NEW BOND ISSUE IS BOOMED

Treasury Order Just Secured Means Thousands for Territory

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—D. Lloyd Conkling, treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii, who is here in the interests of the Territory's next bond issue, has secured a treasury order permitting the acceptance of the new bonds as security for postal savings deposits, at a market value not exceeding par.

C. S. ALBERT.

The above cable means that Hawaii has gained a big point in the new bond issue; that the Territory's revenue from the bond sale will be much larger than had been anticipated and that the sale will be greatly facilitated by the modification.

Asked for interpretation of the cable Governor Frear said this morning:

"Conkling arrived in New York Friday, and this morning I received his cable that the territorial bonds will be accepted at the market value, not exceeding par. Heretofore the Hawaiian bonds have been accepted by the Treasury Department as security for deposits of public moneys in the national banks at 90 per cent of their par value.

"We desired last year—as we have this year—to get them accepted at par, but did not succeed. The Treasury Department merely granting the former privilege of 90 per cent.

"When I was in Washington I was unable to see the secretary of the treasury personally, on account of his absence from the city, and I left this portion of the business in the hands of the Secretary of the Interior. It was intimated, however, that no further privileges could be obtained than those granted last year.

Asked for modification.

"Before leaving Chicago on my homeward trip, and after consulting with past and prospective bond purchasers, I wrote again to the Secretary of the Interior suggesting the modification, that is, that the bonds

JURY PROBING R. R. ACCIDENT

PERELSTROUS GOES TO GERMANY

A. W. Perelstros, head of the International Immigration and Colonization Company, in which F. B. McStocker, W. H. Hoogs and other Hawaiian businessmen are interested, is a through passenger on the Shinyo Maru. He is feeling so ill that he has given up work temporarily and will go to Germany for his health. He says the colonization of Russians in Australia is very large and his company plans important extensions to its work.

COSSACK RIDE ORDERED FOR U.S. OFFICERS

Cavalry- and the Artillerymen Must Gallop Like Steeplechase Jockeys

PRIVATES LOOK FORWARD TO SEEING REAL SPORT

Riders Must Go Over Jumps and Cover Three Miles in 11 Minutes

If you were an army officer in the mounted service—not a dare-devil, polo-playing, hard-riding, subaltern but a captain, major or colonel, weighty of opinion and avordupois—and you were suddenly ordered to become a steeplechase jockey, wouldn't it JAF you? Assuredly, and therefore it's small wonder that some score or more officers of the Cavalry and Field Artillery at Schofield Barracks are jarred to their very teeth because the paternal government wants to make howling Cossacks of them.

The recent War Department order for what is known as the "Cossack ride," is responsible for having "started something," to use the vernacular. It provides that every commander of mounted troops shall lead his officers up hill and down dale, over fences and ditches, covering three miles of this sort of country in not more than 11 minutes, this merry little joy ride to take place annually, including the present calendar year.

Officers not finishing within 15 seconds of the time limit will get their names in the official reports, and a letter from Washington asking them "for why?" will probably arrive about the same time that they are discharged from the hospital. Also, officers not riding their own mounts will be duly docketed in the dub class.

Colonels Are Favorites.
Our at Schofield the order is heartily endorsed—by the enlisted men. The Grand National looks like a race for selling platters to them, compared to this event in which the high moguls are to provide the fun, and there are several privates and non-coms with sporting blood in their veins, who are already making a book on the result.

T. Tanaka Comes But Not As Was Expected, Consul

Says Appointment of Successor to Mr. Uyeno Not Decided

Hon. Tokichi Tanaka has not been sent here as Japanese consul general for Hawaii to succeed S. Uyeno. This was made certain this morning by Mr. Tanaka himself on his arrival by the Shinyo Maru.

He has come for a tour of only two or three weeks, after which he will return to Japan, he said, but there seems to be a possibility that he may yet be named consul here. The appointment is still undecided by the Japanese government.

Mr. Tanaka was greeted upon his arrival this morning by a large number of prominent Japanese, and the scene on the Shinyo's deck for a few minutes was like an informal reception. He was here ten years ago as vice consul and still numbers his friends here by the score.

Eleve Consul Mori headed the little group that gathered at Alakea dock to welcome the consul and several prominent Japanese newspaper men were also present.

"I am here partly on pleasure and partly to look over the field," said Mr. Tanaka to the Star-Bulletin. "The appointment of a consul is still undecided."

Asked if there was any possibility that he himself would be named, he smiled and indicated that there is a possibility of such a result.

He will be the guest of the Mochizuki Club during his stay here. Mr. Mori said this morning that no elaborate functions had been planned for the visitor, as Mr. Tanaka's desire is for a rather quiet visit.

Mr. Tanaka, although a young man, has made a record for himself in the consular service. He was stationed in Seattle some years ago at a particularly critical period in Japanese and American relations, and acquitted himself with credit.

A trip of inspection around the Islands will probably be made during his stay here.

COTTAGERS FLEE TO STREET

Residents Move Goods and Chattels—No Insurance on Loss

Fire which originated in the paint shop of the boat yard owned by Chas. D. Walker between King and Hotel streets, near Alapai utterly destroyed the plant, valued at $10,000 at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The only insurance carried was on a boat Walker was building for the Puuene Boat Club and this boat was the only thing saved.

The flames for a time threatened to spread into the Japanese settlement adjoining and the inmates of these cottages hastened to move their goods and chattels into the street. Their example was followed by those living across the street, and on the makai side. At 2:30 o'clock the fire was under control with the further loss of one cottage occupied by Japanese.

Walker Discovers Fire.
According to Walker, he first saw the flames, while engaged in moving his household effects into one of the five cottages which he owns across the street from the yard. "I saw a thin curl of smoke coming from the paint shop," he said, "and hurried over. I found a small blaze which I thought I could put out with a bucket of water, but when I attempted to get it, there was not enough pressure to fill the bucket. Then I sent in an alarm for the fire department which was slow in arriving, according to my judgment. At any rate when they did arrive, the three buildings in the boat yard were doomed and everything else was destroyed, save a boat I was building for a boat club and which was the only thing on which I had insurance. I estimate my loss at $10,000."

Chief Thurston said that the fire had gained great headway before the box alarm was turned in. "We could see the smoke and flames as we left the station in the auto," he said. "It was one of those quick fires which burn up everything in sight in a few moments. Everything out there was dry as tinder and it is lucky it was not worse."

The block in which the fire occurred is owned by the Rev. Parker although the improvements, in the case of Walker, were his own.

Marston Campbell, Jr., son of the Superintendent of Public Works, proved himself as much at home amidst fire as at different times before he had done in water. Early in the fight he climbed upon the roof of a threatened cottage with a nozzle and did very effective work in beating back the flames, despite the volume of acrid smoke and intense heat waves driven by the wind directly upon him.

Tropical Trees Burn.
Some magnificent tropical trees were right in the focus of the raging furnace made by the blazing sheds and lumber. A really pretty sight, if sad, was the blazing of the bushy head of a date palm, which gave the appearance of a huge torch.

The house of William H. Groat, fronting on King street at the corner of the lane leading to the boatworks, was in danger for a time and all of its contents were removed to the lanes on the opposite corner of the lane. Also the next house toward Waikiki occupied by a Japanese family was in the line of the wind-driven cinders. Both were saved only by copious drenching of the roofs.

In the block on fire were five houses, belonging to Rev. H. H. Parker, all of which were in great danger.

The Pacific fleet, or what's left of it, will reach Honolulu about August 1, homeward-bound, and for five or six days officers and men will have a chance to say adieu to Honolulu friends. A few months ago the cruisers were looked on as almost fixtures of the waterfront and many "a lass that loved a sailor" will be on the dock when the big gray fighting machines come into the harbor. It will be only a passing visit, however, for Admiral Sowerland's command is due at Bremerton August 12.

The fleet now consists of the flagship California, which will always be remembered here as the first warship to enter Pearl Harbor; the cruiser South Dakota and the supply ship Glacier. Admiral Sowerland still flies his flag from the California, but her commander is now Captain A. F. Halstead, who was captain of the West Virginia when she was flagship of the second division.

Captain Bennett has the South Dakota and Lieutenant Commander Douglas the Glacier. There have been so many transfers and detachments in the fleet, however, that "the old crowd" on all the ships has been broken up.

Late news of the fleet's movements is brought by Lieutenant Commander Zeno Briggs, formerly first lieutenant of the California, who is a passenger on the Shinyo Maru, homeward bound on three months' leave. He says that

Children of Dr. Sun Visit Land of Birth

Son and Daughters of China's First President Here on Way to School

A series of elaborate fetes and entertainments are prepared for the reception of Sun Fo, and Misses Sun On and Sun Yuen, son and daughters of Dr. Sun Yat Sen the Chinese patriot, who born and raised in the Territory of Hawaii, returned to Honolulu this morning for only a brief visit, as passengers in the Japanese liner Shinyo Maru.

A big delegation of Chinese prominent in business and official life of the islands gathered at Alakea wharf, and there waited several hours pending the appearance of the distinguished family of a political favorite of the Chinese people of these islands.

News of their expected arrival was sent to this city through wireless some days ago and immediately following the receipt of the information plans were laid for giving the young people a rousing greeting upon their homecoming to Hawaii.

The prediction is made in local Chinese circles that the return of the three children of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, to the coast also presages the reappearance of Dr. Sun Yat Sen upon the scene of his early career.

Model Tenements Suggested By Breckons As Uplift Work

Believes Philanthropists Could Settle Vexing Problem with Such Buildings.

"Model Tenements for Honolulu" is a new suggestion by Robert W. Breckons, in connection with the frequently recurring discussion of the tenement problem of this city.

Some of the present tenements are to pass out of existence, according to statements made by representatives of the Bishop Estate, which owns several; at the same time Land Commissioner Joshua Tucker is worrying over a hint that large interests contemplate the erection of others in the Punchbowl district, where the Territory recently awarded homes to the Portuguese residing on the land.

Could Settle Problem.
"For its size," says Attorney Breckons, "Honolulu probably has more philanthropists who contribute magnificent sums than any other city in the United States. It seems to me they could virtually settle the tenement problem and at the same time institute a great practical philanthropy by building model tenements, renting them at a very nominal charge and make residence in them so desirable that a certain enviable distinction would be held by those fortunate enough to obtain homes in the structures.

"The philanthropists could invest, say $100,000, in a tenement, making it modern in every way, and almost as desirable as any private home in the city; practically all of the revenue from rentals to be turned back into improvements, repairs, etc. The owners would then be able to enforce rules on the inhabitants that would prove a great uplift, physically, financially and morally, and thus would become great factors in the development of the city.

"This is so practical that philanthropists in New York City are making use of it, and have even found that after making a very low rental, with high moral rules for inhabitants, they are able to derive a small revenue above the cost of maintenance. This revenue perhaps is not equal to the interest on the money invested, but the difference is the owners' contribution, as philanthropists, to humanity. It is a practical philanthropy, and certainly believe it would work just as well here."

OLYMPIC HONORS TODAY DIVIDED

America gets all-around championship—Finland begins to show strongly—Australia captures relay swim

[Associated Press Cable]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 15.—Honors were divided today in the Olympic events, a number of countries showing up well and helping to hold America's score down.

In the 1600-meter relay race, each country entering four men and each man running 400 meters, America's team came in winners, with France second and England third.

In the hop, step and jump, in which America had hoped for second or third place at least, Sweden won a surprise by carrying off all three places. James Thorpe, the great all-around Carlisle Indian athlete, member of the American team, won the decathlon, consisting of ten events, including jumping, running and weight-throwing. Sweden's entries won second and third.

One of the interesting events was the 400-meter relay swim for women, each woman of four on the team swimming 100 meters. England was first in this, with Austria second. America had to take second in the 800-meter swimming relay race for men, in which four men swam 200 meters each. Australia, America and England finished in the order named.

Finland won the lightweight wrestling, with Sweden second and third, while in the featherweight wrestling Finland won first and second, and Germany third.

In the 8000-meter cross-country run, Finland again triumphed, with Swedish runners taking second and third.

Whether Duke Kahanamoku of Honolulu was a member of the 800-meter relay swimming team is not told in the Associated Press dispatch, but the chances are that he was not.

BEACH HOME FOR DUKE SUGGESTED

With the fund for Duke Kahanamoku rolling along in good shape, suggestions are being received as to where the proposed house and lot should be located.

One prominent enthusiast for amateur sport suggested this morning that Duke should be given a house and lot out near the beach, so that he can keep up his advertising of Hawaii by his presence out where the tourists will be looking for him and for other Hawaiian swimmers.

It is not proposed to buy an elaborate home for Kahanamoku. The idea as explained by the two people who first started the fund is to give him a modest home, one that will mean a substantial gift, but not one that will strain Hawaii's generosity. For this reason there should be no necessity of pleading for donations, and from the heavy way in which the public began to respond, appeals will not be necessary.

In addition to the donations received by the Star-Bulletin, the Advertiser has received subscriptions as follows, which will be turned into the fund:

James Austin Wilder $ 4

Woodrow Wilson enthusiasts at University Club 16

NO WORD YET FROM YACHTS

Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon no word had been received as to the result of the match race between the Hawaii and Lurline, that had Hilo as its objective point.

The yachts got away shortly after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with a stiff breeze that gradually stiffened, favoring the local schooner. The Molliou, with her owner "Drydock" Smith, Fred Fredericks and Al Hartman on board, followed the racers until midnight Saturday, when the Hawaii was ten miles in the lead, and considerably to windward of the San Diego boat.

This news is a pleasant surprise to local yachtsmen, who figured that in anything but half a gale the larger yacht would be at considerable advantage.

The yachts were expected to reach Hilo some time this morning.

SHINYO MARU OMITTED CALL AT PLAGUE INFESTED FORMOSAN PORT

Plague of virulent type, raged at several ports on the island of Formosa and in consequence of the alarming reports received by the Federal quarantine authorities at the port of Honolulu much concern was manifested in the arrival of the Japanese liner Shinyo Maru from the orient, this morning.

Tea is being shipped in great quantities from Formosa at this season of the year.

Much to the relief of the staff of medical officers, who boarded the Shinyo at the quarantine anchorage, at an early hour this morning, it was learned that the Formosan tea port at Keelung had been omitted on the voyage of the big Japanese liner, and instead the Shinyo Maru had substituted Chumida, Japan instead.

According to information received here with the arrival of the liner over two hundred cases of plague were reported in one small district on Formosa, the officers stated this morning that out of this number one hundred and sixty proved fatal. The statement is freely made that the epidemic is not yet under complete control by the Japanese health authorities.

The export of tea is a big item in the commerce of Formosa with the coast of Asia as well as the United States and Europe. That infection should make its appearance just at this time, located upon in the light of a distinct calamity.

One of the largest lists of Asiatic passengers carried by the Shinyo since going into the Trans-Pacific service was found on board that liner when boarded by Immigration officials at this port. On the 208 Filipinos for Hawaii, 168 are men, 19 women and 21 children. In addition to Filipinos, 136 Japanese, 14 Chinese, and 43 Russian steerage passengers arrived for this port.

In the cabin, 11 travelers left the vessel at Honolulu. Twelve second class passengers also are enrolled for Hawaii.

The through list includes, 78 cabin, 89 second class and 154 steerage passengers. The presence of the Great Ray rightly entitled to the title of impressed much to the gaiety and pleasure of the travelers. A series of entertainments were presented under the auspices of Captain H. Stanley Smith and Purser E. B. Cavarly. "Frank" is rightly entitled to the title of impresario of the T. K. K. line and there is never a voyage of the Shinyo that something fine along the entertainment line is in store for the fortunate traveler in the T. K. K. flagship.

One thousand tons freight are being left at Honolulu including fifty tons of baggage and effects incidental to the arrival of the Raymond company. The through cargo amounts to 4418 tons of which 1524 bales silk is an important item.

The Shinyo Maru sailed from Hongkong on June 25 and called at Shanghai, Nagasaki, Kobe, Shimidzu and Yokohama leaving the latter port for Honolulu on July 6th.

Purser Cavarly reports fine weather in crossing the Pacific. There was a well founded rumor on board this morning that the genial Cavarly stood a fine chance to succeed to the office of General Passenger Agent of the T. K. K. at San Francisco made vacant through the death of Alfred G. Rennie.

Russians Will Have to Hustle for Work.
Forty-five Russians who arrived as steerage passengers in the Japanese liner Shinyo Maru this morning, will not find themselves being received with open arms by the Hawaiian sugar planters, according to the prediction made this morning.

The Russians were bundled into the scow Pioneer and taken to the Immigration Station, where they must go through a careful and close inquiry as to their intentions and antecedents.

The Russians that reached Honolulu this morning are considered as about the average class of immigrant sent out from Siberia by the immigration companies operating there. They appeared dirty and not overly prepossessing.

Over two hundred little brown brothers, recruited from the sun-kissed Philippines, also arrived by the Japanese vessel.

Forty-seven Years with Pacific Mail.
Few local shipping men realized that with the passing of the Pacific Mail liner Korea through this port, en route to San Francisco a few days ago, that Paul Rossiter, chief engineer in the vessel, had been identified with the Mail company for a period of forty-seven years. For forty-five years he has served in the capacity of chief engineer. He was forty years ago a shipmate with Dr. McAllister on the Alaska. He was the youngest chief engineer in the company's employ at any time and is now the oldest in the company's service.

The Korea was commanded by Captain E. M. Nelson and this is his first trip in the Korea. He has also seen long service in the P. M. company—thirty-five years. He was captain of the Beaver, which makes the run from Markino Sijva's conscience didn't hurt him a bit when he went into Karashia's barber shop on Luzzo street to get shaved last Sunday morning, but his face did after Karashia had completed the operation.

Karashia was hailed before Judge Monratt this morning, and after the complaining witness told how Karashia had even neglected to put any powder on his face after shaving, the face of the judge grew stern and he fined the offending barber $10 and costs for violating the Sunday regulations.

ODDS AND ENDS AT THE PORT

The steamer Mauna Kea from Hilo direct, is due to arrive at the port at an early hour tomorrow morning.

From Kona and Kau ports the Interisland steamer Kilanea is due to arrive at this port at an early hour tomorrow morning.

One thousand tons oriental freight is going out of the Japanese liner Shinyo Maru and awaiting consignees at Alakea wharf.

Taking combustibles and explosives, the Interisland steamer Noeau will be dispatched for usual windward Kaula ports at five o'clock this evening.

Tuesday will be a busy one in Interisland circles, with the projected departure of three vessels for regular ports of call, taking passengers and general cargo.

The American Hawaiian freighter Alaskan is reported to have sailed from Seattle for Honolulu on last Friday. This vessel is bringing in the neighborhood of three thousand tons merchandise for the islands.

SAILORS SEA SICK ON TRIP

It's tough luck when a sailor goes on a vacation and gets seasick, but that's just what happened to the jolly tars who make up the navy tug Navajo's crew who went for a "joy ride" to Hilo to have a look at Kilanea. They saw the Volcano, and came to the conclusion that the island of Hawaii was a good steamer with no boiler trouble, but there were moments when they wished to be alone, both going and coming.

The Navajo is listed as a sea-going tug, but that doesn't mean that she has all the comforts of an ocean liner, be a long ways. Still, the men had a good time, and much appreciated the opportunity which Admira Cowles gave them of seeing the wonders of Hawaii.

The new order for physical tests of officers of the navy and marine corps has arrived, and proves to be almost identical with the one previously in force. The only exception is that instead of limiting the 10-mile monthly hike to two-thirds of that distance in the tropics, the order reads that "within the tropics, or at any place where the temperature is eighty degrees Fahrenheit, or higher at the time of the exercise, the distance walked and the time required shall be two-thirds that stated for normal conditions."

Carpenter T. H. Scharf, for four years attached to the Honolulu naval station and recently ordered home to await orders, has been ordered to duty on the battleship Oregon, now at Bremerton navy yard.

WILSON ERITCH will hold the first of his classes in public speaking at the Y. M. C. A. this evening. He intends to instruct the members of his class in public speaking as applied to salesmanship, oratory and ordinary conversation.

W. L. JOHNSON and Lloyd R. Kilham, the boys' physical directors, are expected to arrive some time in August to take up their work at the Y. M. C. A.

C. K. MICHENER, former sporting editor of the Advertiser, is located in Yokohama, according to a letter received by a former associate. In his letter Mr. Michener declares that he will open a tea house in Yokohama.

CHARLES ROME, who was thrown and had his skull nicked while riding in the gentlemen's race at Kahului on the Fourth is reported by Maui people in town to be completely recovering from his injuries.

Experience may be a good teacher, but just the same you had better send your children to school.

Many a poor man is a genius at devising ways and means for spending money.

CHINA'S CHANGE IS PERMANENT, SAYS OBSERVER

China's republican form of government has come to stay, and the change in the people is deep-rooted and permanent.

Such are the conclusions reached by a keen observer and one with varied experience in the Orient, J. Clayton Nichols, manager of the Negros-Philippine Lumber company, who is a passenger on the Shinyo Maru. Mr. Nichols is on his way to the States for a vacation trip, and will return in four or five months to a business that is developing so rapidly he cannot fill all the demand for lumber.

"Ten or twelve years ago I was in China, and last March I was in Canton," said Mr. Nichols this morning, comparing the Chinese of today with those of a decade ago. "The change is remarkable. In outward aspects it manifests itself in the desire to modernize habits of living. In all the time I was in Canton I saw only two Chinese wearing queues. One of them was a boy in a field. The other was a bent old man."

"I was in Canton when the soldiers were on guard on every corner, and I heard that several hundred people had been killed in a fight one day, but we didn't see anything of the fighting."

"Dr. Sun Yat Sen is personally popular and he represents a cause that has come to stay. There will be no successful attempt to restore the monarchy."

Mr. Nichols operates principally in the southern islands of the Philippines. Lumber is in such demand that he doesn't have to ship it to dealers—they are willing to come to his wharf and get it. The lumber is used for building and for furniture. Mr. Nichols is a firm believer in the commercial future of the islands. While in Honolulu he visited an old acquaintance in the person of C. G. Bockus. They were together in far Canada Northwest in the time of the Klondike boom.

COSSACK RIDE

"Of course it's a ticklish job to lay odds without hurting someone's feelings," said a jacy trooper in discussing the Cossack stunt. "I guess it'll be policy to make colonels equal choices at about 1 to 3, lieutenant colonels 2 to 3, majors even money, captains 5 to 3, first lieutenants 2 to 1, and write your own ticket on second lieutenants. That's the sort of state that will be consistent with discipline. We'll have the real figures on the reverse side, though, and they won't read anything like that, you can bet. The only trouble with this sort of a race, though, is that it ain't regular about fixing jockeys, and shooting speed pills into the horses. The touts can't peddle this sort of "info" because everybody knows that it'll be run on the square. It's too bad, but I don't suppose it can be helped."

Hard on U. S. Nags.
"Rot," said a high ranking officer when asked his opinion of the riding stunt. It's meant to encourage officers in buying high class mounts for themselves, and a good horse can do it all right, but it's going to ruin some of the government nags. The officers may have to train off a few pounds, but I guess they'll get through all right."

The date for the Cavalry and Field Artillery steeplechases at Schofield hasn't been set as yet, nor has the course been laid out. Some of the youngsters are chucking over the chance to put their blooded stock over the sticks, but some of the older men, with large families and large oops, have to be content with the postoffice department's deposits of savings bank moneys, or to both.

"I may add that state and municipal bonds are accepted at 90 per cent of their par value, not exceeding 10 per cent of the market value, while Hawaiian bonds, hitherto accepted at 90 per cent of par, irrespective of market value, are now to be accepted at par not exceeding the market value."

OLD FASHIONED REMEDIES.

Science in surgery and electricity has advanced much in the past thirty years, but the treatment of disease by the old fashioned remedies made from roots and herbs, has never been improved upon.

This may be seen by the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, and known today as the great remedy for female ills.

No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine.

be accepted at market value, not to exceed their par. Thus most of the bonds would be accepted at par, while a few, namely, those bearing a low rate of interest and issued for only short terms, would be accepted at their actual market value, which would be a little below par but above 90 per cent.

"When I reached California I received a telegram saying they would be accepted at 90 per cent. But apparently the matter has been considered

WOMEN HEAR NOTED LECTURER AT CENTRAL UNION

College Club Evening was celebrated at Central Union Church yesterday evening where Mrs. Hannah Jenkins, director of design and art at Pomona College, California addressed the College Club and the church congregation.

It was a meeting of... and for women essentially. There were many men present but the address which was on "Women to the Front" concerned itself with the relation of women to world problems and the part which women must play in their solution.

White slavery, marriage, divorce, intemperance and other problems confronting women were handled by the speaker in plain language and her address throughout was characterized by its fluency and directness.

"These are women to be proud of," said Mrs. Jenkins. "They are the women to get in touch with, to know and to emulate. The ones who are coming to the front and doing great things for humanity."

Mrs. Jenkins said in part: "Women to the Front!" That sounds like a bugle call. When the reveille is sounded it means "get up and get busy." (It was your pastor who sounded the bugle—I am just going to give a little "toot.")

"This call comes to the army of church and college women throughout our land. Do not think I am here as a suffragette. No there is not a woman in our land who knows less of politics than I do. There are many like myself who care nothing for the franchise who would rather not be brought to the front in that way.

"Personally I might say I have no complaint against the gentlemen in their management of political affairs; I have fared well in the past and do not expect to live as long in the future as I could well afford to leave the ballot to the men—but how startling so that sounds, in the great rush of political, professional and commercial life. Conditions have changed. Women are forging ahead in every branch of professional and industrial life—then there is the great mass of working women in factory, shop, business and service. This problem of voting came to me forcibly one day when I went into one of our orange packing houses. There I listened without their knowing to a heated discussion on the campaign. The conclusion I arrived at was "College Women and Church Women to the Front." It is this illiterate working class that is going to make trouble and while I hate politics and would rather do almost anything rather than go to the polls. Yet if my vote will offset that of a woman who will be led by her emotions or be the tool of a boss, then it is my duty to vote.

Human Nature Unchanged. The part that women have played in politics in the past is that any criterion for us women of today? We might say conditions have changed—but human nature is not widely different from the days of the Renaissance. One difference there is and to our advantage in that we move and have our being among a vast army of college men—men who have annihilated instinct and are ruled by reason and understanding—so that we women are spared the necessity of being great diplomats.

"Think of the harrassing life of Isabella d'Este that queen of the Renaissance, a woman who could juggle with popes and emperors; was the world any better for her being in it? Yes she faced and solved the problems of her times. She took a stand in social affairs admitting none to her salons but those noted for their morals and understanding. She gave an impetus to art, letters and music. She it was who made Leonardo and Titian famous as portrait painters sitting to both. She came to the front in her day lived up to the best that was in her.

White Slave Problem. The white slave problem should occupy the serious and prayerful attention which is controlled by foreigners not confined to the white race. The lack of reverence for the Sacrament of marriage. Many women today it would seem forget the "bond" which they acknowledge before the world—to keep the flame of mentality burning but irresponsibly when asked the question "Will you take this man, etc. Yes," with the mental reservation. For six months, give her time to get to Reno.

"Divorce and its great feeder laxity in high moral principles in the rich underworked social set, intemperance among women—these and many other problems confront you. What are you going to do about it? You will have a chance to make a return for the years of prayers and petitions that have been offered for your protection. You are all in the tendency of accomplishing great things. In unity there is strength. I am sure Paul would be delighted if he were to come to the Central Union church and see how you are just as he would have you 'all of one mind.'"

CHILD LOSES FINGERS WHEN CAP EXPLODES

As the result of playing with a dynamite cap yesterday afternoon, Belden Bartlett, ten-year-old son of C. G. Bartlett of the Honolulu brewing company, is in Queen's Hospital suffering from serious injuries received by the explosion of the cap. Three fingers on the child's right hand were blown off, and the flying pieces of the combustible inflicted a number of painful wounds over his body.

The accident happened shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family residence at Kaalawai. There was no one in the vicinity at the time the accident happened. Mrs. Bartlett is in San Francisco with one of the children, and Mr. Bartlett is in Hilo.

NEW CHINESE DOLLAR PUTS IN APPEARANCE

The new Chinese silver dollar, the first specimen of which arrived from the Orient this morning and is proudly exhibited to his friends by U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons, plainly shows the influence of English and American civilization and the personality of the new Chinese Republic's first president, Sun Yat Sen.

The coin is similar in shape to the American dollar, though slightly larger and heavier, and Breckons believes it probably is worth not more than about 60 cents in American money.

The well-known features in profile of Dr. Sun Yat Sen occupies the center of one side, the picture being surrounded by Chinese script engravures. Several large Chinese letters, or words, fill the center of the opposite side, while around the edge, in bold English lettering, are the words: "The Republic of China. One dollar."

CHANGE TENNIS DATES

There will be no conflict of dates between the tennis and polo tournaments if arrangements can possibly be made to the contrary. A meeting of the tennis tournament committee has been called to take up the question of changing the dates so that tennis matches will not be played on days when the polo tournament is in progress.

UP TO THE HOUSE

Roosevelt's determination to carry forward the "third party" movement makes it very possible indeed that the selection of the next president may devolve upon the national house of representatives.

Suppose that Taft, Woodrow Wilson and the nominee of the third party convention all got electoral votes, and no one of the three a majority, the constitutional provision throwing the election into the House would become operative.

The Boston Herald, commenting on the situation, says:

"There are twenty-two states in the House having a Democratic majority among their representatives, and twenty-two with a Republican majority, and four states in which the representation of the two parties is equal.

"Democratic—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia—22.

"Republican—California, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming—22.

"Tied—Maine, Nebraska, New Mexico, Rhode Island—4.

"The twelfth amendment to the constitution, which now governs this subject, provides that if no candidate receives a majority in the electoral college, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately by ballot the President; but in choosing the President the vote shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote."

"It is premature to discuss the chances of Wilson, Roosevelt and Taft as candidates in the event of a triangular contest. Much would depend on the terms in which the two men who are Republicans had received their respective nominations.

"The warring Republicans at Chicago would better make peace, since it is the candidate with the regular Republican label who is sure to be the real competitor in November of an aggressive and confident Democracy.

THE YACHT RACE AS ADVERTISING,

Hawaii's tourist attractions have been sharply accentuated by the great interest in the volcano, and the wealth of natural assets is easily recognized.

In the trans-Pacific yacht race the islands have a promotion asset that needs developing. The skipper of one of the yachts, from its deck in Honolulu harbor, saw before him such a splendid panorama of shore and sea and mountain that he declared the scene the most beautiful in an experience that extended from the famous beauty spots of the Atlantic Coast to Naples and other noted resorts.

The yacht race has been emphasized on the competitive side. Now, when the yachts are returning to the mainland, Hawaii may well carry on a promotion campaign based on the next trans-Pacific race.

LORIMER, BRIBER.

William Lorimer, briber, was not ousted from the United States senate last Saturday as the result of senate investigation.

The vote in the senate declaring Lorimer not entitled to a seat was a vote upon report of the investigating committee, it is true. But back of the committee's report there were the sordid facts of bribery and corruption uncovered through the initiative and the efforts of the Chicago Tribune.

More than two years ago, the notorious Illinois legislative "jackpot"—a slush fund for the corruption of the legislature,—was stripped of its coverings by the Tribune.

So complete was the Tribune's case, so overwhelming the proof of corruption it thundered forth day by day, that the senate investigations since have added but little. On the other hand, not an essential charge made by this newspaper has been disproved.

To the credit of journalism be it said that most of the other Chicago papers have joined in the fight and helped make it their own. Month after month, while the men tied to Lorimer by politics or business interests refused to go to the bottom of the evidence offered, the press of Chicago and other cities has called for the truth.

Lorimer's speech in his own defense last week teemed with attacks on the press. He said the editors of the Chicago papers should be jailed.

How about the man whose paid agents held gold before the eyes of poor country legislators until they weakened and sold their vote? Is jail too good for him?

Sometimes results are long in coming. The newspapers who fought against Lorimer often saw the fight going against them, and heard the slurs of people who said, "Oh, that's just newspaper talk!"

But it was "newspaper talk" by papers that knew what they were talking about that swept the senate clean of a nauseous member.

A society leader of Stamford, Conn., says that one sign of the rapidly developing financial genius in women is that they are going through their husbands' pockets for loose change. It may be remarked that one sign of rapidly developing financial genius in men is that they are not keeping their loose change in their pockets any more.

KILLS AN ELOPING GIRL

Dixie Woman Slays Child She Says Was Running Away with Husband

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 27.—Fifteen-year-old Oslia Plumlee, pursued from the home in which she had been a guest by Mrs. Fred Parker, who was at once the girl's hostess and cousin, and wife of the man with whom it is said the girl was eloping, was overtaken, shot and killed near Hestand, Ky., Sunday, according to mail reports received here from that remote section of the state.

It is said both Parker and his wife are under arrest at Celina, Tenn. Dry Ridges, Tenn., home of the girl, and the other two places named, are near the line between the two states.

COFFEE CROP FOR YEAR TOTALS 2,093,000 LBS.

Decrease in Quantity Is Partly Made Up by Higher Prices Received

Hawaii's coffee crop year closed on June 15, and the quantity of the old crop shipped since that date has been inconsequential. Probably the new crop will begin coming in by the next steamer from Kona.

For the year ended June 15, 1912, the exports of coffee amounted to 20,531 hundred-pound bags, or about two million and ninety-three thousand pounds, the invoice value of which was $337,726.

The previous season's crop, which was a little later, some having been shipped in July, was 37,128 bags at an invoice value of $476,497. Thus the coffee year just passed shows a deficiency of over 16,000 bags in quantity and about $138,000 in invoice value. The decrease in value is greater than it would have been had the price been the same last year as it was the year before.

For the season ended June, 1911, the average invoice value was 12.83 cents a pound, while that for the season last past it was a fraction above 16 cents, or an advance of nearly 25 per cent.

"This year we are going to have a bumper crop," said J. W. McChesney, on giving out the foregoing statistics Saturday, "and it is going to be early. I think it will be larger than that of season before last, and probably the largest we have ever had."

Asked what was the reason for the falling off last year, Mr. McChesney said:

"It has always run heavy and light, but why it should be so light have heard several reasons given and am not able to say just what the cause was. High winds that blew the blossoms off may partly account for it. This year the price will probably rule about the same as last year, although just now they are a trifle lower than at the beginning of last season."

"Planting is increasing right along, from what I can hear. I have no doubt we will have high prices for years to come. People are safe in planting coffee for high prices. The consumption has been gradually overtaking the production for some years. There is no question they are restricting production in Brazil. They had to do it to finance that valorization scheme. Little Land Available.

"No, there is not much land yet available for coffee growing in Hawaii—at least not in large tracts. There is some suitable land, of course, but no very large areas in single tracts. Kona is the best coffee region on account simply of the absence of the trade wind there.

"It is hard to say whether the land on the higher levels would be favorable to coffee, but it is certain that when you go to the lower levels there is but little ground not covered with lava.

"Possibly the export may increase to a million dollars with the maintenance of good prices." There are no definite figures extant regarding the home consumption. A couple of years ago it was estimated at 10,000 bags, and from that basis, would probably be 15,000 bags now.

The recent Army contract to H. Hackfeld & Co., of 30,000 pounds, of which part goes to the Philippines, will be that much off the exports by custom house this year, although up till lately Hackfeld's supplied a good deal of coffee to the Army on monthly bids.

CHILDREN OF DR. SUN

trio left the big Shinyo and met with the reception committee of local Chinese who anxiously awaited the homecoming of the young people.

Sun Fo and his sisters are said will continue the journey to San Francisco in the Shinyo, leaving for the coast port on the next boat. Sun Fo will enter the University of California and his sisters will also attend school in California.

At the time that Sun Fo, left school in China, the general situation there was reported as quiet, with an occasional disturbance in widely separated districts. The claim is made that in a country so vast as China it is extremely difficult to establish a full and complete understanding between the peoples of varying dialects and sentiments especially in a short space of time. It is the general belief that the Chinese will reap good fruit from the recent revolution, if only some years be given to them for their undertaking.

Problem of Government. It is still a matter under investigation whether the new Government of China should be formed after the American type or the French or whether it should be a new system combining these two. The question is very important and the Chinese desire to get that system which is best suited to them.

On board the Shinyo Maru this morning the prediction was freely made by well-posted Chinese businessmen en route to San Francisco that Dr. Sun Yat Sen would not be elected president of the new republic. The declaration was made that his popularity is decreasing day by day. Sun Yat Sen is a revolutionary and has no constructive ability, which is essential for the President of a Republic. It is true that China has been converted into a republic, but even the new China cannot comply with such socialistic principles as those advocated by Sun Yat Sen. I believe in Republicanism, but not in Socialism. General Li Popular.

O. A. STEVEN IS TAKING A TRIP

O. A. Steven, recruiting agent in the Philippines for the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, arrived from the Orient this morning on the Shinyo Maru and thereby gave his associates here a little surprise party.

At least it was a surprise party yesterday when Director Mead of the planters' labor bureau got a wireless from Steven stating that he was coming on the Shinyo. Mead thought Steven was recuperating somewhere up in Japan, but it seems that Steven is taking an ocean voyage instead. It was stated today that he will go on to the coast in a few days and then return here and that he is taking the trip for his health.

Mr. Steven expressed himself as glad to see Hawaii again. He has spent comparatively little time in the Philippines lately.

General Li is very popular because of his scholarship and far-sighted views, so it is declared. His party is now gaining more and more influence, and is strongly supported by the soldiers. The latter are being gradually disbanded, and the work is not proving so difficult. Hardest of all is the task of dismissing the officers.

The Chinese are opposing the foreign loan because they believe that they can secure better terms than those offered by the Powers at present. The movement for patriotic contributions has shown some promise of success. Huang-Hsing has already collected and sent to Peking 5,800,000 yuan by way of patriotic contributions.

Speakers have been secured for each day's program and the meetings are reported to be unusually interesting. RECREATIONS
GREAT RAYMOND
MAGICIAN, HERE

Whenever the Great Raymond arrives in town it is a busy day for everybody. The fame of the great magician is world wide and travels before him wherever he goes. His arrival is always an event of more than ordinary importance. It is not strange therefore that he should attract unusual attention.

What strikes the observer more forcibly perhaps is the enormous quantity of luggage and cargo carried by the great magician, the unloading and transporting of hundreds of boxes and crates containing the stage paraphernalia costly illusions and delicate machinery used by him in his performance is a day's work for quite an army of men in itself.
Not less than seventy tons arrived on the S. S. Shinyo Maru today and is actually used on and about the stage at his performances. It is quite certain that no showman ever came to Honolulu so well equipped for the work in hand as the Great Raymond. And when it is considered that he himself is without a peer in his own line it will be readily understood that with the splendid equipment at his disposal he is enabled to give a show unrivaled in the brilliancy and the perfection of art.

Demand for seats for the Great Raymond show which will open at the Liberty theater Wednesday evening, was brisk this morning, the first day of the ticket sale. Orders for seat reservations are being taken by telephone at the Liberty box office. While the prices for this show are a little above the usual Liberty admission charge, the Raymond entertainment is known to be far above the average, and a large house is already assured for the opening performance.

"Oliver Twist," the great feature picture that has been entertaining hundreds with Nat C. Goodwin in the part of Fagin, at the Liberty, will be exhibited only two nights more. This picture presents in an unusual way an English classic, and it should be seen by everyone, as it is not only entertaining but educational.

FILM SHOWS DUKE IN WAIKIKI SURF

Vaudeville and excellent reels of animated pictures continue to be the chief entertaining features at the big, cool, Bijou Theater, although the selections of the Bijou orchestra are ever popular. Old acquaintances of Honolulu theatergoers—but not recently at the Bijou—are Wise and Milton, who are billed for a short engagement. It is promised that they will have new songs and dances and are guaranteed to amuse. Italian street songs will be rendered by the Oliva Gypsy Trio. Carberry and Neilson, with Lew Wheeler will present a laughable farce entitled, "Our 5th Anniversary."
"Duke Kahanamoku, Riding the Surf at Waikiki," is a moving picture film that is to be exhibited at the Empire, the house of pictures, and it should prove a big attraction due to the prominence attained by this clever swimmer at Stockholm.

The commander concluded his address by making a presentation to the department of a gavel made of oak wood taken from the Hawaiian Navy, the old Kaimlooa. With the new department organization, there are now over two hundred and fifty members of the organization in the Territory.

ADVERTISING OF VOLCANO GOOD BUSINESS

Mainland Businessman Says Kilauea Is World's Wonder

Your volcano is wonderful, wonderful. The surprise to me is that you do not make more of it. This is the opinion of Mr. J. F. Anderson, Pacific Coast agent for Apollinaris water, who arrived by the last Wilhelmina, and with Mrs. Anderson made the trip to Hilo and the Volcano by the same steamer. "I have seen Niagara Falls and numerous other wonders that attract tourists, but these are all in the 'also-rans' when compared with Kilauea. "I can't understand why you do not make more of it. I never had a more enjoyable trip in my life, and I can't imagine anyone coming to the islands and failing to visit the Volcano if he has any idea of what wonderful sights that are at work within the earth. "The activity was unusual to be sure on the night we were there but under any circumstances the trip is more than worth while. It is a liberal education in the tremendous forces that are at work within the earth. "I am visiting the islands on business. Mrs. Anderson is with me, we as I brought my motor with me, we are taking sight seeing trips about this island as opportunity offers. Mrs. Anderson is simply carried away with Honolulu and I don't know how we shall be able to get away. Your climate is magnificent, and although I have heard some of your people talking about hot weather, it has not bothered us any. We are enjoying it to the full. My family prefers this section of the globe to anything we have yet encountered. "But that Volcano is grand. It is marvelous. You ought to let the people of the mainland know more about it, and I can't see how they can keep away from this place once you get them well started." Mr. Anderson is a live business man and knows the value of advertising. Apollinaris water is one of the most widely advertised mineral waters in existence and the most widely used. The local distributing agency has been placed with H. May & Co. Mr. Anderson has kindly consented to give a talk on advertising before the Honolulu Ad Club at this week's meeting at the Rathskeller on Thursday noon.

"IMPERIAL ARMY MEDICAL COLLEGE"
A letter dated "Imperial Army Medical College, Canton, China," and signed "Holt A. Cheng, M. D.," is in hand, that contains an order for a shipment of a specific that the Doctor bluntly admits is a necessity in the treatment of kidney disease. Dr. Cheng was educated in America and knows the futility of Digitalis, Nitro Glycerine, Basham's Mixture, etc., and sends 7,000 miles for Fulton's Renal Compound. Another important order was "for Hospital supplies in Paris." The world is beginning to sit up and take notice of the fact that Bright's Disease is being cured. Even under Fulton's Renal Compound all do not recover, but it is bad judgment to withhold it until the heart and recuperative power are nearly exhausted.
