BIG DISTILLERY IS CAPTURED BY CHILLINGWORTH

Seventeen Barrels of Product Are Destroyed in Last Night's Raid.

STILL SECRETED IN LANTANA

Three Principal Operators Are Arrested and Placed Behind Bars.

Illicit Still Has Been Under Police Surveillance for Many Months. Japanese Distillers Employ Many Ingenious Contrivances for Secrecy—Prisoners Brought to Town.

What is believed to be the largest illicit distillery of Okolehao in operation on the island of Oahu was put out of action and completely destroyed at a late hour yesterday afternoon by a force of men from the police department headed by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and Captain Kanae. The officers have also the arrest of Omoto, the Japanese proprietor and two assistants to their credit.

Buried in the center of a vast area of lantana, in a locality far removed from any dwelling, the illicit still has flourished for many months past, and the product had proven one of the unsolved mysteries which continually confront the police department.

The existence of the still has been known to the officers for a considerable period. Who nit came to defining its exact location the men working on the case were foiled in every attempt to find the much-desired spot from whence large quantities of Okolehao were manufactured and placed upon the market.

Chillingworth Given a Tip.

Within the past few days Deputy Chillingworth was placed in possession of more definite information. With Captain Kanae, the officers left the police station promptly at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and drove out Walkikiward and beyond Diamond Head. Taking the new Diamond Head road the officers left their teams and struck out across country to Kaalawai district.

In a dense jungle situated about two miles mauka of the tract of crown lands, beyond Diamond Head, and in the vicinity of the lands of the late Paul Isenberg, the men came upon an almost impenetrable jungle of lantana and tropical growth, through which they cut and tore their way. In making their way through this territory the officers were confronted with a most difficult proposition. Their clothes were almost torn from off their backs. Mud bespattered, from crawling over a portion of the distance on hands and knees, Chillingworth and Kanae were finally rewarded in their herculean efforts by sighting the Okolehao still, which they so long had hoped to capture.

Still is in Operation.

The establishment was operated by Japanese. Six Orientals are believed to have been connected with the business. The officers first saw an outbuilding, of small dimensions. Around and about this structure was a dense copse of lantana, which hid the supposed enclosure from view. A brief wait resulted in the officers seeing a Japanese open the door of the building and emerge with a large demijohn, which was afterwards found to contain Okolehao. This man was promptly placed under arrest by Captain Kanae.

Nonetheless the officers stole forward, gaining entrance to the little building, soon found a means of egress into an enclosure of heavy growth of lantana, as they supposed. Within this area was the still, and a Japanese was found at work tending the condensers. The second man was arrested by Chillingworth.

Ingenious Contrivance.

The still was one on which a good deal of skill had been exercised in construction. It was located in a sort of shed or covering of about fifteen feet long by six feet wide.

The container was of wood with metal bottom. This was buried in a hole about five feet in depth. Beneath the container a fire was burning. Over the container was a small box, the latter being surmounted by an improvised condenser made from a kerosene can. Water was supplied the still from a well situated close by, and the fluid, being fed through a wooden pipe, the Japanese had employed a unique contrivance to cover the smoke stack to prevent the smoke from attracting attention.

Okolehao Mash Destroyed.

Within the improvised building or shelter the officers found several barrels of Okolehao mash, made from bran, potatoes, honey water and other ingredients. Two empty barrels were also discovered on the premises which had contained the mixture. The first act of Deputy Chillingworth was to empty the mash upon the ground. The barrels were then broken up into kindling wood.

Ten gallons of the finished product were taken from the place. The Okolehao was found stored in large and small demijohns, together with a few "square faces."

The third Japanese was caught as he was approaching the still unmindful of danger. The deputy secured his prisoners, then made his way to the light house at Diamond Head and telephoned for assistance.

Still Taken from the Premises.

A couple of officers with an express wagon were dispatched to the scene of the raid, and they were driven close to the still.

In the interim the deputy and his assistant had taken the illicit and improvised distillery apart, and the affair was loaded into the wagon. The demijohns of Okolehao were taken along, and last, but not least, the three Japanese operators. The drive to town was made without incident, the party arriving at the police station last evening shortly before ten o'clock.

Deputy Chillingworth declares that the distillery had a capacity of thirty gallons a day of pure Okolehao, and the output could have been easily increased. The operators had reduced the expense of production by using honey in place of sugar, the honey being secured in the locality.

An Important Capture.

The officers are highly elated over the capture, which in police circles is considered by far the most important made by the department in many a day. The product from the still in question has been supplying a large amount of "condensed joyousness," and its source has caused the officers to indulge in much speculation. The three Japanese, handcuffed, accompanied the officers without offering any resistance. When booked at the central station they gave their names as Omoto, who claims to be the owner of the still, and Tamara and Nagata.

The illicit distillers will be arraigned upon the charge of manufacturing spirituous liquors contrary to law, their cases being brought before Judge Wilcox of the First District Court this morning.

HOGAN TO RUN SHOW WITHOUT ANY HUIS

Hogan has concluded to run the show business without the aid of a hui and, beginning on Saturday evening, he will, for a limited time, produce a series of good attractions at the Orpheum.

The play for the opening night is "A Trip to Coontown" which is of the farce comedy order, and contains a great deal of good, wholesome fun. Some entirely new songs and business will be introduced and, as he has his company in fine working order, a good entertainment is promised.

MRS. MARIA HOFFMAN DEAD.

One of City's Oldest Kamaainas Was Called Away Yesterday.

Yesterday forenoon Mrs. Maria Hoffman, widow of Dr. Edward Hoffman, died from old age at her home on Wylie street at an age of 87 years. Mrs. Hoffman, who was a native of Maine, lived in Honolulu for over fifty years and leaves a very large circle of friends here. Her nearest relatives here are her two nieces, Miss Burbank, the librarian, and Mrs. von Gravemeyer of Hilo.

In accordance with the request of the deceased the remains will be cremated. The funeral will take place from her late residence on Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Rev. H. H. Parker will officiate.

LO! BOYD WILL DIG A DITCH AND KEWALO WILL BE SAFE!

Republican's Efforts Have Not Been In Vain

In a Few Days the Public Works Department Will Commence Work On Putting Swampy and Unhealthful District In a Sanitary Condition.

Would you wallow in Kewalo. Where the water's never shallow? Would you wish to wade and wriggle. Where mud-fish sport and wriggle. Would you want to spend your time In Kewalo's sluggish slime, Breathing odors un-sublime?

"The work of putting the district of Kewalo in a sanitary condition will be commenced almost immediately, and when once the work has been begun it will not cease until that much-talked-of locality has been converted into as pleasant a part of the city as any other," said Superintendent of Public Works Jas. H. Boyd, smiling with satisfaction and contentment, last night to a Republican reporter.

Victory for The Republican.

At last the Republican's continued and thorough exposures of the unhealthful, dangerous and disgraceful conditions in Kewalo are about to have their effect and the Department of Public Works will take hold of the matter and start to remedy the existing evil which threatens the health and disturbs the comfort of so many hundreds in this city.

From time to time The Republican has brought to the attention of the public the insanitary conditions in Kewalo, showing how that district is practically under water most of the time, rain or shine; how the overflow from a fish-pond has been the cause of cesspools becoming obnoxious by their insistent self assertion in the backyards of premises in Kewalo; and how property owners and residents suffer daily from the disagreeable roads or canals and the horrible stench which disgusts the citizens of that uncared-for district.

Work Begins in February.

Superintendent of Public Works J. H. Boyd said last night that work would be commenced early next month.

"There has been a great deal said concerning the conditions in Kewalo," said Mr. Boyd, "and this department is well aware of the needs of that district. Heretofore, however, we have been unable to do anything in the matter. Our hands have been more or less tied and it has been impossible to meet the public demand and begin work on putting Kewalo in a proper condition.

"Arrangements have now been made, the Treasurer co-operating with the Public Works Department, whereby the draining of Kewalo will be almost immediately undertaken and the people of that part of the city, when the work is finished, will have nothing to complain of.

Had Not Forgotten Kewalo.

"Although nothing has been done to relieve the conditions in Kewalo heretofore, this department had by no means lost sight of the needs of that place. I have from time to time attempted to bring about such arrangements that work could be commenced there at once. Kewalo is certainly in a very bad condition. I am perfectly familiar with the conditions there, having made a purpose of thoroughly acquainting myself with what was needed in the way of draining and placing the place in a healthful and comfortable condition."

Kewalo to be Drained.

Kewalo is to be drained. Work will be begun within a few days. The construction of the Makiki ditch will be commenced early next month. Superintendent of Public Works Boyd has said so.

Superintendent Boyd made this assertion yesterday in the presence of Territorial Treasurer William H. Wright. Arrangements have been made for the necessary money. Mr. Boyd was asked as to whether the money was forthcoming. "There need be no worry concerning the money," was Mr. Boyd's happy reply, "the money part of the proposition is all right and the work will be started in a few days. The money is in sight."

To Begin at Lunaliho.

The proposed ditch will begin at Lunaliho street and run, by way of Kapiolani street, down through the swampy lands of Kewalo and so on to the broad Pacific.

The Kewalo matter was brought up at the meeting of Governor Dole and the heads of the various Territorial departments in the Capitol yesterday, with the result that an understanding was reached whereby the Department of Public Works can go ahead with the Makiki ditch and the draining of Kewalo without any anxiety as to the financial part of the matter.

One Hitch Possible.

It is said that there is one little hitch in the proposed great work of sanitation in Kewalo. It is not stated just what this possible hitch is, but it is asserted by those who are deeply concerned that it is not anything to do with the money-end of the proposition and that it is likely that this one piece of rough ground, in the otherwise now smooth pathway of sanitary progress for Kewalo, will be eradicated so that nothing, big or little, will stand in the way of the good work.

There is rejoicing in the land of Kewalo, the inhabitants of that country are delighted at the prospect of a clean district and a healthful one. They say: "Bully for Boyd."

POWERS GATHER IN CAPITOL AS USUAL

WHOLESALE LIQUOR LICENSE.

Saloon License for Kahului is Refused—Complaint Against Assistant Harbor Master Marx to be Investigated—Kona-Kau Railway.

At a meeting between Governor Dole and the heads of the various Territorial departments in the Capitol yesterday morning, besides the consideration of the Kewalo matter, which appears elsewhere, several matters of routine business were considered.

The application of Wolters, Waldron & Co. for a wholesale liquor license was approved.

Macfarlane & Co. were refused a transfer of their saloon license to Kahului from Walluku on its expiration on April 1. The saloon in question was situated formerly at Kahului but was moved on account of the plague fires. Owing to the fact that another license had been issued in the meantime for Kahului, the re-transfer cannot be allowed.

An agreement between the Territory and the Kona-Kau Railroad submitted by Superintendent of Public Works J. H. Boyd, in accordance with conclusions reached at the last meeting, was approved.

C. Brewer & Co. had presented a letter of complaint, stating that on account of the alleged incompetency of Assistant Harbor Master Marx, the bark Andrew Welch collided with the dredger of Cotten Bros. & Co., causing damages to the extent of $121.75. The matter is being investigated.

QUEEN'S HOSPITAL TRUSTEES' MEETING

PHYSICIANS DELIVER REPORTS

Report Shows Number of Deaths and Cases Treated During Past Year—Also Gives Specific Account of Different Diseases.

A regular meeting of the Trustees of the Queen's Hospital was held yesterday morning. The reports of Attending Surgeon Dr. C. B. Wood and Attending Physician Dr. C. B. Cooper for the quarter ending December 31 were received and approved. The annual report of Superintendent Johannes F. Eckardt was also received and adopted. This report showed the number of patients in the hospital on January 1, 1898; admitted during the year, 759. Total number of patients treated 817, as against 681 in 1897; 811 in 1898; 1043 in 1899, 865 in 1900.

The number of deaths, 69, in a total of 817 patients gives a percentage of 8.44 per cent, as against 8 per cent in 1897; 12.33 per cent in 1898; 9.50 per cent in 1899, 9.94 per cent in 1900. Of the 69 deaths, 9 occurred in 12 hours, 6 within 24 hours and 6 within 48 hours of admission.

The diseases treated were as follows: Fever (Typhoid 29, Malarial 44) 73; Rheumatism, 32; Debility, 13; Syphilis 39; Gonorrhoea 19; Ulcers and Tumors 89; Disease of the Eye, Ear and Nose 16; Nervous System, 23; Circulating System, 17; Absorbent System, 45; Respiratory System, 81; Digestive System, 80; Cutaneous System, 13; Urinary and Generative System, 53; Organs of Locomotion, 15; Cellular Tissues, 11; Injuries and Accidents, 191; Poisonings, 7; Total 817.

ZENDAS CLUB MAKES MERRY

NEW ORGANIZATION GIVES DANCE

PROGRESS HALL THE SCENE OF A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

LAST NIGHT.

Many Young People Were Present and Every Person in the Hall Was Decorated With leis—Between Dances Gallant Knights Supply Refreshments to Ladies.

A very successful dance was given last night at Progress Hall by the members of the newly-born Zendas Club. It was an exclusively invitation affair and many of the prominent young people of Honolulu were present.

As the members and their friends entered the hall they were received by a committee composed of T. O'Brien, G. A. Young and J. G. Schlieff, who decorated them with leis. The hall had been prettily arranged with colored streamers and flowers and a Hawaiian quintet, stationed on a platform hidden behind a bower of tropical plants, furnished some very inspiring music.

Between dances refreshments were served, and the first dance given by the club was a very successful affair and the occasion for an evening of joy and gaiety.

The Zendas Club is a social organization of which H. C. Bickerton is the president, and C. H. D. Smith the secretary and treasurer. J. H. Flynn, R. Lamont and A. Chambers constitute the membership committee. At last night's dance J. N. Shaffer acted as floor manager with T. A. O'Brien and C. A. S. Simpson as his assistants. Among those present were:

W. C. Crook, Miss H. McCarty, J. H. Flynn, Miss M. Burns, J. Schaefer, Mrs. Small, H. Simpson, Miss F. McCarriston, J. G. Schlieff, Miss T. Oss, Mrs. C. M. Smith, C. F. Myhre, Mrs. J. Schaefer, T. Smith, Miss C. Kiedlin, Mr. Small, Miss E. Andrew, M. Simpson, Miss C. Dietz, D. McCarriston, Miss H. Lederer, H. C. Bickerton, Mrs. A. L. Soule, J. A. Young, Miss H. A. Delle, J. H. Harrison, Mrs. G. Norris, S. Jacobsen, Mrs. T. A. Simpson, O. Sellers, Mrs. H. Z. Austin, L. H. Stewart, Mr. R. Perkins, Miss N. Borden, Ben Vickers, Mrs. E. H. Boyen, W. N. Patten, Miss B. Heltman, I. Livingston, Miss M. Madeira, R. Lamont, F. L. Garrow, C. F. Moore, H. A. Giles, E. H. Leonard, C. H. Sawyer, W. H. McClellan, H. Z. Austin, E. H. Boyen.

Much time and a great deal of eloquence was used in discussing and adopting rules for the conduct of affairs in the precincts for the primaries. All the rules were adopted before the meeting adjourned. It is said that these rules will be published in a few days.

Letters addressed to Senator Kalanokalani from Delegate Robert Wilcox at Washington, relative to bills to be introduced in Congress concerning Hawaii, were read and discussed. The Delegate reported that he was still ill but was rapidly recovering his strength and health under the care of good doctors.

Mrs. Wilcox, who was present at the meeting, said that her husband expected to be as well as usual in a couple of weeks, according to letters received by the Ventura.

HOME RULERS WILL HAVE THE LABOR SUPPORT

Result of Conference Between Committee and the Organizations.

POLITICIANS IN FOSTER HALL

Precinct Rules for Primaries Are Adopted and Meeting Lasts Long.

Letters From Delegate Wilcox at Washington Addressed to Senator Kalanokalani Are Read and Discussed—Hawaii's Representative Reports That He is Recovering.

The Home Rule Republican party's executive committee held a rousing meeting in Foster Hall last evening, the business on hand occupying those present until a late hour.

A report from the special labor organization committee, consisting of John Emmelhut, James Quinn and Fred Beckley, a committee appointed to work in the interests of the affiliation of the labor interests of the islands with the Home Rule Republican party, was listened to. The committee, one member of which, Fred Beckley, was not present at the meeting, reported that a conference had already been held with the representatives of the labor interests and that another conference would take place within a short time.

The result of the first conference is to the effect that, while the labor organizations are not ready to swear allegiance to any platform or principles until such platform and principles have been established and made known, they are nevertheless ready, after becoming perfectly familiar with such platform and principles, to give full support to the Home Rule Republican party, providing of course, that the principles of the party are such as will not in any way clash with the vital interests of the laboring people and are such as to advance their interests in this country.

The Home Rulers feel confident that the labor organizations will stand and win with them at the next election. They are confident that the labor vote will go with the Home Rule Republican vote. The Home Rulers are enthusiastic in their work of preparing for the next campaign and say that their organization is now as nearly perfect as can possibly be. The report of the committee on labor organization was considered as most favorable and was adopted.

WHALING BARK JOHN WINTHROP NEEDS MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

Fourth Mate Layton Suffers From Eye Trouble Crew Has a Hard Story to Tell—Nineteen Men Out of Twenty-four Have Never Been to Sea Before—Claim to Have Been Shanghaied.

The whaling bark John and Winthrop arrived off port early yesterday morning, after a leisurely voyage of 26 days from San Francisco. She is bound on a cruise which probably will last about ten months. She put in here because Fourth Officer Layton is suffering from some disease of the eyes and needed medical assistance.

Captain Macomber reports that, on the way down, whales were sighted once, but no capture was made. The vessel, on leaving here, will proceed to Guam, where she will engage in trading with the natives and then will go to the Okhotsk Sea whaling.

There never was a ship which came to Honolulu with a more discontented crew than the John and Winthrop. If the captain had come alongside of a wharf or even had he anchored in the stream he would not have a sailor left on board his vessel in the morning.

Gets Suckers for Sailors.
The crew is composed of 4 mates, 1 boat header, 5 boat steers or harpooners and 24 men. Out of these twenty-four, nineteen have never gone to sea before, and claim that they were shanghaied on board the John and Winthrop by a man named L. Levy, of San Francisco.

Their story recalls the days when the old crimping system was an accomplished fact in every port in the United States.

An advertisement which appeared in the San Francisco newspapers during the month of September, attracted the attention of a number of unemployed men. It read thus: "Wanted—Young men to go on a cruise in the South Seas. No experience required. Apply to L. Levy, Battery and Jackson streets."

Passengers to Shoot Whales.
When the men applied to go on the cruise, it is claimed that they were told that no seamen's work would be required of them. They were to be passengers as far as the Okhotsk Sea and then would have to go in the boats and shoot whales. The American spirit of adventure got the better of them, they signed the articles and went aboard. A $40 note for advance wages was supposed to be given them, but as a matter of fact none of the men ever saw the color of it. They say that L. Levy received the notes, as, according to the American shipping laws, they cannot be cashed until 48 hours after the vessel has sailed, and in exchange the men received a "complete" whalers outfit.

Complete Whalers' Outfit.
When the men opened their bags on board, this is what they found: One pair heavy shoes, 2 pairs stockings, 1 suit heavy underwear, 1 light woolen cap, and one bottle of whiskey. And that whaler's outfit is supposed to last ten months! One of the men has sworn that he will not touch the contents of his bag and proposes to return it to the dealer and shipping master when the voyage is ended.

He says that he will buy clothes from the slop chest, and on his return to San Francisco will report the whole matter to the authorities.

The first day at sea for the "sailors" of the John and Winthrop was one of cruel deceptions. They thought they were to be only passengers, but the captain thought otherwise. Seasickness notwithstanding, they were ordered up aloft to unfurl the sails, and, under the directions of the big Cape Verde Island Portuguese, who are officers of the ship, they did it in a lively fashion. Up the rigging they went, and then on a rope to the farther end of the yards. Some of them would have left their work unfinished, but for the presence of the big colored officer near by.

Crew Prepares to Escape.
When the fourth mate's illness compelled the vessel to turn her bow towards Hawaii, the men breathed a sigh of relief and secretly made preparations to add to the floating population of Honolulu.

They counted without their host, however. Captain Macomber knows a thing or two in the whaling business, and it is not the first time that he has had such a crew. In fact no other kind of a crew can be secured to go whaling.

Captain Macomber did not bring his ship inside but kept her cruising outside under short sails, waiting for the return of his fourth mate. The John and Winthrop will proceed on her long cruise early this morning.

Agent L. E. Beebe, of the Globe Navigation Company, has received word that the Tampico had left Seattle, January 12, for Honolulu with freight. She should arrive here today or to-morrow.

During the six months ended December 31 there were built in the United States and numbered by the Bureau of Navigation 717 rigged vessels of 154,073 gross tons, compared with 568 rigged vessels of 179,229 gross tons for the corresponding six months of 1900.

The new battleship Maine is 78 per cent completed, according to a report received at the Navy Department. Naval officials are satisfied she can be placed in commission by February 15, 1903, the fifth anniversary of the sinking of the former battleship Maine in Havana harbor.

A new rule has gone into effect in the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's service, requiring all quartermasters to have licenses as deck officers. The new arrangement is designed to place a stronger safeguard about the lives and property entrusted to the company's care. None but quartermasters holding licenses will at any time be in charge of the wheel.

The boys of the Iroquois are jubilant over the news received by the Ventura. Able seaman C. Flaherty, who was on the gunboat Petrel during the battle of Manila bay, has been recommended by the Secretary of the Navy for honorable mention in recognition of the conspicuous bravery shown by Flaherty in the service of the United States.

Press dispatches report that a bottle containing a message thrown into the Mackinaw River in Illinois on Jan. 27, 1900, has been found on the coast near Santa Monica, Cal. It must have followed the Mackinaw to its confluence with the Illinois and thence floated to the Mississippi and on through the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic. Ocean currents are supposed to have carried the bottle around the Horn and up the Pacific

LAUNCH IS WRECKED IN HONOLULU BAY

HOODOO DISPELLER WANTED.
Visitors to the Whaling Bark John and Winthrop in Disaster Ten Miles Off Honolulu—Rescued by Yacht Vi-kee.

If any one in or around Honolulu owns the left hind foot of a black jackrabbit secured in a graveyard at midnight on a moonlight night, and consequently sure to ward of the "hoodoo," he can dispose of the same to a local owner of a gasoline launch. This gentleman is thoroughly convinced that he is laboring under the machinations of a busy "hoodoo" and that nothing short of a radical remedy can deliver him of that belief.

On several different occasions during the past few months his launch has met with different kinds of accidents, some of which have sorely tried the patience of the ancient Job.

The culmination to this series of accidents happened yesterday afternoon, when a party went out in the launch to visit the whaling ship John and Winthrop, which was anchored about ten miles off the harbor. The trip out was all that could be desired. The whaler was reached in due time, and after a pleasant stay on board, the launch started on her return trip, while the John and Winthrop set sail and put out to sea.

Everything went well for about 100 yards, when suddenly the engine broke down. Only one oar was in the boat and as the tide was rising the launch was rapidly drifting towards the ocean. The situation was a critical one. The sea was smooth enough and the wind was light but the prospect of being adrift on the broad Pacific with nothing to eat, and no liquids but a can of gasoline oil, was none too pleasant.

The pump was broken and beyond repair upon the high seas. But, fortunately, a rescuing party appeared on the horizon in the shape of the Vi-kee. After several clever maneuvers, Prince David's yacht captured the helpless launch and towed her back to the boat landing, where Captain C. L. Crabbe and his crew received the grateful thanks of the launch wrecked party.

George H. Whitney and Carl F. Lehnars, Federal Inspectors of Hulls and Boilers, left on the transport Kilpatrick on January 18, and are expected to arrive here to-day.

GRAVE ALARM FELT ABOUT THE FATE OF BRITISH SLOOP CONDOR

British Consul W. R. Hoare feels very much alarmed over the fate of the sloop of war Condor, which is now 51 days out from Victoria for Honolulu, and he is inclined to regard her as lost. The Ventura did not bring him any information from the Admiral of the Naval Station at Esquimaux concerning her whereabouts, although it is possible that an answer to a telegram of inquiry which Mr. Hoare sent some time ago may have been sent in the registered mail.

There are now seven sacks of mail matter for the Condor at the local postoffice. This fact seems to indicate that, when she left Victoria, there was no doubt about her being bound for this port.

Press dispatches brought by the Ventura state that considerable alarm is felt in Victoria and San Francisco about the fate of the Condor. The British vessel Phaeton is being prepared at San Francisco to go out and search for her.

HOW JUDGE ESTEE WAS OVERRULED

Referee Fleming Appoints Experts to Appraise Property.

COURT DISAPPROVES IRREGULARITY

WRIT OF INJUNCTION ISSUED TO H. A. JUEAN AND WIFE IN LAZARUS SUIT.

Reply Brief of Hatch & Silliman in Honolulu Plantation Case—Motion for Bill of Particulars—Joiner in Demurrer—Paulo Lano's Demurrer Set for Hearing.

On the application of Attorney Wade Warren Thayer in the United States District Court yesterday morning Judge Estee appointed W. H. Johnson, P. H. Burnett and C. R. Hemeway appraisers to appraise the real property of J. T. Schneider, bankrupt.

Judge Estee reminded the attorney of a previous ruling that appraisers must be appointed by the court, to report to the court. It turned out that the appraisers appointed by Referee Fleming had appointed two appraisers to do the work.

Attorney Thayer explained to the court that the appraisers in question were appointed before the court had made an order in that regard. Judge Estee said, however, that that made no difference and that the court would not approve of anything not done in conformity with the bankruptcy law.

Referee Fleming was the subject of much good natured rally in the Judiciary building yesterday and was received by numbers of his friends as one who had "overruled" the United States District Court.

Hatch & Silliman's reply brief in the Pearl Harbor land condemnation case of the United States against the Honolulu Plantation Company is, in part, as follows:

The verdict was probably unsatisfactory to both parties to this litigation. Defendant felt it should receive a larger sum and believed evidence required a verdict in the amount claimed, $200,000.

Plaintiff called but two witnesses on the question of value, and to one of those witnesses a hypothetical question was put in no way justified by the situation of the land as it actually existed. The question assumed that there was no mill in connection with the land and that there was no water supply and expressly stated that the witness must assume that the only visible source of water supply was a single artesian well, and the witness was asked what would be a fair price to pay, a fair market price to pay, for that strip of land.

As to the other witness. An obvious effort was made by counsel for plaintiff to force a certain valuation upon him which he refused to assent to, but counsel now assumes, in violation of the whole record that the witness testified to a valuation which he never admitted and which he flatly denied. Counsel says that Mr. Herbert testified that the valuation of the land was $75 per acre for 342 acres, and $25 for the remaining 219, but an examination of the transcript will show that counsel was mistaken. It is not significant that only two witnesses, having no special qualifications, were called by the Government on the question of value.

Injunction Writ Issued. A writ of injunction has been issued to H. A. Juean and his wife, Esther P. Juean, in the cancellation and accounting suit brought by Kaulimakaole Lazarus. The First Circuit Court commands that respondents refrain from disposing of their property.

It has been stipulated that petitioner may file an amended bill of complaint and that defendants may have ten days thereafter in which to plead. Bond of indemnity upon the granting of the writ of injunction has been filed by Kaulimakaole Lazarus, as principal, and Joseph Clark, as surety.

Messrs. Wm. F. Wilson Co., the leading plumbers of San Francisco have located a branch office here in the Alexander Young building.

Joiner in Demurrer.

Plaintiff in the case of Refina Vieira against Louisa F. Mendonca, bill for dissolution of partnership, by her attorney, A. G. Correa, files joiner in demurrer, saying that the declaration and the matters therein stated are sufficient in law for the plaintiff to have and maintain her action against defendant.

Set for Hearing.

Complainant's demurrer in the case of Paulo Lano against Julia Achieu, bill to set aside and cancel deed, was yesterday set for hearing on Thursday, the 30th instant.

United States Judge Estee yesterday morning made Richard E. Hagemann, a subject of Germany, a citizen of the United States.

United States Marshal E. R. Hendry has the money to pay all Federal grand and petit jurors who served during the last term.

THE ADVERTISER'S FRIEND...

THE advertiser's best friend is the medium through which he obtains the biggest returns for his money. One medium which is used by advertisers to a great extent is the circular or booklet. The circular or booklet is always ineffective, unless it is very handsome—handsome enough to attract the eye of the man to whom it is sent, no matter how busy he may be. A booklet handsome enough to do this almost always costs from three to four cents apiece. There is the mailing to count in (two cents a copy, of course); there is the trouble in getting a list of names, and in addressing. Altogether the cost will figure up to about seven cents a copy for a good booklet. Two thousand circulation in a booklet is very large. Two thousand circulation at seven cents is $140. I propose to show that you can invest $140 in newspaper space and get returns five fold of what you would get through a booklet.

Newspaper Space Is Valuable

In the first place, there is the cost. For $140 you can get a good-sized space in a newspaper of good circulation for quite a long time. You know your newspaper rates; you can figure it out to suit your own instance much better than I can. So much for cost.

Now for Effectiveness

You must tell your customers how much your goods are going to cost. An advertisement without a price is like meat without salt—it will do you no good. How can you put prices in a booklet when you are doing a strictly retail business? You have competitors; you have to change your prices constantly to meet theirs, and to meet other exigencies. The first change of a price will kill the effectiveness of a booklet, and where are you? Your advertisement in a newspaper may be changed as many times as you desire. You are constantly up-to-date.

The Newspaper Is Effective

Any kind of a newspaper has more circulation than you can obtain through a booklet for $140. Newspapers reach the heart of the home. Every one reads them, and they are far more certain to obtain close attention than any printed matter which you would send. If you sent printed matter of your own accord to persons who do not know you, you would be putting yourself face to face with them without a guarantee. They have nothing to judge the quality of your goods by, and they can only take what you say on our own paper and in your own way. Anybody can say as much as they please.

When your matter appears in a newspaper of good circulation and good standing the newspaper is a guarantee for what you say. Newspapers are always particular as to whom their advertisers are. (I speak of good newspapers always.) Your ads will gain a value besides their inherent one. They will be vouched for, and this is not to be despised. You have a certain fluctuating trade, which is always valuable, and which needs some sort of an introduction to your store. This introduction the newspaper gives you.

Good Paper Adds Dignity

You are known by the company you keep, you know, and if your ads appear in a paper which holds itself up before the masses as a leader, you will be known as a patron of what is good, and you will obtain trade from those whom it is worth trading with.

On all scores I consider newspaper advertising by far the best. On the score of cheapness; on the score of being able to constantly change your announcements; on the score of direct and immediate returns; and on the score of being introduced to people, to strangers, as a store which can afford to announce its news to every one in a dignified and straightforward manner, and this is the manner which brings trade that pays.

FRANKLIN BURNHAM, New York City.

The above article, written by one of the best-informed advertising men in the country, is in line with the business policy advocated and maintained by THE HONOLULU RE-PUBLICAN. His description of a good newspaper and its superior merits as an advertising medium is distinctly applicable to an essentially reliable and dignified family paper of large circulation, such as THE REPUBLICAN.

SUGAR PRICES AND PROFITS.

The first thought which came to the minds of the American farmers when the events following the war for the liberation of Cuba brought under our control certain tropical areas, was whether or not the possession or control of this territory by the United States would injure or perhaps destroy the opportunities which they believed they had almost within their grasp to supply much of the $100,000,000 worth of sugar which the people of the United States annually consume. This fear—if it reached the stage in which it could be called by that name—was answered in the negative by the Republican party when it passed the Porto Rican bill.

The Democratic party fought with all of its power to prevent the enactment of that measure which placed a duty upon articles coming into the United States from Porto Rico. That duty was small, but it was an explicit declaration by the Republican party that it would not concede the power to fix such tariff as it might seem judicious against the products of Porto Rico and the Philippines, and under whatever conditions. In other words, it was a distinct promise to the farmer that he need not fear that the Republican party would permit their cheap labor and cheap sugar to be brought in in a manner which would destroy that infant industry of beet sugar production which the farmers of the United States have, under the fostering care of the Republican party, been building up during the last few years.

The farmers of the temperate zone can produce beet sugar successfully in competition with the sugar cane of the tropics when both are handled by free labor. But if the Republican party intends to give special concessions to a tropical country which possesses an unlimited supply of cheap labor, and which is neither a Territory nor a possession of the United States, rather than care for the interests of its own people, then it is receding from its old-time principles.

However, nothing has yet been decided, although it can hardly be said that the news coming from Washington is of a nature encouraging to the sugar interests of Hawaii. Raw sugar is cheap enough, leaving but little margin for producers here after delivering their sugar in either New York or San Francisco. The chief trouble is that Hawaii is, and always has been, dominated by the Sugar Trust, which quietly credits itself with a margin of one and a quarter cents profit on every pound of sugar it handled last year, a part of which is a tax squeezed out of the producers who, with the risk of falling crops, are compelled to figure their share of profit in the small fractions of a cent.

Sellers of sugar from other countries than Cuba are accepting the existing ruinously low prices rather than hold back their sugar for a time. It is feared that Cuba, after obtaining a reduction in duties, will sell its sugars even at a lower parity than the present duty-paid quotations, thereby still further weakening the market and unsettling prices. At the same time there are no indications of decreased production in any part of the world.

Neely, Neely, Neely? Oh, yes, he was a postoffice robber of the last century. His trial has now begun at Havana.

Dowie is to leave Chicago. This is encouraging. But he has taken all that he can get out of Chicago.

President Palma, of Cuba, has been vigorously asserting his island republic's independence. Why, then, all this dependence upon the United States on the sugar proposition?

New York's bolting boss has put Louis Nixon in charge of the Indians. Because Hon. Louis has been a successful shipbuilder, does Hon. Dick assume that he can construct something out of Tammany's rotten planks?

Other claimants for expenditures of Territorial funds will be coming forward now that the drainage of Kewalo has been arranged. Who can tell how many millions are hidden away in Treasurer Wright's safe?

The Evening Bulletin says that the citizens of Kewalo may prepare to light bonfires of rejoicing. Would it not be well for them to wait until a little of the water is drained from the stuff?

If there is any law in the Territory of Hawaii that can detain the whaling bark John Winthrop, now lying off this harbor and waiting for a sick mate, some action should be taken to investigate the stories of the sailors and release them if they have been shanghaied.

Hon. James H. Boyd is to be congratulated upon his recent progress in administering the Public Works Department. The Merchant street cesspool has not overflowed its banks since the last pumping expedition on Saturday night, and people were able to get their mail yesterday without inconvenience. And now come the glad tidings that Kewalo is to be drained and this menace to the health of Honolulu will be removed, notwithstanding the long sounded tocsin of insufficient funds. There may have to be some maneuvering in Territorial finance, but no matter. Kewalo is to be drained. The Republican has won its fight and we congratulate Mr. Boyd upon his recognition of the justice of our fight.

AMERICAN REPUBLICS ON QUARANTINE LAWS

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 5.—The committee on international sanitary regulations of the Pan-American Congress will report this week recommendations for an international arrangement on the following basis: The signatory republics agree that it shall be the duty of their respective health and quarantine organizations to promptly notify the diplomatic or consular representatives of the signatory republics stationed within their territory of the existence and progress within their sovereign limits of the following diseases, namely: Cholera, yellow fever, bubonic plague, smallpox, or other serious pestilential outbreaks. It shall be the duty of the sanitary authorities in the respective ports to note on the bills of health the transmissible diseases which may exist in said ports prior to the sailing of the vessel.

In order to bring health and quarantine organizations more closely together for mutual benefit and international co-operation a general convention of representatives of these organizations shall be provided for. An international sanitary committee shall be established, whose membership shall consist of not to exceed five delegates appointed by each republic; said delegates to be selected from the respective health and quarantine organizations of each republic so far as possible.

EXCLUSION PROBLEMS

MANY DIFFERENCES OF OPINION

SENATOR MITCHELL CLAIMS THAT LABORERS MAY GO TO HAWAII.

Composite Bill in Senate Contains Fifty-six Sections—Representative Newlands Thinks Democratic Party May Make Question the Burning Issue of Next Campaign.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—Senator Lodge said today that the Chinese exclusion question was likely to give rise to extended debate in the Senate inasmuch as the whole Philippine question probably would become involved. He added that he thought there was a growing feeling in favor of his bill, looking to the simple continuation of the present laws. This would avoid bringing in the question of the citizenship of the people of the Philippines, about 1,500,000 of whom are of Chinese blood. It is estimated by the insular bureau that of these 500,000 are of pure Chinese blood, 60,000 of them being in Manila. If the people of the Philippines are citizens, or should be made so by act of Congress, the question arises whether the Chinese there, citizens like the rest, could be excluded from the mainland of the United States. This is a subject of such far-reaching scope that there is hesitation in attacking it.

Composite Bill Presented.

It was this very question that caused something like a split today in the sub-committee charged with framing the Chinese bill. The labor leaders, Immigration Bureau representatives and California Commission, presented a composite bill containing features drawn from several bills already described, and the sub-committee discussed it at some length. This composite bill contains fifty-six sections.

The bill differs most radically from the existing law in extending the exclusion law against the Chinese from the Philippine Islands. This new matter is contained in section 2 as follows:

Section in Dispute.

"Section 2. That from and after the passage of this act the entry into the American mainland territory of the United States of Chinese laborers coming from any of the insular possessions of the United States shall be absolutely prohibited, and the prohibition shall apply to all Chinese laborers regardless of considerations of citizenship, unless their citizenship shall have arisen in the said mainland territory. And the same prohibition of entry shall apply to Chinese laborers coming to one of the insular possessions of the United States from any of the other territories of the United States. But the transit privileges hereinafter given to other Chinese persons and hereby given to Chinese laborers in all territory of the United States, subject to the conditions hereinafter expressed."

From Philippines to Hawaii.

The words "regardless of considerations of citizenship," and the clause prohibiting Chinese laborers from passing from one group of islands to another, as from the Philippines to Hawaii, gave rise to a discussion. Senator Mitchell opposed it vigorously, saying there was only one class of citizens under the American flag, and that if the Chinese were entitled to citizenship now or hereafter in the Philippines, they were entitled to go from one part of the country to another.

Representative Newlands, chairman of the sub-committee, also withheld his sanction of section 2. His reasons are based on questions of party policy. The Democratic party, he thinks, may take the ground that the people of the Philippines, of whatever color or blood, are American citizens, and this may become the burning issue of the next Presidential campaign. He will not commit himself on this section, therefore, until he has consulted with the Democratic leaders.

Difference of Opinion.

Other members of the sub-committee endorse this section, and declare that the United States has a perfect right to exclude Chinese from the mainland, no matter what their status may be in the Philippines. They say that is a question for the Supreme Court to determine in a specified case, and that the anti-Chinese advocates should not raise the question themselves.

The sub-committee finally decided to present the bill to the Pacific Coast caucus to-morrow with a favorable report, except as to section 2, which will be presented without comment.

Woman's Influence.

Mrs. Robert Wilcox made one of the reporters of the Advertiser apologize in their paper about some articles written about Mrs. Wilcox. It read as if it was a letter to her from her husband. She states and says that she is not used to showing her letters to any one, and especially to reporters of that paper. It was a good thing that they made the correction for it would have been their turn to pay a milk bill instead of Mr. Pain's.—Home Rule Republican.

COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATIONS MAKE PROTEST

Ways and Means Committee Hears Representatives From Cuba.

CRISIS FOR REPUBLIC'S SUGAR

Statement That Reduction May Be Necessary In Tariff Rates.

Arguments in Favor of Concessions to the Island Are Made at the Conference—Opinions of Various Interests Affected by Legislation—Many Cubans Present.

WASHINGTON, January 15.—The Ways and Means Committee began hearings today on the subject of Cuban reciprocity with a large representation present from the various interests which would be affected by legislation of this character.

The American interests engaged in sugar production in Cuba were represented by Edwin F. Atkins, spokesman for an organization controlling a large part of the sugar production of the island, Hugh Kelly of New York and John F. Craig of Philadelphia.

Chairman Payne stated at the outset that the hearing was in reference to that portion of the President's message relating to reciprocity with Cuba.

Edwin F. Atkins of Boston made the opening statement in behalf of reciprocity. He spoke of the enormous overproduction of sugar throughout the world, amounting to about 1,500,000 tons, which had resulted in a crisis in the industry.

Atkins stated that a 50 per cent. reduction of duties was desired on the various large products of the island, but in response to inquiries from Payne, he said that the sugar industry felt they should have a 100 per cent. reduction.

Hugh Kelly of New York, who has large sugar holdings in Cuba, said that as an American he urged that reciprocal concessions be made. He believed that if there was no reciprocity Cuba would ask for annexation.

Mendoza of the Cuban delegation pictured the distress if present conditions were continued, and said the loss on the sugar crop this year would approximate $12,000,000.

ROOT WANTS PRIVATE STEAMSHIP SERVICE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 11.—The action of the Secretary of War in going before the House Military Affairs Committee this week and advocating the abolishment of the government transport service across the Pacific on account of its great expense, was something of a surprise.

The Secretary of War asks that Congress authorize the War Department to make a contract with a private company to carry its supplies and men to and from San Francisco.

The first supposition was that this new contract might go to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, but it now appears that the Pacific Coast Company, a corporation owned by New York and Boston capitalists, will make a fight for the contract.

The Pacific Coast Company already operates several lines of steamers on the Coast, and it also operates railroads and coal mines.

CANE SUGAR MEN MAKE THEIR PROTEST

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9.—Many Louisiana cane sugar growers, in session here today, unanimously adopted a protest to Congress against the proposed concession to the producers of cane sugar in the island of Cuba, in part as follows:

"Though the United States has given to Cuba a freedom for which she was formerly fighting hopelessly, the Cubans now desire that they shall be helped by the remission by our government of the sugar duties levied under the Dingley tariff.

FOWLER AND BEET SUGAR

STEAM PLOW DEALER INTERESTED

MAKES AN EXTENSIVE TOUR OF LARGE ESTATES ON MAINLAND.

Invests Some Money in Beet Concerns on the Coast and May Become Heavily Interested Later If Steam Cultivation Succeeds— Places Number of Steam Plows

Mr. Fowler of London, the well known plow manufacturer, has recently begun to invest in beet sugar estates in California. While Mr. Fowler has invested in cane sugar property in these islands and during his last stay here made what, in his estimation, was a liberal offer for a large block of Honolulu Sugar Company stock, which, however, was not accepted, he, together with his partner Mr. Turner and Colonel George Macfarlane, made quite an extensive tour over the beet sugar estates in California.

Steam Plows for Beets.
His principal aim was to ascertain whether the beet sugar lands of that state were adapted to steam plow cultivation and if steam plows would be used extensively should this prove to be the case. If he finds that steam plow cultivation will be used extensively he intends to invest considerably in the beet sugar estates just as he did here in Hawaii many years ago when he first introduced the steam plow cultivation here. There are now 60 to 70 sets of steam plows on the islands, valued at about $1,500,000, which have been introduced here by Mr. Fowler's firm.

Visits Beet Sugar Lands.
While Mr. Fowler was in California he succeeded in placing five sets of steam plows at different beet sugar estates in that state. Two sets were placed at the Spreckels sugar estate, one set on the Lowenthal estate and one at the Santa Maria estate in Southern California, which is better known under the name of the Union Sugar Company. The last and most successful set was placed in the Oxnard sugar estate, in Ventura county, Southern California.

Mr. Fowler returned to England later. On his way East he visited several beet sugar estates at other places outside of California, and also saw something of the cane lands in the southern states.

THEY SAY. Have you heard of the terrible faculty, "They," and the dreadful venomous things they say? Why, half the gossip under the sun, if you trace it back, you will find begins in that wretched house of "They."

A numerous family, as I am told, and its genealogical tree is old; for ever since Adam and Eve began to build up the curious race of man He existed the house of "They."

Gossip mongers and spreaders of lies. Horrid people whom all despise! And yet the best of us now and then Repeat queer tales about women and men And quote the house of "They."

It is wholly useless to follow a "They" With a whip or a gun, for he slips away And into his home, where you cannot go. It is locked and bolted and guarded so— This horrible house of "They."

Though you cannot get in, yet they get out And spread their villainous tales about. Of all the ravals under the sun Who have come to prominence never one Belongs to the house of "They." —Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

My Wedding Day.

A Romance of Concord and Lexington. By L. G. Woodberry.

Well, as I was saying, this is the way it came about: I was a young thing then, just turned 18. Your grandfather had been my playmate, hero and protector from the time that I was old enough to go to school. I had never thought of marrying any one but him, and so when he asked me to be his wife, why, of course, I said "Yes."

Well, it was in the spring of 1775 that we were to be married. Mother and I spent the winter getting my things made up, and I had as fine an outfit as a girl could possibly have in those days. The day set for the wedding was the 19th of April—yes, the very day on which the battle of Lexington occurred, as I have good reason to remember.

Those were anxious days for us. I remember how serious my father and brothers used to look as they discussed the events which were then taking place. Their only conversation was about rights, stamps and taxes.

When the towns began to raise "militiamen," why, of course, we raised a company in our town, and your grandfather and my brothers were members of it. We girls could not stand guard, of course, so in order to show our patriotism we all signed a paper in which we agreed not to have anything to do with the men of the town who refused to join the company.

The 19th of April was a beautiful day, though a warm one for the season. We were all up early that morning, for there was a great deal to be done. It was about 9 o'clock in the forenoon when my mother, who had been looking over some linen, suddenly raised her head, exclaiming as she did so, "Why, Mary, was that the meeting house bell?"

"What can it mean?" I cried, and running to the window, I caught sight of our neighbor's sons, Joe and John Eaton, running down the road with their guns. Across the way Harry Wright was plowing the field. The boys called out to him as they passed, and, without stopping to unhitch the horse, he seized his gun and was off across the fields.

"It is an alarm, mother!" I cried. "The boys are down by the brook," she said. "The sound will not reach them. Run and tell them!"

Without delay I hurried to the kitchen, and, seizing the horn, I ran out of the house and started for the brook, which was some distance from the house. I blew a blast on the horn as I ran, and as the boys caught sight of me I pointed toward the road, where several men could be seen running with their guns. The boys understood, and, waving their hands to me, they were off across the field to the road.

"What do you suppose the matter is?" asked mother when I returned to the house. "I do not know," was my reply, "but I am going to find out." And I ran out of the house and took a short cut across the fields to the meeting house, which was to be the gathering place if the alarm should ever be sounded. I, for one, had never expected to hear any alarm, for at home we hoped for a peaceful settlement of the difficulties. But when I reached the church and saw the whole town gathered on the green the men's stern air and the women's pale faces frightened me, and I began to fear that something serious was the matter.

"What is it? Where are they going?" I asked. And as I spoke the men came hurrying out of the meeting house, where they had heard a few words from Parson Smith, and, mounting their horses, rode off as fast as they could go. I looked for your grandfather, but he was not there. Catching sight of my father, I ran to him. "Have you seen Henry?" (that's your grandfather) I asked. "Henry was at the tavern when the messenger rode through here," replied my father, "and, as he had his horse with him, he rode away without waiting for the company to assemble."

You may imagine my feelings as I turned to go home. This was my wedding day, and the man who was to marry me had ridden off without a word, knowing, too, that he might never return, if all they were saying about fights and resistance was true. My father had reached home before me, and as I opened the door I heard mother ask, "Do you think it is anything serious, father?" "I am afraid it may be, wife," he said. "The messenger said that Governor Gage has sent some of the king's troops to destroy the supplies which have been stored at Concord. If the report is true, there will be resistance, and if it comes to that it will be very serious business for us."

My mother kept her fears to herself and did her best to make me feel that it would come out all right, but those hours were the most anxious I ever spent. So through the day we watched and waited for news.

The first news that came to us from the fight at Lexington and the other doings of that day arrived about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, when some minutemen from another town stopped at the tavern on their way home. They told the story of the day to the little crowd of anxious women who eagerly questioned them for news of some dear one.

My father would not let me go down to the tavern, but went down himself and brought us the news. I can see him now hurrying along the road. "Something unusual has happened," Mary!" exclaimed my mother. "I never saw your father look so excited."

I hastened down the path to meet him. "Bad news, my child; bad news!" he exclaimed. "There has been an encounter with the king's troops. And then, reading the question in my eyes, he continued, "But they brought no news of our men."

The hour set for the wedding was 8 o'clock, but it began to look as if there would be no wedding, for it was now after 7 o'clock, and none of our men had returned home. Mother and I sat in silence in the kitchen while father walked back and forth in the room above.

At last we heard steps outside, and then my brother Arthur, who was among the first to reach home, staggered into the room. I sprang up and ran to him. He sank into the nearest chair, and his gun fell to the floor with a thud. Arthur was only a boy of 15, you must remember, and the day had been a terrible one.

When he had recovered a little, my father spoke. "What news do you bring, my son?" he asked. "Now, I had felt from the first that he had brought bad news, and by the way he hesitated and glanced from father to me and still did not speak I felt sure of it. So I put my worst fears into words.

"Arthur," I said, "is it Henry?" "Listen," he said, speaking rapidly. "The king's troops were in full retreat when we reached the road. We did not keep with our companies, but each one found shelter as he was able behind trees, walls or fences. I met Henry as I was crossing a field, and we took shelter together and awaited the coming of the troops. We had just got settled when Henry caught sight of a flanking party coming right down on us. He called to the men near us to run for their lives, and at the same time we both jumped the wall and ran for a house which stood in the field just opposite. I reached the opposite wall in safety and turned round to look for Henry, but he was not with me.

At that moment the troops came round a sudden turn in the road and sent some shots in our direction. At the risk of being shot at I stood up and looked across the road. He must have been hit by the flanking party, for he lay just by the wall.

"Are you sure it was he?" asked father. "Yes; I knew him by the green on his powderhorn," replied my brother. "You staid by and looked after him?" asked father. "I tried to, sir, but the troops came down on us, and we were obliged to move on. I went back to the place as soon as I could, but I must have mistaken the spot, for I could not find him."

Meanwhile I sat in my chair, feeling as if I had just awakened from a bad dream. I did not fully realize what had happened, for it seemed impossible.

"Here are some people, Mary," said mother. "You would better go up to your room and lie down." I did as I was told. There on the bed lay my wedding gown. I could not bear to look at it, and, picking it up, I placed it in the large chest in which my linen was packed and pulled down the lid; then I threw myself on the bed, and tears came to my relief. So I lay there thinking over the events of the day, my wedding day that was to have been. How different from what I had anticipated!

Suddenly I heard the sound of a horse's feet coming up the road at a furious pace. I sat up and listened. "Somebody is riding on an important errand," I said to myself. Nearer and nearer came the sound, and the rider, whoever he was, drew rein at our door. Then there were a murmur of voices and an opening and shutting of doors and then my mother's voice calling to me: "Mary, Mary; child, come down! Henry is here. He's come!"

Scarcely believing that I heard aright, I got up and ran down stairs and into the kitchen, and there before me, his face pale as death, with a blood-stained bandage bound about his forehead, stood your grandfather.

"Mary," he cried, holding out his hands to me. "I am in time! The clock has not struck yet!" Then Parson Elder, who had come over to hear the news from Arthur, came forward and said, "Shall I perform the ceremony now?"

So right then and there your grandfather, in his working clothes, all stained with dust and blood, and in my morning calico, were married.—Forward.

DESPONDENCY DRIVES KROUSE TO HIS DEATH

Leaves a Letter Stating the Motive That Resulted In Rash Act.

TWO SHOTS THAT PROVED FATAL Kept Hoping In Va'n For Family Letters Which Never Reached Him.

In His Last Moments Provision is Made for His Daughter Edna, Appoints His Sister-in-Law to Take Charge of His Effects—De- ceased Was an Old Resident.

Thomas Krouse, manager of the Arlington Hotel annex, and a resident on the Islands for the past twenty-five years, deliberately took his life yesterday morning, by firing two bullets into his body, which resulted in his dying within less than two hours. Mr. Krouse's rash act remains unexplained by himself. However, it is generally conceded by his close friends and acquaintances that he had become despondent over domestic matters, and took this tragic method of escaping further trouble and worry.

The bullets both entered the body in the vicinity of the heart. That the suicide had been deliberately and carefully planned was clearly indicated by the note left on a small stand in the room in which the deed was committed. In this letter Krouse indicated just what disposition he wanted made of his property and personal effects. He also intimated that absence of mail from his wife and daughter, now in San Francisco, where they have been for the past eight months, caused him bitter disappointment.

Revolver Reports Heard.

Shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning, George W. Page, an architect, who has offices in the Arlington building on Hotel street, heard two sharp reports from a revolver, coming in quick succession. He rushed out into the hall, followed by a Japanese woman named Kini, a house-keeper at the hotel annex.

Lying upon the floor of a small combination kitchen and pantry in the rear of the building, was the body of Krouse, writhing in his death agony, with a stream of blood flowing from a wound in his breast. Close to his right side with a 28-calibre revolver, still containing three unexploded cartridges.

Krouse Could Not Speak.

Dr. R. P. Myers was the first physician summoned. High Sheriff Brown was soon upon the scene and took charge of Krouse. The patrol was called and the injured man was taken to Queen's hospital. Owing to his great loss of blood Krouse was unable to speak a word in reply to the questions put to him by High Sheriff Brown.

Dr. C. B. Wood attended to the wants of the patient upon reaching the hospital. He made an examination of the wounds and informed the officers that there was no hope for recovery, and that the end was very near. Krouse rallied for an instant, and in response to an inquiry from Sheriff Brown, "Who shot you, Tom?" the dying man replied: "I did." Asked for a reason, Krouse almost inaudibly stated, "Tell you by and by." He then lapsed into unconsciousness, his death occurring at 12:40 p. m.

Writes to Wife's Sister.

High Sheriff Brown returned to Krouse's apartments later and found a letter lying upon a stand, addressed to Mrs. Frank Hoogs, who is a sister to Mrs. Thos. Krouse.

On a slip of yellow paper was written "Call Mrs. Frank Hoogs as soon as possible." It was then signed "Respectfully, T. E. Krouse."

The letter directed to Mrs. Hoogs read as follows:

Honolulu, Dec. 29, 1901.
Dear Mrs. Frank Hoogs:
After all debts are paid please do this for me. For Edna sell or dispose of everything belonging to me, and reserving for yourself anything. Turn into cash the balance and put in a savings bank. You have full control of everything. You will find key of safe in my pants.
Yours respectfully,
T. E. KROUSE.
P. S.—I have been waiting for a letter from my wife.
Jury and Inquest.

The High Sheriff selected the following jury: Wm. C. Coney, Alben Dunn, Thos. R. Lucas, F. Smith, R. M. Duncan and C. A. Graham, who viewed the scene of the suicide and then the remains. An inquest was held at the police station at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

C. B. Woods, the first witness, said he had examined the body of T. E. Krouse at the Queen's hospital and found a gunshot wound in the left breast. Dr. Woods also made an examination of the back and lower dorsal region, which showed a soft discoloration, just to the left of the spine. Incision into this locality revealed just beneath the skin a bullet of 38 calibre.

Japanese Woman Testifies.

Kini, a Japanese woman, testified to having worked for Mr. Krouse for about two years, and had often heard the deceased complain about not receiving letters from his wife now residing in San Francisco. "Mr. Krouse went to the post office about 6 o'clock to see if there was any mail for him, arriving by last night's steamer," stated the woman. "He soon returned from the post office and told me he had received no letters. He seemed despondent and cried. About 10 o'clock I went to the post office to see if letters had arrived, but found none, and came back. He was sitting at the table writing when I returned from the post office. I left his room having to attend to my work. In a few minutes I heard two pistol shots apparently fired in his room. Went to the door and found it locked. Opened it and saw Krouse lying on the floor of a small kitchen adjoining his sitting room. He had told me a number of times he intended to commit suicide."

Sheriff Brown's Evidence.

High Sheriff A. M. Brown testified to having seen Krouse badly injured lying on the floor of the kitchen in his house about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. He saw a 38-calibre revolver close by his side, and blood running from the wound in the left breast. Krouse was groaning and appeared to be in great agony. Two shells were found exploded in the revolver.

"When I asked Krouse who shot him, his reply was 'Shot myself,'" said the Sheriff. "I then asked why he had done so, his reply was: 'I will tell you by and by.' I also found a letter of explanation in Krouse's room."

Verdict of Suicide.

In accordance with the testimony the jury speedily rendered the following verdict:

"That Thomas E. Krouse came to his death at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on the 23rd day of January, 1902, the result of a bullet wound from a 38-calibre revolver fired by himself with suicidal intent, said bullet entering the abdominal cavity, causing hemorrhage and shock. Despondency, so the jury believes, being the cause of this act."

Despondent Over His Trouble.

Krouse was about forty-five years of age. Some years ago he was in charge of the Arlington Hotel now removed to give place to the Young building. He was lately employed behind the bar of the Fashion Saloon on Hotel street. He was affiliated with the Hawaiian Lodge of Masonry. Krouse is not known to have been financially embarrassed. He is said to have complained of heart trouble on Sunday last. The only explanation for his successful attempt at self-destruction was family troubles. This is borne out by the records he left behind, and the testimony of those who knew him well.

BRUNS OF HONOLULU STARTLES CALIFORNIA

FREE AMUSEMENT PROVIDED

Brother Benjamin and His Famed High Diving Canine Offer Premiums—Bumps Up Against Rival and Wages Warfare.

Benj. Burns, well known in Honolulu as an amusement promoter, and who has for several years past been amassing wealth and notoriety as a successful distributor of patent medicines on the coast, has again appeared upon the surface in California.

The jolly Burns and his famous high diving dog "Dude" have been stirring the amusement loving populace of Livermore, Cal., from corner to circumference. From San Jose comes the story of Burns' latest achievements with the Brother Benjamin "vaudevilles."

The little town of Livermore, although not exactly in or on the circuit, is at present in the midst of a theatrical war. The Wizard Oil Vaudeville Company opened the Farmers' Union Theater billed for a week at fifteen cents admission. Burns and the Brother Benjamin Company arrived on the same train, rented a vacant lot near the post-office, had a stand erected, electric lights placed, paid a month's rent in advance, and began giving a free show. The first night about 600 people attended the Brother Benjamin show and about sixty the Wizard Oil. During the performance the Wizard Oil manager announced he would give a free show each night and beside would award numerous presents to the audience and a diamond ring to the most popular lady in town. The result was the theater was packed and the Brother Benjamin show was poorly attended.

Burns not to be outdone or out-classed, engaged a brass band and purchased a large number of fine presents to be given away, and soon found them right in the swim. In the meantime Livermoreans are getting the best of it in the way of free amusement.

HE BLAMED THE PLUMBER

MAHELONA COULD NOT COMPLY

"Monday Crews" Visits Familiar Haunts, But is Several Days Overdue—Sailors' Cases Not Tried at the District Court Yesterday. Japanese Contractor Fined.

At the door of the much maligned but inoffensive plumber, Mahelona laid the blame for his not complying with the rules and regulations as set down by the Board of Health, and obeying the mandates of that body and its representatives, when notified that his premises were not in letter perfect sanitary condition.

Mahelona was among several offenders against whom complaints had been filed by the Territorial sanitary officer. The plumbing connecting the defendant's premises was pronounced faulty upon a recent visit of the inspector. Mahelona was notified that he must promptly remedy the deficiency, and was also told that delays in such matters were both dangerous and costly.

Delay of the Plumber.

When arraigned before Judge Wilcox in the police court yesterday morning, the defendant claimed that he had used all diligence in consulting his family plumber, but that party exercised no particular haste or concern over the job, thereby leaving Mahelona at the mercy of the health officials. Explanations soon made the situation appear in a clearer light. The court granted the defendant another week in which to employ his best persuasive efforts upon the plumber, in order that this alleged plutocratic tradesman might be induced to perform the work on the Mahelona premises.

Behind Schedule Time.

Judge Wilcox failed to bring about a reconciliation between Mrs. K. C. Mallan and her husband, who was arraigned upon the charge of assault and battery. Mrs. Mallan claimed that she had been both struck and kicked by Mallan.

The defendant was represented by Attorney Magoon. Mrs. Mallan's attorney was J. T. De Bolt. Mallan pleaded guilty and the court was asked to suspend sentence. The wife, however, interposed serious objections to again going back to Mallan's bed and board. It is believed that a suit for divorce will be brought against Mallan by his wife.

"Monday Crews" one of the old standbys of the First District Court, again showed up at his favored haunts after a brief season of obscurity. Crews was charged with drunkenness. "Monday" was several days behind schedule time in making his appearance. Of late he has utterly ignored the first business of the week, and has shown greater partiality to Thursdays. Police officials are of the opinion that if "Monday" persists in registering at Hotel Brown as Monday Crews he will lay himself liable to prosecution for sailing under false pretenses. He should change his cognomen to "Thursday." Crews was fined $4 and costs.

Japanese Contractor Fined.

Murphy and Brown, both drunk, were fined regulation stipends. Pressure of business at the police court prevented the trial of A. Jacobsen, Olaf Olsen and John Johnson charged with striking J. Van Dyke, the second mate of the ship Florence. Naian admitted having raised a disturbance which broke in upon the quiet of the night. He was fined $2 and costs for the delirious delights derived therefrom.

Morimoto, the Japanese contractor, who was in charge of the blasting operations at the King street excavation, on Wednesday, when a large quantity of rock was sent up in the air and falling, crashed into the office of the Metropolitan Meat Market, was fined $25 and costs. Two Japanese assistants, arrested at the same time, were discharged, as it was shown they had nothing to do with the firing of the dynamite.

The trial of K. Miura and Kasu, charged with adultery, was continued over until today. Miura also has a bribery charge hanging over his head which will be passed upon this morning.

Legal Consolidation.

With the return from the Coast of Attorney Frank E. Thompson, arrangements were entered into yesterday whereby Mr. Thompson will join forces with Hon. Thomas Fitch, and in the future will do business under the name of Fitch and Thompson. The combination is a strong one, and the prospect for their future success is most promising.

Polo To-morrow.

There will be a polo game at Kapiolani Park to-morrow afternoon between the Lealis and the ex-Maul team. The following players will take part: Lealis—Waterhouse, Shingle, Norton and Lieutenant Hitchcock. Ex-Mauls—Chillingworth, Copp, Dickey and Fleming.

Catholic Mission Band.

There will be a special rehearsal of the Catholic Mission band at the Catholic club rooms to-night, and it is expected that every member will be present. It is said that the band has a moonlight serenade to the Project in contemplation, when the French cruiser arrives in port.

A Modest Philanthropist.

From the Philadelphia Press.
It is not often that a distaste for publicity in connection with works of philanthropy is carried beyond the grave. Such, however, is true in the case of Mr. George W. Farr, jr., of this city, who left over $100,000 to local charities, and in a codicil to his will asked that the fact be kept from newspaper publication.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., U. S. A., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa.

BINDING OF BOOKS, MAGAZINES AND PAPERS

Is another branch of the art preservative that we give particular attention to. Our bindery is the most complete in Honolulu and the large amount of work always on hand attests to the excellence of our bindery. If you want any kind of Printing or Binding done you should patronize us if you desire first-class work.
