

SENSATIONAL ROBBERY

SAN FRANCISCO, February 28.—Captain Greene, was chloroformed and robbed at the California Hotel, and valuables to the amount of $500 were secured by the robbers.

This cablegram sent by the Associated Press is supposed to refer to Captain W. W. Greene of the Steamship Nippon Maru which is now in San Francisco. The only other Greene known here is Captain J. S. Greene of the Steamship Nebraskan, but that vessel sailed from San Francisco, January 25.

THE SHIPWRECKED MARINER WHO FOUND HIS LAND LEGS

There was one member of the crew of the American ship Paramita who had special cause for feeling delighted over the vessel reaching Honolulu safely. This man was Herbert Kremer. While nominally a member of the crew, the young man was not a sailor at all but was the son of a very wealthy insurance man of New York city and was making the voyage to recover health.

Kremer's father is the president of the New York German American Fire Insurance Company, one of the largest institutions of the kind in America. Kremer's health had been bad for some time last year so he decided to make a sea trip. He went to a British vessel that was bound for one of the Australian ports. He paid his passage money for the round trip. The vessel was not licensed to carry passengers so he signed the articles as a member of the crew, the understanding being that he would not be called upon to perform any of the duties of a sailor. Subsequently the officers of the vessel did not live up to this agreement but demanded that he work before the mast or else pay more money. The young man refused to do so and in New Zealand jumped the vessel. He had to leave all of his effects aboard the ship in order to get away.

He was "up against it" in New Zealand, thousands of miles from friends and without any money which was much worse. He happened to meet the mate of the American ship Paramita. The mate took a fancy to young Kremer and when Kremer explained his predicament, the mate gave him the chance of working his passage from New Zealand to San Francisco as the Paramita was bound to the latter port. Unfortunately the Paramita struck a hurricane and was dashed off the Marquesas Islands. During the hurricane nobody aboard the vessel ever thought she could live through it. The vessel did live though and finally came into this port a week ago in distress.

Kremer found himself in a very disagreeable predicament in Honolulu. He was without money. By going to San Francisco he knew he would have no difficulty in securing funds as his father's company had a branch at that city and moreover, young Kremer was known in San Francisco, having visited that city several years ago. When he reached Honolulu, however, Kremer was in some doubt as to whether he would not have to work his passage to the mainland on some vessel going out of this place. By inquiry he learned, however, that his father's company was represented by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Co. Ltd. Young Kremer explained his predicament and was identified by a young man who knew him had known him. A cablegram was sent to the elder Kremer acquainting him with the circumstances of his son's presence in Honolulu. Within a short time, the necessary authorization was cabled back and young Kremer was soon in ample funds to defray his expenses to San Francisco. He took the bark Andrew Welch yesterday and sailed for San Francisco. He will then proceed to his home in New York.

ROMANCE OF TWO JAILS

ROGER JAMES, CONVICTED OF BURGLARY, PROVES TO BE AN ESCAPED LIFE PRISONER FROM THE MILITARY PRISON AT ALCATRAZ—HE MEETS HIS OLD MILITARY GUARD IN JAIL.

Roger James, the convicted burglar, is said to be an escaped Alcatraz convict, under a life sentence for treason. By a remarkable coincidence he met in Oahu jail the soldier who escorted him as a prisoner across the Pacific, from Manila to San Francisco.

Sergeant Bales of Camp McKinley is the man who recognized James. Bales was in the Philippines with a portion of the 6th artillery when James deserted the American army and went over to the enemy. He was captured and tried for high treason, receiving a sentence of life at hard labor. Bales was delegated to take James to San Francisco, and landed him safely in the hands of the authorities there. He was sent to Alcatraz, one of the hardest prisons on American soil, and escaped from there and made his way to Honolulu, according to the story he told in Oahu jail. After landing in prison here for burglary, he was assigned to see the soldier who had once been his custodian. Bales is one of the three soldiers arrested for robbing Chief Justice Frear's Tantalus home. The discovery of James' past is due to his own indiscretion. He talked about it among the other prisoners, and one of them carried the story to a guard, who told it to Warden Henry. Henry questioned Sergeant Bales about it, and Bales identified James as his former prisoner.

James will have to go back to Alcatraz. If his story is verified, the federal government will want him, and once landed in the island prison near San Francisco, he will have little reason to hope for another period of liberty.

James' true name is said to be Leonard Wilmore. He was a member of Company M of the 25th Infantry. During a row he killed one man and wounded another and then he deserted, and became a captain of Filipinos. Twice he was under death sentence, once by Americans for murder and once by Filipinos for releasing Americans, and each time he escaped. He was taken to Alcatraz on the Meade, in October, 1901, and escaped during the following month with a companion, who was drowned while trying to swim from the island.

CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU

C. A. LONG'S ACT TO INCORPORATE HONOLULU AND THE ISLAND OF OAHU AS A CITY AND COUNTY—HOW IT IS PROPOSED TO ORGANIZE THE GOVERNMENT IN THE NEW FORM.

Representative C. A. Long has introduced his city and county government act, which takes the island of Oahu out of the county act prepared by the Republican central committee and commission and makes one city and county out of the island. The act provides complete machinery for government of the city, dividing the island into wards, eight of which are in the Honolulu proper. It is believed to have a strong majority in the House.

The act provides for the officials to be elected by the people and for salaries, as follows:

Mayor	$3,000
City clerk	2,400
Auditor	2,400
Treasurer	2,400
City Attorney	3,000
City Judge	3,000
Five district magistrates	2,500

In addition to these there are the following appointed officers:

Commissioner of Public Works	$2,400
By Mayor and council
Commissioner of Health, by Mayor or council	2,400
Chief of Police, by Mayor and Council	2,400
Fire Chief, by Mayor and Police	2,400
Commissioner of Parks	No salary

Twelve councilmen, one resident of men, one resident of each ward, to receive $10 per diem for each day on which they devote as much as 4 hours each ward, to receive $10 per diem for each day on which they devote as much as 4 hours to public business, $5 when the time is less than 4 hours, and not to be allowed to make charges for more than 10 days in any one month. President of the Council elected by the Council, no salary. Members of the Board of Education, one from each ward, no salary. Road Supervisors, one for each outlying district, same as now.

According to the terms of the act the first election is to be held next November, and the officers are to take office on the first of January. The second election takes place with the general election next year, and after that the elections are to be held every two years.

The Council is given general legislative powers in the city and county, with special restrictions to regulate the granting of public franchises, imposition of taxes, etc. The city clerk is to be clerk of the council. It is provided that on January 1, the Territorial taxes due in the city and county shall become due to the city and county, and the machinery of government shall be turned over. All Territorial property, except the Capitol and Judiciary buildings, is to be turned over to the city and county.

The powers of the Board of Education and other officials generally are much the same as under the present system. The treasurer is to be required to give a bond, the amount thereof to be fixed by the council. The police and fire departments are to be placed on the merit system, with promotions to a higher grade being from a grade below. No removals are to be made except for cause, after written charges have been preferred before the Mayor, and his acts in the matter are to be subject to the approval of the council.

The city judge is to hold court every legal day in the year except during August, and to have jury trials. The magistrates meet every day. The city judge's jurisdiction is to extend to civil cases involving not over $1,000 and to criminal cases in which the punishment does not exceed five years' imprisonment and $500 fine. Appeals lie from the magistrates to the city court and from the latter direct to the Supreme Court.

The act appropriates the sum of $500,000 to carry out its purposes during the first year.

A RARE MARKET FISH.

Japanese Fishermen Turn Their Swordfish Into Silver Dollars.

Swordfish are now on the market as an edible food stuff and the unusual denizens of the deep are attracting a good deal of attention at the fish market. The first was caught yesterday off Waikiki by some Japanese fishermen, and was brought to the market soon after noon. This one measured seven feet in length and weighed about 120 pounds it is said. This morning two more were shipped in by the Oahu Railway from Waianae, off which place they were caught. One of these was about seven and a half feet long and the other was about eight feet. These measurements are exclusive of the "sword" of the fish which in each case was from eighteen inches to two feet long. The meat of these fish is a sort of yellowish white, and was sold in cuts at ten cents a pound.

HOLDING UP THE INSURANCE

OWNER NELSON LANSING OF ADA STATES INSURANCE COMPANY HAS NOT PAID INSURANCE.

There is a hitch in the payment of the insurance money on the schooner Ada. The little vessel was piled on the beach at Kahana Bay some weeks ago during a heavy northerly gale. The insurance company had Alice Lyle go over to Kahana and she succeeded in getting the vessel off of the beach and bringing her to Honolulu. The insurance company is now reported to be trying to induce Nelson Lansing, the owner of the vessel to take her back instead of taking the insurance money.

Lansing claims that this action was taken by the insurance people without having any survey made of her. The vessel is to be placed on the marine railway next week as soon as the U. S. S. Ironclad comes off of the dry dock and a survey will then be held.

TO DO UP WRIGHT

SENSATIONAL AFFIDAVIT FILED IN THE MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL FOR B. H. WRIGHT—ONE OF THE JURORS CHARGED WITH DELIBERATELY GETTING ON THE JURY TO CONVICT THE DEFENDANT.

The motion for a new trial of the case of B. H. Wright, found guilty of embezzlement, will be based in part on a sensational affidavit of M. T. Furtado, filed this morning by George A. Davis, attorney for Wright, charging Captain James H. Black with having declared himself emphatically of the opinion that Wright was guilty, before the trial, and with having admitted that he concealed his opinion in order to get on the jury and get jurors' fees.

The affidavit is as follows: "I, Manuel T. Furtado, of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, attorney-at-law, make oath and say: "1. That on Wednesday, the 25th day of February, A. D. 1903, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock in the afternoon of said day, on Hotel street, directly in front of the building known as the Columbia Saloon, I met James H. Black, one of the jurors who had then been duly accepted and sworn to try the issues between the Territory of Hawaii and the said Benjamin H. Wright, who had been indicted for the crime of embezzlement, and the said James H. Black then and there stated as follows:

"Some of those fellows that were excused were damned fools, they don't know how to get easy money by staying on the jury, thereby inciting the jurors, who had been sworn to try the issue in the above entitled case.

"The said James H. Black then and there further said: 'I had an opinion of my own about Wright and I believe he is guilty. If such was not true it would not appear in the papers and he would not be arrested. I answered favorably to all questions in order to be retained as a jurymen but my opinion rests with me and no amount of evidence can remove it.' I believe he got away with the money and I will stick to my opinion."

"After hearing the above conversation I proceeded to my office in the Stangenwald building.

"2. That the said James H. Black on the said day and at the said place, before hearing the evidence in the said cause then and there expressed his opinion in the language hereinbefore set out, and was biased and prejudiced and not a competent and impartial juror to sit upon the trial of the said cause. (Signed) "M. T. FURTADO."

The affidavit was sworn to this morning before William J. Forbes, notary public.

In addition to this affidavit Attorneys Davis and J. J. Dunne will argue that the verdict is contrary to the law and the evidence. It is claimed that the jury disregarded some of Dr. Holt's instructions and this will be presented to the court in the hope of securing a new trial.

FINEST MUSEUM IN THE WORLD

MARSHALL FIELD OFFERS TO GIVE CHICAGO TEN MILLION DOLLARS FOR THE PURPOSE.

CHICAGO, February 19.—Chicago is to have the finest museum in the world and Marshall Field is to provide the funds to build it, according to plans now under discussion by the South Park Commission. The Lake Front is to be the site, and the maximum cost is to be $10,000,000.

The proposition took actual form at today's session of the South Park board when N. H. Carpenter, secretary of the Institute Association, appeared and gave assurance that Mr.
Field stood ready to give any money necessary to make the building the finest in the world. Another representative of Mr. Field was present and he gave the Commissioners to understand that what Mr. Carpenter said would be followed to the letter by Mr.
Field.

There are no reservations and no conditions to be met by the city, except that Mr. Field requires that a suitable site be presented.

AT THE THEATRE

It is a strange chance that will compel a man to take up a newspaper and read a detailed account of his death and burial.

But when the press of the entire country unites in reporting a man's death five consecutive times—it looks uncanny.

This has been the fate of Dr. Alexander J. Melvor-Tyndall of London who came to Honolulu on Thursday on the Sierra.

"Tyndall the mind-reader" as he was famously called here, notwithstanding supposedly authenticated reports of his death at various times, is decid-ly alive. Not only that but he is looking at fit as a fiddle and an athlete. If he hasn't discovered the elixir of life he has found some other equally efficacious method of warding off old age.

Tyndall has been having all sorts of trouble convincing people that he is not dead. There have been several apocryphal Tyndalls trading upon his name and purporting to be his sons or brothers or nephews, and stating that the original Tyndall is dead.

THE NEW DEPARTMENT.

The new Department of Commerce will have the unique distinction of dealing with the largest commercial interests of the world. In domestic exports, in manufactures, in transportation, and in internal commerce the United States is at the head of the world's list of great nations. Some figures just compiled by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, which by the new law becomes a part of the Department of Commerce, estimate the internal commerce of the country at twenty billions of dollars, or equal to the entire international commerce of the world.

In arriving at this estimate of $20,000,000,000 for the internal commerce of the United States, the Bureau of Statistics includes only one transaction in each article produced, while, in fact, a very large number of the articles produced pass through the hands of several "middlemen" between those of the producer and those of the consumer. The estimate is based upon the figures of the Census, which put the total value of manufactures in 1900 at $13,000,000,000; those of agriculture, at nearly $4,000,000,000, and those of minerals about $1,000,000,000. Adding to these the product of the fisheries, the total value of the products of the great industries in 1900 would be 18 billions of dollars, and the rapid growth in all lines of industry since 1900, especially in manufacturing, seems to justify the conclusions that even a single transaction in all the products of the country would produce an aggregate for 1902 of fully 20 billions of dollars.

Estimating the internal commerce of the country at former census years by the same method, the Bureau of Statistics finds that the total internal commerce has grown from about 2 billion dollars in 1850, 3 1/2 billions in 1860, 6 1/2 billions in 1870, 7 1/2 billions in 1880 and 12 billions in 1890. It will be seen from this that the internal commerce seems to have increased 50 per cent in the decade from 1890 to 1900, and is ten times as large in 1902 as in the year 1850.

During the same period, from 1850 to 1902, the population has increased 2 1/2 millions, to 79 millions, and is therefore only 3 1/2 times as great as in 1850, while the internal commerce is 10 times as great as at that time. This relative gain of internal commerce over population is due, in part, to the greatly increased facilities for transportation, the cheapening of cost of articles utilized, and the increased earnings and increased wealth of the people. The railroads have increased from 9,021 miles in 1850 to 201,839 miles in 1902, and the estimated wealth of the country from $7,135,780,700 in 1850 to $94,300,000,000 in 1900—a per capita increase of from $308 in 1850 to $1,236 in 1900. This increase in wealth has been accompanied by an increase in deposits in banks, those in savings banks alone increasing from $13,431,150 in 1850 to $2,597,004,580 in 1901.

Meantime the foreign commerce has made rapid increase, though not at a rate of speed proportionate to that of internal commerce. The imports of 1850 were $173,509,526; those of 1902, $903,320,948. The exports in 1850 were $144,375,726; in 1902, $1,381,719,407.

While it is not practicable to measure the internal commerce of other countries with the same accuracy as that of the United States, it is known that in agricultural products, manufactures and minerals the United States now outranks the other nations of the world, and that the transactions in these products, which form the internal commerce, may therefore be assumed to surpass those of any other country. The manufactures of the United States are now about double those of the United Kingdom and nearly equal to those of France, Germany and Russia combined, while the value of the agricultural products of the United States far exceeds that of any other single country.

MR. DOOLEY ON THE BUSINESS SESSION.

"I see," said Hennessey, "that the legislature is having a business session."

"It is," said Mr. Dooley, "theyse to be so much business done that th' nex' legislachoore will never complete th' work iv savin' th' country fr'm this wan. Ivry wan iv th' numbrs has laws to be passed and most iv thim have speeches to be made. Do ye mind me fren' Jonah? He was named, Hinnisey, after th' man th' whale regretted swallowin'. He's a grea-at impromchoo speaker, Hinnisey. An impromchoo speaker iv th' legislachoore iv Hawaii is a man that carefully avoids fac's an' niver inds a speech till he has to."

"Ye remember th' las' body iv lawmakers, jawbreakers an' mimbers devoted to th' Americanization iv th' country in th' Hawine language? This wan is th' same, Hinnisey. All legislachoores is much th' same. Before th' first day theyse to be a business session. Th' first day is an onselfish contes' fr' th' labors iv takin' up th' white man's burden iv public office. Theyse a speaker elicted. Th' speaker, Hinnisey, is th' only wan that's not to make speeches. After a brief an' spirited but bloodless struggle th' party that's in th' majority succeeds in givin' th' other side all th' offices, especially those theyse money in."

"After this is done' Hinnisey its th' jooty iv th' numbrs to adopt rules and suspend thim. Th' rules is in th' air most iv th' time, Hinnisey. 'I move,' says th' Jonah, 'to suspend th' rules, in order that I may introjoose an ac' to provide exemption fr'm taxes fr' th' man with th' longest wind.'"

"Th' rules is up," says th' speaker, "an' I don't believe theyse a member can see thim. Ye may now proceed with th' disorder iv th' day."

"I move," says th' Jonah, "that th' House take up th' Cuban treaty. 'Tis something we have nothing to do with,' he says, 'an' an interesting subjec'. Whiniver I think iv how little I know iv th' Cuban treaty I am tempted to draft a law about it an' address this honorable body on it fr' th' rest iv th' session. Only,' he says, 'theyse a possibility,' he says, 'that I may find another subjec' I know less about. I move, Mr. speaker, that ivry wan listen.'"

"I don't know how 'twill ind, Hinnisey, but I'd like to be th' speaker."

"What would ye do?" asked Hennessey breathlessly. "I'd throw me useless, meck an' onimposin' gavel in th' waste basket," said Mr. Dooley, "an' thim I'd buy th' biggest axe in th' hardware store."

In politics, many are called but few are chosen. Instead of men, the demand would probably have been for chewing gum.

Some sailors made a complaint against their captain because he would not signal a passing steamship at sea, and get some tobacco for them. If there had been women on the ship instead of men, the demand would probably have been for chewing gum.

reported by both the Star and the Bulletin. If this had been an exact description of the bill the result of its passage would have been as the Star said yesterday, to create the same condition that exist in San Francisco where every corner grocery has a bar-room attached. The bill was afterwards introduced, but proved not to be exactly what the notice of it would lead one to expect. The bill provides for the licensing to sell these specified articles only such retail grocers as have done a business of $100,000 a year for three years prior to the time they made the application for the license. This, if it is said limits the number of such licenses that can be issued to two firms in Honolulu, one in Hilo and one in Kahului. However, the Star in its publication regarding the matter yesterday, neither approved nor disapproved of the measure as the notice of it led it to understand it. Whatever else may be said of San Francisco, there can be no doubt that it is an American city in an American state and to adopt her license system might be described as "Americanizing" Honolulu, a phrase that has been very much used of late as an unanswerable and invincible argument.

Electricity

It occurred in a class in physics in a "prep" school. The student in question had never felt the warm blood of ambition coursing through his veins and looked with superb indifference and contempt on the subject of study of any kind. In fact his study bump was flat. The subject before the class was electricity. Prof. Snyder propounded the question to the youth, "What is electricity?" The young man arose, scratched the place where his study bump ought to have been, gazed blankly into space, and replied: "Don't know!" "Right! Right!" exclaimed the professor. "First question you have answered right since I have heard you recite. Mark you perfect! No one knows what electricity is!" The same student was asked later in regard to the Douglas and he readily replied: "The Douglas Patent Closet is guaranteed against leakage and the annoyance of running water. Bath, the plumber, installs the Douglas."

BOATS LIKE BIRDSKAISER'S NAVAL AUTHORITIES IMMENSELY PLEASED WITH A NEW WAR SHIP DESIGN.BERLIN, February 13.—Emperor William's navy has acquired an invention destined to revolutionize the whole system of vessel construction and to make German war ships the swiftest fighting craft afloat. The invention is credited to Professor Kretschmer, chief of construction in the imperial navy, who completely rejects the traditional type of ship patterned after a fish and substitutes for it one in the form of an aquatic bird. By substituting waves resistance, the new form augments the propelling capacity of the screw 50 per cent, thus making possible a corresponding acceleration of speed without an increased expenditure of power.Kretschmer's theory rests on the supposition that a vessel should be built in the shape of a creature that moves on the surface of the water, instead of being patterned after a fish, which moves beneath the water. It is stated that the new type of boat will make no waves or commotion of any kind but will glide along the surface with the easy motion of a duck.German naval authorities believe their latest acquisition is a tremendous advantage in the direction of increasing the fighting efficiency of war ships.
They assert that they have solved the problem of acquiring greater speed and longer steaming capacity without the necessity for machinery of higher power or for bigger coal bunkers.MILNER POSSIBLE VICEROY OF INDIARUMOR THAT HE MAY BE THE SUCCESSOR OF CURZON—LATTER SEEKS HOME HONORS.LONDON, February 14.—Speculation has been revived regarding the future of Lord Milner. When it was rumored a fortnight ago that he was about to leave South Africa a hint was thrown out that he would be offered a high position in India. This was interpreted to mean that he would succeed Lord Curzon, as there is no other post in the Indian Government which would not mark a decline for Milner. Now, although Chamberlain has disposed of the report that Milner would leave Pretoria because of differences with the Colonial Office, the rumors are saying that the Viceroyalty will fall to him in the course of events.It would be a source of keen satisfaction to the pro-British party in this country if some humiliated could come upon the man who in their judgment, shares with Chamberlain and the late Cecil Rhodes responsibility for forcing the war. But they are likely to be disappointed. No doubt the Indian Viceroyalty would tempt Milner, but the office calls for large wealth, and Milner is not rich. His appointment would be very acceptable to Lord Kitchener, for the two men worked together splendidly in South Africa.A successor for Lord Curzon will have to be found at no late day, as it is an open secret that he seeks dignities near home, and Lady Curzon would welcome a change to London society.THAT DORIC "SEIZURE"*Big Consignment of Percussion Caps Found on the Vessel.SAN FRANCISCO, February 13.—While searching the Occidental and Oriental liner Doric yesterday, Customs Inspector W. H. Robb discovered 50,000 percussion caps secreted in quarters occupied by members of the crew. The explosives it is presumed, are intended to be used by the Boxers of China.A Chinese member of the steward's department claimed the caps. He said he was taking them to Yokohama, but refused to tell for what purpose he had purchased them. The caps are of American manufacture and of the kind generally used on Springfield rifles, with which the Boxers are said to be armed. As they are of American manufacture, the customs authorities are powerless to prevent their exportation.For some time past it has been alleged that the Boxers have been receiving ammunition from this country. The discovery of the percussion caps has caused the customs officials to make a careful search of the Doric to ascertain if arms have been secreted on board.FOR MCKINLEY MONUMENTCLEVELAND, (O.), February 14.—The McKinley National Memorial Association has issued a statement to the effect that it has collected more than $100,000 during the first year of its organization.
The association announces that it will be necessary to collect something more than $100,000 additional before anything will be done toward building the monument.The trustees have decided to undertake the collection of this additional sum through the Postoffice and department stores of the country by placing in their hands a supply of the souvenir certificates to be given to all contributors of $1 or more. The certificates will ultimately go to all contributors.
In large cities, where comparatively few people visit the Postoffice, these certificates will be sent to department stores for distribution.DEATH SUMMONS A MARSHALLONDON, February 14.—Field Marshal Sir John Simmons died today.
Sir John Simmons enjoyed a wonderful career, not alone as a soldier, but as a diplomat, a railway commissioner and as Governor of the island of Malta.
For some years he was Inspector-General of British fortifications, and among other responsible positions in which he met with success and great distinction was that of special commissioner with the Turkish army in the memorable campaign of 1873. He was born in 1821 and was made Field Marshal in 1890, later being sent as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Roosevelt late this afternoon signed the Army staff bill and it is now law. Secretary Root, Secretary Cortes and two or three officials of the War Department were present at the White House when the President affixed his signature to the measure. All present expressed their gratification that the bill finally had been enacted into law. One of the first acts following the approval of the bill was the promotion of Colonel William F. Randolph, chief of artillery, to the grade of Brigadier-General, in accordance with the provisions of the act. The other provisions of the act do not take effect until after the retirement of Lieutenant-General Miles

PALACE GRILL'S EXPERIENCEThe Enormous Rush at Its Ben-Butter
Dinner.Does advertising pay? The Palace Grill can say, Yes. Last week the Palace Grill advertised that it would furnish Ben Butler's famous dinner to its Sunday patrons. Preparations were made for more than twice the usual number of diners but instead of having that number more than seven times the usual number crowded in and the result was that the Grill was fairly swamped. The dinner was gone before half the patrons had been served and late comers had to depend upon second orders. The Grill never anticipated such a rush and consequently was not prepared for it. But it will be prepared tomorrow. It intends to give the Ben Butler dinner again tomorrow evening and there will be enough for all even if last Sunday's crowd should be doubled. Additional waiters have been engaged so that the service will be prompt and good and every body can go away satisfied and feeling that he has had his money's worth. The price will be the same, only fifty cents for the best dinner to be had in Honolulu.NEW ADVERTISEMENTS*ELECTION OF OFFICERS.*WAIANAE COMPANY, LIMITED.At the annual meeting of the Stock-

HOUSE VOTES
ON SALARIESPAELE WANTS TO PAY 75 CLAIMS.
AN ACT THAT DECLARES IT SELF CONSTITUTIONAL.The House fixed the salaries of its officers this morning and received a lot more resolutions and notices of acts to be introduced. Paele introduced an act to pay "all claims" for damages by persons imprisoned in 1895. The act is quite sweeping in its provisions. Its first section says that "all claims for damages by persons arrested and imprisoned during the year 1895 is hereby granted, setting forth the facts, circumstances and positions prior to the time of arrest." The bill then goes on to provide for the hearing of the granted claims in the Circuit Courts, without payment of court costs. It appropriates $100,000 to pay the claims and finally it cinches its own place as a permanent piece of legislation by a simple declaration that it "shall not" conflict with the provisions of any other statute or statutes, and therefore cannot be unconstitutional.Paele also gave notice of acts to repeal the denier law of 1892 and Act 60 of the laws of 1896; an act to define the unlawful influencing of voters, to define felonies and misdemeanors and to "strictly prohibit" the Territory from opening public streets through private property without the consent of the owners thereof. An act to provide that jurors shall have mileage and $2 a day, or $4 a day when they serve outside of their own taxation district, an act to give court witnesses $1 per day and mileage and an act to regulate enforcement of the law compelling school attendance were also announced as coming from Paele.The salaries of the clerk, interpreter and stenographer were fixed at $10 per day each, the stenographer to have 20 cents a folio in addition, for transcribing notes. The assistant clerk is to have $8, the sergeant-at-arms $6, the messenger $5 and the janitor $2 while the chaplain is to have $250 for the session. The sum suggested for the chaplain was $150, the same as the Senate, but Kaniho objected. He said the chaplain of the House had to pray for 20 members and ought to get twice as much as the senate's chaplain got for only fifteen sinners. This consideration had so much weight that the House voted the chaplain another hundred.Representative Lewis gave a resolution calling for the appropriation of $117,550 for improvements in Hilo. Kealawas asked $50,000 for the establishment of a public park in Ponoahawai, Hilo, and $75,000 to establish a medical college in Hilo. Vida asked $7,000 for improvement of twined roads and $10, 000 for lighting buildings and roads in Kalihi and Kalihiwaena. Kellipol proposed $30,000 for Malulu Hospital, Wailuku. Nahaleka asked $47,000 for various improvements in his district, and there was a flood of resolutions for small appropriations.Kumalee gave notice of an act to provide for the appointment of an inspector of weights and measures, under the Public Works department and an act to provide penalties for procurers, and Pulan gave notice of an act to repeal the law against hunting game on private lands.The printing committee reported the act to do away with segregation of lepers, the act to improve Sheridan street and the act appropriating money for the expenses of the fire claims bond issue.
The bill appropriating money for the Senate's expenses was passed.Chillingworth presented a concurrent resolution calling upon the superintendent of public works to endeavor to make arrangements to pay the department laborers by the week. It was unanimously adopted.

BEFORE WE CANuse them, iron and gold must first be got out of the ore. The same principle applies to cod liver oil. Its virtues are not in its fatty matters; much less in its sickening taste and smell. No consumptive, or sufferer from any other wasting disease, was ever greatly benefited by the so called "plain" cod liver oil. The shock it gives to the nerves, the repulsion and disgust it excites in the stomach, the outrages it commits upon the senses of smell and taste, are enough to spoil any medicinal potency that may be in it for the majority of people.
This—to say nothing about its being indigestible. Yet there has always been reason to believe that, among the elements which form cod liver oil, there existed curative properties of the highest value. But it was necessary to separate them from the nauseating waste material with which they were combined. This was successfully accomplished inWAMPOLE'S PREPARATIONand in this effective remedy, made palatable as honey, we have the very heart and soul of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. These constitute a tissue builder, a blood purifier, a health renewer beyond comparison. Disease yields to it with a completeness and rapidity which astom-ishes medical men quite as much as it delights their patients. In all wasting conditions, Scrofula and Blood Disorders, La Grippe, Chronic Bronchitis, Pulmonary Affections, etc., it never fails to relieve and cure. Dr. Louis W.
Bishop says: "I take pleasure in saying I have found it a most efficient preparation, embodying all of the medicinal properties of a pure cod liver oil, in a most palatable form." It stands in the front rank in the march of medicine. Effective from the first dose. Sold by all chemists here.NEW ADVERTISEMENTS*HENRY E. HIGHTON,*ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

All Run Down

When your vitality is low, you are miserable all the time. Your nerves are weak and your appetite is poor.
You have no ambition, and you are languid and depressed all the time.

What you need is a good strong tonic, as described by Mrs. H. Austin, of Wellington, New Zealand. She sends her photograph and says:
"I was so weak and tired all the time that I could not sleep at night. Or, if I did sleep, I was as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was all run down. I then tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking two bottles I found myself greatly improved, and soon I was completely restored to health. I think it is a great family medicine."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitations "Sarsaparillas."

The Paumotu Hurricane.

ALMOST COMPLETE DESTRUCTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY ON THE LOW-LYING GROUP OF THE PAUMOTU ISLANDS BY A TERRIFIC HURRICANE.
—A REGION THAT LIVES IN TERROR.

The most destructive cyclone and tidal wave that has visited the South Seas for twenty-five years swept over that part of the Pacific on the morning of January 13th, when between 800 and 1000 lives were lost as a result of the flooding of the low islands of the Paumotu group, lying east and northeast of Tahiti. The steamer Mariposa, Captain Rennie, arriving at San Francisco from Tahiti, brought news of the great disaster though details are lacking. On the morning of January 27th a few hours before the Mariposa sailed from the harbor of Papeete for this port, the French interisland steamer Excelsior, from the Paumotu and Marquesas islands, arrived at Papeete with news that on the morning of January 13th a terrific cyclone and tidal wave swept and ruined six of the islands. They were Tikehau, Apataki, Aru-tua, Makatea, Niau and Hikuero.

Four hundred and ninety-six natives and Europeans were reported as having been drowned on the island of Hikuero, where the greatest loss of life occurred. A white man named Salmond, related to the family of the former King of Tahiti, was among the lost. The other Europeans missing include Alexander Brand-er and family; a trader named Plunkett, and Patrick Donnelly, formerly a fireman on the steamer Australia, but who for the last few months has been trading among the islands. The steamer Excelsior was unable on account of the great storm to call at some of the little ports usually visited, but from other landings learned from the natives some particulars of the great upheaval of the waters.

On the morning of January 13th the sea was at first extremely calm, but the sky was overcast with fleecy clouds and an ominous silence prevailed. Almost without warning a hurricane came from the south and southeast and leveled the swaying coconut trees and other vegetation, causing a panic among the natives of Hikuero and the low neighboring islands, who, despite their summery seas, live in perpetual fear of the terrible storms that perhaps three or four times in a century sweep the islands of the low archipelago and cause great loss of life. Following the tremendous blow of the hurricane the storm became circular in movement, the sea rising rapidly, and before the day passed a great tidal struck the low islands and swept them where no waves had reached for a quarter of a century before. On Makatea island, it is reported, only one woman of all the scores of natives was left alive, and she was only saved because of her action in climbing a stout coconut tree when the hurricane first pounced upon the island.

Villages and towns on the island of Hikuero were swept away by the rush of the tidal wave without a moment's warning. Natives who attempted to save themselves by climbing to the tops of the coconut trees were caught in the flood and drowned, and the receding wave left nothing of their habitations or their stores of hundreds of tons of copra, awaiting shipment to Tahiti. The island of Hikuero, in fact, was left a desolate waste, and the same is true of the other islands mentioned, though loss of life was not so great on them. The total number of lives lost, it is said, will approximate 1000. Officers of the steamer Excelsior said it was a greater storm than that which visited Apia, Samoa, a dozen years ago, when the warships of the United States, Great Britain and Germany suffered so severely, for, instead of being a steady hurricane, the storm was circular in movement and wrecked everything before it with a crushing force.

The first news of the great disaster was carried to Tahiti on January 26th, the day before the Mariposa sailed, by an island schooner, which reported that one of the islands of the Paumotu group had been swept by a hurricane, causing the death of one of the native women. The steamer Excelsior, arriving the following day, when the Mariposa was about to leave Papeete, brought the additional news, but had no details beyond what are given. The schooner carried a number of cattle for some of the islands, but lost them in the heavy sea that beset her in the neighborhood of the Paumotu group.

In the port of Papeete, Island of Tahiti, there was no storm at the time of the tidal wave's destructive work in the Paumotu group, but passengers arriving on the Mariposa say that a slight rising of the tide was reported at Papeete about the same time.
The islands overwhelmed are about 300 miles northeast and east of Tahiti, close to the track of the Mariposa in going to and returning from Tahiti. Captain Rennie reports, however, that he saw no evidences of a storm of unusual severity in those waters.

OAHU SUGAR COMPANY

The annual meeting of the Oahu Sugar Company was held yesterday afternoon at the office of the agents, H. Hackfeld & Company. The reports were all very favorable. Officers for the year were elected. The following are some of the principal features of Manager Ahren's report:

Our last crop amounting to 26,724 tons of sugar, fell short a couple of hundred tons of the estimate I made in November, 1901, which was 27,000, and I can explain this by the difficulty in estimating a crop grown on virgin soil. I estimate our coming crop, which is now being taken off, at 28,000 tons. While this is no phenomenal increase over last year, yet it indicates steady expansion and it will be harvested from about 3,200 acres. Several years ago I confidently anticipated that this crop would be a prize winner, fully expecting the close of our 1903 campaign to show a total of 35,000 to 40,000 tons of sugar. I fully believe that this would have been accomplished had it not been for the difficulties attendant upon changing and discarding the two high lift pumps, more particularly mentioned in my last report.

Pump expenditures, which ever since our start have been the chief item of permanent improvements, can now safely be said to have about reached their limit. During last October the 300-ft. shaft at Honouliuli was completed and successfully placed in commission; this has been an enormously expensive undertaking, but I am sure the results will justify the amounts expended. The location could not possibly have been better, the water is delivered just where it does the most good and the supply is abundant.
Despite the opposition of numerous critics (unfamiliar with the locality, conditions and requirements of this place), I believe that we may well congratulate ourselves today for our perseverance in making the shaft a success and a careful study will show that its cost is not so excessive after all, when one considers that a pipe line from the Waipahu Gulch alone would have cost us about $225,000.00, with the prospect of renewal every seven or eight years; barring the very vital fact that Waipahu Gulch is now supplying all the water it can reasonably be expected to.

It will be remembered that our original intention was to place two six million gallon Riedler Pumps at the bottom of the shaft; however, when we discarded the two Worthington Pumps it was decided to substitute same with one of the Riedlers and this has been done. I am very pleased to state that Mr. Lorenz, Consulting Engineer of Messrs. H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., has been material in making some very valuable improvements on our plantation in machinery at our various pump stations as well as in the mill, and as an instance I wish to mention that in looking over the above mentioned Worthington Pump, he conceived the idea of attaching the water ends of same to the Riedler shaft pump, thus rendering it unnecessary for us to order another pump for the shaft. This idea has proven a great success and gives us an increase of about 66% of water, and this merely at the trifling cost of the necessary labor and connection. The Directors have authorized me to put into operation another of Mr. Lorenz's proposals, whereby we expect to utilize the waste energy of water pumped to high elevations for irrigation purposes, to generate electric power sufficient to run all of our gasoline pumps and electric light plants, thereby saving about $30,000 per annum with an initial outlay of eight to ten thousand dollars at the utmost.

It is a well known fact that the extraordinary expenses of irrigation have been cut down greatly by the net-work of miles of large water ditches which lead the mountain rain fall and freshets down to our reservoirs, and the expenses of irrigation will be further reduced as soon as fuel oil supersedes coal and cheaply generated electricity does its quota. Such items of permanent improvements in our report as roads and bridges, fences, railroads, buildings, rolling stock, etc., while indicating an increase are well within the limits of the natural expansion of the Estate.

Several thousand dollars have within the past fifteen months been spent on tunnels, some of which, I regret to say, have not given paying results except the experienced gained; at the same time we have the satisfaction of knowing that no effort is being spared nor opportunity overlooked to reduce expenditures for irrigation.

In conclusion, I beg to say that in my opinion every one of the shareholders in reviewing our record, has occasion to feel very well satisfied with the development of the Oahu Sugar Company, Ltd. Among the Hawaiian sugar plantations launched contemporaneously with your Company I believe we alone are now rated above par, which is a proof of the confidence which we enjoy in financial investing circles. It looks well that we have pulled through a season of depression and unusual changes, political and otherwise, labor uncertainties and extraordinary expenditures; and yet have paid dividends. Now with our largest items of expense finished, everything flourishing, the sugar market firm and a good crop coming in, I see no reason why we should not look forward to a bright future.
