People Who Write

on typewriters marvel that busy business men still cling to the pen process. The business man using a typewriter would not voluntarily return to the old method, because he can turn off more work, of a better quality, and with less effort on his machine.

The Man Who Never Used a Typewriter

believes the task of learning to write a difficult and hopeless one. Try. Others have learned; you can. Your first attempt will probably reveal the fact that you do faster work with the pen. That's quite natural; you are just learning. Your next trial will surprise you. Your fingers go to the right keys instinctively. It becomes easier and you will then begin to realize the usefulness and benefit of a typewriter.

CHOICE OF A TYPEWRITER

will either make or mar your writing happiness. For the business man desiring a machine, that combines speed, durability, does perfect work, and lastly, has the easiest keyboard to learn, buy the

THE POLICE COURT.

Its Session This Morning Was Short and Sweet.

When Judge Wilcox opened court this morning with that solemnity and decorum which accompanies him wherever he goes, he found a very small calendar awaiting him. There were only seven cases on the calendar, and these were disposed of in short order.

Jeu Sao, who is accused of forgery, was the first victim to face His Honor, but upon sufficient grounds being shown, his case was put off until May 28th.

This Jeu Sao is an individual who started in to assist his friends in China to become residents of the Island Republic, but he didn't go about it in the right way. Not having the necessary amount of property or influence to make his own name valuable on a bond borrowed that of his friend Lam Toy Kee without having first made arrangements for the use of it. Jeu Sao signed his friend's name to Bond No. 784, granting permission to Wong Lip of the Celestial kingdom to visit here and sojourn for a time. The same course was pursued in the cases of Wong Ling, Bond No. 912, and Lee Quon, Bond No. 913. When the unique penman had secured the bond he hid himself in August last to Hongkong. Shortly after his departure Mr. James W. Girvin discovered that Lam Toy Kee had not signed the bonds, and that the signature was a forgery. He immediately notified the agents of the steamship company in China of the circumstances and the three friends of Jeu Sao were not permitted to sail. The forger returned on April 25 but was not apprehended until yesterday. He is out on a thousand dollar bail bond and feels blue.

Kailianu pleaded guilty to maintaining and conducting a certain lottery game known as che-fa and was promptly and properly fined $100 for it. An extra $3 for costs was also charged against him, thereby adding, what he considered an additional insult to the injury already inflicted on him.

Even a bed quilt worth only $2.50 may cause a whole lot of trouble and for appropriating one of that value Su Tim will work for the Hawaiian Government just sixty days and pay $1.30 toward his board in the meantime.

After entering a nolle pro. in the charge against J. Duane and continuing the other cases to later dates the court adjourned and resolved itself into a ready and efficient interpreter.

Punahou College.

The boys of the above named college are having a good time this afternoon with athletic sports and games of a kinds. As the program commences at 2 o'clock and the BULLETIN goes to press at 3, it is impossible to give any of the particulars.

If you want your watch repaired. If you want jewelry made up neatly. If you want souvenir spoons, or anything in the jewelry line. H. G. Biart, at C. Gertz's store, Fort street, is your man. He was for ten years the practical watchmaker for Wenner & Co.

Bad Spelling!

It is popularly supposed that the man who spells incorrectly is either illiterate or cares little for books. But neither may be the case; it often happens that great readers are exceedingly bad spellers. Why is this? We believe the bad speller sees and reads each word as a whole, as a grammologue, a thought symbol, that is, and not as so many letters.

All people, of course, do this to some extent; but we believe that the educated bad speller does it very much more than the good speller. The ordinary man, puzzled about a word, writes it to see how it looks; and this look tells him at once whether he had spelled it right or wrong.

The true bad speller is, however, not helped the least bit in the world by this process. He is only the more puzzled by the written word. He may write it a dozen ways and not get one version which looks to him better than the other. The truth is, his eyes have some defect, probably of focusing power, which prevents him seeing clearly the letters of the words. When he learns to read, he learns to read verbatim, and not literatim—and hence he sees, and has always seen, the symbol for "recieve," not "receive," with the "e" always following the "c," and in front of the "i."

This is why bad spellers will almost invariably be found to have been slow in learning to read. They were taught to read literally, but found great difficulty in the process, owing to defective eyesight, and so had slowly and laboriously to learn the words as symbols of ideas, not as compound letters. In a word, bad spelling is a defect of the eyesight, not of the mind; and in all probability many a case of inability to learn to spell might be cured in children by the use of a good pair of spectacles.

In a building in San Francisco which has 500 rooms there is a clock with 500 dials, one dial being for each room: The dials are operate with compressed air, which is conducted in pipes all over the building. A clock constructed by the late Beauvais M. Verite, engineer to the Northern Railway Company, and presented by him to the Bishopric of Beauvais, is a masterpiece of mechanism, being provided with fifty-two faces, marking the hour, the day, the week, the month, the year, the rising and setting of the sun, the phases of the moon, the tide, the time in the principal cities of the world, and a whole series of astronomical and terrestrial evolutions. It is composed of 92,000 pieces, which all receive their motive power from a little weight of 50 grains. The mounting is in oak wood and exquisitely carved. When the hour strikes an extraordinary movement is produced, and the whole structure seems alive. The artist wished to give an idea of the Last Judgment. A cock crows, angels sound the trumpet at the four cardinal points, and flames issue from the openings in the turrets placed to the right and left. The Eternal Father looks round as if to judge the world. A soul advances and takes its stand before the Sovereign Arbiter. It is the soul of an impenitent sinner. Its works are found wanting, and it is condemned. A hideous demon, armed with a fork, pounces upon the unfortunate one and hurls him into the eternal abyss. Next comes the turn of the just soul. It appears before God, receives a favorable judgment, and is to be admitted into the joys of Heaven. Immediately angels make a guard of honor and escort it in triumph to the mansions above, while the air resounds with sweet music.

Her arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. She would scratch the eruptions as though it gave relief, and tear open the sores."

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Mr. John A. Scott, Manager of the Hilo Sugar Company, gives the following wonderful record of the working of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER, which was erected by their works at the commencement of the crop just harvested:

"During the past week the Hilo Sugar Company's mill exceeded any of its former records by closing the 125 hours grinding with an output of 3000 tons. This is fully 10 percent more than the best work of former years.

"The three roller mill being 26 in. by 54 in. and the two roller mill 30 in. by 60 in. The first mill doing this amount of work in an efficient manner and with great ease, compared with work on whole cane, owing to thorough preparation on the cane by the National Cane Shredder, recently erected by the Company.

"Aid by its use the extraction has been increased from 3 percent to 5 percent on all kinds of cane, and in some cases 80 percent has been reached; the average being 75 to 78 percent, according to quality.

"I continue to find the megass from shredded cane better fuel than from whole cane.

"The shredder has been working day and night for seven months and has given me entire satisfaction, having shredded during that time about seventy thousand tons of cane, and a large part of it being hard ratoon.

"The shredder and engine require very little care or attention."

Plans and specifications of these Shredders may be seen at the office of

LOCOMOTIVES FOR LIHUE.

A Possible Railroad from the Plantation to Nawiliwili.

The wharf at the rear of Brewer & Co.'s establishment is covered with machinery of all kinds which has been discharged from the ship Helen Brewer. Among this are two locomotives for the Lihue plantation together with a quantity of rails. It is said these are to be used on a railroad to be constructed from the plantation to Nawiliwili. A great saving in the cost of transportation will be effected by this new railroad.

The same vessel also brought a locomotive for the Wailuku plantation, and an immense boiler shell and the necessary tubing, etc., for Col. Spalding.

Hawaiian Agricultural Association.

The rooms beneath the American League hall, which have been prepared for the use of the Hawaiian Agricultural Association, are now open to the public. They have been nicely furnished and fitted with tables, shelving and chemical appliances necessary for the experiments proposed to be carried on. Owing to the absence of the director through illness the BULLETIN was unable to ascertain how soon active operations would commence.

Whooping Cough.

There is no danger from this disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given. It liquefies the tough mucus and aids its expectoration. It also lessens the severity and frequency of paroxysms of coughing, and insures a speedy recovery. There is not the least danger in giving the remedy to children or babies, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Broke His Contract.

Eke pleaded guilty of deserting the contract service of the Koloa Sugar Company for four months last past and was ordered by Judge Wilcox this morning to return to work and put up three dollars costs as a gentle reminder not to do it again.

"I'm goin' to give up my post at this here restaurant," said the West-end waiter, with a look of supreme disgust upon his face.

"Why?"
"Why? Why, they're insisting on my eating mushrooms before the customers to show them they're not toadstools."

J. T. STACKER, EDITOR.

FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1895.

The handful of veterans of the American civil war residing in Honolulu will celebrate Memorial Day as it has been here, and in the United States, for years past. While Honolulu claims to be thoroughly American in many respects it is surprising that the day is not more generally observed. At this season of the year business is not so thriving that employers could not well afford to close their stores and give the clerks a full holiday.

Notwithstanding the reports that harmony reigns supreme at the meetings of the various squads of the Citizens' Guard, in which the military scheme is discussed, there is a general feeling of dissatisfaction among the members at the prospect of a change.

This organization is largely made up of business men and clerks who, for the protection of their homes and families, offered their services to the government in the belief, of course, that they would be assigned to duty near their homes and at times when trouble was threatened the government by its enemies. When the danger is past the members wish to be free from any kind of discipline until again called upon to protect lives and property. With a majority of the guards it is their simple wish to be allowed to act as special policemen and for that purpose the body sprung into existence. The men have no wish to don uniforms nor to be obliged to report for drill whenever it is the wish of the commanding officer to have them. They fail to see the necessity for all of this and argue that if they wish to become experts at drilling, or if they are not particular as to the locality they are to protect they might as well join the national guard and be done with it.

According to the law, an auctioneer pays a license of $500 per annum to carry on his trade in Honolulu. In addition to this, he pays one half of one percent on the amount of sales during the year. Wholesale houses, and retail we believe, pay according to the value of sales during the same period, the smaller the sales the smaller the license fee.

We may suppose that a firm does a business which would call for a license fee of $250. Sometimes the proprietor finds himself confronted by a large assortment of goods that are so far in the rear in the matter of style that he considers it necessary to dispose of them in the quickest, and best manner. The idea of an auction strikes him favorably and he mounts a clerk on a stool and provides him with a hammer and a loud voice. The goods bring better prices, as a rule, than if sold over the counter and the proprietor retires to his home at the close of the day conscious of having had good returns without additional expense.

But how stands the man who makes auctioneering his business; the man who pays five hundred dollars a year to the government whether he holds one sale a year or a hundred? He suffers an injustice either through discrimination or lack of watchfulness on the part of government officials. His sales are affected by auction sales by men who do a legitimate business three hundred and ten days in the year should adopt methods out of the ordinary on the other days, for the purpose of disposing of his wares. The laws governing the conduct of the auction business on the islands were made, evidently, to protect the men who carry on what they call legitimate business, and the license fee was set at a high figure because it is pretty generally believed that the auction sales injure to a certain extent the regular business of a place as small as Honolulu. But is it just to have it a case of "I'll tickle you, but keep your hands off me."

Wanted—A Happy Man.

An Eastern epologue relates that a great king was sick, and that his physicians declared that nothing could cure him but the shirt of a perfectly happy man. Messengers were sent through the land to find this rarity, and when a likely person was discovered the envoys asked him if he wanted anything. The answer was "Yes;" the "happy man" wanted something—another field, a little more wealth, another a son—there was always some deficiency that showed the imperfection of the happiness. At length the searchers came to the verge of a wood and found a man dancing. He seemed poor but merry. Questioned closely, he would not admit that he wanted anything; he had quite enough, and was very jolly. "Then," said the messengers, "give us your shirt to heal the king." The merry dancer rejoined: "I have no shirt." The king died, and the problem of how to cure the king remained unsolved. Today there are thousands who, like this king, through sickness, are not happy, and there are a countless number who have become happy by removing their sickness through the timely use of the world-famed Sequah Remedies. Sequah's Cure for indigestion and kindred ailments is infallible. Try it, always gives satisfaction.

While in Stockton, Cal., some time ago, Thos. F. Langan, of Los Banos, that state, was taken very severely with cramps and diarrhoea. He chanced to meet Mr. C. M. Carter, who was similarly afflicted. He says: "I told him of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and we went to the Holden Drug Store and procured a bottle of it. It gave Mr. Carter prompt relief and I can vouch for its having cured me." For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

If you want to buy a really good clock or watch at Coast prices inspect the stock of Brown & Kubey, at No. 4, Masonic Temple; there you will find the largest variety in Honolulu at the lowest prices; clocks and watches sold on weekly and monthly payments. Brown & Kubey make a specialty of rubber stamps.

Havana Flats

is the latest novelty in cigars. This is a perfectly flat cigar. The filler is Havana of a very high grade and laid in, like the sheets of a book, in the same way as cigars that cost $150.00 per thousand. The outside appearance of the cigar conforms to the filler, and is perfectly flat. Those of our cigar customers who have sampled them pronounce the Havana Flats of excellent quality and of unique and attractive shape.

Havana Cigars

by reason of the superior quality and name are usually sold at high prices. We have an excellent line of these cigars direct from Havana. While the quality of these cigars is at the top-notch our prices have been scaled down to bring these popular cigars within the reach of all.

Manila Cigars

need very little said in their praise, for they are well known here to every smoker. It would be difficult to get a better cigar for the price at which Manilas are sold. We allow no one to undersell us in this line. We compete with any nationality. Remember that when looking for Manila Cigars.

KAIULANI'S JEWELS.

A Schedule Filed by Her Father Hon. A. S. Cleghorn To-day.

Archibald S. Cleghorn, as guardian of the ex-Princess Victoria Kaiulani, has filed the final account of his guardianship, together with an inventory of the property to which she is entitled, in the Circuit Court. The account covers the period from May 1, 1892, to October 30, 1893, a period of seventeen months. In his previous account the guardian showed a balance on hand of $3374.77, but the present account shows a deficit amounting to $6306.47, "due guardian" as per schedule annexed.

The inventory of the property of Kaiulani, after reciting the various real estate, rents, and other sources of income contains a list of the jewelry owned by Her late Royal Highness, Princess Likelike and by her willed to her daughter Kaiulani, all of which is packed, sealed and stored in the fire-proof vault of James Campbell:

Twenty-two gold rings with diamonds and other stones, including one snake with ruby, two crystals necklaces in gold and silver, one heavy gold necklace, five assorted gold necklaces, one crystal locket in gold, one silver chain and cross, large green stone cross in New Zealand gold, two coral necklaces, two gold necklaces and crosses, one gold bell, one moss-gate pin, one jet pin, one jet cross, one cameo cross, one brooch with earrings to match of Australian nut, one gold guitar brooch, two gold chains, one gold and kukui bracelet, three pairs gold sleeve buttons set with assorted stones, four gold watch chains, thirteen watch charms, three gold pencils, four pairs assorted gold bracelets, one gold bangle, six other sorts of bangles whatever they may be, sixteen assorted sets of bracelets, and some more bangles, one diamond pendant and pin, one pair bracelets of gold set with diamonds, four diamond pins, one hair pin set with brilliants, four watches set with enamel and brilliants, two watch chains, five small gold chains and an equal number of necklaces some of which are of silver, gold, coral and a variety of other substances.

Together with above the young lady is the fortunate owner of a silver spoon and medal, two silver cups and a napkin ring, a smelling bottle and a small enamelled locket, two pairs of glove fasteners, and two gold shoulder clasps (whatever that may be), a whole lot of earrings, brooches, buckles, crosses and other things too numerous to mention, even including as small an article as a pearl collar button, and as dangerous a one as a tiger's claw in gold and ivory. The inventory does not specify what the tiger's claw was made of.

In addition to the above Miss Kaiulani owns a kukui pin and a turquoise bracelet, some seventy other articles of jewelry and a package of fine lace collars and handkerchiefs. Why the latter should be included in an inventory of jewelry is left to the imagination of the reader.

Now that Miss Kaiulani is in the lawful and peaceable possession of the above assortment of jewelry she ought to be satisfied, at least most young ladies would be. If not she will at least be able to open a jewelry store and run in opposition to Tom Lindsay.

Here is her experience: Not one percent of women having the municipal franchise use it. The canvass books tell the same hopeless tale. Out of fifty women voters whom she canvassed, only three promised to vote either way.

MRS. AUG. DARROW.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen:—I was very much run down, had no appetite at all, was very nervous, had no sleep night or day; to sum it all up, I was perfectly wretched. But thanks to Paine's Celery Compound I can now eat and sleep and work just as well as I could before I was taken sick. When I commenced taking the Compound I weighed 136 pounds; I now weigh 158 pounds and do all the work for my family of five. I have recommended the Compound to three families already and they are very much pleased with it. I am now taking my fifth bottle, and would recommend it to all who are suffering with stomach trouble or nervous trouble.

Yours respectfully,

Figuring It Out.

A schoolmaster had been severely correcting one of his boys, and finished by saying, "Now, sit down and write a letter to your parents, telling them how much you are taught here, and how little you profit therefrom. I should be ashamed to tell them." The boy cried a good deal, and then wrote:

"Dear Father—I am very stupid, though there is more to be learnt here than anywhere. Twice two's four, four boys go to one bed; six beds make one attic, and four attics make one well ventilated and appointed sleeping dormitory. One round of bread-and-butter makes one breakfast, and every tea makes its own supper."

"This time," said the master, "we will—er—overlook your conduct, and you needn't send that note." (He had been overlooking).

From Natural Causes.

A Japanese by the name of Yatsumoto, while engaged in fishing yesterday afternoon, was taken violently ill and soon afterward died. As the man had been in, apparently, perfect health up to the time he left his home but a little while before, his friends naturally believed he had met with foul play. An investigation was ordered, upon the matter being reported to the police, but the result showed that the man died from natural causes.

A Gloomy Prospect Changed to Brightness and Health

Dyspepsia and Kidney Trouble Perfectly Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Good health you cannot have without pure blood; therefore, to keep well, purify your blood by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine is peculiarly designed to act upon the blood, and through that upon all the organs and tissues of the body. It has a specific action also, and assists nature to expel from the system all humors, impure particles and effete matter through the lungs, liver, bowels, kidneys and skin. It effectually aids weak, impaired and debilitated organs, invigorates the nervous system, tones the digestion and imparts new life and energy to all the functions of the body. A peculiarity of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that it strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease. Thus it is that nervousness, loss of sleep, loss of appetite and general debility all disappear when Hood's Sarsaparilla is persistently taken, and strong nerves, sweet sleep, strong body, sharp appetite, and in a word, health and happiness, follow the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

What more need be said? If you are sick or run down, is it not the medicine for you? Others have taken it and found it not wanting. Among these may be men-

It is Hood's Sarsaparilla that has helped me to get about again. I either did not take the kidney disease the doctors said it was, or Hood's Sarsaparilla has knocked the spots out of it. It is the best medi-

Well, after a month's doctoring I went to the country, and took several bottles of medicine. I came back to town in December, 1892,
"Looking Bad and Feeling Worse."
I called in another doctor, who, after an examination, also pronounced it Bright's cine I have ever taken, and I have taken almost everything that people have told me of or what I thought might help me. My friends here are surprised to see me about again as in former years.

"I there is anything in the foregoing that you can make use of you are at full liberty to do so, as it might be the means of helping some one as much as I was. There are plenty of people here who can certify to what I have written, as I have been here for the past 28 years.

"I will answer more fully inquiries that may be addressed to me or references given, provided stamps are enclosed. Hoping this may be of some use to you or others, I remain, yours truly, M. T. DONNELL."

Circuit Court.

Hermann Focke having filed a petition asking that W. O. Smith be appointed the guardian of the persons and property of the minor heirs of the estate of James Gay, deceased, the Court grants the same upon the filing of a bond in the sum of $2500.

Under the will of the said James Gay, Cecil Brown was appointed trustee in the place of Mary Ellen Gay, deceased. His bond was fixed at $6000.

The Court is occupied to-day in trying the ejectment suit of Clio H. Newton vs. S. Kaale et al. Kinney for plaintiffs and Kane and Kaulukou for defendants.

Any one who has ever had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism will rejoice with Mr. J. A. Stumm, 220 Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, over his fortunate escape from a siege of that distressing ailment. Mr. Stumm is foreman of Merriam's confectionery establishment. Some months ago, on leaving the heated work room to run across the street on an errand, he was caught out in the rain. The result was that when ready to go home that night he was unable to walk, owing to inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken home, and on arrival was placed in front of a good fire and thoroughly rubbed with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. During the evening and night he was repeatedly bathed with this liniment, and by morning was relieved of all rheumatic pains. He now takes especial pleasure in praising Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Shipping Intelligence.

It may surprise the shipping reporter of a local contemporary to learn that the barkentine Modoc, which is reported due in his paper, arrived last Saturday and is now discharging coal at the railroad wharf since.

The "schooner" Edward May, due here on May 16th, is a bark.

The Coryphene, although 90 days out from Newcastle, is not overdue as has been stated.

Several vessels have arrived at this port from Newcastle between 100 and 115 days and little anxiety was felt over their long voyages.
