SCANDALOUS CONDUCT.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Last evening about eleven o'clock two of the captains of the police force got into a wrangle outside of the Station House, which lasted some fifteen minutes. The language used by one of them was of the most disgusting and filthy nature and very unbecoming a man who is paid to preserve order and peace. I think it is the duty of the Marshal to inquire into this matter and see that there is not a repetition of such unwarranted conduct on the part of a police officer. CITIZEN.

AN ACCUSATION REPEATED.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In Rev. S. E. Bishop's communication in your paper of last Tuesday, he says: "The statement which 'Facts' accuses me of making so as to degrade Hawaiians, is not to be found in the essay which he tries to quote, nor anything like it." I did not quote from his published pamphlet but from statements made by him at a meeting of the Social Science Association, at the residence of one of the prominent members of that society. I was in Honolulu at the time and my information came from a gentleman who was present on that occasion. Will Mr. Bishop deny that he made such a statement on the evening in question, viz.: "that hardly five per cent. of the native Hawaiians were free from syphilis taint?" Evidently he thought better of this assertion and that's why it does not appear in the printed pamphlet. His attempt, now, to shuffle out of the responsibility of this mendacious assertion is on a par with the sophisticated way in which he crawls out of other slanderous and random statements which he has made at the expense of the natives.

If Mr. Bishop has ever, in any way, exhibited any affection for the natives then this community have for thirty years lived in ignorance of this dark and unfamiliar fact; for to my certain knowledge during that time he has been mostly engaged in saying as mean things about them as was consistent with his spiteful and unbecoming mind. Will Mr. Bishop tell us less of his "love and affection for the natives" and more about his boasted productions of the late red sunset phenomena—in short will he be kind enough to "come off the roof?" He makes me tired. FACTS.

DISMISSING THE JURY.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—I have great respect for our Supreme Court, and would never refer to our judges in the disrespectful language that may be heard any day in Honolulu, from citizens of greater prominence than I hold or aspire to; but, nevertheless, I do not possess that veneration for any human being which would consider a judge incapable of error or exalt him above censure. Our judges are human, and, being human, are liable to err. Our judges are public servants, and, as public servants, are properly liable to public criticism. According to yesterday's BULLETIN, the presiding judge in the case of Rev. V. Wilcox discharged the jury in the midst of the trial, because a juror, in questioning a witness, expressed an opinion in regard to the action of that witness, not, be it remembered, in regard to the case on trial. I shall be glad to be shown that the judge was within his legal right; but in the meantime hold the opinion that he overstepped his authority. The jury, as a whole, had been accepted by the prosecution, the defense, and the court, and was duly sworn; after which, during the trial, neither of the parties had a right to object. The remedy for any misconduct on the part of the jury is provided for by a court of appeal. The judge, according to the BULLETIN, quoted no precedent for his action, although he believed precedents could be found, at the same time confessing that it made no difference to him whether they could be or not, but "if there was no precedent he would make one." Now, I, as one of the people, hold that if a judge is at liberty to make precedents at will, we had better dispense with the Legislature, and let the judges run the country according to their own sweet will, making law as well as administering it. The docile Hawaian public may quietly submit to this kind of thing, but the American public, jealous of their rights, never would. Let me say one word more: is not to assume that the misconduct of one juror affects the others an insult to the remaining eleven? A. C. J.

HILO NEWS.

A Political Meeting—Other Matters of Interest.

(From the Hilo Record, Oct. 15.)

On Thursday evening last in answer to a call requesting the Noble electors of this district to meet, for the purpose of appointing a "central committee" on elections for this Island, a few of those living in the town assembled at the Court-house, and on motion the meeting was adjourned to Saturday evening, in order to get a fuller attendance. On Saturday evening, the meeting was called to order by Mr. Tucker, chairman. The object for which the meeting was called was fully stated by Mr. D. H. Hitchcock, and on motion the following named gentlemen—Messrs. Goodale, Richardson and D. H. Hitchcock—were appointed as the "Hawaii Central Committee" for the purpose of taking all necessary steps looking to a grand central convention for the purpose of making a "Noble" ticket for this Island. They were also asked to prepare and furnish to this meeting, at its next meeting, a "platform" for the proposed central convention. The meeting then adjourned to one week from Saturday evening. We hope that a full house will then be in attendance, to discuss the proposed platform. Thus Hawaii has taken the initiatory steps as to the coming elections. But our districts are so widely separated, that we should take time to do our work in, and not commence so late we cannot do it thoroughly.

From a conversation held with Father Bonaventura a few days since we learn that the Roman Catholic Mission have taken up the business of trying to get natives to go into coffee raising, on the fine land of Waikahala in Puna belonging to the mission. The land is furnished, also plants, each family settling there agreeing to plant two acres in coffee the first year. About twenty families are going into it, which will mean forty acres planted in coffee in the next year and more each succeeding year. Those raising the coffee take 20-25% of the crop and the remainder goes to the mission. This is the right way to go about it, and we wish that one hundred families would go into it instead of twenty. We are in hopes that the next Legislature will do something to encourage small coffee growers. Remit all taxes on land planted in coffee and on the value of the coffee itself for four or five years. Or else pay a small bounty on every one hundred pounds put into the market. This industry needs fostering, and our Legislature needs doing it.

We understand that Mr. Luce, the Deputy Sheriff, has resigned his position and will go on to the Pepee-keo plantation to work. A large gang of prisoners started for the new jail, erected near the 11th mile station on the Volcano road, early this forenoon. The building will accommodate about 50 men. This working of the prisoners on the public roads is just what ought to be done with them. The public have been at the expense of trying them for their misdeeds, and the general public ought to be benefited by their labor.

On Tuesday evening of last week the Hilo Social was held at the Parsonage, being the first held there since Mrs. Baker's return from the Coast, and the evening passed pleasantly with music, reading, and social chat. Later on the young members of the company made themselves extremely agreeable while passing around the refreshments. Not long after the company dispersed, well satisfied with a pleasant evening passed in this manner.

The Baldwin survey party left this morning for the purpose of putting up a "trig" station on Kulani hill, back of the Volcano; from which the work of the trigonometrical survey in the District of Puna may be gone on with.

A JUROR DISMISSED.

During the session of the Supreme Court this morning His Honor the Chief Justice made the following remarks with regard to the juror Biplikane:

It appears that he lost control of himself yesterday and the Attorney-General suggests that he be fined or punished for contempt of Court. It was certainly very improper conduct when you made yourself a partisan, and the language you used was very improper, but the Court is never disposed to be severe with people that are perhaps not quite aware of the decorum they should always preserve. We feel called upon, however, to dismiss you from further attendance in this Court as a juror and your name may be taken from the jury list.

The royal party visited the palace and inspected the feather mantles and capes, and museum. They then took position on the front veranda and witnessed an exhibition of riding by eight lady members of the Poomakelani riding club. The riders were dressed in ancient Hawaiian costume. Count Zileri took photographs of the riders. The distinguished visitors were then driven to Hounakaha, the riding club acting as escort. The honorary membership of the House of Wisdom was conferred upon the Prince and Princess, and after an inspection of the charts a collation was served. The Royal party are being entertained at His Majesty's boat house this afternoon.

LAST NIGHT'S CIRCUS.

The Chiarini's Circus performed to a "good house" last night. The three Prussian stallions, handsome coal-black "dandies," created the greatest admiration and the burst of applause as the animals left the ring was sincere and enthusiastic.

The "monkey race," the winding-up piece, was very laughable: the ponies, with monkey riders, racing over hurdles with breakneck speed amid deafening yells from the "gallery gods."

To-night's performance will be the last of Chiarini's Circus in Honolulu. The prices of seats have been cut in half and, as the Hawaiian band will assist complimentary to the company, a crowd is expected.

GRAND ROYAL BALL.

Given at Iolani Palace in Honor of the Prince and Princess de Bourbon and Suite.

Luxurious Illumination—A Brilliant Assembly—Complete List of Guests.

Last night Their Majesties King Kalakaua and Queen Kapiolani gave a grand reception and ball at Iolani Palace in honor of the Prince and Princess de Bourbon and suite visiting these islands. Shortly after the opening hour of nine o'clock the King and Queen, with H. R. H. Princess Liliuokalani, H. R. H. Princess Poomakelani, Hon. John O. Dominis, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, and their Highnesses Princess Kawanakoa and Kalamanaole, descended the grand staircase and entering the throne room took their positions on the dais. The Royal Hawaiian Band stationed on the front veranda played Hawaii Ponoi on the entry of their Majesties and the royal family.

THE RECEPTION.

Prince Henri de Bourbon and the Princess, Baroness Hertling, Count Zileri, Count Lucchesi, and Baron Heydebrand, arriving in the House-hold carriages, were greeted with the Austrian national anthem by the band, and soon after the reception began. Col. G. W. Macfarlane, H. M.'s Chamberlain, was in attendance on their Majesties and presented the guests, beginning with the royal visitors. These, after paying their respects, were seated to the right of the throne. Next were presented, in the order given, the diplomatic corps, Ministers of the Crown, United States Rear-Admiral Kimberly and staff, United States and British naval officers, and the general public. There was a great crush of people in the throne room and main hall at the height of the reception, yet the procession past the royal dais flowed on in remarkably good order, the return stream of observant ones mingling with the throng of observers round the apartment. The band played throughout the ceremony. His Majesty was attended on the occasion by Col. G. W. Macfarlane, H. M.'s Chamberlain; Her Majesty, by Mrs. J. W. Robertson; Princess Liliuokalani, by Mrs. W. H. Aldrich; the Prince and Princess de Bourbon and suite, by Mr. J. W. Robertson, Vice-Chamberlain.

ILLUMINATION AND DECORATIONS.

Every approach to the palace presented a scene of gorgeous splendence. The illumination of the building and grounds has never been surpassed in style or degree. From basement to battlements on every side the noble pile was profusely hung with rows of colored lanterns, festooned and straight but never departing from artistic symmetry. These myriad lights were interspersed with the glittering rays from the permanent rose-shaped incandescent lamps on the outer walls. Every door and window poured forth a welcoming glow from the electric crystal chandeliers richly bestowed within. The paths in the grounds were lined, the trees and shrubbery decked, with hundreds of colored lanterns closely ranged in right lines and curves, all with such consummate art as to yield an effect of exquisite harmony to every point of vision.

Inside the palace the decorations were simple but in good taste. In the throne room on either side of the dais were potted palms, pyramids of roses were at the bases of the large mirrors, and a grand feather kahili stood at each side of the throne canopy. An immense pyramid of plants with floral insets made a strikingly beautiful object opposite the grand staircase in the middle of the main hall. At the head of the stairs under a permanent mirror appeared the device of a shield rimmed with white flowers and bearing across the face in red flowers the greeting, "Aloha." This piece was universally admired. Bunches of ferns and flowers were disposed on the hallway walls between the statuary niches. The dining-room and the blue room, besides their usual adornments of curios and plate, were further beautified with bloom and foliage artistically composed and arranged.

THE DANCE.

Formality was dispensed with in the opening of the ball, the formation of the initial sets of dancers being left to congenial selection. The throne room in which the dancing was done presented an entrancing spectacular view during the programme. Many of the ladies were richly dressed. The distribution of brilliant military and naval uniforms was in large proportion to the sober evening dress suits of civilians, while many a manly breast bore splendid decorations that scintillated with distinction at every movement. With the spacious floor completely occupied a picture of kaleidoscopic beauty, combining the poetry of both motion and color, was displayed whenever the music sounded. The music itself was grand, Prof. Berger leading the full band, only the string contingent laying aside their military instruments. Refreshments of fine quality were served at midnight in the dining hall. An interesting incident of the ball was the "shipwrecked set" of quadrilles, so-called from the accidental assembling on the floor, in that set, of the hero and heroine of the Pearl Harbor "disaster" of the other day. The order of dances, ending at 2:30 o'clock this morning, was as follows:

THE GUESTS OF THE EVENING.

The Prince and Princess de Bourbon and party were seemingly intensely gratified with the entertainment. Mingling freely with their fellow guests, many of whom were privately presented to them, they chatted with animation to individuals and groups. They were respectively the King during the day. The amiable princess remarked to the Chamberlain her delight with the event, comparing the whole scene to "fairytland." His Majesty the King expressed his great pleasure to a BULLETIN reporter at the palace to-day, with the enthusiastic response made by resident society to the invitation to do honor to the distinguished visitors.

BEET SUGAR.

We learn from San Francisco that the Watsonville Beet Sugar Refinery is turning out about 44 tons of prime sugar daily. The sugar is first-class and polarises over 98 per cent.

The run will not exceed seventy days, owing to the limited supply of beets and to the fact that the seed planted did not turn out as well as expected. It had been anticipated that the season's run would be ninety days. The result, however, will be 2,500 tons of sugar.

The beet industry is only in its infancy, and now that its success has been thoroughly demonstrated by Colonel Spreckels, there is no doubt that in future seasons the supply will be ample.

It is understood that inquiries are coming in from every county in the State regarding the time for planting beet and the location of new sugar plants. There will be a further distribution of beet seed in the coming season, and every information and assistance will be given to encourage farmers to plant beets on a large scale.

New Free Tontine Policy

OF THE
 Equitable Life Assurance Society
 OF THE UNITED STATES

A SIMPLE PROMISE TO PAY.

[From the NEW YORK TIMES, June 22, 1889.]

The Equitable Life Assurance Society has adopted a new form of policy which, like a bank draft, is a simple promise to pay without conditions on the back.

[From the CHICAGO INVESTIGATOR.]

Always on the alert, and ever anxious to give the public the most advantageous contract in life insurance, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York has, in the past, made many advances on old methods and has been the means to liberalize life insurance in a greater degree perhaps, than any other organization. It is not at all surprising, therefore, that this great company now comes before the people with a new contract, the like of which has not before been known in life insurance.

[From the KENTUCKY REGISTER, Richmond, Ky., June 28, 1889.]

The Equitable Life Assurance Society has, in the past, done more to create and maintain confidence in life insurance than any other company. Consequently its business is larger than that of any of its competitors. Furthermore, it has now taken a step which practically sweeps every objection of the character referred to out of the way. The result, undoubtedly, will be that thousands of men who have heretofore lacked confidence in life insurance, will examine the new policy offered by the Equitable, and assure their lives forthwith.

[From the BOSTON POST.]

This company has done more than any other to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life insurance.

[From the PACIFIC UNDERWRITER, San Francisco, July 1, 1889.]

The Equitable has already established a world-wide reputation for liberal dealings with its policy-holders and for its prompt settlement of all legitimate claims against it, and this new policy cannot fail to enhance its reputation for enterprise and progressiveness in dealing with the subject of life insurance.
