COMMANDER'S STATEMENT BELIEVED DUE TO CABLE

Hawaiian Department Head Changes Opinion in Course of Morning But Refuses to Amplify Statement

There is no prospect of the national guard's being called into federal service at the present time nor in the near future.

That something definite has occurred to cause the general to state that there is no prospect now or in the near future for mobilization, and that this is a cable message from Washington, seems the only plausible solution to the sudden turn of affairs.

PEACE SCHEME IS SPREAD BY BUSY TEUTONS

German and Austrian Diplomats Go to East Front with the Announcement They are Working for General European Peace; Allies Notified By Trotzky

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Dec. 18.--A despatch today from Haparanda, Sweden, says that former Premier and Minister of War Kerensky has reappeared as a combatant in Russia. He is reported to be now in the vicinity of Petrograd with some thousands of troops.

PETROGRAD, Russia, Dec. 17. (Delayed)--Announcement is made here of the actual beginning of peace discussion launched by Teuton diplomats following the declaration of the eastern front armistice.

Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann of Germany and Foreign Minister Count Czernin of Austria have notified Premier Trotzky of Russia that they will meet at Brestaievovsk, on the eastern front on Tuesday for the purpose of negotiating a general European peace.

The evening papers say that Trotzky has notified the ambassadors of the Allied countries that an armistice has been arranged and that peace negotiations are intended to follow immediately. Trotzky asked the Allied ambassadors whether they would participate in this conference. The ambassadors say they have received no such communication. They have met informally without decision as to what their action will be.

RELATES DREAMS

On Examination By Attorneys He Denies Asking Delegate Kuhio for $5000 in Connection With 1917 Will

Under a rapid-fire examination and cross-examination in the office of a local attorney yesterday afternoon, "Rev." Sam Kamakia, who says his type of religion is akin to Christian Science, failed to weaken in his recent statements that he did not sign the alleged 1917 will of the late Queen Liliuokalani in the presence of her majesty, but at his own home, and that he said he had signed the alleged will in the queen's presence only after being schooled by "Princess" Theresa Wilcox Belliveau.

John F. Colburn, who has filed in circuit court an affidavit in which he asks to be discharged as executor of the queen's estate under the alleged 1917 will, conducted most of the examination.

"What prompted you to become a minister of the Gospel?" Colburn asked. "I believe that there is a God and that the Bible is His teachings," Kamakia answered.

"Did you go through any ceremony to receive a license to become a minister of the Gospel?" "Yes." "What?" "Speech-making and spreading the Gospel."

SHIP BUREAU CHANGES DO NOT HAMPER WORK

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.--In a statement today Edward Hurley, chairman of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, said that Admiral Harris, who on December 1 succeeded Admiral Capps as manager and who is now retiring, wanted to move the corporation's headquarters to Philadelphia and also wanted to carry out, independent of consultation with the board, plans for $12,000,000 housing operations. Hurley suggested that he consult the directors. Harris felt that he was acting with insufficient authority and asked for relief. The general situation, Hurley maintains, is excellent. The ship tonnage either being built or contracted for is 8,359,308.

DR. HAYES TO STAND TRIAL

Accused Physician Pleads Not Guilty; City Attorney Says He Will Act to Prevent Girl Being Spirited Away

As far as City Attorney Arthur M. Brown knows, no attempt is being made to spirit from the territory, to prevent her appearing as a witness, the woman mentioned in the indictment charging Dr. H. Homer Hayes with the performance of a criminal operation, according to a statement made by him today.

"I will certainly take steps to prevent it if such an attempt is made," the city attorney adds.

Doctor Hayes entered a plea of not guilty in Circuit Judge Heen's court this morning. City Attorney A. M. Brown called the case, but immediately withdrew, his place as prosecutor being taken by Cornell S. Franklin, deputy attorney general.

Attorney Franklin asked the court how soon the case could go to trial, whether in January or February. The court replied it could give no definite answer, as there are a large number of cases now awaiting trial, having piled up because of the lack of funds for jury trials.

"I would like to have the court and prosecution understand that we are ready for trial at any time--within 24 hours if necessary," said Attorney Leon M. Straus, counsel for Doctor Hayes.

The case was placed on the calendar to be set for trial. Doctor Hayes has been released on bond in the sum of $2500. The sureties are William Ahia, T. Ah Pong and David F. Notley.

MCCANDLESS TURNED DOWN BY WAR DEPT.

With the announcement today from the office of United States District Attorney S. C. Huber that condemnation proceedings are to be taken to secure the so-called Kalena tract at Schofield Barracks, the government makes known its intention to secure for military purposes a piece of land held by L. L. "Dink" McCandless in the very heart of the Schofield reservation.

Together with the announcement goes an interesting story, to be found in official records compiled by the government at the time it first began casting about to see what the opportunity was for gaining control of the much needed land.

These records show that the land contains approximately 266.3 acres, and that it was formerly held by Mrs. Kahanu Meek, as owner. Mrs. Meek leased it to the government at the rate of $400 a year, according to the records.

PROHIBITION SUCCESS WITH SENATE SURE

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.--By a vote of 43 to 8 and without a roll-call, the senate accepted the house amendment to the prohibition resolution and thus assured its immediate passage. Seven years is placed as the limit for adoption of the constitutional amendment by the state legislatures.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.--Nationwide prohibition passed the house of representatives yesterday with a handsome margin to spare and Senator Sheppard, author of the resolution, forecast last evening that the senate will today concur in the house amendment wherein it differs from the resolution which he introduced in the senate and which was adopted by that body at the session last summer. Only a very slight difference in the measures as passed by the two branches of congress stands in the way of submitting to the legislatures of the several states the amendment to the constitution of the United States which will prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale and make impossible the use for beverage purposes of alcohol.

In no uncertain language did the house go on record for the submission to the states of nationwide prohibition. The roll call showed eight more than the necessary two-thirds majority of the entire membership of the house and twenty-six more than a two-thirds majority of those present and voting.

Attempts to Amend All Fail. All attempts to emasculate the measure failed in the debate and in the votes that were taken on proposed amendments before the final roll call. Efforts were made to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and the brewing of beer but all of those efforts were defeated by nearly as large a vote as the one which finally passed the measure.

LOCAL CHINESE HELD FOR RANSOM BY SEN'S REBELS

Aged Chinese Jeweler Learns Revolutionists Want $15,000 for Son's Release

Romance and adventure in Honolulu's mysterious Oriental quarter rarely reach the extreme, but down in Nuuanu street Chun Hock Chow, an aged Chinese jeweler, sits among his watches and clocks and bemoans the fate of his young son, Chun Kim Chow, 26 years old, who is being held for a ransom of $15,000 by Chinese rebels now in possession of Canton and surrounding provinces.

The aged father, so far as he now knows, is practically powerless to aid his son, although the American consul at Canton has been asked to intervene, and some local friend of the parent has, it is understood, written to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the rebel forces, requesting him to intercede in the boy's behalf.

Doctor Sen himself is Hawaiian born, as is the young Chinese now in the hands of the rebels, and because of this fact, and because the young man is an American citizen, it is thought that the leader will do what he can to obtain the boy's release. So the father has not yet lost hope. He is being aided by U. S. Attorney S. C. Huber—who suggested the cablegram to the consul at Canton—and by local friends.

The young man left here last July presumably to get married, as his aged mother had selected a wife for him in China. He arrived at his home in one of the provinces near Canton and, on the evening of October 4, as he walked out into a lane in front of the house, he was seized by rebels and carried away.

On November 11 the father in Honolulu received a letter from an older son informing him of the capture. He immediately went to the U. S. immigration station for aid, but was referred to Mr. Huber. Upon Mr. Huber's advice the cablegram was sent to the American consul at Canton. From what could be learned from the father, the consul promised to do what he could.

The letter from the older son in China had on the back the words "Hold for Ransom" in English.

It went on to say that agents of the rebels informed the young man's parents of the kidnaping by leaving a letter in the yard of the family home, where the mother lives with her five sons and two daughters.

The rebels demand for the young man's release $15,000 in gold, 1000 taels of opium—about $10,000 worth, the father says—and 1000 rolls of silk.

"And if this is not paid, my older son says, the young boy will be killed," the father declares.

Young Chow was born in Honolulu and was educated at Iolani College.

KAWAIAHAO ADJOURNS MEETING UNTIL FRIDAY

No new pastor, temporary or permanent, to succeed Rev. H. H. Parker was selected at the mass meeting of the congregation of the Kawaiahao church called for last night.

By 7 o'clock there were nearly 200 of the church members present at the meeting, but then the announcement was made that due to the illness of J. K. Nakila the meeting was to be adjourned until Friday night. Nakila is one of the church deacons and it was stated that he was to have acted as the chairman of the meeting.

Some surprise was evidenced by the congregation when it was stated that Nakila was to be the meeting chairman, as the call for the mass meeting had contained no information that this was to be the case. But nevertheless those present acquiesced to the motion for an adjournment and the election of a new minister was put off for a few more days.

Rev. Parker was not present at the meeting.

CHAPLAIN FROM FRANCE JOINS SECOND INFANTRY

Chaplain Franz J. Feinler, who recently arrived from the mainland and who has joined the 2nd Infantry at Fort Shafter, was recently in France with the American troops. He is perhaps the only officer in the Hawaiian department who has already seen service in the present war.

Chaplain Feinler is a German by birth and was appointed to the army in 1909 from South Dakota.

At Schofield Barracks Chaplain Washington G. Pines has joined the 9th Field Artillery for duty. This officer was only recently appointed in the service.

How Hawaiian music is giving pleasure to the men of the Canadian army is told in a letter received Monday by the Hawaii Promotion Committee from a member of the Imperial Flying Corps. A short time ago through the committee several bundles of music were sent to Canada and the letter thanks Secretary Halton for the gift. It is evident that several members of the corps have visited the islands in the past for the writer tells how the music has recalled many happy moments spent at Waikiki and other parts of the islands.

KAUAI TEACHER LOSES FIGHT TO RETAIN POSITION

Where one has been appointed a school teacher by the department of public instruction and enters into a contract with the territory for a specified time the department is under no legal obligation to reappoint him at the expiration of the contract, or to assign a reason for not reappointing him, or to give him a hearing in connection with its decision not to reappoint him.

This holds the supreme court in instructing Judge L. A. Dickey of the fifth circuit court to dismiss the mandamus suit brought against the school commission by Henry C. Brown, former principal of the Waiaiea, Kauai, school.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were not reappointed by the board about a year ago and demanded a hearing. This was accorded them, but the board decided not to swerve from its initial decision. Mr. Brown then brought mandamus proceedings to force the board to reappoint him. The supreme court decision dismisses the mandamus.

VIERRA TO BE REAPPOINTED TO PARKS POSITION

Mott-Smith After Sounding Public Opinion Switches Support, Assuring Confirmation

A. K. Vierra, present superintendent of parks, playgrounds and public buildings and holdover in office from the past civic administration, will probably be reappointed at the meeting of the board of supervisors tonight, according to information secured by the Star-Bulletin this morning. The matter of the reappointment of a park superintendent has been hanging fire for some months, the "efficiency party," consisting of Mayor Joseph J. Fern and Supervisors Mott-Smith, Bellina, Eltrie and McClellan, holding out for a new man for the position. The "outlaws," Supervisors Arnold, Hollinger and Alia, have supported Mr. Vierra.

"I asked for an expression of public opinion on the matter," said Supervisor E. A. Mott-Smith, who returned from a two weeks' vacation to Hawaii this morning, "and I hear that public opinion favors one man over the other. The situation I believe Vierra should be reappointed."

With Supervisor Mott-Smith's admission in favor of the reappointment of A. K. Vierra and the reiteration by the members of the so-called "outlaw" party of their support of the same man the reappointment is absolutely assured.

The budget of estimates of civic expenditures for the first six months of 1918 is not completed and will not be brought up at the meeting of the board tonight.

BAR ASSN. COMMITTEE NAMED TO RECOMMEND ROBERTSON'S SUCCESSOR

The members of the Bar Association who will act on the special committee to which has been delegated the task of reporting on recommendations to fill the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench were chosen this morning by President J. W. Cathcart as follows: W. W. Frear, chairman; Henry Holmes and C. S. Franklin. The appointment of the committee is the outcome of the meeting of the Bar Association held yesterday afternoon.

At this meeting considerable time was consumed in argument over a point as to whether or not the meeting was legal; Judge C. F. Clemons holding that he had not been notified by the secretary. This point was finally settled and then it was decided to leave it in the hands of the president to appoint a committee of three to report on recommendations. The committee will report Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The association will then decide which man to recommend for the chief justiceship.

Murray, reserve corps, has been sent to Fort Shafter; Capt. George Wheeler Wilcox, reserve corps, to the department hospital, this city; and 1st Lieut. Charles E. Pinckney, reserve corps, to Fort Shafter.

DR. E. S. GOODHUE GOES TOMORROW TO WASHINGTON

Dr. E. S. Goodhue will sail for the mainland tomorrow on his way to Washington, D. C., where he will remain for several weeks and perhaps some months.

While he is not on an official mission, he is deeply interested in seeing that prohibition is put into effect here speedily, and that the present vice conditions are curbed, perhaps through action of the federal authorities. It is understood that he will have opportunity to place his views on social and political questions here before those in authority at the national capital. During his absence he will continue to contribute to his regular weekly column in the Saturday Star-Bulletin.

MONDAY'S MAIL TOPS ALL RECORDS

In the history of the islands, even far back in the days when sometimes weeks elapsed between the arrival of sailing vessels and steamers, the mail brought to Honolulu yesterday from San Francisco was the largest one ever received here, says Postmaster D. H. MacAdam.

There were 1359 bags received. Most of this was Christmas mail, consisting of parcel post pouches or cases, as only 21 letter bags were received. Twenty-three of the pieces of the big mail were the new protected parcel post cases, any of which hold as much as three average mail pouches.

If the mail was transported as last year the number of pieces in yesterday's mail would have amounted to 1440 or 1450 bags.

This big mail was received three days after nearly 1000 other bags reached Honolulu and 300 more pouches are expected today.

"It looks like Hawaii people were not being forgotten by their coast friends this Christmas," says the Honolulu postmaster.

SPECIAL PROGRAM AT SALVATION ARMY HOME

Formal opening of the new assembly hall of the Salvation Army home in Waiwae valley will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock, and in connection with the dedication of this building a special Christmas program has been arranged for the 150 children that are now in the boys' and girls' departments. A cordial invitation is issued to all friends of the home.

With the familiar Santa Claus at his usual place at each of several corners down town, Honolulu shoppers are reminded that the Salvation Army is making its usual extensive preparations for looking after the poor. Officers of the organization say the needs here are just as great as ever, and contributions are urged.

The Christmas program includes distribution of basket dinners to poor families. This will be on December 21 from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the headquarters, 69-71 Beretania street. Entertainments and presents for poor children at the five army posts will be held on different nights during Christmas week.

These plans mean a great amount of work for members of the organization. Investigators are at present busy looking carefully into the needs of the various people and it is the wish to provide for all needy ones.

KAKMAKAI TELLS OF HIS VISIONS

that I saw a bell on a scaffold. This was on the beach. I was on one side and the queen, in her carriage, was on the other. I saw this bell hanging on the scaffold and it was aflame with fire. After the bell was destroyed, I saw the rope hanging down and lots of people were holding it. When the people saw that the bell was being burned they let the rope go so the bell would fall into the sea. That was the dream I told Mrs. Wilcox about before I ever entered into this thing. I told Mrs. Wilcox that if she wanted me to go into this thing, that bell was myself.

"When you had that dream, it was before you signed the will?"

Yes, I told Mrs. Wilcox that if I followed after her in this, then I'd be in jail.

"Didn't you tell me you had a dream last week?"

Yes.

"Tell us about the second one."

"That was last Friday at 2 o'clock in the morning."

Kamakala then said he had had a similar dream, and that he woke up and told his wife about it. They went out and sat together, and Kamakala told his wife he would offer a prayer. He told her to choose some part of the Bible and, according to his story, she chose that part where the Lord washed the feet of the disciples.

"And I interpreted that as meaning that God desired that I wash my hands of this whole affair," continued Kamakala, "so I came to town Saturday and told the truth."

"The 'truth' he refers to was the affidavit in which he declared he did not sign the alleged 1917 will in the presence of the queen, but at his own home, and at the request of Theobald."

"You have never spoken about this will to Kulu or Lauka or Attorney Lightfoot or any of the attorneys for the other side?" an attorney asked.

"No," answered Kamakala.

"If you had not had this dream, then you were going to testify in court?"

Yes.

Colburn resumed the examination at this point:

"Before you signed the affidavit two or three days after the death of the queen, do you remember that I cautioned you as to telling the truth?"

Yes, you did.

"And I asked you questions which you understood?"

"Some questions. You are not quite a Hawaiian scholar."

"But you understood the affidavit?"

"Whatever I said it was all taught me by Mrs. Wilcox. They were not my own words."

Kamakala was then asked if he remembered which woman stenographer was present, and said he did not know.

"My eyes are restricted from gazing on other women—whether Hawaiian or white," he told Colburn.

He said he had been married three times and that his first wife was an aunt of Delegate Kulu.

"I know what you people are trying to get at," he continued finally.

"What?" he was asked.

"I won't tell you," he replied. "My God has told me. You folks are going to do something to put me in jail. You people don't believe in God. It comes to me in a vision, a dream. He conveys what He wants to tell me at any time He pleases. He told me this last night."

"Do you ever have spells of insanity?" Kamakala was asked.

He said he did not.

"Where is the book you said the queen signed the will on?"

"That was only a lie. I said that only because Theresa told me to."

SECOND LIEUTS. MAY SOON WEAR SHOULDER BARS

Hawaiian Department Officers Interested in Report of New Plan

Young officers in the Hawaiian department are much interested in a report from Washington that a plan for changing the insignia so as to allow a distinguishing bar on the shoulders of second lieutenants is being considered by the war department.

The plan which is said to be under consideration by the war department is to have second lieutenants wear one bar, first lieutenants two bars, and captains three bars. This will mean that first lieutenants and captains will add one bar to those already worn.

It is said that no change is being considered for the present for officers of higher rank in shoulder strap insignia, though a radical change has been proposed for the sleeve scroll on the service overcoat.

In allowing the second lieutenants to wear one bar, more status with enlisted men would be given, it is argued. It is probable that all second lieutenants will approve of the plan. One of the main reasons for the proposed change is that these officers wear no insignia of rank. So many enlisted men wear leather leggings that officers are not easily distinguishable.

Those in favor of the change argue that the captains could easily wear three bars, and point to the foreign method to verify this assertion. The plan also would mean that second lieutenants would be saluted more punctually. Much complaint has reached the war department on that score.

It is true that the uniform of the second lieutenant is almost bashful in its simplicity. Second lieutenants now wear the overcoat without scrolls on the sleeve.

The major would wear one broad solid band on the overcoat sleeve. Lieutenant-colonels would wear one broad and one small band and colonels two broad bands and two small ones.

The advisability of this method is shown by the fact that it is hard to distinguish at a glance more than three scrolls. It is almost an optical impossibility. Adjutant General McCain recently issued an order for army field clerks and field clerks of the quartermaster's corps which would seem to speak in favor of the insignia plan for second lieutenants.

GOVERNOR IN REPORT POINTS OUT PROSPERITY

That the territory of Hawaii has enjoyed "unusual prosperity" during the last year is stated by the governor in his annual report to the secretary of the interior. It is to be noted, he says, that there will be no friction between laborers and the plantations, as a bonus system exists which aims at a just participation.

"The assessable property of the territory, he continues, totals $21,229,919 as of January 1, 1917, as against $20,970,229 as of January 1, 1916. It is well to understand that valuations vary according to the prosperity of business corporations, as assessments are made on them as enterprises of profit.

"The total commercial bank deposits as of December 31, 1916, were $2,186,524.71, and savings bank deposits as of June 30, 1917, $39,295,496.79, both aggregating $42,892,021.50 as against $26,379,249.68, showing an increase of $16,512,771.82. The legal limit of the territorial indebtedness is $16,234,464.

"Repatriation, at their request, of incapacitated and dependent assisted immigrants solely occupied the board of immigration for the year. There were deported 108 persons—52 men, 30 women and 46 children."

"Commenting on the 1917 legislature the governor says that the relations between the executive and both houses were fairly harmonious. All his nominations were confirmed save two members of the commission on conformity of state laws.

"The report shows that during the last fiscal year a total of 42 corporations were created and 45 dissolved, leaving at the close of the year 753 domestic corporations. The total capitalization of domestic corporations is $170,076,228, an increase of $8,169,709, or 4 per cent for the year. Foreign corporations to the number of 153, as compared with 154 of the preceding year, are authorized to do business in the territory.

MIGHTON DEMURS.

A demurrer, holding that the indictment contains nothing upon which to base a charge against the defendant, has been filed in circuit court in the case of F. C. NEW TREATMENT THAT KNOCKS RHEUMATISM

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, reporting cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and lime salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Swelling, pain, stiffness, swelling just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that his owner wants everybody who suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 50c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 50c package free if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with 15c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally."

AGED RETAINER OF QUEEN DENIES THERESA VISITED HER IN AUGUST

Mrs. Heleluhe Says "Princess," However, Tried to Fix Date In Her Mind

This is a portion of "Rev." Sam Kamakia's affidavit in which he says he witnessed the queen's signature to the alleged will of 1917 at her home at Washington Place.

"She (Theresa) when invited me to accompany her right then, which I did, and in a short while arrived there in the presence of the queen and there were sitting there with the queen two of her retainers, Wakiki Heleluhe and Mrs. Joe Aea....."

All this, Kamakia now says in a new affidavit, was false. He declares "Princess" Theresa brought the alleged will to his home in Puunui, where he signed it in the presence of his wife.

He also asserts that he was schooled by "Princess" Theresa to tell the story contained in his first affidavit, and understood that he was to tell the same story if he was called upon to testify in court. He says he was told by Theresa to say, among other things, that Mrs. Heleluhe and Mrs. Aea were present when the will is supposed to have been signed in the queen's presence.

But now comes Mrs. Wakiki Heleluhe, the aged retainer of the late Liliuokalani, who points the finger of suspicion at Theresa and tells a story which goes to show that the "princess" has apparently played her last card and lost.

"At no time, while I was in the queen's presence, did 'Princess' Theresa—Owana—visit her majesty," she declared in a statement to the Star-Bulletin yesterday afternoon. Prior to being interviewed she had been discussing the 1917 will with Fred Beckley and, in spite of the fact that they are devisees under this document, both declare it a rank fraud.

Mrs. Heleluhe, who is unusually bright and active for a woman of her age—she is 76—also declares that during the month of August, this year, she was in constant attendance on the queen, acting under orders of Colonel Curtis P. Iaukea.

She says that John M. Kealoha, one of the witnesses to the alleged will, did not visit the queen that month, or at any time, to her knowledge. But Theresa continues to declare that she and Kealoha and Kamakia witnessed the signing of the alleged will by the queen.

Mrs. Heleluhe says that Kamakia came to Washington Place only once, this being for the purpose of getting the queen to sign a petition for the reinstatement of Peter Kalani as bandmaster. She says he was told that the queen was in no condition to sign the petition, whereupon Kamakia said he would offer prayer calling upon God to give the queen strength to sign. Mrs. Heleluhe adds that Kamakia had to be ordered from the place, and that he was told to take the petition to Col. Curtis P. Iaukea.

On the 23rd of August, the day on which the alleged will is supposed to have been signed by the queen, neither Theresa, Kealoha or Kamakia were in the queen's presence, declares Mrs. Heleluhe.

But here is the peculiar incident in the transaction:

On the Thursday following the queen's funeral, says Mrs. Heleluhe, she was at the Royal Mausoleum, and was there visited by Theresa and one Y. Ahin, said to be the business agent for the "princess." Mrs. Heleluhe says Theresa tried to fix in her mind the date of August 23 by reminding her that it was on that day that Mrs. C. P. Iaukea had gone to town to buy a pair of shoes.

"Owana (Theresa) requested me to bear that exact date in mind and to remember the show incident," Mrs. Heleluhe said in Hawaiian.

She adds that Theresa then told Ahin to give her, Mrs. Heleluhe, a dollar. Ahin, she says, did this, and Mrs. Heleluhe gave it to the caretaker of the mausoleum.

JOAN'S SPIRIT INSPIRES FRANCE

The memory of Joan of Arc, of her great sacrifices, valiant deeds, even her miserable death which later raised her to spiritual glory and world-wide fame, are still the inspiration of France in its wonderful struggle against the Prussian hordes. The French polus and the British Tommies when deeds are to be done that call for personal sacrifice, call upon the spirit of Joan to guide them through to success and go down to death with the memory of the maid of Orleans imprinted on their hearts.

To appreciate the spirit with which France struggles, to appreciate the determination that has overcome insuperable obstacles, one must come into touch with the French esprit de corps. In the superb film, "Joan, the Woman," which comes to the Bijou theatre Thursday, one is filled with admiration for France despite the misdeeds of some of her clergy who put politics and gold above welfare of state and human souls.

The film "Joan, the Woman" opens on the battlefields of Ypres, where a British Tommy is called on to sacrifice his life in a bombing raid on a German trench. In the few hours before he dies for country he lays down to sleep, but as he does so a sword imbedded in the floor of the dugout attracts him; he pulls it out. The weapon of the medieval ages, recalls the tale of Joan of Arc and as he lies down to sleep he dreams himself impersonating a British count ravaging Orleans when Joan appears with her armies and defeats him.

He finally awakes at the appointed hour and goes forth to death with a light heart, buoyed up by the spirit of Joan of Arc. As he dies the vision of saintly Joan comforts him.

Hotbeds of Vice and Crime

Go into any one of the tenement houses in Honolulu today—those barracks of buildings west of Nuuanu stream, particularly—and you will see the most acute condition of overcrowding since the tenements became a fixed blot on Honolulu's escutcheon.

Hundreds upon hundreds of plantation workers have come to the city during the past month, with their bonus money. Many of them expected to take passage for the coast, and have been unable to get accommodations. Others drifted here with the natural impulse of their kind to "lay off" for a good time when they were flush with prosperity.

Into the midst of some of Honolulu's foulest dens of disease, vice and potential crime there have been thrust scores of families with girls from babyhood to twenty years of age. Fresh from the plantations, where they lived in clean, orderly, industrious communities, these young girls are exposed to a danger that is obvious to the most casual observer of present-day conditions. Some of these tenement-houses are swarming with single men, most of them idle. Night and day there is drinking, carousing, the loosing of bestial passion. To put girls from the plantations into such surroundings—particularly at a time when the family's scant treasury is rapidly being depleted, when the father is idle, when home ties have been broken, when presently a time will come when money must be had—to put these girls into such environment is as merciless as to thrust a lamb into a den of wolves. The result may be just as surely prophesied.

There must be something done immediately to safeguard these families, and there must be something of a more permanent nature done to get at the tenement evil. In the line of immediate action, every social and moral agency should cooperate in getting these families back to the plantations. They can't get to the coast because of lack of steamer accommodations, and they can't remain here, for Honolulu is now full of idle men—single men. There is little work here for these men with families of from six to ten.

In the line of more permanent action, there are suggestions to segregate the sexes; to require each tenement to employ a janitor and general watchman who will see that the premises are kept morally clean; to legislate against overcrowding; and, ultimately, to destroy these great barns of poverty, filth, disease and vice and to establish, so far as possible, the cottage system of housing.

There will be powerful objection to this, as there is to every attack, in every city, upon the tenement evil. The task may be harder in Honolulu because most citizens here have gone along under the comfortable belief that the tenements were being wiped out at a rapid rate. It is true that the board of health, by persistent campaigning, has carried out a noteworthy system of enforcing some fundamental sanitary regulations, such as cement flooring and drains, but there still remain block after block of ramshackle edifices where men, women and children are lumped together, where five or six men and two or three women occupy the same room; where children grow up in an atmosphere of nauseous moral degeneracy; where vice and crime are fostered which cost the city ten times what it would cost to clean up every tenement in Honolulu.

Germany Must Answer

Germany must answer to the United States for sinking the Lusitania and the murder of innocent Americans and little children; for the sinking of the Ancona, and the taking of more human lives; for the sinking of the Arabic, and the torpedoing of the Sussex; for promising to warn all merchant ships before launching their torpedoes, and then forgetting all about the promise; for planting the seed of hate in the minds and hearts of the rising German generation for all Americans; for plotting against American factories; for attempting to instigate a revolt in Mexico; for attempting to destroy American ammunition factories; for financing and encouraging German-Americans to become traitors in the United States; for discriminating against and black-listing American firms doing business in Germany; for insulting American women, even the wives of American consular officials by unwarranted and uncalled-for search of their persons when crossing the German border. These are but a few of the atrocities that Germany must answer for to us.

Germany is an outcast from the society of nations; a nation apart, to be despised and scorned.

IN CALIFORNIA

This is what has happened in California, according to the San Francisco newspapers:

The milk producers decided they would raise the price of milk. Food Commissioner Merritt decided they wouldn't, at least until they could prove that it was necessary in order to keep business alive. He did not allow the attitude to be taken that the food officials must prove the new price unreasonable. He made the milk producers prove the new price reasonable.

Milk has not gone up.

There are a good many things much more to the point that continuing the controversy of last summer about the mobilization of the guard. What Hawaii is interested in now is not non-action in the past but action in the future.

The queen can do no wrong, and why not extend this convenient tradition to a "princess"?

The Day of Disgrace Is Coming

The duty of exposing the third party in the alleged abortion case for which Dr. Hayes is under indictment is all the more imperative because of the many and persistent rumors afloat in Honolulu.

These rumors are beginning to be rather circumstantial. They will doubtless grow more circumstantial still. If they are absolutely untrue, it is outrageous that the case is not fully ventilated enough to end an injustice. If they are true, it is outrageous that proper action be not taken to punish adequately the man at least equally with the girl—the man who is now able to hide his dirty part under an exterior of assumed respectability and walk the streets among other men.

The storm of indignation over the Berg case has not yet subsided. In that case the man escaped detection and prosecution. Is another cheap and cowardly betrayer of women to go scot-free while the girl suffers and a physician is placed on trial charged with a serious offense? No, he will not go free. There are circumstances in the present scandal which give good ground for belief that public exposure will place on the third party a finger of withering scorn and utter contempt that will be more terrible for him than exposure now. His day of disgrace is coming.

A Sound Case, Ably Handled

Success in the budget campaign of the Y. W. C. A. was a triumph for a sound, worthy cause set before the public through the medium of intelligently-handled publicity.

A year ago, when Honolulu was hearing far fewer calls for public contributions than today, the Y. W. C. A. asked $14,000. That was considered a large budget. The women concerned with the campaign decided after some consideration to employ the medium of organized, paid-publicity to set their case before the public, this, of course, to be supplemented by an intensive canvass of the city. The campaign was so successful that the budget was over-subscribed.

This year there was no question as to the value of the paid publicity in driving home to the community the facts in the form which the Y. W. C. A. wanted. The paid advertisements in the daily paper, run simultaneously with news articles, centered attention on the Y. W. C. A. appeal to the public, and once that attention was centered, it was riveted home by the proved facts of Y. W. C. A. worth to the city and territory, Y. W. C. A. war needs and war plans, and Y. W. C. A. efficiency in handling its previous funds.

And $45,000 was the goal.

The Lauterbach Incident

From the Advertiser, December 18, 1917:

Honolulu unknowingly entertained the "Baron Munchausen" of the German navy in Aug., 1915, in the person of Capt. Lauterbach, one of the pirates of the German raiding cruiser Emden, which was destroyed at Cocos Island by the Australian cruiser Sydney. The German passed through here under the assumed name of Johnson, according to a paragraph found in the diary of Captain Grasshof, commander of the former German cruiser Geier, which was interned at Honolulu until April of this year.

From the Star-Bulletin, August 10, 1915:

Traveling under an assumed name, believed to be "H. W. Johnson," Lieut.-Comdr. Lauterbach of the German battle-cruiser Emden, which was sunk several months ago off Cocos Keeling Island in a sea-fight with the British battleship Sydney, is in Honolulu today en route to San Francisco and Germany, after escaping from the British authorities in Singapore.

More than two years ago the Star-Bulletin published the Lauterbach story; on the first page—on the day the German was here as a passenger on the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia.

Under the circumstances it can hardly be said that Honolulu entertained Lauterbach "unknowingly." The Grasshof diary is confirmed by the Star-Bulletin's story, and one more proof is added to the many that the Grasshof diary is no figment of the imagination but evidence damning to Germanism in Honolulu.

We don't wish to cast undeserved suspicions on the "Colonel" which is prefixed to our new collector of revenue, Mr. Hathaway of Everett, Wash., but we cannot help remembering "General" Jeff McCann, also from the Sunny South.

Gen. Goethals is back on the job, which will be satisfactory to the country, for most people have figured that his ability and energy are too valuable to be lost by disuse.

"May Cut Salaries of All Congressmen," says a headline. This move of the misguided Kenyon is going to hurt a lot of patriots where the hurting is worst.

Have you joined the Red Cross yet? If not, why not? Not under all the shining heavens is there a better opportunity for practical patriotism.

Possibly there is a perfectly good explanation of the Grasshof diary disclosures by the Honoluluans who figured in it—possibly!

The Bar Association hasn't recommended anyone for the chief justiceship, so the contest is not yet a handicap affair.

It is stated that the food conservation program is waiting—for various reasons. Why should it wait?

The king business is getting worse and worse. Now there is talk about demoting Alfonso of Spain.

LETTERS

SPLendid, BUT NOT PERFECT

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Sir: The letter in your issue of yesterday by "Reader" would have been in "better taste," I think, if it had been signed by the writer.

But his name no matter how high-sounding it is, cannot justify the nasty spirit of his communication. It is downright contemptible. His is the execrable taste, and will be so considered by every fair minded person.

Read my criticism, if even it may be called that, and see what I did say.

That the atmosphere of Central Union church was different from that of the Methodist. (Which is true.)

That possibly there was more evidence of wealth and intelligence in Central Union. (Here is a criticism of the Methodist church which no one resents.)

That there is a more "homey" feeling in the Methodist church. (This, I think, is characteristic of the denomination. I'd like to say it of the Unitarian church, but I can't. Neither can I of the Congregationalist church. Yet, where's the offense?)

That the preaching is better in the Methodist church. (This refers to the old order and not to the present incumbent, who is young as he ought to be for a live church, and apparently up to the needs of its membership.)

If I'm not mistaken he'll get down to Reader's sleepy case before he is through.

That the preaching in Central Union church is (was) very orthodox and very slow. (Who will deny this? A Congregationalist minister from another island called my attention to it several times.)

That I came away dissatisfied (With the orthodoxy and the long prayers. I have a right to feel so and to say I feel so without offending sensible "Central Unionites.")

Now I like Central Union church as well as anybody. I go there quite often, possibly with as reverent a spirit as "Reader" does. I like the music. The church is beautiful, and the atmosphere delightful.

I've heard good preaching there. I've heard preaching there which was not orthodox and prayers that were not overlong.

It still has a splendid big lot of members in it who like neither orthodox, slow preaching or long prayers. They have as much right to their preferences as the controlling minority.

And so long as rigid orthodoxy is preached there, so long will the church fail to hold the young, or come up to the full standards of its usefulness.

It's a grand body. I'm proud of it if I don't belong to it. And because I'm interested in it and its work, is one reason why I said what I did, and why I shall say more.

If "Reader" thinks that because it's Central Union church, the chamber of commerce, the University Club, or any other influential organization, no one has a right to criticize it, he is pretty much of a fool.

A few Central Unionites like "Reader" have for several years made things hot for any pastor who tried to indicate for the church a broader path.

Some of the strongest and best of the missionary descendants here are not in sympathy with Central Union because it is theologically narrow. (I will qualify my statement by saying "has been.")

In several instances not out of my memory, the "send off" the minority gave their departing minister was as uncharitable and unjust as "Reader's" criticism of my letter.

Central Union as a body is fine, but it isn't perfect. It isn't God. It isn't even as good as it might be.

It still has in it members who, like "Reader," are narrow and bad-tempered.

And if it is above criticism, why wasn't the church more than half filled last night to hear a rattling good talk by a young man who has some life in him?

There's a lot of dead timber in the church. This young man is going to discover and hew it into chips for fire. If he doesn't, I'm mightily mistaken in him.

And the old fossilized, orthodox, immovable, paralyzed portions of Central Union which have kept it from being the power in the community that it ought to be, are going to be galvanized into life, or the whole church will become what so many churches are—mere organized masses of inertia.

Such criticisms of the church, all the churches, come from men like Bishop Williams of Michigan, Washington Gladden, Hillis, Holmes, our D. C. Peters, and many others.

In what sense is my criticism more "execrable" because it is made in the newspaper rather than from the pulpit? My column is my pulpit, and I mean to preach truth as I see it, now and on.

And about Central Union, I am not alone in saying this. It's what some of Central Union's most efficient and effective workers say. It's what many who have gone out of Central Union have said. It's what more will say if the bright young minister takes the "stand pat" attitude of "Reader."

If "Reader" had given his name I should have thought that he felt really aggrieved over my reference to Central Union, and was not only venting his animus and spleen upon me for some of my other numerous public offenses.

E. S. GOODHUE.

HAWAII REGISTRANTS TO BE CALLED FOR SECOND DRAFT

This is Expected About February 1 But in the Meantime Territory Will Be Exempt From Furnishing Men for Service, Washington Recognizing That Islands Have Done Full Duty in War

(By C. S. ALBERT.)
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Territory of Hawaii has done its full duty since the United States entered the world war. Quotas for the regular army and the National Guard have been more than filled. Every other patriotic requirement has been amply fulfilled and no present necessity exists for participation in the first selective draft.

This represents the general opinion of officials here. While registration and drawing of military numbers have been completed in Hawaii so soon as to more than the usual emergencies. Because of that, prevailing sentiment now has been taken to fix a quota for the territory in choosing the men who will fill the cantonments and prepare for early service in France. The opinion prevails that such action should be deferred until the second call for men is made. This will not be earlier than February 1st, according to present indications.

It is made clear at the war department and the provost marshal general's office that no final and definite conclusion has been reached regarding the calling of National army troops in Hawaii. The fact remains that a quota has not been fixed and none is in sight. The cablegram of Governor Pinkham announcing the result of drawing numbers, was filed away for future action. All the responsible heads strongly intimated that nothing would be done in the immediate future. It was declared on all sides that Hawaii had performed a full and complete duty in filling regular army and National Guard quotas. No reason existed for going farther at this time and accepting the service of men simply because they are willing or anxious to join in aiding the country. Abundant opportunity will be afforded all of them to be patriotic hereafter.

The question of labor in Hawaii has been considered along with other matters connected with the selective draft in the territory. It has been realized that any considerable reduction in the ranks of workmen would have a tendency to lessen the sugar crops, which is vitally essential to the country. The problem of feeding the American and allied armies is of equal importance to organizing more men for service in the trenches. From the outset it has been held inadvisable to materially affect labor conditions in Hawaii. This was one of the first reasons assigned for not expediting the first selective draft here.

All officials agree that if the situation remains unchanged a detachment of men from Hawaii will participate in the second draft when it is called for training and service.

CUBA BEGINNING IMPORTATION OF CHINESE COOLIES

The transportation through San Francisco of 10,000 Chinese laborers to work on the sugar plantations of Cuba is expected to begin next month, according to coast papers, on account of the fact that President Menocal signed a new law permitting the importation up to a maximum of 20,000 Chinese for the promotion of the sugar industry of the country.

W. E. Monroe, who represents the syndicate of sugar planters, has appointed Fred F. Connor & Son, 16 California street, San Francisco, as the agent for the syndicate to gather the Chinese at Hongkong and Shanghai and attend to their delivery at Cuba at a transportation rate per head of $127.

Under Contract. The amount to be paid the steamship and railroads will be $1,370,000. Under the laws of the United States the laborers will pass through this country in bond. Monroe, who was at the St. Francis hotel recently, informed the railroad and steamship agents that the imported Chinese will be brought under contract by which they will receive $2 a day and remain in Cuba for a period to extend to three years after the formal conclusion of the war.

It is expected that after the first 10,000 are delivered that the San Francisco agent will get another contract to deliver the other 10,000 called for under the terms of the new law.

CABARET IS DEFINED

Acting Collector Ralph S. Johnstone of the internal revenue office Monday received a cable from Washington defining the word "cabaret" as used in the new war revenue law. Any hotel serving food or refreshments with music at which dancing is permitted comes within the "cabaret" tax law, according to the cable.

EASY WAY TO STOP WASTE OF FOOD

Do you know that rats destroy and spoil over two hundred million dollars worth of foodstuffs every year? This fact being known, why delay vigorously using a reliable method of ridding our homes, stores and warehouses of these wonderful pests? Probably there is no easier nor more effective method of exterminating rats than Stearns' Paste, a scientific product that has been used successfully by the U. S. government in its different campaigns against the rat. A small box, costing only thirty-five cents, will usually completely free the house from rats and mice. It will also effectually destroy cockroaches and waterbugs. —Adv.

HONOR ROLL OF HAWAII SOLDIERS TO BE COMPILED

The work of compiling Hawaii's roll of honor on which will be recorded the name of every resident of the islands who is now in, or about to enter, active service, was begun today. This honor roll will be in charge of the Bureau of War Records of the Honolulu, Hawaii, Chapter of the American Red Cross and when filled will be placed in the Public Archives.

The object of the Bureau of Records is to obtain full information on all residents of Hawaii who have gone into or are about to go into active service. Blanks upon which the information can be made are being sent out. Anyone who has information of a resident who has enlisted will confer the Bureau of Records a favor and help to put some deserving man's name on the roll by writing a letter giving the name of the enlisted man, his company and the rest of the details to P. O. Box 349, Honolulu Post-office. Mrs. Robert Eigin is in charge of the division which has already prepared 12 volumes with a total of 6000 names. This will take care of 6000 names and if Hawaii sends more than that number supplements will be added to the records. Only by the cooperation of all residents of Hawaii can this work be satisfactorily accomplished and therefore the bureau asks that help be given from every source.

British Consul E. L. S. Gordon will assist in compiling the names of the Britishers who have gone.

PAIN VANISHES IN A FEW MINUTES

Sloan's Liniment Quickly Relieves Minor Injuries of All Kinds

Why does Sloan's Liniment stop the pain of your sprained ankle? Because it draws out inflammation from the torn or twisted ligaments, and stimulates the circulation to remove the congested blood. Its soothing, warming value should be applied at once, as serious injury often follows failure to promptly care for a sprain. Strains differ from sprains in that muscles and not joints are wrenched. They stop hurting just as quickly under the comforting application of Sloan's Liniment.

The soothing, warming counter-irritant action of Sloan's Liniment gives quick relief to wrenched joints or muscles, backache, stiff neck, gout, chilblains and other external injuries. Cleaner than musky plasters or ointments, Sloan's Liniment penetrates without rubbing. Generous size bottles at druggists everywhere. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

$150,000 EACH TO MATSON HEIRS BY FIRST WIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Heirs of the late Captain William Matson have reached an agreement as to the division of his $3,000,000 estate between the widow and her daughter and Matson's five children by an earlier marriage.

While they refused to make public the share that each of the heirs will receive, Gavin McNab, attorney for the children by Matson's first marriage, and Attorney Alexander Morrison, one of the executors of the estate, announced definitely yesterday that there will be no effort to break the will of the wealthy shipping man.

It is said that Matson's executors agreed to a settlement that will give each of the children of his first wife $150,000, seven and one-half times the amount of the legacies provided for in the will.

The heirs are said to have agreed to divide the estate without contest, because the war-inflated value of shipping, sugar and oil stocks that make up the entire fortune makes inadvisable action that might tie up the properties. Attorneys believed the issues could not have been decided in the courts in less than two years.

Captain Matson's will left half his estate to his widow, Mrs. Lillie R. Matson; $20,000 to each of his five children by his first marriage, and the rest to Mrs. Lurline B. Roth, Mrs. Lillie Matson's daughter. The children by the earlier marriage are Mrs. Ida Bernard, Mrs. Emily Forrest, Arthur J. Matson, Theodore Matson and Walter J. Matson.

EXPERIMENT STATION PLANS TO HELP HALEAKALA HOMESTEADERS

A new method of aiding the homesteaders on Maui is to be inaugurated under the auspices of the U. S. experiment station when the new tract on the slope of Haleakala, halfway between the top of the crater and Kahului is opened up next January by the territorial government.

The tract in question is to consist of 37 forty-acre lots but only 31 will be thrown open to the public as the thirty-seventh will be reserved by the government for the use of the station.

It is the plan of J. M. Westgate, director of the federal station, and F. G. Krauss, extension worker at Haiku, Maui, to place on the reserved lot a homesteader well versed in modern farming methods and who will carry out the experiments of crops under the advice of the station's experts.

Mr. Krauss is in Honolulu now working with Mr. Westgate on the proposition and the two men are meeting with encouragement on every hand. H. G. Rittenbrugh, land commissioner, has been approached on the subject of reserving the land for experimental purposes and has agreed to see it through. There are a number of minor details to be gone through but these are not expected to delay the undertaking long.

J. F. Child, food commissioner, gave his hearty approval this morning and said he was willing to help in every way.

The new tract is in the corn, bean and potato belt of Maui and instead of the new homesteaders, who take up the land, wasting time and money in finding out the best crops and the most approved methods of growing and planting them, the experiments will be carried out on the reserved acres.

The farmer who is selected by the experiment station will receive $25 monthly to make good any losses which may be sustained as a result of the experiments and all the proceeds of the 40 acres will also go to him. By this method of helping the farmers, Mr. Westgate hopes to prevent failures which so often occur when new lands are taken up due to the unfamiliarity with the local conditions. Thus all the sooner the new homesteaders will be put on their feet financially.

This method of helping the farmers is entirely new in Hawaii, but it is looked upon by all who have investigated the proposition as one of the best steps in the advancement of Hawaii as a self-sustained agricultural community and the future will probably see other tracts similarly treated.

Society Suffers in Summer

Probably there is nothing more annoying to a refined woman than offensive perspiration of body odors. These abominable social pests have been well exemplified in the experience of Dr. M. E. Charter, Faculté de Paris, France. Dr. Charter uses a sponge bath made of 1 oz. Tyre's Antiseptic Powder in one gallon of water as preventive and cure. He says he finds the powder to be a deodorizer and stimulant of the skin and an alleviator of pain. Two teaspoonsful of the pure powder in a pint of water gave him excellent results in a case of Poison Oak after all other remedies had failed. Similar happy effects were obtained from the use of the same strength solution in Eczema.

The tender skin of a child is exceptionally sensitive to heat. Tyre's Antiseptic Powder used either dry, mixed with talcum, or in solution as a sponge bath gives the little one comfort from all such painful afflictions.

The doctor further suggests to social patrons the use of Tyre's Powder instead of poisonous talcum, carbolic acid, perfume, etc., as it is in every way more agreeable and the results accompanying its use are much to be preferred to the dangerous and disagreeable agents now in use.

It is sold in packages at 25c and $1.00 by the manufacturer, J. S. Tyre, Chemist, Inc., Washington, D. C.

Save Eggs by Using Royal Baking Powder

In recipes for cakes, muffins and other baked flour foods calling for the use of eggs, fewer eggs may be used with excellent results and often left out altogether by using a small additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

The following tested recipe is a practical example:

RICE MUFFINS

1/4 cups flour
4 tablespoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup boiled rice
1 tablespoon shortening
1/4 cups milk

DIRECTIONS—Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add boiled rice and milk; mix well. Add melted shortening and bake in greased muffin tins in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

The old method called for 2 eggs

You must use Royal Baking Powder to obtain the best results.

Big Race Meet Only One Week Away; Rail Birds Are Awake

Christmas Card at Kapiolani Park Promises to Bring Out New Blood—Bangtails Will Be Given Real Workouts From Now on—Many Runners Will Be Entered From Macfarlane and Dillingham Stables—Horsemen Believe Will Be Big Event

And you will find them sitting on the rail these fine mornings. And you will also find that the rail birds are beginning to figure out which one of the bangtails will romp under the wire in the lead when the big races at Kapiolani park are staged on Christmas and New Years.

This morning there was little action at the track, but a few runners were being schooled at the barrier, and a small crowd was perched on the rail giving the runners the double O. It is expected that there will be real workouts for a number of entries tomorrow and every day until the first events on Dec. 25.

Cal Leonard, the veteran trainer, recently returned from the mainland and brought down with him three fillies which were purchased by Louis Warren.

One Week Away
According to the horsemen who are now congregated at the track the coming meet should be a real one from every standpoint. Just one week from today the runners and harness horses will be called to the post and Honolulu race fans should see some real racing.

One of the noticeable things which will be in evidence on Christmas and New Years is the introduction of new blood. The supporters of the racing game on Hawaii have spent thousands of dollars in bringing the runners to these islands, and the older horses which have made history in racing are being superseded by the blooded stock from the coast.

Macfarlane Stable
Mrs. Walter Macfarlane has been deeply interested in bringing the best blood to the islands, and has expended thousands of dollars to keep the Macfarlane stable up to the standard of the best in Hawaii.

Among the runners which will be entered from the Macfarlane stable is Florence Roberts, one of the best known runners on the Pacific coast. This mare holds the Canadian record for five furlongs. She will start with Umpqua in the six furlong event on Christmas Day and may also run the mile on New Years.

Rosella, a four-year-old bay by Voter; Lahontan Water, a four-year-old bay gelding by Colonel Wheeler; Remark, Suate, Dreamery, Peter Post, Dinger Bell and one other entry will also be seen at the post on Christmas and New Years.

The Dillingham stables will have entered in the coming races the following runners: Tremont, a three-year-old; Mary Louise, a two-year-old; Loretta a two-year-old; Umpqua, aged, and Christmas, aged.

At the City Stables, Territorial Stables and Hollinger stables there are a goodly number of entries, and Zorene, Carmelita, Bell Newman, Golden Spray, Jolly, Miner Boy and Welcome Boy are expected to be on hand when the Christmas Day events are called.

Brother Ben Bruns Back Again—and With A Wife

MR. AND MRS. BEN BRUNS

Jovial Ben Bruns, he of the engaging smile and strident voice, who first introduced Honolulu to the delights of a medicine show, was also his famous Kickapoo medicine, is back in Honolulu—and with a bride.

Ostentatiously he was "forced" to come back to sunny Hawaii on a business trip, but really he was lured back here by the call of the tropics, which Ben could not resist, even though he has been a model benedict for the past two years and ever since he met and won the hand and heart of a Kentucky belle.

Ben is the same old Ben that Honolulu knew in his medicine show days—that is his smile is the same, although he has modulated his voice from the volume necessary for open air street selling to the persuasive tones of a traveling drug salesman.

Ben has one distinction for national fame. It was he who discovered and launched Willie Ritchie, one time lightweight champion, on his way to the championship. Ben was "good medicine" for Willie, but the "erstwhile champion turned out a "bitter pill" for his one time promoter.

"Dr." Bruns found Willie putting in most of his time wondering where the next ham and was coming from. As everyone knows, Willie had a likeable face and when Ben met him as a boy, just beginning to feel his muscles, he cottoned to him at once. From then on Willie didn't have to worry about the "eats" for Ben was enough of a money maker to see that neither he nor his protegee lacked the necessities of life.

Time went on and Willie fought his way up, until he was matched for a championship go with Wolgast in 1912. As any fight fan will tell you, Ritchie got the decision on a foul.

This is where Ben acquired his first and only grouch—after he got through tearing up several hats in his enthusiasm over Ritchie's victory. For Ritchie decided that since he was champion he didn't need to be anybody's protegee any longer, so he went "up stage," professionally speaking, and refused to have anything further to do with his former promoter.

But Ben has worn his grouch out now and says: "Well you know I always did like the 'kid' and I would no more have thought of tying him up with a contract than I would my brother. I was the Mutt of that Murt and Jeff duet all right. But gratitude took a knockout from Willie several times after that, when he would have liked to have had Ben stalling him into confidence again, you can bet."

"But still, I have forgiven Willie. He's doing 'his bit' now with the national army, and I can almost think of him as the 'kid' again, since he is going to use his left jab on the Germans."

BASKETBALL WILL BE CARD TONIGHT

M-6 and G. R. Clubs Will Play for Championship This Evening at Y. M. C. A. Hall

The M-6 and G. R. clubs will play basketball tonight for the championship of the Y. M. C. A. Intermediate League. The M-6 quintet has a lead of one game and by winning this evening can clinch the pennant. Should the G. R. five win tonight, a special series will be necessary.

Tonight's attraction will be a double header in the Y. M. C. A. games hall. The Washingtons and Knights of Kamehameha will play the first game at half past seven. The championship match is scheduled for eight o'clock. Howard N. Mosher, associate secretary of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. will referee. Mosher has handled the big games on the Mexican border in 1916, and both teams are assured of capable officiating.

Seats will be provided for a good crowd and ladies are welcome as well as men. There is no admission charge. The two teams for the main game are scheduled to line up as follows:

M-6—Forwards, Kenneth Decker, Oswald Auerbach, and William Morgan; center, Walter Scott; guards, James Wilkinson and Albert Wilkinson.

G. R.—Forwards, G. M. Canario, Dewitt Clinton and Lawrence McCluskey; center, Alex. Fritschel; guards, Paul Keppeler, M. Borthwick, H. Wehselein, and H. Borthwick.

touchback? Stop to think how unfair that would be. Here was the Y. M. in a tight position, forced to kick and in so doing, "pulled a boner" and made a bungle. Then on that play would you give them glory, bring them to their 20 yard line, hand them the ball and say "Play," attaching no penalty?

Same With Pass
The rules call for a touchback whenever a forward passed ball strikes the goal posts or crossbar. Suppose if you will a team, putting the ball in play from behind its own goal line, had chosen to throw a forward pass and, remembering this paragraph in the rules, had deliberately aimed the ball at the goal post or cross bar, striking it. Would you give them a touchback and twenty yards? The absurdity of such a position is manifest.

Rules are made to give equal chances to both teams so far as is possible and they will do so if rightly interpreted and enforced. Bald, narrow literalism, applied hit and miss fashion to small unattached portions of a set of very closely interpreted rules, will never work for fair judgment.

Supposing we take Mr. Jackson's interpretation. A team behind the goal line could throw a forward pass or kick a ball and hit the goal, and gain 20 yards by so doing. This does not look right, and I do not believe that the football rules committee would allow this ruling to be upheld.

Would Gain 20 Yards
If a team was defending its own goal, for example, on the five yard line, the quarter back could drop back of the goal line and hurl the ball at the post. Then instead of being penalized, the team would be given the ball on the 20 yard line. In this way the team would gain at least 20 yards, and no team would ever be inside of the 20 yard line for over one play.

Hoping that this letter will work for a conscientious study of the rules and trusting that I have stated my position correctly, I will say no more until a decision has been received from the members of the football rules committee.

Word has been received from Benjamin Bruns, who is known throughout America as Brother Benjamier. He is a well-known Healan member, and in a letter to President Lemke, says that upon his return he will give the boys some of his famous medicine, so that they will be able to win once more. Mr. Bruns is expected to arrive in Honolulu in the very near future.

Athlete Postpones Wedding to Enter In Big Volcano Run

If some one should tell you that there isn't any interest in the coming Volcano run which will be held on the Big Island on Jan. 7 you might refer them to S. Saitku, one of the members of the Japanese team in training for the big relay race.

Saitku had planned to be married on Dec. 5. Then George Murakami and Jacob Zenimura asked him to compete with the Japanese team in the Kilauca-to-Hilo race. Saitku thought it over and after consultation with his fiancée said that he would compete, and thereupon postponed his wedding to January 10.

And when the runners are making history down the long slope from Kilauca to Hilo there will be one little Japanese girl who will be following the Japanese team, and if Murakami's aggregation should win out in the Volcano classic there promises to be a real wedding party after it is all over.

VALUABLE PRIZES FOR WALKING RACE

Athletes of Honolulu who emulate Edward Fayson Weston have been practicing for the first annual amateur Kalaheua avenue walk, which is scheduled for Dec. 23. Already a number of valuable prizes have been offered for the winners.

Wall & Dougherty have offered a cup to the man winning the race three times. H. F. Wichman has offered a cup to the winner; Vierra Jewelry Co. have donated the second prize cup; Theo Davis & Co. have offered a thermos bottle to the third place man; the Hawaiian Jewelry and Novelty Co. have offered a silver cigarette case to the fourth man, and the walker who places fifth will receive a silver ladle from Archie Robertson.

It is expected that some of the runners who will compete in the big relay race at Hilo will be entered in the walk. Much interest is taken in the arrangements and Sam Kahalawai, the promoter of the event, has been assured of a number of entries.

RAYMOND C. BROWN CUP GOES TO BRASH'S TEAM

Lionel Brash's baseball team captured the Raymond C. Brown cup at Palama Settlement, winning all three games played and chalking up some good scores. In presenting the cup Mr. Brown said it was teamwork which gave the boys the victory, and remarked that teamwork wins in sport, business and in war.

The players who will have their names inscribed on the cup are: Lionel Brash (captain), Lum Dunn, Lee Lal, Joe Spencer, Joe Akana, John Pamoke, Joe Amama, George Ping, Edward Ah Kee, John Poe, Sam Kauka, Tai Sun, Sung Wong, You Chung and Anson Dereg.

Announcement was made that Japan would build 20 submarines to be ready next year.

Football Officials Disagree On Ruling In Recent Battle

Referee Blowers Contends That 1st Infantry Should Have Been Awarded a Safety—Glenn Jackson Says Play Should Have Been Called a Touchback—Blowers in Statement Points Out How Unfair It Would Be to Award Touchback on Such a Play

One of the big arguments of the season is now waging in football circles, and before it is ended there promises to be some interesting happenings in the football world. It all comes about through the decision made by Referee Blowers at the recent Y. M. C. A. 1st Infantry game at Schofield.

Davis of the Y. M. C. A. team was forced behind his own goal line to punt. He punted and the ball struck the crossbars, bounding into the air. It was supposed that Victor of the 1st Infantry had fallen on the ball, but Referee Blowers says that a Y. M. C. A. man recovered the ball, and as a consequence he called it a safety, giving the 1st Infantry two points.

Jackson's Statement
Glenn Jackson says that Blowers made a wrong decision in this case and has the following to say about the play:

"The account of the football game between the 1st Infantry and the Y. M. C. A. gives the score as three to two in favor of the Y. M. C. A., and reports that the losers won their two points by a safety caused by a kicked ball hitting the goal posts and then being fallen on by a 1st Infantry man.

"Some one must have made a mistake. In the first place, if a 1st Infantry man fell on the ball and the play man fell on anything it would have to be a touchdown. If a Y. M. C. A. man fell on it, and the play counted for anything, it would be a safety. But the point is that any kicked ball striking the goal posts or cross-bar before being touched by a player of either side, unless it scores a goal (which this did not) shall be considered a touchback, and therefore counts for nothing. This rule is Section 15 of Rule VI."

Blowers Makes Statement
"To defend my decision, Section 15 of Rule VI, page 124, of Spalding's Official Football Guide, 1917: 'Providing that if any kicked ball strike the goal posts or cross-bar before being touched by a player of either side, unless it scores a goal, shall be considered a "touchback," can apply only to a ball kicked from the field of play.

"The original definition of a touchback provides that the impetus which sent the ball to or across the line must be given by an opponent; a situation which is impossible with the side defending its own goal, putting the ball in play by a punt from behind its goal line. This was the situation instanced in the disputed part of Saturday's game at Schofield.

A Safety
"The Y. M. C. A. team had been forced back to her three-yard line with the ball in her possession. The team was midway between the sidelines in the shadow of the goal posts. It was up to the Y. M. C. A. to kick. My advice would have been first to run the ball to the side and then kick, unimpeded by the uprights. Being referee, I did not advise. The Y. M. C. A. essayed to kick and sure enough the oval struck the cross-bar and rebounded. There was a scramble for possession, and a Y. M. C. A. man got the ball. Had the 1st Infantry secured possession it would have been ruled a touchdown.

With the Y. M. behind their own goal line, the ball dead and the impetus placed it there having been given by the Y. M., only one decision was possible. I say that it was a safety. Captain Britton agreed, and if you wish I will write Walter Camp to back up my decision.

So Mr. Jackson would have ruled a

Rich Milk thoroughly Purified

That in a sentence sums up Highlander Condensed Milk (full cream). There are very definite and real reasons for its superiority.

First of all the milk is the world's finest. New Zealand's dairy conditions and legislation are the world's model—its dairy products top the world for the price because of their quality. Highlander Condensed Milk is prepared from the purest and richest milk of the specially selected herds in the rich dairying pastures of Southland. The cows are subject to Government inspection, and the milk is drawn from each cow under exceptionally rigorous conditions of cleanliness.

It is then immediately filtered and cooled at the dairies. Next it goes to the great model Highlander Condensaries—cleanliness personified.

Here it is again filtered and subjected to a process which destroys all disease germs. Part of the water is removed by evaporation in vacuo, and a proportion of the finest No. 1A sugar is added.

Highlander Condensed Milk is full cream—the richest, purest milk, less part of the water. More economical than fresh milk—there is no water-use what is wanted, the remainder is available for further use.

Hygienic, uniform, handy, always ready, it is cheaper, more reliable. For cooking it is far superior to ordinary milk—try it.

There are hundreds of recipes in the big 200-page beautifully illustrated Highlander Cook Book. Write for it today—address "Highlander," Dept. "A" Fred L. Weidron, Ltd., Agents Honolulu.

FOOD IMPORTS EXCEED EXPORTS BY NINE MILLIONS

That the food imports to the territory of Hawaii during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1917, exceeded by $9,417,428 the exports for the same period is shown in the annual report of the government made public yesterday. Exports totaled $1,491,243; imports amounted to $10,412,671.

OLAA PICKS UP, PINES MOVE TOO

Olaa stock in which some heavy trading has been done during the past few weeks at the steady price of $4.50 jumped today in the last sale on the Honolulu Stock & Bond Exchange to $4.92 1/2; ten shares going at the new price. Between boards 280 Olaa went at $4.50. Reports coming in to the effect that crops on the Olaa plantation will be much larger than the estimates first made and that the leaf hopper depredations have not been as large as supposed are believed the reason for the heavy buying and the rise this morning.

Attention centered on Hawaiian Pineapple Company stock this morning and although there was plenty of bidding and 300 shares sold the price remained firm at $17.75 and the bid price going to $17.75. There was a sudden interest evidenced in the Hawaiian Railway 7 per cent "A" stock between boards. 250 shares selling at $4 and 20 selling at a lower price of $3.75 during the session.

Pioneer in small lots held firm at $29.75; some 30 shares going at that price. Oahu also changed hands between boards; 221 shares selling at $29.50. Thirty-nine Ewa shares went at $29.

In the unlisted securities 7950 Madera sold between boards at 32 cents. The demand for this stock is believed to be the result of expectations of a big cleanup shortly. The only other unlisted stock that showed activity was Engles; 230 shares of which sold between boards at $4.40 a share. The conflicting stories of the last few days in regard to what the government will do with the oil lands has resulted in a lack of interest in Honolulu Consolidated Oil, not a single share trading hands in the last 24 hours, in the city.

Two of Honolulu's social organizations, the Commercial Club and the Pacific Club, are seriously considering the advisability of expelling from their membership lists George Rodiek, former German consul who pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States, and P. At the Commercial Club formal charges are being prepared from the suggestion made by Captain James T. Phillips, U. S. R., to expel Mr. Rodiek.

AUTO FACTORS TAKE SERIES

Last night's results Auto Factors Financiers.

By taking three games and the total pitfall from the Financiers last night at the "Y" alleys, the Auto Factors won this series of the Commercial League, and since they won the first one are champions of the 1917 Commercial League. The bowling of the winners was much better than that of the Financiers and all of the former's games were very high, the scores being 894, 989, 982 and total of 2866. This total of 2866 was the highest total of the season. The Financiers' scores were as follows: 812, 835, 831 and 2469.

Ching of the Autoists was high man of the evening with a total of 620 and a high score of 225. Ho of the same team was next with 584 and was followed by J. W. Canario with 573. Wikander was high man of the Financiers with a total of 581. Canario was the only other Financier to pass the 500 mark, his total being 539, while Andrews of the Autoists was the low man of his team with a total of 539.

Last night's lineups and scores were as follows:

Financiers	1st	2nd	3rd	Total
Wikander	194	178	189	561
Meyer	182	141	141	464

GAS WARFARE TO BE TAUGHT R. O. T. C. MEN

Gas Clouds Will Encircle Schofield Plains When Embryo Officers Start Training

Indications that the Hawaiian department is preparing for the present war on a strictly modern basis are seen in the information that the training camp to open at Schofield Barracks on January 5 will have a full course in both offensive and defensive gas operations.

Plans are being considered for the installation of full equipment to teach gas warfare to the embryo officers so that when they meet it in actual fighting in Europe they will be no strangers to how to direct it at the enemy nor how to protect themselves against it.

In the equipment that will be installed for the school will be a gas house, which will afford the final proof to a candidate that he is fitted to meet an opposing force using gas. In this house will be gas of the most deadly variety, and the soldier, wearing a gas helmet, will be sent through it until he is familiar with the deadly stuff.

Then there will be full instructions in directing gas attacks, such as those in which great clouds of it are sent floating with the wind in the direction of the enemy.

Among the well known forms of gas used in the present war are the lacrymal, which produces copious tears; and asphyxiating gas and suffocating gas, which render unconscious or smother outright. Sometimes the gas is shot through a hose built especially for the purpose and sometimes it is fired over into the enemy country in exploding shells.

RED CROSS DRIVE SWELLS NUMBERS

The second day of the Red Cross Christmas drive for new members turned into a shower of applications which was in marked contrast to the comparatively small number signed yesterday. The promotion committee rooms office was busy the entire morning distributing the Red Cross Christmas cards and the indications at noon were that the number of new members would go over the hundred mark early in the afternoon.

Reports from the Red Cross sub-offices at the various plantations and other points of this island were optimistic indeed. Practically every sub-office informed the promotion committee rooms office of the increased activity in requests for membership. Officers of the Hawaiian chapter are confident that the required number of 7700 new members to bring the total membership up to 25,000 would easily be signed up before Christmas Eve.

Posters, Christmas flags, membership cards, and other material were forwarded to the islands of Maui and Kauai yesterday evening on the Inter-Island Navigation Co. steamers.

DYNAMITE USED IN ASSASSINATION PLAN AT SACRAMENTO WHICH FAILED

Governor Stephens, Evident Object of Murderous Attempt. Calmly Inspects Damage Done and Remains on Premises After Night Explosion

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless) SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 18.—Investigation by many officials and detectives, public and private, of the explosion which last night wrecked the executive mansion, occupied by Governor Stephens and family, has so far failed to uncover a single clue to the perpetrators.

Conditions in which the wrecked building was left indicate that the job was done with loose dynamite, to which a short fuse outside the wall was attached, the fuse being lighted outside and carrying a train of sparks to the explosive inside.

Governor Stephens calmly inspected the damage after the terrific explosion, his courage unshaken, and remained on the premises for the balance of the night. The explosion occurred shortly after midnight and is believed to be part of a plan to assassinate the governor.

A high explosive bomb was exploded under the executive mansion, virtually wrecking the building and tearing the entire rear off the structure. The force of the explosion was terrific. The governor, Mrs. Stephens and the household servants were all asleep in the house and had no warning of the effort being made to kill or maim them. Although thrown from their beds by the force of the explosion, none was in any way seriously injured.

Two men were seen fleeing from the neighborhood immediately following the explosion, but there are no direct suspicions against any particular individuals.

The regular police are searching the city for suspects and special police have been sworn in in large numbers to assist in the search for the bombers and any accomplices they may have.

Witnesses to 1917 Will to Come to Court

Subpoenas which have been issued at the instance of Circuit Judge C. W. Ashford summon John Kealoha, former supervisor, and "Rev." Sam Kamakia, witnesses to the alleged 1917 will of the late Queen Liliuokalani, to be in his court at 2 o'clock next Friday afternoon to tell what they know concerning the document.

Circuit Judge Ashford has taken this step in spite of affidavits which have been filed by John F. Colburn, who is named as executor in the alleged will, and his attorneys requesting permission to withdraw the document from probate. Colburn has requested to be discharged as executor.

In court and legal circles the court's action is characterized as a vitally important step, and one which will apparently bring out the truth as to whether Kealoha and Kamakia actually signed the will in the queen's presence, and whether the signature "Liliuokalani" which appears on each page of the alleged will, was written by the queen or by someone else.

Kamakia and Kealoha will testify under oath. The former has already repudiated an affidavit made a few days after the queen's death to the effect that he witnessed her signature in her presence.

Kealoha was asked today whether he cared to affirm or deny a report about town that it was he who affixed the name of the queen to the several pages of the alleged will.

"You'll get nothing out of me," was his answer. "I'll tell my story to Judge Ashford next Friday afternoon."

M'CANDLESS IS TURNED DOWN BY WAR DEPT.

lease expired, the records show that "Link" McCandless purchased the land from Mrs. Meek, paying her $11,899. This was on May 29, 1918.

It is said that when the government proposed to rent it from the new owner, the price asked was $3600. The army refused to consider this figure, however, and finally after considerable attempted negotiating took up the matter with Washington. The war department was asked to condemn the land, which is needed for a target range. The request was forwarded to the attorney general's department which has issued instructions to Attorney Huber.

Referring to this negotiation, in the course of a banquet at the Moana hotel for the visiting congressmen last month, the governor, although mentioning no names, called the incident a "holdup" of the government.

The lands in question are below the Kolekole pass of the Waianae mountains and extend back to the Schofield Barracks water tanks. McCandless says he acquired the lands about two years ago before there was any intimation from the government that it was wanted as a rifle range.

According to Mr. McCandless his patent for the land calls for 265 acres, but he declares the tract contains 400 to 500 acres as it is described by metes and bounds.

PLUNGES TWO STORIES AND FRACTURES SKULL Falling from the second floor of the elevator shaft of the new Campbell block at Fort and Hotel streets, A. Martin, a Porto Rican laborer, crashed to the basement at 7:30 this morning, sustaining a fractured skull. His scalp was torn entirely from his head. Early this afternoon Martin had not regained consciousness and his condition is critical. Following the accident he was rushed to the Emergency Hospital and later transferred to the Queen's Hospital.

According to witnesses of the accident Martin was climbing up the shaft when he slipped and fell.

HOOVER BARS HUGE PROFITS IN FOOD PRODUCTS

Excessive profits are prohibited in the case of certain food dealers, according to the rules and regulations issued by the food administration, a copy of which has been received by the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce. These rules and regulations which require certain dealers in foodstuffs to take out a license, provide, among other things, that no licensee shall charge directly or indirectly a commission or brokerage on the sale of food commodities in excess of that which ordinarily and customarily prevails under normal conditions in the locality in which he does business. No business man will be expected, however, to forego his normal reasonable profits; the object so the food administration says is to prevent the excessive profits of speculative resellers resulting from a rise in market prices.

Another of the rules is to the effect that in the case of a profit in war times, at least on non-perishable foods, should be governed by the price he actually pays for them and not by prevailing market conditions. The rules provide that no dealer in specified commodities may sell at more than a reasonable advance over the actual purchase price of the particular goods sold, without regard to the market or replacement value at the time of such sale. Regular and special reports will be called for by the food administration from each licensee.

No retailer or other dealer who, in violation of the food control act pays excessive prices on necessary foods will be able to obtain supplies, under another of the regulations. The organization of the federal food administrator in each state will report those asking excessive prices.

No licensee will be permitted to keep on hand or have in possession or under control by contract or other arrangement, at any time, any food commodities in a quantity in excess of the reasonable requirements of his business for use or sale by him during the period of 60 days, or to sell or deliver to any person any food commodities if the licensee knows, or has reason to believe, that such a sale or delivery will give to such person a supply in excess of his reasonable requirements for use or sale by him during the period of 60 days next succeeding such sale or delivery. With respect to some commodities the limit is fixed at 30 days' supply. Exceptions are made of commodities which are produced in great abundance at certain seasons, such as fruits, vegetables, fish, poultry, eggs, dairy products, cottonseed products, and others. These may be held in sufficient quantities to meet reasonable requirements throughout the period of scant or no production. Sales in excess of 60 days' supply may be made for the use of the United States government or her allies, or for cities and state governments. It is also provided that for seeding purposes food commodities may be stored longer than 60 days if notice is sent to the food administration. No licensee will be prevented from having on hand less than a carload of any commodity and in addition a carload in transit.

The rules will not affect the validity of contracts made in good faith prior to October 15, but the licensee will be required to give to the food administration copies of all such contracts which will not be fully performed on January 1, and on the latter date further action in regard to such contracts will be considered.

Food Saving Is Of Real Value In Honolulu Homes

Honolulu citizens who have heard of the following incident know that the food saving movement in Hawaii is having substantial effect.

Royal D. Mead tells the story. It appears that the Japanese garbage man, Ishimura, who for years has gone through the Punahou and Makiki districts getting garbage for his pigs and chickens, has found the food saving movement virtually ruining his thriving collection activities.

"He tells us that he is able now to get not more than one-tenth of the food scraps he used to," says Mead. "In fact, he is finding out that it's a useless job for him to empty out the garbage cans and take the waste home to be delivered into for scraps which appeal to pigs and chickens. There aren't any scraps at all in more than half the cans he empties."

HAWAIIANS DECLINE 2500, JAPANESE GAIN 22,800 IN LAST SEVEN YEARS

Interesting figures as to the population of the territory by various races are given in the annual report of the governor, made public today. Comparisons by races between the years of 1910 and 1917 are as follows:

	1910.	1917.
Japanese	78,674	102,479
Korean	—	4,734
Hawaiian	26,041	23,450
Portuguese	22,303	23,990
Chinese	21,674	22,106
American, British, German and Russian	14,867	30,118
Filipino	2,890	19,100
Port Hawaiian	12,506	15,850

COMMUNITY MARKET ESTABLISHED IN KONA

A project which, it is believed, will solve the vegetable problem of the Kona district of Hawaii around Kealahou is being inaugurated by the territorial food commission. In some places the people cannot have gardens because of the rocky condition of the soil, in others there is nothing but lava and the only tillable soil is covered with coffee which grows so thick that vegetables cannot be raised under the plants.

At considerable distance from the roads, however, a large number of Japanese and native gardeners live and nearly all have surplus vegetables but not enough for shipment to Honolulu.

To bring these two classes together, J. F. Child, of the food commission, has started a small community market. On steamer days people of central Kona make a trip to the postoffice for mail and he has arranged for a place near the postoffice for the Japanese to bring their products to sell. The first market day was last Saturday and if the project proves successful and the people want it, Mr. Child will arrange to have the market open two or even three times a week.

HOSPITAL HAS HARD TIME GETTING MAN FOR SUPT.

Because the war is taking so many doctors and hospital attendants the directors of the Queen's hospital are having considerable difficulty in finding a man with sufficient experience to take the place of Superintendent Werner Boehl. Medical colleges and hospitals have been appealed to but it is expected it will be several months before a suitable man is found.

A meeting of the directors will be held Thursday but only the regular monthly business will be taken up, it is said.

When a Feller Needs a Friend - - By BRIGGS

 PLEASED *****
PRESIDENT PLEASSED WITH ISHII VISIT
 The following message has been sent by the president to His Imperial Majesty, Yoshihito, emperor of Japan:
 "Your Majesty's cordial message is most gratifying to me and to the people of the United States. I wish to express to your Majesty the heartfelt pleasure we have had in welcoming your distinguished representative, Viscount Ishii. The result of his visit will be as happy and permanent as the enduring friendship of the peoples of the United States of America and Japan. Permit me to hope that Viscount Ishii in returning to his native land will bear with him memories of his visit as delightful as those he left with us."

ASSAILS PATRIOTISM OF BOOZE INTERESTS

CHICAGO, Ill.—Indictment of the patriotism of brewers and distillers and a prediction that a prohibition plank would unite the Republican and Democratic parties were made by William Jennings Bryan in the opening speech which marked the beginning of the campaign of the Chicago Dry Federation to ban liquor from the city, beginning April 2.

"Saloon men are devoid of patriotism," Mr. Bryan said. "They can hardly be expected to love their country, seeing that they have lost their love for all that is high and noble."

COMMERCE VESSELS TO BE BUILT AHEAD OF WARSHIPS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—No more American dreadnoughts will be constructed until the American merchant fleet is completed. This decision was reached by Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the shipping board, in conference.

Dreadnoughts under construction now will be hastened to completion. The entire shipbuilding efforts of the nation will then be centered upon merchant ships and destroyers, as the types of vessel most needed.

TEXAN PAYS TRIBUTE IN VERSE TO MEMORY OF DEPARTED QUEEN

Col. Curtis P. Lauke, secretary to the late Queen Liliuokalani, has received from C. Finney Bates of 1106 McKinney avenue Houston, Texas, a verse tribute to her, written upon receipt of the news in the Texas city that the queen was dead.

Accompanying the verse is a letter which explains that Mr. Bates met Queen Liliuokalani once in Washington, and that he had learned much about the queen when he was a young man "from William Waterhouse, son of John Thomas Waterhouse, who lived in Honolulu at one time." The verses are as follows:

Farewell to you, dear Liliuokalani;
 May Heaven swing wide its gates for you;
 Your songs on earth reached round the world,
 And our flag of love to you we now unfurl.

We sing your songs, but you'll be missed
 By those on the isle the evening sun has kissed;
 That beautiful isle of the mighty deep
 Now mourns its loss and in silence weeps.

May the God of Heaven be with you now
 As the people of earth in sorrow bow;
 Your farewell songs of other years
 Will be sung in remembrance of the queen of love,

For the cords of love you put in song
 Are as the crooning of a tender mother's love.
 So farewell to you, dear Liliuokalani,
 May the jewels of your heavenly crown be many.

HAWAII BOYS LACK WAR SPIRIT, SAYS GOODHUE

M. S. Goodhue, son of Dr. E. S. Goodhue, writes that he fears the impulse of the war is lacking in many of the youths of Hawaii and not like that of the boys in the United States. He is in the aviation service and was last heard from at Fort McDowell, Angel island. One of young Goodhue's statements in a letter to his father follows:

"I tell you I think the boys up here are real men, not wishy-washy, beer-guzzling sports like so many I used to know. Everything here goes with a snap and a cheer. I wish the Hilo boys had some of it."

A concluding statement in his letter is given below:

"We are all brothers now fighting for one flag, one purpose. There is not a man in our branch here who would not willingly die for it or his fellows."

M. Clemenceau to American officers in France: "Never did England believe she would be involved in such a conflict, nevertheless she saw herself under the obligation to stand by us in order to save herself. To you it was a case of conscience whether you should enter the lists or not."

FOOD CAMPAIGN GIVEN IMPETUS BY MAUI WOMEN

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
 WAILUKU, Maui, Dec. 17.—Conservation of food has claimed much attention by Maui people during the last few days. Recently a demonstration of cooking war food was given by Miss Blanch Mast and a corps of assistants at Hamakua, where Miss Mast is the teacher of domestic science in the Maui High school.

A public meeting was also held at the Alexander House kindergarten rooms, with Mrs. A. C. Bowditch as chairman.

The speakers were C. E. Barter, Dr. W. D. Baldwin, and Alfred L. Castle of Honolulu.

Mr. Barter, superintendent of the Haku Fruit & Packing company, showed some interesting experiments in canning at the Haku Fruit & Packing company's plant, where several varieties of Maui beans had been put up. He said the company was in a position to do this work cheaply and would be willing for 20 cents a dozen tins to furnish the tins and the salt and labor necessary to put up surplus beans for any person, who would on Wednesday and Thursdays of each week, bring the beans with the tips and strings removed.

Dr. W. D. Baldwin's remarks on the cassava root greatly interested his hearers. He said that cassava could be easily grown in Hawaii, that there is no disease or pest that attacks it as far as is known, and that it withstands any amount of drought. The plant does not grow well in cold weather, so that the best time to plant it is the spring. It can be harvested at practically any time of year. In appearance a loaf of bread made partly with cassava flour seems the same as the loaf made entirely of white flour. Its taste is practically the same, and its keeping qualities excellent. The value of food is as great as the white flour.

Mr. Castle said that over one million people had starved to death since the war began. He stated that if we would observe one meatless day a week, Hawaii will be self-supporting by March 1, as far as meat is concerned. Mr. Castle expects that by carefully using home products between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 will be saved in a year.

A second demonstration of the preparation of food was given this morning at the Alexander House kindergarten rooms. Nearly sixty ladies were in attendance, many of whom brought food which had been made on conservation lines, or brought recipes. Mrs. W. O. Aiken of Makawao, assisted by Miss Catherine Miller of the domestic science department of the Wailuku public school, demonstrated. The committee in charge of this meeting was Mrs. R. B. Dodge, Mrs. Frank L. Hoogs, Miss Gertrude B. Judd, Mrs. S. Konda and Mrs. Alfred Low.
