

THE LEGISLATURE

CIGARS FROM HAWAIIAN GROWN TOBACCO ARE SENT TO BOTH HOUSES OF THE LEGISLATURE BY DR. JARED SMITH—THE AGES AND OTHER SOCIAL CONDITIONS OF SCHOOL TEACHERS—ANOTHER SUNDAY LAW IN THE SENATE.

THE SENATE.
Before the Senate was called to order this morning there was a joint meeting of the Education Committee of both houses, but nothing was done pending the receipt of the report of the Superintendent of Education. The senators were all present when the senior house was called to order.

THE HOUSE.
There was a slim attendance at the House of Representatives this morning but at all events there were enough members present to form the desired quorum. Treasurer A. J. Campbell reported that when he opened the office yesterday morning he had on hand $61,008.74.

IWALANI'S RETURN

THE STEAMER ARRIVED THIS MORNING FROM JOHNSTON ISLANDS WITH LARGE QUANTITY OF SAMPLES OF GUANO FROM THAT PLACE—HAD GOOD WEATHER DURING STAY BUT ISLAND IS DANGEROUS PLACE FOR VESSELS TO VISIT.

The steamer Iwalani, Captain Plitz, arrived this morning from her mysterious trip. As had been exclusively stated in the Star the vessel went to Johnston or Cornwallis islands. Messrs. Underwood and Brown went to those islands for the purpose of prospecting for guano. They brought back a quantity of sacks and tins of guano and will no doubt have the stuff analyzed.

KAHUKU DIVIDENDS

THIS LONG ESTABLISHED PLANTATION OF THE WINDWARD SIDE OF THE ISLAND HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING AND HEARS REPORTS OF OFFICERS—THE NEW MILL.

The annual meeting of Kahuku Plantation Company was held this morning at the office of the agents, Alexander & Baldwin, in the Stangenwald building.

The operating expenses, including interest as shown by the treasurer's report were $381,758.58 of which $151,528.90 was for material and $180,229.68 was for labor. The gross receipts from the sale of 6340.1875 tons of sugar at $79.835 a ton was $504,900.84. The total net proceeds were $415,515.33.

The report of the manager, Andrew Adams, was an interesting one and sets forth fully the physical condition of the property.

It was decided that in view of the very favorable outlook and the prosperous year that the plantation was enjoying that there should be paid a dividend of three per cent on March 31, and one per cent a month thereafter, making twelve per cent for the year. The stockholders recommended to the directors the consideration of an extra dividend later in the year, to compensate the stockholders in part for the fact that dividends have not been paid, owing to the conservative policy of the plantation, for a part of the time that the plantation had actually been earning them.

The question of quarterly or monthly dividends was brought up and was very fully discussed. C. M. Cooke, among others, urged monthly dividends.

He said that in Hawaii, more than in any other part of the world, perhaps, persons of small and moderate means invested their surplus in local corporations. The business of the community was more and more being brought to a monthly settlement basis. It would make it all the harder for retail business houses to insist on monthly payment of bills, if the large corporations, from which a large proportion of persons of moderate means drew a part of their income, paid their dividends on a quarterly basis. He hoped that there would be no thought of a change from a monthly to a quarterly basis in dividends. This sentiment seemed to be practically unanimous.

The following are the officers for the year: President, W. R. Castle, vice-president, C. M. Cooke; treasurer, J. P. Cooke; secretary, G. M. Rolph; auditor, D. E. Murdock; directors in addition, L. T. Peck and George F. Davies.

FOREST FIRE A SERIOUS CONFLAGRATION

FORESTER HOSMER TAKEN TO HAWAII BY THE REVENUE CUTTER BEAR, TO ORGANIZE A CORPS OF FIRE-FIGHTERS—THE FIRE HAS BECOME DANGEROUS AND CHECKING IT WILL PROBABLY BE A BIG TASK.

As a result of a wireless message received by Land Commissioner Pratt this morning, indicating that the forest fire on Hawaii is becoming a very serious matter, the Revenue Cutter Bear today took Forester Hosmer as a passenger to the island, where he will at once organize a brigade of fire-fighters and try to stop the spread of the conflagration. The last forest fire of the kind, in Hamakua, burned for many weeks and did untold damage, and every effort will be made to stop the present fire. The message received this morning was from McDougall, and read as follows:

"Kauapuna fire raging, very serious, hundreds acres, wind southerly." The southerly wind, unless it brings rain, is an unfavorable condition, as it will tend to drive the fire further into the mountains. Such a fire once well started travels along a foot or more under the surface, burning slowly but after mile among the old vegetable matter which contains the undergrowth of the forest. It is impossible to see the progress of the fire because it is hidden, but the flames destroy all the undergrowth and even the trees which are not burned are killed, while the district area laid bare is only made fertile again with difficulty.

"The only way to stop such a fire," said Representative Greenwell, whose home is in Aona, "is by digging a deep trench completely around it. To clear a thick forest and dig such a trench is a tremendous task, yet this is what will have to be done to stop this fire from travelling."

A conference was held on the subject of the fire this morning by Land Commissioner Pratt, Greenwell, F. S. Dodge and J. O. Carter, representing the Bishop Estate, and Hosmer. It was decided that the latter should start at once. The Bear will take him to Mahukona or Kawaihine and he hopes to get a steam launch further on the coast. If not he will travel overland as fast as possible and he will at once organize a force to combat the fire.

Outbreak At Kilauea Is Rapidly Increasing

MANAGER WIGHT OF WILDER S. S. COMPANY ADVISED BY WIRELESS THIS MORNING OF PROGRESS OF THE OUTBREAK—THERE IS A CONTINUOUS FIRE IN THE CONE ABOUT 100 FEET IN DIAMETER—EXCURSION TOMORROW.

The outbreak at Kilauea is increasing. This morning President Wight of the Wilder S. S. Company received the following wireless message from the Hilo agent of the company.

"HILO, February 25.—Crater active on each side. Continuous fire in cone about 100 feet in diameter. Frequent explosions. Lava overflow covers fully one half acre. Apparently increasing. 'McKAY.'"

President Wight states that the last sentence refers to the general activity of the volcano and not to the mere lava overflow.

The steamer Kinau will leave some time tomorrow afternoon on a special trip to Hilo so that persons desiring to visit the Volcano can do so. Persons leaving by the Kinau can reach Hilo the following day and can return by the steamer leaving Hilo Friday for the price of the regular fare whereas if they remain but one day at the volcano there rate will be $5 less, returning by the Kinau the first of the week.

All inquiries regarding the trip should be made at Trent & Co's where tickets are sold. Trent & Co. will be open today and tomorrow for the sale of tickets.

MAGOON ACCUSED

SIDNEY M. BALLOU FILES A STATEMENT IN THE SUPREME COURT ON WHICH ATTORNEY GENERAL ANDREWS IS ORDERED TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION OF MAGOON'S CONDUCT—ALLEGED BETRAYAL OF INTERESTS OF A CLIENT.

The following was presented to the Supreme Court this morning:

"To the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii:
"I deem it my duty as a member of the bar of this Honorable Court to bring formally to the attention of the Court the acts and conduct of J. Alfred Magoon, an attorney of this court, as shown by the record in the case of L. H. Dee vs. W. H. Smith, lately heard and decided by the court.

"I charge that the uncontradicted evidence in that case shows:

"1. That J. Alfred Magoon, while acting as attorney for certain judgment creditors, stockholders of the Kamalo Sugar Company, Ltd., accepted a retaining fee from Frank Hustace, one of the joint judgment debtors, in the matter of advising him how to escape from the full liability of the judgment, thereby acting at the same time and in the same matters for two clients whose interests were diametrically opposed.

"2. That J. Alfred Magoon advised said Frank Hustace to make a deed of all his property to a third person, the necessary effect of which would be to hinder, delay and defraud his creditors, including the stockholders of the Kamalo Sugar Company, Ltd., for whom J. Alfred Magoon was then acting as attorney.

"3. That said J. Alfred Magoon after having given the advice aforesaid and while retaining the retaining paid by Frank Hustace, betrayed the interests of his client, Hustace, by not proceeding against the co-defendants of said Hustace as agreed, but on the contrary causing execution to be levied on certain property conveyed by said Hustace and after sale attacking said conveyances as fraudulent.

"In respect of which I request this Honorable Court to cause such investigation to be made or proceedings to be brought as it may deem proper in the premises.

"SIDNEY M. BALLOU.

The court immediately ordered the matter referred to the Attorney General and a copy of Ballo's complaint was sent to Andrews with a communication from the clerk as follows:

"A complaint, of which the enclosed is a copy, having been presented to the court this day, it was ordered that it be referred to the Attorney General.

"GEORGE LUCAS, Clerk."

Andrews will proceed to make an investigation of the charges brought against Magoon, and will bring disbarment or other proceedings, or make a report to the court, according to his conclusion on the evidence.

HE HAD BEEN VOTED

FRANK REMILLARD'S EXPERIENCE AT THE POLLS LAST ELECTION DAY—ELECTION WORKERS DIDN'T THINK HE WAS COMING AND SO THEY VOTED HIM AND THEN HE ARRIVED—WAS PAID HIS EXPENSES.

Frank Remillard, who arrived at his polling place on election day to find that he had "been voted," testified before Judge Dole yesterday in the election hearing. Remillard said after being sworn that he was called back just as he was entering the polling place to vote. "We thought you weren't coming and you've already been voted," is what he was told.

Remillard had a strange preference for casting his own vote, and he proceeded to register clicks at a very rapid rate. A rough house was threatened. In fact, according to his testimony yesterday, but he was finally persuaded to overlook being voted, in the interests of peace. "Things" had been going "so nicely" all day, he was told, that it was a positive shame to have trouble toward evening, which was the time at which he put in an appearance.

Remillard appreciated the desirability of having things go nicely, but at the same time he remarked that he was out $6.75 on his day's work and his trip to Honolulu to vote. Sam Johnson, he said, paid over the $6.75 and thus peace was restored and things continued to go nicely.

Kallepue testified as an employee of the Public Works Department. He declared that he had been ordered by lunas to attend Republican meetings and to keep away from Democratic or Home Rule oratory and "vote the Republican," under penalty of losing his job.

At the conclusion of this morning's testimony the case was adjourned to Monday. Next week Attorney Watson will go to Maui, to collect depositions there for the contestant, while Galbraith will proceed with the hearing in Honolulu.

THE "FOREST CITY" ART PORTFOLIOS

Constitute a Complete and Artistic Pictorial and Descriptive History

OF THE

SO THOROUGHLY does this Great Exposition represent the world's civilization that if all men's other works were, by some unspeakable catastrophe, blotted out, the record here established would afford a necessary standard for the re-establishment of our entire civilization. And, just as the Louisiana Purchase Exposition held within its gates an epitome of the civilization of to-day, so the Forest City Portfolios are a complete record and reflex of the great Exposition. This great World's Fair, one of the most remarkable undertakings in the history of American civilization and progress, will inspire many pens, but no history of the great event can compare with the one written on the grounds by Secretary Stevens and illustrated with 480 magnificent photographic reproductions, which transfer the Exposition to the printed page.

Try Just One Bottle of PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND The Celebrated Nerve Tonic and Tonic.

MISS CLAUDIA KARR. The First Bottle of Paine's Celery Compound Helped Her—Brought Back Perfect Health.

No other tonic in the world is like Paine's Celery Compound; no other remedy takes so simple and scientific a way to perform its wonders as this remedy and vitalizer discovered by the eminent Prof. Edward E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University.

It gives your system nature's nerve food—Celery—and through the inner nerves gives instant power and vigor to every organ and function of the body.

"About two years ago my general health began to decline. I lost my appetite and became nervous and irritable. Happening to read an advertisement for Paine's Celery Compound, I decided to try it. The FIRST BOTTLE HELPED ME, and I am now in perfect health."—Miss Claudia Karr, Pittsburgh, Pa.

No other remedy purifies so gently and so quickly. Paine's Celery Compound is the only remedy that purifies without purging or weakening the system in any way.

SUNDAY LAW AS QUINN SEES IT

MEMBER FROM THE FOURTH INTRODUCES A LIBERAL MEASURE AT YESTERDAY'S SESSION.

Representative Quinn introduced his threatened Sunday observance bill at yesterday afternoon's session of the House. It was read a first time by title. The bill provides that all labor on Sunday is forbidden but that this shall not apply to newspaper printing offices, steamship companies, railroads, telegraph and telephone companies, hotels, inns, restaurants, cigar stores, ice cream parlors, soda water stands, drug stores, livery stables, hackmen, owners and operators of licensed shore boats, news depots, farmers, graziers, ranchmen, electric light plants, gas works and slaughter houses. During the entire day milk, bread and ice may be sold and delivered and until nine in the forenoon fresh meat, fish, fruit and vegetables may be sold and delivered. Barber shops may be kept open until 11 o'clock. The section respecting amusements is amended to read that no sport or game shall be played in such a manner as to be a common nuisance on Sunday.

A letter from the Governor announced that he had signed the House appropriation bill and had communicated that fact to the Treasurer.

Secretary Charles of the Board of Health wrote asking for copies of all bills on health matters.

The recommendations for appropriations for the Fire Department of Honolulu were submitted in a letter from Superintendent Holloway. They contained suggestions for new fire stations at Waikiki and in Nuuanu valley.

The list of salaries of the Police Department was submitted and referred to the printing committee.

The county act joint committee of both houses met in the Senate Chamber at 1:30 p. m. and organized by the election of Representative Holstein as chairman and Representative Long as Secretary.

Copies of the various county acts already introduced were furnished to the members of the committee, and an adjournment taken until tomorrow at noon to fix a time to begin work in earnest on county government.

CHINESE AND EGGS.

A German epicure comes to the rescue of the Chinese with the statement that the orientals do not eat bad eggs. They merely put the eggs away in lime until they get to be about the thickness of butter, when they are eaten. The German says that eggs in this condition are very nice. No American is apt to dispute him.

Magoon And The Bar Association

The Bar Association owes it to itself and to the legal profession to take note of the characterization of J. Alfred Magoon, made by the Supreme Court, from the bench, in deciding a case in which he was an attorney of record and in which his professional conduct was an issue, and it would seem, a determining factor. So strongly did his conduct appeal to the Supreme Court that without waiting for the conclusion of the argument, orally and summarily, the court decided against Mr. Magoon's client, because his case, being bound up with Mr. Magoon's professional conduct in it, was declared to be inequitable, and to have been brought without that necessary pre-requisite in equity, "clean hands."

This is not the first time Mr. Magoon's professional conduct has been excoriated by the courts. In this very case, the Circuit Judge before whom it was heard, Judge Gear, went more fully into denunciation of his professional conduct than the Supreme Court did. The gist of the charge against Magoon is that he went into court to declare void for fraud, a deed the making of which he had himself advised, and against a man whose retainer he held in the very matter out of which the litigation grew. Mr. Magoon, in a communication to the Advertiser, seeks to parry the thrust, by saying that the retainer was inadequate. But so far from that being either defense or mitigation, to any mind having a clear ideal of a lawyer's duty to his client, it is aggravation of the offense.

The charges against Magoon, as they are forcefully and straightforwardly stated by Judge Gear, make the offense charged in the proceedings growing out of the John K. Sumner case, pale into insignificance. The same offense is charged in equally strong, though not in quite so direct language by the Supreme Court. A mere statement of the case, even Magoon's statement of it, as he has stated it over his own signature, puts it up to the Bar Association to begin proceedings for disbarment, or to condone a breach of one of the fundamental principles of legal ethics.

But the case of Dee against Smith, is not the first case in which Magoon has been charged from the bench with conduct that ought to have driven him from the bar. In the case of Christley against Magoon, in both the Circuit and the Supreme Courts, he was excoriated, as no man sensitive to his professional reputation would allow himself to be without taking every possible means to secure vindication, and as no man ought to be without proceedings following which would either result in his vindication or his disbarment.

At the time that the Christley case was tried and the decision in the Supreme Court was rendered, there was not perhaps as keen an appreciation in the profession of its own honor as there is now, or at least as there ought to be. It was a time of transition and uncertainty, and in the nature of things, professional esprit du corps, might excusably, not have been as strong as it ought to be now. At any rate, the bar at that time proved itself less sensitive to its own honor, than the bench did, and, though proceedings were talked of at that time, they were never brought.

But many things have happened since then. Higher standards are accepted now, and it does not seem possible that the Bar Association can allow the reproach from the bench in this case to go unheeded.

The clear-cut statement of his official position in such matters, by the Attorney General, as published in The Star last evening, makes clearer than it would have been without that statement, the duty of the Bar Association. The publicity of the charges against Magoon as well as their seriousness, calls loudly for action by the profession. The Bar Association is the recognized means through which the profession acts in such matters. It is up to the Bar Association to act, if the Bar is to maintain its self respect, or the confidence of the public.

Rojestvensky As a Charlie Ross

Great White Bear it is the wisest move that the Admiral has made. The Admiral evidently maneuvers upon the theory that he who hides and steams away may live to fight another day.

Morale more than numbers contributes to gain victories. The Russian fleet may have the numbers but the morale of the men is absolutely nil. Even the French who have secretly been aiding the Russians as far as they dared and who almost to a man hope to see Russian success, have been forced to admit the utter incompetency of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet. In a recent issue of the Army and Navy Journal there was published a translation of a letter from a French naval officer at Madagascar regarding the condition of the Russian fleet. This officer had been aboard the Russian vessels and was able to form a correct estimate of the condition of the fleet and the morale of the men and officers. According to his statements the conditions were simply deplorable. He frankly admitted that the Russians were going to certain and swift destruction. The fleet was, he said, so lumbered up with stock and stores of all descriptions that the men and officers had absolutely no practice in gun work. No efforts had been made to give the men target practice for the reason that it was impossible to do so. Owing to the fact that the fleet had no ports at which it could call for general stores on the way to the Far East, the various vessels had to be crowded in every possible nook and cranny with stores. Naturally this overloading of the vessels which had not been designed for any such service hampered the work of the officers and men and prevented any possibility of giving the men training and drill.

The crews were, the officer continued, a pack of ignorant men with scarcely any sea training whatever on warships. They were an undisciplined lot and in their present condition were utterly hopeless. The officers would be unable to give them any instruction before they had an engagement with the Japanese. The morale of the men was very low, for both officers and sailors seemed to appreciate the fact that instead of going to raise the honor of their nation they were going to certain doom. The fact which seemed to impress the French naval officer the most was that the men had had absolutely no practice in shooting. In fact they had been given practically no instruction in the handling of the big guns.

Admiral Rojestvensky was, the writer said, an up-to-date scientific naval officer, but he was unable to put the proper spirit into his men or the proper life into his fleet. He was at that time ill with appendicitis and was a very ill man, unable to direct affairs. His condition naturally had a most depressing effect upon the officers and men under him. The Frenchman declared, in conclusion, that it was folly for the Russians to venture against the Japanese for the latter would, beyond any question, annihilate them. He also declared that had the Japanese boldly ventured to attack the Russians at Madagascar the complete destruction of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet would have been inevitable. It was thought that the Japanese had missed a glorious opportunity in not striking at the Russians in Madagascar waters.

It is indeed doubtful if the Russian fleet ever goes to the waters of the Far East, aside from the possibility of the Japanese fleet engaging them. If Admiral Togo's vessels engage Admiral Rojestvensky's warships there will be little prospect of the Russians ever rounding the Straits Settlement, but aside from this possibility, it is more than probable that the Russians will not send their fleet to inevitable doom. Some excuse will probably be found to recall the fleet. Still if there were the slightest chance of Rojestvensky breaking the sea power of the Japanese it would be well worth the attempt. But there is not the remotest possibility of such an occurrence. Rojestvensky's vessels will simply be chewed up by Togo's bulldozes and the humiliation of the Russian nation will be even greater than the fate of the other warships and the defeats of the land forces have entailed.

The mango trees are full of blossoms and hundreds of small boys are watching them with impatient eyes.

In the volume of its testimony the Jones trial now going on breaks all previous records here. The case would be a notable one anywhere in the world and it will long be remembered here.

In view of the continued failure of the Russians to win any victories it is not strange that the talk of replacing Kuropatkin should be hard to down.

Gorky, the Russian writer who was recently arrested, is reported to have been released on bail of $2,500. As a news item that is interesting, but it would be even more interesting to know where Gorky got the $2,500.

It is worthy of comment that not one Russian general has been made a field marshal since the war began. In the old days no general officer could be promoted to field marshal's rank unless he had won a crowning victory. Possibly the same rule obtains now.

The Treasurer added a note to the effect that the last call for registered warrants will use up the current cash now on hand.

Desiring to give your august body the most complete information upon the work of this department I would request further information from the honorable gentlemen who presented this resolution," wrote Alatau T. Atkinson, "Superintendent of Public Instruction to the House of Representatives this morning in answer to a request for information as to the private lives of the different school teachers.

Firstly the Superintendent wanted to know if he is to count all Hawaiians and others born on the islands as American citizens.

Then the delicate question as to the age of school teachers, crops up and Mr. Atkinson says that no record of ages has been kept since the department was founded in 1840. As it seems altogether probable that several of the teachers now employed were born since 1840 it will require correspondence to get the necessary information.

The department being supposed to be out of politics the Superintendent stated that he does not ask whether a teacher is a voter or not.

Also he does not know whether the ladies employed by the Department are widows or not.

"No record is kept in this office of such social conditions," wrote the Superintendent though many people have felt that the state of widowhood is a most unusual condition.

The Superintendent also wants further information on the question of the pay rolls as the school districts and the elective districts are separate entities.

A letter was received from Jared G. Smith, accompanied by a box of cigars made from Hawaiian grown tobacco from Hamakua. There were half a dozen motions from different chairmen of committees to the effect that the cigars should be referred to them and after a little good natured chaff the letter was read. Representative Andrade meanwhile hung on to the smokers as may have been expected from the chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

The Reference committee reported adversely on the bills introduced by Representative Kanoho to send youths abroad to be educated and to prohibit the employment of other than voters on public works. The former is contrary to the letter of the Organic Act and the latter is provided for in other bills before the House. Representative Kanoho's bill relating to attorneys at law was sent on to the printing committee.

The health committee reported that in view of the prospective visit to the Leper Settlement it would defer action on the proposition to allow beer and wine to be sold to the lepers. An extension of time on the other matters referred to the committee was asked. The committee on public lands and Internal Improvements reported adversely on the proposition to appropriate $15,000 for a road from Kailua to Kilauea as the project was considered impracticable.

MONGOLIA DUE TOMORROW.

The R. S. Mongolia is due tomorrow morning from the Orient. She will have 1,400 tons of cargo to discharge and may not get away for San Francisco until Monday forenoon.

IN THE SENATE

says Achi and Kalama. Achi was busy in a committee room, and so was not far away, having been in the chamber a few minutes earlier showing the senators an error he had discovered in the Revised Statutes, and Kalama came in before the roll call was concluded.

It was apparent from the start the day's session would be short. Several senators, indeed, expressed a purpose to adjourn early to give the committee a chance to work, the Senate itself being well ahead of its labors.

A communication from the House returned Senate Bill 10, passed with certain minor amendments. The Senate concurred in the amendments. This is the bill to adopt the Revised Statutes. The Printing Committee made the usual report.

The Committee on Public Expenditures reported in favor of the bill to use typewriters in making public records. Report adopted, and the bill will come up for third reading on Tuesday. McCandless gave notice of the introduction of a new Sunday law, passed first reading by title. To the Printing Committee. The bill in its principal is as follows:

Sec. 1. Sunday within the meaning of the provisions of this Act is the first day of the week and includes the time between the midnight preceding and the midnight following the same day.

Sec. 2. All labor on Sunday shall be conducted as far as possible so as not to interfere with the right of the community and of each individual to quiet and repose.

Sec. 3. All amusements, sports, shows and games on Sunday shall be so conducted as not to interfere with the right of the community and of each individual to quiet and repose.

Sec. 4. Except as otherwise provided, no person shall serve or execute any civil process on Sunday and any such service or execution shall be void.

Sec. 5. Whoever wilfully interrupts or disturbs any religious assembly or assembly for religious worship, whether such offender commit such offense within or without the place of assembly and whether such offense be committed on the Lord's day or at any other time, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor not more than thirty days, or by fine not exceeding fifteen dollars, in the discretion of the court.

Senator Paria introduced a general license act. The bill passed first reading by title and went to the Printing Committee.

Dickey introduced a resolution appropriating various sums for school improvements on Maui. Referred to the Committee on Education.

Dickey presented a report from the Revision Committee on the Hayselden Milk bill.

Hayselden introduced a resolution appropriating certain sums of money for improvements on Maui. Sent to Special Committee on Loan Bill. These resolutions, among other things, call for $50,000 for a fire station at Hono-koua.

A letter from Jared G. Smith accompanied a box of cigars made from Hamakua tobacco was laid on the President's table. The communication was filed, the cigars distributed, and a letter of thanks ordered sent to Jared G. Smith.

Senate Bill 28, which is the Hayselden Milk bill, came up on second reading, and the Revision Committee's report, now properly signed, was taken up with the bill. The bill was read section by section, and passed. The Milk bill will be read for the third time on Monday.

JUROR WHO MISUNDERSTOOD OR HAD A VERY BAD MEMORY

DECLARES THAT THE JURY IN THE LAST JONES MURDER TRIAL FOUND THAT THE PROSECUTION HAD FAILED TO SHOW THAT JONES DID THE SHOOTING AND THINKS HE NEVER HEARD THE JONES CONFESSION.

One of the twelve men who heard the trial of the last Jones murder case is authority for the statement that the jurors did not base their verdict of not guilty on the insanity plea, but acquitted the defendant because the prosecution did not prove that he ever did the shooting that caused his victim's death. This juror declared, in fact, that there was no discussion of insanity in the jury room. "The killing had not been proved," in a discussion of the famous trial, "and we had to return a verdict of not guilty anyhow. The prosecution was so absorbed in the insanity proposition in the case that it forgot to prove the crime."

The juror was asked about the effect of the testimony of the car conductor who fled from the scene as Jones was discharging his weapon, but he declared that this was not regarded as proof that Jones did the shooting. In reply to a reference to Jones' own confession, the juror stated that it had been read but was not heard. "The confession was not allowed to reach the jury," said this one of the twelve men who tried the famous case.

Investigation of the circuit court records reveals the fact that the confession did go in, as is well remembered by most people who know anything about the case. It was duly read to the jury and its statements formed an important part of the long hypothetical question which brought forth medical testimony that Jones was insane.

consists of two islands Johnston Island proper and Agnes Island, about a mile apart. The islands are enclosed by a coral reef. The larger island, Johnston is about half a mile by a quarter of a mile in extent and is not more than 45 feet in height. The island is overgrown with grass except in one spot near the tallest part.

Messrs. Underwood and Brown were ashore Saturday, Sunday and Monday engaged in prospecting. They visited both islands, but most of the time was passed on the larger island. Quantities of birds were found in the islands and a number of the birds were brought back. The waters about the islands abound in fish. The guano deposits appear to be quite extensive at least so the variety of samples secured by the expedition would indicate. "Perfect weather prevailed during the visit. The steamer left Monday night and arrived at Manamaulu yesterday morning where she loaded about 4,000 bags of sugar and came on to Honolulu this morning. Messrs. Underwood and Brown left the steamer as soon as she reached the wharf and went to the Young Hotel from where they later went to St. Louis College to arrange about having some bird skins cured.

Johnston Island was discovered December 14, 1897 by Captain Charles James Johnston in the British warship Cornwallis. The islands have therefore been known by both names. The Wilkes expedition visited the island in 1840 and in 1858 the islands are understood to have been registered in the Customs House at San Francisco as American territory. In 1859 Lieutenant John L. Brooke of the U. S. schooner Fenimore Cooper visited the islands and surveyed them. He made a note on his charts to the effect that the Pacific Guano Company of San Francisco had claim to the islands. In 1897 the British warship Champion visited the islands and annexed the place to Great Britain. A survey of the place was made by this expedition. The survey by the British vessel was better than that made by the American officer.

The Iwalani expedition found no trace of the wreck of the whaler but a broken scow, car wheels and other wreckage of the guano company's plant were found. Messrs. Underwood and Brown stated that they had authority from the State Department to visit the islands and explore the guano deposits.

For the Skin

You cannot have a clear and smooth skin unless the blood is pure. Itches, eruptions, rashes, pimples, all show how impure the blood must be. First all impurities out of your blood before you are seriously ill.

Miss Dorothy Maher, of Fitzroy, Victoria, sends her photograph and this letter: "I had a terrible eruption on my face, which was of a very irritating nature. I tried many blood medicines, but without relief. Friends told me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as it was a most famous blood remedy. I did so, and after taking only two bottles I began to see a great change. By the time the third bottle was used the eruption had entirely disappeared, and without leaving a mark on my face. I am perfectly well now, and I owe it all to this great blood-purifying remedy."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get Ayer's.

Correct any tendency to constipation with Ayer's Pills. They are sugar-coated, easy to take, mild in action. A family laxative.

A GOOD YEAR FOR KAHUKU

To the President and Directors of the Kahuku Plantation Company.

Gentlemen—I beg to submit herewith my report for the year ending the 31st December, 1904.

CROP OF 1904.

The yield of sugar from our own fields of this Crop was 1,155 tons less than the estimate given in my last annual report. This large shortage was due principally to the unprecedented rainfall during February, March and April. The rainfall for these three months was 48.53 inches, which was 5.58 inches more than the rainfall for any other whole year since the first rain records were made at Kahuku in 1890. Several fields were badly flooded and a considerable acreage had much the appearance of a marsh for many weeks. Much cane was buried with soil and debris.

As a result the cost of harvesting and manufacturing was increased to a figure out of proportion to the tonnage harvested and manufactured. In some instances there were as high as 400 lbs. of mud to a three ton car of cane brought to the cane carrier, and a stream of water was kept playing on the carrier to remove as much of the soil as possible. The juices never recovered their purity. The sucrose content of the cane for the remainder of the season was low.

The yield of the fields harvested before the storm justified, I believe, the estimate for the Crop made at the beginning of the year. Field 3, for instance, 165 acres of long second ratoons, yielded 5.37 tons of sugar per acre. This field was being harvested when the storm came. The return from the first 60 acres of this field was 6.56 tons of sugar per acre. Operations were suspended for five days because of the excess of water and soil. Although with but 105 acres more to harvest, the final results for the whole field were as above stated.

The cost of fertilizing and cultivating this Crop during the year 1903 was greater than for several crops. This expense, together with the additional cost of harvesting and manufacturing brought the total cost of the Crop to over $50.00 per ton of sugar produced. I estimate a loss to the Plantation of at least $75,000.00 on this Crop. The price of sugar obtained during the latter part of the season compensated in part for this loss, however. With the full crop the year would have closed with but a very small balance due the Agents.

CROP OF 1905.

This Crop consists of 539.40 acres of plant cane, 533.54 acres of long ratoons and 387.06 acres of short ratoons, a total of 1,460 acres. The acreage of short ratoons would have been greater by 100 acres if the Malaekahana valley field could have been harvested in time.

The growth of this crop was considerably retarded during the early months of the year by the same severe storm which destroyed much of the 1904 Crop. Portions of two fields of plant cane were badly injured by a disease new to Kahuku which Mr. R. C. L. Perkins identified as "Java Top-Rot." Several acres of cane were cut out in April and a fresh growth started. These same fields were also injured by rust and by the borer. The lower part of field 2, a plant cane field bordering on the swamp near the Mill, was under water for several weeks. The borer consequently became pretty generally established in this and in the other plant cane fields where similar conditions prevailed. These fields had a good growth during the hot summer months.

This Crop should yield 7,000 tons of sugar from Kahuku fields, and about 450 tons from our share of Laie sugar.

Work of harvesting this Crop commenced on the 5th of December and grinding on the 7th, two days later. Because of the presence of the borer and to guard against a possible repetition of last year's storm, the fields most liable to injury from both these sources were harvested first, although the juices of the plant cane were not in as good condition as were those of the ratoons on the higher elevations. At the present writing the lower fields have been harvested. On the 31st of December 1,006 tons of sugar of this Crop had been manufactured.

None of the fields of short ratoons of this Crop flowered freely, so that a considerable additional growth to the time of harvesting will not only give a better yield but will also make it possible to have first-class seed cane from the tops for planting.

The Crop is in general looking well, and there is every prospect that it will come up to the estimate.

CROP OF 1906.

This Crop will consist of 428.58 acres of plant cane, 520 acres of long ratoons and probably about 650 acres of short ratoons, making a total crop of about 1,600 acres. With favorable weather this acreage should yield about the same tonnage of sugar as the Crop of 1905.

A greater acreage of plant cane was proposed for this Crop, but because of the storm the steam plowing engines were unable to operate during the three months of February, March and April. As a result it was impossible to get the desired acreage prepared for planting. This deficit will be made up by carrying on a greater acreage of short ratoons.

Of the fields intended for short ratoons, 275 acres are already under cultivation. This acreage is on some of the most productive soil on the plantation and the results therefrom should be favorable.

IMPROVEMENTS.

The improvements for the year were chiefly in the Mill and Machinery, on which $47,482.79 were expended. The principal item of this expense was $30,000.00, the final payment to the Honolulu Iron Works Company for the mill installed in 1903. Payment was also made during the year for four crystallizers manufactured by the same company.

These crystallizers are now in successful operation in working up low grade massecuites, and because of their use no low grades have been put into cisterns during the present year. The extraction obtained by the new mill last year was 94.18% of sucrose in cane. The record of extraction up to and including the 4th of February of the present season was 95.81% of sucrose in cane.

Several additional storm ditches were completed during the year, among which was one in field 3, which field was badly damaged by the storm of 1904. It is gratifying to note that this ditch successfully carried off the flood waters of 5 inches of rain which fell on the day following that on which the ditch was completed. Other ditches will be constructed during the present year, so that the cane fields will soon be better insured against flood damage.

PESTS.

The leaf-hopper practically disappeared from the young cane during the last few months of the year. With the coming of cold weather, however, the hopper has again made an appearance, although not in alarming numbers. Two colonies of parasites obtained by the Entomologists in Queensland have been established in one of the plant cane fields and will doubtless multiply in due season.

Rust has appeared in two fields since the cold weather set in, but is neither as prevalent nor as severe as last year.

FOUR PLANTATION MEETINGS HELD

REPORTS FROM KOLOA AND OTHER CONCERNS—ALL OF FORMER OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The annual meetings of four plantations were held yesterday. At the meeting of Koloa Sugar Company at H. Hackfeld & Co.'s office, Manager P. McLane read his report. He stated in speaking of the crop of 1904 that from 1614 acres the plantation had manufactured 6,171.54 tons of sugar, 854 acres plant cane averaging 4,146 tons to the acre, 251 acres long ratoons, 4,025, and 357 acres short ratoons, 2,878. The latter part of the grinding season was very dry and they had no water to spare for the big cane, consequently the last fields taken off, more particularly 165 acres of short ratoons which almost dried up, gave lower yields than anticipated. In speaking of the new crop Manager McLane's report said in effect:

"Crop 1905.—This consists of 894 acres plant, 264 acres Long Ratoons and 265 acres short ratoons. From this and about 40 acres from an outside planter, we expect 6000 tons sugar. Leaf hoppers damaged this crop considerably; dry weather and this pest have reduced our yield fully half a ton per acre all round."

Improvements during 1905 would be estimated amount to $26,200.

"After the Marsh reservoir is completed, our principal expenditure under improvements will be for the clearing of new lands."

"The plantation is in good shape and I believe the increased water storage capacity will enable us to raise an average at a ton of sugar more per acre."

The old officers were re-elected.

Annual meetings of the Waimanalo Sugar Company, Hilo Sugar Company and Olowalu Company were held at the office of W. G. Irwin & Company. The usual reports were read and the old officers re-elected.

THE IDEAL WIFE

Shapes the Destiny of Men—The Influence of a Healthy Woman Cannot Be Overestimated.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes—because she has the qualities which inspire admiration, respect and love.

There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature. The influence of women glorious in the possession of perfect physical health upon men and upon the civilization of the world could never be measured. Because of them men have attained the very heights of ambition; because of them even thrones have been established and destroyed.

What a disappointment, then, to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head! A sickly, half-dead-and-alive woman, especially when she is the mother of a family, is a damper to all joyousness in the home, and a drag upon her husband.

The cost of a wife's constant illness is a serious drain upon the funds of a household, and too often all the doctoring does no good.

If a woman finds her energies flagging, and that everything tires her, dark shadows appear under her eyes, her sleep is disturbed by horrible dreams; if she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities, or despondency, she should take means to build her system up at once by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This great remedy for women has done more in the way of restoring health to the women of America than all other medicines put together. It is the safeguard of woman's health.

Following we publish, by request, a letter from a young wife.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley of 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash., writes:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so that I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every woman who is in poor health and ailing.

Its benefits begin when its use begins. It gives strength and vigor from the start, and surely makes sick women well and robust.

Remember Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of women's ills. This fact is attested by the thousands of letters from grateful women which are on file in the Pinkham laboratory. Merit alone can produce such results.

Women should remember that a cure for all female diseases actually exists, and that cure is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Take no substitute.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

REVIVING PUNA

RECOVERED A PORTIONMENT OF FORECLOSURE SALE.

The sale of Puna Plantation, under the decree of foreclosure in the case of the First National Bank and others against the Puna Sugar Company and others, was postponed for ten days today. The plantation was to have been sold under the order of the court at noon today, by James F. Morgan, but the postponement was agreed to at the request of the bondholders.

The postponement was asked on account of efforts which are being made to reorganize the plantation. The bondholders are attempting to take up its indebtedness and it is said that there is an excellent chance that they will secure the necessary capital and put the plantation on a business basis again.

BIGGEST CROWD IN YEARS DEPARTING

OVER A HUNDRED CABIN PASSENGERS WILL LEAVE BY THE MONGOLIA FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

The largest crowd that has left Honolulu in years will depart by the S. S. Mongolia for San Francisco. One hundred and three cabin passengers will depart by the big steamer from Honolulu. Comparatively few of these are island people the bulk being tourists.

The exact time for the departure of the vessel from Honolulu cannot be given now. She will probably arrive here Sunday morning from the Orient with 1,400 tons of freight to put out at this port. If the freight for Honolulu is distributed evenly in the various batches and there is not over 450 tons in any single batch the vessel can get out tomorrow afternoon but otherwise the vessel will not be discharged in time to sail before Monday forenoon.

BALLOU ENDS TELEPHONE CASE

THE ATTORNEY'S DISPUTE OVER TELEPHONE SERVICE SETTLED IN SUPREME COURT.

The famous case of Sidney M. Ballou against the Mutual Telephone Company came to an end this morning in the Supreme Court. This is the suit in which Ballou obtained from Judge Gear an injunction restraining the telephone company from interfering with his telephone. Ballou had done some installation of his own in his residence, and the company threatened to take out his telephone. It was ordered by Gear to continue to serve him as a customer.

Ballou, and A. Lewis, appearing for the telephone company, this morning in the Supreme Court agreed upon modification of the decree, by which the company will be allowed a certain amount of right of supervision, to make repairs, etc.

A HAWAII DAY

Secretary Atkinson this morning received an invitation to name a "Hawaii Day" at the Lewis and Clark Exposition to be held this year in Portland. A letter arrived from Secretary Henry E. Reed of the Exposition, stating that if Hawaii would select a day, the day would be listed among the special days of the Exposition.

THE JONES JURY MADE A KICK

OBJECT TO BAILIFF QUINN AND JUDGE ROBINSON MAKES A TRANSFER.

The Jones Jury and Bailiff Quinn were at loggerheads this morning, and two of the jurors rose in court and asked that Quinn be taken off the case and another man substituted. Some of the jurors have made kicks before, that Quinn was too officious and severe, and there was a row last night that brought matters to a head.

When a recess was taken Judge Robinson retired with the jury for a pow-wow. There was a considerable discussion, and at the end of it all peace was restored among the twelve men by an order that Quinn and Bailiff Hopkins exchange places. The jury has had Hubbell, Quinn and Ellis. Quinn will serve in De Bolt's court and Hopkins, Ellis and Hubbell will watch the jury.

Night sessions will begin in the trial next week. There are only five weeks left this term now, and a mistrial will result if the end is not reached before the term expires. This morning Dr. C. B. Wood, first of the medical experts, was a witness.

STOCK MARKET MUCH FIRMER

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INCREASED DIVIDEND TODAY BY KAHUKU HAS GOOD EFFECT.

Stocks are becoming firmer. The various plantation meetings recently with the encouraging news from Kahuku Plantation today have had a good effect on the market. The sales were not very extensive this morning however but the general feeling was one of security and confidence. Between boards the sales were 10 Waiakua $77.50 and $4,000 Pioneer 66 at 102. At the session sales the stock disposed of were 25 McBryde $16.50; 5 Pioneer $165 and 100 Oahu Sugar Company $140.

Wailuku Sugar Company is now issuing the new stock to be paid for between March 1 and April 1.

The action at the annual meeting of the Kahuku Plantation Company will result in a 12 per cent dividend for the present year and perhaps an extra dividend during the year.
