COURT SUIT HALTS KEWALO SCHEME

Cecil Brown Attacks Legality of Revolving Fund; Asks Injunction

Checked abruptly by an injunction suit brought by Cecil Brown, president of the First National Bank of Hawaii, the Kewalo reclamation project has encountered a stumbling block that now promises to delay active work in the district for an indefinite period of time.

Petition for an injunction against Territorial Auditor Fisher, Marston Campbell and the Lord-Young Engineering Company was filed in the Circuit Court this morning by Attorney A. A. Wilder, who represents Cecil Brown, trustee under the will of Kailupoh, owner of a piece of land 3500 feet in area on the southeast side of Kanon lane, which would be assessed for the proposed improvement.

Briefly, the situation is that the owner questions the right of the Territory to compel the improvement, also the constitutionality of Chapter 83 of the Revised Laws of the Territory, under which provision for the reclamation was made by the Legislature.

The improved in the Kewalo district is intended as a part of a vast project in various parts of the city, for which the Territory set aside a revolving fund of $250,000. The filling in of lowlands was to be let in large contracts, and it was planned that owners of individual pieces affected should pay their pro rata; but in case they refused, the cost was to be assessed against the property.

"That said defendant Lord-Young Engineering Company, Limited, is about to commence work under said contract, and said defendant Marston Campbell, Superintendent of Public Works, is about to incur obligations thereunder in the name of the Territory of Hawaii and intends to pay out large sums of money as said work progresses," he stated in part.

WOULD BRING 800 GAS MEN HERE IN 1915

H. L. Strange Has a Definite Plan for Bringing Visitors to Island

EXPECTS TO FLOOD U. S. WITH LITERATURE

Will Carry on Campaign by Corresponding With Gas Men of Country

Aiming, three years in advance, to get seven or eight hundred gas men to come to Honolulu in a chartered ship in 1915, is the optimistic intention—but definite plan—of H. L. Strange, manager of the Honolulu Gas Co. This is not "the dream of a day," to this ardent promoter, but something to which he has already devoted considerable thought and time and to which he expects to devote much more during the next three years.

According to statements made to a Star-Bulletin representative this morning by Mr. Strange, more than twenty gas associations will hold a joint convention in San Francisco during the Pan-Pacific Exposition at which an attendance of 3000 to 4000 gas men is expected.

Between now and the 1915 convention every association will hold three annual conventions. Mr. Strange intends to deluge these conventions with promotional literature in an attempt to create a desire among the members to visit Honolulu.

"I believe that the fact, that there are three years in which to carry on this campaign will result in the success of my plan," says Mr. Strange. Leis Create Interest.

"I sent two hundred leis to a gas association meeting last year, and the interest created, caused me to make plans to get the gas men to come here in 1915. And I am certain of success."

"It is easy to persuade people to visit Hawaii when the facts are placed before them. While on the coast the last time I met about a dozen gas men and four of them have already come to Honolulu during their vacation."

"In just this proportion I expect to get results in 1915. From the 3000 or 4000 gas men who will be in San

KAU DITCH BILL GOES TO HOUSE

Thompson, Wilder, Watson & Lymer received the following cablegram from E. M. Watson, Washington, this morning:

"Kau bill passed Senate again amended. House will not amend. Probably pass House next week." Mr. Thompson takes it that the amending done by the Senate was to strike out the undesired amendment introduced by Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota, limiting the issue of stock and bonds to $3,500,000 of each. As stated by Mr. McCrossin in a Star-Bulletin interview, this amendment would give the company power to water its intended capital 100 per cent, and was, in fact, an unfriendly proposal intended to hold up the measure.

CONTRACTORS FOR DRYDOCK RESUME WORK

Navy Engineers Approve New Concrete Mixture To Be Used

NECESSARY TESTS CAUSED LONG DELAY

Board to Discuss Compensation When Rear Admiral Arrives

After a delay of many weeks, during which the navy engineers and the drydock contractors have been making test after test, and disproving theory after theory, by putting it to tedious practice, concrete pouring in the big drydock at Pearl Harbor will start again. At last a mixture which will fulfill every one of the requirements and which will withstand the unusual conditions found at the naval reservation, has been arrived at, and tomorrow the big Tremie sets will continue the work of spreading the concrete in the middle "pocket" of Section 2, laying the foundations under nearly 40 feet of water.

While the engineers are sure that they have a concrete that will harden properly under water, they are by no means sure that a cheaper one can not be found, and while the long-delayed work progresses, experiments with different mixtures will be kept up. The latest mixture uses Puget Sound sand, and it is hoped that Walaue, crusher dust can be substituted, if not in full, at least in part, greatly reducing the cost of the concrete.

In any event, work will be continued from now on, and if a change in the mixture is thought advisable, it will be made later, without a stoppage of work. With the arrival next week of Rear Admiral Homer R. Stanford, chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, a board of navy officers will convene to adjust the increased compensation that should be given the drydock contractors for the changes in specifications of the concrete, and to take up several other points in connection with future construction and improvement at the new yard.

As Pearl Harbor is to be the real naval key to the Pacific, and probably the most important base owned by the United States, every move here is being watched with the closest interest in Washington, and Honolulu is rapidly laying the lines for future naval history. The visit of Admiral Stanford is very significant, and the fact that he comes at almost the same time that the Army board meets to consider the problem of defending Oahu, may result in important joint recommendations.

Admiral Stanford assumed the duties as bureau chief, with the rank of rear admiral, very recently. He is one of the ablest and most progressive navy engineers in the navy, and ranked as commander when put at the head of "Y and D."

Two federal court cases set for this morning were continued by Judge Doie because Clemmons, the trial judge dies ill at his home and was unable to be present in court. It is understood the illness is not serious however, "and he is expected to be able to resume his court duties within the next day or two."

In honor of Mr. Christian Menke, the teacher at the German school who will sail for the Fatherland, July 27 going by way of the Orient, the German colony of Honolulu will give a farewell reception and dance at the Mochizuki Club tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. All arrangements have been made to make the event out of the ordinary. An admission fee will be charged.

PROGRESSIVES PLAN TO SEND ATKINSON ON MISSION

Will Fight To Get Hawaii Represented in August Convention

PROVISIONAL COMMITTEE PLANS LOCAL CAMPAIGN

Much Work To Be Done in Booming "Principles, Not Personalities"

A. L. C. Atkinson will be sent to Chicago to make a fight for representation for Hawaii in the Progressive convention next August, and to act as delegate for Hawaii in case this fight is won, if plans discussed yesterday and today by local Progressives are carried out. There is every prospect that they will be, Atkinson would also become national committeeman for the new party.

With Atkinson's office in the Judd building as headquarters, a dozen meetings were held yesterday and five this morning to talk over the plans for Progressivism in Hawaii. The result is the formation of a provisional executive, composed of Former Gov. George R. Carter, chairman, A. L. C. Atkinson, C. G. Heiser, George P. Thielen and Prof. Ballou, secretary. The committee will meet tomorrow at noon and probably again next Monday.

"Great issues, not personalities, are the vital things," continued Mr. Carter. He was asked if the Progressives would take an active part in local affairs and answered that most assuredly they would.

Accused of violating the "white slave" law a young man giving the name of Gordon Roberts, was placed under arrest by the United States marshal, on a warrant sworn to by U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons. A warrant for the woman in the case, who is wanted as witness, also has been issued, but up to a late hour today she had not been located. The evidence will be presented to the federal grand jury this afternoon.

Now Watch The Duke Kahanamoku Fund as it Grows

W. T. RAWLINS, Chairman of Duke Kahanamoku Fund Committee.

Subscription lists will be sent all over the territory, but not one donation will be begged. This was the decision yesterday afternoon of the committee named to handle the Duke Kahanamoku fund.

The committee, realizing that the movement to present the world's champion swimmer with a house and lot on his victorious return from Stockholm, as a public and popular movement in every sense of the word, feel that to appeal for subscriptions should be necessary. The subscription blanks will be sent out to facilitate the sending of the funds as well as to let people who haven't heard of it before know that the fund is being raised.

Word was received that dozens of volunteer lists are being circulated, and the committee wishes to get in touch with these as soon as possible.

The matter of a big celebration on the day Duke lands was taken up, and also there was a discussion as to the lot that should be bought. This will be looked into by the committee. It is intended to get him a home near the beach.

This morning employees of the Territorial Board of Health came through with the splendid subscription of $62, the largest yet given. The employees got the list up purely voluntarily and their contributions were very generous. The list is as follows:

U. S. FLAG WILL FLY ON BELGIAN HOLIDAYS

The United States flag will flutter to the breeze at the top of the Territorial flagpole for three days, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, in honor of three national holidays of Belgium. The observance will be made at the request of R. F. Lange, the Belgian vice consul, whose communication reached the Governor this morning.

Fully a dozen indictments are anticipated by the Territorial grand jury, which is expected to make its report to Circuit Judge Robinson late this afternoon. The nature of the cases and the persons involved is not disclosed.

The Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Burlington and Alton Railroads have purchased a $2,000,000 site in Chicago upon which will be built a passenger station for their joint use.

Man Who Says He Effected McNamara Compromise Airs "Social Revolutionary" Views in Los Angeles Court

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 19.—Lincoln Steffens, author and reformer, was cross-questioned today in the Darrow bribery case by the prosecution. Steffens is a witness for the defense. Under the queries of the prosecution, he said today that he had tried to free McNamara because crime was "social revolutionary, not legal."

He said that he himself was an anarchist and went on to declare that he is even more radical in his religious beliefs, claiming that he is a better Christian for them.

Punk Ruling From Hawaii

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—An investigation carried on in Chinese homes in Hawaii by agents of the Treasury Department has caused a new ruling on the collection of duties. Heretofore Chinese punk had entered the mainland ports free, being declared unadmissible on account of its use for "joss" or religious purposes. The investigation discloses the fact that the punk is being used in the homes for domestic purposes, and hereafter customs collectors are authorized to collect twenty per cent ad valorem.

Battleships Cause Split

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The House demand for a cut in the battleship building program, and Senator Tillman's insistence upon getting $300,000 for the Charleston navy yard, will probably cause a disagreement over the naval appropriation bill. The House cut the proposed battleships out of the bill, they were restored by the Senate and now a deadlock is threatened.

Hounded by Horde of Ducks He Effaces New Industry

Hounded by a horde of ducks which pursued him about the grounds of the territorial immigration station with indignant reproaches and caressing quacks, Secretary Kearns this morning issued an ultimatum wiping out the duck farm which had been instituted by Assistant Secretary R. D. Wall of the Market Division with fifty waddling bipeds consigned to him for sale.

The ducks arrived three days ago and were released from the shipping coops in order that they might stretch their legs and necks. Major Domo Collins created a small puddle for them with a hose and the birds after a bath went on individual exploring expeditions about the grounds.

All went well until this morning when Secretary Kearns wearing an immaculate pair of white trousers appeared on the grounds to gather data. With the assistance of forty Russians, men, women and children, Collins garnered the duck crop, and Assistant Superintendent Wall secured a purchaser for them.

PHONE TALKS GOOD EVIDENCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 10.—Telephone conversation, if otherwise admissible, may be admitted as evidence in California courts as a result of a decision handed down by the State Supreme Court yesterday reversing a nonsuit granted the Western Union Telegraph Company by the lower court in an action brought against it by the Union Construction Company for damages arising from the alleged negligence of the company in failing to deliver telegrams to the plaintiff.

In laying down this rule, the court referred to the vast volume of business transacted by means of the telephone, and in this particular case, where the agents of the plaintiff called up the telegraph company to inquire if telegrams for them had been received and were answered in the negative, there was sufficient circumstantial evidence to make a prima facie case of identity and authority.

Rule for Phone Talks.

"The general rule from the decisions in other States," said the decision, "is that where it is known that the witness called up the other party at his place of business, through the central station with which both were connected, and received response as in the usual course of business over the telephone, this is sufficient prima facie identification of the speaker at the other end of the line as the party called, or his authorized agent, and that, upon such proof, the ensuing conversation, if otherwise admissible, may be testified to by the witness. It is proper to add that the weight of such evidence depends largely upon the circumstances of each case and is always a question for the trial court or jury."

According to the Supreme Court, the lower court erred in excluding the evidence of two agents of the construction company relating to telephone conversation with the San Francisco office of the telegraph company. In the case in question the plaintiff had an option with the Edison Iron Works for a contract for pipe line on the Stanislaus river for $143,000. Time Limit on Deal.

The night on which the option expired, January 8, 1907, the company's engineers wired the San Francisco agent of the company and also the manager in Tuolumne county to close the deal.

The manager was in San Francisco, and accordingly notice was forwarded by wire to him. Both telegrams were received in the evening at the San Francisco office, but were not delivered until after 9 o'clock the following morning, by which time the Edison Iron Works had raised the price $21,000. Telephone inquiry at the telegraph office elicited the response that there was no telegram there, this being subsequently disproved.

SULTAN OF MUSCAT ADOPTING PLAN TO END ARMS TRAFFIC

LONDON, June 25.—It is understood that the regulation of the arms traffic in his territory by the Sultan of Muscat, which was foreshadowed some months ago in the Monitor, has now been instituted on a regular basis.

According to Reuters Agency a notification has been issued by the Sultan in which the present system of keeping large stocks of arms and ammunition stored without proper control in private buildings in the town of Muscat is condemned and the announcement is made that, in order to do away with this condition of affairs, his highness has arranged to establish a warehouse in which arms and ammunition will be stored under proper precautions.

On and after Sept. 1 next all arms dealers in the territory of the Sultan will be required to deposit in the warehouse any stocks remaining in their hands on that date. No arms will be permitted to leave the warehouse without a license nor until duty has been paid on them in the usual way, and licenses will only be issued on the production of satisfactory proof that the destination of the arms and ammunition is open to no objection. It is further notified that all arms leaving the warehouse will be marked.

DREADNOUGHT OF AUSTRIA A FAILURE

VIENNA, July 11.—Despite official denials, reports are persistent in circulation that the construction of the first Austrian dreadnaught, the $12,000,000 Viribus Unitis, has proved a complete failure. The warship is top-heavy, and all efforts to lighten her so far have proved unsatisfactory. Massive portions of iron and steel turrets have been scaled down to such a degree that certain parts have buckled and have had to be re-enforced with iron plates.

Steel rollers for raising and lowering heavy guns have been drilled out, thereby reducing their weight, but at the same time lessening their power of resistance to such an extent that in the event of the rapid firing of the guns the rollers will collapse and render the guns useless.

INSURGENTS WIN IN HARD FIGHT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—After a day of almost constant wrangling, interspersed now and then with hymns and prayers, the National Prohibition Convention tonight overthrew the existing administration and elected G. Hinshaw of Portland, Ore., as national chairman of the party.

The convention voted down a proposed plank in the platform demanding that the separation of church and state be perpetual and that no public money be appropriated to sectarian churches and schools. Adjournment then was taken until tomorrow, when candidates for President and Vice President will be named.

The insurgents early in the day won their fight to have the chairman elected by the convention instead of appointed by the national committee. Hinshaw's selection came on the fifth ballot. Between ballots on the national chairmanship the convention devoted its time to the adoption of a platform.

The delegates were in turmoil most of the time. Several times when the disorder was at its height the chairman brought about tranquility by starting a song or by having someone start a prayer.

The platform, as originally presented by the resolutions committee, was changed in several particulars. Some of the delegates contended there was not enough prohibition in the document, so strong phrases were added on that subject.

Dr. Silas Swallow of Pennsylvania sought to add a declaration against the wearing of clerical garb in schools. Father George Zurcher of Buffalo, a Catholic priest and delegate, declared this would be interpreted as an affront to Catholics. A vote was taken on the plank, and it was lost.

Hinshaw, the new chairman of the party, is an attorney in Portland and is president of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association.

Taft and Roosevelt Both Denounced. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 10.—The eleventh national Prohibition convention got under way here today, but at three sessions progressed little beyond the preliminaries of organization. There were developments enough, however, to indicate a strong undercurrent of "insurgency" in the party and to forecast a fight for a more progressive and aggressive attitude in the coming campaign.

The feature of the day was the address of the temporary chairman of the convention, Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y., known as the "little giant." Howard aroused the delegates to a high pitch of enthusiasm by roundly denouncing President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and the Republican and Democratic parties in general.

"We already have two whiskey parties and don't need another," he shouted. The delegates caught up and cheered the sentiments of the chairman. When he characterized President Taft as a "wet nurse to the nation," there were shouts of "Amen," from all corners of the convention hall.

When he denounced Colonel Roosevelt as the "least desirable of all the candidates" there was a prolonged demonstration of approval. Governor Woodrow Wilson he disposed of with this faint praise: "A good man, perhaps, but we have had 'good men' in the White House before and they have gone out with the country more saturated with rum than it was when they went in."

So enthusiastic were the delegates over Chairman Howard's address that they ordered it printed as a campaign text-book and started a boom for Mr. Howard for President.

EFFECT OF PANAMA CANAL UPON BRITISH EMPIRE DISCUSSED

LONDON, Eng., June 25.—A paper was read recently by Dr. Vaughan Cornish on "The Panama Canal and its Relation to the British Empire" at the Whitehall rooms.

The chair was taken by Lord Brassey, who opened the meeting with a short address. He was followed by Dr. Cornish, who referred to the Hay Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain. He said that by this treaty the United States undertook that the canal should be opened on terms of entire equality to ships of all nations, whether merchant ships or ships of war, during times of peace or during hostilities.

The effect of the Panama canal on the British empire would lie to a great extent on the enormous reduction of sea distances. The future would witness the establishment by British and European companies of services from European waters to New York and San Francisco, via the canal, and on to Asia, connecting with other ships of the same line at Hong Kong.

The British West Indies would become, at the opening of the canal, of first-rate importance, both from a strategic and a commercial point of view, for they would no longer be at the entrance of a cul de sac but on a great highway of commerce.

BERLIN, June 25.—The disappearance of Finland as an autonomous state has brought the Russian empire to the very frontiers of Sweden, and the building of the railways from Helsingfors to Tornea and from Viborg right across the grand duchy is regarded with some apprehension in that country.

In this connection some articles which have appeared lately in the Reichsbote, a Lutheran Conservative organ, are of interest. The journal advocates the formation of an agreement or league between Germany and the Scandinavian states, having for object mutual aid and protection in the event of war with Russia. It also points out the economic and defensive advantages of such a union, as well as the political importance which it would lend to the northern states.

CHAMP CLARK'S FOOLISH TALK

Champ Clark, who came so near getting the nomination at the Democratic convention, is credited with saying that he hoped to live to see every vestige of a custom house disappear from this country, and he has not changed his view.

Mr. Clark has, however, been a little more discreet about his utterances since he became Speaker, and since his entry into the race for the presidential nomination. But he is as radical a follower of Bryan now as in the past.

In a recent speech at Frankfort, Kentucky, he declared that the "Protective Tariff costs the people of this country a billion and a half dollars yearly" and that "it is a gross outrage and cruelty upon the taxpayers."

Taking as his basis $330,000,000 paid into the treasury as revenue, he assumes that five times that amount, or considerably more than a billion and a half dollars, is paid by the people to swell the profits of American manufacturers.

This is, of course, a ridiculous assertion. It conveys the inference that the selling price of pretty much the whole volume of domestic merchandise has been increased to the extent and because of the tariff on competitive imports. If this were true, the increased prices paid on the entire value of $21,000,000,000 worth of domestic manufactures would amount to about $5,000,000,000 instead of the $1,500,000,000 named by Clark. Of course, it is not true either as to the $8,000,000,000 or the $1,500,000,000. It is not true as to our $750,000,000 of dutiable imports, for in most cases the foreign producer pays the American tariff in cutting down his prices so as to enable him to pay our tariff and still get into our market.

One of the invariable results of the American Protective Tariff has been to cut down foreign prices. Our tariff on steel rails was at one time $28 a ton, and the price of rails was $100 a ton. Now the tariff is $8.50 per ton, and the price is $28 a ton. The European price being practically the same, the American price, tariff added, should be $31.50 a ton. But it is not. It is $28. The price of tin plate, prior to 1890, was $5 per hundred pounds. McKinley put a tariff on tin plate to encourage its manufacture in this country, and in a short time the British makers were selling their tin plate in our markets, duty paid, at $7 after the tariff had been put on. But it did not; it sold at $3. The tariff did not add to the price; it reduced the price from $5 to $3. What the tariff did, and what it has unfailingly done, was to establish the industry in the United States.

American enterprise, assured by a Protective Tariff of the opportunity to do business, and American competition, which no tariff has ever checked or stifled, conjoined to break down the high prices previously extorted by the British tin plate makers when we had no tin plate mills of our own and our market was at the mercy of foreign producers. So it has been in all lines of industrial productions. The American Protective Tariff has never cost the American one dollar by reason of raising prices to the American producer. On the contrary, it has so lowered prices that it has saved to American consumers many billions of dollars.

EASTERNS OUT FOR PAN-AMERICAN TRADE

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 2.—To promote and conserve reciprocal trade relations between the United States and the other American countries is the purpose of the Pan-American States Association, which has just been organized here by leaders in the South and Central American export trade. Its permanent headquarters include four floors of a big office building. The president of the association is F. A. Wurzbacher, a New York banker. His associates include Judge Alton B. Parker, Hiram Maxim, Simon Patino, a South American millionaire, and Heriberto Barron, a Mexican lawyer. The list of vice-presidents includes Admiral George Dewey, Judge George Gray, Colonel George Harvey, Major General Leonard Wood and Colonel Henry Watterson.

The governors of 23 of the States of the Union and Governor George R. Cotton of Porto Rico compose a governors' board. The principal work of the association for the present will be the maintenance of a permanent exhibit of Pan-American products in New York.

The promoters of the organization believe that it will be instrumental in bringing to the United States the cream of the commercial advantage to accrue from the Panama Canal.

FRIDAY JULY 19, 1912

The soul can use a fine body more effectively than it can a poor body, but it can do wonders through an inadequate body.—Charles W. Eliot.

A PLAIN ROAD TO HARMONY

Out of the bitter controversy over the governorship are emerging certain facts in a stronger and stronger light,—facts that cannot and must not be forgotten, facts that must be weighed now.

Greatest of all is the fact that Hawaii cannot afford to carry the fight over the governorship into the fall campaign.

The vital issue in Hawaii is to get clean, capable men for the senate, the legislature, the boards of supervisors. In Honolulu municipal offices must be filled by men in every sense of the word.

The Star-Bulletin has good reason to affirm that if Delegate Kūhiō will eliminate—and he can eliminate—the Frear controversy from the fall campaign, this vital issue of capable men for local government can be carried forward to success.

If party leaders, men of responsibility, on both sides of the controversy, will step from under the cloud of personal animosities, and will take a stand for a territorial platform that shall contain no reference to the controversy and nothing to keep that controversy alive, then the basis of harmony, of progress, of political justice, moral right and territorial welfare is reached.

The delegate's services in the past, his record in the Republican party, his knowledge of Washington affairs, his strength with the voters, his sincerity, his ability as a fighter, entitle him to consideration from the territory. He is entitled to support if this controversy is eliminated, in good faith and thoroughly, from the fall campaign and from the territorial platform.

Free the platform from this disastrous fight; spend the party's strength and energy on nominating and electing men of character and brains; leave the personal issue, the Frear-Kūhiō issue, to the investigation that the president has promised and that Secretary Fisher will carry out!

R. W. Shingle's statement today ought to meet with general approval. It is open-minded and fair. The danger to Hawaii cannot be met by inaction, nor can the prosperity of this territory be served by Republicans who are quitters, who are willing to throw up their hands and let the broil of party affairs drift into worse things.

Here is a definite basis for harmony: drop the governorship fight from the campaign, eliminate any reference to this issue from the platform, unite then for men who will give the good local government that both sides know is the greatest issue in Hawaii.

CANAL POLITICS THE DANGER

Another landslide has slid into the Culebra cut, but that isn't worrying the Panama Canal engineers. They have plenty of time to finish the canal as promised, even with the landslide to contend with.

What worries the men who are spending millions in preparation for the canal opening in 1913 is that the house committee on appropriations cut the allowance for canal work almost in half, lopping off $16,780,000, and leaving but $18,780,000. The senate is trying to repair this damage, according to late reports, but the menace is in the expressed attitude of the house.

It's a Democratic house, of course, and the American people are patient under political acts that no other civilized country would endure. The slash in the canal appropriation was purely political; the Democrats made a fake pretense of economizing; they wished to discredit the Republican administration, and they did it so blunderingly that were it not for the seriousness of their blunder it would be laughable.

The spectacle of the Democratic house holding back so important an improvement as the Panama canal ought to be the political death-blow for most of the Democrats who are running the house. But it won't. Of course the senate is repairing the break, and the canal work will not be hampered as much as the Democrats would hamper it. This is a sample of the "constructive-statesmanship" that the bald eagle orators of Democracy are praising from every stump they can mount with their irresponsible feet.

CAPITALIZING THE AIR

Americans are so accustomed to reading of aviation only as the cause of terrible accidents that it is rather staggering to learn what strides toward the utilitarian—the art of flying has reached in other lands.

Count Zeppelin, abandoning the field of speed-contests for the less picturesque but far safer field of sober industry, has steadily progressed with the dirigible balloon until recently the airship service from Frankfurt to Dusseldorf has become as well-regulated as any steamer or train-service. It is surprising to read in the Scientific American an account of a journey by one of these dirigibles, and to hear of passengers coming aboard with heavy coats and satchels, equipped for a long journey. The large dirigibles are now carrying wireless equipment. The cabins are finished in handsome woods, and we read that the interior much resembles that of some palatial steamer, while the steady movement of the vessel, now and then buffeted by gusts of wind, is more than anything else reminiscent of a voyage at sea.

The morning paper is no stranger to distortion of facts, but the limit was reached this morning when under headlines "Shingle Breaks with Cupid," it published Mr. Shingle's carefully-drawn statement in which he affirms his personal friendship and his admiration for the delegates and in which he definitely refuses to become a candidate against him. That he, Mr. Shingle, would decline to support the delegate should the latter bolt the party is the fact upon which the morning paper has based its declaration of a "break."

An international conference of fire-fighters and an exhibit of fire-fighting apparatus from all over the world is to be held in New York next October. Advance reports, commenting on the character of the engines to be shown, make the prophecy that not a piece of horse-drawn apparatus will be seen in the exhibit. It is the age of motorization.

Private capital would have no more worthy investment in Honolulu than the erection of the proposed commercial building, now that the plan cannot be financed publicly. It ought to be carried through, and the indications are that it will be.

Kauai's progress in sanitation is another instance of the progressiveness of the Garden Island. Good roads, cleanliness and political and industrial harmony make a winning combination.

Mayor Fern has borrowed the city automobile for a three weeks' vacation trip on Hawaii. The mayor has kindly consented to pay for the gasoline.

Now it's the railroads that are back of the Panama canal controversy. This leaves only the airship trust and the suffragettes unmentioned.

There's no occasion for the holders of sugar stocks to get panicky simply because the senate is going to take up consideration of the sugar bill.

Roosevelt's denial of steam-roller methods sounds like a chauffeur trying to convince the police judge he didn't exceed the speed-limit.

The handcuffs used by an illusion king at one of the local theaters are not the decorations of royalty referred to in the press notices.

Congress is determined to make a good job of the Pearl Harbor drydock.

Why not nominate Lincoln Steffens at the Progressive convention?

"Blast the coral" hereafter will not be simply a beach expletive.

Has anybody seen Cipriano Castro, late of Venezuela?

LETTERS ON TIMELY TOPICS

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir: It is a most welcome piece of news to hear that the armory is to be built right away, for not only is this building badly needed for military purposes, but some such building has long been needed for many other purposes.

Mr. Marston Campbell had his own view when he planned the structure, and it was his idea to make it large enough to be used, not only for military purposes, but for great social functions, concerts, etc.

His plan was to have a building that would not only be useful, but ornamental as well, and that it should have galleries, hardwood floor and a seating capacity of not less than for the accommodation of 2500 people.

This plan, it is the consensus of opinion, should be adhered to, even if it cannot all be undertaken at the present time.

No one can doubt that such a structure is needed in Honolulu and will sooner or later have to be built, and in this way two birds would be killed with one stone. Very truly, GEO. OSBORNE.

BOND GUARANTEE NOT NECESSARY, SAYS W. A. WALL

"The bill is before Congress now but we are paying no regard to it at all," said William A. Wall this afternoon with reference to the measure that passed the 1911 Legislature authorizing the Territory to guarantee the bonds of any railway that would open up undeveloped territory—or something to that effect.

Mr. Wall was speaking for the Kona Railroad and Land Company, of which he is the first named among the promoters in its franchise. While he spoke as if the bond guarantee would be a good thing for the company, he intimated plainly that it was not necessary to the starting of operations for building the road.

The company has a franchise and is incorporated under it, and all it has to do is to go ahead and build—that is, providing the enterprise can be financed.

Mr. Wall was being questioned by a Star-Bulletin man regarding a statement in the morning paper that J. McLaughlin, a promoter of Springfield, Illinois, was here and yesterday secured an option on a controlling interest of the capital stock of the rail road company just mentioned.

Met McLaughlin One: "I have only met Mr. McLaughlin once, when I was introduced to him," said Mr. Wall, "but had no conversation what ever with him about the Kona railroad. If he has the controlling interest, as perhaps he has, he must have secured the option from some of the other stockholders. I must refer you to Mr. McLaughlin himself on that question and on his plans with regard to the enterprise."

Mr. Wall said the road would be a standard-gauge steam railroad, the same as the Hilo railroad. It would not take in the Kona plantation railroad, as he was informed some people supposed.

To Be 76 Miles Long. The line will be seventy-six miles in length, traversing the North and South Kona coast and having a marine outlet at Kealahou Bay. Mr. McLaughlin is quoted as saying that, according to estimates of engineers, the permanent way complete with rails can be built at an average cost of $10,000 a mile, against from $60,000 to $170,000 a mile that the Hilo railroad extension is costing.

It will develop much agricultural land, the area of which, within its traffic sphere, will be greatly increased with the opening of the Kau irrigation ditch. There is also a great deal of marketable timber along the route.

Mr. McLaughlin is further quoted as entertaining hopes of having the projected line of steamers between San Francisco and Manila make Kealahou its calling port in these islands if the road be constructed. He is also said to have fixed on the first of July as a next for having locomotives humary next for the track, his purpose being to secure forthwith the requisite capital for construction in New York.

PRECINCT CLUBS TO ELECT OFFICERS TONIGHT

The various precinct clubs which nominated officers for the ensuing year last Friday night will hold the elections tonight, when the nominees will be put through.

Chairman Cooper of the Republican Territorial central committee will tomorrow mail lists of all voters registered in the Great Register to the secretaries of all precincts on this island, with instructions to the precinct officers to check up the eligible voters and get them to register.

Judge Cooper yesterday found for the defendant in the suit involving nearly $9000 brought by Maurice Carey against the Hawaiian Lumber Mills Co., Ltd., et al, dismissing the creditor's bill, the basis of the action. Appeal to the supreme court was noted. Thompson, Wilder, Watson & Lymer represented the plaintiff, and J. Lightfoot, E. C. Peters, W. T. Rawlins, A. K. Ozawa, A. L. C. Atkinson and H. W. Heen are counsel for the defendants.

Two saddened tars, from recent arriving windjammers were arraigned at Police Court this morning upon a charge of larceny. They were alleged to have appropriated clothing, the property of another. Each received a six months' meal ticket at Hotel de Asch.

HALFF EMBEZZLEMENT HEARING POSTPONED

Charged with the embezzlement of $23 by Francis Levy, Halff appeared before Judge Monsarrat this morning for a hearing, but on request of counsel the case was postponed until July 24.

Levy alleges that Halff while collecting for him embezzled a sum of money in the neighborhood of $250, although he only names $23 as the amount in the complaint. Halff, Levy says collected the money giving receipts to the persons paying it but failing to turn the money in to him. Levy says he has the receipts, and declares that Halff admitted that he had spent the money collected and had promised to make it good, but had failed to do so although given the opportunity.

Twenty-three Chinese charged with gambling and arrested through the instance of Acting Chief of Detectives Kellett, were arraigned at police court this morning. Defended by Attorneys Chillingsworth and Rawlins, the case was put over until July 30.

Francisco, I am sure of getting seven or eight hundred to come to Honolulu in a chartered ship after the joint convention.
"Various associations of professional men meet in San Francisco in 1915. If every one would try and induce them to come to Honolulu after their convention, a ship could be kept busy throughout that year carrying excursionists to Hawaii. You can count on it the gas men will come. They are good spenders and will be out for a good time—and it is now only a matter of making them want to come to Honolulu rather than to go some other place. I think I can do it."

After seven days' trial during which reams of testimony were taken, the injunction and ejectment suit on property at Waikiki, brought by Samuel M. Kanakanaui, trustee for Yee Wo against Emma A. DeFries, was brought to a close in Judge H. E. Coyne's court yesterday afternoon. The case was finally submitted to the court on briefs.

THE Pickwick Club had finally dissolved and Mr. Pickwick had made a choice of a home. Everything was so beautiful! The lawn in front, the garden behind, the miniature conservatory, the dining-room, the drawing-room, and above all, the study, with its pictures and easy-chairs, and odd cabinets and queer tables, and books out of number, with a large, cheerful window, opening upon a pleasant lawn, and commanding a pretty landscape, just dotted here and there with little houses, almost hidden by the trees; and then the curtains, and the carpets, and the chairs, and the sofas! Everything was so beautiful, so compact, so neat, and in such exquisite taste, said everybody, that there really was no deciding what to admire most.

We have just such a home in Manoa Valley all ready for you—or we can build you a home after your own plans in Beautiful Kaimuki.

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE AND ITS RELATION TO HOME PROBLEMS

FROM A HONOLULU WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW

The demand for homes for persons of moderate income is being supplied to a great extent by men of means who are willing to accept something less than the usual Hawaiian returns on their investments. With the construction of small houses it would appear that the tenements will be fewer, for who wants a tenement when a home to one's self is possible? Work must be plentiful in Honolulu, for there is nearly always a need for even unskilled labor. At least that is the impression a day's news in the press would convey to the casual observer, and it is unskilled labor that is the food for the tenement owners.

A trip through the region of the fishmarket as the center of the radius will show pretty quickly how the poor are made poorer and why some can afford automobiles and why pedestrians who go to the fishmarket after four o'clock on Saturday are compelled to take to the middle of the street instead of the sidewalk. It will show also why the protest of the anti-saloons people against the saloons in that district should be heard and given consideration. It must occur to every white woman passing along King street between Nuuanu and the railway depot on Saturday that the policemen might better earn their salaries by keeping the streets clear of intoxicated men than by joining the groups and talking politics, as it is known that they do, to the cost and comfort of the citizens.

Real suffragettes could do much to better the condition of the Hawaiian women of Honolulu. Political suffragettes such as Hawaii had for generations may not be exactly what is needed but the real ones could establish woman's suffrage in the home and benefit the domestic conditions. It is often remarked that the demand for finery by the Hawaiian woman results in the depletion of the privacy of the household. Probably that is true, for the Hawaiian women, like the women of any other race, like finery; but those men who complain seem to overlook the amount they spend in liquid refreshments, for cigars and for other pleasures which their wives are not allowed to enjoy. Summing it up, the men are just as responsible for the small bank account, or none at all, as the women. There are exceptions to this rule, of course. There never was a rule that did not have its exceptions.

Suffragettes of the right kind might be a Godsend to many of the children in Honolulu who go hungry to bed. Many of the children who attend the industrial schools and the homes for little ones who are neglected by their parents, might be kept at home, for surely it is much more natural to enter a home and be greeted by a real, that a foster mother.

DECIDES COST OF WOMEN'S HATS IS HIGH ENOUGH

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The rights of women are secure in the Treasury Department. So spoke Assistant Secretary Curtis today in wiping out a big discrimination against women's hats in the interpretation of the tariff acts. Hatters' plush—used exclusively in the manufacture of men's silk hats—has been admitted to the United States at 10 per cent duty. Other such plush has paid 45 per cent. Of late hundreds of thousands of women's hats by fashion's decree have been made out of hatters' plush. Because of the peculiar wording of the tariff act some collectors of customs, in cases where the plush was used for women's hats, have been assessing 45 per cent, while that used for the dress hat of any American gentleman paid only 10 per cent. The cost of women's hats is high enough, said Curtis, in deciding that the quality of the plush should be the basis of assessment, whether it went to man or woman.

though the viands were many. Bowls of various sizes held poi, the native substitute for bread and porridge, a curious greyish, pasty-looking substance of an indescribable sour flavor, which the courageous dipped up on two fingers and ate. Dr. Atcherley demonstrated the method first, Taro, which is not unlike a sweet potato, hulled or roasted pork, euphoniaously called "pig" by the host and hostess; some sort of fish, apparently rolled and cooked in corn husks; bananas cooked in their skins; chicken sliced with spinach, and one or two dishes which defied analysis, but were not unpleasant to the palate, were all on the table at once.

The guests took up the unequal struggle dauntlessly. Soon they were conveying food in their fingers with an air of nonchalance that denied the very existence of forks. One sturdy guest, when the final round, consisting of ice cream, was brought on, scorned the proffered spoon and tossed the frozen dainty down with his fingers as if chiliains had never been heard of. Once a fork crept coyly from beneath a fern, a guest was, Darwinically speaking, "reverting to type."

"Coward" hissed a fellow guest from across the table, pointing the literal finger of scorn. The brandisher of the fork dropped it, abashed.

During the dinner Hawaiian airs were played, and the strains of the "Hula Hula" accompanied the exodus to the drawing-room. The little princess, Mrs. Atcherley and Dr. Atcherley were all toasted by the guests, Mrs. Atcherley responding in her native tongue.

Mrs. Atcherley's two eldest daughters, pretty dark-eyed girls, who will soon be dandy debutantes, assisted her in welcoming her guests. Mrs. Atcherley was gowned in pink satin, with garniture of black lace and jet. In the drawing room portraits of ex Queen Lilioukalan, King Kalakaua and Queen Kalanui, presented to Mrs. Atcherley as wedding gifts, were noticed.

Won Lawsuit and Fortune. Mrs. Atcherley has just successfully concluded a lawsuit, which has been pending for eleven years, for a half million dollar estate in Hawaii. The Supreme Court of the United States has finally decided in her favor and she has only lately returned from her native land from a trip connected with the settlement of the litigation. Mr. and Mrs. Atcherley are living in Canada because their connection with the deposed dynasty of Hawaii had brought them under suspicion in the flowery island, and their life there was too often rendered uncomfortable.

Covers were laid at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Douglas, Mr. George Macdonald, Mr. J. F. CRUEL PAPER WAR OVER, SAYS U. S. WAR DEPARTMENT ORDER

Officers Informed Dove of Peace Hovers Over Mexico and Cuba and They May Unpack Their Kits and Prepare to Stay a While — Fifth Cavalry Gets Notice to Move.

The near-war between the United States and Mexico and Cuba is at an end. Not many people knew that any sort of war, either near or far, existed, but such must have been the case, for a War Department order has just come along bringing the joyful tidings that the Dove of Peace is once more flitting with immunity over the border.

So far as Hawaii is concerned, the "state of immediate readiness" mentioned in the order has amounted only to the officers having their field kit packed ready for shipment whenever they went on leave, and to a mild flutter among some of the recruits. There was not much chance of the Oahu troops betting in on any fun that might break out in either Mexico or Cuba.

Following is the text of the order which ends this cruel and bloody paper conflict: "Referring to instructions concerning the holding of troops in readiness for immediate field service in Cuba and Mexico, the Secretary of War directs that you be advised that the emergency having passed, it is no longer necessary to keep the troops, and the equipment and property that would accompany them into the field, in the state of immediate readiness contemplated in those instructions."

That long-expected order for the relief of the Fifth Horse has finally arrived in official form, but after reading it, Cavalry officers here are no wiser than before as to their future station. The order tells what's going on in the field.

Christening an Hawaiian Princess in an Alien Land

WHAT VANCOUVER, B. C., READ WHEN DAUGHTER OF ATCHERLEYS WAS NAMED FOR KAIULANI

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 6.—Royal ties are no novelty in Vancouver. First and last they have come and gone by dozens. Every royalty and semi-royalty who come to America ultimately lands in Vancouver.

Ultimately—but not primarily. Only one has so far "seen Vancouver first," and that quite literally. And she, in deed, has not seen any place else. She is a princess, albeit a very little princess, high Princess Victoria Elizabeth Kaiulani, three right royal names, and she was christened yesterday evening at six o'clock in the baptismal font at Christ Church, Rev. C. C. Owen giving her her first christening.

She was born in Vancouver some few weeks ago, this little descendant of the kings and queens of sunny Hawaii, and she is the daughter of Dr. Atcherley and Mrs. Mary Harroch Atcherley. Mrs. Atcherley is the ward of ex-Queen Lilioukalan, daughter of the fosterbrother of King Kalakaua, and a lineal descendant also of King Kamehameha, who occupied the throne of Hawaii to the time of his death in 1822.

Named for Kaiulani. As according to ancient Hawaiian usage, titles and honors, as well as more material benefits, descend through the female line, Victoria Elizabeth Kaiulani is indeed a princess, though of a dethroned line. She is named for Queen Kaiulani, wife of King Kalakaua, and ex-Queen Lilioukalan is her grandmother. But

PARIS DOWN TO LAST HORSE CAR

Students Resent Banishment of the Slow Old Vehicles

PARIS, Fr., July 6.—Paris is down to her last horse car. The coming of the autobus in the past year has nearly exterminated the slower means of travel. As a consequence the students of the Latin quarter are up in arms. The Pantheon-Odeon horse bus, with its seats "upstairs," took its last trip a few weeks ago, and the students, hearing of the change that was about to take place, made it the occasion for a characteristic demonstration of disapproval.
At the Pantheon, the starting point, a battalion of students were in waiting. Like a swarm of angry bees they filled the seats and every inch of standing room. Amid yells and songs they rode over the course. In any other city the police would have interfered, but in Paris the student is a law and a power unto himself.
And now the march of progress threatens the last horse tramway—the Auteuil-St. Sulpice. While not in the Latin quarter, still it is near by, and it is one much used by the students. Time has no monetary value to the student, and, one might say with truth, to the average Parisian. A quick expedition to their place of destination does not appeal strongly to their senses. The horse bus and the horse tram had become a habit, and the "quarter" resents having a habit disturbed. When the Auteuil-St. Sulpice horse tram is called upon to make way for its speedier brother, the autobus, there is danger of a miniature revolution.
As a monument to Hugo Kruse, a sailor of Corona, L. I., who was killed on board the Maine, a 1000-pound shell will be planted on a granite base in that city.

HUBBY'S LOCKS WERE UPROOTED

With John Alina, the elevator man in the McCandless building, it might be safely said that he has had more than his share of ups and downs.
Alina, with a Hawaiian-Chinese of small stature, presented a picture of woe as he sat in the witness box at Judge Monsarrat's court this morning and told of a strenuous invasion of his premises by a buxom Hawaiian woman, three times his fighting weight, who lays claim to at one time having borne the title of Mrs. Alina.
From the tale unfolded between futile glances in the direction of an irate helpmeet, Alina might have fared far better after an encounter with a 60-mile-an-hour automobile or have entered the lists as a center rush in a football team.
He declared that for twenty minutes the woman had him by the hair and that great bunches of hair were sacrificed in the encounter.
"Not satisfied with hauling me over the floor of the bungalow by the scalp lock, I was beaten and battered with all sorts of household utensils and bric a brac, in which a lantern, a flower vase, a five-pound lead weight, a water pitcher and chair were used with distressing and reckless freedom.
"And," added Alina, who has braved insistent demands for passage in the downtown office building elevator, "my cries for help fell upon deaf ears."
"As your brother-in-law was living in the same house, why did you not call upon him for reinforcements?" was asked by the prosecution.
"As the woman battered down the door and entered, my brother beat it through the rear window," was the sad rejoinder.
Alina had been brought to book with a charge of assault and battery affixed to his name.
"I believe that the shoe is on the other foot," mused the court. "I will declare Alina not guilty. The charge should have been brought against the complainant instead, judging from all testimony given here."
Alina went his way, chastened but victorious.

OPEN LETTER TO PHYSICIANS

You will agree that the following presents an incurable case so far as Digitalis, Nitro Glycerine, Basham's Mixture, etc., are concerned:
Chronic Bright's Disease of the kidneys, patient in convulsions nearly every day for three weeks, twenty pounds of the patient's weight being dropped.
Patient—W. E. Strickland, address 45 Verona Place, San Francisco.
Patient's physician, Dr. Kelley, told him there was no hope.
E. L. Baldwin, President of the Ferry Drug Store, No. 20 Market Street, was instrumental in having Fulton's Renal Compound put to the test in this case. There was gradual improvement thereafter and final recovery. That it was complete may be known from the fact that this was about seven years ago and he was well at last advices a few months ago.
The motive of Fulton's Renal Compound (a mild infusion) is to stop the degeneration in renal tissues and gradually relax the obstructed kidney. Then the usual heat, eliminative and tonic treatment is helpful (there is no conflict) and the prognosis changes from despair to hope. (When not extreme many cases recover under the Renal Compound alone.)
The substance of the formula surrounds each bottle.
Honolulu Drug Co., will fill prescriptions and supply pamphlets.
