

SECRET SERVICE.

There was no more promising young officer in her Majesty's service than Cyril Trezire. He was smart, clever, and ambitious—just the qualities best calculated to bring a soldier to the front if he got his chance. But look so far had been against Trezire and hope deferred was rapidly making this spirited young fellow quite heart sick. He was beginning to think that he had better take up some other line of life, where his efforts would be more appreciated. Before it was too late, he climbed the ladder. But just as he was nearest despair the cloud broke.

and that of the ladies, through the Indian custom house. The boxes were laid out upon the counter—a goodly row. Mrs. Lane had half-a-dozen dress baskets, at least; Millicent as many more; and they quite swamped the two modest portmanteaus owned by Trezire. One of these latter contained the terrible parcel on which depended the young officer's present safety and future reputation. The custom house officers cast his eyes over the boxes curiously, and selected one of the dress baskets to search. "No, no; not that one, please, I beg of you, Mr. Trezire, don't let them open that," hastily interposed Mrs. Lane.

"To Trieste first, and then to Patras, in Greece—a very pretty place, I believe; you may like to see it." "How long shall we have to wait before we get on to Alexandria?" "I doubt if you will be able to get on to Egypt at all from Patras. There is no regular communication." "Then, why on earth are we going there? What do you mean, Mr. Trezire, by taking us to Alexandria?" "You can hardly hold me responsible. I chose the route to suit myself." "That's just like you selfish men. And now, pray, what are we to do?"

THE PLANTERS' LEGISLATION.

It does not appear to us that the report of the Committee on Legislation is in any way a "remarkable political document," nor do we consider that the Planters' Labor and Supply Company have over-stepped their legitimate province in reviewing the acts of previous legislatures.

To assume that the planters should be a strictly non-political body would be virtually to say: "Gentlemen Planters, you who represent fully two-thirds of the vested wealth of Hawaii should take no further interest in Hawaiian politics than to merely cast your votes—if you have them—at the regular elections."

It is but just and proper that if the Planters' Convention has a committee, whose purpose it is to investigate the laws which directly affect their interests, and thereby the interests of the whole Kingdom, that the scope of their authority should extend not only to criticizing the laws upon our statute books, but also to suggesting the passage of new laws or the amendment of the old to an extent that will further the reciprocal interests of all concerned.

The whole tone of the remarks in the Advertiser of yesterday morning seem to be based on the mistaken theory that Government is established, primarily, for the benefit of the rulers rather than for the interests of the subjects.

Roberts, in his "Government Revenue," estimates that of physicians only one-third earn over $2,000 per year, one-fifth earn between $1,000 and $1,500, the next one-fifth will get $1,000, and one-fourth will get only $600, $500, or less.

The Convention met at two o'clock Monday afternoon. The Secretary read the following list of officers elected by the Trustees: S. B. Dole, president; H. P. Baldwin, vice-president; L. A. Thurston, secretary; F. C. Jones, treasurer; J. B. Atherton, auditor.

The biggest man in Australia is a native of Yorkshire. His name is Thomas Jennings and he was born in 1824. He is five feet ten inches high; weighs thirty-two stones and one-half; measures sixty-eight inches round the chest, eighty-two inches round the waist and twenty and one-half round the calf.

Tuesday morning after the reading of the minutes the discussion of the Labor Resolution was resumed. Among those who spoke on the resolution were Messrs. Humer, Davies, Macfie and Schaefer. Mr. Davies moved the following resolution:

Resolved, that the Association desires to express its sense of the loss it has sustained by the death of Mr. A. Unna, whose integrity, intelligence and stability of character have been always of great value to the Association, and have always been placed ungrudgingly at our disposal.

The following resolution on Legislation passed. Resolved, That the Trustees be and they are hereby requested to prepare and present a suitable petition to His Majesty, to appoint a Royal Commission to investigate the present status of Police and District Courts, and report thereon to the next Legislative Assembly.

The Secretary read a paper written by Mr. Marsden on the Manufacture of Sugar. Ordered printed in the Planter's Monthly. A paper on Cane Cultivation, by Mr. E. M. Walsh of the Paia Plantation was read by the Secretary and ordered printed.

At twenty minutes to one the Company adjourned till ten o'clock to-day.

CORRESPONDENCE.

EDITOR DAILY HONOLULU PRESS—Sir: Monday last in one of your local papers you announced that "Mr. Marques made a raid for opium." If not presuming too much on your kindness I would consider it a favor for you to state that the above paragraph was written in reference to officer Marcos, and not to myself.

If such facts as these, and others as clearly stated in the report exist—and there is no doubt of it—then it is high time that the Planters who are directly interested should place themselves between the pernicious acts of the Government and the prosperity of this Kingdom.

The Planters.

ASTOR HOUSE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!!

A Sure Remedy. Properly Cooked Food. An Ounce of Prevention Better than a Pound of Cure.

One great evil of this city is a certain feindishness displayed by restaurant keepers in the manner in which they slay victuals together and throw the same at their customers.

Worse by far than a certain Nevada Eating House where a tramp was in the act of walking out without paying. The irate cashier violently seized a pie crust, took deadly aim, and brought down the unfortunate free luncher, badly cut about the head. The Grand Jury afterwards held the cashier to answer for assault with a deadly weapon. Take for instance a Honolulu Hash Factory doughnut when cooled off. A leaden bullet is no where in comparison; then again some of the HOT CAKES would prove unworkable for mending old shoes and will stretch further than any rubber band ever made. From all such, etc., deliver us.

The above named instances of cooking depravity are much to be deplored.

A recent change in the Proprietorship of the ASTOR HOUSE (at all times famous for good grub) enables the management to greatly facilitate the suppression of such villainous systems of careless cooking which tend in such a marked degree to destroy the Human Digestive organs.

Upon all occasions it will be found a real luxury to step into our Dining Parlors (no flies) and there partake of a savory meal cooked by our Champion Chef.

Every morning Boarders and Transient customers may order German Pancake, Tender Loin, Porterhouse, or Sirloin Steak, with or without onions, Prime Ham and fresh eggs Royal Breakfast Bacon, Fish every day, Rib Mutton Chop (none but the best of material used.)

The midday bill of fare as published on the Bulletin Board is something that everybody should read and inwardly digest. For supper we supply in addition to the substantial goods. Sponge cake, Ice cream, Jellies, Fruit, and various other dainties. Some of our would-be competitors are surprised to know how we can sell 21 meal tickets for $4.50. And in our elegantly appointed private dining room only charge 35 cent for meal.

The secret may easily be given away; the ASTOR HOUSE is centrally located and doing a large transient cash trade. Meals at all hours produces a constant flow of ready money, thereby enabling us to go out to the market and buy at reduced rates for cash. Our patrons receive the full benefit of this superior system of dealing. All who have not yet experienced the luxury of eating at the Astor House can now come right in and be made welcome at the oldest established Dining Rooms in the Hawaiian Kingdom. 35-1 mo.

LOCAL NEWS. The new Station House is to have a chowder-room attached—perhaps.

The Hawaiian Gazette issued its town edition yesterday instead of to-day as usual.

The tallest native woman on the Islands, known as the "Maui Giantess," is in town.

His Majesty was down at the steamer W. G. Hall yesterday to see Mrs. Beckley and others off.

There were light showers of rain yesterday afternoon and evening which kept the dust out of the air.

The Wilder Steamship Company will pay a dividend of two dollars per share at the company's office to-morrow.

Mr. William G. Irwin, who returned from Spreckelsville last Saturday, reports the cane in that district as looking fine.

The Gazette states there are twenty Hawaiian Mormons in Salt Lake City, who, however, are not as yet practicing polygamy.

The Royal School Club and the Punahou boys will play a match game of base ball at the Makiki diamond next Saturday.

Dr. H. L. Curtis left by the steamer Likelike last evening for Hana, Maui. He takes Dr. Rawson's place as Government Physician.

The Honolulu Rifles held a special meeting last night and adjourned at half past nine o'clock without transacting any important business.

It is reported that a native dropped dead yesterday morning at the corner of Queen and Richard streets. It is supposed he died of heart disease.

A report was telephoned to the Press office yesterday afternoon that a native child narrowly escaped drowning in one of the fish ponds at Waikiki.

Yesterday morning two Chinamen walking along Hotel street got into a dispute with each other and started to fight but they were afraid to finish it.

A horse belonging to Mr. E. Dowsett balked on Queen street yesterday and succeeded in throwing itself without doing any damage. At least so they say.

Some gentlemen in Honolulu, it is understood, have been considering the practicability of organizing a club for the protection of Hawaiian game, especially doves.

Night before last, a native man named East, was badly stung in the face by a scorpion while he was sleeping on the veranda of a house in the neighborhood of Punchbowl street.

A communication signed "Reader," written on the conduct of the Satellite's crew, has been received, but is not published because it covers the same ground gone over by us in our comments on Mr. Davies' letter in yesterday's issue.

The Strangers' Friend Society held their quarterly social this afternoon and evening at the residence of Capt. Andrew Fuller, on Kukui street.

Among the new works received lately by the Honolulu Library is one on "Crowns and Coronations" which contains descriptions of the ancient coronations of Hawaii as well as an account of the late coronation ceremonies.

The party who amused himself by taking a set of harness from Mr. G. D. Ramsey's stable in Fowler's yard, night before last, had better return the same at once as he is known and will be promptly prosecuted in the event he refuses.

The boys are in training for the wheelbarrow race around the Island, and it is expected that the time of starting will be positively announced soon—provided Charlie McCarthy's handsome Dan can coax his mustache beyond the danger of a relapse.

The lunch given at the Hawaiian Hotel yesterday afternoon, by members of the Planters' Labor and Supply Co., was a very pleasant affair. There were between thirty and forty gentlemen sat down to the table. The Royal Hawaiian Band was in attendance after they left the skating rinks.

The state of most of the sidewalks in the outlying streets through town is simply disgraceful. They are overgrown with weeds, the gutters are choked up, and there are not two consecutive blocks in any of the out-lying streets that two persons can walk abreast on the whole distance. In spite of all this, officials will blantly stand before you and assert that they are doing their duty.

Mr. Charles J. Fishel is making extensive improvements at his new store at the corner of Hotel and Fort streets by taking out the staircase in the center of the building and removing it to the rear. This will throw the whole lower portion of the building into one large room and will greatly improve the looks of the store.

Yesterday morning at five minutes past three o'clock a large meteor passed over the central portion of Nuuanu Valley. The meteor, as it was supposed to be, was not seen by any person as far as we know, but it awakened up several persons along the route it travelled, who can testify to the unearthly, weird noise it made in passing.

Next Thursday evening there will be fun at the Popular Central Park skating rink. An egg race—distance one mile—will be given, free for all to enter. Good music will be provided and the performance will commence at eight o'clock. Scotty, the new manager, promises a fine evening for all. A prize of five dollars will be given to the first man out.

Mr. B. F. Dillingham has laid on our table a neatly printed memorandum relating to the Honolulu, Kahuku and Kawaihoa ranches situated in the Island of Oahu. The circular, after setting forth the advantages of the three ranches, gives a succinct plan and basis for forming a company to purchase them. Valuable statistics make up an interesting portion of the prospectus.

Postmaster-General Whitney informs us that arrangements have been made with Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express so that in the near future they will be allowed to print the Express Co.'s stamp on official Hawaiian envelopes of different denominations. This is a good move and will give people a chance to send their letters throughout the Pacific Coast by express, if they prefer that way to the regular mail.

A report comes from Maui that the Andrew's ranch above Makawao, in Makawao district, will be sold out under a foreclosure of mortgage held by parties here. It is also reported that there has been continued mismanagement of the ranch and that some thirty men have left without getting the money due them. The amounts due these men are stated to range from $50 to $700. Considerable difficulty is expected in settling up the business of the concern.

Yesterday, Mr. Miles, the horse-breaker, and McGinnis had a little circus of their own at Captain Cluney's stable. They were engaged in breaking a horse to shafts. The horse would not go and Mr. Miles got on his back to show the horse a trick, while Mr. McGinnis remained in the brake. Mr. McGinnis was thrown out of the brake into a lot of rubbish but was not hurt.

They say that the planters only interfere where their interests demand; that the most eligible man for office is the one that doesn't want it; that the temperance question is a many-sided one; that the Honolulu boat boys intend changing their senior crew again; that the Fenians' crew will exhibit the most muscle in the coming races; that the church socials are to have extra attractions next month; that the best way to avoid enemies is to avoid telling the truth; that the Planters' Convention is doing some good work; that sugar will drop again before the next crop is in; that schooners ought not to be allowed to leave port without a navigator aboard; that the best way out of political difficulties is through a new party lead by the young men; that the next picnic will be held on the top of Punchbowl hill; and that new industries will not succeed if started on too grand a scale.

Last Saturday evening about seven o'clock, a painful and distressing accident occurred at the corner of Ford and Beretania streets, which will most probably leave an aged woman a cripple for the remainder of her life. The accident happened to Mrs. Maria Kamakahou, who is past sixty five years old and resides at the corner of the streets above mentioned. The old lady had started to go from her back verandah into the yard when she missed her footing and fell heavily to the ground, breaking her thigh at the hip socket. Medical attendance was immediately procured and she was made as comfortable as could be under the circumstances. Being a large woman, who weighs over 200 pounds, the doctors have had more or less trouble handling her and the pain she has suffered has been excruciating. While the condition of the old lady is improving under the careful attention of her friends, yet the doctors are very doubtful if she will ever regain her former activity.

Police Court Items. TUESDAY, October 13. Ah Nee and Ah Yan were fined $5.10 each for assault and battery.

Ah Tuck was placed under a bond in the sum of $100, for threatening the peace against Ahoi.

Mr. Bill paid $6 for a drunk.

Hughes forfeited $12 for raising a racket at night.

John Egan forfeited $10 for disorderly conduct.

Kealakai was fined $25 for driving a hack without a license.

Punishment of a Recluse Abbe.

The recent publications in France about Cardinal Caprera has called forth a reminiscence from the Gazette de France, which shows that the Cardinal was something of a wit. It was the time of the concordat and everybody was making friends with everybody else. Caprera was papal legate at Paris. The Abbe d'Amabrie solicited release from his vows, secularization and the recognition of his marriage. After reference to Rome the legate announced, "The Holy Father recognizes and ratifies your marriage, non ad voluptatem sed ad penitentiam (freely translated, 'not for your pleasure, but for your punishment'), you have the woman and you must keep her. This is the penance that the Pope imposes upon you." This remarkable decree is said to be still on record in the ecclesiastical court. The raconteur is silent as to the manner in which the lady in the case accepted this very uncomplimentary finding.

An admirable work has just been completed by Pope Leo XII, at the cost of $200,000, subscribed by Roman Catholics in all parts of the world. He has built close by the Vatican, a cholera hospital, capable of holding 200 patients and fitted with every appliance the latest discoveries of science show to be desirable. Patients when admitted, are at once divested of their clothing, which is thrown into a disinfection canal. They are then taken upstairs by hydraulic elevators and placed each in a room by himself. Each room contains vapor and hot-water baths. Patients in a state of collapse are put into a hermetically closed glass room filled with steam. The chapel of the hospital opens directly into the Vatican and the Pope will personally visit the patients and superintend the hospital work.

A novelty in the way of bridges has been brought to the attention of the authorities of London recently, it being designed for construction across the river Thames, below London Bridge. The length, as contemplated, by this plan, will be 880 feet; the waterway will be obstructed by two piers only, leaving a clear way of 200 feet in the center when the draw is open. These piers will be crowned by towers about 200 feet in height, and in which will be located machinery for lifting the bed of the bridge to the other side for the passing ships and steamers. This constitutes the general plan of the structure. The two piers are connected by an upper roadway, of good dimensions over which pedestrians can pass when the draw is open, hydraulic lifts being provided for ascent and descent.
