CAPT. PARKS PROMOTED TO REAR ADMIRAL

Made Chief of Bureau of Navy Yards and Docks; Has Had Charge of Construction of Big Pearl Harbor Drydock

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—Capt. Charles W. Parks, in charge of the construction of the big drydock at Pearl Harbor, was today appointed chief of the bureau of yards and docks, navy department. The officer is promoted to rank of rear admiral.

News of Capt. Parks' promotion and appointment as chief of the bureau of yards and docks is held by some as significant of some important changes in the navy department at Washington. The position is one of the most important in the entire federal system, and the choice of the local officer points to the high place he holds at Washington. He ranks among the very highest of present-day engineers.

Rear Admiral Parks, who had been serving with the rank of captain for several months past, is now on his second tour of Hawaii. He came here first in June, 1908, and left on February 15, 1910. On January 15, 1915, he arrived for his second tour of duty and has been here ever since. This makes a total of about five years spent in Hawaii.

He was graduated from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1884 at that time being 21 years of age. His earlier education had included a course at the Woburn, Mass., high school, from which he was graduated in 1879. Following his graduation from Rensselaer he went to Germany and studied in Göttingen until 1885. He was graduated from Columbia (now George Washington) university at Washington, D. C., with the degree of S. B. in 1889. For several years he was a member of the faculty at Rensselaer.

He was United States superintendent of the department of liberal arts at the Paris exposition of 1889, and a member of the jury of Class 6, Education, at which time he was given the decoration of Officier de l'Instruction Publique. He was special agent of the United States bureau of education at the World's fair, Chicago, in 1893, the most striking feature of the exhibit being a model library of 5000 volumes selected and catalogued with the cooperation of many prominent librarians. This list of books was used in the earliest Carnegie libraries.

In 1894 he was appointed special agent of the United States bureau of education to Antwerp, Lyons and Milan exhibitions, and during the same year examined the systems of forestry education in Europe, particularly at forestry schools at Nancy, Karlsruhe and Munich.

In 1897 he was appointed to the navy and his naval service includes duty at Portsmouth, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk; at San Juan, Porto Rico and Pearl Harbor naval stations; in the bureau of yards and docks at Washington; inspecting engineer, General Electric Company at Schenectady; on boards for location of drydocks and coaling stations, and also for the determination of plans for San Juan, Pearl Harbor, Great Lakes training station and Norfolk.

He was on duty at the New York

Honolulu Boy Is Caught In Halifax Blast

JOHN H. CLEGG

John H. Clegg, recently of Honolulu, where he was manager of the provision department of the Hawaii Meat Co., and now a member of the British Expeditionary Force, was one of those injured in the Halifax disaster on December 6.

News that the former Honolulu was among the injured has just been received by Land Commissioner Bertram G. Rivenburgh in a letter from Mr. Clegg's father-in-law, G. J. Waller, treasurer and manager of the Hawaii Meat Co.

The extent of Clegg's injuries is not known. The letter from Mr. Waller, who is now in San Francisco, states that a wireless message to Mrs. Clegg bore the brief information that he was injured. She left as soon as possible for Halifax. Clegg enlisted for the British army a few months ago. He was a Britisher by birth and had lived in Hawaii for about five years. He had been with the Hawaii Meat Co. during that time and had worked up to the position of manager of the provision department on Bethel street. They lived on Thurston avenue. Clegg was a member of the Neighborhood Tennis club on Hastings street.

A card only recently received by Mr. Rivenburgh from Mr. Clegg stated that he was feeling fine and enjoying life in the army. He expected to sail at once for England. It is probable that the card was mailed just before the disaster and that the soldier may have been on a transport in the harbor when the explosion occurred.

Says Theresa Gave Him Coin For 'Services'

In the presence of Attorney W. T. Rawlins, C. L. Hopkins, circuit court interpreter, and a third party, Kamaka-Makalo, a "trusty" who takes care of the library grounds, today declared that last Monday morning "Princess" Theresa Belliveau visited him in an automobile, accompanied by a Chinese who, the "trusty" says, is wealthy. He says the Chinese gave him $50.

She then went away, he continued, but came back later and took $20 from him, telling him to keep $15 for himself and to give the remaining $5 to one Paradise Keawekahu. Makalo told Attorney Rawlins that he gave the money to Keawekahu and that he still has the $5. According to Rawlins, Keawekahu admits having received the money, saying it was for "services rendered" Theresa. Makalo says the money was given him because Theresa wanted him to prevail upon Rev. Sam Kamakala "to come back into her fold." He adds that Theresa told him last Saturday that he would get the money. The "trusty" declared that Theresa visited him at the prison last Saturday afternoon and asked him to try and get Kamakala "to come over to her side again." Another story he told was that Theresa wanted him Monday morning, this time alone, and repeated her request of Saturday, this time giving him $10 in gold and saying that there would be $200 or $300 more coming if he would "get Kamakala back into the fold."

Nawab Kain, a Hindu, took the stand and testified that he attended a meeting here in 1913 organized to disseminate revolutionary propaganda. INJUNCTION AGAINST INTER-ISLAND DISSOLVED. Circuit Judge Ashford this afternoon issued an order dissolving the temporary injunction brought by the public utilities commission against the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. The supreme court has held that the commission has no jurisdiction over the company's rates.

Western Sugar Dealers Uphold Hoover, Rolph

Wire Statement That if Coast Had Not Received Sugar, There'd Have Been a Famine

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—Upholding the action taken by the Hoover food control officials as justified by public policy, many sugar dealers of the West and Middle West have telegraphed to Herbert Hoover and Geo. M. Rolph, the head of the sugar bureau, that if the California & Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company had not been provided with raw sugar for refining during October, there would have been a sugar famine in their sections of the country.

This answers the charge made in the investigation before the senate subcommittee that Mr. Rolph, who left the management of the California refinery to serve under Mr. Hoover, used his official power to hold raw sugar on the coast. The charge arose during the hearing in which Claus Spreckels gave testimony.

FRENCH TRANSPORT 'SINKS U-BOAT AS IT IS SENT DOWN'

PARIS, France, Dec. 19.—The old French cruiser Chateau Renault, now in the French transport service, was torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean sea on December 14, according to an official statement given out today. The submarine attacking the transport was attacked in turn by the Chateau Renault, the French vessel destroying the submarine before it in turn went down.

All passengers on the transport were saved, but the crew went down with the ship. Final arrangements have just been concluded by which the Patten Company, Ltd., has purchased the entire business of the American-Hawaiian Paper Co. As soon as the holiday season is over Mr. Patten intends to enlarge his warehouse on Union street so as to have all his growing wholesale business together.

Rawlins. Attorney Rawlins told the "trusty" not to be afraid to tell the truth. Makalo declared he was afraid to eat his lunch this noon for fear it had been poisoned. He added that Kamakala visited him today and brought him some coffee.

CANE-PAPER EXPERIMENTS ARE SUCCESS

Olaa Manager Returns From Boston Bringing Samples of By-Product From Hawaii's Fields

That paper of all kinds can be manufactured at low cost from Hawaiian sugar cane bagasse, which fact holds promise of furnishing a new and profitable industry for Hawaii was reported by C. F. Eckart, manager of Olaa plantation, this morning upon his arrival in Honolulu from Boston where for the past few months he has supervised the successful experiments made along these lines.

Mr. Eckart brought back with him samples of mulching paper made from Hawaiian sugar cane bagasse which were of a black variety but of exceptionally good quality. The new mulch paper is called asphalt-felt and will be used to cover the sugar fields to hold down the weeds. The cable being stiffer and stronger is able to break through the mulch paper while the weeds being tender are unable to penetrate and must die.

The manufacture of wrapping paper, news print paper and book paper from Hawaiian sugar cane bagasse now may be undertaken if the directors of the company deem the experimental results warrant it.

As to the cost of manufacturing paper from bagasse Mr. Eckart was silent except on the point that the cost of making paper of all kinds from bagasse would be a great deal cheaper than making it from pulp. He remarked that paper of almost any kind manufactured from bagasse could easily compete with paper made from pulp or any other raw material on the market.

HERE TO TAKE REVENUE JOB

Says He Never Sought Office; Takes Great Pride in His Boys Who are Doing Service in Navy

Patriotic pride in his "two boys," who are voluntarily giving their services to their country in the war as enlisted men in the United States navy, is an impressive characteristic of Hawaii's new internal revenue collector, Col. H. Hathaway, who arrived in Honolulu this morning on the steamer Governor.

His son, Howard Hathaway, on April 5, the day before war was declared, left Everett, Wash., to enlist in the navy, even though, as a graduate of a military academy in Virginia he could have expected a commission in the army. The colonel says his son said: "Every one can't be an admiral or general. There must be some privates."

The other "boy" is Eugene Beebe, whose relation to the colonel is that of a foster son. He left about the same time to join the navy and is now on a submarine chaser. The three, the colonel, young Hathaway and Mr. Beebe, comprised the law firm of Hathaway, Beebe and Hathaway in Everett.

"It was like a funeral after 'the boys' had gone," the colonel says of his Washington state home. "But they are doing their duty."

He saw his son while he was in New York, where young Hathaway was acting as a boatswain's mate. "He didn't want a commission to begin with, and I am letting him follow his own inclinations, but he may yet have to accept a commission in the line of duty, for his line officers have recommended that he be promoted," the colonel explains.

Colonel Hathaway has come almost direct from Washington, D. C., where he spent four or five days, after his

COMPLAINTS FROM SIMS ARE DENIED

Secretary Daniels Denies Commander in European Waters Has Protested Against Delay

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—Flat denial that Admiral Sims, commanding the American fleet in European waters, has made complaints against delays in supply service was made to the house investigating committee today by Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

Daniels declared that the American navy is making good. "I am proud of the way our navy has met the tests of war," he told the congressmen, and reviewed conditions generally since the fleet went to Europe. He said that he is glad congress is reviewing what the bluejackets and their officers have done and are doing, and that "taking stock of the navy's work" was bound to show the improvements that have been effected and the more efficient work now done.

Congressman Britten of Illinois asked Daniels what complaints Admiral Sims has made. The secretary answered vigorously that he did not think the question was a proper one to ask, and went on to say that Sims had made no complaints. He said that Sims had asked for the services of particular men but that certain of these could not be sent on account of home exigencies.

Admiral McGowan testified that the requests of Admiral Sims have been immediately attended to.

CANTIN SEEKS $1,500,000 FOR GOOD ROADS IN 1918

Of This Amount City Would Pay $548,666 While Balance Would Be Assessed Against Property Owners—Business District Improvements as Outlined in Budget Call for $475,000

One million and a half dollars for better roads in the city and county of Honolulu in 1918!

A. S. Cantin, city and county engineer, proposes to spend that amount of money improving the thoroughfares of the island of Oahu next year according to his report submitted today to E. A. Mott-Smith, chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Supervisors, in which he gives his skeleton budget of estimated expenditures of his department in minute detail.

This list of estimates will come up before the board when the meeting is called Sunday for a discussion of the budget as a whole of civic expenditures for the next year.

Included in the one million and a half dollars for road work is $1,196,000 for eleven proposed city improvement projects which are outlined in the report as follows: Beretania street, Punahou to King street extension, $110,000; Fort, Halekauwila and Bishop streets, $65,000; Alewa Heights district, $45,000; Punchbowl street from King to Lusitana streets, $45,000; Quarry and Alapai streets, $16,000; Kalakaua avenue, Park road to Diamond Head avenue, $60,000; King to Wylie street, $30,000; King street, Richards to McCully street, $180,000, and business district, $475,000.

In connection with the half million dollars to be expended on the business district proper it might be mentioned that the proposed widening of Hotel street near Fort street is not included in the amount, there being available $18,000 for this work out of the cash basis fund.

Of the $1,196,000 to be spent the city and county's share of the amount will be $548,666 while the balance, $647,334, will be assessed against private property owners.

The miscellaneous permanent improvements proposed for 1918 will amount to $242,000 which sum is included in the one million and a half dollars estimated for total road work. In the miscellaneous improvements are included the Palolo valley road, grading of sidewalk areas in Manoa, oiling Manoa roads, Manoa storm drains, Silva drain on King street, Kewalo ditch, Makiki ditch and the Pal road together with improvements in Ewa, Waianae, Waialua and Koolau-poko districts.

Improvements not of a permanent nature also included in the million and a half dollars estimate call for

20 FLYERS IN ATTACK; ONLY 5 REACH THE CITY

Two of Raiding Machines Shot Down Close to London; Remainder Beaten Off By Air Patrols and Defense Guns

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.) LONDON, Eng., Dec. 19.—Ten persons were killed last night and 70 injured in London, with five others outside London hurt, in one of the biggest air raids the Germans have yet attempted against England.

The machines made a raid on the eastern counties in force, not less than 20 machines trying to break through the cordons which surrounds London with anti-aircraft defenses. Only five of the 20 actually reached the city, the others being driven off by English patrol machines and by the storm of explosives sent up from the anti-aircraft guns on the ground.

One of the raiders was destroyed as it flew over the city dropping bombs. Another was shot down just outside the city.

The city anti-aircraft defenses drove the raiders off before any serious damage is believed to have been done. There are no details of the damages in Essex or Kent, if any was inflicted.

Italians Repulse Hungarians. Despatches from Rome report the repulse of heavy Austro-German attacks against Monto Solarolo salient, on the Asiago front, yesterday. The Teutons launched their infantry under a heavy barrage, following a bombardment of the Italian lines, but in no instance did the attacking infantry reach the Italian trenches. The Hun loss is reported to have been heavy.

Weather conditions are unfavorable to infantry actions along the French and British fronts and there was no fighting on the west yesterday except with the artillery.

P. U. MAY CARRY I-I. CASE TO SHIPPING BOARD

Carden Claims Commission Has Right of Appeal if Rates Deemed High

An appeal to the federal shipping board in Washington to make an order compelling the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. to return to the schedule of freight and passenger rates effective in 1917 or an appeal to the supreme court of the United States to determine the jurisdiction of the local body, or both, may be the next move by the Public Utilities Commission in its endeavor to force the steamship company to reduce its charges.

Commenting today on the decision of the territorial supreme court holding that the commission has no jurisdiction over the rates of the company, Attorney Will T. Carden, chairman of the commission, points out that the commission has the right to appeal to the shipping board or the United States supreme court. In this connection he refers to section 2225, R. L., 1915, which reads, in part, as follows: "The commission shall have the power to examine into any of the matters referred to in section 2225, notwithstanding that the same may be within the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission or within the jurisdiction of any court or other body, and when, after such examination the commission shall be of the opinion that the circumstances warrant it shall be its duty to effect the necessary relief or remedy by the establishment of appropriate proceedings or otherwise before the said interstate commerce commission, or said court or other body, in its own name or in the name of the territory, or in the name or names of any complainant or complainants as it may deem best."

Attorney Carden points out that, by its order of last September, the commission deems that the rates which were charged by the Inter-Island at that time were unreasonable, and that it is now the duty of the commission to appeal to either the shipping board or the U. S. supreme court, or both, for relief.

The attorneys for the commission announced today that they had not agreed on any further action to be taken, but that a meeting of the commission would probably be held in a few days, when this matter would be determined.

As the decision just handed down was on the appeal of the steamship company from the order of the commission there still remains in the supreme court the appeal by the company from the court order declaring an injunction against the company to restrain it from disobeying the commission's order.

"Y" GIRLS PLAN TO MAKE MANY KIDDIES HAPPY AT CHRISTMAS

Following the Y. W. C. A. drive, the activities of the association are centering around the Christmas work of the clubs. Each club has planned to do some special work during the holidays and many of the young ladies have already arranged definite programs.

The Jolly McKinleyites will go to the immigration station on Saturday to deliver balls and bats to the girls there. Indoor baseball has become popular at the station, and last year a number of balls and bats were presented to the children there.

The Kalia club will wrap apples and bring them to the Kalia Boys' Home, and the Lyric club will also bring apples to the Catholic Orphanage in Kalia valley. The Girls' Guardian society will take underwear to the Gospel Mission Home.

The Wakaba Kai, the Japanese club, and Pah-Wah club, composed of Korean girls will also send presents. The Wakaba Kai girls plan to care for one entire family at Christmas time, while the Korean girls will make a Santa Claus for the seminary girls.

The Central Grammar club held a party on Monday in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium where games were played. Two young girls of the club entertained the Pavlova's Gavotte. Refreshments were served following the program.

COLD STORAGE HOUSES JOIN AGAINST HOARDING

Ice house and cold storage men in Honolulu are cooperating with J. F. Child in the prevention of waste and the hoarding of food products, the federal food administrator says.

These men have promised to report to Mr. Child all instances of waste, hoarding and attempts to monopolize with a view to enhancing prices.

"I know of no instances where the law against the hoarding of food products in large quantities has been attempted," says Mr. Child. "There is very little opportunity of hoarding here, however, as the merchants are eager to turn over their capital as quickly as possible, and as most of the food products in general use are imported from the mainland."

An investigation of ice houses and cold storage plants will be made by Mr. Child tomorrow.

SPECIAL FEDERAL GRAND JURY PROBE ORDERED

At the instance of U. S. Attorney S. C. Huber, a special meeting of the federal grand jury has been called for next Friday morning. Mr. Huber announced this morning that the jurors have been summoned to investigate a special matter, but he would make no comment as to the nature of the case to be presented.

Thus far, Mr. Huber says, he has received no instructions from Washington to present to the grand jury or take any other action in matters arising out of the publicity given by the navy intelligence department to the diary of Capt. Karl Grasshof which he kept during the period in which the former German gunboat Geier was interned at this port.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

December 25, Christmas Day, is one of the four holidays in the year when the Bishop museum is closed.

Frank Almeida of the class of '19 of St. Louis College and captain of the brass band of that institution, left today for his home in Kohala.

Capt. Ralph C. Holliday, 2nd Infantry, has received word of the death of his mother, Mrs. John Holliday, at Canton, Illinois, on Dec. 7. Mrs. Holliday was 75 years of age.

Maui red beans continue to come into the local market, and the demand for them is brisk. They are of an excellent quality and are graded before leaving the Valley Island.

The petition of Judo Ibara for a writ of habeas corpus was denied in federal court today. Petitioner has given notice of an appeal to the court of appeals of the ninth circuit, California.

A small four-page brochure entitled "A word for just before Christmas. Good things to have and hold for 1918," has been printed by E. S. Goodhue and placed in the bookstores for free distribution. The book gives his ideas on Christmas giving, forgiveness of enemies, self-sacrifice and human nature.

At a commissioner's hearing yesterday afternoon, Mrs. William Bate-man, colored, denied that she ever sold liquor to men in uniform, although several soldiers testified that she had repeatedly made sales to them. She was put under a bond of $1000 to appear when her case is called again.

The police court calendar this morning was unusually short and by 11 o'clock all the cases had been passed upon. Of the 20 cases which came before Judge Harry Irwin, 18 were set over for a future hearing and of the two others in which sentences were given one was suspended. The case of Charles Hubert, who ran over and killed a little girl with his automobile, was set over to December 27.

QUEEN'S ESTATE WORTH $26,960

An inventory showing the personal property of the late Queen Liliuokalani to be worth approximately $26,960 was filed in circuit court late yesterday afternoon by H. L. Holstein, temporary administrator. The inventory and report show that payments to the estate since the death of the queen amount to $3693. The temporary administrator has disbursed $202.50. Some of the property, he reports is in the hands of third parties, and he is making an investigation regarding this.

The large diamond necklace which belonged to the queen is valued at $2500, while the diamond crown is valued at $1750. Other pieces of jewelry, including some smaller diamonds, are valued at about $2000. The gold chain bracelet which was given to the queen by the Duke of Edinburgh, and which was one of the queen's most prized possessions, is valued at $100. No value is placed on the Hawaiian and foreign orders, of which the queen had a large number.

Many valuable articles of furniture are among the items mentioned in the inventory, and a bust of Kamehameha is valued at $500. All of the Hawaiian relics are listed and valued. Washington Place, the queen's residence, is appraised at $10,403, and the Waikiki residence at $1068. The value of property deposited in the vaults of the Bishop Trust Co. is $11,938.

FOUNDER'S DAY IS CELEBRATED

Paying tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Bernice Pauahi Bishop, who created the institution, and in observance of founder's day, the students of the three departments of the Kamehameha schools held exercises at the royal mausoleum this morning.

Gathered about the grave of the late Mrs. Bishop, the students sang, recited rituals and offered prayer. The simple yet effective program was followed by the decoration of the grave with yellow and white chrysanthemums. Each of the three departments conducted a portion of the services. The preparatory students recited the 24th Psalm, the girls read from the 31st chapter of Proverbs and the boys recited the Founder's Day Pledge. Special cars carried the students to the mausoleum. The Hawaiian band played.

At 7 o'clock this evening the students and former students of Kamehameha, trustees of the Bishop estate, members of the faculty and invited guests will meet in the manual dining room, where there will be a banquet and a brief program, including music and speeches. The speakers will be Hon. Sanford B. Dole and W. G. Hall. The Kamehameha schools were established in the fall of 1870.

SALVATION ARMY ASKS DONATIONS FOR XMAS

Earnest consideration of the people of Honolulu as to the needs of the Salvation Army and the good work they are planning this season among the poor of the city is sought by the officers of the organization. At headquarters today it was stated that while present donations are gratifying they are less by $700 than last year's on the same date. It is recognized that the various war calls during the last few months have probably been responsible for cutting down local giving, but every penny that can be turned over to the city's poor in this way is promised a useful destination.

The extent of Canada's woodlands and forests exceeds 868,000,000 acres.

GREAT TREE IN CAPITOL GROUNDS WILL BE LIGHTED

Community Christmas to Be Notable for Impressive Effect

Increasing interest in the plans for the Community Christmas tree, which is to be the center of attraction in Honolulu on Christmas Eve, argues well for the success of the venture, and the Outdoor Circle may be congratulated upon having anticipated the wishes of the National Red Cross to such an extent as to make the Christmas Eve celebration in this city one of the most notable of any which will take place in the United States. A grand rehearsal is called for Friday evening when as many of the fifteen hundred singers as can will come together to go over the carols and practice with the band. Again on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock a final rehearsal is to take place in the capitol grounds with both principals and chorus so that there may be no breaks or awkward pauses to mar the beauty of the festival of song next Monday night.

Again the plans for the tree of honor have been changed and the original hope of the women who are managing the affair to have a growing tree lighted, is to be realized. One of three tall symmetrical cypress trees on the waikiki side of the grounds has been finally chosen and a plan of lighting not too expensive, has been decided upon. Men were busy today wiring the tree and the front of the capitol building for the special Christmas lights, and the grounds surrounding the old Iolani palace will be a blaze of glorious light on Christmas Eve.

The announcement program will be thrown upon a great screen so that those attending the festival may know which song is to be sung, while the words of each of the carols to be sung by the crowd will also be thrown upon this screen so that there will be no excuse for silent spectators on the great night.

The war has added its touch by removing one of the Wise Men, Donald Blanding, the artist, who this week enlisted in the army and makes it necessary for his place in the tableaux to be filled.

Added assistance, however, is to be rendered by L. Young Corrothers, who arrived this week from England after an absence of several months, and his help will be much appreciated by those in charge of the tableaux.

Motor cars will not be allowed in the capitol grounds but they may be parked outside. It is suggested that Richards street east of the judiciary building will be a very good parking place for many as a block down this street one commands an excellent view of the capitol facades beneath which the tableaux of the nativity are to be staged.

The Community Christmas tree is free to all and people of every nationality represented in Hawaii will gather together in a great cosmopolitan group to enjoy this gift of light and song which is the Outdoor Circle's Yuletide offering to the city of Honolulu.

TWO MORE BIG LIBERTY BOND ISSUES PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Congress will have to authorize early in the session convening next Monday means of collecting from the American people between now and July 1 about five billion dollars, in addition to the $3,000,000,000 from Liberty Bonds already authorized but yet to be issued, the billion dollars or less expected from the war savings campaign and about three billion dollars from war taxes.

Most congressional leaders believe the five billion dollars balance must be provided principally by issue of bonds, and Secretary McAdoo has told members of congress that he heartily favors this method. If this plan is finally adopted the country probably will be called on to absorb two more big Liberty Bond issues between Feb. 1 and July 1, aggregating more than $8,500,000,000.

Another big finance question which will receive the early attention of congress is the continuance of loans to the allies. If the present rate of extending credits to the allies is continued, the seven billion dollars authorized credits will be exhausted by July 1 and congress will have to decide whether to continue the loans after that time. Six billion dollars will be required for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, if the rate of a half-billion dollars a month is kept up.

Wide difference of opinion exists in congress over the question of whether the bulk of the five billion dollars should be raised by taxation or bond issues, but those advocating the issue of securities expect strong support from the administration. They are prepared to argue that the internal revenue bureau already is overburdened with the immense task of creating machinery for collection of the $3,400,000,000 war revenue expected before July 1, and that great confusion would result from the imposition of new taxes before opportunity has been given for the existing levies to adjust themselves to the economic situation.

ISLANDERS BENT ON WAR DUTY REACH ENGLAND

Word of men who have left here to join the Canadian army and have already reached England was received this morning by friends here. Andrew Gardner, who worked for Bishop & Co., writes that he and five other men from the islands reached Liverpool early in November, but at that time had not joined their regiments. Alexander Sheppard, formerly a carpenter with the Waianae plantation, who joined the Royal Engineers, has reached England and writes he is in good health.

TWO MORE BIG LIBERTY BOND ISSUES PLANNED

Government to Ask People for Additional Five Billion Before July 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Congress will have to authorize early in the session convening next Monday means of collecting from the American people between now and July 1 about five billion dollars, in addition to the $3,000,000,000 from Liberty Bonds already authorized but yet to be issued, the billion dollars or less expected from the war savings campaign and about three billion dollars from war taxes.

Most congressional leaders believe the five billion dollars balance must be provided principally by issue of bonds, and Secretary McAdoo has told members of congress that he heartily favors this method. If this plan is finally adopted the country probably will be called on to absorb two more big Liberty Bond issues between Feb. 1 and July 1, aggregating more than $8,500,000,000.

Another big finance question which will receive the early attention of congress is the continuance of loans to the allies. If the present rate of extending credits to the allies is continued, the seven billion dollars authorized credits will be exhausted by July 1 and congress will have to decide whether to continue the loans after that time. Six billion dollars will be required for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, if the rate of a half-billion dollars a month is kept up.

Wide difference of opinion exists in congress over the question of whether the bulk of the five billion dollars should be raised by taxation or bond issues, but those advocating the issue of securities expect strong support from the administration. They are prepared to argue that the internal revenue bureau already is overburdened with the immense task of creating machinery for collection of the $3,400,000,000 war revenue expected before July 1, and that great confusion would result from the imposition of new taxes before opportunity has been given for the existing levies to adjust themselves to the economic situation.

NEW RATE BASIS PUZZLES AGENTS

Until a freight tariff drawn up according to the new schedule of rates between San Francisco and Honolulu is received here the Matson agents at Castle & Cooke's are in a quandary as to what rate to charge on certain shipments.

All that is known of the new rate schedule fixed by the shipping board, in which the charges are almost doubled, is that contained in a short cablegram received Monday, which stated that the base rate for merchandise would be 38. The information was also added that pineapples would come under the same rate and bananas at 50 cents a bunch. For sugar there is a special rate of $7 a ton, fixed a week or so before, effective Dec. 15.

The cablegram suggests a whole series of questions to the Matson freight agents. For instance, will this rate apply to cement shipments? In the past there has always been a special rate of one dollar less for cement cargo, but this may not be so under the shipping board rates. No one seems to know just why there ever was a special rate established for cement, and unless this is answered it is likely the shipping board will want the same amount of money for cement cargo as for anything else.

Then there is also a matter of a special rate which has always been made on the return shipment of empty containers, principally barrels, to the mainland. In the past 25 cents a piece was charged for shipping barrels to the states, and it is estimated that the shipping board will want about 40 cents apiece for barrels if the advance in other freight rates is a criterion.

Still, there is a possibility that there will be special rates and that shippers of empty containers will have to pay the $8 a ton rate the same as on any other shipments. However, if this is the case the charges would be so high it would be prohibitive to return the containers, some think.

It will probably be another week before definite information as to the working of the new rates will be received here in detail. In the meantime shipments will likely be received for future adjustment or adjustment in San Francisco, where the rates are now known.

ALEWA HOUSE LOTS WILL GO ON MARKET

Petition of 13 citizens of Honolulu for the opening up of government land on Alewa Heights, this city, for house lots, was granted yesterday by the land board at its regular meeting. There are 18 lots and each contains a little more than one acre. They will be disposed of by sale.

The board also approved an application from A. W. Carter for a lease of 6.39 acres at Waimea, Hawaii, which is to be turned into a ball ground and park. Honokaa Sugar Company presented an application for the leasing of 342 acres in Hanalei, Hawaii, which was granted. It was also decided to offer for lease approximately 9000 acres of government remnants in North Kona.

GOES FROM HONOLULU TO ENLIST IN MARINES

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—Although he is past the draft age, Lewis B. Houston came all the way from Honolulu to enlist in the marines as a private. His association with the "soldiers of the sea" in the islands convinced him, he said, that they are the most democratic and the "fightingest" branch of the service.

Houston is a native of Mississippi. His grandfather fought in the Mexican war, his father was a captain of Confederate cavalry, and his brother is a lieutenant in the Mississippi infantry. For the last three years Houston has been working for the Honolulu Plantation Co. Eleven other Americans and Britishers employed on the same plantation, all the physically fit men of those nationalities there, have enlisted, he said.

The War Department announced that Sheffield, Ala., was chosen as a site for one of the nitrate plants.

OIL COMPANY ECONOMIZES ON TIN DURING WAR

Each day war necessities are educating the American people to new habits of thrift. This was pointed to today by A. S. Prescott, the local manager of the Standard Oil Co., when he referred to economies being made by his company to help conserve the supply of tin.

Heretofore large quantities of Star oil (kerosene) has been sold in one and five gallon tin cans, but this practice is being discouraged to save tin. The same Star oil heretofore sold extensively in tins is carried in bulk by dealers and can be purchased from them at a small money saving as well as at a saving in tin for the nation's needs. So important is this matter of tin conservation that it is the patriotic duty of every American to conserve the supply as far as possible, and one way of doing this is to buy kerosene like commodities in bulk in stead of in tin cans.

FRANK WIGHT TELLS OF LIFE ON CRUISER

Dr. George Herbert of this city has received a letter from his nephew, Frank Wight, a sailor on the cruiser St. Louis, who left here with the Hawaiian naval militia. Young Wight says he looks for the war to end next July. He declares that the torpedo boats have the soul frightened out of the submarines.

"I am well and have had the chance of visiting England," he writes. "We were at Plymouth, so you see I have been twice through the most dangerous part of the war zone. Two days after we left France the French authorities discovered and pulled up two mines that had been laid for us. When we were ready to leave England mines were laid at the mouth of the harbor, which we pulled up, but the Americans always, as usual, fool them."

"If you could only see how dead the Americans are with their guns you would be filled with pride."

EWA GIVES 200 TO RED CROSS

The drive of the Red Cross for new members is meeting with a hearty response, and many of the workers have already sent in requests for more application blanks. Among the latest returns is that from Ewa, where 200 members have been enrolled and the workers there say they will have 300 more. William Henry of Kaneohe has gained 50 new members, including his own life membership.

A. L. Castle, chairman of the local committee, is more than pleased with the results, and he feels sure that Hawaii will have more than her proportion of the 10,000,000 members sought.

Next Saturday night, at the national guard armory, in connection with the drive, the Red Cross will be host to Honolulu with an entertainment which will be free to all.

The principal feature of the evening will be slides and pictures of actual scenes on the battlefield in France and in the hospitals by Dr. James R. Judd, who spent two years there.

A. L. Castle has the entertainment in charge, and has secured Captain Thomas Lowe to tell the people how modern warfare is conducted.

Next Saturday night, at the national guard armory, in connection with the drive, the Red Cross will be host to Honolulu with an entertainment which will be free to all.

CANTIN WANTS $1,500,000 FOR ROADS IN YEAR 1918

In the skeleton of the general fund budget the report shows that if the whole balance left in the general fund after appropriations had been made for other expenses was used a total of $333,666 could be expended for road maintenance. The report opens with a list of the regular salaries of employees in the engineering and roads department.

The second part of the report gives the estimate of the current needs of the engineer and roads departments for 1918. There is an increase of $75 per month for engineer's incidentals noted. Additions to the staff of employees on permanent improvement projects are expected to be made as needed which will bring the salaries up to $2,000. Engineering inspections and advertising of permanent street improvement projects will cost $50,000. Beside the belt road will cost $25,000 in engineering inspections and incidentals but this will be repaid out of the sale of territorial bonds.

Total estimates for the road department including salaries, incidentals and materials call for $311,400 and the report points out that this can be appropriated from the various funds as follows: Permanent improvement fund $42,000; road tax fund $117,960, and general fund $151,440.

In the estimate of money for new equipment the engineer's department needs $500,000, the belt road $645, the road department office $523, permanent improvements $435, road department equipment $1,365, motorizing the garbage department $22,530, making a total for new equipment of $28,622.50.

The report also contains an exhibit showing the estimated revenues for the year for current expenses, permanent improvements and road maintenance which after deduction of the cash basis fund, the police, fire and handmen pension fund leaves a balance of $861,000 which in turn is subject to the deficit of balance left from this year. The permanent improvement fund with the total general fund deducted together with the territorial budget and delinquent tax will have a balance of $680,000 subject to the balance or deficit from this year.

Added to the report on estimates for expenditures is the report on the proposed consolidation and motorizing of the garbage and street sweeping departments and a plan for a municipal corporation yard on Beretania street, near Alapai street, the estimated cost of the latter being $19,500. The report also includes the list of the automobiles operated by the city and county and the fifty animals used in the various departments. Repairs to road equipments of the various departments is estimated at $12,574.37.

The report goes on to say that by motorizing the garbage and sweeping and watering departments 30 animals could be dispensed with. Figures are given to show that cost of motor-driven vehicles as compared with animals in the road department results in a great saving.

The report includes a map of the city covered by the garbage department as at present organized.

It might be added that the increase in freight rates between the mainland and Honolulu will cause a rise in cement and other road materials and that on account of that there is a possibility that some of the proposed projects may have to be eliminated even if $1,500,000 is expended on roads in 1918.

The Star-Bulletin for one year sent as a Xmas gift will be appreciated.—Adv.

CITY BUSINESS AND SUPERVISORS NOTES

S. F. Kenn was awarded the contract for the building of the Manoa storm ditches by the board of supervisors. His figure was $2768.50.

The road committee invited Mayor Fern and other members of the board to take a trip around the island Friday for an inspection of the belt road.

H. H. Williams, undertaker, was awarded the contract for the burial of the city's indigent dead for the next six months. He bid $1 which was one dollar more than he asked last July.

Supervisor Mott-Smith announced that the preliminary draft of the budget for the first six months of 1918 was finished and the board agreed to meet Sunday morning at 10 o'clock to consider it.

The next meeting of the board of supervisors will be held Saturday at 1:15 p. m. to pay labor payrolls in order that the city's workmen may have money for Christmas.

A report for the electric light committee approving the plan to light Kalaikaua avenue with the same kind of lights as are now in the Beach Walk district was adopted by the board last night.

A final step in the arrest and conviction of L. A. Hart for embezzlement was taken last night by the board of supervisors when it approved the payment of $150 to Chester Doyle who aided Captain McDuffie in Hart's arrest in San Francisco.

An opinion from the attorney's department stated that as William Ahia, supervisor, is not an owner but simply manager of the Johanson Mill, that company can deal with the city and county. The question was raised at a former meeting of the board by Supervisor McCellan.

A report from Fire Chief C. H. Thurston announcing the burning of several firemen at a recent fire, also mentioned the fact that during the fire he had stepped into a hole filled with boiling water with the result that he would be unable to attend to duty for several weeks. Assistant Chief W. W. Bialsted is now in charge.

A letter from H. E. Vernon of the Ad Club asking the city to pass a tenement segregation ordinance for the moral betterment of the city was received by the board last night and referred to the health committee and attorney's department. Mr. Vernon believes that the tenements of the city should be so operated that some are reserved for families, others for only single men and still others for only single women. He also requested that an ordinance be passed making it compulsory for all tenements to have janitors in constant attendance.

MONEY NOT TIGHT IN STATES BUT SUGAR IS SCARCE, SAYS BROKER

Guy Buttolph of the firm of Williamson & Buttolph returned to Honolulu today following an extended tour of the mainland, during which he stopped over in Chicago, New York, Atlantic, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and San Francisco, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Cleveland.

"Money is not tight and judging from the opinions of various brokers in different cities, there appears to be no indication that money is going to be tight," said Mr. Buttolph, speaking of the financial situation on the mainland.

"I was in New York—spent a week there early in November during the big crash on the exchange and while the brokers were not happy there was a pile of business done. The Canadians were blamed for that slump, and it was said that they were doing the unloading to get money needed for their war expenses."

Veering from finance to food, Mr. Buttolph expressed his astonishment at the way the mainland had taken up the "less" days, that is the wheatless and meatless days.

"It is a case where 'everybody's doing it,'" he declared, "and they're very careful of their sugar, too. There are lots of places where no sugar bowls are placed on the table, and the sugar is given in a lump to each guest. And where they do have it in a bowl on the table there is a sticker attached which reads, 'Please conserve the sugar.'"

BREWING CO. TO PLAY SANTA TO EMPLOYEES

There was a special meeting of the directors of the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Co. this morning. But it was not for the purpose of the election of new officers. The principal matter discussed was the distribution of Christmas presents to employees and patrons of the company. The election of officers will take place at a meeting to be held after January 1.

Major Lawrence Redington, adjutant general at Hawaiian department headquarters, who has been confined to the department hospital since the middle of November, when he suffered a broken leg, is out again. He is sick leave and plans to go to the coast for a few weeks.

NEW COLLECTOR OF REVENUE ON THE JOB

appointment. He stopped at Everett only about twelve hours on the trip to Hawaii, to straighten up some affairs in his office.

There is some war discouragement in Washington, not discouragement regarding eventual victory, but that it may take from three to five years more to defeat the Hun, the colonel says.

Colonel Hathaway declares he has never sought office and says the only reason he knows for his being appointed collector for Hawaii was because he was recommended for the position by the Democratic state central committee of Washington.

When Colonel Hathaway was 21 years of age he was elected to the legislature of Virginia from Lancaster and Richmond counties, in which he served for several sessions. Since then he has run for office only once—in 1904, when he was candidate for election as congressman at large from the state of Washington. He gives one the impression that he made the race then so the Democratic party would be represented on the ticket.

Politically the colonel has been prominent in other ways than office seeking. He was permanent chairman of the last Washington state convention, delegate at large to the St. Louis Democratic national convention and a delegate to the Baltimore convention which first nominated Wilson.

Questioned as to his conduct of the revenue office, he said: "I hope to conduct it in a business way as it has been conducted in the past. I do not think it will be necessary to make any changes in the personnel of the office staff, and at least not soon. However, I do not know."

Despite his 53 years, gray hair and the fact that he has been ill the last few days of the voyage to Honolulu, Colonel Hathaway presented a capable, youthful appearance, dressed as he was in a conservative check suit this morning.

The colonel gained his military title while he was on the staff of the governor of Virginia during the Spanish-American war. His home town in Virginia is at Whitestones. It was after the Spanish-American war that Colonel Hathaway located in Everett.

Col. Hathaway was accompanied to Honolulu by W. W. Anderson, chief revenue agent of the western division, who is to audit the books and turn the revenue office over to the new collector on Friday, Dec. 21.

This will make the fifth collector that Ralph Johnstone, chief deputy, has initiated into the work of the office.

NO FURTHER WORD RECEIVED ON RAMMING OF SUBMARINE F-1

No further word was received today regarding the disaster to the submarine F-1, as told in the Star-Bulletin's 5 o'clock extra yesterday evening. The F-1 was sunk after being rammed in a fog by the F-3. Local naval officials have no means of ascertaining the personnel of the crew and officers of the F-1. No word has come from the mainland today.

Morse Is Made Ship Board's Hawaii Agent

A.-H. Official Expected to Supervise Cargo Space and Despatch of Vessels

Charles Percy Morse, for many years the general agent of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co. in Honolulu, has been appointed agent of divisional operations, Hawaiian Islands, United States shipping board.

News to this effect was conveyed yesterday from the shipping board representative in San Francisco. Just what his duties will be is as yet unknown to Mr. Morse.

A combined office of the U. S. shipping board and the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co. is to be opened tomorrow in the Stangenwald building. The decision to secure separate offices for the steamship company was made after Hackfeld & Co. were released as the general agents for the steamer line a few weeks ago.

It is presumed Mr. Morse is to act as the shipping board's supervisor over all the shipping firms here doing business under the shipping board, but that the business of the agencies will not be affected.

Likely, requests for cargo space to and from the islands, and the despatch of various vessels from here to their destinations, will rest solely with Mr. Morse, acting under the instructions of the shipping board.

It is generally believed that the appointment of a divisional shipping agent for the islands will tend to the betterment of shipping conditions for Hawaii, as there will be a personal representative through whom the needs here can be placed before the shipping board.

GUARD MAY TAKE UP TRENCH WORK

Bayonet dummies and lines of trenches for national guard practice may soon become a part of the training equipment on Punchbowl range if plans now under consideration at guard headquarters crystallize.

It is the intention to carry on practice of the most intensive sort during the coming year, the program under consideration being set to begin about the first of the year. School for officers will be held three times a week, it was said today, and the officers must qualify along regular army lines.

Overnight camps by battalions are also included in the plans. These camps will most likely be held in the crater itself which is equipped for them.

JOAN CARRIES APPEAL TO U. S.

The triumphal march of "Joan the Woman" will begin tomorrow night at the Bijou theater to the accompaniment of the strains of the Bijou's new $10,000 organ which has been installed the forepart of the week. For those who do not comprehend the tremendousness of the theme, there is much to wonder at, for not only does "Joan the Woman" make a strong appeal in behalf of all France, but it carries a message of loyalty and patriotism, significant in the light of current events. Change the locale and environment of the play and it will appeal direct to Americans for the atmosphere breathes a determination to uphold national rights against the invader, maintain democracy and liberty and justice in the face of oppression.

Whether you term Joan's patriotic enthusiasm a fanatical mania or a religious fervor or inspiration, the fact still remains that it was an enthusiasm which swayed all France from the king to the lowliest of his vassals and caused them to rise with new vigor and shake off the yoke of the despot. And the same spirit that Joan breathed in life prevails on the screen; Geraldine Farrar carries the same message of appeal to America today in this hour of world-struggle that the Maid of Orleans did centuries ago.

With Dive Farrar in a transcendent role, the supporting cast is a collection of stars, including Wallace Reid in the role of Eric Trent, British count ravaging Orleans; Hobart Bosworth as General la Hire; Raymond Hatton as Charles VII; Theodore Roberts as Pierre Cauchon; Tully Marshall as the fanatical monk; Charles Clary as La Tremouille (the Spider), and many others well known to movie fans.

Miss Farrar is superb in this picture. Her facial expression, the sincerity of her action and the conviction carried in every move are masterpieces of acting.

HAWAII DRAMA IS HUMAN APPEAL

One of the biggest photoplay successes ever produced by William Fox, "The Derelict," is the feature offering of the week-end bill at the Hawaii theater. Stuart Holmes, who was recently seen here in the "Scarlet Letter," is the star and in the new production he returns to the kind of character upon which most of his fame as a screen favorite rests. In the role of a vagabond outcast it is stated that the star has no equals in filmdom. With Holmes in the picture also appear Mary Martin and Dan Mason, both of whom won praise for parts they played in the "Scarlet Letter."

"The Derelict" is a picture that carries an intense human appeal. It chronicles the life of a wastrel ne'er do well, who neglects home, family and position for the fleeting pleasures of gay life. With wife and daughter forgotten, he is caught in the whirl of wild night life and is carried down to his fate. A great climax is devised when he saves the daughter who long since has forgotten her dissolute father.

Included in the bill is the Billy West comedy, "Back Stage," which has been held over from the first part of the week, and the new instalment of the serial, "The Neglected Wife."

JAPANESE GIVES LIFE FOR LOVE

Sessue Hayakawa, the noted Japanese screen star, has achieved notable successes in a wide range of roles. He has been seen as a Mexican, as an American bandit and in a long list of parts representing many nationalities, but it was in playing parts of his own nationality that he first won fame and it is conceded that when he appears as a Japanese, he is pre-eminent in the screen world. His part in "Forbidden Paths," a Lasky-Paramount production, which is the feature offering of the program at the Liberty theater, fully demonstrates this.

The picture is a narrative of the hopeless love of a Japanese for a young American girl. The man to whom she has given her heart has allowed herself to be won away by the adventuress and learns his mistake only after he has married her. The climax of the story is reached in a powerful dramatic scene in which the Japanese and the adventuress are at sea in a launch. To insure the happiness of the girl the Oriental carries out a plan he has made and scuttles the craft. He and the woman go down together.

The program, which will be shown for the last time tonight, includes the new instalment of the serial picture, "The Mystery of the Double Cross," and the Weekly Pathe News pictures.

"Our women are bearing the brunt of this war."
—General Pershing.

The Army's Cleanup Campaign

Every civilian in Honolulu ought to stand by the army in its new campaign to clean up Honolulu.

Every man and woman with a proper sense of pride in a morally clean community ought to join with the army authorities in exposing, arresting and punishing the bootleggers, the keepers of "blind pigs," the purveyors of evil drugs, the panders and procurers and lewd women who are now operating freely in this city.

While the campaign is undertaken primarily to safeguard the soldiers, to protect their health and their personal safety, it will be of immense benefit to the civil population. While the army is acting to check the exploitation of soldiers, its action will check the exploitation of the civilians also.

It became plain long ago that the police force was not cleaning up Honolulu. It became plain long ago that the present police administration is quite as much absorbed in petty politics as in enforcing law and order. There is no hope for reform and real efficiency in the police department with Sheriff Rose at its head. And it has become increasingly apparent that the evil forces which prey upon men are running amuck in Honolulu, with the police doing so little to check their nefarious operations that police inertia amounts to a scandal.

That is undoubtedly why it is necessary for the army to begin such a campaign as is now proposed. It will have the assistance of the police, so far as the police can be of any assistance. And it should have the assistance of civilian Honolulu for a double reason—first, because the army is doing a necessary job, a job which will be of tremendous benefit to Honolulu; secondly, because it is doing a job to which the police force has proved itself unequal, and the army is thereby promoting law and order in Honolulu.

It is now the vital duty of every citizen to report to the army authorities such infractions of the law as the sale of liquor to soldiers; the sale of drugs; the sale of army clothing or shoes to civilians; and any scheme which involves fleecing or exploiting the soldier, or causing the soldier to violate military or civil law.

The army cannot succeed without a strong measure of public support. But there is no question that such support will be given it, nor is there any question that there is enough brains and backbone in the army of Oahu to clean up Honolulu as it has not been cleaned up since the army population arrived.

Uncle Sam's officers and men have fought fevers and plagues and vice and crime in many a community, at home and in faraway lands, and have never yet lost a battle. They will not lose it here. Stand by them! It's not only their fight—it's our fight!

Answering the Challenge of Loyalty

The resignation of J. F. C. Hagens from the firm of Hackfeld & Company is his response to the challenge of Americanism forced by the India conspiracy case and the Grasshof diary revelations, both of which implicate his immediate associates in the firm.

There has been repeated and persistent criticism of Mr. Hagens ever since the United States went to war. This criticism has been answered, answered immediately and answered patriotically by Mr. Hagens. He defined his position when the United States went to war. He defined his position when he became president of the Chamber of Commerce, and though the Star-Bulletin said at that time, and still believes, that his election was a mistake, it was not a mistake because of his personality, but because of the entanglements cast around every German-American by the actions of the Germans themselves, and by the plotting engineered and fostered by the German government.

He defined his position and the position of every good American in a notable speech during the recent civic convention. His activity in the semi-military work of the officers' reserve corps has been energetic and valuable.

In resigning from Hackfeld & Company, he is defining his position in the most concrete terms he has yet used. He has met the challenge of loyalty contained in the community indignation over the India conspiracy case and the Grasshof disclosures of plotting.

Respect for Mr. Hagens will be generally increased by his action.

LOST IN THE COUNTRY'S SERVICE.

The loss of the F-1, told to Honolulu in a Star-Bulletin extra last evening, recalls to mind that March evening nearly three years ago when this city was shocked by news that the F-4 had sunk outside the harbor, with officers and crew imprisoned in their steel-shell tomb—the tomb from which they did not come alive.

That was the first serious loss to the United States navy through disaster to a submarine. The wrecking of the F-1 is the second major disaster to an American diver-boat not actually in war-work. There have been lesser disasters, fatal to life, but in only these two cases have all or most of the crew been killed.

The men of the F-1 died in their country's service just as surely as if they had been operating in the war-zone and were sunk by a German destroyer or death-tomb. They, too, are heroes.

The Fall of Jerusalem

The conquest of Jerusalem by the British army is an event not only of considerable military importance to the Allied cause but of supreme historic interest. It has caught the imagination of writers all over the United States and they are discussing it in relation to the pageant of history not less than in relation to the triumph of British strategy in Asia which it forecasts.

One writer points out that from a military standpoint, the chief advantage of the capture of Jerusalem is that to preserve their standing in the Moslem world the Turkish and German leaders may be compelled to use troops that are being collected at Aleppo in an attempt to regain the ancient city.

Palestine is made up of a coast plain varying in width from a few miles to twenty miles, while ragged hills, rising in places to a height of about 4000 feet, stretch north and south nearly parallel to the coast along the eastern side.

The eastern section of the country is very rough except for a few little valleys. The rivers have cut deep gorges in their rush down the steep slopes. The river Jordan, of sacred memory, runs nearly south along the eastern edge of Palestine, and throughout its entire course it is below the sea level. While the rise from the sea to the summit is fairly gradual, the drop on the east is very steep. In fact, from the crest of the ridge, an average of about 2500 feet in twenty miles, the level drops to a maximum of 1500 feet below sea level.

Under the circumstances the possession of the coastal plain and the lines of travel would seem to leave the rest of the country in a state of siege, with small supplies of food and less forage.

The apparent collapse of the Turks in Palestine is eloquent of the breaking down of the military power of the sultan in all war theaters.

That announced campaign of the army to get after the evil forces in Honolulu which prey upon soldiers ought to wake up some of the snoring citizens who, in their few intervals of semi-consciousness sneer at all efforts to make the police force do its duty. Honolulu may be considered lucky in not being declared a "barred zone" within which soldiers cannot come, as Seattle was declared when Mayor Gill and his chief of police failed to clean up. If such an order were enforced against Honolulu, the businessmen would be on their feet in a minute, demanding that the police either get busy in a really effective way or get out of office, from top to bottom.

There is a lesson to be learned from people who preach the doctrine of disloyalty, disorder and license, and it is that there are many such who should be taken care of before they incite some mob of ignorant followers to do damage. Free speech does not license traitorous utterances, sedition and falsehood, and the quicker we draw the line the better it will be for us. — Albany Knickerbocker Press.

Tear down the worst tenements, clean up the rest, see that they are properly ventilated, provided with the decencies of facilities for personal hygiene, drive the illicit booze and drug sellers and the commercialized vice out of them, and one of Honolulu's greatest problems will have been solved.

The further it goes the better it gets. These revelations of the extent of the India conspiracy, and the use of German consulates to spread revolt propaganda and finance the plotters, make mighty good reading even though both Georg Rodiek and H. A. Schroeder have pleaded technically guilty.

Investigating of the Halifax disaster goes on. Mainland papers refer to various incidents which might lead to suspicion of a German plot, but the Canadian secret service has not indicated that it has a definite clue to the perpetrators of the worst explosion in the history of the world.

General Pershing says to the American soldiers: "In your valor as a soldier and your conduct as a man be an inspiration to your comrades and an honor to your country." That is a good enough slogan to fit the civilians, too.

If the German people were only wise enough to take into their own hands the control of their own affairs and to erect a government responsible to them, they could end this war in two weeks.—San Francisco Examiner.

Cleveland schools must remain free from the menace of un-Americanism. If any teacher or other employe of the department is less American than German his severance from the public service should be instantly effected.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

One gratifying thing about our conduct of the war so far is the way our secret service department never seems to be out at lunch at the critical moment.—Ohio State Journal.

Whenever Kerensky has been finally buried in oblivion's shadowy crypt, he crawls out again with an army and threatens to wallop the Bolsheviks.

United, we stand; divided we crawl around and earn an indemnity for Germany. Save for the next bond issue.—Columbia Record.

Who paid the doctor's bills in the criminal operation alleged to have been performed by Dr. Hayes?

J. F. C. Hagens evidently intends to avoid "entangling alliances."

Letters on TIMELY TOPICS

TENEMENT EVILS.

Honolulu, T. H., Dec. 17, 1917.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin:
Sir: Your editorial on tenements has started a few of our citizens thinking in the right direction as to moral conditions surrounding these overcrowded districts that have become so on account of a large number of laborers coming in from the plantations. The situation is particularly serious among the Spanish and Filipinos. The tenements that have seemed to thrive the best in the past in vice and wickedness are the Ah Leong Block and Camp Two, besides others in that district that are catering to the lowest types of humanity and flourishing in every sort of wickedness that can be imagined.

The people of Honolulu are ignorant of the facts that exist in their own city though doing their best to carry out the principles of democracy which our fathers have so faithfully fought for and they little realize that within their own beautiful city are conditions almost as appalling as in Belgium. It is not on as large a scale, but the fact remains the same that numbers of innocent children and girls and women are exposed to vice of every description, due to these overcrowded tenements. We have in Honolulu, we are sorry to say, a type of manhood, or human vulture would be a more suitable term, that is constantly preying upon the feeble minded and the morally weak tenements.

A strong and united effort should be put forth to get these laborers back to the plantations and to successfully accomplish this we must refuse to help them financially and the board of health should insist upon the health regulations being complied with, for I believe there is a law that requires so many cubic feet of air for each person.

Honolulu's black spot for the breeding of immorality is the tenements. Some of them are so old and so shabby that it is even dangerous to go up the steps. I have seen people in these tenements using old oil cans over the rickety back porches of the old buildings. If a fire ever broke out, it would be almost impossible to get all the tenants out. The sanitary conditions are almost awful or rather the unsanitary conditions.

The owners of these tenements in the majority of cases are wealthy people and some who have a large part to play in our municipal affairs and some are even pretending to be in sympathy with Christian and social welfare work. Those who have mortgages on these properties as well as those who own them and are reaping financial gain from a condition of things as appalling as the tenements of Honolulu are not entitled to be regarded as decent, respectable American citizens.

Our future depends upon the children of today. We are giving our young men for the principles that our country has stood for and is standing for today. The stars and stripes must be upheld for they stand for the "land of the free and the home of the brave." Our children, the future generation, must be safeguarded. The little ones in these tenements are daily seeing things that are going to weaken their moral standard.

The tenements are anything but good economic investments. They are harboring and molding future criminals that will cost the taxpayers of the community thousands, yes, millions of dollars. There is nothing that justifies their existence. The board of health is paying thousands of dollars for the fight against tuberculosis. If a group of private cottages or even double cottages could take the place of these old tenements we would have taken a big step in our fight with tuberculosis. In Camp Two I discovered that a number of the horrible tenements had been pulled down and respectable cottages built, but there are still a number of reminiscences of old Camp Two, though they are almost ready to fall down and are teeming with every conceivable form of vice that could be found within four walls. But the little cottages have attracted a good type of people and if all the tenements were replaced with these cottages it would certainly be a marvelous improvement. If part of the money spent in fighting disease could be spent for the prevention of disease, how much better an investment it would be and as "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" so would we find the expense would decrease in like ratio. The large number of incurables and tubercular patients are gathered from these tenements.

I appeal to the intelligent and Christian citizen not to ignore conditions that are at our very door. Distant fields look green and money sent to foreign countries for Red Cross work and for the suffering of Belgium is well spent and these good causes should have our fullest support and every true and loyal American citizen cannot but look with horror upon the crimes committed by the Germans. But we must not overlook the fact that horrible crimes are being committed in our own community that have the support both financially and morally of those who pose as good citizens of this city and I would suggest that names and photographs of those who are reaping financial gain from these breeders of crime and disease be published without fear or hesitancy. We must deal with facts and not allow personalities to stand in our way. Let us not allow ourselves to become slaves to the love of money or to the fear of our fellow man. Don't be afraid to stand for the right because of the fear of offending some one who is on the same board of directors or in the same club or in the same social circle. Have enough backbone to stand for what you know individually to be the right thing. We must protect the next generation and it is up to every true American in Honolulu to throw his hat in the ring and come out for the fight to clean up the city.

Sincerely,
W. E. PIETSCH.

SEAMEN'S HOME TO PROVIDE XMAS CHEER

Sailors in port from next Saturday until after Christmas are not to go without their holiday cheer. Plans are nearing completion for a joyous welcome and entertainment of all the lonely mariners who are doing their part to win this war as much as are the soldiers, at the Seamen's Institute.

The arrangements are completed for the serving of a festive banquet to the sailors at the institute next Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock when those present will sit down to a table laden with turkey, mince pies and all "the fixings" which go with a holiday meal.

After-dinner a Christmas tree is to be illuminated and every man present given a fine present. This is to be followed by a concert arranged by Mrs. J. Pascoe and friends.

On the following day it is hoped to hold a special Christmas service with carol singing. Later in the week it is also planned to have a social evening with games, music and other forms of entertainment.

The members of the Harbor Lights Guild are working with the institute superintendent to give the sailors this real Christmas welcome and it is believed the efforts are to be crowned with great success.

BANANA CONGESTION NOW WORSE THAN EVER

The banana congestion in Hawaii threatens to become more of a problem than it was this summer. Normally there is an average of 25,000 bunches of bananas to ship to the coast every month, says A. J. Campbell, who is probably better informed about the industry than any other in Honolulu.

It is now nearly a month since any large quantity of bananas has been shipped to the coast. This was on the steamer Maui when she left here for her last voyage from this port until the war is over. Since then only a few hundred bunches have been sent to the coast by transpacific boats which have had permits to enter the coastwise trade.

The prospect for the future shipments is not encouraging either, as most of the ships now calling at Honolulu have been diverted to other purposes, at least temporarily.

Home consumption is believed to be absorbing a considerably larger

ARCHIE HICKMAN IS IN ROYAL FLYING CORPS

Archie C. Hickman, formerly an employe of the Honolulu Gas Company, writes from the aviation camp of the Royal Flying Corps at Toronto of his experiences. He declares that on the average eight airplanes are smashed daily and a student gets three chances to make good but if he smashes three machines he is discharged.

"We are expecting to leave here for Texas," writes Hickman, "as the weather is too severe. We work Sundays and when we are on early flying we are up at 4 to warm up the motors and the cadets commence flying as soon as day breaks. American cadets are here also for training."

Hickman left Honolulu several months ago for Canada and was assigned to the Royal Flying Corps as a mechanic.

FOUR-MINUTE SPEAKER PLEADS FOR RED CROSS

Prof. Vaughan MacCaughy in his four-minute speech last night at the theaters made a plea for the Red Cross, detailing the accomplishment of the association. He said:

"A woman in this audience fainted right now, every person here would be willing to help her. The ordinary courtesy of ordinary life would lead us to assist her in every possible way."

"If a little child, ragged, hungry, sick, its father shot dead, its home a heap of ashes, were to stand here where I am standing, and ask for a place to sleep and a little food, every person in this room would be glad to do something for that child."

"If one of your good friends, a man whom you have known and loved for many years, were to lie here on the floor, with his eyes shot out, or his arms hanging helpless, or his body torn and bleeding with terrible shell wounds, you would do much to help that wounded, suffering friend."

"That is exactly what the American Red Cross is doing. Our nurses are helping the fainting women who have suffered and are now suffering the unspeakable horrors of German invasion. Our Red Cross nurses are comforting the little children who have been trampled into the roadside mud by the iron heel of the Hun. The Red Cross nurses are tending our boys, our men, our sons, sweethearts, husbands, friends."

"Who are the Red Cross? We are the Red Cross. It belongs to the people of the United States, all the people, from Honolulu to the bloody trenches of France."

"What is the Red Cross doing? Here are some items from its last report: 'We are sending supplies to 3,500 French military hospitals. 'We are caring for thousands of French and Belgian children and refugees. 'We have established a sanatorium with 1000 beds for tuberculosis patients. 'We operate an ambulance service which transports 1000 refugees daily. 'We have sent 3,000,000 pounds of milk for Russian babies. 'We are carrying on repair work in devastated towns.'"

"Are all of you members of the American Red Cross? Has every one here joined? If you are a member, do a good turn by getting another member. If any one here has not joined, perhaps it's because he has not had a good opportunity."

"Now is a good time to join. Your hearts are full of the Christmas spirit. The spirit of the Red Cross is the spirit of Christmas. We cannot all go to the front, but at this Christmas, 1917, we can all enlist under the Red Cross Flag. Let us make it OUR CHRISTMAS FLAG."

SPECULATION IN HOMESTEADS IS HIT BY KRAUSS

"Eliminate the fake homesteader, eliminate the homestead speculator, that is the sincere wish of every honest homesteader in Hawaii now struggling as best he knows how to win through to success for himself and his family," said F. G. Krauss of Hawaii, Maui, in a notable talk on homesteading at the Ad Club lunch today.

Mr. Krauss sketched briefly the progress of the Heiku project, ending by saying that some of the original homesteaders are still hanging on, believing they will win out in the end, and that this experiment should not be classed as a failure.

Among the essential points he made as necessary for a successful "maning the land," were: Good roads, steady supply of good water, rural credits or government financial assistance, rural insurance, good schools and enough land to allow a family a decent living. He said the size of the homestead land unit and the character of the crops should be determined by the governor through investigation before the homesteads are opened to public entry. The minimum should be 40 acres, he felt, and the maximum 80 acres, and provision should be made so that if the 40 acre homesteader is successful and a good citizen, he could get more land. He said that the men given homesteads should be selected with great care.

"Altogether, there are many of us with experience in the field who firmly believe that the government should add to rather than reduce the requirements for getting homesteads," he said. "The government has little land and it should not be wasted."

Mr. Krauss paid a tribute to the public spirit of Maui plantations and of many Hawaiian firms who, he said, have again and again helped the homesteader even though land that was valuable to plantation use was being turned over to the small farmer.

"I know of no single instance in which the 'big fellows' have tried to block or hamper the homesteader," he said.

Krauss was the chief speaker of the day. For the guava jelly committee—which sends Hawaii's famous jelly out for war relief use—D. G. May reported that $519 has been collected through the generosity of local firms and Colonel Soper reported the cups are being filled fast and the special cartons are somewhere en route from the mainland.

The club decided after hearing various reports that the continuance of the "Ad Club Bed" at Leahi home is by all means advisable, and funds will be raised for it. Johnny Martin spoke eloquently for its support.

Albin Clark, for the road committee, asked the Ad Club to state for the benefit of the supervisors, what width of paving is desired for the new belt road. The supervisors want an expression of public opinion. The club decided to get further information from the committee which was asked to confer with engineers and bring in recommendations.

HONOLULU WANTS CHANGE AT ARMY SUPPLIES BIDS

Action towards eliminating the alleged discrimination against Honolulu merchants in the matter of an opportunity of bidding on quartermaster's supplies for the Hawaiian department was decided upon this afternoon at the meeting of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce. George McK. McClellan, the chamber's Washington representative, will be asked to take steps toward arranging matters so that the bids now called for in Seattle for Hawaiian department supplies can be entered from this city before the closing date.

Secretary Raymond C. Brown pointed out that by the time the call for bids reaches here the time limit on the particular bids has expired.

ENEMY TRADING WIRES SUBJECT TO REGULATION

In line with the trading with the enemy act, certain regulations will apply to wireless and cable messages for communications from Honolulu to any individuals or firms on the "Enemy Trading" list. The regulations were announced today by Commodore D. H. Mahan, censor. They became effective Monday and are:

1. Parties who have obtained a license from the war trade board to communicate with any one on the enemy trading list will, in cablegrams to such a correspondent, place "ETL" followed by the number of their license as the last words of the message; except that these words may be followed by a testword in a message from a privileged banking institution.

2. The observation of the same rules will be required on incoming messages from parties on the enemy trading list.

3. Cable communications to and from parties on the enemy trading list, although licensed, will be suppressed if they do not conform to the above regulations.

By direction, DENNIS H. MAHAN, Censor.

CORRETERS BACK HOME AFTER WAR EXPERIENCES WITH BOMBS, SUBMARINES

L. Young Corretthers, artist, designer and especially talented in tableaux and pageants, is back in Honolulu after nine months' absence in Europe, most of the time in London. He is opening a studio at Lanikaea. Mr. Corretthers had many exciting experiences during London air raids, on vessels dodging submarines, and in other wartime incidents.

SENATE DEFERS VOTE ON LAND LEASING BILL

The despatch from Washington, D. C., this morning to the effect that the senate, sitting as a committee of the whole, yesterday adopted amendments to the oil and land leasing bill, excluding the California naval fuel reserve lands from the provisions of the bill, forced Honolulu Consolidated Oil Co. stock to the low mark of $3.50 a share on the local exchange today, but brokers do not appear to be pessimistic. The despatch stated that the final vote on the bill had been deferred until Jan. 7, so it is admitted that there is possibility of further action toward introducing the Phelan amendment, which provides for leasing the lands to the occupants. Condemnation of the oil lands has been decided upon by the committee, but until the bill adopted passes the final vote the outcome of the situation will remain in doubt.

In any event the brokers believe the Honolulu Consolidated Oil will not receive a serious financial setback. If the lands are condemned a certain price must be paid by the government for the property and if the lands are leased the company will remain on a solid footing.

MACCAUGHEY DECLARES COLLEGE OF HAWAII MEN READY FOR CALL OF U. S.

Prof. Vaughan MacCaughy of the College of Hawaii told the Ad club today with unmistakable vigor that so far as he and other members of the college faculty are concerned, they are prepared to answer Uncle Sam's call for other and more active service any time that call is given. "I speak now because yesterday afternoon a reporter came to the college and this morning there was a long article in the paper speaking of pro-Germanism at the college," he said. "When we were officially asked some time ago for a statement where we stood we answered that we are ready to do whatever duty Uncle Sam asks of us." He was given a big round of applause.

As evidence in a Chinese cutting case which occurred at Schofield Barracks, December 3, a wicked looking knife was delivered to the judge advocate's office at Hawaiian headquarters Tuesday. The fight took place between three Chinese with the result that Kon Wa So was badly cut about the face and shoulders. The other participants are said to be Charles H. Lee and Ahn Chu Won. Compressed paper has been used for street paving.

SOCIETY

WON BY BRASS BUTTONS

Several very interesting engagements have been announced this week of some of our fairest belles who have been won by the fascination of brass buttons.

From New York comes the news of the betrothal of Miss Said Ad-line Alpers and Lieut. Van Rensselaer Vestal, U. S. Army, which reached here by means of notes written to Miss Alpers' many friends. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Alpers, who own a pretty home in San Rafael, where Lieut. Vestal also lived before he took up an army career.

Miss Alpers has been abroad for the past few years studying art, and she left San Rafael several months ago for New York, where she has been pursuing her studies.

Lieut. Vestal is the son of Major and Mrs. Solomon Vestal, who since the former retired from active army service have been living in San Rafael. He is a brother of Captain Marion P. Vestal, U. S. A., who has been extremely popular in the younger set in this city. No date has been set for the marriage, but it will probably take place before the Christmas holiday.

And from Honolulu comes the news of the approaching marriage of Captain Chris Burlingame and Kathleen Offley, U. S. Navy. Captain Burlingame was stationed at Fort Winsfield Scott for a couple of years prior to his departure for Honolulu, and he was exceedingly popular in both army and civilian circles.

Miss Raymond, who is a great belle in Honolulu, is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Robert R. Raymond of the army, and she has many friends in this city, where she has been quite a frequent visitor. Her father, who belongs to the Engineer Corps, was stationed in Los Angeles before he went to the islands. The marriage of Miss Raymond and Captain Burlingame is to take place early in January.

And in Mare Island last week Miss Mary Agnes Yerkes of Oak Park, Ill., became the bride of Lieut. Archibald Offley, U. S. Navy. The charming bride and her mother arrived here the day before the wedding and were guests at the home of Captain Cleveland Offley, the bridegroom's father, at Mare Island. The wedding was quite simple in all its details and a small reception followed the ceremony at the Offley home.

Miss Margaret Offley, the bridegroom's sister, was the maid of honor, and Surgeon Barlow, U. S. N., acted as best man. The bride and groom will make their future home at Mare Island, where Lieut. Offley is executive officer of the seamen's training camp. (From the San Francisco, Cal., Wasp.)

SAN FRANCISCO GIRL REACHES FRANCE

A cable to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Josselyn received early in the week announced the safe arrival in France of Miss Marjorie Josselyn. She will be there for several months, and is engaged in the interesting, if strenuous, work of the society known as the Bien Etre des Blesses. Miss Josselyn is at present at the headquarters in Paris, and will probably be engaged in work there for some time to come.

Sailing with Miss Josselyn were a number of other Californians, all of whom went abroad in the interest of relief work, the majority in connection with the organization to which Miss Josselyn is devoting her energies, Mrs. C. Frederick Kohl, Mrs. Richard Hammond, Mrs. Lorenza Avenall, Miss Lydia Hopkins and Miss Hannah Hobart were among those who sailed.

Miss Hobart's friends in this city were surprised, indeed, to learn that this charming young girl, a debutante of two winters ago, had decided to take up the difficult life that relief work of any sort in France implies at the present time. She enjoyed her formal presentation to society in this city and later went to Philadelphia, where she has been living with her mother, Mrs. Charles S. Wheeler. She has been taking her place in the gayeties of the debutante element of that city, where she has enjoyed a popularity that rivaled that accorded her here in her debutante year. Miss Hobart plans to remain away at least until the summer.—San Francisco Chronicle, Dec. 9.

THE NINTH FIELD ARTILLERY DANCE

The dance given last Saturday evening by the mounted mess of the 9th Field Artillery was a huge success.

About two hundred and fifty were in attendance and a jolly evening enjoyed. One of the pleasant surprises planned failed to materialize as Miss Ellen Beach Yaw, who was to have sung for the occasion, did not return from Hawaii. The men were disappointed but made up for the loss in many ways. The Officers' Club, where the dance was held, was decorated with the 9th Field flags and the Japanese lanterns, which covered the electric lights, made an effective decoration.

Sergeant Harry Cohen, Sergeants Glass, Sergeant Green, Sergeant J. O'Shaughnessy were responsible for the party and great credit is due them for the splendid arrangements from start to finish.

A specially chartered train carried the town guests to the post and returned them to town.

The commanding officers and their wives were in attendance and all voted it a charming party.

MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK J. LOWREY'S "AT HOME"

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Lowrey will be at home on Saturday afternoon at their home to meet Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Palmer. No invitations have been sent out by Mr. and Mrs. Lowrey, other than those in newspapers. Every one interested to meet Dr. and Mrs. Palmer is most cordially invited to come. The "At Home" is primarily for the members of Central Union church, but Mr. and Mrs. Lowrey extend an invitation to the members of all churches in the city to come and meet the new pastor and his wife.

The hours are from three to six and a cordial invitation is extended to home folk and the strangers in the city.

FOWLER-McCHESNEY NUPTIALS

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. McChesney, on last Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock occurred the wedding of Miss Martha Louise McChesney and Lieut. Owen George Fowler, U. S. A. It was a small home wedding with only the family in attendance. Miss Ruth McChesney was her sister's only attendant, while Captain Amory Cotchett, U. S. A., supported the groom. Shortly after the ceremony the bride and groom slipped away for a week in the country. A little later they will be at home to their friends at Schofield Barracks.

TO LIVE IN ISLANDS

Farewells are being said to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ross, who are to leave shortly for the Hawaiian Islands, where they will reside for an indefinite time. After their marriage about a year ago the couple took up their residence in Stockton, but for the last few months have been residing on the east side of the bay. Mrs. Ross' sister, Mrs. Orville Goss, is at present at Bremerton navy yard, and will remain in the north until her husband, Dr. Goss, who has joined the navy, has been assigned to his ship.—San Francisco Examiner, Dec. 9.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton G. Ballentyne announce the engagement of their daughter, Marie, to Dr. Charles M. O'Connor, J. M. C., U. S. A.

The wedding is to take place on Friday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents and will be a small quiet affair. Dr. O'Connor leaves next week for the mainland to accept assignment. His bride will follow later.

IN BURLINGAME

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis and their son, Donald Lewis, who are visiting here from their home in Honolulu, have taken an attractive house in Burlingame for the winter. They are located on Chapin avenue.—San Francisco Examiner, Dec. 9.

Friends of Captain and Mrs. Asher Carter Baker, who were here throughout the exposition and for three years before, will be interested to know that their son, Asher Carter Baker, Jr., is a soldier at the Presidio with the Sixteenth Infantry. Captain Baker has resumed service with the navy and has been promoted to the rank of rear admiral.

Martin Sibert, son of General Sibert, stationed here for many years, now in France, also is a private at the Presidio.—San Francisco Chronicle, December 9.

Mrs. J. T. Moore of 1043 South Sutter street has received a copy of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, in which is given a detailed report of the funeral services held over the remains of the late Queen Liliuokalani. Mrs. Moore's sister, Miss Ruth Parr, attended the funeral, having received an invitation to the services through the governor.

Mrs. C. B. Gage, sister of John E. Barnes of this city, also attended the services and other ceremonies incident to the funeral of the late ruler.—Stockton, Cal., Record.

Lieut. and Mrs. Norman L. Kirk, U. S. N., have had a baby girl, Sara Elizabeth, come to gladden their home. The baby was born Dec. 2 at Long Beach California. Lieut. and Mrs. Kirk have a large circle of friends in Hawaii who will rejoice with them in this happiness. Lieut. Kirk is on the St. Louis. When they lived in Honolulu they were guests at the Donna hotel.

The 1st Field Artillery band played at Halekulani in compliment to General John P. Wisser on Tuesday afternoon. Each Tuesday General Wisser is at home and one or other of the bands gives a concert in compliment to the general and his invited guests. It is a charming custom and at this time the martial music of the band is inspiring.

HAGENS DENIES RUMOR OF ASSOCIATION WITH CASTLE & COOKE CO.

A rumor, denied, however, by one of the principals, filtered through Honolulu's Wall street circles this morning following announcement of the resignation of J. P. Hagens from H. H. Knight & Co., that Mr. Hagens was to become associated with Castle & Cooke in the near future, and take with him to that institution, the agency of the Pioneer Mill Co., now held by Hackett & Co.

Mr. Hagens, seen today at noon, emphatically denied the truth of the report. "I will seek active war service as soon as I am released from my present position," Mr. Hagens said. "And until that comes I will make time, if I am not called for war service, then it will be time to consider the future."

E. D. Tenney, president of Castle & Cooke, laughed when told of the rumor. He branded it as "ridiculous."

WHAT BECAME OF PEN USED TO SIGN PAPER KNOWN AS 1917 WILL?

Representative "Jimmy" Jarrett is still looking for his fountain pen. On August 9 "Princess" Theresa Owana Wilcox Belliveau borrowed Attorney Jarrett's pen. She says it was used by the late Queen Liliuokalani to sign the alleged 1917 will.

Whether it was or not, Jarrett doesn't know. What he would like to know, however, is who took his fountain pen after the "princess" had returned it to his desk.

Theresa is sure the pen was used by the queen, for she says her late majesty shook it, when it refused to write, and spilled ink on the Japanese robe she was wearing at the time.

LANAI PLAYERS GIVE $150 TO RED CROSS

The regular monthly donation of $150 to the Red Cross by the Lanai players was given Tuesday by Mrs. Robert N. Burnham, director, to A. L. Castle, although there was no performance in December. Enough money, however, was made at the two previous plays to make it possible to continue the contribution.

The players are now rehearsing for their January play, in which the leading parts will be taken by Mr. and Mrs. Reynold McGrew. The play is a clever farce-comedy and the other players who will appear are Arthur Wyman, Miss Osgood, Miss Mary von Holt, R. N. Burnham, Arthur Mackintosh, Young Corretthers and possibly others. Miss Juliet May Fraser is decorating some special posters for the play.

The treasurer's report in full follows: Receipts of October play, $391; expenses, $152.80; Red Cross donations, $150; balance, $88.20; receipts of November play, $385; expenses, $160.10; Red Cross donation, $150; balance $163.75; Red Cross Christmas donation from reserve fund, $150; balance on hand, $13.75.

Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co., Ltd.

I.-I. UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT IN RATE FIGHT

Decision Holds That It Can Increase Rates: Utilities Authority Curbed

That the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. has authority to increase its freight and passenger rates in accordance with the new schedule which was to have gone into effect October 1, but which was held up by an injunction suit brought by the public utilities commission, is the finding of the supreme court in a decision handed down late yesterday afternoon.

The supreme court holds that the public utilities commission has no jurisdiction to regulate the rates and charges of a common carrier by water in interstate commerce for the transportation of persons and property from port to port in the territory of Hawaii.

On September 28 the commission, in a decision, ordered the shipping company to return to the schedule of rates in effect in 1916, when upon the company immediately announced an increase in its rates to take effect October 1, declaring that this new schedule had been approved by the federal shipping board and that the company did not have the authority to reduce or otherwise change them without the consent of the board. At this time the company filed an appeal from the commission's decision and order.

The commission then brought an injunction suit against the company to restrain it from disobeying the order, and the company also took this case to the supreme court on appeal.

As regards the authority of the federal shipping board, the supreme court decision says:

"The shipping board established by act of Congress of September 7, 1916, has sole and exclusive jurisdiction to regulate rates and charges of a common carrier by water in interstate commerce."

In this connection one of the four contentions upon which the steamship company appealed was that the public utilities commission had no jurisdiction over the reasonableness of the freight and passenger rates charges by the company, but that this jurisdiction was vested solely in the federal shipping board.

The decision continues, in part: "There is no question that the appellant, under provision of the shipping act, is a 'common carrier by water in interstate commerce.' It is engaged in the transportation of passengers and property from port to port in the territory of Hawaii."

"Congress has the exclusive power of controlling and regulating foreign and interstate commerce and plenary legislative power in the territories. It has the power to place all shipping on the high seas in the territory on the same plane as interstate commerce and to withdraw the control thereof from any local board or commission and place the same in a board created by it, and we are satisfied it has done so in the shipping act."

SUGAR SCARCITY DUE LARGELY TO CAR SHORTAGE

Sugar scarcity on the mainland during the last month has been generally due to a lack of cars to get the product where needed, according to Horace Johnson, consulting chemist with C. Brewer & Co., who with Mrs. Johnson has just returned from a visit as far east as Chicago.

"There were times," says Mr. Johnson, "when small parcels of sugar would be doled out to consumers, but no sugar cards were used in the sections we visited. The distributing was taken care of by the grocers themselves at the request of the authorities. At the time we left matters were adjusting themselves as the transportation facilities had again come into play."

"Business throughout the West seems to be booming," continued Mr. Johnson. "Industry is moving steadily along and no one seems to be out of work. All through the country people are looking for a long war and are making their plans accordingly."

Mr. Johnson will be in the city for several days preparing to take up his work. Mrs. Johnson will return shortly to their home at Hilo, accompanied by the children, Ralph, Paul and Evelyn, who have been in school here while their parents were away.

RUSSIAN BONDS DROP TO $86

Russian government 5 1/2 per cent internal bonds have reached a new low level on the New York market, dropping from $101 for a 1000-ruble bond to $86, which caused considerable quaking among local investors, who hold several million rubles' worth of these securities. The drop is the outcome of the declaration by the Bolsheviks repudiating Russia's national debt. The news of the drop was received yesterday by the Bishop Trust Company.

No quotations were given on the Imperial Russian 6 1/2 per cent externals nor on the Imperial Russian 5 1/2 per cent externals, but there is no doubt that these two securities fell at the same time as the internals. Although the bonds are very low, the par value of the internals being $14.50, both the financial men on the mainland and the local investors are not pessimistic, but appear to be pos-

ACQUISITION OF FISH RIGHTS BY TERRITORY, PLAN

Child Favors Taking Fight to Congress Direct: Would Cost $150,000

Condemnation of the fishing rights of the islands and turning them over to the territorial government for administration is the latest war measure of J. F. Child, federal food commissioner, in his efforts to conserve the food supply of the territory.

Mr. Child has already a list of all the fishing rights which are 41 in number, with a full tabulation as to their ownership, valuation and income derived. It is estimated by Mr. Child that it will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000 to condemn the properties.

Just what method will be employed to have the rights condemned has not been definitely decided, but it is felt that the quickest and surest way would be to take the matter direct to congress as already several similar measures have been before the local legislature and failed to pass.

At present the fishing rights are owned by persons who lease them to fishing companies. Under the proposed plan anyone may fish who takes out a license.

KURTISTOWN IS SOLD FOR $10,000

Kurtistown, 11 miles from Hilo on the Volcano road, and the store, store building and store site, has been sold to T. Dranga, a Crescent City business man, for approximately $10,000, according to reports reaching Honolulu today.

The transfer was made last week, after A. G. Curtis, the owner, returned from the mainland. It is his mercantile business which Mr. Curtis has disposed of, but he still retains much of his cane land, from which he has made an independent fortune in the last few years.

Kurtistown was named after Mr. Curtis, who was one of the early day coffee planters who tried to wrest wealth from the Oloa lands. This venture proving unprofitable, Mr. Curtis started a general store after which a postoffice was allotted to "11 miles", as Kurtistown is colloquially known on Hawaii.

Mr. Curtis is now bound again for San Francisco where he proposes starting a purchasing agency for island patrons.

The buyer of Kurtistown was formerly engaged in the plumbing business in Hilo, and more recently has conducted a second hand store there.

It is believed that the Bolsheviks will shortly be ousted and the new government will cancel the repudiation of the national debt.

GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS FOR LICENSING OF FOOD DEALERS

General rules and regulations provided by the government for the licensing of all food dealers, including sugar planters, doing a business of over $100,000 are as follows:

Rule 1. It shall be the duty of each licensee to give to such representative as may be designated by the United States Food Administrator, whenever the said representative shall so require, any information concerning the conditions and management of the business of the licensee. Reports, when requested by said representative, shall be made on such blanks to be furnished by the United States Food Administrator, as the United States Food Administrator may designate, giving complete information regarding transactions in any commodities imported, manufactured, refined, packed, purchased, contracted for, received, sold, stored, shipped or otherwise handled, distributed or dealt with, by the licensee, or on hand, in the possession or under the control of the licensee, and any other information concerning the business of the licensee that such representative may require from time to time. Whenever the said representative shall require it, the licensee shall furnish such information in writing under oath.

Rule 2. The authorized representative of the United States Food Administrator shall be at full liberty, during ordinary business hours, to inspect any and all property stored or held in possession or under the control of the licensee, and all records of the licensee. All necessary facilities for such inspection shall be extended to the said representative by the licensee, its agents and servants.

Rule 3. The licensee shall keep such records of his business as shall make practicable the verification of all reports rendered to the United States Food Administrator.

Rule 4. No agent or employee of the United States Food Administration shall divulge or make known in any manner, while he is such agent or employee or thereafter, except to such other agents or employees of the United States Food Administration as may be required to have such knowledge in the regular course of their official duties, or except in so far as he may be directed by the United States Food Administrator or by a court of competent jurisdiction, any facts or information regarding the business of the licensee which may come to his knowledge through any examination or inspection of the business or accounts of the licensee or through any reports made by the licensee to the United States Food Administration.

Rule 5. The licensee shall not import, manufacture, store, distribute, sell or otherwise handle any food commodities on an unjust, exorbitant, unreasonable, discriminatory or unfair commission, profit or storage charge.

Rule 6. The licensee, in selling food commodities, shall keep such commodities moving to the consumer in as direct a line as practicable and without unreasonable delay. Resales within the same trade without reasonable justification, especially if tending to result in a higher market price to the retailer or consumer, will be dealt with as an unfair practice.

Rule 7. No broker or other licensee shall buy or sell any food commodity for his own account unless he is also regularly engaged in, and holds himself out to the trade as conducting, the business of distributing such commodity otherwise than on a commission or brokerage basis; or unless he uses such commodities in manufacturing; provided that this rule shall not apply to sales on an exchange, board of trade, or similar institution.

Rule 8. No licensee shall knowingly sell any food commodity to a broker or other licensee who is not buying for personal consumption or engaged in using such commodity in manufacturing; or who is not regularly engaged in, and holding himself out to the trade as conducting, the business of distributing such commodity otherwise than on a commission or brokerage basis; provided that this rule shall not apply to sales on an exchange, board of trade, or similar institution.

(The regulation of exchange transactions is not a function of license regulations and under Section 18 of the Act will be handled by special regulation from time to time.)

Rule 9. All carload shipments of the following commodities shall be made in car lots of not less than amount prescribed below unless different minimum is authorized by special written permission of the United States Food Administrator; provided, however, that when cars of lower carrying capacity are used the maximum load which the car will carry may be used without such permission: sugar, 60,000 pounds.

Rule 10. The licensee shall not buy, contract for, sell, store or otherwise handle or deal in any food commodities for the purpose of unreasonably increasing price or restricting the supply of such commodities, or of monopolizing, or attempting to monopolize, either locally or generally, any of such commodities.

Rule 11. The licensee shall not knowingly commit waste, or willfully permit preventable deterioration in connection with the production, importation, manufacture, storage, distribution or sale of any food commodities.

Rule 12. The licensee shall report within ten days, in writing, to the United States Food Administration any change of address, or any change in the management or control of the person, firm, corporation or association licensed, or any change in the character of the business.

Rule 13. The licensee shall not, without the written consent of the United States Food Administrator, or his duly authorized representative, keep on hand or have in possession or under control, by contract or other arrangement, at any time, any food commodities in a quantity in excess of the reasonable requirements of his business for use or sale by him during a period of sixty days; provided, however, that this rule shall not prevent the licensee from storing, in sufficient quantities to fill his reasonable requirements throughout the period of such or no production, any of the following commodities:

Cotton seed, cottonseed oil, cottonseed cake, cottonseed meal, peanut oil, peanut meal, butter, cheese, fresh fish, frozen fish, fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, poultry, eggs, canned peas, canned tomatoes, canned corn, canned salmon, canned sardines, dried prunes, dried apples, dried peaches, dried raisins, molasses.

Provided that any food commodities may be stored longer than sixty days for seeding purposes if notice of the amount and location of such seed is sent to the United States Food Administration before the expiration of the period of sixty days.

Provided further that this rule shall not prevent any licensee from having on hand less than a carload of any commodity, and in addition thereto a carload in transit.

Rule 14. The licensee shall not sell or deliver to any person any food commodities if the licensee knows, or has reason to believe, that such sale or delivery will give to such person a supply of any such commodities in excess of his reasonable requirements for use or sale by him during the period of sixty days next succeeding such sale or delivery; provided, however, that this rule shall not prevent sales or deliveries to any person of any of the commodities specified in rule 12 in such quantities as will give such person a sufficient supply of such commodities to fill his reasonable requirements throughout the period of such or no production; and provided, further, that this rule shall not prevent the sale or delivery of any food commodities to any person for the Federal, State, County or Municipal governments or for the government of any nation at war with Germany.

Rule 15. The licensee shall not make or have outstanding at any time any contract for the sale of any food commodities other than those specified in rule 12 for shipment or delivery more than 60 days after the making of such contract, except for seeding purposes; provided, however, that this rule shall not apply to contracts with the Federal, State, County or Municipal governments or with the government of any nation at war with Germany. Provided further, that an importer may sell goods to be imported for delivery on arrival.

Rule 16. General Rules 13 and 15, Special Rule 3 on page 14, Special Rule 2 on page 20, and Special Rule 9 on page 26 shall not affect the validity of contracts enforceable at law made in good faith prior to October 15, 1917, but the licensee shall between December 1 and December 15, 1917, send to the United States Food Administration copies of all contracts made prior to October 15, 1917, which will not be fully performed on January 1, 1918, and on the latter date further action in regard to such contracts will be considered.

Rule 17. The licensee shall not knowingly sell any food commodities to any person engaged in the business of selling such commodity, who shall, after this regulation goes into effect, violate the provisions of the Act of Congress approved August 10, 1917, by making any unreasonable rate or charge in selling or otherwise handling or dealing in such commodity, or by holding, contracting for, or arranging for a quantity thereof in excess of the reasonable requirements of his business for use or sale by him for a reasonable time.

Rule 18. No licensee shall make any allowance or payment to the agent or employee of any exchange, association, or other person from whom he buys, or to whom he sells, or for whom he handles commodities on commission, without the written permission of the principal of such agent.

Rule 19. The licensee shall not issue, or make public, market quotations, or make any statements to any person regarding the price at which food commodities are being sold, which quotations or statements cannot be verified either from his own records or from the records of other licensees, and shall not make any other misleading statements which tend to enhance the price of any food commodities.

Rule 20. The words used in these rules and regulations shall be construed to import the plural or the singular, as the case demands. The word "person" wherever used in these rules and regulations, shall include individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations. The words "food commodities" wherever used in general or special rules and regulations, unless otherwise specified, shall include all commodities specified by the President in any license proclamation already issued or which may hereafter be issued by him under authority of Section 5 of the Act of Congress, approved August 10, 1917, known as the "Food Control Act."

Dealings on an exchange, board of trade or similar institution shall include only such dealings as are made by public trading on the floor of the exchange under the supervision of the exchange, board of trade or similar institution, in such ring, pit or other similar place as may be especially reserved by the exchange, board of trade or similar institution for public trading.

Rule 21. Nothing contained in these general rules and regulations shall be construed as restricting, modifying or affecting in any manner the operation of any special rules and regulations which have already been promulgated, or which may hereafter be promulgated, and whenever any special rule is inconsistent with a general rule, the special rule shall prevail.

Rule 22. The licensee shall place on every contract, order, acceptance or order, invoice, price list and quotation issued or signed by him relating to food commodities the words "United States Food Administration License Number," followed by the number of his license. No licensee shall knowingly buy any food commodities from, or sell any such commodities to, or handle any such commodities for, any person required to have a license who has not secured such license and complied with the provisions of this rule.

MONUMENT UNVEILED TO DEPARTED ELKS

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 3.—The 11 o'clock toast of the Elks' lodge was given here last night under circumstances said to be unique in the history of the fraternity, when Los Angeles B. P. O. E. No. 99 unveiled a great monument to departed Elks at its plot in Inglewood cemetery.

The Elks of the local lodge and many visiting brethren gathered at the plot a few minutes before 11 o'clock, and when that hour arrived it was heralded by the striking of a gong. The monument was then unveiled with the usual ceremonies, augmented by the 11 o'clock toast to absent brothers. The new monument is a bronze elk, standing on a huge rock, left in natural formation, which is in turn supported by a granite base 20 feet square and 7 feet high, the whole measuring 30 feet from the tip of the elk's antlers to the ground.

Amateurs and Professionals Play Together on Same Team

Town Team Has Mixed Aggregation—Schuman and Inman Recognized as "Pros" By A. A. U.—Noble Kauhane and "Chuck" Smith Known to Be Amateurs—Local A. A. U. Official Does Not Know What Will Be Done—Team May Quit

Can an athlete be a professional in baseball and an amateur in football? This is a question which is being asked by the many devotees of sport in the city. The local A. A. U. officials have refused to allow Bill Inman and other players to compete with amateurs in baseball, but still they are to compete in football with well known amateurs.

In the games this season Bill Inman, "Scotty" Schuman, "Bill" Rice and other players have competed with amateurs on the Town Team. If Bill Inman is allowed to play football with Noble Kauhane, "Chuck" Smith and others, why not allow him to compete in baseball with the amateurs?

Ku Suspended

Some time ago Sam Ku, a member of the Braves, was suspended for 15 days, charged with playing in an exhibition game with a professional. The A. A. U. turned down Bill Inman's request for an A. A. U. card. Ku didn't receive any money for playing, and it is rumored that Inman did not during the past year.

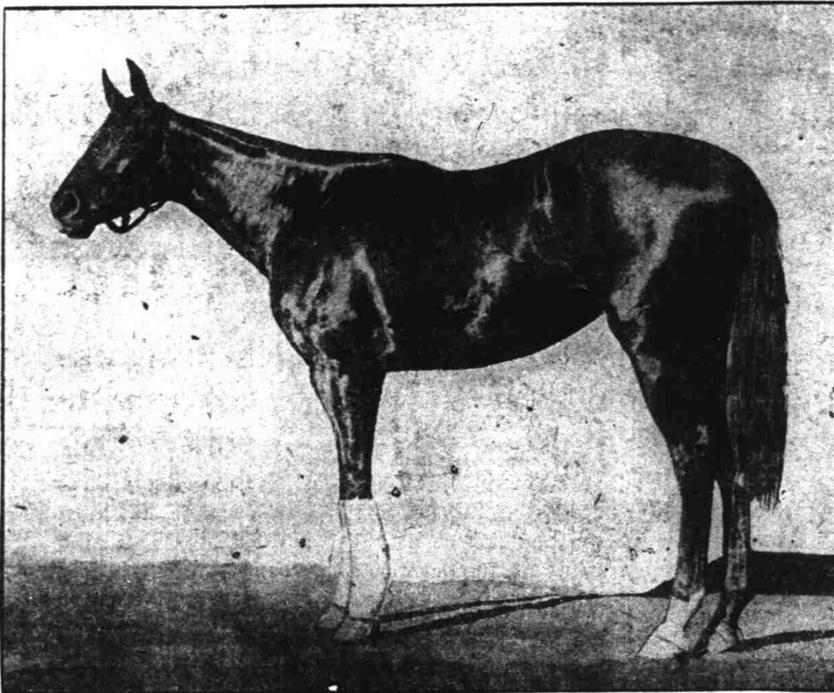

In many associations on the mainland the amateurs are warned not to play in games with known professionals. The local A. A. U. has recognized Inman and Schuman as professionals, while Kauhane and "Chuck" Smith are known to be amateurs.

The local authorities should have known that the A. A. U. takes the same stand in football as in baseball. There is no ruling which will allow a professional to compete with an amateur in football, as there is no rule allowing him to compete in baseball.

Warning to Players

It would be much better for Kauhane and others if they had been warned not to play with the men who

Macfarlane Entry Will Run In Holiday Meet

Florence Roberts (General Roberts-Janice Marion) is perhaps the best known runner at the Macfarlane stables. Florence Roberts came here last year from the mainland, where she had raced on the eastern and western tracks. Florence Roberts holds the Canadian record for five furlongs and has made excellent time in a number of other races. She will start in the six furlong event on Christmas Day and in the mile on New Year's Day.

Christmas Races Will Bring Out Best of Local Talent

Six Starters From Macfarlane Stables—Florence Roberts, Lahontan Water, Rosella, Remark, Suante and Dinner Bell Will Be Seen on Kapiolani Track—Max Watkins, Who Has Charge of Stables, Was Formerly With Nevada Stock Farm

This morning a number of the best-known horsemen on the islands were gathered at the track watching the few workouts, and the consensus of opinion appeared to be that the meet on Christmas Day and New Years would be one of the most successful in history.

One of the features this year is the fact that there are so many new entries. Mrs. Walter Macfarlane will send at least four new entries to the post, and with Lahontan Water and Florence Roberts will have at least a half dozen entries for the two days' meet.

New Starters

Rosella, Remark, Suante and Dinner Bell have never entered a race, and Max Watkins, who came here from the mainland to take charge of the string, believes that there will be some real surprises in the coming meet. Watkins has studied in a good school, having been connected with the Nevada Stock Farm, owned by George Wingfield. He believes that the Macfarlane stable will make a good showing this season.

Rosella, a four-year-old bay mare, is by Voter out of Hamrose. Voter was owned by James R. Keene and won a number of races in England and was later brought back to the United States, where he again made good on the Eastern tracks. Voter is by Friar's Balsam, an imported horse. She will start in the half mile on Christmas Day.

Montgomery Won Handicap

Remark, a bay filly, is by Montgomery out of Kumis. Montgomery won the Metropolitan Handicap in New York ten years ago, when a three-year-old. He later won the Burns Handicap at Emeryville as a four-year-old. In this race he carried 123 pounds, the most weight ever carried by a winner in this event. Montgomery was by Pesaro.

Suante, a bay filly, is by Starbottle out of Silver Line. Starbottle was a good race horse, but his worth as a sire is an unknown quantity. He raced around New York and in Eastern Canada. Suante and Remark will be entered in the three furlong event on New Years. Dinner Bell, a chestnut colt, was also sired by Starbottle out of Eleven Bells. This colt will also be started in the three furlong event.

Dreamery (Montgomery-Ocean Dream) and Peter Post (Deutschland-Roselawn) are not expected to enter in the coming races.

Watkins reported the following workouts for the Macfarlane string: Florence Roberts stopped the three-quarters in 1:18; Lahontan Water went three furlongs in 37; Suante took one-eighth in 12:1-5, and Dinner Bell and Remark made the same distance in 12:3-5.

George Stallings may be able to bowl out his players and get away with it, but it is different when he tackles a traffic cop. Recently in Macon, Ga., Stallings and George Stinson were haled into court for speeding in an automobile. Stinson was fined for speeding and Stallings was assessed $5 on a "disorderly" charge because he told the arresting policeman that he was "as crooked as a ram's horn."

Howard Berry Leads Stars On Gridiron

The flitting football season, disappearing over the horizon along with Thanksgiving Day, left little but a memory.

War times, crushing the football spirit at Harvard, Yale and Princeton, also crushed all spirit for the annual roundups that pick this or that man the best of his position. It has, however, failed to crush the annual rivalry that springs up intersectionally. There are no many good teams in the country this year it is practically impossible to choose a champion.

Selecting an All-American football team this year is going to be treading on the toes of propriety. Service teams have been practically as successful as have the college stars. Leaving them out of the comparisons would be inviting an argument.

Howard Berry, the brilliant full-back of the Pennsylvania University eleven, probably stands out as the best man of all-around ability. Strupper of Georgia Tech undoubtedly ranks with the best backfield men in the country. Robeson of Rutgers is another deserving of mention.

As for champions, they amount to about a puff of wind, for the teams have ignored a chance to get together, and settle their supremacy arguments. Georgia Tech doubtless will claim the title, and so will Pittsburg. Ohio State will horn into the argument also, with plenty of supporters to back the claims of Rutgers.

Bryant Cooper Wins Swimming Events In East

Bryant Cooper, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, and a Punahou boy, is upholding the reputation of Hawaii for champion swimmers.

Young Cooper is attending the Lawrenceville school at Lawrenceville, New Jersey. Last year, Lorrin Thurston held the swimming championship at this institution, which is a prep school for Princeton. Now, Cooper has come to the front, and, in the recent swimming meet of the school, won the fifty yard dash in the time of 28 4-10 seconds. The record of the tank is 25 1-10 seconds. He was also first in the 100 yard race, and was a member of the Cleve House team which won the relay race in the meet.

The young man is enjoying his first experience with snow and ice and is reported to be really happy in the midst of the cold weather.

'Teddy' Thompson Will Leave Ring To Present Ring

"Teddy" Thompson will have his last battle "in the ring" on New Years. You will notice that quotes are used in the ring part. This was done because the well known Shafter boxer has decided to join the ranks of the married folks and will wed Miss Laura Martin on January 5.

Thompson says that he is through with all activities in the squared circle and remarked today that the only bouts that he will have in the future will be at home. But according to his friends at Fort Shafter he will not have any easy victory, as Miss Martin has decided that "Terry" will have to give up boxing and she thereby won the first victory.

O. O. U. NAME OF NEW ATHLETIC ORGANIZATION

Smythe in Favor of Rival Association to A. A. U.; Palolo League Interested

Rudolph J. Smythe, president of the Kaimuki Perpetual Youth association, advising secretary of the Makapuu Point Fishing club, treasurer of the Thirty Year Old Girls' Swimming club and holder of three records in the A. Busch Lifting club, has started a movement to run an association in opposition to the A. A. U. The new association will be called the O. O. U., which means Original Osteology Union. A study of boners will be featured.

Already a large number of associations have expressed a desire to join, and Smythe said yesterday that the O. O. U. would in a short time be the leading amateur association of the city, as Palolo Mosquito League, Makapuu Point Fishing club, Funchan Tennis club, Grasshopper league and Kalih'i Frog farm have already signified intentions of joining.

The Japanese Gold Fish association, which numbers more than 100, have not yet secured their charter, but it is expected that they will be present. Harry Whitcomb, custodian of funds for the King Street Squash club, thinks that an athletic convention would do much to bring the various associations together.

G. R. BASKETBALL TEAM DOWNS M-6

In a whirlwind finish the G. R. basketballers nosed out the M-6 quintet in the Games hall at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The score, 19 to 16. At the end of first half the score stood 12 to 7 in favor of the M-6. But four personal fouls ruled an M-6 man off the floor and the G. R. club took advantage of the weakened team and in the middle of the last half tied the score at 16 all. Just before the end of the game a foul thrown true and a sensational shot by Canario from the floor put the game on ice for the G. R.

These two teams are now tied for the championship and a championship series of two out of three games will be played early in January. These two teams have been going nip and tuck the entire season with a shade favoring the M-6. But the G. R. club went into last night's important contest with blood in their eyes. And before the game was over the blood actually flowed.

To Canario go the honors of the game. He was very closely guarded but managed four baskets, all hard ones. But if the M-6 had won the honors would have gone to Scott, the long, rangy center of the M-6. He also caged four shots true, but was not as closely guarded as Canario. Auerbach played a very fast game and caged three baskets and added a foul thrown. His mate Decker was too closely guarded by Keppeler to get even a tally and had to be content with but a free throw.

Howard Mosher of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. officiated in perfect style and handled the difficult game in masterly fashion. That the game was fast is shown by the low score and the number of fouls called. Seventeen personals and seven technicals were called during the game. The M-6

CAPTAIN BRITTON SUPPORTS RULING MADE BY BLOWERS

Football Authority Shows Why Play Was Ruled a Safety in Schofield Contest

Sporting Editor, Star-Bulletin.

Sir: I would like to quote a few paragraphs in the rule book that might clear up Mr. Blower's decision made Saturday at Schofield.

Foot note below Par. (d), Sec. 13, Rule VI, states that Par. (d) Sec. 13, Rule VI, does not apply to a kick made by a team behind its own goal line. Therefore the ball is still in play and is a free ball. Sec. 16, same rule, states that a safety is made when the referee sees any part of it being on, above or behind the goal line, provided the impetus which caused it to pass from outside the goal line to or behind the goal line was given by the side defending the goal. Such impetus could come from a kick, etc.

Mr. Blowers used his good judgment Saturday, which alone can decide on the field of play.

CAPT. W. H. BRITTON.

TIGERS DEFEAT YANKEE SQUAD

The Tigers of Palama Settlement defeated the Yankees last evening by a score of 26 to 11. Ah Shan Tyau, captain of the Tigers, pitched a beautiful game. Other stars were Lin Quon, Aichi Nakamichi and Look Po. The lineup was as follows:

Tigers	Position	Yankees
Ah Shan Tyau (capt.)	pitcher	J. Manaku, Jr. catcher
Lin Quon	first base	Wong Fong
Ah Fong	second base	T. Nishi
	third base	Lee Chong Yi
Alex Telles	short stop	Look Po (capt.)
Ah Bung	right field	John Lovell and Antone Joseph
Richard Borgess	center field	Isiah Kaalmaka
		Henry Young

were the heavier offenders, each man having two personals.

A comparison of team work would give the honors to the M-6. But they were beaten by the free throws awarded the G. R. Seven of the points made by the victors came by the throw route while the M-6 received but two points by the same method. A summary:

M-6	G. R.
Auerbach	Clinton
Decker	Canario
Scott	Fritschl
A. Wilkenson	Keppeler
J. Wilkenson	Weslau
Baskets—Four,	Canario, Scott;
three,	Auerbach, one, Clinton, Weslau.
Fouls thrown—Five,	Fritschl; one,
Auerbach, Decker, Clinton, Weslau.
Time of quarters, ten minutes. Referee, Mosher. Timekeeper, McEldowney. Scorer, Jackson.

STATE OF TEXAS WILL ADVERTISE IN NEWSPAPERS

Legal Notices to Be Published in Papers Instead of Being Posted Publicly

The Cates publicity law, which reorganizes the press of Texas as the medium through which the state must talk to the people, has finally become law after fifteen years of continuous fighting. The battle was made by R. F. Cates, sponsor for the measure. (Cates is the publisher of the Bartlett (Tex.) Tribune.)

The Cates bill provides that public notices shall be published in the newspapers instead of being posted "in prominent places." Hitherto official notices have been pasted on the court house, in the postoffice, and on one or two trees that edged the road way here and there. This was well enough in days gone by, when the sparse population gathered to a man in the court house square. But in these days of busy men it was obviously an absurd method of informing the people of matters of public interest. In this day, when every citizen worthy of the name takes a newspaper, it is silly to give public notice of anything by posting a little sheet of paper among hundreds of others on a court house door.

Long, Hard Fight

In spite of the sound reason for this bill, however, it was greeted with a spirited opposition. It was first introduced 5 years ago and was regularly put to sleep, but Cates never gave up. As the result of his tireless effort and the good work of other men who think as he does, the bill was finally passed.

Under the old system had grown up in certain parts of Texas a condition that was objectionable to good citizens. Because of the inadequacy of the public notice with reference to certain legal matters men could make big profits merely by watching the court house door and getting news that other persons overlooked.

Provisions of Measure

The Cates publicity bill provides: "That whenever any law notice is required to be given of any act or proceeding, whether public or private, or relating to a judicial, executive, or legislative matter, which notice is now authorized by law or by contract to be made by posting notices in one or more public places, such notices shall hereafter be given by publication thereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year, in the county in which said act or proceeding is to occur; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to require the publication of any general election notice, public road notices nor probate notices, when the appraised value of the estate in which same is issued is less than one thousand ($1000) dollars, and provided further, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to sales made under a written contract where in it is provided that notice of sale thereunder may be posted.

"All notices published under the provisions of this act, shall be printed at least once each week, for the period of time now required to be given, then such notices may be posted as now provided by law.

"The price to be paid for all publications required by this act, shall be not more than one ($1.00) dollar per square of one hundred (100) words for first insertion, and not more than fifty cents per one hundred (100) words for each subsequent insertion, said publication fee to be taxed as other costs in the case."

WANT JOFFRE TO BECOME ONE OF IMMORTALS

PARIS, France—Bellet that Marshal Joffre would be the next person elected to the French Academy has been entered by the public for months, but his reported declination to follow the rule of the Academy by announcing himself as a candidate appears to create a situation resembling a deadlock.

The thirty-four "Immortals" now composing the Academy are said to be unanimously in favor of Joffre as the first of the six new members to be elected. Everyone has talked about the eventuality—everyone but Joffre, and it appears to be essential that the reticent hero of the Marne speak up if he wants to become an "immortal." It is a rule of the Academy that aspirants for membership declare their candidacy and it has been the tradition that they should call upon the members to solicit their votes, much in the same way as a candidate for a political office. This Joffre has not done and it is said that he will not do it.

"The Marshal has never had any ambition to become an Academician," said a close friend of Joffre. "In fact he asserts that he has no right or title to the honor. Several of his friends have urged him to propose his candidacy, but he considers that there is no personal consideration in the matter, that if he were chosen it would be simply in honor of the army and that, consequently, personal solicitations or expressions of personal preference in the matter are not in order."

The question now is whether the illustrious company will sacrifice its traditions in order to choose the Marshal for one of the vacant seats.

U. S. BAKERS MAY CUT BREAD PRICE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Immediate reduction in bread prices whenever possible has been recommended to bakers throughout the country by the war emergency council of the baking industry.

Bakers will go under government license December 10, using a set formula, and producing a standardized loaf required by the food administration.

In announcing recently that the baking industry was to be put under license, the food administration declared there is no reason why bread prices should not be sharply reduced.

Bakers Are Willing

The information that a reduction has been recommended came to the food administration today, in a telegram from Henry Steude, of Houston, Texas, president of the National Association of Bakers. The telegram was similar to one sent by the war council to the bakers. It reads:

The council calls attention to the various recommendations in the United States food administration's report suggesting a reduction in prices, with government control of raw materials used by the baker, and a reduction in operating expenses. There should be, wherever possible, an immediate reduction in price to the retailer.

DECLARES U-BOAT FAILURE AS DECISIVE FACTOR

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"The submarine menace as a decisive factor in the war has failed."

This declaration was made by Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

"Germany sought to starve out England by this fall," Secretary Daniels said. "This object has not been accomplished. American destroyers operating with British and French destroyers have greatly minimized the menace of the submarine."

Secretary Daniels declared that maneuvering had been found to be the most effective method of meeting the U-boat danger and stated that American naval statistics now conclusively show that speed and maneuvers can greatly reduce the efficiency of the submarine.

CAVALRY FINDS NO TROUBLE IN OUSTING TURKS

General Maude's Victory at Ramadie Robs Opponents of Last Line of Retreat

[By Associated Press]

LONDON.—General Maude's victory at Ramadie in Mesopotamia was the result of a battle of the old picturesque style, before the "war of action" swept the spectacular element out of modern warfare.

The movement which determined the whole action was the sudden swinging around of the British right until it became the left, and the encircling movement of the cavalry which robbed the Turkish garrison of its last line of retreat. The idea was admirably executed, but even the staff strategists of the British army scarcely anticipated the surer of the whole Turkish force without a blow by the waiting cavalry.

"The British 'eye-witness,' writing from Ramadie, says in his account of the battle:

"We captured Ramadie today, and with it the whole Turkish garrison, including its commander, Ahmed Bey, and a number of field guns, pom-poms, machine guns and rifles.

"Our force moved in two columns on the night of September 27 from an advanced camp on the Euphrates, west of Feluja, one column on the right, the other on the left, and at dawn they attacked Mushaid Ridge, a low line of dunes running north and south from the Euphrates to the Habaniyah canal.

"To clear the ridge and cross the canal was our first objective. The first knolls were quickly occupied. At dawn we bombarded the main crest of the ridge, but the Turks had evacuated it.

"We then changed our line of attack. The right column was withdrawn, and swinging round west behind the left column became the left wing of the force. Our front, three and a half miles in breadth, now lay between the Habaniyah canal on the right and Aziziyah canal on the left, at a point nine miles from the Euphrates.

"Our cavalry made a wide sweeping movement across the desert round the right flank of the Turks and occupied a line five miles west of Ramadie. By this move the Turks were cornered. Their only chance was to drive in determined counter-attacks and to break through before we drew the ring in closer.

"The expected attack began after 3 o'clock the next morning when the Turks tried to break through between the cavalry and the river. The attack continued for two hours till dawn, when it degenerated into casual sniping. The nearest Turkish dead were found within 50 yards of the cavalry trenches.

"Soon after daybreak the infantry column took up the attack again, and carried the last outlying defenses of the Turks on our left. An intense bombardment was opened on the Turkish trenches.

"Our line of cavalry, far away west, soon saw the dark masses of the enemy approaching and apparently prepared for bloody battle. The Turkish guns were silent, and white flags went up all along the line. It was a general surrender. Ahmed Bey, the Turkish commander, who has been on the Euphrates all through the campaign from the battle of Shaiba, in March, 1915, and whose troops confronted us at Nasaravah all last summer and autumn, came out and surrendered with his whole force."

General Maude's victory at Ramadie in Mesopotamia was the result of a battle of the old picturesque style, before the "war of action" swept the spectacular element out of modern warfare.

FIRST INSTALMENT OF WAR ROLL OF HONOR CONTAINS 156 NAMES

One hundred and fifty-six names of men, residents of Hawaii, who have enlisted for active service have been secured to date for the roll of honor which the Bureau of War Records of the Honolulu Chapter of the American Red Cross is compiling and which roll of honor when completed will be placed on file in the public archives.

The bureau is anxious to secure the names of other men who have gone and for that purpose is sending out blanks broadcast to be filled in. AUSTRIANS IN ARMY TO STAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The status of several thousands of Poles, Hungarians, Bohemians and others owing allegiance to Austria-Hungary, who are serving in the American military forces, furnishes an embarrassing complication to the preparations of the United States for a declaration of war with the dual empire. The problem is being discussed by Secretaries Lansing and Baker and congressional leaders with a view to legislative action.

Upon passage of the war resolution by congress the Austro-Hungarian subjects would technically become enemy aliens, ineligible for service with the American colors. Also, under strict construction of international law if they remained in American uniforms and were captured while bearing arms against the nation to which they legally owe allegiance, they might be subject to execution for treason.

Legislation either to confer American citizenship en bloc, or by name, or to except these men by special statute from statutes dealing with civilian enemy aliens is being considered.

An obstacle to general action has been found in the objection of army commanders to the presence in their ranks of men whose loyalty may in the slightest degree be questionable, but some means will be found to ward against throwing out of the service thousands of good and loyal soldiers.

A service flag at the New York Police Headquarters showed that 39 New York city policemen are serving their country.

WATER SUPPLY BOARD NAMED FOR SCHOFIELD

For the purpose of investigating the purification plans for the water supply at Schofield Barracks, and to examine into the storage facilities and necessity for additional storage reservoirs at that post, a board of engineers has been recently appointed by Brig. Gen. John P. Wisser.

The board consists of Capt. Nelson H. Duval, engineer reserve corps; Capt. George K. Larrison, engineer reserve corps, and Capt. George W. Armitage, quartermaster reserve corps. It is understood that the purification plans referred to in the order are those for a chlorination system being installed by the quartermaster department which was arranged for following the severe outbreak of typhoid at the post some time ago.

The Swiss Bund is informed, from a trustworthy source, that while certain economic discussions are pending between Switzerland and Austria-Hungary, there is no question of any financial agreement.

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200% in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood.—How to tell. New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a well known Specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack here. Long the blood is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skiny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is far more than foolhardiness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your fading vital powers for the moment. Stop at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without tiring. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and generally get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by law remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is organic iron like that of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

MISHAP DELAYS S. S. GOVERNOR ON FIRST TRIP

Forced to turn back to anchorages before passing through the Golden Gate after having sailed for Honolulu and delayed for nearly 10 hours, the steamer Governor of the Pacific coast line, arrived here this morning on her first voyage since she ran ashore in San Pedro bay two months ago.

Engine trouble less than an hour after the steamer first sailed from San Francisco, said by some to have been caused by a loose nut left in the engine cylinder head, is given by the steamer's office as the cause for the delay in getting away from the coast city.

The steamer left the San Francisco deck at 10 o'clock in the morning but before passing Angel island the engine staff discovered there was a "knock" in the machinery, and advised turning back until repairs could be made. This was done under "one bell," the engineers prophesying it would take several days to make the repairs, but an examination proved the trouble was not so serious.

After the ship was repaired following the San Pedro wreck she was given no trial trip, as the demand for shipping was so urgent it took several thousand dollars to repair the damage caused by grounding at San Pedro.

Inquiry as to the cause of the wreck led one of the ship's officers this morning to facetiously remark: "One of the San Pedro breakwaters got in our way and we tried to push it aside."

The Governor, like the President, a sister ship, is painted a brilliant green but has only one smokesack. She has large passenger accommodations, but has cargo space for only about 3000 tons. Her Honolulu cargo consisted of 2544 tons and 318 bags of mail. She had less than 50 passengers.

Prominent among the passengers are ex-Governor George Carter and Mrs. Carter, who have been in the East attending the wedding of their daughter.

Colonel H. Hathaway, the new internal revenue collector, and W. W. Anderson, revenue agent, were arrivals by the Governor, as was also Guy Buttolph, Honolulu stock broker.

Others on the Governor were Mrs. Walter Dillingham, wife of the manager of B. F. Dillingham Co.; C. F. Eckart, manager of Olaa plantation, and Mrs. Bertha Morehead, wife of Harry Morehead, Hilo druggist. His mother accompanied Mrs. Morehead to the islands from California for a visit.

The officers of the Governor are as follows: Captain H. C. Thomas, commander; J. A. Reed, chief engineer; Erik Froberg, chief officer; A. A. Martons, purser, and John Murrell, chief steward.

Robert Johnstone, freight clerk of the Lurline, came down on the Governor to familiarize the Governor purser with the Hawaiian service.

$200,000 PINES STOCK DIVIDEND IS IN SIGHT

There were some sharp developments on the exchange today. First Hawaiian Pines jumped to $14 bid, $15 asked, in view of the prospective stock dividend of 10,000 shares valued at $200,000 and declaration of an extra dividend, reported according to street rumor, to be in the neighborhood of 70 cents a share. Another contributing factor to Pines' strength was a report that the wholesale price of the product is to be increased in the near future. Indications are Pines has a most successful year. A meeting for the proposed stock dividend has been called for next Saturday when the capital is to be increased from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000 to take care of the dividend. Four hundred and seventy-five shares sold at $14.50. Montana-Bingham underwent a slump, dropping to 38 bid, and 39 asked. Shares to the extent of 1900 traded at from 38 to 40. Olaa was firm, displaying a strengthening tendency at $4.75 asked. Some 200 shares sold at $4.62 1/2. Honolulu Oil slipped back to $3.20 bid in view of the situation in congress with reference to the land leasing bill.

PURSER OF WILHELMINA COMES ON SAGALAND

H. A. Burzert, formerly the purser on the Matson steamer Wilhelmina, came to Honolulu as the purser on the new cargo carrier, Sagaland, which was built for Norwegian interests, but was taken over by the shipping board. He will leave the steamer here and return on another vessel to the coast. The Sagaland, after discharging a big cargo here, is to sail for an India port, after which she will go to the Atlantic. She was built on the Pacific coast and has a cargo capacity of about 8000 tons. This is her first voyage with cargo since being launched. Her master is Captain Gray.

SOLDIER INTERNED AS DANGEROUS ALIEN

Fred Malwald, a German by birth, who was a member of the 1st Field Artillery, has been ordered interned at Schofield Barracks as an alien enemy. Malwald enlisted without the necessary naturalization papers. It is said, another soldier having aided him. At the outbreak of the war in 1914 Malwald was a sailor on a freight vessel owned by the Australian government. For a time he was in a British prison camp.

"DRYS" HAVE NEW PLAN IF PRESENT PROGRAM FAILS

Would Bar Booze From Interstate Commerce if Federal Amendment is Defeated

By C. S. ALBERT.
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Those who seek the nationwide elimination of the rum evil have discovered a brand new method of attack if the pending constitutional amendment fails of adoption. Another line of assault will be taken up the minute present plans prove futile.

It is proposed to enact a law barring all alcoholic beverages from interstate commerce. This is to be made airtight and so worded as to protect not only the existing dry states, but extend its observance to all parts of the union. It is believed a measure can be framed which can be approved by the Supreme Court.

A bill of this character, prohibition leaders say, can be easily passed in both branches of congress. A bare majority would be sufficient, whereas the adoption of a constitutional amendment requires a two-thirds vote in the senate and a three-fourths vote in the house. In addition the resolution must be ratified by three-fourths of the states, requiring at least two years' time to accomplish the desired result.

It is certain that a majority can be found for any form of prohibition legislation. The lives of public men depend on their adherence to any proposition limiting the use of liquors. They dare not face their constituents at home if they do otherwise than vote dry at all times and seasons. Leaders believe the two-thirds vote is assured, but absolutely feel confident that a majority can be secured without the least difficulty.

Those who favor the achievement of prohibition through the power of congress to regulate interstate commerce have looked up precedents. They find the lottery business was destroyed through precisely this form of legislation. The Supreme Court of the United States upheld the anti-lottery law. This act will be taken as a model in preparing a bill to bar liquors of all kinds from interstate shipment. By so doing it is claimed the question of constitutionality cannot be raised and upheld.

Prohibition leaders from all sections of the country are here ready for the drive on congress. They will work first for an amendment to the Federal constitution and then fall back on the interstate commerce plan as a second line of offensive campaign. Senator Sheppard and Representative Webb will act as spokesmen for the anti-saloon organization in the senate and house.

WORK FALLS BELOW SPECIFICATIONS BUT CITY ACCEPTS BOND

After over three years of difficulties and delays the Manoa improvement district has at last been accepted by the board of supervisors. At the meeting last night of the board a resolution was passed accepting the work and the city and county auditor was instructed to pay the F. R. Ritchie Company the balance due.

Before the resolution was passed, however, Supervisor Hollinger raised the question as to the worth of the bond which the company will file with the city and county as a guarantee for the work, as the specifications were not met in certain sections due to a shortage of asphalt.

The attorney's department said that it would not in any way injure the value of the bond, as the shortage was approved by the board, and Supervisor McClellan pointed out that in many places on the new Beretania street improvement there were not two inches of bitulithic which the specifications called for, but that the Lord-Young bond had been accepted.

HAWAII SUPERVISOR DROPS DAMAGE SUIT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILO, Dec. 13.—When the damage suit which was brought by Supervisor A. M. Cabrera for $5000 against Mrs. Mary Jose, now Mrs. Mary Allen, was mentioned in circuit court yesterday it was only to file the suit. The matter has been dropped and the alleged defamation of character charge made by Cabrera has faded away.

The suit arose through an event that rather startled Hilo a few months ago. The plot revolved around a certain episode, that is alleged to have happened at the home of Mrs. Jose and in the vicinity of a window through which was thrown something that the supervisor, it was reported, was not able to dodge. There was a big row over the affair at the time and the police court had an innards through it with the result that Cabrera was absolved from the charge brought against him.

ARMY LAUNCHES FIGHT AGAINST DRUGS AND BOOZE

Effort Will Be Made to Stop Sales of Soldiers' Clothing to Bootleggers

Drastic steps to run to earth persons who are furnishing soldiers of the Hawaiian department with liquor and narcotics have been begun at Schofield Barracks to spread ultimately throughout the whole department.

The army will have the cooperation of the United States district attorney, the federal marshal, the newspapers and the police department in its campaign against the people carrying on this unlawful trade. In addition to rounding up persons who sell booze and drugs to soldiers the persons who purchase clothing and shoes from the enlisted men will be sought to light.

Many of these sales are made, it is said, so that soldiers may obtain money to purchase the things that satisfy their cravings, and the system is pointed to as one of the most detrimental now in existence for the army. Every pair of shoes sold by a soldier and bought by a civilian makes a hardship on just one soldier who has to march to the front, it is claimed. Every piece of equipment that the government can use for the purpose is being sent to the front.

Cooperation is asked from the civilian population in putting a stop to the whole practice. Cases should be reported to the authorities. The campaign is in charge of Colonel Heard and Captain Weiss.

CASE AGAINST GIBB IS STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR

The case of David M. Kuphea against James Gibb, manager of the Honolulu Plantation Company, was stricken from the calendar yesterday in police court. Kuphea claimed that he sustained a loss of a half million dollars when the plantation company tore down the buildings of the Hawaiian Standard Food Company, of which he was president.

W. T. Cardon, attorney for Kuphea, said that the matter is not ended yet and hinted at some future financial adjustment.

5 IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS GET SUPERVISORS O.K.

Five new improvement projects were launched at the meeting of the board of supervisors last night. They are the paving of Hustace and Clayton streets and Archer road, the paving of Lilihua street, the widening of King street for several blocks waiwai of Bethel street from Hotel to Beretania street and the paving of Beretania street from Punahou to the King street extension.

The proposal to pave the Hustace street district was introduced by Wade Warren Thayer in a petition signed by the Alexander Young Estate, California Feed Co., Lewers & Cooke, the Oahu Ice Co. and others. According to the figures submitted by Mr. Thayer, the improvement will cost $17,375, which means an assessment of $2.10 a front foot.

Under the plan of Mr. Thayer the city and county would pay one-third of the cost, but Supervisor Petrie objected to the division, as Hustace street is not a main thoroughfare. As a result Mr. Thayer agreed to canvass the property holders to ascertain if they would be willing to pay a larger share.

Supervisor Arnold introduced a resolution for the paving of Lilihua street and such connecting and adjoining streets as may be necessary. This was passed and the engineer instructed to prepare the preliminary plans and a resolution of intention.

The preliminary plans for the paving of Beretania street from Punahou to King street extension were presented by City Engineer Cantin. The cost of the improvement will be $92,480.55, with added costs of $3822.50 for curbing and $668.50 for acquiring land. The assessments against the property holders will amount to $5.10 per front foot and 50 cents a foot for curbing.

A petition signed by 60 per cent of the property holders who will border Bethel street if it is extended from Hotel street to Beretania street was filed with the board and requested that preliminary plans and specifications be prepared. The matter was referred to the city and county engineers for action.

Because the Rapid Transit plans to double track King street in the near future the board last night asked the city and county engineer to prepare plans for the widening of the street from PUNCHBOWL street to the Catholic cemetery to a width of 44 feet throughout. At some places it narrows to 40 feet. It was estimated that the cost of the work will be $3500.

CONVERSATION OVERHEARD FAVORABLE TO LOCAL STORE

Two well-known local ladies met in one of the downtown garages the other day and commenced discussing the inevitable subject of holiday gifts. "As far as my men folks are concerned," said one of the ladies, "I had no difficulty. I went to the Hub on King street, opposite the Union Grill; they have everything in the way of haberdashery and clothing—you ought to see some of their pretty neckties—and their prices don't seem a bit higher than last year. You try the Hub, my dear, for what you want in men's wear, and be certain you don't mistake the store. The Hub is on King street, just a few doors east of Fort."—Adv.

NO MORE HIGH HEELS FOR PARIS; THEY'RE WEARING SANDALS NOW

PARIS, Nov. 10. (by mail)—The all important question of footwear has been solved by the fashionable Parisienne. Instead of the high reaching boots "a la Russe," she has decided to adopt the classic sandals. The fashion was started by a well known shoemaker of the Place Vendome and already he has so many orders that he has difficulty in supplying them. Sandals were the fashion in Paris during the Directorate, when the "Merveilleuses" vied with one another in exhibiting their dainty feet and ankles, regardless of the temperature. But such drastic conditions are not imposed by the new fashion, for a special form of stocking, which makes it possible to pass the attaching ribbon between the toes, is a feature of the new style. Though ostensibly invented to economize shoe leather, the "mode des sandales" is reserved for those whose pocket books have not suffered from the war, for the economy is not for the wearers or those who pay their bills.

TARO SCARCE IN KONA DESPITE HIGH PRICES

In a recent trip to the southern part of South Kona J. F. Child, executive officer of the territorial food commission, reports that eleven Hawaiian families were visited where some very good taro patches were found but in the majority of cases there was a marked scarcity. Some, says Mr. Child, were too lazy to raise it; others had previously raised it to sell but were discouraged by low prices a year or so ago and stopped. A short time ago these people were glad to receive $1.50 a bag for taro. Now that it is $3.50 a bag they are sorry they have none to sell. If told to raise more they ask how much can be assured them and when told $2, they are not satisfied and do not want to grow it. However, three of them will start growing taro and probably two others. Owing to the scarcity of taro many Hawaiians are mixing flour with the poi and although they do not like the combination they would rather do it than raise more taro.

SAN FRANCISCO MOVIES SHOW VOLCANO SIGHTS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILO, Hawaii, Dec. 17.—Norman K. Lyman, the well known politician, road builder and enlisted man in the signal corps of the United States army, is now in San Francisco. Lyman writes that he went to the California theater the other night and saw some fine moving pictures of Hawaiian scenes. Among the films were some of the "Scenic Railway," out the Hamakua coastline; Rainbow Falls; the lava in Kilauea pit; the Bolling Pots and a lot of other scenes near and around Hilo. Norman says that the pictures were a real bit of Hawaii and that when he saw them he decided that about July, 1918, should see him back in the Crescent Bay City, that is if he is not called into active service before that time.

The Standard Oil company of New York announced an advance of 10 points in refined petroleum in barrels for export, making the price 19.46 cents per gallon.

JUDGES WANT FURTHER ARGUMENT TO DETERMINE LIQUOR PROSECUTIONS

Further argument has been called for by the local federal judges on the attack which has been made on the information procedure now in use by the U. S. attorney's office in bringing to justice "blind-piggers" and others who violate the new federal law prohibiting the sale of liquor to military officers and enlisted men in uniform.

A demurrer was recently filed in a liquor case on the ground that the information procedure is not valid, and holding that an indictment must be secured against the defendant from the grand jury before his case can be heard by the court. Under the present proceeding a defendant is taken directly to court on a sworn information, where he is tried by the court. In proceeding on information, Attorney S. C. Huber is acting under instructions received from the attorney-general's department in Washington.

BRITISH FLEET AWAITS COMING OF GERMANS

LONDON, Eng.—The British admiralty, replying to the German secretary of the navy's criticism of the recent speech in the house of commons by Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, said:

"The world knows, from the Cattergat events, that the royal navy is waiting for the high seas fleet, which still continues to decline battle. No German war vessel larger than a destroyer has shown itself to us 150 miles west of Heligoland from August, 1916, to October, 1917, when two light cruisers attacked a Scandinavian convoy."

ALIENS MUST REGISTER ALL THEIR GOODS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A. Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian, has notified all holders of enemy property and securities in this country to make a complete sworn report of such holdings to him before December 5. Corporations, companies and trustees issuing shares or certificates representing beneficial interests also were directed to file a sworn list of officers, directors and stockholders known or believed to be enemies or allies of the enemy, together with the amount of their interests.

Palmer denied reports that enemy property custodians would be appointed for each state. He said he would designate depositors in a large number of the cities to handle bonds, stocks and other securities, and that they would collect incomes and make payments for administrative expenses, taxes, insurance, etc., making quarterly reports to him and remitting the net income at periodical times.

Mexico has placed an embargo on the export of sugar.

SENATE TO SEEK LIGHT ON ALIEN LABOR PROBLEM

Senator Gallinger Submits Resolution to Investigate Feasibility of Project

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire submitted a resolution today asking that the agricultural committee of the senate investigate the advisability of admitting Chinese laborers during the war. The resolution, which was short, stated that the employment of Chinese labor would be for the war period only. He said tonight:

"I think that, unless we get farm labor, we will be in a very serious fix. Crops everywhere are unharvested because labor is leaving the farms. Complaint comes to me—and some of it is very bitter—that, while the government asks farmers for increased production, the crops cannot be gathered."

"My resolution asking an inquiry relates only to farmers, and I believe that regulations and rules should prohibit an inundation of Chinese. I know there would be objections in some sections to such importation, but something must be done for the farmer. I have personal knowledge of his hardships. The only thing contemplated in the resolution is whether or not legislation can be safely enacted upon the subject. The labor is needed all over the nation. We could use Chinese in New England if we could get them."

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK AT FILIPINO CELEBRATION

Governor Lucius E. Pinkham, Wade Warren Thayer and U. S. Attorney S. C. Huber will be the principal speakers at the Rizal day celebration which will be given by local Filipinos at the armory on Sunday evening, December 30, at 7:30.

F. C. Tubilla, general chairman of arrangements for the patriotic evening, is now working on the program which will be published within a few days. J. P. Erdman has been named as the presiding officer for the evening, and a number of Filipinos will be called upon to talk in their native dialects.

Special music will be secured for the occasion, and it is expected that a number of the leading vocalists will contribute their talents. The Filipino baseball team will play a benefit game on Sunday to help raise money for the Rizal day celebration.

HUN BULLET LAYS LOW BROTHER OF HAWAII MAN

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILO, Hawaii, Dec. 17.—Alexander Crabbe, a brother of James Crabbe of Pauhau plantation and also the twin brother of John Crabbe, has been killed in the trenches "somewhere" in France. He had just gotten out of a hospital where he had been confined for some time by a severe wound. "Alick" was down in New Zealand when the war broke out and he at once answered the call of his country.

General Petain, the French commander-in-chief, has been recently in Alsace visiting the liberated districts, where he has been very warmly welcomed.

SMITH COLLEGE GIRLS PROVING ANGELS OF MERCY

(By Associated Press)

FRENCH FRONT, October 11.—A small band of Smith college girls is ministering to the distressed populations of those districts of France devastated by the Germans before they were forced to retreat last spring by the victorious French and British troops who had hammered them on the Somme. The correspondents of the Associated Press passed a day with the young women in the war zone where they have arrived to install themselves in the midst of the stricken people. They have made their headquarters in the grounds of the Chateau of Roberecourt. There they live in shacks and portable houses in sight of the blackened ruins of the castle, burned by the Germans. From this center they go to twelve villages which have been taken over for relief by the American college girls. Before the war they had altogether a population of approximately 4500. Now this has been reduced to about 1200.

The American "angels of mercy," as the Smith college girls are known, brought with them from America or purchased in Paris large stores of articles of first necessity for the people. Many of the peasants had money which they had been able to conceal from the Germans, and these people were quite willing to pay for articles provided by the American girls. Others among the peasants were destitute of both goods and money and for these the American girls made charitable provision.

The girls bought motor trucks, and several of them are motor drivers. Once or twice a week each of the villages in their district receives a visit from a party of the girls in their trucks which are loaded with necessities, and these are sold to the peasants at cost price or less, and thus many of the needs of the people are met. Food, linen, clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils and live chickens and rabbits are most desired.

Other branches of assistance to the people take the form of a traveling dispensary, the giving of medical advice by the two women doctors from Smith college who are members of the squad, the foundation of nurseries for the care of the smaller infants while their mothers are working, and the establishment of playrooms for the other children.

The care of the children is one of the most important parts of the girls' work. In the first place, the little ones have to be retaught to play, for during the German occupation they were not allowed to do so and in most cases had forgotten how to amuse themselves in simple games. It is wonderful how soon they learn under the American girls' encouragement and leadership. Then the neglected little ones are taken in hand and taught the value of cleanliness and neatness. For the women much help is provided in the way of sewing classes and instruction in modern hygiene.

It is hoped here that the work of the Smith college girls forming the first unit, in cheering up and helping these stricken peasants may be an incentive to others to undertake similar labors in the hundreds of villages which have suffered from German occupation. Everywhere in the Somme and Oise and other French departments now partially freed from the German troops there are similar opportunities.

Dr. Alice Weld Tallant of Philadelphia, is the district, and she is assisted by Dr. Maud Kelly, as assistant physician; Miss Lucy O. Mather of Hartford, Conn., as secretary; Miss Marie Wolfs of Newark, N. J., a Belgian refugee, as head of the social service; Miss Anne Chapin of Springfield, Mass., on social service and nursing; Miss Millicent Lewis of Irvington, N. Y., as a chauffeuse and ambulance driver; Miss Catherine Hooper of Montclair, N. J., social service; Miss Marjorie Carr, chauffeuse and social service; Miss Ruth Joslin Bennett, Cambridge, Mass., chauffeuse and social service; Miss Margaret Wood, Pasadena, Cal., as chauffeuse and in care of children; Miss Ruth Gaines, New York City, social service and writer; Miss Elizabeth Bliss, Worcester, Mass., nurse; Miss Elizabeth Dana, Worcester, Mass., nurse; Miss Alice Leavens, Boston, head of children's department; Miss Fahnestock and Miss Harriett Hawes.

HUN INVASION OF ENGLAND IS NOW REGARDED AS AN IMPOSSIBILITY

Officer of Cycling Patrol Said Britain's Shores Guarded With Utmost Caution

(By Associated Press)

HEADQUARTERS OF BRITISH HOME DEFENSE ARMIES, England. Since the beginning of the war the coasts of the United Kingdom have been guarded by the British bicycle militia or "Cyclist Patrol," and today the cyclists still are on guard against German invasion. But the golden opportunity for a German assault in force upon Britain's shores has now passed. No longer do a few cyclists stand guard alone over important landing places, as they did for many days after war was declared. "The danger of invasion appeared very great to us in those days," said the commander of one of the cyclist battalions the other day. "We had to get forth the most colossal efforts to get our defense organization up to adequate pitch.

"If the German regarded an invasion of England as a feasible task then, he must regard it as a hopeless impossibility now. Where we formerly had only a small detachment of cyclist troops to guard a possible landing place, there are now thousands of trained soldiers living in sand huts or billets close to hand, with guns, trenches, and dugouts all along the sand dunes, and plenty of support also from aeroplanes, observation balloons, submarines and coast defense vessels. In 1914 the German invader would have been opposed largely by half-trained troops straight from work shops and offices, while today he would have to meet men the equal in physique and fighting ability of anything the world has ever seen."

The actual work of protecting landing places has long since been taken over by the hands of the cyclist battalions, who have become more purely a coast patrol. Their duties nowadays occasionally are varied by the capturing of various objects of interest washed up by the sea, such as mines, bodies, wreckage, and life buoys. The mines are destroyed by punctoon, affording a few moments of pleasant excitement for the patrol.

FOOD BUYING FOR WAR AND NEUTRALS TO BE CENTRALIZED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—

Centralization in the food administration of all purchases of staple foodstuffs by the army and navy and by allied and neutral buyers for the purpose of stabilizing prices and controlling supplies was announced tonight by Food Administrator Hoover. Such purchases will be handled by a newly created division of coordination of purchases, he said, and added: "The necessity for such an organization grows out of the governmental consolidation all over the world of the buying of certain commodities into such large orders as to extend beyond the ability of any one manufacturer to supply and the failure to coordinate which may affect price levels and supplies to the civil population. Army and navy supplies will be handled by a committee, representing the army, naval, federal trade commission and the food administration, allied supplies by their various purchasing agencies through the food administration, and neutral purchases by their agents, the war trade board and the food administration.

PLATTSBURG OPEN TO POLISH-AMERICANS

BOSTON, Mass.—Secretary of War Baker has shown America's appreciation of the new army of 200,000 Polish-American young men being raised in the United States to fight on the side of the entente allies by offering the use of the camp at Plattsburg for the training of Polish officers, Ignace Padnerewski, the famous pianist, announced at a patriotic mass meeting of Polish people.

DAUGHTER OF BANKER KAHN DRIVES DESPATCH CAR

Miss Maud Kahn, daughter of Otto H. Kahn, banker, is now driving a despatch car for the British government, according to Miss Jessie M. Lawson of New York city, who has arrived at an Atlantic port from England. In the spring Miss Kahn will go to France to engage in the same work close to the battle line.

Miss Kahn bought a car and contributed it with her services to the English government. Unless she is carrying despatches she cannot use the car because of the strict rules for conserving petrol.

Dorothy Dix Talks

WHEN LOVE TIRES.

(By DOROTHY DIX, The World's Highest Paid Woman Writer.)

I get a great many pathetic letters from women who write that the men they love have ceased to love them and pitifully ask how they can regain this lost affection.

Sometimes the letter is from a wife who says that her husband has grown tired of her, that he does not take the trouble even to pretend to care for her or take any interest in her any more. She might be the kitchen slave for all the tenderness he ever shows her. He never observes how she looks. He never comments on what she does except to criticize it. He is silent as the grave or else as grouchy as a sore-headed bear around the house.

Sometimes the man comes out boldly and honestly and tells his wife that he no longer loves her and asks her to give him a divorce. Oftener he lacks the courage to put the ghastly truth in words, but in his sullen looks, his impatient manner, his joyless attitude towards life, his poor wife reads her doom. She knows that her husband's love for her is dead, that he never looks at her without regretting the folly that made him marry her and that only a sense of honor and duty and compassion makes him endure her with outward patience.

Sometimes the woman who writes is a woman who has lost the love of a man on whom she had not even the legal claim of matrimony. Sometimes for years the man and woman had been sweethearts, and he had monopolized her time and attention, driving all other suitors away. Very often it had been a beautiful relationship, full of sentiment and romance, generosity and sympathy, the real mating of two hearts and souls.

And then something happened, something so vague and intangible that the woman never knew why, nor when, nor how the tragedy occurred, but gradually the fire died out of the man's love making and it grew colder and colder until it was just a handful of ashes on the altar of what had been a great passion. The man quit coming to see her so often, then stayed away for weeks, and finally only came when she bullied him into it by frantic notes and telegrams, and at last the day came when the woman faced the bitter fact that the man she loved was weary of her, that she bored him and that she was a burden on his hands.

And these poor, forsaken, neglected women, mourning over their dead love, ask what they can do to breathe into it once more the breath of life.

Alas, there is absolutely nothing that they can do. No one can give them a reliable recipe for warming up lukewarm affection or reheating a cold fancy. The days of miracles are past and no one has the power to bid a dead love to arise and walk again. Love is like a disease. When we have recovered from it, it is over for good and all. When the individual who has once thrilled us ceases to thrill us, nothing that he or she can do will quicken the pulse by a single heart beat. Nor can any will or desire of ours bring back the dear, delightful pang that crisped our nerves and sent our temperature up to fever heat.

Charm, interest, attraction, the mysterious something that draws us to another we neither understand nor can explain. We only know that we feel them for a time and then we feel them no more. The one that we have thought beautiful becomes hideous in our eyes. The one who interested us turns into the most wearisome of bores. Little tricks of personality that we once found enchanting get on our nerves. Love is dead. Selah.

We do not know why we fall in love. We do not know why we fall out of love. The thing merely happens and it is folly for the forsaken one to blame the one whose temperature has dropped from fever heat to below normal. It is no fault of his or hers. We would all remain forever raving in the delicious delirium of love if we could.

Unfortunately this is impossible, and while we may have recurrent attacks of love as long as we live, it is never from the same source of infection. When we wake up from our dream of love the familiar old hand and voice to which we are accustomed can never wave us back into the hypnotic trance again. It takes a new hand and a new voice to put the spell upon us.

This is what makes so futile the efforts of women to win back their wandering husbands and sweethearts. It is so absolutely impossible to recreate the spell that first fired a man's fancy. As well try to gather at noonday the mists of dawn or fold the shattered petals of a rose into a bud again as for the woman of whom a man has grown weary to try to make herself again the elusive object of his desire she once was.

It simply can't be done, but while no woman can resuscitate a dead love, most women could keep love alive if they would. Men are not wantonly fickle. Men hate to hurt women, and especially they hate to hurt the woman they have once loved. They would prefer to keep on worshipping at the shrine on which they laid their youthful hearts, and probably every faithless man suffers as much as does the woman whom he forsakes.

If women appreciated this perhaps there would be fewer of them shatter their husbands' ideal of them by their sordid selfishness, their nagging and their littleness. Women are never willing to take the blame, but when love lies dead between a husband and wife, it is just as often her hand that has murdered it as his.

But to come back to the question asked by the neglected women who find that the men they love have ceased to love them, which is, what shall they do in the heart-breaking situation they confront.

My advice is to face the question asked by the neglected women who find that the men they love have ceased to love them, which is, what shall they do in the heart-breaking situation they confront.

My advice is to face the question fairly and squarely and realize that there is no way in which a woman can pique the interest of a man whose interest in her has gone or inspire love in him after his love for her is dead.

Therefore, let her waste no time in the hopeless undertaking, but let her make her life over from another angle than the sentimental one. After all, love is not the only thing in the world. There are fifty-seven other varieties of interests and pleasures. When a wife realizes that she has lost her husband's love she generally proceeds to make an enemy of him by her tears, recriminations and reproaches. If she has the courage and the fortitude to make the best of a bad bargain, she will deny herself the pleasure of blaming him for what may have been only a process of evolution in which he outgrew her and for which nature, not he, was responsible, or for something that was probably as much her fault as his, and by her big acceptance of a situation that a little woman would make a place of torment win his eternal gratitude and friendship. Thus domestic life may go on placidly and not unhappily between them.

And in any case, the one remedy for a broken heart is work. Let her fill her days so full of constructive labor, and especially labor for others, that she will have no time to think of whether she loved or not. Thus in the love of the many she shall find consolation for the loss of the love of one.

GOSPEL HOME WILL NEED $5000 FOR 1918 BUDGET

A letter which is being sent out by W. E. Pietsch, superintendent of the Gospel Mission home, Palolo, requests subscriptions to the budget of $5000 which will be necessary to carry on the work of the institution during 1918. The budget has been approved by the Chamber of Commerce. Evangelist Pietsch announces the completion of the small hospital and women's cottages. Since the opening of the home more than 200 children and 20 women have been cared for. A branch of the home has been established at the Honolulu plantation, where some of the older boys have been given jobs.

USE MOVIES TO STIMULATE FOOD RAISING 'DRIVE'

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 2.—Official motion pictures bringing home the vital importance of increased food production will be shown by the United States department of agriculture in hundreds of regular motion picture theaters throughout the United States. The first releases, which are to be handled under an agreement with the Universal Film Manufacturing Company through its exchanges, will be made early in December. The first film will show activities in the national forests, which are important sources of timber and water supply and also afford grazing for a large number of cattle and sheep.

The second release, which will follow in about two weeks, will show what children through the pig club are doing to increase the supply of pork. Other selections from the department's 4,000 feet of official subjects will make clear various features of food production, the raising of meat animals and horses, and will deal with home activities such as poultry raising and the canning and drying of perishable products.

The department laboratories are at work on a number of other popular films specially designed to clear to city as well as rural populations, problems of food production and to show them ways in which they can cooperate effectively to feed the nation and the allies.

Y. W. TO OMIT COURSE IN GERMAN NEXT YEAR

Classes in cooking, dress making, millinery and business courses will be among the features of the school. A standard course of business English and banking will be given. The business class which started in October will continue until March, but a new class will also be formed. Mrs. A. N. Lincoln, who has a reputation in the East as a teacher of business methods will conduct the new class. In addition to the business and English classes the committee has announced that there will be an English class for Japanese.

CORNELL MAY STOP VACATIONS FOR WAR

ITHACA, N. Y.—Cornell contemplates shortening the college year four weeks by reducing and eliminating vacations. The purpose is to release students early for war service.

PUNAHOU'S NEW MILITARY-PHYSICAL TRAINING SYSTEM PROVES SUCCESS

Last week Punahou Academy and Preparatory School closed what has been rather a new departure in school activities—a combination of military training, Scout activities and physical training.

A typical day's program will reveal the nature of the training the young cadets are receiving. There are four Prep. School companies. They fall in at 2:20 p. m., on Mondays and Thursdays of each week. For ten minutes they go through close order exercises, then they are put through a vigorous set of calisthenics for another ten minutes. After this two companies line up against each other for some form of intercompany sports, i. e., soccer. The other two companies are taken off by the Scout instructors for work in signaling, or other scout activities. Twenty-five minutes are taken by this sort of exercise, after which the companies are formally dismissed.

The Boy Scouts' instruction has been carried on under the advice of R. N. Burnham, Boy Scouts executive for the islands. The actual instruction has been done by a number of experienced Scouts who are now in Punahou: D. Pratt, A. Wilder, R. Kuehn, T. Forbes, H. Foster.

A recent improvement in training has been made possible by the adoption of a uniform of serviceable khaki.

There are four companies in the Preparatory School and two in the Academy. The number taking drilling in the prep. is 150; in the academy 116. The cadets are, for convenience, organized as two battalions, for they do not drill at the same period.

A merit system has been in operation with success in the Preparatory school. By this system a cadet may win 100 merits per term if his conduct and capacity are what they should be. Competition is fostered by the system, for there are a stated number of awards to be made each term. Also, inter-company contests assist in maintaining a high degree of emulation among the cadets. To have demerits up to a certain percentage will disqualify a boy from athletic sports and from holding office in a company.

For the past term's work several awards were made. Twelve silver badges were awarded to the twelve highest honor men in school. Eighteen appropriately marked belt badges were awarded to the cadets winning second honors. These awards are to be the property of the present holders so long as they can keep their high places in the companies. But as soon as any cadet shows himself more worthy of honor, he will be given the
