COURT RECORD.

About American Legion of Honor Policies.

DEED OF LAND ATTACKED A SECOND TIME.

Judge Cooper was engaged all day yesterday, at Circuit Court special term, in hearing John Emmeluth vs. John Cook, assumpsit. The following jury tried the case: T J King, Jas Torbert, E A Jones, S B Rose, C B Huston, Jas L McLean, J M Tracy, E Benner, F W Thrum, E A McInerney, T W Hobron and C D Chase. The suit is for money alleged to have been paid by Emmeluth on American Legion of Honor policies for Cook. It was 4:30 when the lawyers began their closing addresses to the jury. Carter & Kinney for plaintiff; Magoon for defendant.

The jury were out ten minutes, when they returned a verdict for plaintiff for $1100 and odd, or the amount of his claim with interest added. Two jurors dissented as to the amount. An appeal was noted by defendant.

TWICE ATTACKED DEED.

Thomas Nott has filed a bill in equity to cancel a deed against Agatha T. Nott and David Dayton, guardian of Antoine A. Doiron. The same plaintiff and the first-named defendant previously brought a bill to cancel the same deed against Charles T. Gulick, the former guardian of Antoine A. Doiron, on the ground that the deed was a forgery. It was decided on trial that the deed was not a forgery, but that the nature thereto was by Agatha T. Nott's own hand.

Now the deed is attacked on the ground that Agatha T. Nott, wife of the plaintiff, fraudulently executed the deed in question. It is asserted that previous to the marriage of the parties in 1889, Agatha owned a piece of land at Wailuku with a dwelling house and other buildings standing thereon, which property she acquired by inheritance from her former husband, Dennis Bigneur, deceased; that her ownership of the said property was known to the said Thomas Nott previous to the said marriage and was part of the inducement thereto; and before said marriage and in contemplation thereof and while the said Agatha T. Nott was receiving attentions from the said Thomas Nott as an accepted suitor, in view of such marriage, the said Agatha T. Nott fraudulently executed and delivered a deed of conveyance of the said property to the said Antoine A. Doiron; that the deed was not recorded till about May 23, 1890; that the said Thos. Nott had no knowledge of conveyance until after the solemnization of the marriage; that the said Antoine Doiron never entered into possession of the property; that Doiron never paid the consideration, fifteen hundred dollars, or any part thereof, to Agatha T. Nott or anyone for her, and plaintiff claims that the conveyance was in fraud of his marital rights and just expectations. A. G. M. Robertson is solicitor for plaintiff.

Before Judge Whiting yesterday was heard defendants' motion for a decree of dissolution of partnership in the case of August Drever vs. Elizabeth A. McBryde and others. Neumann for plaintiff, Hartwell for defendants.

Observations.

To judge from the President's message it seems that he has literally gone into the land business.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger devotes a column and a half to Hawaiian affairs. The last paragraph is entirely in reference to John Ross, who served in the U. S. navy during the war. The State Department invites particular attention to his case, he having been illegally imprisoned in Oahu Jail for fifty-one days.

The official organ seems to be very much worked up because the friends of the ex-queen still fail to see the reason of Colonel McLean's intrusion on her privacy. The great commander, who during the last few days has taken occasion to tell several kamaainas what a powerful gun he is, declares that he is very solicitous of the Queen's health. Whenever the medical advice of himself or his military doctor is needed he will be sent for. Until then their services are not wanted.

It seems some people were in a dreadful stew about the fourth of July celebration this year. In former years it was left to the American Minister to call a meeting of Americans, and he always did it—from Daggett to Willis—about the 15th of June. This year the committee of last year had the gall to intervene before the usual time and impudently ask the American Minister what he was going to do about it. At the same time they practically insulted the Minister by asking him if he would father a celebration of the birth of the Republic of Hawaii, whose government has lost no opportunity of insulting the government of the United States. As Captain Cochrane, of the U. S. Marine Corps, orator of the day last year, was censured by the Navy Department for his freshness in calling for three cheers for the Hawaiian Republic before the concern was recognized by the United States Government, Minister Willis cannot possibly have anything to do with the proposed joint "Americo-Hawaiian" celebration. He is here as the representative of America and Americans.

The First Fruit.

The Labor Commission has been heard from. A report on the coffee industry was yesterday distributed among the members of the Legislature. The authors of the funny work are W. N. Armstrong, J. Emmeluth, J. M. Vivas, T. B. Murray and H. W. Severance. Anybody reading the report will be seized with an uncontrollable desire to burst out laughing. The ideas presented are nearly as unique as the English in which they are clothed. The sugar planter gets a solid roasting from one end to the other. An attempt is made to boom the small farming racket again and a general invitation is given to American farmers to come to Hawaii and cultivate cabbage for shipment to Puget Sound. It is stated with great seriousness that we have been too dependent upon the single industry of sugar. Thurston's guava jelly is ignored but we are blamed because we never have systematically raised hay and grain for cattle and horses. If we go into the hay business a lot of men and women could find labor and support, and we are told that we urgently need to improve the social and political conditions of the country.

Yet we thought that with the advent of the republic the country was very short of being a Paradise. In talking about the coffee nothing is said about the blight which to-day has destroyed the finest plantation on Hawaii, but then the commission cannot at the present moment obtain or furnish complete data in the matter of coffee. If that is so we fail to see why a report has been issued at all. We are told that there are about 150,000 acres in Puna suitable for coffee, and it is here that the small farmer is invited to plant himself and eat or ship cabbage while the coffee and the blight are growing. In Ceylon, says the report, are 204,000 acres planted with coffee, and it takes 200,000 laborers to look after it. With the small American farmer around it is believed that one man can cultivate from three to five acres and the women and children—whom the commission seems to provide for—can do the picking of berries and the clipping of coupons. Twenty thousand acres of coffee land is valued by the interesting commission at $10,000,000, which at present tax rates means $100,000 a year to the government. The commission, that evidently knows the ropes, adds very innocently that "the coffee plantations would be valued for purposes of taxation at considerably lower figures." We believe you. When the commission gets into figures it becomes enthusiastic. Twenty thousand acres with 800 trees to the acre will yield 16,000,000 pounds of coffee which amounts to a value of $2,400,000 a year. This divided among 4,800 families would give each $500 a year, which proves that 20,000 persons could derive a comfortable living from the moderate acreage mentioned. How the commission arrives at that audacious conclusion is beyond our comprehension. In the lucrative income to be derived from coffee no account has been taken of the cabbage, fruit, poultry and meat which the small farmer is to live on and sell. The report tells us that the value of these products, even if not sold, is of great importance in the economy of life. Sure! However, in another chapter, the commission hesitates and says that it is a matter yet to be determined if the coffee industry ever will be extremely profitable.

It was generally understood that Kalakaua was the main instrument in securing the Reciprocity Treaty, but the commission informs us that the treaty was due to American statesmen. A great fact has dawned on the commission and that is the plantations are money making and not philanthropic affairs. What wisdom! What brilliancy! It borders on mind reading.

The commission does not desire to give financial aid to the 20,000 small American farmers who are to come here and cultivate coffee. It only wishes to "protect them from imposition." Great Scott! and yet they want the poor men to dig up their hard earned dollars and invest them in the Puna rocks! The "white men" are also told that it is all nonsense that they cannot work in the tropics. The commission gets quite poetic in its description of the Eldorado which will be realized with coffee and cabbage. At the same time it draws a very uninviting picture of life at present in the "cheerless" quarters of our sugar plantations.

Of course Asiatic immigration must be stopped at once, and the commission has reason to believe that thousands of families in the United States would come here if they could get land in fee simple. That is probably the reason why Armstrong has gone to Japan. To provide a job for some friend the commission advocates the appointment of an agent to go to the States and inform the people that Hawaii is ready to encourage immigration. It is regretted that American immigration hasn't been encouraged in the past. If it had we would have had material "for an intelligent and patriotic citizen soldiery," a "guarantee against filibustering expeditions, etc." That sounds very encouraging for peacefully inclined citizens. The report finishes with an earnest appeal to energetic young men to cultivate vegetables, and they are told that it "requires unusual intelligence and skill" to raise the cabbage. That seems rather a compliment to the Chinese vegetable men in town. If the balance of the work of the labor commission is to be at par with this first report it is a pity that the commission ever was appointed and money ever spent on its work. The report is disjointed, jumbled and incorrect, and of no earthly use either here or elsewhere.

Cricket.

The cricket match which was advertised to be played on Kamehameha day did not take place, for the simple reason that many of the Philadelphia team did not put in an appearance. This caused considerable disappointment to the spectators as well as to the Honolulu Cricket Club, and to those of the Philadelphia team who appeared on the ground fully expecting a good game. However, sides were picked and some good cricket indulged in. The batting of some of the Honolulu team was very good, while Wardell of the Philadelphia shewed himself to be a very good bowler, for he took four wickets with a loss of three runs, a really good average.

Telephones on Hawaii.

Representative E. E. Richards on Hawaii has been head telephone operator on that island, at the central station at Hilo, for many years. The other evening he was met in company with L. S. Aungst, promoter and constructor of the new system on the big island, at the Arlington. They said that by the combination of the old and the new lines, communication could be had at all the important centers. There is a central station at Naalehu, district of Kau, which can converse directly with Hilo. The rates are lower than for the stations on Oahu connecting with Honolulu.

Sans Souci.

This favorite resort added to its popularity by the elegant lunch and dinner served on the 11th of June. A large number of people took advantage of the close vicinity to the race track and visited the place. Many submitted to the temptations of the ocean and took a bath before returning to the track. Tomorrow and on the 4th of July special lunches will be served for the benefit of the public that will take in the athletic sports and the races.

The Colima Horror.

By the bark Andrew Welch, which brought three days' later news, the most important item received is regarding the ill-fated steamer Colima. The vessel was found floating bottom up, showing that she had capsized. Only thirty-four of all the souls on board were saved. This shows that the worst information by mail did not surpass the frightful reality.

He Ran Away.

Kahuku Boy got into his ugly mood yesterday morning and ran away from Jim Crow, who was driving in a brake and leading the horse. The horse in the brake was pulled to the ground and broke a leg, and Jim Crow was thrown out of the brake. Kahuku Boy steered for Waikiki and went along King Street in excellent time. He is probably running yet.

The Monarch Arrives.

The Hawaiian Hardware Co. received the expected invoice of bicycles in the Andrew Welch. Now is the chance for the lovers of the wheel to secure a bicycle which can beat anything in the line of speed, comfort and durability. Get on to the Monarch.

Timely Copies

June 13, 1895.

It cannot be denied that the roads in Honolulu and suburbs are kept in a very fair and good condition. The road supervisor is devoting all his time and as much money as he can get in keeping the roads in good order and the driving and riding public appreciates his efforts. Nowadays, we do not drive in the old-fashioned brakes that used to shake the insides out of the driver. We do not either patronize old stiff-legged horses the motions of which were mild, only in comparison with riding on a rail out of a western town. Civilization has advanced and we go right along with it. Honolulu can boast of as fine turnouts as any big cities in the United States. The horses used are of superior breed, and every stranger admires the fine stock seen in our streets and on the race track. But it is not given to everybody to possess horse and carriage. It takes money to get them and to keep them, and for that reason we are going to meet the demands of those to whom phaetons and thoroughbreds are a grade too high. Buy a Monarch and the roads of Honolulu will be equal pleasure to the rider of that famous wheel as they are to the swell horseman and driver. The Monarch bicycle is among the high grade wheels. It is now the favorite in the United States and the Monarch Cycle Manufacturing Company is simply unable to attend to the orders which are crowding in, so that it has to enlarge its factories greatly to meet the demand. We have succeeded in securing an invoice of eleven which will arrive here during the next week and we can offer them at a very reasonable figure. The Monarch frame is made of the best quality of spirally drawn Mannesmann Steel Tubing and it is built for appearance as well as for speed. The Monarch frame is very rigid, very strong, very light, very graceful and very comfortable. All Monarch bearings are fitted with the Binns Patent Ball Holder and Dust Protector, which makes it possible to remove the cones of all lateral bearings without disturbing the balls.

The narrow tread on a bicycle is the latest fad. The Monarch claims that there is a limit to all things and the Monarch tread will be 5 3/4 inches, which is the narrowest claim consistent with the safety of the rider. A Kingfisher bicycle lamp will perhaps be suitable for Waikiki, while a Demon lamp seems to indicate meeting with the mounted police. The Monarch racers for ladies and gentlemen will commend themselves to everybody who enjoys a spin. We will at some future day devote more space to fully describe the superb bicycle. As soon as our invoice arrives we will invite you to inspect the wheel, if they are not all ordered beforehand.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Two Houses Receive Several Bills from Cabinet.

SECOND DAY.

THURSDAY, June 14.

THE SENATE.

President Wilder called the Senate to order at 10 o'clock yesterday, and Chaplain H. W. Peck offered his first public prayer for the benefit of that body.

A message from the house was received, saying it was ready for business.

Rep. Richards appeared as a committee of one from the house to request a colleague from the Senate, to notify the President that the legislature was equipped for business. Senator Kauhane was appointed. Later the senate delegate reported that the duty had been performed.

Attorney General Smith introduced the land bill owing to the illness of Minister King of the Interior.

The Senate adjourned till 10 a. m. Monday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The house was called to order at 10 a. m.

Prayers were offered by the Rev. Waiama, chaplain.

The minutes were read by the secretary and interpreter, and upon motion of Hanana were adopted, after a small correction made on motion of Halaualani.

The Attorney-General moved that a committee be appointed to join a committee to be appointed by the senate to inform the President of the organization of the houses and the election of officers, and he presented a resolution to that effect.

On motion of Kamaouha the resolution carried.

The Speaker appointed Richards as a committee of one to act in concert with the senate committee.

Mr. Richards left the assembly, and on motion of Kamaouha the house took a recess. After a short delay the sergeant-at-arms of the senate, W. Wright, appeared with a message from the senate in which it was stated that the senate concurred with the house, and had appointed Senator Kauhane as a committee to act with the sentative Richards. On motion of Kamaouha the communication was accepted.

The Attorney-General on behalf of the minister of interior who was absent through sickness presented Bill No. 1, called an Act relating to public lands. As no rules had been adopted the Attorney-General asked permission to read the bill the first time by its title.

Robertson asked if the bill had been introduced in the senate, and was answered in the affirmative. The Attorney-General thought that the two houses, probably, would have to take some joint action in regard to the discussion of this bill. It was perhaps not necessary for the houses to sit together. Other methods could be adopted. The bill was very lengthy, and he thought it well for both houses to start consideration of the bill at the same time. He thought it wise in this instance to send the bill to both houses.

Kamaouha thought that the bill should be handed to the members and no action taken until rules had been adopted.

The Attorney-General thought it necessary to have the bill introduced and read first time before sending it to the members. The bill was not before the house until read.

Robertson seconded the motion of the Attorney-General, which carried. The bill was read by its title.

The Attorney-General promised to have the Hawaiian version ready at the next meeting.

Richards, on behalf of the committee to confer with the senate, reported that the two houses had communicated and that lists of officers had been exchanged.

Robertson wanted to know what had become of his motion of yesterday, in which he moved that notification of organization be sent to the President.

Richards said that the notification had not reached its destination. The secretary gave information that he had sent it.

Kamaouha presented a resolution: Be it resolved that this assembly now proceed to the election of members of the council of state.

Robertson moved to adjourn till tomorrow at 10 a. m., but withdrew his motion at the request of the Minister of Finance. Minister Damon suggested that Kamaouha also withdraw his resolution if he did not have special reason for pushing the election of the councillors of state. The President had urged a speedy election of councillors, but he surely did not desire to see the house act with undue haste. The election was a most important matter, and it was beneficial to wait a few days.

Kamaouha thought that there was no business before the house before Monday and the intervening time could be used to elect the councillors. He would, however, withdraw his resolution.

Minister Damon renewed the resolution with the amendment that a committee be appointed to select names of councillors and that such nomination by such committee shall have no binding effect on the house. The resolution as amended carried and the Minister of Finance suggested that the committee be appointed altogether from the house, and that no member of the Cabinet be appointed on it.

The Speaker appointed Robertson, Kamaouha and Richards.

Minister Damon introduced a bill entitled, "an act making supplementary appropriations for the use of the government of the republic of Hawaii for the two years ending March 31, 1896." He moved that the bill be read a first time, translated and printed. Carried. The Minister of Finance introduced an act to regulate the currency. The purpose of the act was to cancel all certificates now existing and issue new ones. This was to ascertain if the certificates now outstanding corresponded with the amount of silver on special deposit. The bill also provided for the issue of gold certificates. He moved that the bill be read a first time, translated and printed. Carried.

The Attorney-General moved that the secretary be authorized to provide the necessary stationery

Kamaouha offered an amendment providing for stationery for the members. Carried as amended. Richards wanted to know if the President had acknowledged the notification from the house.

The Speaker said that no message had been received, but the sergeant-at-arms had delivered the notice from the house. On motion of Pali a recess was taken.

After considerable waiting Bond moved that the report of the committee appointed to wait on the President be accepted, and the committee discharged. Carried. Major Potter entered and delivered to the Speaker a message from the President.

The secretary started reading the message but was stopped by Hanana, who thought that he had heard the message before.

The Speaker informed him that it was the message read at the opening.

Hanana then moved to dispense with the reading and that the message be printed, translated and distributed. Carried. He then moved that the house adjourn till Monday at 10 a. m. Carried.

House Notes.

Where in the world did ever a legislature pass a motion to go into "caucus?"

The crowns in the legislative hall should be removed. They mar the democratic beauty of the assembly.

A number of Senators were watching the doings of the House yesterday.

The officers of the house will do very well in a couple of months when they get used to the business.

Luther Wilcox is the father of the house. He helps the speaker, the secretary, the sergeant-at-arms, the members and some times even the ministers.

There was something wrong with the messages yesterday. One member said they were sent, another said he didn't get them. The "wind" in the hall may have blown them to sea.

The members of the present house embrace every opportunity to take a recess. Are they tired already?

According to the constitution the President's message shall be sent to the house in writing. That was the cause of one delay, as the message was in print and had to be copied.

Another delay was because Major Potter, who was to bring the President's message to the house had to go home and get on his gilded harness. The house will probably pass an appropriation for an extra uniform to be kept in the building.

Hanana can't stand more than one dose of the President's message. He very properly stopped an attempt to read it again.

Tourists.

JUNE 5th, 1895.

It is the object of all good citizens to draw as many tourists to the country as possible. The people who travel for pleasure are, as a rule, well supplied with money, and wherever they go they leave money behind. All classes benefit the more money is set in circulation. But to get tourists here, it is necessary to hold out inducements to them. They must know that they can get first class accommodation, and that they will find a first class table. A good table can be set in every hotel, boarding house and private house if those in charge know what and where to buy. I can recommend choice block butter which I receive by every Australia. It is of an excellent and uniform quality from one creamery. Fresh island butter I get by every W.G. Hall. I can also recommend superior family hams, and I always keep a full assortment of everything in the grocery line. My prices are as low as the lowest, and island orders are promptly attended to.
