Hordes of Coolies Camped in Hawaii Waiting to Come

With the Annexation of the Islands They Would Be Free to Enter the Ports of the United States—There Is No Power Under the Law That Could Keep These Yellow Slaves From Traveling To and Fro, Nor From Competing With Free White Laborers in America.

(From S. F. Call.)

Here are four ways held open for the Chinese to select to get into the United States via Honolulu. The port of San Francisco is reasonably guarded against the admission of Chinese upon fraudulent offers of proof (?). The ports of the country to the north, on the Pacific Coast line, may also be watched carefully to detect frauds—that is, the ports of the United States on the Pacific seaboard. But just here a further quotation from the remarks of Colonel Scharff is pertinent:

"Corruption in connection with the Chinese frauds girdles the continent. Chinese who have no right to come here are admitted all along the Canadian border, at the port of New York, at Seattle, and at other points along the Pacific Coast."

It ought to be easy, with at least four ways in which to do it, to commit fraud where fraud may reasonably be expected to meet with a favorable reception. The Dole people, in setting up a manifestly insecure plea about the Chinese, naturally invite suspicion to attach itself to them, and, as reasonable men, understanding the facts as they must understand them, they will have no reason to complain if suspicion remains until they can make a better showing than they have so far made.

The Hawaiian Island planters can use Chinese labor to advantage. Natural conditions have led Chinese to go to the Hawaiian Islands. The same natural conditions will continue. Chinese labor will be welcomed as long as it can be used there. This is a consideration which should not be lost sight of, while the fact that there be money in smuggling in Chinese from Honolulu even more conspicuously looms up. Once in the Hawaiian Islands the Chinese will already be in the United States, under annexation. That cannot be too clearly understood.

The ease with which a Chinese person could prove at Honolulu that he was born at Saco, Me., for instance, or at any other distant point in our common country, will easily suggest itself to thousands of Chinese.

To the eyes of the average person the faces of Chinese are as much alike as cottontail rabbits. Any citizen called upon to swear that he never saw any particular Chinaman before might be pardoned for hesitation, especially in view of the fact that half a dozen persons—and there has never been a lack of such persons—are willing to positively identify the Chinese person for whose landing money is forthcoming.

Of about the same height, of the same complexion, with the same color of hair, and eyes much alike—the remainder follows with the saying. So it happened, in the city of San Francisco, after a restriction act had been in supposed force for two years, that thousands of Chinese, relying on the inability of white men to detect a sham of the Chinese sort, swarmed into the port, masquerading as merchants, gaudily attired in borrowed silks, and having it mind to smuggle in the silks as well as their own persons, and, as evidence of their status they presented certain pieces of paper purporting to be certificates of the Chinese Government.

PLAYED OUT.

The small energetic band of alleged Americans, who have got the big black bear named "Dole's Republic" by the paws, and who dare not let him go, are simply frantic now.

They have never been very choice in selecting the weapons which they hoped would rid them of the bear, and they have treated the world to reports of local revolutions, Japanese scares, Chinese complications and British conspiracies ad libitum.

The jingoes of the United States have assisted bravely in passing along Dole's dismal cry of "wolf," "wolf." The people of the United States lent their ears to the plaintive cry for a moment and they sympathized with the poor "missionaries" whose grand-fathers sacrificed their lives in converting the heathen Hawaiians from being bad, undressed savages, into tailor made, stylish up-to-date people.

Further investigation showed that the "grandfathers" didn't sacrifice lives or anything else here. They built fancy houses and bought or stole much property and the American sympathy naturally began to run low. Other methods were then adopted, and America was called upon to save the descendants of the "uneaten" missionaries from the now civilized Hawaiians and from the imaginary dangers of the Asiatics imported to cultivate the cane fields of these unselfish and brave Americans.

When American sympathy began to drop, a "revolution" was started and the childish row of 1895 gave Mr. Dole's Government a chance to howl for help and cry that the "wolf" had nearly chewed up the missionary lamb. The cry for help was listened to, but upon investigation it was easily learned that the revolution (!) was fostered by the men who hoped for a chase to let go the bear in the tumult which naturally would occur during the trouble, and the American sympathy stock went below par.

The experiment is now to be repeated, we are informed. Another artificial "revolution" is to be played on the political stage of Hawaii and a number of alleged malcontents have been hired to take a part in the opera bouffe, arranged for the purpose of inducing Admiral Miller to hoist the American flag and thereby anticipate the defeat of the annexation treaty in the Senate.

We do not believe that the respectable members of the Cabinet are conversant with this new move. Mr. Dole may be aware of the program, and as a result has cleared out for Puuwaawa. Admiral Miller can hardly be taken in as easily as the manipulators of the clever scheme think, and we feel sure that even if one or two hundred "revolutionists" can be gathered (for a consideration), that the American people will be fooled again by such a play to the gallery.

The Hawaiian people are not contemplating revolutions, and there cannot be any disturbance here which cannot be quelled by a couple of police men, our jingoes to the contrary notwithstanding. The annexationists will have to invent another dodge. Sham revolutions are played out.

THE DOG CATCHERS.

The dog catchers are around again and we respectfully call the attention of the Marshal and his "humane" officers to the indiscriminate manner in which the canines on the streets are seized upon. A prominent citizen, who owns several highbred hunting dogs, has sent us a communication which unfortunately is couched in such language that it cannot be interpreted even through the use of Webster's "French" dictionary. Three dogs, for which taxes for 1897 had been paid and having the tags on their collars, were seized this morning by the dog catchers and "arrested." The treatment of dogs by lassoing them and hoisting them into the air by a rope, ending in a running noose around their necks, should have the earliest attention of the "humane" society. The landing of the captured, half choked dogs in the "dog ambulance" among a lot of mangy and scabby curs is an outrage that no owners of well-bred dogs should tolerate. If the aristocratic Marshal is allowed to treat dogs, for which taxes have been paid, in the manner as now is done without a protest, we may expect shortly to see tax collectors armed with lassoes running amuck in the streets and dragging people by their necks to the Police Station and thereafter inspect their tax receipts and release them with a kick, after having held them for hours among humane leprous curs. Owners of valuable dogs for which taxes have been paid should call a meeting at once and take joint action against the outrageous actions of the Marshal's dog catchers. The society for the protection of animals should give Paine's mules and the town "cats" a rest and look after the welfare of the dogs. Above all the time has come for the taxpayers to show to the police officials that they are the servants and not the masters of the People.

The Usual Fakes.

The Advertiser states this morning, that Deputy Marshal Hitchcock through a "misunderstanding" entered a nolle pro's last Saturday in the case of P. Mau, the electrician of the Australia, whose arrest for profanity with surrounding circumstances has created a great deal of comment. The official organ adds that Mr. Mau was re-arrested by special order of the Marshal who presumably had disavowed the action of his deputy in this case.

Inquiries at the District Court proved that the Advertiser story which reflected unpleasantly on the authority of the Deputy Marshal, was absolutely without foundation, and the authorities are at a loss to find the author of the fake.

Another "story" was published in the same issue in regard to the Kausi murder case. The Advertiser states that: "Mr. Robertson moved for an order of the Court to consult with his clients. He said that he had not been allowed to do so."

The statement is a fake. Mr. Robertson desired to have access to the witnesses in the case held in custody by the Government, and he intends to make a motion to that effect. He has never had any difficulties in meeting his clients.

The official organs ought to be a little more careful in their reports of facts. A great deal of harm can be done by incorrect reports of the official doings of the authorities by official organs.

The Regiments withdrew from the football game on Saturday leaving the victory with the Town.

Fine Property for Sale

On Saturday next J. F. Morgan has a most desirable piece of property to sell by public auction. It is on the left hand side of Nuuanu Street, just above Vineyard Street, and comfortably located off the main street with a 12-foot approach to it from Nuuanu Avenue. It is a cozy nest-like spot and surrounded on three sides by the property of Mrs. T. R. Foster and on the other by that of James Campbell. It is a most desirable location for a quiet family mansion, away from the noise of the street cars and traffic, or for first-class and respectable tenement houses or for a permanent investment as it is in a very fashionable locality and well surrounded.

According to the Hawaii Herald C. S. Desky is about to build a charming hotel at the beautiful Rainbow Falls near Hilo. This would be a grand scheme for it is an ideal spot for landscape views, and the pool is an excellent one for strong swimmers; providing they do not approach too closely the undertow of the Falls, for then there is danger.

AT CYCLOMERE

A Brilliant Ounce of a Successful Season.

That the management of Cyclomere have well gauged the popular taste and dealt honestly with the people, was conclusively proved by the immense gathering on Saturday evening which eclipsed all former attendances by some hundreds. Probably nearly one-seventh of Honolulu's population was present and a safe estimate would be from 3000 to 4000 seated and standing in the vicinity.

Princess Kaiulani with ex-Governor Cleghorn and a number of friends occupied the private pavilion. All rose to the loyal strains of "Hawaii Pono!" as the Princess and her father entered and all hats were politely raised, but there was no improper or indiscreet demonstration at the first public appearance of the young Alii among her fellow citizens; the same courtesies were paid on her withdrawal.

The following is the result of the contests:

The mile race between Tom King and Fred Damon, paced by Porter and Murray, was won by Damon in two straight heats. Time, 2:21 in both heats.

The mile novice race. The first heat was won by Treadway in 2:39 2/5. Jackson second; the second heat by Cowes in 2:45 and the final heat by Lloyd in the slow time of 3 minutes.

The mile open, professional, was won by Sharrick in 2:36 with Jones second paced by Harvey and Lishman, Jones, Sylva and Sylvester fell and lost their opportunities having got foul of the tandem.

The half mile for Orientals was won by Ed Kong with Ozawa second in 1:22:54.

The mile amateur, handicap, was won by Arthur Giles in 2:28 2/5, the handicaps after his previous gallant races being too much for Damon who struggled splendidly.

The two-thirds mile handicap for professionals brought out an excellent race, and was won by Whitman with 50 yards start, with Sharrick second, in 1:29 4/5.

In the lowering of records all were successful. Sharrick made the local record of 37 1/5 for the one-third; Sylvester made 39 3/5 which was subsequently beaten by Sylva with 39 flat and Henry Giles beat his brother's record of 40 4/5 by 40 1/5. Trilby amused the spectators by some very excellent performances.

Frawley Sale.

The coming season of the Frawley Company certainly looks as though it is an assured success, judging from the good sale they have had to-day for the single performance. The opening play, Thursday night, Nov. 25th, will be "Christopher Jr.," which is said to be one of the best, if not the best, of the many plays produced this season by the Frawley Company. In choosing it for the initial performance, the management have undoubtedly done wisely, as it is a most charming and delightfully artistic comedy, into which is woven with great skill an interesting love tale. Mr. Frawley carries special scenery for this and his other plays, and the staging of them will be in every detail identically the same as was given at the Columbia Theatre, and for which he received so much praise from the press of San Francisco.

These so-called certificates were proved to be fraudulent, and were repudiated by the Chinese Government. The Collector of the port of San Francisco stopped the "Canton certificate" frauds as soon as possible. He refused to accept the certificates as prima facie evidence, and so forced the Chinese to either remain on the ships that brought them and return to China, or to sue out writs of habeas corpus and try their luck in the Federal courts. This procedure taught the people of the Pacific Coast, and particularly of California, some tricks that they had never dreamed of.

A transcript of the proceedings of the United States courts in the city of San Francisco, for one day only would be a valuable contribution to this attempt to show just what may be expected, nay, what will occur at Honolulu, in the event of the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands. Day and night the Judges of the many Federal courts, for a period covering months, listened to wholesale perjury. The Canton certificate episode, which was the first organized attempt to break through the thin barrier of the first operative restriction act, led to two general conclusions. The first was the enactment of a second law, also aiming to keep the Chinese out of the country who were not entitled to enter; the second was the establishment of a basis upon which, in a period of a few years, 20,000 Chinese, by the practice of unparalleled frauds, managed to make their way into the port of San Francisco, by the use of the writ of habeas corpus.

That stream would still be flowing, unabated, had not there been an honest United States commissioner on the bench, to whom all the cases were referred after the pressure upon the courts became so great that they could no longer hear them, and who so thoroughly investigated the cases before him that the habeas corpus was no longer a favorite instrument in the hands of the Chinese with which to get surreptitiously into the labor market of the United States by way of San Francisco.

But before this phase of the Chinese question had been reached the Chinese had learned the lesson which they have availed themselves of ever since. Even before, because of two laws being ineffectual to stop frauds, it was necessary to pass a third, the last named being the exclusion act, the tide of Chinese began to drift more strongly to the north of San Francisco. First Chinese went there ostensibly "in transit," but really to break into the country over the northern border. At first they were few. Then they were many. Now Colonel Scharff finds the frauds of such startling proportions in the north that he resigns to escape being connected with a farce, as he says.

In the period when habeas corpus was daily invoked, and many times daily, the possibilities for crooked customs officials to make large amounts of money by admitting Chinese on marked certificates, the certificates having being marked by confederates in China; by being parties to the sending abroad of large blocks of certificates which would entitle the Chinese possessors to enter the United States upon presentation of the same; by landing Chinese by stealth, blackmail and by many crooked devices, were fully developed.

A golden rain fell upon certain white men, some of whom have since acknowledged that they often made hundreds of dollars in a day. Twice was the Federal Grand Jury in possession of a great array of facts pointing unmistakably at great frauds. Twice did the Grand Jury act. Finally the Chinese learned a lesson which will be of the greatest value to them if the Hawaiian Islands are annexed, and of the correspondingly great disadvantage to American labor throughout the United States, when brought into competition with fresh hordes of Asiatics.

That fresh hordes will come, that they will compete to the best of their ability, and that the Dole people at Honolulu are fully aware of these and many other pertinent facts bearing on this most important issue to the American people, there can be no shadow of doubt. One ship some years ago brought to San Francisco over 600 Chinese persons who were found by the Collector of the Port not to be entitled to enter the country. But the Chinese, persistent as they always are, employed all the available machinery to get landed, and the result was that they, in common with other thousands who preceded or followed them, all came in.

According to reliable estimates the vast sum of $120,000 was expended to land that single cargo of Chinese coolies. There is truly a glittering prospect in easy view of the speculators in Honolulu. Whether they had the foresight to see that golden rain would come their way from the Chinese landed when they first schemed to rob the native Hawaiians of their country and government does not appear; but in view of the imposing extent of this possible bonanza and the care which has been taken to throw the American people off the track in regard to it, the supposition is reasonable that it was all in view, in perspective, on the horizon of the golden dreams that were doled out by flattering imaginations of power and pelf in no niggardly fashion.

Anglo-Australian Cricket.

ADELAIDE, Oct. 28.—The international cricket campaign opened today, the Colonials playing in brilliant style. The weather was glorious until noon, when a shower fell, stopping the play for half an hour, but not impairing the pitch. A perfect wicket had been prepared, and the attendance was large. Druce and Board were left out of the English eleven.

Lyons, who captained the South Australian team, won the toss, and deciding to bat, accompanied Darling to the crease. The latter, who took the first over from Richardson, was caught second ball. Hill's arrival, however, stemmed the tide of disaster, and Lyons began to force the play, an example which was followed by the successive batsmen. The Englishmen, though still a little stiff from the sea voyage, fielded splendidly, and were kept leather hunting throughout the day. Lyons displayed his old dash, and young Hill's was one of the finest of his many fine innings, being faultless in style, and he never gave a chance. He scored all round the wicket Jarvis, too, showed fine form, and the two completely mastered the tiring bowlers, piling on the runs at a great rate. The full bowling strength of the visitors was repeatedly and ineffectively tried, Richardson and Hearne each captured two wickets, and Hirst the fifth. Storer behind the wickets, fulfilled the high reputation he brought to the colonies. When the stumps were drawn for the day South Australia had lost 5 wickets for 361 runs. The following are the scores:

SOUTH AUSTRALIA—First Innings.

Darling	0
Hill, not out	200
Lyons	36
Reedman	22
W. Giffen	13
Evaas	20
Jarvis, not out	66
Extras	4
Total for 5 wickets	361

NOT ON THE TICKET.

A sensation was sprung at the Central Committee headquarters yesterday afternoon by the announcement that there had been an omission in the ticket filed and consequently the entire ticket would be illegal. After working everybody up to fever heat the member making this announcement stated that the omission consisted in the failure to include Rainier Beer on the list of candidates for popular favor. Rainier Beer, however, does not need to be on any ticket, as it was long ago voted to be the best beer made on the coast. Criterion Saloon
