Christmas Cheer For Thousands Of Maui Children

Community Trees Planned In Various Districts, With Santa And Gifts And All Kinds Of Fun

Christmas joys are being prepared for more than 7,000 children of Maui. There are to be held ten or a dozen community trees in the various districts of the islands. Each district is making its own plans and each has its own committee. The Wailuku Committee held its first meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon. Present were Charles A. Puck, C. D. Lufkin, Adjutant Stiles, J. H. Gray, Mrs. Austin of Waihee and Miss Parsons. Preliminary plans for trees at Wailuku, Waihee and Waikapu were talked over.

Toys Not Fruit

One proposal that was favored yesterday was the giving of a toy to each child. In the past the packages have contained candy, nuts, an apple and an orange. The suggestion was to substitute a toy for an orange and letters went off to Honolulu last night to see if it is possible to get toys enough to go around.

The combined projects of community trees are being handled through Alexander House Settlement with its workers but each committee is handling its own district affairs, settling dates to suit convenience of the respective districts and generally making their own arrangements.

Shorter Program

Last year in Wailuku there was a program of tableaux and there was a long wait for the kiddies before the gifts were distributed. This year there will be no such program but there will of course be Christmas carols, for it would not be a Christmas celebration without them. Wailuku plans to hold its tree on Friday, December 23, in the armory, the hour probably being about 5:30. Waihee will hold its tree Friday evening at 6:30 but Waihee has plantation time, which brings it to after seven Wailuku time and will give Santa time to motor over from Wailuku to Waihee (reigns are not in vogue these modern days and not in the islands except on the highest mountain peaks.) Waikapu arrangements will be announced later. Santa is expected to supervise the distribution of gifts at all the trees.

Children By Thousands

In Wailuku it is planned to have Christmas packages for 1400 children but this will be supplemented by the tree for 350 and the one for Waikapu for an equal number so the Wailuku district is providing for 1700. C. A. Puck is in general charge. Miss Parsons will supervise the putting up of the gifts and those in charge of the musical features will be named later.

In Lahaina there will be a tree for the children of all West Maui and preparations are being made for a good time for 2400 little folk. Names of the committee and details of the program were not secure at the meeting in Wailuku yesterday.

In Paunoe there are to be gifts for 1000 at the tree and M. G. Paschoal is chairman of the committee. Spreckelsville is figuring on looking after 500 and Mrs. J. T. Fantom heads the committee. Mrs. F. A. St. Sure heads the Hailu committee and there are to be presents for 500 while further on at Halehaku Mrs. Crockett is the committee head and her committee is preparing gifts for 175. Mrs. Hooge will be asked to head the Waikapu committee and the Waihee chairman will be announced in a few days. At Makawao, Mrs. Marcel heads the committee and is preparing for 350.

Other Christmas Cheer

At Kahului the tree is to all intents and purposes a community tree but, as in the past, it will be handled by the church instead of a citizens' committee. At Paia, also, the church has charge of Christmas arrangements.

And there is to be other good cheer for the little folk besides the community trees for the Salvation Army will remember the children as is always its custom. It is planning three trees and distribution in numbers of centers where there will not be trees.

Teachers Of Territory Will Hold Annual Meeting On Maui In Closing Days Of The Year

Teachers from all parts of the Islands will be on Maui for the year end to attend the annual convention of the Hawaii Education Association. The following call for the meeting has been issued by the president, Supervising Principal H. M. Wells of Maui:

"To the Teachers of the Territory of Hawaii, Greetings:

"In the name of the Hawaii Education Association, and acting under the power imposed upon me by its constitution, I hereby proclaim and issue a call to all Teachers' Associations within the Territory of Hawaii that are affiliated with The Hawaii Education Association, to elect delegates to the Third Annual Convention of that Association, to be held in Kahului, Maui, December 28, 29 and 30, 1922.

"It is the desire of your executive committee that this convention should be spirited, yet harmonious; that the various Associations should present, through their delegates, a constructive program, as regards both legislative matters and educational policies; that it may be fused through friendly discussion, into a harmonious expression of the will of the entire teaching force of the public schools of Hawaii. In this spirit and in this spirit only, shall our counsel prevail.

(Signed) H. M. WELLS, President Hawaii Education Association."

Comprehensive Program

An interesting and varied program has been arranged, as will be seen below. The Maui Teachers' Association will act as the host for the occasion, while entertainment will be furnished to the speakers and delegates from the other islands, by members of the Maui Women's Club. The visitors will be met by members of the Maui Principals' Club, who have offered the use of their cars for the convenience of these guests of honor. Teachers from the other islands, whether delegates or not, should take this opportunity of seeing Maui as well as of attending these inspiring meetings.

A feature of the convention that will be of especial interest to elementary teachers will be the proposed organization of the primary education department of the H. E. A. and the papers and discussions in the meetings of that department. Another interesting feature is promised in the attractive musical program, featuring Molokai and Maui singers in real old Hawaiian music.

The business meeting promises to be one of unusual interest, and ample time has been allowed for the free discussion of the problems to be considered at the convention. The following are some of the matters suggested by the various affiliated associations for discussion; some of these items are in the nature of reports of standing committees.

Kahului And Lahaina Selected To Contest With St. Louis Boys

The St. Louis College football players will meet Kahului on Sunday, December 24, on the Fair Grounds grid and will play Lahaina on Christmas Day. There is to be a dance for them in Lahaina on Christmas night. The basketball game will be played in Wailuku on Saturday night, December 23. These points were agreed upon at a meeting of the football committee last night.

The subject of the games with St. Louis came up after the matters of protests had taken the early time of the meeting. The offer of another game between Paia and Wailuku simplified the matter of deciding who should meet the visitors for neither Manager Engle nor Meinecke was anxious for a hard game before those two teams clash once more. Then Chairman George Cummings outlined the plan that was tentatively adopted, the contingency being the ability of Lahaina to put a team in the field for the game and the willingness of the Lahaina players to take on the game. Manager Henry Robinson is to take the matter up with his players and report definitely at the meeting of the committee a week from tonight.

Maui is paying the transportation of 20 St. Louis players. There will be at least 35 and perhaps 50 of the students come over, the others paying their own fare. St. Louis alumni here expect to arrange for the putting up of the visitors.

At last night's meeting it was evident that there is not a unanimity of opinion on the advisability of bringing players from away to Maui and there is a sentiment for the inter-Maui games, especially since they have been so closely contested this year. If any team were to come it is agreed that St. Louis was the best choice that could be made and the invitation was ratified unanimously by the committee.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12—John Wanamaker, "Merchant Prince" and pioneer of the department store owners, died today, aged 84. He had been ill with a severe cold since early November and a coughing spell was followed by heart weakness.

Wanamaker carried insurance on his wife of more than $3,000,000.

Paia-Wailuku To Meet Once More

Protest Of Kahului Game Thrown Out, That Of Sunday Game To Be Heard Next Week

Protest of Wailuku of the Kahului-Wailuku game played December 3 is thrown out for the reason that a written notice of protest was not presented to the chairman of the football committee within 24 hours after the game. Protest by Wailuku of the Paia-Wailuku game of last Sunday will be heard a week from tonight by the football committee. However, Paia and Wailuku have agreed to play again on Sunday, December 31.

Players, committeemen and interested listeners filled and overflowed the Chamber of Commerce Rooms last night at a special meeting of the football committee called to take up protests. Practically the whole of the Wailuku team was there, a number from Paia and a few from Kahului.

Wrong Course Taken

In the matter of the protest of the Kahului-Wailuku game Manager Engle had taken exception to the safety touch down decision at once but had written to the referee and not to the chairman of the football committee. He had a letter from the referee admitting he was in error and that the play in question was a touchback and not a touch down. Manager Spencer stood on the irregularity of the protest and the rules sustained him. Had the game been regularly protested there is little doubt the committee would have declared that game a tie.

Teams To Play Again

As to the Paia-Wailuku game, manager Joe Meinecke of Paia said he had no notice until late that afternoon that the meeting was called to hear a protest and was unprepared to go on. He and Manager Engle handed complimentary verbal bouquets to one another and the players of the two teams. The protest was all but withdrawn, Engle agreeing to do so when Meinecke agreed to another game but Engle added that championship must go to the winner of the game proposed for December 31. That Meinecke would not consent to. There followed protracted efforts to get a hearing of the protest at once but it finally went over to Tuesday night, December 19. Referee Rice was over from Lahaina and it was desired to avoid bringing him over again. An arbitration committee was proposed but Meinecke stood on his right for time for preparation.

Should the protest be sustained then the proposed year end game may decide the championship but should the protest be disallowed it will be a case of "the best team won," as Meinecke expressed it.

Little Chance Seen Of Cancelling Debt France To America

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) LONDON, Dec. 12—Possibility of the United States cancelling the war debt of France at this time is considered remote. However, the view is expressed that it might consent to a loan delay in payment and forego interest, provided there is a clear promise of British payments in full.

The premiers are prepared to consider the inter-allied debts exclusive of any action on the subject that may be taken by the United States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The state department has not received any request for the United States to take part in any conference on a proposal to cancel the French war debt.

It said there has been no change in the position of the United States on the subject of European war debts.

Belt Road Route Less Important Kipahulu-Kaupo

Senator Tavares Revives Discussion of course To Be Pursued To Enter And Traverse Hana District

Belt road routes unexpectedly came in for further discussion yesterday at a meeting of the board of supervisors that was held primarily for the purpose of considering the budget. Senator A. F. Tavares appeared before the board and took up the subject of the route of the belt road and the necessity of a road between Kipahulu and Kaupo. There were some warm exchanges chiefly between Supervisor Fleming and Senator Tavares in the course of the discussion.

Senator Tavares took exception to a remark made by Supervisor Fleming, Friday and quoted in Daily Maui News. There were differences of opinion between them as to costs of construction of the proposed Kipahulu-Kaupo road.

It developed that Senator Tavares does not care so much whether the belt road runs north or south as he does for the construction of the route through the Hana pineapple country. Kipahulu-Kaupo, the Hailu Fruit Co., is to open up and he considered there is better chance of securing that section if the belt road be routed on the south side of Haleakala. He dwelt on the importance of the Hana district work needed and said 80 percent of Hana people wanted that road before any other. Fleming said he doubted the accuracy of the statement.

Frank Sommerfeld, one of the Chamber of Commerce committee that was before the board Friday said he knew nothing as to the Kipahulu-Kaupo plan and his instructions from the Chamber had been to ask the board to consider both north and south proposals and ascertain the costs of both. Later on W. F. Pogue came in on other business and the matter of route was taken up with him. He was for the northerly route and quoted figures freely.

No action on the subject was taken by the supervisors.

BUYING AT HOME

Honolulu merchants have decided to meet "barrage with barrage" and have issued a "Mail Order Catalog" to counter the inroads made upon their trade by Mainland mail order houses. The catalog is issued by F. R. Heath, Limited, which announces it has opened a "Mail Order Service Bureau."

On the cover of the catalog is the slogan "Buy at Home" but within it says that it is designed to show the "buyers of the Territory" that mail order houses competition is met with better prices and a second slogan is sounded, "Patronize the Merchants of Honolulu." Copies have been received on Maui.

In the capital city there have been signs of an awakening for some time past. More advertising space is used in the daily papers than formerly and prices are quoted liberally, which was not done to any great extent until recently.

No good reason can be advanced why the Honolulu houses should not reach out for and take business from the other Islands—if they can get it. They want that business and they show it.

This paper always advocates and will advocate buying at home where the goods are obtainable and an even break or nearly an even break can be secured in home buying but it has not had cooperation from some sources where it might expect it.

Some of the concerns that benefit most from home buying and suffer worst from loss of trade that leaves Maui do nothing to help themselves. They do not tell the home folk what they have and what are the prices. They do not recognize that the first thing to do is to get possible customers into the stores and that such customers will then see and buy goods that attract. They take an "every one knows we are here and if they want anything they'll come in" attitude. They do not advertise. They do not tell the public when they have new lines of goods and what those lines are priced at. They appear to be satisfied to get the trade of those who come into their stores. They do not even try to tell those who habitually buy by telephone that there is something in those stores that is worth while to come in and see.

The course of such concerns is like a restaurant that went broke at St. Louis exposition in the early stages of that big show. It spent a lot of money for attractive signs announcing viands and prices and put them up inside the building.

Newspaper advertising space is much cheaper than circular and catalog advertising. A Honolulu concern brings lines of goods over here and uses a page or a half page of newspaper display advertising space. It gets the business or it would not come again. Honolulu houses use newspaper space in all the papers of the other Islands constantly.

If Maui concerns want to meet Honolulu competition they can do so by taking the general public into their confidence through the newspapers and telling them from time to time what they have and what the prices are. They get buyers in to see those goods and those buyers see other things they want.

"John Jones Sells Shoes" is advertising of a sort but when his ad says "John Jones has a new line of shoes to sell at $4 the kind that usually sell at $5" then he is saying something worth his while.

Home concerns that are satisfied to take what happens to come their way have no legitimate kick if some one more wide awake grabs their customers and sells the goods.

It is good news for the children that is carried today in the story of the community trees for more than 7000 Maui kiddies.

Wailuku and Paunene are running neck and neck in the start of the 1923 sugar campaign.

When the United States in war days brought anything in Europe it paid cash. For its road building in France and all construction work it paid cash. For supplies purchased it paid cash. For transportation it paid cash. What it sold the Allies was on credit, mostly. It therefore its pretty hard to have the cash buyer asked to cancel the debt of its credit customer.

Wailuku post office had a waiting line yesterday afternoon seeking to get bundles away in time to reach mainland friends by Christmas. There is always the sentiment to get presents to the recipients just before Christmas day and that sentiment always clogs the postal service.

When one looks over the requests of the department of public instruction for the next bi-annual period there are two words that suggest themselves. "Some Budget."

No. 56—William and Mary Presses

William and Mary highboys, and also the cabinets set on stands and closely resembling the highboys in their general outline, have already been described. Likewise their exceedingly practical and decorative values have both been noted. Now we come to another piece of furniture, characteristic of the period, equally good looking and even more useful, especially in an age when cupboard room in the ordinary house extremely limited, or even almost non-existent. This piece is the high press, such as that shown in the illustration.

These presses were usually made in two sections, the top and the bottom, which were not fastened together and could be taken apart when it was necessary to move the piece. The upper part has two doors, which concealed either shallow shelves or else tiers of small drawers. The lower part was really a capacious chest of drawers standing on ball or bun feet. It can readily be seen how much holding capacity such a piece of furniture possessed. Sometimes, instead of having doors for the upper part, the front was made in one piece, hinged at the bottom so as to let down and afford a convenient place to write. In this way the press became the parent of a certain type of tall secretary. Reproductions are especially useful in libraries and bedrooms.

and the central dividing line. These bases may be numbered in sequence according to the number on base in each court, the highest number marking captain's base.

In each team is a captain, a baseman for each circle, two fielders and a guard for each baseman, including the captain. Guards stand outside opponents' bases and try to prevent the enemy basemen from getting the ball or from throwing it to the captain. Also they try to get possession of it in order to throw it to the basemen and captain in their own court. The fielders stand in their opponents' court, put the ball in play at the outset and pick it up whenever it goes out of bounds. No other player is allowed to do this.

The objects of the game are to send the ball around the bases and to the captain, as in regulation captain ball. The difference in this game is that after each point scored a fielder from each team moves to first base as baseman and guard, the previous first baseman and guard moving up to base No. 2 and so on until the captain's base is reached, the captain and guard becoming infielders in opposite courts. Each ball thrown from a baseman to his captain scores one point. A ball completing the circuit of the bases scores two. The side with high score when time is called wins the game.

Pertinent Paragraphs

Forfeits His Bail.—T. Tanaka accused of catching prohibited fish at Kihel forfeited bail of $50 in the Wailuku district court by failure to appear when the case was called. Tentative Budget Drawn.—Yesterday afternoon the board of supervisors completed a tentative budget which will come up for final approval on Friday when the board meets for that purpose. For Heedless Driving.—Hazimi Kazita who is held responsible for the four car mixup at the entrance to the Fair Grounds after the football game on December 3, was fined $75 in the Wailuku district court. Farewell Dinner.—For H. W. Wong, who will leave Maui about the middle of the month to take up the practice of law in Honolulu, a dinner was given on Sunday evening at the Cling How restaurant in Wailuku. About 40 friends of the departing lawyer were present to extend parting aloha and wish him all success. Hospital For Molokai.—Plans for a 12 bedroom hospital for Molokai are to be drawn by the county engineer and presented to the board of supervisors at their January meeting. Two of the beds are to be private beds and in addition to the main ward and hospital rooms there are to be nurses' quarters, kitchen and dining room. New Manager Arrives.—L. S. Keeler has arrived to take the management of the Maui Branch of the Royal Hawaiian Sales Co. and will soon return to his Honolulu home. Manager J. E. Phillips came over this morning with the new manager. Keeler is a recent arrival in the Islands and for several years past has been engaged in the automobile business in Phoenix, the capital and largest city of Arizona. Not West Point.—Stephen O. Fuqua, Lieutenant Colonel of the General Staff of the Hawaiian department writes and calls attention to a dispatch published in this paper on December 4 which said the Marines beat West Point 13-12. Colonel Fuqua says the Marines did not play West Point but the game was probably with the enlisted contingent at Fort Meade. The message read "Marines 13—Army 12" and as in press dispatches of sport events West Point is always referred to as "Army" it was natural to assume that the Army referred to was West Point.

Law Partnership To End On December 31

At the end of the year the law partnership between Eugene Murphy and Philip L. Weaver will be dissolved. Weaver will remain on Maui and will occupy the same office he has now. Murphy will also continue his practice here and occupy the same offices. In speaking of the dissolution, Weaver said yesterday that there is need of more law offices on Maui rather than fewer. There are cases that arise, in estates for instance, where interests of parties differ and where the counsel for the administrator or executor cannot well represent the legatee, or some of them as well. There are other instances where it is advisable to have larger number of counsel available. Both Murphy and Weaver say that there has been no misunderstanding between them and that they are agreed that the interests of both of them and of their clientele will best be conserved by two offices.

Basketball Fans: S. and A. R. raised the question of holding the ball in bounds which is answered under Rule 7, Section 4. Question: How long may a player in bounds who is not closely guarded hold the ball without violating the rule? Answer: Indefinitely; the length of time he may hold it depends upon the activity of his opponent. We trust this will clear the situation for the fans in question. BASKETBALL OFFICIAL.
