JAIL IS VILE DEN, HE CHARGES

Former Inmate Paints Terrible Picture of the Present Conditions

Declaring that the Oahu county prison is one of the "filthiest, dirtiest tubercular dens" to be found anywhere in the civilized world; that no sanitary precautions whatever are found within its confines; that sick prisoners are permitted to die in filthy cells without proper attention and that the entire system of management is an inhuman farce, Henry Allen who for a period of several years, and until a comparatively short time ago, was almost a continuous resident of the jail, has written a reply to an optimistic picture of life in the aforesaid prison which appeared in a morning paper recently, signed by "One Who Knows."

Allen makes no bones of the fact that he has served time in the jail for drunkenness and vagrancy, but he does maintain that since his last release early last year he has lived a straightforward upright life. He offers to make his statement of conditions existing in the jail under oath and to prove his assertions when called upon. He gave the names of several responsible citizens who stated that they would vouch for his sincerity among them E. A. Cooper, who vouches for Allen to the extent of saying that he knows he is sincere and is at the present time and has been for some time past, a good citizen.

The last grand jury report on the county prison states that it was found in good condition and that there was "ample evidence that every care is being taken to provide aid care for the health and wellbeing of the inmates."

Allen declares that none but a former inmate can talk of the conditions existing and intimates that the inspections are but perfunctory and made at reasonable times. The following is Allen's story of conditions:

NEW EMPEROR INVESTED WITH SACRED BEADS

Given Possession of Royal Mirror and Sword in Imperial Shrine

HIS ERA TO BE KNOWN AS THAT OF 'GREAT JUSTICE'

Local Japanese Put Flags at Half-Mast and Close stores for the Day

TOKIO, Japan, July 30.—Yoshihito, the one hundred and twenty-second of his line, reigns as Emperor of Japan. The Meiji era, under which Mutsuhito ruled, ended with the last breath of that monarch, and the new era under which Yoshihito will hold sway will be known as Tai-Sei, the era of "Great Justice."

Immediately upon the death of Mutsuhito, his successor was conducted to the imperial shrine in the palace at Tokio, and there, in the presence only of a few princes of the blood royal, was presented with the three royal treasures. As the new Emperor, the sacred beads were hung about his neck and he gazed into the royal mirror and girded on the royal sword.

When the first rays of the sun fell upon the turrets of the great castle, Yoshihito appeared before a concourse of the first nobles of the realm and was proclaimed Emperor. The proclamation was then read to the thousands massed outside the walls which surround the palace, and he was acclaimed Emperor with a great shout by the populace.

The formal ceremony of coronation will not be held for a year, some time in the autumn or winter of 1913, and it will take place at Kyoto, the ancient capital of the empire. The date for the commencement of the funeral services for the dead Emperor has not been set, but it is announced that the ceremonies will in all probability cover thirty days, during which a general period of mourning will be observed and only the most necessary labor will be performed. The funeral services will be held in Tokio, but the body will be conveyed to Kyoto and placed in the royal sepulchre where a hundred emperors of the dynasty repose.

Official notice of the accession to the throne of Yoshihito was received at the Japanese consulate here this morning, together with instructions to keep all Japanese flags at half-mast until the conclusion of the period of mourning, the date of which will be announced later. While no notice was given the local Japanese colony as to observing a period of mourning, the majority of the Japanese stores hung out flags at half-mast and closed their doors for the day. On the plantations the Japanese laborers continued to work as usual, but it is said that when the official period of mourning is announced, it is probable the Japanese all over the Islands will refrain from working during the days of public grief.

Korean Gallant Flouted By Lady Love In Court Room

Braved Father's Gun and Invoked Law to Win Girl Who Now Repudiates Him

Strange is the way of a man. With a maid, but simple and tame To the way of a maid with a man When papa objects to that same. —Apologies to Kipling.

See Mey Soong, a coy Chinese maiden, this morning upset that pretty theory of all the best-selling novels, that parental objection only draws love's knot tighter, when she stood before Circuit Judge Cooper and repudiated her gallant Korean sweetheart.

SUPERVISORS TALK REVOKING R. T. FRANCHISE

Declare They Won't Yield to Lava Blocks Between Double Tracks

PAVING CONTROVERSY MAKES NO PROGRESS

Streetcar Company's Formal Expression Referred to Attorney

The Supervisors will stand pat on their present attitude on paving, according to statements from members of the board today. They will insist that the Rapid Transit Company pave with bitulithic between its double tracks on King Street, and if the company continues to refuse to do so, some of the Supervisors favor carrying the matter to the Governor, and instituting quo warranto proceedings looking toward an annulment of the company's franchise. They say that the Supreme Court has held they have no discretion in the matter of paving, that the Rapid Transit Company must pave in conformity with the rest of the street, and that they have already gone more than half way in allowing the company to pave between the rails with lava rock.

Last night the Supervisors received a letter from the Rapid Transit Company informing them that the board is ready to proceed with a lava block paving on King street, or with an ohia block paving. The letter was the result of a special meeting of the company last Friday morning and was published in the Star-Bulletin this afternoon. It puts the paving matter up to the board by stating formally that the company is ready to proceed with the lava block paving.

The board, however, now refuses to yield an inch further, said several Supervisors today. The letter was referred to the county attorney, but the city fathers declare that they will not allow lava blocks between the double tracks, and that the next thing in order is action toward securing a revocation of the company's franchise provided it does not make the concession of putting down bitulithic between the tracks.

HEARS ARGUMENT FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Federal Judge Dole this morning heard arguments on the application for writ of habeas corpus for Tomimatsu Tsuru, a Japanese woman who has been held at the immigration hospital since June 10 because the authorities believe she is suffering from trachoma, a communicable disease. She is said to have become afflicted while visiting relatives in Japan. Her husband is a farmer at Kula, Maui.

JUDGE ROBINSON TO TAKE VACATION

Jurist Will Take Advantage of Leave Granted Him Three Years Ago

The Honorable William J. Robinson, third judge of the First Circuit Court, Honolulu, who at present is the oldest federal judicial appointee in the Territory, will leave next week for his first vacation in five years. He will leave either on the transport Thomas or on the Manchuria for the Coast and will be gone about sixty days. In this trip he is taking advantage of the leave of absence granted him by the Acting Attorney General of the Territory on October 1, 1905. It is the first opportunity he has had to escape the heavy routine of judicial work that has held him since 1905, when the stress of work became so heavy that he nearly broke down from physical and nervous exhaustion. He will spend a portion of his vacation visiting his mother and sister, at his old home in Alameda, California. He has written H. H. Prouty, of Portland, a brother of Chas. A. Prouty of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and it is likely that these two will journey into the Yellowstone Park for a lengthy tour. During his absence fee cases which may need immediate attention will be handled by Judge Whitney for a time, and later by Judge Cooper.

Secretary Fisher To Sail August 23 For Hawaiian Probe

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable.) WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—Peyton Gordon, special agent of the Department of Justice, who is going out to Hawaii and Japan to investigate undervaluation of imports, has been slightly delayed in leaving and will not sail from San Francisco until August 3. Secretary Fisher has made reservations on the steamer leaving San Francisco August 23. C. S. ALBERT. The steamer sailing from San Francisco August 23 is the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria.

STRENUOUS IS LAST MORNING OF DR. ELIOT

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, sailed for the coast on the China this morning after setting a record for strenuousness that made the young college men who have been escorting him around Honolulu hard to emulate. He arrived shortly after daylight this morning from his trip to the Volcano, went to the Moana hotel for breakfast, saw to the shipment of the baggage of his party, and then started on a line of sociological and industrial investigation during the few hours that remained to him in Hawaii.

Coming down town in an automobile with Secretary R. S. Hooper of the Harvard club, the distinguished scholar spent some time in conference with President Pratt of the board of health, their topic of conversation pertaining to the relation of medical practice here to the social evil and the prevalence and effect of the social evil in Honolulu and Hawaii generally. From this President Eliot was taken to the Honolulu Iron Works by Assistant Manager Dyer. Dr. Eliot wished to get a line on the Hawaiian as a laborer and on the laboring classes here, and he made a thorough inspection of the iron works in a short time. Then Dr. Eliot was taken to the steamer, and arriving there early, he told one of the men who had gathered to bid him farewell that he hoped to get a little time for a look at Honolulu's shipping conditions before leaving. However, he was the center of an informal going-away reception on the deck of the China and had no further opportunity of going ashore. Dr. Eliot expressed himself as delighted with the volcano. "It is a wonderful spectacle, and much more than repaid me for my visit," he said. "I shall never forget the sight, and," he added with a smile, "I recommend the sight of the volcano to Calvinists."

STABBED 35 TIMES, FLEES FROM PIRATES

American Teacher, Victim of Mongol Buccaneers, Is Passenger on the China

HACKED WITH KNIVES AND LEFT FOR DEAD

Body Covered with Wounds, Is on Way to Mainland Hospital

Permanently maimed in body through the infliction of thirty-five wounds, by murderous Chinese pirates, broken in health, and repatriated to the United States to seek possible medical relief, A. N. Sheldon, a young college graduate from Wisconsin, after a service of nearly three years in the very heart of the Chinese empire, now a Republic, declared this morning in a talk with a Star-Bulletin representative on board the Pacific Mail liner China, that he is going home to stay.

A victim of a dastardly and blood-thirsty attack from a horde of armed river pirates, Sheldon, who has been on the staff of educators with the Imperial University at Chientu, is barely able to get about, and displays many visible evidences of his encounter with a posse of fanatical, world-be-murderers. Sheldon, in company with Albert Hicks and William Hodgson, were dwellers in a river hamlet, in which they were making a stop along the upper Yangtze river. It was with much reluctance that Sheldon could be prevailed upon this morning to recount his terrible experiences on that eventful and fatal night of March 23rd, when himself

HAWAII LEADS IN UP-TO-DATE SUGAR MILLS

W. J. Dyer, assistant manager of the Honolulu Iron Works, was much interested in the extract from Tropical Life, a London magazine, reprinted in the Star-Bulletin yesterday. Being an Englishman himself by birth and having in his travels in the interest of the big local foundry run across sugar machinery from British mills, Mr. Dyer fully appreciates the plait of the London periodical regarding the lead Hawaii is taking in many quarters in the placing of orders for sugar mills and machinery. "They do not understand how it is," said Mr. Dyer to a Star-Bulletin reporter at the works this morning. "How Honolulu, out in the middle of the Pacific, can successfully compete with their manufacturers of machinery is a puzzle to them. The fact is that we are right in the middle of the sugar industry, and Hawaii is at the head of the procession in sugar manufacturing improvements. We have been progressive on account of the conditions of labor in Hawaii. "Lately I spent three or four months in Peru. They are twenty years behind Hawaii there in the matter of factories. Where they have reached the nine-roller mill stage, we are using eighteen-roller mills in new construction. Counting the crusher, Paia has a twenty-one roller plant. Peru raises cane that is superior to ours in sugar content. There is two percent more sugar in their cane than

ATKINSON IS ON WAY TO CHICAGO

A. L. C. Atkinson, on his way to secure for Hawaii representation in the Progressive convention in Chicago, reached the mainland Sunday and has cabled back to Chairman George R. Carter of the Progressives' provisional committee that he has started for Chicago. "I suppose you will not know until Thursday or Friday what the result of his work will be," said Mr. Carter this morning. "A good deal of our plan depends on his getting the representation, though if he does not we will be just as active in Hawaii."

CONFERENCE ON SUGAR IS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—The House today refused to concur in the Senate substitute for the sugar bill, which is the Lodge-Bristow bill passed last week. The House requests a conference.

Sugar Trust Methods Told

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 30.—Robert Oxnard, head of the American Beet Sugar Company, independent, today continued his sensational charges against the sugar trust as evidence in the trust case now under investigation. Oxnard declared that the American Sugar Refining Company forced competitors out of certain territories to allow the trust to dispose of its surplus stock in these territories. He described the conditions of competition at some length. Letters written by both Havemeyer and Oxnard himself were introduced to show the fight made by the independents to keep alive.

New York Police Exposed

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 30.—"Bald Jack" Rose, one of the New York gambling fraternity, has made a statement to the authorities investigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler who threatened to expose the police corruption. Rose says that Lieutenant Becker, head of the "strong arm squad" that raided the gambling houses, engineered the plot to kill Rosenthal. Becker, he charges, threatened to send all the gamblers to prison unless Rosenthal was put out of the way. He detailed the story of the plot involving other "higher-ups" in the police department.

FIRE DESTROYS TWO COTTAGES IN PALAMA ZONE

Fire broke out in Palama this morning, destroyed two cottages on Auld's Lane and threatened the destruction of the entire congested district before it was brought under control by the Palama and Central station fire companies which were rushed to the scene. The fire which started from an unknown cause was discovered in the basement of the cottage occupied by John Napuli and family shortly after seven o'clock this morning. Napuli was just leaving the house for work when he smelt smoke and on investigation discovered a small tongue of flame licking up the side of an interior wall and the kitchen floor was ablaze. Napuli notified the fire department nearby while Mrs. Napuli hurried the children out of doors. The house which is a one story frame cottage was soon a mass of flame which spread to the adjacent cottage of John Waipa.

Central station and Palama fire companies responded to the alarm but were handicapped at the start by the condition of Auld's Lane which is blocked for traffic as work of installing a sewer system in the neighborhood is now in progress. The hose wagon was forced to drive around and through a cane field and by the time that the hose was attached and the proper pressure attained, Napuli's cottage was a total loss.

In an hour's hard work, the firemen managed to save Waipa's cottage with the exception of the roof and one side of the building. Waipa and his family had succeeded in moving their chattels and furniture to the street and managed to cut down their loss to about $100 but Napuli, whose cottage was burnt to the ground lost everything. His loss is estimated at $500.

After the blaze had been extinguished, the firemen spent several hours drenching the neighboring cottages and tenements with water in order to prevent the possibility of another fire. Neither of the cottages was insured; the cottage which was totally destroyed was leased by Napuli from a Chinese named Chang, while Waipa's cottage is the property of W. E. Ledros.

MAPULEHU RANCH SOLD FOR $15,000

Clarence H. Cooke has bought from Mrs. Louisa Ahrens, wife of August Ahrens, the lands, leaseholds and personal property constituting the Mapulehu ranch property on the island of Molokai. The price was $15,000. Included in the property are the ahupua'a of Mapulehu and Kuleana situated thereon heretofore belonging to Alvine Widemann Conrad and (or) Christian Conrad, her husband, which are described in a mortgage for $11,000 from the Conrads to the grantor which has been foreclosed, as recited in the deed to Cooke just recorded.

EWA PLANTATION BOOSTS FUND FOR DUKE

The Duke Kahanamoku fund being collected through the Star-Bulletin topped the four hundred dollar mark this morning, when employees of the Ewa Plantation Company sent to this paper a draft for $42.50 to help along the good work. The accompanying letter shows that the idea of the fund is a popular one and that the Ewa plantation people are strong boosters for clean sport generally. "Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin: "Sir:—Being staunch supporters of clean sport, we enclose herewith draft in your favor for $42.50, which is a donation from the employees of the Ewa Plantation Company and which is to go towards swelling the Duke Kahanamoku Fund. It is the unanimous sentiment of the donors that this amount can either go towards purchasing a house and lot for the champion or towards sending him to some educational institution. "Wishing you success, we remain, yours very truly,

"EMPLOYEES, EWA PLANTATION COMPANY."

The special committee named to handle the fund, of which W. T. Rawlins is chairman, will hold a meeting within a day or two, to name a treasurer, A. L. C. Atkinson, the original treasurer, having gone to the mainland. The committee will then be ready to receive all contributions and the Star-Bulletin will turn over to it the first instalment of the funds it has received.

PARIS SCORES POINT IN WATERHOUSE SUIT

In a decision handed down by the Supreme Court today, the exceptions of John D. Paris are sustained and the suit brought against him in the First Circuit Court by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, Ltd., is ordered retried. It will be the third trial given this case. The first trial was nonsuited and on the second trial verdict was for the plaintiff. This is an old case growing out of the receipt of $307,111 by Paris in 1904 from the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company for rentals and his promise to deduct that amount from the sum that would be owing him from Clinton J. Hutchins, A. B. Wood and the Waterhouse Trust Company if another case, at that time pending, should be decided in his favor. The case was decided in his favor.

FIREMAN FROM CHINA REMOVED TO HOSPITAL FOR OPERATION

W.F. Fernald, a water-tender connected with the fireman squad in the Pacific Mail steamship China, was taken seriously ill shortly before the vessel arrived at Honolulu from Oriental ports, and following a consultation of physicians this morning the man was ordered off the ship and sent to the Queen's Hospital, where he will undergo an operation believed to be necessary to prolong his life.

Fernald is said to be suffering from acute appendicitis. His removal from the China occurred only a few minutes before that vessel was ready to depart for San Francisco.

The China brought one thousand tons Oriental cargo for discharge at Honolulu.

Two deaths occurred on the voyage, each being Chinese, one a steerage passenger, the other a member of the crew. The Chinese sailor is said to have committed suicide by leaping over the side of the ship. His body was not recovered, though several hours were spent in the search.

The China sailed for the coast shortly after one o'clock this afternoon taking thirty or more cabin passengers including the company of players connected with the Great Baymond.

The China was given several thousand cases of preserved pineapples, besides many crates of the fresh fruit.

Five hundred tons coal were landed into the bunkers during the stay of the vessel at this port.

The China arrived here with 132 cabin, 36 second class and 339 steerage passengers. Of this number 23 cabin, 3 second class and 233 steerage passengers were for Honolulu. The steerage passengers consisted of 12 Japanese, 13 Chinese and 148 Filipinos.

Wireless Compass

Signor Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy, has invented a wireless compass, which will be tried on board the Mauretania when next she leaves Liverpool, says the Daily Telegraph. The employment of this apparatus, it is stated, will remove the perils of fog at sea.

Mr. Marconi smilingly refused to explain his secret until after the Patent Office had sent him his papers, but he took a piece of paper, and with a pencil, drew what the compass is meant to accomplish.

The drawing consisted of a series of lighthouses on shore, and a series of ships off shore, at various intervals. "Now, we suppose," said Mr. Marconi, "that all these ships are sending out wireless flashes in a dense fog or terrific storm. You know the confusion your skipper is in today. He can pick up messages, but can get no sense of the direction from which they come. We are going to supply exactly the lacking element. By means of the wireless wave which will be exclusively in this kind of work we are going to give him his sense of

Arizona Under New Skipper

Captain H. R. Patterson, formerly with the American-Hawaiian freighter Alaskan, is greeting friends here today as the master of the sister ship Arizonan, now at the port where a large cargo is to be discharged before the vessel clears for Salina Cruz by the way of the island ports of call.

Captain Patterson was relieved of the command of the Alaskan by Chief Officer W. P. Hillman, who now commands the Alaskan, now on its way to the isthmus of Tehuantepec with over twelve thousand tons sugar and other lines of Hawaiian products.

The Arizonan is scheduled to sail for island ports on Thursday evening. This vessel will leave the islands for Salina Cruz with the regulation amount of sugar. The Arizonan brought quantities of supplies for Pearl Harbor, also the Hilo Breakwater and material for the Oahu Railway and Land Company.

Tourists Return from Pele's Shrine

Of the sixty-five passengers to arrive this morning in the inter-island steamer Mauna Kea, a number were tourists who had spent a short time at the shrine of Pele, Hawaii's famous volcano. The Mauna Kea returned with a fair sized general cargo including the usual quantities of empties, native hard woods, one auto and 77 packages sundries. The vessel met with some cloudy weather and light trades and smooth seas. Purser Phillips reports the steamer Kaula at Hilo, the steamer Kaula was passed off Pepeekeo, bound for Hilo.

Hawaii Sugar Report

Purser Phillips of the steamer Mauna Kea arriving from Hilo and way ports this morning reports the following sugar awaiting shipment at Big Island ports: Oiaa, 18,150; Waiakes, 8000; Hawaii Mill Co., 2800; Hilo Sugar Co., 22,200; Onomea, 8750; Pepeekeo, 840; Honoumou, 5400; Hakaluu, 21,500; Laupahoehoe, 7000; Waiwaki, 5800; Kukaui, 6000; Hamakua Mill, 5200; Paauhau, 10,000; Honokaa, 5000; Kukuhaele, 6100; Punahou, 16,821; Honoupo, 9776.

U. S. INTENDS TO STOP SMUGGLING

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 13.—Determined to break up the traffic in contraband Chinese along the coast, a party of immigration officials left Long Beach early today in the fast power-boat Tillikum, presumably for San Clemente island.

The movements of the officers were kept secret, as they left before daybreak, but it was learned that they took a heavy supply of arms, ammunition and provisions.

Reports were received by immigration officials yesterday that a number of smuggled Chinese had been abandoned on the island, where twenty-two of their number and two alleged smugglers were captured several days ago.

It was reported also that another shipment of contraband Chinese had left Escondido, Lower California, a few days ago, and the belief was expressed that the officials intended to intercept them before they could land.

and his two companions were assailed by a band of river pirates, who approached their houseboat in a large junk.

One Man Butchered.

"We were boarded during the early hours of the morning. Without a word of warning the pirates, who we afterward found out were soldiers from Hunan province, stole aboard the boat on which we lived, and then there began an attack, from the effects of which I will probably never fully recover.

"Poor Hicks was killed outright. He put up a brave fight, as we all did on that night. He was stabbed in a dozen or more places on his body by sword thrusts. In several instances these entered his lungs, and he died a few hours following the attack.

"My companion, Hoffman, like myself, battled with the pirates with whatever weapons we could command. Hoffman, cut and riddled, finally succeeded in crawling to the rear portion of the large houseboat, where he managed to conceal himself, and was presumably given up by the Chinese as dead.

Crawled to Place of Safety.

"I managed to succeed in driving off the infuriated Chinese only after many of them had been severely wounded in the conflict. Then followed the hardest task, that of inducing the Chinese on our boat to take matters in their own hands, and guide the craft to the first available point along the river, where medical attendance might be secured.

"Hoffman as well as myself were in a pitiable plight, admitted Sheldon this morning after some questioning. We were finally landed at Chientu, and there turned over to the attendants at the medical college and hospital maintained there by the board of missions.

"As soon as I was able to travel, I was taken to Shanghai, there receiving attention from such specialists as were available at that model settlement.

"Sheldon is a bright and exceedingly entertaining college man. He walks about with a decided limp and must resort to the use of a cane or crutches in going about the ship.

A Wreck of Former Self.

His left hand has been almost severed from the wrist, the member being denuded of three fingers, while a portion of the wrist has been sliced away, leaving a mere stump.

Sheldon says that he is in search of medical assistance from the best specialists on the mainland. He has been told that there is hope that he may be relieved from permanent lameness, if his case is taken in time.

He says his injuries inflicted on both legs and body, from long and sharp sabers or short swords.

It was by but a miracle that his life was spared, as the Chinese pirates before leaving him on the deck of the houseboat for dead, plunged their swords into his chest, but failed to penetrate his lungs.

According to Sheldon, he believed that the attack upon the little party of foreigners was inspired through the efforts of the Yunnanese to involve the Sechuenese in trouble. It was the intention of the revolutionary soldiers who had resolved themselves into a piratical band to lay the attack to the doors of the people dwelling in the neighboring province.

American Government Seeks Redress.

The victim of the pirates stated today that as soon as the story of the attack had been sent to Shanghai, the American gunboat Villalobos was immediately dispatched to the upper Yangtze. The scene of the murder was laid nearly two hundred miles above Ichang, and over seven hundred miles beyond Hankow, China.

American Consul Cunningham, at Hankow, also interested himself in the matter, and every effort was made to apprehend the perpetrators of the outrage, and bring them to punishment. Several of the ringleaders were caught and are serving sentence.

ion Hicks was killed was quite a large craft, divided into several compartments, which were occupied as living and dining rooms and also a kitchen and place for the crew of Chinese, carried to operate the boat.

In all the three years that the little band of American educators remained at the interior port on the Yangtze, this was the first attack that had been made upon them.

Hicks who was killed in the attack came from Oshkosh, Wisconsin; Hoffman, is a university man whose home is in Cleveland, Ohio.

"Yes, you can safely say for me that I have no further desire to return to China, however great are the possibilities offered there for a young man," concluded Sheldon, as he prepared to take leave of a party of local friends, as the liner China prepared to cast off for San Francisco at noon.

A wireless message from the Lurline was received by Charles F. Loomis yesterday afternoon as the result of a lovoqram which the Boy's Secretary of the Y. M. C. As the result of a petition which was circulated about the Y. M. C. Loomis at noon tomorrow and the following message was accordingly dispatched to the Lurline, "Aloha Alice, wireless inadequate, Hello Super. Answer preffid."

And a few hours later came the answer: "Two sea-sick persons can hardly wait. Where did you get the price. Super-Richardson."

Californian's Skipper Blamed for Not Aiding Titanic

Board of Trade inquiry into the Titanic disaster concluded today when Lord Mersey, the presiding judge, without setting a definite date, announced that its report would be produced within a "reasonable time."

Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, in his closing speech said he had been anxious to find, if possible, an excuse for the inaction of Capt. Lord of the Californian, but he had regretfully come to the conclusion that there was no excuse for him. The court, he said, must find Capt. Lord's evidence unsatisfactory.

Lord Mersey suggested that if Capt. Lord saw the signals of distress and did not go to the relief he was possibly guilty of a misdemeanor. Sir Rufus Isaacs said:

"That is so under the Merchants' shipping act."

Sir Rufus Isaacs added that the conclusion was irresistible that the Californian might have got to the Titanic in time to save her passengers, and concluded by asserting that utterly unnecessary risks had been taken by the Titanic, and that the causes of the disaster were a bad lookout and excessive speed.

During the thirty-six sessions of the court of inquiry 98 witnesses have been examined, and 25,621 questions put to them.

in ours. The juice there averages eighteen percent of sugar, which we have nothing like here, but they have not the factories or plants. They do not even know how to operate the nine-roller mills to best advantage, there being a thousand and one details they do not understand.

"It is the same with all countries that obtain their sugar making plants from the old country. When Hawaii had six-roller mills, they were still using three-rollers, and six-roller mills when we had advanced to nine-rollers, and so on. The reason is that the British makers are so far away from where the sugar is produced. Here in Honolulu we are in close touch all the time with the industry. Whenever anything goes wrong in a sugar factory, or any defect or chance for improvement is discovered, the sugar men instantly communicate their troubles or their suggestions, and these works are always alert to follow up complaints or suggestions, as well as busy devising improvements for the benefit of the industry."

Asked if the works had any large orders at present, Mr. Dyer conducted the reporter into the machine shop, where a busy scene was presented of men attending automatic machinery that was finishing huge parts of sugar mills. Here and there were piled up immense cogwheels, ten or twelve feet in diameter, and in one end of the shop were ranged four flywheels eighteen feet in diameter. Several mills partly set up were on the floor. Among the orders on hand, Mr. Dyer related the following formidable list:

For Waluku Sugar Co., converting nine-roller mill to twelve-roller.

For Pioneer Mill Co., converting nine-roller mill to twelve-roller.

For a Japanese company in Formosa, converting two nine-rollers into twelve-rollers.

For Kohala Sugar Co., constructing a new steel building to house the present mill.

Various other orders for construction and reconstruction of mills are pending but not yet advanced far enough to publish.

There are a lot of local orders for improvements in factories to be made in the coming off-season, together with the usual amount of repairs and renewals that come on at the end of the grinding season.

Outside of the sugar industry the works have some large orders, including five miles of steel riveted pipes for the U. S. government at the Lelehu military reservation.

The Honolulu Iron Works Co., Ltd., is now putting in the foundations for the branch works to be erected at Hilo, upon the site of the old cannery factory. At this establishment, when completed, repairs and improvements to sugar-making plants on the big island can be made with less delay and expense than are incident to sending the work to Honolulu.

and his two companions were assailed by a band of river pirates, who approached their houseboat in a large junk.

One Man Butchered.

"We were boarded during the early hours of the morning. Without a word of warning the pirates, who we afterward found out were soldiers from Hunan province, stole aboard the boat on which we lived, and then there began an attack, from the effects of which I will probably never fully recover.

"Poor Hicks was killed outright. He put up a brave fight, as we all did on that night. He was stabbed in a dozen or more places on his body by sword thrusts. In several instances these entered his lungs, and he died a few hours following the attack.

"My companion, Hoffman, like myself, battled with the pirates with whatever weapons we could command. Hoffman, cut and riddled, finally succeeded in crawling to the rear portion of the large houseboat, where he managed to conceal himself, and was presumably given up by the Chinese as dead.

Crawled to Place of Safety.

"I managed to succeed in driving off the infuriated Chinese only after many of them had been severely wounded in the conflict. Then followed the hardest task, that of inducing the Chinese on our boat to take matters in their own hands, and guide the craft to the first available point along the river, where medical attendance might be secured.

"Hoffman as well as myself were in a pitiable plight, admitted Sheldon this morning after some questioning. We were finally landed at Chientu, and there turned over to the attendants at the medical college and hospital maintained there by the board of missions.

"As soon as I was able to travel, I was taken to Shanghai, there receiving attention from such specialists as were available at that model settlement.

"Sheldon is a bright and exceedingly entertaining college man. He walks about with a decided limp and must resort to the use of a cane or crutches in going about the ship.

A Wreck of Former Self.

His left hand has been almost severed from the wrist, the member being denuded of three fingers, while a portion of the wrist has been sliced away, leaving a mere stump.

Sheldon says that he is in search of medical assistance from the best specialists on the mainland. He has been told that there is hope that he may be relieved from permanent lameness, if his case is taken in time.

He says his injuries inflicted on both legs and body, from long and sharp sabers or short swords.

It was by but a miracle that his life was spared, as the Chinese pirates before leaving him on the deck of the houseboat for dead, plunged their swords into his chest, but failed to penetrate his lungs.

According to Sheldon, he believed that the attack upon the little party of foreigners was inspired through the efforts of the Yunnanese to involve the Sechuenese in trouble. It was the intention of the revolutionary soldiers who had resolved themselves into a piratical band to lay the attack to the doors of the people dwelling in the neighboring province.

American Government Seeks Redress.

The victim of the pirates stated today that as soon as the story of the attack had been sent to Shanghai, the American gunboat Villalobos was immediately dispatched to the upper Yangtze. The scene of the murder was laid nearly two hundred miles above Ichang, and over seven hundred miles beyond Hankow, China.

American Consul Cunningham, at Hankow, also interested himself in the matter, and every effort was made to apprehend the perpetrators of the outrage, and bring them to punishment. Several of the ringleaders were caught and are serving sentence.

MANY BUSINESSMEN'S NAMES ARE SUGGESTED

Suggestions as to names for a "business men's ticket" are being made hourly to the special committee now looking into the local political situation, and yesterday afternoon a number of well-known leaders in business circles here were mentioned for specific offices. George W. Smith, C. H. Cooke, Joe Andrade, Emil Berndt, John Waterhouse, C. G. Bartlett, Carlos Long, E. A. C. Long, James Wakefield and several others are suggested for the Board of Supervisors. H. M. von Holt may be persuaded to run for mayor, and Senatorial candidates are likely as mosquitoes. W. T. Rawlins has been suggested as a possibility for the city attorneyship.

Willard Brown's name has been mentioned by several leaders as a good man for the Legislature if he returns in time to get into the local campaign. J. M. Dowsett, it is hoped, will consent to run for the Senate. Auditor James Bicknell is spoken of for reelection. In some quarters City Clerk Kalauokalani is considered a desirable man for the Legislature, but it is doubtful if he would wish to quit the municipal employ.

CIVIC BUILDING PLANS AS THEME

Ad Club Will Hear Ideas as to Joint Honolulu Enterprise

Representatives of the many commercial, civic, and professional organizations, as well as members of various clubs in Honolulu, will be given an opportunity next Thursday at the open noon lunch meeting of the Ad Club at the Alexander Young Rathskeller, to express their views in regard to the possibility of a joint civic building downtown to house a city hall, theatre and auditorium, art gallery, bazaar, commercial and professional organizations, as well as clubs and semi-public service corporations.

Alexander Hume Ford, editor of the Mid-Pacific Magazine, has been invited to make the opening remarks.

"I shall place my ideas before the lunchers," said Ford, in type, so that there will be time for the representatives of the various bodies to express their views within the hour. It is really what the others say that is of importance. My experience in the public service work for the past year has taught me that throughout Hawaii there are scattered industries that are eager to get together for joint promotion work, various clubs that wish joint downtown headquarters, various professional organizations that merely need someone to say the word to get them together in a downtown hall or clubroom. And so it goes. The get-together spirit is in the air. The Ad Club has done a great deal in promoting the "get-together" spirit in Honolulu, and personally I believe it is doing a great thing in inviting the members of the Joint Chamber of Commerce Building Committee, the Promotion Committee, and the representatives of the many clubs and organizations to express their views on a get-together plan for a great civic building. If each club will follow the Ad Club's lead, we shall soon have both the get-together spirit and the joint building. It is pleasant to know how earnestly all parties kokua in the plan for joint work."

NO NEW STEAM ROLLER BUT BETTER ROADS NOW URGED

"We want better roads and fewer steam rollers," urged one conservative member of the Board of Supervisors this morning when asked as to the outcome of a combined effort upon the part of three members in that body to foist a Buffalo-Pitts machine upon the city and county of Honolulu whether or no it is really needed by the road department.

"The city has no need for an additional ten-ton roller, and I for one shall advocate that the money required to purchase the roller handled by the Lynch Company, Incorporated, be utilized for purposes far more beneficial to the municipality as a whole."

Murray refrained last evening from verbal participation in the endeavor to add another steam roller to the already large number of these machines owned by the city and county, and generously loaned to the various contractors, who are entrusted with the building of county highways or performing other constructive work in which a heavy roller is required. James Lynch, manager of the incorporated company which bears his name, came up smiling following his defeat last evening with a bid to supply the city and county with a road roller, ten tons in weight, for $3,295, or just five dollars less than the figure submitted by the Honolulu Iron Works, his rival in the steam roller merchandising business. The latter company at a recent meeting, through representation of Mr. Waldron, offered a ten-ton machine to the municipality for $3,300. When Mr. Waldron attempted to set forth some of the advantages of the machine in question he was promptly squelched though Mr. Lynch was permitted to address the board on three separate occasions.

"This steam roller business has occasioned a lot of unfavorable talk, and I fear that some of the same will follow, should we go ahead and authorize the purchase of the Lynch machine, at the former price of $3,730," stated Supervisor Arnold, who thereupon offered a motion that the resolution fathered by Murray, calling for $3,750 for steam roller purchase be tabled.

A unanimous vote was recorded for killing the Murray resolution.

The Lynch bid presented to the Supervisors last evening was accompanied by a certified check. Despite the fact that the machine has been offered the board at a reduction of $435 from the former figure from the Lynch Company, Incorporated, the board turned a deaf ear to the entreaty, and when a vote was called the bid was turned over to the road committee for consideration.

The stand is now taken by a majority faction on the board that the three thousand or more good iron rollers may far better be used in repairing or paving some of the downtown streets.

The steam roller purchase is expected to come up for a final vote at a meeting to be held on August 6th. With the exception of Murray, only Kruger and Amana urge the award of a contract for the machine to the Lynch Company, Incorporated.

If a man doesn't waste money on one of his own fool schemes the chances are he'll waste it on some other fellow's.

TARIFF NEWS BOOMS STOCKS

Business in sugar stocks multiplied as if by magic immediately upon circulation of the news received yesterday that the sugar tariff was in course of almost certain settlement this session of Congress—which in all probability means for years to come—by the Senate's passage of a bill that the House would likely accept and the President approve, which makes the maximum duty 1.60c and removes special favors to refiners.

Pioneer leads in volume of sales, with 400 shares since yesterday's report, Hawaiian Commercial following with 375, Oahu with 372 and Onomea with 175. Pioneer showed an advance of a quarter point in sales of 250 and 50 shares between sessions at $4.50, gaining another quarter on the board in two blocks of 50 each at $4.75.

Oahu was unchanged in recess sales of 210 shares in seven lots, ranging from 5 to 85 shares, registering a quarter gain with two blocks of 50 each at 28 and maintaining this figure on the board in sales of five unequal lots aggregating 132 shares.

Hawaiian Commercial sold up half a point between sessions at $4.50 for 190 shares in four unequal lots, went up an eighth on the board in sales of 100 shares in five unequal lots and closed at $4.75 for 80 shares in five unequal lots.

Onomea sold up a quarter point between sessions at 55.75 for 150 shares in four unequal lots, going to 56 on the board for 10 and 15 shares. Ewa had sales of 50 shares in three lots unchanged at 31.50 reported.

Hawaiian Sugar fell off two points from last previous sale in reported sales of 20 shares at 43. Hawaiian Agricultural dropped 7.50 since last previous sale, 6 shares being reported at 192.50. Hilo Railroad Common showed a gain of one-eighth in a sale of 75 shares at 7.025 reported. Olaa is without a change in a sale of 100 shares at 7.75 on the boards. Brewery stock declined a three-quarter point in a sale of 15 shares at 20.

Bonds are represented in sales of $2,000 Olan sixes at 97.50, and $2,000 and $1,000 Hilo Extension sixes at 94.75, both unchanged.

Milo Shipping.

According to report which has reached this city today, through the arrival of the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea, the American-Hawaiian freighter Alaskan arrived at Hilo on Sunday morning and completed cargo and was away for Salina Cruz at midnight.

The Matsun Navigation steamer Enterprise, from San Francisco, arrived at the Hawaii port Sunday morning with a large general cargo of mainland merchandise. The American schooner Melrose was reported as discharging lumber at the railway wharf.

Statue Worshipper Shaves; Breaks Vow on Royal Advice

Hears Impossible Must Happen Before Judiciary Building Is Completed

Manuel Ortigo, who for years has kept a solitary vigil before the statue of King Kamehameha, the Great, standing with eyes fixed in adoration on the royal figure for hours at a time, appeared in his accustomed place this morning minus the tattered beard which has long decorated his features. There would be nothing remarkable in this was it not for the fact that in order to appear clean shaven Manuel broke a vow.

It appears that when the work of repairing and remodeling the Judiciary building commenced, Manuel made a vow that he would not shave until it was completed. Months have passed since then. The gentle breezes of many mornings have toyed with Manuel's hisute embroidery as he stood in contemplation before the statue, but the Judiciary building appears as near completion as it was six months ago when the work was started.

The delay has worried Manuel, for the beard grew troublesome. Its fluttering disturbed the calm repose of mind he finds necessary to the proper contemplation of the statue of the great king.

Last night friends of Manuel says King Kamehameha appeared to him in a dream and told him that the Judiciary building would not be completed until his statue stepped off its pedestal and entered the race for Delegate to Congress. Manuel awoke much comforted and after taking a look at the Judiciary building and noting that the statue still occupied its pedestal, he secured the price of a shave from a passerby and had his beard removed, having been advised, he said, that under the law no vow made for eternity is binding.

SCHOOL EXPERTS ADVISED ON DESKS

It was on the advice of Superintendent of Education Pope and Principal M. M. Scott of McKinley High School that the Oahu Loan Fund Commission decided on the Peabody desk as the best desk for its purposes, and this was the reason that the commission awarded the desk contract to the Hawaiian News Company, according to an explanation of the whole matter made this morning by Secretary Petrie of the commission.

Mr. Petrie and other members of the commission are of the opinion that the whole controversy is needless. Whether or not C. N. Marquez, of the Office Supply Company, who contends that as lowest bidder he is entitled to the contract, will really ask an injunction, the members of the commission did not know today, but they felt sure that they are well within their legal rights.

"The drawing of the specifications, which, it is admitted, means that only the Peabody desk could be supplied under these specifications, was simply in line with the opinion of the commission previously expressed," said Mr. Petrie this morning. "Some time ago when the matter of the kind of desk to get was brought up, the whole commission was agreed that the Peabody desk was the most desirable. It has been in use in McKinley high school for five years and has proved durable and well fitted for school use. Mr. Pope and Mr. Scott both said it was the best desk.

"The first bids were not acceptable because an oversight had been made in the call for bids, no certified check being called for to accompany the bids. When the tender was readvertised, the specifications were drawn to secure the kind of desk the commission had already decided for."

"Under the law, we are informed by the attorney general, the commission is not compelled to award the contract to the lowest bidder. We can use our discretion. We felt that the Peabody desk was the best and decided that these desks should be secured even though there was some slight increase in cost over the other competing desks."

Wireless from the Lurline.

The Matsun Navigation steamer Lurline, to arrive at the port early tomorrow morning with passengers, mails and a large cargo from the mainland, was heard from last night through wireless which reported the vessel 474 miles off port with all on board well.

The Lurline will berth at Hackfeld wharf, and later proceed to Kahului to discharge over eight hundred tons cargo.

Maintaining A Standard

There are different makes of clothes on the market, but we know that the BENJAMIN are the best, and that they maintain the standard for high-class clothing. BENJAMIN clothes rank first among them. We never had a single complaint about this make of men's clothes, and when a man once wears a BENJAMIN he becomes a permanent customer.

A TEMPEST IN AN INK-WELL

A good deal of tempestuous discussion for such warm weather as the present has been stirred up in the row about the loan fund commission's action in awarding a school-desk contract to the highest bidder.

In this case, the commission's judgment is backed by that of two experienced schoolmen who certainly ought to know what kind of desks are giving the best service.

The amount of money involved is small, but the principle is important. Legal proceedings to force the award of the contract to the lowest bidder would test the law on the point, and outside of the legality of the act itself, the only question is whether or not the desk chosen by the commission is really better than those offered by competing firms.

IN DARKEST SOUTH AMERICA

The atrocities of the Congo under Belgium seem harmless compared to the terrible cruelty reported to be characteristic of the operations of a British rubber company in South America.

No less an authority than Sir Roger Casement, British consul-general at Rio de Janeiro, has described at length barbarities of almost unspeakable fiendishness practiced in the rubber district of the upper Amazon, and as Sir Roger substantiates the stories of witnesses in a formal report, and as he was formerly consul in the Congo and investigate the Belgian cruelty there, there seems no doubt that the British company has made of itself a hideous machine of torture for the sake of a few pounds.

Under the sting of these stories, not only Great Britain but the United States and other nations are stirring to action and it is notable that as a practical remedial measure it is proposed to establish a Christian mission on the Putumayo. Peru has decreed that it is against the constitution to admit the Reformed faith into the country and Sir Roger Casement and others intend to establish a Catholic settlement in the region.

The tale of cruelty is almost unbelievable, and the British company's operations have already occasioned the use of the phrase "In Darkest South America."

KEEPING ORDER AMONG NATIONS

A "Big Brother" movement among nations is anguished in a notable statement that, given originally in Paris by an American, has caught international fancy and is becoming the subject of wide comment.

Dr. Norman Dwight Harris, professor of history in Northwestern University, and a visitor in Europe, in commenting upon the Italian-Turkish war made this statement:

"I think that ultimately the leading nations of the world must unite for purposes of trade, justice and commercial organization with a view to supersede the competition of corporations.

Thus the United States will have the chief foreign trade, probably, of South America and the far east, provided our people awake to the situation before England and Germany have monopolized these fields. I believe that the day will come when the present crushing armaments will be superseded by one big international army and navy for the purpose of keeping order throughout the world."

That one great army and navy, like some wise, patient, just and firm big brother, will ultimately maintain order throughout the world is a daring and somewhat Utopian thought, but not by any means so absurd as might at first glance seem the case. The Hague tribunal would have been just as absurd not many decades ago; the world-peace movement is even now branded as Utopian by over-zealous men of war; and yet both are working out in practical results. Dr. Harris is putting forth a somewhat novel view of an international alliance to control and supersede corporations, and tacitly he seems to recognize the inability of national laws to check the growth of corporation supremacy.

He is looking far into the future, but at least he is not looking as a pessimist, but as the best kind of an optimist,—the man who believes because he has faith in human intelligence to suggest practical methods.

A HANDY COMMANDMENT

Col. Roosevelt's scriptural slogan, "Thou Shalt Not Steal," evidently is to be used only on certain occasions.

It is to be drawn upon the Taft forces like a sword from its scabbard and flourished in the air with vast popular effect, a good deal like a circus act, but there are times when it is to be sheathed, and one of these times is when there is talk of what the presidential electors are going to do.

Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's manager, is out with the declaration that already seventy-five electoral votes have been pledged for Roosevelt regardless of the wishes of the states they represent.

Of course this isn't stealing; no, indeed. The eighth commandment is not being violated, oh no, indeed.

The unvarnished truth is that no elector in the history of the United States has betrayed the wish of those whom he represented. The unvarnished truth is that, without any legal restriction, public opinion has been so binding that no elector has dared to defy it by going contrary to the expressed desire of those who voted for him.

Dixon's audacity is also the audacity of Roosevelt. Dixon's boast that he has pledged Republican electors to betray their trust is the boast of the rough-riding colonel. Roosevelt's supporters threw fits all over Chicago at the mere mention of seating Taft delegates; and, after throwing fits, they declared righteously that Roosevelt would not accept the nomination with stolen votes. Roosevelt supporters came back to Hawaii with the statement that the colonel could have won the nomination by taking tainted votes, but he would not do it.

Where are those qualms of conscience now, when it is a matter of pledging for Roosevelt men who were nominated as Taft electors? Where are those pious paroxysms?

That was a generous gift the leper settlement made to the Duke Kahanamoku fund. If all the gifts were as large in proportion to the means of the givers, the fund would have been oversubscribed some weeks ago.

While the sugar trust is getting lambasted at one end of the continent, it is paying a quarter of a million dollars for customs frauds at the other end. And still it manages to make both ends meet.

No businessmen's ticket, however good, can be elected unless the businessmen get out and hustle for it during the campaign.

New York city's police scandal bears out the accepted fact that where such gambling exists the police are financially interested.

Another subordinate city official has a new automobile. Some day the taxpayers are going to get tired of this sort of thing.

Suggested for the loan fund commission: "School days, school days, dear old golden-rule days."

"Your money or your life" was the encouraging suggestion the sugar trust made to the beet-sugar men.

Evidently the public isn't going to let one steam-roller we know of exceed the limit.

What part is "dago red" going to play in the coming territorial campaign?

ALEXANDER YOUNG.—How is that marine biological laboratory coming on?

DR. C. W. ELIOT.—Please express my appreciation of Hawaii and her people. My visit here has been a delightful and instructive one.

A. D. COOPER.—The Republican territorial central committee did not forget to issue the primary call. We knew we had until the last day in July to do it.

SUPERVISOR MURRAY.—A good many people seem to think we are trying to make the Rapid Transit pave with bitulithic between the rails. That is not the case. What we ask is that it pave between the double tracks with bitulithic.

BOND DELIVERY QUESTION UP TO GOVERNOR FREAR

Whether the new bond issue will be delivered to the purchasers in bulk or will be divided into deliveries set several months apart has not yet been determined, and it is one of the questions over which Governor Frear is doing some deep thinking these days.

He received a cable from Treasurer Conkling this morning asking for information with regard to this point, but a definite decision has not been reached.

There is a possibility that the delivery of the entire issue at one and the same time might prove more expensive to the Territory than a divided delivery. Interest on the bonds dates from the day of their delivery to the purchaser. The payment also is made on delivery, and unless the entire amount realized from the sale could be put into active use immediately, the Territory would be paying interest on a large sum that lay in the vaults, from which it would be deriving no benefit.

Of course, says the Governor, it might be possible to place the money not needed for immediate use in a local bank and draw interest that would help defray the interest paid for it by the Territory. But it is a question whether this would prove satisfactory or adequate.

The subject is receiving careful consideration from many viewpoints and probably will be decided within the next few weeks.

FLEET DUE BY END OF WEEK

The cruisers California and South Dakota, all that is left of the Pacific fleet under Admiral Southard's flag, is expected here next Saturday or Sunday. While the naval station has not been able to get in wireless touch with either vessel, advices have reached Admiral Cowles that both sailed from Tokohama July 24, which should bring them to Honolulu on the 3rd or 4th of August. The supply ship Glacier will also arrive about the same date, having left Far Eastern waters in advance of the cruisers.

The flagship and the South Dakota will require more coal than was at first expected, the requisition for each ship being 1600 tons. The Glacier will take a smaller amount into her bunkers. The fleet will be here only long enough to coal, being under orders to proceed to Brimerton as soon as possible.

Even a homely man is apt to boast of how the women run after him.

LETTERS ON TIMELY TOPICS

THE RIGHT KIND OF TREATING.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir:—I am enclosing a clipping from a railroad man's magazine which it seems to me has a bearing on Hawaii's bitter experience with "dago red."

The clipping reads as follows: Lincoln, the capital city of Nebraska, is a "dry" town—that is, there are no saloons in Lincoln. This, however, is a matter of recent occurrence.

A few days ago four railroad men started from the yards, headed for the baseball grounds. Their course took them by four buildings formerly occupied by saloons, which impelled one of them to jolting remark:

"I'd ask you in to have something, but everything is closed."

"Oh, not all the places are closed," said another one. "Come in here with me and have something."

With this the speaker headed into a clothing store, followed by three curious comrades.

"Give me a lay-down collar, size sixteen, and give each of these fellows the kind of a collar they want."

Each man gave his size and style and the clerk wrapped four collars in separate packages. Each man took his package and walked out. Not a word was said for about a block, and then the man who had first spoken blurted out:

"Say, wouldn't all of us have a lot of collars and ties, and shirts and such things if we'd had good sense?"—International Railway Journal.

TWISTING A DISCOVERY.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir:—In the morning paper there appeared a short article in regard to by finding new trees on the island of Hawaii. First, there is no truth in the matter and, second, the wording of the rest of the paragraph is absurd and ridiculous.

The whole thing was copied from a note in the Hawaii Herald, which heard some things, but of course not correctly and twisted things around, as is usually the case.

Yours truly, J. F. ROCK.

DEPORTING "UNDESIRABLES."

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir:—Is there not a U. S. law authorizing the deportation of criminals, vagrants or prostitutes within a certain period (two or three years) even after admittance into the territory?

I have the impression that the U. S. immigration laws contain such provision. And would it not be a splendid thing (if there is such a law) for the officials to make use of it from time to time, rather than have the islands filled with such persons? Probably the word "filled" is an exaggeration, but it is a well-known fact that there are many, far too many, of this class now in Honolulu, and brought here under the immigration laws as laborers, persons who, after getting admitted under our easy labor laws, prefer to take up the occupations mentioned in the second line of this article rather than labor.

Could not the gentleman who just pleaded guilty of manslaughter (but really guilty of a greater crime) have been deported under this law? Could not many of the class stated, now residing in Iwilei, Kakaako and other parts of the city (who ought to be in the chain gang), be deported under the laws? Is there such a law, Mr. Editor? Can you inform me?

DEPORT.

The amended Congressional Act of March 25, 1910, provides for the deportation of any alien who may be proved to be interested in any manner in prostitution. This Federal statute is broad and thorough and permits the deportation of all such characters. Aliens not resident within the Territory more than two or three years may be deported for criminal acts or vagrancy, provided it can be shown their crime or condition arises from causes originating prior to their arrival here. In the case above mentioned, the legal authorities, it is stated, hold that the guilty person can not be deported.

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

FOUR WOMEN'S CLUBS LEAD ACTIVITY IN LOCAL FIELD

Varied Functions Fill Needs in Life of City

The remark was made the other day by a woman who has made Honolulu her home for the past few years, that although Honolulu is an advanced town for its size and there are a great many thinking women here, there is almost a dearth of woman's clubs. This may seem to be the case, for the women's clubs—probably because of the retiring dispositions of cultured women in general—receive little publicity.

If the church organizations are to be considered clubs, there really are about as many clubs as there are women to belong to them. The four most prominent clubs in the city are the Morning Music Club, the College Club, the Outdoor Circle of the Kiohaha Art League and the Women's Auxiliary of the Outrigger Club.

The Morning Music Club is perhaps the oldest of these, having been organized eight years ago by music-loving women who wished not only to improve themselves, but to promote the musical sentiment in their home town. Here in Honolulu, where there are so few concerts and recitals, such a club seems almost necessary to those who care for something more than the ragtime. When this club was first organized the membership was limited to twenty-five active members, but two years later five new ones were admitted. At the present time the officers do not think it wise to raise the membership. As the ladies drop out of the club, those on the waiting list, which from the beginning has been a long one, are voted in to fill the vacancies. Aside from the active members there are the privileged and associate ones. The former are those who for some reason or other have been unable to continue the active work and who are allowed to attend all of the meetings, without the privilege of a vote. The latter attend only the open meetings. Usually thirty or forty of the associate and privileged members are present at these meetings.

The club assembles eight times during the year, the first meeting being held in October and the last in May. During this time there are at least three open meetings, and more if the officers think it wise. The closed meetings are held at the homes of the members, and during the past year the open recitals have been given at Kawaiahae Seminary. The majority of the club members are women who have gone into the club for self-improvement, and most of them, though accomplished musicians, consider themselves amateurs. The other members, who are more experienced or who are professional musicians, enavor to benefit the community at large. From the time of its organization criticism has been heaped on the club, as the members meet with the thought that the participants in the program are doing their very best and no fault is to be found with them. Besides the musical program, there are usually two or three papers read on the life of some well-known musician or on some topic that is of interest to musicians. Each year the members are more enthusiastic, and each year the waiting list grows longer. The program committee is an active one, and a splendid program has been arranged for the coming year.

The College Club.
The College Club was organized for the purpose of maintaining the college feeling among the older college women of Honolulu and of promoting that same feeling among the younger women. Most of the meetings are not open to the public, but are thoroughly enjoyed by the members themselves. The club has raised and maintains the Dr. Day Memorial Fund for the prevention of tuberculosis, and it also has established a loan fund with which it aids young women in obtaining a college education. The club is always ready and willing to do any good work that comes within the educational scope. The social meetings are always enjoyed and they tend to keep the members more closely in touch with each other. Heretofore a course of lectures has been part of the year's program, but this was given up last year and as yet it is not known whether it will be taken up again.

The Outdoor Circle.
Although the Outdoor Circle of the Kiohaha Art League is the youngest of the women's clubs in the city the women are taking much interest in it and as it has already received much space in the papers the people know pretty well what its aim is and what it has been able to accomplish thus far. It may be said here however that the aim of this organization is to make Honolulu beautiful, and there is every indication that it will succeed.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Outrigger Club is in itself a unique organization, or it would seem so to one unfamiliar with Hawaii and its customs. The grass houses on the grounds are enough to interest strangers and they are attractive to those of us who have become accustomed to them. This club has no other object than to give pleasure to women and girls fortunate enough to belong to it. One of the best features of the club is that there is a chaperone on the grounds every afternoon who keeps a watchful eye on the young girls who visit the club grounds. The lady who at the present time acts as chaperone is to say the least capable and the mothers of the young members as well as the club officers place the utmost confidence in her. There are however a few faults to be found with the organization, the bath house is not large enough to accommodate the members and others who are eligible to membership are unable to become such for this same reason. In time, however, this will be remedied for when the funds are raised no doubt an addition will be made to the house. For the present the men in the Outrigger Club have come to the rescue of their wives and sisters and are putting up a bath house for their benefit.

MAKE DRAW FOR LADIES' TENNIS

There are just eight entries for the ladies' tennis championship, which will be decided this week on the Beretania courts. The list includes some of the best known players in the Islands, and play is certain to provide good tennis and keen interest.

Drawings were made at noon today, the pairings being as follows:
Mrs. R. M. Barton vs. Miss Ruth Richards; Mrs. D. D. Gregory vs. Miss L. Phillips; Miss Violet Wilder vs. Miss E. Phillips; Miss Edna Smith vs. Miss Juliette Atherton.

Two matches will be played tomorrow afternoon, the first, between Mrs. Barton and Miss Richards at 4, and the other, in which Mrs. Gregory will meet Miss L. Phillips, at 4.30. All the play in this event will be at Beretania.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat-band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "33" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "33" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "33" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Honolulu only at our store—The Rexall Store, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Fort and Hotel Sts.

MISS ETHEL DAMON TO TEACH AT PUNAHOU

Miss Ethel M. Damon is to have a position next year in the languages department at Punahou, teaching French and German. Miss Damon is a graduate of Punahou and of Wellesley who has spent several years abroad perfecting herself in German particularly, which she is making her specialty. The position to which she comes is a new position created for the first time this year. She is a niece of S. M. Damon and F. W. Damon and a sister of F. B. Damon.

DIED.

BOMKE—At Kilaui, Honolulu, July 23, Mrs. Wilhelmina Bomke, aged 33 years.

The funeral services for the late Mrs. Wilhelmina Bomke will be held at Silva's undertaking parlors tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The remains will be at the same place at 5:30 this afternoon.

AMUSEMENTS

TEAL COMPANY OFF WITH RUSH

Opening night of Newcomers Sees Big Houses and Much Applause.

Raymond Teal's name on the bill-of-fare which the Liberty theatre presented to a packed houseful of patrons last night is printed in capitals, and Mr. Teal has the typographical boost coming, for he is the headliner of a very good show that has several features to hit the popular fancy.

It's a good deal of a "girl show," and the chorus of ten dashing young ladies is not a disappointment in the matter of pulchritudinousness. The young ladies danced with exaggerated "raggy" effect and much of the singing was along the same lines. They are lively, brightly-costumed and hard-working, and set a fast pace for a show that moves fast from beginning to end.

"Tom and Jerry" is the name of the eye-opener and the plot is just as mixed as the name suggests. It has to do with mistaken identities and wild misunderstandings between husbands and wives ending with the usual clinch-and-make-up and a rollicking chorus. Several good specialties are introduced. Mr. Teal, who is billed in a low minor key as a black butler, suddenly comes to the fore with a song and monologue that brings down the house, burlesquing Italian grand opera in a way that brought him a dozen curtain calls. He finally had to explain to the audience that the show must go on.

The company is giving two shows nightly, starting early, going like the mischief and ending in time for supper and late cars. Last night the company started off with a rush and a bang and if the opening success is any indication, Mr. Teal and his helpmates should be popular here.

POLLARDS TURN MISHAP INTO REAL TRIUMPH

The Pollard Lilliputians turned a disaster into a triumph last night, when, forced to give up the opening performance of "The Mikado" because of the death of the real Mikado in Tokio, the Pollards switched into vaudeville with only a few hours' notice.

The house was a good-sized one and very enthusiastic, and although the program ran without a stop until nearly half-past 10 o'clock, everyone stayed. A succession of specialties and a picture or two filled the evening, and the specialties were unusually clever.

Teddy McNamara was at his best, and laughable he was in various stunts, among which was a Scotch turn during which he sang, "I Love a Lassie." Eva Pollard in songs and dances, Nellie McNamara in a beautiful contralto solo, Queenie Williams in a pessimistic sort of song, Willie Bevan with a really clever topical song on paper-bag cooking, part of it impromptu. Leslie Donagho, Joy Moore in dances, and all the others scored individual hits.

In fact, the show was good enough to deserve patronage during the two more nights when it will be given.

PRESS AGENT LAUDS HEN WISE AND HIS SHOW

The press agent says: I verily believe that if Hen Wise was to give a performance on a drygoods box he would get an audience, and if you doubt my assertion, just drop into the little Independent Theater, on Hotel street, and see the crowds packing into the miniature laugh factory. Saturday evening there surely must have been at least 1000 paid admissions, I stopped in for two shows and was surprised to see both performances jammed to the doors and others waiting on the outside to gain an entrance; and when the petite Atlas Sisters came on the stage and sang the pretty Irish love song, "Nora Malone," they received an ovation, which was justly earned, as the little girls are beautiful singers and the song was illustrated with pretty colored slides. After the kiddies came; a very interesting photo play entitled "The Girl and the Cowboy," which was well worth the price of admission. Then came Katie Milton, whom I consider to be the peer of all comedienne that have played in Honolulu since the theaters first opened to the people of this Territory. Katie has a style of singing that is ever pleasing and a magnetism that is simply irresistible. The song she sang was a dainty coon ditty called, "That Carolina Rag." After her encore, on rushed the king of all fools, Hen Wise. Then pandemonium started among the crowd as Hen handed out scream after scream. I never saw an audience so well pleased with a comedian and his witticisms; and Hen always has a bunch of them newly constructed. Get the laughs—and he got 'em. I myself can't see how he does it, but he certainly does. The climax was reached when Katie and Hen finished their stunt with a hula dance. Well, the audience roared and so did I. I play him and his little theater as winners in this race.

SWEEPING CHANGES IN MAKEUP OF U. S. ARMY PLANNED BY BOARD

Scheme Includes Force of Ten Thousand Men for Oahu with Large Reserve Composed of Men Who Have Served Their Time With the Colors

Sweeping changes in the make-up of the United States army, which are of special interest to Oahu, are embodied in the report of the General Staff. If carried out, the scheme will include not only a force of 10,000 men for Hawaii, as announced some months ago, but also a large reserve force composed of soldiers who have served their time with the colors, and who will then be encouraged to remain in the Territory as Federal reservists.

The General Staff has completed its plans for an entire reorganization and increase of this country's military establishment, a work upon which it has been engaged ever since it was founded some months ago. Although the report containing these plans is now in type, it will probably not be presented to Congress at this session, owing to the fact that members of the Senate and House Committees on Military Affairs desire ample time in which to consider all the provisions recommended by the General Staff.

Among those most active in the conferences on these plans are Senator Root of New York, former Secretary of War, and Senator DuPont, of Delaware, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs. The plan for the reorganization of the army, as drawn up by the General Staff, is declared by experts to be the most important and comprehensive piece of constructive work along these lines ever performed in this country. It is also regarded as marking the first schematic military policy yet drawn up for the land forces of the United States. While some of its details have been embodied in Congressional bills or letters of the Secretary of War, the report has never yet been made public in its entirety.

Be Always Prepared. The great object sought to be gained is the organization of the army on a footing of constant readiness for war, with a permanent expeditionary force always ready for instant service. In order to insure this result, it is recommended that the forces liable for duty anywhere be increased about seven times.

In the regular army the highest proposed unit of organization is raised, and the mobile branches, which include all arms except the coast artillery, are divided into two parts, the foreign and the domestic. The domestic service is to be kept permanently in continental United States while the foreign service is to be sent to American territory elsewhere, to remain, as an organization, outside of this country for good.

In addition to a proposal making for the federalization, within Constitutional limits, of the present National State Guard, the General Staff also asks for the creation of two new types of American soldiers; namely, the federal reservist and the federal volunteer, the latter to be recruited in time of peace for war service, and held responsible only to the central government.

The General Staff also recommends that the present regular army be relieved of police duties in Alaska, and suggests that peace be preserved in that district by a federal constabulary to be legislated into existence by Congress. If this suggestion becomes law, the nited States will have, for the first time in its history, a police force, owing its authority directly to the federal government.

In outlining the importance of this reorganization, the General Staff points out that the land forces of the United States are now in no condition to face the armies of a first-class power, and maintains that the necessity for this country so to prepare itself is immediate and imperative.

"Whatever our military institutions may be," says the report, "we must recognize the fundamental fact that victory is the reward of superior force, that modern wars are short and decisive, and that trained armies can alone defeat trained armies."

Progress Since Spanish War. The report refers to the "close contact recently established" between "great nations and the races," a contact which "tends to become continually closer, due to the increase of population and national needs." The report then goes on to say: "With this close contact thus so recently established comes a competition, commercial, national and racial, whose ultimate seriousness and extent already enable us to gauge. Since our conflict with Spain in 1898 practically all of the principal nations of the earth have either been actively engaged in war or else brought to the verge of actual war. The evidence is clear that the nations and races capable of maintaining and protecting themselves are the only ones who can flourish in this world competition."

"In the light of present day conditions it is estimated that at the outbreak of war with a first class power we should be capable of mobilizing at once in the United States an effective force of 460,000 mobile troops and 42,000 Coast Artillery; that this is the minimum number of first line troops necessary, and that to augment this force and replace its losses we should have plans made for raising immediately an additional force of 300,000 men."

of these forces should be available for service anywhere."

The present land forces of the United States comprise in the regular army about 66,000 men out of a total of 95,500 authorized, and in the National Guard about 125,000 men. The National Guard is not liable for duty on foreign soil, though it can volunteer for this service.

Change Enlistment. In order to raise the compliment of trained men the General Staff proposes to augment the standing army by changing the terms of the present enlistment contract to conform to the practice "adopted in all other modern armies."

"It is only necessary to provide," says the General Staff report, "that a man's service shall consist of two periods, one period, with the colors, and the other a period of war obligation for a limited time after leaving the service. Under these circumstances when war is declared the active army is at once sent into the field and the former soldiers having a war obligation are assembled in depots, where they can be forwarded to the front as needed." The enlistment contract proposed is for six years, divided half and-half. However, by far the greatest number of men required for war purposes under the plan proposed by the General Staff, will have to be drawn from civil life. Under present conditions, the General Staff points out, the only citizen soldiers in the United States are furnished by the National Guard, which is under state control and owes only incidental support to the federal government. In time of peace the National Guard can be used only for intra-state purposes, such as the suppression of strikes or breaches of the peace, unless in the very improbable event that it is called upon by the President to serve in quelling disorder in some state. A recent ruling of Attorney General Wickensham declares that under no circumstances can the National Guard be called upon to serve outside of the United States. The General Staff proposes to give Federal pay to National Guardsmen who will comply with federal standards of soldiery and who will also agree in time of war to separate themselves from state control and follow the national colors to any quarter of the globe. This suggestion will, it is thought, get around the constitutional provision which regards the militia wholly as a state force.

Federal Volunteers. The second supply of citizen soldiers which the General Staff hopes to create in time of peace for war purposes will be organized as federal volunteers. These men will sign articles to support the National Government in war, but will not be called upon to serve in intra-State troubles save as a last resource. They are to be organized under prearranged plans when greater forces are required than can be furnished by the regular army and the organized citizen soldiery. The peace organization of the regular army with the organized division districts of the national guard should include the machinery for the recruiting organization, and mobilization of this third great line of national defense."

This division of the citizen soldiery into State and federal volunteers, says the report, "would afford obvious advantages to all concerned; the National Government would know upon what forces it could count; the States could proportion their forces to local needs and individuals would have the choice of the particular kind of service they preferred; that is, State service with limited war liability or war service only, under the national government."

By way of increasing the efficiency of the army, both regular and volunteer, it is recommended that the present "complex of units without regular groupings" be abolished. In place of taking the regiment as a field unit, the General Staff advocates the creation of divisions, consisting of nine regiments each of infantry, and brigades comprising three regiments each of cavalry. This plan would necessitate, says the report of the General Staff, an increase in the number of Brigadier Generals to seventeen, as against the present authorized complement of fifteen. The number of major generals, would stay at the present authorized number of six.

New Divisions. The organization of the regular army on the division basis is declared to be the moving reason for the proposal to reduce the number of army posts from forty-nine to eight, a step which would replace the present dispersal of the regular land forces by a greater concentration. It is proposed to make each of these eight army posts, a division headquarters under the new arrangement. "The rational and economic way of disposing of our troops," says the forthcoming report of the General Staff, "in time of peace is to quarter them in simple but substantial buildings in or near large towns, where all existing utilities may be made use of."

Among the secondary changes recommended by the General Staff is the many army bureaus whose fields or operations overlap or fall to show proper teamwork. A revision of the present system of promotion for officers is also advocated.

"So you think you would improve the ballot?" "We couldn't help improving it," replied young Mrs. Perkins. "I have seen pictures of a lot of ballots, and the decorations on them were simply atrocious."

HOME RULE CONVENTION TALKS OF HAWAIIAN DISFRANCHISEMENT

Nomination of Delegate Postponed on Account of Kuhio Sentiment

Declaring that they fear the disfranchisement of the Hawaiian voters is at hand, and believing it is best for them, and the Hawaiians generally, to elect a Hawaiian delegate to Congress, the Home Rulers at their convention held yesterday in the Nottley hall postponed the nomination of their delegate to Congress until September.

According to the rules of the party, the Home Rulers should nominate their delegate in the July convention, but the Home Rulers deferred the nomination of their delegate to Congress until after the Republican party has selected a standard bearer to oppose Kuhio, as they seem to think it will do.

The Home Rulers at their convention yesterday discussed freely the advisability of endorsing Kuhio, should he run again for delegate to Congress. But they added that in the event of Kuhio's refusing to run, which, they said, is unlikely, they will nominate Chas. K. Nottley, the old standard bearer of the Home Rule party. It is their intention now, said the leading Home Rulers yesterday, to fight the dominating power of the businessmen, who, they added, have always been trying to rule over the poor people in Hawaii.

President Nottley of the party announced his readiness to withdraw from the running, should an occasion present itself opportunely in the September convention. He said he would like to see either Kuhio or himself elected. He stated that the time has come when the Hawaiians should work together shoulder to shoulder in political battle and show the enemy "that the voice of the people is greater than that of the few." Nottley said that the businessmen intend to throw Prince Kuhio down, the regular Republican candidate for delegate to Congress, and vote for Link McCandless, a Democratic nominee, then it is about time for the Hawaiians to come together and fight for their political rights.

Intimidates McCandless Movement. "Birds of a feather will flock together," continued Nottley. "This is what the businessmen have practiced ly announced in the meeting held a few weeks ago. If they want to be true to their color why not nominate a Republican instead of selecting the Democratic regular nominee—namely, Link McCandless, whom they opposed in the past campaigns?

"The business men have taught us to be loyal to the party and its men, and yet when they found that they could not control the present Delegate to Congress, they arose in unity and declared war against Prince Kuhio."

Revives Mohonk Story. During his speech before his audience yesterday Nottley said that at a convention held some time ago in Mohonk, where wise and intelligent men of the United States discussed matters of great importance, the great majority of that convention wished to disfranchise the Hawaiians. Nottley added that it was through the work and ingenuity of Mr. W. R. Castle, who was present, that the convention was able to take care for themselves politically. He praised Mr. Castle for his good work in the convention and assured his hearers that there are a few men like Castle who are willing to do justice to the Hawaiians.

Nottley then proceeded to talk about his political strength, as compared with Kuhio and Link McCandless. He told the Home Rulers that if they only cast as many votes for him as they did for David Kalanokalani Sr., he would have been elected at the last election.

Kalanokalani arose to announce that he was prepared to resign the vice presidency of the Home Rule party in order to have more time in writing for the Kuokoa Home Rule, the political organ of the party. He said that it was about time for the younger people to take up the duties of the office of the vice president, while he would devote his entire time to the editing of the newspaper. The matter, however, was deferred for further consideration by the executive committee of the Home Rule party.

With the exception of several members who have died during the year, the old officers of the executive committee were continued. After a general discussion for the betterment of the party, the convention adjourned with the singing of Hawaii Pono, the Hawaiian national anthem, and prayer by vice president Kalanokalani.

substituted for drinking cups for men to take to their cells at night?

Why can't the jail yard be covered with a cement floor so that spittle and waste food, etc., can be washed out each day?

Why shouldn't the barber disinfect his razors, especially after having shaved a man with running or open sores on his face?

What I have written is enough to open some people's eyes if they will but see. Do not think I have said the worst that I might say. A sense of decency and a consideration for the esthetic tastes of that half of humanity that does not know how the cozier half lives restrains me from saying more.

According to "one who knows," to use his exact words, "these smaller offenders of the city and county work for the benefit of the community and earn during their term of confinement many times the cost of their maintenance." Then for Heaven's sake why are they not given more humane treatment? Why should they every now and then be obliged to strike on account of quality or insufficiency of food?

Bears No Malice.

Who is to blame? Is it the jailor or the sheriff or the political machine or the powers that be? Is the jail run as a graft as a money-making institution, without any consideration for humanity or justice or mercy? "Are there any jail inspectors? If so, who are they? Why don't they get next to facts? Let them come to me; I will take them and prove all I have said to their satisfaction. I bear no personal malice to either the jailor or the sheriff, but the system. I write this in the interest of humanity. Having turned my footsteps towards the path of honor and rectitude, I have nothing to fear from any anticipation of passing again through the unwholesome doors of our jail, but the sense of humanity that is within me cries out for the poor unfortunates who are there now and those yet to go there. Hoping this article will stir up something that will result in a revolution in our present prison methods, and assuring all that I will gladly supply all the proof to the facts I have stated, and to many other unmentionable ones, I am,

LOCAL BIDDERS NOW FAVORED

Supervisor Murray has come to the front and center advocating the purchase of city and county supplies and appliances through competitive bids, judging from the stand taken last evening when a special resolution was introduced by the road committee calling for the appropriation of $700 to cover the cost of an Iroquois asphalt kettle and mixer.

"We want competitive bids on this article," insisted Murray and I move that the style of asphalt mixed be stricken from the resolution and that the clerk be instructed to advertise for tenders."

Chairman Sam Dwight smiled, but offered no objection though later he was reminded of the fact that a former resolution was rushed through the board by Murray, which resulted in the appropriation of $26,000 for paving Queen street with bitulithic, and following upon the heels of this came another resolution awarding the contract to the local paving company who have an exclusive agency for bitulithic, at the same time all attempts to have the paving contract let to the lowest competitive bidder being squelched by a bare majority vote.

Replanking of Queen Street Bridge. Several local contractors have entered the lists to replank Queen street bridge, three tenders being received last night. The road committee has been instructed to investigate the several tenders and report upon the same at an early date. The figures submitted include Freitas & Fernandes, $57 for 1000 linear feet for stringers; $2600 for covering bridge; Lord-Young Company, $45 and $2250; Henry De Fries, $48, and $38.50 per 1000 linear feet for covering.

The Dowsett Company, Limited, has given to the city 3010 square feet from its properties on the Waikiki side of Nuuanu road near the entrance to the Country Club road entrance, for widening and straightening that thoroughfare. The company asked but a dollar, as well as the filling in of the land, curbing the property line and placing a gate at the lane entering the land. The matter was referred to the city attorney to complete.

Caldwell Has Collected Money. Road Overseer Caldwell has reported to the board that he has collected $1103.24, which has been deposited with the treasurer. This money is derived from rental of steam rollers and other equipment to local contractors. Out of the little store of money, Caldwell has spent $600 for an automobile, and he urges that the remainder be turned over to the road department to be used in effecting repairs to some of Honolulu's wretched streets and thoroughfares. The board agreed and all is well.

Engineer Whitehouse has been called to investigate the condition of Waikele stream, near Waikele, which is said to be closed and clogged with a growth of hyacinth. The prediction is made by interested parties residing in the neighborhood that with the first hard rain, the stream will overflow its banks and that much damage will result. The Oahu Sugar Company comes forward with the recommendation that the county government spend about $600 to clear the bed of the stream of vegetation.

Barred Road Causes Protest. The Kaneohe Ranch Company is alleged by W. D. Adams to have placed a barrier across the road used from time immemorial by travelers between Honolulu and Kailua.

It is charged that representatives of the ranch placed a gate across the road, upon which is a notice advising all comers that the highway is not a public one, and forbidding trespass.

JAIL VILE DEN

is a prison in any civilized country where a worse condition exists. It is, in fact, one of the vilest, dirtiest tuberculosis dens to be found anywhere. They built a hospital for this jail, but does anyone know of any prisoner who has ever been put into it? Why this useless expense to gull the public? When men are sick they are not put in there but are locked up in their cells to die for lack of attention and nourishment, and when they die it is given out to the public that they have died in the county hospital.

Cites An Instance. Not very long ago a prisoner working in one of our parks had the misfortune to cut the ends of two of his toes off by a lawnmower which he was using. He was taken to the county hospital and cared for, but the next day Mr. Asch brought him from the hospital to the jail because it was too much expense to care for him there. This young man came back without even a crutch to walk with, hopping around like a chicken with only one leg. He was in great pain; the bandages came off his toes and he had to cry and dress them himself. When Dr. Mackall came and found him in jail he was quite surprised and asked our humane (?) jailor if he was crazy. After this the prisoner was taken back to the county hospital and stayed there until he ran away.

Mr. Asch being a carpenter by trade, may be able to nail a shingle on a cork leg, but I doubt if he could bandage or pad a crutch, much less pass a bandage on a man's stump. Any sailor can smear your stump with tar, then parcel you up and make a good job, but you see the jailor is not a nurse or a sailor.

"Rattle his bones over the stones, He's only a pauper whom nobody owns."

John McElroy, serving a sentence, was taken sick and complaining a long time and the doctor treating him in his cell. Why this fellow not sent to the county hospital or to the jail hospital? He got no nourishment nor attention. He was very weak and could not take care of himself, nor did anyone else do it for him. This man was in a cell, inhaling foul odors one-half the time he was sick. He had to make the best of it for the 12 or 18 hours which would elapse before the cells would be cleaned. This man was far advanced in age, and was broken down in health as a result of drink, and unfit to do the harder work that might have been expected of those younger and stronger. Why was he not given work in the jail yard prior to his illness instead of being sent out in line with the others?

Not a Drink Cure. If the 11 years this man was in the island, over 9 years were spent in jail for no other crime than drunkenness and vagrancy, showing that as a Keeley cure the jail is not a howling success. He was locked in a cell until he became mentally deranged. Then why was he not sent to the insane asylum? No; in the jailor's opinion, perhaps, this would be too much of an expense for the county to spend on a pauper, though an American citizen. The last meal offered to this dying man was pork and beans.

Just to think of it—pork and beans for a dying man!

I have been sick and visited hospitals all over the world, so I speak from experience. Men that have travelled know about "Dead Man's Hole" in Havana opposite where the Maine was sunk, and can tell you something about the black bottle which was given to every "gringo" sailor to help him "shuffle off this mortal coil," but you got human treatment and you passed away without pain like the dogs do in Mr. Asch's gasatory.

Dr. Mackall called at 5 o'clock of the evening this man died and advised Mr. Asch to send him to the hospital, as he was very low. The jailor's reply was: "Why he gets as good treatment here as he would there." I do not think this very complimentary to our trained nurses in the city or county hospital, or to those professional medical men who ought to know. Of course this humane (?) jailor knew, but reckoned without his host. Poor Mack gave up the ghost before midnight.

Case of Oliver. John Oliver, a carpenter, doing a sentence of three months, was taken sick and was locked up for one month in his cell prior to his release. When he came out of the jail he was admitted to Queen's Hospital and from there to the incurable hospital to die. This man, as other men, was not sent to a hospital because in the opinion of the jailor he was not sick. Not being a physician, upon what ground does he base a claim to be competent to judge whether a man is sick or not? In every civilized community the word of the doctor of any institution is law. This includes the armies and navies of the world.

When a man first enters the jail as a prisoner, especially if for a short term, he is given the suit of clothes and the blanket of some prisoner who perhaps has just left that day. The fellow who wore the suit or slept on the blanket before him may have had running ulcers or sores, and yet the clothes and blankets are never washed or disinfected beyond being held a few minutes under a tap of cold water and laid on sand to dry. As a rule the blankets are boiled about once in six months, clothes never. As these prisoners get no underwear, you can imagine what this means. Only two towels for the whole number are issued to wipe on. Sometimes these towels are changed every day, sometimes every two or three days, and sometimes but once a week. Sometimes a fellow comes along and uses a towel for a handkerchief, too.

At night when a prisoner goes to his cell he is given a cup of water that he may drink if he chooses in the night. The cup stands open all night to catch all the stench that comes from the cells. Perhaps some prisoner cleans his teeth in the cups and then the next morning coffee is served up out of these cups without the cups having first been washed.

Yard Breeds Disease. The floor of the inner yard of the jail is composed of volcanic sand, into which those having tuberculosis expectorate. The food which falls or is thrown on the ground is simply scraped over with sand by the prisoner's foot, and so accumulates the breeding source of diseases.

Why can't the men's clothing be boiled and sterilized?

Why can't individual towels be given the prisoners?

Why can't drinking cups be washed?

Why can't buckets with covers be STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 7. — Once more the woman last winter went to a Paris gunsmith's shop and bought a revolver. He showed her, at her request, how to load and fire it, and sold her also a box of cartridges. She went straight from the shop home and there shot her husband dead. After that she took the next train to a suburb where her sister-in-law lived and shot her dead, also with the new revolver.

QUEEN STREET

SOON PAVED

The mauka side of Queen street from Nuuanu to the river will be paved with bitulithic with the close of business this evening, unless some unforeseen accident should occur," so stated President Joseph Gilman, of the local bitulithic plant this morning.

"This work has been done in fourteen working days. The pavement that now adorns the mauka side of the street, is ready for traffic and can be used without fear of being tarmed in the least by the travel of heavily loaded teams.

Mr. Gilman is prepared to make the dirt fly on the makai side of the street beginning tomorrow. He has a large force of men and also much machinery on the ground, and proposes to complete the Queen street paving job well under the specified forty days time limit as set by the board of supervisors when the contract for the pavement was let to the Gilman company.

There is a well defined sentiment among a number of members on the board, that the section of river street, lying between King and Queen street be paved. There is but one short block and it is pointed out that with both King and Queen streets now paved, the shorter piece of city highway should be improved in conformity to the adjoining streets.

What is really urged is that there be a continuous paved thoroughfare from the Ewa approach of the big Hackfeld wharf, to the center of the city.

This will be done should the board authorize the letting of a contract, to pave a short section of the street leading from Queen street to the wharf and the one block of River street.

At the matter stands at present with the exception of the pavement along Queen street, all traffic between the business district of the city and the wharf upon which all freight and passengers brought by Matson Navigation steamers are landed, must pass over portions of public thoroughfares that are little better than bogs and quagmires in rainy weather.

MCCANDLESS' CLAIM TO LAND DENIED BY COURT.

L. L. McCandless this morning lost a land case in Judge Whitney's court, wherein he sought for the confirmation of title to a tract of about sixty-eight acres at Keaua, Waianae. This was ordered registered and confirmed in the Territory.

The boundaries were the point of contention, as McCandless owns a tract on several sides of the one in dispute and the land had been transferred to him before the present Territorial government came into existence.

Judge Whitney and Court Clerk Marcellino sprung a surprise that brought a protest from counsel for both sides when they announced, next the conclusion of the lengthy hearing, that they had gone over unostentatiously several days ago and personally inspected the tract and had a fairly good idea of what the boundary evidence was. The attorneys declared the court had no right to accept any evidence except that entered in court, while the court held that it had the privilege of inspecting the original evidence.

BOY'S SKULL FRACTURED IN FALL FROM CAR

Twelve-year-old James Dwight, who fell from a westbound Rapid Transit car on Wilder avenue yesterday morning and sustained a fractured skull as a result of his fall, is reported to be resting well at the Queen's hospital.

When the police arrived at the scene shortly after the accident, the boy was still unconscious and it was thought that he was only stunned by the blow until examination by Dr. Herbert showed that his skull was fractured.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Steps will be taken to notify property owners along Beretania avenue to connect their premises with the newly laid water, sewer and gas mains as soon as possible, as the city proposes to macadamize that thoroughfare at an early date.

Prof. H. B. Balrow writes Dr. Pratt that satisfactory interest is shown by the people of Kauai in the tuberculosis exhibit and lectures he is giving on that island. He says his discoveries are attended by 200 to 400 persons on every occasion. He will return here with the exhibit about August 3, and probably will proceed to tour Maui with the display.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children. Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody, without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." Wm. J. McCANNON, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where make alone know what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine." N. B. CURRY, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

J. A. RICHARDS NEW HAWAIIAN TENNIS CHAMP

Final Match Against Castle a Disappointment from Spectators' Standpoint — Castle badly Off

As an exhibition of supposedly first class tennis, the final match of the 1913 tournament, in which J. Atherton Richards yesterday annexed the Hawaiian championship, was a disappointment. Richards, best A. L. Castle, holder, in three straight sets and did it so handily that many tennis fans, who were delayed at their desks, and went to the Beretania Club late, expecting to see at least half of the match, were faced with deserted courts and empty stands.

Richards was right on, and Castle was way off. Just how much Richards' "business" counted for Castle's "offness" is a question on which the experts failed to agree. Some thought that the new champion, by keeping Castle away from the net and cutting the corners so often with clean drives, played the latter to a standstill, and gave him no chance to show his game. Others, and they are in the majority, believe that Castle was half-dressed in his game, and that the younger player wouldn't catch him so easily again.

The fact remains that Castle missed many easy shots which he would ordinarily have pounded back across the net to good effect. He was especially weak on his backhand, and Richards was quick to discover this, and throughout the match put ball after ball to his opponent's rear side. These Castle either put out of court, or else hit weakly, the ball dropping often on his own side of the net. In fact, so apparent was the former champion's inability to play even the simplest backhand strokes, that every one on the grounds was commenting on it and all Richards had to do to win a point was to drop a ball in the backhand court.

Richards Clever Driver.
It must not be implied, however, that this was the only shot in Richards' collection. He gave a very nice exhibition of driving throughout the match, and seemed to have a magnet anchored on both outside corners of the court, to hold the ball just inside, and in practically an unplayable position. He played with ease and sureness throughout the match, with the exception of one or two games, when he was almost as unsteady as his opponent, but on the whole his play impressed the spectators as having great possibilities. He hasn't much to learn about the driving game, as any rate.

Castle was hitting some beautiful strokes during the toss-up, but as soon as actual play commenced he seemed to go right up in the air, whether from over-cautiousness or over-recklessness it was hard to determine. It seemed to be a little of both for one time he would carefully, and with great precaution, place a slow-hit ball three feet behind the backline, and the next would execute a brilliant smash into the net. As game after game went to Richards, Castle's admirers raised their eyebrows higher and higher, and finally gave up trying to solve the puzzle.

The second set saw Castle make a decided blunder. He took the first and second, and then in the third couldn't get out of the way of a wild smash that hit him while standing several feet out of court, and, of course, lost him the point. This incident seemed to bother him, and he dropped the game, and likewise the next. Castle won the fifth by a flash of his old-time form, and Richards took the next, putting the score 3-1. This was a long deuce game, which Castle lost eventually through his inability to handle backhand strokes. Castle won the seventh, and Richards the eighth. Then the latter broke through Castle's service for the second time in the set, taking the ninth, and then the tenth and the set.

The third and final set was almost a repetition of the second. Castle won his first four service games, and then Richards broke through and ran out. The sixth looked like the decisive game, going five times to deuce, and finally falling on Richards' side of the net. Had Castle won it, the chances are that the lead, and the way the play went, would have given him the added incentive needed to make a brace, and to have taken the set at least. Richards pulled off some beautiful half volleys from the mid-court in this set, passing Castle with them when the latter tried to take the net, after apparently getting Richards way out of position.

There will be no tennis this afternoon, but tomorrow the ladies' singles

WHY THE NEW YORK GIANTS ARE MAKING A RUNAWAY RACE

NEW YORK.—"This ball club," says John McGraw, referring to his Giants, "is a stronger all round club than the Giants that won the world's championship in 1905. It is making a good many more runs than that club did."

Let us look the two teams over and see. Behind the bat in 1905 McGraw had Brennan and Bowerman, and Brennan was such a good man that the present catching staff of the Giants has nothing on the 1905 team. Brennan, like Meyers, was a fine batsman as good an all-around backstop as the chief and a better base runner. He was quite as valuable to the team as is Meyers today. Bowerman was at his best in those days, too, and though the Giants have two proficient second string men in Wilson and Easley, the catching staff was as strong as it is now.

The pitching mainstays in 1905 were Mathewson, McGinley, Taylor, Wiltse and Ames. That was a strong staff, but certainly Marquard more than fills the place left vacant by McGinley. Wiltse perhaps isn't as dependable now as then, but he and Ames and Mathewson are going strongly, Mathewson with his head work and general skill still being a potent figure in the box. Crandall is more valuable to the team than was Taylor, and with Tesreau coming along the Giants are better equipped on the mound than when they beat the Athletics seven years ago.

McGraw says Merkle is the best first baseman in baseball, and he means it. The only one who can measure skill with him is McInnes. Merkle is a better first baseman than McInnes ever was. He covers ground like a shortstop, is a first class batter and base runner and a fine first seck guardian on thrown balls. McGraw describes Doyle as a fast ground coverer. He covers as much either way as Gilbert did and lays way over the latter in hitting and base running. He makes more hits and longer hits and is prominent as a cleanup batter.

Comparison of Players.
As between Fletcher and Dahlen, the former is one of the best in the game on the range of his work, quick at recovering after a fumble and a strong thrower; but for all that Dahlen was a wonderful defensive player and at his best in a pinch. He made less show of his work than Fletcher, but in a less spectacular way accomplished about as much. Herzog, good man that he is, isn't the player Devila was when the latter was in his prime.

Mertes, Dolin and Browne made a hard hitting outfield for the Giants in 1905. Browne when at his best was a whirling dervish at first and a splendid thrower, but the present outfield, Snodgrass, Becker and Murray, represents better combined throwing ability than did the trio of 1905. It may not hit quite as well, but hits pretty well for all that, and more than makes up for any comparative shortcomings in that respect by superiority in covering ground, throwing and hustling on the bases, Murray never fielded as well as he is doing this year, and Becker covers as much ground as any outfielder in the game.

PUTTING GREENS TRY PLAYERS SOULS.

Local Golfers Can Sympathize with Protest Against Sloping Greens That Are Too Fast

The putting green of today is the subject of an able sketch in the London Daily Mail. The modern putting green becomes with the opening of each new course, a more complex and ingenious work of art. It may be said with comparatively little exaggeration that at one time the maker of turf he could find. Next he pilled it until he had smoothed out such natural wrinkles as were in it; finally, even as Yankee Doodle "stuck a feather" in his cap and called it macaroni, he stuck a flag in the middle and called it a putting green. This procedure was occasionally varied by the selection of a deep little dell or hollow, having this charming property, that a ball once in it could never get out again; thus approach shots, good, bad, or indifferent, all served almost equally well their ultimate purpose.

No Variety.
A sloping putting green was, as a rule, a thing of beautiful simplicity in that it all sloped one way. Fearful stories were told of two players standing at the bottom of such a green and having alternate puts at the hole; they had no need materially to change their positions, since the ball, having evaded the hole, rolled gently down hill again to the spot whence it started and the hole was in the end halved by mutual consent. It may be remembered that a somewhat similar incident occurred in the final match of the London amateur foursome tournament little more than a year ago, when, on a day of piercing east wind and hard glassy greens, each side reached the tenth green at Walton Heath in one stroke, and each, with mastery conceived the other, a half the first green, at this character, were usually to be found upon downhill courses, and when at last they earned a well-merited, unpopularity they were succeeded by something hardly less hateful, a flat green, built out of the hillside, hinged, on one side, a back wall of chalk and on the other a precipitous drop.

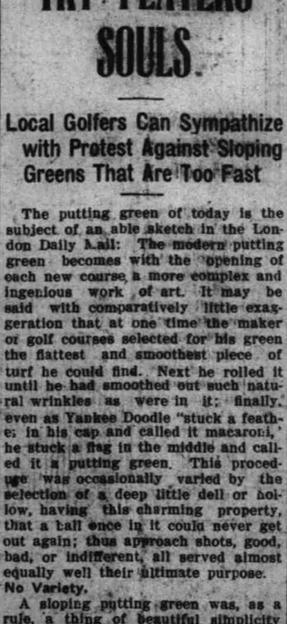

A Flappy Medium.
It is clear that the undulating green is open to abuses; the hand of the designer must be skilful and the undulations must not be overdone, lest they become almost as irritating as the old greens that sloped as the roof of a house. There is a tendency, already visible on one or two courses, to confuse that which is interesting with that which is merely tricky, and whenever a player through no fault of his own is confronted with a put which is really impossible, where no human skill can lay the ball within less than six or seven feet of the hole, it may safely be said that the boundary line between the two qualities has been over-stepped. Again, the designer has to consider all reasonable kinds of weather, and the put that is both fair and interesting in winter may become farcical in an ordinarily dry summer. Finally, there is an increased responsibility on the green-keeper, for it is possible by a display on quite ordinary stupidity in cutting the hole immediately at the foot of a slope to give to one man a hopeless put down hill, and to his opponent, who has done nothing to deserve it, a back-wall that shall double his chance of holing out. Dangers must, however, always attend the exaggeration of any good quality, and the greater number of the undulating greens of today undoubtedly add to the legitimate interest of the game.

ANOTHER YACHT RACE ROUND OAHU PLAN OF AMATEUR TARS

YACHT KAMEHAMEHA
LOG OF THE KAMEHAMEHA, WINNER OF LAST RACE, TELLS THE STORY

The win of the yacht Kamehameha in the round-Oahu race which finished Sunday afternoon, has led to a challenge from the defeated Molilou for another brush between the two boats over the same course. Captain Charles T. Wilder immediately put in a challenge to the winner, and it is likely that the race will be a three-cornered affair.

The circuit of the island is one of the most popular courses sailed by local racing skippers, as it gives practically a day and a night at sea without interfering with business, provided that the start is made Saturday afternoon, as was the case last time.

In the recent race one of the conditions was that each yacht should keep a log of the voyage.
Following is the log of the winner, kept in narrative form, which gives a good idea of how the race looked from the successful yacht:
The Kame's Log.
Yacht, Kamehameha; Capt., Chas. Lewis; Mate, Jack O'Brien, Crew, C. J. Sullivan, Bob French, Kaufman, Franz, Anthony, Souza.
Start 5 p. m. Through a misunderstanding we had to round the buoy twice, which gave the other boats a good lead. We squared off and put out the spinnaker and set the balloon. Set the topsail, and with all this canvas stretched the old Kam went tearing along like a scared cat. Off Pearl Harbor we overhauled the other boats. It now looks like the Hawaii and Molilou are our only rivals.

7 p. m. Barber's Point; Molly is closing in on us and Hawaii still astern of the Molly. Took in spinnaker and set jib topsail. Winds light but we are certainly traveling. Lit the new side lights.
7:50.—Molly is abreast of us, with Hawaii right on her heels. It is now dead calm.
8:15.—Pick up light breeze; we are walking away from the rest again; lead as usual by about quarter of a mile.
8:25.—Between Puahulu Point and Makeha; good winds and now out of calm zone. All boats behind in same position. Crozier now looks like he might take a short cut overland.
8:40.—Off Waimea; good stiff breeze; add log rates us as making 9 knots; going some.
10:15.—Off Kaena Point; Hawaii is to leeward and slightly in lead; took reef in the mainsail as we expect heavy winds on the other side. Anthony sick.
11:15.—Shook out reef, and now regret ever taking it in as Hawaii has good lead now and is heading north straight out to sea; lose sight of all boats now. Good night.
6:15 a. m. Sunday.—Light winds all night and a heavy current running; just picked up Hawaii on horizon.

BASEBALL SERIES WITH ISLANDS PROBABLE

Arrangements for Meeting with Hilo Ball-Tossers Practically Assured for the Encampment Week

The proposition of a post season inter-island baseball series is still being handled about between the various leagues in the Territory, but to date there is little definite information on the subject, and all the managers and boosters are at a loss when asked to state definite terms on which their representative would play.

This morning A. Q. Marcellino, manager of the Oahu Senior League, received a letter from Dr. F. S. Colville, of the Hilo League, asking for information as to just what Oahu's stand in the matter is at present.

Dr. Colville's suggestion is that a series be held which would definitely decide the Hawaiian championship, the champions of Oahu, Hilo and Maui to take part. He suggests that the games be equally divided between the three islands represented, but whether the teams are to be picked from the various organizations, or to be the winner of the pennant in each league, is not stated.

Manager Marcellino believes that such a long barn-stomping tour would be beyond the range of the Oahu players, but believes that the proposition could be worked if the outside teams came to Honolulu for a series which could be quickly run off, with the minimum of traveling expenses, and what is still more important, with the chance of securing gate returns that would cover expenses.

Also, Kaula is now talking of putting a team in the race for inter-island honors, and both Maui and the Garden Island teams are willing to do their playing in Honolulu. This leaves Hawaii the only stumbling block in the arrangements, and it is hoped that the matter can be straightened out to the satisfaction of all.

It is practically certain, at any rate, that there will be a Hilo-Bronx series at the time of the National Guard encampment here next month. In addition to the citizen-soldiers who play ball players will make the trip, so that the teams that shows here will be representative. A series of five games is suggested, to follow the encampment week, a Saturday and Sunday of one week, and a Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday of the next being the tentative dates. In all probability the Hilo ball-tossers will go against every team of the Oahu Senior League in turn.

PITCHERS OF HORSESHOES TO SHOW SKILL IN EUROPE

sha, each claiming the title of team champions, announce that they expect to play in Europe this summer.

The challenge came from R. E. Padgett and J. F. Price of Medora, Kan., who claim to be the champion team in their State, "which title we won" at Greensburg, Kan., last fall by defeating Hutchinson, Burton, Greensburg, Haviland, Weolford, Brenham, Turcom, Arlington and Stafford, playing a series of games with each team and winning every game but one.

"We can't accept your challenge this season," is the reply of the Oklahoma cracker. We are going abroad to pitch this season and will not return until the latter part of September. We would not think of pitching 190 games for $100. The only way we pitch with small teams is the best three out of five. We pitch 33 feet only and use our own shoes."

And have you then this writ, with full return of your proceedings thereon.

WITNESSE the Honorable Presiding Judge of the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, at Honolulu aforesaid, this 16th day of February, 1912.

(Seal) J. A. DOMINIS, Clerk.

Territory of Hawaii, City and County of Honolulu.

I, J. A. DOMINIS, Clerk of the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit, Territory of Hawaii, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of the original summons in the case of Territory of Hawaii, by Marston Campbell, Superintendent of Public Works, vs. God Wan Hoy et al., as the same appears of record on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court.

I further certify that the petition prays the condemnation for use as a public highway of the following described land, situate in the City and County of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, to wit:

- Beginning at a point in the southwest property line of Kuakini Street, which point is azimuth 218° 48' 47.20 feet from the line between the Government Street Survey Monument on Liliha Street at the northeast corner of School Street and the monument above Kuakini Street, opposite Kuna-wai Lane, which survey line is seventeen feet (17) offset from the new southeast property line of Liliha Street, thence running by true azimuth and distances as follows:
1. 47° 10' 54.2 feet in a straight line to a point, thence, in a curved line to the left having a radius of 320.0 feet;
2. 42° 29' 14.63 feet direct bearing and distance; thence;

Cable News POLICE CHARGED WITH MURDER

NEW YORK, July 29.—Police Lieutenant Charles Becker was arrested today on a bench warrant issued immediately following the report of the grand jury investigating the recent murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, who was preparing to testify concerning the activities of the gamblers of this city and the protections they received from the police. The arrest of the police officer, who is charged with murder in the first degree, created a sensation in the city.

Lieutenant Becker was, in the confession made by Rosenthal just before he was shot down in the street, his silent partner, providing the police protection and receiving a regular share of the proceeds of the gambling joint conducted by the murdered man. Testimony brought out before the grand jury tends to show that Becker learned of the contemplated confession and "give away" and plotted to have Rosenthal killed before he could tell the authorities all that he knew. In order to remove Rosenthal, a fund of fifty thousand dollars was collected from among the gambling house proprietors and the poolroom men, this fund being used to bribe a professional thug to kill Rosenthal at the first opportunity. Becker was arraigned at midnight, entering a plea of "Not guilty."

MEXICAN SITUATION NOT SO ALARMING JUAREZ, Mexico, July 29.—The American consul here is in receipt of messages assuring him that the alarm felt by Americans in the border states of Mexico is altogether groundless. No danger of an attack upon Americans from the guerrilla bands of rebels exists. The American refugees had heard that General Orozco, the rebel leader, had issued an order to kill all Americans if there is no intervention within a few days.

DARROW DENIES THE EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM LOS ANGELES, July 29.—Clarence Darrow took the stand in his own defense today, refuting the testimony produced by the prosecution by Behm and Franklin. Darrow faintly contradicted a portion of their testimony and explained away the rest.

SHOUP FOR PACIFIC ELECTRIC, SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—It was announced today that Paul Shoup is to succeed William F. Herrin as president of the Pacific Electric Company.

JAPAN'S FAIR COMMISSION DELAY LOCATION PLANS SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Upon the receipt of the news of the death of the Emperor of Japan, the Japanese commissioners here to select the Japanese site for the Panama Exposition announced that the plans for making the selection would be temporarily abandoned. It had been arranged that special ceremonies would mark the site selection, a program which would be out of place under the circumstances.

SENATORS DENY BRITAINS RIGHT WASHINGTON, July 29.—The bill to fix the rates for the Panama canal was further debated in the Senate today. Senator Bradley of Kentucky and Senator Massey making heated speeches. Both Senators took the ground that Great Britain had neither a legal nor a moral right to ask that she be consulted in any way in the fixing of the canal tolls and denied Great Britain's right to be consulted in the matter. The canal, each said, had been built wholly by Americans and American money and the control of the waterway rested wholly with America.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN AND OFFICER IS DEAD PORTLAND, July 29.—Brigadier-General Forrest Henry Hathaway, U. S. A., retired, died suddenly today. General Hathaway was sixty-eight years old, forty years of his life having been spent in active service, a part of which time he served with the Confederates in the Civil War. At the battles of Fair Oak, Virginia, and Newmarket, Virginia, he distinguished himself particularly, receiving promotions upon the field, in the first engagement being taken from the ranks of enlisted volunteers and made a first lieutenant. He was appointed to the federal army after the war and rose to the grade of brigadier-general in 1904, when he was retired at his own request.

Beauty—real beauty—is more than skin deep. No cosmetic in the world can give the wholesome color, the bright eyes, the clear, transparent skin that is the natural result of pure blood, proper diet and hygienic habits of daily life.

It sounds easy and it is easy for a woman to have the beauty which health alone can give. A safe and efficient tonic if the blood is weak, thin or impure (Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are especially recommended), the avoidance of foods which will cause eruptions, and regular bathing of the skin. That is all and it is the only way.

Write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Box 176, Schenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Plain Talks to Women." It is an outspoken but perfectly proper little book and should be read by every woman and growing girl. A few samples of the new "Pink Pills" will also be sent you. Should you be unable to obtain Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in your locality they will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

Home Course In Road Making

I.—The Office of Public Roads.

By LOGAN WALLER PAGE,
Director Office of Public Roads,
United States Department of Agriculture

Copyright by American Press Association, 1912.

IN March, 1893, a petition was presented to congress asking that a road department similar to the agricultural department be founded at Washington for the purpose of promoting construction and maintenance of roads and for teaching students so that they might become skilled road engineers and to establish a permanent exhibit of sections of road illustrating various methods of construction and the best road materials and machinery. This petition was signed by the governors of many of the states, including Governor McKinley of Ohio, by chambers of commerce and universities and was indorsed by resolutions of legislatures.

The office of road inquiry was established under authority of an act of congress approved March 3, 1893, making appropriation of $10,000 for the department of agriculture. The clause relating to this work provided that the secretary of agriculture should make inquiries in regard to systems of road management throughout the United States, make investigations in regard to the best methods of road making, prepare publications on this subject and assist agricultural colleges and experiment stations in disseminating information.

Since 1893 the total amount appropriated for the office of public roads is $304,960, and since its establishment the office has issued 40 bulletins, 95 circulars, 9 farmers' bulletins, 21 year book reprints and 18 annual reports, a total of 183 publications.

The office has directed the construction of about 345 object lessons and experimental roads, illustrating macadam, bituminous macadam, brick, gravel, sand-clay, shell and earth construction. The approximate expenditure on these object lessons and experimental roads by local authorities has been $600,762, and the subsequent road work due directly to the object lesson roads represents expenditures running well up into millions. Lectures and personal advice by engineers and experts have constituted a prominent feature of the work of the office since its establishment. The road material laboratory was installed in December, 1900, and from that time to July 1, 1911, about 5,300 samples of road material have been received from practically every state in the Union and tested to determine their character and value for road building.

A photographic laboratory was installed in January, 1909, and has now a complete outfit. This was the direct result of a great need for illustrated lectures. The office has now a collection of about 6,000 negatives and about 3,000 slides, many of which have been colored. These illustrate all phases of road work.

Experiments have been conducted with oils, tars, rock asphalt and various preparations for the purpose of preventing dust and preserving macadam roads from destruction under modern traffic conditions. The office has conducted investigations to determine the feasibility of the sand-clay method of road building in the southern states as well as in the prairie states, and this method of construction has been found to be quite practicable, especially in the south.

A study of the construction of roads, of natural soils by treatment with asphaltic oils, has been made and was published in circular No. 90. The office is conducting investigations on the use of slag as a road material and the improvement of sand roads in parts of the country where clay is not accessible. Practical efforts have been made toward bringing about the more general use of the split log drag in the maintenance of earth roads.

One of the unique and striking exhibits at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition consisted of a series of miniature models illustrating every known type of improved road and the various road building devices, such as rollers and crushers, in actual operation. This exhibit was designed and prepared by the office, and since the exposition closed similar exhibits have been shown in many parts of the United States, partly through the medium of expositions and partly by means of exhibit trains operated by several railroads. Lecturers and demonstrators accompany these exhibits, making them in reality schools of instruction in road building.

Graduates in engineering are appointed from colleges each year after a competitive examination, and are given thorough training while rendering practical services to the government. In this way an efficient corps of engineers is being built up, which will aid the development of road building along proper lines, both during and after their connection with the government. This work was begun in the fiscal year 1905.

Investigations into the decomposition of rock powders under the action of water have led to important discoveries with reference to increasing the cementing value of road materials. The investigation into the corrosion of iron and steel curbs has brought out important results. The generally accepted theories regarding the rusting of iron have been demonstrated to be incorrect, and it has been shown that by treating the surface of the iron with a strong oxidizing agent the rusting can be inhibited.

In May, 1907, the office inaugurated a project designed to introduce the best possible systems of construction, maintenance and administration of roads in the various counties. Under this plan engineers are assigned to make thorough investigation on all phases of the road work of the county to which they are assigned, and prepare exhaustive reports giving plans, estimates and recommendations.

The number of the employees of the office has increased from one on July 1, 1893, to 157 on July 1, 1911. The present appropriation of the office is $100,720, out of which $3,500 is paid for rent, leaving $157,220 to pay the salaries of these 157 employees, as well as traveling expenses, the purchase of equipment and supplies, and the usual running expenses.

The most thorough and systematic methods of organization have been introduced into the administration of the office, and the great library on all phases of road work is the best in the western hemisphere, and the library is being added to constantly.

The policy of the office in recent years has been to co-operate with the officials in charge of road work in the various states as closely as possible, and the endeavor is being made so to correlate road work in each state by voluntary co-operation as to constitute one great movement along uniform lines and make the progress and methods of each state known to every other state through the medium of the office. In furtherance of this object a comprehensive investigation was begun in

SECTION OF THE BITUMINOUS LABORATORY OFFICE OF PUBLIC ROADS.

1904 to ascertain the mileage of improved and unimproved roads, the character of improvement, the amounts expended, rates of levy and sources of revenue in every county in the United States. This work was finished in June, 1907, and the results were published in the form of a bulletin, which shows that there are over 2,150,000 miles of road in the United States, of which only 7.14 per cent were improved in 1904, and that the expenditure in money and labor for that year was nearly $80,000,000. This bulletin comprises the first complete data ever assembled on this subject.

RUEF'S BOOK CONFESSION MAY STIR UP MORE REVELATIONS

Schmitz Says He Will Unbosom
Himself at So Much Per Line Also

By ERNEST N. SMITH
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The Ruef confession, being printed in a daily paper, is enlightening, but not as exciting so far, as people really thought it would be. Ruef may be telling the truth; he is certainly too tiresome in his long, accurate details to be telling fiction. His writings have the ring of sincerity so far as he goes, but they are unusually clever in giving not one single detail of his private life. You learn nothing but what he did in a political or semi-public way. He admits that he starts in a comparatively poor boy just from college; in a short time he is giving you details of how he personally spent $15,000 on a political campaign.

If the articles are no more self-analytical in the future than in the past, one will learn all about everybody and everybody else and only know that Ruef was in the game for all he could get. In other words, you feel as though the magician after fooling you shows how the trick is done "before your very eyes," yet for the life of you it can't be done at home before the looking glass. You can readily see how it could be done, but you are not dextrous enough to do it yourself.

Sympathy Aroused.
Meanwhile the precious rascal and his friends have aroused a good deal of sympathy for the convict, and have secured innumerable signatures to a petition for his parole, the principal reason therefor seeming to be that Ruef was caught and the others were not, therefore release the one who was.

Be that as it may, Ruef's article is an illuminating discourse on what he and other people did, during the hey-days of the Crimmins-Kelly political regime, but it has remained for Kelly, now a home-loving, quiet citizen withdrawn from the firing line, to throw some sidelights upon the things Ruef doesn't write about.

Kelly paints no rosy view of himself. He lets his past stand for itself any way you want to take it, and surrounded by his five daughters and four sons he hugely enjoys the fratric-idal efforts of the "holier than thou" reformers to purify the political arena and provide jobs for themselves.

THOMAS W. LAWSON CLAIMED SIXTY MILLION TO BEAT BRYAN

Spectacular Bostonian Wrote
Open Letter Exposing Alleged Plot

Thomas W. Lawson furnished a lively chapter in the story of the Democratic convention at Baltimore that L. L. McCandless, local Bourbon leader, says is one of the most remarkable things in the national campaign.

In the Baltimore Evening Sun of June 27 Lawson, the spectacular Boston financier, published an open letter charging that a pool of sixty million dollars had been raised to eliminate Bryan and nominate a dark horse. Lawson wrote as follows:

William Jennings Bryan, Baltimore.
Dear Mr. Bryan: In Chicago,
last Thursday, while the Big Beast Bosses in the employ of the System were blackjacking the people from the Republican end of the game, I laid before you the plot by which the Democratic end was to be knocked out-dropped. I told you the arrangements had been made down to the last detail.

You were to be eliminated; Clark and Wilson were to be deadlocked; a dark horse, a certain "progressive" (God forgive the profanation) was to be sprung and bowled through. I told you that one million dollars in cash was the Bosses' plum; five hundred thousand furnished by the dark horse, five hundred thousand by a certain Wall Street System master. I told you that a sixty-million-dollar stock pool had been organized, participation in which was to do the trick with all kicking delegates.

When I told you these things, you were astounded. You said it was impossible. I told you the first leg was the election of Parker; that if the morrow showed me wrong in the Parker part, I would admit I had been a dreaming ass. You now admit I told you straight.

Let me tell you further—up to date everything mapped out six weeks ago has gone through on schedule and without a slip. It will go on to a finish on schedule and without a skip.
You agreed with me the Bosses' to-be nominee is the rankest counterfeit ever mentioned for Presidential honors.

Listen:—This man has entered into a hard and fast bargain (I should say a signed and sealed contract) with the Big Beast Bosses that if they give him the honor, he will give the System through them full control of the great office.

Never since the country was formed has there been such a scandalous and degrading contract entered into. Compared with it the blackjacking of the Big Beast Bosses at Chicago was legiti-mate statesmanship.

This Baltimore thing is vile, leprously vile, and it is up to you to nullify it. Authorize me to say that with Roosevelt at the head of the Progressive ticket you will accept the Vice-Presidential nomination, he resign after the first two years and you to serve the other two, and we will sweep the country and roll the Big Beast Bosses into the hell they will so fittingly grace.

Do this now, publicly, as nothing can prevent the Baltimore deal from going through on schedule. Remember, I told you of the five million dollars raised on the eve of the '96 election to buy five States and defeat you.
Remember, I telegraphed you on the floor of the convention in 1906 that the Pat McCarran-handled deal to nominate Parker was a System-hatched plot and entirely in the interests of the System. You will remember that afterward you had my statements proved to your complete satisfaction.
Now rise to the opportunity: show yourself to be the people's real friend that you are.

In those long hours in Chicago last week, when we had walked the Lake Front until after midnight had passed into morning, you finally said that I did, that they would never hitch with Bryan, that they were never hitch with Parker after you had opened on them.
I told you the Democratic Big Beast Bosses, like their fellow-tribesmen the Republican Big Beast Bosses, would hitch with the devil himself if necessary to successfully blackmail the people. I ask you now who was right?
In the light of my past advice will you not now take it and prevent this new wrong? Take it and by preventing this new degradation be to the people the hero in fact that you have been in their imagination. Bear in mind the nomination of this man by those bosses and by their methods when exposed, as it will be, with complete and absolute proof, will be the scandal of the age, and upon it the candidate of the new people's party will ride to victory as easily as rides the Iroquois chieftain's canoe propelled by the spring freshets.
