"The Mikado" to be Given June 10 at New Parish House

June 10th, 1922, has been decided upon as the big day in the musical history of Kauai. For on that day the fates and the directors of "The Mikado" have decided that that classic of musical comedy shall be staged at the new Memorial Parish House in Lihue.

The cast has been selected and has been practicing for some time. H. D. Sloggett, he of minstrel show fame, will be the Mikado of Japan. The Mikado has acquired the gentle art of the hula and Kauai residents will be missing the opportunity of a life time if they don't see him.

The Mikado's son, flirtacious and musical, is none other than ye shepherd of the flock, Rev. R. W. Bayless. His presentation of this balmy part of other days, no one who can should miss seeing him.

Ko-Ko, the lord high executioner, of Titipu, is Judge Achi. Considering his present occupation, this is perhaps the best fitted of all parts. At any rate the judge gets an excellent chance to show off his good voice and Kauai people get the same chance to hear it. Nuf sed.

Scrib Scribner is put down for Pish-tush, the lord high ever; thing else. He acts the part. To look at him at times you would think he was the whole show.

Sam Carter's fame as a barber shop tenor has spread to the far parts of the island. Well, Sam is going to be Pish-tush, a noble lord. Nobility is his long suit and anyone desiring to break into high can get points galore.

We won't go into detail as to the qualifications of the lady actors. Put at any rate they are even better and more interesting than the men. Every one of them takes her part as if she were born to the place and their beautiful voices, pretty costumes and winning smiles are sure to captivate the audience.

The complete list of the cast follows:

Dramatis Personae

The Mikado of Japan—H. D. Sloggett.

Nanki-Poo, his son disguised as a wandering minstrel and in love with Yum-Yum—R. W. Bayless.

Ko-Ko, lord high executioner of Titipu—Wm. C. Achi, Jr.

Pish-tush, lord high everything else—W. S. Scribner.

Pish-tush, a noble lord—Sam Carter.

Yum-Yum (Mrs. K. C. Ahana), Pish-tush's daughter—Mrs. R. F. Middleton, Peep-Bo (Mrs. Fred Trowbridge) three sisters, wards of Ko-Ko.

Katisha—Mrs. Alma Rogers. Knee-Pan, Mikado's attendant—Charles Fern.

Chorus of Nobles

DeLacey, Maka, Kellinof, Stewart, Morgan, Smith, Hutton, Keahi, Crawford, Sutton, Zanes, Makanani, Jamieson, Hopper.

Chorus of School Girls

Reed, King, Huddleston, Anthony, Young, Sheldon, Grandhome, Jordan, Midkiff, Knight, Sheldon, Doyle, Morgan, Carter, Hobby, Jacobs, and Colbert.

The directors of the opera are Miss Roe and Mrs. H. D. Sloggett. Mrs. R. W. Bayless is the pianist.

It has been decided to have no reserved seats. It will be a matter of first come first served and it will be a good idea to get your tickets and go early. The indications are that everybody on Kauai will want to go and a few more of the more tardy may have to stand up.

POULTRY SHOW PLANNED

LATE IN THE YEAR

Mrs. H. T. Sheldon of Kapaa fair, and the high class of exhibits has led local poultry fanciers to plan a poultry show to be held in Lihue armory either the last part of November or the early part of December.

Raymond C. Brown, territorial secretary, who was on Kauai last week, is secretary of the Hawaiian Poultry association, has promised to kua and has also promised several pens of birds from Honolulu.

Local poultrymen are already beginning to groom their birds for the show and many high class exhibits are expected.

Land Commissioner Bailey in Favor of the Park Addition

At the last regular meeting of the Kauai Chamber of Commerce J. M. Lydgate proposed that an addition be made to the present Pollahu park. The addition would include a small tract of land along the Wailua river and would take in land on which some of the famous historic spots, such as the birth stone, are located.

The chamber endorsed Mr. Lydgate's idea, as did the Kauai Historical Society and the Kauai county board of supervisors. Letters to this effect were forwarded to Governor Farrington and to C. T. Bailey, commissioner of public lands.

That this proposed addition will in all probability be allowed is indicated in the following letter from Mr. Bailey, addressed to the Chamber of Commerce:

"In regard to the proposed addition to Pollahu Park, Wailua, Kauai, please be informed that I have recommended to Governor Farrington that the desired area be set aside for park purposes and have requested the territorial survey office to furnish a description of the same for use in preparing the executive order."

AMERICAN LEGION HOLDS MEETING AT COURT HOUSE

The regular monthly meeting of Kauai Post No. 2, American Legion, was held in the county courthouse last Saturday evening. In spite of the rival attraction in the Kauai county fair, this was the best attended meeting of the post this year.

At this meeting final action was taken on the plans to remodel the armory. The original plans called for supporting the roof with a single truss thereby eliminating the center row of posts. This would have meant about 25 feet from the floor to the ceiling and the width would have been the same as the present outer walls. These plans were attractive in that they required an outlay of about only $2000, but on the advice of the county engineer, had to be discarded because he believed that the roof would not stand the heavy winds sometimes felt at Lihue.

The second set of plans calls for a roof supported by a single truss and there will be a row of posts in the building five feet from each wall. These posts are not objectionable because there is still ample floor space to lay out an indoor baseball diamond and basketball court. Along the sides of the wall will be built four or five tiers of permanent seats, making it possible for a large audience to get an unrestricted view of any sport in progress.

These plans were submitted to local contractors and the bids opened on Saturday morning. Coney & Morris were awarded the contract, the sum being $3090.

C. A. Baggott was appointed the chairman of the committee of the American Legion armory fund.

During the meeting a resolution was passed to express the thanks of Kauai Post to R. F. Middleton, county engineer, and John Waiamau, assistant county engineer, who drew up the plans and specifications for remodeling the armory without charge to the Legion.

THE MOKIHANA CLUB

The Mokihana Club will meet on Wednesday, June 7th, at the Parish House. The June meeting is the annual business meeting and new officers are elected for the coming year.

The Mokihana Dramatic Club will present a play called "The Six that Pass While the Lentils Boil," and the Lihue Choral Club will sing.

Hostesses for the afternoon are Miss Mabel Wilcox, Mrs. S. W. Wilcox, Mrs. Coney, Miss Hannah Sheldon, Miss Jordan and Miss Lindsay.

KAUAI COUNTY'S FIRST FAIR IS CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

It's all pau. The Kauai fair, 1922, was a great success, and great credit is due Sheriff Rice and his willing workers for the preparation of the armory, and to the various concessionaires for the beautiful exhibits presented to the public. Saturday was a gala day with us. The weather, which had been threatening all thru the week, went on its good behavior early Saturday morning.

The Mokihana Club's booth was a busy hive all day long. The ladies who presided over this booth were kept busy passing out frozen sweets over the counter. Their fortune telling booth was a happy thought, and the fortune teller was kept busy handing out words of cheer to those who visited her.

The Women's Auxiliary of the local Legion post were busy all day popping corn which other willing helpers sold on the floor and on the grounds.

The luau booth supplied the needs of those who wanted what wanted laulau and poi, while the chop-suey satisfied those who hungered for Chinese kaukau. The boys across the way sold ice cream to all comers and the watermelon booth did a land office business. Even the Kauai Fruit & Land company was passing out free pineapples to visitors to their booth.

The booths which contained the Hawaiian handicraft were centers of attraction all day long, and the attendants were kept busy disposing of their wares. Mrs. Stewart sold for the benefit of the Mahelona hospital, the Halau o Kapiolani sold for the benefit of their benevolent fund, while Mrs. Brandt aimed to advertise her Waimea Women's Exchange. All these exhibits were worth seeing.

The school exhibits were a great surprise to a great many people who did not know what the public schools were doing in line of handwork. The lahuala and bamboo work exhibited by Anahola, Hanamau, Lihue, Koloa, Makaweli and Hanalei, and the products of the domestic science classes shown by the Lihue, Kilauea and Hanalei schools were marvels of neatness and good taste. The wood work exhibited by Lihue, Koloa and Makaweli showed dexterity in the use of the tools. These booths were crowded all day long, and many friends carried away souvenirs from the various schools.

The sugar cane exhibit was another surprise. Large stalks of cane, long ones, freak ones, and a collection of by-products made an interesting exhibit. The Hawaiian Sugar company's exhibit of plantation by-products was an interesting as well as an instructive one. It showed how Hawaii came to be in the lead in the manufacture of sugar; she wastes nothing. The Makee Sugar company took the prize in the best stalks of Yellow Caledonia; she also produced the heaviest stick of cane of 26 pounds. The Lihue Plantation company produced the best stalks of H-109 as well as the longest stalk of cane, 23 feet, 9 inches. Hanamau took the prize for the longest single joint, H-146 of 10 3/4 inches.

Kilauea took first prize in the best stalks of Badilla and D-1135, as well as showing the best collection of cane varieties. Koloa Plantation company showed the best collection of Hawaiian seedlings, and for the best special exhibit, had a ram that paraded all over the grounds which weighed 162 pounds at 14 months of age. John Midkiff of Lihue, J. S. B. Pratt of Kilauea and R. M. Allen of Koloa were the judges. They did not forget to give D. K. Hayseldon a prize for his collection of freak canes.

The pineapple exhibit was also an eye opener. This young industry is forging to the front very rapidly so the interest which was taken in the exhibits of the Hawaiian Canneries company and the Kauai Fruit & Land company put up was more than the usually kind. There were a number of people who were directly benefitted as a result of having seen these exhibits. The booth of canned products of pineapples was tastefully arranged and the variegated coloring of the labels produced a pleasing and harmonious effect.

Sliced pines were given those who visited this booth. The fruits on the plants were on exhibition were large in size, larger than the desirable canning size, but they showed how careful cultivation and proper fertilization may increase tonnage.

Mr. Hills had an interesting exhibit of coconuts and its uses. There were door mats made from the husk of the coconut, copra oils and it was even stated that first class butter could be made from the juice of the coconut. Young coconuts were being sold for the water and the proceeds given to the Mahelona hospital.

The vegetable exhibit was also a fine one. The Waimea school staged a small exhibit near the main entrance which was noticeable for the uniformity of the products and was very creditable. K. Tomota of the Half Way bridge had a most complete vegetable exhibit, and some of these were marvels for size. In the watermelon booth, there were some melons which weighed in the neighborhood of 40 pounds and they were sweet. Lihue Store had an exhibit of a coffee tree and its product in various containers. It was most elaborately and artistically conceived and carried out. Ernest Fountain had charge of this booth.

The flower booth in charge of Mrs. Ralph Wilcox was a bower of beauty. There were potted plants and palms, cut flowers and small buttonaires for sale. A marvel of beauty was a table in the center of the hall which held some of the largest dahlias produced on the islands, a bunch of beautiful African daisies and a Gloxinia plant. They were a beautiful ornament to this part of the building.

The Kauai Telephonic company had a small Delco lighting plant on exhibition which was a marvel, and revealed to a great many that such a plant could be secured for so little money and yet containing the possibilities of so much usefulness. There was dancing in the evening, music furnished by the Lihue brass band with F. Fernandez as leader. The Tennessee minstrels also were there and they produced a lot of hearty laughter. There was jollity all thru the day and evening. The crowd was a happy one all had smiles and as they passed from place to place, they anticipated the best of times and therefore had them. With this as a starter, the next one to be held on Kauai will no doubt be larger and more varied in exhibits.

Sheriff Rice wishes to thank all those who contributed to the success of the fair, especially to the plantations, the canneries, and the owners of the agricultural exhibits, the schools and the various organizations for their share in making the Kauai fair the success that it was.

The sheriff also wants to thank all those whose services in decorating and constructing the booths in the armory for their work and particularly to thank the two young men from Kealia whose assistance in dismantling the armory Saturday night contributed such an important share to the success of the fair.

POLLING PLACE CHANGED; KAWAIHAI DIVIDED

Raymond C. Brown, the territorial secretary, after a lengthy investigation has decided not to divide the Wahiawa district as requested, but instead will move the polling place from the New Mill to Eleele Hall. The main trouble, according to complaints, was that in bad weather the road to new mill from the homesteads was almost impassable. It is expected that this change will relieve the condition.

The Kawaihau district was divided into two precincts, Kapaa and Anahola. The polling place in Kapaa will remain at the courthouse, while the polling place in Anahola will be at the Anahola school.

While on Kauai, Mr. Brown certified 125 birth certificates of Hawaiian born Japanese which guarantees their American citizenship. He did not have an opportunity to complete this work on the island but will do so when he again visits Kauai. As it is, he completed the work on the west side of the island.

AMERICAN LEGION ANNOUNCE A NATIONAL ESSAY CONTEST

She may be a flapper, today, but tomorrow she may have a seat in the senate. The roundly maligned younger generation is going to run affairs in a happier day, however, and the present generation should do everything in its power to prepare the way.

It's time some one took up cudgels in behalf of the younger set and listened to its suggestions, according to the American Legion, national headquarters, of which announces it is ready to take advice and willing to pay for it. To this end, it will conduct, in June, a national essay contest, open only to the young ones. There will be a $1000 first prize, $500 second prize and a $250 second prize, given personally by Hanford McNider, Legion commander. Smaller prizes will be given in each state.

Young men and women between the ages of 12 and 18 years alone will be eligible. Essays are limited to 1,500 words and in each state will be judged by a committee of educators, newspaper men and public officials. The three best essays from each state then will be judged by a jury of three nationally known critics: an educator, a journalist, and an author. Medals will be given winners in each state and it is hoped that these awards may be supplemented with scholarships in schools and universities.

The subject of these essays, tentatively decided upon, is "How the American Legion Can Help America." It is a direct appeal to the younger generation for its advice as to how the service men can improve their country. According to G. W. Powell, assistant director of the Legion's Americanism commission in charge of the contest:

"This younger generation will be ruling America when we of the Legion are getting too old to take much of an active part. The young miss in high school, flapper if you will, may be a senator when we are too old even to vote, and her brother may be president. We want to know what we can do to pave the way for them."

Library Founder's Day Celebrated at Lihue, May 24

The Founder's Day of the Kauai Public Library was celebrated at Lihue, last Wednesday afternoon, May 24, on the birthday of A. S. Wilcox, in whose memory the money for the building was given by his wife. The meeting was held at the Mokihana hall. Nearly 150 people from all parts of the island attended.

Frank Crawford of Lihue, president of the Kauai Public Library Association, presided at the meeting. Rev. J. M. Lydgate gave a number of very interesting reminiscences of the life of Mr. Wilcox and his benefactions. Rev. R. G. Hall of Koloa made the address of the afternoon "The Library and the Community." sang a beautiful solo. Chairman Crawford told of the origin and the growth of the present library and of the plans for the future. Mrs. Alma Rogers of Lihue then sang another solo. Mrs. Bayless was the accompanist.

The assemblage then adjourned to the building site across from the Mokihana hall. Little Alice Wilcox, a granddaughter of A. S. Wilcox, turned the first sod for the foundation of the building. Rev. R. W. Bayless then made a short prayer invoking the blessings of God upon the new library and the generous benefactor people of the island which is to a possibility.

The spectators then returned to the Mokihana hall where the plans for the new building were viewed and discussed. A social hour and refreshments followed. Mrs. Wilcox received the thanks of many grateful people of the island who are to profit by her benefice.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES ARE HELD AT TIP TOP SUNDAY

Memorial Day exercises were conducted by the Americanization committee and the Woman's Auxiliary, Kauai Post, American Legion, at the Tip Top theater last Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. These exercises were given on the 28th of May and not on the 30th, in view of the fact that there would not be a holiday on Kauai on the latter date.

Commencing with an organ prelude by Chopin, played by A. Horner, and ending with taps, sounded by Samuel C. Jerves, these exercises pleased a large audience. The opening and closing prayers were delivered by Rev. R. W. Bayless and Father Hubert respectively.

Rev. Royal G. Hall was the principal speaker. He delivered an address that was a fitting memorial to our soldier dead and an incentive to the living who enjoy a greater freedom because of the supreme sacrifice paid by others.

A chorus from the Women's Auxiliary sang Kipling's "Recessional." Two numbers were rendered by the Kapaa school teachers and Mrs. Henry Sheldon led the audience in "The Star Spangled Banner."

Following is the program: Organ Prelude—A. Horner Jr. Opening Prayer—Rev. R. W. Bayless.

PRINCIPAL OF KAM BOYS TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Earl G. Bartlett, principal of the Kamehameha School for Boys, who killed himself Monday morning in Honolulu during a fit of temporary insanity; was well known on Kauai having been in charge of the Kam boys on both of their last two trips to the Garden Island, during the Easter vacation.

The news of his death was received with great regret here as he had made many friends during the incumbency of the Kamehameha cadets. He was a firm friend of the boys and always made it a point to look up all Kam grads while on Kauai, and kept in touch with them and their affairs.

TIP TOP-ICS

JACK HOLT IN "THE MASK"

Tomorrow (Wednesday) night may be seen "The Mask," in which Jack Holt plays a dual role, and Hedda Nova plays the heroine. One of the screen's greatest kiddies, too, Hickey Moore, will be prominently figured in this drama.

The film is a sort of a love idyl and problem play in one. The woman, a devoted wife, with the love of her husband, and child the greatest thing in her life; the man, at first a faithful husband, then strangely changed to a creature unworthy of any woman's love; the child, a wonderful kiddie from whose baby lips comes a warning, "Mummy, that's not daddy!" It is the story of a woman who didn't know her own husband, and in deeply mystifying way a hero becomes a wreck and a wreck becomes a hero.

"THE LAW AND THE MAN"

There is little doubt of the increasing popularity of Betty Compson, the Paramount star. With the great success of "The Miracle Man" in which she played opposite Thos. Meighan, she arrived in a manner that convinced the screen world that she had the talent, charm and other essentials to stellar success. "The Law and the Woman," coming Sunday offers her an ideal role as a heroine, placed in a situation of keen stress.

Aside from the interest of its story "The Law and the Woman," has been staged with that careful attention to detail that marks all of Mr. Stanlaw's productions. The settings, especially those of the drawing room of Clara Foster, the vamp, in Paris, and that of Margaret Rolfe in New York, are architecturally perfect and excellent taste was displayed in the selection of their rich appointments. Seldom have prison scenes, notably the death cell in Sing Sing prison, been more faithfully pictured. The approaches to the death chamber vest the picture with a realism that will thrill the most blasé spectator.

7. Song by Filipino School.
8. Offering.
9. Lihue Union S. S. Program.
10. Baptism of Children.
11. Prayer.
12. Recessional, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Musical Note

A very deaf old lady, walking along the street, saw an old Italian turning to a peanut roaster. She stood looking at it a while, shook her head and said: "No, I shan't give you any money for making music like that. I can't hear any of the tunes, and besides it smells as if there was something burning inside!" —The Congregationalist.

SPORTS

GAMES NEXT SUNDAY

Lihue and McBryde tangle next Sunday on the Lihue lot and a battle royal should be the result. McBryde has yet to win a game and are to take the measure of the boys from the county seat and get into the win column.

If Lihue wins, they have an opportunity to tie Makee in the championship of the first series by defeating them in their meeting at Kapaa, but if the Scots win it looks like the champs will gather the honors, as it will be necessary for them to drop two games to let either Lihue or McBryde into the running.

Koloa takes on Makee at Koloa and according to the dope, Makee should win. Koloa has shown that they can play baseball, but also have shown that they are capable of some awful stunts when they get started. Their game against Makawell was about the worst on record in the local league except for the farces put on last year by the Engineers.

If Koloa has all such games out of her system they may put up a battle against the champs as they had that habit last year of throwing a couple of scares into Makee.

There must be some sort of Kahuna on Marcellino Teves, as last year when he pitched for Lihue the Lihue team would pile up more errors in one game than they would have for the rest of the season and now the Makees seem to be following in Lihue's footsteps and piling up the boots whenever Teves works. The champs are certainly not playing the airtight ball that they did last year and if they keep up that type of ball they may find themselves on the outside looking in. Just at present all their opponents seem to be in a worse state than they are, so they manage to finish in front.

LIHUE WINS TRACK MEET; WAIMEA SECOND; AND KAPAA THIRD

The Lihue school won the annual track and field meet held at the Lihue ball park last Saturday with a total of fifty-three and one-quarter points. Waimea was second, with 46 points, while Kapaa was third with 36 1-4 points.

The meet was one of the most successful yet held, everything running off in smooth order. When it is realized that it was necessary to run off no less than forty races, to get in all the heats and finals it can be seen that the committee had its hands full in finishing the meet on schedule time.

Owing to the fact that the events were changed and the method of classifying the athletes has also been changed, there were very few records broken and the records Saturday will be the records for the year.

Two records were broken, the unlimited boys' high jump and the girls unlimited basketball throw. Arthur Aaron of Hanalei and Hotoku Inahuku of Waimea broke the high jump record with a leap of four feet nine inches, the former record being four feet, eight inches, held by Ed Morgan of Kapaa, and Wm Stevens of Hanalei.

Hannah Aarona also of Hanalei broke the unlimited girls basketball throw when she heaved the sphere 74 feet 9 inches. The former record was 67 feet 10 inches and was held by Bessie Wibke of Lihue.

Lihue won the 70 pound boys' championship with a total of 21 points, Eleele being second with ten and Kapaa third with six. It was the showing of the small boys that helped Lihue to win the meet, as they far outshone their larger team mates in the matter of scoring the points.

Lihue also won the 70 pound girls' championship with Kapaa second, and Mana third. Mana had a wonderful opportunity to carry of the championship in this weight, as they were leading in the relay, the winning of which would have assured them the title, but unfortunately in passing the baton, one of the girls dropped it, which put them hopelessly out of the race. Mana certainly deserves a great deal of credit for the showing that their school made. With only a handful of children to pick from, they sent over one of the best lightweight teams in the meet.

Waimea won the unlimited championship, with Kapaa second, and Hanalei third. Kapaa won the 90 pound boys' championship, with Lihue second and Waimea third. Waimea won the unlimited boys' championship, Hanalei was third and Lihue and Kapaa tied for third.

The following is the score by schools:

Lihue	53 1-4

A. A. U. IS TO EXPEL AMATEURS WHO BET

New York.—The Amateur Athletic association has announced it is about to frame new rules which will expel from the ranks of amateur athletics all who bet on themselves or are bet on by their friends. Such actions is deemed necessary to keep amateur athletics free of the stigma of gambling.

The decision to make the new rules was precipitated by the Excel Club's road race recently in which August Pagar of the Finnish-American A. C. was barred because his friends and he himself had backed them to win.

Editors Note—This is what the A. A. U. thinks of betting in connection with sports. And why? Because betting is bound to spoil sports. It takes sports out of the realm where it belongs, sports for sport's sake, and make it a gambler's game where money is the only consideration.

Everyone knows what betting did for the big leagues and the race track. Let's not let it spoil our ball games. A player who will bet will throw a game to win his bet and a spectator who bets will do all in his power, fair or foul, to have the team which he has money on, win. The people who we want to back up our athletics will surely drop out if we allow betting. See to it that you don't bet on a ball game and try to keep the other fellow from doing it.

SECOND ROUND OF SINGLES RESULTS IN GOOD TENNIS

Sunday saw the completion of the second round of the Kauai men's singles and only one surprise was sprung, that was the defeat of "Count" Richter by Ray Allen.

The match between Dwight Baldwin and Frank Burns, which was won by the former, was one of the best of the round, it being necessary for three sets to be played to decide this match.

The match between "Tuxedo" Balthis and Bedell was also a good one, Bedell putting up a fine battle against "Tux." If Bedell keeps on improving at the present rate it will not be long before he will be giving the best of them a battle royal.

The results of the first round are: Balthis defeated Bedell 6-2, 6-1. Brenham won from Rankin 6-0, 6-0.

Caleb Burns won from Cannon 6-2, 6-3.

Faye and Creevey, no report. Baldwin defeated Frank Burns, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Glaisher defeated Fernandes 6-1, 6-1.

Allen won from Richter 6-2, 6-4.

Brolan defeated D. Sinclair 6-4, 6-3.

Entries are coming in very slowly for the Kauai men's doubles for the Wall & Dougherty cup. Entries are supposed to close June 1, but the committee decided to hold them open until Saturday, June 3rd. Entries will be received by Dr. Glaisher, secretary of the Kauai Tennis Association.

A tri-plantation handicap singles tournament will be held on the west side, the entries of which are now open. The three plantations to be represented are Koloa, McBryde and Makawell. Frank Alexander has donated a racquet to the winner.

Another tournament is starting on the west side, the communities to be represented are Mana, Kekaha and Waimea.

BIG PAPAIA

What ever may be said of the Waialua homesteads in regard to cane they can at any rate raise fine papaias.

We are in receipt of one from the Perreira homestead that measures 15 inches in length, 7 inches in diameter and 10 pounds in weight. By its size it suggests a watermelon rather than a papai. Its quality is in keeping with its size.

At graduation time - - that simply must be marked with a picture.

THE COUNTY FAIR

"The First Annual Kauai County Fair" was a big success. Not that the fair was really the first annual, but it must be. The idea is so good, the response was so hearty, the exhibits so excellent and the start so auspicious that an annual fair for Kauai is fully justified.

The idea and much of the work was Sheriff Wm. H. Rice's. He got the fair up, nominally to raise money for supplying the armory with chairs, really to see if an annual fair on Kauai would be a worth-while project. Both the nominal and real objects were obtained. Enough money was made to buy the chairs. And Kauai has proved that it can support a first class fair.

This must be supported by the entire county. The Kauai Planters' Association, the Chamber of Commerce and such organizations must back the proposition for all they are worth. And if they do we can have just as good a fair as Maui ever did or ever will

PUBLIC SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Kauai has some embryonic athletes. They are not so embryonic either, judging by the records made at the annual meet last Saturday.

In the course of three years this meet has grown from a kindergarten-like affair to a track meet that would make many high school meets look pale. Many really good records were made and as good sportsmanship was displayed by the children as is to be found in any meet.

Athletics train the children to play the game hard and fairly. It teaches them that, whoever wins, good sportsmanship pays. It teaches them to fight all the way thru until the last lap is passed, the goal reached.

That annual track meet is an investment in future good citizenship. The teachers and the children are all to be congratulated on the good start that has been made and encouraged to put even more into the proposition in the future.

With some people the main use in a government is to have something to blame things on.

FOUNDERS DAY

On May 24th, the first annual Founders Day of the new Kauai Library was celebrated on the site of the new building. The occasion was the birthday of the man, Albert S. Wilcox, in whose memory the structure is to be erected.

The services were simple and beautiful. They were a fitting commemoration of the life of the man whose memory is perpetuated by this public institution. As long as the stone building lasts, which will be for generations to come, the Founder's Day will be celebrated. These services and this great institution will never allow the memory of Albert S. Wilcox to grow dim in the minds of the many grateful people who shall benefit by the library.

OPENING OF THE KAUAI LIBRARY

The Kauai Public Library will be opened to the public Thursday, June 1st, at 2:00 o'clock. Hours of opening are from 2 until 6, every day except Monday, and from 2 until 5 on Sunday. It is a free library and any resident of Kauai is entitled to draw books. Any adult may draw books immediately upon coming to the library and filling out the necessary application. Children are required to have the signature of their parents and their school teacher. This refers only to children in Lihue, as those in other communities are still to get their books thru the schools. During the vacation period, there will be children's books at the branches.

Branches are being established at Hanalei at the post office with Mrs. Makee as custodian, at Kilauea at the community house, with Miss Langwith as custodian; in Kapaa in Mr. Rapozo's store; Koloa, in the home of Doctor Waterhouse; at Eleele in the former Y. M. C. A. house, with Mrs. Brodie as custodian; at Makaweli, in the community house, with Mr. Damkroger in charge; and in Waimea at the bank. The books for shipments to these branches are laid aside now, and will be accessible at the branches in a short time.

The residents of these places may draw books from their local branch. If special books are wanted, requests may be left with the custodian, who will send them in to the main library. If the request is for non-fiction and Kauai does not have the book, the request will be forwarded to the Library of Hawaii at Honolulu.

It will not be possible in the beginning to serve everyone on the island thru branches, but it is hoped that branches will be established eventually to serve the entire island. In order to give library service to those not near branches, some may have to get books by mail. There will be no charge collections sent to individuals thru the mail. Anyone on the island may have a library card and take books from the main library in Lihue, but the books must be returned to the library within one or two weeks. New books and magazines are to be loaned for one week. Old books may be kept two weeks. Books may be returned to the library by mail if they reach the library on the date due.

There will be, when the library is opened, about one thousand adult books ready for circulation, to be divided among the branches. About three hundred of these are new ones. New books are being received every week, and these will be distributed among the branches as they are ready. As a beginning the library has about two thousand books given by the Lihue Union church library, two thousand loaned by the Library of Hawaii and several hundred new books. Over a thousand books have been ordered and will arrive shortly.

HULEIA WINS HONORS IN SINGING CONTEST
Huleia school won the annual singing contest of the Kauai public schools held at the Tip Top theater Saturday morning. Hanalei won second place. There were four schools entered, Makaweli, Huleia, Koloa and Hanalei.
Each school sang three songs. "America," a Hawaiian song and an English song. Huleia finished with the highest standing according to the judges. Hanalei without doubt had the better voices, but Huleia showed better training. This is the second time that Huleia has won the contest.

KAPAA SCHOOL
A. Horner Jr. spoke to the pupils on the humane treatment of animals recently.
Our garden boys are sorry that the hospital cane has been cut as it served as an excellent windbreak for the garden.
There are busy days at our school as time draws near for the closing exercises.
The demand for our inexpensive lunches is as great as ever, in spite of hard times.
Alfred Morgan won first prize for home gardens on Kauai, and Tsumoto Naito third prize. Both boys are in the seventh grade.
Our school was awarded first prize for the fourth consecutive year in the school garden contest.
The Kapaa teachers' chorus sang at the Memorial services held in Lihue Sunday last, under the direction of the American Legion.
A. H. Case of Lihue talked to the upper grades on the milling of sugar cane last week. This is the last talk for this year on the sugar industry.
Our track team won third place at Lihue on Saturday. We had a hard but enjoyable excursion.
The bronze plates for our concrete gate has been cast by the Honolulu Iron works and will be put on before school closes. These plates bearing the name of the school, are gifts of the 1921 graduating class.
The senior class is making preparations for closing exercises next month.
We hope it will be possible to hold an interscholastic track meet next month. All children will have a chance to participate in these games, or see our best athletes perform. There may be special events for the teachers. The date of this possible meet, if held, will be announced later.

WAIMEA SCHOOL
Interclass baseball games, and games between schools in district number one take the place of track practice. The first game was played Tuesday between the freshmen and the grammar school. The freshmen cleaned the grammar boys to the tune of 6 to 4. Thursday the grammar school meets Makaweli on their grounds.
The primary classes received one hundred supplementary readers from the department a few weeks ago. They will be exchanged with the other schools at the end of the term.
A water meet has been arranged for June 9. Each school in district one will enter two contestants in each of the following events:
Girls—1, optional dive; 2, 20 yd. dash; 3, 80 yard relay.
Boys—1, Jack-knife dive; 2, optional dive; 3, 40 yard dash; 4, 80 yard relay; 5, 100 yard distance swim.
The meet will be held just above Waimea bridge, at 2:30 p. m. This is the first water meet held in this district and it is hoped that it will be a success. Scoring by points. Competent judges will be chosen from the young men of the community.
Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the territory, made the school a visit Tuesday morning. Mr. Brown made the pupils a short address, telling them of the wonderful opportunities they are enjoying as a point of our American policy of free public education.
Graduation exercises for the 8th grade will be held on June 23, at 7:30 p. m. There is a splendid class of thirty to finish grammar school this year. All of the mextpect to enter the freshman class next year.
Instructions have been received from the department to the effect that all children should remain on their respective islands, and not try to crowd into McKinley high school. The instructions read that none will be accepted unless their parents or legal guardians live in Honolulu.
Mr. Ferriera has spent the last month with the track team. All honors they won are due entirely to his efforts. Mr. Ferriera and Mr. Fernandez of Makaweli school arranged trial meets previous to the field day last Saturday. In both

Y.M.C.A. Notes

The boys present at the meeting were Edward Morgan, Hirō Ota, Kinjiro Kojima, Kenneth Aloaia, Yutaka Tsunehiro, and Tamotsu Naito. After Mr. Locke had explained the meaning of the Hi-Y Club, the boys proceeded with the election of officers. The following were elected officers: President, Edward Morgan; vice president, Y. Tsunehiro; secretary, H. Ota; treasurer, Kenneth Aloaia.
This Hi-Y club will meet regularly on Friday evenings at 7 o'clock at the Japanese parsonage. The members are enthused over the new organization. The club now has a definite program lined up until the first of August. Following is a sample program: Meeting called to order by the president; business, meeting turned over to the leader for discussion; debate, games and adjournment.

TO KAUAI

I am going, Garden Island,
 And my ship is at the pier;
 On my lips is formed a blessing,
 In my eyes I find a tear,
 For I never can forget you
 And the sweetness of your smile,
 And I wish that I might linger—
 Linger yet a little while,
 Fragrant land of Golden Sunshine,
 Racing waves, with white-capped spray,
 Take from me a fond aloha
 To the beach at Hanalei.
 Let me wreath for you a garland,
 Ere the glad tears blind my eyes,
 Let me leave it here forever,
 Under fair Hawaiian skies;
 That some other guest who lingers
 In this paradise so true,
 May obtain a faint impression
 Of the love I bore for you.
 I am going, fairest island,
 I am going far away,
 Yet I know you will not miss me,
 For my heart is here to stay.

 Kauai.)

DOINGS OF THE HELE LOAS

One of the standard high water outings of the Heleloas is Olokele. After several postponements on account of the weather and other things it was finally accomplished last Sunday.

Aggravations of a Balking Car
To make sure of plenty of time there an early start was planned and we got away a little before 9 o'clock, sixteen of us. It soon became evident that we were going to have auto trouble. One of the large cars began to miss on one cylinder and then stopped dead.

Careful examination showed that it was a defective feed to the little vacuum tank; the small connecting pipe was clogged in some way. But strange to say, this stoppage was intermittent. She would go for a few hundred rods, with plenty of snap and speed, then stop and think about it a minute or two, then start again for a similar vigorous spurt. A similar short run and stop.

A Partial Remedy
Thus, they limped along as far as Koloa where they hoped to get relief, but fond the garage shut and nobody there. With phenomenal patience and assurance, they pushed on in the same halting way to Hanapepe, where the garage was open and they got the trouble remedied, at least, so the garage man assured them, but it proved to be only a partial remedy, for the old trouble came back again later.

Two Hours Late
However, we finally made the camp at Tunnel 12, the terminus of auto navigation, but it was 1 o'clock instead of 11, as we had expected.

The Blessedness of Lunch
Naturally, everybody was hungry and the first most pressing engagement was lunch. The Japanese ditchman very kindly put his kitchen at our disposal. We cooked up a pot of rice and reheated our curry, with all possible celerity, while the rest arranged an impromptu table under the kukui trees, set out the sandwiches and other viands and we fell to with much satisfaction and keen-edge appetites.

Church in the Mountains
Clearing away the lunch things, and straightening dresses and stray locks of hair and adding a few dabs of powder here and there, as they seemed to be needed, and arranging the autos in a semicircle so that the congregation might sit on the running boards, we all got ready for church. A wise foresight had provided hymn books, so that we were all fixed for a regular church service.

A Most Delightful and Inspiring Service
Mrs. Rogers sang a simple and most appealing solo and did it with that effective grace which went to the hearts of all who were there—so that was the conviction of every one that she had never done better. By way of responsive readings we recited "the Lord is my Shepherd" in unison, we took up a collection, and instead of a formal sermon Mr. Lydgate told of some of the problems of mission life in the early days of Hawaii.

With the soft murmurs of the water in the concrete ditch, the rustle of the broad kukui leaves overhead, the songs of the Hawaiian birds in the long reaches above, the grateful shade of the wide spreading trees, and the delightful sense of restfulness and peace, it was a most ideal spot for quiet meditation and prayer.

Although it was a most interesting and delightful service, the like of which has never been held before in these mountain fastnesses.

Off for the Intake
By this time it was pretty well along in the afternoon. Nevertheless it was decided to make a try for the intake, though the leader thought they could hardly make it and back in the two hours available.

A Treasure House of Scenic Beauty
It was an unusually beautiful day, as clear as a bell, with every feature of the magnificent landscape standing out as sharp cut as a cameo, and with the most wonderful coloring of the varied greens and browns and reds in the nearer reaches and the soft purples and lavenders in the distance. At every turn of the trail there were new panoramas, and fresh outcries of delight and wonder from the hikers.

Couldn't Quite Make It
The doubts of the leader were justified—when 4 o'clock came, when they were to turn back, they had only reached the waterfall with the rustic bridge, but they kept on to the last lap where they could look up to the end. Here the leader said they must draw the line and start back. This they did.

Mermaids in the Mountain Stream
But when they got to the little little rustic bridge, with the clear limpid stream beneath with here and there an inviting pool, some of them couldn't withstand the temptation, so they lingered behind, till the coasts were clear, then speedily stripped off and went in—just for a few moments, but it was like elixir to the soul, and they came like new creatures.

The Best Outing Yet
It was 6 o'clock before they were all rounded up at Tunnel 12 headquarters, had gathered up their traps and were in their autos and off. This brought them to the road makai just in time for the falling darkness, and home just comfortably in time for bed, as the missing car acted up in its own peculiar fashion all the way.

All in all, it was the common consensus of opinion that it was the very finest outing yet.

THE HELE LOAS AND A DAY IN THE WOODS

The Hele Loas Outing club had a very delightful Hawaiian evening last Tuesday when they were guests of Mrs. J. H. Hogg Sr., at her hospitable and spacious home. In spite of the rush of the school work and the multiplicity of social events, there was a fine attendance.

The special subject of the evening was "A Day in the Woods," presented by the leader, J. M. Lydgate, who is a great enthusiast and a recognized authority on that sort of thing. He gave them a great deal of interesting and instructive information about the Hawaiian flora, and many graphic bits of personal experience in the mountains in pursuit of rare and new plants.

Mr. Senda was there with proofs of his pictures taken on the Olokele trip a few days before. The pictures proved to be very excellent and called forth many exclamations of surprise and delight.

The group pictures were especially good, almost perfect portraits. Most unique and interesting was that of the church service, the singing of the hymn, with everyone looking as demure and proper, and worshipful as possible, and all unconscious that they were being taken, so absorbed in the service.

Most delicious refreshments were served following the pictures, and the gramophone was turned on and there was some dancing, which all enjoyed, even tho' there were some who "didn't dance."

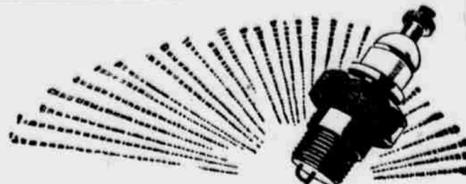

PLANS FOR JULY FOURTH

(From the Makaweli News)

The plans for this year's Fourth of July program is growing and materializing every day. In addition to the announcement made by this paper last month that the plantation was endeavoring to bring several special entertainment features here from Honolulu, there are now plans under way to bring an army ball team and band here, similar to last year's program.

Remember that good time we had last Fourth of July? Well, there is just as good a time in store this year if not better. Whatever the program is going to be it is going to be a good one.

FIFTEEN YEARS EXPERIENCE IN SETTLING AND MANAGING ESTATES

At The Lihue Union Church

 About this time the doctrine of union services was much in evidence, and was urgently advocated as the solution of the problems attendant on the language barrier between the races.

We tried the plan, and had regular union services once a month, partly in English and partly in Hawaiian. It was never a conspicuous success; neither congregation felt quite at home with a different language in their ears, and different people alongside them, and it was soon given up.

THE FIRST WEDDING

My first wedding in the community was that of Mr. W. I. Wells and Miss Farr. Mr. Wells was principal of the Hanamaulu school, and Miss Farr a sister of Mrs. Boswell, from Canada, visiting her.

The wedding took place in the Hawaiian church which was most beautifully decorated with masses of roses that would now cost a fortune. Miss Helen Elwell, now Mrs. Lydgate, was bridesmaid, and Mr. DeLacey was best man.

After the ceremony there was a reception at the Boswells on the hill—he was mill engineer—and it poured in torrents, as it always does for a big wedding. That is one of the traditions of Lihue, a downpour necessarily accompanies a big wedding.

The First Wedding in the New Church

The first wedding in the new church was that of Mr. H. D. Sloggett and Miss Etta Wilcox, a very beautiful and impressive wedding, and again it poured, a Kewal rain.

As the first bride of the new church, according to old English custom, a Bible, suitably inscribed, was presented to Mrs. Sloggett while she still treasures with tender memories.

A Big Rain for Every Big Wedding

This custom of wedding rainfall began far back before my time and has continued to the present. You will, most of you, recall the Ahana wedding at Huleia, not long ago, and the over-generous reception of the skies gave the bridal couple. How the wedding supper had to be concluded under dripping umbrellas and improvised raincoats, and what a time we had getting out of the valley thru the mud, and how some of us left our cars there, and took off our shoes and waded home thru the mire.

My own wedding took place in Honolulu, and so by a sort of change of venue we escaped the rain there, but we got here when we were leaving for the event in town. Such boisterous and stormy weather that we had to take the steamer at Koloa and the roads thither were almost impassable.

First Funeral

My first funeral was that of Mary Hardy, the daughter of Judge Hardy. She was buried in the little mission cemetery up back of the mill. Her friends remember very tenderly and Memorial Day finds her grave always remembered.

First Christianing

The first christening in the new church was that of my own boy, Mortimer. My wife saw, to that, though there were several others baptized at the same time.

A Bride from Maumalu School

The Malumalu school was quite a factor in the local life in those days. It was an industrial school for boys, conducted in a humble way along the lines of the Hampton Institute in Virginia.

It was founded, conducted and financed mainly by the Smiths, the old mission family of Koloa. It seemed to me to offer an opportunity for influence on the growing youth, so I accepted the invitation to go out there once a week or so to talk to the boys. I did this the more willingly as the teachers were most estimable and interesting ladies, and one of them especially, Miss Helen Elwell, appealed to me as quite the most charming girl I had ever known. Ultimately she came to look with favor upon my interest, and we were engaged, August 14, 1897. When this became known, people commonly said, "Oh that's the reason he went out there to talk to the boys! We always thought it was strange that he was so interested in them!" How ready some people are to impute ulterior motives and to do injustice to the most unselfish service.

We were married in Honolulu on January 3, 1898, at my sisters, Mrs. A. F. Cooke, and immediately thereafter set out on a honeymoon tour to Southern California and my wife's home at Riverside.

Marriage Under Difficulties

As I have said, we left Kauai in the midst of a storm that prevented our boarding the steamer at Na-will, and we had to go to Koloa. The change to Koloa was an unexpected one, made in a hurry and expected one, made in a hurry and our trunks, containing about all the wearing apparel we had, remained behind to follow in a day or two, as soon as the weather abated. But the weather didn't abate, and our trunk didn't come, the wedding was set for two or three days later, and wedding garments must be produced against that momentous occasion.

With the fertile expedients of feminine wit, my sister, and my bride, and an emergency dress maker, created a dainty organdie wedding gown that was "too sweet for anything," and I brazenly went out among my friends and borrowed a dress suit for the occasion—insects. I remember the coat was Mr. J. B. Atherton's and it fitted me perfectly. Mrs. Rice was in town at the time, and hearing of our plight, she went out among her friends and gathered up necessary articles to help us out. Those were the days when you couldn't go out and buy such things ready-made.

Well, we got married alright, and have never regretted it since!

A Honeymoon Without Baggage

We were booked to leave for the coast two or three days later, and we watched the horizon, and the incoming steamers, for those belated trunks, but they didn't come, and finally it dawned on us that we would have to go out borrowing again for our honeymoon trip, which we did—again with the help of our friends, and got away at length quite well fitted out, and independent of our trunks, which were quietly reposing at Ahukini, where they waited to welcome our return.

On our return we took up our abode at the Fairview Hotel where we were very comfortably fixed and where our friends of the community gave us a very cordial and enthusiastic evening reception. It was all arranged by W. H. Rice Jr.

Negotiations for a Parsonage

Realizing that in the ordinary run of events we would need a permanent home, I went to Mr. G. N. Wilcox and asked him if he wouldn't build a parsonage, suitable to our modest needs, as an investment, we, or the church, to pay the interest on the same by way of rent.

The Parsonage is Built

This plan met with his approval and I was commissioned to go ahead on the basis of an expenditure of about $3000. This sum in those days would build a very comfortable, commodious and well-finished cottage, and the original parsonage was the final outcome. It was completed and we moved into it in the spring of 1899.

Enlarged Later

At the time there was no thought of any additions or extensions, but when, after ten or twelve years, it was found necessary to have more room, the original building was very happily enlarged with no detriment to the original house. It could hardly have been done more wisely even if it had all been comprehensively planned from the beginning.

Donated to the Community

Later, at the time of the dedication of the church, Mr. G. N. Wilcox donated this property to the community, and the combined properties were put in the hands of a body of trustees consisting of R. L. Wilcox, C. A. Rice and H. K. Kahale.

KAPAA NOTES

Hoshii, a tractor driver employed by the Hawaiian Canneries company on their Moloaa plantation, received a broken leg as the result of an accident last Friday. The injured man was immediately taken to the Kealia hospital and is now under the care of Dr. Hagood.

C. C. Mayne, local representative of the von Hamm-Young company returned from Honolulu on Tuesday after a brief business trip.

Antone Fernandez, proprietor of the local theater, was in Honolulu for one day last week in connection with the distribution of coming features.

The 1922 canning season of the Hawaiian Canneries company is expected to commence early in June and will probably last until August. A larger number of laborers will be needed this year than last, due to the increased pack to be put up.

Homesteaders, as well as others, welcomed the breaking of the dry spell last week. Rain fell for three days, and all crops are already showing beneficial results.

Alfred Morgan, a student in the seventh grade of the Kapaa school was awarded first prize by the garden judges for the best home garden on Kauai. Alfred is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Morgan. T. Naito, also of the seventh grade, carried off third prize.

Kapaa school was awarded first prize for the best school garden on Kauai. This is Kapaa's fourth prize in four years, and the school can well be proud of their excellent record.

Everything is in readiness for the transfer of the Kapaa post office to its new location. John Rapoza, the new postmaster, will take over the duties of the old postmaster on Thursday, June 1, and expects to be ready for business on Friday morning, June 2nd.

Officers of the Christian Endeavor Society gave a party at the beach house on Tuesday morning to the workers who so generously contributed their services for the last concert. Sandwiches and cakes were supplied by A. G. Koukoku, fishes and chickens by Isaac Kalu, and a pig by Sheriff Hano.

INCREASING OUR SUGAR CROP BY BUD SELECTION

Can the Hawaiian sugar crop be increased by bud selection? This question was answered recently by Dr. A. D. Samuel, expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, by stating that many other commercial crop plants have been greatly improved by bud selection and that there is no reason why sugar cane should be an exception.

Oranges and lemons in California have been greatly improved under Dr. Shamel's experimentation, the average yield per tree have been increased greatly, the quality of the fruit also being greatly improved, so that the grower has profited richly as a result.

Apples during many years have been worked upon thru bud selection, and great improvement has resulted. Careful experiments carried on in Canada for many years have shown clearly that the tendency of an apple tree to produce large yields is a definite characteristic which can be passed on to the next generation. Therefore, the scions or grafts for propagating the young trees should be taken from a tree that yields well.

Potatoes have been so greatly improved by careful selection of "seed" tubers that a large commercial field in California planted with selected tubers produced 175 bags per acre as compared with 35 bags per acre yielded by an adjoining field planted in the ordinary way. Another man declares that selection has increased his potato yield over one hundred per cent in tonnage and greatly improved the quality as well.

Last year, and gain this year, Dr. Shamel has been engaged by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association to make special studies on bud selection as applied to sugar cane production. Already his experiments are showing startling results, sufficient to justify the following statement from him made at the short course recently held at the university: "I do not hesitate to offer the opinion that, thru bud selection, sugar cane varieties can be improved in yield of sugar per acre as, or perhaps more than has been the case with other crops," as outlined above. Quoting further, Dr. Shamel made the following statements concerning his work here:

How the Work is Being Done

"In the selection of parent plants, it is first necessary to become familiar with the plant characteristics and behavior thru careful studies, to develop standards for a comparative judging of plant characteristics, and to study the behavior of a large number of individuals under favorable cultural conditions. My experience leads me to suggest that best results can usually be expected in commercial bud selection work for the improvement of a variety of cultivated plants by securing the best fields under the best cultural conditions for this work. An exception to this general statement should be noted in the case of efforts to secure resistance to disease, drought or other environment factors.

"As large a number of carefully selected plants should be used in progeny tests as it is possible to handle intelligently. In the propagation of the selected plants as many individuals as possible in each progeny should be grown.

"The conditions in the progeny fields should be (1) favorable to the best growth and development of the plants, (2) should be as uniform as possible in all respects, and (3) should receive the best care thru-out the entire history of the progeny tests. It is not important in my opinion as to whether the same number of plant pieces or buds be used in each case, but the plant material should be equally spaced and given comparatively uniform conditions thru-out all the progeny plantings. An important fact to get in mind in this connection is that the progeny test is the most efficient method with which I am familiar for testing the inherent characteristics of the parent plants.

"The progeny of each plant must be arranged so that it can be identified at any time. This can usually be done by driving stakes in the plant row so as to separate the progenies. These stakes should be (1) substantial, (2) driven firmly into the soil, and (3) located where it will not be disturbed or lost during cultivation.

"When the progeny plants have reached maturity, and during the course of their growth, the progeny fields should be frequently studied with the greatest possible care. If some progenies are found which are comparatively uniform and desirable the best individuals in these best progenies should be selected for progeny in an additional progeny field. The remaining plant material from the good plants of the best progenies can be used for commercial planting."

SOME TIPS ON PLANTING FRUIT TREES

The horticultural department of the university is planting an acre to assorted fruit trees, including mangoes, avocados, citrus, figs, etc. The trees will be spaced 30x30 feet, which allows fifty trees per acre. The soil is an impervious clay requiring special preparation. The holes are 30 inches in diameter and 30 inches deep. Digging holes was begun in January the surface foot of soil being thrown to one side and the bottom soil kept separate. After four months' exposure to sunshine and showers the earth has become thoroughly weathered and of as good tilth as it is possible to obtain in that type of soil. To further improve this uncongenial soil, 10 pounds of quick lime has been added to each hole. The surface soil which is being used to surround the roots of the plants is being mixed with equal parts of rice hulls that were used in the poultry houses and consequently contain droppings, while in another series an equal amount of coarse barnyard manure is being incorporated with the soil, to compare the relative value of these materials against a check series which will receive no special treatment. (Continued next week)

Mrs. E. Donnelly, sister of Mrs. A. D. Hills, of Wailua, returned to California on the Lurline last Friday after a visit of several months. Kenneth Kerwin, who has been visiting the Hills, returned with her.
