Rights of the Subject.

The writ of habeas corpus case which has been set for hearing on Thursday, before the Supreme Court, is probably the most important case which for years has been tried in our courts. It will not alone decide the fate of a large number of prisoners, but will establish a precedent and virtually create a law for the country. It is not probable that the case will be heard on Thursday. A continuance to next week will be asked for by the government. In the meantime it is likely and reasonable that Kalamanaole will be admitted to bail. That the case is of unusual interest and importance is recognized by the head of the Judiciary Department, in his calling of a special session of the Supreme Court for its hearing and determination.

Needed Refuge.

In 1888, there was a movement on foot to establish a home for indigent persons of foreign birth or descent. The legislature granted for the purpose a piece of land on the corner of Wilder and Pensacola streets, formerly used for the mounted police barracks. What has become of the movement? With the present large influx of foreigners, among whom there are and will be many sick, destitute and indigent, it would be well to take the matter up again. A home as formerly proposed would be very useful and appreciated. All that now remains of the affair is chapter 71 of the session laws of 1888, which stands as a barren example of another block in the pavement of good but fruitless intentions.

Observations.

Paua residents are complaining over the ravages done to their hen-roosts by the mongoose. It seems that the little voracious creature is increasing with astonishing rapidity and threatens to become a serious nuisance. Can't the Bureau of Agriculture find an antidote for the mongoose?

Colonel McLean, formerly of the United States navy, and now commander of the Hawaiian army, has stated, according to the Advertiser, that "the attitude of the military forces of the Republic is offensive." The naval colonel is evidently a quick and sharp observer.

The two men who were injured on board the Helen Brewer last week and sent to the hospital are improving rapidly. They speak in the highest terms of the treatment at the hospital.

The Oriental Situation.

Even if it should be true that Japan had submitted to the demands of the combined great powers, and relinquished her claims for a slice of Manchuria, she will still get sufficient in lands, money and concessions to compensate her for her expenditures and loss of lives during the war. The following is the treaty of peace agreed upon between Japan and China and now probably modified as regards clause 2:

1. China recognises the independence of Korea.
2. China cedes to Japan the following territory, namely:—In Manchuria the whole of the district lying south of a line drawn from the point where the Anping River enters the Yalu River to the mouth of the Liao river, so as to include Fengwan, Haicheng and Yingkow. Also the island of Formosa and its adjacent islets, and the Pescadores Group.
3. China pays Japan an indemnity of Tls. 200 million; that is to say yen 300 million. The payment to be effected in seven yearly installments, and the portion unpaid to carry interest of 5 per cent. per annum. Provided that, should the whole sum be paid in three years, interest will be foregone.
4. Japan shall be entitled to all the privileges and all the trade advantages possessed in China by Western Powers under the provisions of the most favored nation clause.

SUB CLAUSES.

1. Japanese ships shall have free access to the ports of Shanghai, Chungking, Hangchow, and Soochow, and shall be entitled to enter and freely navigate the rivers at Chungking, Soochow, and Hangchow.
2. Articles purchased by Japanese in the interior of China, or imported articles carried into the interior, may be stored free of all tax.
3. Japanese subjects shall be free to carry on manufacturing industries in China.
4. Japanese subjects shall be free to import all kinds of machinery into China.
5. Articles manufactured in China under Clause 3 shall be treated as imported articles, and shall be handled under special permits.
6. The new Commercial Treaty between Japan and China shall be based on China's present Treaties with Western States; so long as the subjects or citizens of the latter retain the privileges of extra territorial jurisdiction and tariff, Japanese subjects also shall fully enjoy the same privileges.
7. By way of security for the payment of the above mentioned indemnity, Japan shall hold Weihaiwei, and China shall pay the cost of the occupation.
8. When an exchange of prisoners is effected, the Chinese Government shall inflict no manner of punishment on the prisoners returned to her by Japan; neither shall she raise any question whatever as to the conduct of such of her subjects as had relations with the Japanese during the war. Further, she shall make unconditional rendition of any Japanese soldiers held prisoners by her.
9. Ratifications of this Treaty shall be exchanged within three weeks from the date of its signature, the place of exchange being Chefoo.

Art Exhibition.

Beautiful Display Made by the Kilo-hana Art League.

Another exhibition of the Kilo-hana Art League was opened in its new rooms by a dress reception yesterday evening. Mrs. W. M. Graham and Mr. Hitchcock superintended preparations, and the gallery was in tasteful array with flowers and plants in addition to its art collection. Mr. Hitchcock has some fine pictures hung, chief of which are portraits of Mrs. S. N. Castle and the artist himself and a picture of Rainbow Falls, Hilo, illustrative of the legend of a goddess who spread the rainbow about her like drapery. The portraits are of an idealistic nature, very deep in expression. In the legendary picture a female figure appears in the rainbow in shadow, yet clear outlines. Another fine picture by Mr. Hitchcock is an early morning view of Mauna Loa from the beach near Hilo, in which the tints are superb and a pond in the foreground is shown with rare vividness of water effects.

Allen Hutchinson the sculptor has a few works, the most notable of which is a bust of Captain Babcock. An excellent study of an Indian's head is another of this artist's exhibits.

Mrs. Graham has a fine carving of mountain apples, and, without being told, burnt tracing on some of the room's furniture is laid to her credit.

There is some good art in water colors, which will be noticed more in detail later.

The new rooms of the League are above H. S. Tregloan & Son's store, corner of Fort and Hotel streets. It is fitted with electric lights, shaded so as to shed their glow upon the pictures on the walls. The stairway is painted buff and terra cotta. A skylight with a ventilator would add to the value of this home of local art. Perhaps they will be added before long.

The hanging committee were Miss Parke and Messrs. Hitchcock and Hutchinson. Mr. Reynolds, architect, gave valuable directions that are greatly appreciated by the committee.

Among those present at the reception were the following: President Sanford B. Dole, Justice W. F. Frear and wife, Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Col. and Mrs. J. H. Soper, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Walker, J. A. de Souza Canavarro, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. King, Prof. Theo. Richards and wife, Dr. Meyer, Miss Richards, the Misses Mott Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Graham, Prof. H. Berger, E. Berger, Miss Parke, W. C. Parke, Miss Walker, Miss Phenie King, Miss Charlotte Hall, Major H. Potter, the Misses Ogilvie, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Swanzy, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bolte, the Misses Coney, Miss Olson, Mrs. George Ross, J. K. Brown, Mr. Schultz, Mr. Douar, Dr. Rodgers, Mrs. (Dr.) J. S. McGrow, Mrs. J. M. Whitney, J. B. Castle, Miss M. White, and many others.

Music was furnished by an amateur orchestra led by Mr. A. Marques, adding greatly to the delight of the occasion.

The exhibition will be kept open for about two weeks, afternoons and evenings.

Wrestling Match.

There was a wrestling match at Fred. Naylor's training place, Waikiki, last night between Geo. Thompson and Sam Williams. It was best three out of five. Thompson scored first by a fly fall. In the second, after fifteen minutes' struggling, Williams threw Thompson shoulder down, and then in a half-Nelson grip scored one fall. In the third bout Williams got a forehead hold and threw Thompson like lightning, scoring two so far. In the fourth bout Williams started with a Graco-Roman grip. Naylor interfered and broke the men apart. Then Williams with a half-Nelson took a hip fall out of his opponent and won the match.

Naylor says he is going to close his "ranch" next week, as there is nothing in it.

Chinese Arrivals.

Of the Chinese who arrived by the China, 180 had special residence permits, by virtue of which they may remain in these islands, for business or pleasure, the space of six months. Fifty-eight men, nineteen women and eighteen children, who formerly lived in the islands, returned by the same steamer on Foreign Office permits. All of these Chinese went into quarantine until Monday.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR INDEPENDENT:

My hat is raised to Associate Justice Frear of the Supreme Court, the dissident in the decision in the Wailuku water case, for his just interpretation of the law, and respect for previous decisions in such cases. In passing may I ask how the Chief Justice could sit in judgment on this case? If he owns one or more shares in C. Brewer & Co., and that company owns one thousand shares in the Wailuku Sugar Company, has he not a pecuniary interest in the decision he has helped to render? If not, what does article 89 of the Constitution of this virtuous Republic mean? With his large interests in sugar and other companies, whose laborers are held under contracts, it has been matter of comment that he should sit in judgment in cases where labor contracts are involved; but, as Rudyard Kipling would say, "that is another story." Timely Topics

May 20, 1895.

The special session of the Legislature will meet on the 12th of June. The most important question which will be treated by the august body of super wise men is the new land law. It is the intention of the government to open up to settlers the vast lands now owned by the government and it is proposed to dispose of them on the very easiest and best terms. The lands which especially will be offered are of different natures and suitable for different purposes. Grazing and coffee lands, sugar and fruit lands and lots suitable for the small farmer or for residence only, will be placed in market. If the government succeeds in establishing a land boom under the suggested term, it will be entitled to great credit and a great step will have been taken in the line of solving the present question of "hard times" now staring the whole community in the face.

But whether the lands to be offered are to be used for the cultivation of coffee or the promotion of guava jelly, one fact remains; it is necessary for the prospective settler to purchase an Aermotor and secure sufficient water for his premises.

We offer the very best and most improved style of Aermotors. The numerous patrons who have tried our Aermotors speak in the highest terms of the results. We have recently placed an Aermotor of the latest pattern at Lunalilo Home, and W. O. Smith, who gave us the order, has only praises for it.

Since we are talking "land" we may as well remind eventual settlers, that we sell the Jones' Lock Wire Fence. This fence is used on all ranches of any importance, and we receive daily orders for more of them. The washers used in the fences which we now offer to our patrons are galvanized. Formerly they were made of iron and did not stand the ravages of wind and rain very well. The galvanized washers are imperturbable to all climatic influences. The Jones' Lock Fence is the best and cheapest fence ever introduced in Hawaii, and well worthy of a trial.

F. M. Wakefield the lawyer, one of Hilo's new live men, came up to the capital by the Kinaw.

George R. Ewart, one of the leading planters on Kauai, returned to town from Maui by the Kinaw.

Ben Gallagher will take charge today of training and driving of Jim Quinn's famous trotter Johnny Hayward.

M. N. Sanders, port surveyor and special revenue marine officer, left the Lehua and came home by the Kinaw.

F. J. Kruger, practical watchmaker, Corner of Fort and Merchant streets. Repairing watches a specialty. The celebrated Wiener Regulators. Just the thing for an appropriate present to your friends.

A cricket match will be played between the U S S Philadelphia and Honolulu eleven at Makiki on Saturday, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

W C Peacock and family have taken a cottage of the Hawaiian Hotel, prior to their departure for the Coast by the steamer Monowai on the 30th.

The steamer Monowai is to be read into the foreign mail time table in place of the Arawa, the former having taken her old place on the Oceanic-Umon route.

No. Seven of the Progressive Educator is out, and contains much of interest to the teachers of the country. Henry S. Townsend of Lahainaluna is the editor.

"200" is the number most frequently called over the telephone wires. It rings up the UNITED CARRIAGE COMPANY'S stand, where Superior Hacks with safe and courteous drivers, are always to be found. A complete livery outfit, including buggies and waggons, furnished at the shortest notice.

From 9 to 3 o'clock tomorrow the house of W. C. Peacock at Waikiki will be open for inspection of the furniture to be sold at auction on the premises the following day.

W. C. Peacock's valuable library of standard works will be sold at the auction rooms of Jas. F. Morgan at 10 o'clock on Friday. This will be a rare chance to replenish your literary treasures.

J. C. Edwards, formerly of the firm of Wolfe & Edwards, grocers, is in Honolulu. He spent several years in Samoa, doing business at Apia, but for a few months lately has been living in California.

Delegates of the boat clubs met Monday night and considered the scheme and laws of organization for a Yachting and Rowing Association submitted by the special committee. Another meeting will be held on Thursday night.

A valuable mare belonging to G. P. Wilder had twin colts yesterday morning. Both colts died. The mare, which is a Gainsborough colt, has recovered after her unusual "twin" experience. Dr. Rowat was in attendance.

The Star has increased in size and is extravagant with its boiler plate.

L. A. Thurston and Paul Neumann will address the American League next week.

Draft beer is getting very scarce in town and there is no prospect of any reinforcement before next Monday.

Harry Saylor has now got his billiard room at the Hawaiian Hotel in excellent shape and lovers of the game should patronize him.

T B Murray was unanimously elected as captain of Squad No. 6, Citizens' Guard, with Chas. Lind as first lieutenant and Wm. O'Brien as second lieutenant.

The patent Excellent family flour is advertised in another column. It comes from the Novelty Mill in Seattle and enjoys a high reputation.

The mounted police will have a drill this morning. The troop looks very well since the arrival of the new horses, and the men are improving very much in appearance and horsemanship under the command of Captain Cook.

Hotel Arrivals.

Since the arrival of the Kinaw the following have registered at the Hawaiian Hotel: John F. Nugent, San Francisco; George S. Fraser, Denver, Colorado; F. M. Wakefield, Hilo; E. W. Barnard, Lauppahoshoe; F. F. Tackett, Bristol, England.

Dined.

Admiral Beardslee gave an elegant dinner on board the flagship Philadelphia last evening. Among the guests were Minister Hatch, Commissioner Hawes, Colonel McLean (N. G. H.), Sam Parker, A. S. Cleghorn and C. A. Brown.

Help Needed.

John Nieper, the well-known expressman who met with a serious accident in attempting to stop a runaway on Queen street, is still at the Queen's Hospital and only improving very slowly. The bravery shown by him, in stopping a most dangerous runaway and probably preventing serious disasters to others, is deserving of the highest commendation. Nieper is an industrious and hard working man, but his prolonged illness has injured his business and placed him in a difficult position. The public in Honolulu need hardly any call for help in this instance and there is no doubt of a generous response. The INDEPENDENT is willing to receive any donations for the relief of the injured man.

Bugs, Frogs, Toads.

Joseph Marsden, Commissioner of Agriculture, received a letter from Professor Koehle by the steamer China. The professor is in Japan looking up enemies of insect pests for the Bureau of Agriculture. He sent along with the letter a lot of lady-birds of a species that preys on various noxious insects. The old pair was dead on arrival, but the young bugs were lively. Professor Koehle writes that it is a bad season to get lady-birds, but as the larvae is abundant he hopes to be able to send a goodly supply before long.

Although the professor had employed many children to hunt for toads, up to the time of writing he had only obtained one specimen. He would endeavor to get some toads if he had to go into the mountains himself after them. Any amount of frogs could be got, however, and the professor recommended this species of amphibia as mosquito killers. Mr. Marsden says he will send to Professor Koehle for a lot of frogs. When the streams and swamps are stocked with the green-coated croakers, Berger's band will have a new and formidable rival in making the evening air resonant.

COURT RECORD.

"Not Guilty" Verdict in a Civil Case.

Mixed Jury Cases Begun.

Judge Cooper heard the replevin suit of William Mossman vs Kalimahauna on Tuesday, the following Hawaiian jury being empanelled: C. B. Dwight, A. Bishop, J. Nalua, J. S. Kawewehi, H. E. Cooke, H. Kahalewai, M. Kelelia, W. K. Waiaua, A. Morris, C. P. Kananau, J. Paaniani, W. Chung Hoon. The property at issue consisted of furniture. Poepoe for plaintiff, Castle for defendant.

Mr. Castle noted exceptions to that part of the Court's charge which relates to the plaintiff's right to refuse to pay if the landlord rendered the premises uninhabitable, and to that part which authorized the jury to find that the defendant's removal of the doors and windows had reference to the subsequent removal of the goods. After ten minutes in retirement the jury returned with a verdict finding the defendant "not guilty." The jury being questioned by the Court stated that they found a verdict in favor of the defendant. Mr. Poepoe noted an appeal.

The next trial was by a mixed jury. It was the ejectment case of J. I. Dowsett vs Mauneka and others. Brown for plaintiff; Rosa for defendant. The following jury was empanelled: James Torbert, J. Lucas, S. F. Graham, N. P. Jacobsen, C. J. McCarthy, E. A. McInerney, C. A. Long, J. U. K. Wainui, J. W. Mahelona, J. Kapali, Hiram Kaaha, T. R. Mossman. The trial was not concluded yesterday.

Judge Whiting has approved the accounts of J. A. Magoon, guardian of Kalua Kapukini, a spendthrift, together with the report of George Lucas, master, thereon.

A special session of the Supreme Court is called for Thursday.

School Teachers Coming.

Cook's personally conducted teachers' vacation excursion to the Hawaiian Islands will leave San Francisco in the steamer Australia on June 16th. An experienced conductor will travel with the party throughout, and many incidental expenses will be covered by the ticket for members of the party while in care of the conductor. The ticket is good for three months, but what it covers outside of the ocean passage both ways and accommodation at the Hawaiian Hotel is included in the following itinerary:

June 15 to 21, voyage from San Francisco.
June 22, carriage drive up Punchbowl.
June 23, drive to Waikiki, Diamond Head, Kapiolani Park, etc.
June 24, railway ride to Pearl Harbor and Ewa sugar plantation.
June 25, drive to Nuuanu Pali.
June 26, stay in Honolulu.
June 27-July 4, voyage to San Francisco.

The price of the ticket is $135.

Local Hawaiian Problems.

Strong feeling against Mr. Shearman, — Financial Problems, — Contract between China and Japan, — Local Difficulties in Politics.

HONOLULU, MARCH 29.

The remarks of a prominent member of Plymouth Church in relation to the Hawaiian missionary republic excited the greatest interest and indignation here; interest on the side of those who believe that there has been since the first a systematic fraud perpetrated on the people of the United States, indignation from those who have the control of the local press, the courts, the jails, and at whose dictation every general despatch read by the American people has been for over two years prepared. Those in sympathy with the sentiments of Shearman declare that if during the period last named, such a critic as he had been resident at Honolulu, so that the world would have been intelligently and correctly informed on all matters pertaining to these islands, the international attitude of the great powers towards Hawaii would be very different from that which it has nominally, and as if by sufferance become. Those who repeat his statements as libellous, confine their remarks chiefly to the notice of his errors in facts. Thus, there are not 100,000 Mongolians here but at most about 40,000, an entire island is not devoted to the lepers, but only a certain district of Molokai, while it is true that no Protestant minister has ever devoted his life to the sufferers, it is also a fact that chaplains of the Congregational Church have been from time to time resident at the settlement. These flaws in statistics are noted with the greatest eagerness by the advocates of the missionary party. My error in stating the proportion of voters by whom the present legislature was elected did not vitiate the reasoning that no legislative assembly had ever supplanted the provisionalist councils, yet it was magnified for the latter purpose. Four per cent of the gross population took part in the elections of last fall.

Of one thing both sides are certain: there is perfect unanimity in declaring that had Mr. Shearman been a visitor in this city, had he then written those words for publication at Brooklyn, he would have been arrested and prosecuted the moment that any copy of his article should have found its way back to Honolulu. There are two provisions of recent Hawaiian law under which such proceedings can be at any moment initiated against an alien and a correspondent. These are the article in the constitution for the punishment of any person who shall be guilty of contempt of the legislative body, even although not a member of that body, and second the statute enacted against the making and publishing of libellous or seditious matter. Much discussion has taken place amongst members of the present government as to the feasibility and advisability of applying these restrictive measures to an alien visitor. There is a most decided determination on the part of those in power to repel the least unfair criticism or misrepresentation of their official acts or public reputation, they assuming further the privilege of defining that which may or may not constitute an offense. Those who do not sympathize with such determination or intention ask how it can be reconciled with the impression the government has given that it is abundantly strong and able to maintain itself against internal dissension. If Hawaii has the best and strongest government it ever possessed, if it proves its cohesion in the recent disturbances, why, these ask, should it so openly announce its fears of the word of one insignificant individual in a journal, copies of which are not circulated at its seat of government?

"He proposes to regulate our affairs, does he?" say the indignant missionaries' sons. "Oh, no," replied one of the opposite party. "Neither Mr. Shearman nor any person of his way of thinking has the least desire to meddle in your domestic affairs; but we do not mean that you shall intrude yourself into ours; this you announce as your intention, and it is only just that the American people should be fully informed as to the character of the community which seeks to enter the Union. Has not a parent the most indisputable right to the fullest information as to the record or character of the man who seeks an alliance with his daughter?"

It must in truth be said that the annexation sentiment is growing far less unanimous in the homes of the sugar barons. "Why," said one of them to his associate recently, "why advocate annexation, when the consequent destruction of the system of contract labor will annihilate all profits from the plantations?" "I agree perfectly with you," replied his partner; "I know that when we get the United States flag, and the bounty on sugar is abolished, we shall make no more money, but I will gladly resign all hope of future accumulation in that case, because I shall be sure to keep what I already have."

Probably the latter is one of those timid, economical men who, besides being distracted by the politics of Hawaii, the urgency and difficulty of race problems, has lent an ear to the croakers when its finances are under discussion. The honesty and capability of Minister Damon are never questioned, but in the practice of this very virtue is it true that he has said to his associates in the Cabinet: "Appropriate what you will, but remember the treasury can pay out no more money for the present."

It is then any more than a rumor that by means of the deposits of silver, the issue of certificates and treasury notes, an occasional purchase of some twenty thousand dollars Hawaiian bonds or deposits in the government postal savings bank, the opulent citizens have bled for their country's cause to universal faintness, and consequently that the object of the departure of Minister Damon for San Francisco, which heira took place on the 20th, was that he might show to the world how much better terms than those accepted by President Cleveland could be made with foreign money-lenders? The only reason publicly assigned was that of a personal consultation with Mr. Chas. R. Bishop, for some forty years the leading island banker, but since the dethronement of the queen generally residing at San Francisco, and in private business a partner of Mr. Damon's. But where is the inconsistency between the public and private reports?

The restored writ of habeas corpus has been first used in the case of a Japanese subject. The collector refused to allow nearly one hundred emigrants from Japan to land on the pretext that the fifty dollars required was in a bank draft in each case while the statute specifies money. They were told that they must each and all sign contracts, and this was refused. The landing of one, his arrest and the issue of the writ was made a test case, and the court decided in favor of the government. But in the meantime, the Japanese consul had applied to the minister of foreign affairs and had insisted that his countrymen should neither sign laborers' contracts nor return to their own nation. Before the case was decided by the court, the government had yielded, the minister of foreign affairs deciding that the drafts should be collected, the fifty dollars handed back to each passenger, and then the men should be permitted to land. Thus the dignity of the government was saved and a quarrel with the power which above all is feared was avoided.

It prohibits the entry of any person of that nationality without special permit of the Board of Immigration. This is rarely given save on declaration of the applicant that he proposes only to be a domestic servant or an agricultural laborer; even then the sum of one dollar and a half month must be deducted from his wages for the purpose of paying his way back to China; should he leave the two above mentioned avenues of employment, he may be at once deported. This severity is meted out to the Chinese to satisfy the American League, which latter is thought by many to be the most formidable enemy with which the government is obliged to contend, because it is nominally of its own household, but composed of illiterate men without large estates, who magnify the least aid or support rendered to their wealthy rulers, demanding an equal division of the offices and the spoils. The prominent members of this organization begin to suspect the sugar barons of lukewarm adhesion to the cause of annexation, so just on the eve of the departure of this mail is held an annexation meeting the speakers being chosen from all classes. Those not in sympathy with the league, yet supporting the government, point to the facts that no more inopportune moment could have been chosen, for such reports of despotism, military tribunal, forcible exile, suppression of a free press, statutory restraint of opinion have gone abroad that no civilized people in the ordinary exercise of good judgment and common sense could desire clear union with powers which have so recently violated all known diplomatic precedents. And the loyal adherents of government say further that the moment is specially ill chosen, because the Washington congress, towards which since the first the provisionalists have looked not in vain for their most valued defenders, has now adjourned. But the temptation to pose for effect upon foreign nations by sending forth an account of a mass meeting is not to be registered; the democracy say that their lordly rulers have done this from the very first, and give as its latest instance the recent abolition of martial law on the very day of the departure of the last steamer. Some disappointment has been said to exist in government circles at the small proportion of volunteers who came forward in the recent emergency. The male population of Honolulu, excluding Mongolians, is about ten thousand; the citizens' guard increased by loyal recruits turned out at the most with twelve hundred men; by this it would appear that the militia on emergency numbers say one in twelve of the male population, but as most of this twelve hundred were recent arrivals or those who needed the wages, or have little at stake, the number of actual patriots willing to risk life for Hawaii is reduced to a minimum. As a consequence, there is now undertaken a most searching inquiry into the sentiments of those persons employed by the government, but yet who rendered it no aid in its hour of terror. This is called by the official organ of the rulers "the black list," and it is highly probable that all those who believe too much or too little in regard to the Republic, and so hesitated to rush to its defense, will no longer eat at its tables.

An election is ordered to fill the seat of Mr. C. L. Carter, killed in the recent trouble, and it is probable another member of the same family will be chosen. A member of the advisory council being permanently out of the country, it is urged that his seat be filled. The first named polls will be open to those entitled to vote under the new constitution. The latter choice, if made, will be by the men who in 1893, succeeded royalism. The councils are the governing power of the nation. There are those of undoubted loyalty, who say that the legislature will never be convened. The constitution does not indicate any period earlier than February, 1896. From those who know the minds of the rulers comes to me the same intelligence that I gleaned in San Francisco, namely, that it is impossible from every point of view for Hawaii to maintain her present status for one year to come. By distinct and different chains of reasoning, the experience of the past year has caused each thinking man to arrive at this conclusion.
