HONOLULU MEN IN INDIA CASE NOT SENTENCED

Reason for Postponement of Action By Court Not Given in Despatch; Coast Papers Give Details of Change of Plea

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 15.—Sentence upon Georg Rodiek, former German consul at Honolulu, and H. A. Schroeder, clerk at the consulate, both of whom have pleaded guilty to technical violation of the neutrality law in the India conspiracy case, was continued today for a week.

VON BRINCKEN'S WORDS START SPECULATION AS TO RODIEK'S INTENTION

The statement attributed to Lieut. Wilhelm von Brincken in connection with his plea of guilty to the indictment charging conspiracy to overthrow British rule, that "the less said about these cases, the better it will be for Germany," has led Honoluluans to raise the question, "How does this admission apply to Georg Rodiek and H. A. Schroeder? Does it have any relation to their plea of guilty?"

The expression "we" in von Brincken's statement on the night before he entered his plea, as told by the San Francisco Chronicle of Dec. 5, had reference to other defendants confined at Alcatraz island, with whom von Brincken said he had conferred several times in the past few days.

"Every nation at war," declared von Brincken, "is bound to be engaged in conspiracies, and the less said about these cases, the better it will be for Germany."

The foregoing statement would indicate, was the comment heard today, that von Brincken and possibly Rodiek and Schroeder, probably included in the term "we," was so deeply involved in the violation of American neutrality that they had agreed to take their medicine rather than risk forced admissions in the course of the trial that might reveal further ramifications of German plotting, the Chronicle says.

According to von Brincken, former Consul General Bopp and Vice Consul von Schack were advised yesterday afternoon by their attorneys, George A. McGowan and Theodore Roche, to plead guilty, and apparently were ready to accept the advice. Rodiek and Schroeder, German agents arrested in Hawaii, are held at Alcatraz island.

"Sitting on a low wooden chest, while Capt. Robert T. Snow occupied the chair and another visitor sat on the bed in the little room in which he had been confined for three weeks, von Brincken enlarged on his reasons for pleading guilty.

"I want to begin to serve my sentence," he said. "I want to take my medicine. It is possible that I will be pardoned or paroled; this way I am held prisoner indefinitely, and if we were on appeal I will have to start another term in prison."

"In a larger room adjoining von Brincken's, Bopp and von Schack and a number of other prisoners sat and read and wrote or paced up and down the chamber. Von Brincken was waiting for a final conference with them. According to von Brincken, each man was ready to end it, and awaited a full discussion of the matter with the others."

PRO-GERMAN MONARCHY HINTED AS BOLSHEVIKI PLAN FOR RUSSIA NOW

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) LONDON, Eng., Dec. 15.—The object of the Bolsheviki is to restore the monarchy in Russia, at least, possibly to recreate a despotism which will be itself dictated by Germany, a strong propaganda to prepare the Russian people for this reversal and a return to an absolute monarchy has been carried on for some time.

Such is the opinion of the Petrograd correspondent of the Morning Post, generally accepted here as substantially correct.

DR. HAYES ARRESTED CHARGED WITH PERFORMING ABORTION

Physician Indicted By Grand Jury Following Lengthy Investigation—Two Other Physicians Appeared as Witnesses—Reported Father of Unborn Child is Man in High Official Position

A warrant for the arrest of Dr. H. Homer Hayes, a local physician, was issued yesterday afternoon following the return of an indictment by the territorial grand jury, charging the physician with the performance of a criminal operation. Dr. Hayes was arrested this morning and booked at police station following which he appeared in court.

The indictment was signed by Ed ward Fogarty, foreman of the grand jury, and by Cornell S. Franklin, deputy attorney-general.

In the indictment is mentioned the name of the woman on whom the operation is alleged to have been performed. She recovered.

The woman was taken to the hospital in a serious condition late last summer. It is alleged that after Dr. Hayes performed the operation other physicians were called in on the case. These physicians are believed to have testified before the grand jury.

The father of the unborn child is understood to be a man who holds an official position in Honolulu.

The allegation is made in the indictment that Doctor Hayes used certain poisons and instruments in the performance of the operation and that the operation was performed not for the purpose of saving the woman's life.

Doctor Hayes was arraigned before Circuit Judge Heen this morning and was represented by Attorney Leon M. Straus. The territory was represented by Deputy Attorney General Franklin, who, it is understood, presented the case to the grand jury and who will handle the case for the territory if it goes to trial instead of City Attorney Arthur M. Brown, who usually handles such matters.

No statement was made by Doctor Hayes in court today. Plea was reserved until next Tuesday morning. Bond was fixed in the sum of $2500 and the physician was given until that time to secure it. In the meantime he has been released on his own recognizance.

Doctor Hayes was notified by the sheriff early this morning of the warrant which had been issued, and was told to appear at the circuit court at 9 o'clock in order that bail might be arranged. Dr. Hayes was not brought to police headquarters, although his name was entered on the police blotter at 8:20 a. m.

RESIGNATION OF CHIEF JUSTICE IS ACCEPTED

Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson of the supreme court has received a message from Washington saying that his resignation, sent to the President by cable several days ago, has been accepted. It will take effect the end of this year.

U.S. Munitions Situation Good

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—That the ordnance situation of the American army at home and abroad is better than the investigators had expected to find was the statement today of Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate sub-committee looking into war and navy administration. General Crozier, head of the army ordnance bureau, and the chief witness so far, testified at today's hearing that the principal slowness in supplies has been in furnishing heavy arms which require time for manufacture.

Senator Chamberlain believes that the United States is profiting by the mistakes of the Allies.

HAWAIIAN ASS'N WILL WORK FOR 'DRY' TERRITORY

Recommendations to Be Submitted to Delegate Kuhio Outlining Desires

Believing that a "bone dry" Hawaii would help to perpetuate the Hawaiian race, as well as to educate the Hawaiian people in thrift and toward better social and economic conditions, the Hawaiian Protective Association is preparing recommendations for securing prohibition here and these will be handed to Delegate Jonah K. Kanihianaole, president of the association.

The aim of the association is to protect the Hawaiian race against destructive elements and to maintain the best traditions of the Hawaiians. According to Rev. Akaiho Akana, a director, the members feel that an important move to be taken by them at this time would be to secure prohibition for the islands.

"A dry Hawaii," says Mr. Akana, "would certainly help in a great measure, and would certainly go a long way toward the protection and perpetuation of the Hawaiian race. It would certainly eliminate many evil effects now apparent, and educate the Hawaiians to save their money and become thrifty."

He points out that, because of the educational measures which have been used to show the Hawaiians the evil effects of alcoholic liquor, the savings of the Hawaiians have increased more than $1000 in the last year, as shown by reports.

Within the next few days the association will decide upon the steps it will recommend that the delegate take. Mr. Akana says he has found that Delegate Kuhio is strongly in favor of prohibition for Hawaii. In the matter of prohibition, the association is working with the Anti-Saloon League.

On the last steamer the league sent to Washington a petition signed by 120 local persons, asking that Congress make Hawaii "bone dry."

JAPANESE ADMIRAL COMING

TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 15.—Retired Vice Admiral Hideo Takeda left Japan on the last T. K. K. steamer for a visit in the United States.

LATE NEWS AT A GLANCE

HOOPER WILL ANSWER CLAUS SPRECKELS. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—In a brief statement issued today Food Administrator Hoover said that he will reply later to the declaration of Claus Spreckels before senate investigators that the Eastern sugar refiners have been discriminated against in the sugar price fixing. Friends of Hoover said that he will not by any means be found on the defensive, and that the statement will be merely explanatory.

PROHIBITION VOTE TO COME MONDAY. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—The constitutional amendment for prohibition will be up in the house for vote Monday. Today the house passed and sent to the senate a resolution to take a recess from December 18 to January 3.

BRITISH ADVANCE BEYOND JERUSALEM. LONDON, Eng., Dec. 15.—It is officially announced that the British have made another advance northeast of Jerusalem.

SWISS TO STAND BY THEIR NEUTRALITY. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—Acknowledging the declaration that the United States intends to respect Swiss neutrality, Switzerland says that she will maintain her neutrality with her own forces and repel violations of her frontiers.

BAR ASSOCIATION TO INDORSE ROBERTSON'S SUCCESSOR. The Bar Association will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange rooms to consider the question of the selection of a candidate to be recommended to succeed Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson who recently resigned.

TERRITORY AGAIN LOSES IN WAIMEA WATER CASE. In a decision handed down by the supreme court today, the petition of the territory for a rehearing of the Waimea water case is denied. This was a suit brought by A. W. Carter, trustee, against the territory, to establish the right to use water from the Waikoloa stream.

RECRUITING RUSH SWAMPS OFFICES. (Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—Swamping the recruiting offices in many parts of the country, there were large enlistments today of men taking advantage of the last opportunity to enlist, the order having gone forth that after today no enlistments will be accepted except from those whose grafting is very unlikely.

Secretary of War Baker recommended that all the men waiting to be enlisted today shall be examined, even though the day passes before they can be enrolled.

The recruit depots in many large cities were overcrowded and the equipment for enrolling was exhausted.

RUSSIAN SUPPLIES HELPING GERMANY. (Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) PETROGRAD, Russia, Dec. 15.—One effect of the inactivity of Russia in the war is seen in the ability of Germany now to obtain fats and other sorely needed supplies from Russian sources. Germany is also exchanging metals and chemicals for soap.

NINE MILLION IN QUESTIONNAIRES. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—Five per cent of the questionnaires sent out by the provost marshal general to direct the operation of the draft have been mailed. Within sixty days it is expected that there will be complete registrations of nine million men.

BERLIN MOVES TO PUT BLAME UPON ENEMIES

If His Peace Move Meets Rejection Again, He Will Say Allies Responsible for Further Bloodshed

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) PETROGRAD, Russia, Dec. 15.—Nicholas Romanoff, ex-czar of Russia, has escaped, according to advice received at Bolsheviki headquarters, and sailors have manned a special train and are pursuing him.

ROME, Italy, Dec. 15.—After a day of furious fighting the Austro-Germans have reached Col Caprille. When night came the battle was halted. The Italians have formed lines in the rear of Col Caprille.

An Associated Press summary of the day's developments reaching the Star-Bulletin this afternoon says: "The Austro-Germans are driving in a southern direction from the Alps. The Germans are threatening a western offensive in a more serious manner now because they have been able to release troops hitherto held on the Russian front."

"The chief theater of war now is in northern Italy. The attack is centering around Monte Beretta, east of the Brenta river. The Italians' strength elsewhere is equivalent to that of the enemy."

"On the west front in France the Allied lines are holding unbreakingly and Gen. Haig is delivering counterattacks in response to the enemy's smashings."

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) LONDON, Eng., Dec. 15.—An unofficial telegram has come from Berlin, through Geneva, Switzerland, stating that the Kaiser proposes to issue a Christmas message in the form of a final peace offer, and that if this offer, directed to the enemies of Germany, is rejected, he will seek to place responsibility for further bloodshed on the Allies.

FALLEN AMERICAN SOLDIERS TO BE FULLY RECORDED. (Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Dec. 15.—It is announced here that the American army is organizing a branch whose sole duty will be to direct the burials of soldiers and manage cemeteries near the war front.

All the soldiers thus buried and graves will be tabulated by a special registration service, and for the purpose two officers and 50 men are to be detailed from each army division.

484 ENLISTMENTS STILL NEEDED FOR THIRD ENGINEERS

ENLISTED AS ENGINEERS.

- John T. Carey, Manuel Souza,
- Tony Placido, Tony R. Bell, William G. Petrie, David E. Grossman, David W. Townsend, Joseph H. Duarte, Arthur S. Stuenkel, Max Wright, Frank O. Gall,
- Louis C. Brown, Arthur T. Burden, Arthur Evans, Long Tehara.

At noon today sixteen had responded to the appeal for enlistments in the 3rd Engineer Corps. Five hundred enlistments are desired to bring the regiment to war strength.

While the original ruling of the draft department was that no draft registrants would be permitted to enlist in the regular army after December 14, the ruling has been modified by Captain Green, draft executive officer, to include today, and a request has been cabled to Washington to make the extension good until January 1.

ADJUSTMENT OF SUGAR PRICES IS SLOW BUT SURE

Varying changes in the price of sugar, with an upward trend in the price for the west and a downward one in the East, is taken as a general development to a fixed national price by A. M. Nowell, secretary of the Sugar Factors.

The permission given to the Honolulu Plantation Co. to increase its price for the refined product to $7.35 to meet the San Francisco price which has been at that figure, while here it has been $7.25, the original price set at a conference of refiners and the food administration some time ago.

A short time ago the eastern price of refined was $8.40, and it has now dropped to $8.15, while beet sugar has been selling since the recent conference at $7.80 in the East.

The upward and downward tendency of the sugar price, according to the part of the country concerned, bears out the analysis of Mr. Nowell that a sectional adjustment of the price is being gradually arrived at.

The quotation on raw sugar placing it at $5.92 is also taken as an adjustment with the Cuban price. To arrive at this figure the following calculations are made: $4.60 average price Cuban, f. o. b.; 30 cents average freight Cuban ports to New York; 32 cents insurance; $1.00 duty on Cuban sugar, or a total of $5.92.

It is estimated, however, that there will be still another change in the price of the raw product, due to a final agreement on the Cuban freight rate.

The allowance for the Cuban freight rate to New York City, Boston and Philadelphia will eventually be fixed at 43 cents, it is believed, which would tend to increase the price of raws 8 cents, or to $6.00.

QUARLES COMMISSIONED IN REGULAR ARMY

Ralph P. Quarles, Jr., son of Associate Justice Ralph Quarles, was notified yesterday that his name had been entered on the eligible list of second lieutenants in the regular army, and that he is to report at the second Schofield training camp until his commission in the regular army arrives. When the commission arrives from Washington, Quarles will be assigned to his station by the department commander.

Quarles attended the South Carolina military college for two years, and upon completion of his course took examinations for the regular army at Washington.

John T. Carey, electrical contractor, has entered the army as a recruit in the 1st Engineer Corps. He will be in the electrical department.

William F. Killeline, former local newspaperman, is in training at Berkeley for the aero corps. He will later be assigned to flight work, probably at San Diego.

"DEAD BEATS" TO BE TAGGED BY MERCHANTS

A committee will be appointed by the Retail Trade Board of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss a new system of listing creditors who are "past due," and to work out a system by which warning can be sent to other firms who may be dealing with the debtors. The new system will be known as the "red list." It consists of first sending out a letter to the debtor, the letter being written on the firm's stationery. If this produces no results, a letter will be sent out on the stationery of the trade board, and at the same time, a red slip, with the delinquent's name on, will be placed on the board's file.

This system has had a year's try-out in Oakland and has met with great success. The members of the chamber agreed that a committee investigate the system and act upon it.

SITS ON TACK, ARISES, NOW IS HELD IN JAIL

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Louis N. Kurtz, a teacher in the public schools of the Bronx, is being held in jail in default of $3000 bail on the charge of felonious assault because of a sharp carpet tack.

After demonstrating a problem on the blackboard, the teacher sat down. He arose quickly, George Harberg, 12, laughed. The teacher then attacked the boy, who, after he had caused the teacher's arrest, said he

OLAA STOCK IS ACTIVE AT $4.50

Olaa continued active today on the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange but though the trading was brisk the price remained steady throughout, at $4.50 a share. During the session a total of 225 shares were snapped up as quick as they were offered and between boards 770 shares traded hands at the same price. Brokers believe that the stock is at the bottom price now and will rise shortly.

There was some buying in Ewa this morning in the session the stock touching the $29 mark, at which 165 shares sold, in small lots. This stock has crept up from $27.50 in the last few weeks and to all appearances there should be a steady advance from now on, the majority of local stock market followers declare.

Ten Hawaiian Pines sold at $41.50 and between boards 40 shares went at the same figure. The buying is being done for San Francisco interests, it is believed, as this stock is to be listed on the San Francisco exchange early in January.

In the unlisted securities Mountain King sold at 5 cents to the extent of 2220 shares. A report has been received that the company's receipts were $10,000 for the past month, which probably caused the bid price to go to 7 cents and 10 cents being asked. Previously the company's receipts were only about $1000 a month. Mountain-Bingham sold at 45 cents for 100 shares and 44 cents later in the session for a similar amount showing a drop of one cent.

Hawaiian Sugar announced a dividend of 30 cents, Oahu 20 cents, Pepeekeo an extra of 60 cents, making a total of $1.00, San Carlos 10 cents, Waiwala 20 cents and the Oahu Railway & Land Co. an extra of 60 cents, making a total of $1.25 a share.

SANTA CLAUS BRINGS JOY TO 1000 KIDDIES

Children of seven kindergartens of the city were agreeably surprised on Friday morning when the members of the Kindergarten Children's Aid Association held a Christmas tree celebration in various parts of the city. More than 1000 children participated in the event which was featured by songs, games and dances.

There was a Santa Claus for each Christmas tree, and toys, pop-corn, apples and ice cream were distributed among the children. The children from the kindergartens in the following districts were reminded of the Christmas spirit: Kakaako, Punch-bowl, Palama, Kauluweia, Kalia, Beretania and Fort street.

FAREWELL DANCE GIVEN FOR J. W. MCCRILLIS

Last night the G. R. Club held a farewell dance at the Gertz residence in honor of J. W. McCrillis, who is leaving shortly to join the aviation corps. As a token of appreciation he was presented with a club pin. This makes the fifth young man of this society to join the service so far.

Misses Margaret Gertz and Oma Haley had charge of the decorations. Those present were the Misses Margaret and Zella Rowatt, Thelma Auerbach, Eileen Putnam, Margaret Keppeler, Lucile Sack, Ester Kahn, Oma Haley, Margaret Gertz, Evelyn Gertz, Debbie Lyle and Mrs. Gertz; Messrs. H. Wehselau, Peterson, Crossman, H. Nielsen, F. Clinton, G. Gertz, G. Canario, W. McAllister, M. and H. Borthwick, P. Bull, P. Keppeler, J. W. McCrillis and A. Fritschl.

NEW COLLECTOR COMES FROM SOUTH ORIGINALLY

Here is Collector M. A. Franklin's "whom who" of Howard Hathaway, Hawaii's new internal revenue collector, now supposed to be on his way to Honolulu.

"Mr. Hathaway, the newly appointed collector of internal revenue, is a lawyer, living at the time of his appointment, in Everett, Wash. He is a good Democrat, which means he will make a good collector, and he comes originally from 'Away Down South in Dixie.'"

LIGHTHOUSE SHIP KUKUI TO RETURN IN JANUARY

The United States government lighthouse service ship Kukui, formerly in the islands service but now stationed on the Alaska run, is expected by local lighthouse service department superintendent to return to Honolulu early in January. While no definite word has been received the Kukui had been promised some time ago to the islands and as the Columbia left for San Francisco more than two weeks ago the other boat should be here within three or four weeks.

I. W. W. IS KILLED RESISTING OFFICER

SAPULPA, Okla.—An unidentified I. W. W. was shot and killed fifteen miles from here in the oil field, by police a few minutes after he had boasted that he would not be taken alive. The man was annoying women in their homes. He drew a knife and tried to stab the arresting officer, who shot him through the heart.

FRANKLIN DENIES HE IS CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Flat denial was made this morning of a report circulated around town that Malcolm A. Franklin, collector of customs, had received a letter of such warmth from Governor L. E. Pinkham that it had caused him to become so "reeced" on reading it he declared he would enter an active candidacy for the governorship himself.

When questioned as to the truth of the report the collector answered in the following way:

"That reminds me of a town character calling a small boy's attention to an old gray-haired man, and then pointing to another little more than past the voting age. That old man said to the town prevaricator, is the son of that spry going there. 'It's a lie,' the boy responded.

"Politely that is my answer to your question," declared the collector.

Then at some length of careful thought the collector gave out the following statement:

"I do not want the governorship; I have never been an applicant for the governorship, and I never expect to be. I sincerely hope for the reappointment and confirmation of Governor Pinkham. If any other good Democrat is appointed, I, as a Democrat and citizen of Hawaii, will do all in my power to make his administration a success."

HARBOR BOARD DROPS ANCHORAGE SYSTEM

At a special meeting of the harbor board held this morning it was decided to eliminate from the present contract with the Lord-Young Engineering Co. all plans at Piers 8 and 9, for an anchorage system. A letter will be addressed to the company offering to pay such profit as they would make from installation of the system.

Approximately $1400 will be the amount of profit figured, it is understood. It is estimated that the saving to the territory, however, even after paying this amount to the contractor, will be $7500 or $8000. The "Gere" system, which the board had previously adopted, was estimated at $15,000, or about $9000 more than the system included in the first plans and on which the contractor had made his bid.

In place of the anchorage system the deck pavement will be used to act as a bond for Piers 8 and 9, and a contract will be let to pave the area between Piers 8, 9 and 10. The paving will be tied to the wall with steel reinforcing.

WHITNEY & MARSH TO ASSIGN BUSINESS TO FERNANDEZ & CORREA

The old established business of Whitney & Marsh, Ltd., on Fort street will be taken over shortly by Fernandez & Correa. The preliminary details were arranged at a meeting of the principals this morning when it was decided to assign the stock of Whitney & Marsh to the second named firm.

Fernandez & Correa will occupy the Whitney & Marsh store, which has recently been remodeled, as soon as the details of the transfer can be effected. There is some hope expressed by one of the partners that they will be able to occupy the Whitney & Marsh location during the Christmas trade. The present store of the firm at Fort and Beretania streets will be maintained until after the first of the new year.

LABOR SCARCE ON PLANTATIONS

An acute scarcity of labor on a number of the sugar plantations on the various islands has been reported to the plantation agencies in Honolulu and in some cases managers of plantations are unable to get sufficient labor to operate except in a small way. The reason ascribed for the present scarcity is that most of the plantation laborers are now too busy spending their bonus money to care much about working.

It is expected that within a week or so this scarcity of labor will disappear, or as soon as the laborers conclude their spending orgy and drift back to work.

"Y" BUSINESS GIRLS HOSTS TO SAMMIES

Members of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. were hosts to a number of enlisted men last evening at a dinner at the association. More than 125 were present. Wallace R. Farrington presided as toastmaster in his capable manner.

Among the features of the evening was a solo by Miss Bernice Kahana-moku, songs by the girls, games and playlets. The feature play of the evening was staged by Miss Lucy Keefe, Miss Betty Harriman, E. Bentley Smith and Charles Saunders. Miss Ruth Benedict, president of the club, had charge of arrangements.

The extraordinary thing is how pronounced many parts of our line were sent back during the engagement without escort. When taken they were so tame that, as we did not care to snare escorts they were allowed to go back unescorted. One of the curious sights of the day was considerable parties of Germans marching down in regular formation under the command of their own officers or non-commissioned officers.

STAR-BULLETIN AT PREMIUM ON ISLE OF KAUAI

"You can't get a newspaper on Kauai for love or money," declared Robert F. Stever, bond salesman for Bishop Trust Company, who returned this morning from a visit to the Garden Isle.

"The Star-Bulletin is such a valued paper on Kauai that the dwellers are even afraid to trust it in the hands of a visitor, and the best a traveler can do is read it over somebody's shoulder.

"I told the Japanese to go out and get me a paper," declared Stever, "and there was none to be had. And it's harder to make a resident there loan you a paper than anything else. When they get through reading a Star-Bulletin they put it away in a vault so it won't be stolen. That's how much they value it," smiled Mr. Stever.

TWO DENY THEY SIGNED ANTI-SMIDDY DOCUMENT

Emphatic denial is made by Bob Levi and Manuel Olsen, both mentioned in yesterday's paper, of the report that their names are upon an affidavit sent to Washington accusing U. S. Marshal Smiddy of being pro-German.

Levi says that he has heard something of the existence of such an affidavit, but knows nothing definite about it and denies flatly that he signed it or even saw it. Olsen says he knows nothing of the document, did not sign it, and was not discharged, as rumored, as federal building janitor because he did not do his work. He says he quit without any friction with Smiddy or anyone else, to take a better job.

LURLINE BRINGS 32 PASSENGERS

With Captain "Pete" Johnson once more in command, the Matsun steamer Lurline is in port from San Francisco with a small passenger list, only 26 abgs of mail and a big freight cargo. As usual the Lurline has considerable livestock aboard, consisting of 31 bulls and five horses.

Most of the passengers are island people. One of them is Mrs. W. W. Hendry, who has been in Switzerland for a number of years.

Among the Honolulu business men returning were J. Rosenberg, J. A. M. Johnson, Charles Marquez and F. J. Linderman. Mrs. Marquez and Mrs. Linderman accompanied their husbands. Dr. W. H. Ketchum and Mrs. Ketchum were other arrivals.

V. Noroni, formerly manager of the Moana hotel, returned from a trip to the coast, with indefinite plans, it is said.

Because the Lurline freight clerk was wanted to break in the purser of the Governor as to the handling of cargo on this run he was transferred to that ship, and Purser George F. Roberts had to "work his own freight" on the voyage to Honolulu.

Other passengers than those mentioned on board the Lurline are as follows:

H. P. Benson, Clinton F. Carroll, Raymond L. Cass, Mrs. E. J. de Tunca, Master de Tunca and Miss J. de Tunca, J. W. Cannon, William Goetten, Fred King, Mrs. Fred King, Mrs. J. M. Kuhns and infant; Frank Laube, G. Makami, Mrs. Adele McMullin, Floyd Musick, E. Riedel, Mrs. P. Rossman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith, W. G. Thigpen and Mrs. Thigpen.

G. Makami is a former secretary of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce, who has been on a business trip to the mainland.

AMERICA'S CORN CROP THREE BILLION BUSHELS

That American farmers have responded loyally to the task of feeding a world at war is evident from crop estimates lately announced. The corn crop of 1917, estimated at over 3,210,700,000 bushels, is notable as occupying the largest acreage and as being the largest total crop ever recorded. The yield per acre was, however, not exceptional because of a late spring and cool summer.

The potato crop, estimated at 440,000,000 bushels, is also the largest ever produced, and the quality is above the average.

The tobacco crop is another that has broken all previous records, a fact noteworthy because of the heavy demands for tobacco by the millions of men under arms.

INTER-ISLAND PUTS BAN ON SALE OF LIQUOR

After Jan. 1 there will be no more liquor sold at the bars on the inter-island steamers, states a notice which has been conspicuously posted on the different vessels. The bar on the Mauna Kea on the Hilo run is the only one in which the company has had any interest, but the stewards on the other ships have been allowed to dispense liquor.

Norman Gedde, acting manager of the company, explains that the inter-island has never made a profit from the liquor business and has had no desire to be engaged in the business, but it had been thought best to sell liquor under regulation rather than have it brought aboard in bottles and drank to excess.

In the future the bar on the Mauna Kea will be kept open as a lounging room for the male guests, but only soft drinks and cigars will be sold.

HISTORY DRAMA POINTS LESSON

Patriotically inspired from the stirring times in which we are living, a moving picture depicting "The Birth of Democracy" is being shown the latter part of this week at the Bijou theater. The story and plot is from an adaptation of Victorian Sardou's masterpiece, "Robespierre," and illustrates the carnival of excesses of the French aristocracy which led up to the French revolution.

Then follows the story of how Robespierre the liberator becomes a tyrant himself and sends the innocent as well as the guilty to the guillotine. Intermingled are scenes showing how the Duchesse Fontenai, a clever and beautiful woman, saved her lover, "The Unselzable," time and time again from being captured, while at the same time she twists about her fingers a lieutenant of the tyrant.

Throughout the pictures are "cut-ins" adorning auditors to always remain true to the god of democracy, by pointing the moral at the climax of the downfall of Robespierre, who himself is led a victim to the guillotine, as the Bastille is stormed and the condemned prisoners released.

Besides the magnitude of the undertaking to produce the picture and the beauty and realism of the scenes, the picture is one of education to those not familiar with French revolutionary history. It is also strongly suggestive of what the world knows is now occurring in Russia.

If a good price can be secured the water tender Pioneer, belonging to Hackfeld & Co., will be sold. The small vessel is said to be worth $25,000 by some, but this is looked upon as an excessive figure by many others. Since many of the ships calling at this port make a long stay most of them take water from the wharf pipes instead of from the water tender. This is said to have made the business of the water tender no longer profitable.

NOMINATIONS OF CHAMBER TO BE VOTED ON SOON

LESLIE HICKS WINS TITLE OF SERGEANT

Leslie A. Hicks of Honolulu, who was graduated last summer from the College of Hawaii and who worked his way from here to San Francisco on one of the former German steamers to enlist, has been made a sergeant of his battery in the California "Grizzlies," according to word just received here.

Sergeant Hicks joined the famous field artillerymen of California soon after reaching the coast and made the rank of corporal against numerous competitors. The young soldier, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Hicks of 3702 Palolo avenue, is remembered as one of the best football players ever seen in action in Honolulu. He served an enlistment with the Hawaii National Guard. The "Grizzlies" expect to see service in France early next year.

PRESENT STORAGE FACILITIES CAN HANDLE HALF OF ESTIMATED CROP

Several Plantations Likely to Increase Capacity and Others Ready to Do So in Case of Necessity By Lack of Shipping Facilities

Hawaiian sugar growers will be able to store about one-half of the estimated crop for 1918 should it happen that the shipping situation becomes tangled in such a way that no bottoms can be supplied to carry the sugar to the mainland. The estimated crop for 1918 is given in round figures as 575,000 tons and the present storage facilities of the plantations 211,587 tons, which is somewhat less than half. These storage figures do not include the warehouses of the Oahu Railway & Land Co.

13 BILLION WAR BUDGET IS LAID BEFORE CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Estimates of more than $13,500,000,000—the greatest in the nation's history—for the conduct of the government and prosecution of the war during the fiscal year 1919 were submitted to congress today by the treasury department.

In round figures more than $11,000,000,000 of that vast sum is for the war alone. Only part of it will be realized from taxation; the remainder will come from issues of Liberty Bonds. Defining an item of $153,000,000, intended as an annual appropriation toward a sinking fund for the discharge of the old public debt, and some $330,000,000 which will be turned back to the treasury from postal revenues, the estimated sum which congress actually is expected to appropriate is $12,018,725,000. No previous estimate ever has exceeded $2,000,000,000.

Here follows a general statement of the estimates by general headings:

Legislative	$8,026,325
Executive	65,329,369
Financial	1,396,190
Agriculture	26,456,551
Foreign intercourse	8,525,072
Military (Army)	6,615,936,554
Navy	1,314,877,503
Indian	12,255,210
Pensions	157,050,000
Panama canal	23,171,624
Public works (practically all fortifications)	3,504,918,055
Postal service	331,816,345
Miscellaneous	1,026,202,317
Permanent annual appropriations	711,166,825
Total	$13,500,357,940

For the army signal service, which includes the great army for the air, $1,138,240,315 is estimated. This sum included the $40,000,000 previously appropriated for the great air fleet. A billion dollars is asked for pay and miscellaneous expenses of the army; more than two billion dollars for the quartermaster corps; $157,000,000 for hospitals and medicines; $135,000,000 for the equipment of engineer troops and $92,000,000 for the expenses of their operations in the field. Ammunition for the great guns to blast a way through the German fronts is estimated to cost $390,000,000. For machine guns, the deadliest weapons of the war, more than $237,000,000 is asked. For armored motor cars more than $75,000,000 is estimated. This sum is for the $1,000,000,000 is distributed principally in this way: Pay of officers and men, $426,000,000; aviation, $94,000,000; improving and equipping navy yards for construction of ships, $4,000,000; pay, provisions and clothing for the marine corps, $51,000,000. For the food administration $5,000,000 is estimated; for the fuel administration, $2,500,000.

The estimates for all other departments besides showing increases for their general expansion due to activities consequent to the war, reflect generally the increased costs of everything in general throughout the country.

NO RECEIPT WHEN BILL IS PAID BY CHECK

A number of the business concerns of Honolulu have adopted the principle that payment of an account by check does not require the returning of a receipted bill to the customer. This was made content at a meeting of the board of retail traders last Thursday afternoon. E. A. Berndt, who recently returned from the mainland, explained how this custom successfully as followed in most of the coast cities.

H. STUART JOHNSON APPOINTED MANAGER RAPID TRANSIT CO.

H. Stuart Johnson, newly elected manager of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co., succeeding C. G. Ballentyne. Mr. Johnson as engineer has been with the company since it started here 18 years ago.

H. Stuart Johnson, civil engineer for the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co., was yesterday named manager of the company to take office on January 1. His appointment was forecast Wednesday by the Star-Bulletin. The new manager succeeds C. G. Ballentyne, who tendered his resignation several weeks ago to become effective on that date.

HONOLULU OIL BREAKS SHARPLY

Honolulu Consolidated Oil broke sharply this morning on the local exchange dropping from a high price of $4.70 asked yesterday to $2.75 bid this morning, following the publication of the news in the Star-Bulletin yesterday that the Senate had agreed to abandon efforts to make a bill leasing oil lands in California, which are considered in the naval reserve area, and to the condemnation of existing claims.

Members of the stock misconstituted the word "condemnation" for "confiscation," piled up selling orders on local brokers. By condemning the claims the government practically admitted that the holders of the land are entitled to patents, is the way the local brokers look at it. For if the government believed that the oil companies in the naval reserve were not entitled to the land the senate would have confiscated the property without bothering to condemn it.

Since they have condemned the land it means that a jury of disinterested men will probably be selected to fix a value on the condemned lands. As the Honolulu Consolidated Oil lands in the naval reserve area are valued at $32,000,000, the least the government can pay for these lands is $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, which would be equivalent to about $4 a share. And even if the company loses these 2720 acres, there will still be 1120 which do not come under the condemnation ruling on which the company can operate.

So that to all appearances the Honolulu Consolidated Oil will be in fair shape even after they have lost the 2720 acres in the reserve. As to the $2,000,000 or more in escrow in New York the position the government will take in this regard is uncertain, but undoubtedly some settlement will be arrived at during the condemnation proceedings. There were many offerings of the stock this morning but no takers.

SUGAR CROP OF 1918 MAY DROP TO 517,000 TONS

That the 1918 crop of sugar will fall far below that of this year in production is shown in preliminary estimates submitted to the various agencies. Drought and insect pests are the chief cause for the expected shortage, which may bring the crop total down to that of 1910, when the total production was 517,000 tons.

Reports have been current that Waialua was heavily hit by the drought. The damage there was variously estimated and generally overestimated, for the manager gives preliminary figures of 12,500 tons, about 2500 tons below 1917. On Hawaii nearly all the estimates show smaller crops to be expected, in the list that was secured yesterday from Brewer & Co. Onomea is put at 17,000 for these preliminary shipping arrangements, about 6000 tons under the last crop. Pepeekeo shows a falling off of 2000 tons to 8400; Honoumuli of 1800 to 7700 tons; Hawaii Mill, 1100 to 2500; Hutchinson, 1000 to 6000 tons; Paauhau, adjacent to the severely afflicted drought districts, falls 4500 tons to 6200; Hakalau, 2700 tons to 15,400, and Hilo, 1800 tons to 14,000.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET AT BOTTOM; EXPERTS BELIEVE TURN IS AT HAND

Conditions Affecting American Market Today Same as Those Which Hovered Over English Exchange in Summer of 1915

By TICK R. TAPE. Tidal waves of liquidation on the New York stock market have become so common during the past three months that the investors are warily expecting another at any time, but the financial experts and many brokers of a level-headed kind are already looking for an upward trend. Since the last wave in early November the market has drifted in a quiet eddy.

The decline carried stocks to record low level, 20 rails going to 74, which is 13 points lower than they stood at the closing of the exchange in 1914, and ten points lower than their lowest point in the 1907 panic. The 20 industries dropped to 63 only 13 points above the 1914 closing prices, and the 20 coppers went to 35, which is 8 points below the low price of 1907.

The fact that the liquidation during the past few months has been hysterical is the very point which financial experts emphasize in making a forecast for a bull movement soon. The extreme optimism of a few years ago has changed into the worst kind of pessimism and when the pendulum swings too far to one side it is bound to come back, declare the close followers of the market. That it will be a long slow pull back to normal level there is no doubt. The big volume of business due to the war will forestall a continued depression. The heavy drop is due to cause a slow rise.

And though the slow upward swing is due and will come shortly it will not be a solid swing, but will be crossed and cut with short bull and bearish flurries. Reverses and small victories on land and sea are expected to cause these flurries but not to delay the swing.

The Same. Observers of the market point to the experiences of the English stocks as evidence that a rise in the New York market is overdue. When the war broke out in England in 1914, the readjustment in the six months following was exceptionally severe. Financial markets suffered greatly and security prices were only sustained by the use of minimum price restrictions. Towards the middle of 1915, almost nine months after the war opened, many of the minimum prices were removed. Then came the second war loan in July of that year and that, together with the apprehension of the then new war profits taxes caused another sharp decline. Nearly every English stock touched a new low point about that time. Since then nearly all have worked upward in a long steady pull which was broken at times by reverses and victories for the English forces, resulting in bear and bull flurries. But the trend has remained upward throughout.

Experts Optimistic. The financial experts claim that America is exactly in the same position as England was in 1915. The second war loan has been floated now and the excess profits tax is now known. The stock market is therefore in a position to swing from the bottom. Another reason for expecting an advance in prices is the fact that security values today are almost unbelievable. They cannot remain far below their actual values for any great length of time because the law of equal and opposite reaction is inexorable. Investors therefore who take advantage of the present opportunity to secure reliable stocks cannot but gain through their action. Besides that they will be performing a patriotic service in allaying the effects of further liquidation.

The following table is a list of railroad stocks which are deemed to be and generally are regarded as conservative investments:

FARRAR IN 'JOAN OF ARC' AT BIJOU NEXT THURSDAY

In bringing to Honolulu the superb masterpiece of the film world of the last year, "Joan the Woman," the Bijou announces one of the greatest successes of the screen as a treat for local theatergoers. With Geraldine Farrar, erstwhile famous grand opera star, who has directed her histrionic talents to the silent drama, in the titular role, the production ascends to the heights of dramatic action and runs the gamut of human emotions, interpreted in magnetic and forceful manner by Farrar.

Aside from the superb acting injected into the performance by Farrar and Wallace Reid, who plays the leading male role—that of an English count at the head of an English army that is ravaging France and besieges Orleans, the whole production is staged on a lavish scale with all the romance of the days of chivalry and knightly deeds intertwined with a beautiful love story.

The story of the "Maid of Orleans" is familiar to old and young; her fame gained by her noble deeds, by her victory over the English, her delivery of France from the invader, is enduring. But the keynote of the production is the angelic, almost beatific atmosphere that Farrar gives to the role of the maid. Never has Farrar been seen to such good advantage; it is her most wonderful piece of acting, and when she goes to the stake in the market place of Orleans, one is prone to join with her in her prayer for the forgiveness of the demagogical clergy that has sent her to her doom, as the tongues of flame slowly devour her.

The gorgeous trapping of medieval armies as they ride to battle are a wonderful setting; thousands of men are seen in hand-to-hand struggle before the battlements of Orleans; the court scenes where royalty holds forth and into which is led the maid, who strikes awe into the hearts of the roisterers when she picks out the real king from amid the throng, are most impressive.

"Joan the Woman" is the one great film treat of the season. It opens Thursday night next. Mainland critics class it as superior to "The Birth of a Nation."

ALLEN DOONE'S IRISH PLAY MAY COME TO HAWAII

Allen Doone, Australian actor, who is well known here in Irish songs and plays, will be through Honolulu next month, and it is possible that he will stop in Honolulu with his company for a limited engagement.

Doone is now in San Francisco and scoring a bigger hit there than he did even when "Lucky O'Shea," his new romantic drama, opened in New York in September. The enthusiastic praise of the New York critics has been added to by their San Francisco brethren.

J. Walter Doyle of Honolulu, business manager of the Doone production, is with Doone in San Francisco. The company jumped direct from New York to San Francisco, making no stops on account of the difficulties of railroad transportation these days.

Walter Doyle writes: "Our opening here was a riot and no show ever had the floral offerings that were passed over the footlights. The lobby was jammed with them. Prominent among the set pieces was a floral harp with the inscription 'Aloha from Hawaii,' presented by Joe Cohen of Honolulu." Doone has been splendidly received in San Francisco. One newspaper clipping tells how he was the guest of Mayor Rolph and the board of supervisors in the city hall, was made a speech of welcome by the mayor, and responded.

NEW CHINESE CHURCH WILL BE DEDICATED

The cornerstone of the new Chinese church and settlement building on Beretania street, will be laid with appropriate ceremonies on Sunday afternoon, December 16, at 3:30 o'clock. This service will be open to the public. The new building is being erected on the site of the Beretania mission.

About two years ago a church was organized to head up the work which had been done there under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah MacKenzie. This church is under the leadership of Rev. Tse Kei Yuen. It is strategically located in a thickly congested tenement district and its future seems to be bright with a promise of usefulness. The work which will be attempted will be in the nature of an institutional church plan, meeting the community with a seven day a week program of activities. The cornerstone for this building has been donated by Henry Freitas, former inspector of buildings for the city and county of Honolulu. It will contain various things of historic value and interest.

Following is the program, Rev. N. C. Schenck presiding: Opening sentences. Hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Scripture reading, Rev. Yuen Tse Fu. Prayers, Rev. Tse Kei Yuen. Apostles' Creed, Chinese. Choral. Laying of the cornerstone. Address, Rev. Tse Kei Yuen. Hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Benediction, Dr. J. H. Williams.

GOO WAN HOY IS TWICE INDICTED

Go Wan Hoy, local "business agent" and a familiar figure in court circles, was twice indicted by the territorial grand jury late yesterday afternoon on charges of forgery. He was arraigned this morning and plea was reserved until next Tuesday morning. Bond was fixed in the sum of $3500 and defendant was given until Tuesday morning to secure it. Until that time he has been released on his own recognizance.

The first indictment alleges that, in the case of W. G. Let vs. John Grace, a land matter, defendant forged a letter, signed Grace's name to it, concerning a purported option to buy land in Kona, belonging to Grace, for $1850. The second alleges that he forged a writing to Let, signing Grace's name, concerning a purported payment of $300 to Grace for a purported option to buy Grace's land in Kona. The law firm of Lightfoot & Lightfoot is representing Hoy.

Y. W. C. A. FUND REACHES $40,000

More than $40,000 has been contributed to the Y. W. C. A. campaign fund by the friends of the association. It is expected that the entire amount of $45,000 will be raised when the final returns come in. Kauai has given another large sum to the association, the total contribution from the Garden Island to date being $6842.

SAN FRANCISCO MAN COMING TO MANAGE T. K. K. OFFICE HERE?

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 15.—Assistant manager Bemis of the San Francisco branch of the T. K. K. will become manager of the Honolulu branch of the T. K. K. He will go to Honolulu with three or four Japanese assistants.

"No decision to open a separate T. K. K. Co. office in Honolulu has yet been reached by the company," said William H. Avery, special advisor to the Aso syndicate who is now in this city. If such a decision was reached, L. E. Bemis, present assistant manager of the San Francisco office, would be the one selected as manager, he thinks.

However, the opening of a separate office here for the T. K. K. Co. has never been settled upon as decided policy, and the agency may remain with Castle & Cooke.

A final decision will not be reached until S. Asano, Jr., returns to Japan from San Francisco by the Shinjo Maru. Even in case a decision is eventually reached it will be several months before the Honolulu T. K. K. office would be opened here, says Mr. Avery.

GUARDSMEN TO ENTER ARMY BALLOON SCHOOL

Orders received by cable Saturday from the war department assign Wilford C. Parsons, a member of Company B, Hawaiian Signal Corps, to the Army Balloon school. The war department requests that he be discharged from the national guard to enter the aviation section of the army signal corps. He is a resident of Kalia road and is employed as salesman for the von Hamm-Young Company, Ltd.

OFFICERS KEEP DUTCH SOLDIERS ABOARD LINER

Ninety-eight Dutch soldiers who are aboard the steamer Princess Juliana in port today were refused permission to come ashore this morning by their officers, who heard some might attempt to desert. The men are in command of Lieuts. K. Drost and Hofstee, and are being transferred from Holland to Batavia, Java, for a long period of service.

When first told that they were to be restricted to the ship there were signs of a mutiny, but this was quickly stopped with nothing happening other than a voluble flow of the Dutch language. The men are dressed in a blue uniform and cap, somewhat like the dress uniform of the United States marines, and look neat despite their long voyage from Holland as fourth-class passengers.

From Holland the soldiers were brought to San Francisco on the new Dutch cargo boat Nias, but because the United States requisitioned it, they had to be transferred to the Juliana. There was considerable murmuring among the Juliana officers about the high handed methods of the United States in seizing ships.

The Nias was under contract to the Dutch government to take a cargo to Batavia and return with another. Now the United States takes the boat and makes the Nias break her contract. The officers of the ship may be shot when they return home for failing to live up to their agreement with their own country," one of the officers indignantly declared.

Besides the two Dutch army officers there are not more than 10 other first cabin passengers. In all there are about 40 passengers besides the soldiers bound for Oriental ports and Batavia.

AVERY TO BE MADE SCHOOL STATISTICIAN

W. C. Avery, inspector of public schools, will be appointed statistician for the department of public instruction at a meeting of the board of education next Monday. By this appointment the position of inspector will be abolished, as provided for in the last legislature. George S. Raymond, who was inspector before Mr. Avery's appointment, is now supervising principal on Maui. Mr. Avery was formerly principal of the Kauai high school.

GEORGE LAM ENLISTS

George Apo Lam, who for five years was freight clerk and ticket agent for the Kahului Railroad company, and until lately night clerk at the Pleasanton hotel, has enlisted in the United States navy.

At 6 o'clock this afternoon at Mollili park for the football game. The band will give a public concert at Kapiolani park, Waikiki, tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock.

Major Laurence W. Redington, who has been in the Fort Shafter hospital with a broken leg for several weeks, will be out for the first time on Sunday. He has applied for a two months' leave of absence and may take a trip to the mainland during his convalescence.

Who Is the Man?

Dr. H. Homer Hayes, Honolulu physician, has been indicted by the territorial grand jury and arrested on the charge of performing a criminal operation. The woman upon whom the operation has been performed is known to the authorities, and her name appears in the indictment.

But the name of the man who is her guilty partner; the man responsible for the condition in which she sought surgical relief to hide her shame; the man whose attentions and blandishments brought her to this deeply sad condition—the name of this man is not given. There so far appears to have been insufficient to bring out this name in all its guilty responsibility.

Who is he?
Where is he?
Hints and rumors as to his identity are not lacking. But they are not enough to place him in his deserved position of shame at least equal to that of the woman who yielded to his caresses and responded to his philandering.

Is the woman, in the course of developments that must inevitably bring her identity before the public, to suffer alone, while the man hides behind anonymity? Is she to bear the full brunt of society's stigma while he screens himself in the smug satisfaction of the "double standard?" Is he to continue his supposedly respectable way in this city, claiming the esteem of his fellow-men, while the poor girl who strayed from rectitude is paying the penalty of exposure through the prosecution of the physician performing the operation?

Who is the man?
Who is the guilty individual — he who is not less to be blamed than the weaker woman?
Is he to go unwhipped of law and unpunished by social justice?
Unmask him!

Revise Your Rules on Giving

Many a Honolulu is giving generously with this thought in mind: "All rules are revised in a year of war. The present time is the most exacting of my generation. Never again will I be called upon to give for great public needs as I am called upon to give today. For we shall win this war by the combined giving of just such as I—those who are ready to give every cent they can spare, and who will save every cent from unnecessary expenses. Therefore, in such a year, I shall not reckon on the usual basis. I shall not regard the new calls, these calls whose numbers grow daily. I see in them opportunity to help my community, my country, and the countries banded together to save the humanity of the world."

With this thought in mind, Hawaii is just at the beginning of a year and perhaps several years of constant demands.

With this thought in mind, we can raise $45,000 for the Y. W. C. A. and regard our giving not as finished, but as well begun. The Associated Charities has a worthy, an impressive appeal which is of particular local interest. The list might be multiplied. Suffice it to say that Honoluluans may give without regret to any project which has had the full investigation and indorsement of the Chamber of Commerce.

PENNIES, NICKELS AND DIMES.

(From Daily Financial America)
The Red Cross, in appealing for funds, should strike a popular chord with its penny-a-day, nickel-a-day, dime-a-day movement. The good-natured American thinks little if any of these coins and yet he has but to look at the industries dependent on their gathering and he would see the enormous buying power they possess. The newspapers practically live on the pennies, the street railways on the nickels and the movies on the dimes. In New York alone one day's receipts of these three utilities would exceed a quarter of a million dollars. If the Red Cross could duplicate this total, one month's collections would ease the burden the society bears very appreciably. Everybody can certainly spare one of these three coins daily. Don't wait to be asked for them, send them along, they all help to make the needed millions.

It will not do to be supremely confident that the Austro-Germans have been stopped on the Pave front. Germany is making a tremendous effort to cut deep into Italy and secure a basis for winter peace propaganda. It is obviously part of Berlin's political strategy to separate Italy from the Allies as Russia and Rumania are being separated. Germany would willingly sacrifice a million men to start a real separate peace movement in Italy. Therefore the lull of a day or two in the fighting does not signify that the enemy's great drive is stopped permanently. However, British and French troops—the kind that have been holding the Germans on the west for a year and a half without a mile of gain—are now reinforcing the Italians, and any further advances of the troops under Mackensen will cost the enemy even more dearly than the advances already made.

The proprietor of a cafe in a western city of the United States, recognizing the value of two things, namely, a good impression and intelligent publicity, causes a cowbell to be rung in his establishment, loudly enough to be heard in all parts of it, whenever a glass of milk is ordered. The scheme is proving a great success. Even the seasoned restaurant patron can be affected by a little touch of nature, combined with a touch of realism, now and then.—Christian Science Monitor

Root Out the Plotters

U. S. District Attorney Huber was quoted this morning as saying of the Grasshof exposures:

"F. W. Kiebahn, head of Hackfeld's shipping department, was not, in my opinion, involved in the conspiracy here to such an extent as would warrant the federal grand jury conducting an investigation," said Huber. "From the extracts of Grasshof's diary published in the papers, Kiebahn did not figure very prominently," he added, "and I think it is hardly likely that the department of justice will order an inquiry in his connection."

The Star-Bulletin has no quarrel with Mr. Huber's office nor wish to criticize its conduct of affairs within its jurisdiction. But the Star-Bulletin does say emphatically that public opinion demands, and assurance of public safety justifies, such steps by the proper officials as will drive into the open every German and German sympathizer mixed up in these plots.

Public opinion demands, and assurance of public safety justifies, that revelations like those in the Grasshof diary be followed immediately by such action as will determine whether these intrigues can be carried on in Honolulu with utter insolence and apparent impunity.

Public opinion demands and assurance of public safety justifies that Germanism of the base and insidious type bared in the published Grasshof diary be rooted out of Hawaii now and forever.

This paper does not presume to say that Washington is not acting, perhaps through the naval intelligence office, to punish intriguers according to their deserts. It does say that there is no evidence that the federal court officials are acting or preparing to act upon the Grasshof disclosures. We do not know whether or not they should act. That is the trouble—we do not know.

But the whole community is saying that when Honolulu for many months was made the base for spy operations and plot activities, we want to know, and we have a right to know, whether every man in any position concerned in the upholding of law and order is now on the job.

This includes not only federal officials, but territorial officials and municipal officials. Every man from the policeman on the beat to the judge in his court must be alert every minute of the day and a large part of the night, vigilant against the plotters whose work never stops until they are stopped!

The situation in Honolulu is coming to the point where citizens are not far from uniting in a demand to Washington that drastic measures be taken to stamp out the evil Germanism which flourished under such men as Grasshof and his cultured associates.

There is nothing new about the waste of perfectly good food at the "dumps." What is new is the intense public indignation about the matter, and that, let us hope, will be enduring. One of the recognized methods of keeping up prices is for speculators to buy perishable products—apples, vegetables, grapes, berries, or what not—at the place where they are grown, and leave them there to rot. Perhaps a hundred miles away, there was bitter need for these foods, but that made no difference. They were kept off the market, the price of similar foods in the market was thereby raised, the speculators who practised this rascality were thereby enriched—and the general public paid no heed. That last item is the nub of the whole business. If the American people make up their minds that food shall not be wasted and thrown away to increase the wealth of parasitic profiteers, they will find some way to enforce their will.—Chicago Journal.

"German All Ready For Peace Back In September," says a headline. Germany has been all ready for peace since the conquest of Poland, but the Allies aren't ready and won't be ready until Germany is hiked and is yelling quits. It would be the height of folly to declare peace now, with the German armies in half a dozen countries and the German navy virtually intact—with the German arrogance and cruelty unbroken. The Allies cannot get out now. They must fight and their leaders know it. Wilson knows it and has just given the world a splendid statement from his knowledge. A little diary is a dangerous thing.

The creation of the Allied War Council announced in a Paris despatch is a triumph for Lloyd George. It adds to the prestige of his premiership with the achievement of a great practical move. It also silences very effectually his critics, particularly those of London. Also, it should be a material satisfaction to the United States, for we shall have a strong representation on the council and can claim every assurance not only that the military and naval forces be intelligently disposed, but that every ally shall put forth its maximum of effort at the direction of all.

Railroad brotherhoods are reported to be opposed to government control of the big lines. No wonder. They know if Uncle Sam has the roads there won't be any chance for the large wage raises they now demand, and that they can't bluster and bluff your Uncle Sam in wartime. Per contra, as the lawyers and other educated men say, the roads realize that unless Uncle Sam does take hold, they are likely to be harassed by the brotherhoods every time the unionist feels the pinch of war-economy.

The government's crop report contains this item: "Three billion bushels of corn in prospect." That must sound good "over there."

The parents' vacation ended yesterday—no school until after the holidays.

Australian Water Snake Discovered at Kahuku

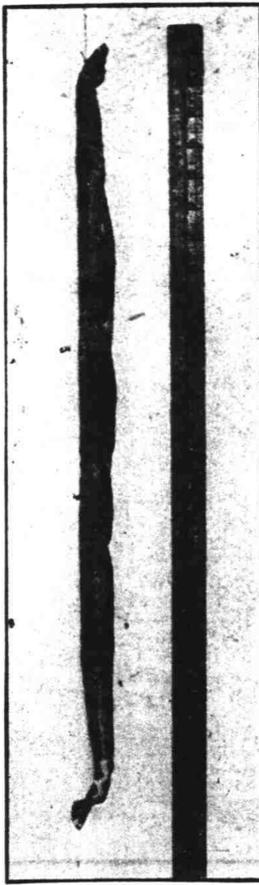

A real live snake was captured on Oahu yesterday. That it is not a figment of the imagination the above photograph, taken at the Star-Bulletin office this morning, proves.

The reptile was classed as an Australian water snake of the non-poisonous variety, by W. J. Thompson, artist and modeler at the Bishop museum who is an expert on snakes. It is the fifth one of this species discovered here within the last few years. How it came here is a mystery, but Mr. Thompson's theory is that it came over on a steamer and got loose, as snake journeys of 3000 miles are improbable.

The capture was made near the Marconi station at Kahuku yesterday by August Freitas, an engineer for the Oahu railway, who saw it wriggling through sand and grass near the beach.

The snake is 27 inches in length and 1 1/2 inches high. It differs from the ordinary reptile in appearance and form, being rather perpendicularly oval than round. Its belly and tail indicate that it is more at home in the water than on land. The back and sides are slate colored and the tail mottled.

Mr. Thompson took the snake to the museum to despatch it and then preserve it.

HALIFAX FELT WAR'S HORRORS BEFORE BLAST

Letter From Woman Tells of Precautions Against U-Boats, Homecoming of Wounded

That Halifax, N. S., had its full share of war glooms prior to the fearful disaster of December 6 is shown in a letter written by a lady residing in Dartmouth, a city directly across Halifax harbor from the provincial capital, a few days before the catastrophe. The writer paid an extended visit to relatives here a few years ago.

Written to a niece here, the letter tells of darkened streets and buildings due to fear of a submarine, or possibly seaplane, raid. It speaks of the harbor as being crowded with ships carrying away troops and munitions and others arriving with wounded from the battle fronts. Some of the wounded are minus both arms and legs, so that they have to be carried ashore in baskets. A son of the writer is mentioned as being constantly busy treating the disabled heroes at the war hospital established on the grounds of the insane asylum, of which he is the medical superintendent.

Mention is made of a heavy death toll among the large number of the correspondent's young fellow-townsmen at the front. A relative of her own is named who is fighting in the trenches. She states her intention of visiting, within a few days, the sister of a nephew's wife here, whose home is at Willow Grove where the despatches have said the results of the explosion were particularly bad.

An agonizing experience regarding the horrors of war as they appealed to the writer appears in the letter, but she could not possibly have dreamed of the awful cataclysm impending over the community in which she was born.

WIFE SUES J. ALLEN DUNN FOR DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO.—Mrs. Grace K. Dunn of this city yesterday filed suit for divorce against J. Allan Dunn, short story writer, alleging desertion. Dunn removed to New York City in January, 1914. Mrs. Dunn remained here. She alleges desertion in that month. The couple were married in Honolulu in December, 1900.—Exam-ber.

HUBER APPEALS TO STUDENTS TO SAVE FOOD

District Attorney S. C. Huber gave the McKinley High School students a ringing address on food conservation at the closing exercises of the term yesterday. He told them how they could save meat, wheat and sugar in plain terms.

The reasons for using cornmeal and rye flour were outlined by the speaker, who said that each boy and girl could help win the war by small sacrifices in the consumption of white bread. The girls of the high school have already taken up knitting to a small extent, and he praised this, but said there was no reason why every girl in McKinley should not be knitting for the boys at the front, or helping the Red Cross in some other way.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: Of all your fine, clean, intelligent issues, Thursday's was, indeed, the most interesting I ever read. Dr. Palmer's reception last evening I heard several speak of the absorbing interest they had in the afternoon paper.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

C. J. McCARTHY: It was an interesting tale that Capt. Grasshof wove into that personal diary. I read every line of last night's story.

RALPH S. JOHNSTONE: The Grasshof diary certainly contained some revelations that should make every individual more watchful.

Pressure has been brought to bear on Slovak leaders to denounce the Czech declaration in the Reichstrath May 30 in favor of the union of all Czech and Slovaks in an independent state. All these magyar efforts have failed.

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Dec. 15.—The officers and ladies of the 4th Regiment of Cavalry were hosts and hostesses at another very beautiful reception and dance on last Friday evening, entertaining in honor of Col. and Mrs. John W. Heard, their commanding officer and his wife. The open air pavilion was especially decorated for the occasion and made a lovely background for the festivities. On either side of the entrance to the hall were hung the swaying folds of "Old Glory" and on the center column two larger national flags were placed with crossed staffs. The side pillars were decorated with flashing cavalry sabers, while hanging from the ceiling were made regimental guidons, the latter adding a touch of brilliant color to the scene. Brightly tinted Japanese lanterns were festooned across the hall and were used as the only means of illumination.

During the reception the guests were invited to meet Col. and Mrs. Heard and Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Frederick Arnold, who formed the receiving line. Dancing began to the excellent playing of the regimental band and continued until midnight. At ten-thirty a delicious supper was served in the club house which was also beautifully decorated and arranged for this purpose.

A much enjoyed feature of the evening was the "break in" dances which were introduced for the benefit of the large number of "stags" present. The programs were very pretty, being white folders inscribed to Col. and Mrs. Heard and bearing cavalry yellow cord and pencils. Dances to the number of fifteen were provided for and much enjoyed by the dancers, who included: Col. and Mrs. Heard, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Frederick Arnold, Col. Lucius Durfee, Maj. and Mrs. Philip Keihl, Maj. and Mrs. Herbert Charles Ginner, Maj. Case Deering, Maj. Correll, Maj. Converse, Capt. and Mrs. William McLaurin, Capt. and Mrs. Walter Ginn, Capt. and Mrs. Walter Pick, Capt. and Mrs. Samuel Heidner, Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Danielson, Capt. and Mrs. Archibald Arnold, Capt. and Mrs. Thos. Low, Capt. and Mrs. Clarkson, Capt. and Mrs. Byard Sneed, Lieut. and Mrs. Lewis Dorn, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Brigham, Mrs. Helen McAdam, Miss Katherine Anderson, Miss Marion Maddux of Waiakua, Miss Marguerite White, Miss Ayers of Honolulu, Miss Lenore Tyler, Miss Mellicie Cotchett, Miss Marybelle White, Capt. Daniel Murphy, Capt. Raymond McQuill, Capt. William Barott, Capt. Leopold Herwig, Capt. Amory Cotchett, Capt. Victor, Capt. Hartman, Capt. Wise, Capt. Clyde Selleck, Capt. William Warren, Capt. Marcus Monsarrat, Lieut. Forrest Pinkerton, Lieut. Terry Bull, Lieut. Richard Clark, Lieut. Lawrence Fage, Lieut. Maury Mann, Lieut. William Warren, Lieut. Eric Martin, Lieut. Brandon Finney, Lieut. Oscar Skelton, Lieut. H. C. Gray, Lieut. Moore, Lieut. Harvey Breaks, Lieut. Marks, Lieut. Engel, Lieut. Small, Lieut. Riley, Lieut. Richards, Lieut. Batrd, Lieut. Pettyjohn, Lieut. O'Mahandra, Lieut. Plamer, Mr. John McCauley of Honolulu, and Mr. Thomas Abel of Honolulu.

Maj. and Mrs. Philip Keihl were host and hostess at a very pretty dinner party on last Friday night. A profusion of pink sweet peas and green ferns were arranged in a low wicker basket forming an attractive centerpiece. Covers were laid for Capt. and Mrs. William McLaurin, Lieut. and Mrs. Brigham, Miss Marion Maddux, Lieut. Forrest Pinkerton, and the host and hostess. After dinner Maj. and Mrs. Keihl escorted their guests to the cavalry hop.

Another delightful dinner party of last Friday night was the one presided over by Capt. and Mrs. Orville Tyler. A vase of cut flowers and ferns graced the center of the attractive dining table. Capt. and Mrs. Tyler's guests were Miss Mellicie Cotchett, Miss Lenore Tyler, Mr. John McCauley, and Mr. Thomas Abel of Honolulu. As a further pleasure of the evening the guests attended the cavalry hop.

The 1st Field Artillery has the distinction of being the first regiment ordered home since war with Germany has been declared. With many cheers were the orders greeted which meant "home" to the boys in khaki. On last Thursday morning the batteries left Schofield Barracks, and many were the envious eyes which watched their departure. Arriving in Honolulu, camp was pitched at Fort Armstrong, and here the artillery remained until Saturday when two liners slipped out of dock bearing rails lined with khaki uniforms, most of them boasting a goodly number of Hawaiian leis. Cheers rang out for the city of Honolulu and for those left behind. On Monday two more liners quietly left the piers of Hawaii and slowly turned their noses toward the "Good Old U. S. A." Every officer left with the desire of sometime returning to this "Paradise of the Pacific," but in more peaceful times, for now each is anxious to do his bit in this world war. The fifth liner left sometime during the week and carried the horses of the regiment. The exodus of so many of its popular officers has left Schofield Barracks with rather a sad vacancy in its social and official life—but each regiment has the secret feeling that they will be the next to be ordered home. The officers were departed as follows: Col. Henry Butler, Capt. Vincent Erwin, Capt. Archibald Arnold, Capt. Philip Thurber, Capt. Karl Greenwald, Capt. John Eager, Capt. Bertram Frankenberg, Capt. Marvin Heyser, Capt. Arthur White, Capt. John Kearns, Capt. John Hoskins, Chaplain Ignatius Fealy, Lieut. Arthur Hall, Lieut. Jack Bullene, Lieut. William Saportas, Lieut. Gerard Van Helbergen, Lieut. Walter Malone, Lieut. William Ball, Lieut. Roy Paquette,

Lieut. Wallace, Lieut. Frank Corey and Lieut. Charles Nye.

Mrs. Gustav Schaefer returned to Schofield Barracks on Friday to arrange for the opening of her quarters. Mrs. Schaefer and two children have been in their city home while Capt. Schaefer was on guard duty in Honolulu.

Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Pinckner are entertaining Miss Jane Oliver as their house guest for a two weeks' visit.

A congenial party of army people who were guests at the Young Hotel for luncheon on last Saturday was composed of Col. and Mrs. William Bannister, Capt. and Mrs. Albert Hennessey, and Capt. and Mrs. Ogilvie.

The friends of Mrs. William Holiday are welcoming her back to the post after the siege of illness with which she was confined to the department hospital.

Capt. and Mrs. Byard Sneed entertained Mrs. Gustav Schaefer as a luncheon guest on Friday.

The broad lanai of the Haleiwa Hotel was the beautiful setting for a charming dinner party on Sunday evening at which Maj. and Mrs. John D. Burnett presided. The affair was given in honor of their house guest, Mrs. Downes. A mass of pink hibiscus formed an attractive decoration for the table, where covers were laid for Mrs. Downes, Col. Lucius Durfee, Capt. Carl Cohen, and Maj. and Mrs. Burnett.

Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Pinckney entertained informally at dinner and the movies on Tuesday evening, having as their guests Miss Jane Oliver and Lieut. Arthur Davis.

The quarters in the artillery cantonment formerly occupied by Capt. and Mrs. Philip Thurber have been moved into by Capt. and Mrs. Corbit Hoffman of the 32nd Infantry.

Lieut. and Mrs. James Pearson of Fort Shafter had Mrs. Walter Pinckney of Schofield Barracks as their luncheon guest on last Friday.

Officers of the 1st Infantry who have been on guard duty in and around Honolulu have been relieved and are back to Schofield Barracks again. The second battalion of the 32nd Infantry has succeeded the 1st Infantry and at present is doing the guard duty. Major John D. Burnett and Capt. Thos. Lowe are at Pearl Harbor. Capt. Charles Bankhead is stationed at Fort Armstrong, while Capt. Whitaker takes command at the wireless station in Kahuka.

Mrs. Lewis Dorn has recovered from a siege of illness in the Department Hospital and has returned to her quarters in Castner, much to the delight of her friends.

Col. and Mrs. Earl Carnahan are entertaining their daughter, Miss Katherine Carnahan, who has left Punahou College to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents.

Lieut. Philip Rice has moved into the quarters in the 25th Infantry cantonment formerly occupied by Capt. and Mrs. John Ardrey.

On account of lack of space today, remainder of Schofield social news will be published Monday.

Closely Contested Events Please Crowd at Y.M. Meet

Eleanor Lyser Sets New Mark in 100 Yard Swim—Marion Dowsett Finishes Ahead in the 50 Yard Event in Remarkable Time of 32 2-5—Ludy Langer Crowds World's Record in 500 Meter Event—Watt Makes Great Showing—Kelii Stars

Healan! 76 points
Outrigger Club 63 points
Hui Nau 3 points

If there was anyone dissatisfied with the races staged at the Y. M. C. A. last evening they didn't shout it upon the winds at least, and the recent two days' meet will go down in the annals as one of the best ever staged in Honolulu. And had Duke Kahanamoku been entered the affair would have been worth the attention of four times the number who were present at the splash contest.

It would be hard to pick out a feature event in last night's meet, but the performance of Marion Dowsett in the 50 yards, Eleanor Lyser in the 100 yards, Ludy Langer in the 500 meters and Ronald Watt in the 50 yard event were perhaps the outstanding features of the meet.

Girls Break Records

One new record was smashed at the meet last evening and one mark was equalled. Miss Eleanor Lyser, the little 13 year old mermaid of the Women's Auxiliary, broke the record held by Miss Gerd Hirth in the 100 yard event, defeating both Miss Hopkins and the former record holder. Her time was 1:17. Marion Dowsett showed her ability as a swimmer when she finished the 50 yard event ahead of Miss Thelma Kenn and Edith Kenn in the remarkable time of 32 2-5.

In the 150 yard open event John Kelii took things easy until the last lap when he pulled away from Dickson Hitchcock and won in the time of 1:39. Hitchcock made a good showing against the more experienced swimmer.

"Stubby" Kruger once more showed his ability in the backstroke, winning the event with ease, and finished the race in close to record time. The 50 yard novice event went to Smith, who came across the finish line in a fast time ahead of Carroll of the Engineers.

Miss Martin Wins

Helen Martin was the real class in the breaststroke for girls and the little mermaid received a big hand from the crowd when she finished ahead of the Palama swimmers. At the 60 yard mark she was leading, and thought that the race was over but finally decided to go on, and won easily.

Cook, who entered the race late, won the 200 yard event from Minvielle. Cook started a good pace and kept it up to the finish. In the 100 yard novice the real entries were left out and a number of post entries were sent in. Jack Hirth finished first, Dudley Pratt second, and John Watt third. A diver, a plunger and a hurdler made the race interesting. As a swimmer, John Watt is one of the best hurdlers who ever topped the ladders.

Ronald Watt Stars

Ronald Watt was one of the sensations of the evening. In the 40 yard event he gave Kelii one of the best battles seen in the tank. At the finish the two swimmers were fighting it out, and Watt's long strokes promised to bring him home first, but Kelii touched the tank a winner by only one stroke.

Watt had just as hard a battle in the 50 yard event, and the three swimmers in this race looked to be even at the finish, but this time Watt spurred in the last 10 yards and won out by inches. Watt looks like a real find, and should be right up with the leaders in another year. Ah Kin Yee and Harris both made a good showing and a race between these swimmers is bound to be a good card at any meet.

322 Is Going Home

Marion Dowsett finally got down to real form in the 50 yard event for girls under 15, and startled the swimming enthusiasts by winning from Thelma Kenn and Eleanor Lyser in as fast a time as ever was made in the Y. M. C. A. tank. Miss Lyser made this time in the preliminaries. Thelma Kenn made a beautiful turn and passed Eleanor Lyser, but Marion Dowsett spurred at the finish for a win.

In the 500 meter event Ludy Langer came within 3 4-5 seconds of the record held by Herbert Vollmer. Competing against Harold Kruger, the Californian swam a beautiful race and at the 17th lap began to draw away from the local swimmer. It was noticeable that Langer was gaining yards on the turns, and his experience in swimming gave him a big lead over Kruger.

Langer in Good Form

Kruger started to keep up but his extra efforts in catching Langer after the turns was too much for him and Langer came home more than one lap ahead of the backstroke champion. Langer did not show championship form in the first night's meet, but last night he swam a heady race throughout, and swimming as he did last night he would have given any of the world's best long distance swimmers a real race. If Kruger will learn to swim his race, and make his turns as Langer does, he will be a candidate for future honors.

In the 100 yard breaststroke Kane won out from Richardson, but instead of saying "Hunky Dory" at the turns, he said "Hinky Dory" and consequently was disqualified. Both Kane and Richardson swam a beautiful race and the judges decided that Kane was using the scissors. Whether or not he did use the scissors throughout the race is a question, but he was awfully cut up about it.

Kelii Was Busy

John Kelii was a busy man last evening, and he surely did his part in the relay. Outrigger had a big lead in the first few laps, and when Kruger took up the burden for the Healanis the O. C. C. was leading, but "Stubby" came through in excellent style and gave Kelii a lead which the other Healanis star kept up to the finish.

In the plunge for distance Dudley Pratt won as expected, but had the tank been stretched a little further he might have made it. As it was he came within a few inches of the end of the tank.

The Events

150-yard open—John Kelii (H), first, time 1:39; Dickson Hitchcock (O), second, and Stanley Warren (O), third.
50-yard open—John Kelii (H), first, time 1:17; Marion Dowsett (G), second, and Thelma Kenn (P), third.
50-yard breaststroke—Harold Kruger (H), first, time 30 5-5; Albert Hirth (O), second, and C. Dudley Pratt (O), third.
50-yard novice—Howard ("Free-Kee") Smith (O), first, time 23 4-5; A. Carroll (U. S. Engineers), second; R. S. Mackenzie (O), third.
80-yard breaststroke for girls—Helen Martin (O), first, time 1:31 4-5; Ross Roberto (Palama), second, and Edith Kena (P), third.
200-yard for boys under fifteen—Ernest Cook (O), first, time 2:58 2-5;

GOOD BOY, JOHN

Jack Kelii was a busy person in the recent meet. He won everything in which he was entered and scored a number of points for the Healanis. Kelii was one of the real stars of the meet and deserves much credit for his performances.

33 ENTER RACE FOR GIRLS OVER 30; CALLED OFF

Universal Swimming Council Rules 35 Entries Necessary to Establish Record

A ruling made by the Universal Swimming Council in 1916 says that in races for girls over 30 years old there must be 35 entries. This ruling upset the plans of the special committee last evening. There was no race and the enthusiasts are asking that the law be repealed.

"Tommy" Thompson had six entries on hand ready to race last evening and said today that he was peeved at the action of the Universal. Rudolph J. Smyth had chartered a special machine to bring his swimmers in from the Makapuu Point club, and Walter Marshall had seven entries from various sections of the islands. Bert Hushaw made every effort to have his entries swim, but two minutes before the time for the race to be called one young lady confessed that she was under 30 and another could not appear.

The committee is anxiously waiting for the open water competition, when it is expected that a full entry list will be received. One of the entries last evening was celebrating a birthday, but this was thrown out on a technicality. Hecker, lieutenant colonel of the navy, failed to show up last evening and he has been dropped from the committee. In the trials the entry from Charlottesville finished first by a wide margin.

WHIRLING FLAGS ARRIVE.

The Auto Service & Supply Company has received a number of the new whirling flags which have become so popular on the mainland. The patriotic emblem is fastened to the radiator cap, and is guaranteed not to become weather worn. The local agents report a large sale of the flags to date.

M'KINLEY PEDS WALLOP STUDENTS

As a finale to the school term at McKinley, the pedagogues took on the senior class in an alleged game of basketball yesterday, and when the battle was over the score stood 6-2 in the faculty's favor.

The teachers numbered only four and a couple of the boys had to be drafted in to stop the drive of the seniors. But the boys did not figure in the scoring column to any extent. Wikander making one basket during the first half. It was chiefly the inability of the seniors to maneuver about the teachers without interfering with them, that lost the game for the seniors.

MacCaughy showed speed that echoed his college days at the basket shooting art. He had speed to burn, but he burned it all out in the first half. The faculty guards, Canning and Wikander, charged the senior forwards at will. This gave the faculty a great advantage over the student team, for the referee showed great discrimination in calling fouls, and the pedagogues made as much on free throws as they did from the field.

Peter Chang substituted for Wikander in the second half and played a fast game for the faculty basketballers. Some of the seniors who tried to wreck the attack of their mentors were Johnny Thompson, Tsukiya, Chong Ching and Hutchings. They could not use football tactics with the success of the faculty team, as the tactics were called unfair by the official.

The collisions between teacher and student were numerous, but no fatalities resulted.

THREAT TO DYNAMITE BRINGS W. W. FROM HIS ADOBE BARRICADE

LORDSBURG, N. M.—Federal authorities, threatening to dynamite an adobe house, captured a man held as Abram Rodriguez, a Mexican indicted in Chicago, in the alleged Industrial Workers of the World conspiracy case. Rodriguez, the authorities said, held them off with a rifle and tried to burn papers, some of which were captured. He will be taken to Chicago. Four other Mexicans were arrested, charged with aiding a fugitive from justice.

MAN DEMANDING CASH FOR GRANDSON OF FORD SENTENCED TO 5 YEARS

DETROIT, Mich.—Jacob Yellin, charged in United States court with writing an extortionate letter to Edsel Ford, son of the automobile manufacturer, asking $10,000, the penalty for failure to comply with the demand being the life of Edsel Ford's infant son, Henry Ford II, was found guilty and sentenced to serve five years and pay a fine of $1000. Judge Tuttle scored the prisoner in giving the extreme penalty.

SET NEW RECORD

MISS MARION DOWSETT

RED CROSS CHEERING POILUS ON THE FRONT TILL SAMMIES COME

ATLANTA, Ga.—Henry P. Davison of New York, chairman of the national war council of the American Red Cross, in an address here declared one of the most important things the Red Cross is doing is to lighten the French troops on the firing line to hold the Germans until the Americans are fully prepared. "If the French line should break," he said, "there is only one thing to save it. That's Pershing's men, prepared or unprepared."

DUKE'S FIRST PUPIL MAKES GOOD IN MEET

Miss Marion Dowsett Promises to Become One of Best Female Swimmers in America

Miss Marion Dowsett, the 14-year-old mermaid who made 32 2-5 in the 50-yard swim last evening at the Y. M. C. A. tank, promises to become a future world's champion. She demonstrated last evening that she has the ability to swim and within a few years should create new records in the various distances.

Miss Dowsett is the first feminine star who has been honored by being coached by Duke Kahanamoku, the world's champion. Hundreds of other mermaids would give much to be able to have Neptune's favorite son as a tutor, and prospects are bright for not only a champion among the mermaids, but a champion among the mermaid.

If Miss Dowsett will pay careful attention to everything her teacher says in the swimming line she cannot help but have a glorious future. Duke has brought out a swimmer who has made better time than the record on the coast two years ago. Had the winner had to make better time last evening she might have set a new mark for other swimmers to shoot at.

Whereas Miss Lyser and Miss Kenn have fast strokes, Miss Dowsett has a long, sweeping stroke which carries her through the water in remarkable time. She has not learned to make the turns as fast as the Kenn sisters, nor has she the natural speed of Eleanor Lyser, but she has the Duke Kahanamoku stroke which ought to be good enough to win from the best in America in a few years. One swimming enthusiast said last evening that if Miss Dowsett will listen to Duke in training she will be the swimming sensation of the age.

A. A. U. ELECTS OFFICERS.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20.—Charles A. Dean of the Chicago Athletic Club today was elected president of the American Athletic Union at the final session in this city. A committee was appointed to confer with Secretary of War Baker in regard to the expenditure of $5000 the union earlier in the day appropriated for the advancement of athletics in the United States army camps. Other officers elected are: Samuel J. Dallas, Philadelphia; L. Di Benedetto, New Orleans; John T. Taylor, Pittsburg; Morris Dunne, Portland, Ore.; vice-presidents.

The German administration at Warsaw issued a denial of statements that a famine existed in Poland.

SOCIETY

GLANCING ahead for the next couple of weeks, the main thing of importance on the social horizon is the large "old fashioned dance" that the Country Club is planning to give on New Year's Eve.

Christmas we will have the Community Christmas tree which will give cheer to those who are strangers within our gates. It will be an inspiring spectacle and one that will long be remembered, for when we think of fourteen hundred voices raised in song on this "night of nights" it is a wonderful idea indeed.

Honolulu never has been as busy as it is just now with work for the common good. The days are never long enough. One wishes for a few hours longer, so much is there to be done. Even milady who stealthily creeps out of bed and down stairs so as not to disturb her household and knits and plans her day's work, finds the stolen hours fleeting. With the tinkle of the telephone every fifteen minutes and with a mile of things to explain and talk over milady is as busy a woman as her husband who spends his day deep in business.

Yet once in awhile the woman in a thousand is met who has practically nothing to do. She is in a class by herself, you may rest assured.

At the Outdoor Circle entertainment on Wednesday most women knitted or crecheted. With the busy woman-time is precious indeed. One reads the mainland and Eastern papers with interest, for they too tell of madam's busy hours. In San Francisco, where the war, the enlisted man and knitting take precedence over all else, is a new committee, with a young woman in charge. This committee is called the "Flying Squadron" and its leader is a society girl of the younger set. Its name is derived from the fact that the committee's business is to arrange partners for the enlisted men's dancing parties. Anyone who has ever tried this will soon know that it involves no small amount of effort for girls must be phoned to even after invitations are sent. Not that they are especially careless but so many things are happening that once in awhile things accumulate so that memory needs a word of stimulus.

Comfort, consolation, any thing or project devised to take cheer to the soldiers and sailors of our country, commands a thoughtful pause as the day's pendulum swings back and forth, and as a result the women from the Atlantic to Hawaii are knitting and making this knitting their weapons of warfare. Last evening their work was in evidence and between each playlet, when the lights were switched on, the work of the needles started anew.

This morning was a morning set aside for the poor children of Belgium. From early morn until noon society maids and matrons solicited funds for these poor kiddies. And we are only at the beginning of giving. From now on until after the war we will be called upon often and often to give. Every request must be a worthy one. As yet we here in our land have not learned the lesson of full curtailment and we find our bank account thinning down to a shadow, the reason primarily is that we are not doing without enough luxuries and when we buy these and then also do our part toward our cause, we feel the pinch. However, a year from now will find us one and all in a better position to meet the demands that will be a part of our life work and, safe to say, the American woman will not be found wanting when that test comes, as come it will.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.
An engagement of interest on Maui is that of Miss Garnie Effie Rosecrans of Pala, to Mr. William McLish Phillips, also of Pala.

The engagement was announced Friday afternoon, December 7, at an informal party, where some of the guests indulged in bridge, others played five hundred and still others knitted.

Simple refreshments were served and each guest found on her plate a small card on which was written the names of the two young people. The wedding is to take place some time in June.

MRS. R. S. T. DURSTON'S INFORMAL LUNCHEON

Mrs. R. S. T. Durston gave a very informal luncheon Wednesday. A basket of pale toned daisies made an attractive centerpiece. Knitting after luncheon was the diversion. Mrs. Durston's guests were Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse, Mrs. Hamilton Agee, Mrs. Denise Mahan Beall, Mrs. H. P. Wood, Mrs. F. C. Bucholtz and Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes.

Mrs. Cooper MacMillan who plays the part of Una Braithwaite in "Eugenically Speaking" in The Footlights production.

MRS. DENNIS MAHAN'S LUNCHEON

Mrs. Dennis Mahan entertained with an informal luncheon today in compliment to Mrs. H. P. Wood and Mrs. R. S. T. Durston, who leave shortly for the Orient.

Pink roses and field daisies formed a pretty table decoration. Bridge and knitting made a delightful afternoon. Mrs. Mahan's guests were Mrs. H. P. Wood, Mrs. R. S. T. Durston, Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes, Mrs. F. C. Bucholtz, Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse and Mrs. Denise Mahan Beall.

CHIEF JUSTICE AND MRS. A. G. M. ROBERTSON'S INFORMAL DINNER

Chief Justice and Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson entertained very informally on Tuesday evening at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth and Hon. Malcolm Franklin.

Music made a pleasant hour after dinner.

MISS MARY JOHNSON ENTERTAINS GRADUATE NURSES.

Miss Mary Johnson was hostess at the Y. W. C. A. beach home this week, honoring the graduate nurses of Honolulu. Miss Johnson has been president of the club for a year, and is now retiring and this affair was in the nature of a farewell.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Society extended a very cordial greeting this week to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neville, who arrived from Del Monte to pass a few days at the St. Francis. They are both great favorites in this city, where they lived until their marriage a few months ago and where Mrs. Neville, as Miss Corneah De Pue, was one of the belles of the younger set. Their arrival is always followed by much interesting entertainment, a ruling that was observed this time, as usual, and more than one pleasurable affair marked the period of their stay.

Mrs. Neville was among those who accepted the hospitality of Mrs. George Bowles at an informal luncheon Tuesday. Setting for this affair was the Francisca Club, where Mrs. Bowles entertained a group of the young matrons who made their debut in the same year and the majority of whom have become brides within the year. The list included Mesdames William Parrott, Kenneth Moore and Algernon Gibson.—San Francisco Chronicle, Dec. 2.

Mrs. Louis J. Warren leaves San Francisco today for home, after four months with her family in Philadelphia and at their summer home in Wildwood, N. J. Mrs. Warren remained there in order to be the matron of honor at the wedding of her sister, Miss Mary Eynon, to Mr. William Merwine, on December 4.

After an enjoyable visit in Washington, D. C., Col. G. K. McGunnegle has returned to Fort McDowell, where he is the commanding officer. While in Washington Colonel McGunnegle visited his daughter and son-in-law, Captain and Mrs. Sheridan. Captain Sheridan is the grandson of General Philip Sheridan.—San Francisco Chronicle, Dec. 2.

THE FOOTLIGHTS' SUCCESSFUL PLAYLETS.

The program presented to Honolulu last evening by The Footlights was a splendid one in every way, from the first drawing apart of the Laniat theater's artistic curtains until the last coming together. The playlets sparkled with witicism and cleverness. The first playlet "Eugenically Speaking" was very bright and funny, bringing back an old time favorite in the person of Mr. George Potter, who was very clever as "father" last evening. Mrs. Cooper MacMillan made her debut to a Honolulu audience, and she was a favorite straight away. The part was a difficult one, but Mrs. MacMillan as Una Braithwaite was very clever with a pleasing personality and charm that will keep her an active member of the Footlights.

Mr. Herman von Holt made a very good-looking conductor. He comes from a family of clever amateurs, for his father, Mr. Harry von Holt, is a Thespian of about 30 years' standing. Mr. Herman von Holt's lines brought laughter more than once.

The second playlet "About Women," had a special charm for Honoluluans, as it was written by our own Mrs. Hamilton P. Agee (Fannie Heaslip Lea) and it certainly reflects the utmost credit upon her ability. It was bright and clever from start to finish. Mrs. D. Mahan Beall was easily the star of the evening. Mrs. Beall acted as if it had been her life work. Her slim, girlish figure and beauty showed to advantage in the charming setting. She had a perfect stage partner in Mr. William Lewers as Mr. O'Kelly. He is a finished actor and with every reappearance adds new encomiums to his long list of successes. Throughout this playlet the lines are witty and full of life, and in such capable hands as Mrs. Beall's and Mr. Lewers' made a lasting impression. Mr. George Lindley finished out the trio well.

J. M. Barrie's "The Twelve-Pound Look" was excellent, with four people cast for the part. Mr. Arthur Mackintosh was the automatic butler. Mr. Harry von Holt, as Mr. Sims, presented the self-satisfied, selfish egotist, in a very delightful way. His smug satisfaction in his own success was amusing. Miss Rosamond Swany as Mrs. Sims was very good and looked such a pretty picture. Her court gown and jewels were especially lovely. She did her part splendidly, even though the part was small.

Mrs. Fred Ohrt shared honors with Mrs. Beall. Mrs. Ohrt showed her seven years with Barrymore. From her entrance to her exit she was the center of attraction. She is not only clever but is also extremely good looking and her work is clean cut and clever.

Mrs. Robbins Anderson in a delight-

Miss Marion Lightfoot, whose engagement to Capt. Cliff Andrus, U. S. A., was announced at a 5 o'clock sewing tea last Saturday afternoon.

ful way sang the Marseillaise and Dixie.

The Laniat theater was filled to capacity with society's four hundred.

CAPTAIN AND MRS. GUSTAV SCHAEFER'S SUPPER PARTY.

Captain and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer entertained last Tuesday evening with a very informal supper party. Covers were laid for 22 guests. Cards were the afterdinner diversion.

COLLEGE CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.

The College Club this afternoon is giving a party for the enlisted men of the different posts who have been affiliated with various mainland colleges. There are about 250 young collegians in the service in Honolulu who have enlisted since war was declared on Germany and for their special pleasure the College club has planned a delightful afternoon.

MRS. GUY MILNOR HONORS MISS MARTHA McCHESNEY

Miss Martha McChesney, whose wedding will be an event of next week was the motif this week of a jam and jelly shower, over which Mrs. Guy Milnor presided as hostess. This assembly of friends was held at the Country Club on Wednesday. A party basket, decorated with pink tulle and having garlands of pink Cecil Bruner roses, was presented to the guest of honor. Their knitting-bags were brought out.

Mrs. Milnor's guests were Miss Martha McChesney, the honoree; Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Helen Pratt, Miss Thelma Murphy, Miss Sibyl Robertson, Miss Doris Noble, Miss Mary Ballentyne, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Geraldine Berg, Miss Anna Johnson, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Ruth Anderson, Mrs. Marshall Hemshaw, Mrs. Marvin Carson, Mrs. Harry Hoffman, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Jr., Mrs. James F. Morgan, Mrs. Walter Reesman, Mrs. Grover Baiter, Mrs. Ralph Clark and Mrs. Frank West.

AN INTERESTING ART LECTURE

The art class of The College of Hawaii and local art lovers were entertained last Thursday at the parlors of Lewers & Cooke, with a lecture on Oriental art by M. B. Miran, who is exhibiting a collection of Oriental rugs and fine art.

Mr. Miran took his audience on a tour through the countries where the art of rug-making is fostered, at times traveling on ships and on camels back in caravans.

While passing through the Dardanelles—figuratively—he showed the prayer rug and how it is used with perfect demonstration of the Moslem ceremony in five different positions.

He carried them through bazaars of the ancient city of Constantinople, telling about many interesting part and events affecting and connecting with the art.

After an interesting visit to rug-making cities like Shirvan, Tiflis, Kirmascha and Keeshan, where he explains of the distinctive features and important points that enter into making the values of rugs and explained the different ways of dyeing and the origins and the meanings of some of the designs. He said what he predicts 20 years ago in his lecture in San Francisco before the University Club that this art will some day pass into history, events are now proving. As soon as the war is over the civilization in those countries will open many different avenues for their time and labor for much higher wages than now are being paid for rug-making that no one will care to sit before a loom for years to make a rug for the paltry sum of 10 cents a day and so, consequently the art will become a thing of the past.

SOCIETY

THE largest social function of the week was the afternoon entertainment given on Wednesday by the Outdoor Circle for the benefit of the Community Christmas Tree fund.

Four hundred or more women were gathered on the Roof Garden to listen to the Russian orchestra and to watch the clever dancing of Ivan Bankoff, Miss Elinor True and Miss Almee Maynard. The opening number was by the Russian orchestra and was delightful as were all of the selections done by this set of artists.

Mr. Ivan Bankoff gave the "Begar's Dance" delightfully, also the Russian peasant marriage dance. In this Miss Maynard was his partner. Miss True made her first appearance and was a favorite from the start, giving three clever classic dances. Miss True comes from the Degishawn school and will give exhibition dances at the Young during her stay here.

Baby Fidler, a mite of a Russian child, daughter of a member of the orchestra, sang two Russian songs and did a Russian dance very delightfully.

After the entertainment the music continued for an hour and the guests danced. It was a charming afternoon.

Almost every woman carried her knitting bag with her and knitted through the afternoon, combining business and pleasure. One wonders if after this war is over women will be willing ever again to go on as of yore and sit through an afternoon without work of some kind. One doubts it indeed. The thought used to be that unless the guest sat with folded hands through a concert or lecture she was being discourteous. Today we know better. It is possible to work and listen.

Mrs. A. A. Young had entire charge of the Wednesday affair and was assisted by Mrs. W. L. Moore, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. A. N. Campbell and Mrs. Myers.

Some among those noticed during the afternoon were: Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. C. W. Ashford, Mrs. A. A. Young, Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. C. Long, Mrs. William A. Wall, Mrs. J. A. M. Johnson, Mrs. Clifford Kimball, Mrs. Charles Lucas, Mrs. L. Capps, Mrs. John T. Warren, Mrs. Reynolds Moore, Mrs. Ayer, Mrs. A. G. RECEPTION FOR NEW PASTOR Largely attended and most pleasant in every way was the welcoming reception given by the Women's Society of Central Union Church on Thursday evening in the church parlors in compliment to Rev. and Mrs.

Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell (nee Daphne Dow) whose wedding occurred Thursday afternoon at Fort Shafter.

Albert W. Palmer, recently of Oakland, the former, the new pastor of the church. Green and gold was the color scheme worked out in the reception room, and quantities of beautiful yellow lilies, potted palms and fern baskets made an attractive setting for the groups of guests which thronged the room. Receiving with Rev. and Mrs. Palmer were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Lowrey, the former the chairman of the board of trustees; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jenner, the latter president of the Women's Society; Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Hopwood, the former the assistant pastor of the church; and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams, the former the popular acting pastor of the church for the past year. Miss Ruth Benedict and Mr. Ernest Chase, secretary and clerk of the church, respectively, ushered the guests to the receiving line while several of the women of the executive board, with their husbands, assisted about the rooms, among these being Mr. and Mrs. Randolph G. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. John Trenholm Warren, Mrs. A. Lewis, Jr., Mrs. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Young, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Zeno K. Myers and others.

In the refreshment room pink and green formed the color motif, and exquisite pink begonias and ferns were used upon the coffee and punch tables, while great baskets brimming over with the waxen bloom, hung in the archways between the rooms. Mrs. Frank Midkiff, Miss Ruth Richards and Miss Violet Atherton served iced coffee and whipped cream, while Mrs. James F. Morgan, Miss Letitia Morgan and Miss Helene Morgan served delicious fruit punch which would have tempted even Omar himself, served as it was from huge blocks of ice piled with purple grape clusters and half hidden within a bed of ferns and vines.

As a special compliment to the guests of honor, a group of Kaula-hao Seminary girls sang a beautiful serenade song just outside the door, and after the applause which followed this delightful surprise the young Mrs. Hawaiian, Japanese and Chinese, all dressed in white, and some with ukuleles or steel guitars came

MRS. WALTER REESMAN SHOWS POPULAR BRIDE-ELECT. Mrs. Martha McChesney was "kitchen showered" by Mrs. Walter Reesman on Monday afternoon. After the guests assembled a large clothes basket was brought in and reposing in this were a large number of necessary kitchen utensils and equipment. Knitting bags were brought and every one worked for an hour or more, when refreshments were served.

Mrs. Reesman's guests were Miss Martha McChesney, the honoree, Mrs. Merwin Carson, Mrs. Marshall Henshaw, Mrs. Revnold B. McGrew, Mrs. Guy Minor, Mrs. Arnett P. Matthews, Mrs. Dickson Nott, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. L. E. Hooper, Mrs. Gavien Bush, Miss Marie Ballentyne, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Geradine Berg, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Lillian McChesney, Miss Vivian Buckland, Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss Thelma Murphy, Miss Silyan Purvis, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Florence Ward, Miss Isabel Baker and Miss Florence Hoffman.

WITSELL-DOW WEDDING Miss Daphne Dow arrived from the coast on Thursday. The same afternoon her wedding to Captain Edward Fuller Witsell was solemnized at the home of Col. and Mrs. F. C. Bolles of Fort Shafter.

The spacious rooms of the Bolles home were effectively decorated with flags and greenery, making a delightful effect.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in a blue and white afternoon frock and smart hat. The marriage lines were read by Canon William Ault of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

The bridal party stood beneath a canopy of silken American flags with a background of greenery. Colonel Bolles gave the bride into the groom's keeping.

Mrs. Hugo Pitts was the matron of honor and Dr. Harry Deiber supported the groom.

The 2nd Infantry band played after the wedding was over and while the guests were enjoying a wedding supper.

Capt. and Mrs. Witsell slipped quietly away to spend their honeymoon on the other side of the island. On their return they will be at home to their friends at Fort Shafter. About 25 guests witnessed the wedding ceremony.

CAPT. AND MRS. T. M. CHURCH HONORED.

Capt. and Mrs. Thomas M. Church were kidnapped by masked friends on Monday evening and driven away from their home in great secrecy. Arriving in a certain place in Manoa valley they were ushered into a room and here all unmasked. It was the Churches' wedding anniversary so their friends planned a surprise for them. The program was in the nature of a progressive Hoover dinner, each course, involving five different homes, being entirely "according to Hoover."

To signalize Captain Church's recent entry into army service the decorations were patriotic.

The friends honoring Captain and Mrs. Church were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gignoux, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Farrington and Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson.

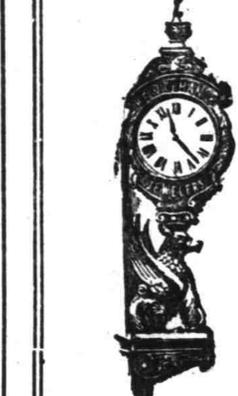

Joke gifts were distributed at each home with funny verses appropriate to the occasion.

FORMER HONOLULU GIRL WEDS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Cards have been received in Honolulu announcing the marriage of Miss Helen Elizabeth Sprinks and William Elbert McClendon in San Francisco on November 21. Miss Sprinks for five or six years was a stenographer in the customs service and had many friends here. Mr. McClendon is an officer in the United States navy and also has many acquaintances and friends in Honolulu.

MISS BALLENTYNE SHOWERS MISS MCCHESNEY

Miss Martha McChesney was the honoree at a handkerchief shower on Thursday afternoon given by Miss Marie Ballentyne. Little Lillimore Watson carried in a silver casket and showered the guest of honor with its contents. Later knitting needles were employed and light refreshments served. Miss Ballentyne's guests were: Miss Martha McChesney, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Isabel Baker, Miss Geradine Berg, Miss Margaret Grey, Miss Louise Clark, Miss Thelma Murphy, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Carolyn Raymond, Miss Katherine Raymond, Miss Florence Ward, Miss Vivian Buckland, Miss Violet Atherton, Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss Ann Johnson, Miss Julie McStocker, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mrs. Grover Bat-

SOCIETY

THIS evening the mounted mess of the 9th Field Artillery is to be held at a supper dance in compliance to the women of Honolulu who have helped to entertain the men recently. A special train has been chartered and paid for by the men and the guests will leave town at 9:30 this evening, starting from Schofield at 10:20. Chaperones will go down on the train. The women who are acting as chaperones and patronesses are in many instances the mothers of the girls going. The chaperones are especially desirous of a large company. Several delightful surprises have been arranged for the pleasure of the guests, the field color, red, will ornament the buffet supper table. A large basket of flaming red koras will be used.

The following is a list of those receiving, the patronesses or chaperones and the young girls invited:

MISS PAUHI JUDD COMING HOME

One of the arrivals in town next week will be Miss Pauhi Judd, sister of Mrs. Francis Mills Swanzy, who has been away from Honolulu for the past nineteen years. A good part of that time has been spent by Miss Judd in Europe studying and enjoying the many advantages that Europe has offered.

Miss Judd is bringing with her Miss Katherine Judd, her niece. A most hearty aloha will be Miss Pauhi Judd's greeting from her large circle of friends and family. It gives all old-timers a feeling of real pleasure to have her home again.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Swanzy is having a welcome home gathering of old friends and at this Honolulu of yesterday will be fully represented.

Mrs. C. W. Case Deering has been enjoying a very delightful week-end at Schofield. Mrs. Deering came to town today.

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF THE SMART SET

Mrs. Buchholtz is the house guest of Mrs. Alexander G. Hayes.

Miss Dora Broadbent left for her Kaula home on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Webster, after a short visit here, left Wednesday for their Kilauea home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Faye left for their Kaula home on the Kilauea on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Marion Dowsett Worthington is a guest at Halekulani, where she will remain for a month.

Mrs. N. H. Salmon, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Victoria Ward, leaves for her Kilauea home today.

Paymaster and Mrs. Oscar Phillips moved from their Manoa home to the naval station, Pearl Harbor, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. David Larsen left this week for Kaula where they plan to make their home for some time to come.

Miss Blanche Wishard left for Kaula this week to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wishard.

Col. and Mrs. Charles Woodward are enjoying their cottage at Halekulani, the bathing being an especially pleasing feature.

Mr. Ernest Mott-Smith, Mr. Harold Giffard and Mr. Alexander G. Hayes are over on the Kau side of Hawaii on a shooting party.

Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Podmore are in town again after having spent eight months on the island of Hawaii. They will be pleased to see their friends.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles Rice, who have spent the last two years at Schofield, have been ordered away and will in all probability leave before the new year.

H. F. Lewis and family of Honolulu have taken a two-year lease in the Norman DeVaux house in Easton. Mr. Lewis is a wealthy exporter and importer.—San Mateo, Cal., News.

Miss Florence Ward, who is the house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Halstead and Miss Bernice Halstead, left for the Volcano this week. Miss Ward is a very charming Pasadena, Cal., girl.

Col. and Mrs. William R. Banister, formerly of Schofield, but now of Fort Shafter, are guests at Halekulani. Col. Banister has taken Col. Keefer's place. The latter left last week for the mainland for orders.

Mrs. Leon Konigstrofer (nee Etta Lobenstein of Hilo) is a visitor in Honolulu from her San Francisco home. Mrs. Konigstrofer is related to several of the older Hawaiian families and is being cordially received by her many friends here.

Mrs. Charles Frazier and her mother, Mrs. Osborn, and the Frazier children, left on the Sierra for San Francisco. They plan to take an apartment in the city and remain there until the summer, when they will be joined by Mr. Frazier.

The engagement is announced from Oahu, Hawaii, of Herbert Cecil Berg to Miss Lillian Gurnell of Los Angeles. Mr. Berg was formerly stationed at Makaweli and was well and favorably known on the island. We add our congratulations.—Garden Island.

Lieutenant-Commander James A. Bull, who sailed from New York recently for his new post, is one of the new naval attaches at the American embassy in London. He is a son of Admiral and Mrs. James H. Bull of Santa Barbara and a brother of Mrs. Herbert Newhall (Miss Marjorie Bull) of Brookline, Mass.—San Francisco Examiner, Dec. 2.

Fort Shafter Society

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
FORT SHAFTER, Dec. 14.—Capt. and Mrs. Sims T. Hoyt, Mrs. Seth W. Webb, Mrs. William D. Walters, Capt. Wilbur, Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Lieut. and Mrs. James M. T. Pearson, and Lieut. James M. Johnson, Jr., were the members of the card club who were present at the meeting which was held at the Administration building on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Sims T. Hoyt was the hostess for the evening and had provided a nickel-plated flashlight as the prize. This was won by Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell. The prize which was donated by one of the members as a forfeit for winning the prize two evenings in succession was won by Mrs. William D. Walters.

Lieut. Marcus P. Taylor was the luncheon guest of Maj. Dorst at the bachelors' mess on Monday.

Maj. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett entertained at dinner on Sunday for Maj. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlberg. The attractive table had as its center decoration an artistic low basket filled with the fragrant rose geranium.

Capt. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood have as their home guest Miss Estelle Quilly from San Jose, Cal. Miss Quilly arrived on the transport from the states on Friday.

Mrs. Seth W. Webb was the house guest of Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph R. Vogel for several days this week.

Capt. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday were the guests of Lieut. and Mrs. James M. Johnson, Jr., on Monday evening when they entertained at dinner. Bridge was the diversion later in the evening.

Quite a number of showers have been given this week for Miss Martha McChesney, who will be married next week to Lieut. Owen Fowler, of the 4th Cavalry stationed at Schofield Barracks. One of the prettiest among these entertainments was the reception shower given by Miss Thelma Murphy on Monday afternoon. The guests at this affair were Miss Isabel Baker, Miss Marie Ballentyne, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss McStocker, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Milner, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Jr., Miss Violet Atherton, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Wood, Mrs. A. M. G. Robertson, Miss Florence Hoffman and many others.

On Monday morning Maj. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett had breakfast for the members of the post, who were leaving on the transport that day for San Francisco. White periwinkles were used to make the table attractive with charming success. Maj. and Mrs. Bennett's guests were Maj. and Mrs. Alfred H. Hobbie, Miss Dorothy Hobbie, Maj. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlberg, Miss Grace Hobbie, Master David Muhlberg and Master John Muhlberg.

Lieut. and Mrs. Seth W. Webb entertained on Sunday with dinner for Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph R. Vogel.

Maj. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett were the guests of their son, Jack, at a Christmas party given by the Honolulu Military Academy on Wednesday evening.

Miss Isabel Baker was one of the guests at the kitchen ware shower given on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Walter Reesman for Miss Martha McChesney.

Maj. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlberg, Masters David and John Muhlberg were the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Larrison at the University club for luncheon on Monday.

Miss Marie Ballentyne was hostess at a handkerchief shower for Miss Martha McChesney on Thursday afternoon at which Miss Isabel Baker was one of the guests.

Capt. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood had supper on Sunday evening for Maj. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlberg.

A very pretty wedding took place on Thursday afternoon at the quarters of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Frank C. Hollee, when Miss Daphne Dow was united in marriage to Capt. William F. Witsell, Infantry D. O. L., United States Army. Miss Dow is a sister of Capt. and Mrs. Hugh J. Knerr, and visited them at Fort Ruger until they were ordered to the states in September, when she announced her engagement to Capt. Witsell before sailing with them.

She returned to the island on the transport on Thursday and was married immediately. Col. Hollee's spacious residence was very effectively decorated with American flags and rich green ferns, though the occasion was intended to be very simple.

The ceremony, which was performed by Canon Ault of St. Andrew's Cathedral, using the beautiful and impressive Episcopal marriage service, took place under the stars and stripes canopyed over the entire end of the hall, where the bride was given away by Col. Hollee. These patriotic decorations, with the many khaki uniforms present, gave the scene a war-like air.

The charming young bride wore a simple afternoon costume of blue and white, in the spirit of the times and indeed resorted to camouflage of wedding gown or veil to enhance her girlish beauty. She was attended at the altar by Mrs. Hugo E. Fitz of Fort Ruger as the matron of honor, while Dr. Harry M. Deiber performed the duties of the best man for Capt. Witsell.

The soft strains of the 2d Infantry orchestra sounded during the ceremony and for the entire afternoon while the wedding supper was being served in the dining room. The elaborate wedding cake was cut, according to army tradition, by the bride with the sword of the groom, after which the happy couple slipped away unobserved, escaping the intended showers of rice and old slippers.

The invited guests were few, only intimate friends and relatives, among whom were Brig. Gen. John P. Wiser, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Frank C. Hollee, Maj. and Mrs. Will Wayne, Lieut. Tuohy, aide de camp, Maj. and Mrs. John Randolph, Maj. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett, Maj. and Mrs. Robert H. Peck, Capt. and Mrs. Louis D. Pepp, Dr. Oscar Skelton, Capt. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, Capt. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood, Maj. and Mrs. Frederick Hadra, Lieut. Charles A. McGarrigle, Miss Isabel Baker, Capt. Lester Baker, Maj. James A. Dorst, Dr. William E. Kramer, Capt. and Mrs. Hugo J. Pits, Dr. Harry M. Deiber and Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, the mother of the groom.

Capt. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday have taken the quarters lately occupied by Maj. and Mrs. Alfred H. Hobbie and moved into them from their old quarters at the extreme end of the line on Thursday.

Capt. and Mrs. Carlyle N. Haines entertained with dinner on Sunday for Dr. Boyer, who was in port that day with the transport Sherman.

Maj. Frederick Hadra, who has been quite unwell for a week, was taken to the department hospital on Wednesday. His many friends hope for his early recovery.

Capt. and Mrs. Edward F. Witsell are away for a week's honeymoon, after which they will be at home to their friends at the Bachelor building at Fort Shafter, where Mrs. Edward F. Witsell, Jr., will be a pleasing addition to the post life.

Capt. and Mrs. Carlyle N. Haines were the guests on the Sherman on Monday of Dr. Boyer for luncheon.

Miss Isabel Baker was an all-day visitor at Haleiwa on Saturday.

SOCIETY NOTES

Word comes from Captain Charles Lyman that he is still at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, but will leave there for North Carolina. Word also comes from Bob Purvis and Ned Steel and of their work at the camp. All write interestingly of the things they are doing.

Mrs. Sachs, Miss Mildred Sachs, Miss Dorothy Sachs and Miss Frances Brown have taken a cottage at the J. F. Browns' at Waikiki. They plan to remain here until the late spring. The young ladies are very popular and have been the motifs for many delightful affairs.

Lieut. and Mrs. Howard G. Bode are here from Honolulu at the Hotel Cecil, and leave at once for southern California. Mrs. Brode, who was Miss Helen Spalding, a cousin of Mrs. Chas. Templeton Crocker, has often visited her, usually with Mrs. William G. Irwin.—San Francisco Examiner.

Miss Bernice Ayers of this city who is to leave soon for Honolulu as assume a position, was the guest of honor at a pretty dinner party Thursday evening, given by her sister, Mrs. Will Geiljen. Coeers were laid for a dozen guests and the evening was a most delightful one, the only matter of regret being the future departure of the honor guest for the islands. She was wished many, many alohas.—Petaling, Cal., Argus.

WOMAN CONDUCTS FREE DISPENSARY AT WATERTOWN

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

WATERTOWN, Oahu, Dec. 15.—A free dispensary in this little town is being conducted in a most capable manner by one woman who has the love and welfare of the little boys and girls of the place at heart. All nationalities are welcome and carefully attended to as often as they come to her and this does not mean that the mothers or fathers either are turned away, for whatever their ailments are they are cheerfully helped by her. Of the many big-hearted, clean-minded women of Oahu this is one who goes about her work at home with a will, occupied in the doing of good works. Always busy, cheerful and happy is Mrs. Sergeant Daniels, offering her time and money to all who need her help, never waiting to be asked for help in advance when she knows where they are to be found.

At the back door of her residence early every morning her little band of patients collects for the dressings on little toes and fingers as well as the greater troubles of the grown up.

Those of the Japanese who are afflicted with sore eyes have her particular attention and in the short time she has lived there has furnished free medicine and has treated and cured over fifty Japanese as well as Chinese; also the Hawaiians. Teaching cleanliness, sanitation and kindness to all, children are her particular interest and they know her for miles around. The happy, smiling faces and the good cheer and "alohas" she receives whenever she appears upon the street are the evidence of the thankfulness they feel for one who gives her time for their welfare and happiness.

In the short time of two years in the Hawaiian Islands the strides she has made in mastering the Japanese language are most remarkable, being able to make herself understood and being able to understand them. The appreciation shown more than covers any trouble taken for them for there are no people in the world so trusting as the mixed races when once their confidence is established.

For a generation America has had the white bread habit. We have prepared potential trips to Battle Creek and the Mayo brothers from the small per cent of our wheat and made cow feed and hog slop from the rest. If Hoover can overcome the American prejudice against whole wheat rye and corn breads, he will have achieved a strategic victory that will go a long way in the solution of his problem of food for the world.—Emporia, Kan., Gazette.

MRS. H. P. AGEE'S "ABOUT WOMEN" IS FEATURE OF FOOTLIGHTS PROGRAM

Three Playlets in Which Sex Discussion Plays Large Part are Given With Commendable Success—New Performers Display Talent

Honolulu—or so much of it as could be assembled in the small Lanai theater—gave the sincerest of ovations last night to a Honolulu woman whose talented pen furnished the real feature of a three-division program offered by the members of The Footlights. That amateur group of Theatians produced Mrs. H. P. Agee's playlet, "About Women," side by side with Edward Goodman's "Eugenically Speaking," and J. M. Barrie's "The Twelve Pound Look." It was a real test of comparison, and Mrs. Agee's creation had none the worse of it. In fact, in comparison of story, development of action and character, and expressive, inclusive dialogue, "About Women" and the competence of the acting which it showed, furnished the feature of an evening very much worth while.

Last night's program is generally conceded to be the best The Footlights has yet given. The three one-act playlets moved smoothly and swiftly. The fact that the proceeds go to the Red Cross, that patriotic songs were given during an intermission by Mrs. Robbins Anderson, and that a neat sum was raised by auctioning off two canes, a bracelet and a platter, lent to the evening a tinge of patriotic contribution.

But in itself the program was entertaining. As proof of the talent developing and to be developed among Honolulu's amateurs, it was satisfying.

"Sex O'Clock" Strikes

A few years ago, when the main stage was overrun with problem plays, the familiar "triangle," domestic tragedies, "vampire shows," and other productions in which masculine and feminine morals were put under microscopic observation, William Marion Reedy, the witty editor of the St. Louis Mirror, commented: "It has struck sex o'clock." Those who remember this characteristic Reedy remark were reminded of it last night. It was striking sex o'clock most of the time during the evening. While the costumes did not offer the frank physical revelations of a certain classic dancer, the mental revelations were scarcely less direct, though clothed in the aspect of humorous philosophy occasionally breaking out into farce and burlesque.

"Eugenically Speaking" is a burlesque bit hitting off the extremists on that ultra-modern subject, eugenics. In this a young girl brimming with half-baked eugenic ideas chooses a herculean street-car conductor as her mate, calmly takes him to his parental home and introduces him to her indulgent but non-eugenically-inclined father. Here was an instance where the humor saves the undoubtedly delicate subject from downright indelicacy. This playlet introduced Mrs. Cooper MacMillan as the young girl, a pretty and vivacious role which she filled with entire credit; Herman von Holt as the street-car conductor, a mountain of embarrassment but with much manliness at bottom, all of which was well portrayed; and brought again behind the footlights George Potter in the character of the father, a part given with precision, care and competence.

Mrs. H. P. Agee's "About Women," which was produced over her pen-name, Fannie Healy Lee, had two main characters and one minor. Mrs. Denise Mahan Beall had the part of Mrs. Wilkenning, a woman who has been married for seven years, is true to her husband but occasionally, it seems, has sentimental moments when she is not averse to a little attention from the opposite sex. Will Lewers, in the drawing-room role of her husband's best friend, half in love with the wife, found opportunity to talk with her on the respective inclinations of man and woman to dally with love's lighter suggestions. George Lindley was on a few minutes as an impassioned young poet, wavy of hair and with a flowing necktie of amorous hue, a role he performed most creditably.

Mrs. Beall gave a really clever impersonation of Mrs. Wilkenning. She has an easy stage presence, delivers her lines well, and, as her part had a few hints of the potential "vamp," her languid, half-cressing gestures, slow movements of head and eyes and posturing before the glowing gaze of the lacheler friend, were extremely effective. Mr. Lewers played with his professional poise and finish, and these two gave a very meritorious performance. The playlet, brief as it is, has moments of tensile to which due weight was given by the actors, and the result was to bring it to a close with a storm of applause in which calls for "author" were so insistent that Mrs. Agee was forced to appear for a moment on the stage and bow her acknowledgment, with just two words, "Thank you."

The closing offering, "The Twelve Pound Look," was not an anti-climax for it was very well done, too. Mrs. Fred Ohri's clean-cut impersonation of a London tylist back for a brief half-hour in the home of the wealthy, English nobody who had been her husband, was a bit of work that will be long remembered. H. M. von Holt gave a strong rendition of the husband's part, though handicapped by some unfamiliarity with his lines. In fact, the consistency of his acting in the face of this temporary fault of memory was all the more commendable. To Miss Rosamond Swanyell fell the colorful—intentionally so—role of the present Mrs. Sims, lorded over and domineered by the successful husband. She gave to this part just the necessary touch of submission—a submission that, after seeing the alert, self-reliant tylist, began to grow into inner rebellion. Arthur Mackintosh had a small role as the butler, in which he acquitted himself capably. The Barrie keenness of satire is well displayed in this playlet.

Mrs. Anderson's patriotic songs, the Marsellaise and Dixie, were given the most enthusiastic of applause.

The program will be repeated tonight, and the success of the opening night should also be repeated.

The four articles auctioned by Will Fisher brought nearly $200. Dr. James Judd bought a handsome cane, another one went to Philip Spalding, who also bid highest for an antique platter, and Professor T. A. Jaggar was the highest bidder for a sapphire and diamond bracelet.

MCKINLEY HIGH SCHOOL MAGAZINE OFF THE PRESS

The McKinley High School magazine is just off the press, and its name, "Black and Gold," is emphasized by the color scheme of its attractive cover. It is a neat design in the school colors on a white mat, done by Sam Kahalewai. The artwork is featured by photographs of scenes about Honolulu, which are used as tail pieces for the various sections of the publication. There are good headings, done by former students for the most part.

The feature story of the Black and Gold is a translation of an old Hawaiian legend, done into English by David Nui. A story based on Oriental mysticism, "The Guidance of the Soul," shows the ingenuity of a Japanese student who has taken the Hawaiian setting of the tale and treated it with his rather romantic style.

BURNHAM-FRASER EXHIBIT OFFERS LOCAL STANDARD

Much interested is being attracted by the Burnham-Fraser art exhibit at the University Club, which still has nearly another week to run. A visit there will well repay the art lover and give him a new impression of the artistic talent in Honolulu.

Mr. Burnham's photographs of sculpture which he has done are especially impressive. His recognized standing in the world of art gives to his display here the aspect of a standard, which is instructive to those here who have had limited opportunity to see the world's masterpieces.

The photos of the bronze doors of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary for Children, the Fenway, Boston, are attractive. These doors symbolize the purpose for which the institution was erected.

The exhibit will be open until December 20.

A Sensitive Society Subject

Toilet and hygienic cleanliness is a subject of much interest to the scientific, social and laity world. It deserves all the attention it is receiving, and a great deal more, because upon a better understanding of its value rests the comfort and longevity of the human race. The way to obtain and retain it is, of course, to keep clean, and to do this from a toilet and hygienic standpoint there is nothing more suitable than Tyree's Antiseptic Powder. The nature of the composition of this article makes it an almost indispensable adjunct to the toilet of every careful woman who appreciates the value and comfort of hygienic cleanliness. Tyree's Antiseptic Powder has a large and growing number of friends in the scientific, social and laity world. In solution when used for diseases of the mucous membrane and for pricking, head, poison oak, tender feet, offensive perspiration, etc., and in many other ways peculiar to woman's requirements, it is unexcelled.

The Beauty of Youth

While you have the healthy vigorous Beauty of youth you should constantly preserve and protect it for the years to come. Neglect has caused many women to look far older than they should. A little attention paid to the skin and complexion now by the use of

will be amply repaid by your Youthful Beauty in later years. It not only protects and preserves the complexion for the future but greatly improves your appearance now. Conceals facial blemishes. In use 70 years.

Class of Women Drivers Soon to Complete Course

Twenty Young Ladies of Y. W. Will Be Graduated From Automobile Class

Twenty Honolulu young women who are willing to give their services to their country, are soon to be graduated from the automobile class of the Young Women's Christian Association which opened on October 6 last at the Old Homestead. The class enrolled by Miss M. C. Hearsey, educational secretary of the association, and under the instruction of Mr. J. A. M. Johnson of the Schuman Carriage Co., donned overalls and entered into the spirit of the work with great enthusiasm. It was seen after the first few lessons that the women students were in dead earnest, and their progress in mastering the difficult technical instructions proved both interesting and gratifying to teacher and pupils alike. A Ford chassis, a text book, also a large number of parts were used in connection with the first lessons of the course. Each student was required to turn in written impressions of each preceding class meeting for approval and correction.

Practical Driving Begins
A Ford touring car was then placed at the disposal of the class by the Schuman Carriage Co., also the services of Mr. Valentine Cederlof, the able special driving instructor of the public spirited firm, under whose personal direction each student has been given a careful and thorough course in practical driving. In speaking of the ladies' automobile class, J. R. McAlpine, sales manager of the Schuman Carriage Co., said: "It is highly gratifying to us to have been able to contribute to the education of these red-blooded American women, who so earnestly desire to be of service to their country in this time of need, and we hope that should the time come when the nation's labors must be to a larger extent borne by women, these loyal and patriotic Honolulu girls may be given an opportunity to serve their country."

ARTHUR WAYNE HAS SYSTEM TO STOP THIEVERY

Card Index of Numbers of Parts of Cars Would Eliminate Many Thefts Here

Automobile thieves are going to find it pretty tough going if the plans of Arthur Wayne, manager of Smoot & Steinhauser, work out. Mr. Wayne has devised a card index system which would practically do away with thefts of automobiles and automobile parts in Hawaii.

This system will be presented at the next meeting of the Honolulu Automobile club on Tuesday. He suggests that a card be sent to every member of the local automobile club to fill out the number of the car, the name, number of motor, generator, magneto, carburetor, tires, wheels, water pump and other parts. Included in this list is a full description of the car.

This card could be filled out at leisure by the owner of the car and mailed to the secretary of the local club. All these cards would be on record and when any change was made the owner would immediately notify the secretary.

Very few owners of cars in Honolulu know the numbers of any of the parts of their cars, but if a permanent record was kept there would be less thievery. The local garages would be notified to take the number of every part which was offered for sale. In this way the automobile thief would find it a pretty poor business. Mr. Wayne's suggestion has been recommended by other automobile owners.

Special Tire Will Be Made For Hawaii

Expert Visits Honolulu and "Tropical Tread" Tire is Result

An announcement which is new in automobile circles was recently made by one of the largest tire manufacturers in the country. At a dinner in which a number of the men were present in Akron, Ohio, the tire expert said that his concern would manufacture a special grade of tire for Hawaii, which would be called "The Tropical Tread."

According to the information which reached here from the mainland the tire will be constructed of special black tough rubber which will be especially adapted to withstand heat and abrasion. After a visit to Hawaii it was discovered that this certain grade of rubber was especially fitted for this climate, and the tire expert returned with his ideas which are now being brought forth.

Ladies of the city are doing their bit for the Red Cross. All in all the motorists of the city are united in the one cause, "Help Win the War."

"PAY YOUR WAY FOR THE RED CROSS" NEW SLOGAN OF FEMININE DRIVERS

Honolulu Young Ladies Interested in Movement to Raise Money for War Fund—When a Friend Asks You to Ride to Your Office You Have an Opportunity to Pay Your Way—Miss Dorothy Guild Supports Movement to Raise Large Sum

By OWEN MERRICK.
No other class of people in Honolulu are doing more to work out plans to help win the war than are the automobile dealers and the motorists of Honolulu. There has been a noticeable change in the ideas of the various dealers of the city during the past few months and the same holds good with the motorists.

The man who sells gasoline has been preaching the gospel of saving, and much good has resulted from this campaign. The tire dealer has been preaching to the motorists that more miles for each tire means more miles of captured German territory. The motorists of the city have been listening to these talks and going farther, have adopted many different systems which will help in winning the war.

"Pay Your Way"
One of the newest features in this campaign is the "Pay Your Way" system which has been adopted by some of the young ladies of the city who drive their motor cars. And this system promises to bring about a goodly sum for the Red Cross in this city.

Miss Dorothy Guild was one of the first young ladies of the city to realize that the feminine driver could do much to help win the war. Her plan was placed into execution, and with in a short time it is expected that other young ladies of Honolulu who drive will be following out the same system of "Pay Your Way for the Red Cross."

Opportunities in driving her car from her home to the downtown section Miss Guild would pick up a friend who had missed a street car or was walking. The friend saved the car fare and the street car company lost out. Now when a friend wishes to ride into town or back from the Country club there is a little box placed in the front of the car which is a gentle reminder. On it is printed: "Pay Your Way for the Red Cross."

The Plan Works.
Those who have taken advantage of helping the Red Cross fund in this way believe that this method is an ideal one for the feminine motorists of the city to raise money for war purposes.

Miss Guild said that since the box was placed on the car she has received a large amount through this plan.

When one has missed a street car and a friend comes by in a car it is natural that one would feel pleased to have an invitation to ride. You get into the machine and the second thing you notice is the little box with the sign on it which means that you must pay your way. The Red Cross signal always helps out in increasing your generosity and perhaps the passenger decides that a dime or even a quarter would not be wasted in this manner.

Miss Guild Favors Plan
Miss Guild said that she was confident that the average motorist would be able to collect from $5 to $10 each month in this way, and remarked that she intended to interest other young ladies in the movement. Already one or two other feminine drivers have signified their intention of carrying the "Pay Your Way" box on their cars.

Here is an idea which promises to bring in a large amount for the Red Cross. Young men who walk to work might be induced to ride if a friend extended the invitation. With hundreds of feminine drivers in the city it is certain that thousands of dollars could be realized for the Red Cross if the other drivers would follow the example set by Miss Guild.

Dollar Wouldn't Go.
One young man who was picked up on the way to the business district said that the idea was an excellent one and instead of contributing a nickel he deposited a dime in a box. Another gave a quarter, and one man with a generous heart tried to place a dollar in the box but this generosity went for naught, as the coin slot only gives room for a quarter.

Here is a golden opportunity for the young ladies who are driving their own cars to get together and do their bit for the Red Cross. They would in no way be transgressing against the rights of the common carriers, and through united efforts might accomplish wonders for an institution which is calling for funds at the present time.

The Women Who Drive.
Since the publication of the article by E. E. Bodge on the subject of women who drive, there have been a number of favorable comments received. The dealers are beginning to consider the lady driver as a real possibility in the way of sales, and the traffic officers of the city have been saying many nice things about the feminine drivers of the city.

And quoting from Mr. Bodge's article: "The day of the feminine driver has arrived." And it is a noticeable fact that in any campaign which leads for the betterment of conditions, the local women who drive their own cars are always ready with a solution for the various problems. The man is saving his gas and his tires; the dealer is urging conservation of these supplies, and the young

RALPH DE PALMA SETS ALL SPEED MEN TO TALKING

Makes 112 Miles Per Hour for First Hour in His Aeroplane Twin Six Packard

Officials of the A. A. A. are making up their formal report on the record-breaking achievements of Ralph de Palma on the Sheepshead Bay speedway, November 16, in his aeroplane Twin Six car. Meanwhile, congratulatory messages are pouring in on De Palma and the Packard engineers.

According to the figures which there is every reason to believe the A. A. A. will certify as official, De Palma averaged more than 109 miles an hour for the entire six hours, despite stops, for tire changes, oil and gas, aggregating more than 13 minutes.

De Palma's speed car is equipped with Packard Twin Six engine, aviation type, of 300 cubic inch displacement. Both engine and chassis were built in the Packard experimental shops. The records he broke were held by Darío Rovira, Gene Chastagne and Lee K. Guinness, who alternately drove a Sunbeam car on the Brooklands track, London, 500 miles. The Sunbeam was of 900 cubic inches displacement. The record, established October 1, 1913, was not even closely approached until De Palma tackled it. He drove the entire distance himself. The Sunbeam averaged 97 miles per hour.

The first hour De Palma covered 112.96 miles; second hour, 112.45; third hour, 109.85; fourth hour, 110.14; fifth, 107.14; sixth hour, 105.52.

Those who saw the steady grind, pronounced the run the most remarkable exhibition of speed and endurance on record and warmly congratulated De Palma.

De Palma's face was badly whipped by the 110 mile gale and his mechanic, Jimmy Stees, was exhausted and half frozen at the end of the run. De Palma used Goodyear tires which gave a splendid account of themselves. The right front tire went 447 miles before it was changed, and was by no means worn through.

Expert Tire Man Urges Repair of All Small Cuts

H. C. Berggren, Recently Arrived From Michelin Branch, Preaches on Tire Waste

H. C. BERGGREN.

H. C. Berggren is a recent arrival from the mainland. He came to the Von Hamm-Young Company from the Michelin Tire branch in San Francisco. He has decided to make his home in Honolulu, and his aim will be to help motorists receive a greater number of miles out of tires. Mr. Berggren says that he is positive Honolulu is a super-paradise, and has been congratulating himself on being asked to come to Hawaii. He was agreeably surprised to find so many high grade cars and high-grade tires in Honolulu.

In discussing the tire situation today, Mr. Berggren said: "During 1917 35,000 tires were ruined by carelessness, and the majority have failed to give expected service, due to neglected cuts in the rubber on tread and side walls."

"I find on looking over the tires used in and about town that apparently an average of one tire on each car has sustained a cut in the rubber due to rocks or ruts in the road. 'If the Honolulu motorists will take a little unsolicited advice kindly, a good deal of extra mileage can be used. This can all be done without getting out of these tires if on first notice of such an injury the owner would have same vulcanized. If a bad one or if it is a minor one it can be repaired very nicely in this manner."

"First the cut should be washed out thoroughly with either benzine or gasoline and let dry. Then apply good rubber cement, let this dry, then another application also letting this dry. Then a small quantity of tire dough just enough to fill the cut should be removing the tire from rim and it is an operation of but a few minutes. The motorists who are having trouble of cutting their tires should try this and I feel sure they would receive full payment for their trouble in extra miles."

"The reason a cut, be it only a small one, can soon cause the short life of a tire is that sand and dirt enter and separate the rubber from the body of the tire. Water also enters and rots the fabric and soon a blowout will occur. A tire is human in a way and when injured and neglected it will surely die a most sad death. We know ourselves if we by accident receive an injury we immediately use a remedy to rectify this and the same should apply to an automobile tire if good service and long life is expected."

ONE TANKER CAN CARRY GASOLINE USED IN HAWAII

No Shortage in Supply Expected; Hawaii Uses 2,400,000 Gallons in a Year

Hawaii is not in danger of a gasoline famine if the supply of gasoline on the mainland holds out. According to figures presented by Arthur Wayne, manager of Smoot & Steinhauser, the amount of gasoline used in the territory is about 200,000 gallons each month.

Of this amount it is thought that 50,000 gallons are used by the army. This would mean the distribution of 2,400,000 gallons in one year. Many motorists have remarked that it would be difficult to secure boats to transport this amount from the mainland, but as a matter of fact one tanker of the Standard Oil Co. is large enough to carry the entire supply of gasoline used in Hawaii during the year. And this could be carried in one trip. According to the Standard Oil officials the largest tanker carries 92,000 barrels, or 4,500,000 gallons of gasoline, which is nearly double the amount used in the islands in one year. The average tanker carries about 2,500,000 gallons, so one can appreciate the fact that it isn't the lack of boats which will cause Hawaii any trouble with a shortage of gasoline. There are figures to show that the fuel oil supply of Hawaii is 17,000,000 gallons each year.

Save Your Tires

Prepared by the Federal Rubber Company, secured through courtesy of Honolulu Rubber Works.

Proper Inflation.
Every mile of travel with less than proper inflation means decreased tire efficiency. The principle of pneumatic tire construction is based upon the resiliency of air. The rubber and fabric of the ordinary pneumatic automobile tire form merely a container for it. To preserve this container, sufficient air pressure must be maintained within it to prevent too much flexion or bending of the fabric.

Just as a wire is readily broken by bending it sharply to and fro at the same point, so will the side walls of a tire inevitably break if constantly forced to bend too sharply. Keep tires inflated so they "stand up" fully under the weight they have to carry.

Improper Alignment.
Quick tread wear is sometimes due to misalignment of wheels. The front wheels of an automobile "toe in" slightly to make steering easier—usually about one-quarter of an inch. If there is too great a difference in the distances between the wheels the tires are subjected to a shearing wear which quickly grinds down the tread. Sometimes one front wheel is forced out of line with the same result, confined to one tire.

Misalignment in which the front wheels "toe out" is a common cause of rapid tread wear. It is usually due to a bent steering knuckle, or to wear in the steering connections. Careful motorists have the alignment of their wheels verified at regular intervals. It pays.

Unusual wear of the tread is a suspicious indication of misalignment. Your car should be immediately inspected.

79 CARS COMING HERE.

The rumor that Hawaii would be robbed of cars for the Christmas holidays does not appear to hold good as word has been received by local dealers that 79 cars will arrive from the mainland next week. These cars will be distributed among the various dealers of the city, and the salesmen are beginning to smile once again.

Figures compiled by the Canadian department of labor show that Canada is faring better than most countries in the cost of living. Since the war began the price of food in the dominion has increased 75 per cent, in Germany about 250 per cent, in Austria 200 per cent, in Norway, Denmark and Sweden about 200 per cent, in the United States 90 per cent.

Five-Year Old Youngster Operates Weed Chain Jack

"That's easy," said little Fred Crockett, son of James J. Crockett of the Von Hamm-Young Company. Like every other motorist, of course, you have toiled, sweated and said violent words as you squatted in a cramped position trying to operate an old-style hand jack under your car when you had a punctured tire. But now a chain jack is on the market that operates so easily that a 5-year-old boy can work it. Does that sound a little like stretching the truth? Well the automobile editor challenged its accuracy whereupon O. H. Shepherd, manager of the accessory department of the Von Hamm-Young Company, agents for the Weed chain jack, made a test to prove it. He tried it out on little Fred Crockett, and Fred made good. He hauled in the chain hand over hand, sailor fashion, and as he did so the wheel was lifted from the pavement as easy as could be. The others in the picture are, left to right, A. C. Linklater, J. F. Kim, O. H. Shepherd and M. G. Silva.

streakin' down her cheeks. "Oh, it makes me feel so bad to see all these cars, an' me never expectin' to own one." "Aw, cheer up; you're avoidin' a lot of trouble an' don't know it. Looks like I had a car once. It was an E. M. F. When the Studebakers bought 'em up they wrote me a letter an' says they'd send me a new name-plate, free of charge—see, an' the name plate was the only thing that never simme no trouble." Come on, kid, let's beat it, we can't keep up with the runnin' boards here!

Probably one of the handsomest motor truck exhibits ever seen at an automobile show in America was that of the United States Motor Truck company at the late Cincinnati automobile show. The event was held in the music hall. The United States company displayed a truck chassis in snow white, and the general scheme of decorations of the exhibit, which was in the north hall, was in red, white and blue. Growing plants and cut flowers were used in profusion.

U. S. SEIZES TOOLS: TURNS THEM TO USE

Six hundred machine tools, valued at $10,000,000, have been commandeered by the government through its machine tool section of the war industries board. They were taken from warehouses at various seaports. Some of them were stored for over a year and were destined for Sweden. Some of these machine tools have been turned over to the Simplex Automobile Co., which has started work on its order for 4000 Hispano-Suiza engines for the aircraft production drive.

When making motor adjustments it is usually necessary to exercise a little patience in order to get the best results for the reason that the effects of adjustments are always apparent in carburetor adjustment, for instance, the motor must be given a little time to feel the changes made, and the results obtained immediately following the turn of a needle valve or an air valve spring may be misleading.

AUTO SUPPLY CO. SENDS ANOTHER MAN TO JOIN THE COLORS

James Makinner is the latest member of the Auto Service & Supply Company to join the colors. He left Honolulu recently for Washington, D. C., where he will go in training in the 88th and 89th corps. Makinner had charge of the office work at the Auto Service & Supply Company and was very popular on Automobile row. He was a member of the Hui Nalu swimming team. Makinner is the fourth employee of this company to enlist. George Perry, who is in the navy, R. E. Lambert, now on the Carl Schurz, and E. A. Ross, who recently joined the navy, are the other three automobile men from this house who are now in service.

Ray Reed Stands Up When the Old Band Plays Dixie

Ray H. Reed of the Auto Service & Supply Company stands up every time the band plays Dixie. He has always been a friend of the south and sings Mobile Bay, On the Mississippi and other melodies with much gusto, but since the company has been handling the Dixie magneto Mr. Reed is always glad to meet any one from the land of cotton.

"I have always wanted to get in close touch with the Dixie since it was recently brought into favor," said Mr. Reed.

The Dixie is a distinctly new type of magneto and has nothing in common with the old rotary armature design. It is like any of the known inductor types.

The Dixie is of the true high tension or jump spark type, operating on the Mason Principle, fully covered patents. Its striking features are marked efficiency, great mechanical simplicity and long life of operation.

The rotating member consists of two pieces of magnetic material separated by a non-magnetic center piece. This member constitutes true rotating poles for the magnet and rotor in a field structure, composed of laminated field pieces, riveted between two non-magnetic rings. The windings for the rotating poles are mounted in steel plates, which lie against the poles of the magnets.

When the magnet poles rotate, the magnetic lines of force from each magnet pole are carried directly to the field pieces and through the windings, without reversal through the mass of the rotating member and with only a single air gap. There are no losses of flux reversal in the rotating part, as is the case in other machines, and this accounts for the high efficiency of the instrument.

And this "Mason Principle" is used in the operation of the Dixie simplified by a glance at the field

MANY ACCIDENTS DUE TO IMPROPER SIGNALS AT TURN

Many accidents are being reported on account of faulty signals given by motorists. A number of drivers are under the impression that it is necessary to stick out their hand when turning to the right. In many cases this procedure has caused accidents.

With a car having a right hand drive the motorist who wishes to make a turn to the left may stick out either hand, signifying that a turn will be made. When going to the right it is not necessary to signal. The car with a left hand drive requires a signal when a turn is made to the left but no signal when turning to the right. If a hand is placed down it shows that the motorist intends to stop his car.

According to J. K. McAlpine of the Schuman Carriage Company about 50 per cent of the accidents in the city are due to improper signaling. In addition to the accidents there is much wear and tear on cars which would be unnecessary if the proper signals were observed.

Structure, consisting of the non-magnetic rings, assembled to which are the field pieces between which the rotating poles revolve. Rotating between the limbs of the magnets, these two pieces of magnetic material form true extensions to the poles of the magnets, and are, in consequence, always of the same polarity. It will be seen there is no reversal of the magnetism through them, and consequently no eddy current or hysteresis losses which are present in the usual inductor or inductor types.

This is one of the most important features of the 'Mason Principle'. It is not found in any other magneto, and gives the Dixie its pre-eminence in producing a full spark at slowest possible engine speed.

Stell and Nell See A White Car But It Is Red

Stell and Nell were intent on looking over the cars in motor row last week and after a journey to von Hamm-Young Company they wandered over to the Schuman Carriage Company where they began to swap arguments on the various cars.

"Oh, I see my car," says Nell. "That swell red car down there."

"Oh, you mean that white car?" says Stell.

"Naw, that red car!"

"Sure! that white car painted red!"

"Well, it's red now, ain't it?"

"Yes, but it's a white car!" says Stell.

"Say, are you cuckoo? Is the gasoline gettin' to your head, or wot? How can it be a white car if it's a red car? Are you gettin' color blind?"

"Well, I bet you a box of candy that red car you see is a white car!"

"Alright, come on, you poor simp, we'll ask the man that owns it and see what he says. Say, Mr. —, is this a red car or a white car?"

"It is both, miss," says he, laughingly.

"Whattaya mean!" says Nell. "One of us is crazy."

"Well, you see, miss, it is a white car painted red!"

"Aw, nix on that stuff—that's wot she says—but if it's a white car painted red, it's a red car ain't it?"

"Yes, miss—a red car, of course, but a white car always."

Nell was just goin' to call for a doctor when she read the name plate on the car, which said "White"—an', say, where can you get a big box of candy for 50 cents?"

They're tryin' to sell that red White to Fudge Summers. He's got a white White now, but if you see him in a red White it ain't his white White painted red—it's his red White, See! Can you follow me?"

"Whattcha cryin' for, Stell?" says Nell, noticin' that her eyelashes was

Territorial Messenger Service Standardize on Trucks

The Territorial Messenger Service, agents for the Alexander Young Hotel laundry, have been one of the first, if not the first, concerns in Honolulu to standardize on delivery trucks. The above picture shows four of the trucks used by this concern. They are the Vim Light Express trucks which have become very popular on the mainland as well as in Hawaii. According to the members of the firm the truck is light and inexpensive to operate. The Young Hotel has used these trucks for safe work delivery and have also found them to be a success.

GERMAN AUTO WORKS PREPARE TO EXPAND

[By Associated Press] AMSTERDAM.—Automobile works in Germany are preparing for expansion on an enormous scale for the production of aircraft. One of the foremost factories has just voted to increase its capital from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000. Special facilities have been granted by the German government for the flotation of the new shares. A circular issued by the company said: "We entered the war with large reserves for extension purposes, but this has been used up by the large demands of the war. We can no longer speak of "expanding" our works, but must use the term "multiplying" them."

Carbon One of Worst Ailments Of Engine Says Henry Hughes

Automobile Expert Says Carbon is Responsible for Many Evils Which are Blamed on Gasoline, Carbureter, Cooling System and Manufacturer—Carbon Gets Under Exhaust Valves and Gums Up Piston Rings So Motor Loses Compression

When asked what was one of the worst ailments of an engine the other day, Henry Hughes, the automobile expert, replied: "Carbon." When asked the reason for bringing carbon into the question he said: "The presence of carbon is not often suspected, and the evils which follow are oftentimes attributed to other than the real cause, but you can make up your mind that carbon has a lot to do with it."

"The motor appears to be sluggish, does not respond readily to the throttle, particularly on a hill, and the driver blames the gasoline, the carbureter, the cooling system and sometimes the manufacturer. But he oftentimes forgets the carbon end of it."

"So bear in mind the many troubles traceable to carbon the next time you find the motor is not pulling as it should," he concluded.

MOTOR HONKS
By OTTO HORNE

First play in the crankshaft is apt to end by being noticed when the car is throttled down to around five miles per hour, when so-called bucking will take place, accompanied by knocking. If the play is excessive the knocking will be heard as the speed increases.

Best results can be secured from a motor-cooling system by keeping the radiator cells free from foreign matter. Particularly on long trips over bad roads the interstices of the radiator are packed with dirt and mud, retaining the heat which should be dissipated in radiation.

Every person riding, driving, pedaling or in charge of any vehicle upon any street shall, in overtaking any other vehicle, pass to the left of such vehicle and the person in charge of such vehicle being overtaken and passed shall give way to the extreme right to allow such vehicle to pass with safety.

A deposit of dust on the reflector or lens often cuts down the light to a marked degree. The owner should make a weekly habit of wiping the dust from these parts. While doing this it is a good plan to inspect the cable connection. Vibration often loosens it and the poor contact results in a loss of light and waste of current.

If you're in the least doubt about your tires, better get new ones if you are going to drive on a vacation trip. You don't want to carry the haunting thought that you have a casing or two that may be let go any minute when you are supposed to be out for enjoyment. The tires you take off may be carried as spares, and you'll be assured of a trouble-free trip.

An interesting and profitable trip that every motorist should take, but very few think of, is a trip under the hood to see the condition of things there. Inspect brake connections to see if there are any which do not get attention when the car is cided. See if they are wearing out or weakening. Sometimes one finds grease cups that have been neglected for a long time. Also inspect the universal joint to see if it is loosening up or needs grease.

Owners of new cars to have the hood. It often is disappointing to many finish suddenly become dull while the rest of the car retains its bright finish. Once the hood finish has become "dead" it is almost impossible to bring back its luster without refinishing it. Its dullness is brought about by the action of the engine heat, but is made worse by washing when the hood is hot. In order to protect the hood finish it has been found necessary by some makers to line the hood with asbestos so that the heat cannot work through. The sheet asbestos used for this is comparatively inexpensive.

In spite of the present day standardization, a number of different sized bolts are used on the motor car. It is often difficult to carry in the tool box bolts of all the sizes that may be required.

One motorist has found that it is handy to thread different sized rods the entire length, say ten or twelve inches. When a bolt is needed it can be cut from the rod and a nut or two be put on the end, making a very satisfactory bolt. These rods can be bent to make U-shaped bolts or any other required shape. Plenty of nuts can be carried right on the rods and

MOTOR CARS CARRY MORE PERSONS THAN RAILROAD TRAINS

American transportation now must look to the motor car as its chief factor. The car has caught up with and passed the railroads in importance as a factor in transportation in this country. In a recent issue the Wall Street Journal declares that motor cars will carry many more passengers than the steam lines this year.

On a basis of 3,000,000 passenger cars in use this year, and an average mileage per car of 6,000, the motor car mileage for 1917 will be 18,000,000,000, assuming an average load of three passengers. The passenger mileage by motor for 1917 will be 54,000,000,000. Railroad traffic now amounts to 35,000,000,000 passenger miles yearly, which is less than the passenger mileage of motor cars, if we assumed an average load of two.

Motor car competition affects chiefly the railroads in the thickly settled eastern portions of the country, this authority states, the big cities and the recreation regions.

EMBARGOES REDUCE EXPORT AUTO TRADE

The placing of embargoes by certain foreign countries has cut down export passenger car and truck business from the United States, the gross valuation with parts, of $133,000,000 for the last twelve months being slightly less than for the previous year, although the cars were greater, numbering 89,811.

The increase is coming from countries not engaged in the war, and it is worth noting that American products last year were shipped to more than eighty different countries.

The whole be tied in a package that will not rattle around in the tool box.

"Have used a Savage Tire for 2 1/2 years—have made 10,000 miles. It is still good for 2,500 more."—D. G. Durbin, El Cajon, California.

15,000 miles, still in use.
"July 12, 1915, purchased Savage Non-Skid tire. February 4, 1917, was still in use, while on opposite wheel we had worn out two other standard makes of tires—Savage has given 15,000 miles."—George & Co., Lincoln, Nebraska.

11,000 miles, Savages all round.
"Have four Savages on my car. One has gone 10,814 miles, one 7,428, one 7,419, and one 2,500. All in good condition and will get several thousand miles more from each."—D. J. Miller, Contractor, San Diego.

REALIZED UNITED STATES WAS GREATEST DEMOCRACY AFTER HE HAD ARRIVED IN HONOLULU

Vladimir Kyrmoff, Editor of a Russian Magazine, Was on His Way to New Zealand. But Turned Toward Mainland America After Coming Here; Now Touring States for Materials for Articles

Vladimir Kyrmoff, owner and editor of the magazine Capital and Country of Russia, former manager of the great Petrograd newspaper Novoye Vremya and correspondent for the Russky Slovo of Moscow, changed his mind in Honolulu just a month ago as to which was the foremost democracy of the world. He came here to take a Canadian-Australian line to New Zealand which he at that time believed was the leading exponent of democracy, but it was in this city that he learned that not New Zealand, but United States was the leading land in this respect and accordingly, instead of going south he went East. He is now touring United States writing his impressions of the country for a number of Russian newspapers.

In recent articles published in one of the Eastern exchanges he tells of "Revolutionized Russia" and describes in an interesting way the tremendous upheaval which took place in the "Land of the Little Father." In part his articles read: During the latter part of last February, when it was least expected, the revolution took place in a surprisingly simple and easy way. Everybody was thinking of revolution in Russia, but all thought would occur after the conclusion of hostilities, when the soldiers returned to their villages from the trenches.

All understood that the government must be changed; that the political regime of the Middle Ages—with a profligate monk at the head of all power, with fortune-tellers and the evil-possessed occupying the places of honor at the Court, with the singing of Te Deums and saying of masses for the dead instead of schools, and with ikon (images) instead of railways and plows—was out of place in the twentieth century. This condition could not last. But no one thought the revolution would occur so rapidly. Even those very soldiers and workmen, who compelled the Petrograd Government so quickly and so easily to relinquish authority, would not have believed that it could happen.

During the war wages had doubled or tripled. Yet when the workman returned home from the factory he did not find his wife or his supper. His wife was standing in the "queue," waiting for her turn to obtain a pound of sugar or two pounds of bread. Meat had disappeared entirely. Then sugar also vanished. The prices for all kinds of food were going higher and higher, notwithstanding the steps taken by the government. The price of wood (which is generally used as fuel in Russia) rose from seven roubles to fifty roubles per cord, as cold weather set in. The people of Petrograd thought less of revolution than of how to get milk for their children and whether they would have any dinner tomorrow.

The working people and their families filled the streets demanding bread. Nobody demanded a "revolution." The troops were ordered to disperse the crowds. The crowds did not obey. Order was given to shoot—the troops refused to shoot. And this was the revolution.

One month after the revolution I asked for a foreign passport. "What business calls you abroad?" I was asked.

"I go for impressions."

"Travelling for impressions is not permitted!"

And I was refused a passport. I had not been in New Zealand, and New Zealand is considered the foremost democracy of the world. I made a contract with the largest Russian newspaper to go to New Zealand, study the political state of the country and write a series of articles.

"To study the political state of the foremost democracy in the world," sounded so well to the contemporary Russian ear, that when I put my application in that form, the foreign passport was granted me immediately.

I left for New Zealand. In Yokohama I bought tickets for a steamer of the Canadian-Australian line, and arrived at Honolulu in due course to get on board her. But by the time I had found out that the state of things in New Zealand would show nothing new to our contemporary Russia. Our ideas and aspirations went far ahead of New Zealand. Her State socialism proposition now appeared to us no more than a childish prattle, when we desired complete abolition of private property.

Probably several distressing years will pass before we, having gained our liberty, will understand it is impossible by a single stroke to change unlimited monarchy into anarchical communism; that the experience of other and more cultured States must teach us progressive ways of action; that the main thing at this important juncture should be schools, more schools, and still more schools.

Our ignorant peasant at the present moment does not believe even those best men of Russia, who by their quiet, patient and unnoticed work during decades made possible this great change. The peasant closes hospitals and agricultural stations, drives teachers away from villages, mistrusts every decently dressed man. The men who sacrificed their lives for the service of the people found themselves strangers to the peasants, who no longer believed in them, so often had they been deceived. The land will be given to peasants now, but until the schools, thousands of schools, are built upon this land, there will be no order in Russia, and no stable government.

When in the beginning of the last century the Russian throne was to be occupied by Constantine, the people shouted:

"Long live Constantine!"

And when those who shouted were asked if they knew what "Constantine" meant they answered, "That is the wife of Constantine." Many in the Russian villages picture to themselves "the Republic" in the shape of something like the name of "Zaritsa." Others, with a little more schooling, believe that it is a state where there are no "authorities," no necessity of paying taxes, and where "all the poor will become rich." Candidates who promise this are the only ones who can be successful, and they will probably be elected to the convention.

Russia is the land of paradoxes. In Russia the impossible is possible. The Russian people will be one of the foremost democracies of the world. Perhaps, replacing France, Russia will be the universal social laboratory. But years must pass before we understand what government we should have. Years must pass before we understand what is permissible and what is not permissible.

On the second day of the revolution in Petrograd the owners of automobiles had their machines taken away from them. Who was taking them away? Anybody who wanted them. The chauffeur of a friend of mine suggested to his employer: "I'll get you an automobile, and drive you. You will pay me 50 roubles a day."

My friend agreed, and the next day the chauffeur arrived in an excellent Packard car, carrying a revolver in his belt. "Where did you get the machine?" "I requisitioned it," replied the chauffeur.

He drove my friend about three days; on the fourth day he came without the automobile.

"What happened to the car?" "They requisitioned it from me." "Why did you give it up?" "How could I refuse, when there were two men—and with Mousers, at that!"

In the streets of New York our Russian tricolor is seen flying with the emblems of the other Allies. Should such a flag be hung out at present in Petrograd, the crowd would demolish the house where it was displayed—this tricolor is the flag of the old regime.

During the first few days of the revolution, crowds were going along the streets tearing down the State coats-of-arms.

"This is a State coat-of-arms, not Romanoff's. Why do you tear it down?" some one protested.

"Knock him down!" was the crowd's response. The normal life of Petrograd is at a standstill. People are anxious to leave, and a premium of 500 roubles is paid for tickets to Moscow. "Queues" a mile long stretch from the cashier's window at railroad depots; people stand waiting for three days to reach them, and then not sure they will obtain a ticket. The main occupation of the populace seems to be waiting in line for something.

There were formerly in Petrograd 18,000 drozki drivers. Only 700 remain now and you have to pay three roubles to ride the distance which used to cost but thirty copeks. Stores close at 4 o'clock, and many are shut down entirely. The tramway traffic is greatly cut down. You have to walk, but shoes cost a hundred roubles a pair. The newspapers print not so much what the editor desires as what the workmen allow. The Nevsky Prospect—our Broadway—is unrecognizable. The fashionable public has disappeared. Crowds of people and soldiers are in evidence. Sidewalks are littered with shells of sunflower seeds (the peanuts of Russia), remnants of food and papers. Peddlers of all kinds of trash, taking advantage of the absence of the police, swarm upon the Nevsky. Street urchins shout at the top of their voices:

"Story of Rasputin! Rasputin in Romanoff's family circle! Secrets of the Winter Palace! Letters of the Czarina to Rasputin!"

Something mystical comes to my mind. When Nicholas II. was asked if his railway car to sign the act of abdication of the Russian throne, the Czar looked at the calendar—it was the first of March! (In the first of March, 1881, his grandfather, Alexander II, was assassinated. The czar's 2,000 years ago warned Julius Caesar "Beware the Ides of March.")

At the present moment, witnessing all these wonderful facts, the people of Russia have lost their balance. They are intoxicated with the liberty so long wished for. This will amaze itself. The iron organism of Russia is capable of enduring the severest trials and the future of the new Republic is bright.

A leading wool merchant in Port Elizabeth states that owing to delay in accepting the universal government's offer to purchase the South African wool clip buyers are operating freely, and the prospects of the imperial government securing the clip at 55 per cent above the prices of 1913-14 are more remote than ever.

AMERICA'S SPEED IN WAR BIG SURPRISE TO JAPAN

Active Participation, Despatch of Troops to France, Conscription and Other Radical Courses Prove Revelation to Nipponese, Who are Now Chided By Own Writers for Inactivity

By ADACHI KINOSUKE
(In New York Sun)

What the United States has done since she has entered the world war has been at once a shock and a revelation to Japan. It has made her feel a bit ashamed of her own part in the war so far, for one thing.

Compared to the broad and stately statement of the war aims of President Wilson of the United States, writes Dr. Furukawa in the October issue of Chuo-koron, one of the leading magazines of Japan, "the narrowness and smallness of the vision of our own statements are indeed beyond all amazement."

America's war activities have made an impression upon Japan—an impression profound and nation wide. All the more so because Japan, to make a clean breast of it, did not believe that the United States would do precisely the things (and so many of them) which America has already done—raising a tremendous army at an almost unimaginable expense and trouble; actually sending her own army to Europe, and still more amazing even than that, the United States sending an army that is really an army, an expeditionary force of more than 200,000 men and more on the way constantly.

There is a time when Japan did not understand America.

Has Been Misreading America

The fact is Japan has been misreading America and the Americans (not quite as badly and persistently perhaps as America has been misreading Japan), but quite vitally enough. Japan for years has been luxuriating herself in that paradise of fool notions that in the United States a bootblack on a street corner is something of a mechanical genius and that every pedler along any old highway was a potential millionaire.

But when it came to the soldier and war business, why, America was so profoundly indifferent to such matters and supremely bored and averse to the mere thought of the thing that she went into a Rip Van Winkle sleep straightaway.

Therefore, when the United States declared war against Germany Japan at once jumped to the conclusion that America would do one and all of the following things, and on a vast and heroic scale, but not very much more:

1. America would loan almost limitless money to the Entente Allies. That would turn her from the debtor nation she had been before the war into the world creditor and naturally bring about the shifting of the financial center of the world from London to New York.

2. America would supply the war materials to her allies in a much more extensive manner than she has done hitherto as a neutral. That would attract more and more wealth to her.

3. America would take advantage of this crisis in the war to wrest the command of the merchant shipping from the great sea powers of the world. She would create a merchant fleet that would at the close of the war sweep the British and the German and the Japanese flags from the four seas.

4. In the process of financing other powers fighting Germany America would continue to absorb more and more of the American securities held by foreign capitalists and consolidate her position as the world banker.

5. She would take the advantage of the prevailing situation in the world commerce—as Japan has been trying to do for so long in her own meager and feeble fashion—to replace the wares of her commercial competitors in the markets of the world, so that the end of the world war would find her in a much more favorable position as a world merchant than she has ever been in her history.

Sending Army a Shock

Japan believed that America would do all these things—but to send her own soldiers to Europe and by hundreds of thousands, why, Japan had not the slightest idea of any such thing. Where was the American army any more?

I have simply summarized the views of Dr. Horiya, one of the many and ceaselessly writing Japanese economists, expressed in an article in a recent number of the Taiyo. It is, I believe, the views of a large majority of Japanese students of America and of American affairs.

"Even if recruiting of the vast army of the United States works out as smoothly as planned," said the Osaka Asahi as late as September, commenting on the possibility of seeing a great American army in Europe, "what about the training of the men? Whether America can get the expected number of efficient men in so short a time is an exceedingly questionable affair."

And the Asahi is the most popular newspaper in Japan; its daily circulation is more than 400,000 copies, therefore well qualified to take its rank among the great dailies of the United States. It usually voices the popular sentiment of the majority of the people by whom it is favored. At any rate, there is not the slightest doubt that the editorial quoted voiced the popular conception of a large number of Japanese people concerning the American army.

Japanese Bewildered

Then the news of the raising of the American army of over 1,000,000 men almost overnight came to them. More wonderful still came the story of the magic transformation of peace-loving American citizens into a thoroughly modern fighting machine. The Japanese did not have time to cover their ears, as they say there; they were simply bewildered.

And the most natural of all the questions in the world under the circumstances begin to rise among them: "Americans are in the war but for a few months. We have been in it for years now, almost from the very start. And 200,000 American soldiers are already in France; countless more are lacking the decks of transports ready to brave the submarine. America, whom we thought would never fight, the United States which we thought had no army at all! And we who are rather prouder than not of our fighting men and fighting spirit, we, why, we are right here at home. And it is not because we lack invitations from Europe to come over and do our bit either. Why?"

This is not the first time that the question of sending the Japanese army to Europe has been discussed among our people. Never before, however, has it been seriously discussed or widely as a practical possibility. It is so discussed now and by people who had laughed at the very thought of the thing.

Feasible to Transport Troops?

In its enthusiasm the Asahi goes so far as to cry down the objection to the whole scheme based on the lack of transportation facilities fit to carry anything like an adequate body of the Japanese army over to Europe. It reminds the reader that several thousands of Russian soldiers were transported to Europe through the Japanese port of Tairen—the old Dalney of the Russian memory—it points out the present and living fact that many thousands of the Chinese coolies are even this very day being transported from Shantung to Europe.

In this, of course, the Asahi allows the quick witted popular editorial pace to run away with the sombre logic of the actual fact. Because less than 100,000 Russian soldiers—at the outside—have been successfully transported from a Manchurian port overseas to France, or because a few thousand Chinese coolies have been carried in a similar manner to the fighting front in Europe, it does not in the least justify anybody, even the popular newspaper editor, to jump to the conclusion that 1,000,000 soldiers of Japan, with all their fighting equipment—arms, munitions and food, yes, food, a large portion of food anyway (for the Japanese would find it almost impossible to fight up to his high standard on anything but the food to which he has been accustomed)—can be transported over 10,000 miles of seas.

It does not seem to occur to an editorial writer on a popular newspaper like the Asahi that it takes ships to carry an army of 1,000,000 men from Japan to Europe. But it should. It does not seem to occur to him to look into how much tonnage Japan can command for any such enterprise, but it should.

At the end of last year the official figures of all the Japanese merchant fleet were 2159 steamers, of the aggregate tonnage of 1,626,531. But of the number there were only 447 vessels above 1000 tons, with the total tonnage of 1,431,077. A liberal estimate of the ships which the Japanese government can command at present for transporting its army to France would not exceed 300,000 tons. Allowing less than 5 tons of shipping per soldier with all his equipment, it would take more than two and a half times as many ships as the Japanese army of 1,000,000 men from the Far East to the fighting front in Europe.

What about the trans-Siberian line?

It does not seem to occur to an editorial writer on a popular newspaper like the Asahi that it takes ships to carry an army of 1,000,000 men from Japan to Europe. But it should. It does not seem to occur to him to look into how much tonnage Japan can command for any such enterprise, but it should.

RELIEVE HEADACHES WITHOUT DOSING

Painful Attacks Stopped Without Internal Treatment By Sloan's Liniment

What greater comfort than to get rid of that throbbing, persistent pain in the brow or temple? When of neuralgic origin, Sloan's Liniment applied at painful points or along nerves of forehead promptly soothes and stops the pain. Often a headache goes, if the blood be drawn from the brain by the counter-irritation of Sloan's Liniment at the back of the neck, along the spine or at the feet. Headache being also a symptom of various bodily disorders, its constant recurrence may call for a physician's advice.

No need to rub Sloan's Liniment. It penetrates quickly and brings relief at once. In other forms of neuralgia and rheumatism, sciatica, sprains, strains, bruises and all external pains, the most distressing aches disappear before its quick soothing relief.

Sloan's Liniment is cleaner than musky plasters or poultices as it does not stain the skin. Generous size bottles at druggists everywhere. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

The commissioners from the United States to Russia did not come back with an abnormally exhilarating picture of the condition of Russian railways. The tremendous and ever-mounting accumulation of freight at Vladivostok does not speak eloquently of the ability of the Siberian line to handle an army of a million men.

With all that, the almost incredible and really magnificent achievement of the United States in whipping together a vast and valiant army and sending it to the very trenches of France has played like a lash upon a large section of the people of Japan.

Baron Togo, a member of the house of peers, who had made a tour of observation all through the fighting front in Europe not so long ago, denounces the war efforts of his own country as ridiculously meagre and the sacrifices Japan has gone through because of the world war as utterly negligible compared to those of any of her allies. In his comprehensive article published in the Taiyo he presents several channels through which Japan might help the cause of the Entente Allies. But he opens the article with a bold and scathing statement that Japan is lagging behind in the discharge of her war duties; that she is not doing what she should in the war.

"In the light of what the other countries of the Entente Allies are doing Japan seems to look upon the world war as upon a fire on the other side of a river. Her attitude appears cold."

Japan has prospered through the war. She has produced several varieties of narkin (mushroom) millionaires and everywhere the country is bathing in waves of gold. On the other hand, all this seems to have resulted in arousing envy and suspicion on the part of her allies. And that is most regrettable.

By far the ablest presentation of the effect of the American entry into the world war upon Japan was made by Mr. Kichitaka Sugawara, a member of the house of peers and an ex-vice minister of finance, in his recent contribution to the Taiyo. Mr. Sugawara was in the United States in the early part of this year and an interview with him which The Sunday Sun published on April 27, 1917, commanded a wide interest not only among the financial circles in the United States but in Japan and China.

"That the time of bringing about peace will be dictated along all the practical aspects of the war by the will of the United States is as incontestable as that the war will end in the victory of the Entente Allies," is the emphatic manner he registers his faith in the title role America is destined to play.

"Among our own people there are very few who can read the national character of the American people with an understanding eye. It is an extreme blunder to think that the American ever rushes into individualism and is partial to materialistic tendencies. The strength, one might almost say the violence, of the spring of sacrifice that is in him and the intensity of his enthusiasm for public service and heroic justice are beyond our admiration and wonder. We should learn many practical lessons from the attitude of the United States."

BRITISH IN U. S. TO BE DRAFTED

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 27. — A warning to British and Canadian residents in the United States that they cannot escape doing their duty while their fellow citizens in Great Britain and Canada are being drafted for service and their neighbors in the United States, who are citizens, are being drafted here, was issued tonight by Brigadier-General W. A. White, head of the British-Canadian recruiting mission in this country.

"The mission has established recruiting depots through the country," General White said in a statement, "to give Britishers and Canadians an opportunity to volunteer for service through these depots. Some thirteen thousand men have been enlisted and sent forward to the British and Canadian armies."

"Pending the completion of the conventions which it is expected Secretary Lansing will submit to Congress," he added, "a very active campaign is to be carried on all over the United States through the British and Canadian recruiting mission. This will give all Britons and Canadians opportunity to volunteer for service instead of waiting to be drafted."

No man can do better than to fight for the United States. And it is better that he do that fighting in the enemy's country than in his own. Our soldiers will be fighting today in France in order that they or their sons may not be fighting some years hence in America to defend America.—Minneapolis Journal.

Uncle Sam's Biggest Cantonment, Camp Lewis, Washington, Where 56,000 Men Train For War

Albert Horner, Sr., has received from his second son, Foster Horner, this photo of Camp Lewis, together with other views of the place where many thousands of young Americans are being prepared for war service. The camp is seven and a half miles from end to end and was put up with phenomenal speed. The large buildings seen in the foreground were completed at the average rate of one every four and a half hours. American Lake, the site of Camp Lewis, is one of the finest training grounds in the United States. It is now a city of soldiers. Foster Horner is one of those in the patriotic service.

THE FLAG.

(With due regards to that dear old Harp and the flag my father waved.) Look! look, my boy, here comes the flag. Hats off! attention, men! O my dear boy, what supreme joy. To wave our flag again. To wave its blazing colors high. And about, that freedom will not die. That glorious flag that knows no stain. None grander earth beholds. The oppressed of earth can find a berth. 'Neath its protecting folds. And they come from near or far: Need fear no kaiser, king or czar. 'Tis the one lone flag that guarantees. The brotherhood of man. No purer one beneath the sun. "Since first the world began." And they of it who'll bespeak. Just crush 'em as you would a snake. It first saw light at Lexington. Theopt on Bunker Hill. The oft assailed, its foemen failed. It's honors shining still: Through a hundred battles for the right. It's still triumphant in its might. For four long years I bore its staff. From Manassas to the end. But now my boy, I am a soldier. You must it's folds defend. Defend it with your life my boy. 'Gainst scheming kaiser or Prussian spy. —M. D. A.

THE WOMAN!

A woman's life is like a rose, red, full with life's vigor, white with inimitable anguish, yellow at the event of a great sorrow. Her heart is like a violet hidden in the undergrowth, sometimes unable to be found, but if we seek we find and are amazed at its splendor. Her hair is like jasmine, in whose wealth we wish to bury our sorrow. —THEODOR BRAND, Co. E. 32nd Infantry.

SAMMIES SMILED AT CAPTURE SAYS GERMAN ACCOUNT

Americans Made Determined Resistance in Hand-to-Hand Fighting

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—A report received from the western front describing the American troops in action, says:

"Independent American units have been thrown into the trench line. The 'it hat has given way to the English-fashioned steel helmet and the whistling and bursting of shells have become familiar sounds to American ears."

"For the first time since they have been participating as independent contingents the Americans have tasted the real hand scuffle. But this time the shells did not merely fly over their heads, but into the very trenches they had selected, and presently, with an infernal noise, these things, which the young soldiers believed to be a firm protection, began to quake and burst."

"And hard on the heels of this, a firm attack by our onrushing Bavarian reserves forced the way into the American trenches and musket shots and bursting hand grenades relieved the artillery fire."

"Our new opponents made a most determined defense and desperate hand-to-hand fighting set in. Butts of guns, flats and hand grenades were freely brought into play and many men fell to the ground before the rest gave up resistance and surrendered. After a bare hour the German storming troops were back in their own trenches with booty and prisoners."

"There they stood before us, these young men from the land of liberty. They were sturdy and sportsmanlike in build. Good natured smiles radiated from their blue eyes and they were quite surprised that we didn't propose to shoot them down, as they had seen lead in the French training camp to believe we would do."

MUNITIONS CACHE FOUND AT HUN'S HOME IN CANADA

(By MIKE JAY)

Whether the Germans in the state of Washington ever intended to invade Canada was never definitely decided to the satisfaction of the people of Washington state and British Columbia. In Captain Grasshof's diary published Thursday by the Star-Bulletin, mention is made that efforts were directed towards circulating stories of invasion of Canada by the Germans from United States, so that Canada would retain her troops at home instead of sending them to France.

During the spring of 1915, stories were current and published daily in both the Canadian and American newspapers on the Pacific coast regarding a possibility of the Germans invading British Columbia. Some of the stories published even stated that the Germans were massing at Sumas, Wash., to invade Canada, but investigation proved this to be false.

But what newspapers in Canada never published and what newspapers in United States never published because of the censorship on the Canadian side which prohibited the news being carried across the boundary line, was the fact that at the country home of Alvo von Alvensleben, who is well known in Chicago, Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., as a German promoter and a personal friend of the Kaiser, was found a huge depot of ammunition, guns and machine gun equipment. This cache was buried under a statue in the grounds of the home which was located less than 10 miles from the international border. Other acts of Alvo von Alvensleben, who by the way was arrested in Portland during the summer of this year and has now been interned, led the Canadian authorities to set out after him shortly after war was declared in 1914, but he came to the United States. If there had never been any intention of attack Canada, then why the cache of arms is a question which has never been answered satisfactorily, and probably will not be answered until after the war is over.

At the annual meeting of the Employers' Federation at Melbourne, the chairman advocated the suspending of the commonwealth arbitration act during the war, with a view to its repeal or amendment after the war.

Bulletin's 1918 Home And School Garden Contest Announced

FOR PRIZES AND NEW DISTRICTS COMPLETED; MANY TO ENTER COMPETITION

Will Open January 1--Full Details and Rules Contestants May Start at Any Time--Success of Year Will be Repeated

Star-Bulletin School Farm and Garden Contest for 1918, will open on January 1, as announced by this paper at the close of last year.

Schools and all children attending them enter in this contest and it is assured that the number of entries will be large. The contest is to promote active and intelligent culture among the children of the city and to be conducted on the same general lines as the contest of 1917. The products to be grown are to be judged by the rules. This is to be done so that the children may devote themselves to the greatest food value and also to the most healthful conditions.

The number of prizes will be increased to 100 and will be changed to the extent of making each one smaller, but the number of prizes will be materially increased.

Districts for judging will also be re-arranged to enable the judges to more freely visit the gardens; also to group the schools in districts, both among the city and country, and each school as a whole, with conditions that are practically the same.

HOAULU will remain one district as before, but the number of prizes will be increased to 100.

HOAULU will be divided into three districts. The prizes will be as follows:

HOAULU will include the following schools: Hahaione, Koolau, Anahola, Kapahi, Kapapa, Kalaheo and Kaula High.

HOAULU will be as follows: First Prize $15.00, Second Prize $10.00, Third Prize $7.00, Fourth Prize $5.00.

Educational News of Special Interest To Teachers In Hawaii's Schools

By Vaughan MacCaughey, College of Hawaii

CAPT. CLARENCE A. PERRY

Many teachers in Hawaii's schools know of Clarence A. Perry. The author of "The Wider Use of the School Plant" and associate director of the Department of Recreation of the Russell Sage Foundation, an honored member of the executive committee of the National Community Center Association, has suddenly appeared in Hawaii with two bars on his epaulettes. Those who have known of his service at Plattsburg officers' reserve corps camp and of his hard work and successful work for the War Department commission on training camp activities were not surprised. He carried community center opportunity into the lives of the soldiers about Washington during the past summer, planning all kinds of recreational advantages and amusements for them.

The secretary of war has fittingly recognized this by placing him in the training camp of the new national quartermaster's department in the army soon to assemble on Long Island.

This will bring him in touch with the soldiers during their leisure hours, an opportunity he seeks, hours when they are playful and ready for outlets that will help or mar. No man is better fitted than Mr. Perry to fill this important post. The new army is fortunate to have such a trained specialist in such a strategic community center.

Special Classes Needed in Many Schools of Hawaii

In many of the schools of Hawaii, both public and private, there is a large and genuine need for special classes. The special class is a recognition of the fact that all children of the same age have not equal capacity for education and training.

If our public schools are to do their work with real efficiency, the special class is a necessity.

In every school district there are children who, under present conditions are not receiving educational benefits commensurate with the effort and money expended on them. They include the retarded, the intractable, the backward and the mentally deficient.

The latter is probably the largest, as it is certainly the most important of these groups. These children are a drag on the classes and teachers, especially so where school attendance is enforced. They account for a disproportionate share of absenteeism and truancy. They have the same claim upon the state for an education as a normal child. This education can be made of largest profit to the child and community if directed along lines that shall give him industrial training and habits adjusted to his mental and physical capacity to acquire and retain. In every graded elementary school and rural school district the number of these children warrants the organization of one or more special classes.

Moving Into Canada

Emigration from the United States into Western Canada for the first ten months of 1917 amounted to 33,124 persons. For the same period of 1918 the number was 15,960, and for 1919 only 8,191. Many American teachers are taking positions in Canada.

The Illinois State Legislature

1. Cultivation and watering (time spent).
2. Weather conditions.
3. Insect and pest troubles and remedies applied.
4. Financial report.

Forms for these reports to be furnished by the Star-Bulletin. These reports should be kept up and dated at all times.

When the judges visit they will call for the reports, which will form a basis for marking the garden work.

The judges for the contest will be announced at a later date. There will be at least three in each of the districts mentioned. The Vocational Instructors will cooperate with these committees, except for the district where there is no vocational instructor, in which case the supervising principal will assist.

Each school and home gardener must choose his crops from the following list only: Sweet potatoes, white potatoes, beans, onions, beets, peanuts, carrots, cabbage, Japanese radish and Kohlrabi. Only plants in this list will receive credit, except where permission is given by the Vocational Instructor to plant other crops.

The judges will visit each school garden at least three times during the contest. At each visit they will examine the grounds, the condition of the garden and examine the report as to the financial and business methods used in conducting garden work. They will visit home gardens at least twice during the contest, at which time they will make the same examination as in the case of the school gardens.

Score cards will be furnished the judges by the Star-Bulletin. On each visit, the judges will fill these cards out and send them to the Star-Bulletin so that the final mark of the school in the contest will be judged from these cards, together with the letters sent to the paper.

The contest will begin on January 2, 1918, and extend until May 30, 1918. There is nothing, however, to prevent preparations being made prior to January 2nd, but the actual making of reports and marking of the contest by the judges will not begin until January 2nd.

Announcement of districts, judges, etc., and charts for judging will be distributed later.

One result of the contest last winter and spring was to secure from the judges a very valuable set of suggestions for future competition. These suggestions have been collected and are being carried out so far as they can be harmonized.

It is now planned to make some slight changes in the districts in order to equalize soil and climatic conditions throughout each district.

Chinese Boys in American Schools

Statistics recently published in Peking show that 11,750 Chinese boys are attending American schools. Nearly all of the Chinese ministers and ambassadors to foreign countries have been selected because of their education in American or English schools. Japan thirty years ago began sending bright young men abroad to study.

The Right of Appeal

That conscripts have the right to appeal to the civil courts from decisions of local exemption boards, and that the courts have the right to pass upon these decisions was held on November 5 by Judge Benjamin F. Blodgett of the United States District Court at Los Angeles. The decision makes it possible for conscripts to apply for writs of habeas corpus.

Woman Suffrage in New York

In the November elections woman suffrage won in New York state by about 35,000 majority. The big cities carried the day against adverse rural majorities. New York becomes the twelfth state to grant women full suffrage.

President Wilson on Labor

For the first time in its history the American Federation of Labor was addressed by a president of the United States when Wilson spoke at the recent Buffalo convention. One of his significant statements was: "While we are fighting for freedom, we must see, among other things, that labor is free; and that means a number of interesting things. It means not only that we must do what we have declared our purpose to do, see that the conditions of labor are not rendered more onerous by the war, but also that we shall see to it that the instrumentalities by which the conditions of labor are improved are not blocked or checked."

Arbor Day in China

For many centuries China has peacefully slept while her once extensive and rich forests have been destroyed. So ruthlessly and persistently has this practice been carried on that great mountain ranges have been denuded of all plant growth. The resulting floods and torrents have robbed the mountain sides of their soil covering leaving the bare rocks exposed, and at the same time have devastated the neighboring valleys and destroyed the agricultural value of adjoining plains by covering them with heavy deposits of sand, rock and debris. This depletion of the forest resources and the accompanying devastation of agricultural lands have caused the depopulation of once prosperous industrial cities.

It is gratifying, however, to know that as China is awakening to the best modern thought in many other lines of endeavor she is also beginning to realize the immense importance of reforestation. This year the Chinese government officially observed Arbor Day. It is indeed a very significant fact that the president himself and other high officials as well took active part in the ceremonies and planted trees with their own hands, thus by their example and influence giving great weight and impetus to the reforestation movement throughout China.

McKinley Boys TO MAKE STUDY OF CITIZENSHIP

A unique organization, the McKinley Citizenship Club, has been formed among the boys of McKinley High School. The club is a junior-senior organization and is designed mainly to create a stronger spirit of school and community citizenship in the school. The purpose of the club is three fold. First, to make a comparative study of the American citizen, his duties and privileges, and the citizen or subject of other nations. This work will be carried on by a series of papers prepared and presented by various members at regular meetings with the purpose in mind of showing the advanced position of the American government and American citizen among the governments and peoples of the world. Second, to take part in all school activities such as debating, dramatics, athletics and the social life of the school. Third, to represent the high school in patriotic and community service.

The city of Honolulu is a veritable laboratory of the science of government for the club. Almost every conceivable function of our government, from foreign consular service and the maintenance of a navy to the cleaning of a city's streets, is carried on in or about Honolulu. A glance at the telephone directory reveals an array of government offices, Federal, territorial and municipal, executive, legislative and judicial, all in full swing. The mainland youth must, perhaps, travel hundreds of miles to see various phases of our governmental system, which the Honolulu boy can investigate for himself within walking distance.

It is to take advantage of this condition and to stimulate an interest in the United States government that the McKinley Citizenship Club has been formed. It is the one school group in which graduates and ex-students will retain their membership after leaving school. The officers elected at the recent meeting are: President, Reginald Cooper; vice-president, Chomatsu Tsuchiyama; secretary-treasurer, George Hutchings;

COLLEGE OF HAWAII OFFERS REAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR HIGHER STUDIES

"Which College Shall My Son Attend?" Pertinently Answered by Local School

(Contributed.)

"My boy is ready for college. To which college should he go? Harvard, or Yale, or Cornell, or University of California, or should he go to our own College of Hawaii?" This is a fair question, asked by many parents in Hawaii, for many aspire to have their sons and daughters go to college. The boy has been born in the islands and grown up here without having been away much to see the rest of the world. What is more natural than the desire to go elsewhere, to a large eastern university perhaps, for the college training?

The average boy is about seventeen to nineteen years old when he is ready for college—not yet a man, for he has not yet found himself, his powers and talents. He is just coming to the threshold of manhood, and in a year or two or three he should be a man. The boy is still very plastic and is forming the habits which the man will have and which will determine the powers and greatness of the man.

In a crowded university, where classes are large and teachers can know personally none but a very few—the exceptionally good and the very bad or poor, a boy has a relatively small chance of discovering and developing his powers. He is lost in the crowd. He is not old enough to have come into a full realization of his individuality and his own personality, and, boy-like, follows the lead of others.

In a smaller college of high standard he has a relatively large chance of discovering his powers and realizing his individuality, for he has a college environment without the great crowd. It is the college work, the college atmosphere, the college democracy which develops the "college man." The boy has a closer relation with the professors in a smaller college. As a rule these professors are as well or better equipped than the assistants in the large college with whom the freshmen and sophomores come in contact. Great numbers do not make a great college. In proportion to its size, the average small college turns out more well-educated, cultured and powerful men than large colleges.

In these days of specialization post-graduate work is assuming more and more importance and becoming a greater necessity. This is the training of a man, not a boy, to use his powers to the full in some particular line. Obviously the great essential for this education is an expert—preferably the best expert available anywhere in each line, and it is usually only in the largest universities that such men can be found.

Small College Advantages. It is the conviction of many prominent educators today that a boy can be best educated to the full use of his powers by attending a small college of high standards where he can discover himself, and establish in himself an executive committee, George Pau, Earl McTaggart, Sum Lum, Sen Fui Moo and Kap Chol.

On Friday, the last day of the school term, U. S. District Attorney Huber is to address the students on constructive patriotism and the war.

self better habits of study and work and a cleaner and stronger character and high ideals, and then later training his special powers in graduate work in a great university.

University life with its crowds and its competition, its new environment and men of strong character, is a vastly greater education to a man who goes for post-graduate study than to a boy who goes as a freshman. If a young man is convinced that he cannot spare the time for post-graduate study and is determined to go to a large university, then he should attend a smaller college of high standard for two years and then spend two years in the university. He will profit richly by such a course.

A college education is usually worth the expense involved, but the financial outlay is often needlessly great. Considering our question simply from the financial standpoint, we find a very large balance in favor of the smaller college, especially when that college is a public and free institution. The cost of four years' attendance in an eastern university is many times greater than in the college of one's own state or territory. The temptations to needless expenditures by a large and rich institution are great and seldom resisted, thus making the cost still greater. As a practical business proposition, it is best that the boy should attend the college of his state or territory for two or four years and then go to an eastern university for special work, after he has come to manhood. The expense is less, the returns are much greater, and the risk is less—the risk of loss in character and power.

College of Hawaii "Our College." The College of Hawaii is our college. No efforts are being spared to make it a college of high standard and good character, an environment in which young men and women can develop into those trained workers and home-makers which society needs.

The intermingling of the races is a good thing, for no factor can be more potent in developing the new internationalism into which the world is just entering.

If your boy desires a training in the territory's great industry, sugar, no better course could be followed than studying at his own college for four years. He gets there as good a technical education in the sugar industry as desired and a general education at the same time. Then if it be desirable let him travel and study in other sugar countries for a year, when he has a definite and practical background for this expensive form of study.

If it is engineering or agriculture or other science that he wants, let him come to the territory's own college for several years and then, if deemed desirable or necessary, he may attend an eastern university with much greater profit to himself and society.

No Sugar Shortage, Says Rolph; There's Plenty But No Ships

Dutch Have 8000,00 Tons Stored At Java

Groceryman Pays Only 7 1/4 Cents a Pound for Product and Can Sell at 8 Cents and Make 10 Per Cent Profit

George M. Rolph, former general manager of the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company, who resigned to give his services to the United States sugar administration under Herbert Hoover, is the subject of a half page article in the Philadelphia Public Ledger. In the following interview Mr. Rolph sets forth his ideas as to sugar production, disclaiming there is a world shortage and explaining that the cause for the temporary shortage is a lack of ships to get the product to market. The Ledger's article follows:

"Sugar was the first of the great food products to be organized from a world standpoint that the supply of it might be most wisely used for the winning of the war.

"Those innumerable threads of the production of this great staple that interweave among the irrigated farms of the West which grow the beets from which it is made, that thrust across the Pacific to Hawaii and the Philippines, that tie knots about the yield of Cuba, that grope for the supplies of the lonesome islands of the Indian ocean, that draw upon the steeps of Russia and the toilsome little farms of France, are all brought together in the American capital at Washington. The network of dissemination through which sugar again goes forth through the channels of trade until it reaches the Eskimo on the rim of Bering sea, the Fiji islander on his coral reef, the Moor in his oasis of Sahara and the French polli in his trench pushing back the Hun, is again controlled by this committee of allied nations in their world organization for the establishing of democracy for all who sweeten their food.

"The outward and visible agency of the operation of the sugar corner of the world is a bustling young business man from San Francisco, who was born on a sugar plantation, gummed a little bag of it tied up in a rag before he had teeth and has filled his waking hours with it ever since. His name is George M. Rolph and he draws a salary of a dollar a year from the government for his work, a sum which is said to be just one-forty thousandth of the stipend which he gave up to take his present job.

"Rolph is one of the three American members of the international sugar committee. The other Americans are Earl D. Babst, president of the American Sugar Refining Co., and William A. Jamieson of Arbuckle Brothers. Then there are Sir Joseph Whitehead and John V. Drake, Sr., European representatives. Mr. Rolph is, however, the one man who devotes himself exclusively to the work.

"I thought there might be an interesting story in the handling of all the sugar in the world and wrote Mr. Rolph a note asking if I might come to see him. He replied:

"I am a very modest man and would much prefer to remain in the background. I expect, however, to be in my palatial offices in the Hotel Gordon on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, and shall be delighted to meet you, giving you a bum cigar to smoke while I talk to you about Liberty Bonds, even if I cannot tell you anything about sugar."

"Hotel Gordon was a venerable and rambling hostelry before Mr. Hoover's food administration took it over and converted it into an office building for this war work. There the sugar committee has a modest corner.

"The other day, Mr. Rolph said, when I found him, a member of the French high commission came to Washington. He was haggard and tense, as such men who have gone through so much are likely to be. His eyes were those of a wounded and suffering fawn.

"He had come to plead for sugar for French soldiers in the trenches. The small picture which these men who are keeping back the Hun daily receive is the quantity represented by the cone of granulated sugar that would stand upon a silver dollar. But France was out of sugar and this small amount of this concentrated food was to be denied; the strength that is represented by this quantity amounting to one-eighth of what every American consumes every day.

"He knew that America was virtually out of sugar, that a time was coming when her citizens would have to drink their coffee bitter in the morning. He knew that a shipload to France would mean a lengthening of this period of sugar abstinence on the part of the people over here.

"The expert board knowingly prolongs the coming sugar famine that French soldiers might have their ration? "I took the French high commissioner to Mr. Hoover. There he told his mission and awaited the verdict. Mr. Hoover told him that this matter had been given due consideration and that the sugar should go to France. The emotional Latin was overcome. He started for Mr. Hoover and anticipated oculoation. But Mr. Hoover stopped him and said that France owed no thanks to the United States, that this country could well afford to go on half rations for the period of the war for the sake of France; and that then the debt of gratitude we owed would not be half paid."

"I asked Mr. Rolph about the world sugar shortage and his answer was a great surprise to me.

"There is no world shortage," he said. "The trouble is that we can't get some of the sugar to market. Down in Java, the Dutch have a store door to Borneo, the Dutch have a store of 800,000 tons of sugar. If that sugar was in the world market there would be no shortage. But it is not. There are no ships to bring it to market. Forty-Dutch ships have been tied up in New York harbor for months, while Holland has insisted that the United States give her grain, which the United States has refused to do. These ships might have gone to Java and brought out all that sugar in the time so lost."

"In the meantime there is a shortage of available sugar. The world in 1916 produced 16,000,000 long tons of sugar, of which the United States consumed more than one-fourth, obviously more than her share. This is a great development from the time of King Arthur, when England knew not that such an article of diet existed the world around. The Crusaders brought the knowledge of it back with them from Palestine, for its manufacture originated in the Far East. But even the Holy Land did not know it in early biblical days, as it is not mentioned in the Old Testament. India was its original habitat, where, according to legend, the hermit Vishva Mita created sugar cane and refined the sugar to serve as a heavenly food in the temporary paradise arranged by him for a prince who wanted to go to heaven while still alive. Columbus planted sugar cane in the western world first in Santo Domingo in 1492.

"Napoleon Bonaparte was responsible for the discovery of the possibility of making sugar from beets. The British interfered with the supplies of sugar that came to France in those days to such an extent that it was impossible to buy it. The sugar famine was more distressing in France then than today. Napoleon issued an edict to his men of science to find a substitute for sugar cane from which to make sugar, and 105 years ago in France it was first made from these roots, and came to furnish nearly half the world's crop the year before the war broke out.

"Of that 16,000,000 tons in world production, little Cuba grew 3,000,000 tons and took the palm. India produced 2,600,000 tons, Java 1,250,000 tons, the United States 1,000,000 tons. Europe produced 5,000,000 tons of beet sugar, Germany, Austria, France, Belgium and Russia contributing.

"The natural channels of trade were suddenly disrupted when the war broke out. A large part of the world's available sugar supply was bottled up in the Central Powers. France, Belgium and Russia produced less. The law of supply and demand began to operate and prices went soaring. A violent speculation in sugar was started and the consumer last summer found himself paying as high as twelve cents a pound for sugar, with danger of still higher prices. All the world came to the West Indies to bid for the crop. Panic and uncertainty rife all through the industry.

"It was into this condition of chaos that the international sugar committee was thrust. The beet sugar producers of the United States were a group that could be most readily got hold of. These men were called together and agreed to fix a price at which they would sell their output for the coming year. That price was seven and a quarter cents a pound. The cane sugar people of Hawaii and the cane sugar people of Louisiana soon came into this group and agreed to sell at this price. These people might have been reached by the Government and were consequently easier than what was to follow. Cuba and other outside sugar had to be reached through diplomacy. The fact that a price was set on a considerable bulk of sugar was, however, important. The Cuban products were inclined to do the fair thing and finally an arrangement was reached which meant that 7.25 cents a pound would be the basic price at which the refiner would sell sugar. This covered the price of the raw sugar, the cost of refining and a reasonable profit.

"The refiner sells his product to the wholesale grocery jobber through a broker, and the jobber in turn sells it to the retailer. The margin of profit for the jobber and the broker, like that of the refiner, is limited by the food administration to an amount that will represent a reasonable charge for the service performed. By these regulations and agreements the food administration hopes to eliminate speculation and to deliver sugar into the hands of the retail trade at a fair price, based upon the present cost of production, manufacturing and distribution.

"The control of the food administration stops when the sugar reaches the retailer, Mr. Rolph explained, and the consuming public will have to take care of itself in its purchases. The consumer should remember, regardless of the shortage of sugar, that the groceryman is not paying more than seven and a quarter cents a pound for his sugar, plus the freight from the water to the point of consumption. In the seaboard cities he pays just seven and a quarter cents. He can sell at eight cents and make 10 per cent on his money. There is no place where the price of sugar should go above nine cents, and there is little excuse for that price.

"The food administration is carefully watching the retailers to see whether they try to gouge the public on sugar. If they do there are indirect methods of reaching them. Wholesale prices may be induced not to let them have any more sugar. Wholesale prices are very dependent in this matter, because they cannot supply their customers as it is. The sugar retailer has got to tote fair. "This is almost the first and only great staple to be thus thoroughly organized from the producer to the consumer. History was made in its organization, in the control of the fees taken at every stage of the operation. It is figured that what can be done with sugar can be done with other staples. It is being shown to be possible for the Government to measure the cost of every step in a process of production, assess its cost, total up the column and tell the consumer what he should pay. This means that the consumer will

PUNAHOU 'PREP' EXERCISES BRING HOLIDAY SEASON

The closing exercises at Punahou took place Friday morning preparatory to the Christmas vacation, and the balcony was crowded with parents and friends of the children who participated in the very charming little program rendered. The stage was decorated elaborately with trees and greenery in which were imprisoned many flakes of cotton snow while quantities of glowing poinsettias, the Mexican Christmas flower, massed about the sides of the stage, formed a dado across the front and added bright flecks of color to the vine-hung windows at the back.

The program was given by the children of the preparatory school and was unusually good, the numbers were as follows:

Grade I—Miss Barnhard Carol, "O Little Town of Bethle hem."

Christmas Wishes—Adele Christian David Moncrief, Fred Lowrey, Marshall Wright, Willa Robbins, Jean MacIntyre.

Recitation, Richard Williams Christmas Time, entire room. Recitation, "A Surprise," Ethel Matthewman.

Exercise, Christmas "Likes," Fritz Kroll, Evelyn Medcalf, Donald Prescott, Shay Yun Zen, Graydon Young, Bill Driver, Dorothy Erdman, Edith Guild.

HELD IN CONNECTION WITH THE FOOD EXTORTION CASE

DETROIT, Mich.—An indictment charging use of the mails to defraud was returned by the federal grand jury here against Jacob Yellin, taken into custody here in connection with the alleged plot to export $100,000 from Edsall B. Borg, son of the millionaire manufacturer. Yellin was arrested after Edsall received a letter threatening the safety of his infant son, Henry Ford III, if $10,000 was not sent to an appointed place.

Yellin, when arraigned stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered by the court. He was held in $10,000 bail. "I don't actually know when he is being fairly dealt with and when he is being robbed in at least some of the things he buys. He has never known before in any of his purchases. Possibly there will develop out of this situation some new commercial device that will mean that, even when the times are not those of war, there will be a measuring stick that may be set up against a price to determine, whether or not it is what it ought to be. Maybe commercial Utopia is just over the hill, and these agencies may find yasticks in all commodities and nobody will get gouged at all any more.

"Many wonderful things, I may here take the opportunity to prophesy, are to come out of the great war.

Wax Fix Price. "The international committee did not get hold of the situation early enough to keep the sugar barrel from getting empty before the new crop came in. There was almost enough to last through, but not quite. By the time the old crop was gone the beet sugar and the Hawaiian was coming in. Beet sugar is used largely west of the Mississippi. The Atlantic seaboard is not accustomed to receive it. When the beet sugar mills began to turn out their product it began spreading out like the ripple from a stone dropped in a pool. It came east slowly and did not get here in time to prevent a temporary pinch. The authorities said in advance that the question would be met by the 1st of December.

"Did you have sugar for your coffee this morning? If you did, you were lucky. Possibly you have been without sugar for a week. If so, it was because the public failed to respond to the admonitions of the Government to save. Possibly doing without will be an object lesson, a bit of discipline in sacrifice that will be helpful to the American. Probably he will enjoy enduring some degree of inconvenience. He has not had to suffer at all because of the war as yet.

"The international sugar committee will have the situation well in hand when the new sugar crop comes in. It will fix the price and it will under nine cents to the man who uses it. The coming crop will be sufficient that every man should have a goodly amount of sugar. If there is not the necessary economy with the crop, however, steps will be taken to arbitrarily cut down consumption. Candy manufacture may be prohibited. The syrups of soda fountains may be modified. Already the manufacturers of ice cream have voluntarily reduced the sugar content of their product 10 per cent. The long arm of food control will reach further if necessary.

Irish agricultural committees are petitioning the government to foster the sowing of beets by farmers for manufacture into sugar. Experts state that many parts of Ireland are eminently suited for the growth of the crop.

BALMY CLIMATE OF HAWAII PUTS STATES TO SCORN

And This in Face of Fact That November on Mainland is Warmer Than Usual

Interesting comparisons between Honolulu weather and weather on the mainland during the month of November are made from the local report of Meteorologist A. M. Hamrick and reports received from half a dozen cities on the continent.

Honolulu's highest temperature during the month was 83 degrees on November 13. The lowest was 61 degrees on November 24. Compared to the normal temperature for November of other years the average for November, 1917, was warmer by one-half degree. Precipitation amounted to 3.07 inches, and this was less by .23 inches than normal, as based on other years.

During last month Honoluluans were treated to 54 per cent of the sunshine that was possible for the period. In other words, of the daylight hours during the month, more than half were sunny. The highest velocity for wind was reached on November 28, a rate of 28 miles an hour.

Study of the mainland reports shows that, except for the northeastern portion of the United States, the temperature was much warmer than is usual for the eleventh month of the year. Rainfall was below normal throughout the states.

Pittsburg's "honest" temperature during the month was 64 degrees, the lowest for that city was 19 degrees, which was colder than the average for the past years. Rainfall was 28 inches, and there was one inch of snow. The highest wind velocity was 35 miles an hour. The precipitation was 2.27 inches below November normal.

San Francisco had a maximum temperature of 72 degrees, and a minimum of 48. The average temperature was higher than average for the same month in past years. Rainfall was 81 inches, or 1.66 inches below normal. Highest wind was 34 miles an hour.

St. Louis had a maximum temperature of 74 degrees and a minimum of 24 degrees, the weather being warmer than usual. Precipitation was 2.10 inches below normal with a register of .78 inches. The highest wind during the month was 37 miles an hour.

Chicago's high temperature was 69 degrees; its low was 22 degrees. The average temperature was warmer by 3.9 degrees than normal. Rainfall was less of normal by 1.94 inches, the fall recorded being .86 inches. One and one-half inches of snow fell. The highest wind in the Windy City was 33 miles an hour.

Phoenix records a high temperature of 88 degrees and a low one of 34. One day at Phoenix showed a temperature change of 46 degrees, which is greater than the range in Honolulu for an entire year. The average temperature for the Arizona city was 2.1 degrees higher than usual. There was no rainfall during the month. Average rainfall for November would have been .96 inches. Highest wind was 14 miles an hour.

Buffalo had highest temperature at 63 degrees and lowest at 15. Average temperature was lower than normal by 4.3 degrees. More than eight

OAHU'S WINDWARD BEACHES DONE IN STRIKING COLOR BY D. H. HITCHCOCK

Hawaii's Own Painter Has Notable Exhibit at Laniakea of Recent Work

The unique beauty and the distinctive individuality of Oahu's windward beaches are brought out with sure and striking effect by D. Howard Hitchcock, Hawaii's own painter, in a series of fine canvases that form the backbone of a notable exhibit he is now holding in his studio at Laniakea.

Mr. Hitchcock is best known as a painter of Hawaii's mountains, valleys, waterfalls, foliage and to a more limited degree, seas encircling the islands. In late years, however, he is painting the seashore more and more, and those familiar with his work of the past will find in the new canvases a steady growth, a deeper interpretation and a surer craftsmanship even than that which he has already abundantly displayed.

To those who know the beaches of windward Oahu merely as passers-by in a flying auto the new series will be delightful; to those who know these beauty spots around Heeia, Hauula, Kaawa and other stretches of sand, reef and sea, the paintings will be powerfully attractive.

Mr. Hitchcock has also done a good deal of figure work in these latest pictures, and he was fortunate enough to enlist not only the curiosity but the sympathetic cooperation of Hawaiians at several places, so that they readily posed for him and, finding him a friend who could speak their own tongue, they lapsed in the most natural poses. Some of his native figures are not only instances of good painting, but have historical interest.

He has succeeded admirably in catching the brilliant white of the sands under a sub-tropic sun and the darker drab tones under an overcast sky, and not less fully in catching the breezy, blowy atmosphere of the windward side, known and loved of all Honoluluans.

To mention all of his new pictures in detail would be impossible and justice cannot be done then in verbiage. Some of those particularly attractive are:

No. 4, "Overcast Day." A stretch of dun-colored sand and dark water, illustrating the dusky pallor of the sands under heavy clouds.

No. 1, "Mokapu Evening." This inches of snow fell and there were 1.17 inches of rain. Rainfall was less by 2.18 inches than normal, however. The highest wind velocity was 32 miles an hour.

Los Angeles had high temperature at 87 degrees and low at 49, the average being warmer than normal. Rainfall was .36 inches, which was below normal. The highest wind was 19 miles an hour.

Kansas City had 74 degrees for a maximum temperature and 24 for a minimum. It is interesting to note that this was warmer on the average by 8.1 degrees than for the November of former years. Rainfall was .06 inches, which was nearly two inches below normal. Highest wind was 36 miles an hour.

A textile factory workers' conference, representing half a million persons, decided recently at Manchester to arrange a conference with members of Parliament for the textile constituents on the question of the increased food prices.

shows the last crimson-plum glow catching the top of an inlet standing square from the sea, with darkness spreading over the water and beach.

No. 11, "Ducks." A glimpse of snow-white ducks, busy and cheerful in their quacking, paddling excursions afield, under the widespread trees that overhang the water; a blithe bit of poultry life in which the contrasting whites and blues are effective.

No. 12, "Kauloa." A beach scene especially attractive for its tinge of mystery. The whole motive of the composition arouses expectation for what landscape delights may lie just around a bend, in a bay half seen. The luminosity of the very atmosphere, the dainty wisp of a little native girl, a white sail on the sea and a contrast of sands, combine to make this one of the best of the exhibit.

No. 7, "Break in the Clouds." A single lauhala tree, stark against a lurid sky breaking into a lighter, yellow rift, looms as angular and shadowy as a silhouetted witch flying through the air on her traditional broom. The sun strikes on the sea below in a knife-thrust of high light.

No. 3, "On the Beach." A delightfully humorous appreciation of a native boy sitting lazily on the beach, in the comfortable warmth of the sun, indolently happy.

No. 13, "Beach Pool." Here the purples, blues and indigos of a quiet pool almost at the water's edge is powerfully contrasted with the shining beach and beyond that the greens and blues of the open waters.

No. 17, "On the Sand Dunes." One of the several which tell the story of the vivacious breezes of the windward side. A little girl playing in the sand.

No. 21, "Watching the Return." Two women and a girl seated on a beached outrigger canoe. A figure study very attractively conceived and intelligently worked out.

No. 23, "Kamali Trees." In this the broad green leaf of the kamali and its branches form the basis for a strong bit of work. The coppery glow of leaves turning as they deaden, combined with the lustrous greens, forms a pattern and texture as tangible as those of some rare Oriental rug.

Mr. Hitchcock's exhibit will be continued until Dec. 22, from 9 to 5 daily, and in the evenings from 8 to 10.

HONOR MEDAL IS GIVEN TO CLIFFORD CANN FOR SAVING U. S. PATROL

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Clifford H. Cann, a naval reservist, son of Frank H. Cann, director of athletics at New York university, has been recommended for the congressional medal of honor for his valor in saving a United States patrol boat on duty in foreign waters, when the vessel sprung a leak below the water line, his father has been informed. Young Cann went below and closed up the hole through which water was pouring, according to the report.

Cann is the holder of the national swimming championship at 100 yards and of four metropolitan champion ships. He played football on the New York university eleven last year.

ARMY AND NAVY 'Y. M.' IN PARIS MAKING SAMMIES FEEL AT HOME

(By Associated Press)
PARIS.—The American Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association is trying to make the American soldier and sailor feel "at home" when he comes to Paris on leave. Two hotels, one for officers and the other for enlisted men, have just been opened here and provided with all the comforts of home and of a well regulated club. Both hotels are convenient to the railroad stations at which the men arrive from ports of landing and the front. Other hotels will be opened as may be required. Few men come to Paris on leave at present but provision has been made for the time when the American armies take their place on the fighting front and the men are given short furloughs from trench duty.

The Hotel du Pavillon is reserved for 400 enlisted men. American ambulance men, soldiers, sailors and marines stationed in Paris are being housed there provisionally. They will give up their quarters when men begin coming to Paris on leave in large numbers.

A correspondent of the Associated Press recently found the large lounge room nearly filled with men in khaki, navy blue and the new pea-green uniforms of the marines. A boyish looking ambulance driver at the piano accompanied a quartet of two soldiers, a sailor and a marine singing American "rag time" airs. "Give us another" shouted a sailor and the crowd approved lustily and joined in the chorus. "Give, that's a peach of a fox trot," commented a soldier as the music died down for the last encore.

"You Promised Mother a Letter. Write it now." "Why not send a Few Lines Home," and other admonitions of like character on conspicuous signs were being obeyed by a number of boys around a large table in an adjoining room.

"Say, how do you spell, Champs Elisee?"

(The pronounced it "Champs Eliza") asked one soldier of the companion at his elbow. "Don't ask me," replied the other, "I've only been here two days. Why don't you go up and look at the map?" With the exception of interruptions such as these, a few boys were taking a late meal in one corner of the dining room. "How do you like it here, boys?" asked a Young Men's Christian Association official. "Fine, home was never like this," replied one of the group. Meals are served at virtually cost prices. Enlisted men can get well furnished, steam heated rooms for 60 cents a night.

Association secretaries meet all trains from the front and ports of landing and show the men around Paris and Versailles in sight-seeing auto-buses. Theatre parties are arranged nightly and church parties leave the hotel for both Protestant and Catholic services each Sunday morning.

Accommodations for one hundred army and navy officers are provided at the Hotel Richmond. At this hotel meals are served by a committee of volunteer American women workers, headed by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr. and the men liked it so much that they fell automatically into the habit of tipping the waitresses. Word was tactfully passed around that this was superfluous and the Richmond has become the only "tipless hotel" in Paris.

A shopping bureau established here undertakes all sorts of purchases for officers from handkerchiefs to raincoats and gifts for wives, sweethearts, relatives and friends at home. Two handsome lounge rooms furnished with heavy club furniture on the ground floor and an interior garden where tea is served each afternoon by American women are popular.

NEWSY ITEMS FROM METHUEN CHURCH

On Wednesday evening the church was filled to hear Bishop Lewis. His description of China's political ferment and the leadership it has brought to religious forces was exceedingly stimulating. Bishop Lewis is greatly loved among many races.

On Thursday evening, December 20, Susannah Wesley Home is to be at home to all its friends. A playlet has been written for the girls on "Wanted to be Santa Claus," which will be given by them together with several other features. There will be no admission, and Miss Barratt hopes that all those interested in the home can come.

The good work of the young folks of the Epworth League goes joyously on. Last Sunday evening 40 sat down to the Fellowship lunch at 5:30, while the attendance at the devotional meeting was seventy. The league has some splendid new plans for the holiday season, and invites young folks without a church home here, and especially strangers, to drop in.

Tomorrow morning Mr. Loofbourou has announced a war theme, "Religion as a War Measure." When we talk food conservation, industrial mobilization, prohibition, etc., as war measures, why not consider also the place religion takes as a war measure? In the evening the subject of "Fishing" will take us for a little while from the surging life of today to the quiet haunts of dear old Isaac Walton.

The Sunday school's "White Gifts for the King" Christmas is working steadily forward. Since this school joins with thousands of others throughout the country in raising a million dollar Armenian relief fund, Miss Cold, who has had missionary experience in Turkey, will address the opening assembly of the school tomorrow. The increasing attendance should be still further advanced.

11,235 PERSONS HEARD F. B. SMITH WHEN HE VISITED HERE RECENTLY

The report of Richard H. Trent, chairman of the Fred B. Smith executive committee, which was read at the Y. M. C. A. board of directors' meeting Tuesday afternoon, showed that twenty meetings were held by the committee, with a total attendance of 11,235 men. This was a joint effort between the local Y. M. C. A. and the Army and Navy Association, headed by an executive committee of business and professional men.

On his opening day, Nov. 14, Mr. Smith addressed 150 businessmen at the Ad club luncheon, 130 boys at Kamehameha schools and 800 church people at the Christian church in the evening. On Thursday he spoke to 2156 people, including the student bodies at Punahou, McKinley High and Mills school, the enlisted men of the 25th Infantry and the Y. M. C. A. student assembly.

Eight hundred men of Fort Shafter heard Mr. Smith on Friday afternoon, Nov. 16, and 600 students attended the rally in the Y. M. C. A. games hall the same evening. On Sunday night, Nov. 18, Smith addressed 1300 men in the Bijou theater. He talked at the College of Hawaii student assembly on the following noon.

Seven hundred women were present at the Mission Memorial Auditorium at a meeting under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday night. Following his return from Hilo and the Volcano which we must love—the Cross and the Stars and Stripes. Together they represent everything worth living for, are for us Americans two symbols which summarize all the ideals that are necessary to make us worthy citizens of the United States and future citizens with the saints in heaven.

How, then, may we best further the interests of Christ? The most effective exemplification of Christianity is a practical Christian life. This is the argument that wins for Christ. A counterfeit Christian, like counterfeit coin, has no value. The genuine disciple of Christ finds generous room for Him in business, in recreation—in every department of life. He lives Christ before the world; he is Christ's interpreter. May America make the world safe for democracy; may she also make it safe for Jesus Christ.

CHRISTMAS EVE MADE NOTABLE BY EXERCISES AT COMMUNITY TREE

Program in Capitol Grounds to Be Marked by Sojos and Chorus-Singing

All the omens seem propitious, and if the weather stays fine, there will be nothing to mar the beauty of the community Christmas tree as it gleams out through the night from the topmost pinnacle of the capitol, inviting all to come beneath the glow of its friendly rays on Christmas eve. The crowd will begin assembling by 7 o'clock although the carols will not begin until 8. It is announced that no automobiles will be allowed inside the capitol grounds, but cars may be parked outside. Considering the fact that the tableaux illustrating the carols are to be presented from such a height, it is thought that those remaining in their cars will have no difficulty in seeing while the music from the grand chorus of 1400 throats will be heard without difficulty. It is expected that the grounds will be crowded with people and when the vast throng joins its voices to the trained choir the music will be well worth listening to.

Some of the carols will be sung by chorus only; in some the stanzas will be sung by the chorus and the refrain by both crowd and chorus and at the last, as a grand climax to the songfest, both crowd and chorus will sing the whole song. The program will include 11 numbers, among them two solos, one by Reynolds B. McGrew whose singing is always an inspiration, and the other by Mrs. Charles L. Hall, whose sweet mezzo-soprano voice delights all who hear this native daughter sing. Mr. McGrew will sing the famous old "Cantique de Noel" which has from time immemorial been sung at all midnight masses throughout France, and will be especially appropriate this year when the interests of France and America are so closely interwoven.

Mrs. Hall will provide for the first time in Honolulu "Blest Be Thou, O Christ Eternal," by Gaines, which is well suited to revealing the beauty of her voice and the spirit of the yuletide.

The Boy Scouts are to do their bit by policing the grounds and assisting in every way to add to the comfort of those attending.

Besiechers are to be arranged in semi-circular formation in front of the capitol steps and here will be grouped the chorus singers. Invitations have been sent to all the army posts for chorus groups and a grand rehearsal is to take place Monday evening at Bishop hall in Punahou grounds, when it is hoped that large number of the soldier groups will be present to try over the songs. One change has been made in the personnel of the three shepherds for the tableaux, Mr. William Alexander being substituted for Charles Judd. The complete program, now published for the first time, will be as follows:

"It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" (R. S. Willis).
(b) "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" (Mendelssohn).
Community chorus and crowd in unison.
"Cantique de Noel" solo by Mr. Reynolds Brodie McGrew.
(a) "I Saw Three Ships" (Traditional).
(b) "The First Noel" (Traditional).
Community chorus.
"Blest Be Thou O Christ Eternal" (Gaines), solo by Mrs. Charles Hall.
(a) "What Child is This?"
(b) "Glory to God in the Highest" (carol of 13th century).
(c) "Holy Night." Community chorus.
(a) "O Little Town of Bethlehem." (Redner).
(b) "O Come All Ye Faithful." (Reading). Community chorus and crowd.

News and Notes About Work of Hawaiian Board

Rev. John P. Erdman preached in the Kaneohe church last Sunday morning. Rev. Henry P. Judd will preach in the Hauula church tomorrow morning.

The Oahu Ministers' School held its one meeting for the month of December on Tuesday in the Mission Memorial. The attendance was smaller than usual.

At the Sunday morning service in Central Union church an offering was made for the work of the board. The amount was about that of previous years. It has been customary for Central Union church to make this annual offering shortly before Christmas.

Rev. Daniel P. Mahihia has resigned as pastor of the church at Puuloa, this island, which is a branch of the Ewa Hawaiian church. It is possible that he may be assigned to a church on one of the other islands. He was formerly pastor of the Hanalei church on Kauai.

A moving picture machine and films have been presented to one of the secretaries of the board of trustees for the benefit of the Sunday schools of the churches and missions and other institutions of the city. It is expected that this gift will be much appreciated by the young people of Honolulu and other parts of the territory.

Rev. Rowland B. Dodge, pastor of the Walkuku Union church and missionary of the board for central Maui, was a visitor in this city during the week, arriving Tuesday morning and returning to his home Friday evening. He attended the various meetings of the board, committees and the monthly meeting of the board yesterday.

Christmas services in the Sunday schools and churches all over the islands are being planned as is customary. The services will not be as elaborate as usual in many places owing to the state of war in which we as a nation are engaged now. The spirit of giving to the many sufferers and to the relief of the starving and homeless is growing among the Sunday school children of Hawaii.

Letters have been sent out to pastors and superintendents of Sunday schools of the city, announcing the first session of the City Sunday School Institute to be held in the Y. W. C. A. upstairs room on Monday evening, January 7, 1918. Supper will be from 5:30 to 6 o'clock, and the classwork will be from 6 to 7 o'clock. The teacher of the first course will be Miss A. M. Bille of the Mills School faculty. Her subject will be "The Pupil." The textbook used will be the Pilgrim Training Course which may be secured at the Hawaiian Board book rooms.

A. upstairs room on Monday evening, January 7, 1918. Supper will be from 5:30 to 6 o'clock, and the classwork will be from 6 to 7 o'clock. The teacher of the first course will be Miss A. M. Bille of the Mills School faculty. Her subject will be "The Pupil." The textbook used will be the Pilgrim Training Course which may be secured at the Hawaiian Board book rooms.

Saturday's Sermonette

By LELAND H. TRACY, St. Clement's Church.

THE CALL OF CHRIST IN THIS TIME OF WAR.

"O Lord God, thou hast begun to show thy servant thy greatness, and thy mighty hand."—Deut. 3:24.

The average man has little patience with mysticism, with the mystical interpretation of such facts as the providence of God in the midst of this great war, but during the past three years mysticism has won great favor, even among thinking men. Three years ago unbelievers laughed at the mention of God's intervention; today it is said everywhere that His purposes are being served in this war.

To regard this world calamity simply as war is the narrowest possible view of the whole situation. Yes, it is war, the most frightful, the most devastating war in all history. It is, however, something more—it is the world's chastening. Humanity is in the wine press of God's wrath. It would seem that He is calling men to accept Him as sovereign of the earth, as well as of heaven. The world is being made over and the Almighty God, who made it untold centuries ago, is making it over again. Nations, like individuals, remember God best, when want makes them suppliant. Too often prosperity tempts nations to forget the bountiful hand that raises them to their high estate. It was so just prior to August 1, 1914. The people had grown proud in their conceits; they had made no room for God at their council tables; and He finally left the men that regarded Him as an intruder and chaos came.

Peace will return to this war-seared earth when men's hearts are ready to receive it. God is in His heaven still. Even now the Prince of Peace asks hearing. But never will the coveted mantle of heaven come to earth until the earth raises its hands in supplication and in obedience. The war had hardly begun when

makes cooking a success—not a speculation

Cooking is always a success where Highlander Condensed Milk (full cream) is used. There's a good reason, too, why the careful housewife should use this famous brand. Firstly, it ensures better flavoured dishes. It is easy to prove this. Try a dressing where Highlander Condensed Milk has been used against one in which ordinary milk or some other condensed milk has been employed—you can at once taste the superior flavour of Highlander. Then, too, it makes food more digestible. Scientists tell us that the process of condensation modifies the caseinogen and thus makes the milk more digestible. Then, too, Highlander Condensed Milk is richer—you have a standard full cream milk as against a fluctuating product, of varying quality and richness. Made from the world's finest milk, Highlander is the standard brand for tens of thousands of women who have proved its superiority. One test will suffice—you owe it to yourself to make it. There are hundreds of recipes in the big 200-page beautifully illustrated Highlander Cook Book. Write for a FREE copy to-day—address "Highlander," Dept. "A," Fred L. Waldron, Ltd., Agents, Honolulu.

REV. PALMER TO SPEAK SUNDAY

At Central Union Sunday morning Rev. Albert W. Palmer will preach on "The Language of Symbols." This service includes the reception of members, uniting with the church at this time, and closes with the communion service. The choir will sing a selection from the "Messiah."

At the evening service Rev. A. W. Palmer will speak on "Things Learned in a Training Camp." This address is second in a series on "The Brighter Side of the War," which is being given on Sunday nights, and which is based on Mr. Palmer's three months' experience in the R. O. T. C. at the Presidio, San Francisco, as Y. M. C. A. secretary. He will give some idea of what the 1600 men studying to fit themselves for officers learned and what he learned by watching them. The choir will sing "Lift up your heads" by Handel, and the male quartet will also sing.

BIBLE SCHOLARS TO OBSERVE XMAS

Christmas trees and Santa Claus will be on hand at Central Union Bible School's celebration Friday evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the Bible school rooms. The exercises include a number of Christmas carols, an address by Rev. A. W. Palmer, and a Christmas sleight of hand exhibition by Dr. R. D. Williams. Gifts will be received from the children and later distributed among the missions of the city. Refreshments will be served. Pupils, parents, teachers and officers are cordially invited.

MISSION TOPICS AT MID-WEEK MEETING

The mid-week service at Central Union church will be in the hands of the missionary committee of the church, under the leadership of Chairman W. A. Bowen. Reports on the translation of the Nauru Bible will be made and some interesting and important matters brought up since this is the regular business meeting of the church.

School of Central Union church next Sunday morning. The general assembly opens promptly at 9:45 o'clock and Mr. Palmer's talk is the first item on the program.

C. E. MEETINGS WILL BE HELD ON SUNDAY

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of Central Union church will meet at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the workers' room to discuss the subject, "How Can We Praise the Lord?" The senior society will meet at 6:30 o'clock in the parish house, the subject being "Christ Our Peace."

Montana is expected to have the legislature in extra session to close the saloons immediately without waiting for the law enacted at the polls to go into effect at the end of next year.

EXPLOITS OF SEADLER IN ATLANTIC TOLD BY PRISONER OF HUN RAIDERS

Saw Seven Vessels Sunk Before He Was Sent on French Bark Into Rio de Janeiro

An interesting story of the daring exploits of Count Graf von Luckner, of the German raider Seeadler, north of the Equator, before going into the Pacific, and being finally wrecked, is told by Captain J. Mullen, who has just arrived in Sydney, says the Sydney Telegraph of November 2.

Captain Mullen saw five vessels with valuable cargoes captured and sunk by the Germans. Captain Mullen, with nearly 300 others, was over a month on the Seeadler, and finally they were sent off in a captured French barque and landed at Rio de Janeiro. One man, a steward, was detained on the Seeadler for gross insubordination, and Captain Mullen is unable to state what happened to him after he left the raider.

On the date mentioned, the mate, who was on the poop, reported to the captain that a vessel was in sight flying signals. She showed the Norwegian flag and "numbers," and looked at all appearances a peaceful Norwegian merchantman. Closer examination through the glasses, however, showed by her maneuvering that there was something suspicious about the craft, and any doubt members of the crew had in the matter was soon set at rest by the vessel dropping her sails, and steaming under the quarter, at the same time lowering the Norwegian flag and hoisting the German ensign.

"Stop instantly, or I will fire on your ship!" This signal was hoisted by the overtaking vessel, which proved to be the raider Seeadler, and put fear into the hearts of the crew forward. Standing alongside the man at the wheel, Captain Mullen headed the ship off a bit, just as he put it, "to give the Germans a run for it," but, with the light wind prevailing, there was, of course, no hope of escape. Suddenly one of the big guns of the raider sent a shot dangerously close. It was evidently aimed at the foremast, but missed it by 20 feet.

Raider Bristling With Guns
As the raider came up it was noticed that she was fairly bristling with machine-guns. In addition to other guns of heavy calibre. It was not until the raider had fired a second shot which just cleared the crossjack yard, that Captain Mullen brought the vessel to the wind. "I did it most reluctantly," he explained, "but it was no use jeopardizing the lives of my crew, as we were already right under the raider's guns."

A few minutes later a powerful motor-boat 25 feet in length put out from the Seeadler. The motor-boat carried a prize officer and ten men. The prize officer saluted as he boarded and ordered the captain to abandon ship. He had been instructed to sink her, and his crew set about at once to put bombs in the ship.

Meanwhile, orders were passed by Captain Mullen for the crew to take to the boats. Everything was done in a quiet and orderly manner, and the men were allowed to take their personal effects with them. The respective watches, port and starboard, got away from the ship without difficulty to the boats, and a second launch from the raider put off and towed them alongside the Seeadler.

Sinks in Seven Minutes
Captain Mullen was permitted to remain on board till the last, and, when ready to leave, a launch was placed at their disposal to bring them to the raider. Most of the ship's stores were seized, but Captain Mullen points out that these were shared among his own crew and others on board. Three muffled reports—the result of bombs—were heard soon after she was abandoned, and within seven minutes the ship sunk, bow first.

"Why did you not stop?" was the first question put by Count von Luckner when Captain Mullen boarded the Seeadler. The captain made some evasive reply, and his pluck evidently left a favorable impression with the count, for he was subsequently treated with the utmost courtesy, being allowed the run of the ship, with free use of the stores, including tobacco and cigars which were freely exchanged for some tobacco. Captain Mullen mentions here that the count "played the game throughout. He was," he says, "a true sport, and treated us all fair and square."

The Seeadler, he states, was a fine type of four-masted barque rigged vessel. She sailed out of the North Sea and into the Atlantic disguised as a merchantman laden with timber, and was fitted with a Diesel engine, which Captain Mullen heard had been seized by the Germans at the Antwerp exposition. This motor was capable of driving the vessel at the rate of 13 1/2 knots per hour. Everything was arranged on board to hide the identity of the ship. All details had been carefully thought out, and the arrangements throughout the main cabin were typical of the Norwegians.

Quarters, illuminated with electric light, with tiers of four bunks, were provided aft for the officers, and the men were accommodated below deck forward. The prisoners were told that so long as they behaved themselves everything would be all right, but once they showed any signs of trouble they could expect no quarter. The count had had the Seeadler equipped with poisonous gases. These were connected with the quarters used by the prisoners, and the count, by pressing a button, fitted just under his bunk, could asphyxiate the prisoners, should they at any time show any signs of hostility.

Landed at Rio
Two days later a French barque, the Cambronne, was sighted and boarded by the raider. She was commandeered and sent with the captured officers and men to Rio. Altogether there were 283 souls, including two ladies, wives of shipmasters belonging to sunken vessels. The Cambronne was laden with nitrates, and the raider's crew set to work and jettisoned a quantity of this to make room in the hold for the accommodation of the prisoners of war. These were of mixed nationalities, many colored men being amongst their number. Fearing that the captured Cambronne might make a quick run to Rio, the count stripped the barque of most of her canvas, and crippled her topmasts, and he finally sent her away on March 21, in charge of Captain Mullen, who was specially informed, in the presence of all hands, that he was in supreme command.

Before leaving the Seeadler Captain Mullen and the principal officers were assembled in the saloon and told by the count that the Cambronne had been captured, and would be placed under the British flag. He also paid, in German marks, a sum equal to £800 to the crews, who had done some necessary work, such as sail making and rigging on board the Seeadler. Wine was subsequently produced, and the count, addressing the gathering of officers, wished them all good luck and a safe passage to their destination. A British flag was presented to Captain Mullen, and hoisted on the Cambronne. Some interesting souvenirs were also handed to Captain Mullen by the count, and, in addition, he was presented with a family group picture, which had been rescued by the prize officers from the cabin just before she was sunk.

In due course the Cambronne arrived at Rio de Janeiro, and the crews were sent home by the outgoing steamers. Captain Mullen handed over the command of the Cambronne to her skipper at Rio, and the tricolor was again hoisted on the barque there.

Several incidents occurred on the Seeadler which showed how well posted the count was in the latest news of the war. The Seeadler had a powerful wireless installation, and daily news was received on board of the various happenings. Thus, within 24 hours of the revolution in Russia, Count von Luckner had the details of the outbreak on the Seeadler. Then the movements of the British warships on patrol work were also known by wireless, and the count maneuvered his vessel accordingly to keep out of the danger zone.

Captain Mullen mentions that there was only one casualty while he was on the Seeadler. An apprentice named R. Page, from one of the captured ships, had been injured by a splinter from a shell fired by the raider, and he succumbed to his wounds on the raider. The body was buried at sea with full honors, the count delivering an address just before the body was committed to the deep. A copy of the address was sent to the parents of the deceased lad in England.

List of Ships Sunk
Captain Mullen furnishes particulars of the vessels captured and sunk by the raider as follows:
January 9.—Gladys Royle, str., 3265 tons, Cardiff to Buenos Aires, with coal, sunk lat. 37.50 N., long. 20.15 W.
January 10.—Lundy Island, Mauritius to Nantes, with 4500 tons sugar.
January 21.—Charles Gounod, 2199 tons, French ship, Durban to Queens-town, with maize.
January 21.—Parsee, sch., Baltimore to Santos, sunk lat. 24 N., long. 27.16 W.
February 2.—British Yeoman, ship, 1953 tons, Buenos Aires to Azores, with maize.
February 3.—Antonin, French 4-masted bge., 3071 tons, Iquique to Brest, sunk lat. 7 deg. N., long. 34 deg. W.
February 9.—Buenos Ayres, steel ship, 1811 tons, Autofagasta to Gibraltar, with nitrate.
February 19.—Pimmore, ship, 2286 tons, Ensenada (River Plate) to Azores for orders, sunk lat. 8.45 N., long. 35.15 W., cargo 3700 tons maize.
February 27.—La Rochefoucauld, bge., 2209 tons, Iquique to Rochefort, with nitrate.
March 5.—Duplex, Lund, French bge., 2206 tons, Iquique to Azores for orders, with nitrate.
March 11.—Hornarth, str., 2609 tons, of Cardiff, bound from River Plate to Plymouth, sunk lat. 2.6 S., long. 23.50 W.

The count told Captain Mullen something of his career, and it transpired that he had spent five years or more in Australia. He ran away to sea at the age of 14 or 15 years, and shipped to Australia on a Russian ship, landing at Adelaide. He deserted at the South Australian port and was befriended by a barmaid of one of the waterside hotels, who secured him employment in the hotel kitchen until his ship had gone away. Later on he made his way to Melbourne, where he earned his living by selling papers in the streets of the city. Finally he returned to Germany and entered the navy, and received rapid promotion. He is of slight build, and would, according to Captain Mullen, be about 28 years of age.

JAPANESE BUYING UP PROPERTIES IN PHILIPPINES

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 2.—With the transfer of most of the holdings of Captain J. Burchfield in Davao to a Japanese syndicate, representing one of the biggest capitalistic enterprises of Japan, another step has been taken in the gradual control being assumed by Japanese capital of the rich district of Davao. The Japanese company plans to spend fully a million pesos in development in Davao and through its chief office in Tokio will bring in numbers of Japanese to labor in the interests of the firm.

Captain Burchfield, who is in Manila, confirmed the story of the sale of most of his holdings. He declared, however, that he would still hold some of the stock in his various activities, taken over by the Japanese syndicate which has incorporated under the name of the Davao Mercantile Co. The company will take over the Davao Ice and Cold Storage Co., the ice making and electric light plant founded by Captain Burchfield three years ago. Captain Burchfield owned some nine hectares of land in the town of Davao, itself, with the town's biggest store and its best dwellings. All these have been transferred to the new company and with them also the Piso Coconut and Cattle Ranch. No hemp property figured in the transfer as Captain Burchfield two years ago sold his hemp plantation to another Japanese syndicate, the Itoh group.

The new corporation will not stop, however, at the Burchfield holdings. They are going in for hemp and other agricultural products of the district and will buy other properties. Their purpose, however, like that of all other Japanese investors in Davao, is to purchase properties outright.

The transfer of the Burchfield property draws particular attention to the prosperity of Davao. High prices for hemp and other agricultural properties have made planters and laborers alike prosperous. From the Davao postoffice weekly there is shipped 75,000 pesos in money orders to Japan by the 4000 odd Japanese who call the district their home. The town boasts but five miles of road, yet it has 35 automobiles for hire and two more are going down on the next boat. It is no uncommon sight to see Bogobos come into town with hemp, sell their product and then climb into one of the many motor cars for hire and spend all day riding up and down the five miles of Davao road. No greater proof of the district's prosperity can be adduced than this use of cars for hire in a district which has only five miles of automobile road.

There is an influx of emigrants, notably Japanese, from every district of Mindanao. From the abandoned army posts, hundreds of Japanese are coming to the Eldorado of Davao. More first class buildings are being built on Davao streets than in any other town of Mindanao, but they are being built by Japanese.

To this Japanese immigration must soon be added the influx from Japan sure to come with the formation of the Davao Mercantile Co. The head office of this company is interested in projects in all parts of the world and conducts a special emigration office to furnish labor for these projects. Davao will get a part of that emigration pool.

Men, Books, People & Things by Ed. Gardner

The editor of the Star-Bulletin isn't pro-German or an unsalted American. When I write something for this column, he doesn't take the life, pep, backbone, gizzard out of it to suit some possible objector.

I may say the same of Matheson of The Advertiser.

But the other day I failed to recognize one of my own contributions in The Paradise of the Pacific.

Lungs, heart, liver, stomach, spleen, kidney, guts, had been taken out—nothing but the outside was there.

And the way it read I thought it a mighty insipid article. I was ashamed of it. I said: "Man, when did you dry this mud? Under what compulsion did you give up for publication such an unflavored morsel?"

Then I got hold of the original manuscript, and I found something which, I think, is more like the rest of what I write.

I never did waste much time wording up an article in order to say that two and two make four, or to declare that salt is salty, or that men admire pretty women, or that women are different from men. I leave that to the food commission.

On a pleasant corner opposite Thomas Square, the McKinley high school and spacious private grounds, stands the Methodist church.

It is not kamaainoah, being of Mission style, concrete and quite Californian. The exterior indicates more interior space than there is, but the arrangement is simple and cosy, with the pulpit in an angle against the entrance.

Mr. Loofbourow, as everybody knows, is the pastor. He is from California, too. Young, rather hollow-chested, with a very pleasing face and smile and a delivery equally so.

On a special occasion the singing of the choir of girls, attired in white as was sweet as the faces of the singers, one of whom was a tiny tot of five or six.

Sober and steadfast she scarcely lifted her eyes from her music. If angels there be, I am sure they are children and not sophisticated adults.

The sermon, somewhat pacifist in limits, though idealistic and largely of the "let us hope for the best" kind.

The reference to "Chinese Gordon" as a peace maker through unarmed action, scarcely took into account his war spirit, aggressive Christianity and his final tragic death.

While his prayers were earnest he always kept his powder dry. He was saved from earlier destruction, not by defenselessness but through the superstition of his enemies, just as Captain Cook owed the respect shown him by barbarians to their belief in his godhood. Just as St. Francis was saved, not by his unselfish goodness, but by the fear Mohammedans have

SEIZURES UNDER ENEMY TRADING LAW EXPLAINED

A. Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian under the trading with the enemy act, following a conference with the President on Oct. 13, issued a statement correcting reports giving wrong impressions in regard to his duties and purposes. The chief test of enemy character, he says, is not to be determined by nationality or citizenship, as has been stated by many newspaper despatches from Washington, but is one of residence or place of business or business connections. The statement reads as follows:

"Reports have appeared in the press with regard to the plans and purposes of the alien property custodian with respect to the property of aliens residing in the United States, which have caused unnecessary and ill-founded alarm. This alarm has led in some localities to heavy withdrawals of postal savings and bank deposits. Many of the published statements concerning this very important matter are so misleading as to give rise to the fear that they may have originated in a deliberate wish to disturb and injure American business interests, and not in mere mistake.

"The statement most calculated to mislead and cause uneasiness is to the effect that the fact as to whether any one is an enemy or the ally of an enemy under the terms of the trading with the enemy act recently passed by congress is determined by nationality or citizenship. This is not the fact. The principal test of enemy character under the act of congress is one of residence or place of business or business connections, rather than nationality or citizenship. A subject of Germany or any of Germany's allies residing in this country, even though he has made no declaration of his intention to become a citizen, is permitted to continue in trade and commerce and in the possession and control of his property while he remains in the United States and obeys its laws, and he is not regarded as an enemy nor placed in that category by the trading with the enemy act.

"The broad purpose of congress, as expressed in the trading with the enemy act, is, first, to preserve enemy-owned property situated in the United States from loss, and, secondly, to prevent every use of it which may be hostile or detrimental to the United States.

"Commerce cannot, of course, be carried on between residents of countries that are at war. In the absence of a general law for the protection of money and property in the United States belonging to those who are under legal disability there might without the special action of congress, have been very considerable property loss and deterioration. The property of every person under legal disability is in every civilized country protected by the appointment of trustees or conservators whose duty it is to administer and care for the property while the disability exists.

"This is the duty of the alien property custodian. He is charged by law with the duty of protecting the property of all owners who are under legal disability to act for themselves while a state of war continues.

"The trading with the enemy act authorizes in certain cases a license to permit enemy-owned business to be carried on. Where such license is not applied for or is not granted the alien property custodian is directed to exercise in regard to enemy-owned property the well-defined authority of a common law trustee. Thus the probable waste and loss of a great deal of valuable property and property rights which could not, while the war continues, be conserved by the enemy owner is avoided, and a trustee appointed and paid by the United States is charged with the duty of protecting and caring for such property until the end of the war. This is his function. There is, of course, no thought of the confiscation or dissipation of the property thus held in trust."—Financial Chronicle.

ACID POISONING!
The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves. By experimenting and analysis at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of native remedies that he called An-uric, which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you can obtain Anuric, double strength, at any drug store and get relief from the pains and ills brought about by uric acid; or send Dr. Pierce 10c for trial pkg. Anuric which you will find many times more potent than lithia and eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you. Send a sample of your water to Dr. Pierce and it will be tested free of charge.

Anuric is a regular insurance and lifesaver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints.—Adv.

McCLURE EXPLAINS DISLOYALTY CHARGE

RALEIGH, N. C.—After satisfactorily explaining charges impugning his loyalty in the war, Col. S. S. McClure, former magazine publisher, whose lecture on "Obstacles to Peace" was banned from the University of North Carolina recently, addressed the North Carolina Literary and Historical association here recently. He was introduced by Governor Bickett and for an hour and a half he arraigned Germany and German methods in an expose of German atrocities in France and Belgium based on information gathered in his recent travels there.

An order in council has been passed, on the recommendation of the Canadian food controller, allowing the manufacture and sale in Canada of oleomargarine after Nov. 1 in injuring an insane person. This respect for mental alienation is well described in one of Scott's novels of the Crusades.

Of what value was unselfishness and virtue in the massacre of missionaries, in the murder of women and children in Armenia and elsewhere?

It seems to me that those who read history aright, must conclude that a large part of its most unselfish men and women have suffered death cruelly because they were defenseless. Because they were not prepared to fight back.

It would be painful to review the list even down to the beginning of civilization.

The pastor's graceful reference to John Hay surely met with general response, though, I think, he underestimated his congregation's familiarity with the details of Mr. Hay's life.

Surely no contemporary American could be ignorant of the office and important services rendered his country by John Hay, Lincoln's secretary, and biographer; poet, statesman, ambassador.

His "Pike County Ballads" give him a place among American poets of the first order.

Who does not remember:
"And I think that saving a little child
And bringing him to his own,
Is a darning sight better business
Than loafing around the Throne."

The "atmosphere" in Central Union church is quite different from that of this rib from its side.

There is possibly less evidence of wealth and intelligence. I say evidence, for I am not passing judgment as to these matters, but I do say there is better preaching in the Methodist church, and a more homey feeling about its worship.

Probably the distinction holds generally between Congregationalism and Methodism.

But the present pastors locally emphasize the difference.

As a rule, I think, you come away from Central Union feeling that the preaching was very orthodox and very slow, and that the prayers were very long. This leaves you feeling dissatisfied. It's not that way at the Methodist church.

BANKER GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

ORDWAY, Colo.—The jury in the case of A. F. Enyart, banker of this city, who last February shot and killed J. W. Black, an attorney from Nebraska City, Neb., returned a verdict finding him guilty of voluntary manslaughter. The defendant was allowed ten days to prepare arguments for a new trial.

Enyart and Black quarreled over an estate in which both were interested. Enyart claimed self-defense.

WILSON "GEORGE WASHINGTON OF TODAY," SAYS JULIUS KAHN

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Congressman Julius Kahn, in an address here extolled President Wilson as a stout-hearted diplomat and called him the "George Washington of today." Congressman Kahn's appearance was in explanation of the universal military training movement, which he championed. He pledged himself to work hard on his return to congress for the passage of such a bill. Such a law, he said, would lead to the true democratic feeling the country now is striving for. The weight of directing the present war, the congressman observed, will fall to America.

HONOLULU STAR-BULLETIN, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1917.

IN THE NEWS OF THE WEEK - PICTURES AND PERSONALITIES

Here is a young Honolulu active in practical patriotism. Alan J. Lowrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey. He is student battalion commander, naval reserve flying squadron, Pensacola, Fla.

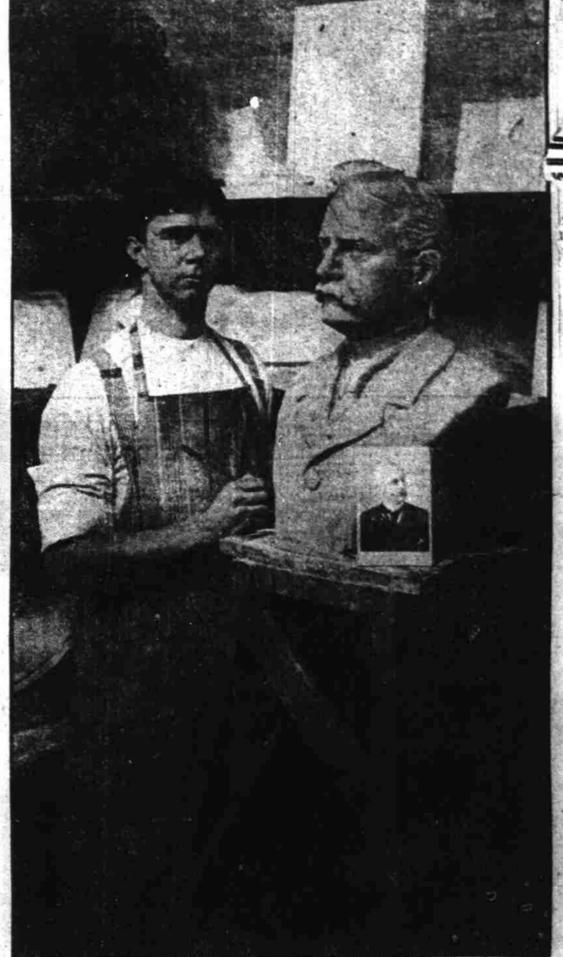

The "Long and the Short" of it in the Hawaii National Guard: The tall soldier is Corporal Shafer, Co. B, signal corps, who stands 6 feet 4 inches and the tiny guardsman is Private Ambrocio Samoro, Co. M, 2d Infantry, from Kauai, whose height is 4 feet 7 inches.

Here are two of the radical Russians whose names are figuring daily in despatches about the chaotic Petrograd situation. On the left is Leon Trotsky, now premier of the Bolsheviki cabinet. On the right is Nikolai Lenin, one of the arch-radicals and reported to have been overthrown recently in the whirlwind of political factionalism. Trotsky spent some time in New York City early this year.

E. R. Cameron, income tax agent designated by the federal government to turn over the office of internal revenue collector from Acting Collector Ralph S. Johnstone to Howard Hathaway, who will arrive here next week. Mr. Cameron has resigned to Washington as income tax agent to enter private business, but the resignation has not yet been finally acted on.

A decided acquisition to Honolulu's artistic coterie is Roger Noble Burnham, who came here from Boston to become executive of the Boy Scouts, a work to which he devotes patriotic effort. Mr. Burnham is a sculptor of recognized standing and photos of his work as well as a number of interesting medallions are now being shown at the University club, together with paintings by Miss Juliet May Fraser. In the photo above Mr. Burnham is shown at work on a bust of the late Governor Roger Woolcot of Massachusetts.

James E. Makinney, former Kamehameha cadet, who has enlisted for the gas and flame corps of the army. He enlisted in this city.

George K. Dwight, formerly of Lewers & Cooke, Ltd., who has joined the gas and flame corps of the army. Dwight enlisted in Honolulu.

A. W. Bush, former employe of Lewers & Cooke, who has joined the forestry division of the army, 20th Engineers. Bush tendered his services while in Honolulu.

Mrs. Harry Mix of Honolulu has the honor of being the first woman radio operator to pass the first grade commercial license for radio operators in this territory. Mrs. Mix took the examination at Pearl Harbor and finished with good grades. She is a member of the class of Honolulu women who began a course of study this summer under Operator B. E. Fenn of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company. She is now waiting for a call from the government at such time as her services are needed.

Things Hawaiian, Particularly Spelling

(By JEAN WEST MAURY)
(The following is a contribution by Mrs. Maury to the November issue of The Editor. Mrs. Maury for some time past has been a member of the Star-Bulletin editorial staff.)
Leroy Scott's solitary mention of "The Testing of Mary Regan," August Metropolitan, not only brands the singer as a fake Hawaiian, but reveals the author as a writer careless of the minor details often necessary to give a bit of fiction verisimilitude. In this instance the neglected detail is the un-Hawaiian name laid upon the Hawaiian. It is true that in America's waking pan of the Pacific, where every corner of the earth has sent its drop of blood as a contribution toward the final extinction of the Hawaiian race, one finds natives bearing all sorts of names, from plain United States Jones to complex Japanese Teumihoroboshi, but such names belonging to Hawaiian bespeak always a mixed parentage. The true Hawaiian name is unmistakable in its orthography. Molokalani might be the name of a true son of Hawaii, but Molkarina calls up no vision of the palm-fringed Isles of Peace, suggesting rather Russia, with a slant toward Italy.
Hawaiian spelling never puts two consonants together, as the lk in Molkarina, a rule easily remembered if one keeps in mind the name of Hawaii's chief city, Honolulu, which the educated Kamaaina (old-timer) pronounces Ho-no-u-lu, with long o's and u like oo. Here, with an equal number of vowels and consonants, a consonant begins and a vowel ends each of the four syllables. The name Hawaii illustrates the use of two or more vowels without a dividing consonant, the diphthong ai in the middle syllable being followed by another vowel, i, which forms the last syllable. Nuanuu, the name of a beautiful valley, and of the avenue leading into and through it, the native tongue pronounces Nu'uanu, separating the two u's by an almost imperceptible little grout.
Going back to the consonants, the inability of the Hawaiian to put two consonant sounds together has been put into concrete form in the name of one of Honolulu's most important streets, Beretania Street, which passes in front of Washington Place, Queen Liliuokalani's residence, was named Britannia, as a compliment to a British dignitary who visited here, but the king himself at that time could not readily force his lips and tongue to produce the br with a single impulse of the voice, so the "bri" became "here," pronounced haray, and Britannia street became, and still remains Beretania Street.
Originally, every word in the Hawaiian language could be spelled with twelve letters, the five vowels and the consonants H, K, L, M, N, P, and W. In some parts of the Islands k was softened to t, and the name of the Island Napoleon, Kamehameha, became Tamehameha. V, too, was frequently substituted for w, and I was slurred to r. In time these changes became universal and the letters R, T, and V were incorporated in the Hawaiian alphabet. Kalo, the vegetable from which is made the gluey and nutritive poi, designated according to its glueyness as one-two or three-fingered poi, is now called taro, and its old name is well nigh forgotten. So also with the ti-plant, in whose long, cool green leaves fish is wrapped at the market before the outer wrapping of newspaper is put on by the Chinese fish merchant. This plant, in the days of the early missionaries, was called ki (kee) as often as ti (tee). This interchange of the sounds of t and k is noted also in the word kapa, the cloth beaten from the bark of a native tree (wauke) from which was made the capes and skirts of the early natives, and which was called tapa. R used instead of L was exemplified in the name of Hawaii's big mountains which some of the older historians always called "Mauna Roa" instead of Mauna Loa, the name by which the acted by Hawaiians themselves are u, o, i, and e, all taking preference over a as a word ending unless the letter immediately preceding the final a is a vowel itself or the letter h, l, or k. This is yet another reason why Leroy Scott's Molkarina with its "ina" ending, has an un-Hawaiian sound.

Since, in Hawaiian, nearly every little syllable "has a meaning all its own," the fiction writer who would introduce a native or two into his tale would be safe in making the name almost any syllable or combination of syllables ending with a vowel, remembering the Hawaiian consonants, and following carefully the rule of never placing two consonants together. The editor of The Editor has a Hawaiian name, so far as the spelling is concerned, Kane, pronounced Kane, with the accent even, was the name of the creator-god of the Hawaiian people. Other suggestive Hawaiian names are Kaai, Kea, Kalakau, Kalauokalani, Kaneakua, Kewalo, Kahanumoku, Kinanu, Ko, Lauhala, Halekalanii, Halapepe, Iiamuka, Papaopape. There are almost as many Hawaiian names as there are Hawaiians, but these few examples ought to enable the assembler of syllables to get a name that has a Hawaiian sound.

FAVORS INTERNING DISLOYAL PROFESSOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Professor Scott Nearing, discharged by the University of Pennsylvania for disloyalty, was threatened with arrest by Judge Thomas Graham, chairman of the county council of defense. "I am in favor of arresting this man at once and interning him. He will not be allowed to speak here."

This girl of sixteen, Victoria Fernandez, is the young lady who chased a burglar down the street one night this week and slapped his face. She says she did not intend to slay him until he called her "girlie," and then she planted a right-hander where it would do the most good. Miss Fernandez has not been troubled by burglars since.

500 STUDENT OFFICERS JOIN UNCLE SAM'S ARMY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A large number of the student officers to be commissioned from the present series of reserve officers' training camps will be sent to France immediately for intensive training. Secretary of War Baker announced. Others will be distributed among schools in this country for further training, while others will be placed with national army troops.
The war department's scheme provides for placing some 6500 reserve officers with the troops. Others will go to France and to schools here, and still others will be distributed, two of each grade, to each infantry company and field artillery battery of the national guard and regular army.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN FORCED INTO SERVICE ON TEUTON FIRING LINE

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands.—Women and young children have been pressed into service on the firing line by Germans, according to travelers arriving from Belgium today. Children as young as 12 years are being used in the fire zone on the Yser front and Belgian women are compelled to work on fortifications along the North sea coast, it was declared.
Australia opened, October 22, its 1000-mile port Augusta-Kalgoorlie transcontinental railway, five years in building, and reducing the time from London to Adelaide three days, whence seventeen hours reaches Melbourne and thirty-four, Sydney.
