

ANNOUNCEMENT.

In order to commence the issue of this paper on the 1st of September, we are compelled to adopt a temporary hearing which will be replaced by one of hand-made design and finish as soon as the electrotype plate can be obtained from the COW, when the whole make up of the paper will be changed and improved.

PROPRIETORS DAILY HONOLULU PRESS

OUR INVENTIVE CRANKS

Donn Platt Talks About the Devices of Stranded Canning.

Who has not met, at unpleasant frequency in life, a pale, slender, sunken-eyed and seedy man, who invents? Who is there has not wished himself dead, or the inventor in hades, on such occasions?

Conquering a continent with a scarcity of laborers has developed our ingenuity to a point of insanity. Our patent office at Washington is packed with devices of stranded canning. The law of our holding holds good, and for one success we have a thousand failures.

The late war was fought to a successful conclusion, not alone by bayonets and artillery, but by agricultural implements, that enabled the North to produce all upon which we lived at home, while it sustained a million of men at the front and another million swindling the government in the rear.

We look about us and find ourselves bedged in by inventions. The revolving chair I sit in, the table I write at, the portable book-stand, the pen, the ink, the paper, in a word, every article I use comes from the brain of invention, and is stamped as patented by the government.

Yesterday my dentist inserted a buzz saw in my grinder and, working a treadle with his right foot, made me wish I were dead.

"Where, in the name of Satan, did you get that instrument of torture?" I cried, with my few remaining teeth on edge, and my poor nerves tingling in anguish.

"It was invented by a farmer to shear sheep," he responded, "and falling at that was picked up by a dentist."

The sleep escaped me to have the torture bestowed on less fortunate humanity.

I witnessed once a farce at the Palais Royal, Paris, when the fun turned on an exhibit of inventions, rejected by the Imperial Commission selected to pass upon machines, offered the grand international exhibition.

I remember one instrument, designed to open oysters, that filled the entire stage with its complicated cog wheels and levers. Another was called Chastity's belt, and consisted of concealed daggers about the waist of the unprotected female, that flew out like a cheval de frise on touching a spring.

"Very ingenious, indeed," said an old spectator, "but I would like to know who controls the spring. Monsieur, my wife might spring it on me."

This was taken as a most reasonable objection by the audience that broke into a roar of laughter and applause.

It was about that time that an old American crank appeared at Paris, by the name of Thompson, who proposed to make every article of furniture in a ship life-preserving, in case of wreck. His greatest invention was a life preserver in the shape of a stool. The male passenger was to strap this stool to that part of his person where the legs end and the body begins. Each stool was warranted to float one hundred and eighty pounds, so that when the ship went down the voyager would float out to sea in a sitting position. The female was to be supplied with an India-rubber air-tight bustle that would serve the same floating purpose.

Thompson carried the emperor at Char-burg going through a view of the French fleet, and with a life-preserving stool strapped to his inventive person—Thompson I mean, not the emperor—jumped overboard in a rough sea.

Little Louis was prejudiced in favor of life-preservers at the time, and he presented the indomitable Thompson with a snuff box adorned with little Louis's intellectual commencement, set in diamonds. Thompson, of the life-stool, went to talking snuff, and, it is to be hoped, shortened his inventive life in that way.

The most amusing instance, however, that came to my knowledge was in the shape of a Yankee possessed of a sewing machine, then just invented. He managed, as a Yankee will, to get an interview with the Emperor, and told that imperial shah that he could teach him in ten minutes to make a pair of pantaloons in twenty minutes.

The cost of a French soldier had been reduced to five sous a day. If each soldier could be taught to make his own breeches, the cost would be yet further reduced. The Emperor tried his hand at breeches-making, and succeeded. The Yankee sold his patent for a good round sum in cash, and was far at sea when the war department of France discovered that the netter garment, made in twenty minutes, lasted about ten. The knot subsequently invented, was then unknown.

A break in the thread revealed the seam.

It was after the emperor had been taught by experience to regard Yankee ingenuity in its true light that an inventor appeared at Paris on his way to St. Petersburg. He had discovered the process of riling cannon and applying to heavy ordinance the principle of the minnie-ball. Armed with letters from the Russian minister, at Washington, he was on his way to St. Petersburg to offer the Russian government the use of his invention. He was bearer of dispatches from our State Department, and, as secretary of legation, I helped him on.

The Crimean war, however, was in progress, and travel to St. Petersburg was dangerous and troublesome. Our inventor grew discouraged and returned to Paris. With that impartiality peculiar to our people, he concluded that French money was as good as Russian, and wished to offer his invention to France. I told him the Emperor, through sad experience, had come to be rather shy of Yankee inventors. My friend persisted. An idea struck me. I said: "Return to your lodgings, take out your invention and fire it up the chimney, especially at midnight."

The good fellow, without seeing my object, did as I directed, and in twenty-four hours was arrested as a conspirator and thrown into prison.

I hastened to the Minister of Foreign Affairs. I told him that an ingenious American, who had discovered the art of applying to artillery the principle of the minnie projectile, and on his way to St. Petersburg under endorsement from the Russian minister, at Washington, to offer his great invention to the czar, had been arrested as a conspirator.

The minister was extremely interested. I had not only an order for the immediate release of my countryman, but in twenty-four hours a commission of experts to test the invention. I shall believe to my dying day that the French fellows stole Roosevelt's invention for the better improvement of artillery.

Be that as it may, Roosevelt has himself to blame. He could not be induced to stick to his great invention. He had a thousand. His busy brain teemed with a million. The one important commission that never reported, but as I believed used the discovery, was followed by half a dozen others on all sorts of projects.

One of these, and quite entertaining, was a repeater, in the shape of a masket, that was to carry forty loads, one on the top of the other. The soldier, in the quiet of his camp, was to load his musket for the next action. The first charge exploded, fired the next, and so down to the last.

The report on this made solemnly by the commission, gave me a laugh of an hour's duration by the clock. It was to the effect that while the invention was extremely ingenious, and at first sight seemed valuable, a little reflection led to the conclusion that the proposed repeater was impracticable. At long range, for instance, it would have short charges. As the distance lessened, the range would grow long. Again were a soldier, armed with this repeater, to be wounded or killed, his musket would continue discharging, and probably with injurious effect to his own comrades. In case of a panic, where arms were thrown away by flying troops, their flight would be hastened or ended by bullets from their own musket.

It is scarcely necessary to say that the repeater was not adopted by the French government.

The report, made in dead earnest, reminded me of Squibbles, our first humorist, on the effort made to create a firing artillery, by strapping mountain howitzers to the backs of mules. There was no question, the report said, that in the celerity of movement great progress had been obtained. The practical advantage gained, however, in action was not so clear. The natural disposition of the mule to kick rendered loading extremely difficult and accuracy of aim quite impossible.

Again, while it was quite natural for a mule to turn his rump to the enemy, it was impossible to make the animal comprehend on which side the enemy was.

In the only action had, the lieutenant continued, in which the experiment had been tried, the firing was very promiscuous, both as to time and aim, the mountain howitzers being sowed in a disorderly manner, shooting into their own forces as much as at the foe. While the enemy fled, in much disorder, some twenty miles, the lieutenant's force could never be found again. It was his grave conclusion that it had been kicked to pieces by the mountain and mounted howitzers.

My mind has been turned in this direction by the experience of a guest—a most ingenious gentleman, of an inventive turn, who came to pass some weeks with me at Maccoche. He came loaded down with inventions gotten up more for his personal comfort than with an idea of profit.

Among these was "Walcutt's patent bed cooler and mosquito guard," which consisted of a huge fan suspended above the bed, so worked by cunning machinery that the weight of the occupant kept it moving for ten hours. As we are without mosquitos at Maccoche, and the nights are so cool that we sleep under blankets, I told him that it was scarcely necessary to set up his invaluable invention.

He persisted, and at the dead hour of midnight the household was startled by a crash, followed by yells such as have not been heard since the Indians left.

These awful noises came from my inventive guest's apartment, and seizing a light and a revolver I hastened thither. I found the door locked, and as the frightful noise continued I threw myself against it, breaking it open, and was met by a volley from a revolver that knocked the candle from my hand and sent bullets whizzing by me. Believing that burglars, bent on murder, were within I emptied my revolver promiscuously in the dark, and that had the effect of redoubling the cries.

Other guests arrived with lights and we found no burglars about, but our friend on the bed under a mass of ruins. It seems that he had been startled from a dream of murder, and rising confused had been hit by his fan, and blindly resisting the blow, had gone into a general engagement with his own machinery. The revolver I had encountered was another ingenious contrivance, fastened to the door to repel burglars.

My friend is altogether in a bad way, with a broken arm, black eyes, and bruised shins, while I and my other guests have an able bodied and pious clergyman returning thanks for our escape from immediate death.

OLD FASHIONED FLOWERS.

Cannot endure old-fashioned flowers—
"Cheap flowers, you know, so awful slow,
That in poor people's garden grow.
And only watered by the showers,
I like a bloom that costs a guinea!"

Fair Arabella, you're an nunny,
And think, perhaps, par' air's too common
To please so superbia a woman?
And that that smaltine could be sweeter
If bought, like gaulther, by the meter.

ADVERTISEMENTS. Brief communications from all parts of the Kingdom will always be very acceptable.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1885.

GOOD TIDINGS.

The Zealandia on Saturday last brought the welcome advices of the success of the late effort of a deputation of plantation agents of San Francisco for the disposal of the coming crop of crops.

The relationship existing between England and Italy is reported to be of the most cordial and sincere character.

Large Sugar Contract.

The proprietors of the American Refinery have recently closed contracts with certain Hawaiian planters for about two-thirds of the sugar crop for the ensuing year.

The remains of Admiral Courbet were interred in the Hotel des Invalides on August 28th. A large assemblage attended the burial ceremonies notwithstanding the weather was inclement.

It is stated that Emperor William of Germany, through a feeling of sympathy with King Alfonso, has made a personal interference in order to obtain a settlement of the Caroline affairs favorable to Spain.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

A valuable mica deposit has been discovered ninety miles north of the Comstock in Nevada.

A dispatch from Fossil, Gilliam county, brings news of the poisoning of three children at that place.

County fairs are being held in Santa Clara, Butte, Placer and Sonoma counties. The fairs are all well attended and show good results.

Only small portions of the Tuscarora and Narragansett now remain undressed at Kershaws to show what was once the United States North Pacific Squadron.

It has been decided to establish a naval yard at Mihara, the place having been found to be admirably adapted to the purpose.

Blackman Bros' logging camp, on Lake Beecher, near Snohomish, W. T., has been burned out. Loss, $7,000.

The news from Peking is depressing. It seems that after all the projects talked about—railroads were to be started, mines opened and the country generally developed—the signing of peace has had the effect of putting a stop to all these improvements.

The Mechanics Fair at San Francisco is now well started, and promises well. The amount received on the opening night was $1,921, as against $1,902 for the opening night last year.

The General Committee upon the Twentieth National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic have decided upon July 6, 1886, as the date for holding the encampment.

A Grant Monument Association is under way to erect a memorial structure to the dead General. It will probably be built in Sacramento.

Gladstone states that his cruise to Norway and his travels through that country have greatly benefited him in health.

The ship Cilurnum, from Newcastle, England, for San Francisco, has been abandoned on fire. All the crew, except one were saved and landed at Pernambuco.

It is reported Spanish men-of-war have arrived at Yap, the chief island of the Caroline group, and planted the Spanish flag. No German vessels were in sight.

Agarian outrages are increasing fearfully in Kerry county, Ireland. Every day cases of moonlight work, of incendiarism and hamstringing of cattle are reported.

The Standard of the 28th says several thousand unemployed workmen assembled at Hackney last evening and adopted a resolution demanding that the Government assist them to emigrate.

It is rumored, in Berlin, that King Alfonso has sent an autograph letter to Crown Prince Frederick William, asking him to mediate in order that the friendship between Spain and Germany may be maintained.

The manufacturing establishment of S. Maw & Son and of S. Maw, Son, & Thompson, makers of surgeon's instruments, London, was burned August 28th. Loss $250,000. Four hundred employees are thrown out of work.

Spanish merchants and other consumers of garden products threaten to boycott all German goods. Firms in Wurzburg and Elderfeld have received notices from commercial houses in Spain severing business connections with them.

The Le France states that all Spanish officers now on furlough have been ordered to return to their regiments. The same paper is authority for the statement that several large Spanish mercantile houses have cancelled all their outstanding orders for German goods.

At Kremsier, August 26th, Emperor Francis Joseph conferred the Order of the Grand Cross of St. Stephen upon Grand Duke George, the second son of the Czar, and appointed him to a Lieutenantcy in the Imperial Austrian Uh-lans. The Grand Duke is in his sixteenth year.

The Spanish Government has closed the doors of the Army and Navy Club, at Madrid, because the officers belonging to the club have returned their German decorations, and because the club has struck from its list of honorary members the names of German officers and that of the Crown Prince of Germany.

The Borsen Courier has a dispatch from Constantinople which says that Russia is making overtures for an alliance with Turkey and holds out as an inducement the prospect of Turkey's recovering possession of the Balkan Passes and fortress. The Turkish Ministry, the dispatch says, are divided as to the acceptance of the proposals.

Nagasaki is at present stated to be suffering from an extreme and unusual depression of trade.

The Austrian Minister will proceed to Corea in an Austrian man-of-war expected to arrive there about the end of this month, in order to conclude a treaty with the Korean Government.

The tobacco produced in Yashui is soft in leaf and fit for making cigars, and has acquired high reputation in America. Fifty thousand bales are to be exported to that country at an early date.

The tea and silk trains from San Francisco to New York are reported as having reached their destination in the guaranteed time of eight days. The value of one of the trainloads of twenty-two cars is placed at $1,000,000.

A letter from General Stahel stated that he intended leaving Shanghai on the 14th of July, and that during his absence G. H. Scidmore, United States Vice-Consul General, will be in charge of the Consulate-General in that city.

Mr. Ashton, the British Consul-General in Corea, is reported to have obtained leave of absence. Since his return to his post he has been suffering from the unhealthy climate of the peninsula, and he is said to have applied for leave on that account.

The Kyoto Blind and Dumb School has received a gold medal from the International Sanitary Exhibition in London, for the excellent system of instruction as shown by a number of articles made by the inmates which had been forwarded to the exhibition.

The Pekingese are decidedly "checkered" and more impudent than they used to be. Foreigners going through the streets of Peking receive far more annoyance than formerly. It seems impossible for any group of natives to refrain from insulting passer-by in one way or another.

All the cargo and passenger boats plying between Canton and the coast ports went on a strike on account of the officials having levied a tax amounting to 100 taels per annum for small, and higher sums for larger boats. The tax was levied to raise funds for liquidating the expenses of the late war. The result was a compromise, the authorities agreeing to reduce the amount of the tax whereupon the boats recommenced running.

China has experienced the most serious flood known there for thirty years. The greatest destruction is in Canton and vicinity. Over 10,000 people have perished and a larger number are starving. Entire villages were engulfed and the rice and silk crops around Canton are ruined. The streets of Canton were flooded over a week. The rivers have broken through in the vicinity and drowned thousands of people. Those who have escaped the general destruction are in a deplorable state.

THE CHOLERA ON LAND AND SEA.

Madrid, August 28th.—During the past twelve hours, fourteen new cases and fourteen deaths have been reported in this city.

Marseilles, August 28th.—Twenty-eight deaths from cholera in this city today. At the Pharo Hospital four patients died, nine were admitted, six were discharged and five remain under treatment.

One hundred coffins have been sent from this city to Toulon, the latter place being short. Six deaths on an average are daily reported at Salon.

Toulon, August 28th.—During the past twenty-four hours thirty-four deaths from cholera have been reported in this city.

London, August 28th.—The French transport Chateau Yquem, from Pesca-dores, has passed Signapore, with forty cases of cholera on board. Ten deaths had occurred.

The Likelike Excursion.

The S.S. Likelike left port on the afternoon of Thursday at 6:10 P. M. for a trial trip to Kahului, with about twenty guests who were invited by the president of the Wilder S. S. Co., Mr. S. G. Wilder. We started off at about a twelve-knot speed, turning the spar buoy so quickly as to carry away the main gaff. In twenty-five minutes from the time of starting we passed Diamond Head. About the first thing to be done was to eat dinner, of which we partook freely; the first toast of the evening was toast and tea. Others followed in quick order until we all arose well satisfied with our bill of fare.

At 12 P. M. the engines were slowed down, as it was evident from the speed we were going, that we would reach Kahului long before daylight. With two or three exceptions there were no seasick passengers, although a well known Fort-street merchant, said if he could walk back to Honolulu he would prefer to do so. We arrived at Kahului at 6 A. M., where the bark F. S. Thompson and schooner Rosairo, were decked in bunting from truck to deck in honor of our arrival. After breakfast on board we started for shore, making our headquarters at the office of Messrs. Wilder & Co., until the train was ready to start for Wailuku. A little after nine we left the depot, arriving at the depot at Wailuku in seven minutes, a distance of three miles. Here we found that our host (who never does the thing by halves) had provided carriages to convey the party to any point they might desire, the party your reporter was in, first brought up at the Wailuku Post Office. The Post-Master-General, thought as he was along he might as well investigate the P. O., which was done quite successfully, only having to hold one inquest which was over a dead letter. We then proceeded to Waikapu, driving for a long distance, we passed the cane fields of Wailuku Plantation. The cane looked very fine, with the prospect of a large yield. We next passed through a cactus plantation, which so pricked the conscience of one of our party, that he was full of puns for the rest of the trip. It's a wonder he did not get completely Tucker-ed out. We came next to the Waikapu Plantation with acres of fine looking cane; we drove on until we reached the residence of T. W. Everett, Esq., Sheriff of Maui, where we were most cordially received by himself and wife. Here we had a fine lunch laid out for us, to which every man did his duty. The grounds around this residence are beautifully laid out, and it was with reluctance that we left the place; but as our time was limited we had to pass along, so, bidding adieu to our host and hostess, we started again on our rambles, bringing up at there-sidence of Mr. W. H. Cornwell, where we met the balance of our party. Here we found the genial "Billy" only too ready to do all in his power to make our visit a pleasant one, which he did very satisfactorily to all, showing us all around his pleasant home. The place is picturesquely situated, having a view of both the harbors of Kahului and Maalaea, with Haleakala in the foreground—surrounded by the Waikapu Plantation in which there flows an effervescent spring of beautiful water. Bidding adieu to Mr. Cornwell, we started for the Depot at Wailuku, where we arrived right on time for the train to Kahului, arriving in time for dinner at which we sat down at noon, at the residence of the company's manager, Mr. W. G. Lowrie. We did ample justice to the dinner, after which we started on the train for Spreckelsville. On arriving there Mr. Coffee took us through all the sugar buildings, which are immense, being the largest sugar mills in the world. Mr. Williams, the Manager, then invited us to take a ride on the plantation train, through the cane fields of Spreckelsville. We rode through the fields for eleven miles right ahead, almost to the beach on the Maalaea side. As far as we could see, there was nothing but cane, a little more cane, plenty more cane, and lots of cane. Mr. Williams was very kind, and gave all the information we wanted freely, explaining thoroughly the process of sugar making from the time of planting until converted into sugar. We reached Kahului about 5 P. M. and after taking leave of our friend went on board the Likelike, to dine. At 6:15 we started again for Honolulu, passing the point off Maui. We were making from 12 to 13 knots, reaching Kaunakakai at 9:50 P. M. and leaving again for Honolulu at 11:15 P. M. We arrived at Honolulu at 4 A. M. last Saturday, after having enjoyed one of the most pleasant days we have ever spent on the Islands. The Likelike is now in good trim, with new steel boilers, and completely renovated throughout, and no doubt, will give her rivals a tug to keep up with her. Mr. Wilder the President of the Company, deserves many thanks, for the complete success and management of this excursion.

A dispatch dated London 29th, at 3 A. M., says, "The Formann Lumber- yard, in Kensington suburbs of London, is burning."

A British man-of-war left Aden, August 28th, to occupy Ambo, situated in Tadjourah Bay, East Africa. The object is to anticipate the occupation of the place by France.

Irish agricultural statistics show that there are 5,000,000 acres of land under crops in Ireland, an increase of 81,000 over the acreage of 1884; that there are 10,250,000 acres of grass land, a decrease of 200,000 acres, and that bog, barren and mountain land has increased 27,000 acres.

LOCAL NEWS.

The flowing bowl circulated freely on the Zealandia Saturday last. The public schools of the city will commence next Monday, the 14 instant.

Mr. M. D. Monsarrat and family are again occupying their cottage on Garden Lane. St. Albans College opens its fall term to-day.

Cane planting was commenced on the plantation of Mr. C. Afong at Pepee-ko, last week. Some of the employees of Pepee-ko plantation amuse themselves by catching fish by moonlight.

Ensign Hugh Rodman has been detached from the Hartford and placed on "waiting orders." The Zealandia which arrived about five o'clock Saturday evening did not leave port until about 11 p. m.

The steamer Mariposa is due from San Francisco to-morrow she will bring advances to the 1st instant. Mr. Charles Hug will arrive on the Mariposa next Tuesday.

A business meeting of the Strangers, Friend Society is called for 11 o'clock this morning at the Y. M. C. A. Hall. A section of the front fence of the Kawaiahaio Seminary premises succumbed to the gale of Saturday night.

The crack crew of the U. S. S. Hartford was defeated recently at San Francisco by a picked crew from Vallejo. There will be a special meeting of the Fire Department Board this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Hall of Engine Co., No. 2.

The little girl who went to sleep Sunday with a kahili in her hand was awakened by having her nose tickled with a feather. The sands closed at Waimea Point and the road between Waialua and Kukuhi is again open without making the detour.

The elements held high carnival again Saturday night. The winds blew and the rains rained damaging small shrubbery to some extent throughout the town. The after-glow was very brilliant and picturesque last Friday night.

In front of it floated a fairy-like city of fleecy clouds which was as changeful as the fabric of a dream. Horseback parties are in great favor with the natives on Sundays. A large and merry party, gaily led-beddecked rode into town yesterday afternoon by the Nuuanu Valley road.

A company of native seranaders, entertained quite a large gathering in front of King Bros. art store on Saturday evening, with solo and chorus singing with guitar accompaniment. It is hoped through the influence of Professor Herz, during his stay with us, that our amateur musical society may be revived again and give us some of the excellent concerts of former years.

Kawaiahaio Seminary has received an important addition in the building now finished. It will be better equipped than ever before to carry on the important work with which it is entrusted. Oahu College will open its fall term on next Monday the 14th instant.

Full particulars will be given in a day or two, together with a short description of the college grounds and buildings. The Honolulu friends of Mr. J. B. Russel, the popular boat-maker, will be glad to hear that he still continues in business, having recently opened at 704 and 706 Market street, San Francisco.

Much complaint comes from the residents of Makiki neighborhood on account of some party or parties opening gates and letting animals into the road. The animals almost immediately turn up in the Makiki pound. More reckless driving by hackmen last Saturday. Collision on Fort street near Lucas' mill. Hack turned over and hackman severely bruised.

Hack damaged to the amount of $20. No arrests, but there should have been. San Francisco society circles are agog with expectation over the one dit that one of Honolulu's favorite sons is soon to "lead to the hymenial altar" one of the wealthiest of California ladies.

If people want to take a delightful drive they should try the route to Waialeale and Waipuu. The road is in fine order. The scenery is varied and sometimes magnificent, the view of the sea being especially fine at Waipuu.

The circus folded its tent like an Arab and silently sailed away on the Zealandia Saturday last. It cost them $2,500 for their passage money to Australia.

They will make a tour of the Colonies and will likely do better than they did here. About noon last Saturday Mr. S. G. Wilder slipped on the gang-plank of the steamer Likelike and strained one of the cords of his right leg.

He has been confined to the house since but will be on the street again to-day or to-morrow. The funeral of Mr. J. M. Daigle took place last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. He was buried by the Knights of Pythias.

Mr. Daigle was a French-Canadian by birth. He leaves a wife to whom he was married some six months ago. A subscription was started last Saturday and $10 was raised which was applied to the settlement of the irrigation bill introduced by the musical Shillito.

It seems that this wonderful performer could get music out of a bottle as well as out of an oyster can—but it costs more. Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Francis M. Lack and Mr. Charles H. Nicoll.

The ceremony will take place in Fort-Street Church on next Thursday evening at half-past seven o'clock. A reception will be held at No. 53 Emma street at 8 o'clock. Mr. Charles Furneaux, artist, has returned to town after his summer vacation.

The girls of Mr. Furneaux's painting class declare he looks just too lovely for anything in his new shade of summer tan. They propose to smother him with congratulations at class to-day. Mr. J. S. McCandless who came over from Kukuhi ranch last Friday reports that the first of the artesian wells which he is boring for Mr. Campbell has reached a depth of 140 feet.

The water has raised 6 1/2 feet above the sea level and is within 3 feet of the surface. Mr. H. Berger is busy writing new music for the Royal Hawaiian Band. The new pieces will include twelve instrumental pieces with native names.

The list will be published as soon as Mr. Berger has finished arranging them and gets the names spelt out—some of which are over a foot long. During the late circus performances here the conduct of the audiences has been exceptionally good.

No hoodlumism has broken out as has been too often the case during entertainments heretofore in Music Hall. In the present instance the circus employees have acted in promptly suppressing the small boy element. The residents of Beretania street and neighborhood complain that the afternoon running of the Government street railway has gotten to be a nuisance to carriage drivers on the road.

It is suggested that trains be run in the early part of the day as the road is generally full of carriages during the afternoon and evening. Between the hours of the arrival and departure of the mail steamer last Saturday the native fruit stand at McIntyre's corner did a rushing business with the passengers.

The general Mr. Kapou raised his hat frequently to his customers and Mr. Nalioa smiled an aloha every time he received an English shilling. A young English nurse-girl who works for Mr. W. S. Luce at Waialeale attempted to commit suicide last Friday evening by taking laudanum.

Dr. Henri McGrew was called in time to save the girl's life. She has been subjected to fits of despondency and under the present one imagined she was about to be turned out upon the world without work. It is stated that she is now very sorry for her foolish action.

The average Chinese hack driver is the embodiment of an anatomical paradox. You can never tell from appearances, which side of the road he will drive on next. You can never tell to a certainty that he will continue on the road at all. He has not idea of the rights of other people on the road and he supplements his ignorance with a bland innocence that is exasperating yet amusing.

His propensity to go wrong, however, ought to be checked by the police as it is often dangerous for women to pass Chinese hack drivers on the road. The game of base ball between the Benedicts and the Honolulu was interrupted by rain last Saturday afternoon and the umpire was compelled to call "Time" before the second inning was finished.

The game will be played over at some time in the future to be decided by the league. When the rain interfered the score stood 6 to 4 in favor of the Honolulu. Several new players were substituted in the Benedict's nine and Hay Wodehouse again appeared on the field playing third base for the Honolulu. Scotty of the Oceanics caught for the Benedicts.

Dr. McKibbin's report to the trustees of the Queen's Hospital, for the quarter ending August 31st shows that the total number of patients now in the hospital is 60; total number of admissions during the quarter 120; number discharged 98; causes of death: one by beriberi; one by collapse; eight by consumption, one by debility, one by disease of liver, one by dropsy, and three by typhoid fever; highest number of patients 78, lowest 47; daily average 66; number of prescriptions 2,881; calls at dispensary 623; number of patients treated per month was, in June 83, in July 106, and in August 111.

VENTURE. This well-known Trotting Stallion is now standing at the corner of Punchbowl and Queen streets, and breeders, horsemen and stock-owners should take advantage of the opportunity to obtain his blood while they have the chance. He is now looking and feeling younger as well as he ever did in his life, and moves as lively and his eye is as bright and he is as vigorous as a four-year-old horse.

It does not require a great horseman to discover great points of excellence in VENTURE. The ordinary citizen, upon beholding him, will be impressed immediately with his grand make-up, magnificent length, and as a turf performer, he towers as far above them all as his legs above a sucking colt in stature. A great deal of importance has lately been attached to the value of a horse that is being kept for stock purposes, whether he be standard or not, and the President of the National Association of Trotting Horse Breeders in America strongly advises stallions that are not standard bred, and he also advises them to select one not only standard bred, but if possible one that is standard by his own performance, which is a public record of 2,300 or better, and even more than this by the performance of his get also.

Now, we will see, for cutlivity, how near VENTURE comes to possessing these three qualifications, namely: Breeding, performance and performance of his get. As to breeding, he is the peer of any horse on earth, and I don't expect the great Hermit, who is the most popular stallion in England, and whose service fee is £500, to be the sire of three Derby winners. As to his own performance, he meets the requirements, having a public record of 2,375—2,370 being the standard of admission. His get are now just beginning to be appreciated in California, one of which (Venturoso) won a good race quite lately in Sacramento, in straight heats, making a record of 2,342, and is said to be able to trot close to 2,300, when called upon to do so.

With these facts before us, VENTURE looks up as one of the greatest horses, not only in this but in any other country, and the day is past when people will be doing but the very best; and while the death of two such great horses as Bowell and Hazard is greatly deplored by all true horsemen, still it is a great consolation that there is so good a horse as VENTURE to fill their place. VENTURE is an aged horse, but he is one year younger than Dictator, who was sold only last year in Kentucky for $25,000, on the strength of his being the sire of Jay Eye Two. His stud fee is $300. He is also ten years younger than Voltaire (the St. Julien), who is said to be $500. All things taken into consideration, I cannot see why VENTURE is not as desirable a horse to breed from as any of them, or why he is not as worthy of the patronage of the public. Below I will give his pedigree, of which I invite a comparison with that of any other horse in the country: VENTURE, chestnut horse, 16 hands, foaled in 1864; sired by Belmont, he by American Boy, he by Sea Gull, he by Imp. Expedition. 1st dam, Miss Mosby, by American 2d dam, by Kenner's Gray Mare. 3d dam, Imp. Lady Mosby, by Ten 4th dam, Invald, by Whisker. 5th dam, Helen, by Hambletonian. 6th dam, Susan, by Overton. 7th dam, Drowsy, by Drone. 8th dam, by Old England. 9th dam, by Cullen Arabian. 10th dam, Miss Cule, by Cule. 11th dam, Miss Mackee, by son of Greyho 12th dam, by Partner. 13th dam, Miss Doss, dam by Woodcock. 14th dam, by Croft's Bay Barb. 15th dam, Deadendness, dam by Makeless. 16th dam, by Jimmer. 17th dam, by Dickey Pierson. 18th dam, Hurton Barb. Mare.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1885.

GOOD TIDINGS.

The Zealandia on Saturday last brought the welcome advices of the success of the late effort of a deputation of plantation agents of San Francisco for the disposal of the coming crop of crops.

The relationship existing between England and Italy is reported to be of the most cordial and sincere character.

Large Sugar Contract.

The proprietors of the American Refinery have recently closed contracts with certain Hawaiian planters for about two-thirds of the sugar crop for the ensuing year.

Articles for incorporation of the American Sugar Refinery Company have been filed in the County Clerk's office in San Francisco.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

Pacific Coast News. A valuable mica deposit has been discovered ninety miles north of the Comstock in Nevada.

A dispatch from Fossil, Gilliam county, brings news of the poisoning of three children at that place.

County fairs are being held in Santa Clara, Butte, Placer and Sonoma counties. The fairs are all well attended and show good results.

Only small portions of the Tuscarora and Narragansett now remain undestroyed at Kershaws to show what was once the United States North Pacific squadron.

It has been decided to establish a naval yard at Mihara, the place having been found to be admirably adapted to the purpose.

Thirty two thousand seven hundred head of cattle have been shipped East from points in Washington Territory on the Northern Pacific, between Wallula and Spokane Falls, this season.

Blackman Bros' logging camp, on Lake Beecher, near Snohomish, W. T., has been burned out.

The news from Peking is depressing. It seems that after all the projects talked about—railroads were to be started, mines opened and the country generally developed—the signing of peace has had the effect of putting a stop to all these improvements.

The Mechanics' Fair at San Francisco is now well started, and promises well. The amount received on the opening night was $1,921.

The General Committee upon the Twentieth National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic have decided upon July 6, 1886, as the date for holding the encampment.

A Grant Monument Association is under way to erect a memorial structure to the dead General. It will probably be built in Sacramento.

English and European News.

Gladstone states that his cruise to Norway and his travels through that country have greatly benefited him in health.

The ship Cilnurnum, from Newcastle, England, for San Francisco, has been abandoned on fire.

A young English nurse-girl who works for Mr. W. S. Luce at Waialeale attempted to commit suicide last Friday evening by taking laudanum. Dr. Henri McGrew was called in time to save the girl's life. She has been subjected to fits of despondency and under the present one imagined she was about to be turned out upon the world without work. It is stated that she is now very sorry for her foolish action.

The average Chinese hack driver is the embodiment of an automaton paradox. You can never tell from appearances, which side of the road he will drive on next. You can never tell to a certainty that he will continue on the road at all. He has not idea of the rights of other people on the road and he supplements his ignorance with a bland innocence that is exasperating yet amusing. His propensity to go wrong, however, ought to be checked by the police as it is often dangerous for women to pass Chinese hack drivers on the road.

The game of base ball between the Beneditis and the Honolulu was interrupted by rain last Saturday afternoon and the umpire was compelled to call "Time" before the second inning was finished. The game will be played over at some time in the future to be decided by the league. When the rain interfered the score stood 6 to 4 in favor of the Honolulu. Several new players were substituted in the Beneditis' nine and Hay Wodehouse again appeared on the field playing third base for the Honolulu. Scotty of the Oceanics caught for the Beneditis.

THRUM'S BINDERY. THIS POPULAR BINDERY, located at 107, Fort Street, will be able in its settled quarters to do even more satisfactory work than that which has gained it such liberal patronage and such willing appreciation from the Honolulu trade.

IT ADVERTISES NO SPECIALITIES, but is able to do ALL sorts, sizes, and conditions of Book-binding, Ruling, Lettering, and Paper-cutting as well as in San Francisco, and at moderate prices.

AT THIS COMPLETE BINDERY newspapers, magazines, pamphlets, and sheet music are neatly and simply or elegantly and sumptuously bound, as taste and pocket may demand. Old books are carefully and firmly rebound.

ALL DESCRIPTIONS OF BLANK BOOKS are consistent with first-class work. The Bindery is now using Weston's "Record" and "Ledger" paper for all first-class work. A large invoice of this justly celebrated stock has just been received from New York.

PROSPECTUS.

Many maintain that the day of weekly newspapers is past in Honolulu; that the people want their news and food for thought fresh with their coffee every day; and that the people are willing to pay for what they want. At the very nominal figure established as the subscription price of Honolulu Dailies, fifty cents a month, it must be borne in mind that six or seven hundred, or even a thousand subscribers is but a mere bagatelle toward the expense of conducting a newspaper. Our advertising rates are not such as would satisfy our Pacific Coast contemporaries, or in fact any but those who labor for the love of it rather than for profit. This paper will not be run for glory, but will be conducted on a sound financial basis and value received will be given to its patrons in every case. We believe that the independent elements in the community will appreciate and properly support a daily morning paper that is outspoken and independent in its utterances.

The DAILY HONOLULU PRESS will be published every morning, Sunday's excepted, for the proprietors, Messrs. L. T. Valentine and Arthur Johnstone. Mr. Valentine will be the responsible business manager and Mr. Johnstone will be the responsible editor of the paper. It will be the aim of the management to make the HONOLULU PRESS a newspaper in every sense of the word. The paper will contain twenty-eight columns including a daily average of from six to eight columns of local news, editorial matter and short pithy articles of general interest to the residents of the Hawaiian Islands. It will be made distinctively a family newspaper, and will endeavor to reach the interests of all classes of citizens without introducing the objectionable features of the newspapers of large cities.

The editorial department will be conducted in a candid, manly and impartial manner, and while political theories and public actions will be carefully probed, and, in many cases, severely criticized, the utterances of the paper will be jealously guarded and not allowed to degenerate into abuse or personal detraction. In the main, editorial articles will be short and allusive to the point; but in cases where the facts warrant and public opinion demands, fuller expositions of living issues will be given.

Our local department will contain everything of interest to the general readers of the islands and will include local notes from the other islands and general correspondence on local topics. This department will be made spicy and readable, and will, from time to time be interspersed with humorous local episodes. Full reports of all public events and social entertainments will be given and a just equipoise will be established among our various social elements for special news.

The shipping department will be made full and correct and special arrangements will be made for weekly corrected lists of foreign shipping. Full shipping notes of our inter-island traffic will be given, and the interests and convenience of shippers will be carefully studied and provided for.

Our advertising department will be conducted on liberal business principles in such a manner that the ends of patrons may be reached by placing their wants and desires before a majority of the reading public. Promptness and correctness in this department will be assured. Arrangements have been made with the proprietors of the Saturday Press to carry out all unexpired advertising contracts and subscriptions, which will faithfully done. Collections will be made monthly and all bills against this paper will be paid monthly upon presentation to the business manager.

In conclusion, the chief aim of the HONOLULU PRESS will be to foster and protect Hawaiian interests while especial attention will be given to individual industries and plantation enterprises. We expect to merit the support of the community and respectfully ask the privilege of a fair trial.

Prescriptions For Fits.

FOR A FIT OF PASSION.—Walk out in the open air. You may speak your mind to the winds without hurting anyone, or proclaiming yourself to be a simpleton.

FOR A FIT OF IDLENESS.—Count the ticking of a clock. Do this for one hour, and you will be glad to pull off your coat and work like a man.

FOR A FIT OF EXTRA-VAGANCE.—Go to the workhouse, or speak with the ragged inmates of a jail, and you will be convinced.

FOR A FIT OF REPINING.—Look about for the halt and the blind, and visit the bed-ridden, the afflicted and the deranged; and they will make you ashamed of complaining of your light afflictions.
