GOOD OUTLOOK ON HAWAII

Inspector Townsend Return From Big Island.

SCHOOLS IN GOOD ORDER.

TESTING SUGAR GROWING AT HIGHER ALTITUDES THAN BEFORE.

Government School at Oloa Over-Crowded and Entirely Inadequate to the Needs of the People.

Inspector-General Townsend, who has just returned from a trip of inspection on the island of Hawaii, reports that he began his work at Kailua. The schools there are reported to be in about their usual condition.

"When I was at Kailua," said Mr. Townsend, "the neighborhood was considerably excited about the strikes on the sugar plantations. Otherwise than for labor trouble, I do not think the outlook for the plantations at all bad. I found, however, that there was but little work for me to do in the region of Kailua and, consequently, I passed over to South Kona. There is considerable new life there, and all are interested in present sugar cane."

"Mr. W. R. Castle, who owns the lands of Kalahiki and Hookena, has been contracting with shareholders of the region to buy such cane as they may grow within the next year or two. The result is that the small landholders are becoming planters. I saw many holdings in sugar running from one to twenty acres. Mr. Castle is himself planting a good deal at Kalahiki, the site of the old Morgan & McStocker coffee plantation.

"On this land I saw some of the best coffee and also some of the best sugarcane I have seen for a long time. This sugarcane is inducing a large number of Hawaiians to move from their present homes on the beach to the higher lands. Of course, this interferes to some extent with the attendance at the school at Hookena, and it may be necessary to remove the school house to the upper road in the near future."

"From here I crossed over into Kau. This district is recovering from the drought, which did so much damage, and everything now appears to be prosperous. The chief injury done by the dry weather was to the stock ranches. Cattle generally looked thin, but as the grass was getting good when I left, cattle were in a fair way to get along well."

"Crops on the higher levels do not seem to have suffered from the drought at all. Mr. C. M. Wallon, manager of Pahala plantation, told me he had recently taken off a crop averaging six tons to the acre from a field at an elevation of 2850 feet. This is the highest elevation yet recorded as far as I know. Such a crop is certainly very gratifying and, if typical, will add greatly to the sugar-producing area of the islands. A company of planters has already cleared and planted a field higher up than this."

"The schools of the Kau district were in as good a condition as I ever saw them. From Kau I went to the volcano and down to Oloa. In this region there is perhaps the greatest change in the shortest time that has ever been seen during the industrial development of the Hawaiian Islands."

"Mr. Peter McRae told me they had already plowed 5500 acres of cane land at Oloa, and in a short time hoped to have 500 acres more ready for planting. The Oloa cane looks well and the land seems to me to be all right. Some people are planting at a higher level than the plantation proper, and their cane looks well. If it proves to be the case that cane will grow in Oloa at a level as high as in Kau, there is land enough now above the Oloa plantation to make another as large."

"There is a lot of land in the neighborhood of our largest Oloa school, which was originally laid out for native homesteads, but which has not yet been disposed of. It seems to me that it would be judicious to set aside a portion of this land for the use of the schools for planting sugarcane."

"It seems that away back in the '50s the children of the public schools were encouraged to go into agriculture and to work for gain under the instructions of their teachers. This method was carried on so successfully that the product of such enterprises, in many cases, exceeded the salary of the teacher. Another effort in the same line was made about the '70s, but at that time the day of big plantations was on. Men had centered their interests in sugar, and this was to be produced by low-grade labor from Asia or elsewhere. Interest in the matter, therefore, waned and the experiment in this direction came to a standstill."

"The present seems to me to be an opportune time for reviving such an enterprise. The contract-labor system is gone, and the popularity of coolie labor has probably gone with it. I hope now that agricultural labor will rise to something like its own true dignity in the minds of the people."

"This seems to be the best time possible for the schools to do their part towards turning the eyes of the people towards the cultivation of the soil. Plantation managers are more inclined than ever before to give the small planter favorable terms.

"The Government school at Oloa is naturally overcrowded, and is at all times inadequate to the needs of the present population. From Oloa I went to Pohaiki, passing through the lands of the new Puna plantation. This enterprise is developing slowly, but more or less surely. The faith of the promoters in the plantation is evident from the fact that no stocks have been offered for sale and that none is likely to be sold. The plantation will remain the private property of a few individuals for the present."

"I made a hasty trip to the little town of Kohala, where there is considerable interest being felt in the development of an artesian-well water supply to be used in a larger scheme of irrigation for all the lands down to the sea. Heretofore, these lands have been too dry to produce good crops of cane, and large areas have, consequently, never been cultivated. The outlook for the plantation at all bad, smirchings of the political pot. At one place I was called upon to assist in the organization of the Republicans. Although it is my intention to do all that I can to keep politics out of our school work, I was prevailed upon to take this much part in the organization of good government in Hawaii."

BELIEVE THEY SHOULD MARRY.

What Holyoke School Principals Must Do in Order to Retain Positions—All Engaged Now.

HOLYOKE, Mass., June 3.—The Holyoke School Board does not propose to be accused of discouraging matrimonial advancement. In fact, it has just taken a step that will lead several couples to the altar soon, or the possible grooms will be out of work. A few days ago members of the board made a tour of several school buildings to inspect the work and ascertain how pupils and teachers were getting along. In two buildings there were bachelor principals, while in the third was a young principal fresh from college. After the members of the board had explored the buildings where one of the bachelors taught and had questioned the principal closely, Committeeman Carmody, who acted as spokesman, said:

"The committee is very well pleased with the way you have carried on the work last year, but there is one thing that we feel about me impressed upon you, and the position you take in the matter will determine to a considerable extent your continued services here. To be frank with you, it is the wish of the members that you marry. We have decided to make a rule that all principals of grammar schools shall hereafter be married, as we believe better results can be attained."

The two bachelors and young college graduate are now all engaged, and will be reappointed if they carry out their intentions to get married.

ENGLAND TO PUSH HER TRADE.

Plans to Have the Government Agents in All Parts of the World Aided by House.

LONDON, June 3.—The British Government is about to launch a comprehensive system of inquiry into the best means of developing the country's foreign trade. The inquiry will be made under the direction of the Board of Trade. It is planned to have Her Majesty's ambassadors, ministers and consuls furnish the merchants and manufacturers at home information which British tradesmen can turn to account. Records will be kept not only of market fluctuations and conditions of supply and demand, but also of detailed facts relative to tariffs, weights and measures, rates of exchange, interest, freights and insurance, credit systems and price lists of every conceivable commodity in which England competes with other nations. It is also planned to establish in London a great museum of commercial samples from all parts of the world, similar to the institution existing in Philadelphia.

Coincident with the foundation of this information bureau, the Foreign Office announces the appointment of four "ambassadors of commerce," who are to be stationed at important foreign trade centers for the purpose of answering questions on commercial matters. Russia, the United States, Switzerland and Central America are the first countries to be invaded by these new agents. In the American republic Mr. E. Seymour Bell is going to Chicago.

If English tradesmen generally avail themselves of the new system it will be extended until it embraces every land touched by British merchant ships. The commercial concerns of London, however, are not united in approval of the scheme, which the critics call paternalistic, declaring that the Government has no right to furnish to everybody information, the prior exclusive possession of which often is the individual competitor's sole hope of profit.

The schools have been open but one day this week.

The Punahonua seniors gave a dance at the "Castle Memorial Home" last evening, which was well attended.

Hereafter letters mailed on steamers must be enclosed in stamped envelopes purchased at the Post office.

The complete outfit for the new market, which will be located in the Waverly Block on Bethel street, will be here in about two months.

WILL MAKE BRICK HERE

Tests by the Home Company Have Been Successful.

TO ERECT TEN NEW KILNS.

TWO TO BE FIXED IMMEDIATELY WITH LARGE CAPACITY.

Experiments Have Shown that Good Building Brick Can be Produced in Honolulu—Means Much.

The new Honolulu Brick Company, which has its kilns on the Nuuanu valley road leading to the Falls and above the residence of F. A. Schaefer, has everything in readiness for the first big run next week.

It will be remembered that experiments were made some time ago with the beds of clay found in that locality, and the fact clearly demonstrated that the clay would make good brick. A small kiln was erected and a lot of bricks turned out. These were submitted to severe tests and found to answer all the requirements of the builders.

Two large kilns have recently been erected, and on Monday next the company will start in on the first big run of half a million bricks. All of these will be utilized by the company as fast as burned in erecting necessary buildings for its own convenience. Eight more kilns are to be constructed at once, and when they are completed the company will be in a condition to help supply the local demand.

Questioned by a Republican reporter as to the future capacity of the works, one of the heaviest stockholders in the enterprise said yesterday:

"With the test kilns we shall erect at once we shall be enabled to turn out about 25,000 bricks per day, and our daily output will make a respectable kiln. The beds of clay in the vicinity of the works, which we already control, will last us a long time at that rate, and in the meantime we are looking out for more. Indeed, I may say that we have found several large deposits. For obvious reasons, I cannot inform you of their exact whereabouts, but they are within a reasonable distance from the city."

"There is plenty of clay to be found near Honolulu, such as it is, but it is only certain kinds that will do for brickmaking. Most of the clay I have examined here contains too much alluvial matter or common soil. There is also to be found several deposits of kaolin or pottery clay, samples of which have been sent by Dr. Walter Maxwell to the Paris Exposition. These deposits of kaolin will some day be of great value, as the European manufacturers are always on the lookout for them, and more especially, for new kinds. Dr. Maxwell's researches and experiments on the soils of Hawaii are of particular interest to us, as you may readily imagine, and the exhibit he has sent to Paris and which, I believe, is included in that of the United States Commissioner of Agriculture, will undoubtedly attract much attention from pottery men in England and on the Continent."

It was also ascertained from further questioning that there is no further doubt about the bricks made by this concern being durable and able to stand the requisite pressure in heavy walls. It is almost impossible to import brick from California fast enough to supply the local demand, which will increase in an enormous ratio when the present fire limits are extended by the next Legislature and the rebuilding of Chinatown permitted.

Stamps on Certificates.

The internal revenue stamp on all transfers of stock in addition to the regular Hawaiian stamp tax is causing a great deal of complaint. One large plantation agency, it is stated, has refused to transfer or issue any more stock until it is decided positively if the two stamps are required. The Hawaiian Government stamp is 20 cents on each $100 face value, and the war tax is 2 cents on each $100 valuation or fraction thereof. This double sum is thought excessive, and in a very short time the matter will be settled. The United States internal revenue officials say that the Hawaiian tax is illegal, but, of course, they have nothing to do with it. Attorney-General Dole says it is not illegal and that the stamps must stand.

Notaries Public.

Chief Justice Frear gave an audience to a number of notaries public yesterday morning who were anxious to hear his interpretation of the organic law as affecting them and their official duties. The Chief Justice said that the Supreme Court had already ruled in a former case that notaries were included in the word "officers" as used in the former constitution and in the new Territorial act, and, therefore, the provisions of the act relating to officers would apply to them.

Under these provisions, which Judge Frear read and explained, he ruled that it was necessary for all notaries desirous of continuing as such to take and subscribe a new official oath, which can be done in the Chief Justice's office at the Judiciary building.

As to their requiring new commissions from the Governor, the Chief Justice said that all officers should continue to hold their offices until the end of the first session of the Territorial Senate, when they would expire by limitation unless renewed. As to changing the form of their seals from "Hawaiian Islands" to "Territory of Hawaii," the judge held that to be a matter of preference as long as the notaries acted under their old commissions. The wording of all certificates granted by notaries hereafter, however, should be changed to conform to the new conditions.

Amusements.

A good performance of "Fra Diavolo" was given to a fair house last night. Mr. Arnold, who fills Mr. Baker's place during the sickness of the latter, acquitted himself creditably. Mr. Wolf appears to be growing in favor with Honolulu audiences, his humor possessing the delightful merit of never seeming to grow stale. Mr. Goff, who, by the way, sang the Count really magnificently last night, displayed more dramatic ability than before, and is growing much easier in the part of the robber chieftain. Miss Ladd was in good voice, and the whole performance is going smoothly and well and should draw a crowded house to-night.

With the ten kilns to be constructed at once, and when they are completed the company will be in a condition to help supply the local demand.

ADOPTS POLICY OF EXPULSION.

Austria to Impose Severe Measures Upon Former Citizens Who Return as Naturalized Americans.

VIENNA, June 1.—The Austrian Government, apparently, has adopted the settled policy of expelling on their return to the country all naturalized American citizens of Austrian birth, who according to the authorities' inference, have emigrated for purposes of escaping military service. There can be no question that the military authorities are concerned over the emigration of eligible youths, and they intend to adopt every possible means of discouraging such emigration. Among many instances that have arisen within the last 12 months, the following is important as illustrating the situation:

Adolph Fischer, a clerk in Cook's tourist agency at Vienna, was born in Germany, but was brought to Vienna at the age of 4 and became a naturalized Austrian subject. At 14 he was examined with a view to service in the army, but at 21 he was not accepted on account of the immaturity law, though he was required to present himself again for re-examination a year later. In the meantime, in 1888, Mr. Fischer went to Chicago, in the employ of Cook's agency, became a naturalized American citizen, joined the First Illinois Regiment and served at the time of the Pullman riots. Returning to Vienna in 1895 he was absolutely unnoted by the authorities until last April, when he was suddenly summoned by the police and ordered to leave Austria forthwith.

The American Legation intervened and appealed to the Governor of Lower Austria, Count Klimannsegg, who referred the Minister to the Foreign Office. The Government now upholds the police decision, and Mr. Fischer has been ordered to leave Austria within 30 days. He is not liable to punishment to subjection to his call. Moreover, the Ameer is impressed, and unfavorably, by the famine and plague which are scouring the Mussulmans of British India. He is anxious to settle the fate of his country before his death. He believes he may best pin his faith to Russia, and at this very moment he is planning to send a host of likely young Afghans to Russia for military and civil education.

CAPTAIN BOWER'S VERSION.

Tells How a Jap Caught a Chinaman and $50 in a Box Under His Arm.

It was learned through Captain Bowers last night that at 1 o'clock the morning before one of his men heard a noise in back of a lodging house on Liliha street. Investigation was at once made, an able officer on duty found a Japanese and a Chinaman mixed up.

It seems, from the testimony of native witnesses, that stealings have been frequent in the neighborhood during the past ten days. Captain Bowers, therefore, put one of his men on duty. After the Japanese and Chinaman were arrested he learned that the cause of the row was the fact that the Japanese, being out late and returning, saw the Chinaman coming from his quarters. The Chinaman had a box under his arm, which was recognized. The Japanese thereupon grasped with him. While struggling the Chinaman fell from the veranda and was a sorry sight when arrested. The box which the Chinaman hid under his arm contained two purses and $50 in cash.

EAGER TO FIGHT RUSSIA

Japan in a Rage Over Her Position in Korea.

BEATEN BY THE MUSCOVITE

WOULD LIKE TO WATCH HER STRENGTH ON THE MAINLAND.

British Influence Being Exerted to Restrain the Advisers of the Mikado—Czar Gaining Power in the East.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 28 (via Paris, May 30).—Notwithstanding the fact that British and Japanese intrigues have compelled the Seoul government to refuse to cede to Russia the port of Masanpo, the Russo-Korean treaty of May 6 is a victory for the Russian policy in the Far East. Korea has yielded to Russia certain lands on which to establish naval warehouses, coaling stations and an arsenal, and thus the nation has a guaranty of a permanent station from which to overlook and control the future movements of Japan and Great Britain in Asia.

The Czar's ministers are delighted with the skill and energy shown in the last two months by M. Pavloff, the Russian Minister at Seoul, and Japan is correspondingly enraged. The St. Petersburg cabinet and the foreign diplomats here think it quite possible that Japan may even make war upon this empire during the coming summer. British influence at Tokyo, however, is striving to restrain Japanese rashness.

The Japanese Minister at St. Petersburg, however, is seeking to benefit his country's interests in Korea. To this end he makes frequent calls at the Embassy, urging that the Salisbury government should make open protest against Russian operations in Korea and Asia generally.

The Russian Minister of War, M. Kouropatkin, and the war party generally, are jubilant over the measure of success that has attended Russian diplomacy thus far, and urge that the score with Japan should be settled promptly while Great Britain is engaged in the Transvaal war. The present attitude of Turkey and Afghanistan toward England, they say, greatly strengthens the hands of Russia, and they declare that for five years to come, at the very least, Great Britain cannot assist Japan, on account of its own troubles, present and prospective.

The visit to St. Petersburg of the Shah of Persia is awaited with interest. Great doings in his honor are preparing. His Majesty is in bad health, so his progress through Russia will be slow, and it has been ordered, for political effect that wherever he stops the highest honors and the utmost cordiality be shown him. He will pass through the Caucasus and thence northward through Russia in Europe.

Russia's relations in Kabul also are excellent. The present attitude of the Ameer toward England is a source of grave worry to the Downing-street officials, especially the fact that Abdurrahman Khan has not only permitted, but invited, the advance of Russian troops to his frontier. While British trade in Afghanistan is languishing, the trade of Russia is constantly improving, and the Ameer is inclined to establish permanent commercial stations in Russia, while Russian agents swarm in Afghanistan.

Russia's wise tolerance of the peculiarities of Mussulmans in her own borders appeals to the Ameer, who fears that Great Britain aims at aiding the Sultan of Turkey in reducing Afghanistan to subjection to his caliphate. Moreover, the Ameer is impressed, and unfavorably, by the famine and plague which are scouring the Mussulmans of British India. He is anxious to settle the fate of his country before his death. He believes he may best pin his faith to Russia, and at this very moment he is planning to send a host of likely young Afghans to Russia for military and civil education.

DENY VISITS WERE INSPIRED.

Newspaper Declares Germany Did Not Cause Meeting of Military.

BERLIN, June 3.—The Vienna Freie Presse, in a recent article, declared that the recent visit of the Austrian, German and British military attaches at Constantinople to various courts of the Turkish empire was brought about by the inspiration of Germany. The Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung denies the truth of this assertion, alleging that the meeting of the military representatives of the various powers was wholly a coincidence.

It was mentioned in these dispatches a few weeks ago that the Turkish warship Assari Tewfik was being held at the Genoa shipyards, because the Turkish Government was unable to guarantee payment. The vessel now has arrived at Kiel, after a very long trip, in consequence of its disabled condition, and will be repaired by Herr Krupp, who apparently has better means of making collections at Constantinople than are possessed by the Italian.

The spring parade of the troops here, owing to the inclement weather, has been postponed until Saturday.

university and the report of the deputation, which, at Mr. Carnegie's suggestion, had visited the great colleges of the United States and Canada. That report, he added, showed how it was that Great Britain was behindhand in preparation for the imminent great struggle of commercial competition between nations. He eulogized the splendid system and equipment of the American and Canadian colleges, saying it was the outcome of great liberality of the wealthy classes across the Atlantic, and earnestly appealed for imitation and emulation here.

RELIEF ON BIG SCALE.

Dr. Klopsch Surprised at Extent of Suffering in India.

CALCUTTA, May 31.—Dr. Louis Klopsch of New York, who has been investigating famine conditions in India, is now in Calcutta, having arranged to leave for home Saturday. He declared to your correspondent that before coming to India he had no conception of the extent of the famine or its horrors, and has been amazed wherever he has been to see the gigantic scale on which the Government has everywhere been gladly working and the wonderful organization that has been perfected by the authorities.

"This is the greatest object lesson in the way of bearing the white man's burden," said Dr. Klopsch, "the world has ever seen. Every facility for my inspection has everywhere been gladly accorded me, and I have been warmly received. Notwithstanding the immense sums the Government is devoting to relief work, there is ample scope for outside help, and especially in the way of supply agricultural implements and stocks."

THE RAILWAY AN INDEX.

SOME FIGURES GIVEN TO PROVE THE RULE.

When Earnings Fall Away Managers Economize—Railway Building Means Prosperity.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—"There is no better index of business in the United States than the condition of the railroads," said Clarence D. Clark, chairman of the Senate Committee on Railroads.

"When railroads are carrying lots of passengers we know that the people have money to spend in traveling and that business compels them to travel. The larger the earnings of the railroads the more satisfied are those of the merchants and manufacturers who are shipping and receiving the goods."

"Between the years 1893 and 1895 there was a loss of $350 per mile in the passenger earnings of the railroads of the United States. In 1895 the freight earnings of all the roads were $775 per mile less than in 1893. Adding this to the loss of passenger earnings makes a total loss of $1,125 per mile in 1895, as compared with the freight and passenger earnings for all the roads in 1893. Apply this to the 180,000 miles of road in operation in that year and we have a total loss of $202,680,000 for all roads."

"In 1898 the passenger earnings were $49 per mile more than in 1895, and the freight earnings $24 per mile. Last year the gain in passenger earnings was $181 per mile over 1895, and in freight earnings $801 per mile. This gives us a gain in 1899 of $982 per mile over the earnings of all the roads in 1895, or a total of $176,760,000."

"When their earnings were falling away the railroads began to economize and more than 100,000 men were discharged from 1893 to 1895. In 1898 524 men had been re-employed, making a total of 956 more men employed in 1899 than in 1893. Last year the railroads increased their force of employees by upward of 100,000 men, and the additional amount of wages exceeded $100,000,000. During the four years of Mr. Cleveland's second term only 549 miles of track were laid in the United States. Arrangements have been made for the construction of about 59,000 miles of new road during the coming year. The average number of employees is 474 to every 100 miles of road, so that this new construction means employment for 279,600 more railroad men and $280,000,000 more in wages."

Just now the print-paper trust is prominently in the public eye for its combination intends to raise the price of paper 7 cents (1-2-3 cents) a pound. Some of the larger newspapers are thinking of building their own mills as the Catholic newspaper Society of West Germany has already done. That co-operative attempt to fight the trust is working well.

A cement trust is now in process of organization. Its object is to reduce production and raise prices, and it will particularly affect American exporters, whose trade with this country is large.

Elections in Cuba.

The municipal elections in Cuba were to have taken place in May, but were postponed to June 16th, in order that the census might be used as a basis of registration. There is an educational qualification for the ballot, and for the jurate there is a property qualification, while all candidates are watched as regards men who served in the Cuban army. As nearly as can be estimated from the census returns, the number of native Cubans qualified to vote will be about three times as large as the number of Spaniards. As the first test of the capacity of the Cubans for self-government, the elections are of unusual importance.

Business in the Territorial offices went on the same as usual yesterday. Some few changes were made and all official blanks now read "Territory" instead of "Republic" of Hawaii.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW POSSESSIONS

Great Increase in Their Trade Under American Flag.

WHAT THE EXPORTS SHOW.

CUBA'S TRADE LARGER THAN DURING THE PERIOD OF RECIPROcity.

Interchange of Products With the Philippines Since They Came Under Jurisdiction of Uncle Sam.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A Sun special from Washington says:

Exports from the United States to Cuba, Porto Rico and the Hawaiian, Philippine and Samoan Islands will reach $45,000,000 in the fiscal year which ends with the present month, and will be more than three times as much as in 1896 and more than twice as much as in any year of our commerce with those islands, except in the year 1892, 1893 and 1894, when reciprocity greatly increased our exports to Cuba and Porto Rico.

To Cuba the total for the fiscal year seems likely to be fully $25,000,000, against $7,500,000 in the fiscal year 1896, and $24,157,000 in the great reciprocity year 1893, when exports to that island were more than double those of five years earlier.

To Porto Rico the exports of the year will be in round terms $2,500,000, against an average of $2,700,000 in reciprocity years 1892, 1893 and 1894, when exports to that island were double those of earlier years.

To the Hawaiian Islands the total for the year will be about $15,000,000, or five times as much as in 1892, and nearly four times as much as in 1896.

To the Philippines the total for 1899 will be about $2,500,000, or more than in the entire 15 years since 1885. To the Samoan Islands the exports of the year will be about $125,000, or nearly as much as in all the years since 1896.

The imports into the United States from Cuba for the full year will show a total of $35,000,000, against $15,000,000 in 1888 and $15,000,000 in 1897, though they still are less than the average for the reciprocity years.

From the Hawaiian Islands the imports for the full fiscal year will be $21,000,000, or double the average annual importation for the period prior to 1895, and $20,000,000 higher than in any preceding year, while from the Philippines, war conditions which reduce producing and exporting power, the imports will be larger than in any year since 1894.

TRUSTS IN GERMANY.

Conditions Similar to Those in the United States.

BREMEN, June 2.—The United States Consuls in Germany have been instructed to make reports on the development of trusts in this country. Conditions in this regard are similar in Germany to what they are in the United States. The trusts, although not so strong, so large or so old as in the United States, comprise undertakings in a variety of fields. There is a coal trust and there is an alkali trust, and these, like the wallpaper trust and the sugar trust, are exceedingly oppressive.

Just now the print-paper trust is prominently in the public eye for its combination intends to raise the price of paper 7 cents (1-2-3 cents) a pound. Some of the larger newspapers are thinking of building their own mills as the Catholic newspaper Society of West Germany has already done. That co-operative attempt to fight the trust is working well.

A cement trust is now in process of organization. Its object is to reduce production and raise prices, and it will particularly affect American exporters, whose trade with this country is large.

A DEPLORABLE APPOINTMENT

Whether W. S. Edings is genuine or not in his expressions of surprise at his elevation to the bench it is impossible to say; but the Republican can attest to the painful surprise, the bitter disappointment, the shock to the intellectual and moral sense of the community, which his appointment occasioned.

Mr. Edings' character and standing as a lawyer and as a citizen are not such, and have never been during the period of his residence in this community, as to suggest him for a judicial place.

The poor man, struggling and toiling to earn his daily bread in the sweat of his brow and forced at times by a confluence of unfortunate circumstances to strain his credit that he may "make the buckie and tongue meet," may command our commiseration, but a man who will balk every person, who, animated by generous impulses, extends to him a helping hand, that he may gratify an abnormal appetite for the luxuries, frivolities and vanities of life is beneath the trust and confidence of the community and not above the contempt of any man.

It is a notorious fact that W. S. Edings is blacklisted by every tradesman and laborer in Honolulu who has had the misfortune to suffer his patronage. He is not only a delinquent debtor to diverse creditors, but is apparently such without regret or sense of shame, and this fact alone should have been sufficient, and doubtless would have been sufficient, had it been known at Washington to have defeated his appointment to the high position to which occult influences have assigned him.

It is the supreme duty of the Honolulu Bar Association to take immediate action to secure the recall of Mr. Edings' appointment, and it is likewise the supreme duty of every good citizen to back the bar association in what will generally be accounted a painful, but strict, obligation which it owes to the profession and to the community.

WHAT THEY SAY OF US. (From the Advertiser.) The Morning Republican makes a neat appearance. The paper says that it will issue on Sundays but not on Mondays.

(From the Star.) The Honolulu Republican made its initial bow yesterday, and enters the field of morning journalism.

(From the Independent.) The Independent Republican, which appeared this morning contemporaneously with the official birth of the Territory of Hawaii.

(From the Bulletin.) The Honolulu Republican which this morning began, it is to be hoped, a long and powerful career, gives promise of fulfilling all the high ideals of its promoters.

The fact that the method of street sprinkling in Honolulu is to be revolutionized will be hailed with delight by every citizen.

A subject of the greatest importance to Hawaii and one that should be called to the attention of Congress at the earliest possible moment is that of the shipment of opium from the mainland.

United States. The Republican approaches its important task manfully, and at the same time gives proof of its recognition of the first tenets of a successful newspaper—to give the news. In typographical make-up the Republican is neat in appearance and thoroughly up-to-date.

Secret Councils Not Wanted.

To the Editor of The Republican: Sir—Can it be possible that Governor Dole is about to perpetuate that infamous institution, the "Executive Council," under the name and style of the Governor's Council?

An evening paper reports Secretary Cooper as saying that the regular sessions of the Executive Council have been a great source of strength to the Government.

The secret sessions and star-chamber proceedings of President Dole's Cabinet did more to weaken the Government in the minds of the people at large than anything else since the overthrow of the monarchy.

"Present," but Absent.

To the Editor of The Republican: Sir—In the interest of accuracy and wholly without any wish to be captious, the writer is impelled to protest against the Advertiser's very erroneous list of "those present" at the inaugural ceremonies Thursday forenoon.

At Waiialua.

The hotel at Waiialua is becoming a very popular place for Honolulu people to spend a day or two. During the past holidays many folks took advantage of a chance to get into the country.

The Food Inspector.

Mr. Edmund C. Shorey of the Food Department is at work on his report for last month, which will include the usual batch of milk adulterations and butter frauds.

The Census Returns.

The Census Bureau has come to the conclusion that Honolulu, which is for their purposes the whole of the District of Kona, will fall to show 40,000 inhabitants.

The Daily Republican will be delivered to any part of the city for five cents per month.

ALONG THE WATER FRONT

Police Arrest Seven Boys for Sleeping on Wharves.

ALL SENT TO WORKHOUSE.

DIRIGO AND OREGON BEACH PORT AFTER UN- EVENTFUL TRIP.

Latest Vessel Brings Two Thousand tons of Coal for Inter-Island Company—Dirigo to Load Sugar.

Detective Kaapa and a number of his detectives were busy along the wharf-front at an early hour yesterday morning, handling native boys out of boxes in various places.

For a long time these boys have been a regular nuisance along the wharves. They have been wont to make their living by gambling, carrying bundles aboard steamers for people and doing other odd jobs.

Various rather shady deeds have been attributed to them, and, in order to obviate any repetition of the offenses, they were arrested.

Business was not very lively along the front yesterday. No steamers came in from the other islands and the only vessel to arrive was the Dirigo from Hongkong, although a bark, coal laden from Newcastle, N. S. W., was telephoned southwest and will probably be in to-day.

Should the Japanese steamers continue to come and go without carrying the mails the business men of the Territory will be very much inconvenienced, and the dispatch they have been used to in the matter of orders and receiving goods will be hampered.

No doubt the captain of the coal bark from Newcastle that was hovering off port yesterday afternoon will be very much wrought up when he arrives in port this morning and finds that he is just a little too late to avoid the American tariff laws now in full force.

The British bark Ivanhoe sailed for Royal Roads yesterday for received orders. A few days since five of her sailors, learning of the anticipated departure of the vessel, deserted.

The Americans are still anchored outside. She may come in to-day.

Custom House officers were busy cleaning out all of the old "truck" from the Port Surveyor's office yesterday, preparatory to the instalment of new books and papers from the United States.

The Upolu sails for Honolulu and Kona ports at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The charter of the McLain, Hamilton & Rennie Company, Limited, has been granted.

The new company is an amalgamation of the Merchants and Steamship Stevedores Companies and the firm of Hamilton, McCabe & Rennie. The capital stock authorized is $50,000 in 1000 shares.

Word comes that the British American Steamship Company, who have been running the Bloomfontein between this port and Seattle, are endeavoring to get the fine steamer Patricia. The sum offered was $400,000.

THE BARK OREGON. The American bark Oregon, 71 days from Newcastle, which was sighted off Koko Head early yesterday morning, came into the harbor about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

WITHOUT CAPTAINS. The Mauna Ala, which left yesterday, went out of the harbor with the American flag flying. She is the first of the Hawaiians to leave under the American flag.

Weather clear, Wind, Lt. N. THINKS VESUVIUS IS ABNORMAL.

Professor Tascone's Observations on the Recent Eruptions of the Volcano—Rim of the Crater Raised.

NEW YORK, June 3.—A Sun cable from London says: Professor Tascone writes as follows on the last eruption of Vesuvius:

"I am inclined to rank Vesuvius among the abnormal volcanoes, and although my illustrious masters try to demonstrate that a period of longer or shorter calm follows every Vesuvian eruption I am convinced by personal experience that the dynamics of Vesuvius defy every normal law.

The blocks of ejected lava reached a height of 500 meters from the level of the crater. The rim of the crater was raised in this way 70 meters higher than it was before, but since then some of the material has fallen in.

The explosions continued to be violent on the 5th, 6th and 7th of May. On the night of the 7th there was a short period of calm, but next morning the explosions became deafening, occurring at intervals of from seven to ten minutes.

The same day I noticed that the smoke assumed its characteristic form, dark and majestic, and showing the close of the violent phase. At about 3 p. m. the detonations suddenly ceased.

At 5 p. m. I went up the mountain. The smoke and the ejection of stones at long intervals prevented us from looking into the crater, but I explored all the platform of the old crater of 1572, which was entirely covered by the great blocks of material cast out, some of the pieces being of the size of five to six cubic meters.

Lost Gallions of Vigo. Two Frenchmen—Comte de Pradere and Albert Andrieux—have just addressed a petition to the Spanish Government for authority to explore the Bay of St. Simon, in the River Vigo, for the purpose of searching for the gallions loaded with gold and silver which were sunk there on their return from Mexico in 1702.

They base their request on the fact that they have invented apparatus for submarine exploration. Their petition is said to have been favorably received by the committee charged to inquire into the matter, and work will undoubtedly be begun in a few weeks, as the Frenchmen have everything prepared for the enterprise.

It may be recalled that the late M. Duclere, who was President of the Council of Ministers under the presidency of Grey, once organized a company to search for the gallions of Vigo, but although he employed the best of divers and the most approved diving bells, after ascending several miles in exploring the bottom of the Bay of St. Simon, not even the sign of a wreck was discovered.—New York Times.

ARE INSTALLING NEW PLANTS

LARGE PUMPING FACILITIES FOR A NUMBER OF PLANTATIONS. Risdon Iron Works' Agent Denies the Story that His Company is to Erect Branch Works Here.

A late San Francisco paper speaks of the departure of R. S. Moore, vice-president and superintendent of the Risdon Iron Works, for Honolulu, and adds that his principal business is the erection here of a big machine shop.

A Republican reporter called at the office of the Risdon Iron Works, in the Spreckels block, yesterday. Mr. Moore was not in, but Mr. Paulsmeier, the engineer in charge, denied the machine shop story in toto, stating that the present business did not warrant such a proceeding.

Continuing, Mr. Paulsmeier told of the work now being carried on by the Risdon Iron Works in the Islands. "Our biggest job on hand just now is the erection of the mill at the Hoanululu plantation," said he.

"The cane shed has been completed and work began to-day on the boiler house. We will have the mill completed by December 15 of this year. Nearly all of the material is now on the ground.

"We are well along with the work on the pumping plant at Kihel plantation, Maui. The shaft is now down 300 feet, the depth calculated at first. The purpose is to raise the water a distance of 400 feet, or 150 feet above the ground level.

Work on the excavation of the chambers which are to receive the pumps has already begun. The pump has a capacity of seventeen and a half million gallons per day.

"The pump of the McBryde plantation, on Kauai, has a capacity of 10,000,000 gallons per day and will raise this 400 feet. The pump goes into a pit 32 feet deep and pumps water through 1000 feet of 29-inch pipe. The boilers and economizers are located on the surface, as in the case at Kihel.

"R. R. Hind is receiving at Hawi, Kohala, a compound condensing pumping engine on the surface and also a gear driving for a shaft about 50 feet deep. The capacity of this pumping engine is three and a quarter million gallons per day.

"The Risdon Iron Works has 15 construction in the Islands to-day. We have about fifty skilled machinists and miners working for us in the Islands. In about a month the number will be doubled.

"There is absolutely no truth in the story that we are to put up a machine shop here. Our present business is not large enough. We shall keep an office and, as the work comes in, will send to San Francisco for our material and men."

The buildings on the Waikiki maki corner of Alakea and Merchant streets, on recommendation of Dr. Garvin, have been ordered torn down. They were declared unsanitary.

The Daily Republican will be delivered to any part of the city for 75c per month.

Diet and Tuberculosis. An important feature of the "fresh air" system of treating tuberculosis is ample feeding. The sanitarium at Nordach is famous for its requirement that the patients eat a certain amount of food at each meal and take their rest in the presence of a medical supervisor.

Fresh illustrations of the benefits to be derived from an abundant diet by persons who suffer from tuberculosis are afforded by Dr. J. H. Walker, physician to the New Hospital in London and superintendent of the East Anglian Sanitarium. A particularly striking case was that of a housemaid who was under Dr. Walker's care at one time.

The maid exhibited some unusual symptoms. Her temperature would run up to 102 or even 110 degrees without apparent cause and then drop down to the normal level. The girl was exceedingly obstinate and difficult to manage, too. She was so determined to preserve her figure that she would not at first comply with the demand that she either relax or abandon her stays.

However, she lost weight steadily for six weeks and in other respects appeared to be losing ground. She then became alarmed and consented to obey the doctor's orders. She lost off her stays, began to eat heartily and at the end of a single week had gained 25 pounds. Suspecting that there was some mistake, the physician caused the patient to be weighed on three different sets of scales. These figures were fully verified, however. During the next week she gained only six pounds.

She improved in other ways also, and was soon afterward discharged. The girl is alive and well to-day and worked at her old place. Dr. Walker expresses the opinion that the perceptible falling off in mortality from tuberculosis in England of late years is due to the fact that the working classes there are better paid and, consequently, better nourished than formerly.

Long Range Fighting. An officer who has returned from the campaign, in talking over the situation, remarked that no soldier, unless he had experienced them, could imagine the conditions under which the fighting in South Africa takes place. The distances are so vast that both in maneuvering and in action commanders used to the miniature battlefields on which officers learn their work in England are at first completely nonplussed. Men are killed at 2000 yards by musketry fire without there being the slightest indication of the position from which they are being fired at. When artillery goes into action they are even more heavily handicapped. One battery had six horses shot, two subalterns killed, and five men wounded before the direction from which this destruction was being dealt could be found, and then the momentary flash of a gun was the only object by which to judge position and distance.

PLANS TO EDUCATE THE PUBLIC THROUGH DISCUSSION.

An Executive Committee of Thirty to Take Charge of the General Work of Organization.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The organization of the advisory council of the National Civic Federation was completed and announced to-day. The local organization has promoted four national conferences, on the subjects respectively of industrial arbitration, municipal reform, policy of the United States and combination and trusts. After the conference on trusts last September it was decided that its national work could be more effectively carried on through a national body, and to perfect such an organization a committee was appointed, with Franklin H. Head as chairman and R. M. Basley as secretary.

The prospectus of the organization states its object to be: To provide for the study and discussion of questions of national import, affecting either the foreign or domestic policy of the United States, to aid in the crystallization of the public mind, and to secure the settlement of the country in respect thereto, and, when desirable, to promote necessary legislation in accordance therewith.

The plan provides for an executive committee of 30, an advisory council of 500 and a large membership throughout the country, to be composed of representative practical men of affairs, irrespective of party or creed.

The by-laws provide for standing committees on the following subjects: Foreign relations, insular affairs, banking and currency, industrial combinations, interstate and foreign commerce, consular and diplomatic service, labor, municipal government, taxation, civic service, Indian affairs, the negro question.

Franklin H. Head, chairman of the Committee on Organization, in announcing the advisory council, said: "The object of the National Civic Federation, in addition to creating departments to study national problems, will be to provide a national forum by means of which the representatives of all these great divisions of society may come together and discuss the common interests in which all have a common interest. There are many such to-day outside of political questions, the solution of which such a body may assist in an educational way. The meetings will be held annually or as often as conditions suggest and in different localities. The organization will be absolutely non-partisan. That there is a field for such an organization is evidenced by the 500 acceptances received on the advisory council and the hearty endorsement of the plan contained therein."

The date of the first meeting and the subjects for discussion will be decided by the Executive Committee and announced later.

Among those who have accepted membership on the advisory council are presidents of the leading schools of learning of the country, prominent ministers, etc., and men high up in the commercial world. They include the following: Robert Moran, shipbuilder, Seattle, Wash.; J. J. Hagerman, Anacosta, Mont.; Jay L. Torrey, stockman, Embar, Wyo.; Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California; Mayor James D. Phelan, San Francisco; Henry R. Wolcott, Denver, Colo.

A BANKERS' DEFT SCHEME.

Proposition by a Clerk of the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., to Even Up Matters with Uncle Sam Regarding War Tax.

Mr. Clarence Cooke of the Bank of Hawaii has placed on the counters of that institution a substitute for a check and patrons will very generally use the new instrument. If the distinction is to be made, it can be said that the innovation is an avoidance of the stamp act rather than an evasion of the tax levied on account of the war with Spain. Mr. Clarence Cooke brought the form of the new blank from the Mainland lately, and this is the reading of it:

"Receipt.
Honolulu, H. I., 1900.
"Received of the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., of Honolulu, H. I., the sum of _____ dollars to be charged against my deposit account with said bank.
Practically, the rule of action will be: Mr. A. is a depositor with the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd. At the end of the month, the end of the quarter, or perhaps, "between times," Mr. A. desires to settle a number of accounts. Instead of making a check for each amount or drawing sufficient for the whole with a single check, Mr. A. uses the receipt. The checks, being negotiable, assignable paper, require the stamp of 2 cents each and each stamp must be cancelled by the initials of the check maker. The receipt, as noted here, does not, by its form or use, come within the scope or penalty of the stamp act and saves a few pennies and much trouble. The clerks of the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., are naturally well pleased with the device provided by young Mr. Cooke.

Khama, the African King.

Khama is King of the Bechuanaland tribe. His 40,000 subjects are called Bechuanas, because they live in Bechuanaland; but they resent this name themselves, and do not acknowledge it as a tribal term.

Khama is an old man now—lean, hungry and as ugly as only an old negro can be; but he is a very good old man, and in his way has probably done more real good to the cause of the natives in his part of the country than any other two dozen native chiefs.

He will not allow any intoxicating liquor whatever to be sold anywhere within his dominions. He and all his people are strict teetotalers, and there is a heavy fine even for making tchu-ala, or Kaffir beer, a comparatively harmless concoction of fermented malva.

A VETERAN REPUBLICAN.

Chas. D. Loveland, who came down with the Maui Delegation, and did Quiet Work for the Party Here.

Any other man in these Hawaiian Islands of the United States of America claiming to be the oldest Republican party member is hereby invited to compare his service record with that of Charles D. Loveland, who came down with the Maui delegation to the first Territorial convention and who still remains visiting in the capital. Mr. Loveland made many friends in the convention generally, and was exceedingly happy in a few remarks he made just before the adjournment of the body.

Charles D. Loveland identified himself prominently with the Republican party in the State of Connecticut in the spring of the year 1856. It was only the year before that there had been organization in the State of New York. Mr. Loveland clearly remembers the evolution of the old Free Soil party. This veteran bears his years well, though he was an active political worker at the period mentioned, and was associated with such notable leaders as Senator Joe Hawley. Mr. Loveland says he can see Hawley yet as a youngster, just forming character and aspiring to be an athlete and making jumping his specialty. Mr. Loveland has been a firm and consistent Republican ever since 1856. He remarked in his convention address that the sort of a 16-to-1 program or arrangement he proposed was to have 16 Republican votes to each Democratic vote the first time the lines were drawn in Hawaii.

This war horse from Maui has been on that island 10 years without leaving it till he came down here to sit in the convention. Mr. Loveland is now a capitalist, but in his day has been a hard worker as carpenter and master builder.

RECEIVED BY THE KAISER.

New York Veterans Honored by Their Former "War Lord."

BERLIN, June 4.—The president and officers of the New York Kriegerbund have returned here from Munich to participate in the traditional "Schrippenfest" at Potsdam at the special invitation of the Emperor. An audience was granted them by the Emperor before the ceremonies this morning. President of the Bund, the wife and joy he and his comrades felt at being received by their former Kriegsherr (War Lord) and assured the Emperor of a like sentiment on the part of all the German veterans in the United States, saying that indisputable ties connected them with the Fatherland.

His majesty responded briefly, carefully avoiding everything of political import. Afterward the Emperor informally inquired about the personal conditions of each delegate, wishing them finally a pleasant sojourn here and a happy return to the United States, "a country which I esteem most highly on many accounts."

HIS OFFICE IN AN AUTOMOBILE.

The Time-Saving Arrangements of Millionaire Fiske.

Multi-millionaire Fiske's use of the automobile is the most original that has yet been put to as a means of convenience and time-saving. Fiske's residence is an hour's ride from his place of business, and he conceived the idea of putting these two hours a day, devoted to travel, to attending to his business and his toilet, so he had an automobile constructed made up mainly of an office large enough to hold a desk, pigeon-holes and a typewriting outfit, himself, his stenographer and a caller or two, with a small dressing-room attached.

This automobile office is, during business hours, backed up against his place of business, with one end thrown open for an entrance. When he has errands to do or seeks his home the entrance is closed and the motor-vehicle moves away. In route home he continues his work at his desk, when not engaged in completing his toilet for dinner—Motor Age.

ROCHAMBEAU STATUE UNVEILED AT VENDOME.

Embassador Porter Assures French People of the Friendship and Gratitude of Citizens of America.

VENDOME (France), June 4.—The statue erected by subscriptions opened in France and in the United States in honor of General Rochambeau of Revolutionary War fame was unveiled here this afternoon with great ceremony. The city was richly decorated and the houses were festooned with United States and French flags. United States Embassador Porter arrived yesterday, staying at the home of Count de Rochambeau. General Porter's passage through the streets was made the occasion for friendly manifestations. Religious ceremonies were held this morning in memory of soldiers who fell in America.

The unveiling exercises consisted of a speech donating the statue to the city and its reception by the Mayor of Vendome, and of speeches by General Porter and the Prefect of Lot-et-Garonne, the department in which Vendome is situated. General Porter said in part: "It gives me great pleasure to represent the chief Republic of the New World on such an occasion and to be the interpreter of the good wishes and message of friendship which the citizens of the United States convey to the citizens of France. There is a close fraternity between the descendants here present and those who took part in the American Revolution. The sight of the statue will serve to awaken our sense of gratitude and revive our recollection of the treaty of alliance contracted between these two nations when the American Republic was in its infancy. Permit me to express the wish and belief that the ties of friendship so early established between these two great republics and the sacrifices of thousands of our brothers in arms may never be broken."

MARY H. KINGSLEY DEAD IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Woman Who Won Fame and Honor as an Explorer and Scientist Dies in British Hospital Service.

CAPE TOWN, June 5.—Miss Mary H. Kingsley is dead at Simonstown, where she had been superintending the nursing arrangements of the military hospital.

Miss Kingsley was the daughter of Dr. G. H. Kingsley and the niece of the late famous Canon Charles Kingsley. She was one of the most famous women in England, and an explorer and scientist of high merit and world-wide reputation.

As a child she was a student of botany and zoology, and it was in these subjects that led to her first trip to Africa in 1883. She went first to St. Paul de Loand, but was soon tempted out of the civilized zone. She pushed her way into regions never before traversed by Europeans, and discovered valuable botanical specimens, which she took back to Europe on her return. In 1896 she was again in the Back Continent, and this time she made a more extended tour. The results of these journeys were her two books, "Travels in West Africa" and "West African Studies." These are counted among the most interesting and valuable contributions to the literature of African exploration.

It was in the first part of this year that Miss Kingsley sailed for South Africa to join the hospital service of the British as a nurse.

Should be of Interest

We have just marked and placed on sale another large shipment of

comprising, among other things, some of the latest Novelties for LADIES' EVENING WEAR, arriving just in time for the approaching opera season.

French Silk Gauzes

With alternating satin and lace stripe, 44 inches wide, in black and all the popular evening shades—pink, light blue, maize, lavender, black, shot with silver threads; black, with satin stripe and ecru lace inserting; Nile green, lavender, maize, with satin stripe and ecru lace inserting; black spangled, with gold sequins, and white spangled, with silver sequins. These are only a few of a stock too numerous for individual mention, comprising Chiffons, Silk Mulls, Liberty Silks, etc.

Pine Apple Silk

This most desirable fabric we import direct from Japan, and the number of good qualities it possesses is astonishing. It resembles silk in lustre and strength. It is made from a vegetable fiber, and, consequently, washes, laundering perfectly. It does not easily crumple or muss, but once rumpled, it is easily pressed, so that it looks as good as new. In spite of its extreme thinness, its strength is remarkable. It makes one of the daintiest of evening dresses.

Opera Capes

Just received direct from Europe, a half dozen Opera Capes, which, we believe, will be pronounced by competent judges to be the triumph of the dress-makers' art. There are no two of these silks in any respect, and any lady wanting a really chic and up-to-date opera cape should see these at once. They are so few and so desirable that they will be soon disposed of.

Gloves Gloves

We carry the world-known Dent's Kid Gloves, than no better is made. We have them from two-clasp length to 22-button length. We have them in black, white, pink, light blue, lavender, tans, etc. Any one wanting a first-class, perfectly fitting glove, will do well to call and examine the Dent's gloves. Their price is no higher than others, in spite of their superiority.

Fans Fans

Just received and marked a line of the latest in evening fans; no two alike. Among them are some exquisite creations—hand-painted, daintily colored, with hand-carved ivory sticks. No evening gown will be complete without one of these fans. Come and see them.

Gimps and Passamenteries

For trimming evening dresses, we have a stock, very complete, of all evening shades of Band Passamenteries, Silk Appliques, Chiffon Ruffles and Ruching Sequins in all colors, Sequin Trimmings and Applique and a host of others too numerous to mention.

Ladies' Muslin Underwear

Our stock of this is very complete and choice, we buying only of the very best makers of the most advanced ideas and styles.

Shirt Waists

We have just placed on sale another line of Ladies' Waists, in both colors and white, comprising everything that is latest and new, and, what is of some importance, they are marked right. For the benefit of tourists, who come here unprepared with suitable clothing adapted to this climate, we would say that our Shirt Waists and ready-made Skirts of pique, linen, corduroy, etc., should prove a boon.

Gentlemen

We have just received direct from New York a very choice line of the latest in Neckwear. There is not an odd number in the lot. These have been very carefully selected, and will only be seen to be appreciated. In addition, we have our usual stock of carefully selected Gent's Furnishings.

The new microscope will be used at once in the examination of spices and condiments now submitted for examination. Since the arrival of the Australia however, Prof. Shorey feels that he is a free man now and with the fine instrument at command hopes to do some good work for the new government.

The Funeral of Robert Halstead.

The funeral of the late Robt. Halstead took place yesterday from Masonic temple, under the auspices of the Lodge le Progres. The Masonic services were conducted by C. M. White and Rev. Alex. Mackintosh read the simple service of the Episcopal Church over the remains of the dead. During the services a Choir of five voices comprising Miss Juliet King, Miss Frances Van Hook, Arthur W. Wall, W. L. Stanley, sang, "Nearer my God To Thee" and "Just as I am." The pall-bearers were Frank Armstrong, E. D. Tenney, J. McInerney, G. A. Davis, E. O. White, J. A. Gilman, J. M. Oat and W. Wood.

From the temple the body was taken to Nuanu cemetery where it was interred in the family plot.

Robert Halstead was born in Manchester, England, August 10, 1836. He attended school until fourteen years of age and was then apprenticed as a machinist and became a journeyman on attaining his majority. He secured a responsible position with the Lancashire and Yorkshire Locomotive works and was recommended by them to the predecessors of Theo. H. Davies & Co. as a master of his trade and engaged to come out to the Islands to superintend the erecting of sugar machinery. After a three years residence here he became the manager of the Pioneer Mill Co. at Labaina where he remained for six years.

In 1875 he went to Waialua where he started what has grown into the Waialua Plantation of the present day. Until Eva became a success Mr. Halstead individually was the principal planter of the Hawaiian Islands. He secured title and broke land at the Waialua place in 1875. His property amounted to about 2600 acres, of which 600 was planted to cane producing from 1,000 to 1,200 tons of sugar annually. Waialua as the Halstead property was deemed a marvel of an estate. About two hundred and fifty were employed and the little settlement became quite a village. Here Mr. Halstead had a magnificent home and entertained lavishly at all times. He was a special friend and champion of the Hawaiians. Mr. Halstead and family have travelled much of late years. He leaves a widow and six children, three daughters Mrs. W. O. Lackland, Mrs. H. H. Reid and Miss Emily Halstead, and three sons Frank, Edgar and Norman Halstead.

No Changes Likely.

H. S. Townsend, Inspector-General, is of the opinion that the office of "Inspector of Public Instruction" will not interfere with the present office, but that the two will be continued. The newly-appointed inspector, he says, has not presented his commission or authority, but will probably go so in a day or two. In the meantime, the department will proceed upon the present lines, and no changes will be made, unless directly ordered.

Today at 2:30 p. m. the first wireless message will be sent by the instruments of the Inter-Island Telegraph Co. From the two hundred foot pole at the Telegraph Hill station to the Executive building a distance of about five mile the message will be flashed.

Manager Cross and expert Bowden spent all day yesterday getting things in trim for the test. A large crowd is expected to be present at the Executive building to bid on the privilege of sending the first message.

Auctioneer Will E. Fisher is to do the selling and it is safe to say that the $500 offered by a well known gentleman will be raised many points. The sum paid will be distributed to the charity decided upon by G. M. Cooke, Cecil Brown and J. H. Fisher, who have been selected as judges.

The betting is expected to be very lively.

A Big Crop.

There is a proposition on foot to have Oahu Mill finish the grinding of the Ewa crops. Oahu will finish grinding in about a week and Ewa has still a great deal to do. This year's crop it is estimated will run close to 30,000 tons. With the new mill in place for next year's crop, a saving of about 1,500 tons will be made by the improved sugar machinery.

Many Paid.

Tax Collector Jonathan Shaw stated yesterday that up to the present time there had been as much collected in poll taxes as during the whole of last year. He accounts for this because of the stories printed in the local papers that in several cases Asiatics had been arrested for attempting to evade the law. He states his deputies did not make in all over six or seven arrests.

SHOULD BE OF INTEREST

We have just marked and placed on sale another large shipment of MERCHANDISE, direct from New York, comprising, among other things, some of the latest novelties for Ladies' Evening Wear, arriving just in time for the approaching open season.

French Silk Gauzes

With alternating satin and lace stripe, 44 inches wide, in black and all the popular evening shades, pink, blue, maize, lavender, black shot with silver threads, black with stain stripe and ecru lace inserting, Nile green, lavender, maize with stain stripe and ecru lace insertion, black spangled with gold sequins, black spangled with cerise sequins and white spangled with silver sequins. These are only a few of a stock too numerous for individual mention, comprising Chiffons, Silk Mulls, Libery Silks, etc.

Pine Apple Silk

This most desirable fabric we import direct from Japan, and the number of good qualities it possesses is astonishing. It resembles silk in lustre and strength; it is made from a vegetable fibre and consequently washes, laundering perfectly; it does not readily crumple or muss, but once rumpled it is readily pressed so that it looks as good as new. In spite of its extreme thinness its strength is remarkable. It makes one of the daintiest of evening dresses.

OPERA CAPES

Just received, direct from Europe, a half dozen opera capes, which, we believe, will be pronounced by competent judges to be the triumph of the dress-makers, art. There are no two of these alike in any respect, and any lady wanting a really chic and up to date cape should see these at once; they are so few and so desirable that they will not last long.

Gloves Gloves

We carry the world known "Dent's" kid gloves, than no better is made. We have them from two clasp length to twenty-two (22) button length. We have them in black, white, pink, light blue, lavender, tans, etc. Anyone wanting a first class, perfectly fitting glove will do well to call and examine the "Dent's" gloves. Their price is no higher than others in spite of their superiority.

Fans Fans

Just received and marked a line of the latest in evening fans, no two alike. Among them are some exquisite creations, hand painted, daintily colored, with hand carved ivory sticks. No evening gown will be complete without one of these fans. Come and see them.

Gimps and Passamenteries GALORE!

For trimming Evening Dressess, we have a stock very complete of all evening shades in Bead Passamenteries, Silk Appliques, Chiffon, Ruffles, Ruchings, Sequins in all colors, Sequin Trimmings and Applique and a host of others too numerous to mention.

Ladies' Muslin Underwear

Our stock of this is very complete and choice, we buying only of the very best makers with the most advanced ideas and styles. This stock is worthy of inspection.

SHIRT WAISTS

Have just placed on sale another line of ladies' waist, in both colors and white, comprising everything that is latest and new, and what is of some importance, they are marked right.

For the benefit of tourists, who come here unprepared with suitable clothing adapted to this climate, we would say that our shirt waists and our ready-made skirts of linen and covert cloths, etc., should prove a boon.
