Grand Jury Meets; Indicts Nine Men

FIVE PLEAS OF GUILTY ARE ENTERED; WERE SENTENCED LAST FRIDAY

Nine bills were brought in by the grand jury when it met last Wednesday at the court house to open the fall term of the fifth circuit court.

The men indicted were Timeteo Aglabob, charged with a statutory offense. Allen Pilayo, charged with assault and battery with a dangerous weapon. Domingo Laroten, charged with burglary in the first degree. S. Akahane, charged with embezzlement. Roman Tangonang, charged with assault and battery with a dangerous weapon. Juan Balkis, charged with burglary in the first degree. Lauratario Barles, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. Adriano Sandow, charged with a statutory offense. Tomas Perreira also charged with a statutory offense.

Shige Akahane, who was indicted in connection with an embezzlement of funds from the Bank of Bishop & Co., of Waimea, pleaded guilty in court last Friday morning and was sentenced to two years in jail.

Lauratario Barles, a Porto Rican who was charged with beating another Porto Rican with an iron pipe when the latter tried to act as peacemaker between two Porto Ricans who were fighting, Barles being one of the fighters and the interruption did not seem to please him. He pleaded guilty and asked for clemency, but it was shown by the prosecuting officer that he was an old offender in this regard and he was sentenced to three years by the court.

Roman Tangonang, who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, pleaded guilty to assault and battery and was sentenced to six months in the county jail. Juan Balkis, another Filipino, who was charged with burglary also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary. Adriano Sandow, charged with a statutory offense also pleaded guilty and he was sentenced to not less than three years and not more than ten in the penitentiary.

Timeteo Aglabob, charged with a statutory offense, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for September 20. A. G. Kaulouku was assigned by the court as attorney for the defense.

Allen Pilayo, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, also pleaded guilty and his trial was set for September 25. P. L. Rice was assigned by the court as attorney for the defense.

Demurrers were introduced in regard to the indictments of Domingo Laroten and Tomas Perreira and the demurrers were sustained. The defendants were discharged but were immediately re-arrested and will be brought before the grand jury, which will meet on Friday 15, to bring in new indictments against the men.

CURIOUS ACCIDENT AT KEALIA

William Grote, manager of the Kealia store, had a very narrow escape from death recently in an unusual accident at the store.

It seems that Joe Bettencourt, the prohibition enforcement officer, came into the store the other morning and had an old Mauser pistol with him. Grote was out of his office in the main part of the store and was called to the phone. Instead of going to the phone at his desk as he usually does, he stepped to the phone on the wall. Bettencourt was in the office and he tried to unload his pistol which thru for some unforeseen reason went off, and the bullet struck the pencil sharpener and was deflected toward the ceiling but passed thru the spot where Mr. Grote would have been sitting. If he had answered the phone at his desk.

The Kealia store employees have filed a petition that a bomb proof dugout be built so that they may flock there every time Bettencourt appears.

Mrs. William Miller, of McBryde, returned this morning from a visit to Honolulu.

KAPAA NOTES

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS at Kapaa court house on Saturday, the 16th inst, from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock p. m.

You Soon Ok of Waialua, charged with having opium and twenty-five gallons of swine in his possession illegally, was fined $75 and costs in the local district court last week.

Bettencourt also reports that T. Hashimoto of Lawai was fined $50 and costs, for making ten gallons of excellent rice brew.

Sam Kaahu, ex-representative, has entered the race for the Republican nomination for senator, filing his papers in the last mail to reach Honolulu before the closing date. He will oppose Charles A. Rice, incumbent.

M. Y. Chong, bookkeeper of the von Hamm-Young Co., of Honolulu, arrived last Friday on business in connection with the local branch of the company. He expects to remain until Wednesday.

Local students attending Honolulu schools all departed last week. Some went on Wednesday, but a majority waited until Friday's steamer which was booked to capacity.

Afo Pung, son of En Sue Pung, known all over Hawaii as the oldest baseball player in harness, spent last week here visiting Howard Kum, his classmate. Baseball ability is probably hereditary in the Pung family, as Young Pung, just out of his teens, had made good with the A.C.A. team of the Honolulu league, playing as a regular at second base.

JOHN FASSOTH SELLS KIPAHULU PLANTATION

Negotiations were consummated last Thursday whereby the Haiku Fruit & Packing company, of Maui, purchased the Kipahulu plantation of John Fassoth and associates for a consideration of $175,000.

It is stated that the reason for selling the plantation was on account of the ill health of Mr. Fassoth, who was the manager, and the increasing difficulty in getting labor.

The Haiku Fruit & Packing company will, as soon as the former owners remove the 1923 crop of cane, plant the whole area to pineapples. The deal is regarded as the forerunner of the erection of a cannery with a capacity of a million cases of pine in the Hana district.

Mr. Fassoth was for many years, and up to the time just prior to his purchase of Kipahulu, manager of Waimea plantation, on this island.

IMPOUNDED ANIMALS PROVEN TO BELONG TO POLICE OFFICER

It seems to be the rule that every time any animals are impounded in the Kawaihau district that when the owners of the animals are found they prove to be members of the local police force.

The latest case of this kind occurred when a citizen of the Kawaihau district came home and found a cow and a calf making a pasture out of his front lawn. He had the animals impounded and on inquiry it was proven that they were the property of Charles Kelekoma, captain of police of the Kawaihau district.

No disposition has been made of the animals to date.

COUNTY TO WIDEN THE KAPAA BRIDGE

The board of supervisors at their last regular meeting voted to instruct the county engineer to widen the Waimehanalua bridge at the first opportunity. This the bridge near the Rapoza store and the widening is a necessity as nearly every driver on the island at some time or another has had plikika at this bridge.

The side walls of the bridge have been bumped into so often that on one side they have been knocked off into the stream.

Kauai is Visited by Heavy Rain

HANAIEI, WAINIHA STREAMS OVERFLOW AND CAUSE DAMAGE

Kauai was visited by one of the heaviest rains of the year on Monday morning, all portions of the island receiving their share of the downpour.

All the larger streams of the island, including the Waialua, Waimea, Hanapepe and Wainiha, were up and booming, the Hanalei stream overflowing its banks and flooding over the road almost to the point where the road turns off to the beach houses.

The temporary bridges that were put in at Wainiha when the road was washed out last January were carried away and the regions of Wainiha and Haena were cut off from the rest of the island.

According to a report in circulation the power plant of the Kauai Electric company at Wainiha was struck by lightning and two of the machines in the plant were damaged. No confirmation could be had at the time of going to press owing to the fact that the telephone lines are being repaired.

The Waialua river rose about eight feet in two hours and as the outlet to the sea was blocked by a high sandbar, the river backed up and flooded the cocoanut grove and also flooded the kuleanas on the Kapaa side of the stream. A small opening was cut in the bar by the natives who were being flooded out and in a few minutes the river had cut an opening one hundred yards wide and was pouring out to the sea.

The force of the water was so great that the stream continued straight out to sea to a distance estimated to be about one mile.

The Waimea and Hanapepe streams on the west side of the island were also high, but neither stream overflowed its banks and very little or no damage was done.

The recent rain will be a blessing for the plantations as this year has been dry and there has been a tendency toward a shortage of water on many of the local plantations. There was little or no rise in the Niumalu stream and the bridge that is used by the U. S. Engineers is still intact although no traffic is allowed over it at present.

SPECIAL SECTION TO BE RESERVED FOR KAUI FANS

According to information received this morning from Honolulu a special section will be reserved at the inter island championship baseball series for the out of town fans that will be on hand to root for their favorites.

A post card or letter sent to J. Ashman Beaven, Box 511, Honolulu, is all that is necessary as the seats can be paid for when procured at the box office.

Prices for admission will be 50 cents for the bleachers, 75 cents for unreserved seats in the grandstand and $1.10 for reserved seats in the grandstand.

PROHIBITION RAID AT NAWILIWILI

Last week was not so busy for Joe Bettencourt, the local prohibition enforcement officer as far as arrests, but he managed to surprise one Ku Pau of Nawiliwili and hail him before Judge Hjorth, who fined him one hundred dollars and costs.

Bettencourt is quite pleased with his work in regard to Ku Pau, as it is alleged that he had been the main supply for contraband liquor in the Nawiliwili district.

WAILUA PARK LANDS ARE BEING CLEARED

Work on clearing the park land at Waialua by the county is making rapid strides and at the present rate it will not be long before the lantana will be entirely cleared and the land take on the appearance of a park.

The board of supervisors voted at its last meeting to instruct the chairman to represent the board in purchasing the kuleanas that are now included in the park.

Wharf is Complete After Three Months

NEW STRUCTURE IS BUILT ENTIRELY OF CONCRETE

The Hanalei wharf which has been under construction the last three months has been completed and is now ready for use. The contractors Coney and Morris, finished their work last Saturday with the exception of the erection of the derrick which will probably be done this week.

The new wharf is about six hundred feet long the approach being five hundred and thirty-five feet long and the landing space being seventy-three feet long. The approach is twelve feet six inches wide while the landing space is thirty-two feet six inches wide.

Four hundred yards of concrete was poured in making the wharf, and the construction work entailed not a little engineering skill on the part of the contractors as their part of the work consisted of removing the old wooden flooring of the wharf and replacing it with concrete floor upon concrete piles that were already in place. The concrete piles were driven when the wharf was first constructed a few years ago, but at the time a wooden flooring was built. Coney and Morris' work on the construction was to replace the wooden floor with a concrete one which they have done so successfully.

The importance of Hanalei is not very well known locally except in the district, but according to the figures of the wharfing, some seven thousand tons of rice are shipped there annually as well as the incoming freight for the district.

MASONS PICNIC AT HANAIEI

Hanalei beach was alive with the Kauai Masons and their families last Sunday which was the occasion of their annual outing. Dr. L. L. Patterson and his able assistants had perfected all of the preliminaries and plans so perfectly that a successful day was inevitable. The nearest calamity occurred in the forenoon when H. D. Wishard tried to "get a corner" on Dr. Palmer's morning sermon and special address to the Kauai Masons. His seat was strongly contested by some of the ladies who claimed that they were more accustomed to hearing sermons than he.

There were so many good things to eat that they could not be piled in one place, thus the party was divided into three sections, to have room enough for expansion.

In the afternoon a special radio concert was given by the Star-Bulletin radio department, especially for this gathering. Malcolm McIntyre, Walter H. Coombs and Ed Toward each delivered a brief address, in a general nature, on Masonic activities. A splendid instrumental, violin and vocal musical program, by some Honolulu artists, was greatly appreciated. Frank Crawford and William Hobby, being in town, extended their congratulations on the success of the day.

After another refreshing swim the party began to disperse, expressing great appreciation to Mr. Menefoglio for his radio service, the Star-Bulletin for the radio program, the committee for the arrangements and nature for the excellent Hanalei weather and day.

SUPERVISORS VOTE MONEY TO IMPROVE KALAHEO WATERWORKS

The Kalaheo waterworks will be improved, according to the decision of the board of supervisors at their last meeting. There has been an acute shortage in the Kalaheo district during the last dry spell, it being necessary for the Kauai Fruit & Land company to haul water to its various camps.

Though there is no doubt that the recent rain will remedy the matter for the time being, it is planned by the county engineer to try and prevent a repetition of the recent shortage.

Walter Coombs, secretary of the Farm Loan board, came over from Honolulu this morning on official business. He will return to town tomorrow evening.

PERSONALS

P. M. Morris, of the contracting firm of Coney & Morris, returned last Friday morning from a business visit to the metropolis.

L. H. Bigelow, superintendent of public works, came over from the capital city last Friday morning to inspect the new concrete landing at Hanalei.

Miss Esther Tsau, graduate from Kauai high school last year, returned Friday morning from a vacation spent in Honolulu.

A. J. Wile, teacher of mathematics at the Kauai high school, returned Friday from his vacation spent in and about Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Sessions of Waimea school, returned last Wednesday from their vacation spent at the home of Mr. Sessions in Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lane returned on the Claudine last Friday morning. Mrs. Lane returned from a visit to her home in Seattle on the last Lurline.

Mrs. Ashton Hogg, who has been visiting her mother in Oregon for the past three months, returned to her home in Lihue last Wednesday.

Attorney Philip L. Rice, of Lihue, returned on the Kinau last Wednesday from a business visit to Honolulu.

Lieut. Maan and Ensign Yi, of the local corps of the Salvation Army, returned from Honolulu this morning.

J. M. Hall, chief electrician for Lihue, returned this morning from Honolulu where he was called on account of the illness of his sister, Mrs. Shelley, who has had to undergo an operation. Mr. Hall reports that his sister is getting along very nicely.

Mrs. M. C. Leadbetter and Miss M. V. Counts, of Kauai high and grammar school, returned Friday morning from their vacation spent in touring thru Japan and China. The ladies report having had a wonderfully interesting and instructive trip.

SCHOOLS OPEN DESPITE RAIN

In spite of the heavy rain, school opened yesterday and after the first few preliminaries, were soon operating in the regular manner. Although all the staffs at the various schools are not complete owing to the usual late arrivals, it is expected that by the first of next week that all assignments will be straightened out.

There will be no change in the personnel of any of the school principals this year, Chester Carlson having returned to take charge of the Kalaheo school.

RETURN FROM VISIT TO THE MAINLAND

George Akana and Miss Mary Akana, of Kilauea, arrived on the Claudine last Friday morning on their way home from a pleasure trip to the mainland. They left Kauai shortly after the school vacation began, and, accompanied by their sister, Mrs. George Bruns, of Honolulu, they took the Niagara for the northwest coast, visiting Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle and Portland, thence by train south to San Francisco and other California cities. They returned to Honolulu on the Wilhelmina last Tuesday and report having had a wonderful time on the way.

After traveling on the palatial liners, however, Miss Akana still thinks the Claudine takes the cake.

LIHUE UNION CHURCH

Regular services in this church were begun last Sunday morning with a sermon by the pastor on a "Progressive Christianity." Services will be conducted each Sunday morning throughout the year.

Sunday morning at 9:45 there will be a bible school conducted at the Memorial Parish house, with classes for all ages. A special department for the young people of high school age will be established next Sunday. We cordially invite students from other parts of the island who are attending school to enjoy the privileges of this department.

No Excitement in the Political Field

GENERAL PUBLIC IS APATHETIC OVER THE ENTIRE ISLAND

Last Thursday saw the close of the time for the filing of nomination papers for legislative candidates and although there were no eleventh hour surprises, the announcement that Sam Kaahu had carried out his intention to oppose Senator Rice for the Republican nomination caused quite a little ripple on the political pond.

For the time it was thought that Senator Rice would be unopposed in his race for the Republican nomination due to the withdrawal of Hoopli and that the main issue would be at the general election in November when Manual Aguiar would be his opponent. Now Kaahu has entered the fray and political prophets are all up in the air. No indication of Kaahu's strength has yet shown itself and just what sort of opposition he will give Senator Rice is hard to figure. Kaahu was a member of the lower house four years ago, being elected in 1918.

Dr. Raymond of Maui, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for delegate to congress, is now on Kauai and will speak to the Lihue voters tonight at the Tip Top theater. Dr. Raymond has carried on an intensive campaign of Kauai and has made many friends among local Democrats. He is expected to give Jarrett a good race for the honors on this island and according to some local Democrats will carry Kauai by a good sized majority.

In the race for the lower house you can pick your own candidate and can write your own ticket. Ten candidates for the legislature should insure the local voters of some vaudeville that will rival any attempt in that line on the part of the Legion. John Hoopale who might rightly be called the headliner of last year's performers will once more be in the limelight and it is hoped with a brand new act.

Mrs. Sam. Kellinof will lend the unusual to this year's race. It must be said for Mrs. Kellinof's arguments that she has so far presented to the public, that what they lack in sensationalism they make up in logic.

Among the other candidates who will lend color to the race is James T. Hamada, an American born Japanese. Just what strength he will show in the primaries is uncertain but it must be said that his campaign is being watched with considerable interest by all the local politicians. Hamada has not given out any statements to the public as yet and nothing is known on what particular issues he is making his race.

S. W. Meheula and Eddie Gardner who are the candidates who have been endorsed as the Hawaiian representatives of the Hawaiian Civic Club are in a position according to some of the local prophets to make a strong race of it, while according to others the endorsement of the club does not carry as much weight as might be supposed. Puni Hayseldon has been endorsed as the haole candidate by the club, while J. C. Jerves has been endorsed as the Portuguese candidate, by both the Hawaiian Civic Club and the Portuguese Civic Club.

Jack Coney, Howard Young and Isaac Kalu have not been endorsed by any civic club but they state that they are in the race until the finish but are out to present their qualifications direct to the voters.

The Democratic slate for local candidates will include Manual Aguiar as candidate for the nomination for senator, who thus far is without opposition, and S. E. Lucas and Joe Scharach as candidates for the nomination to the lower house. They also have no opposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Carlson, of Kalaheo school, who have been vacationing on the mainland, returned to Kauai on the Kinau last Wednesday.

M. R. Thomas, head carpenter for Lihue plantation, returned Friday from a week's vacation spent in Honolulu.

The University Extension Letter

A TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLAR TAX

It is estimated conservatively that insects destroy stored food products to the extent of two hundred million dollars every year in the United States. This is five per cent of the total value in the country. In other words, a direct tax of five per cent is levied by insects upon our food stuffs after they have been harvested! Before harvest it is estimated that a tax is collected by other insects amounting to nearly ten per cent. Our greatest war is being fought against the enemies that lay these huge taxes upon us.

The University of Minnesota has recently published a bulletin describing methods of controlling insects in stored food products, Bulletin number 198 of their experiment station, St. Paul, Minnesota. This ought to be studied by grocery clerks, bakeries and all who store food products or seeds. Send direct to Minnesota for it, or let us know you want a copy and we will get it for you.

ALFALFA PRICES TO RISE

The Pacific coast crop of alfalfa hay is short this year, due largely to grasshoppers and army worms. The market is advancing and prices this fall will probably be higher, according to San Francisco authorities.

OFF-BARRING OF CANE

Off-barring of cane is a common practice in Hawaii usually done to conform to custom although there seems to be no justification for it, according to Robert Pahau, superintendent of the university experiment station at Waiakoa (Hilo) Hawaii, and formerly on the staff of the H. S. P. A. experiment station.

Off-barring is a process designed to cut away the old root growth of parent stools and to prepare loose soil for the roots of the young ratoon crop to follow. The consequence is that the roots are exposed and may be dried up by the sun and wind. Judging from experiments carried on by Mr. Pahau there are no benefits to be gained by off-barring and the practice may even be detrimental and reduce the yield of cane. It is Pahau's opinion that this practice should be discarded, substituting for it the use of small plows to loosen the soil and cover the fertilizer, not exposing the cane roots to injury.

THE CHAYOTE

The Chayote (Sesquipedalia edule) is a vegetable producing vine of the cucumber family. Although it is a native of Mexico and Central America, it is well adapted to many other warm countries. In the Hawaiian Islands it grows best at an altitude ranging from one thousand to three thousand feet. To some extent it is cultivated in the district of Kula on Maui and in the district of Kona on Hawaii. At higher elevations it is not so generally attacked by the melon fly, which is its chief enemy in these islands.

For human consumption the fruit has many uses as a vegetable, and it is made splendid use of as a pig feed. Under favorable conditions the vine is a prolific bearer and the return is very large for the amount of work its culture requires.

The chayote does best in a rich well drained soil. The ground should be dug or plowed deep and especially worked where the seeds are planted. When the land has poor underdrainage it should be plowed up into wide ridges and the seed planted in the ridges.

In these islands it is best to plant the chayote in the fall or at a time just previous to the rainy season. Plant the entire fruit one in a place about twelve feet apart each way. The fruit is laid on its side with broad end slanting slightly downward; cover with soil leaving the tip of the smaller or stem end exposed.

Cultivation should be sufficiently frequent to kill the weeds and keep the ground in good tilth, preventing it from baking at all times.

Well rotted stable manure worked into the ground above the roots proves to be a very excellent fertilizer. In poor soil stable manure should be supplemented by a good commercial fertilizer with a relatively high potash content. One and a half pounds of this fertilizer worked into the soil is sufficient for each plant. In hot, dry weather a mulch of straw or grass greatly conserves the moisture for the plant.

The fruit should remain on the plant until about fully matured but not until they begin to sprout. If they are to be kept for some time or shipped market they must be handled without bruising. If wrapped in paper and packed in excelsior they may be kept in good condition for several weeks without cold storage equipment.

Recipes for the uses of the chayotes may be obtained from the horticultural division, United States experiment station, Honolulu, T. H. This station will also assist you in getting in communication with someone having a supply of seeds should you choose to try growing them.—Willis T. Pope, U. S. Experiment Station, Honolulu.

EGG LAYING CONTEST

(Conducted by the Poultry Division of the University of Hawaii, Prof. F. G. Krauss in charge.)

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. This competition will be known as the First Annual Hawaii Egg Laying Contest, conducted by the Poultry division of the University of Hawaii. It will begin November 1, 1922, and terminate October 31, 1923.

2. Complete records will be kept of each competing pen covering number of eggs laid, weight of eggs, amount of feed fed, duration of molt, frequency of brooding periods, etc. Pullets will be weighed at beginning and at end of contest. This information will be made public and will be available to contestants at all times.

3. Each entry or each competing pen shall consist of five pure-bred females of some well recognized breed or variety, either hens or pullets. No males will be included.

4. Contestants will be privileged to maintain throughout the year, without extra charge, a full complement of five birds, that is to say, a bird lost by death or accident or incapacitated may be replaced by the owner. Contestants from other islands may at their discretion send one or two extra reserve birds along with their entry. Oahu contestants need not reserve birds as they can be readily communicated with in case an extra bird is needed.

5. All awards will be based on the number of marketable eggs produced. Eggs must weigh not less than one and one-third ounces (.08 lb.) or they will be considered unmarketable. However, the weight of even the smallest eggs will be determined and recorded. In the event of a tie between two or more pens in the number of eggs laid, the award will be made to the pen that lays the heaviest eggs.

6. A first, second and third prize ribbon will be awarded to the three leading pens each month. The best pen for the year will be awarded a prize ribbon and certificate. Each hen that lays 200 eggs or more during the contest will receive a "special merit" ribbon.

7. All entries must be shipped prepaid and should be consigned to us so as to arrive at the Poultry Division on the poultry farm sometime during the last week in October, 1922. At the close of the competition fowls will be returned to their respective owners at their expense.

8. The University reserves the right to reject and return fowls suffering from any contagious or infectious disease or otherwise unsuitable for the contest.

9. In the event of any entry being declared unsuitable and being returned to the owner, the entry fee will be refunded. Not more than two pens can be accepted from any one breeder, and the second pen only on condition that no other applicants are deprived of a first entry.

10. After fowls have been received by the Poultry Division and placed in the competing pens, every precaution will be taken for their protection and the prevention of loss, but the University cannot be held responsible should death or losses occur. All pens will be fed uniform rations of highest quality as determined by several years' experience of the Poultry Division. The University flocks have been remarkably healthy, and very few losses have occurred among the mature fowls in the past. No pen can be withdrawn during the progress of the contest.

11. Entries will be accepted from any place within the Territory of Hawaii. But the fowl must have been bred and raised in Hawaii. No imported birds may be entered. All the fowls of an entry must be of the same breed and either pullets or hens. No mixed pens or ages will be accepted on any one entry.

12. A weekly bulletin recording progress on the competing entries will appear in the extension letter, and probably in the various newspapers of the territory. Contestants are invited to subscribe to the extension letter, which is free.

13. All applications for entry in this competition will be filled in the order of their receipt. Should applications exceed the number of pens available notice to that effect will be published. No applications for entry will be considered after October 20.

14. An entry fee of five dollars will be charged for each pen of five fowls and one dollar extra for each reserve bird. Entry fees are payable on acceptance of entry.

15. All eggs laid by the fowl in this competition become the property of the University and the proceeds therefrom will be used to defray the cost of feed, etc.

INFORMATION AND SUGGESTIONS

A. All fowls sent for competition should be leg banded and a list of the leg brand numbers should accompany the fowl when shipped so that the birds may be positively identified upon their arrival.

B. Weekly bulletins in the Extension Letter will be sent regularly to each contestant. Weekly reports of the progress of the competitors will be sent to the newspapers and monthly reports will be sent to the poultry press of the mainland to help place Hawaii's growing poultry industry on the map.

C. All eggs will be sold at current market price and the proceeds thus obtained will be devoted to the operating expenses of the competition. The financial records of the enterprise will be open for inspection at all times.

D. It is suggested that contestants do not send pullets that are too mature, since there is some probability of such birds going into molt which usually lowers the egg yield. Pullets just ready to begin laying when the contest opens usually give the best account of themselves.

Supervisors Hold Regular Meeting

The regular monthly and business meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Kauai was held on Wednesday, September 6th, 1922 at 9:30 a. m.

Present: H. D. Wishard, chairman; J. I. Silva, Fred Mendes, A. Menefoglio.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The chairman reported that under the authority given him and the county engineer heretofore, they received bids for furnishing material and for the construction of the Kauai High school cottage and have awarded the contracts to the following lowest bidders as follows:

Material—Kauai Railway Co. $2,945.00.

Construction—John Hasen, $1,190. The several demands submitted and hereinbelow listed were approved.

Of the board's own motion, by unanimous vote, the demand of Lewers & Cooke, Ltd., for the sum of $314.87 for cottage furniture, etc., was withheld from payment for investigation. The county clerk was instructed to write to Mr. Pugh and Mr. Sessions concerning the said demand.

A verbal request by the sheriff, W. H. Rice, to build a new jailor's cottage for Kawaihau was referred to the county engineer for investigation and report at the next meeting.

Upon the motion of Mr. Menefoglio, seconded by Mr. Silva, by unanimous vote, the chairman was authorized, on behalf of the board to execute the agreement between the county and the Koloa Plantation Co. for the installation of the Koloa waterworks.

Few Studebaker owners are willing to part with their cars, and when they do, there's a waiting list of buyers eager to get this good, dependable car at a saving price.
On every island of Hawaii, as well as throughout the mainland, the Studebaker has proved that it is better than most other makes of cars selling hundreds of dollars higher. It is difficult to beat in any class.

ON THE ROAD

Common sense should prevail at all times on the part of the automobile driver. The great danger on the road is in passing another either when meeting one or overtaking one on the highway. It is here that special attention should be given to driving. One automobile driver from the west side of the island, whose experience covers several years, said to us a few days ago, in speaking of this subject:

"It is not only a serious breach of motoring etiquette but also a violation of the law to speed up and attempt to race a car which has signalled its intention of passing to the left of you. Too many drivers appear to consider this a challenge to a test of speed; that they must uphold the honor of their machine by stepping on the gas and tearing along at ten or fifteen miles an hour faster than they had been going. This is responsible for a number of accidents, usually to the car on the outside which is prevented from getting back on its own side of the road and is liable to a collision with a machine coming from the opposite direction.

"The moment a horn is sounded behind you, draw as far as possible to the right without endangering your own car, and let the other fellow drive past. He may have a good reason for his haste. But, even if he has not, he is not issuing a challenge to race. He is merely giving one of the signals of the road that is recognized by law. And he is entitled to have his wishes complied with."

GETTING NO BETTER FAST

The refusal of France to accept Germany's proposal for a moratorium of five months was followed by another slump in the price of the mark. It now requires nineteen hundred marks to equal one good American dollar. With German paper currency depreciating week after week, and the government printing presses running at high speed to keep up the supply of fiat currency that cannot be redeemed, there seems to be a pressing need of a financial overhauling—an abandonment of the present financial system and the establishment of monetary system upon a solid gold basis. Germany has, or may not have the gold; but she has the resources that are worth all that is necessary to bolster up her tottering finances and establish credit. As long as Germany follows the example of Russia, in making up for depreciation by the issues of a greater quantity of almost worthless paper fiats she will continue to slide until in the end her creditors will take possession of visible assets and Germany's finances will be administered by an allied commission that will collect her revenues and endeavor to pull together the crumbling fabric of the German republic.

THAT IS OUT

If long skirts should come back into style there will be more darned stockings worn than there have been for years.

We heard a Waimea man say yesterday that managing a wife would be all right if such a thing were possible.

Lloyd George says he can see another big war coming. We hope he doesn't point it out to us.

Wouldn't this be a wonderful world if they probed the railroad wrecks before they occurred.

God made this world in seven days; and some men have been trying to wreck this masterpiece ever since.

"Is your money working hard enough?" reads a headline in a daily paper. Yes. Hard enough but not long enough.

The loafer has some advantages, but he misses the fun of going out on strike every now and then.

Thanksgiving Day is coming, so you'd better start now trying to think of something to be thankful for.

People who do not own their own homes will tell you that the worst thing about paying rent, is it won't stay paid.

We used to say of some girls, that "they put everything on their backs." But we can't say that the way they dress now.

THE EGG LAYING CONTEST

The egg-laying contest inaugurated by the University of Hawaii, the rules governing which appear in the extension letter on another page, is no doubt going to prove of great benefit to the poultry raisers, great and small, throughout the territory.

Most people have a few chickens in their back yards from which they get a few undersized eggs now and then, but knowing they ARE chickens and not ducks or turkeys is about the extent of the average raiser's knowledge concerning them.

There are a number of poultry raisers throughout the territory who have flocks of the best pure-bred fowls. Pens from these flocks will be entered in the egg-laying contest which begins November 1, this year, and ends October 31, 1923.

During this period the fowls will be under the direct care and supervision of experts of the university, and will live under conditions calculated to make them produce the largest number of eggs possible. At the end of the period a great deal more, no doubt, will be known about the care of poultry and egg production in these islands than is known at present.

FOOD WILL BE PLENTY

For the fourth time in the history of the United States, this country will have this year a three billion bushel corn crop and an unprecedented crop of hay, exceeding the record crop of 1919 by one million three hundred thousand tons, and the second largest crop of white potatoes ever grown, and which is now forecasted at 440 million, or two million bushels less than the record crop of 1917. Sweet potatoes will probably make another record. There will be plenty of tobacco and smokes should be cheaper than they are now. The estimate for the tobacco crop is one million four hundred twenty-five thousand pounds. Fruits are generally in abundance. The wheat crop is good and the people need not fear a shortage in any food product.

Industrial conditions are better than a year ago and there will be more money in circulation; so that all who want to work may find employment, and there seems to be no good reason why this country is not coming to the winter season with one of the greatest supplies of food stuffs in its history.

Strikes are hindering progress at present, but these will probably be adjusted at an early date, and the people of this country should get thru the winter in comfort and plenty barring the fuel shortage, which will be felt keenly in some districts, and those too where fuel is most needed.

Sometimes about all that the early bird gets is hungry.

If you live right you won't have to worry about what the newspapers say about you.

If all of us got what we think we are worth the mints would have to double production to pay us.

Only the man who has gone without a smoke for a whole day can appreciate the suffering of the girl who gets down town and finds she has forgotten her powder bag.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Kapaa, Kauai, Sept. 9.—Editor Garden Island: Much as I dislike to take up an issue of such unpleasant nature, certain remarks printed in the sporting columns of your last paper regarding my umpiring in the Kauai league games have made it imperative that I explain my side of the matter thru your paper. These remarks appeared under the heading of "Lihue-Makee Notes," supposed to be edited by Mr. Charles Fern.

In reply to the statement that I made an appeal to Umpire-in-Chief Sanborn on a close decision disputed by the Lihue team, I wish to state that I never made the appeal and never intended to. Before the game, when Manager Sheldon of the Makees told me that the Lihues were going to appeal all disputed decisions made by me, I told him that they have no right to do it, and I knew of no agreement between the Lihue and Makee managers. If I had known that there was any intention of ignoring the official baseball rules, I would have refused to umpire the game, as any person, self-respecting and with some common sense, would do.

I swallowed the humiliation of the first appeal for the sake of the game, but ascended appeal by Fern immediately after that was making it too much like a kid's game, and I would have refused to officiate further if they could find another umpire who was willing to suffer under such unsportsmanlike treatment. It was a disgrace to the league and an insult to the great national game of baseball.

As to my never missing them in the pinches, may I ask Mr. Fern just when does he consider a game to be in the pinches? Will he back up his statement by citing thru your columns the instances when my decisions favored one team against another in the pinches? If he really knows when the pinches come in and answers these questions honestly, he will find that his remarks are without foundation. I have always rendered my decisions exactly as I saw the plays, which is the best you can ask of any umpire, and I am sure that a majority of the Kauai fans know that I have been honest in my conclusions. In this connection, my conscience does not bother me in the least.

In conclusion, I might say that I have both played and umpired the game in different leagues before taking up with the Kauai league, but I have never come across such poor sports as the few (only a few, I am glad to say) I have met up with on this island. If such people are allowed to pilot the affairs of this league, which I am sure the Kauai public enjoys and appreciates, it can only point to one of two results: It will either kill the sport on this island, or it will degrade it to an undisciplined and rowdy game.

Some people read and learn the official baseball rules by heart and think they are quite perfect in the knowledge of baseball; yet, when it comes to a showdown, they violate the very principles of baseball. Again, some people are inclined to judge others by themselves. Such people make themselves conspicuous on the ball field and pass out accusations that are absolutely groundless.

Thanking you in advance for the space, I am

Yours truly,
A. H. WONG.

With Safety

The outstanding feature of the market for bonds during recent months has been the heavy buying for permanent investment.

Notwithstanding that this demand has resulted in a substantial advance in prices for bonds in general, the present outlook indicates a gradual trend toward the level which prevailed some years ago, particularly as applied to issues of the better grade, which still yield a liberal return.

It is doubtful if it will be possible for several years to purchase bonds at prices which will yield the return now possible.

Makaweli Walloped by Lihue Sluggers

BOTH TEAMS HIT HARD, BUT LIHUE IS BETTER ON DEFENSIVE

Lihue and Makaweli fought it out last Sunday to see which team would climb out of the cellar and Lihue has now turned over their lease and are occupying the floor above.

Both teams hit the ball hard, Lihue pounding Wramp for fifteen bingles, while Makaweli found Okuda for twelve. Jim Burgess and Conant were the hitting stars getting four blows each while Naito and Pierra were the fielding stars both pulling off sensational catches in the field.

Makaweli was the first to score getting their first run in the first inning. With two away Conant dangled to the cabbage patch in left field and M. Yamase followed with another double down the right field foul line.

Lihue did not wait long to tie it up. Masaru was the first man up beat out a slow roller to Watase and went to second when he threw wild trying to get him. He moved on to third while Sumida was going out short to first and scored on Okuda's single to right.

The Redskins jumped into the lead in the third with one away. Hamada was safe at second when Masaru dropped his line drive after a hard run. He scored on Conant's single to center.

Lihue came back in their half of the fourth and scored three runs thru the aid of three hits. Okuda with one a way singled to center. Fujii walked but was forced at second by Pierra, Okuda going to third. Burgess singled and Okuda scored. Pierra going to third. Burgess stole second, both scored on Roke's single to left.

Makaweli piled one more in the fourth when Nakashima singled with one down and went to second while Ah Nee was going out Okuda to Lydgate and scored when K. Yamase doubled to left.

Lihue did nothing in the fifth but came back in the sixth and scored three more. Fujii the first man drove one to center that looked good for two bases but Naito made a pretty catch of it. Pierra singled to center and stole second. Burgess doubled to left center and Pierra tallied. Roke beat out an infield hit and Burgess scored when Yamase tried to pick off third as he rounded the bag and threw wild. Roke went to second the play and then stole third. Lydgate flew to left which Yamase dropped and Roke scored.

Conant opened Makaweli's half of the sixth with a triple to left and he scored when Yamase flew to Pierra in deep center. Pierra made a great running catch taking the ball over his shoulder.

Lihue went out in one, two, three order in the seventh and eighth but Makaweli was making a game effort to tie the score. In the seventh Wramp opened up the inning with a single to right. Hamada sacrificed. Watase fanned but Conant bumped over Okuda's head that Sumida failed to cover and Conant got a bingle and Wramp scored. T. Yamase was hit by a pitched ball, but Nakashima forced him at second. In the eighth Ah Nee doubled to the cabbage patch. He moved to third when Yamase was going out at first and scored when Naito dumped one in front of the plate and Burgess had to hurry his throw to get him.

Lydgate opened the ninth for Lihue by being safe on Watase's boot. He stole and scored on Robello's single to center. He stole second and he went to third when Ah Nee booted Masaru's grounder. Masaru stole second. Robello scored when Ah Nee threw late to the plate on Sumida's infield tap and Masaru scored when Nakashima threw wild trying to head him off at the plate. Sumida going to second on the play. He went to third when Okuda singled to center. Fujii went out Wramp to Yamase but Pierra scored Sumida with a fly to center, Okuda going to third. Burgess scored Okuda with a single to center, his fourth hit of the day.

Yamase singled to right in the ninth with two away but was picked off by a fast throw from Robello.

The score:

Koloa Trims Champs For the Third Time

NO OPENING FOR ALIBI, AS KOLOA OUTPLAYED THEM

Koloa's famous hoodo on the Makees demonstrated itself again last Sunday and the champs again went down to an inglorious defeat this time also by one run, the score being 6 to 5.

The tailenders of the first series with three of their regulars away outplayed the leaders in every department of the game, and the Makees had no alibi this time, as all their regulars were in the game. Costa was rather unsteady, hitting three batters and walking one to none for Cummings and Teves, but the errors of the Makees, both mechanical and mental, made up for the slight disadvantage. Nine safe bingles were registered by Koloa and eight by the Makees, not a very big margin on paper, but sufficient to make Koloa the only team in the league that can take three out of four from the champs this year.

Two sensational catches featured the game. Kondo of Koloa, running forward at full speed picked one off his shoetops that looked like a sure hit, Teves being the victim in the third inning. Morita, playing right for Makee, robbed Raymond of at least a three-bagger in the fifth when he rushed to right center and just managed to grab the liner over his head.

The Makees started things early scoring two in the first inning on two hits and an error, one in the third on two hits, and two more in the sixth on two hits, a walk and a hit batsman.

Koloa was unable to do a thing to Teves for five innings, not a runner reaching first until the sixth. Here the fireworks started, four singles and two timely errors letting in two runs, Dol and King duplicating the Alfonso and Gaston stunt of "after you, etc." in left center. The bombardment abated in the seventh, but started again in the eighth. Four hits, with Tsunehiro, Dol, and Lyons all kicking the sphere around the lot, gave Koloa the necessary margin to win.

The finish was as exciting as could be hoped for, Dol and Cummings depriving their team of at least a tie score by the worst kind of bone-head work witnessed in many moons. Dol got on thru on an error in right and stole second. Morita lined out to center, after which tried to steal third and was out a mile. Lyons hit one over Kondo's head for a two-bagger, which was wasted and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Cummings was hit in the back by Costa, took first, and stole second unmolested. For some reason known only to himself, he started for third before Costa started to pitch. Lyons tried to score when the ball was thrown to catch Cummings, but was out a mile, ending the game for Koloa's third straight victory over the Makees.

Do You Know

Sodawater has a pronounced food value?

Much time and news space has been consumed by reports of chemists telling of the capers cut in our systems by proteins and carbohydrates, whatever they are. What interests us, is a statement by an eminent food authority, conveying the information that carbonated drinks of the better kind (that is to say, LIHUE SODA) contain, per pint, practically the same food value as is contained, per pound, by carrots, beans and some other vegetables.

We don't know what carrots and beans cost per pound, but LIHUE SODA is five cents a bottle everywhere.

Stability starts with the crude

One of the most important requirements of a good motor oil is that it possess stability—that is, that it maintain its chemical composition and its lubricating body under all conditions of engine operation.

If an oil changes its chemical composition—"breaks down"—at high operating temperatures, it can no longer maintain a lubricating film between the bearing surfaces, and its value as a lubricant is destroyed.

Certain crude oils possess a higher degree of stability than others. Because of its large production of practically every type of crude, this company is free to choose for the making of Zerolene only those crudes which are particularly adapted for the purpose.

The Patented Vacuum Process

In the process of distilling and refining these selected crudes, it is of the greatest importance not to destroy their natural "oiliness" and stability. For this reason we employ our own patented high-vacuum process exclusively. By this process the oil produced—Zerolene—retains all the natural "oiliness" and stability of the original, selected crude from which it is made.

No other refiner on the Pacific Coast uses any form of vacuum distillation. No other refiner in the United States uses as high a vacuum as this company.

Zerolene of the correct grade for your car gives perfect lubrication and permits the development of maximum power, speed and gasolene mileage.

ROYAL HAWAIIAN CONTROL TAKEN BY AM. FACTORS

Voting control in the Royal Hawaiian Sales Co., Ltd., one of the largest automobile firms in Honolulu, was transferred last Wednesday to the American Factors, Ltd., and James T. Phillips, auditor of the public utilities commission of Hawaii, has been placed in charge of the business, according to the Star-Bulletin. This announcement was made by Percy A. Swift, manager of the merchandise department of the American Factors, who has been elected president of the automobile company, replacing C. W. Spitz.

All of the former officers and directors of the company, including S. S. Paxson, original promoter and who held the office of vice president and manager, tendered their resignations today, these being accepted.

The new board is composed of P. A. Swift, president; S. M. Lowrey, vice president; G. P. Wilcox, secretary; James T. Phillips, treasurer and manager, and John L. Fleming, director.

The only members of the old board retained on the new directorate are Wilcox and Fleming, whose positions have been reversed.

Dickson Nott, former treasurer, was the remaining member of the retiring board.

The capital of the Royal Hawaiian Sales company is $400,000, fully paid and will remain at that figure for the present at least.

All Agencies Retained

Swift and Phillips said that the company is retaining all of its agencies, including the Pierce-Arrow, Marmon, Cole, Stephens, Reo, Oldsmobile, Hupmobile, Chevrolet, and Moreland automobiles and trucks, and the joint agency with another local company, of Goodyear tires.

Phillips today tendered his resignation as auditor to Ralph E. Woolley, chairman of the public utilities commission, but Woolley was not prepared to state who will succeed Phillips in that office. The resignation took effect immediately and Phillips began his new duties today.

The Royal Hawaiian has branches at Hilo, Hawaii, and Waialua, Maui, and these were included in the transfer. The branches will be operated as at present for the time being, no changes being contemplated now.

Paxson, the retiring manager of the company said that he had nothing to announce regarding his future business plans.

Spitz, the retiring president of the company, made the same statement, but added that the transfer of the voting control had been satisfactorily accomplished.

The Royal Hawaiian Sales company was established in 1918.

NO TIME TO LOSE IN NAMING DELEGATES TO THE CIVIC CONVENTION

"We hope to hear that every island is naming its full quota for the civic convention—and this convention is less than three weeks off," said Ernest B. Clark, secretary of the chamber of commerce, today.

"Each island is expected to name 20 delegates which, with the representation from this island, will make a compact and representative body of citizens.

"There is no time to be lost in getting up the delegations and in making local arrangements for the convention. The dates are September 28 and 29.

New Orleans Is Preparing for Legion

THE CONVENTION HALL TO BE RIGHT DOWN ON THE LEVEE

"Meet me on the levee" will be the slogan of thousands of American Legion members who come to the Legion national convention in New Orleans, October 16 to 20. A large covered pier, nearly one thousand feet long and four hundred feet wide—astride the levee and parallel to the Father of the Waters—will be the scene of convention deliberations.

The convention committee will be able to seat fourteen hundred delegates and the visitors in the large structure. One half of the floor space will be devoted to the convention proper; the other half, separated by a partition, to telephone and telegraph booths, committee rooms, lunch and rest rooms, ticket validating offices and concession booths. The stage will set fifty persons. Immediately in front of the rostrum will be the press tables, to seat one hundred and fifty newspaper correspondents.

The interior of the building will be elaborately decorated with the flags of all allied nations and with Legion emblems and banners. Palm trees and miniature live oaks hung with the moss which flourishes only in Louisiana, will be placed about the hall. Amplifiers and magna vox equipment will be installed to guard against any trouble with acoustics. The Legion committee will spend ten thousand dollars in preparing the pier for convention use.

WANTED—COPIES OF THE AMERICAN LEGION WEEKLY

In order to complete their American Legion Weekly files, the Wisconsin department of the American Legion is making an effort to get the following copies of the weekly: September 12, November 21 and December 19, 1910; January 2, 9, 16, 23, 30, February 6, April 16, 23 and 30, 1920; May 13, August 5 and 19, and September 23, 1922.

Posts or individuals having any of these issues, will confer a favor on the Wisconsin department by sending them to the American Legion, Department of Wisconsin, Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

"Fore" and "Seven" At New Orleans

BUT THEY WILL NOT MEAN "LITTLE JOE" WITH THE FORMER

New Orleans sportsmen are preparing for lively competition at the American Legion national convention golf tournament over the New Orleans Country Club course, October 16, 17, 18 and 19. The tournament will be open to all American Legion members and members of the Legion Auxiliary.

The qualifying round will be eighteen holes, with the lowest 64 qualifying. The final round will consist of 36 holes medals play. The tournament will be divided into three competitions: Men of the Legion, women of the Legion, and women of the American Legion Auxiliary. Medals and trophies will be awarded winners and runners-up in each event.

Nelson M. Whitney, a member of the American team at the Olympic games and former golf champion of the South will be in charge of the Legion tournament.

LEGIIONNAIRE AS PIG HUNTER

One of the local Legionnaires went pig hunting at Kokee last week. We asked for details of his adventure but they were not forthcoming and the following account is by the senator who was a spectator.

"The dogs flushed up a pig in that open plateau just off the Kalalau trail. He was a little fellow—too small to shoot and I called to Henderson to catch him. Henderson got off his horse and proceeded to remove his coat. I didn't know what this was for unless he expected a long, hot chase. Holding the coat above his head like he was trying to catch butterflies, he rushed madly after the pig, and then flop. The coat always marked the spot where the pig had been. The pig finally became exhausted and lay down. When I got up to them Henderson had the pig in one arm and was talking some kind of foreign lingo. "Look," he said, exhibiting several crawling things in the palm of his hand, "they're real French cooties and understand every word I say. The pig's full of 'em."

INFORMATION WANTED

Tuxedo Balthis would like to get some authoritative information on the time required to raise a mustache. He says that the new fall styles are going to be fuzzy felt hats and it would be nice to have a mustache to match.

TRAGEDY OF THE GOLF COURSE

Last week one of the prize cows of the Lihue herd was found dead in the pasture adjoining the golf course. Dr. Golding was called in and after holding a post-mortem he denied the rumor that the cow had been killed by the impact of a golf ball. Doc says the cow died of hemorrhage—from excessive laughing. Engelhard and Baggott played a twosome that morning.

WHAT GERMANY IS DOING FOR HER DISABLED VETERANS

Returned tourists from Germany visiting the American Legion headquarters here tell of a nation sunk low economically—a nation paying in part the penalty of an unjust war—BUT CARING FOR HER SONS WHO FOUGHT. These visitors praise the speedy effort put forth by the German government in caring for the dependents of her dead and disabled, and in rehabilitating the wounded for gainful occupations. Most of those who have come closely in contact with the work done by the German government loyally aided by the public along these lines declare they marvelled at the expedition with which the nation undertook the big task and how successful it has carried it out, in view of the severely depleted national treasury and the lack of facilities. Without drawing odious comparisons, they inquire closely into what our own country has done since the great war ended and the problem presented itself.

A. A. Sprague, chairman of the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion, in a recent letter to Brig. Gen. C. E. Sawyer, personal physician of President Harding and chief co-ordinator in charge of the plans for the treatment and care of disabled American veterans, accused the general of seriously delaying and interfering with a hospitalization program already agreed upon and ordered by congress.

The American Legion declares more than four thousand five hundred mental cases are still confined in contract institutions unfit for their care, and of the remaining 4,715 victims of mental disorders due to the war, only 3,500 are in government institutions devoted entirely to their care.

Hardly had Germany's millions of disabled been returned to their homes, those who have studied the work there say, before the government began paying out of its scanty treasury money to the wounded and the dependents of the dead, at the same time starting the disabled in vocational training—often carried on by those who had not been wounded. But that is not all.

Realizing that the disabled men and widows of soldiers cannot live solely on the compensation grants, Germany some time ago set about to get jobs for every wounded man, not totally disabled. The infinite amount of work involved in getting placed in the hands of a patriotic organization headed by Joachim von Winterfeldt, land director of the province of Brandenburg.

Von Winterfeldt, in the early days of the war, perfected an organization for Brandenburg which has now been copied by every province in Germany. In each province, the organization is so complete that no badly wounded soldier has to go far to report his case and make known his needs. After local headquarters has considered the case of the disabled man, he is sent to Berlin where a full record of his life and needs is made. After a thorough examination the employment director takes charge of the disabled man, finding out the type of work for which he is best suited and obtaining a job for him as near the disabled man's home as possible.

Germany has hit upon a scheme by which German manufacturers, who may have profited by the war are made to help support disabled soldiers. A law has been enacted, whereby every business which employs more than twenty persons must give employment in two per cent of its jobs to badly wounded soldiers.

The duration of the soldier's job depends upon his giving satisfaction but it is said that German employers have not been drastic and the disabled men are making good. Disabled men are given virtually the same salaries as the men who are normal.

In Brandenburg there are fifty-two regional offices outside of Berlin. These offices have taken care of more than fifty-four thousand soldiers, thirteen thousand of whom were classified as badly wounded. Of this number, all but six hundred are at work.

German manufacturers, showing that they were eager to make the disabled man's lot as easy as possible, have installed special machinery in their factories for blind men and men with only one arm or one leg. At these machines the disabled men are able to turn out as much work as normal men.

A TRIP TO NEW ORLEANS FOR A HONEYMOON?

National conventions and honeymoons are seldom taken together, but the American Legion national convention is face to face with the problem of creating a Gretta Green for a number of Legion men who attend the national gathering in New Orleans October 16 to 20 inclusive.

The problem arose with the receipt of a letter from a Legion member in Brockett, North Dakota, asking for information in regard to the holding of marriages during the convention.

"Can a marriage take place under the auspices of the American Legion at the convention in New Orleans this year or not?" the North Dakota doughboy queries. "If so, I'd like to know full details about everything like dress to be worn, where to get the license; also what time to be there."

During the Legion convention in Kansas City last year, twenty couples were married in convention hall by the Legion national chaplain. The Kansas City committee paid for the licenses and local merchants provided wedding rings and the numerous presents.

"We had not considered duplicating the Kansas City Free marriage offer this year," T. Semmes Wamsley, convention chairman, has stated. "However, the Legion is rather partial to the institution of matrimony and our committee will assist those comrades aspiring to that estate with all the facilities at our disposal."

You Can Take Your Pick of Bunks at New Orleans

EVERY THING FROM BARRACKS TO PULLMANS, TO BE USED

Every man to his own taste in "bunks," says V. A. W. Steger, chairman of the housing committee of the American Legion national convention, to be held in New Orleans next October. Convention visitors will be housed in a variety of ways.

While the bulk of the crowd will choose the hotels and rooms in New Orleans homes, there will be an opportunity for a substantial percentage to remain on the Pullman cars and the steamboats and ocean liners which bring them to the convention city.

Mr. Steger has obtained a hotel rate of $50 a day without bath and $25.00 a day with a bath. More than fourteen thousand visitors can be housed in the Pullman cities which will be provided with all conveniences of a modern hotel. A special arrangement with railroads will enable the convention guest to live in his Pullman car for about $2 a day and a uniformly low rate will also prevail in New Orleans rooms.

Those doughboys who prefer to return to the barracks life for five days may be quartered in New Orleans' fifteen million dollar army supply base and in various halls and lodge rooms.

Reservations for rooms, Mr. Steger has announced, must be made thru the American Legion's state adjutant, who will confirm them with the convention on housing committee.

NOT AFTER A RECORD

Our busy adjutant denied the fact that he was out to establish the traveling record among local Legionnaires. However, he says he is going to see if the Inter-Island will sell him a mileage book. He goes to town tomorrow to attend the department convention. This makes his fourth trip to the capital city this year.

His trip down last week was to meet his wife who returned from the coast on the Lurline. Mrs. Lane says she is so glad to be back on Kauai again that she will not want a car this year nor will she want to leave the Garden Island for the next five years at least.

Campaign Hint

Why do not candidates for high public office hire wholesale florists as their campaign managers? The trouble with most political booms is that they reach their peak soon and peter out sadly by primary or convention day. A florist in control would prevent that. Used to forcing Easter lilies so that they will bloom at Easter, or hold them back so that they will not bloom before, raising a "favorite son" under glass so that he bloomed at just the right moment in the year would be a cinch for him. Congressmen up for re-election this fall will do well to give this their attention.—Arthur Folwell in Judge.

Medal of Honor Men To be Legion's Guests

TWENTY-TWO HAVE ACCEPTED LEGION'S INVITATION TO NEW ORLEANS

When the members of the American Legion gather in New Orleans next October for their annual national convention they will mingle with the greatest heroes of the world war. Convention officials have announced that all wearers of the congressional medal of honor, the highest American decoration for bravery, have been invited as distinguished guests to the convention and that twenty-two heroes have already accepted the invitation.

The medal of honor men will receive all honors accorded to the most distinguished guests during the five days of the convention. Their expenses to the convention and return will be paid by the Legion. They will be housed in the best hotels and will review the convention parade in the stand reserved for distinguished guests.

Only combat soldiers can receive the medal of honor and it is not granted for ordinary bravery displayed in "sticking it out" thru a heavy barrage or the storming of an enemy trench. The soldier who obtains this honor is cited "for conspicuous gallantry above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy." Thousands of American soldiers performed feats of heroism which would have won the highest medals from any other allied power, but the American congressional medal is reserved for super-heroes.

Medal of honor men who have accepted the convention invitation include all ranks from "buck private" to first lieutenant. There are five privates, four corporals, ten sergeants and three lieutenants, and their homes are in all parts of the country.

The honor men who have accepted the New Orleans invitation to date follow:

- Sydney G. Gumperts, New York; Clayton K. Slack, Colon, Michigan; Richmond H. Hilton, Westville, S.C.; Edward R. Talley, Appalachia, Va.; Ralyn Hill, Oregon, Illinois; Harold A. Furlong, Ann Arbor, Michigan; Alan L. Eggers, New York; John L. Barkley, Blairstown, Mo.; Gately E. Foster, Inman, S. C.; Philip C. Katz, San Francisco; John C. Villepique, S. C.; H. Waldo Hatler, Neosho, Mo.; James C. Dozier, Rock Hill, S. C.; Thomas C. Nelbaur, Logan, Utah; Arthur J. Forrest, Hannibal, Mo.; George S. Robb, Salina, Kans.; Thomas A. Pope, Chicago; Samuel Woodfill, Fort Thomas, Ky.; Willie Sandlin, Lawrenceburg, Ky.; Frank J. Bart, West Hoboken, N.J.; Archie A. Peck, Rochester, N. Y.; Joseph B. Adkinson, Memphis, Tenn.

FIFTEEN YEARS EXPERIENCE IN SETTLING AND MANAGING ESTATES

Hi Y Officers and Leaders Confer

The officers and leaders of the four Hi-Y Clubs of the county, spent Saturday and Sunday together at the beach cottage of Dr. A. H. Waterhouse, Koloa, discussing and outlining plans and programs for the coming season. Problems relating to the most effective promotion of the Hi-Y work in its bearing upon individual and school life were given earnest consideration and ways and means for enlarging the scope and influence were formulated.

Principal J. F. Dollinger challenged the club representatives to strive for the highest attainments in the school and community life. "The fellow with a high purpose, education, and good character is bound to succeed," Mr. Dollinger stated. "I notice," he added, "that the fellows who are interested in the Hi-Y Club are the leaders of the school and the ones that can be most depended upon."

William Crawford, leader of the Lihue Hi-Y Club, illustrated two of the central purposes of Hi-Y work, service and example, by personal experiences of the air services during the world war. Mr. Vance, the new athletic coach, related a number of amusing incidents which had occurred while he was teaching school in the mountain regions of Kentucky. He contrasted the conditions of the two communities in that section, one in which the church and other Christian influences had been established, and the other where they had not. He said it was the most convincing proof to him of the value of Christianity in individual and collective life.

Secretary Locke led a discussion in "Principles in Solving Problems." The discussion showed that there are certain elements that apply to every problem a fellow faces and that certain principles can be applied to every problem in finding its solution. A survey of the Bible showed it to be a record of those who had met and solved life's problems. A little closer examination showed that the teachings of Christ supplied the certain elements and principles to solve the problems of every-day living.

The delegates attended in body the Kola Union church Sunday morning.

After a satisfying dinner and the report of the resolutions committee Dr. A. H. Waterhouse, chairman of the county Y. M. C. A. committee, in a few closing remarks encouraged the officers to take back and put into practice in their various clubs the helpful suggestions presented during the conference.

Those attending were: Isaac Brandt, Toraiichi, Yamada, Yoshizo Yamagata—Koloa; Isukasa Miyake, Shigeiyoshi Matsumoto, of Waimea; Hirafumi Ota, Yutaka Tsunehiro, Edward Morgan, of Kapaa; Tsutomu Nitta, Fusao Tanabe, Goichi Kawahara, Gichi Nitta, of Lihue Dormitory; Percy Lydgate, William Moragne, Frank Thomas, of Lihue; Mosera, Dollinger, Jackson, Vance, Watada, and Locke, of Lihue; Rev. Moses Moku, of Waimea; Rev. Wakai, of Kapaa; Dr. A. H. Waterhouse, of Koloa.

HAWAIIAN BORN JAPANESE YOUNG PEOPLE

A splendid gathering of more than one hundred of the Hawaiian born Japanese young people assembled at the Memorial Parish house last Friday night where one of the best social occasions of the season were enjoyed. Recently a census has been taken which reveals the fact that there are about two hundred of these young people, from sixteen years up, in the Lihue district. After a rousing and rollicking good time had been enjoyed for the first part of the evening, then a brief business session was held, which was presided over by R. W. Bayless. During this period the object of the gathering was stated, which met with the immediate and enthusiastic approval of all present.

The following officers were elected: President, Chas. S. Ishi; vice-president, Miss Shin Toketa; secretary, Miss Minie Fukushima; treasurer, Mrs. Saki Otani.

This cabinet will appoint a membership committee in each locality. Similar gatherings will be held during the coming fall and winter, when the social life will be promoted, and the general problems relating to this class will be discussed. Some good speakers are already engaged.

ROSALIE KELHINO'S CORNER

The League of Women Voters passed resolutions last week at Honolulu to work for increased appropriations for the care of the feeble minded, and to provide more food for children who are under-nourished. They will support those candidates who will pledge their word to help these causes.

Just like women, isn't it? They sense the need of the unfortunate in our midst, and their sympathy is quickly aroused. They get out and call for help. While men are thinking of taxation, roads, waterworks, school houses, etc., the women are thinking of the feeble minded, the under-nourished and under-fed children, and everything else pertaining to the home and the future of the children. More power to you, my sisters. I will be with you in this fight, for it also concerns the welfare of the nation. Who will help? A vote for me will help toward the realization of this effort of the women on behalf of the children.

We will have another chat next week. Aloha.

ROSALIE KELHINO.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination on the Republican ticket for member of the Territorial House of Representatives from the Sixth Representative District, subject to the will of the voters of that District as expressed at the primary election.

Overseas Vet Found In Pitiabile State

WERE YOU THIS MAN'S BUDDY? THE AMERICAN LEGION WANTS TO KNOW. He is lost in the port of missing men and needs care in a government hospital.

Remembering only that he is part Indian, that he was hurt and half buried by a shell explosion in the front trenches in France, that his brothers or half-brothers were killed, a world war veteran with a paralyzed brain was saved from self destruction near Pawnee, Oklahoma one year ago this August.

"Some one told me it did not take long or did not hurt much to drown yourself, so I am going to get in the Arkansas river," he explained when prevented in the act, and taken to Pawnee.

Since that time efforts have been made in vain to have his identity established by the government. The case has now been referred to the American Legion to assist in proving his claim and have him placed in a government hospital.

(In rough figures there are forty thousands claims pending in the Veterans' Bureau. The bureau's figures of the total number of unoccupied beds, July 8, 1922, was 9349, the figures apply to cases of all kinds. The bureau also reports "Total unoccupied beds cannot be interpreted to mean that all are available on account of hospitals and geographic location.")

When found the man weighed 87 1/2 pounds, was half starved and without sufficient clothing, even for August. He said he could not work and no one would feed him. He could not remember his name but thought it was either Arthur Green Littlefield, or Arthur L. Green, or Arthur Lopez. He said his relative's name was Ray L. Green.

Ray L. Green, described as "private, machine gun company, 308th infantry," was killed in France October 12, 1918.

The Pawnee man remembers enough of the trenches to convince all overseas boys that he was in the first line. His whole left side is paralyzed. A Pawnee doctor says his brain is partly numb accounting for the man's inability to clear his record. He thinks he enlisted in Arkansas City, Kans., May 10, 1918, and that another man signed his name because he could not read nor write. He says his organization was Company D, 11th machine gun battalion, 135th division, and that he was a private first class, but reports to Pawnee declare that the adjutant general's office has never been able find any trace of his record.

Three sets of finger prints have been made. One has been sent to the adjutant general's office, and two sets to the Fourteenth district office, Dallas, Texas, with no result in two months.

An affidavit from Fred McLaughlin, private, 353rd infantry, 89th division, whose present address is Wellington, Kansas, affirms that the man was discharged from the same casual company at Camp Dodge, Ia., March 29, 1919. He was known only as "Chief," part Sioux Indian. The Sioux agency records show no one by the name given.

Insurance payments of $10,000 for the death of Ray L. Green, which had been going to a Sims, Ill., man, supposed to be a grandfather, has been stopped by the war department pending identification of the Oklahoma man, on the possibility that he is Ray. Letters to the Sims, Ill., man, are unanswered, and the postmaster is quoted as saying that the recipient of the letters denied he is a relative of Arthur Green Littlefield.

The man of mystery is dark complexioned, has dark, brown eyes, black straight hair, now weighs 150 pounds, is 5 feet 1-4 inch tall, is quick of movement except for the paralyzed side, and has alert snappy eyes.

DISABLED MEN WIN POSTER PRIZES

Only a few of the hundreds of thousands of people who have seen the cover designs on two of the recent issues of the American Legion Weekly, official publication of the American Legion, knew one of these designs was painted by a veteran totally deaf and the other by a veteran whose left arm hangs limp at his side as a result of world war experiences.

These two men are members of the Society of Illustrators' school for Disabled Veterans. E. J. Behar, though a school teacher before the war and stricken deaf while with the artillery in France, won the first prize in a cover design contest conducted by the weekly. The second prize was former by a former farmer, V. R. Pyles, whose left arm is paralyzed as a result of a wound by a machine gun bullet. Behar's cover appeared on the weekly issue of June 30th and Pyles' came out on the July 7th issue. The judges in the magazine cover contest were three of the country's most famous illustrators, Charles Dana Gibson, Orson Lowell and Edward Penfield.

The Society of Illustrators' school is under the supervision of the U. S. Veterans Bureau. Members of the society are the school's instructors. The disabled veterans who followed a variety of trades before the war, were given an opportunity to take art courses thru the efforts of W.A. Rogers, internationally known illustrator, and Charles B. Fall, who were interested in the rehabilitation of service men.

TIP TOP-ICS

"PARISH PRIEST" MOST LOVED OF PLAYS AT THE TIP TOP

The elaborate screen version of "The Parish Priest," famous stage success, will be presented at the Tip Top theater Sunday. It is an appealing story of a village clergyman who is big enough in personality and character to hear and heal all the troubles of his parishioners, young and old, lovers and wife beaters, and start them all anew on the road to happiness.

"The Parish Priest" abounds in humor, romance and pathos, in agreeable portions and sustains a keen interest throughout. While an Irish atmosphere prevails it is entirely non-sectarian and in no way deals with any question of nationality or creed.

William Desmond as the young clergyman, has been given his greatest role to date. His winsome personality and fine physique fit well Ruth Renick is admirable as the principal feminine lead.

"The Parish Priest" is an old play with human people in a simple, charming story so well done it is a relief from the riotous type of picture. It stands with a small group at the top of recent melo-dramatic offerings.

While the stage version of this feature has been elaborated, and much more can be added to carry out the continuity of the story, there has been no detractor from the original plot.

Technically, the picture is well done, especially the photography, which ranks with anything shown here recently.

Fairbanks Coming in "The Three Musketeers"

Predictions are being made that the screening of Alexander Duma's immortal story, "The Three Musketeers," by Douglas Fairbanks will stand forth in motion picture history as an epochal event and that it will popularize for all time the costume photoplay.

Productions of this sort, even when based on the fictional writings of such masters as Dumas, have always been considered to be in the "danger zone" because it has never been established beyond question that the American public would receive the costume play with the same enthusiasm that has been accorded features more modern in locale and setting.

It has always been Fairbanks' contention, however, that any story sufficiently powerful and gripping in drama is bound to succeed.

"A popular picture nowadays," said the star, "must be logical; it must have comedy and pathos, but above all it must be human. Any story that is human will succeed regardless of whether the players wear wig and short pants or are garbed in pajamas. Drama was the same in the 17th century as it is today. This may be the gasoline age of civilization, but it hasn't altered human emotions appreciably. People will laugh and cry and give vent to anger. And they are still inordinately curious. In fact, we progress because we are curious. People of today wonder if in the olden days kings and queens and dukes and lords were swayed by the same passions and emotions that now rule humanity. To satisfy in a measure this curiosity we have made a celluloid reproduction of "The Three Musketeers," and we have crammed into it everything that is dramatic, instructive, human, amusing and entertaining. We have tried to twang every emotion in the human system just as D'Artagnan did in his memoirs and as Dumas did in his great novel.

The best talent procurable has been called upon to help transcribe this great story to the aluminum sheet. Edward Knoblock, one of the greatest contemporary playwrights, is responsible for adaptation, research and costumes, while to Fred Niblo goes the honor of directing the piece. Niblo, a born adventurer has won distinction as a master in directing the destinies of this type of play; he is said to have no peer.

OLSEN CATCHES SHARK AT HAENA

Last week, Mr. Olsen of Lihue, and Mr. Christian of Hanamaulu, caught a six foot shark in the breakers at Haena. The place was near the lalaha grove on the Lihue side of the Rice's beach house. Mr. Olsen said they were at the beach house when a native called their attention to a shark in the breakers a few feet from shore.

A small dead hammer nose shark was in the shallow water which seemed to be the attraction for the big shark. A hook was baited and thrown out. The shark took this and broke the line. After securing another line, reinforced with wire, they succeeded in landing the shark but not until he had taken the bait three times. Mr. Olsen believes that the shark's persistence was due to the fact that he was very hungry. Some of the natives who were present stated that he was not of the man-eating variety.

The Olsens and the Christians who have been spending the past week at Haena report excellent weather and nothing to mar their trip. Aside from catching the shark the only other exciting event was in the middle of one night when a piece of burning mosquito punk ignited a celluloid comb, causing a flare and dull explosion that woke the household.

Arthur Edeson, rated as a genuine lens artist, is credited with the photography and is said to have achieved some effects which hitherto have been considered impossible.

In the face of the business readjustment that the country has been facing, Fairbanks has spent more money on this production than on any picture he has ever undertaken, all because he has confidence in the vehicle and in the amusement seeking public. "The Three Musketeers" is said to be the greatest picture of its kind ever made. It is ten reels in length and cost a million dollars. United Artists Corporation is releasing the film.

Arrangements have been made for the showing of this feature in Lihue at the Tip Top theater where it will be the main attraction October 6th and 7th.

Give your friend a nice magazine for Christmas. Send your order to the K. C. Hopper News Agency, Lihue. Phone 22-L.—Adv.
