip to Honolulu this morning.

Mrs. P. A. Romane, of Koloa, was a returning passenger from Honolulu last Friday morning.

John Neill, father of Mrs. R. D. Moler, returned to Lihue last Friday after a visit of several weeks in Honolulu.

The Kekaha-Waimea Social Club will give a dance at the Waimea hall Saturday, May 20th. This is the first of a series of affairs to be given by the club.

Mrs. Charles Rice will be at home at Kalapaki on Thursday afternoon to any of her friends who care to enjoy the wonderful bathing at Kalapaki.

Mr. and Mrs. David Kamaipili and three children returned from Honolulu to their home at Port Allen last Wednesday morning.

Rev. and Mrs. Patrick Takalashi of Lihue, are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter at their home. The little lady is to be called Julia Sachi.

Mrs. Charles Wilcox and three children arrived via the Claudine to attend the dedication of the Lihue parish house.

Richard Quinn, U. S. engineer, was over from Honolulu last week on one of his regular visits of inspection of the breakwater.

H. D. Sloggett returned last Wednesday from Honolulu, where he went to accompany Prof. F. J. Dollinger, who underwent a serious operation last week.

Miss Dorothy Tsue who is studying nursing at the Queen's hospital arrived from Honolulu this morning to spend her vacation with her brothers and sisters at Nawiliwili.

R. R. Moler, manager of Lihue plantation, returned last Friday morning from Honolulu, to which place he accompanied Mrs. Moler, who departed for the mainland on the Manoa last Wednesday.

Norman King, the chemist for the Koloa Sugar company, returned from Honolulu this morning. He has been to Honolulu to attend the funeral of his father, who died suddenly last Thursday morning.

A. M. Ormiston, former of the Hawaiian Pineapple company, Honolulu, arrived by the Kinau last Wednesday morning to visit with his daughter, Mrs. Wm. H. Tilley, of Elele, and to join Mrs. Ormiston who has been visiting their daughter for several weeks.

Miss Candina Tonini, who underwent a serious stomach operation in Honolulu in April, is again on Kauai and recovering rapidly. Miss Tonini's health is much better and a complete recovery is only a matter of a little time.

Prof. Forrest J. Dollinger, principal of the Kauai high school, is showing every evidence of having pulled thru his operation most successfully. He was operated on last week in Honolulu for cankers of the stomach. It is hoped that he will be able to return to Lihue in a month or six weeks and to convalesce in his Garden Island home.

"Count" Richter, chemist for the McElyde Sugar company, was a returning passenger on the Kinau last Wednesday morning. Mr. Richter made a short business trip to Honolulu the preceding week.

SALVATION ARMY HEADS TO VISIT KAUAI IN JUNE

Brigadier C. W. Bourne, divisional commander in charge of the Salvation Army in Hawaii, and Commandant West, young people's secretary of the Army, will arrive on Kauai Friday morning, May 30 and will spend the following ten days on a speaking tour of the island.

A fine dance to the best jazz band on the island will be at the disposal of everyone for the modest price of a 5 cents a (Continued on Page Ten)

Kilauea Planing Big Entertainment For July Fourth

Kilauea is planning a bigger, better, more exciting and more cosmopolitan Fourth of July this year than ever before. And they are announcing right here and now what they are going to do.

On the second of July the annual agricultural show and fair will be staged in the community house. This fair was inaugurated two years ago. The first year the show was good. There was a much larger display of Kilauea grown fruits and vegetables than the public thought could possibly be raised there. But the second year showed that the first year was only a starter. That agricultural fair compared favorably with the fruit and vegetable exhibit of the territorial fair. It would have been hard to think of an island grown fruit or vegetable that was missing.

Whether the show this year will beat last year's performance or not remains to be seen. But certainly the backers of the institution are putting forth more thought into the affair, they are making their announcements earlier and the residents of the district are taking a keener interest than ever before.

On the night of July 3 the Kilauea Comedies, a Coll of Live Wire Attractions from the Universal Short Circuit in Vandeville de Lux, followed by a Komic Kostume dance is to take place. This will be a typical Kilauea entertainment with all its jazz, surprises and jollity. So well known and advertised are these entertainments becoming that it is likely that the hall will not be able to hold the crowd. Anyone planning to enjoy a real, livewire time that night had better make his reservations early.

On the Fourth of July the program will be continued down at Kihili. There will be water sports of every variety, including Doc Patterson, Alapaki Smith and Scott Pratt are to fight for honors as the daintiest dressed bathing beauty. Swimming races, diving contests, boat and canoe races—all will do their part in making the day successful. Fuller details of the program will be announced at a later date. Keep these dates in mind.

PRECINCT CHANGES SUGGESTED; SECRETARY TO INVESTIGATE

Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the territory, arrived this morning to investigate the proposition of dividing some of the local election precincts into smaller or different groups. Two of the precincts under consideration are Kawaihau and Kapa.

It is said that the voters in the Kilauea have requested that they be placed in a precinct by itself owing to the distance that the voters are obliged to travel to vote.

A change for the Kapaa home-owners has also been requested by some of the voters from the home-owners for the same reason.

No decision has been reached by Mr. Brown in regard to the change but he is consulting with County Clerk J. M. Kaneakua on the details necessary.

LOCAL BOY RETURNS AS Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY

The county committee of the Kauai Y. M. C. A. have taken another forward and important step in the promotion of their work on the island, in securing U. Watada as the first native secretary to do work in the rural field of the territory.

Mr. Watada is a native of Kauai, secured his elementary and high school education in the Lihue schools. Later he attended Mills school in Honolulu, followed by a four years course in the agricultural department of the University of Missouri. While in school he was active in the work of the Y. M. C. A. and other student body activities and on graduation returned to Honolulu to promote association work among the English speaking Japanese of the Nuuanu branch. In training and education Mr. Watada is well fitted for the type of work he comes to Kauai to undertake.

The county program as it is being promoted by the Y. M. C. A. in other places has been demonstrated during the past eight months as applicable to local conditions. More than 300 boys and young men are participating in its activities in the various communities of the island. There are still large numbers in the camps and villages who will readily respond to the helpful influences of this work, and the presence of a native worker will make this possible.

SPORTS

MAKEE VS. MAKAWELI

The Makees retained their thousand per cent mark by defeating Damkroger's Makaweli team at Ke-paa last Sunday, but who would have been brave enough to offer a rickel for their chances until the sixth? Up to this canto only one hit and one run had been made off Wramp, and that run was the result of Auld's error in right. The score at that time was five to one in favor of the visitors, with Wramp going along in clocklike regularity, his curves and fast ball mowing down the Makee batters like grass before a scythe, although errors by his team mates put him in hot water several times. Makaweli had also gathered seven hits off Cummings up to this inning, and the Makees played as if they were out to demonstrate the art of how to play baseball, eight errors making themselves conspicuous on the scorer's records.

The final score was 6 to 5 and it required ten innings to come to a decision. The real hero of the game was Marcellino Teves, who came to the aid of Cummings in the seventh and held the visitors to no runs in four full innings, not a Makaweli reaching first base during that time.

In the eighth, with two down and runners on second and third, and one run needed to tie, he singled over short, scoring, tying the run. Morita and Hee also deserved honorable mention in the fielding line, but did nothing at the bat. Morita made hard running catch right on the foul line off Wramp's bat in the sixth which cut off two runs, and Hee fielded one from Ah Nee's bat in the tenth that was traveling a mile a minute. For Makaweli Wramp deserved a better fate, as the support given him was enough to discourage even the best of hurlers. K. Yamase in left and Conant in center fielded their positions well, but the latter's costly muff in the tenth allowed a runner on the bags who finally decided the game.

You wouldn't expect the game to have been very exciting when the sixteen errors were made, but there certainly was enough excitement even for the most rabid fans. Even Charlie Rice, who was sitting with the scorer on the sidelines, rolled over and over when the Makees tied the score in the eighth after nearly everyone thought the Makees were lost.

The Makees scored one in the first when Yoshida reached third on Auld's error and scored on another error at third. In the sixth, with one down, Tsunehiro got on thru being hit and stole second. After Soong had died, Wramp to Yamase, Morita walked and Rodrigues singled, scoring Tsunehiro, both runners advancing on the throw in. King grounded to Silva, who threw too low to first. Morita and Rodrigues scoring. They tied the count in the eighth. Soong singled and Morita sacrificed. Rodrigues went out, pitcher to first and King was hit by Wramp. Teves hit a Texas leaguer over short and Soong came in. The winning run in the tenth was not earned. Morita flied Conant, who juggled it several times and finally let it drop. Rodrigues popped to third and King doubled to right center. Morita who had stopped at third, scored when Tomas let the throw from the outfield get away.

Makaweli scored her first run in the third when with two down, and runners on second and third, King muffed Tomas' fly to left. A brace came in the fourth. Anee and Conant singled. M. Yamase fanned, but both runners advanced on a passed ball. Silver grounded to third and Soong's error scored Ah Nee. K. Yamase singled and Conant scored. The final run of the day came in the sixth. Silva doubled to right. K. Yamase grounded to Cummings, who threw high to third. Hamada and Silva scored. Yamase going to third. Wramp flied to right and K. Yamase scored when Rodrigues threw wild to second in an attempt to double up Hamada who was coming back to second in after Morita's hard catch.

KOLOA VS. LIHUE AT KOLOA

Koloa had the Lihue fans on edge for brief periods thruout the game and put a real scare into them in the ninth inning when two men tripled, almost causing the game to go into the extra inning.

With superior fielding and a thousand percent improvement over the week before, Lihue won the game by a close score of 5 to 4.

The one noticeable improvement was Bob Okuda on first where he gave both spectators and team mates all they could ask for. Robello pitched a very good game for the winning side, never once not having control over the situation.

M. Costa, the new young pitcher for Koloa, has bright possibilities with a little more practice and training. Gabriel, McBryde's talkative, last year's catcher received for Koloa. The Koloa fans got a great kick over the fact that last year's Koloa battery in Robello and Hajime were doing the honors for Lihue against their old team mates.

One of the amusing features of the game was the managing umpire, as both managers of their respective teams acted in the capacity of alternate umpires.

After a no-hit run first innng for both sides, Lihue started the ball rolling in the second when Roke having received two strikes on the first two balls pitched showed his ability to see by reaching first on a walking ticket. Burgess singled and Fujii drove a hot one out to left center good for three bases but was declared out for failure to touch second. Both Roke and Burgess scored.

Again in the fourth Bob Okuda singled. Roke was hit by Costa, which laid him out temporarily; M. Pierra running for him. Burgess again repeated with a single, scoring Okuda. Fujii sacrificed Roke home, and Robello hit a long drive to left which by a good throw of Kondo caught Burgess out in a very close play at home.

Lihue was held with no hits or runs until the eighth when Roke made his third run of the day by reaching first on an error off Okuda at third, stealing second and being brought home by Burgess whose left field fly was dropped by Kondo. This was Burgess fourth time at bat, his second hit and having reached first on all four times.

Lihue's last inning was scoreless although Hajime and Tai both were able to each pick a single.

Koloa's first runs were made in the fifth inning when Marion, the Filipino battery star, knocked a 3-bagger, being scored by Lovell, when Tai fumbled an easy ground-er.

Koloa's chances seemed very slim until the ninth, when twice M. Pierra allowed long flies to go over his head both good for three bases each. Lihue fans are hoping Pierra will begin his 1000 per cent fielding of last year from now by going after these balls in his old time way.

Bush made the first triple and immediately was followed by another from Raymond, scoring Bush. Raymond tried to steal home on a short hit ball by Neal but was run out between bases by Tai and Hajime. Marion reached first while Burgess juggled a hard one and misjudged the size of Lihue's small second base man by throwing over his head. Gabriel reached second while an attempt was being made to stop Marion and held from scoring. Both scored on an overthrow of home plate. Here Lihue tightened up and both Burgess and Fujii stopped two hard ones for second and third out respectively. The final outcome being Lihue 5, Koloa 4.

GAMES NEXT SUNDAY

Baseball is sure shaping up for a whirlwind season, despite the dope of the wise ones. Makaweli's defeat of McBryde in the opening game and her near-defeat of Makee last Sunday and the brand of ball put up by Koloa last Sunday has upset all calculations. The wise ones will have to get out a new dope sheet in which Makaweli and Koloa are going to figure very prominently.

McBryde vs. Makee at Kapaa

The Scots travel to Kapaa to take on the league leaders and have hopes of breaking in on the Makee luck and giving the champs a trimming. It took the old Makee horse shoe to defeat Makaweli last Sunday and it will have to keep on working if Makee plays the same kind of ball as they perpetrated last Sunday. Tilley is under the opinion that such luck cannot last forever and is hoping that McBryde will be able to step in when the luck changes.

Makee fans are confident that the champs will take a brace and find their batting eye and play the style of ball that won them the pennant last year.

Kenneth Hee is rapidly taking over "Flat" Ahana's title of the "Hitless Wonder." Kenneth has gone two Sundays without a blow.

There is no doubt that Teves will start against McBryde and with any sort of support should give the Scots a battle. Fans will remember the great game he heaved against the Scots at Elelee last year when he was pitching for Lihue.

Tilley and Tank will work against Makee and if Tilley and his gang play any kind of ball the battle should be a good one.

Makaweli vs. Koloa at Makaweli
Both Makaweli and Koloa have strengthened their teams this year and the game between these two clubs should be a humdinger. The problem is, can Costa hold the hard hitting westenders. Tilley could not and Jonah Cummings fell before the onslaught of the Makaweli bombardment, so Costa will have a job on his hands.

In the meantime Koloa is going to have a tough time figuring out the slants of this boy Wramp. The Kekaha boy is having a good year and with any kind of support last Sunday should have won from the champs. He is going to be a hard man to beat and Koloa will have their hands full trying to score off him.

Costa heaved good ball against Lihue last Sunday and with confidence gained by that experience should be in better form next Sunday. Eight errors is a hard handicap for any pitcher to overcome and he deserves better support.

Lihue will take a layoff, something that should give the firm of Case and Fernandes considerable relief.

TENNIS

The second round of the west side handicap doubles was played off on last Friday afternoon at Makaweli between Richter and Nunes vs. Balwin and Marcellino. Richter and Nunes won their way to the semi-finals by beating their opponents two straight, 6-4, 6-4.

On Saturday afternoon at Kekaha, E. Knudsen and C. Burns met and defeated Kruse and Bomke in the semi-finals, the score was 6-2, 6-2, 6-4. The same afternoon at McBryde Nunes and Richter defeated Creevey and Bedell in the semi-finals, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

The finals between Knudsen and Burns vs. Nunes and Richter, both class A teams, will be played at the McBryde courts next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The sets will be the best three out of five, and the winners will get two rackets offered by H. P. Faye.

Ladies Doubles
Last Tuesday Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Clutterbuck, class A, defeated Mrs. Creevey and Mrs. D. Baldwin, class C, 6-2, 6-0.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Bedell and Mrs. Jesse, class B, defeated Mrs. Rankin and Mrs. Cannon, class A, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. Both of these matches were played on the McBryde courts.

The finals, between Hall and Clutterbuck vs. Bedell and Jesse, are to be played off this afternoon on the McBryde courts. Much interest is being displayed in this match and a large following of the game is expected to be present. Although Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Clutterbuck are class A players, Mrs. Bedell and Mrs. Jesse, who rank class B, have the team work, and are expected to give a good account of themselves in this grueling match, which is to be the best three out of five. The winners will receive a prize.

KAPAA SCHOOL

The island judges, Messrs. Silva, Horner, Sloggett and Rev. Carver, visited us yesterday. We understand that this is to be their final inspection for the year and we hope our gardens pleased them.

The school glee club is rehearsing for closing exercises next month.

We are planning to give a fair and track meet before graduation to place on display school work in our shop, gardens, sewing and cooking classes, for the inspection of the parents of our pupils.

LIHUE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The school children are making leis for Miss Wilcox, who is our representative to the N. E. A. convention. Each delegate to this convention is to have a lei made by a school child of Kauai.

Miss King was called to Honolulu Friday by the sudden death of her father. The children of our school extend their sincere sympathy to Miss King.

Miss Tonini returned last week and is back at her school duties, much improved after her recent operation.

The administration building of the new school is completed but will not be occupied this year. By next year the new class rooms will have been added.

We have finished the first test of the athletic badge contest, several of the rooms reached 100 per cent.

We are very proud of the fact that our school is 100 per cent in subscription to the N. E. A. and H. E. A.

Two of our teachers, Mrs. Fountain and Miss Akana, were ill last Friday but are back at school today.

The eliminations for the various events of the track meet have been made and the contestants are practicing hard to put our school on the top.

The Boy Scouts of this school are making fine progress under Lieut. Wilson.

The boys are laying off a baseball diamond on the new school ground as there will be new buildings erected where the old diamond has been.

We have a new basketball which the children paid for, each pupil volunteering a few cents.

Friday our flag was at half mast in honor of M. M. Scott, late principal of McKinley high school, whose death occurred recently.

WAIMEA SCHOOL

Rev. Hall addressed the school on the life of General Grant, on Grant's birthday. Many of the pupils were fortunate to hear Rev. Hall at the Japanese church, Sunday, also.

Mr. Locke was a visitor Monday. He came in the interest of prospective students for Kaula High school.

Miss Kibel Wilcox made a visit Tuesday in connection with her duties as probation officer.

Track practice is going well, under the direction of Mr. Ferreira. Waimea hopes to keep the silver cup she has held for a year. A dual meet with Mafaweli is scheduled for Friday, at Waimea. A return practice meet for girls will be held at Makaweli on the following week.

Pictures of the May Day festivities are framed in the freshman room. The hour's exercises were enjoyed by all pupils, and several visitors.

The trapeze team put on an act at the High Jinks at Makaweli on Saturday night. This is the last appearance of the acrobats.

Setting up exercises are taken three times a week during the morning period. Singing will be followed twice a week.

Mr. Pugh made a hurried visit to the school last Wednesday, accompanied by the judges in the school garden contest.

NOTICE

Persons having interests and have attended previous meetings in the formation of the Hanapepe Agricultural Co. are requested to be present at the Eleele Restaurant on May 18, at 11 a. m. for the purpose of signing up the partnership agreements.
By Q. C. CHING.

FORD MAKES CHANGES IN CAR AND TRUCK

Closed Models of Former Show Different Interior; Are Many Mechanical Alterations

Detroit, April 15.—A number of detained mechanical changes and refinements have been made recently on both Ford cars and trucks. The most important is the use of a new type H headlamp for both cars and trucks and for replacement on cars already in use. It is equipped with a special design refracting type lens and a new 21 candlepower gas-filled double filament bulb. The new lamps when properly adjusted, are legal in all states, although there is great increase in road illumination.

The enclosed models are now being finished in walnut brown broad cloth, the seats being upholstered in the same material with a checked ebony stripe. Heavy floor rugs are provided and special design lifts have reduced the effort necessary in raising the windows. Door bumpers insure tighter fitting, and new door grips inside and outside add to the convenience.

Mechanical changes are as follows: The piston and connecting rods have been redesigned and matched for weight before assembling to reduce vibration and give quicker pick-up. The new pistons are three-fourths pound lighter than the old.

The crankshaft surfaces are highly polished to reduce wear and make for smoother running.

A new carburetor gives increased acceleration with quicker pick-up and greater flexibility.

Wiring System Redesigned.

The wiring system has been completely redesigned and all wiring is in loom where necessary to comply with the underwriters insurance rules.

A 16-inch steering wheel is now regularly fitted and a steering wheel stop limits the travel of the steering wheel between the positions in which the front wheel spindles strike the front axle yokes. The full steering wheel motion is always in turning the front wheels and the stop prevents straining or bucking the steering mechanism after the front wheels have reached the limit of their travel. Improvements have been made in the steering mechanism itself by the use of a taper construction on the steering ball bolt. The tapered bolt fitting into a special tapered seat in the steering connecting rod yoke provides a construction initially tight and prevents looseness and rattling in service.

Timken roller bearings are now used on models with demountable rims.

The radiator is now spring mounted and the fastening of the front radius rods has been improved by the use of tapered nuts in tapered seats.

The crankcase front end bearing has been redesigned, making it simpler and at the same time providing greater flexibility for the front spring. The new spring hangers are in one piece to maintain permanent alignment.

A new design cutout is mounted directly on the generator.

The running board brackets are of one piece, pressed steel and make for body rigidity.

A dash weather trough prevents rain from reaching the coil terminals or the dash wiring.

Cord tires have been adopted as standard equipment on the rear wheels of the truck chassis.

A new spare tire carrier combines light weight with increased strength and rigidity.

In the equipment is to be noted a new license plate carrier which will fit the tags of all states, a new jack and a new tire pump.

"THE SHEIK"

A photoplay of tempestuous love between a madcap English Beauty and a bronzed Arab chief

When an Arab sees a woman he wants he takes her.

That was the meaning of love in the desert until The Sheik met the English girl.

That is the heart of the plot of "The Sheik" which in book form is the year's sensation on both sides of the Atlantic and which as a Paramount Picture finds and thrills a multi-millionaire audience.

Don't miss the thrill of seeing the proud mad-cap English girl snatched from the sands by the hard-riding Sheik of a hundred tribes.

You will be amazed at her life within the tented luxury of the Sahara.

You will see love making by the handsome Rudolph Valentino as The Sheik which is in the full torrent of oriental tradition.

How shall the lovely and aristocratic Agnes Ayres, as the English girl, escape with life and honor?

That is the plot of it, the shiver of it—the odds are so great—that is the drama you see against a back ground of infinite desert.

—of a thousand wild Bedouin horsemen with long rifles and flowing robes.

—of the bride market at Biskra where the slave brides are sold, —and of desert fighting between sheik and bandit, and between their troops, of a ferocity only equalled by tigers.

Does love emerge supreme and glorious at the climax? Is a pure spot found in the heart of the bronzed Sheik?

The answer to that will make you draw the deepest breath of all.

—and recognize that once more Paramount has given you the best show in town or state.

THE UNIVERSITY EXTENSION LETTER

The University of Hawaii is printing and distributing free a weekly extension letter. A great many of our readers do not receive this letter, however, and for their information we will print in this column each week the parts that seem to us to apply especially to our farmers:

FIRST STEPS IN BEEKEEPING

While it is true that the field for commercial beekeeping on a large scale is pretty well filled by several apary companies in the territory, still there are plenty of opportunities for this industry on a scale to furnish honey for home use and perhaps to make a little money on the side.

That there is wide interest in this subject throughout the territory is indicated by the many requests for information on this subject that come to the university, as well as by the surprisingly large number who have enrolled in the extension short course in beekeeping.

The first step in beekeeping is to learn something about it. Get bulletins or a good book on the subject, and talk with experienced beekeepers. The best book is "Beekeeping," by E. F. Phillips, published by McMillan Co., New York, 1915. A pamphlet published by E. C. Smith, experienced apiarist, can be purchased for 25 cents. We can take your orders for these, thru the University Book Store.

The best time to start is in the spring, in April or May or earlier. In Hawaii it is possible to make a start at most any period of the year, but now is the best time when the klawe (algaroba) is in bloom and a long period of honey storage is ahead for the colony.

Good standard hives only should be used, for they are much better and in the long run cheaper than others. Sufficient hives, a smoker, a bee-veil and a hive-tool such as Smith describes should be provided before you get the bees.

Where to Get Bees

Established colonies in standard hives may be purchased for about $5 from any apiarist. Stray swarms occasionally may be caught and lived. A small colony of bees with a good queen may be bought and during the spring and summer months the small handful will multiply into a strong colony. This is not recommended as the best way of making a start however. Anyone who cares to may send us orders for established colonies and we will place them where they can best be filled.

Beekeeper's Supplies are sold by the Jordan Co., 203 McCandless Building, Honolulu.

Canning Fruits and Vegetables

We have for free distribution a few extra copies of a government bulletin (Farmers' Bulletin 853) which gives much valuable information on the home canning of fruits and vegetables.

WATER MAKES EGGS

Water, the cheapest and most essential food element, is often lost sight of by the average poultry man. Especially as the warm season of the year approaches should ample provision be made to supply plenty of water for all fowl whether confined or on free range. A dozen medium sized eggs contain about a pint of water and 55 per cent of the body weight of a hen is water. Water is necessary in the crop of the hen to keep the food which reaches there from becoming congested, or crop-bound which may result from the lack of water. Water softens the food and allows it to pass uniformly down the oesophagus into the glandular stomach. In the glandular stomach quantities of digestive juices are poured into the food where it passes on to the gizzard. The action of the gizzard grinds the contents into a fine paste, from there it goes on thru the intestine and is acted upon by the digestive juices at different points until it is a softened solution in the large intestine. Absorption of the food into the blood occurs while it is a liquid state in the intestines. The absorbed food is carried to all parts of the body in the bloodstream.

Water is necessary for every one of these processes. Many flocks produce few eggs because of the lack of water. Supply plenty of water for it is the cheapest and most essential food for poultry.

ALFALFA IN HAWAII

The opinion seems to prevail that alfalfa is not well adapted to Hawaii. Many failures have been reported, due in some cases to adverse soil or weather conditions. When it has been definitely determined that alfalfa will not do well in any given section, it would be a waste of time and money to make further attempts to grow this kind of forage crops, but we must be sure that a failure is real and not caused simply by failure to appreciate the habits of the plants.

At the university farm we have just harvested the first crop of Hairy Peruvian alfalfa on an acre field that was planted last November. Time and again it looked like a failure. The weather was cool, too much rain in January, the cut worms ate up one quarter of the field, but the plants came up again from the roots, and now that the hard-beginning period is over we feel that it will be practically proof against pests and from now it will easily hold its own against weeds. It is planted in three foot rows and once between each cutting we will run the cultivator thru. On the basis of our previous experience, we expect to cut this field nine times each year for the next five years, an average of forty tons of green forage per acre per year. No better forage for dairy cows can be grown in Hawaii. These figures are based on records of fields that have been producing since 1916 on the university farm. Forty tons of green alfalfa are equivalent to ten tons of dry alfalfa hay, which means a return of over $400 per acre based on the cost of alfalfa hay in Hawaii.

Here are some requisites for growing this crop:

(1) The ground must be finely pulverized for seeds will not germinate among dry clods. (2) Germinate and kill all possible weed seeds before planting, by repeated discings. It is cheaper to kill them with a disc than to use a hoe after planting. And the repeated discings to kill the weeds will pulverize the soil at the same time. Six weeks of discing may be necessary in some weedy soils. Remember that planting before the soil is properly prepared is sure to result in failure. In rainfall sections or in weedless sections broadcasting may be preferable to planting in rows. (3) The seeds must be new enough so that they have their full vitality. Alfalfa seeds lose much of their vitality in Hawaii during the first year. They may still germinate but produce such weak plants that they cannot survive the first adverse condition.

The Hairy Peruvian variety has been the best yielder on the university farm.

An alfalfa field once established requires less attention than sugar cane and no nitrogenous fertilizers since it gets its nitrogen from the air. Our oldest fields have produced over forty ratoon crops. A forage crop so valuable is entitled to some attention in getting it started. Visit the alfalfa field on university farm when next in Honolulu.

BANANAS—OUR THIRD CROP?

Sugar and pineapples are established, leading crops here—what will be our third big crop? Rice growing probably will not expand farther, and avocado production will soon reach its limit because the quarantine prohibition against shipping this fruit to the mainland. Our third big crop must be a product which we can market profitably and on a large scale outside of Hawaii, in competition with other tropical countries.

Bananas are grown successfully here on a large enough scale to demonstrate the possibilities. The Pacific coast cities absorb enormous quantities of bananas and Hawaii should be able to supply this demand better and more cheaply than any other country—provided we can get the necessary transportation. Probably banana production will be our third big agricultural industry.

Waiakea homesteaders, and others similarly situated, should consider carefully the proposition of planting one or two acres of their land to bananas now, in order to make a start in this industry. This will cost very little and yield large returns in two ways—(1) valuable experience will be gained and (2) a large number of young plants will be available when the time comes for expansion.

What variety is the best to plant? This important question will be answered in the next letter. Watch for it.

SUDAN GRASS

This non-leguminous grass crop has been widely advertised thru all the southern states and apparently it fits well into the agriculture of those sections.

It has been grown in Hawaii long before its popularity spread over the southern United States, and it has not proved to be an ideal forage crop here, although it does possess many merits. The forage seems very palatable to both horses and cattle, and with green alfalfa it makes a good mixture for dairy cows, since alfalfa alone may prove too laxative.

Sudan grass seems rather immune to insect pests and it is not hard to establish a stand. During the cooler months of the year the leaves tend to be very susceptible to a form of rust, which, however, does not seem to kill the plant, but does greatly retard its growth.

Its greatest drawback is that it does not maintain itself very long, thus necessitating replanting at least every year, and in many of our fields on the university farm the yields have decreased to an unprofitable point at the end of eight months after planting. The fertility of the soil of course will largely determine the length of time that the field maintains itself. The yields on the university farm range from about 28 to 47 tons of green forage per acre per year.

The yields decrease with each ratoon crop. This field maintained itself better than the average. We seldom get a plant and seven ratoon crops from one planting.

POULTRY REMEDIES

(Tested by the Poultry Division, University of Hawaii.)

Ordinarily a well kept flock needs little medical treatment. Nevertheless poultry of all kinds are susceptible to many diseases, some of which are highly infectious. Certain diseases respond favorably to treatment; others resist all efforts at treatment and cause heavy losses.

During the past year, the university flocks have suffered from sore-head or chicken-pox, especially the young chicks. Also from eye-worm and intestinal worm, all of which complaints we have been advised, are very prevalent thruout the territory. The following treatments were tested and for the most part gave excellent results.

Sore-head or Chicken-pox

Evidently a contagious disease, perhaps transmitted thru sparrows, or possibly mosquitoes. Affected chicks were separated from well ones as far as possible.

Treatment: Synol Liquid Soap was applied to the affected parts with a stiff brush vigorously. Three to five applications a day proved much more effective than iodine or blue ointment, both old standard remedies. 500 chicks were treated with vaccine, which, for some unaccountable reason proved less effective in this case than in former tests. Possibly the excessively hot weather prevailing at the time was responsible.

Eye-worm of Chickens.

This trouble appears to be extremely prevalent in Hawaiian flocks, to judge by the complaints that have come to us. A score of birds have been successfully and expeditiously treated by one of our short course students as follows:—the fowl is held securely under the left arm and the head is held firmly with two hands. With the left thumb press against the rear end of the eye, and with the right thumb press firmly across the nostril, or over the tear pocket at the inner corner of the eye, toward the other thumb in a slightly upward movement. If rightly done great masses, 10 to 50 of the worms may be pressed out from under the upper lid. We have found this a simpler and more effective remedy than the 5 per cent solution of creolin dropped in the eye beneath the nictitating membrane. A little practice will make the squeezing out method very effective.

Intestinal Worms

Most chicks are infected with one or more species of parasite worms and these may become a source of disaster unless the fowl are rid of them. After testing out the cumbersome tobacco treatment and others, we have adopted the iron sulphate (copperas) treatment, attention to which was first called to the writer by E. C. Moore of Haku, Maui. Place in a gallon demijon one pound iron sulphate crystals and fill with water. Shake thoroughly, then the suspended liquid will be a saturated solution. Of the solution add a tablespoonful to each quart of drinking water, sufficient for one day's supply for a dozen hens. Supply to the flock in alternating days, or if badly infested give daily for a week and alternating weeks thereafter. The iron sulphate appears to be a tonic as well as a vermifuge.

DELEGATE SENDS

VEGETABLE SEEDS

The board of agriculture and forestry has just received a generous supply of assorted vegetable seed from our delegate to congress. This is now available, free of charge, to all who can make good use of it. No flower seeds are in the lot.

The vegetable seeds come in packages of three assortments as follows:

V-2 contains beans, beet, lettuce, onion and tomato seeds.

V-4 contains peas, beet, lettuce, onion and radish seeds.

V-7 contains beet, carrot, lettuce, onion and tomato seeds.

This seed will be mailed out to all who will apply for it. Applications should be sent to David Haugh, Box 3319, Honolulu.

Early Registration Made for Y.M.C.A. Camp

There's a time in each year Every fellow holds dear; It's the good old camping time. A word to the Y's has been sufficient, registrations for Camp Rice, June 26-July 8, under the direction of the county Y. M. C. A. are being received. Boys from all parts of the island of Kauai will attend and a number of live-wire leaders have given their word that they will be quick, single file, down in front of the old flag pole for ten minutes of peppy set-up drill and flag raising. Gee! it makes a fellow tingle in every muscle. Kinda cool? Sure its kinda cool, ain't the sun just sticking his head out of the water. Old glory is reverently raised with a salute. Then a race for the morning dip. "Ee-ee-ow its swell this morning!" and they yell for pure on hand to share in the big time. Camp Reveries Three minutes—no chance for another wink, for you have to be out before the second whistle blows. Get all dressed in three minutes! Well, not exactly! Look down the line of tousled heads trying to rub their eyes open—pajamas, pink nighties, B. V. D.'s shirted and pantless or panted and shirtless, all stages of dress and undress. The second whistle—they're off double delight. "Beat youh dressed," and he's half way back to the camp, for a fragrant whiff from the cook tent has floated down on the morning breeze. Oh, boy, this is the life! So say thousands of boys who have attended the annual summer camps conducted by the Y. M. C. A. in every country on the globe. Detailed information can be secured from County Secretary Neil Locke.

Radio Concert Heard on Kauai

A little after 5:30 p. m. last Thursday evening the Honolulu Star Bulletin inaugurated radio broadcasting in the Hawaiian Islands. The first official radio concert was broadcasted by the Star-Bulletin and lasted for an hour. E. Livesey, manager of the Lihue radio station, being in the radio game, was the first to hear the radio concert on Kauai. The first selection heard was a song "I Hear You Calling Me," the operator announcing the title of the selection and by whom played. The next on the program was a song by the famous Bert Williams, "Nobody," and following this a joke was sprung about three negroes in a poker game, the English and French negroes were betting and raised each other a pound (English money), the American negro was stuck for a few minutes, but finally said, "Ah done know what yo' all mean by one poun' but I see wid you. Ah raises yo-all a ton." Following these, selections played were as follows: Hawaiian Rainbows. Meditations—Miss Parlow, violin Virginia Blues. Blue, Blue, Blue. After the Rain. Put Me to Sleep. You Have Your Day. Indiana Lullaby.

TENNIS

(Continued from Page Two) ners will receive rackets put up by R. D. Baldwin. Island Singles Three matches were played off in the island singles last week, two of which were battle royals and developed some very fast play. The match between Lindsay Faye and Dr. Dunn went three sets, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, Faye winning the odd set and match. The match between Dwight Baldwin and Ichinose was close, and although Baldwin won 7-5, 6-4, he had to fight all the way. First Round Ends Monday The time limit for the first round is up to next Monday and there are nine more matches to be played off. They are as follows: A. Horner vs. Broilan, F. Horner vs. Allen, C. storphine vs. Bedell, F. Burns vs. Greig, Creevey vs. Clutterbuck, Bomke vs. Cannon, W. Kruse vs. Rankin, Gladysyer vs. Kay, and Miller vs. Fernandes. The winner of this tournament gets the Caleb Burns cup and the first leg on the Honolulu Sporting Goods Store cup, which is to be won twice.

The operator then closed by thanking each and everyone for their kind attention and stated that this was the first official radio concert in the Hawaiian Islands by the Star-Bulletin and further concerts would be announced. Good evening. Mr. Livesey says the voice and music was very good and clear and sure enjoyed the concert. Richard Rice dropped in heard part of it. The above reception was made on the commercial apparatus at the Lihue radio station, using the latest receivers and the high poles and antenna. Just what apparatus will be necessary for the general public to use can only be determined by tests. Mr. Livesey says he will test several types of apparatus using a low antenna and will be glad to let people know about what they will need. He believes a small set may be constructed to cost about $75. It is hoped that the manufacturers on the mainland get caught up with the demand so that we will be able to get some of the reasonably priced sets here in the islands. Of course, in order to get these concerts in good so that quite a number can hear it at the same time, it will be necessary to purchase a reliable receiving set. This would consist of a receiver, audion detector and two stages of amplification, which complete would cost in the neighborhood of $150 or $175. The small radio sets that are being advertised by the papers will not be able to pick up the concerts on Kauai, the distance is too great. They are very good for 25 or perhaps 50 miles. To get signals on Kauai a tube set will be necessary. The "Aeriola Senior" which is a one-tube receiving set and is being given away by the Honolulu Star-Bulletin for a certain number of subscriptions, is a complete radio-phone receiving set and will enable anyone on Kauai to hear the Star-Bulletin radio broadcasting station. It is the ideal home set and with the aid of several small head phones several persons can listen in at the same time. As stated before, if the music and voice are wanted to be heard clearly all over the room or hall as a great number of persons can listen in, then it is advisable to secure in addition to the Aeriola Senior a two stage amplifier and loud speaking horn. Attachments are being manufactured so that you can use the sound chamber of your phonograph as the loud speaking horn. Tough One "Do you call that a beefsteak. It makes me laugh!" "I'm glad to hear it, sir. Most people swear!"—Kasper (Stockholm).

At The Lihue Union Church

A splendid audience assembled at the Lihue Union church Sunday in recognition of "Mother," and also to attend the 25th anniversary of the English speaking services. Mrs. K. C. Ahana sang Kelly's tribute to mother in a very pleasing manner, and then in the prayer which followed, all paid homage to that universal mother heart.

A committee from the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion presented each worshipper with a white flower, emblematic of the purity of mother love.

Rev. J. M. Lydgate gave a most interesting account of his stewardship on Kauai in the narration of his "Twenty-five Years With Lihue Union Church." It was as follows: By how small a circumstance often are our lives influenced and the trend of them sometimes entirely changed!

It was by the merest chance, if there be such thing as chance, which brought me to Kauai.

I had been away from the islands for some years, part of which time I had spent in charge of a church in the state of Washington, and taking advantage of a change of pastorate came home to spend a few months with my folks.

It was only for a visit. I had my return ticket and started back, got as far as Honolulu, when I found that my steamer from the south would be a week late.

A Flying Trip to Kauai

This gave me the chance to make a flying visit with Hugh Morrison, manager of Makaweli. We had been brother managers and neighbors on Hawaii, he at Hakalan and I at Lapaehoe.

I landed at Waimea in the early morning of April 15, 1896 and made my first acquaintance with Kauai for a four days visit—I am here yet!

Prevailed on to Remain

The Smiths of Koloa were old school friends of mine at Punahou and they insisted on my spending one day with them, and made a "dead set" at me to remain on Kauai and give up my prospective church on the Columbia river. Urging that by experience and education, knowledge of Hawaiian and island condition. I was the one for work here, while anyone would do for the Columbia river church.

Their presentation was so convincing that I agreed to consider it seriously, and ended by accepting the proposition, to have general charge as agent for the Hawaiian Board of the Hawaiian churches, and to minister to the English speaking community in Lihue.

They arranged the whole matter, and delivered me to Lihue, domiciling me at the Fairview Hotel.

An Old Time Entertainment Under Difficulties

My first charge was the conduct of a Mary Queen of Scots entertainment for the benefit of the Malu malu school. It was the regular thing to have an annual entertainment of some kind for this purpose. Usually it was a concert with accessories of a money making kind given at the Hawaiian church. Mary Queen of Scots

Brings Up the Rear

I was given to understand that my Mary Queen of Scots would take the place of the concert and arranged things accordingly. I was not a little surprised when I found that the concert would stand and would come first. This threw my part of the joint affair away along toward midnight, and of course, more or less upset my arrangements. I had built a stage, constructed a drop curtain, provided for red lights, etc. The actors had to come in thru one window and go out thru the other and had to dress and address as best they could under the trees or under the stars. Of course there were no electric lights, only oil lamps, and smoking torches. However, there was a big crowd and the show was a great success financially as well as otherwise, and I learned more about Lihue and Lihue people in those few days than I have learned in any year since.

The First Church Services

The church services began the first Sunday in May, 1896 in the Hawaiian church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Those, of course, were the days of small things. There were perhaps 25 families all told here, many of whom were German, so that naturally their affinity was with the Lutheran church. There were of course some who were church attendants by desire as well as by habit, but there were others who had pretty well outlived both the desire and the habit. We generally had, as I remember it, some 15 or 20 in attendance. They were quiet, restful peaceful services, as well as spiritually helpful and inspiring.

Roses in Abundance

Those were the days of roses in Hawaii. I was given the free run of several of the best gardens and spent most of Sunday morning in gathering quantities of these roses and disposing of them in large bouquets, combined with ferns, so that the church was a veritable bower of beauty and fragrance.

After the service was over people lingered more or less in the shade of the large trees on the lawn and chatted in a pleasant social way over the interests and happenings of their every-day lives.

Primitive Little Sunday Schools

A Sunday school for the white children at the church was rather out of the question, as it was occupied by the Hawaiians in the morning and by us in the afternoon, besides the church was far away. So I arranged for district schools, one at Nawiliwili, and another at Hanamaulu, where we gathered in the children on a week day afternoon, giving them Bible stories, picture cards, etc.

Then at the close we played games, and at Hanamaulu even had light refreshments. Later, of course, when we got our own church building, we had a regular Sunday-school, after the orthodox fashion.

Always Interesting and Popular

Naturally the Sunday school has always been small, because of the limitation of white children, but they always enjoyed it, it was always popular. There was no difficulty about getting them to come, they wanted to. And the results have been very encouraging. Many of them joined the church in due time, and all of them gained knowledge of the Bible which will stay with them to the end.

Hymn Books and Church Music

One of the very first requirements was hymn books to take the place of the few non-descript ones which we gathered up in the community. We sent away and got 50 copies of Landes Domini, a very excellent collection which served us for many years.

We were very fortunate in having Mr. DeLacey as an organist from the very start. During all the years of my incumbency he served the church with a constant, reliable faithfulness which was really phenomenal. Whoever else might be missing he was always there.

Always Peace in the Choir

During all these years we have had various kinds and complexions of choirs, large and small, and medium, but we have never had that bane of church life, a choir dissension or racket.

Organization of the Church

The church organization was effected December 6, 1898. It was completed without much ecclesiastical ceremony or red tape.

A small body of Christian people associated themselves together as the Lihue Union church, with a simple creed and a brief confession of faith.

Charter Members

The charter members were: Judge Jacob Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lydgate, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. T. Purvis, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Wells, Mrs. Boswell, Eva Boswell, Mr. DeLacey.

The Waimea people organized a congregation some five or six years earlier, but did not see their way clear to perfect a regular church organization, and have never done so.

The Church Had Come to Stay

It now became reasonably evident that the church had come to stay. There had been some people who had been doubtful in regard to its permanency—there had been some abortive attempts before, and at the end of my first year's service, there was some question as to the continuance. But now it was on a firm footing, and with the gradually increasing population it became evident that we would need a church building.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilcox

Donate the Church
It was accordingly an auspicious moment in our history when, one day Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilcox, came to me and signified their desire to build and present to the church and community such an edifice as would meet our needs, provided that I would secure suitable plans and attend to the construction of the building.

I immediately went to Honolulu, had plans and specifications drawn up and in due time this church was the result.

The Stained Glass Windows

While the plans were in process Mrs. M. S. Rice (Mother Rice) signified her desire to donate a stained glass window, "Suffer the little children to come unto me," as a memorial to her husband, and Mrs. Isenberg similarly donated the other, "The Good Shepherd" as a memorial to her mother. G. N. Wilcox contributed the pulpit furniture, the lot on which the church stands, and the parsonage and lot as well, and other generous friends helped out in various ways.

The bell was the old historic mission one transferred from the Hawaiian church.

Dedication Delayed

The seats and pulpit furniture had to come from the east, so that the church was not dedicated till 1901, in connection, I think with the April meeting of the island association of the combined churches.

Rev. Stephen Desha delivered the dedicatory address in Hawaiian, and Rev. O. P. Emerson in English.

To Serve Both Congregations

The expectation of the donors was that this church building should serve both congregations, the Hawaiian and the English speaking, and an amicable arrangement to this effect was made, the Hawaiians using it from 9 to 11, and our congregation from 11 to 12.

The Old Church Deserted

Meanwhile the old Hawaiian church stood empty and deserted. Various suggestions were made in regard to dismantling it or selling it, or giving it to some needy cause or community as a chapel or a hall, but this was never done, though the seats were given to the Haena church where they now are.

Naturally it fell into a state of neglect, which finally became more or less of a menace, and it became evident that something must be done about it.

Unsatisfactory Arrangement

In the meantime, the Hawaiians were not quite satisfied with the joint ownership and occupancy of the new church. A church service at 10 o'clock did not seem quite orthodox and fitting, and it hampered their freedom to have to close on the dot, at 11 o'clock, with another congregation waiting about to take their places.

The Hawaiians Return to Their Old Home

Perhaps, too, there was more or less sentiment about the old church and its familiar associations. At any rate, they decided to return to their former home, which generous friends had assisted them to enlarge and beautify, so that it now was a very comfortable and commodious church. (To be continued)

SUMMER CAMP FOR GIRLS

The Young Women's Christian Association will have a ten day summer camp for Girl Reserves, beginning June 26th and ending July 5. We plan to have Girl Reserves and their leaders from all over Kauai. The camp will be held at the Hofgaard mountain house at Wahila and will be under the direction of Miss Edith Hanson.

Miss Alice G. Moore, from Honolulu, will be the inspirational leader, and the Kauai Girl Reserves are indeed fortunate to have Miss Moore, because she knows and loves all girls. Miss Moore has made the summer camps in Honolulu popular with the girls and in the states Miss Moore started some of the largest summer camps the Y. W. C. A. has today.

The girls will have the best care possible taken of them. We hope to have between 35 and 45 girls there. The cost of the ten days will be only $3.15.

The members of the camp committee for the Y. W. C. A. are Mrs. Sloggett, Mrs. Ralph Wilcox and Mrs. Anser.

KAUAI PORTUGUESE CLUB OBJECTS TO SELECT SCHOOL

Expressing a decided objection to the idea of restoring Central grammar school, Honolulu, to its former status as a school with special requirements in English, or, as they express it, select school for children of English speaking parents, they sent the following resolution to Governor Wallace R. Farrington and Superintendent Vaughn MacCaughy of the department of public instruction:

Resolution

Whereas, the Department of Public Instruction, thru its superintendent and the press of the city and county of Honolulu, has made known the intention and possibility of inaugurating a select school for the children of the English speaking parents, and

Whereas, said inauguration would mean discrimination against the future citizens of this territory, and

Whereas, it is the taxpayer's money that maintain the public schools of this territory, and

Whereas, the government of this territory shows no discrimination in the amount of school tax levied upon the people of the territory, be they Polynesian, Caucasian, Latin, or Asiatic, now, therefore,

Be it resolved, that the Portuguese Civic Club of Kauai, in meeting assembled, this 30th day of April A. D. 1922, go on record as being directly opposed to the above mentioned inauguration of a select by the Department of Public Instruction, and,

Be it further resolved, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to his excellency, Wallace R. Farrington, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii; the commissioners of public instruction of the Territory of Hawaii; and the Honorable Vaughn MacCaughy, superintendent of public instruction for the Territory of Hawaii.

THE PORTUGUESE CIVIC CLUB OF KAUAI; J. F. Bettencourt Jr., Secretary.

Dated at Koloa, Kauai, T. H. this 30th day of April, 1922.

At its meeting of April 17, 1922, the department of public instruction passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, that in response to numerous petitions from citizens of Honolulu, the department proceed in the matter of restoring Central grammar school to its former status as a school with special requirements in English, and invite constructive recommendations from any and all interested bodies in carrying out this plan."

AMERICAN LEGION SECTION

Adjusted Compensation

The most important movement made by congress during the past week in so far as the adjusted compensation bill is concerned, took place on Monday when a caucus of the majority members of the Senate met and passed a resolution in part as follows: "That it is the sense of this caucus that the senate finance committee should report on the adjusted compensation bill and that it should be passed at this session."

The passage of this resolution practically binds the senate finance committee to take immediate action upon the bill. The leaders of the senate promise that when it is reported by the senate finance committee it will be acted upon promptly regardless of the debate upon the tariff bill. In fact, some senate leaders do not believe that a tariff bill can be passed prior to adjournment for the summer, but are confident in view of the caucus, that an adjusted compensation bill will pass in the near future.

According to the rules of a caucus in the senate or the house, it is not customary to make a public vote. We have been informed and are more than sure that the following senators voted against the resolution quoted above: Calder, Wadsworth, Edge, Nelson, Weller, Newberry, Sterling and Pepper. To further strengthen our position and to insure our success in the senate, your committee is, this week, forwarding to about five thousand posts a copy of a brief entitled "An Analysis of the Referendum Conducted by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce," and a letter pointing out the fact that the loans expected to be consumed by ex-service men upon Adjusted Service Certificates would not affect the economic condition of the country one iota, asking each recipient to take up the matter up with prominent members of his local chamber of commerce to secure favorable action from it recommending the immediate passage of the Adjusted compensation bill. We ask particularly for co-operation from the department officials. As this time will be of particular advantage to present the senate resolutions of representative business organizations whose interests are not as personal as our own. In other words, we want to tell this proposition to the whole country. We want to prove to the senate that it is not only a just and equitable claim, sponsored by ex-service men generally, but that the business men of the nation urge the immediate passage of the bill.

Appropriations

The independent office appropriation bill, H. R. 9981, which bill has been in conference for the past several weeks as reported from time to time in this bulletin, met another in the house on April 20 when the house rejected the conference report. There is no fight on the appropriations allowed for the Veterans' Bureau. The two houses are in disagreement on appropriations for the U. S. Shipping Board. It is expected that the differences between the two houses will be adjusted in the near future.

Civil Service

S. 3468 and H. R. 11338, identical bills, have been introduced in the senate and house to empower the Bureau of Efficiency subject to the approval of the President to establish a system of efficiency ratings for the classified service in the several executive departments and independent establishments, in the District of Columbia and elsewhere, based upon the records kept in each department and independent establishment, with such frequency as to make them as nearly possible records of facts. They have been referred to the respective committees on civil service and rearmament in the senate and reform in the civil service in the house.

Senate resolution No. 199, mentioned in a previous bulletin, authorized, authorized a select committee of the senate to investigate the proceedings of the examining division of the U. S. Civil Service committee and to make a report thereon within 30 days. This select committee requested on April 19th that it be allowed 30 days more in which to complete its report. Various witnesses and officials of the U. S. Civil Service Commission have been examined, but owing to the absence of several members of the committee, it has requested a delay in making an actual report upon its findings. This committee's report will be briefed and carried in a bulletin at some future date.

Hospitalization

In a previous bulletin, H. R. 10,864 was mentioned as having been favorably reported by the senate committee on public buildings and grounds. After two days determined effort, the chairman of the committee on public buildings and grounds secured the floor of the senate for the discussion of this bill. Without a record vote it was passed unanimously. With the passage of this bill appropriating $17,000,000 to be spent by the director of the United States Veterans' Bureau to complete the permanent hospital building program, and with the contemplated executive order signed by the President to transfer all hospitals of the United States Public Health Service, personnel, et cetera, to the United States Veterans' Bureau, about concludes the American Legion's three year effort to centralize all power and authority in one directing administrative agency to provide every form of benefit, care and treatment to the disabled ex-service men and women. In the words of the national commander, the American Legion having succeeded in not only consolidation in one bureau of all the work for the disabled, by decentralization, it now looks to the director of the United States Veterans' Bureau to carry out the job and to put it over. He is now responsible for all forms of service rendered the disabled. There is no longer any dividing authority, and he should be able to handle the whole situation in its entirety without outside interference.

Immigration and Naturalization of Aliens

The Semenoff Case. Your national legislative committee formally appeared before the senate committee on education and labor on April 18, protesting against the state and labor departments allowing Semenoff to enter this country. We requested the committee to invite before it the secretaries of the state and labor departments so that it might determine the responsibility for Semenoff's admission to this country. Furthermore, that if the law governing such cases was found to be imperfect that it should be amended and recommending the immediate deportation of Gregory Semenoff, not only because he is unfit to touch American soil, but so that all may know that America will not countenance acts of such character as committed under the authority of this man. The committee has yet concluded its hearings. In the meantime Semenoff has been released under bond in New York City.

House resolution No. 313 has been introduced requesting the secretary of state to ascertain whether or not countries in Europe would object to the American government stationing in their countries immigration authorities to determine whether or not certain aliens are suitable for admission to this country. The present immigration immigration bill, H. R. 19860, now pending before the committee on immigration and naturalization, provides for this service, but it has not been determined as yet whether or not the foreign nations concerned will allow employees of this government to examine the respective immigrants before sailing. It would considerably simplify the problem of immigration, relieve congested points in this country, and obviate the necessity of returning thousands of aliens to their mother country disappointed and disillusioned.

The senate, without a record vote, passed H. J.R. 268, extending the 3 per cent act for a period of two years. It will be recalled that in a previous bulletin this resolution was mentioned as having passed the house, extending the present 3 per cent act for one year. The joint resolution now goes to conference and the conferees will perfect the two bills for resubmission to both the senate and the house. While this joint resolution does not carry out specifically the resolution of the third national convention, at least it prevents the coming of hordes of immigrants which have been expected for several years. In the meantime, it is the determination of congress to modify and perfect existing immigration laws, and further, to simplify the naturalization proceedings of all aliens to secure citizenship.

Military Policy

National Commander Hanford McNider, formally appeared before the subcommittees on appropriations of the senate on April 19, urging an increase over and above the amount appropriated by the house to insure an adequate army, national guard and reserve corps to carry out the reorganization act of the army of June 4, 1920. He pointed out that under the house appropriation bill there was not a sufficient amount of money authorized to provide training for the officers and the military training camps. He pointed out also that under the house bill only a strength of 115,000 men was authorized, whereas the regular establishment believes that the regular establishment to perform its proper labor in our plan of national defense should have provisions made for 150,000. His statement to the committee was condensed in the following language:

"The American Legion does not insist upon either the regular establishment or the national guard functioning at the full strength provided for in the army reorganization act, but does believe that appropriations that provide for less than 50 per cent of the strength originally planned (289,000 in the regular establishment and 425,000 in the National Guard) weakens our national security and represents such meager provisions as cannot help but jeopardize our ability to take upon short notice a national position of readiness.

"We urge your committee to recognize these practical facts, and to insist upon necessary appropriations in proportion to our national defense needs which in our opinion has not been fully recognized by the house representatives in their recent passage of the army appropriation bill.

"It is the judgment of the American Legion that the sentiment 'back home' supports our position, and as men who have seen without own eyes the horrors of unpreparedness, we pledge our honest efforts in the endeavor of President Harding and General Pershing not to have reduced the means for an adequate national defense below a well recognized line of national safety."

Naval Policy

H. R. 11228 the naval appropriation bill, has been considered by the house during the last week and amended and passed so that it provides for a navy of 86,000 men to carry out the recommendations of the President, secretary of the navy, and Hanford McNider, national commander of the American Legion. The fact that congress amended its own appropriation bill to provide for a larger navy indicates the power, force and effort of the American Legion's policies.

"I have not yet had my piano tuned, and Mr. Giesecke expects to return to Honolulu on Saturday, May 20th. Must ring him up at Lihue Hotel. Adv.

Wilcox, Miss Manning, Miss Lottie Jordan, Miss McIntyre, Miss Johnson.

MRS. RANKIN BRIDGE HOSTESS

Mrs. Guy Rankin of Makaweli entertained at a very delightful and informal two table bridge party on Monday afternoon. The guests cut for partners, the ladies drawing the four queens occupying the first table, while the four kings had second choice. Two rubbers were played, then delicious refreshments were served, after which two more rubbers were played. The room in which the guests played was beautifully decorated with many different kinds of flowers. The first prize, a box of artistic hand painted place cards, was won by Mrs. Caleb Burns. Low score was held by Mrs. Cannon, who received a beautiful bouquet of carnations. The guests who enjoyed this very delightful affair were Mrs. J. J. Dunlavy, Mrs. Brenham, Mrs. R. A. Balester, Mrs. Caleb Burns, Mrs. W. P. Cannon, Mrs. Elliot Wood, and Mrs. F. W. Jennings.

DORA JANE ISENBERG HAS BIRTHDAY

Little Dora Jane Isenberg celebrated her fifth birthday Monday afternoon with one of the most artistic and enjoyable parties ever seen. Eleven real old fashioned hoops painted a delicate gray and tied with tulle bows of different colors formed a circle in the center of the spacious table. In the center of this circle stood a beautiful big dolly smiling sweetly at the little guests. At each place was tiny baskets of candy and unique favors in the form of animals, dancing girls, men and ladies made from peanuts and potatoes. The little hostess cut her beautiful birthday cake under a shower of good wishes. Later exciting hoop races were held while tea was served to the grown up guests upon the broad lanai.

The guests present were Ida May Grote, Midge Kuhns, Helen and Dora Rice, Margory Wood, Ruth and Harriett Locke, Eunice, Anna and Alice Scott, Anna Gladys Stewart, Mrs. Wm. Hyde Rice, Mrs. Phillip Rice, Mrs. C. A. Rice, Mrs. W. H. Rice, Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. R. Wilcox, Mrs. Wm. Grote, Mrs. N. Locke, Mrs. J. M. Kuhns, Mrs. W. N. Stewart, Mrs. Grandhome, Mrs. F. Crawford, Miss Edith Rice, Miss McIntyre, Miss Lottie Jordan, Miss Lindsay and Miss Barker.

KAMAAINAS MEET MR. AND MRS. SCHWARZ

Last Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Dora Isenberg entertained at tea in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Josef Schwarz, from 3 to 5. Mrs. Schwarz was an Isenberg and her family lived here for many years, so that in a way she counts it as home, and the invitations were issued mainly to those who had lived in the community for a goodly number of years. Everyone was charmed with the gracious and genial attractiveness of Mrs. Schwarz and pleased with the originality, vitality and versatility of the great singer himself. Those in particular who were fortunate enough to have a few minutes conversation with either or both were quite won over to them and were prepared for the great treat he gave the community. The beautiful home with its many rare art treasures was rendered even more beautiful by the graceful floral decorations. Most delicious refreshments were served, and only reluctantly did people take their departure.

SCHOOL CHILDREN MAKING LEIS FOR N. E. A. CONVENTION

It has been practically decided that the offer of one of the members of the Kauai Teachers' Association to represent Kauai at Boston during the convention of the N. E. A. in July be accepted, thus making Hawaii with at least one representative from each island. It is planned that Hawaii's delegates will also visit Washington, D. C., and directly request federal aid from the proper authorities there, for the school work in Hawaii. The delegates will take along about 4500 leis, one from each school child on this island, to be presented to the delegates assembled in Boston. These leis, made of paper or seeds, and to be from 36 to 40 inches long, are now being made by the pupils of all the schools and it is expected they will be ready to be sent away before the middle of June. To each lei will be attached a card printed with the name of the school furnishing it, and the cards will all be in the form of some object indicative of the Hawaiian islands, such as callabashes, shells, ukuleles, surfboards, etc.

TIP TOP-ICS

"THE LITTLE MINISTER"

"The Little Minister," Barrie's play in which Maude Adams appeared so successfully for many years—and which will be remembered as one of the most appealing documents ever written, has reached the screen. It comes as a Paramount picture next Saturday. The actress who assumes the mantle worn so eloquently by Maud Adams is Betty Compson, who will be remembered for her sterling performance in "The Miracle Man." It is easily her finest role—this Babbie in "The Little Minister." As a picture it carries all the quaint charm and sincerity—all the fragrant romance and sentiment of the original play. It is charged with pathos and humor too. So come next Saturday and be royally entertained.

THREE STARS APPEAR IN TIP TOP PICTURE

Wednesday, May 24, at the Tip Top will be shown "Don't Tell Everything," a Paramount picture, starring Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, and Elliot Dexter.

The term "all-star" as applied to a motion picture, has often been misused, but in this instance the statement certainly is appropriate. Consider that in this picture are two famous stars, Wallace Reid and Gloria Swanson, a leading man who is popular everywhere, Elliot Dexter; a young English actress with much charm of personality, Dorothy Cummin; and others of note including Genevieve Blinn, and little Gloria Wood. Coupled with this is the fact that the story is delightful, pure entertainment, and entertaining to a degree.

Cullen Dale, wealthy and sport loving, loves Marion Westover. Harvey Gilroy, Dale's best friend, loves her too, but loyal to Dale, doesn't let her know it. In a polo game wherein Dale and Gilroy are captains of the opposing teams, their ponies crash together and all go down in a heap, the friendship of the two men is exhibited in their mutual solicitude.

Cullen proposes to Marion and is accepted. She promises not to be jealous, but becomes so immediately upon seeing some old photographs showing him with various pretty girls. The outcome is interesting.

SOCIAL GATHERING AT JAPANESE CHURCH

Next Saturday evening the members of the Lihue Japanese Christian church will gather together for the two fold purpose of celebrating the first anniversary of Rev. Patrick Takahashi's pastorate of the church and to officially and socially welcome new members who have come into the church this year.

HAWAIIAN BORN JAPANESE MEETING

Dr. A. W. Palmer of Honolulu will address a gathering of Hawaiian-born Japanese young ladies and men at the Mokihana Club, Friday night at 6:30, May 19th. All young people of this group, are invited to be present and hear Dr. Palmer, as he will have a message of vital importance.

Agio and Bodrero will be the fools as usual, Charlie Amala is being carefully trained to imitate them but despairs of being able to get silly enough since Kapaa cleaned up the skills.

The Kauai Kona Kanaries will furnish a gale of blackface entertainment if the Ku-Klux Klan keeps away until Saturday. Kealia's popular fire chief is the leader of these laughable shiniies.

Have you seen a hula-hula lately? Loys, there will be the two best kul dancers on Kauai there that night, don't miss 'em.

KNUDSEN CAMP YOUNG ORGANIZE Y CLUB

County Secretary Locke found a live and receptive crowd awaiting him in the new hall at Knudsen's camp Tuesday night, May 2. Under the leadership of George Kuboke, night school has been in progress, supplemented by a few recreational features.

An outline of the workings of a Y club met a unanimous response for the organization of same. With-out a dissenting vote, George Kuboke was chosen president. In rapid succession the following candidates were given their respective offices: Simeon Flores, voce president; Hong Hum Hee, secretary; Serafin Morey, treasurer.

A ballot on a club name resulted in Knudsen Y. M. C. A. Club being chosen as the official title under which the organization would operate, Sunday night was chosen as the regular time of meeting.

After a short discussion on future programs and outside activities the benches were pushed back and perspiration perspirators indulged in. Watch your-step, pull-across, rooster-fight and hot-hand furnished amusement and exercise until time was called by the president.

The other members present were Fermin P. Flores, Elias Garcia, Moses Ferreras, Imedio Segurada, Mariano Delacruz, Isidro D. Ibay, Saprionio S. Decega, Sotero M. Pasion, Fausto Fernandez, Agapito Lamgmin, Florencio Dedios.
