REPUBLICANS THREATEN TO BRING IN DANGEROUS DISEASES

IF NOT PERMITTED TO ASSIST IMMIGRATION, THEY WILL INTRODUCE HOOKWORM AND AMOEBIC DYSENTERY!

The most impudent plea for assisted immigration that the Republicans have yet had the temerity to make is that in the Advertiser of yesterday morning. That paper threatens that, if the Democrats are successful and assisted immigration is shut off, THE AGENTS OF THE SUGAR PLANTERS WILL INTRODUCE INTO HAWAII WITH A FLOOD OF FILIPINOS TWO DANGEROUS DISEASES — HOOKWORM AND AMOEBIC DYSENTERY.

Such a threat comes mighty close to being a violation of the Federal and Territorial statutes against the coercion or intimidation of voters. And even if it is not an actual fracture of the law, it is the most shameless, nefarious and impudent statement that even a Republican heeler or a Republican paid organ ever dared to make.

And it is backed up by the United States quarantine officers—Republicans, all of them. If the Advertiser is to be believed, THOSE OFFICIALS ARE PERMITTING DISEASED FILIPINOS TO ENTER HAWAII, SOLELY THAT THE SUGAR INTERESTS MAY PROFIT FROM THEIR LABOR!

Those officials know that the quarantine officers at San Francisco are shutting out the Hindoos from that port on the ground that the Hindoos are afflicted with the hookworm disease.

Dr. Ramus, chief quarantine officer of the port of Honolulu, is quoted in the Advertiser as having made the statement last Saturday: "Filipinos have been coming into Hawaii in large numbers. IT IS A FACT ESTABLISHED BY MEDICAL SCIENCE THAT THE PARASITES OF AMOEBIC DYSENTERY AND THE HOOKWORM DISEASE ARE ENDEMIC IN THE PHILIPPINES AND THAT A LARGE PROPORTION OF THEIR INHABITANTS HAVE THESE DISEASES IN CHRONIC FORM. . . . CLEGG FOUND THE PARASITES OF AMOEBIC DYSENTERY PRESENT IN TWENTY-SIX PER CENT OF FILIPINOS EXAMINED. GARRISON FOUND HOOKWORM PRESENT IN FIFTY-TWO PER CENT. . . . THE STEADY INFUX OF FILIPINOS IS ALMOST CERTAIN TO ESTABLISH THEM (THE DISEASES) IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS. THOSE INTERESTED SHOULD NOT FORGET THAT NATURE WILL EXACT LATER A HIGH PRICE FOR THIS CHEAP FILIPINO LABOR."

And yet in the face of this the planters continue to pour a flood of diseased Filipinos into Hawaii—and they and their organ, the Advertiser, threaten that unless the people give in to them, THEY WILL CONTINUE TO BRING IN DISEASE AND ENDANGER THE HEALTH, SAFETY, HAPPINESS AND PROSPERITY OF THE PEOPLE OF THIS TERRITORY. They say: "GIVE US WHAT WE WANT OR WE WILL FILL YOUR COUNTRY WITH DEADLY DISEASES!" They might just as well threaten that unless they are allowed to continue the assistance of immigration, "We will poison your wells and springs!"

The threat is impudent, criminal and outrageous! And those who have the audacity to make it should be punished for it. If they cannot be punished by law, they should at least be rebuked by the voters at the polls.

How much has the hookworm disease already been scattered throughout the Territory by the selfishness of the Special Interests and the carelessness or worse of the Republican immigration officials? How many cases of amoebic dysentery are to be traced to the machinations of the board of immigration, the selfish greed of the planters, and the subserviency of the Republican agents of the immigration bureau?

Are the voters of Hawaii going to swallow this cold-blooded, impudent threat of the planters and their megaphone, the Advertiser? Because they are threatened with disease at the hands of the selfish Special Interests, are they going to lie down and allow their masters to walk over their prostrate bodies?

Or are they going to arise in their might and say to those vicious Special Interests and to the Advertiser: "We are not afraid of you. You shall not have your will of us. We will neither submit to be dictated to by you in regard to assisted immigration, nor will we longer permit you, through your paid agents, to flood Our Country with deadly diseases. We have had enough of your dishonesty, cruelty and avarice."

The time has come when something must be done. What the Hawaiian people are threatened with by the planters is something that would not even be permitted in war among civilized nations.

It would not be surprising if the Republican party were next to say that unless the Democrats are defeated and the planters are allowed to continue their selfish and foolish assisted-immigration program, they will introduce cholera and bubonic plague into the Islands. That would be no worse than what they now threaten us with.

Are we going to stand for it?

ET TU, BRUTE!

The Morning Hookworm, alias the Advertiser, this morning tries to make capital of the fact that there was no Democratic meeting last night, on account of the pouring rain. The Advertiser loses sight of the fact that neither was there any Republican meeting. This in itself is remarkable, for most Republicans haven't sense enough to come in out of the rain. The Republican party will get all the rain it needs on election day—a rain of Democratic votes.

ADVERTISER DOES NOT APOLOGIZE FOR INSULT TO HAWAIIANS

The Advertiser, organ of the Republican party, has not yet apologized to the Hawaiians for classing them with negroes.

The Advertiser remains silent concerning the exposition of The Democrat to the effect that "the morning misrepresentation" classes Hawaiians with negroes. The Advertiser remains silent for the reason that it has no answer to give, having been caught with the goods, so to speak, and having no defense to make of its disgraceful statements as outlined the other day in The Democrat. The Advertiser, it will be remembered, spoke of Cottrill coming here as collector of customs, Cottrill being a negro, and went on to say that after the candidacy of Kalakiela on the Democratic ticket we might be prepared for anything, and that nothing worse could happen; also bringing in the names of other Hawaiians and classing them with Cottrill, the negro with whom Honolulu was threatened. The Democrat drew the public attention to this outrage on the part of the Advertiser, nor has the Advertiser had anything to say on the subject since. On every Democratic stump the insult of the Advertiser has been taken up and the Advertiser has been shown up for the ruinous rag that it is and has ever been. The Advertiser, a Republican paper, the organ of Thurston who was instrumental in overthrowing the Hawaiian kingdom, has no use for the Hawaiians, any more than Thurston has any use for the Hawaiians, and it is the continual effort of the Advertiser to down the Hawaiians. The Advertiser wants to disfranchise the Hawaiians and has been playing and working for government by commission for several years. The Republican party acknowledges the Advertiser as its official organ and thereby confesses that it has no use for the Hawaiians except inasmuch as it may get their votes by hook or crook, through smooth words, lies and money, money, money, always money.

Are you going to vote for people who have no use for you, who have the impudence to think they can fool you or buy your votes?

Are you going to vote for the people who stole your country and your lands and your homes and your rights and privileges?

Are you, fellow countrymen, going to vote for a party that endorses the contemptible lies of the Advertiser?

Are you going to cast your vote on November 8 for men who talk behind your backs, who class you with that most inferior of all races, the negro race?

Are you, brothers under the glorious Stars and Stripes of the United States, which nation is doing everything in its power to make these islands prosperous, if the people in power here will only let the United States do what it wants to do—are you going to vote for men who represent the party of BOSSISM and TYRRANY and FALSE PROMISES and BUNCOMBE and HOT AIR?

Are you going to vote for your oppressors just because they give you a luau, and a song, and a dance, and a moving-picture, and a little money for poi and fish, and a lot of worthless promises?

If you need the money, take the money, but vote the straight Democratic ticket for better wages, more work and to keep the paupers of Europe and the rest of the world out of these islands.

If somebody does wrong by offering money for a vote, as sometimes politicians of the Republican party do, in a roundabout way, don't you argue with them, but go and vote the Democratic ticket.

They have no business to offer you money in the first place, but you have a right to take it when they threaten you with discharge from your employment, or make other threats like that. You have a right to take the money as long as you vote according to how your heart tells you to vote and as long as you vote according to your conscience, and your conscience must tell you that you should vote for the protection of your beloved wives and children and for the prosperity of your people, and for the benefit of the children's children who are to come after you.

And the way to vote in that regard is to vote the straight Democratic ticket, so that you will put men in power who will protect your land and your homes and your families from the invasion of a lot of hungry people brought in here from foreign countries who are only too willing to work for half the wages that you would work for, just for the sake of getting something to eat.

Vote the straight Democratic ticket and vote for honesty in the matter of the government of this Territory.

Vote the straight Democratic ticket and vote for freedom to labor at a decent wage, and keep out the poverty-stricken, half-starved people brought in here by "assisted immigration" for the purpose of helping out the already over-rich plantations and of driving you out of honest labor with a fair wage.

Vote against your oppressors and against those who tell you lies. Do not take our word for what is said here, but investigate for yourself.

Go and ask a plantation if it will give you decent wages to work. Go and ask the plantations if they did not get along all right with Hawaiian labor when the big strike was on a few months ago.

They will try to make excuses. They do not want you because they would have to pay you decent wages. They want the cheapest labor they can get. They have use only for your votes. But do not vote for the Republican bosses. Vote the straight Democratic ticket and Be Men!

Unable to attract even a normal attendance at their meetings by ordinary means the Republicans have had to employ moving pictures, and other vaudeville features, and the natural result is that most of the enthusiasm shown at the meetings is over these features.

JONAH KUHIO HAS NO INFLUENCE IN CONGRESS

If Kuhio is such a mighty man at Washington, why has he not been able to obtain for his aunt, ex-Queen Liliuokalani, that $250,000 that he has for several years been trying to get?

To hear Kuhio and the other Republicans tell it, all he has to do is to ask for anything he wants and he gets it promptly. Everybody at Washington, they claim, is his friend, and any little thing he asks for, such as a few million dollars for the dredging and fortification of Pearl Harbor or the fortification of Diamond Head, or appropriations for breakwaters and harbor improvements, is promptly handed over to him with the thanks of Congress for his having condescended to ask for it.

That is the Republican side. That is what Kuhio claims. But what about that $250,000 for Liliuokalani? It is only a measly little quarter of a million, yet Kuhio, nephew of the Queen, has in all the years he has spent in Congress, been unable to get it or any part of it for his aunt. That is just about how strong Kuhio is at Washington.

Congress has indeed appropriated millions for Hawaii—but not because Kalaniana'ole asked for it. The millions would have come just as quickly if Kuhio had never seen Washington, even if Hawaii had had no delegate at all. Kuhio has no influence at the National Capitol. He is tolerated rather as a mild joke than for any other reason. Those who come in contact with him during the session quickly discover that he knows nothing of the duties of his office and couldn't perform them if he did know anything about them. Perhaps his private secretary, Mr. McClellan, may be able to help him out once in a while—but what's the use of having a delegate who is incapable of performing his duties? Why not elect a man who does not have to rent his brains—to hire his thinking done for him?

HOW IS THIS FOR REPUBLICAN GALL?

United States District Attorney Robert W. Breckons, a Republican, who was chairman of the Republican county convention, and is supposed to be a good Republican, and whose example is supposed to be of some value, actually has the face to acknowledge that he has perused all wireless messages which passed through the Kahuku station during a period of forty-eight hours.

Think of it! There is nothing sacred from the prying eyes of this man, who sets himself up as holier than anybody else for the sake of notoriety in opium detective work. It is his business to prosecute, not to play detective, and even if it were his business to play detective, by what right does he read your private messages and my private messages sent over the wireless?

This is what the Bulletin, an admirer of this Breckons, and a Republican paper, has to say about the shameful piece of sneakwork:

"Breckons denies the story that one of his men had disabled the Kahuku wireless station so that no message could go through to the Mongolia warning Ferreira of his impending arrest (on a charge of smuggling opium), but HE DOES ACKNOWLEDGE THAT NO MESSAGES HAVE PASSED THROUGH THE STATION FOR THE PAST FORTY-EIGHT HOURS WHICH HE HAS NOT SEEN."

How's that for clean work? How's that for your model Republican? How's that for a chairman of a Republican county convention? How's that for a United States District Attorney who is supposed to use brains and not such illegal trickery in the prosecution of crime?

REPUBLICANS SPLIT ON COLLECTORSHIP

The internal revenue collectorship is a rock upon which the Republican craft has bumped and which bids fair to wreck the political career of some of the leading Republican crew.

One of those who is liable to find himself struggling in the waters of defeat because of this matter is Albert Judd, Republican candidate for the Senate. Mr. Judd, following the illustrious example of his friend and mentor, Governor Frear, appears to have been trying to execute the double-cross, and the results may prove disastrous to himself.

The Republican campaign committee recently endorsed the present incumbent, Walter F. Drake, for the position, as has also the business community of Honolulu.

But Governor Frear, according to his usual contemptuous custom, has butted into the game and, though it is none of his business, has taken it upon himself, it is reported, to urge upon the authorities at Washington the appointment of another and entirely inexperienced man. This merely for political and personal reasons. What the people of the community want is a matter of no moment whatever to Governor Walter Francis Frear. Is not he the whole government? And is not his will law in the land, even though it be not order?

Now it appears that Albert Judd, after consulting with his bosom friend and fellow-conspirator, Frear, has also gone over to the enemy and is using whatever influence he possesses against Drake.

But Drake's friends, many of whom are staunch Republicans, have taken up the cudgels in his defense and are out after the scalp of one Albert Judd, with more than a fair chance of getting it. They say that if Judd opposes the re-appointment of Drake, they will oppose the election of Judd. Judd is none too strong politically as it is, and with this additional tide to stem, his chances of election appear mighty slim.

All of which is good for the Democrats. The Republican party was badly split before and every additional split hurts their cause and helps that of the Democrats.

IMPORTING A POPULATION

BY EDWARD P. IRWIN,
In the Pacific Monthly

(Concluded)

Russians Refuse to Work.

But the Russians simply sat down beside their bundles and refused to move on. They constructed rude tents of quilts, pieces of matting, old boards, sheet-iron and anything else that would serve the purpose, and established themselves in camp as if they expected to remain there the rest of their lives. They still refuse to work on the plantations, though some of them are working as stevedores along the waterfront. They get their food in any way they can, by begging, stealing, picking wild fruit in the mountains. Many of the women have taken to prostitution as a means of making a living, and the moral condition of the camp is so unsavory that at the present time the Federal grand jury is making a thorough investigation with a view to trying to find grounds for the commencement of deportation proceedings.

The Russians were led by a man named Vasilieff, apparently a professional agitator. He it was at first that kept them from accepting the terms offered by the plantations. In the hope that with him out of the way, the immigrants might see the light, the authorities had Vasilieff arrested on a charge of vagrancy and sent to jail for three months.

This brought about the climax of the Russian trouble, for as soon as they knew their leader was behind the bars, the whole Russian contingent, consisting of about 600 men, women and children, besieged the police station and demanded in threatening tones that Vasilieff be brought out and turned over to them. The police, of course, refused and ordered the Russians to disperse. They refused, and the fire hose was brought into play. This broke up their ranks somewhat, and then the police, mounted and on foot, charged with drawn clubs.

Dispersed by Police.

Evidently expecting such a charge, the Russians had crowded all their women and children up in front and the men hid behind them, probably thinking that the police would not charge through the helpless crowd. But they were mistaken. Before they knew what was happening the clubs of the officers were descending on their heads. The men grabbed up their children and held them out at arms' length in front of the horses, thinking that this would stop the rush. But it didn't. The Russians were thoroughly clubbed and in a minute the whole 600 were on the dead run for their camp.

This was rough work, but it was undoubtedly the only way to deal with the situation, for fair words only more thoroughly convinced them that the authorities were afraid of them.

But, though the clubs of the police have given the immigrants a more wholesome respect for the power of the law, the Russians have not been imbued with any overwhelming desire to go to the plantations. Some of them have drifted away, it is true, but most of them are still living in their rude camp and on the country. Russian immigration as a solution of the labor problem of Hawaii would be a huge joke if the joke were not on the community.

But the story of the Russian has reached beyond the limits of the Island Territory, and it is reported that many of the members of Congress are beginning to look askance at assisted immigration as a means of populating the Hawaiian Islands. Other States and Territories are not allowed to practice the system of inducing a population that is in vogue in Hawaii, and there is no good reason why Hawaii should be permitted to smother her civilization beneath the scum of the earth under the pretense of creating a real American citizenship.

Hope for the Future.

The abrogation of the special privilege under which the sugar planters of Hawaii have been obtaining the labor for the fields will hurt them temporarily, perhaps. But the good effects will without doubt more than counterbalance any loss caused by the prohibition of assisted immigration.

In all probability few if any of the planters are conscious of the fact that the pouring into the country of a constant stream of the ignorant, the diseased and the morally infected must, in the end, injure both themselves and the Territory. The sugar-planters are no different from other business men, except that, perhaps, they are as a class rather more conscientious than capitalists in other and more sophisticated communities. But they have been looking through the wrong end of the telescope; they have lost their perspective and they have not profited by the experience of other countries and of other parts of the United States. In common with capital almost everywhere, they believe that cheap labor will increase their profits, forgetting that cheaply-paid labor invariably does poor work.

Solution of the Problem.

There is a way to solve the labor problem of this most isolated of Territories, and if foreign immigration assisted by the planters and the Territory is shut out, Hawaii must inevitably choose that way for lack of any other and worse method.

In many of the States of the Union are thousands of men who are land-hungry, who would jump eagerly at the chance to make for themselves homes in a country where the soil is of unexampled richness, where the climate is perfection, where there are no scorching summers and freezing winters. There are many thousands of men working harder on the farms of the Middle Western States than do the Japanese, Spaniards and Porto Ricans on the sugarcane plantations of Hawaii.

An army of these men could be obtained for Hawaii, if the plantations would but pay a fair wage for a fair day's work. But they would want more than that: they would want some assurances of being able in time to buy land for themselves and make their homes.

Fortunately, this may be possible soon. There is a bill now pending before Congress—probably by the time this is published it will have become law—amending the Organic Act under which the Territory of Hawaii was created. This bill contains a provision, strongly urged by Governor Frear of Hawaii and approved by the Legislature of the Territory, amending the Territorial land laws so that more of the Government land can be thrown open to bona fide homesteaders in such a way that it cannot be grabbed up by speculators and the plantation interests as soon as it is patented.

Under this change in the laws, the Government of the Territory will have something to offer to white American settlers. But most of the crops raised commercially in Hawaii require two or three years to yield a return. In addition it takes time and money to clear the land and prepare it for sowing. The average homesteader has usually none too much money, and he must be able to make a decent living while he is waiting for the fruition of his efforts.

The plantations can easily offer him the chance to earn this living, if they will. Wages, it is true, will have to be raised, but who can honestly contend that true prosperity lies in low wages? The conditions of life among the plantation laborers will have to be improved, but that is not liable to ruin the country. Americans are not proud of squalor, ignorance and long hours of labor.

The military and naval operations now in progress in Hawaii insure the strategic importance of the Islands. The bringing in of an army of American laborers, farmers and homesteaders will insure the commercial and economic importance of the Territory and in time fit it for statehood. It may break up the baronial estates; communities of American farmers may in time take the place of the wretched hamlets of Oriental and other serfs that now till the fields; but who shall say that this will not work to the advantage, not only of the community at large, but also of the very interests that now tremble at the thought of an American invasion?

One of the most amusing things about the present campaign is to watch the Advertiser and the Bulletin feeding out of the same trough.
