

WHEN JACK IS TALL AND TWENTY.

When Jack is tall and twenty,
We know what Jack will do,
With girls as sweet and plenty,
He'll find him one to woo.

WITCHCRAFT IN THE WEST INDIES.

The Strange Power of the Obeah Man—
Singularly Keen Perceptions.
Obeah, in the West Indies, is a two-fold art—the art of poisoning, combined with the art of imposing upon the credulity of ignorant people by a pretense of witchcraft.

Under the title of "bush doctor" he wanders
from place to place at the cost of his dupes; supplied with food by one, with money by another, denied nothing. His pretensions are high; but he has means at hand to enforce them. He declares himself powerful to cure all diseases. He can protect a man from the consequences of a crime;
he can even reanimate the dead.

There is something infernally sinister in the appearance of the Obeah man, which is readily observed by persons who have mixed much with the negroes. Sometimes,
as an outward and visible sign of his trade
or calling, he carries about with him a staff
or wand, with serpents wreathed about it,
or the rude likeness of a human face roughly delimited on the handle. Lizard's bones, cats' claws, ducks' skulls, grave dirt—these he carries about with him, as he goes about his trade.

On one occasion I happened to be in a court house during the trial of a notorious thief, when I noticed one of these gentlemen
enter the room; a very dirty handkerchief was bound tightly round his head, and from under his heavy brows I could see a pair of small, cunning eyes which never took their gaze from the face of the judge. The prisoner was undefended, and was finally convicted, but it was afterward that I had instead of employing a lawyer he had retained for his defense a tall Obeah man, and I had actually paid him the sum of $300 for his services. The wizard had undertaken to "fix the eye" of the judge, and had persuaded
the miserable state that this would infallibly insure his acquittal.

A German's Mania.
"I had a curious case a last year of a minute
who was afflicted with an imperious impulse to dancing. He had a queer impulse to dance jig even on the most solemn occasions. His only explanation—which he gave me with tears in his eyes—was that it seemed to relieve his mind. His brother who was a somewhat rough Connecticut farmer, begged me to give him something strong for it, or he might lose his job.
"Only last night," he exclaimed, "my reverend brother excused himself from the company at his house after five minutes later I found him down-stairs in a corner of the room, looking mighty solemn, and putting in a little private jig on the dead quiet. It appeared, also, that a deputation of his parishioners had waited on him to inquire into this habit."

I learned that on this occasion the old gentleman took down his Bible and read from II. Samuel, vi. 14:—"And David danced before the Lord with all his might."
This silenced the deputation, but the good old man felt the heat of stroke. I recommended him to saw wood and adopt a good diet. In time he was cured."

In Favor of Cannibalism.
A Boston paper says: "When two islanders
formerly had the soundest teeth of any people on the globe, but their teeth have now begun to decay rapidly." This soundness of teeth once characteristic of the Sandwich Islanders was remarked by Capt. Cook and other early travelers who visited the islands. As the natives were then habitual cannibals, the rapid decay of their masticator's since is a strong argument in favor of cannibalism. If people would learn to subsist on the members of their species, instead of upon the animals now used for food, there might be much less toothache, fewer sets of false teeth, and a great reduction in the sum total of dentist's bills.

The last duel in Paris was fought with pistols, instead of fowls, the combatants being placed seventy-five feet apart. One of the most interesting features of Paris dueling would appear to be the pistolism which necessarily attends such long range shooting.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 30, 1885

SUPERSTITIOUS PEOPLE.

All classes of people the world over are more or less superstitious. It has sometimes been questioned whether degrees of superstition depend upon states of civilization or whether civilization only serves to throw into the background and tone down these fallacious beliefs of the people, which seem to be inherent qualities common to the human race.

Great minds in all nations are found almost invariably clinging to one or more of the inherited superstitions of the past, while they would probably laugh at the common and absurd traditions whence spring these individual beliefs.

Native Hawaiians are generally classed as a superstitious people, but it would be hard to make a philosophical, or at least a logical distinction, between our native superstition of "praying an enemy to death" and the superstitions held by some of the crowned heads of Europe.

On the other hand, it is no proof that their ground of belief is true, even though coincidence should carry out both superstitions to their fullest consummation. The Prince of Wales and the native Hawaiian may stand at the extremes of civilization, but as far as the superstition is concerned they are locked in the closest logical embrace.

SIDEWALK OBSTRUCTIONS.

The custom, which obtains in Honolulu, of obstructing the sidewalks, until, in many instances, they become dangerous to foot passengers is one that the authorities should make some provision to abate. In no well regulated city are such liberties with the convenience and safety of foot passengers allowed.

Instances are numerous in almost any city, except Honolulu, of both corporations and individuals being made to pay damages for injuries sustained from obstructions to the public thoroughfares. It would not be so bad if the streets of Honolulu were properly lighted; but where the citizen has to combat with both pitfalls and darkness, there should be somebody made responsible for damages sustained.

The P. C. Advertiser has struck the right lead on the sanitary question, and we hope they will aid the work in good earnest by immediately publishing the list of property-owners, who may be properly called criminal offenders against the public health.

Hawaiian Art.

It will take two or three weeks to develop all the peculiar features of the industrial exhibition. For instance, a new picture by Tavernier, which belongs by right in the art department, is hung in the department sacred to the advertisements of a frame-maker.

Tavernier's first few volcano pictures were studies of flame and darkness. Into this last he lets a little daylight, and this may perhaps be interpreted as a welcome sign that pretty soon he will begin to paint something else.

Tavernier is a painter who has the true sentiment of art. Who can forget his admirable studies of the Indian country? Canvases that now adorn the best of our local collections. After he had wearied of the Indians and the plains it was Tavernier who first discovered Monterey, i. e., from an artistic point of view.

Yet the volcano pictures must not be undervalued. If I had only one picture to own I should not choose the volcano; but if I possessed a gallery I could hardly choose a more interesting addition to it.

Sugar Crops, Markets and Statistics.

The following extracts are taken from the New York Shipping List of Aug. 15: Java Crop.—Instead of a surplus, as anticipated, it now appears by mail and cable advices that the crop will be found from ten to fifteen per cent. below last year—say 33,000 to 50,000 tons less.

Beet Crop.—Mr. Licht's August estimate gives a shortage of 450,000 tons. The drought in France will reduce the crop in that country, in the opinion of some, to 250,000 tons against 325,000 last season, and 474,676 the previous season.

Exports of refined sugar from New York to United Kingdom, by steamers sailing in July, comprised: To Liverpool, 2,150 bbls; London, 10,032, Glasgow, 7,333, Bristol, 7,100, Hull, 2,750, Leith, 1,850 and Newcastle 500—total 31,715 bbls, against 104,246 during June.

Cuba.—Stocks in Havana and Matanzas Aug. 6 were 69,475 tons against 73,384 last year. San Francisco Aug. 6.—Receipts of sugar in July were 8,728 tons from Sandwich Islands and 200 from Central America—total 8,928 tons in July.

Havana, Aug. 8 (per mail).—The continuance of adverse reports from the leading consuming centers has imparted much quietness to this market, and several large parcels brought forward during the week were withdrawn from want of acceptable offers.

Sugar.

Our scientific knowledge in regard to sugar extends only to the fact that certain molecules of matter grouped in certain forms have the power of producing upon the moist surface of the mouth and tongue the agreeable sensation called sweet.

Of late years we have fallen into the habit of classing all sweets, with the exception of honey, perhaps, under the common name of sugar, as cane sugar or grape sugar and so on; but really there is only one substance properly entitled to the name, and that is cane sugar, or sugar of a similar character produced from other substances, as beets, sugar maple and so on.

The true sugar is presented to us in the form of aggregated, well-defined crystals, permanent under all atmospheric changes and elegant in luster and freedom from color when well refined. It is not only the sweetest of all sweets, but one of the indispensable gifts of a wise intelligence to man.

With the exception of air and water, perhaps, nature puts none of our absolute needs to us so easily as she puts glucose. The fact is, glucose is neither an essential nor a makeshift. We must have sugar to meet the requirements of the animal organization, and we can no more get it out of glucose than we can out of pipe clay.

New Life-Saving Station.

The S. F. Bulletin says: The wreck of the Haddingtonshire at Point Reyes has given rise to considerable discussion as to the establishment of a life-saving station at that point.

Superintendent Blakeney of the Life-Saving Service, in his report to the General Superintendent, recommended and urged the establishment of a station at Point Reyes or in the little cove around the point from the light house in Drake's Bay.

There is at present no communication except a trail on which the traveler is privileged to walk between the Government's costly lighthouse at the point and Olema—about twenty-five miles. The keeper agreed to care for a horse if the Government would give him one, and Com. Philip so made the recommendation last year, but without avail.

John McCullough's mind is rapidly breaking up in the Bloomingdale asylum. The report of Engineer Menacat is very unfavorable to the Panama canal, both in respect to its finance and to the engineering problem.

The Standard Oil Company has subscribed $5,000 to the proposed monument to E. L. Drake, the discoverer of petroleum in Pennsylvania. The Cambrian steamship Company has decided to run a fleet of steamers from Swansea, England, to Philadelphia.

A hotel-keeper at Rathkeale, County Limerick, having been boycotted by the National League, finds it difficult to get any bread or meat. A vigilance committee has been established whose business is to watch traders who act contrary to the wishes of the league.

The business year just closed has brought to an end one of the most discouraging eras in the commercial history of New Orleans. It was a year of no profits, generally steady losses and a season of shaken confidence and industrial depression.

VENTURE.

This well-known Trotting Stallion is now standing at the corner of Punchbowl and Queen streets, and breeders, horsemen and stock-owners should take advantage of the opportunity to obtain his blood while they have the chance.

It does not require a great horseman to discover great points of excellence in VENTURE. The ordinary citizen, upon beholding him, will be impressed immediately with his grand make-up, magnificent length, and elegant finish.

A great deal of importance has lately been attached to the value of a horse that is being kept for stock purposes, whether he is standard or not, and the President of the National Association of Trotting Horse Breeders in America strongly advises people not to purchase stallions that are not standard bred, and he also advises them to select one not only standard bred, but if possible one that is standard by its own performance, which is a public record of 2:30, or better, and even more than this by the performance of his get also.

Now, we will see, for curiosity, how near VENTURE comes to possessing these three qualifications, namely: Breeding, performance and performance of his get.

As to breeding, he is the peer of any horse on earth, and I don't except the great Hermit, who is the most popular stallion in England, and whose service fee is £500, he being the sire of three Derby winners.

As to his own performance, he meets the requirements, having a public record of 2:27 1/4—2:30 being the standard of admission.

His get are now just beginning to be appreciated in California, one of which (Vengeance) won a good race quite lately in Sacramento, in straight heats, making a record of 2:24, and is said to be able to trot close to 2:20, when called upon to do so.

With these facts before us, VENTURE looms up as one of the greatest horses, not only in this but in any other country, and the day is past when people will heed anything but the very best; and while the death of two such great horses as Bowell and Bazaar is greatly deplored by all true horsemen, still it is a great consolation that there is so good a horse as VENTURE to fill their place.

VENTURE is an aged horse, but he is one year younger than Dictator, who was sold only last year in Kentucky for $25,000, on the strength of his being the sire of Jay Eye's son. His stud fee is $500. He is also ten years younger than Volunteer (sire of St. Julian), whose fee is $400. All things taken into consideration, I cannot see why VENTURE is not as desirable a horse to breed from as any of them, or why he is not as worthy of the patronage of the public. Below I will give his pedigree, of which I invite a comparison with that of any other horse in the country:

VENTURE, chestnut horse, 16 hands, foaled in 1854; sired by Belmont, he by American Boy, he by Sea Gull, he by imp. Expedition.

- 1st dam, Miss Molly, by American ad dam, by Kenner's Gray Mare. 3d dam, imp. Lady Molly, by Ten 4th dam, L. Wall, by Whisker. 5th dam, Helen, by Hambletonian. 6th dam, S. Man, by Exton. 7th dam, Drowsy, by Bronze. 8th dam, by Old England. 9th dam, by Golden Arabian. 10th dam, Miss Cade, by Cade. 11th dam, Miss Mabel, by son of Greybe 12th dam, by Parrot. 13th dam, Miss Does, dam by Woodcock. 14th dam, by Cro's Bay Mare. 15th dam, Dredmar, dam by Malslow. 16th dam, by Brimmer. 17th dam, by Dickie Pearson. 18th dam, Barton Dale's Mare.

EDIBLE EARTH.

COUNTRIES IN WHICH CLAY IS USED AS A FOOD.

Clay-Eating Almost Universally Practiced Among the Savages of Africa, America and Asia—A Plausible Reason for the Custom.

[Science and Nature.] In many countries, certain clays have been used from time immemorial as a food product.

Clays are essentially composed of silica, alumina, and water in various proportions, colored by metallic oxides, and presenting themselves in amorphous masses which are smooth and unctuous to the touch, and upon which the friction of the nail leaves a shining trace as upon soap.

How man came to have recourse to such food we do not know, but the same circumstances have led to like results in countries that are very remote from our own.

The practice of eating waterless pliable paste that may be given all sorts of forms. Some samples of edible earth consist, as in the case of tripoli, of microscopic fossilized shells and innumerable fresh water infusoria.

Capacity of Our Paper Mills. (Chicago Herald.)

A table submitted to the recent annual meeting of the papermakers in Saratoga makes the showing that the daily capacity in pounds of the paper mills of the country, according to various, and separated into twenty-four varieties, amounts to a grand total of 4,120,000 pounds, or 27,125,000 more than the estimate a year ago, a gain of 8 and 2-5 per cent.

Why is it that these parties entirely ignorant of the terms bacilli, micrococci, spirilli, and the like, eat drink, and are merry and enjoy such robust health that the bacteriologists would gladly exchange places with them!
