BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

JOHN C. WHITE

John Coyle White was born on a small tenant farm near Newport in Clay County, Texas, on November 26, 1924, the third and youngest child of Ed H. and Carrie Lou White. He attended rural schools and graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1942. Entering Texas Technological College at Lubbock on a $100 Sears Foundation scholarship, White worked his way through college. He graduated in June 1946 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture.

His first employment was with a farm equipment company in West Texas and in February 1947 he joined the staff of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, Texas. As coordinator of the university's network of vocational agriculture schools, the schools grew to an attendance of more than 1,000 veterans in 42 classes, the largest in the state.

Dissatisfaction with the poor enforcement of the state's seed laws and its effect on farmers spurred White to seek the post of Commissioner of Agriculture. In 1950, at the age of 25, he entered the race and defeated a field of five candidates, including the incumbent who had held the office for 20 years.

The following January, White assumed leadership of the top state farm post as the youngest man ever elected to a statewide political office in Texas. For 12 succeeding elections White was returned to office by the voters without the necessity of a run-off in any contest.

During his tenure, White expanded activities of the department from an obscure regulatory agency to a vital organization which was commended as a model for other state offices. The Texas Research League, the Texas Legislature, and state auditors cited his department for efficiency, economy, and effectiveness.

On March 9, 1977, Mr. White was appointed by President Carter to the position of Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, bringing his years of experience as a government administrator to one of the top posts among Federal agencies.

Throughout his public career, Mr. White's efforts on behalf of the Democratic Party have been constant. (See attachment).

Mr. White and Mrs. White, the former Wynelle Watson, have five children and two grandchildren. He is a member of the First Baptist Church in Washington, D.C.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY AFFAIRS

In 26 years of public life, White has remained dedicated to state and national Democratic Party policies and candidates.

- 1952 He was the only statewide office candidate in Texas to refuse the Republican Party's offer to crossfile his name on their general election ballot, despite the threat of a Republican sweep with the "I like Ike" sentiment. The practice of crossfiling has since been ruled illegal in Texas.

During the fall months, he campaigned vigorously in Texas for the Democratic candidate, Adlai Stevenson, the only state official to do so, in opposition to Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

- 1953 The first of a long series of national party activities began with his selection by Party Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell to serve on the National Democratic Policy agricultural panel in Chicago.
- 1954 He was named to serve on National Democratic Committee public power and industrial panel, in Miami, Florida, aimed at diverting the Republican Administration efforts to reduce drastically the R.E.A. and T.V.A. funds and goals.
- 1956 White organized and headed the "Farmers for Stevenson" Committee in Texas and campaigned actively for the Democratic Party against the Eisenhower-Nixon team.
- 1960 Once again, he coordinated rural-city voter efforts in the election of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson, who carried Texas. He was also a delegate to the Democratic Convention in Los Angeles.
- 1964 After serving as a delegate to the 1964 convention, White was picked by President Johnson as organizer in Texas for the "Rural Texans for Johnson-Humphrey" Committee. He campaigned personally for the Democratic ticket, which carried the state by close to a 2 to 1 margin.
- 1968 Hubert Humphrey selected White to head his statewide campaign in rural Texas. Humphrey carried Texas, despite Richard M. Nixon's national victory.

1972 With Democratic fortunes at a low ebb, White was one of only two state officials to pursue active public efforts on behalf of Candidate George McGovern. White was co-chairman of the McGovern campaign in Texas.

In addition, he shared in formulating agricultural platform proposals for the 1972 national campaign.

1974 White served on the Executive Committee of the Democratic Charter Commission and was chairman of the Texas delegation to the mini-convention of 1974. As a member of the Executive Committee which finalized the draft charter, he authored the language which provides for proportional representation in presidential elections. In addition, he initiated formulation of the judiciary council to mediate party disputes.

1976 White was asked by his longtime personal friend, Senator Lloyd Bentsen, to lead his "favorite son" candidacy in his home state. After Bentsen released his delegates, White endorsed the Jimmy Carter candidacy and joined Governor Dolph Briscoe, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and other state officials in Democratic campaign activities in Texas. Gov. Carter carried Texas as a part of his national victory.
