TRIES MURDER AND THEN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Truschler a German Shoemaker Sends a Bullet Into His Own Brain.

CALLED TO COLLECT A DEBT

Yoshimura a Japanese Woman Narrowly Escaped With Her Life.

Found on Floor in Room in the Ah Leong Building, in Pool of Blood. Jury Declares Verdict of Suicide. Japanese Woman Kept House For Him Nine Months.

The love which J. H. Truschler possessed for a Japanese woman named Yoshimura resulted in his placing a 38-calibre revolver to his temple and firing a shot yesterday morning which caused instant death.

Truschler was a shoemaker, and he has resided in the islands for the past fifteen years. He is a German by birth, and has borne a reputation for sobriety and industry. For many years he operated a shop on Alakea street but of recent date moved his effects to Palama.

Shortly before 10 o'clock yesterday morning the Yoshimura woman called at the police station, and stated that Truschler had committed suicide in a room in the Ah Leong building, located near the Honolulu Iron Works. The woman appeared to be laboring under a great deal of excitement, and was closely questioned by High Sheriff Brown, and related facts which indicated that Truschler had called at the building and at the rooms of the Yoshimura woman, and demanded that the Japanese pay him something like $50 that Truschler claimed was due him.

Love and Money.

It appears that some months ago, Truschler had engaged the Yoshimura woman to take care of his lodgings, and also look after his washing and ironing. His acquaintance soon ripened into a close affection. At various times he advanced sums of money to the woman as they would be requested. Matters went along in this manner until the German had given the woman a sum approximating $350. Truschler claimed he had loaned the woman $60 for a short time only, and that he had repeatedly called upon her for payment or a partial remittance. It was one of these regular visits that the tragedy took place.

High Sheriff Brown soon summoned a jury consisting of Messrs. A. Kuby, John C. Clancy, E. F. Imhoff, A. H. Jackson, Harold Jeffs, and Horace G. Crabbe. They visited the scene of the suicide. Here, upon entering the room designated by the Japanese woman, they saw a man stretched on the floor. On examining his body it was found that the man was quite dead. A revolver was lying on the floor at the side of the body. There was a pool of blood on the floor which came from a frightful wound in the head, made by a bullet from the revolver.

The body was removed to the morgue and an autopsy was performed by Dr. McDonald.

Woman's Narrow Escape.

According to the story told by the Yoshimura woman, Truschler went to the woman's room in Ah Leong's place and demanded that she return him the money. She said she could not. He upbraided her and suddenly drew a 38-calibre bulldog revolver and fired point blank at her face. The ball narrowly missed her, the powder burning her mouth.

Truschler is then said to have turned the gun upon himself and fired the shot that resulted in his death.

In searching the clothes of the dead man, the following note was found, which in a manner is explanatory:

"Honolulu, January 20, 1901.
"On account of the swindling and cheating actions of the Japanese woman Otaro Jesemoto induced me to execute this action. Said woman worked for me for considerable time and I have paid her well, she borrowed besides $60 of me with the promise to pay it back in two months, ten months have expired without payment I demanded, energetically to satisfy me, instead she disappeared one day.

"One day I discovered her in a hiding in Kakaako. I ordered her to the police station to get my rights but what had I to hear. She declared herself a prostitute. The shame is too great for me to have had such a person in my house.

"J. H. T."

Wanted His Money.

It seems that Truschler had called at the office of the High Sheriff some weeks ago and stated that the Yoshimura woman owed him a sum of money and had refused to pay. He wanted the woman arrested for embezzlement. The German also claimed that the woman had been his mistress for a period of over nine months.

An inquest was held at the police station at 1:30 yesterday afternoon, with Coroner A. M. Brown presiding. H. Focke was the first witness. He stated he had examined the papers in the dead man's clothes, and the letter in German was translated, which appears above.

Japanese Woman's Testimony.

The Yoshimura woman was put on the stand and substantially testified that she had been in the employ of Truschler for about nine months as cook and washwoman, at a weekly salary of $3. She claimed to have had trouble with the deceased, and stated that Truschler had not provided food or money in sufficient quantities. The woman declared that Truschler owed her seven weeks' pay when she left his place at Palama. The woman also stated:

"Truschler gave me $60. He loaned me the money on three different occasions. He told me to remain in the room on the day of his last visit, and pulled out a revolver close to my mouth. After he fired the first shot I ran out of the room. I did not know that he had shot himself."

The woman insisted that she heard two shots fired, and was positive that Truschler died by his own hand.

Verdict of the Jury.

Orlo, a Japanese woman residing at Kakaako, claimed she did not hear any conversation between the woman and Truschler at the time of the shooting. She heard the two shots fired.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth testified to Truschler's calling at the High Sheriff's office some days ago, and demanding the arrest of Yoshimura, the Japanese woman, upon a charge of embezzlement. The woman was sent for at the time, but said she was unable to pay the amount demanded by Truschler. The deceased then left the police station, declaring he would collect the debt.

Dr. McDonald testified that the death of Truschler was caused by a bullet going through his head, the same coming from a gun.

In accordance with the facts adduced at the inquest, the jury rendered a verdict that the death of Truschler was caused by a gunshot wound, from a 38-calibre revolver, self-inflicted and with suicidal intent.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Honolulu and Hawaiian Paper Company Holds Annual Meeting.

At the annual meeting of the Honolulu and Hawaiian Paper Company held in the offices of the company on Alakea street, the following officers were chosen to serve for the ensuing year: President and treasurer, J. A. M. Johnson; vice president, F. O. Butler; secretary, G. M. Johnson; auditor, J. Fred Butler. The concern commences its third year with bright prospects.

Small Blaze, No Damage.

The gasoline tank in the rear of a restaurant, located near the corner of Union and Hotel streets, caught fire at an early hour yesterday morning. The department was speedily summoned and the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

Fed the Multitude.

Before their departure for the plantation of the Hawaiian Commercial Company on Maui, fifty or more Porto Rican laborers gathered together by High Sheriff Brown, were given a square meal. The men left Honolulu Saturday evening for the cane fields.

CUSTOM HOUSE IRREGULARITIES ARE HINTED AT

Suspended Inspector Says His Mistake Was Small in Comparison.

REFUSED TO RESIGN UNDER CLOUD

Stir Among Members of Local Force Occasioned By Collector's Action.

Walter Doyle Allows a Chinese Steamship Employee to Come Ashore to Buy Vegetables for Vessel Without a Permit, Keeping Registration Ticket as Security.

Quite a stir has been occasioned among the members of the local custom house force by the suspension of Walter Doyle, one of the day inspectors.

Last week Collector Stackable suggested to Inspector Doyle that his resignation would be accepted, if he chose to hand it in, giving as a reason for the suggestion that Doyle had permitted a Chinese from the steamship America Maru to come ashore without a permit, contrary to the rules and regulations of the custom house.

Refused to Resign.

Doyle refused to resign, saying that his reputation was at stake and if he handed in his resignation it would be thought that he had been guilty of intentionally identifying himself with irregularities in the custom house service. He claimed that he had not been guilty of any intentional wrong and explained to the Collector that the Chinese who had been allowed to come ashore from the America Maru on Saturday, the 11th instant, had been coming to this port in the service of the Pacific Mail and other steamship companies for the past ten or twelve years; that he was a regular employee aboard the America Maru; that he was always permitted ashore to purchase vegetables and other things for the vessel; that, notwithstanding the fact that he was supposed first to obtain a pass from Immigration Commissioner J. K. Brown, at the time that Doyle had allowed the Chinese to pass ashore, he had taken up the man's registration ticket as security, not insisting on the presentation of a pass from the Immigration Commissioner, as, for some reason, the man did not have one and the commissioner was nowhere around, nor was there any one else near at hand connected with the customs or immigration departments with whom he might consult in the matter. Doyle said that he was in charge of the gangway at the time and was not able to leave his post to communicate with the department.

Was Always Allowed Ashore.

Doyle told the Collector that he was not aware that any term was being done, since he held the registration ticket of the Chinese as security and the man had invariably been allowed ashore every time he came to this port. He was known by every person in the employ of the custom house and the immigration bureau. The Chinese had returned to the ship and, to the best of Doyle's knowledge and belief, is now aboard the vessel.

Collector Stackable informed Doyle that if he did not choose to tender his resignation, his suspension would follow immediately. Doyle refused to resign under a cloud and the Collector suspended him, subject to the approval of the Treasury Department.

Doyle Retains Counsel.

Inspector Doyle at once retained Attorney F. M. Brooks and drafted an answer to the charge brought against him, to forward to Washington. The charge of the Collector and Doyle's answer were mailed to the Secretary of the Treasury in the China which left for the Coast yesterday.

On Saturday Doyle secured a good position elsewhere and is at present not connected with the customs service.

Doyle states that his suspension from the customs service is not due to the fact that he permitted a Chinese to come ashore from the America Maru without a permit from Immigration Commissioner J. K. Brown, but that it is due to spite and prejudice on the part of the Collector. "The mistake of which I was guilty," said Doyle, "is a very, very small affair compared with the glaring irregularities which are continually noticeable on the waterfront."

Collector Stackable refused to have anything to say in the matter, except that he was in duty bound to carry out the rules and regulations of the service.

Will Wait Developments.

"Just because I have been suspended," said Walter Doyle yesterday, "I shall not necessarily take advantage of the opportunity of telling tales out of school. I feel that it is a mean piece of business, however, and that a suspension is the direct result of prejudice. My mistake was an unintentional one and no harm resulted. If I wanted to be vindicated I might relate a few things which were not unintentional."

"I was asked to resign and refused to do so under a cloud. I will not have it said that I resigned my position on the quiet. It might then be thought that I had been engaged in some peculiar business on the waterfront. People will hear that I have been suspended for allowing a Chinese to pass ashore from a steamship without the regular pass. Not being familiar with the conditions, many people might be led to suppose that I had accepted money from the Chinese to allow him to land. Naturally, since I am accused of a breach of the rules, and since I have been guilty of a technical error, I am anxious that my friends as well as people generally should be acquainted with the facts. I can do nothing but answer the charge made and await developments."

Promoted to Day Force.

Walter Doyle has been in the local customs service for about two years, commencing as an inspector on the night force. It was not long ago that he was promoted to the day force, now and then, as is the custom with men on the day force, being captain of the night watch. Doyle has made one or two important captures of opium and has been the cause of the arrest of numerous persons who have at times attempted to interfere with custom house officers, while in the discharge of their duties.

Members of the customs force, with whom he has always been popular, deeply regret that the Collector should have deemed it necessary to suspend Doyle for his first technical error.

FOOTBALL GAME IS PROBABLE FOR M'KINLEY FUND

The McKinley Memorial Committee has made a proposition to the football association that two teams of that association play a game, the proceeds of which shall go to swell the McKinley memorial fund. It is proposed that the Punahou grounds be secured as no admission can be charged at the Makiki grounds which are public. The scheme, which meets with much favor among the members of the club, will be discussed together with various other matters at a meeting of the association committee which will be held at the rooms of the Scottish Thistle Club's rooms in the Love building.

ANOTHER PRECINCT FOR OLA, HAWAII

GOVERNOR RECEIVES PETITION.

Hilo Railroad Charter Must be Amended Before it is Approved. Liquor Licenses and Routine Business at Executive's Council.

There was a meeting of Governor Dole and the heads of the various Territorial departments in the Capitol yesterday. One of the chief matters of importance was a letter addressed to Governor Dole by the citizens of Ola requesting that another voting precinct be apportioned off in that large district, as it is very inconvenient having to walk in many cases as far as forty miles, to the polls. This letter was considered favorably and the probabilities are that the extra precinct will be apportioned off in Hawaii.

The matter of the Hilo railroad charter was brought up. Several amendments and additions were suggested. The charter will probably be approved when these amendments are made.

Liquor licenses and other routine business was considered. The Ke-walo affair was not brought up.

Chinese Driver Hurt.

A Chinese driver of a Waialae dairy wagon got hurt yesterday noon by falling off his wagon. His scalp received several cuts but he was not seriously injured.

KILOHANA ART LEAGUE GIVES A FINE MUSICALE

Splendid Music Heard at the Castle Manoa Valley Residence.

HONOLULU SOCIETIES IS PRESENT

Large Audience Enjoys Program of Beautiful Pieces Well Performed.

Delightful Performance on Two Pianos by Eisner and Miss Castle—Fine Vocal Music by Mrs. Montague Turner and Instrumental Selections by Mrs. Whitney.

The musical circle of the Kilohana Art League held its musicale last night at Puhonou, the beautiful Castle Manoa residence. This concert was one of the most charming and successful that Honolulu has heard for many a long day. The program was a well selected one and the performers without exception ranked among the very best musical talent which Honolulu possesses.

But the music was not the only charm of the evening, however. The night was a perfect one and the drive up the beautiful Manoa valley was enjoyed by all those who journeyed up to the Castle residence which stood out on the dusky crag lighted up splendidly like a chateau of the olden times.

Honolulu Society There.

The guests were received by Mrs. Henry Castle and George Castle. All the large rooms which open into the music room were packed with people, the elite of Honolulu society and musical connoisseurs being well represented.

A little after 8 o'clock the concert began with a "Capriccio" by Gurilt played on two pianos by Miss Castle and Miss Eisner. The performance was such a one as is seldom heard in this city. Both players have a most exquisite touch and played so well together that it was hard to realize that two persons were playing.

Both Miss Castle and Miss Eisner are accomplished musicians and their playing last night was simply beyond critique. The only possible objection might be that many would have liked to hear a more classic piece played when there was the opportunity to have heard it played perfectly, but on the other hand the performance of the players was such that it lent the utmost enjoyment to the selection even if this was of lesser musical value.

Treat From Mrs. Turner.

Mrs. Annis Montague Turner sang twice. The first piece she sang, "The Dream," with violin obligato by Mr. J. A. Amme and piano accompaniment by Miss Castle, was like all the rest of the art of the evening, a musical treat. Mrs. Turner has only sung very little in public of late and the opportunity to hear her was much enjoyed by the audience.

Mrs. Turner has beside her charming voice, probably more technique and finished training than any singer here, and her clear pure notes, especially her excellent piano, were such as are but seldom enjoyed here. Mr. Amme's violin obligato was correct and well performed. This, together with Miss Castle's exquisite accompaniment, made the audience enjoy the piece exceedingly.

A Feast in "Mignon."

Mrs. Turner's second selection, "Mignon," by Listz, was still more enjoyable. Goethe's poem, "Kennst du das Land" is music in itself which the melody by Listz transforms into a superlatively beautiful creation. "Mignon" is Mrs. Turner's favorite piece and no one in this city can sing it with anything like the charm with which Mrs. Turner renders it.

Mrs. W. S. Whitney played "Gondoliers" by Listz with charm and skill. Her interpretation of this beautiful selection and rendering of the exquisite tone coloring was a delight to all who heard her.

Entertainment's Splendid Close.

The last selection on the program, "Sonata," opus 13 by Grieg, of which both the lento doloroso, allegro vivace, allegretto tranquillo and allegro animato were given, was played on the violin by Mr. Amme accompanied by Miss Castle. The piece came as the splendid close of the evening. Mr. Amme's playing was absolutely faultless. Its chief charm was its absolute correctness and clearness which must be especially appreciated as many of Honolulu's most able violinists are a little prone to slide through a piece with too little regard for the finer details.

Mr. Amme's Performance.

Mr. Amme may lack the thrilling fire of Honolulu's lost genius, the inimitable enfant terrible, Egry, but his clear, full and perfect interpretation of the difficult and capricious passages of Grieg made many of his hearers congratulate themselves that this city has gained a violinist of such talent as Mr. Amme.

If any fault could be found it would be with Mr. Amme's instrument, which, it was evident last night, did not at times interpret the notes, especially the very high ones, to the player's satisfaction. A performer like Mr. Amme decidedly deserves to play on the very best kind of an instrument to be obtained.

The piano accompaniment was perfect. Any performer may indeed consider himself as lucky who has such an accompanist as Miss Castle whose love for and understanding of music makes her carry her part exactly as it should be done.

Mr. H. F. Wichman who was down on the program for "My Memories" by Paolo Tosti, did not appear.

Thompson, Miss Ida Ziegler, Miss Clara Ziegler, Miss Margaret Hopper, Mrs. W. Peterson, Miss Uecke, Miss Johnson, Miss Frost and numerous others.

Many Arrests Yesterday.

Yesterday's arrests made by the police department included: Kapina and Charles Carney, violating hitchhiking ordinances; Valentine Rodriguez and Manuel Anthered, vagrancy; Oscar Anderson, John Dee and J. McKay, assault and battery; Mahena and Haahine, adultery; Mahena, Joe King, Tamaka and George Anakolio, investigation; Schuller, Oscar Garcia, Sweet Emalie, J. M. Wight, J. Kelley and J. Pleasanton, drunkenness.

Arrange For Mardi Gras.

A meeting of ladies interested in the Honolulu Eye and Ear Infirmary will be held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Isenberg at Punahou. The object of the gathering is to appoint committees and arrange for a Mardi Gras ball.

Pacific Club's Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Pacific Club will be held on Monday evening, February 2, at the club house on Alakea street. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Hayselden's Resignation.

The resignation of Deputy Sheriff A. N. Hayselden of Waialuku, Maui, has not yet reached the office of High Sheriff Brown of this city.

FIGHTING TARS CONSIGNED TO OAHU PRISON

Members of the Sailors' Union Do Terrible Things to the Uninitiated.

SCAB HUNTING IN LUMBER YARDS

Officers of Vessels Are Going Around Prepared for Emergencies.

Several Seamen in the Hands of Physicians—Terror on the Waterfront—Dark Deeds Hinted at—Non-Union Men Continually Being Held Up and Threatened.

The long existing differences between Union and non-Union sailors was again brought out by the trial of an assault case in police court yesterday morning. The feud is one of long standing, and innumerable cases have arisen in which police interference has been a prime necessity.

Jacobson, a sailor in the ship Florence, was pronounced by men belonging to the Union as a "scab." Jacobson left the vessel Saturday night with several of his mates and, while passing through a lumber yard located near the Oahu Railway depot, was attacked by a number of men and severely beaten about the face.

It is alleged that as soon as Jacobson informed his assailants that he was something doing, the air resounded with jeers and shrieks and the fight became general. It seemed to Jacobson that pandemonium had been turned loose in the long avenues of piled lumber.

The opposing forces which tackled Jacobson surely did not belong to the same lodge. The men who assailed the sailor first made casual inquiry regarding his antecedents, and the color of "card" carried. Then the crowd took turns in smiting Jacobson tip and thigh.

Swore Out Warrants.

Escaping from the belligerents, the sailor hastened to the police station and swore out warrants charging Anderson and Gunn with assault and battery. Later in the evening Coleman Tierney assaulted J. Kuphea at the same place and was incarcerated. Geo. Johnson met J. Anderson, a non-Union sailor, at Johnson was jailed. Gunn was also charged with assaulting Emil Bradford who, it is claimed, does not belong to the Union.

Ekani and Tierney were each sentenced to one month's imprisonment at hard labor. Johnson proved that he was merely a spectator, and was discharged. Gunn was found to have struck Anderson instead of Jacobson but he caught a month's sentence at Iwilei reef.

The Union men gave the non-Union men a terrible beating. One man had his arm broken, and several others are under the care of physicians. A squad of police answered the alarm call and placed three of the assailants under arrest. Jim Kuphea, the biggest man on the police force, had to put up a tremendous fight with Tierney before the latter could be placed under arrest.

Union Versus Non-Union.

It appears that Captain Spicer, of the Florence, has a crew of non-Union sailors. Being satisfied with their work and general behavior and, moreover, paying them as high wages as are paid on the Coast, Captain Spicer refused to accede to the demands of, or in any way recognize, the organization known as the Seamen's Union of the Pacific.

Being unable to "get even" with Captain Spicer personally, the Union men are said to have planned to waylay the men as they were returning to their ship and accordingly hid themselves behind a lumber pile.

About 1 o'clock on Sunday morning the Florence's crew were returning to their ship, when they were assaulted by the ambushed Union men. Iron bricks and stones were used as missiles.

Three Desperados Captured.

Two of the beaten men escaped and went to the police station to give the alarm. A riot squad was sent to the scene of the trouble, and after a desperate struggle captured three of the men. They were Tierney,

STEAMER PERU ARRIVES FROM JAPAN AND SAILS FOR THE COAST

Takes Away Hawaiian Money to Be Remelted

Training Ship Mohican Drops Her Mud Hooks in Naval Row-- Burglars at the Pacific Mail Dock--Captain Sodergren Out of Jail--George Beckley is Now an Admiral.

The Pacific Mail steamer China, Captain D. E. Friele, arrived from the Orient about 7:30 on Sunday night. The China left Hongkong on December 21, and Yokohama on January 10, and had a good passage to Honolulu.

The China brought three passengers for Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. J. Gray of England, and Edouard Solly of Paris and 215 Japanese and three Chinese. She carries twenty through cabin, 57 Chinese and 17 Japanese passengers. One of the cabin passengers to the Coast is Surgeon L. W. Spalding, U. S. N., and in the steerage is a surgeon of the Imperial Japanese army.

The China discharged 550 tons of freight at Honolulu and sailed for San Francisco at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A number of Honolulu people left for San Francisco on the China. They were P. A. Perry, Miss R. A. Turner, J. A. Marriner, W. T. Howard and wife, B. W. Holey, R. B. Spalding, W. H. Hoogs and wife, Miss Sherwood, Mr. Lehmann, Jas. Wakefield, W. Fisher, George Rodie, Mrs. M. Carroll, E. R. King, A. Caro.

Ten thousand dollars of Hawaiian money were sent away on the China to be remelted and made into American coin.

PURSER OF KINAU NOW "ADMIRAL" BECKLEY

VETERAN MARINER IS HONORED.

Honolulu Harbor No. 54 Masters and Pilots' Association Presents George Beckley With Admiral's Pennant--Capt. Brokaw Speaks.

Harmony hall presented an unusual appearance on Sunday evening. The brothers and sisters of the different lodges who meet there every evening of the week had given way to the members of the Honolulu Harbor No. 54 American Association of Masters and Pilots of Steam Vessels of the United States of America. Instead of the usual lodge meetings there was a feast which brought out the very finest things to be found in the line of food and liquid consumption, the best stories and wittiest speeches.

The occasion for this celebration was the presentation of an admiral's pennant to the veteran sea dog George C. Beckley, the popular purser of the Kinau; nearly all the members in port attended the meeting and several visiting brothers were also present.

The presentation of the pennant was made by Captain Brokaw of the Fearless. He said that the presentation was made as a token of the appreciation which was felt by all seafaring men for their brother officer. The flag was the visible evidence of the esteem in which the admiral was held, and it was the sincere hope of every man that it might wave for many years over ship and shore, signifying the presence beneath its folds of a good friend and a brave and worthy man.

When the pennant was unfurled the navigators cheered themselves hoarse. It is eight-on feet in length and eight feet at the hoist. There are two admiral's stars on it, and in the center there are the figures 54, the number of the lodge.

After the ceremonial of presentation, the members adjourned to the anteroom of the hall and sat down to a banquet such as can be enjoyed only by mariners. Captain Brokaw proposed the toast of Admiral Beckley, which was drunk standing. The admiral responded in a neat speech, from which the following extract is taken:

"We ought to be proud of the service to which we belong. Our flag floats over fifty-four harbors in the United States, and it will ever wave. We are here to enjoy the good things; the flowers you see were sent to us by a young lady, who went to her own hot-house and gathered them when she heard that I was to be honored by the harbor. Again, I thank you, my brothers, and in doing so I would say that this your flag shall ever wave on shore or on sea while I live."

After several other complimentary speeches had been made Captain Piltz read an account of the life of the admiral, which is a history of the development and progress of Honolulu harbor. Thirty-eight members were present at the meeting.

BURGLARS ON WATERFRONT.

Visit Pacific Mail Dock and Engage in Fight With Night Watchman.

Early yesterday morning the night watchman on duty at the Pacific Mail dock saw a diminutive man prowling behind a pile of goods which had been taken out of the steamer Hyades. He watched the fellow for about five minutes and saw him trying to open one of the numerous boxes deposited there. The man, who proved to be a Japanese, saw the watchman and started to retreat. He did not run fast enough however. As he arrived at the main gate leading to the street the watchman overtook him and gave him such a beating that he will remember it for a long time to come. The watchman allowed him to go, and went aboard to have his right hand dressed, as the pummeling he administered to the Jap resulted in a big swollen hand.

He had resumed his watch only a short time when burglar number two was discovered. This time it was a white man but his nationality could not be ascertained. The officers of the Hyades attracted out of their cabins by the noise, think he was a German, while the watchman believes he was an Irishman. The watchman tackled his second job but did not find it as easy as the first. This was a lively, square American fight and, although the watchman got the best of it, he is on sick leave today nursing a dislocated hand.

Shipping News and Notes

The S. D. Carleton sailed for the Sound yesterday morning in ballast. The schooner Concord will be laid up for several weeks and completely overhauled.

The Malahini is almost ready for launching and, within a day or two, will have her trial trip.

The bark Gerard C. Tobey sailed for San Francisco at noon yesterday with a load of sugar.

The Lehua will be fumigated today and her sailing date for Molokai has been postponed until tomorrow.

It is expected that the Hawaiian will be ready to sail for Lahaina and Hilo some time next Saturday.

The Mauna Loa will resume her regular run today at noon, while the W. G. Hall goes back on her regular Kauai run.

The schooner Stimson was damaged to the extent of about $10,000 in collision with the German ship Robert Rickmers on December 28th at Seattle.

The name of the steamer Simon J. Murphy was formally changed to Melville Murphy, after one of the new owners at San Francisco, on December 30th.

The Sierra is due to arrive here from the Colonies some time during the afternoon and she will be given as quick a dispatch as possible.

The steel four-masted French bark Aida, registered at the dock to which she was moored at Portland on December 31st, and suffered serious damage to her spars.

First Officer John Follett and Second Officer George R. Lauriat, were interested visitors at the meeting of the Honolulu lodge of the Masters and Pilots' Association.

The big freight steamer Hyades moved to the Railroad wharf yesterday morning, and has begun taking in freight. She will sail for Kahului on Wednesday afternoon.

The Shipowners' Association of the Pacific Coast is moving for legislation to exclude all foreign vessels, except those of Spain, from trade between the United States and the Philippines.

Rear Admiral R. D. Evans, who is to succeed Rear Admiral Rodgers as Commander-in-Chief of the Asiatic Squadron, will probably sail for Manila from San Francisco some time this month.

The German steamer Clara has been wrecked near Hoi Hu, Island of Hainan. Forty-two of the ship's company were saved by the French steamer Hanai, but Captain Ulderup and three officers, four European passengers and eleven Chinese are missing.

The master of the iron ship Bowman B. Law, who arrived at Halifax, N. S., recently from England, reports that his ship was today destroyed by fire at Japan. She had carried a cargo of oil from the United States. About two-thirds of the cargo had been discharged when the ship caught fire.

The following changes in shipmasters have been made at San Francisco: C. J. Tosen succeeds Peter J. Johnson on the steamer Grace Dollar; T. Tonneson takes the place of G. H. Harvey on the steamer Liberty; J. W. B. Baleh is in command of the schooner Annie L., succeeding C. Keller.

During repairs to the ship Dashing Wave, at Oakland, Cal., on January 4, a solid shot three inches in diameter was discovered in one of the stern timbers. The shot is said to have been fired into the Dashing Wave during her pursuit of the Confederate cruiser Alabama during the Civil War, when she narrowly escaped capture.

MILLIONS INVESTED IN TRANSPORTS

Moving American Troops is Very Costly to Government.

LIVELY FIGHT FOR THE SERVICE

JAMES J. HILL WANTS BUSINESS FOR GREAT NORTHERN ROAD AND ITS BRANCHES.

New York Capital Interested in Pacific Coast Movements to Abolish Army Service to Philippines No Freight Movement to Manila Possible Under Existing Conditions—Oriental Trade.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—The investment of many millions of dollars in a steamship line between San Francisco and the Philippine Islands is likely to take place shortly if the government abolishes its present transport service, as announced in dispatches received from Washington yesterday.

For more than a year the various commercial bodies of San Francisco have urged the government to give some of its transport business to private carriers. The Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trade, the Merchants' Association and various other business organizations have worked steadily to foster the formation of a private line between the port and Manila, and have sought to divert some of the government business from the transports.

The news that Secretary of War Root has advocated before the House Military Affairs Committee the abolition of the transport service entirely and the establishment of a private line of steamers from this port to Manila was hailed with great interest by the business community yesterday.

Lively Fight Between Companies. That there will be a lively fight between various steamship lines to secure the government business of handling troops and supplies is assured by the information that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Pacific Coast Company already have their representatives in Washington, preparing the way to winning the choice plan that Uncle Sam will have to offer.

A rumor was afloat yesterday that James J. Hill of the Great Northern road would also enter the lists and try to secure the government business for his railroad and for the steamships that he proposes to put on the broad Pacific ocean.

In April of last year a committee of three went from San Francisco to interest the government in a proposed steamship line from this city to Manila. The committee consisted of G. W. McNear, representing the Merchants' Exchange, Andrew Carrigan for the Board of Trade, and George A. Newhall for the Chamber of Commerce.

These prominent San Francisco business men were received by Secretary of War Root and by President McKinley, and from these two officials the heartiest assurances were received that a private line between the points named would receive encouragement at the hands of the government.

Steamship Lines to Compete. The broad step of selling the transports and giving the government business to private lines is the result of a movement inaugurated by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Pacific Coast Company. New York capitalists are deeply interested in the movement and their representatives will watch the situation at Washington.

NEW YORK INTERESTED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—New York capital is deeply interested in the movement inaugurated by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Pacific Coast Steamship Company for the abolition of the army transport service. Representatives of the Pacific Mail Company are now in Washington and agents of the Pacific Coast Company are expected here in a few days. These gentlemen will immediately apply pressure to the administration and to Congress for the purpose of stopping the transportation of troops and army freight in Government transports and the transfer of this business to private steamships.

Secretary Root has indicated that he is in favor of such action the moment Congress passes a law authorizing the granting of American charters to twenty three transports now owned by the Government. When given American charters these ships will bring a high price, but if sold under their present charters the Government will not receive their value for them.

Transports Carry No Freight.

It is claimed by opponents of the army transport service that it is operated at a much greater expense than is necessary and that transportation of soldiers and freight can be done cheaper by private lines. Moreover, the advisability of enlarging American trade with the Orient and encouraging private ship-building enterprises are advanced as strong reasons for the transportation of troops and freight by private firms.

Government transports cannot carry a pound of private freight to the Philippines unless by direct consent of the War Department. Officials of the War Department explain that the reason why private steamship lines will be able to handle Government business cheaper than the transport service is that they employ Chinese for their crews and junior officers. White labor is employed upon Government transports.

Costly to Government.

The crew of a Pacific Mail steamer receives an average of $750 per month. On transports men receive pay usually given to white sailors. In his estimates for the next fiscal year Secretary Root, upon recommendation of Quartermaster General Ludington, submitted an item of $34,000,000 for cost of transportation of troops.

Most of this sum was to meet the expenses of the transport service. It is stated that the comparison of the cost of transporting officers and men to Cuba by private steamers and the expense of transporting them in Government vessels shows that the former method is cheaper. The same result, it is predicted, will be obtained from the use of private ships on the Pacific.

Money Invested in Service.

The Government has an enormous amount of money invested in the transports now plying between San Francisco and the Philippine Islands. Among the more expensive vessels are the Grant, Logan, Sherman, Sheridan, Thomas and Hancock. The purchase price of the first five named was $60,000 each and that of the Hancock $600,000.

The Kilpatrick, Egbert, Warren and Meade were purchased at figures similar to those paid for the first five named ships, and repairs and fittings on the vessels increased the cost to more than $1,000,000 in each case.

U. S. S. SHIP MOHICAN ARRIVES AT HONOLULU

THREE HUNDRED BOYS ON HER.

Training Vessel Comes Direct from Lower California and Cuts Hilo Out of Program—Will Stay in the Harbor for About Ten Days.

The U. S. training ship Mohican arrived here yesterday morning and anchored in naval row. She was thirty-two days out from Lower California, where she was for several days practicing with her large guns, and having a general target practice.

As she was a little behind time, the Mohican did not call at Hilo, but came direct to Honolulu. She will stay about ten days and then sail for the south seas on a cruise.

There are three hundred boys on the vessel, and they will be given shore leave during their stay. They are on their first cruise at sea and most of them are California boys. Their health is excellent, and so far they have enjoyed their sea life very much. It is expected that by the time the Mohican returns to San Francisco, the boys will have become thoroughly acquainted with all the details of seafaring life and will be turned over to the Mare Island navy yard, as good all round able American seamen.

SODERGREN IS A FREE MAN.

Captain of Bark Hesper Released From Oahu Jail.

Captain Sodergren, ex-master of the bark Hesper, was released from the Oahu Jail yesterday morning where he has been serving a long sentence for assault and battery on the high seas.

He was along the waterfront yesterday renewing acquaintances, and incidentally paid a visit to his old vessel which is now lying at the railroad wharf. Last March the Hesper arrived at Honolulu from Newcastle. There had been some trouble in the forecastle during the run and, on arrival here, two of the sailors filed complaints against the captain and mate. The entire crew were held at witnesses and the result was that both master and mate were convicted.

CUT WORMS DECREASING

AGRICULTURAL WORK AT WAHIAWA

PROFESSOR KOEBELE AND MR. BUCHHOLZ ARE PLEASED AT THE PROGRESS.

Excellent Patches of Fruit on Island of Oahu—With Water Anything Can Be Raised Successfully—Numbers of Ladybirds to be Distributed to Eradicate Pest.

Professor Koebele and Mr. Buchholz, of Kona, have returned from their trip to the Wahiawa colony where they spent two days looking into the agricultural work done at that place. Professor Koebele went with the special intention of making an examination for cut worms and other noxious insects. He found, however, that it was too early in the season for these insects to be numerous.

The professor does not believe that the cut worms will be so numerous on land which has just been broken up, their number gradually diminishing the longer the soil is under cultivation until at last they practically disappear altogether.

Great Agricultural Progress.

The professor spoke with much praise of the agricultural progress of Wahiawa. Sugar cane grows splendidly up there especially on the high elevations where rain is more abundant. Mr. Eame's patch of cane is an exceptionally fine one. Pineapples are doing so well there that Professor Koebele says that it would be hard to find better patches of this fruit anywhere. Bananas and many other fruits are also doing well and as soon as the farmers can irrigate their lands from the large irrigation ditch, which is at present being constructed by the Wahiawa Agricultural Company, they will be able to raise practically anything successfully.

After the Ladybird.

Professor Koebele will start on the Kinau for Hilo today. He will probably stay on the big island for about a week. His object is to gather a large number of a certain species of ladybird, Eriococcus, which he will bring with him for distribution on this island. These ladybirds, which were imported from Australia a few years ago by the professor, are very useful as they live on the black scale, Rhizobius, which is at present making its appearance in large quantities on many fruits here, especially pears, figs and guavas being especially subject to its attacks. This species of ladybird has not been seen in Oahu but is quite numerous on Hawaii, it being found in especially large numbers in the forests of Hamakua right above Honokaa. The scale has not made its appearance at all in this place so the professor finds that it is evident that it must be able to get nourishment on some other substance.

Professor Koebele will distribute a large number of the bugs on this island and to counteract the scale which, although it is not really very injurious, still injures the appearance of the fruit which it attacks.

ANOTHER KAMAAINA GONE TO LAST REST

FRANK BROWN DIED YESTERDAY

Well Known Business Man and Politician Passed Away After Long Illness From Heart Disease—Will Be Buried Today.

Yesterday morning at 9:15 Frank Brown, one of the best known kamaainas of this city, died from valvular disease of the heart, from which he had been suffering for a number of months.

The deceased was 61 years of age. He was born in England near London and came to Hawaii with his parents in 1848. In 1853 he went to attend school in Connecticut. After leaving school he was in business in New York until 1863 when he returned to the islands via Panama. He was with Jantou, Green & Co., and later became manager of his uncle's liquor business. When this was sold to the Macfarlane's he started in the same business himself in which he was engaged until his death.

Frank Brown leaves behind him his wife, nee Miss Caroline Wundenberg. He was a son of the late Registrar of Conveances, Thomas Brown, and a brother to Godfrey, Cecil and Malcolm Brown and Mrs. Alex. Mackintosh. He was a member of the legislature three times and was a Democratic candidate in 1896.

The funeral will take place from the late residence of Mr. Brown, King street, this afternoon at 3:30. The interment will be in the family lot in Nuuanu cemetery. Rev. Alexander Mackintosh will officiate.

The pall-bearers are as follows: H. M. von Holt, F. W. Wundenberg, J. H. Soper, O. St. John Gilbert, Geo. Smithlee and C. M. V. Foster.

CYLINDER PRESS FOR SALE

A CYLINDER PRESS, in good condition—just the Press for a Weekly Paper. Will be sold at a Bargain. Apply at REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

REMEMBER! E. W. Jordan's BIG DISCOUNT SALE Is Still On. REMEMBER! REMEMBER!

THE ADVERTISER'S FRIEND... THE advertiser's best friend is the medium through which he obtains the biggest returns for his money. One medium which is used by advertisers to a great extent is the circular or booklet. The circular or booklet is always ineffective, unless it is very handsome—handsome enough to attract the eye of the man to whom it is sent, no matter how busy he may be. A booklet handed out in a booklet is very large. Two thousand circulation at seven cents is $140. I propose to show that you can invest $140 in newspaper space and get returns five fold of what you would get through a booklet.

Newspaper Space Is Valuable

In the first place, there is the cost. For $140 you can get a good-sized space in a newspaper of good circulation for quite a long time. You know your newspaper rates; you can figure it out to suit your own instance much better than I can. So much for cost.

Now for Effectiveness

You must tell your customers how much your goods are going to cost. An advertisement without a price is like meat without salt—it will do you no good. How can you put prices in a booklet when you are doing a strictly retail business? You have competitors; you have to change your prices constantly to meet theirs, and to meet other exigencies. The first change of a price will kill the effectiveness of a booklet, and where are you? Your advertisement in a newspaper may be changed as many times as you desire. You are constantly up-to-date.

The Newspaper Is Effective

Any kind of a newspaper has more circulation than you can obtain through a booklet for $140. Newspapers reach the heart of the home. Every one reads them, and they are far more certain to obtain close attention than any printed matter which you would send. If you sent printed matter of your own accord to persons who do not know you, you would be putting yourself face to face with them without a guarantee. They have nothing to judge the quality of your goods by, and they can only take what you say on our own paper and in your own way. Anybody can say as much as they please.

When your matter appears in a newspaper of good circulation and good standing the newspaper is a guarantee for what you say. Newspapers are always particular as to whom their advertisers are. (I speak of good newspapers always.) Your ads will gain a value besides their inherent one. They will be vouched for, and this is not to be despised. You have a certain fluctuating trade, which is always valuable, and which needs some sort of an introduction to your store. This introduction the newspaper gives you.

Good Paper Adds Dignity

You are known by the company you keep, you know, and if your ads appear in a paper which holds itself up before the masses as a leader, you will be known as a patron of what is good, and you will obtain trade from those whom it is worth trading with. On all scores I consider newspaper advertising by far the best. On the score of cheapness; on the score of being able to constantly change your announcements; on the score of direct and immediate returns; and on the score of being introduced to people, to strangers, as a store which can afford to announce its news to every one in a dignified and straightforward manner, and this is the manner which brings trade that pays. FRANKLIN BURNHAM, New York City. CONSTRUCTION OR DESTRUCTION

In the passing of the old regime in these Hawaiian Islands, the regime which impulsively sprang from a little monarchy, there was of necessity much destruction done. Old conditions had to be done away with; old ideas had to be wiped out or reformed; and old methods were forced to give place to newer systems and more modern ways.

When these Islands became a Territory of the United States and the enthusiasm of Americanism was felt by many of Hawaii's citizens, some of the more ardent of the upholders of American government at once sought to tear down everything which was not American.

There are those today, good, honest, enthusiastic American citizens, who are crying aloud for the tearing down of what is left over of the Republic of Hawaii, and the Provisional Government and the Monarchy days of Hawaii.

It is to be hoped that the disgraceful scenes enacted some six months ago on the waterfront here, and for many months in San Francisco, are not to be repeated in Honolulu. Union men know well enough that they have no right to injure and coerce men who do not happen to belong to their unions. A man has as perfect a right to refuse to join a union as he has to join one, and the fact that he does not join does not give the union man any legal right to attack him or to try and prevent him from earning a livelihood in any manner that he sees fit.

WILDES IS ORDERED TO THE CHINA STATION

WASHINGTON, January 8.—Secretary Long has detached Rear-Admiral Wildes from his present duty as Commandant of the Pensacola Navy Yard and ordered him to relieve Rear-Admiral Louis Kempff, the junior squadron commander of the Asiatic station. Admiral Wildes will sail from San Francisco on the China for his post on February 7th. It is probable that Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans who is to be the senior squadron commander on the Asiatic station, will sail on the same steamer. Captain P. H. Cooper will relieve Admiral Wildes as Commandant of the Pensacola yard, the order going into effect on January 27th.

EXTRAORDINARY RESULTS DERIVED FROM EXPANSION

(Special to The Republican.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The New York World this morning publishes an editorial article headed, "Extraordinary Results of Expansion," which is devoted to the most part to the lock the United States has had with the Territory of Hawaii. The editorial says, regarding Hawaii:

Under an act of Congress approved April 30, 1900, a Territorial government was established over Hawaii. The executive power is divided between a Governor, a Secretary, both appointed for four years by the President, and the following officers appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Hawaiian Senate, namely: Attorney-General, Treasurer, Commissioner of Public Lands, Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry, Superintendent of Public Works, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Auditor and Deputy, Surveyor, High Sheriff and members of the Board of Health, Public Instruction, Prison Inspectors, &c. All these executive officers hold office for four years and must be citizens of Hawaii.

The legislative power is divided between two houses—a Senate of fifteen and House of Representatives of thirty members. Senators are elected for four years, Representatives for two. The Legislature is convened once in two years and its sessions are limited to sixty days.

The judicial system of the Territory consists of a Supreme Court, with three Judges, and a Federal Circuit Court, all of whose Judges and officers are appointed by the President. Inferior courts are established by the Legislature. In Congress Hawaii is represented by a Delegate elected by the voters of the Territory every two years.

Out of the total population of 154,000 only the odd 4,000 are American born, yet they rule the islands and secured its annexation against the will of the native majority.

The Chinese, of whom there are over 21,000 in the islands, are permitted there under a certificate system, but are prohibited from going thence to any State, Territory or district of the United States. The American-born Acting Governor, Henry Cooper (Gov. Dole being disabled), in his latest report recommends law permitting more Chinese laborers to come into the islands, conditioned on their engaging in agricultural pursuits only; otherwise they are to be returned to their own country.

The Hawaiians are rapidly vanishing. They number to-day less than one-third of the total population. In 1872 there were 50,000 of them; in 1900 there were only 20,000 of them. In a few years, therefore, all questions touching the rights or wrongs of the natives will have settled themselves, and the Territory will be ready for Statehood as a community of Americans ruling a large subject mass of alien yellow peons—Japanese and Chinese.

The first Legislature of the Territory was elected on Nov. 8, 1900. The result was the overwhelming success of the Home Rule (native Hawaiian) party. They elected nine of the fifteen Senators and twenty-two of the thirty Representatives—the remaining members being divided between the Republicans and Democrats. The election cry of the native voters was "Hawaii for the Hawaiians!"

The total vote cast was 10,193. There is an educational restriction on the suffrage, but the Hawaiian language is accepted as a substitute for English in the test for registration. It may be noted, however, that the veto of the Governor can only be overcome by a two-thirds majority of the Legislature, and the Home Rule majority is one vote short of that.

Free trade between the islands and the United States being established, it is impossible to give exactly the figures of our commerce with them. In 1899 they bought $15,000,000 worth of American goods and sold $22,517,000 worth of their exports to this country—practically all of them. And our trade is increasing with them. As a purely business affair Hawaii—not conquered but peacefully annexed—is the most profitable page in our Expansion ledger.

FOR HEARING ON EXCLUSION

OPINIONS OF LABOR LEADERS

WESTERN MEN HAVE DECIDED TO DELAY ACTION ON THE CHINESE QUESTION.

California Commission to be Given an Opportunity to Express its Views. General Sentiment Favors Extending the Present Law With Additions from Immigration Bill.

WASHINGTON, January 9.—The committee of Pacific Coast representatives met today to decide on a Chinese exclusion bill. While the sub-committee that has been at work on the matter had not definitely reported it was generally thought that a bill re-enacting the present laws would be favored, with the additions from the Immigration Bureau bill. No bill, however, was reported.

A communication was received from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, asking to be heard on the exclusion question, and the members of the California Exclusion Commission were in attendance to request a hearing, so the committee decided to postpone action for one week. In the meantime the sub-committee decided to hear Gompers and the California Commission, and report to the general committee, which will meet next Thursday.

Opinions of Members.

From interviews with members of the committee it is clear that the tendency is strong to return to the plan of re-enacting the present laws, without attempting to secure the elaborate provisions prepared by the Immigration Bureau. Two drafts of the bills are to be presented by Gompers and the California Commission, which follow the general plan of re-enacting the present exclusion laws in extent, adding provisions preventing the Chinese in the Philippines from entering the United States. The other is the Lodge bill, merely removing the time limit from the laws now in effect and adding a Philippine provision. The sub-committee, taking these bills and the Immigration Bureau bill, will set to work during the coming week to frame a measure that will combine the best features of all.

It was the opinion of the Pacific Coast representatives, with the exception of Loud, that the labor leaders and the California Commission should be given full hearings. Loud was strongly opposed to granting them a hearing. He presided at the committee meeting, but declined to have Gompers' communication read. All the others in the California delegation took the stand that the California Commission should be heard in full, even though it might not be able to shed much light on the subject.

Gompers is Indignant.

Gompers was intensely indignant over the manner in which Loud treated his communication, and the members of the delegation shared to some extent in the feeling, as they said all sides were entitled to a hearing. It was only owing to the strong stand taken by Perkins, Kahn and Metcalf that Loud consented to invite the California Commission to address the sub-committee.

After the general committee adjourned the sub-committee met, and Edward J. Livernash and Truxton Beale of the Commission were given a hearing. Livernash and Beale afterward had an interview with the President, and said they found him in favor of legislation on the plan of the Lodge bill. Another interview was appointed for next Saturday, when Gompers, Furuseth, Livernash and Beale are to present the labor side of the question to the President. The same parties are to have a conference with Senator Lodge tomorrow morning. It was also arranged that the sub-committee should hear Gompers on Sunday afternoon.

SENATE COMMITTEE CONSIDERS THE FRYE SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The sub-committee on Ships and Shipping of the Senate Committee on Commerce worked two hours today over Senator Frye's ship subsidy bill. Of the eight members of the sub-committee, five were present—Chairman Frye, Hanna, Elkins, Perkins and Turner. All are in favor of the bill except Turner. A voluminous report, giving statistical and expert information has been prepared to accompany the bill, but was not completed today. Chairman Frye hopes to report the bill to the whole committee next Thursday, and to have that committee report to the Senate soon afterward.

It was declared some days ago by Navigation Commissioner Chamberlain, who is an ardent supporter of the Frye bill that existing mail contracts would not be affected by the new bill. But it was learned to-day that the Committee on Commerce intends to have the bill so amended that new contracts may be made immediately on the passage of the act in cases where steamship companies will give improved service. As the terms of the bill are very liberal, steamship companies are only too glad to offer this improved service.

SENATE RECOMMENDS THAT DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE BE CREATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Senate Committee on Commerce today authorized a favorable report on Senator Nelson's bill for the creation of an executive department of the Government to be known as the Department of Commerce.

Besides providing for an additional member, known as the Secretary of Commerce, the bill provides for an assistant secretary and a complement of officers. Under the new department shall be the following bureaus: Live-saving service, lighthouse board, lighthouse service, marine hospital service, steamboat inspection service, Bureau of Navigation and United States Shipping Commissioners, Bureau of Immigration, Bureau of Statistics, the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Commissioner of Railways, the Census Office, the Patent Office, the Department of Labor, Commission of Fish and Fisheries, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, and the State Department, to be consolidated with the Bureau of Statistics.

There is also established a bureau of manufactures and a bureau of mines and mining. The new department is designed to promote commerce and gather and furnish all information on commerce and industries. It also relieves the other departments, notably the Treasury, of a great amount of work now performed there.

FOUR SCORE ISLANDERS SLAIN BY THE GERMANS

BERLIN, January 9.—A correspondent in Samoa writes to the Cologne Gazette giving a hitherto unknown explanation of the killing of Dr. Menke, leader of a German scientific expedition in the South Sea Islands, Bismarck archipelago. The correspondent says that Dr. Menke and his party ruthlessly destroyed a number of palm trees, of which there were but a few on the island, and the natives acted in defense of their property. The German punitive expedition sent to avenge the killing of Dr. Menke and his party, which landed near the scene of the massacre, killed eighty one islanders.

TWO VICTIMS OF EXPLOSIONS

BLEW OFF HIS HEAD WITH DYNAMITE

SEATTLE, January 10.—The ghastly trunk of an unidentified man was found in one of the residence districts today, the evidence tending to show that he had committed suicide by placing a stick of dynamite in his mouth, with a fuse attached. He then lay down on the ground, lighted the fuse and calmly waited the explosion which ended his life.

A hole fifteen inches deep marked the place where his head had rested. Not a vestige of the skull could be found and the trunk presented a terrible spectacle. There is no clue to his identity.

HURLED FIFTY FEET AND IS MANGLED

ANGEL'S CAMP, January 10.—Tom Kane, cart boss on the Sierra road, sat down in front of a fire to thaw out a lot of giant powder this morning near town. He had thirty-one sticks in front of him, when one of the sticks exploded, which caused the balance to follow suit. Kane was thrown about fifty feet.

When he was picked up it was found that his right leg from the ankle to the knee was literally mashed to a pulp, the foot just hanging by a few shreds of flesh. His eyes were also injured, and it is thought he will be made deaf by the concussion. His right leg was amputated just above the knee.

WHAT PAPERS SAY ON THE MAINLAND

New York Herald. Following the abolition of the lockstep, convicts in New York State prisons are hereafter to be allowed to wear their hair long enough to comb. Those who have studied the subject believe the close cropping of convicts' hair has made it more difficult to awaken their self-respect and has very often prevented those willing to reform from obtaining employment after discharge. In this light the dropping of the short hair rule is likely to be a distinct advance in the management of State prisons.

President Roosevelt's summary removal of Appraiser Wakeman for the good of the service may or may not be of considerable consequence to the relations between the Chief Executive and a very powerful element in his party. Wakeman himself is of no importance, but as the chosen agent of the American Protective Tariff League in an office whose administration is of decided interest to the League his abrupt removal will irritate if not antagonize strong Republican influences.—Springfield Republican.

Chile, in all its relations, in dealing with Peru, in its attitude toward Argentina and in the position taken by its representative in the Pan-American congress at Mexico City, has proved a habitual disturber of the peace. Advanced in civilization, well organized, efficient in its armaments by land and by sea, it is to be regretted that the republic constantly figures as opposed to arbitration and engaged in small disputes and large with its neighbors.—Philadelphia Press.

The greatest of American railroads are tearing down many of their metal bridges and building in place of them stone arches which will not rust, which will have no need of change or repair or strengthening for so many generations and will defy the tooth of the ages. This is a notable going back to the best work of ancient days. The Roman arch in its noblest form with its sound, strong lines, with the imperishable rock from foundation to keystone, was a model for all time.—New York Tribune.

Philadelphia Press: Colleges and churches have been urged often enough to refuse gifts which raised issues as to their origin. Not one of them has. No one probably looked to see the United States Government display a keener conscience. The example has been set. A standard has been established. Both churches and colleges are reminded that those who hold in trust the moral standards and the intellectual sincerity of a community—as churches and colleges do—have a responsibility to discharge toward the sources of their support and endowment.

To give food to the hungry and clothes to the ragged is good. This the charity organization societies endeavor to do. But in doing this they do not suppose that they have done much. The relief of immediate want is necessary, but it is merely a makeshift. The deeper problem is that of raising the dependent family from the position in which it is always in immediate want of the necessities of life to a position in which it is capable of self-support, and, therefore of self-respect.—Chicago Tribune.

It is notorious that war between employers and the employed, in the form of strikes or lockouts, is most wasteful, commonly inflicting upon both parties to the contest irretrievable loss. By establishing a permanent board for the arbitration and settlement of labor disputes the conference held in this city this week has made a well-judged and laudable attempt to do away with needless industrial war.—New York Times.

Detroit Free Press: Congressman Okey of Virginia introduced a bill in the House that, should it become a law, would require the Government to issue a weekly ration of tobacco to the enlisted men of the army and navy. He is open to the charge of favoring a chief product of his own State, but the proverbial generosity of Virginia tends to relieve him of this accusation and the measure strikes us as one that can survive upon its merits.

Dallas News: The New Orleans Times-Democrat puts Texans on their backs because of their rigid anti-trust law, or, rather, because of recent successful efforts to apply the same. It goes without saying that a large share of capital which is chased or kept out of Texas will be invested in some other Gulf State—Louisiana, for instance. If we keep up our present lick New Orleans may become the Octopus center of the Southwest. See?

Mr. Rockefeller, it is said, has returned home without the improvement in health which he had hoped to gain by change of air and by absorbing toll which has made him so careful of the laws of nature. Mr. Edison is in bad health as a result of persistent overwork and hasty and irregular meals. Both men are in middle age, but not wealth nor inventive genius can buy for either the racy health of a farmer fifteen years their senior.—New York World.

Rev. E. S. Muckley Reads Paper On "Advent of the Holy Spirit."

REV. MR. SCUDDER GIVES ADDRESS

W. D. WESTERVELT SPEAKS ON THE COMING ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE CONVENTION.

Many of Honolulu's Clergy Present at Yesterday's Meeting—Visiting Minister Stultz, From the Philippines, Delivers a Short Address and Answers Many Questions.

There was a meeting of the Ministerial Union of this city yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. E. S. Muckley of the Christian Church read a paper on "The Advent of the Holy Spirit."

After the discussion of the question of the Advent of the Holy Spirit upon earth to take up His abode in the church as a permanent influence and power in the church, the speaker took up the question of the time when, and conditions upon which the gift of the Holy Spirit is received by the individual coming to Christ, as follows:

Conditions of the Gift.
"And, now, as briefly as possible, what are the conditions upon which the individual may receive the gift of the Holy Spirit? Is there a definite time at which the Holy Spirit takes up his abode in the individual? Or is it a matter of uncertainty? If there are conditions, are these conditions made plain?"

"Peter said in Acts 5:32, 'And we are witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost whom God hath given to them that obey him.' On what authority did Peter assert this? Jesus had taught him that fact. He said: 'If ye love me keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter.' And when one of the disciples wondered how Christ would manifest himself unto them and not unto the world. He replied: 'If a man love me he will keep my words; and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him and make our abode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings.' 'From this teaching of Christ Peter learned that obedience resulting from a sincere love was a necessary qualification to the reception of the Holy Spirit. But this is natural, for God has always honored the obedient and dishonored the disobedient, for disobedience is rebellion and God cannot brook rebellion nor bless the rebellious. So God's whole scheme of redemption is planned with the object in view of overcoming rebellion in order that His great heart may pour out blessings. The blessings of the Holy Spirit, therefore, inform us. Both who and what must be obeyed?"

Obey the Commandments.

"At the transfiguration the voice out of the cloud said: 'This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.' Christ then is our authority. In that ever glorious and precious discourse of comfort and assurance the night before his crucifixion He repeatedly asserts the necessity of obeying his commandments, and keeping his words. (Conspicuously John 14:15, 21, 23, 24; 15, 10). And in giving the commission he told his disciples that all authority had been given unto him. So there is no question as to whom we are to yield obedience. But obedience implies law as well as a lawgiver and definite, clear law at that, law that is not ambiguous; for law that can be read and fairly understood, from its construction, in more sense than one, is invalid and becomes inoperative.

"It is logical, therefore, to assume that Christ gave a definite statement of the terms and conditions of salvation. Let us observe, therefore, that becoming a Christian is not a yielding to a mere impulse, nor the receiving of a mere sentiment, nor the experiencing of a mere emotion, but the loyal, hearty, joyous obedience to the commandments of one who has been chosen as master. For how else can we know we have become Christians.

"If Christ did not clearly state the terms of acceptance with him, if he did not clearly state the conditions upon which we would be forgiven and become thereby qualified to receive the Holy Spirit which is 'not given to unforgiven persons, he was not a good law-maker and there is no such thing as a revelation. God made known his will to man, through Christ, in unmistakable terms. Otherwise no one could be held responsible if he failed to do God's will. A commandment, therefore, is not subject to interpretation in the sense that obscure passages are, but is something to be obeyed; for if it needs interpreting it cannot have the force of a commandment. All the essentials to salvation must be made clear or God is responsible for every lost soul.

Who is To Be Obeyed.

"What, therefore, is to be obeyed in coming to Christ? I am neither qualified nor authorized to say, therefore I go to the Word.

"The record says: 'All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.'

"In Mark we have: 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that disbelieveth shall be condemned.' Luke records as follows: 'Thus it is written that the Christ should suffer, and rise again from the dead the third day; and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name unto all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem.' (Quoted from the Revised Version.)

"Three conditions of salvation are clearly stated in these quotations from the commission, as recorded in the synoptic gospels, to be Faith, Repentance and Baptism. Faith in Christ and him crucified. This faith leads to repentance and the penitent believer is indisputably a proper subject for baptism, that is, for an expression of his faith in an overt act of obedience; for no one can claim to believe in Christ, and to have submitted to Christ who will not obey a clear command of Christ's when he learns what that command is.

"So, then, these conditions are the most natural we could expect, and in no sense unreasonable, after Christ had determined that baptism should be the overt act of obedience. Law can be briefly defined a 'rule of action.' In these conditions we have the Law by which people become Christians, the law in obedience to which a man brings himself to the point where God can formally remit his sins and give him the Holy Spirit to abide in him; for the blessed Paraclete cannot be given before sins are forgiven.

And, naturally enough, Peter so understood Christ's commission; for in his Pentecostal sermon, the very first sermon preached after Christ's ascension, he recognized and taught the very conditions stated in the scriptures adduced, from which we gather these conditions. Peter's sermon was designed to produce faith in those who had participated in and consented to the death of Christ, designed to bring them to believe in this Christ by establishing the fact of his Messiahship. The sermon produced the desired and designed effect, for 'when they heard this, they were pricked in their hearts, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles: 'Men and brethren, what shall we do?' (Acts 2:37). Peter regarded this question as an evidence of their faith, for in his reply to this great question he did not tell them to believe as was told the Philippine jailor, but in perfect harmony with the great commission that he had heard from his risen Master's lips just ten days before, and under the power and direction of the Holy Spirit, he replied: 'Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.'

Work in Philippines.

The reading of this paper was followed by a free discussion in which a number of those present took part. Rev. Homer C. Stuntz, a Methodist clergyman who is the superintendent of the Methodist Mission work in the Philippines, gave a short address on these islands and answered a number of questions put to him by his hearers concerning the conditions there. Rev. Mr. Scudder, who is on his way to Japan to take up work in the missionary field there, was introduced and Rev. W. D. Westervelt spoke in behalf of the Anti-Saloon League, especially with regard to the coming temperance conference of representatives of all the different nationalities here. He also gave an outline of the work done in the past and stated that the outlook was very bright indeed.

The following were present at the meeting: Rev. W. D. Westervelt, Rev. E. S. Muckley, Rev. W. M. King, Rev. J. P. Erdman, Rev. J. J. Waldron, Rev. W. D. Rice, Rev. H. Binham, Dr. Sereno E. Bishop, Rev. O. H. Gulick, Rev. Mr. Scudder, Rev. J. P. Emerson, Rev. Mr. Fearson, Rev. H. C. Stuntz, Rev. A. O. Henshaw, Rev. Mr. Riley, Rev. L. L. Howe, Rev. A. V. Soares, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. H. C. Brown and Major Wood.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., U. S. A., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he 'threw up' and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa.

TEN-CENT BEER GETS A SETBACK

Judge Estee Overrules the Demurrer of the Treasurer.

NEW TRIAL IS ORDERED AT ONCE

Defendant Has Till Thursday to File Answer in Federal Court.

Term at Hilo—Attorney General's Department Secures Many Convictions—Thirteen Counts Against One Chinese for Poisoning—He is Sentenced to Ten Years.

In the case of Macfarlane and others against Territorial Treasurer William H. Wright, Judge Estee yesterday overruled the demurrer in the United States District Court, gave defendant until Thursday to answer and set the case for hearing at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

A demurrer was sustained and plaintiff was allowed to amend the complaint on a former hearing. The amendment was the subject of the demurrer which failed yesterday.

Plaintiffs represent the larger saloon interests of the city, paying $1000 each a year for retailing liquor of all kinds. Under a law of the Territory the Treasurer issues licenses at $500 per year for retailing only the product of the Honolulu Brewery. The regular trade sets up the claim of vested rights against these $500 license saloons.

Crusade Against Primo.

The list of local liquor dealers, headed by Macfarlane & Company, has been seeking to prevent the issuance of Primo beer licenses and to have those already issued cancelled on the ground that the cheaper license for the sale of the local product is an unlawful discrimination against Mainland breweries.

Judge Estee, after hearing argument seemed inclined to regard the Hawaiian malt license law as contrary to the national commerce laws and he overruled the demurrer and ordered a new trial.

The first demurrer was sustained to a great extent on the ground that the plaintiffs had failed to show that they were suffering any damages by reason of the act of Treasurer Wright in issuing the Primo licenses.

Still More Inconsistent.

Judge Sillman appeared for Treasurer Wright yesterday morning. "It is set forth," said Judge Sillman, "that the petitioners applied to Treasurer Wright for a license at $250 per year to sell malt liquors made in Honolulu, when they already held a general license to sell any kind of liquors, the Honolulu malt liquor included."

"The petitioners were prevented from paying $250 more for a license to do something which they already had the right to do, under a license for which they paid $1000 per year."

"This would seem to lay the foundation for a mandamus proceeding to compel Treasurer Wright to issue the license which was refused, rather than to prevent him issuing malt licenses to others."

Want a Leadpipe Cinch.

"The plaintiffs in this case are trying to perpetrate a monopoly. They want to insure a leadpipe cinch by keeping out the competition of those to whom the malt liquor licenses have been issued."

United States District Attorney J. J. Dunne attacked the Hawaiian statute as contrary to the laws of the United States and as discriminating against breweries on the Mainland.

Attorney A. G. M. Robertson appeared for the plaintiffs also, saying that the statement of Judge Sillman that the plaintiffs' licenses already gave them the right to sell Primo, as well as Mainland beers, was correct only as applied to one of the plaintiffs. Robertson also contended that the Hawaiian law was a plain discrimination against Mainland breweries.

The Term at Hilo.

After a successful term in the Fourth Circuit Court, Deputy Attorney General Cathcart has returned from Hilo. Out of the 42 cases on the criminal calendar thirteen indictments were against one man. In only three of the cases were verdicts of not guilty returned.

Ming Hem, a Chinese, who put Paris green in a tea-pot at a camp near Hilo, was the man against whom there were thirteen cases. The grand jury indicted him thirteen times for poisoning. He was convicted on the first count and sentenced to ten years imprisonment at hard labor. The other twelve cases against him were thereupon nolle prosequi.

"Watson on Damages."

Many of Honolulu's lawyers have added to their libraries a new book, Archibald Robinson Watson of the

New York Bar, entitled: "Watson on Damages for Personal Injuries." The work is a treatise on the law of damages for personal injuries. Those members of the bar in Honolulu who have secured the work speak very highly of it and deem it valuable as a reference.

Circuit Court Notes.

C. A. Long has resigned as guardian ad litem for the Lucas minors and Judge Humphreys has appointed Attorney J. J. Dunne and Attorney E. M. Watson in his place.

Judge Humphreys yesterday morning overruled the demurrer in the case of Henry Smith against Mary S. H. Rose et al.

It is stipulated that Sister Albertina may have fifteen days in which to file bill of exceptions in her ejectment case against the Kapiolani Estate, Limited.

FIGHTING TARS IN OAHU PRISON

Jos. Johnson and Victor Dunn. They were taken to the station and charged with assault and battery. Later three other men were arrested after being identified by the men of the Florence as belonging to the gang that assaulted them on Sunday morning. They were E. Morris, George Cornitt and R. McClain.

Foiled by a Mate.

Late on Sunday night another gang of Union sailors was stationed on the lumber yard near the railroad wharf, and for hours watched for the appearance of the mate of the Golden Shore. They waited in vain however. The plot had been given out and the mate, instead of going on board by way of the railroad wharf, engaged a boat at the boat landing and was rowed across the bay to his vessel.

The mate of the Golden Shore used to be a Union man. Some time ago he was second mate of the barkentine Benicia, and when he was offered a mate's berth on the Golden Shore he went to the agent of the Union and told him the facts in the case. He had a chance for promotion on a larger vessel and he would receive Union wages. He didn't see any reason why he should refuse the offer and proposed to accept it.

The agent, however, did not see it in that light. He said that he should stay where he was and that if he accepted the position on the Golden Shore, he would lose his Union rights and be considered simply as a "scab."

Trouble on the Golden Shore.

The young man, however, did ship on the Golden Shore and, a few days later, sailed with his vessel to Puget Sound, then to Australia.

On the return trip to Honolulu there was some trouble on the vessel. A member of the Australian Federation of Labor, which is affiliated with the Coast Seaman's Union, refused duty when ordered to do something by the second mate, and placed his hand on the sheath knife which he carried, hanging on a belt, as if to strike the second mate.

The mate saw the move and, jumping from the poop, grabbed the arm of the sailor, telling him that if he dared use a knife he would be thrown overboard.

Talk of Going to Court.

The man refrained from making further trouble but, since his arrival at Honolulu, he has had daily conferences with local waterfront lawyers as to the propriety of having the mate arrested by the U. S. authorities on the charge of assault and battery.

The Republican was notified Saturday afternoon by a Sailor's Union man that the warrant would be sworn before the United States Attorney on the same afternoon but, so far, nothing of the kind has been done, and it is believed that the necessary witness to bring the case to a successful result being hard to find, and better counsels having prevailed, the fight will not be carried to the courts.

Plot Against the Mate.

Union sailors, it is said, will take the law into their own hands. Several warnings have already been received by the mate, and he is on the lookout. If some fatality occurs on the railroad wharf, the officers of the vessel say, the Union men will have only themselves to blame for it.

The officers of the various sailing vessels lying at the railroad wharf have also been singled out for objects of attack. The mate of the ship Charles E. Moody, the second mate of the ships Florence and S. D. Carleton and the officers of the barks S. N. Castle and Hesper were all accosted by sailors. In all cases the officers were ordered to discharge their non-Union crews, while in some instances the men were attacked without warning and threatened with bodily harm.

Officers Go Armed.

As a result all the officers of the vessels lying at the railroad wharf have armed themselves and are in earnest. They say that the first man who accosts them at night in a mysterious way will be plugged full of lead.

Yesterday afternoon while a Republican reporter was speaking with a friend alongside the ship Moody, he was accosted by two men who, in a threatening manner, told him that if anything was published in the paper concerning the Sailor's Union he would be "fixed."

The men are well known along the waterfront and were familiar figures around the U. S. court at the time so many captains and mates were being arrested on charges preferred against them by sailors.

WATERFRONT WICKEDNESS

MYSTERIOUS MOONLIGHT MEETING

NAUGHTY KNIGHTS OF NEPTUNE PROMPTLY PULLED BY THE POLICE.

While Lying in Wait in the Lumber they Are Surprised and Carted to Jail—They Might Have Done Wrong if they Hadn't Been Arrested by Far-Seeing Officers.

A mounted patrolman on duty in the neighborhood of the railway wharf about midnight observed a crowd of sailors apparently lying in wait for something to turn up. They appeared to be plotting by the light of the moon and seemed expectant after the manner of men who await an enemy in a dark place that they might rise up and slay him.

Thereupon the mounted patrolman put himself in communication with the police station and called for the patrol wagon and a squad of good and true men.

Fast sped the patrol wagon to the scene of alleged contemplated action and quickly did the officers of the law enfold in their arms the sailors who had gathered together for purposes best known to themselves. Fifteen men of the ocean were packed in the wagon and hurried to the station.

There were men from the United States bark Mohican, jolly, tidy looking tars who were sober and happy, although a little vexed at being hauled in. They didn't understand it, but took it all in good part.

There were men from the wind-jammer George Curtis. "What's your name?" asked the man at the desk.

"Yon Yonson, from der Yorge Curtis, yer excellency."

"And your name, shorty?"

"Hans Hanson, from der Prince Loo-ey, yer honor."

"Some one will pay for this monkey business," said a bold young gentleman from the staunch ship Florence holding his head up and glaring at the night clerk. His conversation was cut short by his pockets being searched.

Altogether it was a merry crowd. Their faces were clean and they seemed a most decent looking lot of mariners. They were all held, pending investigation into the cause of their lying in wait.

The mounted patrolman reported that one of the fellows had fired a revolver into the air. The gun was not forthcoming.

"We was only taking a little walk through 'er woods, don't yer know," said a gentleman who had just been relieved of an unopened bottle of something liquid.

"Where's ther woods?" asked another, surprised.

"Why, through the lumber yard, of course, hooby!" was the condescending reply.

The recent trouble on the waterfront between the Union sailors and non-Union men has made the police very cautious and it is thought that the prompt action of the mounted patrolman last night may have prevented more serious trouble. The men themselves, however, laugh at this idea and say they were just enjoying the moonlight.

Suburban Gamblers Pinched.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth paid an official visit to one of Honolulu's thriving suburbs on Sunday, and before returning home that official strived up Waialua from center to circumference in his raid on some of the gambling resorts which flourish in that part of the island. The result of the round up was brought to Honolulu where the cases will be heard this week.

PORTO RICAN VAGS RELEASED ON PROMISE

SAY THEY WILL SEEK WORK.

Haro's Carelessness Costs Him Good Money—Kewalo Boisterousness is Quelled—Saturday Night Celebrants Up Before Judge Wilcox.

Nine Porto Rican vagrants gathered in on a previous raid were dismissed with a nolle prosequi in the police court yesterday.

Haro, a Japanese driver, arrested for leaving his team standing in the public streets longer than the fifteen minute time as prescribed by law, was fined $5 and the attendant trimmings.

The prosecution failed to prove that H. Mahlman and Anhilli Stale were guilty of adultery. Both were released.

Kekilohi tacitly admitted that she was guilty of making the walkin ring down in the lower levels of Kewalo on Saturday night. Too frequent potations of the cheering but inebriating swipes were the direct cause of the unconfined boisterousness. To the charge of drunkenness the woman pleaded guilty. A $2 fine was assessed.

Seven cases of excessive Saturday night celebration chirped a sad refrain when the long roll was called on the mourners' bench. All admitted being drunk. They caught the usual penalty.

The cases of Messrs. Geo. Conniff, Ed Morris and R. McCann, charged with assault and battery on J. Linquist, are continued over until this morning.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annotto Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands.

The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.
