Second Congregation Meets

Resolutions Passed Objecting to Union of the Congregations--Rev. Alex. Mackintosh Suggests Worship in Homes.

Bishop Willis of the Anglican Church has created a great stir in the congregation of that church by the announcement which he made from the pulpit on Sunday, that all those who wished to come into a union of the Cathedral parish and the Second Congregation could do so by signing their names in the Cathedral registry book before January 9, 1902. Two notices placed conspicuously on the church doors read as follows:

Petition for Charter.
 Yesterday morning the Bishop filed with Treasurer Wright a petition for an amendment of the charter of the Anglican Church. The petition was accompanied by an engrossed copy of the new charter and was signed by Alfred Willis, Bishop of Honolulu, president; Alex. Mackintosh, secretary; Henry Smith, treasurer; Geo. S. Harris, Vincent Howard Kitcat, Luke Aseu, Edmund Stiles and Solomon Mesehela.

The petition includes certified copies of the minutes of the proceedings of the synod and the special meetings of the Trustees, which give the reasons for the application for an amended charter as follows:

Petition to Treasurer.
 The petition, after setting forth the decisions in favor of amending the charter, at the recent meetings of the Diocesan Synod and of the trustees of the church, proceeds as follows, giving reasons for the change:

"In consequence of the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands by the United States of America, an arrangement has been made between the Ecclesiastical authorities of the American church in Hawaii and the Ecclesiastical authorities of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, whereby the Anglican Church in Hawaii accepts the jurisdiction in spiritual matters of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America.

"Under its present charter, the corporation of the Anglican Church in Hawaii holds all its property to be faithfully applied to the purpose and use of establishing and maintaining the church of the Anglican Communion within the Hawaiian Islands, according to the Doctrines of the Church of England, as the same are explained and contained in the book of Common Prayer and in the form

ELECTRIC WIRES ARE DECLARED DANGEROUS TO LIFE AND PROPERTY

Recommend Electrical Inspector

Coroner's Jury Devotes Much Time to Seeking Information Leading to Cause of Ah Fai's Death--The Verdict Calls for Some Needed Reforms.

Had the wires of the Hawaiian Electric Company, entering the store of A. E. McInerney, and carrying a high voltage of electric fluid, been subjected to necessary and proper precautions, would young Charles Ah Fai have met his tragic death Saturday evening?

This is the question which a picked jury, summoned by Coroner Charles Chillingworth, wrestled with for the greater portion of yesterday afternoon and evening.

At a late hour last night the verdict rendered by Messrs. Charles Wilson, R. C. Geer, Wm. Berlowitz, John H. Wise, R. Kellett and A. P. Taylor, was one in which the electric company was mildly censured, and at the same time suggestions were put forth for the appointment of an electrical inspector.

The verdict read as follows:

That one, Charles Ah Fai, came to his death at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, on the 28th day of December, A. D. 1901, from an electric shock, received from a switch in the store of E. A. McInerney, in said Honolulu, connecting the wires in said store with the wires of the Hawaiian Electric Light Co., in the belief of this jury that the deceased, Charles Ah Fai would not have met his death.

And in view of the expert testimony of the electricians adduced in the case this jury believes that the wires of the Hawaiian Electric Light Co. are in a condition dangerous to property and life owing to improper wiring and lack of necessary attention.

Therefore, this jury recommends that the Superintendent of Public Works appoint a competent inspector to inspect all electric wires in the city of Honolulu, with the power to condemn and to perform all other such acts as in the premises may seem meet.

Listening to Technicalities.
 Throughout the afternoon the jury sat and listened to long technical descriptions of various intricate problems existing in the world of electricity. "Orms," "amplifiers" and "bolts" were bandied about by experts with great recklessness. However, close questioning by the jury elicited much practical information.

The experts called in to testify in the case did not agree in all points connected with the Ah Fai fatality. The switch in the McInerney store seemed to be a subject over which there was much contention. One pronounced the switch a safe one, while another electrician claimed that the cut-off was one considered dangerous to all who are not entirely familiar with electrical apparatus, and Dr. Cooper, the post-mortem physician, declared that the deceased was possessed of a disordered heart. Mr. E. A. McInerney, on the other hand, insisted that his clerk was a lad in good health, and that he had not given any signs of sickness in eight months he had been employed with the firm.

Wires a Menace.
 The testimony of William L. Frazee, superintendent of the Government Electric Light station, and of C. A. DeCue, were somewhat damaging to the Hawaiian Electric Company as each insisted that on several occasions they had found the wires of the company in bad condition, and further that in some instances the wires of the Hawaiian Company were a menace to the public safety.

Another electrical expert, H. A. Allen, claimed that wet weather had a tendency to cause electric currents to leak. He cited instances where, in the larger cities, the lines of electric companies were regularly inspected. Mr. Allen declared that he never heard of 110 volts killing a person. Had water found its way in large quantities into the transformer located on the poles, it might have caused increased voltage over the wires leading into the store.

A third electrician, J. Coffee, claimed to have seen several persons burned with a current of 110 volts. No serious results followed. Mr. Coffee dropped into a technical explanation showing the difference existing between primary, or main wires and secondary wires, of those leading into stores and buildings. He described the process of reducing the power of current sent over the wires, and how it was restricted from the time of generation at the power house until it was ready for the consumer. He examined the switch at the store and declared it a safe one. Mr. Coffee was of the opinion that Ah Fai might have been thoroughly scared in connection with the shock sustained and, being afflicted with disorder of the heart, the result of his contact with the live wires might therefore be fatal.

Superintendent Hudson Examined.
 Superintendent Hudson of the Hawaiian Electric Company was closely questioned regarding what had been done towards repairing the wires in front of the McInerney store after the accident. He flatly denied that anything had been done with the wires, notwithstanding the report that linemen of the electric company had given the lines a general overhauling after the fatality had occurred. Mr. Hudson stated that all appliances along the lines were all right, and pronounced the switch safe and one generally used.

E. A. McInerney related all incidents leading up to the tragic end of his clerk's life. He claimed to be fully aware of the danger attached to handling the switch. The apparatus had been inspected by the Board of Underwriters who found nothing lacking. Mr. McInerney differed considerably with Dr. Cooper in declaring that he considered the deceased in perfect health at the time of his death. He stated that the lad had never been sick a day during his service of eighteen months at the McInerney store.

Information derived from T. Quong Yee, a brother-in-law of the deceased, elicited the fact that Ah Fai was a full-blooded Chinese and not of part Hawaiian lineage as first believed.

General Lineman and Inspector.
 The last witness for the Hawaiian Electric Company was Wm. Carey, the general lineman and inspector. He claimed he had merely inspected the transformer located in front of the McInerney premises after the accident, but had not found anything wrong. He straightened out the wires so they would not swing together.

W. L. Frazee, superintendent of the Government Electric station, was questioned regarding the condition of the lines of the Hawaiian Company as he found them. He stated that he had found several places in the city that needed repairs. Cross-arms required attention, and in some cases wires had lost a portion of their insulation. He was of the opinion that a tightening up of the wires would greatly lessen the danger to life. Mr. Frazee believed that the wires were grounded when the Chinese met his death as it would generally require more than 110 volts to cause death.

Wires Hang Very Low.
 C. A. DeCue, an inspector of electrical apparatus in the employ of the local insurance underwriters, stated that on some of the Hawaiian Electric lines the wires hung very low. He also stated his belief that at least one wire on Post Street was without insulation whatever. He insisted that while the wires are in their present condition, they were in many cases a menace to public safety and life. Mr. DeCue would not pronounce the switch used in the McInerney store a safe one for persons to handle.

In his duties as inspector, Mr. DeCue declared he had occasion to condemn several wires of the company as unsafe, but they had never been repaired or replaced. His testimony closed the inquest and the jury rendered its verdict as printed above.

JURY INSPECTS LAND AT PEARL HARBOR

"Full and Complete" Lunch

Marshal Hendry Held Responsible for Disaster to Mule Wagon--Thoroughly Enjoyable Trip.

The trial jury in the case of the United States against the Honolulu Plantation Company, suit to condemn the company's leasehold at Pearl Harbor for Naval purposes, accompanied by United States Judge Estee, Clerk Maling, Marshal Hendry, Captain Merry, commandant of the Naval station, Captain Pond, Captain Rodman, Judge Silliman, Acting United States District Attorney Dunne and Manager Low of the plantation, went to Pearl Harbor yesterday morning to look over the land involved in the case.

The members of the jury in charge of Marshal Hendry took the regular morning train, leaving the depot in Honolulu at 9:15 o'clock.

Lunch Was Not Forgotten.
 The jurymen rather enjoyed the trip and were particularly glad that the weather was favorable, not relishing the idea of having to do any wading on arriving on the lands to be inspected.

A large and fainty lunch had been provided under the supervision of the United States Marshal and the bailiff. One of the attorneys in the case had suggested when the trip to Pearl Harbor was first proposed, that a "full and complete" lunch be furnished for the occasion. Judge Estee had remarked at that time that he did not know what a "full" lunch was, but ordered that a "good" lunch be provided.

This necessary adjunct to any party of exploration was not forgotten.

Justice and War Together.
 Justice and War rode to the scene of the future naval works in one chariot, starting from the metropolis some little time before the train left the depot, so as to arrive about the same time.

Judge Estee and Captain Merry drove down to Pearl Harbor in a buggy.

The party in the train disembarked at the little station of Puuloa and soon joined those who had come down by the road.

Two large busses awaited the jurymen and others and a few saddle horses were also provided.

The explorers drove and rode from Puuloa station to the nearest point on the boundary line of that portion of the plantation figuring in the suit.

Starting from this point, after some investigation of the junction of lands, and after Captain Merry and Manager Low had pointed out the boundary exactly, the party moved on along the line, looking over the land as they went. The jurymen asked many questions in regard to boundaries. No conversation in regard to values or on any subject outside of boundary matters was allowed.

Plantation Wagons Used.
 It had been thought that busses would be the best things for the transportation of the jury. But it was soon found that the road was in a very poor condition and that it would be hard work for the busses to travel all the way over the plantation without becoming stuck.

Manager Low had partly anticipated this, being familiar with the road, and had ordered two large plantation wagons to be in readiness.

When it was found, therefore, that the busses would not do as conveyances on this particular road, the wagons were summoned and the party was transferred to the large vehicles.

Six sturdy mules drew these wagons and the jurymen found this method of travel much more satisfactory.

Marshal Hendry was in one of the wagons and, according to the testimony of some of his friends, was partially responsible for what happened to the heavy rig.

Four Mules Lie Down.
 The road was in a worse condition than was expected. The big wagons went along all right most of the way but there were places in the highway which were more boggy than usual as a result of the recent rains.

In one of these boggy places the large wagon in which Marshal Hendry was riding became stalled and four of the six mules made up their minds to take a rest, lying down and refusing to move.

Those in the wagon were forced to get out and walk, blaming Marshal Hendry for causing the wagon to sink in the mud. The Marshal weighs almost three hundred pounds.

This half of the jury did not have to walk very far, however, for after they had left the wagon the mules were induced to pull it out of the mud and those who had been passengers were soon aboard again enjoying the view as much as ever and keeping their eyes open for facts to be derived from a close inspection of surrounding conditions.

Judge Estee Rides a Horse.
 Judge Estee, while the plantation lands were being inspected, rode a horse. In this way he was better able to look around and so wherever his judgment directed him in search of information to be derived by observation of the land.

While there was no conversation between the members of the jury and outsiders except on boundary matters, the jurors, among themselves, discussed the conditions of the land as they found them and exchanged ideas on everything pertaining to the leasehold desired to be condemned.

The land involved in the case was carefully studied on its own merits and as affected by surrounding lands. The proposed location of a dry dock was inspected with a great deal of interest and special attention was given to anything which in any way affected the property favorably or otherwise.

The weather remained bright all the morning, all day in fact, and the jurors had nothing to complain of on that account.

All Hands Eat Lunch.
 It was thought at first that the land could not be thoroughly inspected before 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It was found, however, that by noon the property involved in the suit had been completely gone over and that time yet remained for lunch and that lunch could be comfortably consumed and the party taken back to the railroad station in time to catch the early afternoon train, leaving Puuloa about 1:45.

Lunch was spread at the plantation camp, on that portion of the land figuring in the case. That it was a "full and complete" lunch each member of the jury was willing to acknowledge after he had accomplished his share of doing away with it. There was none of it left to take back to town.

At 2 o'clock the jury was back in town, much wiser for their trip and prepared to listen to further testimony and more argument on the matter of damages.

The Honolulu Plantation case continues in the Federal Court before Judge Estee and the trial jury at 10 o'clock this morning.

The jury is composed of the following: C. E. Murray, J. H. Love, C. H. Ramsey, K. B. Porter, Otto Herbach, W. J. Hickey, C. V. Sturdevant, E. Buffandean, L. F. Prescott, A. N. Tripp, J. J. Lecker and G. W. Page.

Salvation Army Tonight.
 The Salvation Army will hold a series of meetings in connection with the watch night service this evening. At 7:30 p. m. the usual open air meeting at the corner of Hotel and Fort streets will be held, followed by a farewell free and easy good bye to 1901 meeting in the hall at 8 p. m. At 10 o'clock a recess will be called and light refreshments will be served to all comers; at 10:30 the last parade of the old year will take place and eleven o'clock will see the commencement of the night watch service, at the conclusion of which the first march and open air of the new year will be held. All are given a cordial invitation to these services.

AMERICAN SHIP LUCILE IN DISTRESS AT SAN FRANCISCO

All Hands Narrowly Escaped Drowning

Her Cargo Shifted and for Some Time Vessel Hung With Her Rail Under Water—Lost Her Foretopmast, Jibboom and Main Top-gallant Mast.

The American ship Lucile, Capt. Seel, 27 days out from Oyster Bay to Honolulu, has been the cause of some anxiety among shipping people along the waterfront. She is safely anchored in the harbor of San Francisco where she put in in distress a few days ago. The Lucile narrowly escaped going to the bottom with all hands during the great storms of the northern coast a few weeks ago.

The ship left Puget Sound on November 25, bound for Honolulu, and from the first was beset by gales and mountainous seas. The gales were mostly from the southeast, while the tremendous swells came from the southwest. Up to December 3 gale after gale swept over the Lucile, causing the vessel to labor heavily. On November 27, while hoisted to under main lower topsails, the ship pitched and rolled in a frightful manner and a big sea boarded her, the men narrowly escaping. The wave had not sooner passed than the men were compelled to resume work at the pumps, a leak having been sprung and three feet of water being in the hold. When the storm was at its worst and the ship was being thrown violently about, the cargo shifted. For some time the Lucile hung with her rail nearly under water and appeared to be in imminent danger of sinking. On December 1 the cargo was righted, but this work was scarcely finished when a great lurch of the ship threw the foretopmast overboard, the jibboom and main topgallant mast going with it. The masts were towed along by the rigging as the ship was forced along by the hurricane, and there was momentary danger of some of the yards staving a hole in the ship's side. The topsails yards were across the rail, and the jibboom and topgallant mast and yards dangled over the deck until some of the men, at great risk, succeeded in cutting them away. All this time the sea was breaking over the ship. Twenty-four hours after the gale subsided the water was out of the hold. Then Captain Seel wore ship and headed for San Francisco. The Lucile will be repaired there and then proceed to Honolulu.

MANY INCIDENTS WHEN KINAU SAILS

LARGE CROWD SEES HER OFF
Hawaiian Band Plays Some Lively Airs—Lady Loses Her Purse—Native Falls Overboard—Steamer Returns for Prisoner Passengers.

A large crowd witnessed the departure of the Kinau for Hilo and way ports yesterday morning with many passengers for the Hilo races. The Hawaiian band went away and, for an hour before sailing time, made things lively by playing a number of popular airs. Prince Cupid, Attorney General Cathcart, Louis Kenake and G. W. Carr, superintendent of the railway mail service, were among the passengers for Hilo.

Purse Lost and Found.
Quite a little excitement, which very quickly turned into fun, was caused when a lady passenger dropped her purse overboard and became very much excited over her loss. While the crowd was leaning over the edge of the wharf to get a glimpse of the disappearing purse, James Kealoha fell into the water with a splash and gave an exhibition of involuntary bathing. Coming in contact with the purse, Kealoha reached for it and, swimming alongside the steamer, threw it up to her. She thanked him kindly for his act which, however, was entirely due to his involuntary bath. Then "Jimmie" went home to put on a dry suit and was escorted by applauding spectators.

Late Passengers Arrive.
Shortly after this excitement had subsided, the Kinau cast off her lines and the band played "Until We Meet Again." Then the police wagon came down Fort street, and was soon on the wharf wharf. Two prisoners were hustled out of it by the policeman in charge, and much signalling was done between the wharf and the Kinau.

Captain Harry Flint of the harbor police was on hand and with his stenographer conveyed the information to the captain of the Kinau that passage was requested for two involuntary passengers. The Kinau steamed back and while the transfer was made, goodbyes and alohas were again resumed.

Waits for Japanese Laborers.
At last, at least so the people thought, the Kinau got away and the band boys grooped on the bridge sang "Farewell, My Love, Farewell." They sang a little too early, however, for the Kinau was not yet off. She anchored about a hundred yards off the wharf and wasted about half of an hour to take 100 Japanese laborers for the Kihel plantation. Two Portuguese women attracted considerable attention by their crying and lamentations. They were newly wedded and their husband went to work at Hilo.

Other Steamers Off.
At the same time the W. G. Hall took up the Mauna Loa's run to Lahaina, Maui, Kona and Kau ports, and called after taking 70 Japanese laborers for Hawaii.

At 5 p. m. the Claudine sailed for Maui ports and the Mikahala left for Kauai ports on the W. G. Hall's regular run. The Lehua also left at 5 o'clock for Molokai ports, including the settlement. The Ke Au Hou sailed for Koloa, and the James Makee for Anahola, Kilaua and Hanamauau at the same hour.

All the boats took full cargoes of freight and large number of passengers.

Well Earned Vacation.
Captain Simerson of the Mauna Loa will remain here this week while his vessel is on the ways. The purser of the Mauna Loa and his assistants will go out in the Hall in place of the regular force who will take a well-earned vacation.

CITY OF SEATTLE IS THE GATEWAY TO GUAM

LONGEST ROUTE ON RECORD.
Mail From Manila to that Faraway Island Goes Longest Way Round and is From Three to Five Months on Trip.

Seattle is one of the way stations on the United States mail route between Manila and the Island of Guam. This may appear a little strange in view of the fact that the distance between the two places is less than half that between either of them and Seattle, but it is nevertheless a fact. Included in the mail which arrived from the Orient via the last Empress railway mail service, were among the passengers for Hilo.

BENJAMIN SEWALL LOSES AN ANCHOR

MAY HAVE TO DISCHARGE HERE
During Sunday Night She Dragged Her Anchors Four Miles and Lost One—Has Ten Feet of Water in Her Hold.

The big ship Benjamin Sewall, which came in Saturday morning in distress, was brought into harbor yesterday morning. In the heavy wind, which was blowing off port Sunday night, she drifted considerably to the southward about four miles and while trying to heave up on her starboard anchor the chain got foul and broke, the anchor and thirty fathoms of chain being lost.

The Fearless went out to the Sewall yesterday morning and brought her into port. There is now from nine to ten feet of water in her hold and the pumping has to be kept up continually. Diver Young went down yesterday to examine the extent of the leak if he could locate it. He did not finish his work and will go down again today.

Before she sails it may be necessary to discharge her cargo unless the leak can be fixed from the outside. A power pump was put on the vessel yesterday in order to keep the water down. Repairs to the donkey engine will also be made while the Sewall is in port.

HUMPHREYS DISAPPROVES BONDS

JUDGE OBJECTS TO WAIALUA AND MCBRYDE PAPER AS SECURITIES.

Court Protests Trust Funds—The Master's Report—Minority Bondholders are Unsecured—Provision of Territorial Law—Circuit Court Business—Probate Matters.

Judge Humphreys declined to approve of investments in bonds of the Waiialua Agricultural Company and the McBryde Sugar Company by the guardian in the estate of Annie T. Parker yesterday morning.

Guardian Alfred W. Carter had reported in his account of the estate in McBryde bonds. F. J. Russell, appointed to report on the accounts as master, was directed by Judge Humphreys to look into the affairs of the McBryde Sugar Company and give his opinion on the value of the bonds as a security for the investment of trust funds.

Attorney A. G. M. Robertson appeared for the guardian yesterday morning and claimed that the investment was a perfectly safe security.

The Minority Helpless.

The attention of the attorney was called to a provision of the law of the Territory relating to mortgages, which makes the minority holders of mortgage bonds helpless in certain instances. A minority of the stockholders would be at the mercy of the majority in the event of foreclosure, although the $750,000 issue of the bonds of the McBryde Sugar Company was fully secured by the property in pledge.

Judge Humphreys ordered the guardian surcharged with the amount invested in McBryde bonds and interest at six per cent from the date of investment. A written decision will be filed later.

The master's recommendation for an increase of the guardian's bond will not be followed, said Judge Humphreys, as being excessive. The amount will be fixed when the matter has been further considered.

"Where a plantation borrows $750,000 on a trust deed," said Judge Humphreys in answer to Attorney Robertson's argument, "which can only be foreclosed by consent of a majority of the bondholders, the minority of the bondholders are without any security at all. The minority bondholders, of which this estate is one, are unsecured. The minority have not one bit of security for their money. The majority are well secured."

Judge Humphreys said the bonds were the same as a good promissory note, but that the guardian of an estate was not supposed to invest in promissory notes, however good they are.

In his written decision Judge Humphreys will show authorities.

The Master's Report.

The report of F. J. Russell, master, is as follows:

"The master's report filed herein on the 12th day of December, 1901, was referred back by the court for further investigation as to the quality of the security of the bonds of the Waiialua Agricultural Company, Ltd. in which the guardian has invested $4,000, and those of the McBryde Sugar Co., Ltd. in which the guardian has invested $27,000.

"In conformity with the instructions of the court, the master has made inquiry and taken evidence, according to the custom and practice of this court in such matters, from the officers and employees of both companies and of others. The evidence taken at the hearings and in connection therewith has been transcribed and the transcript is hereto annexed and hereby made a part hereof.

The Waiialua Bonds.

The master finds:

"1. As to the Waiialua bonds. The capital stock of the corporation is $4,000,000, all outstanding and all paid up. The stock is quoted in the market at Honolulu at 55 per cent of its par value. The total assessed value of the corporation's property last January was $3,500,000, and a large amount of money has been expended upon permanent improvements during the present year. The trust deed which was given by the company on April 1st of this year to secure its bonded indebtedness authorizes the sale of bonds in the amount of $1,000,000, of which $510,000 worth have been sold and the balance of $290,000 worth are still in the treasury of the company. Said trust deed contains the following clause: 'In case of default in payment of interest on any of the bonds hereby secured, the coupons therefor having been presented and payment demanded, should such default in payment continue for the period of three months after such demand, when and thereupon the principal of all of said bonds, outstanding and unpaid shall, at the option of the holders of a majority of said bonds, signified in writing, become immediately due and payable, provided that non-action of any of said bondholders in case of any default shall not extend and shall not effect any subsequent default or any rights arising therefrom.' Said trust deeds convey all of the property of the corporation. Though the property is new, it is well developed and is expected to pay dividends in a year.

The McBryde Bonds.

"As to the McBryde bonds. The capital stock of the corporation is $3,500,000, of which $3,313,880 is outstanding and paid up and $186,120 is in the treasury of the company. The stock is now quoted on the Honolulu market at about 25 per cent of its par value. The assessed value of the entire property of the corporation last January is said to be $1,242,815 and about $750, 500 has been expended since said assessment on permanent improvements to the property of the company. The trust deed given by the company conveys its entire property, authorizes an issue of $750,000 in bonds and contains practically the same clause as to the right to foreclose upon non-payment of coupons as is quoted above. The entire issue of bonds has been sold. The company was organized in 1898, is being rapidly developed and is expected to pay its first dividends in a few years.

"3. The property of the Waiialua plantation appears to be worth about $3,500,000 and to be good security for a loan of $1,000,000.

"4. The property of the McBryde Plantation appears to be worth not less than $2,000,000 and to be good security for a loan of $750,000.

"The bonds in both cases are secured by first mortgage deeds of trust. Respectfully submitted.

"F. J. RUSSELL, Master."

To Qualify as Surety.

The Pacific Surety Company has petitioned the First Circuit Court for permission to qualify as surety on bonds required by law or by order of court, in probate, at law or in equity, in suits or actions and proceedings now pending or hereafter to be commenced in the Circuit Court of the First Circuit. Petitioner is a foreign corporation. The petition is signed by William J. Robinson, the corporation's attorney in fact.

Bill of Exceptions.

By stipulation of counsel plaintiff is allowed twenty days within which to file bill of exceptions in the case of the Kaplolani Estate, Limited, against the Kaneohe Ranch Company.

Court Notes.

Attorney C. C. Bitting was appointed master to examine the accounts of F. A. Schaefer in the estate of A. A. Couant.

The accounts of the trustees of the Bishop Museum fund were approved by Judge Humphreys yesterday, with the amendments suggested by the master.

Attorney Fitch has filed a notice in the Supreme Court in the Kama Kapukini matter, spendthrift, whereby Attorney J. A. Magoon is notified that unless the latter's transcript on appeal from the recent decision of Judge Little is filed by January 4, he will move on January 6 that the appeal be dismissed for want of prosecution.

The suit of Vivas against Silva, in which some old partnership accounts are involved was heard in part yesterday. A receiver's report was read and argued. The court proposed referring the matter to a master. Counsel objected, however, and asked the court to hear it. The matter was finally postponed until Thursday morning, by which time it is likely that the suit will be withdrawn.

HONOLULU, H. T., DEC. 31, 1901

TRADE WITH THE ORIENT.

Of all the wonders of American commerce during the past few years none has been more wonderful than its growth in the Orient. Exports to China which, in 1895, were only three and one half million dollars in value, were in 1900, more than fifteen millions; to Hong Kong they doubled in the same period. To Japan they increased from four and a half million dollars to twenty nine millions; to Asiatic Russia, from a quarter of a million to more than three millions; to British Australasia, from nine millions to twenty six millions; to the Hawaiian Islands, from three and a half millions to thirteen and one half millions; and to all of Asia and Oceania, from $30,434,288 to $108,304,911.

Notwithstanding the rapid growth of our exports to the Orient the field which still remains is enormous and justifies us in extraordinary efforts to capture it, since all the great commercial nations of the world are bending their energies in this direction. We are still supplying less than 10 per cent of the imports of that group of countries of which Manila forms a central point for distribution—Japan, Korea, Asiatic Russia, China, Siam, Burma, India, Australasia, and the islands of Oceania.

With a Nicaragua canal giving the whole country access to that great highway of commerce, the Pacific; with the chief island way stations of that ocean under our control, and with the prestige which the events of the last few years have given the United States in that part of the world, Manila as a point of distribution should, and will, become a door to these great markets which purchase more than a billion dollars' worth of goods every year, a hundred million dollars worth every month. And the bulk of this trade should pass through Hawaii.

If the Home Rulers fail to dominate politics in the Territory of Hawaii, it will not be the fault of the editorial writer of the Star.

To take the edge off the Christmas and New Year cheerfulness and good fellowship, along comes the water-tax collector with a notice to pay up in advance within ten days.

In view of the decision of the jury as to the death of Charles Fial, official inspection of the Hawaiian Electric Company's operative system is necessary. The company will desire this as much as the public.

Hon. Henry F. Fleishman, absconding cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Los Angeles, may be classed as one of the kings of crime. It is now discovered that his defalcation foots up a quarter of a million dollars.

Religion and recrimination are very much out of place in church matters, and members of the Episcopal church, whether first, second or third congregation, should bear this in mind. It is nauseating to see so much squabbling emanating from worshippers of the Almighty. The Bishop is the head of the church as long as he holds his position.

The Republican committee at its meeting on Monday next, it is said, will pass resolutions inquiring into the causes for the miscarriage of the plans for influencing the President in the making of appointments—Advertiser, Dec. 30, 1901.

The answer is easy. It is either because the Republican organization is not represented in Congress, and all candidates for offices are endorsed by the Congressional representative, if only as an act of courtesy, before nomination. Hon. Robert Wilcox has yet failed to identify himself with the Republican party in Hawaii. The other reason may be because plans were made to "influence" the President. That will condemn any candidate. What Mr. Roosevelt needs is a plain statement of the candidate's qualifications, ability and personal fitness. "Influence" will always result in a miscarriage of plans poorly laid.

MCKINLEY MEMORIAL COMMITTEE MEETS

PLAY GROUND IS PREFERRED.

Final Decision Will Probably Aid the Collection of Funds—Committee is Appointed to Select a Suitable Lot for a Park.

The meeting of the McKinley memorial executive committee took place at the office of C. M. Cooke yesterday at 2 o'clock. Complying with a request from the Oahu committee, the executive committee took a vote as to what form it favored for the memorial.

The Oahu committee had offered its suggestion, stating that it would much facilitate the raising of funds if the contributors knew to what definite purpose they were contributing. The executive committee consequently, by vote, decided that a public playground would be the most worthy object.

A committee was appointed to select an available lot for the playground site. C. M. Cooke and J. McCandless were selected for the committee. They will report at the next meeting of the executive committee.

A contribution of $42.50 from Kalaheo, a valley which forms part of the larger settlement on Molokai, was reported.

Present at the meeting were: Governor S. B. Dole, A. G. Hawes, Jr., C. M. Cooke, Rev. W. G. Westervelt, J. McCandless, F. A. Schaefer and K. J. Imanishi.

CUPID'S DARTS STRIKE PUNAHOU

Cupid seems to have found a special field in the beautiful grounds of Oahu College, and lurking behind the bushes, he sends forth his darts at the unwary. Two couples have lately decided to brave the sweets and storms of life together, and although their engagements have been known to the Punahou people, the general public has not been let into the secret before this.

Miss Alice Woods and Mr. Henry Lull became engaged a few weeks ago. Miss Woods is a teacher of music at Oahu College and as an accomplished violinist she is well known in Honolulu society. Mr. Lull was formerly a teacher at Punahou but is at present instructor of mathematics at the High School.

The second engagement is that of Miss Crozier and Mr. Frank Barwick. Miss Crozier was formerly matron of the college, and still resides at Punahou, while Mr. Barwick is the superintendent of the college grounds.

Miss Alice Woods and Mr. Henry Lull departed for Hilo yesterday.

S. C. Mello left Saturday for San Francisco.

J. L. Cooke has gone to Kahului on a business mission.

B. Lichtig will return to San Francisco by the Ventura.

Mrs. H. J. Danford left yesterday by the Kinai for Mahukona.

Mrs. C. P. Hinds will leave by the Ventura for San Francisco.

H. Hauga left yesterday on a business and pleasure trip to Hana.

W. R. Castle, Jr., is booked to leave by the Ventura for San Francisco.

Miss E. M. Chick left yesterday by the Kinai for a visit to Hilo and Hawaii points.

Miss M. Logan was among the passengers for Mahukona who left by the Kinai yesterday.

W. F. Hall and wife contemplate a visit to the Mainland. They will probably leave by the Ventura.

G. Gibbs and wife and child will leave Honolulu by the Sonoma for the Colonies, where they will remain.

HAWAII YACHT CLUB MET LAST EVENING

T. W. HOBRON GIVES FLAG POLE

Yachts Myrtle, Clytie, Olo, Gladys, Hawaii and Marion Set Penants

There was a good attendance last evening at the meeting of the Hawaii Yacht Club, which was held at the office of P. L. Weaver, on Merchant street.

Mr. P. L. Weaver presided at the meeting. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, the constitution of the club was discussed article by article. Hereafter there will be a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, port captain or manager, and two directors. Several names were mentioned for the positions but no definite action was taken.

It was decided that no attempt should be made to build a club house for the next six months, but that the present building should be repaired and a lanai be added.

Commodore T. W. Hobron was given a vote of thanks for his donation of a flagpole to the club. It is 95 feet long and will soon be sent to Punahou. The members are confident that it will be rigged up and flying the club colors on the club land by St. Valentine's Day, next February.

The Myrtle, which made the handicapped race home from Ford's Island in one hour and forty-one minutes, received the cup presented for that race by T. W. Hobron. Penants were distributed to the Marion, class 2; the Olo, class 3, and the Clytie, class 4, in the run down. To the Gladys, class 1; the Hawaii, class 3, and the Clytie of No. 4, in the race around Ford's Island. The penants, as well as the club, now belongs to the boats and not necessarily to the men who sailed them.

After some discussion in regard to the proposed spring regatta the meeting adjourned.

NEW CONSTITUTION ADOPTED BY MEMBERS

MURPHY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Temperance Organization Will Be Out of Debt Before Year Closes

The general meeting of the Francis Murphy Club, which had been called for the discussion and adoption of the new constitution, was held at the club rooms last evening, and the constitution as published in The Republican a few days ago was unanimously adopted with a few amendments, the most important of which is to the effect that the treasurer shall furnish bonds, the amount thereof to be fixed by the board of directors.

There will be a special watch night meeting at the club rooms this evening. The program will consist of songs, speeches and a good social time in general.

As New Year's day is generally known as the time for the making of new resolutions, this meeting has been specially arranged by the Murphy Club for all those who may desire to turn over a new leaf and sign the pledge. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

The election of officers of the club under the new constitution will be held next Monday evening, January 6th, 1902, at 7:30 o'clock.

All the debts of the club will be paid before the last minute of this year is ticked off, thanks to an anonymous donation of $100.

MORE MYSTERY FOR SLEUTHS

THIS TIME IT IS A FOOTPRINT

DR. AUGUR'S OFFICE ENTERED. SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS DISTURBED.

Police Notified and Detectives at Work—Entrance Effected Through Wire Screen—Nothing is Taken. Cabinet and Drawers Opened in Search of Valuables.

Dr. Augur, who has an office on Beretania street, nearly opposite the Methodist church, reports that an attempt was made on Saturday night to rob his place. The burglar or burglars effected an entrance through a wire screen, but nothing was removed, although a cabinet full of valuable surgical instruments, a medicine chest and several drawers were ruthlessly broken open. As no money had been left lying around in the office the would-be robbers went away none the richer for their work.

Dr. Augur immediately communicated with the police and two sleuths were sent up to the office to make an inspection. They took a look around the office, inspected the torn wire screen for bits of lint from the clothes of the burglar as he passed through and made a search of the premises for clues.

"Did the burglar take anything?" asked the sleuths.
"No, but he left something behind him," answered Dr. Augur.

"What was it?" asked the detectives.
"A footprint!"

"Bring it to us at once! No, no; we mean take us to it; we want to see it; we must investigate this matter. Here is a mystery to be solved. Although we are very busy just now solving the Lubeck murder mystery, the Kinau mail robbery mystery and a half dozen other burglary mysteries and some hold-up mysteries, we are ready and willing to run this crime to earth. Let us see the footprint!"

It was still there. It had not moved an inch. Dr. Augur pointed it out with pride and compared it with his own foot to prove that it was not his own footprint.

The sleuths were immediately in their element. One pulled out a tape measure to take its dimensions while the other drew a notebook and pencil to take down the figures as the more experienced sleuth called them out.

Then a small kodak was produced and the footprint was recorded on the film.

draw away from the doctor to consult. "I'm willing to swear it's the print of a man's foot," said one.
"Slowly, slowly, now," said the other. "It might have been a woman wearing men's shoes to put us off the scent."

The two sleuths again examined the footprint. Suddenly one pounced on a little bit of mud which was lying in the middle of the impress.
"Getting warmer," he cried. "See this bit of dirt? Well! This bit of dirt is foreign to the neighborhood. You will notice that there is not a piece like it anywhere in this yard. That dirt came from Kewalo. We are on the track of the villain."

Putting the bit of mud in his purse, the oldest sleuth bade the doctor place a flowerpot over the footprint to preserve it, said goodbye and the two silently stole away to work on the Lubeck and Kinau mysteries.

Dr. Augur says that the man evidently wore rubber shoes, judging by the footprint. The print is under a fern near the office. The detectives are still "running the mystery down!"

RELICS OF EARLY DAYS.

Silk Quilt Made From King's Garment by Missionary's Wife.

A rare relic from the days of the early missionaries is at present to be found in the possession of Chas. A. Stevens, of Fowler, Colorado. It is a silk quilt, made from silk pieces from the King's royal garments which were given to Mr. and Mrs. Ruggles, the parents of Mrs. Stevens, who were among the first missionaries here.

The quilt was made by Mrs. Ruggles and was taken to the States, together with a large number of island curios upon the Ruggles' return to their home.

Blasting at Young's Building.

A number of small blasts were set off yesterday at the Young building to remove the earth and make room for the Waikiki wall. Two Japanese were stationed on Hotel street opposite the Elite building. They held red flags and their appearance made many a timid damsel pick up her skirts and skurry past the place in a hurry. The blasts were small, however, and there was no cause for alarm.

Cocoanuts Are Lower.

A large coconut tree was blown over by the storm at the Waikiki annex the other day. It fell over the main driveway smashing the fences on either side.

BRICKBAT'S FLING COSTS TWENTY-FIVE C. W. MARTIN PAYS SAME FINE.

Nine Japanese Who Use Border Ruffian Methods With Native Are Still in Law's Toils—Noon Whistle Interruption.

The crossing fling given to the brickbat which was sent crashing into the window of the domicile by which sat Peter Barga on Christmas Day, cost the thrower $25, when sentence was passed in the First District Court yesterday morning by Judge Wilcox.

Merlack, who was alleged to have participated in the melee, and caused some discomfort to Mrs. Barga, was fined $5 and costs. Other arrests are hinted at, and trouble is said to still be in store for those who let strenuous arguments get the better of them on a day when "Peace on Earth, Goodwill to Men" is supposed to hold full sway.

The entire morning session was taken up with the testimony given by nine Japanese defendants who were accused of employing border ruffian methods in dealing with a native whom they supposed was a horse thief. Orientals bound and tied Kekahio to a fence post while a drenching rain was falling, then came to the police station and informed the officers that they had captured a bold bad man, and asked that he be taken in charge by the minions of the law. Christmas eve was the time, and the Kamaiihili stone quarry the place.

The story of Kekahio, the complaining witness, was to the effect that, in chasing after a lot of horses which had got into the Neumann pasture, to see if any of the animals belonged to him, he had been stopped by Japanese of the quarry and tied to a fence post. He was accused by them of stealing their horses.

The defense contended that horses and mules had been put in the four stables at the quarry on Christmas eve and that Kekahio had let them out. Nishikuchi claimed he caught Kekahio chasing his horses and mules around and remonstrated. Testimony upon the part of the Japanese was interrupted by the noon whistles blowing their note of warning. Judge Wilcox promptly adjourned court until this morning.

The whole case seems to arise from mistaken identity.

Harold Eddie and P. Hanson were fined $5 each for assault on P. Soriano.

Ten individuals reluctantly pleaded guilty to the soft impeachment of drunkenness. With becoming modesty each sidestepped before the judicial throne and received the regulation penalty.

There seemed to be some existing doubt regarding the extent of profanity touched off by Kaula Kaal, hence he was discharged.

SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES

NEW YEAR'S DAY CELEBRATION

SERMON, SPECIAL MUSIC AND BAND AT ROMAN CATH. OLIC CATHEDRAL.

Receptions at Y. M. C. A.—Watch Meetings at Murphy Club and Kaili Church—Services at St. Andrew's Cathedral and Elsewhere.

The first of January opens the civil year. This has not always been the case. In Europe generally, in the fifth century, the year began on the first of March. In the eighth century the year opened on Christmas Day; in the tenth century at Easter. Christian ideas were then dominant in the world. Charles IX, by an edict dated from the Chateau de Roussillon, in Dauphiny, France, in the year 1564, ordered that it should begin on January 1st. There is something touching in the union of the first day of the year with the holy name of Jesus. That the days that follow may be blessed, the church has marked the first hour with the name of salvation and redemption.

A tradition carries back to Tatius, one of the first kings of Rome, the custom of gifts made upon this day. The courtiers offered to this prince branches of vervain, gathered in the woods sacred to Strenia, the goddess of health, with the intention of calling down upon him her protection in the course of the year just beginning. The offering having brought happiness and abundance in the things necessary to life. These primitive presents were replaced by provisions of all sorts, by clothing, furniture, and pieces of gold and silver. The name of Strenia was none the less left to the more delicate offerings.

Other Gifts Added.

To these gifts of good augury others were soon added of meal, figs, a little piece of money, or a date covered with a light layer of gold-leaf—an expressive wish to the person who received the offering, for by it was shown the desire to call down upon him in the course of the coming year sweetness and abundance in the things necessary to life. These primitive presents were replaced by provisions of all sorts, by clothing, furniture, and pieces of gold and silver. The name of Strenia was none the less left to the more delicate offerings.

BISHOP WILLIS IS OPPOSED

The new order to perform such ministerial duties as a servant of the government holding an important and onerous post is free at all times to discharge.

"You're very faithful," "ALFRED WILLIS, Bishop of Honolulu.

"P. S.—Fifteen days' grace being allowed the new order will not actually begin till after the 15th of January, I. e., on Sunday, January 19th.

"My Dear Mr. Mackintosh: In accordance with the notice, a copy of which I enclose, the license given to the signers of a certain memorial, dated August, 1885, under which the Second Congregation has continued, will expire on December 31st.

After these letters had been read to the congregation, the following resolution was proposed by Mr. T. Olive Davies and seconded by Mr. Efinger.

"That the congregation having heard the notification of the Bishop's commission and through their church wardens recognize the desirability under certain conditions of a union of the congregations, but feel that they can not be deprived of their voluntary act and consider that the reasons for their existence as a separate congregation have not yet been removed."

It was pointed out by the wardens that they had met the Bishop by appointment and then suggested to him that he defer action for three months. The congregations could combine services but their own identity be preserved.

Mr. R. A. Jordan suggested that the wardens ask the Bishop to be acted on a written authority from the Protestant Episcopal Church of America.

Rev. Alexander Mackintosh in a short speech pointed out how various the word "necessary" seemed in the Bishop's communication. It seemed as if there was something back of it. If a clergyman died the living did not die. Willis himself was, when in England what is called "Curate in sole charge" and afterwards he became a vicar. That vicarage still remained today, although Mr. Willis had left it.

The resolution was now before the congregation to refuse to comply with the Bishop's proposal that the Second Congregation unite with the Cathedral. If this took place the church would not be the powerful factor in the community which it now was and another going away from the main body would probably soon take place.

The draft of a letter from the church wardens in reply to the Bishop was then read. Its contents were to the effect that the matter would be appealed to the presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church and requesting Bishop Willis to defer action until a reply should be received to their appeal.

"That the wardens reply to the Bishop by letter in the form presented to the meeting by Mr. Castle."

Vestry Authorized to Act. Proposed by Mr. Castle and seconded by Mr. Canton.

That the vestry be authorized and instructed to prepare an appeal to the Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church against the proposed action of the Bishop of Honolulu in withdrawing or refusing to renew our existing license as a separate congregation, worshipping in the cathedral and the license of the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh as our minister; with full power to the vestry to act in behalf of the congregation.

May Withdraw Temporarily. Proposed by Mr. Castle and seconded by Mr. Keena.

In event of the Bishop refusing to accept his action pending a reply to our appeal to the Presiding Bishop it is the sense of the congregation that they should with dignity protest against this infringement of their rights as illegal; but if prevented from continuing to worship in the cathedral that they should withdraw from the cathedral until such time as the rev. from the Presiding Bishop shall be received.

This resolution caused some discussion. Rev. Alex. Mackintosh did not think that a withdrawal of the Second Congregation to hold worship in another building would be beneficial to the spiritual welfare of the congregation. He thought it a better plan for the congregation to withdraw altogether and worship God in their homes by themselves, neglecting nothing in their worship but the meeting together until a reply was received from the Bishops in America.

Mr. Efinger arose to object. He wanted to go to church and if there was no service of the Second Congregation, there were other Episcopal churches to which he could go.

Mr. Davis replied that the question was not concerning the individual action of the members of the congregation but the action taken by the congregation as a body. The resolution in no way tended to prohibit the members from going to St. Clement's church or any other church in the city.

Rev. Alex. Mackintosh also hastened to explain that the resolution did not desire the members of the congregation to stay prisoners at their homes on Sunday or anything of the kind, but that the congregation as an entity should not worship in case the Bishop denied the request to extend the time.

After some more discussion and explaining of the resolution, it was put to votes and unanimously adopted.

Rev. Alex. Mackintosh then reminded the assemblage of the saving of resolutions which the congregation adopted would effect and finally stated his trust that God would be with the congregation to the end. The meeting then adjourned.

AMENDED CHARTER TO EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Whereas, a charter of incorporation was granted on the 6th day of November, A. D. 1862, to the Right Reverend Thomas Nettleship Staley, D. D., Bishop of Honolulu, and his associates, under the name of the "Synod of the Hawaiian Reformed Catholic Church," and

Whereas, the said Synod did on the 21st day of April, A. D. 1873, petition that the name of the corporation might be changed, and that the said corporation might henceforth be known as "the trustees of the Anglican Church in Hawaii," and thereafter, to wit, on the 7th day of November, A. D. 1873, an amended charter of incorporation was granted in accordance with the said petition unto the Right Reverend Alfred Willis, D. D., Bishop of Honolulu (successor to the aforesaid Right Reverend Thomas Nettleship Staley, D. D.), and his associates; and

Whereas, by the incorporation of the Hawaiian Islands as a Territory of the United States of America, whereby the jurisdiction of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the branch of the Anglican Communion established in the United States of America, extends in right to all members of that branch residing in the Hawaiian Islands, a further change in the form of the said charter of incorporation is rendered necessary; and

Whereas, the said Right Reverend Alfred Willis, D. D., Bishop of Honolulu, as aforesaid, and his associates, trustees of the Anglican Church in Hawaii in their corporate capacity did on the 19th day of December, A. D. 1901, petition that the name of the said corporation might be changed and that the said corporation might henceforth be known as "The Protestant Episcopal Church in the Hawaiian Islands" and that its charter of incorporation might be so amended that it might hereafter have and hold under and by the name of "The Protestant Episcopal Church in the Hawaiian Islands" all of the lands, tenements and hereditaments and all other real and personal estate of the said corporation to be faithfully applied to the purpose and use of establishing and maintaining in the Hawaiian Islands a branch of the church now known as "The Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America" and subject to the constitution, canons, rules, regulations and discipline of the said Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America; and

Whereas, it appears by the said petition and by other satisfactory evidence that the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America does not depart from the Church of England mentioned in the charter of incorporation heretofore granted in any essential point of doctrine or worship or further than local circumstances require; as most convenient for the maintenance and spread of the same doctrines and worship consistently with the constitution and laws of the United States of America;

Protestant Episcopal Church. Now therefore, I the undersigned Wm. H. Wright, with the approval of the Governor, do by virtue of the authority conferred by section 2043 of the Civil Laws of 1897 hereby amend the charter granted on the 6th day of November, A. D. 1862, as aforesaid, the Right Reverend Thomas Nettleship Staley, D. D., and his associates and thereafter amended on the 7th day of November, A. D. 1873, as aforesaid to the Right Reverend Alfred Willis, D. D., and his associates, so that the said charter shall hereafter read as follows, that is to say: The corporation heretofore known under and by the name of "The Trustees of the Anglican Church in Hawaii" shall hereafter be known under and by the name of "The Protestant Episcopal Church in the Hawaiian Islands" and by the name of "The Hawaiian Synod" and by the name may sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, appear, prosecute and defend to judgment and execution any process either in law or equity and may have a common or corporate seal which may be altered or renewed at its pleasure.

The aforesaid corporation and its successors and assigns forever shall have and hold in fee simple or otherwise according to its present
