Political Pot Becoming Warm

MANY CANDIDATES ARE OUT FOR SEATS IN LOWER HOUSE

The political pot which has lain so long dormant is beginning to show signs of activity and it should not be long before it will resemble Madame Pele at her wildest moments.

The interest at present is centered about the nomination for senators, and just now only two candidates are in the field. Senator C. A. Rice is out for the nomination to succeed himself, while his only opponent now in view is N. K. Hoopli of Kapaa. Hoopli was elected a member of the house two years ago and now aspires to the upper house. His strength is an unknown quantity and politicians are loath to forecast just what sort of race he will give Senator Rice.

Hoopli is being mentioned also as a candidate but no information can be gleaned as to whether he will be in the field or not. Some of the freak bills that he proposed in the last legislature will be the hardest opposition for him to overcome. John won the championship of the last legislature for fiscal suggestions for laws.

The race for the house will have a large field. Puni Hayselden is one of the incumbents who is a candidate for re-election. Puni has been endorsed by the Hawaiian Civic Club as the haole candidate. Hoopli, another of the incumbents is out for the senate. W. A. Fernandez, who was the fourth member of the legislature from Kauai is now in the orient.

Ed Gardner of Hanalei will be a candidate for the house, and as he has secured the endorsement of the Hawaiian Civic Club along with S. W. McHeula, he should be an important factor in the race. Isaac Kahu of Kapaa will be a candidate and should pull a strong vote from the Kawaihau precinct as well as the rest of the island.

Jack Coney has thrown his hat into the ring and says he will be there at the finish. Jack is an old-timer at the political game, having served both in the house and the senate and would be a good man for Kauai to have in the legislature, his experience as a lawmaker being a valuable asset.

Who will represent the Portuguese has not been decided. The Portuguese Civic Club has agreed to endorse only one Portuguese candidate. Just who the fortunate man will be has not been decided, but the club meets on August 27th and at this time the club will choose their man. The two candidates in the field for the endorsement are A. Q. Marcellino of Makaweli and John Camara Jerves of Kalaheo.

FRANKIE FERNANDEZ HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Frankie Fernandez of Waipouli, bookkeeper of Waimea Stables, met with an accident opposite the Keala Catholic church on Sunday morning that might have turned out to be more serious than it actually was.

Frank came out of the church and started before he could get in. Seeing that his sister-in-law, Daisy Rapoza was on the car, Frank jumped on to try and stop it, but Miss Rapoza jumped off. The car was too near the brink of the cut to be stopped however, and the driver and car pitched into the railroad cut, which was about 15 feet deep, landing head-first. Frank was extricated by others who were present and it was found that he had escaped with only some bruises on his left leg. The car, however, was damaged considerably, and had to be towed to Nawiliwili for repairs.

ARMY ENGINEERS RETURN TO HONOLULU

The party of army engineers who have been inspecting the Nawiliwili breakwater, returned on the Kukui to Honolulu last Sunday evening. Saturday afternoon the entire party motored to Puukopele and Kokee and spent Sunday hunting goats and wild pigs, returning late Sunday evening in time to catch the Kukui to Honolulu.

KAPAA NOTES

SISTER AND BROTHER CLUB PLAY ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The Sister and Brother Club's play given at the Kapaa Hall on Saturday evening was a success in every way. A large crowd was in attendance in spite of the inclement weather of the evening.

KAWAIHAU PORTUGUESE ORGANIZE CIVIC CLUB

The Kawaihau Portuguese Civic Club was organized at a meeting held at the courthouse last Saturday. A. M. Souza was elected president, J. F. Bettencourt Jr., secretary and John Victorino, director. Fourteen delegates were elected to the convention of the Kawaihau Portuguese Civic Club to be held August 27 at Koloa for the purpose of selecting candidates for the next territorial election in November.

PREPARING FOR WORK ON HOMESTEAD ROAD

The county stone crusher was hauled up to the boundary line of the Waialua and Kapaa homesteads near the Cheatham lot, last week. Work on the construction of the new macadam road will soon commence. Funds for this road, which is badly needed, were appropriated by the last legislature.

Chas. A. Char and Geo. F. Yee of Honolulu are vacationing in Kapaa as the guests of Dr. H. P. Choy, government dentist. Char and Yee were classmates of the doctor back in 1910 and both are visiting the Garden Island for the first time.

HAWAIIAN CIVIC CLUB HAS MEETING AND LUAU, HANAIEI, LAST SUNDAY

The Hawaiian Civic Club held a luau and meeting at Hanalei last Sunday. The club at its meeting voted to ask the land commission to set aside a piece of land on the mauka side of Kapaa Park for the use of the various Hawaiian clubs on the island.

The board of directors of the club had previously held a meeting and endorsed John Wise for delegate and C. A. Rice for senator, and D. K. Hayselden, S. W. McHeula and Ed Gardiner for delegates. They also voted to endorse the same delegate as the Portuguese Civic Club endorsed.

This was not brought before the meeting and although no official action was taken it is understood by some that the club will support the men endorsed by the board.

HATS WITH RIBBONS ON IN THE POLITICAL RING

It is rumored that there will be at least two women candidates for nomination to the House of Representatives at the coming primaries. It is stated that one of these ladies will be from the east side and the other from the west side of the island.

If this is true, it will give some of the candidates of the sterner sex something to sit up nights and think about, as the ladies will certainly pull strong for their sisters.

VOTE TO REMOVE CAMP BUILDINGS AND CLEAR PARK

J. M. Lydgate, local land commissioner, appeared before the board of supervisors last Wednesday and requested the county start some improvements in the Waialua Park that has lately been turned over to the county by the land board. He requested that the county tear down the old camp that is located at the Waialua bridge and which is on the park site.

The supervisors voted to instruct the county engineer to make arrangements to remove the camp and voted the sum of $200 to be spent in clearing the lantana.

Lieut. C. A. Frank, who is visiting C. A. Baggott, was an arrival on the Kinau last Wednesday morning. Lieut. Frank, Miss Helen Baggott and C. A. Baggott are spending a week at Kokee.

Theodore Prigge returned to Kauai on the Claudine this morning.

Busy Session Ahead For Grand Jury

NINE INDICTMENTS AWAIT THEIR MEETING NEXT MONTH

When the grand jury meets next month they will have a very busy session ahead of them as there are no less than nine indictments lined up for them to act upon.

Three indictments are upon statutory offenses, three for assault with a deadly weapon, two for first degree burglary and one for embezzlement.

James E. Ward, of Honolulu, Timeo Aglabob, a Filipino, and another Filipino named Tomas, are all charged with statutory offenses. Ward was committed to the Lihue court last month, while Aglabob was committed from Koloa last April and Tomas was committed by the Kawaihau court yesterday.

All three men charged with assault with deadly weapon are Filipinos. Roman Tanganag was committed from Waimea, the alleged offense having been committed last month. Allen Pilayo, who is also charged with the same offense was committed from Waimea as well. The offense with which he is charged is alleged to have happened on March 17th. The third man under the same charge was committed from the Kawaihau court.

The two men charged with burglary are Juan Balkis, and Domingo Laroien. Balkis was captured by the Lihue police after he had tried to rob the same house twice. He was committed to the grand jury by Judge Hjorth on July 23rd. Laroien was committed on the April 21 by the Waimea district court.

The ninth indictment concerns one S. Akahane, who is charged with embezzlement in connection with a shortage in the Bank of Bishop, of Waimea. Akahane pleaded guilty in the Waimea district court and was committed to the grand jury by that court.

LEGION TO STAGE VAUDEVILLE SHOW IN SEPTEMBER

The amusement committee of the local post of the American Legion has been rather dormant since the Oriental ball and pageant staged last April, now announces that it is about to stage a vaudeville show during the month of September.

There is no doubt that the Oriental ball and pageant was a distinct artistic and social success but unfortunately it was not a financial success.

This almost broke the thrifty Scotch soul of Jim Corstorphine who watches over the Legion finances and he has issued an ultimatum to the amusement committee that there must be no more financial failures, hence the quietness of the committees during the past few months.

The committee has a wealth of material from which to pick its acts for the show and at present are busy weeding out the material that they cannot use.

Several novelty numbers, which according to the committee, would have very little trouble getting on the Orpheum circuit, will be on the program and the complete program will be announced shortly.

SOLICITING FUNDS FOR AID IN THE FAR EAST

Kalfred Dip Lum, secretary of the Canton Relief Society of Honolulu, accompanied by Hee Sak Kwai who is directing the affairs of the society, arrived last week on Kauai to raise a fund among the local Chinese for the purpose of aiding relief work in the Far East. They are making Kapaa their headquarters and expect to remain here a week, during which time they will visit every village on Kauai in their drive for funds.

This society has representatives on Maui as well as on Hawaii and Mr. Lum anticipates a ready response from a majority of the Chinese in the territory. The society is after a fund of at least $6,000.

The Canton Relief Society consists of several Chinese societies, including the Chinese National League, See Dai Doo Society, and Chinese Labor Association, and is also affiliated with the Chinese National party of China.

Kauai Chamber To Hold Meeting

ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS TO BE HELD THURSDAY NIGHT

The Kauai Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual meeting at the Tip Top Cafe next Thursday evening at 6:30. The meeting will be preceded by a banquet after which the members will settle down to the election of officers for the coming year.

Although the election of officers is the most important item of the evening's business, there are many other important affairs to come before the chamber, according to Secretary John Midkiff.

The report of the nominating committee will be made at the meeting and if the selections of the committee meet with the approval of the chamber, the new officers will be elected by acclamation. There is hardly any doubt that the chamber will fail to approve of the committee selections as they have never failed to do so heretofore.

COUNTY CLERK TO REGISTER VOTERS OVER THE ISLAND

County Clerk J. M. Kaneakua will be at the following places at the time specified below for the purpose of qualifying those who are entitled to vote at any election, primary, general, territorial or county:

- Hanalei court house, on Wednesday, August 16, 10 a. m. to 12 m.

- Waimea court house, Saturday, August 26, 10 a. m. to 12 m.
- Kekaha plantation office, Saturday, August 26, 3 to 5 p. m.

AUTOMOBILE, SLOP-WAGON, AND BICYCLE MIX IT

A runaway slop-wagon, a bicycle and an Essex car driven by Deputy Sheriff Crowell of Waimea got into a mix-up at Kapaa on Sunday afternoon, just opposite the Pong Garage. As a result, the occupants of the automobile, including Mrs. Crowell and several children, had the disagreeable experience of having slop spilled over their clothing.

Tokichi Doi, Kapaa pig rancher, lost his wagon and several barrels, and Manuel Nunes, a 15-year old Portuguese boy, had his bicycle smashed.

According to the police, Sheriff Crowell was traveling towards Lihue and just before he reached the junction of the side road leading from the Hawaiian hall, the runaway wagon, minus its driver, hove into view. Too late to stop, the sheriff's car smashed into the wagon, spilling the slop to all corners.

Manuel Nunes, coming in the opposite direction, tried to turn to the right to avoid the wagon, but too late and the bicycle was included in the smash.

It is reported that neither the deputy sheriff or the owner of the wagon could agree as to who was responsible, and the matter may be taken to court for settlement.

Solomon Tseu of Nawiliwili was an arriving passenger on the Claudine this morning from a short trip to town.

Ben Lizama, assistant engineer of the Makee Sugar company's mill, returned this morning on the Claudine from a two months trip to the coast.

Miss Williamson, daughter of Captain Williamson of Ahukini, was an arrival on the Claudine this morning.

PERSONALS

A. Henrickson, a pressman in the employ of the Star-Bulletin, arrived this morning on the Claudine.

E. C. Vaughan, salesman for the American Factors, was an arrival on the Claudine this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickard of Nawiliwili, returned last Wednesday morning from a brief visit to Honolulu.

William Wright, of the Bank of Bishop & Co., Waimea, returned this morning from a visit to Honolulu.

E. H. W. Broadbent, manager of Grove Farm plantation, returned on the Kinau last Wednesday morning from a few days' visit to Honolulu.

Miss Ladd of the Mahelona Memorial hospital was a returning passenger on the Claudine last Friday morning.

A. H. Hanna of the Honolulu Dairy-men's Association arrived on the Claudine last Friday morning on a short business trip.

Ernest Mladinisch of the Makee Sugar company, who has been on a visit to the mainland arrived on the Claudine this morning.

Mrs. W. H. Mahikoa of Kilauea returned from Honolulu on the Claudine Friday morning after quite a stay in town.

Dr. T. L. Morgan was a departing passenger on the Kinau last Saturday evening. He will meet his sister, who arrives on the Matsonia in Honolulu today.

Yew Char, proprietor of the City Photo company of Honolulu, arrived on the Claudine last Friday for a short visit with his sister, Mrs. Y. Y. Tseu, of Nawiliwili.

H. P. Agee, director of the experiment station of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, came over from Honolulu this morning on official business.

A. Horner Sr., territorial sugar expert, was an incoming passenger on the Claudine last Friday morning making one of his periodical trips to Kauai.

Senator Chas. A. Rice returned this morning from a few days spent in the capital city. The senator filed his nomination papers last week. "To avoid the rush," he said.

Mrs. O. T. Douglas, wife of the superintendent of the Kauai Fruit & Land company's cannery at Lawai, returned from Honolulu last Friday via the Claudine.

J. S. B. Pratt Jr., of Kilauea plantation, returned Wednesday from Honolulu, where he accompanied Mrs. Pratt, to see her away on the Lurline for the mainland.

J. H. W. Barnhardt, engineer for the American Factors, came over from Honolulu last Wednesday on business connected with the Lihue plantation mill.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Midkiff of Lihue returned Friday morning from several weeks spent on Oahu where Mr. Midkiff was putting in some ditches for the Oahu Sugar company.

George A. Kruse, who for the past several years has resided on the mainland, returned to Kauai last Wednesday morning to accept the position of steam plow luna for Makaweli plantation. George has quite a reputation as a baseball pitcher and is expected to strengthen the already strong Makaweli team materially.

MRS. R. W. BAYLESS OPERATED ON MAKES A RAPID RECOVERY

Olen C. Markwell arrived from Honolulu this morning to assume the duties of Kauai representative of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' experiment station. He is to assume the duties of John H. Midkiff, who has held this position for the past three years. Mr. Markwell last year was instructor in agriculture at the Kauai high school and during his stay here made a host of friends who will receive with pleasure the news that he has come back to Kauai to make his home.

Mr. Midkiff is leaving his present position to accept something much better, although just what this is, is not ready for announcement at present.

R. M. Clutterbuck of Honolulu is visiting his brother, Arthur Clutterbuck, secretary of C. B. Hofgaard & Co., Waimea. Mr. Clutterbuck arrived last Friday morning on the Claudine.

Kauai Legion Post To Elect Delegates

ELEVEN CONVENTION DELEGATES WILL BE CHOSEN ON THURSDAY

Kauai Post of the American Legion will hold its regular meeting at the county building on Thursday evening, delegates to the territorial convention at Luke Field will be selected at the meeting and it is probable that the post will recommend some member of the post as a delegate to the national convention at New Orleans.

Several members of the post have announced their candidacy for the latter position and it is understood that it will be hot race for the trip to New Orleans.

Keen competition is also expected for the delegates to the territorial convention and as there is eleven delegates to be sent, nearly every member of the post will be a candidate.

Since the announcement has been made by the Luke Field post that they cleared $2800 on their recent flying circus and it is the intention of the post to spend it on the convention, every member of the local post has the sudden ambition to become a delegate.

The convention will be unique owing to the fact that Luke Field post will house and feed the delegates during their three-day stay on Ford Island. Complete plans for entertaining the delegates have been made and a rip roaring time as well as an extremely busy session is the expectation of the delegates.

HUNTING PARTY MAKES SAMPAK TRIP UP NA PALI COAST

A party made up of Norman Hinds, Mortimer, Percy and William Lydgate, Will Moragne, Richard Rice, Bob Mott-Smith, Tom Morgan and Charles Fern, made a trip along the Na Pali coast last week in a sampak.

The day was ideal for the trip the sea being exceedingly calm. The party started from Haena at day-break and cruised as far as Milolili, and turned back to Nulolo flats. Here a stop was made and some of the party fished while others investigated the rope ladder lately put in place at Nulolo by the Yale exploring party. From here they pulled up anchor and cruised to Honouliuli where all hands put ashore for kaukau under the Honouliuli arch.

Part of the party then climbed up the cliff into the valley to hunt goats where they were able to bag several. The rest of the party spent their time either fishing or swimming.

After the return of the hunting party the start for home was made and as a heavy wind had picked up, the trip home was considerably rougher than the morning trip.

The day for the trip could not have been finer if it had been ordered and there is no doubt that if this sort of weather were more general that the trip would be one of the most popular in the islands. It was possible last Saturday to land at any valley along the coast even a landing at the rocky shores of Nulolo valley could have been made with ease.

Unfortunately this condition is rare, as most of the year heavy swells and surf are prevalent along this shore making landing at the valleys exceedingly difficult.

MRS. R. W. BAYLESS OPERATED ON MAKES A RAPID RECOVERY

Mrs. R. W. Bayless, who was taken suddenly ill in Honolulu and operated on last Friday morning is reported to be doing nicely and improving rapidly.

Mr. Bayless, who was called to his wife's side, is expected to be back on Friday morning and will hold services at the Lihue Union church on Sunday evening and a special invitation is issued to all golf players to attend.

R. M. Clutterbuck of Honolulu is visiting his brother, Arthur Clutterbuck, secretary of C. B. Hofgaard & Co., Waimea. Mr. Clutterbuck arrived last Friday morning on the Claudine.

LOCAL INDUSTRY IS THREATENED

Balthis & Lane, Ltd., dealers in athletic goods, may go on the rocks if many take advantage of the offer of the emblem division of the American Legion. On being interviewed, these two gentlemen expressed their indignation on the fact that the mail order business should be allowed to threaten any island industry. However, Tuxedo Balthis says he is designing a new golf club that is going to win him the island championship and he will personally put this on the market in an effort to offset this present mania of the local people to buy outside of the territory. Later in the year the Lane lawn tennis racket may appear on the market. The designer hopes to advertise it with the following slogan: "Lane captures island's Championship with the Lane Lawn Tennis Racket." Until these two articles appear on the market one will have to putter along with ordinary clubs and rackets and they can be supplied by the emblem division of the American Legion. Read the following:

The Emblem Division has just completed negotiations which makes available the entire line of Wilson sporting goods equipment to individual Legionnaires and posts at wholesale prices.

This arrangement is indeed a timely one, as it will materially assist each post to secure proper equipment for the preliminary tryouts prior to the national athletic meet to be held in connection with the fourth annual convention.

A complete catalog is being prepared and will be ready for distribution on or about August 1st. In the meantime, orders will be accepted for C. O. D. shipments by the Emblem Division for all sorts of athletic equipment. Absolute satisfaction both as to price and quality will be guaranteed.

WHY I WISH I COULD JOIN THE AMERICAN LEGION

By DR. FRANK CRANE

One of the best things that comes out of war is comradeship.

It is impossible to prevent this comradeship even if we wanted to. Ex-soldiers are held together by the strong ties of fellowship.

That is the reason why, if I were an ex-soldier, I would join the American Legion.

In other words, the American Legion is inevitable.

It is every citizen's duty to use existing agencies and inevitable forces. If he does not use them, other men will.

The best way to make the American Legion a force for good is for all good men to join it, take part in it, and direct its energies in wholesome ways.

The American Legion ought to be a tremendous power for good, for intelligent patriotism, and for sound government.

It is so now. The way to keep it so is for every man who is qualified to enlist his membership and help along.

Cake Eater—That man you were just talking to is a mind reader.

Flapper—Impossible. Why, I was just dying for some ice cream all the time was with him.

FREE TRIP HONOLULU; NEW ORLEANS

The regular monthly meeting of Kaula Post of the American Legion is to be held on August 17th, at 7:30 p. m. in the county court house. The chief business to be handled at this meeting is the election of delegates and alternates to the department and national conventions.

It is probable that the post will finance the trip of those who are elected. Attend the meeting and then you will be sure of getting at least one vote cast for yourself.

WAIPAHU STORE'S NEW MANAGER

Comrade Frank Timberlake of the local post of the American Legion, who recently left Lihue to accept a position on Oahu, has just been appointed manager of the Waipahu store.

This is the third largest plantation store in the islands. Frank says that if he has to live some other place than Kaula it might just as well be Waipahu; but some day he is coming back to the Garden Island for keeps.

WANT A SHAVETAIL?

The other day Jack Pershing wrote us and said he needed some more second Louies. We are letting you in on it. It listens good to us. If you serve in Germany you are paid in marks—48,567 of them a month. 100 phenings make a mark and a glass of beer only costs 2 phenings. Here's the letter: War Department, Washington, D. C., August 1, 1922.

APPOINTMENT OF OFFICERS IN THE REGULAR ARMY

1. A final examination for appointment of second lieutenants in the Regular Army, under the provisions of AR 605-5, will be held throughout the United States and in the Philippine department, Hawaii department, Panama Canal department, and with the American Forces in Germany, beginning September 4, 1922.

2. This examination will be open to all classes of eligibles. There will be vacancies in all branches covered by AR 605-5, except the judge advocate general's department.

3. Information relative to the scope and details of examination is contained in AR 605-5, and may be obtained at any military post or station. Applications may be submitted at any military post or station or at the headquarters of the department or corps area in which the candidate resides.

(A.G. 219.1).
By order of the Secretary of War:
JOHN J. PERSHING,
General of the Armies,
Chief of Staff.

Official:
ROBERT C. DAVIS,
Acting the Adjutant General.

Young Physician—Is there any advice you can give me?

Elder Medic—Yes, before prescribing find out your patient's business. My first patient was the golf champion of the town and I advised him to take up the game for recreation.

LIGHT UNDER A BUSHEL

Full many a flower is born to blush unseen and waste its fragrance on the desert air. Being the post adjutant is not altogether blushing unseen but it is at least wasting fragrance on a somewhat limited if not desert air. Adjutant Lane's letters this year have been one bright spot in the Legion activities and in order that the general public may see this light that is now under a bushel, we herewith publish one of them in full. The local post has a plan now under consideration for printing all of these letters in booklet form and giving them out at the annual banquet as a souvenir to those members who have attended at least half the regular meetings during the year:

KAUAI POST NO. TWO,
THE AMERICAN LEGION
Lihue, Kauai,
July 22nd, 1922.

Dear Comrade:
All you fellows who want to go to "The Devil," may if you choose; that is entirely up to you. It is also up to you whether you come to the next regular meeting of Kaula Post No. 2, which is to be held at the County Building, Lihue, Thursday, July 27th, at 7:30 p. m. As I said before we are still neutral as regards "The Devil," but as to the latter plan we are decidedly pro; in fact, we would almost be so bold as to insist that you honor your comrades with your presence at the next meeting.

Besides the dignified atmosphere you would give to the party you might also be able to demonstrate that "your head holds something more than just a socket for your teeth."

The "call" for the Third Department convention to be held at Luke Field, Sept. 15, 16, 17 is now out. Kaula Post has a reputation at department headquarters as being a very live post, so now is the time to get busy if we are going to uphold our reputation at the convention.

I have a letter here before me from the department vice-commander which I am sure Henry wrote with tears in his eyes. At any rate it would bring tears to the eyes of any one who read it. You shall be spared all that, though, comrade if you bring one new member with you next Thursday night. Yes, more members and still more members is what he asks for in that letter. The more members we have the greater number of you fellows who will get to take the jaunt to Luke Field in September.

Commander Englehard has about 45 minutes of business he wishes to take up with Thursday evening, July 27th. Comrade Fern has taken time off from his recently acquired conubial duties to prepare a "chaser" for whatever the commander may have for us. At that we will get home early enough for a full night's sleep.

For the sake of Safety First will now explain that "The Devil" referred to some ways back is a movie show which is to be shown at the Tip Top next Saturday night. They say it is worth seeing, too.

Yours truly,
C. L. LANE,
Adjutant.

Dope From Headquarters

Adjusted Compensation: Your national legislative committee continues to maintain its daily contact with senatorial leaders. We are receiving the assurance of the leaders that, immediately disposing of the tariff, the adjusted compensation bill will be passed. Present indications are that the senate will vote upon the tariff bill not later than August 15.

The attitude of the President, as commented upon in last week's bulletin, in refusing to discuss the procedure of the senate is of particular significance. If the senate is not influenced by the chief executive our bill will be disposed of during the month of August, according to the schedule.

We have absolute assurances of the determination of the senate to pass our bill as agreed to in its ironbound resolution.

Army: Pursuant to the authority contained in the army appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, the Secretary of War has appointed an elimination board to dispose in an equitable way of the services of approximately 1700 army officers. The chairman of the board is Major General Joseph T. Dickman. Other members who will serve with General Dickman are Major General Merritt W. Ireland, Major General Henry P. McCain, Brig. General Andrew W. Brewster and Brig. General Ernest Hinds. It will be the function of this board to pass upon the records of all officers in the army and determine the relative value of such officers to the government. Those for any reason of least value in the judgment of the board will be separated from the active service by December 15.

Special: We desire to call to the attention of all officials of the American Legion the following excerpt from a letter issued by the director of the United States Veterans' Bureau relative to applications for compensation:

"Section 309 of the act is a section which has been enforced but little up to the present time, the reason being that the five years mentioned therein has not run for many of the discharged service men who desire to claim their rights under this act rather than under the pension law. Those who were discharged between April 6, 1917 and October 12, 1917, have an optional right, that is, they can either apply to the pension bureau or to the veteran's bureau if they apply within the statutory period, namely within five years. Persons discharged after October 12, 1917, will have no right whatever unless they make claim within five years from the date of their discharge. An example of that is "a man discharged from the navy on S. C. D. December 1, 1917, files claim with the Veterans' Bureau at one of the district offices on December 15, 1922. His claim must necessarily be disallowed because he has not applied for compensation within the five year period, unless he has a certificate of injury, which he must get before August 9, 1922." This is vitally important to discharge ex-service men and should be given as much publicity as possible in order that the rights may not be lost because of this feature of the acts.

"The above outlined relates also to application for compensation because of service connected with deaths. Parents who are not receiving compensation must show dependency within five years after the death of the person on account of whose service claim is made. This provision of the act is found in Sec. 301, subdivision "G" and should also be given publicity.

"It is thought well to also call attention to Section 315. This section of course only covers those who are enlisted after February 9, 1922. Should a claim be filed by a discharged man who enlisted after February 9, 1922, regardless of the date of discharge, at the present time he is without protection. Several acts are pending in congress to cover such class of claimants but as the statutes now stand there is no act to protect them; neither the veterans' bureau nor the pension office has any jurisdiction over them.

"District offices are again requested to send in their requisitions for cases desired by them as soon as the claimant makes contact with their offices and not wait until they have a number of them in order that they can be requisitioned in bulk. Better service can be given all around if the requests are made immediately after contact with the district offices."

Trophies: Your national legislative committee is taking steps to make a drive upon the House of Representatives to secure the passage of S. 674, a bill providing for the equitable distribution of captured war devices and trophies among the several states and territories, which passed the senate on May 2, 1921. The bill was considered by the house military affairs committee, reported on June 13, 1921, discussed on the floor of the house August 3, 1921, and re-committed, objection having been made to the appropriation of $400,000, the estimated cost of the distribution.

Makaweli Beats Lihue Wramp Is Invincible With Men on Bases

FURTADO REPLACED BY OKUDA
WHO HOLDS REDSKINS HELPLESS

Pitching great ball in the pinches Wramp turned back the Lihue team Sunday at Lihue by the score of 5 to 2. Lihue's lapses in the field were responsible for most of Makaweli's runs, poor support by his team mates costing Furtado the game.

Lihue was the first to score collecting one run in the first. After Fuji had fanned, Jimmy Burgess singled and stole second, scoring on Lydgate's hit to left.

Makaweli did not wait long to jump into the lead. Yamase was safe on Furtado's error and went to second on a passed ball. Nakashima hit one to right center that Pierra just got his hands on but could not hold and Yamase scored and Nakashima went all the way to third. K. Yamase struck out but Robello dropped the ball and while he was throwing Yamase out Nakashima scored.

In the third they collected one more. Watase singled to left and Conant followed with a blow to the same place that Roke let roll by him for three bases. In the fourth Ah Nee popped one up in the infield and Fuji and Burgess got their signals crossed and Ah Nee was safe. Yamase singled and Ah Nee went to third. The squeeze play was tried and Ah Nee was trapped between the bases but Robello threw wild to Fuji and he scored.

Conant hit to left to start the fifth and Roke again booted Conant going all the way to second. M. Yamase singled to left and Conant scored.

Lihue collected one in the sixth when Roke walked and stole. Okuda hit to Hamada who threw wild to first and Roke went on to third. Hamada let the throw to trap Roke get away and he scored.

GAMES NEXT SUNDAY

Crank up the old flivver and get out to Kapaa early next Sunday for the battle of the century. McBryde and Makee will tangle for a nine round go and if the ump. is not able to give a decision at the end of the ninth they will tangle for a few more rounds until he is able to do so.

Both teams are claiming that extra rounds will not be needed for they will be so far ahead that their opponents will have to take a sly-glass to see them.

Makee has not been going so well their last two games, Lihue almost taking their measure two weeks ago while the tailenders hung the Indian sign on them last Sunday no matter what the scorekeepers say. The champs will have to step lively if they want to regain their lost laurels, for the Scots are going strong and are a hard team to stop.

Tilly will no doubt work for the Scots and although he has yet to

Koloa Wins Again From the Champions By Ninth Inning Rally

COSTA PITCHES GREAT BALL;
BUT ALMOST LOSES BY ERRORS

Something without parallel on Kauai, and perhaps in the baseball history of the Hawaiian Islands in organized baseball, happened at Koloa on Sunday when the tailenders met the pacemakers, and as a result, Koloa will get credit for a game that was not actually finished, although it is probable from the way the Makees were playing, that Koloa would have won anyway. The fact remains, that the official scorer of the Makees, including the Garden Island's representative, went to sleep at the switch and did not find out that the Makees had seven runs instead of six when the ninth opened. The Makees failed to score in their half of this inning and when Koloa annexed a tally with one down in their half, everybody left for home, thinking Koloa had won. The losers however, will not make an effort to have the game replayed from where the play was called off, this being the only solution of the mixup, but will accept the defeat, which was wholly due to the oversight of the scorers. Had Koloa been held scoreless in the ninth and scored their apparently winning run in the tenth, there is no doubt that the Makees would have been entitled to the victory, as the score was actually 7 to 6 at the end of the ninth. At any rate, Koloa won its second victory of the season at the expense of the champs and nobody is sorry except Kawahau rooters.

Costa for Koloa was in rare form and although he was rather generous with free meal tickets, his stinginess in handing out safe bingles in the pinches brought victory to Koloa, thus enabling his team to come out of the cellar for the first time since the start of the season. Costa struck out eight of Makee's would-be batters and not one of the seven runs scored off him were earned.

Lefty Morita, Makee's second string pitcher was started but was yanked in the fourth in favor of Teves, as he was wild and ineffective. The damage had been done however, although Teves held Koloa to three hits in the last six innings besides fanning out seven of them.

The Makees scored two runs in the first inning on two errors, Costa and Ikeda doing the booting for Koloa. In their half, Koloa also scored a brace when Tsunehiro and Morita helped them along. Koloa went into the lead and scored the only earned run of the day. Gabriel walked but was forced by Manuel Costa. Pasio bled out but Kondo connected with a triple to right center scoring Costa. The Makees gathered two more in the third. I. Morita beat out a slow roller to third and Fugitani fanned a passed ball. Ikeda threw away Tsunehiro's grounder and Yoshida scored. Bush booted Soong's grounder, and Tsunehiro scored.

In the fourth the Makees scored three runs, which the individual records plainly showed, but the official scorer put only two on the summary of totals, hence the undiscovered mistake. King, the first batter up, was hit in the leg, stole second, and advanced to third when Gabriel threw wild to second. Kum Lin scratched a hit off Costa's shins, King scoring. Rodrigues grounded to defeat the champs on their home lot, he says there is a first time for everything and next Sunday might as well be the time. He showed a flash of his old form at Koloa two weeks ago when he held the tailenders to three scattered bingles and no run.

Cummings will be on the mound for Makee and as he has had a good rest since the day he tried to walk the Lihue team to death he should be in trim to battle with the Scots. Makee will have to come out of their batting slump if the hope to take the measure of the leaders.

The other game will be Koloa vs. Makaweli at Makaweli and Koloa is out after the Redskins' scalp. They are bound to come out of the cellar for the second series and don't care who knows it. Makaweli has a 50-50 score and are out to improve it. Wramp and Costa will no doubt oppose each other on the mound and if both are right it should be some battle.

GOLF

LONGSTRETH WINS
WAILUA GOLF CLUB'S
FIRST HANDICAP

Earl Longstreth won the Wailua Golf Club's first handicap tournament last Sunday with a net of 75. He turned in a gross of 95 making a 48 and a 47 on his two rounds. Dr. Hagood and Kitty Kahiman tied for second with a net of 78, while K. C. Hopper and Dan Arcia tied for fourth with an 80 each.

Dan Arcia turned in the best actual score an 89, while Longstreth was second with a 95, Spalding third with a 96 and Hopper fourth with a 97.

Some weird and wonderful golf was played by many members and it is hoped that most of it will be out of their system before the second tournament which will be held next Sunday.

The same rules will govern the second handicap which will start at 9 a.m. Any changes in handicaps will be announced at that time.

third and when Costa threw wild to first, Kum Lin scored the second run, after having stolen second. Rodrigues went to second on the play and to third on a passed ball. M. Morita grounded to Ikeda at second and the latter's error scored Rodrigues with the run that did not get into the records. Morita went to second on a passed ball and was out stealing third after I. Morita had fanned. Fugitani was hit by the pitcher, but Yoshida grounded out pitcher to first.

Koloa made three in the fourth, tying the count according to Makee's scorer. Gabriel was hit and Costa walked. Pasio singled, filling the sacks. Teves replaced Morita on the mound at this stage and the next two plays results in force-outs at the plate. Yoshida then booted Bush's grounder and two runs scored. Caesar hit a hot one to King which also was dropped, Ikeda scoring Koloa's third run. Koloa's other run came in the ninth. Kum Lin's wild peg to third after Kondo had reached there as the result of singles by himself and Bush and Ikeda's sacrifice, causing the damage.

LIHUE-MAKAWELI NOTES

Jimmy Burgess became a proud daddy of a baby girl last week and celebrated the event by collecting three hits for himself against Wramp. He also played a great game in the field as well.

K. Yamase robbed Roke of a hit the early part of the game when he reached over the foul line and gathered in his line curve. He also pulled down a long drive by Robello later in the same game.

Roke looked bad on ground balls last Sunday, letting two roll by him with men on bases. Masaru was robbed of a hit by

ROMANCE AND ADS

The average magazine story starts off with a half dozen paragraphs draped around an illustration, and then jumps—like the brown fox—into the advertising section, where it trickles along between canned milk and floor wax.

Dozing over a short story the other evening, while it cavorted deviously thru the advertising pages we arrived at the following bizzare combination:

The path wound in and out thru the meadow, not far distant * * * from contented cows. On a fence rail a bobwhite perched and sang * * * your druggist carries it.

The summer day was ideal * * * for sprains and stiff joints; the rays of the descending sun bathed the landscape * * * fresh every hour. Half way down the path they came to a shady nook * * * recommended by a generation of users.

She was conscious of his manly form * * * built of white pine, and reinforced at the corners. Her companion was she thought to herself, a veritable prince * * * one of the fifty-seven varieties. As for him, he could not take his adoring eyes off of her * * * the world's most perfect talking machine.

He felt an irresistible impulse to tell her how much he loved her * * * combining the purest ingredients. He longed to pour out his passion and * * * sweeten with Domino. He stroked her hair * * * so differently from ordinary macaroni while she nestled close to his side ready to * * * refuse substitutes.

"Dearest," he murmured at last * * * looking like new. "Dearest, this is the moment I have longed for * * * because of its pleasing flavor."

She did not answer at once. Her thoughts seemed far away * * * at the nearest grocery.

He took her hand in his, and held her close * * * allowing the skin to breathe.

"Will you be mine?" he questioned in a tone * * * recommended by boards of health everywhere.

"You want me for your wife?" she asked, her voice * * * low and comfortable.

"Yes," he nodded, swallowing hard beneath his collar, which * * * hasn't scratched yet.

"Then before I accept," she went on, "don't you think you'd better * * * ask the man who owns one?"

"If you mean your father," the young answered, "I'm sure he'll give his consent. Just you name the day and I'll * * * keep contents hot for 24 hours."

He folded her in his arms, and his kisses were * * * supplied direct from the factory.

"Sweetheart, say you'll be mine," he repeated.

"Very well, dear," she whispered. "I'll * * * try it for thirty days."

Whereupon he kissed her again and again * * * showing many different styles and patterns.—Lisle Bell in New York American.

the ump in the ninth. He hit a slow roller over second and beat Watase's throw but the ump ruled otherwise. Masaru is beginning to pound the apple as he gathered a nice hit to right off Wramp earlier in the game.

Wramp pulled out of a bad hole when with two down he let Lihue fill the bases but he forced Lydgate to knock an easy one to him to retire the side.

Robello pulled a nice play when Makaweli tried to sacrifice in the sixth. John fielded the bunt and threw the runner out at second by many feet. He certainly gets the ball down to second in great style.

Conant had a great day at the bat gathering three hits for himself. He certainly worries the pitchers when he comes to bat.

Watase grabbed off two hits and played great ball in the field. McBryde would have been sorry they let him go if they had seen the class of ball he played yesterday.

What Water Does for Batteries

Not too much or too little—but just the right quantity of water ought to be kept in your battery all the time.

The water does two things: it keeps the battery solution over the tops of the plates so that the whole plate surface is used; and it gives proper strength of solution.

Don't hesitate to ask us for water service even if yours isn't a Willard Battery. The Willard Standards of Service are the same for every make.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE AUTOMOBILE ORDINANCE

Following is the second installment of the new ordinance in simplified form. Study it until you become familiar with the rules, then obey them:

RULES OF THE ROAD

When traveling along the road keep to the right and when you meet on大道, wagon or other vehicle moving in the opposite direction, from that which you are headed, turn or keep to your right hand side of the road and as far over towards the edge as you can. If your right hand side of the road is blocked, you can travel on the other but must keep as far over towards the right as possible. In passing a vehicle moving in the same direction that you are, pass to the left of it. (See Sec. 22.)

Don't follow another vehicle too closely, be sure that at the speed at which you and it are traveling that you will have room to turn out or stop without hitting it if it stops suddenly. Don't try to pass a vehicle ahead of you and traveling in the direction you are, at any highway intersection, or curve, unless you have a clear view of the road for a distance of at least 200 feet ahead of the vehicle you are about to pass.

Pass to the left when overtaking any person or vehicle traveling in the same direction as yourself on the highway. When overtaken by another on the highway and warned by the sounding of a horn or other signal, give way to the extreme right and allow the person plenty of room for his vehicle or animal to pass with safety and, if necessary, stop, pull out to the right and wait for the person who overtakes you to pass. (See Sec. 23.)

In passing another vehicle or animal do not pass closely to it, but allow plenty of room—when one vehicle passes another the two should be at least two feet apart. (See Sec. 24.)

Slow moving vehicles such as trucks, wagons, etc., must at all times keep to the extreme right of the road. (See Sec. 25.)

When turning a corner to the right, keep as close to the right edge of the road as possible. (See Sec. 26.)

When turning a corner to the left into another road pass to the right of and beyond the center of the road intersection. (See Sec. 27.)

When crossing from one side of the road to the other turn to the left in such a way that when you reach the other side of the road your car will be heading in the same direction as traffic moving on that side of the road. (See Sec. 28 and also Sec. 22 for exceptions.)

RIGHT OF WAY AT CROSSING OR INTERSECTION

When approaching or crossing a county road or highway intersection you have the right of way over anyone approaching from your left, but must give the right of way to any person approaching from your right on the intersecting county road or highway, but, when you are traveling on the county road or any public highway you have the right of way over anyone approaching or entering the county road or public highway from any residence, privately owned place, private road or driveway. Anyone entering a county road or public highway from any private place or private road or driveway must before entering such county road or highway pause and give a warning signal, such as sounding a horn or other device. (See Sec. 28.)

Before starting your car or stopping or turning to the right or left see that you have plenty of room in which to do which you purpose doing and give a signal that can be seen by others on the road. The signal must be given by hand or arm or by some mechanical or electrical device, and if the latter then same must be approved by the sheriff.

Assuming that you are driving a vehicle that is operated from the left hand side—when you are about to make a turn to the left extend your hand and full arm out horizontally towards the left; when you want to turn to the right hold your hand and full arm out to the left and extend it as near vertical as practicable with your hand pointing upward; when you are about to stop give a signal by extending your left hand and full arm downward and out from and beyond the side of the car. (For right hand drive car substitute "right" for "left" in reading this.)

When signalling to a traffic officer or policeman, extend your hand and arm to the front when you want to let him know that you wish to go straight ahead; and when you want to turn around give the signal for a turn to the right or left, whichever way you purpose turning, and also indicate a circle with your hand.

When your car has been stopped at the edge of the road and you start to pull out and in turning indicate this by full arm signal for turning as given above and in addition sound the horn or other signal device of your car. (See Sec. 30.)

If you are operating a motor vehicle of any kind and approach anyone leading, riding, or driving a horse or other draft animal and such person waves his hand and arm in signal to you, immediately stop your motor vehicle and permit and allow the horse or other animal to pass before you go on. It is unlawful for any person leading, riding or driving an animal to give the signal for a motor car to stop unless it can be clearly seen that the animal is nervous or afraid of an approaching motor vehicle. (See Sec. 31.)

Sound your horn, bell or other signal device before and when about to pass any person headed in the direction as yourself, whether such person is on foot, riding, driving or leading an animal, or in any vehicle. Also, sound your horn whenever you approach a curve or other places in the road where you cannot see clearly ahead along the road for a distance of at least 100 feet; and when approaching highway intersections. (See Sec. 32.)

Do not leave your car on any hill or grade exceeding 5 per cent unless you turn the wheels in towards the curb or right hand side of the road so that even if the brake should be released the car will not run down the grade.

Don't leave your automobile standing without setting the brake and if your automobile does not have a self starter you must leave the brake on while you crank and until the engine is started. (See Sec. 33.)

If you are driving a motor vehicle and stop for any reason do not get out and leave your car without turning off the ignition and stopping the motor. Don't repair your car on the road, except in an emergency.

It is unlawful for any person riding a bicycle to catch hold of or hang upon any vehicle.

Don't drive thru any procession unless you have the permission of a police officer who is there. (See Sec. 34.)

DRIVING OR RIDING BY CERTAIN PERSONS PROHIBITED

No person under 15 years of age is allowed to drive any motor vehicle.

It is unlawful for any intoxicated person to drive any motor vehicle and proof that a person accused of violating this ordinance took a drink of intoxicating liquor within an hour of the time of the alleged offense is sufficient proof of intoxication to put the burden of proof on the defendant to prove that he was not intoxicated.

Any person riding or driving any animal must keep or attempt to keep conscientious control of such animal. Don't go asleep while riding or driving any animal.

Do not allow your small boy or girl to drive an animal that he or she cannot control and if you are the owner of the animal do not allow another person's small boy or girl to drive it unless he or she can control it. (See Sec. 35.)

At steamer landings, highway intersections, railroad depots, theaters and other places of general public resort, and also along routes of procession, police officers shall have full control and charge of vehicles. Do what the traffic officer signals you to do. Indicate to him what you want to do when 50 feet from him. (See Sec. 36.)

It is unlawful for any person riding a bicycle or motorcycle to carry another person or a child on the handlebars or carry on the handlebars any package which would make it difficult to steer the bicycle or motorcycle. (See Sec. 37.)

It is unlawful for anyone to jump on any vehicle without the consent of the driver or person in control of same. It is unlawful for anyone walking along the road to interfere wantonly or maliciously with the passage of any vehicle or animal. Don't get in the way of an automobile just to tease the driver or just for cussedness. (See Sec. 38.)

RATES OF SPEED

Don't go faster than: 15 miles per hour where you do not have a clear view along the road ahead for at least 100 feet or more;

15 miles per hour thru any village, town or other closely built-up section of country, or where the highway is marked off by official signs bearing the words: "Speed Limit 15 Miles";

25 miles per hour where you have a clear view ahead along the road for every 100 feet but less than 500 feet, except thru villages and other places where the lesser rate of speed is required.

35 miles an hour along the road where you have a clear view ahead of you along the road for a distance of 500 feet or more, except thru villages and at other places where a lesser rate of speed is prescribed or required.

When the entire surface of the road for a distance of 100 feet or more is wet, the speed limits are in all cases 5 miles per hour less than the limits given above. (See Sec. 39.)

At highway intersections (that is, where any two roads meet) the speed limit is 15 miles per hour. (See Sec. 40.)

Do not drive faster than 15 miles per hour past any school house or school yard between the hours of 8 a. m. and 3 p. m. (See Sec. 41.)

When entering or leaving a garage entrance or exit or entering or leaving private grounds or private roads, or going into a public road from a public alleyway, do not go faster than 5 miles per hour. (See Sec. 42.)

keep friction where it belongs

Friction consumes power and develops heat and wear.

Sometimes friction is utilized. In the automobile the friction of the clutch transmits the power of the engine to the rear or driving wheels, the friction of the tires and the road surface propels the machine, and the friction of the brakes stops the car. Friction should be confined to the parts named (the clutch, the tires and the brakes), if possible.

Lubricating oil used in the automobile to prevent friction between all moving parts in direct contact has friction within itself. This friction has to be overcome by and uses up engine power. The heavier the oil the more its internal friction, the less power it leaves for useful work.

Increasing Power, Speed and Gasoline Mileage

It may be proved that as much as 20% of the power at the driving wheels may be lost through the use of an incorrect oil.

The ideal oil is the thinnest oil which will keep the bearing surfaces separated and at the same time offer in itself the least frictional resistance to the engine power going to the driving wheels.

In addition, this oil must have stability to resist engine heat, and it must be pure.

Zerolene meets the conditions perfectly. Made from selected crudes by our own patented high-vacuum process, it has great "oiliness," which causes it to cling to bearing surfaces while offering in itself a minimum of frictional resistance to the engine power; it has great stability to resist engine heat, and it is pure.

Zerolene reduces friction, and permits the development of the maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage of the car.

SAN FRANCISCO A LARGE COFFEE MARKET

Due to the war time changes in European commerce, San Francisco has come up in the last few years to the second coffee center of the United States, according to the Monthly Review of the Mercantile Trust company of that city. New York handles a little more than half of all American coffee imports with San Francisco and New Orleans receiving and distributing most of the remainder.

Nearly all of the coffee imports in to San Francisco are from Mexico and Central America, the product of those countries being of better quality and commanding prices which are 2 to 6 cents per pound higher than Brazil coffee.

San Francisco merchants were pioneers in the packing of ground and roasted coffee by the vacuum process in airtight tins, and are said to have been the first to adopt the cup-testing method of buying and blending coffees. Their canned product enjoys an extensive market over a large part of the United States.

Coffee consumption in the United States has greatly increased during the past ten years, having been at the rate of nine and a half pounds per person ten years ago, ten pounds per capita at the beginning of the war and in 1921 reached the large figure of twelve and a half pounds per person. The 1921 imports reached a total of 1,340,000,000 pounds, some of which are exported and not consumed here.

Imports into San Francisco have increased from 175,293 bags in 1909 to 259,634 in 1910, and 1,263,569 bags in 1920. The 1921 imports dropped off somewhat but the current year's imports to date are large.

Local statistics indicate that Hawaii produced a coffee crop in 1909 amounting to 9,834,026 pounds while ten years later (1919) our crop had increased to 19,883,650 pounds, more than double the former figure. In the same year San Francisco imported nearly 175 million pounds.

A HOMESTEADER'S VIEWS ON HOMESTEADING

Some people seem to think that our homesteading problem is like a sick animal that must be examined and diagnosed by experts, but the animal itself is dumb and may not be questioned. Fortunately our homesteading people are not dumb, and therefore can contribute from their experiences much that will help in the gradual working out of this difficult and very important problem. We are very glad to offer our readers the opinions of Edwin C. Moore, for years a homesteader at Haiku, Maui. We will gladly give space to express their views, or to give facts or other information of importance to the problem.

Referring to the evil of speculation in land values, possible in our present system of homesteading, Mr. Moore advocates a system of long leases.

"The title to the land should never go to the homesteader," Mr. Moore declares, "but should remain with the government. Under this plan (a) the speculator is automatically eliminated, as the proposition is not attractive to him; (b) the homesteader is as secure in his possession as though he held title; (c) the homesteader has all his capital available for his farming and improvements, none being required for payment for the land; (d) the people of the territory are sure that the homestead land will either support a citizen family, or return to government possession for re-homesteading.

"This lease should require continuous residence, and 'residence' should mean living on the farm and not on a lot apart from it. This is no disadvantage whatever to a genuine homesteader. But this absence of any time limit to the residence requirement would eliminate the speculator. The homesteader is as free to sell out and move away as any other farmer, except that what he sells is not the land, but his improvements, and he must sell to someone eligible to hold a homestead and to whom the government will sanction the transfer of the lease.

"The lease should require a rental equal to a fair percentage of the assessed value of the land. This rental is a just return to all the people for allowing one of the people to occupy a piece of government land that could otherwise be leased for revenue.

"There has been much criticism of the lottery system in opening homesteads," Moore continues, "and it has been contended that the homesteader should be selected by a commission. I think both methods wrong. Homesteads should be opened always in advance of the demand, so that any qualified citizen could get one at any time. This is entirely practicable. The demand would not be overwhelming when the speculative element has been eliminated, as it would be by using the lease plan only. And when all the good government land was exhausted the government could begin buying and sub-dividing good private land."

Referring to the question of how large a homestead should be, Mr. Moore says:

"Dr. Mead advocated small homesteads. I wonder if it is wise to have an agricultural venture on so small a scale as to offer employment to only one man. Farm work, where it involves livestock, as it should, is rather exacting, a 365 days to the year job. Is the small farmer never allowed a day off, even to be sick? My experience leads me to believe that a farm should be large enough to enable the owner to afford one hired man."

THE MELON FLY AND ITS PARASITES

The melon fly, first cousin to the Mediterranean fruit fly, has been in Hawaii since about 1895. During its residence with us it has almost ruined several fruit and vegetable industries — notably water melons, musk melons, cucumbers, squashes, tomatoes and others. Artificial or mechanical methods of control thus far devised seem to be almost useless against this pest, but there are several ways left to knock him out.

1. Parasites sting the worms of the melon fly and eventually cause their death. In 1916 a small parasite wasp (Opius Fletcher) was brought here from India by the Board of Agriculture and Forestry. This little fellow took right hold of the proposition and in three years had multiplied and spread so much that about 25 per cent of all our melon flies were being killed. Since then their efficiency has materially increased so that probably about 50 per cent of the pest is killed off in this way. That their efficiency will probably not increase much, however, is the opinion of local experts.

2. Resistance to or immunity from the melon fly may be developed by breeding methods. The Hawaii experiment station has produced in this way a "fly proof" tomato which is very good in quality, and suggests a similar possibility in other lines.

3. Trap crops offer a possible means of control, but are not used here as much as they should be. Wild cucumber (mormordica) is a special favorite with the melon fly and when grown near other fruit crops the fly will sting its favorite and leave the other things pretty much alone.

Melon fly worms in the wild cucumber can be reached more easily by the parasite wasps than in other fruits and therefore the percentage of parasitism is higher. In Kona the parasite has been known to destroy 95 per cent of the fruit flies in wild cucumber. This is a wild vine, sometimes injurious to pasture lands. In gardens it might be tried as a trap to entice the melon fly away from cucumbers and other crops grown there.

A TRIP THROUGH FORMOSA

By WILLIAM WATERHOUSE

We came within a very little of the top of Arisan, which is 8,000 feet high. We returned to the house late in the afternoon, and on our way had a sight of Mt. Morrison, in the distance, covered with snow, a lovely sight. Here among these magnificent forests of great trees some of which are thousands of years old, one's mind and thoughts are turned to the great God who caused all of this to come into existence for the benefit of man, and how little we show our appreciation to Him for all his goodness to us.

After a good supper we returned early, as we were to start for the savage village early next morning. Up at 5 a. m. and on the train by 6, the morning of the 29th of January bound for Tapan. We came down as far as Jujiro where we started down the valley. It is about 2000 feet to the bottom. I was carried in a rattan chair by two natives, a pole attached to each side of the chair. The party was made up of the interpreter, K. Sakakibara, two armed police and a representative from the governor with two natives to carry the luggage. The descent was rather hazardous in many places, and at times I asked permission to get down and walk, as I was not used to narrow paths around the cliffs where you could look down several hundred feet to the river below. A fall from such a place would not be very desirable. It was a very interesting trip and one that I will remember all the rest of my life, with great interest. Two rivers had to be crossed, one bridge being 240 feet long, and about 100 feet above the river, made of small wire rope and bamboo. I must say that this was not as pleasant as you might think as it did not look as if it would carry much weight. We crossed one at a time, and then it shook like an aspen leaf. Another bridge was made of the same kind of material, about 150 feet long, and fully as high up from the river. We were glad to get across safely. It took us four hours to make the trip one way, about four miles as the crow flies; down and up—down and up. It seemed as if we would never get to the village we were bound for. The trees and ferns and wild flowers were exquisite. We went thru one village, Toiny. Most of the savages were out hunting at the time. We looked into several of the houses and into the big shed-like building made of bamboo grass which they evidently used as a playhouse. As we near Tapan we noticed a lot of people gathered just outside the village, and on nearing them found that it was a delegation that had come out to meet us. As we came up to them they lined up along the sides of the path that we were to take in entering the village of Tapan. The delegation consisted of the principal of the school with all his scholars and the chief of his tribe with several of his men, and as we passed they all made a low bow and followed us up to the school house and police station which was under the same roof. It made quite a formidable procession. One would have thought they were escorting the king of the Cannibal Islands to his throne. I should think there were fifty or more in the procession and a great many more to receive us at the school house.

As soon as we got adjusted I was asked to speak to the people, or rather the school, and savages that had gathered in and about the village. My talk was interpreted to the principal of the school and he in turn gave it to one of the older school boys and he to the crowd that had gathered. It was certainly very interesting to see such a heathenish lot of savages, I the only white person within a very long distance of the place. The old chief seemed to take a shine to me and shook hands several times during my stay. Possibly my talking in the Hawaiian pleased him, or he may have thought I looked like some of the—you can judge for yourself—what he may have thought.

There are 35 or 40 children in the school—all boys. They wear clothes like the Japanese and look very well when they are cleaned up a bit. I noticed several girls dressed like Japanese waiting on the wives of the officers of the station. You would take them to be Japanese if you did not know they were not. Most of the savages wear a deer skin over their shoulders and a cap made of the same material, usually with a feather stuck in the top.

Some of them wear a wreath of shells. The chief wore a piece of cloth such as Navajo Indians make, only about 12 or 18 inches square about the chest, and a cap, such as others wear and a deerskin shoulder cover.

Quite a lot of the savages were working on a piece of ground that was being prepared for the cultivation of rice and the work was being directed by one of the more civilized savages.

Their houses were built of bamboo grass, the roofs made of the brush part, thatched, and the sides of the reed. They were set up off the ground about four feet and the stairs are made of a log notched out for steps. The floor is made of bamboo reeds and partly of rough boards. I did not see any evidence of bedding or anything to cover them at night. I understand that they just sleep on the floor and cover themselves with a deerskin if they have one. All the unmarried men sleep in a separate hut by themselves. When anyone dies the body is buried under the house where he or she dies, so you do not see any burying place for the savages.

They carry water in a bamboo rod about six inches in diameter and four or five inches long. Some of them eat Jobe's tears—some corn is raised, and other grain. Deer meat and wild hog is plentiful—also monkey meat. They usually sit around the fireplace in the house or hut when they are not otherwise employed. They are not naturally and not seem to be very fond of washing themselves. They are very dirty looking. They are very fond of sweet stuffs, such as sugar. In two of the houses I found very large bamboo frames on which were hung several hundred bear heads, black with smoke and the tusks white, and many deer heads. At one side of the house I saw a big basket arrangement, filled with human skulls which looked as if they had been there for many years, covered with dust and dirt. I should say there were at least one hundred of them.

(To be continued next week)

THE PROBLEM OF THE LONG AND SHORT SKIRT SOLVED

Be it true that Paris is wearing the long skirt, but that is only a matter of taste of the designer in carrying out Dame Fashion.

Remember that long skirts are not becoming to all women. There is a certain length that is particularly adaptable to each individual, and it's this length we are always looking for.

A few words about the skirt: If women realized just what an extremely short skirt does to the figure surely fewer women would have adopted this style for which we have been so severely criticized.

Now girls, do watch for becomingness. When you approach your dressmaker, consult her and ask her and ask yourself: "Is this length becoming to me?"

"TILLIE"

"Tillie, the Mennonite Maid," is one of the most widely read stories ever published. As a play it scored a decided hit. It now comes to the Tip Top theater next Wednesday as a photoplay with Mary Miles Minter as the star. "She must obey." That was the edict of her father. Grim visaged and determined, he threatened her. He would flog her into submission and make her a Mennonite. But, Tillie, too, was determined. There must be something better, brighter than life in this Mennonite colony. She led a life of drudgery, abuse and bleak sorrow. But happiness awaited her at the end of the trail. See Mary Miles Minter in her superb portrayal of Tillie. You will like this picture. It depicts life among the Pennsylvania Dutch—life among the Mennonites.

TIP TOP-ICS

"TILLIE" COMES TO TIP TOP

Mary Miles Minter is the star of "Tillie," which comes to the Tip Top theater Wednesday. This is an adaptation of Helen Martin and Frank Howe's play, "Tillie, a Mennonite Maid," which scored a hit upon the stage. It is based upon the life of the Mennonites, a colony in Pennsylvania—commonly called Pennsylv-vania Dutch. It is a story of humor and pathos—this "Tillie" and revolves around the life of a girl in the strict Mennonite community. The picture presents the attractive star in a role minus her curls. Her lovely personality is displaced by an entirely straight character.

The girl struggles for happiness in the narrow minded community, a home devoid either of father or mother love. While Tillie has a father, he is so brutal and so stern in his attitude that the daughter is incapable of offering him any devotion. It develops she will inherit a fortune if she becomes a Mennonite before her 18th birthday. And a mercenary admirer attempts to win her for her inheritance. But love comes to Tillie—a beautiful unbounded love. And she is rescued from her life of toil and unhappiness. "Tillie" is an interesting character sketch, filled with romance, humor and pathos. It is excellently acted by a cast that includes Alan Forrest and Noah Berry.

"LOVE'S BOOMERANG"

Unable to find a circus in London available at the time for use in filming certain circus scenes of "Love's Boomerang," the Paramount picture featuring Ann Forest and David Powell which will be shown at the Tip Top theater next Saturday, John S. Robertson, the producer, transported his entire staff from London to France where the necessary scenes were filmed.

The picture folk much enjoyed their two weeks' association with the circus people, following up the big tent outfit as it moved from place to place. Unforgettable for most of them were the days at the little old world township of Caudebec-en-Caux, where the inhabitants vied with each other to give the first moving picture company they had ever had in their midst, a hearty welcome and a pleasant time.

Mr. Robertson speaks in the highest terms of the fine co-operation he received in his work from the Brothers Pinder, who manage the circus, in which many of the scenes were taken, Ann Forrest, who appears in the role of perpetua, is equally enthusiastic about her first intimate glimpses of circus life and circus people, and talks by the hour of "Belle," the big elephant, who was her chief support, and who according to her accounts, is the most intelligent animal of her species. David Powell plays opposite her in the picture.

limits of speed for heavy vehicles, such limits being based on the gross weight of the vehicles with maximum permissible load. The maximum weights of vehicles and loads are described by Sec. 11 and the maximum speed limits of such vehicles are prescribed by Sec. 43, as follows:

Trucks, whose gross weight together with load is 6500 pounds (3½ tons) or more must not in any case exceed a speed of 25 miles per hour and if weighing, together with load, over 14000 pounds (7 tons), or more, shall not in any case exceed a speed of 20 miles per hour.

Trucks with solid tires or partly with solid and partly pneumatic tires and which weigh, together with load, 14000 pounds (7 tons), or less, shall not exceed a speed of 15 miles per hour and if weighing, together with load, over 14000 pounds (7 tons) but not over 20000 pounds (10 tons), shall not exceed a speed of 12 miles per hour.

Trucks equipped wholly with pneumatic tires are permitted a speed of 25 per cent greater than for vehicles equipped wholly or partly with solid tires.

Vehicles and trailers carrying a weight in excess of 6 tons and equipped with metal tires are limited to a speed of 6 miles per hour.

The above are maximum speeds permitted for heavy vehicles, but such vehicles and trucks are also subject to the regulations which further limit the speed at certain places, such as crossings, thru villages, on the curves, etc.

The ordinance provides that the county road supervisor shall place signs marking dangerous portions of the highway and indicating permitted speeds, when the same may be required. (See Sec. 44.)

PENALTY

The ordinance provides for a maximum penalty of a fine of $500 and a minimum penalty of not less than $5 for the violation of any of the provisions of the ordinance; and in addition the chauffeur's license of any person may be temporarily suspended, for not to exceed one year, or may be revoked by the judge before whom such person is convicted and where a person has been three times convicted of violating certain provisions of the ordinance the examiner of chauffeurs may temporarily suspend, for not to exceed one year, the chauffeur's license of such person. (See Sec. 45.)

Not in a Hurry

An old Scotchman, David Gordon, was seriously ill, with scant hope for recovery. He had been wheeled into making a will by relatives, and these were now gathered about his bedside watching him laboriously sign it. He got as far as D-A-V-I—then fell back exhausted. "D, Uncle David, D," exhorted a nephew.

"Dee!" ejaculated the old Scot feebly, but with indignation. "I'll dee when I'm ready, ye avaricious wretch!"—The Forest.

Enough is Enough

Do you think posterity will put up statues to your memory?

I hope, replied Senator Sorghum, that nobody will encourage such an idea. After a public man has gotten thru with the caricaturists the modern sculptors ought to let him alone.—Washington Star.

A Point in Doubt

"Leonidas," said Mrs. Meekton, "I must give you credit for one thing. In all your married life you have never spoken an unkind word to me."

"No, Henrietta." "And I ad just wondering whether to give you credit for a lovely disposition or to mere lack of courage."—Washington Star.

AMERICA CONSUMES FOUR BILLION PINTS OF CARBONATED SODA

Washington, D. C.—America as a nation has acquired the soft drink habit, during the past few years, and the popularity which the public has accorded bottled carbonated beverages is in a large measure the result of the recognition of the real merit of the present day beverage, according to Dr. W. W. Skinner, assistant chief of the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry. Dr. Skinner, who is one of the greatest authorities on carbonated beverages in the country and who has made an extensive study of these drinks, stated in a recent address before the American Public Health Association, in New York, that it has been estimated that over four million pint bottles of carbonated beverages, which means more than forty bottles for every man, woman and child in the country, are consumed annually.

"The development of the carbonated beverage industry in the United States during the past ten years has been quite phenomenal," Dr. Skinner continued. "The production of bottled carbonated beverages has, indeed, assumed a place of distinct importance as an industry. The recent development of the industry in my opinion is largely due to the recognition by the public of the real merit of present day bottled carbonated beverages."

"The increasing demand of the public for thirst-quenching delectable beverages, which are food products, has incited the manufacturers to bring from the four corners of the earth all manner of spices and condiments, some of the prized articles of biblical tradition and others unknown, which perhaps would have remained unknown except for the insatiable appetite of American carbonated beverage drinkers. There is no other class of food which is subject to such intelligent and scientific manipulation as the beverage industry, which is a distinct advantage to both the industry and the public."

DEFUNCT BANK'S DEBT TO TERRITORY PAID

Henry Waterhouse Trust company, received for the People's Bank of Hilo, closed its account with the territory, thereby cleaning up all the indebtedness existing at the time when the bank was closed. The territory deposited between $550,000 and $600,000 which sum was secured by collateral consisting of territorial bonds, Hawaii Consolidated Railway bonds, the Hilo Gas company and public improvement bonds.

With the territorial accounts fully settled, future dividends will go to the depositors without being diminished.
