There Will be Great Doings at the Fair

Active preparations for converting the army and grounds into a miniature fairyland are going on at Lihue. The army itself has been divided into sections. As you enter you will notice the Mokihana booth of frozen sweets. Farther on you will notice the chop suey section, cozily fitted up for your comfort. Along the makai side will be grouped the wares of the Kauai Fruit & Land Co., Ltd., the fancy goods shown by Mrs. Brandt, Mrs. Stewart and the Hale o Na Alii and the flowers and potted plants given for the benefit of the hospitals. Opposite these booths will be those for the school exhibits. At the lower end of the large hall a section will be roped off and will be devoted to dancing.

Outside the main entrance will be the section set aside for the luau in the daytime and the Tennessee minstrels in the evening. The stunts will be lined up along the makai end of the grounds, while the sugar cane and vegetable exhibits will be placed makai. The poultry section be at the Kapaa end of the grounds.

Mrs. Brandt, Mrs. Stewart and the Hale o Na Alii will exhibit all sorts of fancy Hawaiian work. There will be at least two Hawaiian quilts for sale, which are notable works of art. The flower and plant booth under charge of Mrs. Ralph Wilcox will be an attraction itself. Her willing helpers will no doubt tag you for the price of a buttoniere as you enter the grounds. The proceeds of this booth will be devoted to hospitals. Gifts of flowers and plants for this booth have been promised.

Colonel Napoleon (grand nephew of Napoleon the great) and his Tennessee minstrels will be at the fair. These talented entertainers are all old hands at the game. They were recruited in Kawai, Hau, Kea and Lia and neighboring towns of Mississippi and Kentucky. This will be their first appearance in Lihue and will positively be their last. The governor of Kentucky, a good sport himself, will give a short speech on the burning questions of the day. The Kapaa whirligigs will give an exhibition of athletic stunts somewhat similar to our hula dancing, which will be worth seeing. A demure young maid of the sunny south will give an example of jigging, which should set a new fashion on Kauai. Max Bolte, the general press agent of the troupe, is no stranger to us, and he promises to give everyone his money's worth.

Of course there will be the usual jazzing. There will be dancing for those who are fond of it. The Lihue brass band will furnish the music. Prof. Frank Fernandez leading. The cats will be plentiful—luau, chop suey, ice cream, polar pies, watermelons, soda water, sand-witches, etc., etc.

The Mokihana Club will serve Rawley's ice cream and Dairymen's Association's polar pies.

The management is giving out the tip that it would be worth while to preserve your end of the entrance ticket when it is handed back to you. A word to the wise should be sufficient. Each child who hands in an entrance will be entitled to a free bottle of soda water or a cornucopia.

A large crowd is expected, and plans are already completed for looking after everyone so that no one may go home without having had a good time.

Remember the date—Saturday 27, from 10 a. m. to midnight.

MISS ELSIE WILCOX TO ATTEND EDUCATIONAL MEETINGS ON COAST

Miss Elsie Wilcox, Kauai public school commissioner, departed for Honolulu on the Kinau last Saturday, en route to the coast. She will attend a meeting of the school commissioners in Honolulu today and tomorrow she will sail for the mainland.

Miss Wilcox' principal reason for her trip to the coast is to attend a class reunion at Wellesley. While on the mainland she will attend the convention of the National Education Association in Chicago as a delegate from Hawaii, and the convention of the Federated Women's Club at Chautauque, N. Y. She plans to remain on the mainland for three or four months.

The Lihue Memorial Parish House

A widely representative company came together at Lihue on Friday afternoon, May 19, to dedicate the Lihue Memorial Parish House, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wilcox to the community in memory of their sons, Ralph Lyman Wilcox and Charles Henry Wilcox.

It was a beautiful day, a beautiful occasion, and the gift itself was beautiful in conception and beautiful in its finished completeness. Under the great trees, planted half a century ago by sons of the missionary fathers whose coming blessed the whole island, stands this new parish house, a link in the chain that binds the past with the future. For it follows in its simple, hospitable lines the pattern set by those early New England builders; its stones are from the land on which it stands as firmly and as fittingly as if it were a native growth; while in perfection of detail and care for comfort and convenience it is the latest word of the most modern skill and perfect taste, adapted to every form of community interest and sociability, from Sunday school rooms to a complete stage equipment, from dignified lecture hall to the seating of hundred of guests for supper.

Even good acoustics, a crowning achievement, are present in astonishing measure, giving the architect, Hart Wood, every justification for kept pride in his success.

For its opening, palms and fern baskets set off the stateliness of the massive pillars on the lanai, and masses of pink dahlias with spikes of summer lilac from the gardens of Mrs. Philip Rice and Mrs. Ralph Wilcox, were lovely against the soft bloom of the velvet curtains of the stage. Children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox welcomed the guests as they came, and not a town on the island—from Mana to Haena—but sent its representative. Five clergymen took part in the simple dedication service which emphasized in the scripture reading by Rev. J. M. Lydgate, in the hymn sung by the Hawaiian choir led by Rev. Charles Keahi, in the opening prayer by Rev. R. W. Bayless, and in the address by Rev. A. W. Palmer, the power and the blessing of love that expresses itself in service. Mr. Palmer's final paragraph epitomized the feeling. He said:

I have spoken to you on the church as a community servant. This parish house comes now to the Lihue Union church as a means of serving its community more completely. It will be, first of all, a home for the religious education work of the church thru its Sunday school. This church has a large responsibility in religious education, a responsibility which can be quite accurately measured by the steady growth of your high school in numbers and efficiency. A large proportion of these high school pupils come from non-Christian homes. But they, themselves will not be Buddhists or Confucianists. Living in a Christian land, they ought to be Christians. Thru this building the church, ought to be better able to conduct a school of religious education; adequate to give the rising generations a knowledge of and enthusiasm for the principles and ideals of Jesus.

But this parish house is also equipped for wider service to the social life of the community. Here is an auditorium where people shall gather in the days to come to hear inspiring speakers, to receive instruction in matters of civic welfare, to hear debates on political issues and social questions. Very important is the splendid kitchen equipment. The Christian church was founded around a table in an upper room and down thru the ages you will find there has been a social and religious value in people's getting together and eating together. In the hospitality of the common meal comes deeper fellowship and good will. And by no means the least important element in the equipment of this building is the beautifully appointed—Continued on Page Five

Memorial Exercises at Tip Top Theater Sunday, May 28th

Memorial Day exercises will be held at the Tip Top theater next Sunday afternoon, May 28th at 3 o'clock under the auspices of Kauai Post No. 2, American Legion.

Owing to the fact that Memorial Day is not observed on Kauai as a holiday it was decided by the post to hold the exercises on this day and as it was set aside to respect America's honored dead, it was thought fitting that all games and athletics be suspended for that day.

Acting on such a request from the American Legion, the Kauai Athletic Association did not schedule any baseball games for next Sunday.

The program is being garranged by the Memorial Day committee of the post and the Women's Auxiliary. Rev. Royal G. Hall will deliver the principal address of the day.

The program is as follows: Prelude—A. Horner, Jr., at the organ.

SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS JUDGE ACHI'S DECISION

Judge W. C. Achi, Jr., of the local circuit court, was sustained by the supreme court, in the case of the territory vs. Gay & Robinson, in regard to the koula lands in Hanapepe. The principal value of the lands are the water rights to the Hanapepe valley, which are conservatively estimated to be worth millions of dollars.

The circuit court gave the award decision to Gay & Robinson, and the supreme court affirmed the decision. Chief Justice Emil C. Peters wrote the final opinion.

KAUAI POST OF AMERICAN LEGION TO HOLD AN IMPORTANT MEETING

Kauai Post No. 2, of the American Legion will hold its regular meeting on Saturday evening, May 27th, at 7:30 p. m.

The officers of the post thought that it would be a good idea to have a short meeting of the post and then have the members attend the Lihue fair in a body.

The principal business of the meeting will be the report of the committee on remodeling the Lihue armory. Definite plans have been drawn up by the committee and will be submitted by the committee to be acted upon by the post at the meeting.

LIBRARY FOUNDER'S DAY

The public is reminded of the Founder's Day celebration in connection with the library at the Mokihana hall tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 p. m.

In addition to the program outlined last week the first sod will be broken on the location of the building by little Alice Wilcox. The public is cordially invited.

HART WOOD ATTENDS DEDICATION EXERCISES

Hart Wood, well known Honolulu architect, was one of the attendants at the dedication of the Wilcox Memorial Parish house in Lihue last Friday afternoon. Mr. Wood is the architect who designed the building and his good work has won him considerable praise.

Kauai Disapproves of Change in Status of Public Utilities

The Kauai Chamber of Commerce held a special meeting at the Lihue court house last Friday afternoon to consider the proposal that the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission be delegated to a local commission. The chamber went on record as opposing the change and as favoring the present system.

Feeling that the Interstate Commerce Commission is possibly too far away to be of utmost service in local matters, Congress is considering making the change mentioned. Governor Farrington was requested to give his opinion as to the wisdom of the change. He, in turn, asked the various civic bodies on the different islands to make suggestions.

The resolution disapproving of the change and favoring the present system, whereby the Interstate Commerce Commission has control over Hawaiian railways, telephones and telegraph systems, and the local public utilities commission charge of the lesser public utilities, was presented by R. D. Moler, manager of the Lihue plantation. A. Englehard seconded the motion.

There was some discussion as to the minor points of Mr. Moler's resolution, but the whole assembly was heartily in favor of the spirit of the petition and it carried unanimously.

The Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu took practically the same attitude towards the matter as the local body, and there is little doubt but that, if Hawaii's wishes are respected, the bill advocating the change will be killed in Congress.

The meeting being a special session, other matters were not decided but postponed until the regular meeting which is to be held next month.

KAUAI SCHOOL CHILDREN TO PARTICIPATE IN FAIR

All roads lead to Lihue next Saturday for the Kauai fair for not only will the Kauai fair be an attraction but the Kauai public school athletic league will hold their annual track and field meet at Lihue Saturday afternoon and the annual singing contest will be held in the Tip Top theater Saturday morning.

This will certainly make a busy day for the children, as there will be plenty for them to see and hear. The singing contest, which will be held at the Tip Top is an annual affair between the public schools of Kauai. Huleia school carried off the honors last year and are working hard to repeat this time.

The annual track meet will be held in the afternoon and all the schools on Kauai will enter teams. It was decided by the board of directors of the league, that in order to give smaller schools an opportunity to enter the competition with a chance to win to classify the boys and girls by weights.

There will be three classes of boys—the 70 pound, the 90 pound and the unlimited class. There will be a championship in each particular class, thereby giving a small school an opportunity to carry off a championship as well as a larger school. The boys from the smaller schools will have an opportunity to compete with boys of their own size instead of being forced to compete against boys much larger and older than themselves. The girls will also be classified by weight and the classes will be 70 pound class and an unlimited class.

Principals of the schools are urged to have all entries in by the evening of May 24 so as to give the committee and opportunity to arrange the events in regard to heats, etc. Substitutes will be allowed only at the time of registering and weighing in. Notices will be posted at both the field and the Tip Top theater of the time that each school shall weigh in its contestants.

KAUAI'S OLDEST WOMAN

DIES AT THE AGE OF 96 YEARS

Lilia Davis Kaleikau, grandmother of Senator John Andrew Kealoha passed away at her home in Kapaa on Sunday morning at the ripe age of 96 years, and was probably the oldest living Hawaiian woman on Kauai at the time of her death.

She was born at Lahaina, Maui, in April, 1826, during the reign of Kamehameha III, when Kaahumanu was regent. Her parents, Nakea and Pohunui, brought her up on Maui and she was educated by Alexander, one of the early missionaries to these islands. Her first trip to Kauai was made in 1879. She returned to Maui for several years and again came to Kauai in 1884, remaining on Kauai ever since. In 1908, at the age of 82 years, she suffered the loss of her sight, which she never recovered.

The deceased was survived by one son, Samuel K. Davis in Kapaa, a sister, Mrs. Dela Cruz of Honolulu, six grand children, Senator John Kealoha, Emily Kealoha, Lily Cummings, Hattie Adolpho, all in Kapaa, Julia Lovell, and Hattie Rogers in Honolulu, and Eva Peters, now in San Francisco, besides forty-two great grand-children, all living in various parts of the Hawaiian islands.

Funeral services were held at the Kapaa Protestant church, Sunday afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in the Hawaiian cemetery.

KAUAI SCHOOLS IN SINGING CONTEST

The annual singing between the public schools of Kauai will be held at the Tip Top Theater next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

KEALIA FAIR ASSURES CHILD WELFARE WORK

CHILD WELFARE WORK

The Kealia fair, given for the benefit of the child welfare work in the Kawaiiku district at Kapaa last Saturday afternoon and evening was a distinct financial success, about $1000 being cleared. This will put the child welfare work in the district on a firm foundation to carry on its work for the rest of the year.

The fair grounds in the Kapaa baseball field were thronged with a big crowd all afternoon and evening and by 11 o'clock in the evening every booth on the grounds was sold out and the patrons were forced to get their amusement by patronizing the nickel dance, the minstrel show or throwing eggs at the African dodger.

A group of street clowns kept the crowd amused with their foolish antics and the Teves boys jazz band kept their feet tingling at the nickel dance. The minstrel show was crowded at every session, and every booth on the grounds did a rushing business.

The committee in charge deserve the congratulations of the entire community for the success of the fair, as it meant an unlimited amount of hard work.

The Makee Sugar company, who donated all the lumber and labor for erecting the booths and dance hall, certainly showed that they were behind the fair and such spirit should be commended.

Rev. Albert Palmer, who was the principal speaker at the dedication of the Lihue Memorial Parish house returned to Honolulu Saturday evening.

AMERICAN LEGION SECTION

Americanization—Talk No. 3 WATCH YOUR STEP

In a territory, such as this, where there is both a mixture and a blending of many races and creeds on the roster of citizens, where the duties of citizenship are imposed, and the privileges of citizenship are enjoyed by men and women of practical all racial parentages, it should be the constant endeavor of these citizens to be worthy of these duties and privileges. In other words, they should endeavor to be good Americans by embodying in their daily life and behavior those qualities that are characteristically American and that are inherent in the best bred stock of American history, the Nordic pioneer stock.

To enumerate these characteristic American qualities it is not necessary to list the qualities that go to make up a good man, for a good man is a good man, no matter from what stock he comes, but it is surely possible for a man of the highest moral qualifications to be still lacking in fundamentally American qualities.

When the United States was a wilderness of trees, forest and plain, certain hardy individuals of the Nordic stock of Europe came to North America. These included among the others the early English, Huguenot and some of the Dutch settlers. In coming to North America they cut themselves off from all accustomed sources of protection and food supply, and placed themselves where their life depended upon their own efforts without assistance from any stronger group of people. Their motive in doing this was their determination to have individual and group freedom of action within regulations and laws of their own devising.

From the recorded accomplishments of these first groups of pioneers, and of the pioneers who developed all of the broad expanse of the United States two traditional and fundamental qualities of good American citizenship have arisen: self reliance, and the ability to possess individual liberty of thought and action within the law.

Let the citizen of alien parentage and other citizens as well realize that here in Hawaii life is easy and conditions are safe as compared to those of the pioneer days and that they are enjoying their advantages in great measure due to the work of these pioneers. Let them put this question to themselves: "I wish to be a good citizen. Have I the energy and self reliance under these easy conditions to put thru my own enterprise, with my own efforts alone of necessity, without reaching for outside assistance?"

From the conditions demanding self reliance and self sufficiency that the pioneers had to undergo has developed among the American people an admiration for these qualities that shows itself nowadays in their conception of "sportsmanship." Let us illustrate this.

Should the skill of a team of individuals to win in any sport be assisted by outside help or an unfortunate accident to the opponent the entire self sufficiency and merit of the team in winning is gone, for a victory now means that that victory has not been achieved thru merit alone, but thru ability plus factors lessening the opponent's chance of winning. This takes away most of the satisfaction of winning to a victor who has the true ideal of sportsmanship, and he is sorry first that he has to play at all, and second that his opponent had to lose under such a handicap. Now consider what this means.

Should a team have some players temporarily disabled, or should an individual be temporarily injured before a match, it is good sportsmanship to accede to a request for a postponement if possible. It is good sportsmanship to cheer one's own players and poor sportsmanship to place one's opponents under a handicap and jeering at them, and applauding their errors. It is the poorest of sportsmanship and absolutely un-American not to play the game according to the rules and laws, whether it be an athletic contest, fishing, hunting, business or an indoor sport.

Now comes the most general of the qualifications of a good American citizen. It is the correct performance of his duties as a citizen, and embrace his duty to his country, his duty to his neighbors, and his duty to his family.

One's duty to one's family is the easiest and most instinctive of all the obligations that a man takes upon himself. In this he is guided by affection, natural instinct, and the fear of approbrium of his neighbors. Nevertheless, we have heard of automobile owning parents of undernourished children on Kauai.

The underlying principle guiding one's duty to one's neighbors is the long-familiar Golden Rule of "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you." In practice it means to guard your actions and speech so that neither can harmfully affect anyone in your community or elsewhere, to co-operate with your neighbors for the common welfare, and to obey the law. Such practices as reckless driving, turning stock out where life and property may be injured, cruelty to animals, gossip, etc., all come under this category locally.

One's duty to one's country on the part of all citizens is to take an intelligent part in its government, and should it be in danger to gladly do one's part in its defense, even though it should mean the ultimate sacrifice. It means voting at every election, voting for the best man after a careful study of his qualifications for office, and supporting this man after election.

The American Legion, public servants or officers, and citizens of American parentage, have a position and influence in this community that is potentially great. It is to these people that the new American citizen must look for guidance and example, and an un-American action on the part of any of these may be copied and imitated by citizens of foreign parentage and training as being the ideal of good Americanism. It is much harder to correct a mistaken ideal than to instill the right one.

So, good Americans all—WATCH YOUR STEP!

A. J. HORNER.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—Efforts to speed the construction of hospitals where young American service men, insane from their war experiences, may be treated, are being directed from national headquarters of the American Legion here.

C. J. Harris, head of the Legion's service division, reports an alarming condition do to the lack of proper facilities for quartering and treating the demented veterans. More than 9,000 young men, who afflictions range from harmless mental disorders and high nervous tension to raving insanity, are confined in Veterans' bureau hospitals alone, while at least 3,000 more are held in contract institutions, state and county insane asylums, jails and private hospitals.

In a city near Indianapolis, Mr. Harris reports, a service man, shell-shocked in military service, became slightly mentally unbalanced and began "acting queer," according to his family. The case was reported to the Veterans' Bureau, but instead of allowing the bureau time enough to find a place for the patient, the parents took him to an insane asylum for observation. While being observed however, a document legally committing the man to the insane asylum was read to him. The commitment for insanity so preyed upon the shell-shocked young man, Mr. Harris declares, that shortly he became a raving maniac, confined in a padded cell.

The Langley bill, recently passed, provides for the construction of one neuropsychic hospital in each of the Veterans' Bureau's 14 districts. Trained personnel for treatment of the demented veterans is sadly lacking however, and the national rehabilitation committee of the Legion, making a study of the problem, has recommended that a training center be established without delay.

The Legion has noted an increase of one per cent each month in the number of insane veterans, national headquarters reports.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, director of the Veterans' Bureau, now is the one man in the United States directly responsible for the proper care of sick and wounded veterans of the world war, according to National Commander Hanford MacNider of the American Legion.

Passage of the Langley bill appropriating $17,000,000 to complete building of permanent hospitals under Mr. Forbes' direction and the announcement that Public Service hospitals in which the service men are patients will be transferred to the control of Mr. Forbes, centralizes completely responsibility for care of the war's disabled in the hands of one man.

"This means that the Legion's three year legislative fight is won, but it also means that the country is just three years too late in adequately caring for its disabled," Mr. MacNider declared. "The armistice was hardly signed before it became apparent that the machinery of rehabilitation was clumsy. There were three separate bureaus with which the disabled veteran had to deal—one for payment of compensation, another for hospital and medical care and another for vocational training. Responsibility was divided in three ways.

"The American Legion drew up a plan to remedy this condition and obtained the backing of the country. But by this time 150,000 pending claims for compensation had been amassed and 300,000 unanswered letters. Departments passed cases back and forth between while men died in want.

"Finally now the machine is in order. One man, the head of the Veterans' Bureau, controls insurance, compensation, vocational training and hospital and medical care. Furthermore, the power to make decisions and awards has now been allotted to districts so that there is personal contact with claimants."

Helen—Not in this day of short skirts and rolled hose.

I gave her a box of rouge for Christmas.

Gee, but that was a pretty flossy present, wasn't it?

Yes, but I got it all back when she thanked me for it.—Milton College Review.

He—Oh, that's all right. One of us may as well be truthful.—Punch Bowl.

SPORTS

What? Never seen a ball game? And you an American. I'm surprised that you even make the admission.

The above was directed toward me. You can see the stigma that is upon me. I've kept it from the world all these years only by skillfully changing the subject whenever base ball is mentioned. But now that it is out, even if only one man knew about it, it was upon me to see a game so that I might throw out a few wise remarks about the great American mania and thereby save my face. I am now able to say that I have seen a game and the following is a true report of the same:

The girl who goes to movies with me—sometimes—and I, were parked in her car (I said I was going to be truthful) in the Lihue baseball grounds a few Sundays ago. She was keen enough to see that didn't know much about the game and she took it upon herself to explain it to me.

Oh, I get such a thrill out of baseball—I'd never miss a game if it wasn't so hot or there is a picnic on Sunday or something—now let me tell you about it—you see that fellow over there with his hands behind his back, well he's the catcher—and that fellow that is waving his arms around in the air is the pitcher—you see he is throwing the ball to the—no I was wrong he is not the catcher—that fellow that I first pointed out to you is not the catcher—no, he's the umpire—he always holds his hands behind his back so he won't catch any of the balls—you see the pitcher throws the ball to the catcher and the man with—say, I wish they wouldn't let those people drive across the park when they are playing—gee, that's a pretty car, I wonder who—it's Mabel—I like her nerve—she just drove across there so everybody would see that she had a new car—and look at the color of it—red, I think that is mighty poor taste—colors are not being used on motor cars this year—but then you couldn't expect anything better of her—she always wants to attract attention—a flivver is the only thing she should own with her husband getting that small salary—I think it is simply outrageous for a woman to spend all her husband's salary on a car—and then to get such a gaudy color so that everybody will look at it—you'd think she'd—oh, look that's a home run—it's our team, too—I can tell by the kind of stockings he is wearing—look he's around to third now—there he goes—he's in safe—I wonder what all those Kappa people are cheering about—why I believe that was a Kappa man who made that run—I do wish that they would have a different kind of suit for each team—I can't tell who is at the bat—the last time I was here our team—some of them—had stockings on just like that fellow who made that run—why can't they all get new suits and have them washed every week—will you look at Mabel—she is getting out of her to walk over to see Helen—she doesn't like Helen—she says the cattiest things about her—she just had to get out of her car to show off her new dress—that's all she did it for—will you look at that dress—just imagine a woman buying a dress like that—and her husband getting such a small salary—buying such an expensive dress—and it is not becoming—she has such poor taste—she couldn't look well no matter what she paid for her clothes—not if she had a million dollars a year to buy her clothes with—and look how short it is cut—I'll bet she can't sit down without showing the roll of her stockings—a woman of her height shouldn't wear such short dresses—and no married woman should roll their stockings—of course it's all right for us single girls—but never for a married woman—look, all the bases are full—which team is in—I do wish they would have different suits for each team—or at least different kinds of stockings—color I mean—I don't see how any body can keep track of the game—oh, look at that fielder catch the ball—he rolled right over on his back and held his hands up in the air—that's so everybody could see that he wasn't cheating and picked up the ball without catching it—do you know that Bill hasn't been around to see me for eight weeks—yes, I marked it down on the calendar—not that I care if he doesn't come round but it's so rude—he might have phoned or something—yes, he came up three nights and always on Thursday night and he knows I take my singing lessons on Thursday night—mind you, I don't care if I ever see him again, but you'd think he wouldn't be so rude—and he was up last Tuesday night and he knew I had to go to the Mikado practice—I don't see how men can be so rude—I wouldn't walk across the street to speak to him—men can be so rude down here—I'm never going to speak to him as long as I live—why I wouldn't answer him if he spoke to me—look there goes a home run—look how the fellow is running—what is he stopping for—oh, it was a foul—say I do believe Mabel is coming over here—of all the nerve—after saying the cattiest things about me—why I'd cut her dead if it wasn't such a small place—ore has to stand for these things down in a small place like this—why hello Mabel, we were admiring your car when you came in—I was just telling Joe what a swell color it is—red is all the rage for cars now—it's so sensible for you to buy a good car instead of a cheap one—what a beautiful dress you have on—you always show such good taste—you did right to have it cut short like that—they say styles are for shorter dresses this year—say Mabel look at poor old Bill over there all by his lonesome in his car—let's go over and cheer him up—we'll be back soon, Joe—say Joe, if I don't come back before the game is over you take my car home, eh? Yes, baseball is a wonderful game.

AMERICAN LEGION USING RADIOPHONE

Legion posts on the mainland are being bitten by the radio bug and are installing radiophone receiving sets so they can listen in and get reports from department headquarters.

Nebraska is the first state to use the radiophone. The plan is as follows:

Department headquarters of the Legion in each state will install radiophone receiving sets and listen in at specified times and dates for the broadcast from headquarters. Each state department headquarters being equipped with a radiophone could hold conversation with other state headquarters and in all probability a powerful radiophone station will be installed at national headquarters of the American Legion and in this way national headquarters would be in touch with each department either direct or via closer stations. It is only a matter of a short time when all the Hawaiian islands will be linked with radiophone and talking with a party on the other islands will be an everyday occurrence.

Prominent people, celebrated artists, who come to Honolulu and either do not have the time or plans to visit each island will be able to entertain the whole territory with speeches, lectures and concerts with the aid of the radiophone.

Radio is neither a craze nor a toy. It is a very serious and important public utility which will gain magnitude and value every day.

CHAMPS TRIM SCOTS IN EXCITING BATTLE BOOTS ARE PLENTIFUL

That game between Makee and Makaweli Sunday before last was considered exciting by many. But, oh boy, you don't know what you missed if you did not take the trouble to journey to Eleele Sunday and watch the Scots and Makees tangle up. The latter game was mild in comparison.

Sixteen errors, ten miscues by the winners and six by the losers, indicate that something must have been radically wrong somewhere, but ask anyone who saw the game and the answer will be that it was the most exciting game they have seen in many moons. Imagine a game in which the winners overcame a three run lead and went into the lead by one run, only to have the opposition again tie it up with runs to spare. Then, when everything looked rosy for McBryde with the score at 6 to 4 in their favor, and a Makee man had been laid away in what was supposed to be the first half of the ninth inning, the Makees started after Ohama and filed the bags, scoring three runs in spite of a sudden switch in moundsmen, Tilly coming in from right field to check the rally. This was enough to win, but they earned two more in the ninth to feel safer. The final score was 9 to 6, but the score doesn't tell the story at all.

K. Muranaka, who pitched for Kilauea two years ago, started off for the Makees, but six errors in five innings spoiled his record and he retired in the fifth inning with two down, in favor of Teves. The latter allowed two hits in 4 1/3 innings, but which resulted in two runs. Ohama for McBryde had the Makees for five innings, but weakened in the latter stages, allowing hits in every inning. Tilly, however, did no better, as under the rules, he was responsible for the loss of the game. Hee, the first to face him, scored the winning run.

The story of the game by innings was as follows:

The Makees went out one, two and three in the first. For McBryde, after Tank had skyrocketed to King and Ako was killed by pitcher to first. Fernandez pulled a Snodgrass and Spalding landed on third. Tilly singled, scoring Spalding. Doi booted G. Watase's grounder and Perreira singled, scoring Tilly. Perreira stole second and Watase scored on Soong's bad throw to third. Perreira tried to come in on the same play and was out, Muranaka to Soong.

The second inning was a blank for both teams. The Kapaa boys scored their first run in the third. Muranaka was safe on shortstop's error. Doi singled and Yoshida was safe when Ako erred. Hee fanned, but Tsunehiro walked, forcing in a run. Two other force-outs ended this inning. McBryde could not connect in their half.

The fifth inning brought joy to the Makees' supporters. Doi singled. After Yoshida had died via the airline to Tilly. He beat out a bunt and a double steal was pulled off. Tsunehiro fanned the ozone, but Soong doubled, scoring Doi and Hee. Soong stole second and scored when Ako again erred on Fernandez' grounder. Rodrigues ended by whiffing. The joy of the Makees was short lived, however, as the Scots came right back and put themselves gain in front by two runs. E. Watase singled and Ohama sacrificed, Watase reaching third thru the forgetfulness of Rodrigues. Tank singled and scored Watase. Ako grounded to pitcher, who threw wild to second in an attempt to force out Tank, both runners advancing. Spalding fanned. With two strikes and two balls on Tilly, Muranaka was yanked and Teves went in. The first ball he pitched was hit for a triple by Tilly, scoring Tank and Ako. Watase fanned.

There was nothing doing in the sixth, the Makees getting one hit and committing another miscue. Ditto for the seventh, although the McBrydes got two runners on with none down.

The eighth saw the final turning tide in Kapaa's favor. King flied to Tilly, but Teves got a free ticket. Doi got on thru second's error and Yoshida beat out a bunt for a single, filling the bags with only one down. Tilly was rushed to stem the onslaught, but Hee doubled on the second ball pitched, tying the score. Tsunehiro grounded to Tilly in an attempt to squeeze, and Yoshida was out Tilly to Tank. Tank's throw to second to catch Tsunehiro going down was booted, and Hee scored the run, which was enough to win. For McBryde Tilly opened with a mighty triple to left center but was stranded, as Watase and Perreira both popped out, and Tilly was put out trying to steal home.

To make it doubly sure, the Makees gathered two more in the ninth. Soong was hit by Tilly. Fernandez sacrificed and Rodrigues died, second to first, Soong reacting third. King walloped one to left center and circled the four sacks with ease. McBryde could do nothing in their half, going out in rotation.

The following is the box score:

Notes on Makee-McBryde Game
Tilly was the batting star of the day, getting two triples and a single, all healthy wallops. As a cleanup hitter for McBryde, he certainly lived up to his reputation.

Incidentally, both relief pitchers were damaged considerably by the first batter they faced, Teves yielding a triple which scored two runs, and Tilly a double which tallied a like number.

Perfect control was a feature of the Makee defense, not a free ticket being doled out either by Teves or Muranaka.

The score board attendant must have been out late the night before, probably to the Kapaa fair. He added an extra column of ciphers to the board and everyone except the official scorers thought the game was over in the eighth.

Teves' work on Sunday against McBryde and the previous Sunday against Makaweli indicates that he is Makee's best bet on the mound this year, unless Cummings can again show some of the old stuff that made him invincible last year.

Sally Watase made a diving catch of Rodrigues' short fly in the fourth. It was a nifty catch and he deserved all the applause he received for it.

The game last 2 hours and 50 minutes, but could have been much shorter if the McBrydes knew more about baseball rules. They stopped the game to protest the substitution of Teves for Muranaka when Tilly had not completed his turn at bat, and did it again when Umpire Duncan called a batter out after Soong had dropped the third strike with first and second bases occupied and none down.

Several hoaxes from McBryde had quite a fine time of it up to the eighth teasing the Makees and their supporters, but could not be found in their usual haunts when the eighth inning ended.

TENNIS

SURPRISE SPRUNG IN THE LADIES DOUBLES

Mrs. George Bedell and Mrs. Robert Jesse won the west side handicap doubles championship after one of the gamest up-hill battles on record in local tennis history, by defeating Mrs. Clutterbuck and Mrs. Hall, 8-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Mrs. Bedell and Mrs. Jesse sprung the biggest surprise of the tournament when they defeated Mrs. Cannon and Mrs. Rankin by the score of 2-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 in the semi-finals, as the latter were picked to win the championship and their elimination by the champions put a new light on the affair. Their playing in this match against odds was by far the best bit of ladies' tennis that has been in several years and it must be said that they won on their gameness, for at no time did they give up, although their opponents took the first set with apparent ease.

Their showing in the finals was up to standard and with the unusually good playing of their opponents made the match one of the best and most exciting of the year. Both teams played straight tennis and both refused to take unfair advantage of their opponents and their sportsmanship was of the highest caliber.

Mrs. Bedell and Mrs. Jesse will carry the title of ladies' doubles champions of west Kauai for a year and an added feature will be the trophy of two tennis racquets that go with the championship. The racquets were offered as a prize by B. D. Baldwin.

BURNS AND KNUDSEN WIN MEN'S DOUBLES FROM RICHTER AND NUNES

Burns and Knudsen won the championship in the west side men's handicap doubles last Sunday when they defeated Richter and Nunes at the McBryde court. The scores of the match were 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

The match was a hard fought one, both teams playing heady tennis throughout the entire four sets. Richter and Nunes showed a flash of form in the second set, after the winners had won the first one, and gave their admirers a chance to cheer by winning 6-4. The Koloa team took a brace in third and won 6-3. The McBryde team put up a game fight in the last set and although the score appears one-sided this set was the hardest fought of the entire match.

A pair of tennis racquets given by H. P. Faye is the trophy for the championship.

ALL KAUAI MEN'S SINGLES FIRST ROUND COMPLETED; TOO MANY DEFAULTS

The first round of the all-Kauai men's singles have been completed. One distressing feature is the number of defaults by East Kauai players.

The results of the first round are as follows:

"Tuxedo" Bill Balthis defeated Eric Knudsen.

Bedell won by default from Corstorphine.

Rankin and Kruse—no report. Brenham won from Hofgaard. Caleb Burns defeated Nunes. Cannon won from Bomke.

Faye defeated Dunn. Creevey defeated Clutterbuck. Baldwin won from Ichinose. Gregg defaulted to Frank Burns. Glaisyer defeated Kaye.

Fernandes vs. Miller—no report. Allen won from Foster Horner by default.

Richter defeated Damkroger. W. Sinclair vs. D. Sinclair—no report.

Broland won from A. Horner Jr. by default.

The second round will be as follows:

"Tuxedo" Bill Balthis vs. Bedell; Brenham vs. winner Rankin and Kruse; Caleb Burns vs. Cannon; Faye vs. Creevey; Baldwin vs. Frank Burns; Glaisyer vs. winner Miller vs. Fernandes; Richter vs. Allen; Broland vs. winner, W. Sinclair vs. D. Sinclair.

"Tuxedo" Balthis, who is picked by many to win the tournament, voiced the opinion that it would be a good idea for McInerney's to give a dinner jacket to the winner. Tux evidently wants to blossom out at the next affair given at the parish house.

hitless for two games, broke into the limelight on Sunday, Kenneth getting three blows and Doi two.

MAKAWELI 20, KOLOA 19
Makaweli and Koloa staged a typical schoolboy affair at Makaweli, the west enders finally winning out by the terrible score of 20 to 19. Errors were countless and the official scorer had brain fever and was forced to retire.

Tadooshi of the Junior team heaved a one-hit game against the Freshmen, but thru an error of his own and a wild throw by Goichi his catcher lost the game, one to nothing. Tadooshi of the fresh team held the Juniors to two hits which had quite a bit to do with the Freshman victory.

KAPAA BREVITIES

Just a reminder that dinners will still be forthcoming in spite of hard times everywhere, if they play winning ball. B. Y. Lee, proprietor of Yuen Kee chop house, Kapaa, invited the whole Makee team, its officials and several personal friends, to an elaborate Chinese dinner at his cafe recently.

It was not to celebrate the victory over Makaweli in particular, however, as the dinner had been promised to the boys after their next victory. Had they lost on Sunday, the dinner would have been given if they beat McBryde this Sunday, or if not, then when they beat Koloa. Mr. Lee, the host, is a genuine baseball fan, and told the boys that he was taking this means to show them, that although his absence in China last year prevented him from entertaining the team after the won the championship, he is now giving them a treat to start off the 1922 season right. He also promised them that another dinner, better than this one, will be given by him if the team wins again in 1922.

Those present at the dinner were George S. Raymond, Henry T. Sheldon, G. M. Shak, Kion Soong, Arthur Wong, John Hano, Judge von Ekekele, N. Fugitani, June Teraoka, Joseph Rodrigues, Alfred Rodrigues, D. Doi, M. Tsunehiro, Kenneth Hee, M. Morita, King Kano, J. Yoshida, Frank Fernandez, Joseph Silva, Alfred Viveiros and Henry Kama.

THE MEMORIAL BUILDING

A memorial building that will perpetuate the memory of the donors as well as the two fine sons whose memory the building is intended to keep green, was dedicated at Lihue last Friday afternoon. For the Wilcox Memorial Parish House, one of the finest, best and most beautiful memorials ever erected in Hawaii will stand for generations as a silent tribute to the lives of two of Kauai's most loved sons.

The building itself is an architectural masterpiece. Simple in lines, wonderfully well proportioned, arranged so that every foot of space may be utilized to good advantage, the structure stands not only as a thing of beauty in a well selected location amidst the trees, but as an instrument of service to the community.

A well equipped stage provides the place for public entertainments. A completely equipped kitchen makes it possible to hold community banquets or dinners there. Smaller rooms at the rear of the building provide a place for extra Sunday School rooms or for committee meetings.

The generosity and the public spirit shown by the donors in giving this house, without reservations, to the public of Kauai, will long be remembered. If this building does not adequately serve as a memorial to loved ones who have gone before, then nothing, built by the hands of man, can.

WAR CLOUDS GATHERING

The great world war, that promised so much for the peace of the world, seems to have failed in its objective. None of the nations are satisfied, and today war clouds are gathering in every quarter of the globe.

Civil war exists in China; there is trouble in Africa, in India, in Persia, in Turkey, Greece, Armenia, and in other countries. France is on the point of a fight with Germany and perhaps Russia; Poland is an armed camp, and a number of wars are in progress, and peace seems to be far off. In fact, the dogs of war are straining at their leashes and may break loose any moment. In fact the world seems to be on the edge of an abyss, and Europe may before many months be ablaze with war, and unless international discord can be readjusted on the lines of harmony and justice the smoke of battle and the thunder of the big guns mingled with the cries of men in the agonies of death, will be what today seems an almost unavoidable condition.

The Genoa conference was poorly managed. Mistakes were made in inviting certain elements to participate. Russia comes to the conference cocked and primed for trouble. She has nothing to lose and everything to gain. Her problem was and is a world problem; but her managers are tricky, exacting and greedy.

A new alliance, with the possibility of other menacing combinations has been made, and that, too, without the consent of the allies, the league of nations or any other authority except that of the parties concerned, is a dark and threatening cloud. Germany and Russia have combined for mutual interest, and the combination may yet include Bulgaria, Turkey and possibly some other nations.

With this combination looming threateningly at the Genoa conference, and the parties to the combination defying the allies, there seems to be no hope of a satisfactory peace. In fact, the combination is a menace that seems to forecast nothing short of another great war, and that very soon. It may be averted, but nice diplomatic engineering will be necessary to turn the tide.

The allies now see their mistake in inviting Russia to participate in the Genoa conference, and they see also that they have made serious mistakes in haggling over political issues while their enemies have been strengthening their positions until they have virtually become the dictators.

Whatever may be the result of the present European tangle, the present status is alarming, and well informed men are fearful lest the discord pass beyond control.

America may not again be called upon to defend her rights upon the high seas, but a European war may make it necessary for us to be prepared to defend ourselves from any encroachments that the conflicting parties might see fit to make upon us.

Maybe the reason Missouri stands at the head in raising mules is because it's the only safe place to stand.

What has become of the old fashioned boy who used to do most of his courting on the way to and from church?

MORAL-WRECKING MOVIES

For the past several months there have been many objections to some of the moving pictures shown on this island on the grounds that they have a tendency to lower the moral standards of the people who see them. But the harm they do has always been in the minds of many people, more or less conjectural, and no very decided step has been taken to wipe out objectionable pictures.

But last week a case came up in the circuit court at Lihue that very plainly shows the effect of these pictures. A thirteen-year-old school boy was brought into court charged with stealing $300. The boy broke down and confessed his crime. When the judge asked him why he did it, he said that he was trying to act "like the movies." He had got the idea and inspiration from a serial "The Great Gamble," that he has been watching for some time.

In this case the judge is a student of human nature. Moved by the boy's straightforward confession, he gave him another chance and a very impressive lecture. Had he not done so the boy would have been sentenced to a penal institution and a life of crime started.

The effect of these pictures can no longer be doubted. They are harmful in the extreme. They are shown very graphically and indelibly fixed in the minds of the children and the adults with children's minds who watch them. The idea, the method of carrying out the idea and the ease of "getting away" with the crime are all impressed upon the mind. All that is needed is the opportunity and a few more criminals are made.

This is a good time, and this is a good reason, call it excuse if you like, to start an effective campaign against this type of movies. There are movie-censuring committees already here. Let them get busy and do something. They may be sure that they will have the whole-hearted backing of every good citizen on the island.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Lihue, Kauai, May 13, 1922.
Editor, Garden Island:—Your recent editorial, on the American Legion's activities concerning the remodeling of the armory, was read with a mixture of satisfaction and apprehension.

The Legion is, of course, very appreciative of your kind remarks and thanks you for them. The impression was given, however, that the work is to be done at the expense of the Legion. It is feared that this statement may cause a public misunderstanding, as to the source of the funds and it is hoped that you will be good enough to correct this possible misunderstanding, after reading the following:

To quote exactly from our letter to the supervisors, "The work is to be done by funds to be raised by the American Legion and at no expense to the county." Our principle method of raising this money will be to go to the public for subscriptions and the success of the project depends largely on their generosity in responding to a real community need. "Every mother's son of us" have got to dig up in order to get this work done, whether he belongs to the Legion or not. In the case of Ye Editor we hope his subscription will be so large that he will feel personally responsible for the alterations. Seriously, that is just the way we want everyone to feel. It is the public who are going to build the new armory, not the Legion. Our ambition is merely to provide a method of "helping the people help themselves."

Yours very truly,
The American Legion, Kauai Post No. 2; by A. ENGLEHARD, Commander.

Dear Sir:
Kapaa's Movies and Its Prices
I notice that the Kapaa movie theater is in the habit of billing certain well known pictures as "special" and charging the people price for the privilege of seeing these pictures. I do not pretend to know very much about the movie business but would like to ask why such special prices are necessary when other theaters in Honolulu, Lihue or elsewhere, under different owners, do not have to charge extra for such features? I understand that the theater manager claims that such pictures cost him more to present, and I do not doubt his word, but what happens when some picture as old as the hills, insofar as the pictures are concerned, is shown? Does he advertise a special reduced rate for these pictures? If he does, no one seems to have any recollection of it, but of course, these old pictures may have cost him the same as new ones.

The present price of 40 cents for a chair is stiff enough compared with seeing the same pictures in other localities, but why tack on a special price just because he pays a little more to the distributors. I believe that not only the writer but the Kapaa lovers of pictures would welcome an explanation thru the columns of The Garden Island.

el stage. Here will be a place for song and music—for oratorio, and opera and orchestra. Come tonight and you will see the fairyland of Shakespeare as the children and young people enact the "Midsummer Night's Dream" before your eyes. It is an auspicious beginning of a large use of the drama both as a recreation and as an art interpreting some of the deeper meanings of life.

I would that I were able adequately to express what is in my heart and in your hearts of appreciation of these dear friends, who in their generosity and public spirit have erected this building. When they sought to build a memorial to those they loved, they chose this house, beautiful as the skill and art, the sense of line and color, of the architect could make it and then set it here to go on serving the community thru all the coming years. Over its doors there is really written, though in invisible letters, the words of the text of this sermon: "I am in the midst of you as he that serveth." This house stands as a veritable incarnation in enduring stone and lovely architecture of the spirit of service which was in Christ and which must be in His church also.

A friend of mine once placed over the exit of the new church where he was minister these words about Jesus: "He went about doing good." And in explanation he said: "That is the test of the whole matter—the music, the prayers, the sermon—do people go out into life from this church inspired to go about doing good?" I am sure this beautiful building will have just the constant and quiet influence people who gather here from time to time will feel not only the beauty of architecture but also the spirit of service that prompted its erection as a tribute of loving memory and will be inspired to go out, in turn, as those who serve, to go about doing good. So this parish house, standing here in its beautiful grove of trees, shall spread its influence throughout this lovely island.

After the benediction, pronounced by Rev. R. G. Hall, the friends, old and new, went out past the bronze memorial tablet with hearts more open to the sense of the glory and divinity of love that outlasts these changing years.

In the evening, again the house was crowded, not to the doors, but beyond them, to the limits of the broad lanai, by neighbors and friends eager to see the children of the community take possession of the pretty stage and cast spells of fairyland upon it. No magician less powerful, and no interpreter of human life less sympathetic than Shakespeare would do for such an occasion.

He set a noble pattern. A lordly court grouped about Duke Theseus (Adrian Englehard, and queenly Hippolyta (Edith Rice), who were splendid in their wedding robes, and courtly in their speech. A moonlit forest where proud Oberon (Dorothea Sloggett) and fair Titania (Lydia Bodrero) held court delightfully and called the flowers and moths and fireflies to pleasant service, and where Puck (Arthur Sloggett), most whimsical and audacious of sprites, worked his will with clumsy mortals; and a comic scene where rustic clowns played to utter conviction the "fools we mortals be." Bottom (John Midkiff) was quite imitable and Quince (Percy Lydgate) and his players, Snug (Richard Rice, Flute, (Kenneth Kerwin), Snout (William Moragne) and Starveling (Kenneth Hopper), whether in the role of hard-handed men of Athens or of performers in "Pyramus and Thisbe," each played his part with individuality and humor. Bottom was a splendid "ornery" fool for the leading fairies, the sweet Dew- Drop (Edith Sloggett) who opened the moonlight scene with grace and sang her airy song and later led the swaying chorus in the queen's lullaby; Peablossom (Ruth Hobby), Cobweb (Dora Rice), Moth (Alice Scott), Mustardseed (Glen Hopper), and the fairy sentinel (Eunice Scott) who added variety and charm to the larger group.

It was a true community play as is proved when one tries from the long list to assign praise, for all helped to make the affair a success, from Miss Ethel Damon, who planned and worked out the details of the evening's program with untiring enthusiasm to the little group of fairy flowers who swayed in time to the fairy music. Miss Edith Rice proved her genius as a maker of costumes both in her striking and lovely combinations of color and the originality and skill of her designing. Mrs. Carter's fairy groups were gay and spontaneous; Miss Karrer and Miss Hardell were indispensable in prompting and watching cues; the Misses Underhills' clowns interpreted their parts with humorous success; and Mrs. Bayless' choruses carried the spirit of the songs.

Even the outsiders caught the spirit of the occasion. The lovely music by the Pasmore Trio unified and helped create the glamor of atmosphere; Mrs. Isaac Cox helped Miss Damon happily in the final putting together of the varied scenes; and Miss Margaret Clarke's settings for the fairy songs had the lilt and swing of elf-land, and the appreciation of the beauty of the occasion was felt in the little chant-like singing of the second stanza of "The Blessings of the House" but slightly altered from Shakespeare's closing song:

"This pleasant chamber bless Thru the years, with friendly peace; And the givers of it blest Ever shall in safety rest."

SCHOOL COMMISSION TO DECIDE ON SITE OF ENGLISH SCHOOL

Definite decision with regard to the establishment in Honolulu of a public school for children from English speaking families, regardless of nationality, may be taken at a meeting of the territorial school board next Tuesday, says the Star-Bulletin of last Thursday.

The commission will consider another petition received recently by the department from parents in various sections of the city requesting the establishment of such an institution. At its last meeting the commission went on record as favoring restoring of Central grammar school to school with strict English requirements, but no action was taken toward carrying out this plan, the commission desiring first to obtain the views of local civic organizations.

In its discussion of the project the commission went on record as being emphatically opposed to anything that savored of discrimination. The problem now before the commission is that of a suitable building for the proposed new school. Should it be decided definitely to restore Central grammar school to its original status a certain number of children now enrolled there would have to be placed in some other school, and with existing congestion, this would be impossible at this time. Lack of funds and the necessity for retrenchment by the county as well the territory, makes a new building out of the question at present.

SUMMER SESSION OPENS WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28TH

The regular summer session of the territorial normal school will be held in Honolulu beginning Wednesday, June 28th, and will last six weeks.

There are several special features this year, among them special courses in domestic and the practical arts, affiliation with the University of Hawaii in the agricultural course and special courses in the first and second methods provided for teachers who are required to qualify for second permit and a primary grade certificate. Normal school credit will be given for satisfactory work done at the summer session.

The faculty announces that there will be a limited availability to those who care to make reservations for residence in the normal school dormitory. The number will be limited to 30 and the preference will be shown to those that apply first.

Applications should be sent to Mrs. Harriett Evans, matron, Normal School Dormitory, Honolulu.

The Y. W. C. A. will offer special privileges, such as the use of its beach house and gym facilities for a very nominal fee. The Y. W. C. A. will also assist in co-operating in the assembly programs and social functions.

Miss Ethel Nowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Nowell of Oakland, Cal., will become the bride of Selwyn Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Robinson, of Makaweli, at St. Marks Episcopal church in Oakland tomorrow.

Miss Eleanor Robinson, a sister of the groom elect, will act as one of the bridesmaids. The young couple will make their future home at Makaweli.

MRS. HOFGAARD AND DAUGHTER HAVE PARTY

One of the most enjoyable social functions of the past week was a bridge and sewing party given by Mrs. C. B. Hofgaard and her daughter, Mrs. A. G. Clutterbuck, of Waima, in honor of Mrs. Clutterbuck's birthday. The players were placed at five tables a series of pivot rubbers being played during the afternoon. Mrs. Braue was the fortunate winner of the first prize, a beautiful rose silk sofa cushion. Mrs. Anser won second prize, a dainty lavender apron and Mrs. Dwight Baldwin was awarded artistic bridge tally cards for low score.

The ladies who brought their sewing sat on the cool lanai until bridge was over, then all adjourned to the spacious dining room where a dainty buffet luncheon was served, consisting of chicken salad served a la buffet, sponge cake and tea. Mrs. N. Brown and Mrs. E. A. Creevey assisted in pouring the tea.

The dining table was beautifully decorated with yellow coreopsis, while flowers in shades of pink and lavender adorned the library and parlor where the bridge players sat. Those who enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Whittington, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. H. H. Brodie, Mrs. A. Braue, Mrs. R. A. Ballister, Mrs. E. G. K. Deverill, Mrs. N. Brown, Mrs. C. Hatchard, Mrs. D. D. Crutchshank, Mrs. E. L. Dankroger, Mrs. E. A. Creevey, Mrs. D. Baldwin, Mrs. A. Q. Marcellino, Mrs. M. E. Carver, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. W. C. Cannon, Mrs. G. B. Tuttle, Mrs. F. H. WAIMEA-KEKAHA DANCE IS SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The first dance given by the Waima-Kekaha Social Club at the Waima Hall was one of the most successful affairs given this year. The crowd that attended was one of the largest that has attended an affair of this kind, nearly everyone from the west side being present.

To insure good music, the committee had Alapaki Smith's jazz band and it can be seen that the crowd had a good time by the fact that they danced until 2 o'clock a. m.

Delicious refreshments in the form of sandwiches, ice cream, coffee and cake, were served at 12 o'clock, after which the dancing continued until a late hour.

HELE LOAS HAVE BUFFET SUPPER AT PAPANAHOA

The Hele Loas were most delightfully entertained at a buffet supper at Papanahoa as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sloggett, last Tuesday evening.

There were twenty-eight of them, all told, every member who could possibly sit and take nourishment was there, and they made a very happy and merry party.

Needless to say, the supper was most excellent and was most thoroughly appreciated.

Leisurely, after supper, the meeting was called to order by the president and two or three matters of business were dispatched.

One of these was the Hawaiian evening program for the balance of the season. It was unanimously decided to have these instructive evenings every week instead of bi-weekly. This was in order to cover the ground and complete the course which the leader had in mind.

The special event of the evening proved to be a story illustrating the transition stage of the Hawaiian mind and outlook, "The Wainiha Hul and the Advent of the Power Plant." It was the story of W. E. Rowell's attempt to secure a fifty years lease from the Hul of the Wainiha water power.

It was most graphic in its presentation of the gropings and misconceptions of the Hawaiian mind in regard to the development of electric power from the water.

Rev. D. H. Klinefelter, superintendent of the Methodist mission, arrived from Honolulu Friday morning on official business.

"THE MIKADO" TO BE STAGED EARLY IN JUNE AT NEW PARISH HOUSE

While the exact date has not been set, it has been decided to present the comic opera "The Mikado," early in June at the Parish House in Lihue. The cast has been practicing for two months now and the play is shaping up in wonderful shape. The first practice at the Parish House was held last night.

"The Mikado" will be the second entertainment to be given in the new parish house. The Japanese scenery will adapt itself well to the stage and the layout of the building. The excellent acoustics of the house insure the audience of hearing every word of the songs and speech of this popular opera.

The complete cast of the opera will be announced in next week's Garden Island. The story, briefly, is this: The Mikado of Japan has ordered that there be no flirting around his court. Katisha, an elderly lady of the court, accuses Nanki-Po, the Mikado's son, of flirting with her and declares her love for him. The Mikado in a wrath orders Nanki-Po to marry Katisha in ten days or be beheaded.

Nanki-Po is not at all enamored with Katisha. He decides that he will run away rather than marry the dame. So he flies to the town of Titipu, disguised as a trombone player. There he falls in love with Lam Yum, the ward of Ko-Ko, the old high executioner of Titipu.

Ko-Ko is also in love with his ward. When he finds out that she loves Nanki-Po, he decides that the easiest way out of his difficulties is to behead Nanki-Po. Although he changes his mind as to this drastic action, he reports to the Mikado that he has done so. Katisha is much outraged at this and makes a complaint to the Mikado. The Mikado sees the justice of her complaint and tells Ko-Ko that if he does not marry the girl in ten minutes he will be boiled in oil. The poor Ko-Ko gets busy and wins the old girl always wins the audience. And with the particular local talent that is to present the play, the audience is sure to get some rare entertainment.

Miss Helen King, who is teaching at Lihue school, returned from Honolulu last Wednesday morning after attending the funeral of her father, the late Will C. King.

Mrs. Olga Horsho, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a pink satin frock and carried a bouquet of pink roses and forget-me-nots. Miss Elsie Jottman was bridesmaid and looked charming in a frock of blue organdie. The dainty little flower girls were dressed in pink organdie and carried little baskets of flowers. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Henry Jottman.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hanson, Luso street. The bridal couple arrived this morning on the Claudine and will make their home at Grove Farm.

FIFTEEN YEARS EXPERIENCE IN SETTLING AND MANAGING ESTATES

"We believe ZEROLENE is the most efficient lubricant made for the modern automobile engine. If it were possible to make a better oil than ZEROLENE this company would make it."

The President of the Standard Oil Company (California), author of the statement quoted above, is right in believing that Zerolene is the best motor oil made. The lubrication engineers of this company have proved it repeatedly, by means of thousands of dynamometer and road tests of Zerolene and competing oils.

The reasons for Zerolene's superiority are: First, that the Standard Oil Company (California) possesses resources of crude oil and of manufacturing equipment and personnel that are unsurpassed in the entire petroleum industry. Second, that the engineers and chemists of this company have, from the beginning, been given carte blanche to make full use of these exceptional resources, and to spend all the time and money needed to develop a lubricant ideally suited to the needs of the modern internal combustion engine.

At the President's request, we are undertaking to tell the motorists of these islands the story of Zerolene. We shall do this by means of a series of signed statements in the public press. These statements will set forth in plain language the requirements of an efficient motor lubricant, and the detailed reasons why Zerolene meets these requirements perfectly.

PUHI YOUNG MEN FORM CLUB

Dog fight! Dog fight! aroused the inhabitants of Grove Farm, Puihi camp last Tuesday night and all ages gathered at the social hall to see what the disturbance was all about. A real dog fight was in progress, but the "dogs" were Frank Trixera and George Wakaneole contesting for the camp championship in a trial of strength to see which could pull the other over a certain line by means of a loop around the necks of the contestants. The honors went to Trixera. A cock fight (last censor by Sheriff Rice) over the line and hot-hand were indulged in during the course of the evening to the amusement of all present.

The occasion for all this disturbance were the preliminaries for the formation of a young men's club. "We want something to do in the evenings," expressed the sentiments of the bunch. The brief description given by Secretary Locke of the possibilities of an organized group received the unanimous response that it sounded "jake" and "let's go."

The going resulted in Joe Trixera being made president. The president took the chair and the other officers were elected by Australian ballot according to Hoyle and all other parliamentary authorities. George Wakaneole was high man for vice president, Frank Trixera and Louis Galico were the favorites for the position of secretary and treasurer respectively. The officers, with the club leader, U. Watada, have drawn up a three months' program ranging from a peanut party to a full fledged stunt night.

MOCK TRIAL AT DORMITORY

"Not guilty," was the verdict of the twelve sedate and solemn jury men, after a long and heated deliberation of two minutes, weighing the case of Francis Chong vs. the World, accused of appropriating coconut cream pie and disposing of same in the usual way. Witnesses for the prosecution gave indisputable and conclusive evidence that the accused was without question the perpetrator of the heinous crime for which he was before the bar of justice. The pale features and nervous mein of the prisoner were undeniable evidence of guilt and deserved punishment.

Judge Locke called for the defense to try if possible to counterbalance the overwhelming derogatory evidence against the prisoner. The star witness of the defense was Miss Johnson, matron of the kaukau establishment from whence the pie disappeared. Miss Johnson's answers to the searching and wary questions of Attorney Leong, the prosecuting attorney, brought out the fact that a crime of the nature of which the prisoner was accused was beyond the realm of possibility. No pie, coconut or other species, was ever known to survive more than one kaukau period in the environs of the said establishment from whence the aforesaid alleged pie had supposedly disappeared. That there had been eight pies of the character and kind said to have been lifted by the accused, on hand the morning of the day of the day of the afternoon the accused was accused of appropriating same, but—an intervening kaukau attacked and annihilated all evidences of a pie of any description and that in spite of the finger and footprint marks found on the tin pie tin by Detective Link, alias Tony Camara, that said prints could be accounted for by the fact that the accused, in practicing a snowshoe scene from the play the "Last Rose of Summer," had begun using the pie tin in lieu of a snow shoe.

In charging the jury, the judge was candid in admitting that it was not within his province to in any way prejudice the jury, but in reviewing the case he wanted to remind them that his personal investigations of the life and habits of the prisoner had disclosed the startling knowledge that he was the possessor of one wife, 14 children and a single pair of trousers, that the prisoner was of necessity was forced to retire to the privacy of his own boudoir when said trousers were consigned to the precincts of the monthly wash tub, that these facts coupled with the fact that it was the first time the accused had been caught in the act of committing a crime, that the jury should give due consideration to these circumstances in pronouncing their verdict. "Not guilty," was the verdict.

DR. MORGAN SPEAKS TO HI-Y

Dr. T. L. Morgan gave the members of the Lihue Hi-Y Club a very interesting talk last Friday night at their regular meeting on the functions of the body and some of the principles upon which the osteopathic practitioner works in removing bodily ailments. Dr. Morgan had some charts with him showing the construction of the vertebral column and its network of nerves and blood vessels. A number of questions were asked and answered regarding the care of the body and many interesting and valuable suggestions received.

This is one of a series of practical talks that the program committee of the club has arranged.

LIFE CHOICES DISCUSSED

The members of the Hanalei Three-C Club were given some helpful suggestions regarding the choosing of a life work last Wednesday at their regular meeting, when Secretary Locke told of a few simple principles that might guide a person in thinking of their future work. Following the talk and a short business meeting in which plans were made for a parents' night and a district round-up, the club adjourned to the athletic field and practiced for the coming track meet.

PUHI BOYS FORM CLUB

Last Wednesday night, at Puihi camp, on Grove Farm plantation, a boys' club was organized with the assistance of the Kauai county Y. M. C. A. secretaries. The boys who attended the meeting were Katsumi Yamamoto, Antone Tasher, Hang Yang Kang, John Galcia, Setsuzo Taraka, Isomu Amimoto, Takeo Kunishima, Salvatore Dias, Mikiso Nakai, Kenichi Funada, Kanichi Funada. After the Y. M. C. A. four-fold program and its constitution were presented to them, the boys proceeded with the election of officers. The following were elected officers of the club: President, I. Amimoto, vice president, M. Nakai, secretary, S. Tanaka, treasurer, T. Kunishima. The interesting feature of the club program will be discussion on current topics and personal problems, games, hikings, socials, ec. The club meets every Wednesday night at 7 o'clock.

School Notes

LIHUE SCHOOL

Mr. Locke was up at school this morning and talked about the track meet and events that are to be held at the fair.

Several of our teachers went up the Olokele canyon Sunday with the Hele Loas.

Our special singers are expecting the judges today. They are well-trained and sing nicely. We hope that they will win the prize.

The shop boys are making a library table.

Miss Anthony, our domestic science teacher, is serving very good lunches. We serve about a hundred pupils every day. Her girls are doing some nice sewing, and they will have some fancy work on sale at the fair.

Miss Esther Montgomery, a former student of our eighth grade, was married on Saturday night.

Last Friday, Miss Huddleston and 21 pupils went on an excursion. We took the truck at the school house and drove over to Hanalei. It was a lovely ride over, with beautiful cane fields on both sides of the road, and we could get such a good view of the beautiful mountains, with Waialeale standing high above the others. When we started the ocean looked very gray, but the color was always changing, and when we got to Hanalei it was a deep blue. After going miles among the cane fields we began to see less cane, and more pineapples, then lovely rice fields. We decided to not stop at Hanalei, and drove on to Haena, and stopped at the big Dry Cave. The children enjoyed exploring this big cave and as some had brought candles and searchlights we went up into all the dark corners. Then we hiked up to the Wet Caves. Ten of the boys had a lovely swim in one of the caves. As we were getting into the truck someone asked to be taken to the Kilauea light house and we decided it would be a very instructive trip and started for it. The keepers were very nice to us and explained everything about the light. Then we started for Lihue, and even though we were all tired, we felt as if we had had a good time and a trip well worth while.

Fordson Is Demonstrated Industrially by Dealers

MANY INDUSTRIAL USES FOUND BY LOCAL FIRMS FOR FORDSON

The service the tractor can render to industry was demonstrated in a practical manner at the Fordson Industrial Exposition held at the plant of the Hellman Motor Corp., Ford dealer in Long Island City, N. Y., during the week of April 17. The exposition was promoted by the Ford Motor Co., and the Ford dealers in the metropolitan district of New York and New Jersey. The exhibits showed the tractor as a heavy haulage unit, as a stationary power plant and as a combination of both.

Another tractor was shown with a hoist attachment. The drum is mounted on the back of the rear axle housing and is driven from the power take-off by sprocket, chain and spur gears. It has a pulling capacity of from three to six tons. The drum will hold 2000 feet of 3/8 inch cable. The reverse is controlled by a brake. This hoist is adapted to pile driving, building erection, oil well drilling, mining operations, etc. At the exposition it was shown operating a bucket hoist. This equipment may also be used for snatching heavy loads.

A portable crane designed for unloading and loading work was also demonstrated. It consists of a structural steel frame with a block and fall. A niggerhead is placed on the power take-off. The crane will raise a 1000 pound load 9 feet off the ground and while suspended, the load may be carried to any desired position and lowered under perfect control.

The automatic dump scraper attachment load its own scoop with a half a yard of dirt or other material weighing about 1000 pounds, lifts the load and carries it to any desired position. It is intended for moving loose material for short distances but is not suitable for loading wagons. It is controlled entirely from the tractor seat. The power required to lift the scoop is obtained thru a set of bevel gears which is mounted on the power take-off. These gears turn a shaft running parallel to the length of the tractor. There is a clutch in this shaft. This shaft drives a transverse shaft mounted on the rear of the rear axle housing thru another set of bevel gears. The drums on which the cables are wound are mounted on this latter shaft. The load is lowered by gravity. Another type is made with a higher frame so that it may be used for loading wagons.

The Fordson locomotive was shown pulling a train of three side dump cars on a circular railroad track. The front and rear wheels are connected by connecting rods. The front wheels are spring suspended in a steel frame which is attached to the front and rear axles of the tractor.

A portable air-compressor unit was shown in operation. This unit consists of a compressor and receiver mounted on a trailer. The tractor is used to transport it from place to place, and also supplies the power required to operate the compressor. The engine is fitted with a governor and this, in conjunction with the air pressure regulator, maintains a constant air pressure. This unit will operate three jackhammer drills under ordinary conditions.

Local Industrial Uses
The Fordson has been demonstrated industrially several times on Kauai. It will be remembered that the excavating of the new cellar for the new telephone building was done by Fordsons.

The Lihue plantation is using a Fordson to haul spreader wagons on the construction of the new Ahukini road and has found that the Fordson is a great time and money saver in this work. The Fordson replaced three teams of mules and is hauling more rock than was formerly hauled by the three teams.

The Ahukini Terminal & Railway company has placed an order for a Fordson locomotive to be used in switching freight and sugar cars at their terminal at Ahukini.

Coney & Morris will use a Fordson to haul the rock to the crusher on the construction of the new wharf at Hanalei. After the rock arrives at the crusher it will be broken in a crusher operated by a Fordson and then mixed with cement in a mixer also operated by a Fordson.

This is a few of the uses that the Fordson has been put to on Kauai and it can be seen that with the equipment mentioned above that the field is almost unlimited.

Nawiliwili Garage Ltd., the local Ford dealers, is prepared to furnish information and prices on any of the equipment mentioned in the above article.

TIP TOP-ICS

"THE CALL OF THE NORTH"

"The Call of the North" the feature picture which will be the attraction at the Tip Top theater on Saturday is the latest Paramount picture starring Jack Holt. This popular screen star is seen as a Canadian trapper in the north country, in a story that is verile and fast moving and powerful in its drama. It is adapted from the novel by Stewart Edward White and the play by George Broadhurst.

The picture takes the audience to the fur country where the Hudson Bay company, the great fur trading organization, rules supreme. "Free traders," men who dare to compete with the company, are routed out by fair means or foul. But there is one free trader who dares to buy and sell his own pelts in open defiance to the tyrannical factor, the local leader of the Hudson Bay company. The clash between them is inevitable. "The Call of the North" is one of those pictures which carry the imagination of the spectator into the very heart of the country it is picturing. This feature was filmed against a rugged mountain background which adds greatly to its artistic beauty.

KAUAI HOMESTEADER DIES

Toichi Morita, Kapaa homesteader, age 29, and owner of a lot in the second series, passed away at his home on Saturday morning, the cause of the death being heart disease and paralysis, from which he had been suffering some time. Funeral services were held by relatives and friends on Sunday.

The deceased was well known and well liked by all who knew him. He is survived by a wife and four children, besides a mother, step-father, and four younger brothers, Midori, Kiku and Isami, and one sister Tsuruko, all living here.

PINEAPPLE PRICES UP
Good news to the independent pineapple grower is the announcement of higher prices to be paid this year by the canneries, an increase of nearly 20 per cent over prices of last year. Next Step forward should be better grading and sizing of pines by a mechanical process at the cannery. This would do much to insure a square deal both to the grower and to the cannery buying the fruit. We will have more to say on this subject later.

THE SWEET POTATO AND GARDEN WEEDS
With the approach of summer and school vacations close at hand, when school and home gardens are usually abandoned to weeds, we ought to give special consideration to the humble but useful sweet potato, Teachers and pupils, householders and farmers who have not yet tried planting the sweet potato as a fill-in crop would do well to set all available land, which would otherwise be ideal, to one of the rank growing varieties. We know of none better than the New Era. The vines cover the ground quickly, smother the weeds, mellow the soil and produce a crop at little cost, and with little attention. The essential part is to give the plants a good start by providing a fair and clean seed bed. After this they will take care of themselves if necessary.

COMMERCIAL BANANA VARIETIES FOR HAWAII
The successful establishment of a crop as a new industry is frequently more dependent upon the selection and development of a suitable variety or varieties than upon any other factor. The ideal variety of any crop is one that most nearly meets (1), the commercial requirements of the markets where it is sold, and (2) the cultural conditions under, which it is grown, such as climate, soils, shipping distance, etc.

INSECTS IN STORED FOODS
We do not know just how much money is lost every year in Hawaii from destruction of stored foods by insects, but we know the loss is enormous. Rice, corn, barley, flour, beans, peas, dried fruits, dried fish, and meats and many other kinds of food in storage are attacked and devoured by various kinds of insects. The loss in the United States from these enemies is said to be over 100 million dollars every year.

THE BUZZBEE AND THE MOUSE

A prominent Lihue lady, who has just recently departed for the coast, had rather an amusing experience in Honolulu in regard to her room-mates for the trip.

When she secured her ticket she found that there were two other ladies in the same room with her, and she was naturally interested to learn who they were. She hoped that they would be nice, interesting and entertaining, not prosy, prim and pious old maids. So she inquired at the office and found that one was Miss Buzzbee and the other Miss Mouse. Here are possibilities—but you can never tell from the name.

On sailing day she purposely went down early so that she might, if possible, make the acquaintance of the Buzzbee and the Mouse.

Looking about for someone who might meet either of these requirements, she spied a dainty young lady very becomingly dressed, and loaded deep with leis, and while she was wondering if that might be one of them, a mutual friend touched her on the elbow, saying:

"I want you to meet Miss Buzzbee, you are to be room mates, I hear, she is charming." It was the little lady in leis.

She was evidently well named. Things wouldn't be slow when she was about.

Having drawn one prize, our Lihue lady was quite curious what the Mouse would be like but up to the moment of sailing the latter hadn't shown up. Evidently she had been trapped somewhere.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The seventh annual convention of Young Women's Christian Association, was held at Hot Springs, Arkansas, April 20 to 27, 1922. People from all over the world were there and each contributed his message to the convention. Many cities in the United States sent representatives who told of the wide and useful work the association was doing in their particular location.

It is interesting to realize that Miss A. Maud Roydon of London, England, gave at this convention a series of talks upon "Women and the World's Future." Another very interesting topic was given to the convention for consideration by two distinguished women, Miss Anne Lamb of Calcutta, India, and the Countess Helene Goblet d'Alviella, of Brussels, Belgium, the subject being, "The Business of Peace." These well known women are well fitted to present the solution of these problems and able to give a truly international contribution to the convention.

Although Hawaii was not represented at this meeting, we feel at least their work is well known and appreciated at headquarters thru the report given by Miss Margaret Williamson after her visit to the islands last year. Following her departure for Honolulu, from New York, Rev. Albert W. Palmer of Honolulu delivered an address at headquarters on the work done in Hawaii. Dr. Palmer feels that although wonderful work was done by the missionaries in establishing Christianity in Hawaii, the good can only be carried on by maintaining inter-racial good will. To quote Dr. Palmer, "The rich possibilities for the development of Christian leadership in the islands are realized by the Y. W. C. A., as an organization of the past that has to build up the present, and by being aware of the likeness of human beings instead of stressing their differences we should be able to help Hawaii ture."
