Manager Plan In Maui County Is Rice's Proposal

Would Elect Supervisors By Districts And Then Hire Man To Manage As Corporations Do.

Election of five members of the board of supervisors by districts instead of at large and a business manager form of government, modeled somewhat after the city manager form of government used in many of the municipalities of the mainland is suggested by Senator Harold W. Rice for Maui.

Senator Rice's suggestion is for a government modeled somewhat along the usual plan of conduct of corporations. The people (the stock holders in this case) elect the board of supervisors (the directors) and the board of supervisors engages the manager to conduct the county affairs much as a company manager conducts the affairs of a big corporation, such as a plantation, pine packing concern, railroad or steamship line.

Benefits Shown

More direct representation would be given the people of the different districts by the election of men to represent the districts on the board, Senator Rice claims for the plan. The board would be the county legislative body, just as now, it would also be a cabinet of advisers to the manager. It would hire and fire the manager at will, thus retaining complete control. On the mainland in operating such systems of government the recall is usually included so that if a manager is unsatisfactory and the board refuses to replace him with a new one, the members of that board can be removed and replaced in a recall election. As to that phase, however, Senator Rice said nothing in outlining his proposal.

Place Responsibility

The manager would hire his department heads and would be responsible for their conduct in their various departments.

To secure such a form of government for Maui it would be necessary to secure legislation and a bill could be framed so as to make the plan apply to Maui County only, special county legislation. Senator Rice may seek to have his project included in the Maui program.

On the mainland the system has worked well with cities but has seldom been extended to apply to county governments.

Sailors Who Wreck Station Fined $50 Each

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, Dec. 5.—Four of the five men arrested on a charge of wrecking the wireless station at Waihi on Wednesday, pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of disturbing the peace. They were fined $50 each. Dr. J. M. Davey, surgeon aboard the Matson liner Wilhelmina, did not appear in court, the charges against him having been dropped.

A settlement outside of court, in which the men agreed to pay for all damage to the station, resulted in reducing the charges from rioting which is a felony to disturbing the peace, a misdemeanor.

LAND FOR KRUPPS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—A provisional agreement has been made between the Russian Soviet government and the Krupps whereby the Krupps are to have a concession of 247,000 acres of agricultural lands in southwestern Russia.

A special company to promote the scheme of cultivation is planned in which it is said that British capital will participate.

MANY SEEK JOBS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, Dec. 5.—The Republic's Central Territorial Committee met last night but decided it is too early to act upon applications for endorsement for clerical and other positions in the coming legislature.

Already 24 aspirants have applied for endorsement.

Congressman Flays Triple Alliance As Proposed By France

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—"American mothers would never subscribe to an agreement to send their sons to defend France when French mothers will not raise sons enough to defend their country," declared Representative Julius Kahn, Republican of California, commenting yesterday afternoon on the speeches in this country of former Premier Clemenceau.

Kahn declared the French leaders are urging an alliance of the United States, Britain and France in the event that Germany should attack again. The congressman pointed out France's population of 38,000,000 as compared to Germany's 68,000,000, but declared that in 1870 both countries were about equal in numbers with 40,000,000 population.

He added that France, in its decrease of secular position, stood by, while Germany increased her population.

Hull Is Victim Of Frame-Up, Charge

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, Dec. 5.—J. B. Lightfoot, counsel for Christopher Hull who is on trial here in the Federal court for an alleged violation of the national prohibition amendment, requested a motion for dismissal on the ground that okolehao had been "planted" in Hull's place by the officials appearing to have done the seizing. Judge De Bolt denied the motion.

Lightfoot then in his opening statement said he expected to prove to the prosecution that the raiding officers brought liquor with them when they made the raid.

Maui Woman's Club

The M. W. C. met in the Territorial Building Monday afternoon. The reports of the different committees were given. The Home Economics department will meet the fourth Wednesday of the month at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Wailuku. Each member is requested to bring a friend. The Civic and Humane departments realized about $325 from the rummage sale held in Wailuku the 25th of last month. Mrs. Jones, chairman of the Study department reported that Judge Case will speak at their next meeting, December 20th, his subject being "Trial by Jury." As women will soon be called to serve on the jury it will prove of great value to the women of Maui. All are invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Steele said that the voices of the old members of the Music Department are needed. A splendid group would result if the old members would attend with the new.

The next general meeting of the Club will be held January 8th, instead of the first.

The program of the afternoon was in the hands of the Humane Department. Mrs. W. W. Thayer, president of the Humane Society, Honolulu was unable to be here but she sent up a paper which was read by Mrs. Ben Williams, "Humane Work in Hawaii." Mrs. Williams also read a review of the work done by this department here on Maui. It was splendid to know that so much had been accomplished.

Mrs. Roger Williams read an article which was very interesting.

Mrs. T. B. Linton closed the program with a delightful reading "Her First Appearance" by Richard Harding Davis.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

PARIS, Dec. 4.—Premier Poincaré of France today took steps to hurry along parliamentary consideration of the Washington agreement. Ten committees yet to report are holding up the signing of the pact.

Lower Paia Given Electric Lights

Maui Company Extends Its Service; Music Called Out And Impromptu Parade Is Started By Residents.

Lower Paia was "all lit up" Saturday night. No, not alcoholically "lit up" but electrically illuminated. Such was the delight that music was called out and an impromptu parade started. It was the first time that "white lights" had gleamed generally in the stores of the town and residents of that section were consequently delighted.

Maui Electric Company began giving service to Lower Paia on Saturday night and Lower Paia likes to be "lit up." The company had generally installed the wires and lights in the stores before the "juice" was turned on so it was that the town had its first experience with electric lights, and "everybody's doing it," Manager Blair says and his men have all they can do and more wiring homes and there is a waiting list.

Lower Paia is the first step to extending the service of the company up country. Makawao will be next. Then when the materials arrive will commence the putting in of the new transmission line to and service lines in Wailuku. Makawao service will be given in a short time. As to Wailuku there is much to be done along lines that have previously been reported when approved a few months since by the directors of the company.

Lausanne Delegates Are Upset By Russia

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LAUSANNE, Dec. 5.—Ismet of Turkey conferred for a long time with Tchitcherin this morning but it is not indicated that he has any Turkish proposal to present to the conference. The provocative attitude taken by assumption of the role of spokesman by Tchitcherin called forth an emphatic protest yesterday from Marquis Curzon and imparted a bellicose air to the conference which makes the outcome extremely doubtful.

The allies will aid the United States in opposing the exclusion of foreign warships from the Dardanelles.

When the conference adjourned yesterday no time was fixed for reconvening.

Tam and Paris Win In Doubles

Eddie Tam, singles tennis champion of Maui, and Mrs. J. C. Paris of Kahului on Friday afternoon won the Maui championship of mixed doubles players, defeating Mrs. E. F. Deimert and David S. Wadsworth in the final matches of the tournament that has been under way for the past several weeks. The score was 6-4, 2-6, and 6-2. A remarkable feature of the tournament is that in the two years just passed, Mr. Tam and Mrs. Paris have played in the finals and were only defeated in both instances after having played five hard fought sets. The champions are now the possessors of the beautiful H. P. Baldwin cups, emblematic of the holders of the mixed doubles title. The cups will remain with the present holders until they are defeated.

A fair turnout of fans were present to witness the final play. The contests were umpired by J. S. B. McKenzie, a veteran tennis player.

Three of the escaped girls returned early today, cold wet and nearly exhausted. The remainder are reported to have been caught at Chehalis.

Direct Election Of President Wins Its First Senate Fight

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—First victory was won by the new "Progressive Bloc" today in its legislative program. Favorable report was secured on the Caraway resolution for an amendment to the constitution to provide for the election of the President and Vice-President by direct vote instead of through the electoral college and changing the date of inauguration day from March 4 to the third Monday in January.

The resolution also provides for elected members of congress to take office on the first Monday in January succeeding the biennial elections.

Obenchain Released; Insanity Charge Is Made Against Burch

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—On a motion of the district attorney, the court here today dismissed the indictments charging Arthur C. Burch and Mrs. Madayne Obenchain with the murder of J. Belmont Kennedy.

Burch has been tried three times and Mrs. Obenchain twice, all resulting in jury disagreements.

Paul W. Schenk, attorney for Burch, filed an insanity complaint against him. The court directed his commitment pending an observation. Mrs. Obenchain, released from jail, left for an unknown destination. Burch will have a hearing before the lunacy commission on Saturday.

The winner of the Paia Club tournament will receive a silver trophy donated by Mr. W. A. Baldwin and will play William P. Baldwin for the tennis championship of the Paia district. The Settlement Club winner will also receive a trophy from Mr. Baldwin.

Following the tournaments the winner at Paia will play the winner of the Wailuku district for the Boys' singles title of Maui. A silver cup has been donated for the winner, also by Mr. W. A. Baldwin.

A keen interest is noticeable among the junior boys as to the outcome of the tournaments. At the present time William P. Baldwin is the only one of the juniors entered that has taken a part in all Maui tournaments.

Lindsay Appointment Not Confirmed, Holds As Recess Appointee

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Among the nominations which failed of confirmation by the senate in special session was that of Alexander Lindsay to be associate justice of the supreme court of Hawaii.

Failure of the senate to confirm the Lindsay appointment means that he holds his position under a recess appointment until confirmation at the regular session which convened yesterday.

So far as is known there is no objection to the appointment of Judge Lindsay. The reason appears to have been the Democratic filibuster against the Dyer Anti-Lynching Bill, the Democrats refusing to permit any important legislation or the confirmation of any nominations until the Republicans abandoned their purpose of passing it, which was done only a day or two before the special session ended.

Europe Faces Crisis Declares Ambassador

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, Dec. 5.—"Europe is facing the most desperate outlook of its history," declared United States Ambassador Harvey when speaking before the American circle of the Lyceum Club in this city today.

If no good permanent results come from the meeting of premiers in London, Harvey said he failed to see how Europe could live another year. "There must be an immediate adjustment of the conditions in the minor countries or it will affect the United States and England, England and America can withhold, but they cannot endure," said the ambassador.

Tsingtao Seized By Bandits Is Report

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

TIENSIN, Dec. 4.—Unconfirmed reports reaching here say that Chinese bandits have seized control of Tsingtao whose storay career in war and diplomacy had been expected to end today with the turning back of Shantung from Japan to China.

Trains out of Tsingtao are said to be crowded with inhabitants fleeing from their homes.

Fumble Gives Hilo High 6-0 Victory

Hilo High School, recovering a fumble, scored a touchdown in the first quarter of the Turked Day inter-lisland football game with the Mauna Kea, arriving at Lahaina at Hilo by the score of 6 to 0.

The Maui Hi squad, twenty-two strong, returned from Hilo on the Mauna Kea, arriving at Lahaina at 1:30 this morning and proceeding by automobile to their homes in Central Maui.

Bystanders who witnessed the game declared it one of the greatest junior games played in the territory, hard fought and the plays well executed. Had it not been for the untimely fumble the score, it is said, would have been a 9 to 0 tie.

THEY CAN'T FORGET

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Representatives of the local American Legion and other patriotic organizations have passed concurrent resolutions protesting against the appearance in concert here next Monday of Jghana Gadeki, because of her alleged pro-Germanism in war time.

To show "there is no racial ill feeling" resolutions were also passed extending sympathy to Mme. Schumann Heink who is ill at Garden City.

Kahului Harbor Not Included In Island Projects

Army Engineers At Washington Make Recommendations For Honolulu, Hilo And Nawiliwili, Kauai.

Kahului is omitted in the recommendations of the engineers department for harbor improvements in Hawaii. An Associated Press dispatch of yesterday afternoon from Washington said: "The army engineers have recommended to Congress for expenditures for the next fiscal year on rivers and harbors and other waterways projects amounting to $71,515,410 of which $824,000 are for Hawaii. The Hawaii projects include $150,000 for Honolulu harbor, $374,000 for Hilo and $300,000 for Nawiliwili."

There was included in the Rivers and Harbors Bill that passed congress September 22, last, a provision for a preliminary examination and survey of Kahului harbor. On the subject Major Johnson wrote to a number of persons and organizations after the middle of October. William Walsh made a report to Major Johnson in detail as to what was needed and at its November meeting the Maui Chamber of Commerce passed resolutions recommending lengthening of both breakwaters and dredging the westerly side of the present basin but declining the lengthening of the easterly breakwater and the dredging most essential. Copies of the resolution were sent to Major Johnson in Honolulu, the delegate at Washington and the rivers and harbors committees of both houses of congress.

The Harbor Board made favorable recommendations about the middle of last month. It appears probable that there has been too little time for the preliminary investigation and survey to have been made for inclusion in the recommendations made by the army engineering department in Washington. William Walsh when told of the message last evening said that it was apparent that Kahului was not included in the proposals for the next Rivers and Harbors bill but that it might still be possible, though difficult to secure an appropriation through additions made by the committees in congress and that undoubtedly Delegate Baldwin would try to secure such action.

"Hammer Murderess" Saws Bars, Escapes

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Clara Phillips, called the "hammer murderess", recently sentenced from 10 years to life for connection with the death of Alberta Meadows, whom it is charged she beat to death with a hammer, is at large. She made her escape last night by sawing the bars to the window of her cell in the county jail where she was being held pending her appeal from her conviction and sentence.

Friends on the other Islands kept him busy every minute, Jarrett declared, and added the tour was "more strenuous work than campaigning." He will announce the appointment of his secretary next week.

KEEP ON PLUGGING.

On the face of the Associated Press report from Washington as to the recommendations of the army engineers for river and harbor improvements for the next fiscal year, received by this paper late yesterday afternoon, it appears that the proposed improvements of Kahului harbor, lengthening of the easterly breakwater and dredging the westerly side of the present basin, have been omitted and may have to wait another year. Delegate Baldwin will do all that can be done to get an appropriation included in committee and he will receive all possible cooperation from home, but he is working under a handicap unless it may be that a special report on Maui's harbor may still go in from the army engineers' office in Honolulu.

Honolulu and Hilo harbors are both included in the recommendations as is $300,000 for Nawiliwili, Kauai, but the dispatch makes no mention of Kahului.

It was under date of October 26 that Major Johnson wrote to the Maui Chamber of Commerce that the Rivers and Harbors Bill, passed on September 22, contained a provision for a preliminary examination and survey of Kahului harbor. He said that the act did not specify the nature of the improvement contemplated and nothing more could be done until a definite project was adopted by congress.

Before the Chamber of Commerce met a report on the subject had gone in from William Walsh, superintendent of the Kahului railroad, in answer to a similar letter.

The Harbor Board had no chance to consider the subject until about the middle of November, a week after the Maui Chamber met, but Superintendent Bigelow had sent Major Johnson a report. So far as is known no preliminary survey has yet been made. The time for action after Major Johnson's letter was short and it may be that the engineers will get in a supplementary report on the subject. Otherwise, there is little hope for any appropriation passing at this session other than for a survey of the project. Then it would take into the next regular session to secure an appropriation of a definite project.

It is only the quitter who lays down on meeting the first obstacle and Maui folk are not the quitting kind. The Kahului improvements as recommended by the Maui Chamber of Commerce are essential and the only thing to do is to keep plugging, and then plug some more until funds for the lengthening of at least one of the breakwaters and for necessary dredging are secured.

LET THEM LOOK.

Hywell Davis of the special labor investigating committee now in the Islands is quoted as saying that the commission must be shown that there is a shortage of labor, where it exists, how it exists and since when it has existed and he says so quite properly for those were the purposes for which the commission was appointed, at least to determine whether or not in the opinion of its members a shortage exists was the primary reason. But as to whether they must be "shown" or will see for themselves is another matter. Certainly they will be given every opportunity to see for themselves and equally they can secure for the asking all the data and figures they can require.

Should the planters' association and the pineapple packers association undertake to conduct the commissioners about and come forward with their claims without a hearing being called it would be said that they were trying to bias the views of the visitors. So the associations are ready to give any information asked but are not seeking to conduct the investigation for the commissioners.

If the members of the commission will ask men in the mills of the sugar companies and in the pine packing establishments, men who are as much leaders of the labor situation here as any union men on the mainland, they will get their answers clearly and straight to the point. If they will ask the lunas of the fields as to the situation as they would inquire from shift bosses in a mining country, they will get facts. If they will ask the workers at the printing trade, there also they will get the facts. From all of them they will learn that the proposal before congress will not affect skilled labor at all, that it is only agricultural labor that is sought, field hands, and that a shortage of such labor actually does exist.

If a man with a weak or injured leg wanted a crutch to aid him in walking it would be immaterial whether he had needed the support for a day, a week, a month or a year. So in Hawaii it is immaterial how long the shortage has existed. The important thing is there is a shortage of field labor and that the commissioners can learn for themselves, if they will, merely by looking about and by a study of the figures of production, area tilled and men employed that they can have for the asking.

From now on Daily Maui News will publish its Children's story, "Dreamland Adventures," twice a week, on Mondays and Saturdays. The kiddies will thus get their stories as often as before and space for more news for the grown-ups will result in the papers of the other four days.

Once more Daily Maui News asks its readers of Wailuku, Kahului, Puunene, Paia and Lahaina to send in word whether they want the paper delivered at home, store, mill or office, and if at the house, its location. Carrier delivery was started in Wailuku yesterday. Kahului and Puunene come next, then Paia and Lahaina and then other communities that are touched by the railroad.

No. 38—The Gate Table

Gate tables were made all during the Stuart period and proved so useful and adaptable to a variety of purposes that they continued to be made long after nearly all the other Stuart styles had been discarded. They were called "gate" tables on account of the arrangement of the legs. Pairs of legs, connected by stretchers, swung out from the sides like gates to support the leaves. These gates were pivoted in the framing at the top and in the long stretchers at the bottom, as may be seen by carefully examining the early American table shown in the cut. The legs and stretchers of gate tables were turned, the pattern of the turning depending on the preference of the maker. The tops were usually either rectangular or oval and the feet were generally either ball-shaped or also of the so-called "Spanish foot" pattern. The materials ordinarily used were oak, walnut, cherry, maple or whatever other woods were locally convenient.

Gate tables served not only for dining but for many purposes besides. Nowadays they are being reproduced in large numbers because they are so handy and adaptable, and well designed likewise. One great advantage is that their leaves can be dropped when not in use, so that they take up little space.

The Daily Fun Hour

Stoney Ringo

From this ancient Irish sport originated cricket, the national game of England. In the older pastime a circle of stones is formed, containing as many stones as there are players. The players divide into teams, usually five or seven to a side. One team represents the Outs, the other the Ins. Either a ball or a lob-stick (any smooth stick) is used to "lob"

(throw) at the stones. One of the Outs stands in the center of the circle and lobs at the different stones in succession. The Ins defend the stones. If a ball is used, they try to catch it or to bat it with the open palm of the hand to one of their teammates. If play is made with a lob-stick, the Ins endeavor to strike it away from the stones with a larger flat stick resembling a cricket bat. Whenever a hit is made by the Outs or a ball or lob-stick captured by the Ins, it scores one point for the team. Game is 14 points.

The game varies in different countries of Ireland, and nowadays is more generally played with a ball and a flat bat than with the older lob-sticks. In some districts the teams are named for colors, trees or animals, such as the Greens and the Blues, the Thorns and the Sycamores, the Elks and the Wolf-hounds, etc. In this case, the teams change places after every game, the Outs become Ins, the Ins are Outs and score is kept under the team-name.

Mrs. Louise C. Jones Brings Many Lovely Goods From Orient

Back from the Orient, Mrs. Louise C. Jones who made the trip with Mrs. S. A. Baldwin and Miss Nellie Crook, says that she had a "simply glorious time." The party reached Honolulu on Monday and Mrs. Jones remained there until Saturday night, coming home on the Wilhelmina. The others returned earlier in the week. Declares Chartrand O.K.; Did Not Slug. That "Lefty" Chartrand, fullback of the Wailuku football eleven was not at fault and did not slug or in any other way "play dirty" in Sunday afternoon's game against the Kahului squad, is the assertion made yesterday afternoon by Tom Cummings, the Kahului back that was said to have been the victim of the rough play. Cummings declared that at half time during the game he approached the referee and told him that Chartrand had not hurt him intentionally or unintentionally and asked to have Chartrand reinstated in the game. It is said the referee declared it impossible to reverse his decision once it was made and that he had made his decision too hastily. Chartrand will play in Sunday's game against Paia. It was erroneously stated in Monday's issue of Maui News that Bertleman played at end. The correction is made that it was not Bertleman, who is in the hospital, but Hebert that filled the position.

He challenges anyone to come upon the stage and bring their own contrivances with which to make the woman more fast and secure in her position. An added number will be Miss Leona, a dainty and versatile sourette in the latest songs and dances.
