CORRESPONDENCE.

Soft Sawdaring Dole.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

Minister Sewall in his oratorical spread-eagle gush, has linked the honorable name of "Seward" with the name of James G. Blaine of "Mulligan letter fame." He also, by some mishap, seems to have overlooked the name of another moving spirit from Maine, the notorious John L. Stevens, who robbed Hawaii of her nationality and planted here his puritanical curse. If Minister Sewall will take a little time and look at things here with unbiassed eyes he will soon come to the conclusion that the Maine "blood" is in rather a diseased condition in this archipelago and not much sought after, except in a very narrow circle. I wonder if our President S. B. Dole blushed while being smothered by Minister Sewall in his huckleberry gush thusly: "And Maine claims also as her son, him in whose veins courses a double strain of her best blood, him whom under trying circumstances such as seldom come to any man, under conditions which confront founders of states, of which heroes are created—him"—whew! Great God, how tired! And all this sickening tender-foot twaddle of Minister Sewall over President Dole, because of his being at the head of a military oligarchy is more of a disgrace than a credit, as he was boosted up and protected there through the machinations of John L. Stevens—the pirate of the Pacific—born and bred in the State of Maine. [Maine papers please copy.]

ANOTHER AMERICAN.

What is It to be?

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

Manager Paine of the Hawaiian Slow-ways is having a house built near the Hackfeld residence on Punchbowl slope. Mr. R. J. Greene, care-taker, etc., of the Executive Building grounds, is architect and superintendent, but Chinese are doing the work. What many people would like to know is, what proportion of his time is Mr. Greene expected to devote to Government service? Does Minister King propose to allow his well paid employees to superintend Chinese carpenters for private parties? Does not this man, Greene, receive a sufficient salary to enable him to devote his whole attention to his duties for the Government without adding to his income by entering into competition with legitimate architects, and by supervising the work of Oriental aid in degrading white labor? If not we recommend that King raises his pay. People have been led to believe that the Government was really in favor of supplanting Asiatic with white labor, but judging from the patronage given the Chinese and Japanese mechanics by Government officials, who all receive fat salaries contributed by the taxpayers it looks as if the whole affair was simply a matter of talk. It is time for the Government to show its hand by firing out some of these fellows who don't want a white mechanic to live in this country and fill their places with men who will try to encourage white labor. If this man, Greene, had a spark of honor in his carcass he would have nothing whatever to do with any building on which Chinese are employed, for he is a carpenter himself. Come now, Mr. King, let us know if it is to be pro or anti Chinese with the Government, in practice as well as in newspapers.

SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1897.

A MAJORITY OPPOSED.

Mr. Dole's Commissioners in Washington assert that the full blood Hawaiian is ready and willing to have annexation; that it is only the half castes who oppose the measure. The quick and ready way to settle the question of readiness and willingness of the Hawaiians is to take a vote. THE INDEPENDENT will stand or fall on the verdict of the full blood Hawaiians.

We are advised that the Hawaiians from Nihoa on the north to Hawaii on the south are praying for the discomfiture of the traitors who betrayed Hawaii on the 17th of January, 1893. The foreigners who were indifferent as to annexation in 1893, are weighing the measure and when allowed an opportunity will express very decided objections to the policy to which Mr. Dole and his junta committed themselves.

A BAD SYSTEM.

The recent troubles between blue-jackets from the U. S. men-of-war and the police force, and the ill-feeling reigning between them are, to a great extent, due to the evil system now in vogue of paying rewards to captors of so-called deserters. It is a system that should be abandoned at once because it is constantly being abused and is leading police officers and others into temptation.

If a sailor breaks his liberty he is in most instances perfectly willing, when his spree is over, to go on board his ship and take his punishment like a man. To be hounded down in the manner often done here and forced to pay $10 out of his wages to his captor besides being punished according to regulations is considered an outrage and an injustice by most fair-minded people.

Many officers of the men-of-war disapprove of the system and realize the abuses it leads to, but they fail to see any remedy for it. There is no doubt that occasionally Mr. Blue-jacket is having a good time ashore and becomes hilarious. He meets a jolly and pleasant "friend" who sets 'em up and when the saloon closes and Mr. Blue-jacket should steer for the boat landing, he is invited into a private den just to take one more drink. He accepts the invitation and is shortly introduced to the "sister" of his new-found friend and a demijohn containing drugged swipes is produced. He soon feels very happy in the company of unlicensed Bacchus and licensed Venus, then he feels drowsy and the next morning, while he is sleeping the heavy sleep of a hog, a telephone message reaches the executive officer of the man-of-war inquiring whether there is a reward for Mr. Blue-jacket. The "system" compels the officer to offer $10, and Mr. Blue-jacket is roused from his slumber in quick order, finds himself with a head about two miles in circumference and much too big for his cap, and without a bean in his pocket. He is then yanked to the Police Station, taken on board, and, as any other parcel, delivered to the officer C. O. D. $10, which is paid and later divided between his late "friend" and the police officer assisting in the game. The "sister" probably gets a commission.

Is it not about time that the system is abandoned? We know of no other port where it is carried on and it is decidedly evil, nefarious and fraught with mischief.

OUR FUTURE GOVERNMENT.

Assuming that the unexpected happens, and Hawaii is annexed to the United States in one form or another, what will our form of Government be?

The San Francisco Wave review in the question says:

It is because these islands are the most valuable place of arms in the whole expanse of the Pacific Ocean that we cannot allow them to become the prey of any European or Asiatic power, and, in default of their ability to maintain themselves, we must, in some way, incorporate them in our own territory.

The character of the population of the islands and their remoteness from our coast have been urged against the advisability of annexing them. As, however, it is their value as a military station alone which makes it necessary to annex them, and as their remoteness is really an element of their military value, that consideration may be dismissed. And, at any rate, they are much nearer to California than California was to the rest of the nation at the time of the conquest.

The difficult part of the problem which annexation will bring up for settlement is the character of the government which must be provided for our new acquisition. There is a natural reluctance to admit to our citizenship the bulk of the present population of the islands, and equal reluctance to make a state out of a mixed population inferior in number to that of a very modest city. We have perhaps made statehood too cheap already, and the presence in the union of two or three derelict states has added nothing to the strength of our government or the stability of our politics. The territorial form of government is at best a temporary expedient, always looking to the development of the territory into state. The suggestion that the islands be erected into a county of California may as well be dismissed as impractical. The islands are wanted for national purposes, and their people would never be content under a county government subject to the whims and caprices of such Legislatures as are gathered biennially at Sacramento. California itself lived and prospered for five years after the conquest of the country by the American arms under a military Governor, and it was not until it had been made apparent that the influx of white immigrants was sufficient to ensure the continuance and prosperity of the state that a state government was erected. Why cannot the Hawaiians be asked to submit to the same test of development? As the group is needed really for military reasons only, let a military Governor be appointed to administer the affairs of the islands, with the assistance of a local territorial Legislature. The District of Columbia containing a greater population than the islands, is well governed without any elective officers, and with only a fraction of Congress as a makeshift for a local Legislature. Why cannot such a government be devised for the Hawaiians, who are soon to be our fellow citizens, until time shall have demonstrated that they have the men and the resources necessary for the making of a real state?

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

At the Summer School the teachers are apparently having plenty of fun as well as being instructed. A pedagogue says that "the imported article" does not approach the local in acumen, knowledge or savoir faire. The didaskulos should explain to prevent a misunderstanding.

"One who knows" is wise. He should never give single handed evidence against the police. The "best" must be supported to prevent the guilty from escaping. The practical view of life is contrary to the legal view that a man is innocent until proved guilty. In police matters a man is morally guilty until proved innocent, so the wise and hoary headed man does not become defiled by touching tar.

Annexation is coming sure. We are now to have, it is said, a dance hall on Hotel Street. Soon, oh, be joyful! we shall have the German Sunday bierhalle and musikgarten, and then the free and easy dives. Thank you very much Messrs. Dole, Owen-Smith, Hyde and Sereno Bishop. How rich it will be, when avocations fail, to see that hoary Quintette pirouette in tights to Central Union's fiddling. "Ere's yer 'elth and song, Gemmen."

Perhaps the Government will give the public facts and figures in regard to their $4,000,000 indebtedness which the United States is to assume with annexation? There is an impression abroad in both countries that it is a case of "Caveat Emptor," and that the purchaser will buy a greater indebtedness than he bargains for,—but then figures never disagree if you can properly cook and digest them, and it is not our "pie."

If the health inspectors would occasionally visit the leading Chinese restaurants, especially on Hotel Street, in the early morning or late at night, they would order some purification of the sinks and drains, provided always that the effluvium did not bring on an attack of mental and moral asphyxia. We forgot that Government officials are in bed at 5:30 a. m. and 11 p. m., but once in a while they might take their buggies and do a little "extra" inspection at the hours when it is most required. Information privately given appears to have no effect on the Inspectors' lethargy.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Why They Do Not Testify
 ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

I am one of those who believe in the desire of the Marshal, his deputy and Captain Robert Parker to make our native police as excellent in their civil duties as they are in appearance, in military drill and target practice, and as a whole they are a very great credit to our little city, but there are a few, and only a few, human brutes on the force who perpetrate their cruelties and abuses of the law upon occasions when they are satisfied that there is no fear of a conviction being obtained against them.

Witnesses will not run the risk of testifying when their evidence will not be taken effectively against the perjured evidence of officers who hang together with manufactured evidence, especially if they happen to belong to the political party in opposition to the Government.

Self-interest prevents them from bringing down upon their heads the wrath and vengeance of the police, and an arrest on the charge of "interfering with the police in the discharge of their duties." The police almost invariably win such cases and the truth of one honest citizen is valueless against that of two or three members of the force.

Even when cases are proved against the police the men are seldom "broke." Some occult influences which are freely spoken about "on the streets" gain for them merely a reprimand, a brief suspension, or a removal from the "force" to another well paying billet. It is the same in all countries, except perhaps in England.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

From the Friends of the Police
 ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

While the condemnation of the Police Department is so general with certain people I think it only fair for the friends or sympathizers of the police to have their say also.

I wish to state that so far as I can see or understand from personal observation and authentic sources otherwise; the police in Honolulu are as polite and obliging to all comers, viz: tourists, men-of-war men (U. S. included) long shore men and the so-called tough element as officers in any other part of the world and I consider from the very fact that they are so tolerant and lenient comes the mean disposition of the disturbers of the peace to make all the trouble for them possible; knowing full well that the worse that will come to them will be, to be escorted to the Station House. A gang of toughs can make a disturbance and when an officer interferes they can handle him as roughly as they please with impunity, for they well know that if there is a decent man to witness the affair he will, ten to one, be careful that the officer of the law knows nothing about it, for the chances are that he has not the time or disposition to hang around to attend Court the next day as a witness and it being none of his affair he will almost invariably conceal all knowledge of the affair, but if he chance to be of the class that is liable at any time to fall into the hands of the police himself why then he is only too ready to volunteer his evidence against the police and the result is the police do necessarily find it difficult to procure outside witnesses, as many times there is only one officer and seldom more than two concerned in a pretty good size melee. When a fracas occurs in or about a saloon the proprietor of the saloon may be a good square honest fellow, but do you think he is going to side with the police in giving testimony against his patrons in regard to a little scrimmage that really amounts to but little any way. If the present Marshal should go into the saloon business and a saloon man should take the Marshalship there would be no change in the witnesses for or against the police. If a few of our good citizens could be appointed to go into a gang of 10 or 20 American men-of-war men to arrest one or two of their members at 10 or 11 o'clock at night, when each one had booze or conceit enough to think he was the whole American Navy, they would find a difference between tweedle-dee and tweedle-dum by the time they had succeeded in landing them in the Station House. I am not even speaking or insinuating against the U. S. sailors; they come on shore for some fun and it is a cold day when they don't get it; even if they do get landed in the Station House and then I think him a poor sailor that has a belly-ache against the Police Department just because it would not allow him to capture the town.

Most sailors take their medicine like men as they are, but there are a few on board whose mothers should have kept them at home and let them work in candy shops.

MODERN SCIENCE.

Great Progress Shown In All Branches.

In the Medical World, the Advance Has Been Marvellous—A Well Known Honolulu Man Gives His Experience.

(From the Hawaiian Star.)

The closing half of the nineteenth century has been an era of great achievements and in no branch of scientific investigation has greater progress been made than in that of medicine. Diseases that but a few years ago were held by the medical fraternity to be incurable now readily yield to the new and improved methods of treatment, while ordinary ailments need have no lodging place in the system of those who keep the blood and nervous system in proper condition. Among the modern medicines that have achieved great and important results in all parts of the world, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills easily take first place. They were introduced into Honolulu some three years ago, and since that time have accomplished the best results. Among those of our citizens who have been benefited by their use is Mr. Sam Decker, who has been a resident of these islands for the past twenty years. Mr. Decker was greatly run down from overwork, and did not find any relief until he began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He describes his case as follows: "Every morning found me as exhausted as when I retired the night before. It was impossible for me to obtain a comfortable night's rest. As the day wore on the drowsy, languid feeling increased until it was unbearable. This kept up until I was forced to remain at home for over two weeks. It was a task for me to move from one position to another, my nerves being completely paralyzed. I first saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised in the daily papers, and decided they must be what I needed to build me up. Three bottles did the work and to-day I feel better than ever before, and am able to work feeling none of that lassitude caused by a debilitated system."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is not a patent medicine in the sense in which that term is usually understood, but is a specific preparation successfully used in general practice for many years, before being offered to the public generally. They contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they affect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature.

W.W. DIMOND'S

IT WAS GREAT

And it made a hit worth remembering, did our float, "Love in a cottage," in the procession on Monday. It was an illustration of a kitchen furnished by us. It showed how completely that part of the home may be furnished by us at the lowest possible cost.

If you remember it, the Jewel Stove stood supreme in the cottage and if you had inquired of the young house-keeper who occupied the cottage, she would have told you that as a fuel saver, the Jewel is the best ever brought to the country. She would have told you that it is the best baker she ever had in the house. The bread-winner in the cottage would have told you that the biscuits he ate along the line of march, baked in the Jewel were quite as good as those "his mother used to make." The Jewel is the best in every respect and the cheapest, for the money, ever put on the market.

The Hawaiian Plot.

Here is Chapter One of the Hawaiian annexation scandal:

1. Those who arranged the "deal" by which John Sherman resigned his seat in the Senate to Mark Hanna and went into the Cabinet were fully aware of Sherman's lamentable mental condition. They knew that his memory was gone and his judgement and other faculties seriously impaired.

2. Although they were warned that the arduous duties of Secretary of State would inevitably cause a complete mental collapse, they went straight on with the cold-bloodedness characteristic of uncurbed political ambition.

3. Knowing that Sherman had to be watched constantly, and was absolutely incapable of performing his duties, Judge Day was appointed Assistant Secretary of State, with the tacit understanding that as soon as Sherman "resigned"—which is the polite way of saying "broke down"—Day was to have a place more in accord with his claims upon the Presidential favor.

4. Since Sherman has been Secretary of State he has daily and hourly been making it manifest that he is a figurehead and a tool. And his friends have realized that he is too feeble mentally to understand how he is being used.

5. Taking advantage of his mental incapacity, the Hawaiian annexationists have pushed their plot. Sherman did not write the report favoring annexation and signed with his name. He signed it without being able to appreciate its purport or the damage he was unconsciously inflicting upon his reputation.

6. Sherman was misled into believing that Japan was about to seize the islands. His impaired mind was unable to see the patent folly of this annexationist canard, and although it has been completely exploded he is still repeating it when he is not reasserting his opposition to annexation.

7. John Sherman is not morally or legally responsible for the Hawaiian annexation treaty. He has been shamefully used by the annexation plotters. They are seeking to make the people believe that Sherman has become an annexationist, when they know that Sherman, the intellect, the statesman, is no longer.

And this only Chapter One. The plot as it unfolds will be found to be in keeping with this black beginning. There are no narrow limits to the public immorality of men capable of plotting to endanger their country by introducing into it an element of national and international danger.

"The story of the annexation of leprosy Hawaii is a story of moral leprosy."—N. Y. World.

Hawaii as a State, or Not at All.

Mr. Secretary Sherman has permitted a formal and authoritative statement that while he is in favor of annexation of Hawaii he is opposed to its admission as a State.

This probably is due to a survival in his confused and enfeebled brain of the sound reasoning on which he has in the past opposed annexation on any terms and in any shape. If he does not see now that there is no place in the Federal system for a permanent Territory, or for a community that is perpetually doomed to exclusion from Statehood, that does not affect the fact. It only betrays the pitiful loosening of his hold upon the fact.

Undoubtedly the adventurers who have foisted this scheme upon the Administration would be content if the Hawaiian Islands could be held by the United States as a "crown colony" was held by England two centuries ago, or "farmed" as France once "farmed" its provinces, or turned over to political favorites for exploitation as Cuba has been by Spain, or given, as Rhodesia is, to a company of traders and plunderers. But for any of these modes of enriching the schemers, the United States system has no precedent and no authority. We recognize only communities, however, inchoate and embryonic they may be, which must finally grow to Statehood and be able and worthy to share the privileges and obligations of a State.

One of the most amazing things in this whole business is the cynical frankness with which, in its official papers, the Administration admits that annexation is necessary because the islands cannot be run by us in any other way, while there is not the slightest attempt to show that they can, after annexation, be administered by any method provided by our Constitution or within the powers of our Federal Government.

Poor Mr. Sherman's vacillation in this matter exposes him to much unpleasant comment, but at least it is more creditable to have lucid intervals of right thinking than to be, as those really responsible are, consistently lucid and wickedly wrong. The authors of this wretched plan know as well as Mr. Sherman ever knew that the islands are hopelessly unfit for a population of our race and habits of life; that they are now, and are liable always to be, worked only by what is equivalent to slave labor; that the only field they offer to Americans is the counterpart of the ante-bellum plantations with whites for overseers and owners and coolies for workmen; that in the seventy years in which they have been in "virtual" dependence upon the benevolent protection of the United States, their condition has gone from bad to worse, and that it would be as easy and as rational to incorporate in our system, were it free to us, Madagascar or the Philippines. But they have not the excuse of the unfortunate Secretary of State, that though they know these things, they cannot realize them. They do realize them, and persist in their disgraceful plot notwithstanding.—N. Y. Times, June 20.

WHAT A WOMAN CAN DO.

She can rumple up fifty dollars' worth of dress goods, and buy a reel of thread, with an order to have it delivered four miles away, in a style that will transfix the proprietor of the establishment with admiration.

She can—but what's the use? A woman can do anything or everything, and do it well. She can do more in a minute than a man can in an hour, and do it better. She can make the alleged lords of creation bow down to her own sweet will, and they will never know it. Yes, and more than that, she can tell good beer from bad. That's why all sensible women insist on having "Ra'er" Beer. They know it's the healthiest and best bottled beer to be had. Phone 783.

Buffalo Beer has proved its immense popularity at the Royal, Pacific and Cosmopolitan Saloons. The celebrated Pabst is also retained there in draft or in bottle. The interchangeable check system that has proved such a convenience to the patrons of these popular resorts is also in vogue.

Ned Doyle at the Cosmopolitan is recommending the celebrated Putnam's Blackberry Brandy, a tonic which is unrivalled, assisted by Jim Thompson formerly of the S. S. Australia an excellent "half and half" is served to the thirsty customers of the Cosmopolitan.

There is only one place where the proper drink can be obtained when loyal Americans celebrate, "Annexation" and the Fourth of July. Pomery Sec. and Gold Lac, are the special brands of Champagne served by the Royal Annex. Come on, you annexationists, and let the corks fly, and the wine flow.

One ounce of prevention is better than ten ounces of cure. The Empire boasts of infallible remedies against the varioloid. Wieland beer on draft beats vaccination, and Doctor Charlie Andrew presides over the finest stock of "remedies" that can be found in town. All for medicinal purposes—and cash.
