THE DRUG BILL.

Expensive Item of the Board of Health.

RAYMOND WOULD
DO AWAY WITH IT

Law To Reach Sellers of Adulter-
ated Milk Will Be Drawn Up at Once.

TERRITORIAL physicians and the drugs furnished them and paid
for out of the Territorial treasury
were the subjects of discussion in the Board of Health yesterday afternoon. The question of economy in connection with dispensing with the services of the Territorial physicians was brought up by President Raymond. He spoke earnestly in favor of radical changes in that department of the Board of Health and urged reforms in the present system of salaries and the furnishing of drugs.

The whole question arose over the requisition of Dr. Malon's, a newly-appointed physician for Kona district, Hawaii, who asked for $44 worth of drugs. It was reported that he was already overdrawn on the drug list. It was questioned whether he should be allowed to overdraw and the discussion finally merged into the question of whether the Territory or the physicians
themselves should supply the medicines
of their indigent patients. It was stated that in the latter case it would materially cut down the expenses of the Board. Nine thousand dollars had been appropriated by the last Legislature
for the purchase of drugs and of this only $5,000 had been expended.

President Raymond said he was aware of the labors performed by the Territorial physicians in the country
districts where they had to travel many miles a day to treat the sick indigents.
In the estimate prepared by him for the next period he had left out the amount
for drugs, based on the last appropriation. This did not include the supply for the Honolulu Dispensary, which was on another basis from those in the country. His idea was to employ Territorial physicians and pay them on a scale according to the population of their districts and the amount of ground covered. In other words, it meant a reduction in their incomes. In answer to Dr. Cooper, the president said the largest drug account of any Territorial physician was $200, but the average was $125 all around. Dr. Cooper
thought for professional men the salaries were small enough and to deduct from their salaries would be to give them an income of but $600 a year in many instances. To deduct $200 a year—the cost of the drugs furnished—
would work a hardship upon them. If the drugs had to be purchased with money taken from their own pockets
the compensation for services rendered
would be ridiculously small.

Mr. Dole was of the opinion that for the physicians to contribute drugs out
of their own pockets the temptation
would be strong with them not to furnish what was really needed. He did not believe they should contribute out of their own pockets what should come from the Territorial treasury. Dr. Emerson agreed with Mr. Dole. The two physicians in the Kona districts were not overpaid for the amount of ground
they frequently had to cover in one day. Forty and fifty miles a day were often covered by them in their visitation of the sick ones. Mr. Dole further stated that the tendency of the measure
was to make the horse carry more of a load than he was capable of. Dr.
Cooper did not think $200 for drugs in a populous district was a heavy drain
upon the treasury. Dr. Raymond said
as far as he was concerned personally
he desired to see all physicians become wealthy and retire, but he thought the tendency was quite the reverse.

"Doctors go to their graves poorly
paid," said he, meditatively, "unless they go in for bonds, stocks and a few other dividend-producing affairs."

"Or cattle ranches," quoth Dr. Cooper.
The president took the allusion to his $100,000 Maui cattle ranch with smiling equanimity.

"However," he continued, "there is no personal feeling in the matter. It is only to reduce the expenses. The calls for drugs have often been for the most expensive quality and entirely unnecessary for public patients. The question of economy is one that this department is bound to consider because
as a matter of fact the revenues of the country have been cut down and it is absolutely necessary for this department, as well as in every other, to economize. Two hundred dollars in each case seems small, but in the aggregate it is a large amount to the Government.

"Conditions have changed here.
American laws have gone into effect.
The rule all over the world is that the indigent persons are not treated nearly
so well as they are under the system
in vogue in Hawaii. I honestly believe that to be consistent with the other parts of the United States the physicians should be done away with. There are plantations in all of the districts.

The parties most benefited are the owners of those plantations. To reduce the matter to a fine point the Territory is furnishing drugs for the plantations.
In other words it is subsidizing the plantations, more for their benefit than for the indigent sick. I have had experience in the country and know what I am talking about.

"The question naturally arises, if you
cut off the drugs what are you going to do? My answer is that the plantations are going to hire the physician
and any professional man who would refuse to treat these poor patients is unworthy to be a member of the medical profession. There is no chance for any hardship to be worked on any physician in this country. As a matter of economy it is incumbent upon this department to strive to bring about a saving of money that the medical men should be willing to do their part. That is my view. There is nothing personal
in it."

George W. Smith said that in the event of the establishment of a county government the county boards would take care of the indigent sick. President Raymond said that county boards
were proverbial for the frightful manner in which they administered medicine. The patients did not get fancy medicines put up by the swell houses.
They usually got a mixture of 'No. 1 or
No. 2, or sometimes two blacks and one white.' These people were treated in the States as paupers and fed on coarse food. Mr. Lowrey did not see why the Honolulu Dispensary should run if the country physicians were to be discontinued.

Dr. Cooper then presented a motion
that all the requisitions sent in be filled,
which was carried.

REPORT ON FOOD LAW.

Mr. Dole made an oral report on several paragraphs of the food law which
the food commissioner wished changed.
The act as proposed would make it a penal offense, he said, if a man should provide a pitcher of adulterated milk
for his wife's breakfast table. Any changes made he did not think would be sustained by the Supreme Court.
The law at present was not a perfect
one and could be greatly improved.
The change suggested was to add the
words "deliver to" to the present law,
which would insure a prosecution of
milk drivers who delivered the adulterated product. Mr. Dole and Dr. Shore were appointed a committee to frame a law for presentation to the Legislature.

STREET WORK WILL GO RAPIDLY AHEAD

Crusher Able to Handle Rock
at the Rate of 150 Cubic Yards per Day.

Crushed rock at the rate of 150 cubic yards per day began pouring out of the new rock crushing plant at Palama yesterday. The plant, which has been installed for the Public Works Department, will work steadily every week
day and an ample supply for the needs of the streets will be forthcoming. The plant will furnish macadam material
for the projected improvement of the entire length of King street from the Nuuanu stream to Kalihi.

The first work to be done in road-
making with macadam from this plant
will be to put in a road from the quarry
to the Asylum road in order that the teams can work over that route in rain or shine. The department has begun
the laying of curbing on King street
from Liliuokalani's premises to the Asylum road, thus insuring an even stretch for the department's wagons.
This is a narrow strip but is absolutely necessary at present.

Streets will be torn up only sufficient to keep the work moving. The macadam will be laid directly in the wake of the ploughing of the streets.
The plant will also furnish sand for all the Government needs.

The machinery of the plant is run by an engineer, fireman, two feeders and one friction tender. The force at work on the quarry consists of free laborers
and thirty prisoners, who are getting out rock for the crusher. More men will be added in a short time.

now living.

HAWAII'S
INSANE.

Detailed Report of the Asylum
Here.

SUPERINTENDENT
HERBERT'S FACTS

He Gives a Plain and Scientific
Statement of Institution's Affairs.

R. GEORGE HERBERT, superintendent of the Insane Asylum,
is supported by the Board of Health in his government of that institution. His management of the affairs of the asylum has caused the Board no uneasiness as to whether or not it is in good hands. Dr. Herbert submitted yesterday a lengthy report
upon the history, inmates, treatment
and general affairs of the asylum,
which was accepted and the thanks of the Board extended to him for his faithful work, upon the motion of Member Cooper.

President Raymond, commenting upon the report, said: "I believe, as has been suggested, that it would be better
to have a resident physician at the asylum. Under the circumstances, however, I would say that a short time ago
I made a thorough examination of the asylum and the only criticism I had to offer was to congratulate Dr. Herbert for the conditions I found existing there. I believe it is the duty of the Board to endorse the report as presented. It is impracticable at present to have a resident physician and have the right sort of physician, for the reason
that it would be a very expensive proposition. I doubt that the patients would receive better attention under such an arrangement than they do now."

"I believe the institution is perfectly satisfactory to the Board and to any reasonable-minded man. The Board of Health takes no cognizance of people
who criticize such matters, knowing
full well they are perfectly incompetent to pass any criticism. Many prominent physicians have visited the asylum and
have complimented the state of affairs
found there. When we know a man has done well and is doing right, the Board should come forth and protect him."

The following is Dr. Herbert's report
in part:

FOUNDATION OF THE ASYLUM AND HISTORY.

Previous to the year 1882, the mentally afflicted were sent to jail to mingle with
the felons and prisoners of all kinds;
they were treated simply as dangerous
characters to be kept away from the public; and it was not until this date (1882)
the question was raised of setting aside
a place for their care. Of course at this time the ratio of insane to the population was small. In 1882, after some discussion, an act was passed by the Legislature
authorizing the Minister of the Interior
to provide lands and buildings suitable for the care and management of the insane and to call for appropriations necessary for their construction and maintenance. However, time passed, and it was not till September, 1885, that the matter was accomplished and the few
(six) insane were removed from the prison to the asylum and placed under the care of Dr. Ford, superintendent. Mr.
Davison, assistant superintendent. From now on it was a dark era, characterized by its want of systematic records—only a few notes being obtainable
and these making but very distasteful
reading—and it was not until Dr. Tucker took charge, in 1887, that, with the assistance of Mr. L. A. Thurston, things shaped themselves into a better course.

"Then followed the progressive steps
of all similar institutions and advanced
with the advancement in the treatment
of these unfortunate sufferers—who,
from being treated like animals driven
into a pen where they could just take a limited amount of exercise and fresh air, and then being locked up in cells
again for the rest of the twenty-four hours—have now as near a Paradise as most of us will reach. Bathing to absolute cleanliness and comfort; three good meals a day, and basking in the shade
of the trees on the green lawns."

Supplied with comforts and cared for
with gentleness; their general health
tended to and each individual case treated according to its form of mental disease, in the effort to re-establish the balance of the mind and restore them
to their homes, relatives and friends.
Many of those now at the asylum have been there for many years and it is rarely, after three years, that recovery can take place, but until that time, in many cases, hope may be embraced and clung
to. The spirit of evolution has entered
here as elsewhere in nature, and man
has ascertained that a "demoniac" is a sick
man, to be cared for as such, not abused
and battered about, but met with kindness, placed under the most improved
hygienic and sanitary conditions; restrained with caution and gentleness,
only when it becomes absolutely a necessity to prevent them from injuring themselves and others. Clothed and fed with the best that can be afforded—and what has been the result? From death
and destruction of mind which was regarded as inevitable and invariably was so, the percentage of improvements and cures have increased so that lunacy, instead of being regarded as an offense or crime, is rightly added to our list of ailments that human flesh is heir to, just

as much as scarlet fever, Bright's disease, or others.

ETIOLOGY AND PSYCHOLOGICAL ASPECT.

The ratio of insanity to the population
should be one of much satisfaction to the community, even though it is on the increase, as it is the world over. Look at us, a cosmopolitan crowd gathered together from everywhere on the face of the earth; the intermingling of all races,
in all stations in life, of all trades and
occupations, from the grossly ignorant
to the most intelligent. Take these factors with the understanding also of the different ways of, and reasons for, their coming here, such as emigrants by the hundreds to plantations, with the bright prospect held out to them of making money in the new land; the crowding together on board ship and changes in manner of living. The excitement of individuals in their eager search for work,
and fortune, in the far away little group
of islands, so far away from home; the political strife of late years, with also
war and rumors of war, not omitting the passage of troops bearing men to the front, a very few of whom (three or four) have been cared for at the asylum.

Also appreciate the fact that the excitement of the epidemics, both of cholera
and plague, are much more felt in a small community like this and have been
directly of scientific interest in the life history of the Gilbert Islander from his unintelligent friends or family?

Another obstacle to research has been,
as all acquainted here know, the antipathy
of all nationalities to the performance of autopsies on the remains of their friends and relatives, and until the last year, for one country to its substance, or examinations except in those cases where
none one claimed the deceased.

It is noticeable that acute mania has attacked Hawaiians, Chinese and Japs
chiefly, and that the Hawaiians have also a large number of chronic mania; for
this they can thank the progress of civilization and its concomitant vices.

The acute form attacking the Asiatics
has already been accounted for.

During the term of the past five years, thirteen cases were received that should not properly belong to the asylum. Three or four showed no signs of any form of insanity, and after different periods of time, during which they were under observation, were discharged. Several were cases of mania-a-potu that could have been withheld from the asylum records, and one case of eroto-pathia. Again, there were a few who were old, helpless and infirm with no
home for one caring to take care of them,
and who are still with us, contented and
cared for, because there was no one who was willing, or able, to do so.

COMMITMENT OF THE INSANE.

This draws attention to the subject of commitment of the insane, the responsibility of which should not be placed on the shoulders of one man, but be in the hands of a Lunacy Commission, and special attention paid to commitments from different districts, which should carry
the endorsement and personal observations of at least two physicians before
the magistrate of the district.

DETENTION HOUSE.

Many cases could do better and possibly many saved were it feasible to have an intermediary station between the patient's home and asylum, where the freshly distorted brain, anxiously looking for fuel in any way to its substance,
avoiding with equal anxiety anything in the nature of excitement, might be kept away from the howls and awkward an-guishes of those beyond redemption. These alone are enough to scatter the few
senses left in a recent case of mental affliction, and we have always endeavored
as much as possible to avoid this contact and maintain separation as much as we could.

grant 1, well-borer 1, no occupation 56;
total 262.

There are at the present time six wards in the asylum.

ATTENDANTS.

The force of attendants at present employed at the asylum are as follows: Two captains, 2 guards, 1 matron, 4 female nurses. They are divided into two watches of eight hours each. Their stations are: The captain of the watch, upon the veranda of the assistant superintendent's house, close to the entrance
gate to the asylum, and who has general
supervision of all the attendants upon
his watch, and who are under his orders
to some other part of the institution.
At night this guard is stationed
inside the ward, and is never called away
except as a last resource in case of serious trouble. If a guard should be needed for anything at night one of those in
No. 1 or No. 3 is called upon, the being two guards in each of these wards, and
the patients being all locked in their cells.

No. 2 Ward—One guard; in the daytime this guard is stationed on or in the vicinity of the front veranda of his ward.
This being the ward in which the good
patients live, and there not being so much danger of them getting into trouble if left alone for a short time, this
guard is generally called down to guard
the gate, if the captain should be called away to some other part of the institution. At night this guard is stationed

SHOOTS A

E. S. Gill Tries To

Assailant Republican Editor and Victim on Advertiser's
Staff.

MORTIMER I. STEVENS, a reporter for the Advertiser, was shot last night by Edwin S. Gill,
the editor of the Republican, in the office of that paper at Merchant street. One shot was fired by Gill from a 38-calibre revolver and the ball entered Stevens' leg just above the left hip and is still in the wound, as the doctors could not find it by probing.
Unless overlooked for results follow the search for the bullet this morning Stevens
will recover. Gill gave himself up at the police station about ten minutes
after the shooting and was put in a cell.

He was released in an hour or so on bail of $1,000 after being charged on
the prison books with assault and battery with a deadly weapon.

The shooting was the outcome of an article and editorial in yesterday's Republican which reflected on the character of women friends of Stevens. The article and the editorial were as follows:

HAWAII'S INSANE

time one is stationed on the veranda of the ward and the other on the lawn with the patients. At night both are stationed on the veranda of the ward.

No. 4 Ward—One matron and two nurses in the daytime. One nurse is on the lawn in front of the ward; the other is on the lawn at the back of the ward. The matron has no particular station, going where she is most needed and having general supervision of the nurses. At night both nurses are stationed in the ward with their patients in the daytime.

No. 6 Ward—One guard; this guard's station is on the lawn between No. 2 and No. 6. It is his duty when No. 2 guard is called to guard the gate to move his position sufficiently so that he can observe the No. 2 patients without neglecting those belonging to his own ward. At night this man's station is on the veranda of his ward.

Each ward is in direct communication with the superintendent's office, where the captain is stationed, by means of a system of electric call bells. If any trouble arises during the night in any of the wards, the guard by pushing the electric call button the number of times corresponding to the number of his ward, immediately notifies the captain and assistant superintendent of the particular ward where the trouble is. In this way no time is lost and the captain or superintendent can promptly get to the scene of action. In the same way any particular guard can be called to the office if required.

The captain always makes a round of all the wards before going on watch and if he observes anything wrong (such as some part of the ward left unclean, etc.) he reports it to the captain and is going to relieve, and that captain is required to rectify the omission before going off watch.

Each captain is required to keep a watch record in which everything happening during his watch, no matter how trivial, is entered. In addition to this he must keep a bright look-out and see that the guards are attending strictly to their duty and report any dereliction of the same to the assistant superintendent as soon as possible. At night the captain is required to make the rounds of the asylum several times during his watch. No particular time is set for him to do so, as the guards are not so liable to sleep if they believe the captain may turn up at any time.

The guards and nurses upon coming on watch in the daytime are required to arrive half an hour before the proper time to go on watch, so that they can have their meals before doing so. At eight bells (8 a. m. and 4 p. m.)—ship's bells are struck all through twenty-four hours they proceed to their respective wards and relieve the old guards, who go to their meals, and then go home. At midnight the new guard is required to wait outside the entrance gate until the bell strikes eight, when they come inside, report to their captain, and proceed to their respective wards and relieve the old guard.

Guards and nurses after sundown are required to make the rounds of their respective wards every half hour.

BATHING.

All patients are bathed three times a week, Tuesdays and Thursdays cold bath, and Saturdays hot bath. The general procedure is as follows: Tuesdays and Thursdays 8 a. m., the captain calls No. 2 guard to the gate. The captain, then proceeds to the bathhouse and supervises the bathing of all the patients who are brought to the bath-house, one ward at a time in charge of their respective guards. The same procedure is carried out in the same way under the supervision of the matron. Saturdays, the same as above, except that on this day there is one guard detailed to fire the boiler and have charge of washing the dirty clothes, the same being done by a few of the trustworthy patients. As the patients get through bathing on this day a suit of clean clothes is issued to each of them. The dirty clothes, after being washed, are hung to dry and then sorted out. All clothes that are damaged are repaired on the following Monday, by patients, under supervision of the guards of No. 1 ward.

Each ward is thoroughly cleansed and disinfected every morning before 8 o'clock.

MEALS.

All patients, with the exception of those in No. 2 and No. 6 wards, dine upon the lawns in front of their respective wards. A large dining-table and benches are provided for each ward for this purpose. In case of rainy weather they dine on the verandas of their respective wards.

Breakfast—8:30 a. m.; beef stew, rice, coffee, soft bread, crackers and pol. Dinner—11:30 a. m.; soups, tomato, vermicelli, vegetables and macaroni; boiled beef, taro, pol, rice; three times a week boiled mutton; once a week fresh fish; Sundays pork and beans.

Supper—4:30 p. m.; prepared in various ways, meat balls, etc., soft bread, bananas, tea.

In cases of sickness, beef tea, tapioca, sago, corn-starch, eggs and milk, pol and milk, egg-nogs, etc.

Private patients get their meals directly from the assistant superintendent's house, and are charged at the rate of 50 cents per diem.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The guards and nurses are required to have all their patients out of the wards and on the lawns of their respective quarters by breakfast (in fine weather). In rainy weather they are out of the wards but on the verandas. In no case is a patient allowed to occupy his cell during the day. If he or she should be ill, the hospital cell reserved in each ward would be used. No restraint is allowed to be put on any patient except it is absolutely necessary; then only at the direction of the physician in charge. The forms of restraint used are as follows:

First—Heavy wooden armchairs with a lapboard fastening across the arms of the chair and locked with a padlock.

Second—Irons in very extreme cases, a leather wristlet being put on first to avoid chafing of the skin.

Third—Leather wristlets lined with chambray leather. These wristlets are made so that a belt can be used with them, which, being passed around the patient's wrist, keeps him from raising his arm to strike, at the same time allowing him enough freedom to feed himself, etc.

Fourth—Gloves. These are used, as a general rule, to prevent a patient from removing bandages, etc., from his person.

Whenever a patient is put in restraint the same is entered in a book (kept for that purpose in the superintendent's office) by the captain of the watch. In addition to the watch record a restraint book kept by the captains, there is a monthly record kept of each individual patient. At the end of every month the captain's watch record is gone over and everything that has happened during the month is entered in the superintendent's record book, which contains everything of note concerning the patient.

A monthly report of the inmates is made out at the end of each month, giving the number admitted during the month, the number discharged, and the number who have died, with their nationalities, sex, age, asylum number, etc.

For Evening and Reception Gowns

We were months and months gathering this collection of Dress Goods beauty.

The result of our labors is seen in the superiority of the assortments.

Better and more varied than ever this store has shown before—that describes the stock.

There are Crepe de Chenes, Grenadines Foulards, Mousselines de Soie—materials that have found favor with the "first" modistes of New York.

Bargains in Shirt Waists

Perhaps you overlooked our Shirt Waist Sale. Perhaps you didn't have time to call. Perhaps you were hurried and didn't have time to find just what you wanted.

We have removed them all to our basement salesroom, where there are yet many bargains.

Also some new ones that have arrived since—advanced spring styles in New York. Prices right.

asylum is immediately bathed and clothed in clean clothes, temperature and pulse taken and the same entered in the records.

In addition to the regular attendants named above there are employed in the asylum 1 foreman, 1 taro man and helper, 2 cooks, 2 gardeners, 1 laundryman and 1 heater.

The foreman has a general supervision of all the work around the asylum, such as taro planting and pulling, making pol, repairs to building and fences, digging graves for deceased patients, etc. The taro man is under the foreman and in direct charge of the patients who do any work. He has a man to help him in this work.

The two cooks are employed to cook for the patients and the working force.

The two gardeners are employed in keeping the grounds in order, planting flowers, cutting grass, etc.

The laundryman keeps all the bed linen, bed spreads, etc., in first-class condition.

The grounds need to be seen to be appreciated; plenty of green lawn adorned with colored shrubs and plants makes it one of the most beautiful gardens of Honolulu.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

A complete record is kept of each patient, for various reasons, viz:

First—Strangers unable to speak for themselves and who have come here from unknown parts may be identified at any time.

Second—If a patient escapes he may be more easily recognized.

Third—The facial expression, attitude and garb of the patient is of scientific interest.

These photographs are made on the place as soon as possible after the reception of a patient and the positive, with three negatives is kept at the asylum, for which a charge is made of one dollar.

FURLONGS AND DISCHARGES.

Every patient who has sufficiently recovered his reason so as not to be dangerous to himself or a menace to the public is allowed on furlough. If in Honolulu he is kept under the surveillance of the assistant superintendent, reporting at stated intervals at his office. If on the other Islands, the Government physician or sheriff is notified and at the expiration of a certain time, which varies with the case from three months to a year, the patient's condition continues to improve or remains good, his discharge is granted and given by the president of the Board of Health and the superintendent.

In conclusion, I wish to add my methods and treatment of those committed to my care.

Each and every one is treated as though he or she was a private patient and as irresponsible as a child would be. Therefore it behooves us to look for ailments and suffering and not to wait until the patient complains, but to observe them, and instruct those in attendance to watch and note every peculiarity or idiosyncrasy of those under their supervision. A physician, even though resident, cannot be always with each patient, and he has to depend on the watchfulness and intelligence of the attendants. Their physical condition is observed and each phase of mental disturbance noted.

The asylum is visited and the patients all seen daily by me; occasionally by one of my partners, and frequently by both of us. If there is a case of special interest or difficulty, I invariably call on one of them for counsel. In case of emergency there is always someone on duty in my office who is acquainted with my whereabouts, and a telephone message has always been immediately attended to. No case of urgency has ever been kept waiting, and when the danger of serious illness demanded it, as many as three or four visits have been paid in one day.

When you consider that fifty-three of the inmates are incurable and have been over three years in the asylum and forty more, doubtful and practically incurable (having been in the asylum for over two years) and, for the most part, showing no amelioration of symptoms—but in many cases remaining in status quo or progressing—it leaves but about thirty require very special attendance. Finally, after considerable experience with the insane, I believe that you will find in no similar institution that the patients have been better cared for, or better results have been obtained, than at the Oahu Asylum.

IN POLICE COURT. SHOOTING A MAN

Several Amusing Cases Were Heard.

JUDGE WILCOX ON FAMILY TROUBLES

Kewalo District Represented by Three Assault and Battery Cases.

THERE was a luau of violence cases in Judge Wilcox's court yesterday, no less than ten charges of assault and battery figuring on the calendar. The court-room was comfortably filled all day with witnesses and interested spectators, a large contingent coming from both Punchbowl slopes and Kewalo.

The representatives of the Portuguese brought their children and their lunches, and once inside the judicial portals composed themselves to have a real good time. Three of the battery cases occurred in the district of Kewalo.

The case of Manuel Muniz, charged with assault and battery on Anton Cabral, monopolized the entire morning. It appeared that Cabral had beaten his wife with the assistance of several others, and that his wife's father, Muniz, had sent for him, that he might reason with him, as he put it.

When Cabral arrived at his father-in-law's house he was struck on the leg by the old man, which surprised and pained him. Cabral wanted to offer as evidence a letter from his physician, but Judge Davidson, who defended, objected.

"The leg is in court," said he. Muniz testified that he had not hit his son-in-law. He only remonstrated with him. Then Cabral and two others turned out on Mrs. Cabral and beat and choked her. Another witness said that Muniz kicked Mrs. Cabral out of the house.

Judge Wilcox sized it up as a family quarrel which had ended in a free fight, and fined defendant $5 and costs.

Lono Kapu, a small boy who owns a large argon, was up for assaulting Mary Smith by making a target out of her. Defendant remarked that "he didn't know it was loaded." He said that Santa Claus gave him the gun and added that he had never killed any one with it.

Judge Wilcox ordered the cannon confiscated, and a benevolent-looking grandmother bore the infant away.

The Portuguese were entertained again when Adelaide Ferreira stepped forward to answer to having broken a cup upon the person of V. Fernando.

Defendant said that she threw the cup because complainant had told her that she had been living with the negroes in Africa, and that was the reason they had children's hair kinked. An onslaught with a broomstick was the immediate cause of the trouble.

"You devil, I'd like to smash you with this stick of the broom," were the words alleged by defendant to have been addressed to her.

The case seemed likely to drag along for a day or two when word came that the Portuguese interpreter was needed in the Circuit Court.

"I advise you to go with all due haste," said His Honor, scenting a speedy conclusion of a tiresome case, and the interpreter left post haste.

"This is an old woman's squabble," said His Honor, as he dismissed the case.

"We can't try any other cases today," said the Magistrate, "for the interpreter is gone."

"Oh yes we can, if the Court please," answered Attorney Correa. "There is a large and interesting Hawaiian assault case, in which I have been retained, yet undisposed of." And when the Judge heard this he sighed resignedly, and the Kewalo tribulation was introduced.

Fred. Rocha was charged with assault and battery on W. J. Morris, by striking him on the head with a section of a rail fence.

The affair took place last Friday at a luau held in defendant's house, at which Morris was an invited guest. Morris testified that defendant and his wife were having a dispute, when, fearing violence to the woman, he and a man named Bioran intervened on her behalf. This irritated Rocha, who went out and grabbed a club, with which he knocked Morris senseless.

"When I was 'out' someone bit me," reflected Morris.

"What was the trouble between husband and wife?" asked His Honor.

"I think it was because Rocha stayed out all night shooting craps," was the reply.

"Didn't drink anything at the house, I suppose?" queried the Judge of the next witness, Riordan.

ing, determined to keep my temper during my proposed interview with Mr. Gill. As I entered his office, in reply to my inquiry for the city editor, Mr. Gill came from his chair and introduced himself.

I told him that I understood that he was intending to put another article in the paper this morning, and asked him, as a newspaper man, to answer if he thought it was called for. He replied in substance that he considered the article a good joke and said he could see nothing objectionable in the article. I asked him that if his mother, wife or sister were visiting in a strange city and some newspaper published a similar article concerning them, if he would then consider it a joke. The low character of the man then appeared when he replied that he did not care what any one said about them.

He had seated himself at his desk by this time and was nervously handling papers, and it was not so much what he said but the positive insolence in his bearing, when I asked him once more if he would permit the matter to drop where it was and be content with the injury already done. He continued to evade my questions and when pressed for an answer replied that he would publish what he saw fit and now that there was so much being said concerning the alleged "joke" that he was inclined to believe that the article and the insinuations contained therein were well deserved. Owing to the fact that one of the ladies mentioned and myself had been born and raised in the same city and spent much of our childhood together and the unimpeachable character of herself and companions was well known to me, I could not stand his repeated insults longer, and struck him with my fist, in the face. The blow was a glancing one and only staggered him. He sprang backward and dragged a chair between us, reaching towards his hip pocket. As I understood that the mad had a reputation as a gunfighter, I stepped forward, hoping to reach him before he could draw the revolver. The chair obstructed my passage and gave him time to draw his pistol and level the same at my head. He held it there for a few seconds and then, lowering the muzzle until it pointed at my stomach, he stepped from behind the chair and we circled around the room about ten feet apart. I stepped toward him again. I had taken but a step when he began to dance up and down and command me to hold up my hands.

I considered his whole game a bluff and continued to advance in his direction. When about five feet from him I saw his finger begin to contract upon the trigger. Realizing that if he intended to shoot at all that he was about to do so, I turned quickly, presenting my left side toward him in the hope that he might miss me entirely or the ball penetrate a less vital spot than he intended. Without further warning he fired.

I staggered toward the door, which was only a few paces away, and as I did so I am confident that he attempted to shoot me a second time. I managed to pass through the door, closing it between us, and started for the stairs leading to the street, but before I gained the hallway Gill had opened the door and was following me with the revolver pointed at me. I evidently became confused, for all that I recall of events as they occurred before I left the Republican building is that I fell prostrate upon the floor of the composing-room and called out for assistance. The boys in the composing-room did not seem to realize that I had been shot.

Several minutes elapsed before anyone came to my aid. A hack was called and I was taken to the Advertiser office, from which place I was taken to the Queen's Hospital, and was treated by Dr. Wayson.

There were several witnesses to the shooting, including, it is said, the city editor and one reporter of the Republican. Stevens was placed in a hack and brought to the Advertiser office by James R. Doolittle of the Republican staff. He was immediately hurried to the Queen's hospital, where a vain search was made for the ball. This morning an X-ray will be used to locate it.

When the police station was notified of what had occurred at the Republican office, two officers were dispatched there to arrest Gill. Before reaching the office Gill was seen coming toward the police station.

"Are you the officer of the watch?" he inquired, addressing the station clerk. That functionary pointed to Lieutenant Pohaku.

"Are you the officer of the watch?" "Yes."

"I wish to surrender myself."

"What for?" inquired the Lieutenant.

"For accidentally shooting a man," answered Gill.

"Your name?"

"E. S. Gill, editor of the Republican."

The turnkey was called and Gill was searched. His letters, watch and other pocket trinkets were turned over to the reporter who had accompanied him. He asked if he could not sit in the Sheriff's office until some of his friends arrived. He was told that until the Sheriff came to the station he would have to go below to a cell. He was taken below, and shortly afterward High Sheriff Brown, accompanied by Chester Doyle, put in an appearance. The High Sheriff consulted with Gill and then had him placed in cell 6, with the statement that he would remain there until the condition of Mr. Stevens was ascertained.

Gill refused to make any statement until he had consulted with an attorney. At 10:30 Manager Johnson of the Republican came to the station and bail was fixed at $1000. Johnson gave the Grievance Company's check for that amount and Gill was liberated.

The charge against Gill as it appears upon the police record book is: "E. S. Gill, assault and battery with a deadly weapon upon Mortimer I. Stevens."

An officer was sent to the Republican office and secured the revolver, which is an American Bulldog, 38-caliber, short. One shell had been emptied and the trigger rested upon a second cartridge, which had failed to explode.

R. C. Rawlings had an altercation with Gill yesterday morning over the publication of the articles objected to by Stevens.

stand good for the articles published in the paper?" He answered, "Yes." Then I showed him the articles and called his attention to them. I told him of the relations in which I stood to these young ladies, adding that as they were under my charge and protection, I demanded of him a full and complete apology in his next issue. He laughingly said he saw nothing to apologize for, as it was merely a good joke. I answered him that in Kentucky we did not consider scurrilous articles about ladies a joke, but on the contrary, a very serious matter, and I insisted upon an apology. He said he would take the matter under consideration. I thanked him and told him I would wait while he considered the matter.

"Oh," he answered, "I will not decide it that quickly. I propose to take my time." "Excuse me," I answered, "you must not say that." I then waited twenty minutes in which to agree to apologize.

"In that case," he answered, "I refuse to consider it at all," at the same time reaching after a pair of shears about fifteen inches long which he grasped in his right hand. With this I slapped him in the face, at the same time grasping his right wrist as he thrust at me with the shears. I next grasped him by the throat, when his cries for help brought in two of his force, who grappled with me, and in the melee I took the shears away from him. By this time his aids had broken my grasp upon him and he ran across the hall into the composing-room, where I attempted to follow him but was stopped in the hallway and was threatened by one of the employees with a metal bar, which he raised to strike me. Seeing it was useless to attempt to pursue this low-down traducer of women any further, I threw his shears into the street and then left his office unmolested. During the struggle Gill thrust the point of the shears at my abdomen.

The point pressed through my trousers and entered my skin. Yes, it was a little sharp. My finger was slightly cut."

The trouble with the striking plumbers was that they didn't want to strike District Attorney Baird.

If the Sierra needed a test of her sea-going qualities she probably got it when she ran into the prevailing storm.

A "jurist" who has a paper in which to tell about his "pale, intellectual face," and his "masterly presentations" and "classic diction," and to congratulate the people on having him among them, is a very new thing in Hawaii and must be taken as a standing rebuke to those old-fogy judges who never told their greatness but let concealment, like a worm in the bud, prey on their damask cheeks.

United States Marshal Ray has stunned the accusers of Lorrin A. Andrews by asking for proofs. This is a most unseemly act of the Marshal, who ought to know that proofs have no standing in the court of public prejudice to which the anti-Andrews element appeals. What the Marshal should do if he wants the slightest consideration from the bawlers who are after his Deputy is to shut his eyes, hold his nose and take everything he hears for granted.

No man is so rich as the Hawaiian whose financial rating is made by a Mainland newspaper. Any one of us is poor indeed who cannot, on going to the Coast, be spoken of respectfully as an island sugar planter. In accord with this practice Texas newspapers are now rating the late D. B. Smith of Honolulu as a millionaire and double-leading the story of the happy youth who has married that imposing fortune by joining hands with Mr. Smith's daughter. Cold facts attest, however, that D. B. Smith left an estate valued at the then price of stocks at about $100,000. It was a neat competency but if Texas gets it all there will not be much of a hole left in Hawaiian finances.

ATTEMPTED HOMICIDE.

The Advertiser has rarely had a story to tell which gives more pain in the writing and will give more sorrow in the reading, than that which relates the shooting last night of Mortimer I. Stevens, one of its reporters, by Edwin S. Gill, editor of the Republican. The whole affair is so deplorable that it cannot be thought of coolly; though it is the purpose of this journal in narrating the circumstances leading up to and including the tragic acts of Mr. Gill, to be as dispassionate as it can.

Yesterday morning the Republican printed an extraordinary story supplemented by a more extraordinary leading editorial, in which the social privacy of some young ladies from the Mainland was questionably invaded. That the reader may see for himself what was said, we print both articles in full. Naturally the friends of the ladies took offense and one of them, a man named Rawlings, went to the office of the Republican and had some kind of an encounter with Gill. It is said that the editor was slapped or cuffed; it is also said that before Rawlings could commit an assault he was seized by the Republican printers. At that time Gill did not seem to be armed with anything more formidable than a pair of shears; the pistol he used on Stevens he may have got later, fearing more bodily violence.

Mr. Stevens felt the insult to the ladies as keenly as did Mr. Rawlings. It is reported that one of the ladies had been his friend from childhood. When he read the Republican's article yesterday he was deeply stirred but he said nothing of reprisals. Later he heard that his friends were to be travestied again and that Gill regarded their persecution as a "good joke." When this news reached him the young man asked for ten minutes' leave and as further events proved he went to interrogate Gill. What happened at the Republican office appears in Mr. Stevens' printed statement—a story told in the presence, possibly, of death. The reporter asked the editor if anything more was to be said about the ladies; the editor replied coarsely, Stevens hit him a blow in the face, Gill drew a revolver and aiming at Stevens' stomach fired, the ball entering the body of the young man near the hip. The rest was a matter for the surgeons and the police.

This is the second time that Mr. Gill has had a shooting affray, the first one being in Arizona. His employer and preceptor, Judge Humphreys, boasts of having had one or two and was arrested and fined in this city for assault and battery. Both men were reared in an atmosphere of gun-fighting and perhaps regard such things in a more tolerant light than will the law-abiding public of this city and this Territory. It is less surprising that one of them should have tried to commit a homicide than it is that either should have singled out reputable women for insult. The chivalry of the South may be quick at the trigger but it also respects women; in this case the nobler quality was forgotten in the desire for blood.

The Advertiser does not excuse the blow given by Mr. Stevens, great as his provocation was. But when he went unarmed to an office where his enemy sat among a score of friends and employees, he had a right to expect fair play. He would not have complained if blow had been met by blow; he would have seen no injustice if the Republican staff had seized him and bound him hand and foot; but he did not think that a manly fist would be met by a cowardly ball. Yet an editor who would insult a defenseless woman might be expected after all, to shoot an unarmed man.

HYSTERIA VS. FACTS.

Suppose a stranger from the East should enter a Honolulu home and say, after a cursory glance around: "Heavens! but you are all wrong in the way you live! Look at your roof. It isn't pitched half as well as our roofs in New Hampshire. Then you have too much piazza. Don't you know that such outside halls are draughty and that you may get your death of cold sitting in them? I do believe you don't keep your cellars dry. No cellar? Who ever heard of such a thing? Why, you are heathen and when I get back home I shall probably have to criticize you in some hundreds of newspapers and magazines. And what is that you are wearing? A Mother Hubbard! Why, don't you know that the American Society for Minding Other People's Business long ago blacklisted the Mother Hubbard as an article which no self-respecting woman would wear outside the privacy of her own chamber? People who are as far behind the times as you are and as defiant of public opinion, ought to be sharply dealt with; and if I can find an audience here big enough to get any sort of a collection from, I'll tell it what I think about you in set terms."

Impertinence from a household guest could hardly go further, and no individual host would care to extend his hospitality to one who had so abused it. Yet the collective host, meaning the inhabitants of the city, are expected to not only tolerate but to encourage strangers who, after the most superficial view of things Hawaiian, denounce or condemn whatever customs or laws they find that do not dovetail with the customs and laws they have been used to elsewhere. Aunt Ophelia could never put up with the ways of the Southern home where she found Miss Eva and Uncle Tom. Those ways were wrong because they were different. The world is full of such well-intentioned but meddling people; and just now Honolulu has more than its fair share of them. Women come here who, after a week's "study," make up their hasty minds that this or that method of dealing with public offences is vitally wrong or shameful, and that, for the good of society, it must be changed at once. They do not credit the wise men and women who have dealt with Honolulu's social and racial problems for years, with any capacity to settle them in the way best suited to the welfare of the community. Experience counts for nothing; racial conditions are never thought of; human nature is not consulted; the history of past experiments is never read; the reformer simply swoops down like a wolf on the fold and declares that because Honolulu deals with crime and the social evil and a few other things differently from Bangor, Maine, or Princeton, New Jersey, this place is a sink-hole of iniquity, infested by criminals who are protected and encouraged by hypocrites. If they find this view supported by the talk of some local political demagogue on or off the bench—some man on whose private character a lump of coal would leave a white mark but who makes loud public professions of honesty and purity—they at once begin to plume themselves upon having the support of a "healthy public sentiment" and so become twice as obnoxious as they were before.

We are led to these remarks by the hasty generalizations which visiting strangers have made about the place known as Iwilei. Iwilei is a depot far removed from the business or residence quarter of the city where women belonging to the submerged classes carry on their trade under the eye of physicians and police. It has not long been in existence; before the Chinatown fire part of a street in that quarter was used as a Yoshiwara, and decent people found themselves much too close to the half-world. Urged by men like Theodore Richards, the Advertiser asked for the removal of the women to an unfrequented suburb; and in course of time removal was brought about by fire. Assuming that the social evil had found a lodgement somewhere, no better place could be had for it than Iwilei.

Now we come to the main question raised by the visiting reformers: Why is not the social evil prohibited by law and suppressed by the police? What is the necessity of giving it official sanction? The answer is that but for such a place as Iwilei no good woman could venture into the streets at night without running the risk of assault; no little girl could safely trudge a reach of country road on her way to school; all honorable womankind would have to be guarded even more carefully than they are in the black belts of the South. These zealous agitators who want Iwilei wiped out as with a sponge, judge our conditions by those of New England and the Middle West. They do not stop to learn that there are five and perhaps ten men in Hawaii to one woman and that these unarmed males include tens of thousands of the lowest class of Chinese and Japanese, hundreds of shore-leave sailors, hundreds more of beach-combers and a vast rabble of men of mixed breeds and unbridled passions. Does any one suppose that this rude and virile male population could be cast loose in the streets of Honolulu to seek that which it might devour without turning the city into a hell on earth? The domestic peace and order of the town demands Iwilei and the best citizenship of Hawaii has ordained it as a protection to the home. Such defenses would not be needed in any New England city; for there the people have no hordes of unarmed barbarians to govern. But every man who knows anything about these islands is aware that they are indispensable here. It is a question that lies between private Iwileis all over the city with beetle-browed ruffians lurking in the shadows of every street, and an organized and regulated Iwilei, hidden in the suburbs, guarded by the police and the Board of Health and made as little offensive to the moral public as is possible.

In conclusion we beg to say to self-imported agitators, judicial demagogues and all others at interest, that Honolulu knows its business and is pleased to carry it on without meddling interference. It is not a new town or a "jay" town, and it has, in its ruling body politic, as wise and as moral and as high-minded an element as can be found anywhere on the face of the earth. By labor and prayer and infinite pains, these people have made Honolulu a center of civilization in the Pacific and a safe and orderly metropolis. We bid good people to come and enjoy it and do what they can to improve it; but we warn them that improvement does not mean a general overturning of laws and customs which the wisdom and prudence of the past have conscientiously devised.

As one Doak, manager for the Star Dairy, which supplies Magoon's Food to unsuspecting infants, has been fined $100, we look to Mr. Magoon to pay another $100 to the Food Inspector. Some months ago when the Inspector called a Star Dairy driver into court on a charge of selling milk adulterated with Irish moss, Magoon tried to bluff his way out of the trouble by advertising a reward of $100 payable to any one who would prove that Star Dairy milk had been adulterated. Yesterday proof good enough for the Police Judge was offered and Manager Doak was fined accordingly. In common equity, and we don't know but in statute law, Magoon is bound to pay the reward. It has been fairly enough earned.

There is enough in the career and example of Queen Victoria to warrant the two memorial services which are to be held. The British residents are right in holding one in the largest available church edifice; and the Anglican Bishop is right in holding another in the cathedral where he has so long officiated as the ecclesiastical representative of the late Queen. The two ceremonies need not clash and may fitly supplement each other.

PAPA ITA AT WAILUKU.

Manager Lewis Throws Gasoline on Hot Stones Behind a Native.

Latest advices from Wailuku under date of February 4 state that Papa Ita performed his feat of walking on the hot stones in that place last Saturday evening. Manager Lewis did much towards entertaining the audience by frightening a native nearly out of his senses.

A Hawaiian started to walk over the hot stones with his shoes on and when nearly across the pit Lewis threw some gasoline on the hot rocks. There was an explosion and a burst of flame, and the native, thinking that Pele was visiting her wrath upon him, beat a hasty retreat. When he ascertained later the true cause of the sudden flames he rushed towards Lewis but was prevented from doing the manager any harm by the police.

READY TO WORK.

Legislature Will Meet Very Soon.

IMPORTANT BILLS TO BE ACTED UPON

The Session Will Be Called To Order February 20, in the Old Rooms.

EVERYWHERE is talk of the coming meeting of the Legislature. On February 20, Senators and Representatives will assemble in the throne-room and in the upper hall that once did duty as a banquet-room for royalty.

Thirty desks are already in place in the throne-room for the accommodation of as many Representatives, while fifteen more are ready to be placed in the hall for the Senators. The law prescribes that the session shall last for three months, but should the business to be transacted necessitate more time, then shall the session be extended for thirty days more upon the order of the Governor.

Just who will be President of the Senate and who will be Speaker of the House, are problems that are agitating the minds of more than one member of the Legislature, but it is guessed that John T. Brown of Hilo will be the advocate of the Senate, while the other position is as yet an open question.

John Emmelhuth was selected and endorsed by the members of the House, but owing to the fact that he desires to do a great deal of work on the floor, the honor was declined. S. W. Wilcox, a Democrat of Kauai, was slated for the position, but many believe that he will cast his vote with the Republicans in the Legislature, and his influence is wanted on the floor.

Republican members are opposed to any of their men accepting the chair, as they desire them all on the floor, where they will be of greater service. The Independents are also imbued with the same spirit, and in consequence both sides are anxious to avoid a contest.

At 10 o'clock in the morning the meeting will be called to order, the Houses organizing separately, and then informing the Governor that they are ready to proceed with the business. Next in order will be the reading of the message and then an adjournment will probably be taken until the next day, when the regular business will be commenced.

Considerable speculation is rife concerning the fact that several members of the Legislature are unable to debate in the English language, and it is doubtful if the interpretation of their speeches through the medium of an interpreter will be permissible in law.

Section 44 of the Act prescribing a law for the government of the Territory of Hawaii says, "All legislative proceedings shall be conducted in the English language." Legal opinions differ in regard to the literal meaning of the passage, some holding that mere interpretation into English complies with the law, while others say that any speeches made in the Hawaiian tongue would be illegal, and therefore not of any weight. In all probability it will be necessary for the Legislature to take action on the matter before the question can be settled.

Each House is entitled to a clerk and sergeant-at-arms, and will probably fill the positions by appointing Hawaiians. This meeting of the Legislature will be of more than usual importance inasmuch as the conduct of affairs will bear a marked difference to the methods and proceeding under the old monarchical and republican Legislatures. Under the new regime the Executive has now no voice or controlling influence in the Legislature.

The Legislature, or rather the Senate, has some voice in the executive through its right to confirm or to refuse to confirm appointments, but the Executive is absolutely shut out of the Legislature, except that the Governor may send such communications or recommendations to it as he sees fit, and the Legislature, or either House, may ask the Governor or the heads of departments for information regarding public affairs. Under the Republic the Ministers were ex-officio members of each branch of the Legislature, with all the rights and powers of members except the right to vote. They could introduce bills, and, as a matter of fact, did introduce most of the bills relating to the general course of executive government. The budget, or revenue, bill was always introduced by the Minister of Finance, and the bills on this subject which he introduced were always looked upon as Government measures, and as such were expected to be supported in debate by all the members of the Cabinet.

No bills or measures of any kind can be introduced by the Governor or the head of any department, unless it is done through the agency of a member. Every bill, including the budget, will have to be introduced by some member of the Legislature.

In this way the system of government in the United States, and in every State, is introduced into this Territory. In addition to its legislative duties the Senate will have the right to confirm or reject such nominations to Territorial offices as the Territorial Act provides shall be confirmed by the Senate.

The names of all the principal officers appointed by the Governor at the time of the organization of the Territory will have to be submitted to the Senate by the Governor for confirmation. Many important matters will be acted upon and it is probable that the greater part of the time will be occupied in discussing the question of municipal government, though it is not expected that any definite action will be taken at the coming session.

Trustees Meeting.

The Eye and Ear Infirmary held a meeting of the trustees at the office of Robert Lewers, the president, yesterday morning and the following additions were made to the board to fill existing vacancies: Fritz Klamp, Carl Du Rol, S. E. Damon, J. F. Humburg. These, together with Robert Lewers, J. F. Hackfeld, B. F. Dillingham and Dr. Sloggett, form the board of trustees.

Spruance, Stanley & Co's celebrated brands of "Kentucky Favorite" and "O. F. C." whiskies stand the highest.

CONSUMPTION

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself, and at home.

Take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil, and live carefully every way.

This is sound doctrine, whatever you may think or be told; and, if heeded, will save life.

We'll send you a little to try it you like.

TRAM CARS MAY BE MADE HOUSE-BOATS FOR LITTLE

CONVERTED HORSE-CAR HOUSE-BOAT

WHAT is to become of the weather-beaten, time-honored, mule-drawn, freaky-looking bob-tail arks over which Manager Pain of the Tramways Company casts such a vigilant eye when the speedy, comfortable, handsome, metropolitan electric motor cars appear upon the streets and compel them to retire in shame to the car-barns? The old, decrepit vehicles which Manager Pain has from time immemorial dubbed "tram-cars" are soon to be displaced by electrically propelled cars, which brook no competition from mule propulsion, and conjecture is rife as to their ultimate fate.

The days of the bob-tail car in Honolulu have passed. No more can the housewife set forth in their townward-bound and do her shopping while the car-driver calmly awaits her reappearance from the meat market or the grocery store. No more will the laundry celestial or the sovereign of the kitchen be permitted to take his seat beside a be-satined lady passenger and puff odorous fumes from a "two-fer" into her face. No more will the frequenter of the fish market be allowed to bring his fly-catching bundles into the car and deposit them beneath your feet to act as a magnet for the myriad insect tribes, and no more will one have to sit in the uncomfortable seats waiting long at a switch for a car which is probably waiting for your driver to make them airy, and yet in a few months these memories will be but as pipe dreams, and yet in Manager Pain's car-barns connoisseurs of antiquated methods of street transportation will have full opportunity to gaze upon the pain-producing trams.

Some geniuses have come to the front with many plans to save them from the scrap-heap. It is proposed that the cars be utilized for athletic headquarters, candy stores, chicken coops, watchmen's booths, offices and what not. In one city three of these small cars placed end to end are being used as a little chapel, while in other cities they are utilized as lunch-rooms and photograph galleries.

One of the members of the Healan Boat Club proposes that a number of the cars be bought up, dismantled from their trucks, placed upon flat-boats and towed to Pearl Harbor, there to be used as house-boats. The Harbor is peculiarly adapted to house-boat life, and the bob-tail cars would make capital water dwellings. They are provided with the requisite number of windows to make them airy, and with some remodeling of the interior they would be made very attractive. The house-boat has been proposed by a number of yachtsmen and persons who desire to live near the water as the proper thing for Honolulu, and in the abandoned small cars the beginning of a house-boat colony is at hand. A number of house-boats of this kind anchored together in a quiet spot in the harbor would make out-of-door existence there extremely pleasant. It is said the cars can be bought for a song after their days of usefulness behind a pair of mules are over.

IMPURE FOOD IN HONOLULU

Commissioner Shorey's Report on the Subject.

IN HIS REPORT to the Board of Health for January, Food Commissioner Shorey says: Of milk samples examined and found below the standard, I found the following:

M. Pecheco—At least 13 per cent added water.
M. Pecheco—At least 25 per cent added water and partially skimmed.
M. Pecheco has already been fined twice in the District Court.
M. Cabral—Deficient in butter fat; at least 15 per cent added water.
Star Dairy—At least 16 per cent added water.
Unknown dairy—Deficient in butter fat and preserved with formalin.
From private party—At least 10 per cent added water.
Sample made basis of prosecution:
M. Cabral—At least 20 per cent added water.
Number of milk samples examined, 94.
Private complaints investigated, 3.
Cases in District Court: 2.
M. Abreu, selling adulterated milk, fined $50 and costs.
C. Lomba, selling adulterated milk, discharged.
M. Cabral, selling adulterated milk, fined $50 and costs.

With regard to one sample noted above credited to unknown dairy found to be preserved with formalin, I wish to say that this sample was taken from milk delivered to S. S. Alameda, when in port January 5th. This milk was delivered by parties unknown to me. I have never found formalin in any milk delivered by any of the dairies here on the street.

Eleven samples of salad oil have been examined, seven of which were found to be cotton-seed oil. One of these contained in addition about 10 per cent of mustard oil.

Salad oils made from cotton-seed or other oils than olive oil, provided they contain nothing injurious, cannot be preserved as adulterated, unless they are labeled olive oil. In no one of the seven was this the case.

I think, however, that it may be of interest to the public to give the labels of the brands with the general statement that they are found almost exclusively in Chinese stores. Those found to be cotton-seed oil were labelled as follows:

1. Huile de Salade, Durand Brand, Eagle Manufacturing Company, San Francisco.
2. Salado Oil, California Oil Refining Company, San Francisco.
3. Huile Vierge, A. Durand & Fils, Bordeaux.
4. Salad Oil, E. Loubon.
5. Salad Oil, Chas. Heaton and Company, London.
6. Extra Quality Salad Oil, Pacific Vinegar and Pickle Works, San Francisco.
7. Fine Lucca Oil, Puritan Oil Company, London.

This last contained, in addition, 10 per cent mustard oil and in the label approaches very nearly an adulterated article, for several well-known brands of olive oil are on the market as Lucca oil.

The other oils examined were found to be olive oil.

A sample of "Ahuimanu Cream," on examination, was found to be preserved with formalin.

Some months ago a sample of this cream was examined and reported as preserved with a preparation of formalin. Since then the change to formalin has been made. While it is very unlikely that the small amount of formalin used to preserve this cream would, in the case of a healthy adult, be injurious, the fact that cream often enters into the food prepared for infants is sufficient reason, I think, that the public should be informed as to the presence of this preservative and of the possibility of injury when so used.

The cream contained a fair amount of butter fat, 35 per cent.

The sample in question was obtained from H. May & Co. and is sold by Lewis & Co., and probably other grocers.

The following samples of drugs have been examined with results as noted. In the absence of any statement on the part of druggists to the contrary, it has been taken for granted that the United States Pharmacopoeia was the standard by which they were sold or prepared.

Extractum Glycerhizae—Four samples, all up to standard.

Sinapis Alba—Three samples examined; two samples, one each from the Hobron Drug Company and Honolulu Drug Company, respectively, contained considerable wheat starch.

Tinctura Iodi—Four samples examined, all below standard. The United States Pharmacopoeia requires, 70 grams of iodine per litre of tincture. The analysis of the four samples showed: Benson, Smith & Co., Iodine per litre 54 grams; Hollister Drug Company, Iodine per litre 61.4 grams; Hobron Drug Company, Iodine per litre 53.3 grams; Honolulu Drug Company, Iodine per litre 43.7 grams.

Tinctura Opii—Three samples examined, all below standard. The United States Pharmacopoeia requires 1.3 to 1.5 grams morphine per 100 cc of tincture. Analyses of samples were: Benson, Smith & Co., morphine per 100 cc 1.15 grams; Hollister Drug Company, morphine per 100 cc 0.95 grams; Hobron Drug Company, morphine per 100 cc 0.93 grams.

Capsicum—Two samples examined, no adulteration.

One sample of Cayenne pepper was examined; no adulteration.

Four samples of ground pepper were examined. One obtained from C. H. Stace was adulterated with a considerable quantity of wheat flour. This brand was labelled, "Strictly Pure White Pepper," Imperial Mills, San Francisco.

In the matter of tenders for supplies of flour for the Leper Settlement, partial analyses of eight samples of flour were made and the executive officer advised concerning the same. These samples will be examined further and reported on.

DANGER OF COLDS AND LA GRIPPE.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents.

The warning cough is the faithful sentinel. It tells of the approach of consumption, which has killed more people than war and pestilence combined. It tells of painful chests, sore lungs, weak throats, bronchitis, and pneumonia. Do not suffer another day. It's useless, for there's a prompt and safe cure. A cure for fresh colds and old colds, easy coughs and hard coughs—

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

It often cures a fresh cold in a single night, and it masters chronic coughs and bronchitis in a short time. Consumption is certainly prevented, and cured, too, if taken in time.

If anybody tells you that consumption cannot be cured, they are certainly mistaken, for we have thousands of these cases reported to us, absolutely cured, and no mistake about it.

Put up in large and small bottles. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster placed directly over the tender, aching lung is a great aid to the Cherry Pectoral.

SUED FOR FEES.

Vivas and Clients Settle Out of Court.

CASTLE ANSWERS MONTANO SUIT

Newa Kanulu Granted a Divorce—Grand Jury in Session.

CASE in which a local attorney demanded fees of alleged clients for work said to have been performed by him was about the only important matter taken up in the Circuit Court yesterday. The Circuit Judge in the afternoon heard the case of J. M. Vivas, the Portuguese attorney, against N. J. Luiz, Vierra et al. for $50 in each case for attorney's fees in 1899. The court action had in May, 1899. The attorney sued the clients for the amount on the ground that they had consulted him as to their case, which were for selling liquor without licenses, and had not paid him. The case was a peculiar one and involved the First Circuit Judge who he was but a plain attorney at law.

The evidence was to the effect that in May, 1899, the defendants were arrested for selling liquor without licenses. The patrol wagon was about to take the men to the station when Attorney Vivas drove up to the store of one of his clients. Without being asked to contribute his professional services he drove one of the parties down in his hack and bailed one of them out.

A day or two later the men asked Vivas fee for taking up their cases and he told them $100 for each case. They said they would try to get a cheap lawyer, and at once consulted the attorney who is now First Circuit Judge.

Vivahad been paid $50 by one man, and on his refusing to take $75 for the case, Vivas said to have taken the $50 out of his pocket and returned it. The next day the men went into court, pleaded guilty and were fined $100 each. Later Vivas sued each man $50 for professional services.

The Circuit Judge was put out when his name was mentioned in the matter, and decided that, under the circumstances, as "there were honest men on both sides, they should attempt compromise." A recess was taken at an agreement finally consented to by both sides.

CASTLE ANSWERS MRS. MONTANO.

W. R. Castle has filed his answer to the complaint of Mrs. A. A. Montano, making general denial of the allegations, and gives a purported statement of the financial relations existing between him and Mr. and Mrs. Montano. He makes the claim that he kept them going in business for several years and that he risked his own life in doing so. He claims that he had a right to foreclose a mortgage on the property of the plaintiff, consisting of valuable real estate in Anaea Valley, which he now owns.

The property was sold in 1899 for $25,000, W. C. Achi being the person in whose name the property was bought, says that out of this he paid the mortgage and gave security for the balance, although no receipt for the amount was ever given to Mrs. Montano. He made one of the requirements of the deal that the plaintiff should conduct all her business through his office. He says that upon this show he credited them with $25,000 and charged it with sundry debts and charges, which left to the credit of Mrs. Montano a credit balance of $50.

Castle said that the Waialeale Dairy of Achi wavered as security for the $50,000, and at this was agreeable to Mrs. Montano, and the transaction, he avers, was correct. He says he has been in many lax in accounting to the plaintiff.

CURT NOTES.

A discontinue in the case of George B. Pule vs. The Hawaiian Gazette Co. was filed yesterday, the plaintiff having died in this city a few weeks since.

The Territorial of Hawaii has filed a discontinuance in its suit against J. C. Cohen, the tons house matter involved having been settled out of court.

J. Newa Kulu was granted a divorce from his wife, Lucy Kanulu, on the ground of adultery.

The following cases have been set for hearing by Emma N. Nakulua vs. Fanny Siah et al.; demurrer; H. H. Parker vs. H. H. Parker vs. E. K. B. trespass; F. Pahia vs. Pahia, J. Bell vs. Pahia, and William Hei vs. Pahia, each for trespass.

In the case Emma N. Nakulua vs. J. H. Schick, the demurrer was overruled and defendant allowed ten days within which to answer.

The demurrer in the case of Asu Brown vs. J. W. Bannister was withdrawn yesterday and an answer filed.

The Grand Jury was in session all day yesterday investigating criminal cases which have been sent to the jury by the Attorney General. Deputy Attorney General Hart was in attendance throughout the day. Crowds of witnesses and defendants in appearance cases lodged the upstairs corridors. There is a general lack of accommodation for witnesses in large numbers at the Judiciary Building.

The United States Court and clerk's office were quiet.

AGED BAR.

It Does Not Enter into the Question You may have in not know it. You may be you may be old. Symptoms the s in both. A babe with kidneys has backache. A man of 60 or with weak kidneys has backache. That's the way it is with all ages. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills cure the babe and the man. That's the way it is in all ages. No wonder, they're made for it. They couldn't cure simple case of colic.

But they cure bad cases of kidney trouble.

If your back aches, try them. Writing under date January 10th, 1899, Jurgen Walter of this city tells us as follows: "My age is 79—well past the ordinary span of life, and I am the parent of eight children. Being so far advanced in years, I regard the relief obtained from Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

I suffered from a lame back for years, but after taking some of the pills (procured at Hollister's drug store) was greatly benefited, and I am satisfied the pills did me much good."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are becoming popular in Honolulu because they are always endorsed by Honolulu people. Our kidneys filter our blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily; when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disordered eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Hawaiian Electric Company Propose New Motors to Cost $60,000.

The Hawaiian Electric Company, Ltd., held its annual meeting at the offices of the Hawaiian Trust Company yesterday morning and elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: F. W. Macfarlane, president; Geo. R. Carter, treasurer; W. L. Hopper, secretary, and H. A. Lansing, auditor. These officers will also constitute the board of directors.

Mr. Gartley, the manager, reported that the new dynamo had been shipped from the east and recommended the installation of additional motors and other machinery involving an expense of nearly $60,000. The matter was left to the board of directors to decide.

His report also contained the statement that $87,000 had been expended out of the sum of $135,000 authorized by the board of directors at the previous meeting, leaving a balance of $48,000 yet to be expended. On January 1 a dividend of 4 per cent on the capital stock of the company was declared and has since been paid.

SEA AND SHORE

THE Pacific Mail steamship China, Captain Seabury, is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow from San Francisco. As a rule she gets in on the day before she is due and, ordinarily, would be looked for this afternoon or evening. It is thought, however, that she is scarcely likely to get here ahead of time on the present trip on account of the great storm which has prevailed for the last few days. When the China arrives she will bring seven days' later mail and news of the outer world. The China will probably bring a story of pretty rough times at sea and uncomfortable experiences with the southerly gale. She is one of the very finest boats which cross the Pacific, however, and it would take a severe storm indeed to work her injury.

People along the waterfront who have been watching with interest the great seas breaking over the reef near the entrance to the channel, until the entrance is lost in one angry, heaving, breaking mass of giant-waves, are wondering if the China will have any difficulty in coming into the harbor, should the storm continue in all its fury until the arrival of that vessel.

Inspectors Are at Work.

Messrs. Lehnert and Whitney, the hulls and boilers inspectors, are being kept very busy. Yesterday morning they issued a chief engineer's certificate to John S. Purdy of the tug Fearless and third assistant's papers to W. H. Winn and W. H. Parker. These certificates give the holders the right to work on vessels anywhere in the Pacific. The inspectors have been very favorably impressed with the manner in which the native crews handle the boats in rough weather while the steamers are making headway. It is expected that within the next two weeks all the steamers of the Island fleets will have been examined and those of their captains, mates and engineers who qualify will be given certificates.

A Romance of the Storm.

There is a young man in town who is anxiously awaiting the departure of the steamer for Hilo. He is Inspector Gomez, one of the most popular and obliging of the customs men. He is about to be married and the young lady of his choice resides upon the island of Maui. Gomez has received a vacation of five or six days for the purpose of going to claim his bride; at the end of the allotted time his vacation will be up. He has already lost a day and a half on account of the great storm which is raging and which has prevented the Kinau from sailing, and still he is no nearer his heart's desire. Each hour which the Kinau was held made the young man more anxious and he began to wonder whether he would be a bachelor or a benedict at the end of his vacation and whether he would have to ask Collector Stackable for an extension of his vacation in order to get married. Then he thinks that the young lady will very naturally get anxious at his non-arrival and the non-arrival of the steamer and picture her imagining that the good old Kinau had been sunk in the terrible storm while on the way to Hawaii and Maui, or perhaps floating on the angry seas, bottom up, with her intended husband and Purser Beckley clinging to the inverted keel.

Thinking in this strain he could not rest, and, thinking that the Kinau would be likely to sail at any time, as soon as the weather cleared a little, he did not like to leave the Kinau wharf and so remained there as long as daylight lasted, going homewards only when the darkness fell and he was sure that the boat would not sail until another day had dawned.

All who know Inspector Gomez like him for his honesty, frankness and gentility and wish him all manner of happiness in the years to come.

Nine Lives Gone Out.

There is mourning on the Pacific Mail wharf, "Jinnie," the amiable and wonderful cat, who had for so long a time been the pet of all who had any business on that wharf, especially the kind-hearted men of the Custom house, is dead. She came to her City. It is well known, therefore, how the three kittens recently met death through suffocation in the fumigating shed on the Pacific Mail wharf; also how they had several times previously narrowly escaped death in the same manner, and how the heroic "Jinnie" had rescued them from the suffocating fumes and resuscitated them. The last time that the kittens were accidentally imprisoned, however, "Jinnie" was not on hand in time to rescue her children or was unable to get at them to render them any assistance. She was there when their little bodies were brought out of the fumigating room, however, and her grief was intense. It was noticed by the men on the wharf that "Jinnie" always hung around the entrance to the fumigating-room after that and that she was exceedingly melancholy and refused to be comforted.

She became so absorbed by her grief that the rats took no notice of her and had things pretty much their own way on the wharf. Once or twice when the doors of the fumigating-room were about to be closed on a lot of Oriental goods, "Jinnie" would attempt to secrete herself in the room and would be very much annoyed when rescued from the death chamber just in time. At last, however, "Jinnie" succeeded in accomplishing what was evidently her object. When the Oriental goods from the Nippon Maru were closed up in the shed for fumigation she managed to be inside and yesterday, when the doors were opened and the rats had been taken out, the body of the feline suicide was recovered and there was immediately mourning on the wharf, for everybody loved the noble cat. All who are acquainted with the circumstances firmly believe that the mother-cat killed herself through grieving over the loss of her children. Eight of her lives had she sacrificed in the rescue of her little kittens from the sulphur fumes; her remaining life she laid down deliberately, unable to live in any happiness without her kittens.

Not Officially Notified.

The recent opinion by Attorney General Griggs, concerning the citizenship of certain Chinese, to the contrary notwithstanding, until Collector Stackable is officially notified by his department of the opinion, Chinese will be treated as under the Treasury Department ruling made some time ago, and which denies that Chinese who were Hawaiian citizens before annexation became citizens of the United States by virtue of the Organic Act.

It has been found that the Customs Department had no authority to delegate an inspector of tea in a district other than specified by law. As a consequence there is a hitch in arrangements which had been made to have tea imported here inspected by Professor A. B. Ingalls, custom house gauger. The tea has now to be sent to San Francisco for inspection, as previously.

ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN

Man wasn't made to suffer, but accidents will happen, and to meet such cases, Nature designed the roots, herbs, gums and leaves for the healing of the nation. Nature's way to treat a cut, bruise or a burn is to cleanse, draw and heal and that's the way Kikapo Indian Salve acts—just as Nature acts. It acts that way because it is Nature's own remedy, compounded from materials gathered in Nature's infallible laboratory; undiluted, pure and simple. The same ingredients found in Kikapo Indian Salve were in use for centuries before the Red Men divulged it to the Pale Face. They healed nations ago; they act the same today. THEIR CLAIMS SET AT REST.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. C. D. Glass, an employee of Bartlett & Dennis Co., Gardiner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cold and cough in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until one day I was in the drug store of Mr. Houlehan, and he advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I get a cold, and soon find relief. I also recommended it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines." For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents.

HERPICIDE

TO HAVE THICK, LUXURIANT HAIR

Is the most longed-for desire of every woman. She knows what a powerful aid to beauty it is, and endeavors to make her own as soft, glossy and thick as possible. Comparatively few of them are aware as yet that Newbro's Herpicide, a recent scientific discovery, will enable them to possess hair as thick and luxuriant as anyone could desire. It works on a new theory of destroying the germ that feeds upon the hair root, and thus making dandruff and falling hair impossible. It then proceeds to produce a growth of thick, glossy hair that soon becomes the pride of its owner. One trial will convince you of its virtues.

THE STAR DAIRY MANAGER SOLD ADULTERATED MILK

Doak Fined $100 In the Police Court.

THE man was a "bloke" by the name of Doak. Who with floodings of water his milk did soak. He managed a dairy called the "Star." Where the cows with the cast-iron handles are. Bessed by a gentleman yclept Magoon (The name flavors badly this simple rhyme).

The trouble was this, that where'er it went, The milk carried water full fifteen per cent— Enough good water to float a barge. For which there was never an extra charge. Doak and Magoon gave the water free In the thrice-blessed name of charity.

The Judge looked wise and he wiped his eyes As he gazed on the fluid in sad surprise; "In our City," said he, "where the danger of drought Is great, we must take all precaution to rout This practice of squandering good water, or soon We'll be washing in milk sold by Doak and Magoon." And he soaked Doak.

H. M. AYRES.

TEN minutes in Judge Wilcox's court yesterday morning sufficed to find Manager Doak of the Star Dairy guilty of selling watered milk, with a fine of $100 and costs. The defendant was represented by Attorney Peters. Driver Lombard was called to the witness-stand, and his unhesitating answers to the few questions put to him showed that he had nothing to do with the milk except as delivering it; all the cans of milk in his wagon had been filled from the same source.

M. Dean was called and testified that Doak was the manager of the Star Dairy Company. Doak himself did not take the stand. Sheriff Brown asked a few questions of the witnesses and the evidence was closed.

Attorney Peters rose to his feet and addressed the judge. He spoke only a few minutes, basing his defense upon the question of responsibility. He said that there was no section of the law under which the manager of a corporation could be held responsible for the acts of that corporation. "And," said he, "I defy the prosecution to find anywhere in the laws of the Hawaiian Territory any such section."

Sheriff Brown read a number of sections indirectly applicable to the case, and saying that the responsibility of the fraud and imposition upon the public must be fastened somewhere, he submitted the decision to the court. Mr. Peters made no further attempt at defense, but moved that the charge be dismissed as against the defendant.

Judge Wilcox made short work of the case. "I am to decide," said he, "upon the law and evidence in this case, therefore I deny the defendant's motion, and, Mr. Doak, I find you guilty and fine you $100 and costs." The authorities had long been after

A corporation is being formed in south Kona, Hawaii, which will be known as the South Kona Stock Company. Large tracts of land have been acquired near Hookena for the purpose of raising hogs on a large scale and conducting other live stock operations. Among the promoters of the concern are J. N. Vivas, William Wright, Thomas Wright, J. Mello, Mr. Ahu, Judge Kaal and other prominent members of the South Kona district. Incorporation papers will shortly be submitted to the authorities.

The capital of the new enterprise will be $10,000. Three hundred acres of good land are already at the company's disposal. The land is ideal hog land, comprising part virgin and part cultivated soil. Guavas, bananas and papayas abound in great quantities on the reservation, which has already been divided into paddocks for the reception of stock.

The original idea was to form a native hui but it was finally decided to incorporate as mentioned above. The officers of the concern will be elected next week. Messrs. Silva and Vivas will attend to the business of the corporation on this side of the water.

The shares are $10 each and no one but shareholders will be employed by the company, which by this means resolves itself into a profit-sharing scheme where each laborer will be stimulated to toil in the knowledge that as he works so will the value of his holdings in the company increase or decrease.

It is estimated that a dividend of 20 per cent at the very least will reward the first year's operations. It is the intention of the promoters to import good blood from California. Kona is admirably adapted for hog-raising and for time immemorial Kona pigs have been in great demand the Islands over for kaulaung purposes. Another great advantage of the district is that hog cholera is practically unknown.

DISSOLUTION OF COPARTNERSHIP.

CHANGES MADE AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Secretaryship Offered Former Physical Instructor Coats.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association, held last Saturday, A. J. Coats, physical instructor of the association, was called to its secretaryship, made vacant by the resignation of H. E. Coleman. Two weeks were allowed him in which to give his answer.

Mr. Coats resigned his position as physical director two months ago in order to return to the States to complete his college career and study medicine. Mr. Coats said last night: "My heart was set upon going away, but I think, under the circumstances, that it is my duty to stay. I do not think it best for the work of the association that Mr. Coleman and myself should leave together. I will give the directors a definite answer in two weeks."

"I am physical instructor of the Young Men's Christian Association summer school held every year at Lake Geneva, and I I decide to remain in Honolulu. I shall have to ask for a year's leave of absence from the summer school and shall expect to resume my work in that capacity at the expiration of that time."

"An Eastern college man with excellent recommendations is being considered as my probable successor in the gymnasium work of the local association."

Mr. A. J. Coats came to Honolulu a year ago last September from Monmouth College, Illinois, where he had charge of the athletic work, and was pursuing a course of studies when he came to Honolulu.

OAHU POLO CLUB.

Arrangements Made by the Members for Games.

An even dozen of the sportively inclined young gentlemen of Honolulu who are making what must be admitted to be a really creditable attempt to trot tandem with the fashionable B'lingham set of San Francisco met yesterday afternoon in Bishop & Co.'s tea rooms to discuss matters relative to the Oahu Polo Club.

The prospects of a game with the Maui Club were generally discussed and the president was ordered to appoint a committee of three to arrange local games, appoint umpires and make up teams.

It was decided to fix the hand limit for ponies taking part in match games at fourteen two.

A large quantity of balls is expected to be to hand very soon from the States.

Regular practice will take place next Saturday afternoon at Moanalua.

The ultimate cause: "But why is it," asked the thoughtful Chinese, "that I may go to your heaven while I may not go to your country?" The American missionary shrugged his shoulders. "There's no labor vote in heaven!" said he.—Puck.

the Star Dairy for selling adulterated milk. Lombard was caught by the officers in the act of selling watered milk after a number of offenses had wriggled through the hands of the law on technicalities. His undisputed testimony proved that the watered milk he was selling was of the same quality as the milk in all the cans in the wagon he was driving and that he had nothing to do with the milk other than the delivery of it.

As the milk was obviously adulterated at the dairy, this fixed the responsibility upon the manager.

At the time of the arrest, Food Commissioner Shorey said: "Inspector Myhre and myself have taken no less than seven samples of milk from the Star Dairy wagons, which in each case showed that it was below the standard. The percentage of adulterant was sometimes higher and sometimes lower, but all the samples were of milk that had been tampered with."

Before the Star Dairy case nineteen similar cases came up, but the officers had not succeeded in obtaining evidence enough in any of these to warrant summary action. Five were discharged. Five were given suspended sentences and nine were fined.

These impostors have been plying their trade for many months, and many have ascribed the recent large death rate among infants to the use of the watered and unwholesome milk. It is to be hoped that the prompt treatment accorded Manager Doak will serve as a warning to others.

PLAN FOR BALL.

Committees Are
All Hard At Work.

BOXES ARE NOW
ALL PURCHASED

Mardi Gras is an Assured Success--Seating Arrangements Are All Perfected.

A meeting was held in the drill shed yesterday afternoon, the various committees on arrangements for the Mardi Gras ball being represented. Mrs. Graham presided over the meeting.

The first matter brought before the ladies was that of arrangements for seating the spectators. Mrs. Tenney and Mrs. Walker, who had this in charge, submitted a chart providing for the construction of eighteen boxes and two rows of chairs on one side of the hall, the latter to be placed upon an elevated platform overhanging the boxes. The stage was reserved, in the chart, for the band and a few extra seats, but an improvement was suggested by arranging for the band the right hand corner at the other end of the hall, instead of constructing boxes there, the boxes to be placed upon the stage. This arrangement, by removing the band to a corner by itself, left the stage more desirable for seating purposes.

The plans submitted were adopted and approved by Colonel Jones of the First regiment, subject to a few minor changes. The royal throne is to be erected at the head of the hall in front of the stage and the stage reserved for boxes and rows of chairs. The stage will accommodate four boxes and the remaining fourteen are to be built along the sides and in the corners of the hall. All the boxes have already been sold, one being bought for $100, one for $50 and the rest for $25 each.

The seating capacity for spectators, according to the present plans, is calculated at about 500. There will be a row of chairs about the walls for the accommodation of the dancers, and the adjoining rooms will be furnished with chairs for resting during the intervals of the dance.

Mrs. Captain Fuller, at the head of the refreshment committee, reported satisfactory progress. Mr. Joe Gilman has donated a large tent for use as a refreshment room. This is to be erected near the drill shed in the vacant plot, and arrangements are being made for a canvas covering extending out from the entrance of the drill shed. The ground in front of the entrance will be covered with rushes and matting to prevent damage to the floor, which is to be put into first class shape.

On account of the approaching competitive drill, the regiment is using the hall nightly and the work of renovating and arranging the hall will be done so as to interfere as little as possible with the drills. The decorating committee reported the carnival colors agreed upon to be red and green and white and yellow, the decorations, however, not to be confined to these colors in beautifying the hall. Mrs. Elston, at the head of the committee on decorations, reported everything well in hand. It was agreed that the ushers were to carry wands, with streamers of the carnival colors. There are to be twelve ushers, six for receiving and six for seating the spectators. Mr. Hamberg is at the head of these.

Major Potter, master of ceremonies, suggested that some plan of ceremony be agreed upon, but this matter was left until the next meeting, which takes place on Monday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. Mrs. Tenney reported eight hundred tickets already distributed for sale.

Mr. Paris, who drafted the seating chart for Mrs. Tenney and Mrs. Walker, was instructed to proceed with the execution of plans and the various committees were requested to perfect their arrangements and report at the next meeting.

Mrs. Hawes, Mrs. Samuel Parker, Mrs. Elston, Mrs. Miss Scott, Mrs. Dr. McDonald, Mrs. Samuel Damon, Mrs. Dr. Cooper, Mrs. Tenney, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Wm. Allen, Mrs. Jas. Campbell and a number of other ladies were present. Dr. Sloggett of the Infirmary was also present and assisted in the drawing of plans.

Mrs. Graham says that the arrangements are going forward in a very promising manner, and that there is every indication that the Mardi Gras ball of 1901 will be a successful and long remembered event. A mistaken impression has gained currency as to the omission of masking and this the ladies in charge wish to have corrected. No one will be compelled to unmask on entering the door, and unmasking will be optional until midnight, at which time all will be required to remove their masks. No one will be allowed in the grand march or permitted to dance without a mask.

Miss Griswold's Concert.

At her concert to be given in the opera house February 14, Miss Griswold will sing a number of cradle songs in English, French, Scotch and German. Mr. Mott-Smith will play a lullaby on the cello. One of the extremely interesting numbers on the program is the famous quartet from Verdi's Rigoletto.

THE KAISER'S CENSUS REPORT.

The German Emperor was at Letzlingen on December 1, when the census was taken, and he filled up his own card. Under the heading "profession" he wrote "German Emperor, King of Prussia." The card was framed and it is to be kept in the municipal archives of the palace, while a certified copy of it has been made and sent in with the other cards.

Dr. Goodhue of Kauai has sent a request to the Board of Health for an arrangement whereby the public hospital near the McBryde plantation can be utilized by the plantation. They wish to effect arrangements whereby two beds can be secured, the plantation to pay the bulk of the hospital's expenses, the Board of Health to supply the nurse. If this be done, the plantation will agree to meet the cost of feeding all other patients that may be admitted, both native and foreign. The present expense for the nurse is $40 per month. The McBryde plantation will probably erect a hospital of its own shortly at Wahiawa. The Koloa plantation may make use of the new hospital for its sick.

The expense of burying paupers in Honolulu is increasing. Dr. Pratt, executive officer of the Board of Health, reported yesterday that $117.50 was expended during the month of January to bury the City's poor and that the matter was becoming serious from a financial point of view for the Board. He said the dead came mostly from the Victoria Hospital. The money for this purpose was taken from the general expense fund and there was but $600 of this left until the Legislature made its new appropriations. This is sufficient for burying paupers for the next sixty days and leaves a balance besides. Dr. Pratt said he knew the dead already buried by the Board were paupers, as he had investigated each case and found in most cases they were friendly people.

A CONVINCING ANSWER. "I hobbled into Mr. Blackmon's drug store one evening," says Wesley Nelson, of Hamilton, Ga., "and he asked me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, with which I had suffered for a long time. I told him I had no faith in any medicine as they all failed. He said: 'Well, if Chamberlain's Pain Balm does not help you, you need not pay for it.' I took a bottle of it home and used it according to the directions and in one week I was cured, and have not since been troubled with rheumatism." For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents.
