

HAWAIIAN BILLS IN LOWER BRANCH OF THE CONGRESS

Committee Reports Favorably on Honolulu Fire Claims Bill—Cayless' Election Amendments Shelved—Coinage Redemption Bill Goes to the President.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE ADVERTISER.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—The House Committee on Territories unanimously adopted a favorable report on the Hawaiian Fire Claims bill.

The Cayless election amendments were shelved.

The Coinage Redemption bill, having passed both houses, has gone to the President.

DEATH OF MOLLIE BUSH

Succumbs to Illness of Less Than Week.

"Mollie" Bush is dead. Death claimed her last evening at her residence on Hotel street near Punch-bowl at about 8 o'clock, after an illness lasting only since Monday afternoon, when she caught a severe cold which settled on her lungs. She was compelled to take to her bed and she never rose from it. During the latter part of the week a complication of diseases set in, and her death was due principally to peritonitis. Dr. George Herbert attended.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late residence, and the interment will be in Makiki cemetery in the plot of her father, Hon. John E. Bush.

Mary Ann Kaipuala Bush was born in Honolulu 32 years ago, and was the daughter of Hon. John E. Bush and Mary Ann Bush. She spent much of her early youth in Kona, going to school and at St. Andrew's Priory in this city. She was a court lady during the reign of Queen Liliuokalani, her mother having been a court lady during the regime of Kalakaua. It was during the earlier reign that her father was minister of the Interior from 1881 to 1883, holding other government portfolios for short periods, notably that of Prime Minister. During the Premiership of Walter Murray Gibson Mr. Bush was sent to Samoa as minister plenipotentiary in the now famous Hawaiian gunboat Kaimiloa, and on this voyage Miss Bush accompanied him, remaining in Samoa for a period after he had returned to Honolulu.

Miss Bush was one of the best known Hawaiian women in the Islands.

GOVERNOR DOLE HOME FROM HAWAII

Governor Dole returned yesterday from Hawaii, where he had a month's vacation. The outing in the mountains, spent in hunting, effected a great improvement in the Governor's health and he shows the beneficial effects of the jaunt.

Governor Dole stated that he had not come to any conclusion in regard to the Federal building site, and nothing will be done until after a conference with Superintendent Cooper and a careful investigation of the matters in hand.

The Governor also spent some time in the Waimea district, where he examined forestry conditions and needs with a view to recommending some plan for forestry reserves to the legislature.

Mrs. Dole returned with the Governor on the Kinai, and both are now at their Waikiki home.

Waiting for Instructions.

"Has anything been done concerning the bringing of disbarment proceedings against the attorneys in the Sumner case?" Attorney General Dole was asked yesterday.

"The matter has not been officially called to my attention," was the reply.

ASK MORE SALVAGE

Fearless Wants $15,000 for Saving the Nevadan.

Fifteen thousand dollars is the amount now asked by the tug Fearless for rescuing the Nevada from the dangers of the reef just outside the harbor where she went aground a short time ago. An amendment to the libel was filed yesterday morning in the United States Court in the case of J. D. Spreckels & Bros vs. Nevada, by which the amount of salvage asked is $15,000, instead of $5,000 originally claimed, and also alleging that the value of the vessel is $400,000 instead of $275,000, as first stated.

The amount of salvage is generally based upon the worth of the vessel saved and the danger she was in, and the filing of the amendments indicate that the owners of the tug will claim the full value of her services, instead of the amount said to have been agreed upon at the time of the disaster. The following is the amendment, filed yesterday: "Amendment to the libel of J. D. Spreckels & Brothers Company against the steamship Nevada, her tackle, apparel, furniture, engines, boilers, machinery, boats, appurtenances and cargo laden on board said steamship, for salvage.

"First—Strike out the figures '$275,000' in the third line of the eighth paragraph, and insert in lieu thereof '$400,000.'"

"Second—Strike out the figures '$5,000' in the fifth line of the ninth paragraph, and insert in lieu thereof '$15,000.'"

MAIL FOR HAWAII MAY BE LOST

The postoffice received a bulletin on the Coptic saying that a mail car on the New York and Chicago Railway postoffice train No. 3, leaving New York City at 8:46 a. m., December 21, was destroyed by fire near Peekskill about 9:45 a. m. and a large quantity of mail consumed.

The domestic mail consisted of second, third and fourth class matter that originated principally in the Eastern States and in New York City, and was destined to points in New York, the Western and Northwestern states, Canada, Alaska, Japan, Hawaii, and the Philippines.

The foreign mail consisted of all classes of mail, and was received from the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and was destined to points in New York, and the Western and Northwestern states, Canada, Pacific Islands, and trans-Pacific countries.

CHAMPION BEATEN BY A NATIVE

Connell a Wonder
On Checker Board.

He Defeats Many Crack
Players at Y. M.
C. A.

Young Man Played Ten Games at Once and Won All But Two.

A Hawaiian checker player was the only one of ten players of various nationalities who defeated Walter E. Connell, junior checker champion of Greater New York, at a simultaneous contest held last evening, in the Young Men's Christian Association hall. Upwards of a hundred spectators witnessed the novel game of one man playing against ten opponents, and their interest grew as the contest neared the end, especially as one after another of the players found himself defeated, and in some cases completely routed. The result of the contest was as follows:

Connell defeats eight men, draws with one, and is vanquished by one.

The crowd which gathered was somewhat startled and amused when Mr. Connell entered the hall in a hurry, being a quarter of an hour late, as instead of his being a typical giant, as they expected, they gazed upon a very boyish looking youth. The champion was the Law.

Colburn, Hayselden and Ashford
Go to the Rescue by Last Night's Steamer.

All because they had to eat, and consequently had to take the live stock wherewith to satisfy their appetites, John Wise and his supporters, who have been representing John F. Colburn and F. H. Hayselden, in holding the fort at the ranch house at Lanai, are now held under arrest at Lahaina on a charge of malicious injury. A relief expedition with Messrs. Colburn, Hayselden and Attorney Ashford, with others to reinforce the guards, left at midnight for Maui on receipt of telegraphic information. Their intention is to bail out the men to return them to their station at Lanai, and to provision them to withstand any siege that may be enforced by the minions of the law.

This latest turn of affairs in the drama of Lanai, came late yesterday afternoon, after arrangements had been made to send supplies and dis-

BIG STEEL WORKS CLOSE FOR LACK OF FURNACE COAL

A National Convention Will Meet at Washington to Demand Immediate Relief—A Coal Famine Prevails in the Larger Cities. Stringency Is Serious.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAMS.)

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—The great steel works at Steelton have been closed because of the scarcity of coal. Several thousand men are out of work. A national convention has been called to meet at Washington to impress President Roosevelt with the need of immediate relief. The stringency is serious. A veritable coal famine prevails in the large cities.

Admiral Melville Retired.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Rear Admiral Geo. W. Melville, chief engineer of the navy, has been retired for age. Admiral Melville was born in New York city January 10, 1841; was educated in the public schools in New York and at the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute; served an apprenticeship in an engineering establishment in Brooklyn; entered the United States navy July 29, 1861, as third assistant engineer; became chief engineer in 1881 and engineer-in-chief of the navy in 1887. In the latter position he has contributed largely to the building up of the new United States navy.

The most important of his designs as an engineer is that of the triple-screw machinery for two-shift cruisers. He has also developed a plan for increasing the speed of ships by lengthening the smokestacks. During the civil war he frequently volunteered for desperate service. In 1879 he joined the Jeannette arctic expedition. After the Jeannette was crushed in the ice and he had conveyed the crew of his own boat to a place of safety he conducted a search, amid the greatest hardships, for the crews of the other boats. The story of this experience is told in his book, "In the Lena Delta." For his heroic conduct in these circumstances Congress in 1890, passed a special act advancing him one grade.

Mrs. Tingley Again Sues.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Katherine Tingley, the theosophist leader at Point Loma, head of the School of Lost Mysteries, has filed an additional suit against the Los Angeles Times for $75,000 damages, based on the Times' comments on the pending action for libel.

CABLE REPORTS TO THE SATURDAY AFTERNOON PRESS

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A proposal has been made that China pay her indemnity to the Powers in silver. It has been rejected by the Powers.

CARACAS, Jan. 10.—The blockade by the Powers is cutting off the food supplies for this city. There is much suffering as a result, especially among the poor.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—It is denied that Baron von Holleben, ambassador by Burrows. Other beet sugar states will join in the opposition unless the amendment is made.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company has applied to Parliament for permission to incorporate for the purpose of transacting business between Canada, Great Britain and other places. The application will beyond doubt be favorably acted upon by Parliament.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—It is denied that Baron von Hollenben, ambassador to Washington, has been recalled. The Baron Speck von Sternberg, who comes to Washington as special minister to attend the settlement of the Venezuelan trouble, will be ambassador extraordinary, ranking von Holleben.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Senator Burrows of Michigan, representing the beet sugar interests, in conference with President Roosevelt today indicated that the Cuban treaty now pending in the Senate is objectionable to the interests he represents because it does not insure the stability of the tariff provided for any specified time. The Michigan Congressional delegation will oppose the ratification of the treaty unless it is amended to fix its duration for five years.

A PROGRAM OF WORRY

Sumner's Money Tied Up Again by Ellises.

Lawyer Serves Notice On Various Court Officials.

Apparent Scheme to Tire the Old Man Out and Make Him Compromise.

John K. Sumner's $48,025 has been tied up again by the Ellises children. Yesterday morning Judge Humphreys, acting for the three ex-heirs, filed a notice upon the clerks of the circuit court, where the money is deposited, warning them not to pay over any portion of it to any party whomsoever.

The matter of the final disposition of the $48,025 will be thrashed out on Monday. At that time the decree will be presented for the signature of Judge De Bolt and the court will be asked by Humphreys for an order to prevent the payment of the money to Sumner or any one else. No demand was made for the $48,025 yesterday by John K. Sumner or any of his attorneys. The money is on deposit in the First National Bank subject to the order of the judge of the First circuit court, and cannot be withdrawn until a decree ordering the payment of the money to Sumner is signed.

It is apparently the object to effect another "compromise" with the old man. This has always been the custom of his relatives in the past. When the old man did win in past actions at law, there was always an appeal ready to block a final termination of the case. By worrying the old man he was finally induced to settle at almost any figure rather than to be a party to an interminable fight in the courts.

In the present case it is well known that Sumner is anxious to return to Tahiti, where he has large property interests going to waste and ruin because of his enforced absence from the island. The old man came here three of four months ago for the sole purpose of settling up the sale of the reef property to the Oahu Railway, intending to hurry back as soon as he had obtained sufficient money to increase his cattle business. At the time of his arrival a suit was pending against Bishop Robert by the Oahu Railway to enforce the option it held upon the reef property. Sumner agreed to settle the case by carrying out the terms of his agreement, when his sister, by George A. Davis, stepped in and prevented the consummation of the deal with a midnight injunction obtained from Gear. This was the beginning of the fight which was ended by Judge De Bolt's decision Friday, and the old man, after distributing over half of his property to his heirs, expected to be permitted to go his way in peace, only to be again tied up in the courts.

The entire matter will come before Judge De Bolt on Monday morning. Sumner's attorneys claim that no appeal can be taken from the decision of the court by the Ellises, who, it was held, had not the slightest interest in the property at stake. It is argued also that even if the decree can be appealed from that a supersedeas bond equal to the amount of money involved, would of necessity have to be filed. An appeal must be perfected within ten days.

The following is the notice served by Humphreys upon the judiciary clerks on yesterday morning:

"Guistan F. Robert as trustee of John K. Sumner vs. John K. Sumner, et al.

"NOTICE.

"To the clerks of the judiciary department, the several deputy clerks of the judiciary department, the clerks of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii, the first clerk of the First circuit court, the second clerk of the First circuit court, the clerk of the first judge of the circuit court of the First circuit, the clerk to the second judge of the circuit court of the First circuit, the clerk to the third judge of the circuit court of the First circuit: Please take notice that the undersigned, who are defendants in the above entitled cause, the same being Equity No. 1,308, feel aggrieved at the decision announced therein from the bench by the Honorable First Judge at Chambers on the 9th day of January, A. D. 1903, and that they intend to appeal to the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii from the decree to be rendered in said cause by the said Honorable First Judge in conformity with his said decision, within the time allowed them by law for taking and perfecting such appeal.

"And you are hereby severally notified, advised and warned that any payment by you of any part of the forty-eight thousand and twenty-five ($48,025) dollars now in the registry of said circuit court of the First circuit, deposited therein by stipulation of all the parties to said above entitled cause, to any person whomsoever, will be at your hazard,

SUMNER IN MORE PERIL.

The wolves are still circling around John K. Sumner and his $48,000. Yesterday a notice was served on various officials by attorneys of the Ellis claimants, warning them against the payment to Mr. Sumner of his own money. Tomorrow the fight to dispossess him of it will be resumed in the Circuit Court.

No one who knows the ins and outs of this famous—or infamous—case, believes that the attorneys for the Ellises expect to win at any bar of justice. That is not the visible object of the appeal. It is rather to worry the defendant into a moneyed compromise. Mr. Sumner is not only old, sick and racked in nerve, but his property in Tahiti requires his care. His wife who is as aged as himself—so old that she was a grown woman when she came here long decades ago on the frigate which landed and protected the French priests—is unable to look after his property. His cattle are being stolen; his crops are being wasted. When the old man thinks of these things he cannot sleep and lately insomnia made him ill of fever. A little while ago he was harassed into agreeing to a compromise for large sums, but when the attorneys for the Ellises found him in a mood to yield something, they demanded more. Mr. Sumner says that they had arranged their own fees with their clients; but when Sumner's money was in sight they demanded that he should pay them also. These worthies wanted to get the dollars coming and going. At this hold-up the old man balked and the recent proceedings followed. It was plain all through the trial, that a compromise was what the Ellises wanted. Hints were thrown out for the purpose of frightening Sumner into the belief that the case could be kept in the courts for years. One attorney harped on an appeal to the United States Supreme Court; even Sumner's own attorney, who has never been inhospitable to big fees, said that the case might take two years to finish. Everything possible was done to make the old man surrender the bulk of his fortune and leave with a pittance. Stubbornly he held on until the court found for him.

But the wolves never tire. They are snapping and snarling again about the tottering form of their victim. Tomorrow the old man will be again worried by the pack. If he gives up without further battle the legal carnivora will be satisfied. They may have all they want then, for John K. Sumner is fast reaching the point where he is ready to buy peace at any price.

THE WHITE MAN IN THE TROPICS.

The popularity in these Islands of athletic sports is an encouraging sign of the times. Not only are clean contests of physical skill and endurance a means of keeping young men out of the groggeries and of entertaining crowds with manly spectacles, but they go a long way to solve the question of whether the white man can thrive in the tropics. The right kind of sport stops the physical and moral deterioration that comes to a northern race which, when transplanted to a warm climate, gives itself up to complete relaxation. Idleness under the vertical sun is the forerunner of decay, not only for whites but for aboriginal natives. In the days when the Hawaiians had to struggle for existence by wresting food from the elements—when they were farmers, huntsmen, fishermen, warriors and navigators—they were as perfect a race physically as were the ancient Greeks. The coming of the white man, his paternal care, the creation of charities and easier means of livelihood, gradually changed the conditions of native life until now the majority of Hawaiians do nothing but hard work unless driven to it by the last degree of want. A few years ago a Coast writer said he had never seen but one Hawaiian doing anything and he was falling off a house. That story made up in wit what it lacked of strict veracity; but there was enough of truth in it to point a moral. The general result of this racial idleness is seen in both mental, moral and physical degeneration. Kamainas who visit the new American port of Pago-Pago speak of the natives there as resembling the Hawaiians of fifty years ago. They are stalwart active men and healthy, comely women and children, mentally alert and unmoral rather than immoral. Physically, the difference between them and their kindred, the modern Hawaiians, is strongly marked. But as certain as the time will come when they shall lapse into sloth under conditions which enable them to live without hard work, they will begin to decay.

So much more the unacclimated white man. Coming from his crisp, ancestral climate, losing the stimulus of cold air and changing seasons, he must, unlike the natives, make himself over to meet the demands of a new world of warmth and ease. His vitality must stand heavier drafts than that of the native; he must constantly renew his strength and mend his stamina. He cannot do this by eating more; rather should he eat less. Experience teaches that if he is to keep well—and keep his posterity well—he must take regular, systematic and even fatiguing exercise in the open air. This keeps his liver in order and his blood in active circulation and arrests decay. The benefit derived is not for himself alone but it extends to the third and fourth generation.

Hence the value of any pastime here which employs physical strength. Young white men who frequent the cricket field and join the flying wedge and hurl the ball are doing themselves more good than they may know and are, besides, fitting the race for tropical conditions. Perhaps they are doing better than that. It may be that they are creating a finer type of the race than the one their fathers brought from the old home. Open air life the year around does wonders for the white man in California who now averages better in height, breadth and vitality than his Eastern brother; and, with proper exercise added, it ought to have the same effect here. The white Hawaiian of 2003 should be a physical giant and have a long average of life. If he is he will have his ancestors of 1903 to thank.

But there is one peril in athletics, a purely moral peril, which every young man of sense should avoid. That is the betting habit. It has ruined scores of people in Honolulu and we know of no instance where it has enriched one. Eliminate this danger and athletics becomes one of the most satisfactory of the uses to which a young or middle-aged man can devote his spare time.

When Mazatlan announces in one telegram that a third of the population has bubonic plague and in another closely following it, that six persons died of the disease in one day, it looks as if the "plague" might turn out to be an epidemic of grip.

SUNDAY ADVERTISING.

Business men who have studied advertising as an art, find marked advantages in the Sunday paper. It is only necessary, in saying so, to refer the reader to the Sunday and weekday editions of the mainland press, which, by comparison, tell the whole story. For example, the San Francisco Sunday Chronicle of December 28, contained approximately seventy columns of advertising matter not embracing paid local, while the Chronicle of Monday, December 29, contained about nineteen columns, a difference of fifty-one columns in favor of the Sunday issue. Substantially the same proportion is to be found in the journals of Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis and New York.

It is noticeable that the heaviest advertisers, those who expend the largest sums in publishing trade announcements and are most sensitive in the matter of returns, buy extra space in the Sunday editions at an extra price. Dry goods houses, real estate dealers and the "want" class are among the most conspicuous Sunday patrons. These classes have long since passed the stage of experiment. They know precisely what they are about, the first two named having their capital at stake and the last named one's chances of employment and all wanting to be on sure ground. After trying all advertising methods they have settled upon the best. Their reasons for Sunday preference as regards space are simple and business-like and quite unanswerable.

As shrewd investors they know that in a weekday paper, the advertising columns are sought by those who want something. There is no time in the multiplicity of business and household cares to read them in the leisurely fashion with which one follows articles of news and comments, looking for whatever of interest may turn up. But in the relaxation of Sunday—during the prolonged breakfast hour and in the quiet, lazy afternoons—the paper is read through and discussed in the family. Every advertisement it has is canvassed. Nothing it contains from head to foot-rule is left unread. Inspired by such an audience advertisers who know how, make the trade columns as interesting and spicy as those of the news side, and this in turn increases the curiosity and the mental application of the reader. The result is seen in a rush of business Monday morning, which acts as a stimulus upon the trade of the week.

Sunday papers are comparatively new in Honolulu and the business classes are not fully awake to their opportunities. Those dealers who have either had experience in broader fields or are willing to draw conclusions from mainland Sunday journals are advertising freely. They and others may also find much to interest them in certain phases of the local situation. No one in Honolulu ever saw before such street sales as the Sunday Advertiser had last week; it may be doubted, moreover, whether any other newspaper ever had such a rush of subscriptions as that which followed the appearance of this journal. Where the people go advertisers may safely follow. And that the people are buying and reading the Sunday Advertiser is a fact of the commonest attestation.

The $600,000 distributed by J. P. Morgan & Co., on New Year's day is one per cent of the profits attributed to his firm for 1902. As showing the growth of fortunes, a capital of $20,000,000, thirty years ago, made A. T. Stewart one of the three richest men in America. Yet now a single firm deposits three times that sum as its profits for twelve months and gives away a fund equalling three per cent on Stewart's entire holdings. The billionaire class is not far off and the next half century may develop an American trillionaire.

THE BYSTANDER

During the Morgan fire last week the watchful Jimmie saw a young man rushing out of his burning building with an armful of papers. Thinking that he was losing some costly assets, Jimmie collared the stranger and asked what he had? The young fellow handed the papers over with a crestfallen air and Morgan gave the gasp he has practiced for use in the auction room when a bid comes too low.

"Heavens, man!" he said. "Those are O. K.'d bills. I could have spared them better than anything else."

The Sunday Advertiser, unlike the mammoth first day magazines of the mainland press, keeps nobody from church, but over the pond the trouble is acute. When a man settles down to his morning magazine with columns upon columns of fresh news, a serial story or two, a page of special correspondence, sporting notes by the yard, pictures by the square foot and readable advertisements by the square rod, he sticks to it until far after church time. Instead of railing at the paper as preachers do—somewhat as the primitive Pope railed at the comet—it seems to me that the ministers ought to compete with it. In other words they ought to organize their pulpits after the fashion of the papers. Let the clergyman be the editor and let him have a dozen bright young pulpiteres as a staff. During the week some of the young fellows will scurry around observing life and getting the morals out of it. Others will post up on the religious and moral advances of Christendom. Another will get moving pictures of great events connected with church work in all countries. Another will do a little obituary. Still another, a man of good voice, will learn the latest church music. One will do a ten-minute illustrated stunt with missions. Then when Sunday morning comes the editor preacher will group all the attractions on his platform. For himself he will present a brief and pungent homily—his substitute for the morning leader. Then the rest of the staff will have about ten minutes each for their specialties. In an hour and a half the audience will have had a religious experience worth while and will come again for more, assuming that the managing preached doesn't let the proceedings run into a rut. One thing he should do is to exchange singers every Sunday with some other church; for if there is anything drearier than the same old preacher, droning in the same old way, it is the same old voices, cackling the same old lay.

Shakespeare made some remarks about the stuff that dreams are made of; but the members of the Honolulu Stock Exchange can give Shakespeare cards and spades and then beat him out with their eyes shut on telling about the stuff that telegrams are made of.

On Thursday I dropped in at the Exchange rooms to watch the boom. Posted on the door I saw an item which excited my news instincts, and I carefully copied it off in my note book. It read about like this:

"San Francisco, January 8th, 1903, 11:20 A. M.
"To the Honolulu Stock Exchange, Honolulu:
"Gentlemen: At the meeting of the San Francisco Stock Exchange held at 10:30 o'clock this morning there was bid for the shares of the following named Hawaiian sugar plantations, the sums set opposite their respective names, viz.:
Hana Plantation Company.....$ 4.00
Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company.....45.25
Honokaa Sugar Company.....14.75
Hutchinson Plantation Company.....15.75
Kilauea Sugar Company.....8.00
Makaweli Sugar Company.....28.25
Onomea Sugar Company.....23.00
Paauhau Sugar Company.....16.75

"Very truly yours,
"R. G. BROWN,
"President San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange."

Just then the handsomest member of the Exchange invited me to come in and see the animals feed. Going in I was presented successively to the wisest member, the smartest member, the member who did the most business, the richest member and the member who skins the suckers. No names need be mentioned; you all know them. The member who combines all of the virtues enumerated offered me the cabigram to inspect a copy of which I was supposed to have just read on the door. I have heard about "cipher codes," and "expanded telegrams" and a "barrel of whitewash made of a spoonful of lime," but I never met one before, and it interested me. Perhaps it will you. Here is what I read:

"No. of words, 11.
"From 8 Sanfran (collect). To Exchange, Honolulu.
Lingual.....madhouse
loathing.....lovestone liripoop.....lover
longness.....locked

"BROWN."
Then I pinched myself to see if I "had 'em," and lit out before they could catch me.

CURRENT COMMENT

W. N. ARMSTRONG

Does the submarine cable increase our happiness? Artemas Ward asked a similar question in his study of life. "Air a man happier because he knows grammar?" Was Dr. Johnson right when he said that the causes of happiness and misery were often alike?

It is not easy to give a definition of happiness. When the venerable traveler, seated with the old driver on the stage coach, asked him: "Did you ever indulge in philanthropy?" the red-nosed holder of reins replied: "I don't know what that is; is it anything like beer, for instance?" We may not define happiness but may discuss its incidents.

To nine-tenths of the community, the cable is of no direct importance. Millions of people live on the mainland, who never use the wires. Mails are sufficient. Nor, can it be said to bring happiness to the business man. It is merely a part of the industrial organization, which complicates business life, by increasing its despatch, and setting the nerves of business men on edge. The old frigate was equipped with one donkey engine. The modern warship has a hundred engines and the engineer is distracted. The old conjurer kept three balls in the air, at the same moment. The modern business man must keep ten business balls in the air; he dare not let them drop.

The movement of civilization is towards the annihilation of time and space. What, in truth, is the ultimate gain by this annihilation? What is the value of instant knowledge? And what is really its effect on individual happiness? The cable is convenient, but how far does convenience make happiness? If all the improvements, discoveries and inventions of the last century positively increased our happiness one would now be pulling the door bell of the Millennial mansion. On the contrary, many say that we are not as happy as our grandfathers were: that the readjustment of things makes violent friction; that education increases the number of wants which cannot be supplied; and of course, a submarine cable adds to these wants. When the mother wires from San Francisco to her husband in London, "Baby has a new tooth," wherein does the happiness of the incident lie? Would the absent father be less happy, if he received the news by mail, fifteen days later? Is happiness really increased by the instant knowledge of an event? News in a newspaper office is stale if it is forty-eight hours old. Few read the President's message after it is a week old. An item, "The White House cat had six kittens this morning" is fresh and inspiring in comparison with the item of "A new contribution to science, the discovery of a star," if it is a month old.

The craving for the "latest news" is a species of disease, founded on unbridled curiosity rather than upon any wholesome thirst for knowledge. The personal relation dominates in our intercourse. Men and women are equally gossips, and prefer, above all things, to hear and talk about each other.

The details of a prize fight command in many papers the largest space. The perfection of telegraphy is reached when, on the wires leading from the "ring," is instantly flashed to every city and village of the continent, the direction and effect of every blow of the bruisers.

Herbert Spencer insists that our growth in physical comfort, our increasing command over the powers of nature, has little relation to our moral and intellectual improvement. He even claims that in many ways, we are sinking to a lower moral plane, as we multiply our wants for physical comforts.

Still, in the grand evolution, the gradual annihilation of time and space must work finally for the best civilization. It strikes at all national barriers, and unifies the thought of the world. In the end it will establish the universal nation, and the political maps of all countries will be rolled up, and put away. It is isolation which has divided men into nations. Cables close up the divisions.

An editorial in the last Sunday issue of this paper incidentally raises the question of the influence of diet on the disposition and temper; its value in producing fighting stuff. It suggested that the fighting people do not live on poi and bananas, and intimated that the Hawaiians were not a belligerent race, because of this food.

I do not know of any laboratory experiments in testing diet, though we shall soon have a report from Washington on tests in the use of adulterated food.

The fighting qualities are more dependent on racial inheritance than upon diet. A grass fed bull is as fierce in combat as a meat fed tiger.

The natives of the Marquesas, Fiji and New Zealand were fierce, and loved war. Their diet was largely poi and fruit. If the traditions of the Hawaiians are true, these people were a warlike race, and did a large business in pounding out each other's brains in a poi ration. For seventy-five years, at least, previous to the settlement of the Islands by the whites, the chiefs and kings of the different Islands were constantly at war with each other. Maui and Molokai were often invaded from Hawaii. Kalaunui, a chief of Hawaii, invaded Oahu and won a great victory in a battle of Waianae, but was defeated on his invasion of Kauai. Kauiki hill, near Hana, Maui, was a fortress which was taken and retaken in several wars. An important battle was once fought in Lahaina. At Waiuku, Maui, Kalanipuu led an army of six divisions against the King of Maui, with the war god Kaibi carried in front, and as the tradition says, "the feathered cloaks reflected the sunshine," while "the plumes of the helmets tossed in the wind," but he was badly defeated. In subsequent years Kamehameha I fought bloody battles at the Pali, Oahu, and in the Iao Valley, Maui. The accounts of these wars come down by tradition only, and were probably exaggerated in many cases. The native historian was not more trustworthy than the "reliable contraband," who had deserted from Gen. Lee's army, and was closely questioned by Gen. Grant. "Do you know how many men Gen. Lee has?" "I reckon I do," replied the reliable. "How many?" "Bout a thousand million, I reckon."

After discounting these traditions, it is certain that the wars were fierce and bloody, because they were hand to hand encounters. The traditions are that stump-speakers played a conspicuous part in the battles. Each army, in a pretense to the fight, sent one of its distinguished orators to the front, where he told the enemy what he thought of him, in the most vindictive and aggressive language, and with the exhibition of most insulting gestures. After the spell-binders had exhausted their vituperations, they fell back and the armies came to blows. If these preliminary literary exercises had been adopted by civilized nations, in their great wars, there would now be extant, a vast amount of war eloquence, such as the "Address delivered by the Orator of the Army of the Potomac before the battle of Antietam," an "Address delivered by the Orator of the Confederate Army of Northern Virginia, before the battle of Chancellorsville," a "Speech delivered to the British before assaulting Bunker Hill."

Besides the influence of the diet, the power of the gods must be considered in the case of Hawaiian battles. No native scholar has left us any record of his reflections on the subject either in word or picture. Whether the proud idol carried in front of the legions was expected to strike fear into the hearts of the enemy, or stimulate the bravery of its followers, is not revealed by tradition. Nor do we know what the victorious army did with the idols of the defeated army? Did they respect them, or did they pitch them into the heaps of old junk?

One fact throws much light upon this question of a fighting diet. During the last year of our Civil War the Federal army was fed on an abundant meat diet which it did not always consume. The Confederate armies, from necessity, were reduced largely, and at times exclusively, to a corn meal diet. One of Stonewall Jackson's brigades subsisted mainly for months on green corn. During the protracted and fierce battles of the Wilderness the Confederate soldiers were only half fed. Braver fighting men never went to battle.

It is, perhaps, the racial stamina, and not the food, which measures the fighting qualities. The line between moral and physical courage is imperfect. One biologist may trace bravery back to its sources in meat, rice, or cabbage, another may discover it in inherited ideas, in moral attributes, which in some mysterious way permeate the physical system. This is the "sacred courage" which thrives on any diet. Perhaps in our next war, a poi fed kanaka regiment may demonstrate the value of this ration.

PUBLIC OPINION

SOUTH AMERICAN DEBTS.

Shrewd lawyers predict that the outcome of the naval demonstration will be the establishment of an arbitration commission to which all claims, American and French, as well as English and German, will be submitted for a critical examination. The superiority of a commission of this kind to a fleet under two flags as a collecting agency for miscellaneous debts, good, bad, and indifferent, is admitted by city men well versed in the methods of South American finance, in which face values are deceptive and extortionate rates of interest and loans forced on taxpayers are common expedients. Some of them will frankly admit that, while the general effect of the Venezuelan affair will be a salutary warning that foreign creditors must not be cheated, and that honesty is the best policy for tropical America.—London Corr. N. Y. Tribune.

WANT THE CANTEN BACK.

The results which have followed the abolition of the canteen are so alarming that no real friend of the army can ignore them. Not one post-commander has reported any improvement in consequence of the change, while many report that it has resulted in a shocking increase of drunkenness, vice, and mental and physical degeneracy among the members of the enlisted force. The adjutant-general of the army, in his annual report, states that since the canteen was abolished intoxication and offenses due to intoxication have greatly increased, and he declares it as his serious opinion that the increase of desertions and of trials for infractions of discipline is due in large degree "to the abolition of the former privileges of the exchange."—Army and Navy Journal.

AN UNINTERESTING HERO.

From the American point of view, General Kitchener is a hopeless sort of a hero. Since his return to London he has not announced his candidacy for the nomination for King. Whatever kissing he may have indulged in has been carefully screened from the public and the late correspondents. He has not rescued any maidens that fell from the dock, or tried to acquire a crown of political martyrdom by peddling secrets of the War Office. He has not asked for a court of inquiry to prove that he did not refuse to coal from a collier while he was gathering in the burgher commandos. In fact, he is an uninteresting sort of a hero, and does not appeal to the American imagination.—The Manila American.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

EDWARD M. BOYD.

Money and not stocks absorbed the attention of the Street during the past week; every broker had something to say of what he considers the shortage in funds, and yet speaking in a general way, the year has opened with many features of brighter prospects for Honolulu and Hawaii as well. Stocks are changing hands at fair prices, the mortgage market is firm, with money to be had on gilt-edged propositions, and the tone of the market continues better, in that strong hands are taking over the shares which are coming out. Mercantile orders are reported better though collections do not show any increase, and everyone is looking hopefully to the spring sugar shipments to bring perfect contentment.

The fluctuations of the sugar market have been reflected only slightly in the local share market, in this furnishing a contrast to the Coast Exchange transactions. In San Francisco each change of a fraction means that the brokers at once begin to hammer or boost sugar stocks. There have been several changes in the quotations there which can have no other interpretation, and the market is justly styled a broker's list. Here the shares of local corporations are not dealt in on margin, and the result is that investors make the price on their accurate knowledge of the estate, and the market is steadier.

Reports which came down from San Francisco recently indicate that Makawell is now quiet there, and as well that two Honolulu capitalists had a hard race for a block of the stock, which, in the gossip, is placed at $200,000 in value. There was for some time a sharp advance in the quotations of Makawell, due in part at least to the differences of opinion of Strassburger and Alexander & Baldwin, which led to buying on both sides. According to the reports, which give as they are gaining currency, J. A. McCandless, whose hurried departure in a foreign ship some time ago caused some comment, heard of a chance to get hold of a fair block of the stock. He made arrangements for taking up the shares and slipped off, but he was only a few days ahead of J. B. Castle, who had the same information but just a little later. According to recent reports Mr. Castle's agents made the turn, and the shares are now with the majority holding of the estate.

Incidentally the delay in issuing the Hawaiian Sugar Company's bonds, which has been delayed for some time, will not continue longer, and this brings up the tale of the trip of S. E. Damon to Scotland. When the recent decision of the Hawaiian Sugar to issue bonds for the construction of new works was reached, an examination of the titles to the land disclosed an irregularity in the record, which while slight was sufficient to make a flaw which had to be corrected. When the plantation was organized, the options from Gay, Robinson and Sinclair were transferred from George W. Macfarlane to Sir William Rennie Watson. The plantation was decided upon on one of the visits here of Sir William, who saw the lands and at once said he would float a corporation of $1,000,000. When Col. Macfarlane went on to London and met the Scotch capitalist the Fowlers were invited into the deal and they entered the combination taking half the stock. Henry P. Baldwin arrived, with E. M. Walsh, and wanted to get in and the corporation was capitalized at $2,000,000, Mr. Baldwin taking a half million, the other half million being divided between Scotch and Hawaiian capitalists.

This made it wiser that the corporation be organized here, and the transfer of the options from Sir William Watson to the new company was made by Col. Macfarlane under a power of attorney. But when the deeds were filed, the power of attorney was not placed on record, and later it disappeared. So the flaw in the title came about, and when the bond issue came up this had to be cleared away. It could not be done by correspondence and Bishop & Company sent S. E. Damon, armed with an affidavit by Col. Macfarlane, setting forth that his action had been ratified by Sir William Rennie Watson as shown by letters, to secure signatures of the heirs of the Watson estate, Sir William having died in the meantime, to a contract of ratification. This he has done and now the issue will be completed. Sir William was the head of the sugar machinery making firm of Glasgow, and had large interests here, he having furnished many of the older plantations with their sugar house equipment.

One of the first effects of the combination of the local stock exchange with that of San Francisco has been a neater approach in the quotations. The discrepancies are about evenly divided as to the advances being here or abroad, the sale yesterday of 150 Hawaiian Sugar at $26 showing a tendency to approach to the San Francisco price of $28. The local figure $15, which was bid for 200 Honokaa during the week fixed the price 1/2 above the Coast price, there has been little added trading on account of the new conditions but this will come later, in the opinion of brokers.

The greatest amount of the trading of the week past has been in Ewa, which has led for some months. With a sale of 150 shares at the beginning of the week, at $23.50 and 105 more later at the same, the market was quiet until at the end there were further sales of 500 shares, representing two holdings, at prices about the first named figure and $23.50. McBryde was fairly active, 400 shares changing hands at $4.50, the old price. Kihel was fairly active with seventy-five shares sold at $8.50, but twenty-five Kahuku went at a point off or $21. There was a single sale of Olua at $10.75, while Oahu scored the advance of the week with seven shares transferred at $95. December report shows sales of 325 shares, Ewa having 131 and McBryde 762.

Outside of sugar shares there was little doing, Honolulu Rapid Transit alone scoring. This stock has now gone to $70, a substantial advance, and is about the strongest stock on the market. There were ninety-two shares sold. One Hawaiian Government bond of $1,000 was sold at $99, which is a point and a half above former quotations.

San Francisco prices of yesterday were: Hawaiian Commercial, $45 1/4; Honokaa, $14 1/4; Makawell, $28; Onomea, $23; and Paauhau, $16 1/4.

Mail sugar advices yesterday were on the old basis of 3,944c, which is above the recent cable advices, and the remark is made in them that the market is weak. There were cable reports of a ten cent advance in refined, but this means nothing but the struggle for territory which is always going on between refiners.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

There is still stagnation as the rule in realty, though the small lot market is brisk in the suburbs. There have been the usual sales at both ends of the city, Kaimuki having a record of a dozen lots in the past two weeks. Downtown real property is quiet and there is little offered at figures which seem to attract buyers. There has been one small sale of River street improved property, W. R. Castle buying, but the price showed no change in values.

The most important transaction, in more ways than one, was the sale consummated yesterday by the land department of the B. F. Dillingham Company, in handling the transfer from the Oahu Railway and Land Company and the Dowsett Estate, to Wilder & Company, of two acres at Kahaloa, immediately back of the Oahu prison. The land will be used for lumber yards, the buyers being given right of way for service tracks from the railroad wharves, while a switch from the line will be run in. The yards will be used by March, and it may be predicted that there will be a general exodus to that end of the harbor if the present arrangements prove successful.

The only downtown building under immediate consideration is the new structure for the Robinson estate, on the site of the burned block in Queen street. This will be a two-story structure, of brick, and will cost about $30,000. It will be an ornament to the street.

The iron for the new O'Neill building has arrived, and the work of placing in it has commenced.

The excavation of the foundation at the corner of Beretania and Fort streets is going on, but Contractor Fred Harrison, the owner of the lot, will not discuss the uses to which he is to put the hole in the ground.

Received by Francis Joseph.

VIENNA, Dec. 29.—Emperor Francis Joseph today received Ambassador McCormick in farewell audience and expressed much regret at the departure of the Ambassador, whose tenure of office had been marked by such pleasant relations with all circles of Viennese society.

The Emperor presented Mr. McCormick with a signed photograph of himself in a handsome gilt frame. During the conversation, His Majesty expressed the most friendly feeling for the Government and people of the United States and his personal regard for President Roosevelt. Mr. McCormick and Ambassador Bellamy Storer, his successor, yesterday visited Foreign Minister Goluchowski. The latter said he regretted Mr. McCormick was unable to make his visit longer.

Mr. McCormick starts Tuesday for Prague and thence goes to Berlin, where he will meet his wife. He expects to reach St. Petersburg January 8th.

Killed by Brigands.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 29.—A dispatch from Moscow announces that an Armenian named Jambore was murdered while entering the church there. He was captured by brigands in the Caucasus several months ago and obtained his release by promising to pay them ransom. This he failed to do and his captors killed him in revenge.

OAHU BAD LANDS SOLD

Waianae Tract Bought by Men to Develop It.

Land Commissioner Boyd sold the Oahu "bad lands" at public auction yesterday noon. The lands, which are located at Lualualei in Waianae district, were applied for by a hui of residents of the district who intended to develop the water resources jointly, but there were others besides the applicants who came in for a slice of the tract.

The tract was divided into seven lots extending from the sea to the mountain range, and a total of $10,466, somewhat more than the appraised value, was realized at the sale.

The purchasers and the prices they paid were as follows:

R. L. Gilliland, 505 acres for $1,010.

L. L. McCandless, 573 acres at $2,325.

This was a choice piece, appraised at $1,146, and it caused some lively bidding.

Jos. Andrade paid $1,150 for 589 acres, $1,201, and C. J. Holt purchased 590 acres for $1,150.

Jos. Andrade paid $1,150 for 589 acres, and there was lively bidding on the next tract of 590 acres, which was finally purchased by A. Garvie for J. Edwards at $2,370.

The last tract of 587 acres was also bought by J. Garvie for Lee Gilbert, at $1,200.

a smooth-shaven, restless eyed, nervous little fellow, with an exceedingly young face, and there were some doubts as to whether he would be able to fight the bill. The moment that Mr. Connell mounted the platform and announced that he wanted the players to observe certain rules, and to arrange the boards in such and such positions so that he would know whether he or the players were to take the first move, the scoffers became quiet. Ten tables were arranged in a row before the platform, with space between them and the spectators chairs to permit Mr. Connell to walk up and down before them. The following players sat down to the contest in the numerical order named: S. L. Aylett, L. A. Kaamehulwa, Judge Lyle Dickey, J. M. Webb, S. M. Griggs, George Packard, J. J. Combs, Mark G. Johnston, E. C. Smith and J. A. Lyle.

Mr. Connell made the first moves on all the boards, but not all alike. On his return to table No. 1, the player moved, and Connell responded, moving on to the next for similar plays and so on. If a checker was jumped on either side he stayed longer to play. There was no hesitation on his part at any time, although he gave deeper study to certain boards, especially those backed by Messrs. Kamehulwa and Combs, with Messrs. Dickey, Lyle and Webb next. Aylett presented a good front for awhile, but fell into the very trap he had set for Connell. Johnston was the first man to go out, and on some very surprising moves. Mr. Lyle was also equally surprised when he found he also had walked into a trap skillfully set for him. Messrs. Griggs, Aylett and Packard followed, and then Connell admitted defeat by Kamehulwa, who was applauded for his success. Mr. Combs taxed Connell's ingenuity, and finally both saw it was useless to parry checkers as the blocks were matched in a way that neither could hope to win, and their contest was declared a draw. Smith went out finally, and it seemed as if Judge Dickey would defeat the champion, but a sly move by Connell made Dickey move as he desired, and the Judge joined the rest. Mr. Webb was the last player to remain and he parried well for some time, eventually falling into a trap.

Mr. Connell will meet another set of ten players at the Y. M. C. A. in the near future, and may also try a chess contest carried out on the same lines. Mr. Connell is at present connected with the Moana Hotel.

JOHN K. SUMNER THANKS THE ADVERTISER AND THE PUBLIC

SUMNER'S ISLAND, Jan. 10, 1903.

Editor Advertiser: I wish to return thanks to you for the fair and impartial stand taken by your valuable paper on my behalf in helping me to have justice done me in my time of trouble. I also thank the general public for their sympathy and moral support which in a sense has been endorsed by his honor, Judge De Bolt, who has placed himself before the people by his action as a just judge and Christian, whom many existing judges and future judges may take as a guiding light to render justice to unfortunate mankind who may be placed in the same position I have been placed and emancipated from bondage.

WIRELESS MESSAGES FROM SAN FRANCISCO

SAN PEDRO, Dec. 29.—It is authoritatively stated here that the Pacific Wireless Telephone and Telegraph Company will begin the erection of a large station in San Francisco about January 10th for the purpose of establishing trans-oceanic wireless communication with Honolulu and points along the Alaskan coast, as well as the interior of that country. The company will within a few months prepare for an extension of the system to the Philippines, China and Japan.

"It is the company's intention," said General A. L. New, manager of the Pacific Company, today, "to begin work on the San Francisco station some time in January. The equipment will be large and costly, and the instruments installed will be of the most powerful make. We hope to establish a complete system of wireless communication with Honolulu within three or four months, so that the stations may be thrown open for commercial business at once."

"We are satisfied that there will be no trouble in getting Honolulu, as our experiments already made between White's point and Avalon demonstrate clearly that with possibly a little more power the distance can be overcome."

JOHN WISE AND PARTY ARRESTED

patches by the steamer Hawaii, which had only arrived from Molokai with cattle. The first intention was to send succor to Wise, who was represented to be almost in the throes of starvation, because the police, in seizing the personal property of the Gibson estate, had taken all the eatables, and the guardians of the property in the interest of the trustees, found themselves in a position which soon would have become untenable. When the men arrested are taken once more to their island castle, they will have plenty of poi and condensed milk, biscuit and tinned goods, and they will be able to keep up the blockade as long as is necessary.

The latest turn in affairs was disclosed here on the arrival of the steamer Friday, when it was known that the police had served an attachment on all the personal property on the ranch on Lanai, under an execution issued against Mrs. Hayselden, in the suit of Bishop & Company. At once there were preparations by the attorneys to make a fight for what it is claimed is the right of the administrator with the will annexed and trustee of the estate of Walter Murray Gibson, Fred H. Hayselden.

The attachment was served under the execution which was against Mrs. Hayselden, in the joint suit with W. H. Pain, growing out of the purchase and handling of certain of the assets of the Maunaloa Sugar Co. The execution was served against the personal property of the estate which has been under the control of John Wise and his assistants ever since they were sent up to represent the claimants, when it was alleged that the purchase of Charles Gay did not comprise the entire island. The police, under the leadership of Lieut. Leslie, from here, who has with him two Maui men, seized everything. The chickens, the sheep, the eatables, everything was seized and it became a case of starve out, but the representatives of Colburn and the administrator-with-the-will annexed held the fort and simply sent down a cry for supplies. They could not even milk a cow or pick an egg. The police held the eatables, leaving only the house for Wise.

Before food was sent however, Attorney Ashford, for the estate, sent

Crying for Help

Lots of it in Honolulu But Daily Growing Less.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble. It is the kidneys' first cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are what is wanted.

Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidney; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Read the proof from a Honolulu citizen.

Mr. Charles Corney, of Cyclomere street, this city, one of the many persons who have tried Doan's Backache Kidney Pills with great advantage, relates his experience thus: "I have been a hack driver for a number of years past and this is an occupation in which, through exposure to weather and much jumping up and down from the vehicle, one is particularly liable to kidney complaint. I suffered myself from a lame back for a long while, and in my anxiety to get rid of it tried several things which did not reach the root of my trouble. An advertisement acquainted me with what grand work Doan's Backache Kidney Pills were doing, and I got some of them at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store. I used them and with very much profit, for they relieved my back wonderfully."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

An Earl Coming.

An English earl may be one of the visitors to Honolulu during the spring in his steam yacht. Town Talk in its most recent issue says: The Earl of Crawford started from England last week on a tour of the world in his fine steam yacht Vailhalla, which is the largest yacht of the Royal Yacht Squadron. The earl goes first to the Falkland Islands and then, passing through the straits of Magellan, intends to visit all the island groups of the southern Pacific to gather fauna and flora for his collection. He is accompanied by a member of the British Ornithologist Union, Mr. J. Nicoll, who will assist in collecting specimens. There is a strong possibility of this cultured nobleman coming to California, not, however with intent to observe us from the naturalist's point of view. But he has a son who is a student at the Berkeley university, the Hon. Mr. Lindsay, the youth I mentioned a few weeks ago.

A hostess recently gave a dinner party at which some very novel and charming ideas were used in the arrangements of the table decorations. Red and green were the colors, the center piece being a cut glass vase filled with American beauty roses from which peeped white real lace butterflies. Handsome lace was placed under this and at the ends and sides of the table were cut glass candlesticks shaded with green. The same color was used to shade the lights above. Around the table drooped festoons of malle. The favors were of American Beauty roses, one at each guest's place. The place cards were of heavy white satin ribbons inscribed with the names.

Another very prettily appointed dinner was called a "red dinner." In the center of the board was spread a piece of rare lace and on this was placed a heavy silver candelabrum with red candles and shades. At either end of the table were baskets of red carnations and maiden hair ferns and to these streamers of fine-leaved malle were festooned from the chandelier. The place cards were red and carnations of the same color were scattered over the cloth.

Still another beautifully appointed luncheon was given on Monday. The table decorations were entirely in purple violets and wild jessamine trailers. The chandelier was trimmed with jessamine extending to two corners of the table diagonally. In one corner of the table was a low cut glass bowl filled with purple violets resting on their own leaves. From the bowl fell two or three jessamine trailers upon the beautiful Mexican drawn work cloth and here and there bunches of violets on their own leaves were artistically arranged. The place cards were in the shape of violet leaves, and violet blossoms were daintily painted on them.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wight entertained a small party of friends at dinner last evening at their Nuuanu valley home.

Cards have been received here of the marriage on January 6th, in St. John's church, Clear Spring, Maryland, of Lieut. David Martin Addison, U. S. N., to Venette Shapley, daughter of Mr. Samuel Middlekauff Reitzel. Lieut. Addison was here on the cruiser Boston and the gunboat Bennington, and was quite well known socially, and in fact, was believed at one time to have been engaged to a Honolulu belle.

Col. W. H. Cornwell has been quite ill for more than a week and is still confined to his home.

Aqua Marina, the Waikiki Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. George Beckley, was the scene on Sunday last of an elaborate poi luncheon given by Mrs. Beckley in honor of Mrs. Frank Woods and Mrs. Carl Widemann. About thirty guests gathered about the artistically decorated table in the cool, thatched lanai, red and green being the

as a dressing place and will be fitted up at once so that the new teams can play there at the beginning of the new term.

A large number of young ladies have already handed in their names for the gymnasium classes and basket ball teams, and it is now necessary that any others who wish to join should present their names to the physical director at once, so that the subdivision of the classes may be made before the term opens. The ladies' classes will meet promptly at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, January 13. The afternoon class will meet at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday, January 14. Teachers' class, 9:30 a. m., Saturday, January 17. The children's classes, basket ball and tennis classes will be arranged upon consultation with the physical director.

Tomorrow evening the exhibition of the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium classes followed by a basket ball contest, will take place in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium, admission being to ladies only and by card.

Dr. George Herbert was host on Friday for a large party composed of the officers of the cable steamer Silvertown, Manager S. S. Dickenson of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company's interests here, Captain Rodman, U. S. N., of the U. S. S. Iroquois, Mrs. Clarence W. Macfarlane, Mrs. George Herbert, Mrs. Helen Noonan, Col. Samuel Parker, Prince David Kawanakoa, Dr. L. E. Cofer and C. A. Brown. The party was taken to the peninsula on the morning train, leaving it at Alea where they were met by Clarence Macfarlane with the launch "Julie." The little launch's course to the Macfarlane home on the peninsula was through the various lochs which enabled all to witness the present dredging operations on the bar. A fine lunch awaited the party at the Macfarlane home and the remainder of the afternoon was spent in an enjoyment of the shady lawns and cool breezes from Pearl Harbor.

A wagonette party was given for Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Widemann on Monday evening.

Governor and Mrs. S. B. Dole returned to Honolulu yesterday in the Kinau from an absence of several BALL DRESSES FOR THE WINTER SEASON.—Lady's Pictorial.

The names were handsomely executed in illuminated old Gothic characters, forming a very pretty souvenir. Covers were laid for eight.

On Monday afternoon an informal reception will be held aboard the cable steamer Silvertown as the return of the officers and cable staff for courtesies extended to them during their stay in Honolulu. The Territorial band will be present.

Mrs. Julian Monsarrat arrived yesterday from Kapapala ranch, Hawaii, in the steamer Mauna Loa and is the guest of her mother, Mrs. L. A. Coney, at "Halani Pa," Richards street.

C. P. Laukae returned to the city in the Mauna Loa from Hawaii where he has been rusticated with Prince Kalaniana'ole.

Mrs. Clifford Kimball is as popular a bride as she was a debutante and on Thursday was deluged with callers. Miss May Damon and Mrs. Foster assisted her in receiving, and for the refreshments dainty pieces of her wedding cake were served with the ices.

Nearly all the ladies in Nuuanu valley, living above the bridge, receive on the first and third Wednesdays.

Mrs. Charles L. Rhodes leaves in the Ventura for the Coast to be absent several months.

The Young Women's Christian Association has secured a basket ball court of its own on the old Hyde premises on Beretania street. Owing to the kindness of Mrs. W. M. Giffard, basket ball has been played twice a week on her premises in Makiki, but the game has become so popular and so many are desirous of joining the classes, it was deemed advisable to arrange for a basket ball court closer to the center of town, with occasional games at the Giffard court. Through the courtesy of Mr. Leedingham, who now occupies the Hyde premises, the use of the grounds and of a room thereon has been offered. The room will be used weeks spent in the mountains of Hawaii. The Governor is much improved in health by his outing.

Mr. Edgar M. Brown leaves for San Francisco on the steamship Ventura for a short visit with his parents.

On Tuesday Mrs. Frank Woods and Mrs. Carl Widemann departed on the Kinau for their homes on Hawaii. A Hawaiian quintette club serenaded them at the dock.

Miss Margaret Walker gave a luncheon on Monday at her Nuuanu avenue home in honor of Mrs. Frank Woods and Mrs. Carl Widemann. The table decorations were a harmonious blending of pink and white. Resting on a large bevel-edged mirror in the center of the table was a cut glass vase filled with drooping pink and white carnations, and the same flowers, with dainty sprigs of maidenhair ferns, were artistically scattered about the table. The menu was of the nicest description. Those around the table were Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. Carl Widemann, Mrs. Herman Focke, Mrs. W. P. C. Hasson, Mrs. Wm. Lantz, Mrs. C. C. Conradt, Mrs. Carl Holloway, Miss Rose Davidson, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Miss Walker. Later in the afternoon the whole party were entertained by Mrs. Faxon Bishop at her beautiful residence in the valley.

Miss E. H. Ryan of this city, the private secretary of M. M. Estee, United States District Judge of Honolulu, returned on a visit to her parents, with whom she will spend the holidays, says the Chronicle.

Town Talk says of the New York success of Julia Dean, who is well known to Honolulu theatergoers. Of the Neil's late ingenue, now acting with the New Goodwin in "The Altar of Friendship," the New York Mail and Express critic recently wrote: "But the role of Florence Arbutnot, played by Miss Dean, is somewhat important as an emotional moment."

NEW TERM CLASSES AT THE Y. W. C. A.

The Educational committee of the Y. W. C. A. held a meeting yesterday at which the following schedule of classes was arranged for the new term:

Day class in embroidery, Mrs. T. H. Gibson, teacher; beginning Tuesday afternoon, January 13, at 2:30 p. m. Six lessons for $1.

Evening embroidery class, Mrs. Timmons, teacher; beginning Monday, January 19, at 7:30 p. m. Six lessons for $1.

Hawaiian weaving, Miss Rebecca Akana, teacher; beginning Thursday, January 15, at 2:30 p. m. Eight lessons for $1.

Pyrography, Miss Edith King, teacher; beginning Saturday, January 17, at 2:30 p. m. Six two-hour lessons for $5.

China painting and water colors, Miss Nettie King, teacher; beginning Saturday, January 17, at 2:30 p. m. Six two-hour lessons for $5.

Stenography and dressmaking classes will be arranged upon consultation with the general secretary. Any who wish to join these classes are asked to leave their names with the secretary.

The Bureau of Universal Travel's issue of outlines for the study of art will be taken up in bi-monthly classes for ladies and gentlemen. These include notes and suggested readings and carefully prepared questions. This will be conducted under the direction of Mrs. Susan D. Heapy and the class is open to non-members as well as members, and to gentlemen as well as ladies. The outlines cost $1.25 for eight months work. The first meeting of the club will be held Monday evening, February 2, at 7:30 p. m.

The young people are leaving on their honeymoon the bride confesses to a previous flirtation, offering two letters to substantiate her self-accusation, in a hysterical manner that is laughable and at the same time a wee bit pathetic. In the last act Florence discovers that her husband, and not her brother, is the man who has made Mary Pinner's life blank. This trying situation Miss Dean interprets with much artistic feeling, and one realizes then how much better most women are in affairs of the heart than most men. And the Journal critic said: "Miss Julia Dean is an ingenue, and she gives rather a good imitation of Annie Russell, who is not easy to imitate, although Fay Templeton at Weber and Fields succeeded in reproducing her."

The ninth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William Montrose Graham was celebrated yesterday afternoon by an at home, at their residence corner of Victoria and Green streets, which was attended by hundreds of ladies and gentlemen. The guests came with greetings and many happy returns of the day and were given a cordial welcome by the host and hostess. From three to six o'clock the house was thronged and the occasion was made more pleasurable by the presence of many gentlemen and the delightful music of the Hawaiian quintette club. Mrs. Graham received in the drawing room which was prettily decorated with bamboo and pink roses. The hostess, who was daintily attired in a pretty grenadine, was assisted in receiving her guests by Rev. and Mrs. Alexander Mackintosh, Mrs. Henry Bond Restarick, Miss Von Holt and Miss Kathleen Cartwright. Rev. Alexander Mackintosh had the pleasure of officiating at the wedding a decade ago. As the guests entered the lanai they were greeted by flamboyant trimmings of red, yellow and green hunting, relieved by crotons in autumn shades. The drawing room was tastefully decorated with terra cotta bougainvillea blossoms and the dining room was fragrant and dainty with masses of poppies, holly and red roses. Beneath a marquee on the lawn small tables were grouped each covered with a pretty embroidered grass linen cloth. The center piece was a large pink jardiniere filled with maiden hair ferns. In this pretty and popular gathering place refreshments, elaborate and dainty, were served by ladies and young girls. Mr. J. Tarn McGrew, Mr. Robert Shingle and Mr. Arthur Mackintosh acted as ushers.

Dr. and Mrs. McGrew gave a little party at Alea on Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. T. Clive Davies and Mr. and Mrs. George Davies, Mrs. Birney and Miss Birney, mother and sister of Mrs. George Davies, and Miss Davies. After enjoying bathing and a delightful supper, the party returned to the city by moonlight in carriages.

Consternation has been caused among a number of young cavaliers by the receipt of a certain brochure on fashion. Sent to the well dressed men about town it was perused, and was found to give special attention to cravats. Now the average young man has come to the conclusion that he has been very badly dressed, for he has broken nearly every one of the absolute rules. This authority makes a fellow who imagined himself well fixed up, quite the contrary and most of the fault lies with the cravat or small detail. Funny what troubles a small thing like a cravat makes when viewed in the mirror of fashion. The chief fault seems to be with the club tie used with the high turned-down collar and the manner in which too much collar and button are shown.

The News Letter says, in its "Matrons of Society": "Mrs. W. G. Irwin has come into social prominence of late years, and bids fair to take front rank in the swim, with her beautiful new house, plenty of money to entertain and a hospitable intent. Mrs. Irwin was Miss Fanny Ivers. She is a charming woman and is sure to have a goodly following should she desire the position of society leader. Mrs. J. D. Spreckels has shown our swaggar set what delightful balls she can give, her magnificent new house on Pacific avenue having been built for entertaining. With great wealth, a large family of young people, all fond of society, it naturally follows that the Spreckels' will be at the head of social affairs this winter."

Mr. Gerritt P. Wilder entertained a few friends at luncheon on Sunday.

Ladies' Muslin Underwear

On Monday Morning at 8 o'clock begins our great January Sale of Ladies' Fine Under-Muslins. The sale will continue thro' out the week, or while the goods last.

The values are extraordinary, as will be seen by the examples quoted. The muslins, the trimmings, the sewing, are fully up to our standard, and when combined with the prices should persuade you to buy a year's supply. There arrived by the last steamer, a lot of those exquisite "Home Made" Garments, the dainty kind, made of Soft Nainsooks and Lawns, beautifully trimmed, worth $2.00 and $7.00 each; all these go in at the sale prices.

BASEBALL MEN STILL SEARCHING

Prospects for an athletic park are improving and the outlook is that, when the baseball season opens, there will be ready for the patrons of the national game a field which will combine the pleasing features of all the older ones, with the possible exception of a complete grandstand. The committees of league now at work have the highest hopes, and it is certain that one of the several points under consideration will be chosen.

The most promising candidates are fields in Kewalo and in Pawaa, the first close to the turn of the Waikiki road, and the second out beyond where the Rapid Transit road crosses from Bere-tania to King street. The latter cannot be absolutely placed at the disposal of the baseball league until certain business deals now on are completed, and this delay may interfere somewhat with the development. The property is in grass, has a fine turf and needs only some rolling and a little filling in the deep field to make it a first-class place.

The location which is second in the minds of the baseball men is the one makai of King street and Ewa of the Waikiki road, and part of it having been used as a rice field, there will be some work necessary in getting it ready for play, several hundred dollars of filling in perhaps being needed. In other respects the grounds would be suitable. The rent is an item, however and this is causing some further consideration. In case either of these locations is chosen, and the meeting to finally consider the matter will be held, probably, during the coming week, it is the expectation of the members of the league that they will be content during the first season with a fence and a set of bleachers on either side of the back stop. Should this be carried through, the first season crowds would be content with out door seats, the prospect being that success would mean larger accommodations next time.

The teams are being filed into shape for the season and the outlook is good. There may be no further games for several weeks as the men are playing easily, so that their arms may be kept in shape. The Customs are perhaps further advanced in conditioning and the team expects to be in the first division during the coming season. The H. A. C. is strengthened and the Mailes are not far behind. Altogether there promises to be a fairly well balanced league. The Elks are at work, and the league babies will make a strong bid.

DAN PATCH, 1:59 1-2—Recently Sold for $60,000.

MAILE ILIMAS AND PACIFICS PLAY FAST GAME TO A TIE.

It was 2 to 0 against the cable layers when the game of Association football between an eleven from the Silvertown and the Honolulu was closed at Makiki yesterday afternoon. It was a victory not above question at all points perhaps as the first goal was declared by some to be the result of an offside play but the referee did not see it that way. The second game was one of the best of the season, and the tie score gives a good line on the quality of play. The games were played in a light rain which kept down the attendance.

The first game which was called at 3 p. m. was between a team from the cable ship Silvertown and the Honolulu. The cable layers played under a great disadvantage and considering the fact that not only their captain but several men of the team did not turn up, they put up a rattling good game. As is natural, their lack of practice told against them, but they fought well against what was already a forlorn hope, and were only scored against twice.

Honolulu won the toss, and "Silver-town" kicked off. The playing was slow but steady. The ball most of the time was close to the cablemen's goal.

Several times Lumpden blocked some good goal kicks by Honolulu men. Five minutes after play began, Marcallino passed the ball to Catton, who placed it squarely between the posts. The Silvertown men rallied and missed a goal by a few inches. In the last minute of the half, after some hard playing Honolulu rushed the ball between the posts again and the score stood 2-0. In the second half, neither side was able to score.

PACIFICS VS. MAILE ILIMAS.

This game was by all odds the best that has been played this season. Maile won the toss and the Pacifics kicked off. From the very first the play was fast and furious. The Mailes have improved wonderfully, but the Pacifics seemed to have the advantage, even though the score was a tie, being 1-1. The Mailes seemed to have a tendency to bunch, therefore when a long kick was made, while there were several Pacific men close to the ball, Maile was nowhere in sight. The ball was kept in constant motion and the Mailes made the first goal. Clark, the Pacific goal keeper caught the ball but fell behind the line and the score stood 1-0. The Pacifics redoubled their efforts, and after hard work carried the ball down the field and Percy Morse kicked a goal. The score now stood 1-1.

In the second half the playing was hotter than in the first, but neither side was able to make anything. The Pacifics made one goal, but it was kicked after the whistle blew for a foul and was not counted. Both teams played for all there was in them, and where the playing in general was so good it is difficult to pick any stars, though Beardmore, Morse and Blackman for the Pacifics, and the two Andersons for the Mailes did especially good work.

The personnel of the teams was as follows: Silvertown—Goal, Lumsden; full-backs, Walsh, Burham; halves, Bumpus, Munyon, Moore; forwards, Rutter, Fender, Reed, Sangster, Barchavi. Honolulu—Goal, A. A. Catton; forwards, G. Waterhouse, Cockburn, Simpson, J. H. Catton, Simpson; halves, Marcallino, Glass, and W. Anderson; backs, Soper and Gleason. Pacifics—Goal, H. B. Sinclair; full-backs, A. Guild, S. Beardmore; halves, B. Clarke, C. Webb, R. A. Churton; forwards, Catterall, L. Blackman, C. P. Morse, Young, Bayer. Maile Ilima—Goal, J. Laird; backs, McGill, B. Anderson; halves, Cummings, Mayall, T. Anderson; forwards, Williams, Morrison, Moore, Dole, Munro.

New Year's Day Races at Hilo.

The races at Hoolulu Park on New Year's day did not draw as large a crowd as was anticipated. Some of the events warranted a much better attendance. There were some good races, though the number of horses contesting was small. Carter Harrison, Jr., was the winner in the half-mile free for all against Philip and Frank S. In the gentlemen's driving race between Wayboy (McKenzie), and Acrobat (Ray), the former won easily. The Japanese races were closely contested and created the usual amount of amusement.

The one mile free for all was between Fierro, Carter Harrison and Dixie Land, Carter Harrison winning as he did in the eighth event against Philip, Dixie Land and Frank S.

The Hilo band was in attendance and relieved the monotony during the unusually long waits between the events—Herald.

Plan a Basket Ball Season.

Basketball men are warming up, and there is a prospect that a two-months series will be inaugurated at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium soon. The outlook is for a league of four teams, of which, however, only one is now fully organized, the Diamond Heads. The coming week may see the getting into shape of the others. The intention is to make the series short and active, fitting in the early spring season.

Polo Club's New Members.

The executive committee of the Oahu Polo Club has chosen half a dozen new members during the week, and the outlook is for an increase of activity during the coming season. The new men in the club are H. P. Judd, Harold Gifford, William Williamson, C. Percy Morse, F. J. Church, C. Montague Cooke, Jr.

RACINE MURPHY WINS HANDILY

Racine Murphy uncovered a decent bit of quality at Kapiolani Park yesterday afternoon, beating Aggravation at a mile and an eighth, with something to spare. There was a small crowd of horse fanciers present, and there was little speculation on the event, which was for a $500 purse.

The track was in fair condition and the owners decided that it was a good time to pull off the race, so the animals were warmed and soon after 3 o'clock the bell was sounded for the start. They were sent away fairly, the mare having a little the better of the start. The roan was held down by Opiolo, and only by a rare burst of speed which could not be well controlled did it race to the front in the first three-quarters. They passed the stand on fair terms, and on the upper turn the roan ran away from the mare until in the back stretch there were five open lengths between them.

Thomas called on Aggravation on the lower turn, and with an effort placed her head at Opiolo's knee, but the roan was only in a gallop while the mare was practically all in. Thus the wire was reached in the slow time of 1:59.4. The roan is seemingly about his best, while the mare shows that she will be better when given more work.

FIRST DAILY PAPER.

I am burlesquing—if he sits down solemnly and takes one of my palpable burlesques and reads it with a funeral aspect, and swallows it as petrified truth—how am I going to help it? I cannot give him the keen perception that nature denied him—now, can I? Whitney knows that. Whitney knows that he has done me many a kindness, and that I do not forget it, and am still grateful—and he knows that if I could scour him up so that he could tell a broad burlesque from a plain statement of fact, I would get up in the night and walk any distance to do it. You know that, Whitney. But I am coming down there mighty hungry—most uncommonly hungry, Whitney. MARK TWAIN.

In the local columns some new familiar names occur: "By the politeness of Mr. J. B. Atherton," the editor heard of a Chinese suicide at Waihee; and Mr. P. Cushman Jones handed over the latest data about the arrival of whalers at San Francisco. Then look at this: "The Honorable David Kalakaua, King's Chamberlain, received the outgoing and incoming French commissioners yesterday at Iolani Palace with his usual well-known urbanity and gentlemanly deportment." Major Wodehouse's coming as British commissioner was announced in the issue of September 8, as was also the fact that Mr. C. Derby had sent to the Coast for a dramatic troupe. "When you see Mr. McInerney and Mr. Savidge together," remarked the local humorist, "one a Fenian and the other a native of Baker's Island, things look dubious. Those gentlemen must be kept separate by the high hand of the law." There is a great deal more in the files of special interest, but quotations string out. It will be enough for the present to cite a verse or two from a poem by Mr. Ayers appearing in the last issue and which, perhaps, answered for his valedictory:

Come, gentle muse, and teach my artless lay
To sing with rapture of this Isle serene—
Where views majestic glid the glowing day
And nights celestial close the radiant scene!
To thee, Oahu, lapped on thy coral bed,
I give the passing tribute of a stranger,
And tristful sing along the path I tread,
So full of beauty, yet so fraught with danger.

Ayers was no longer the cheerful optimist in the field of local journalism. Instead he was the "passing stranger," leaving it reluctantly to escape pitfalls.

A SENSIBLE STYLISH SHOE

And it is not expensive, only

$4.50

This shoe is made of Patent Colt Kid on an easy, comfortable last, with a neat dull kid top. It has the appearance of a more expensive shoe and the wearing qualities have not been slighted.

We can recommend this shoe to give a reasonable amount of wear which cannot be had of other patent leathers. We offer it to you, firmly satisfied that a better shoe cannot be made for the money.

First quarter of the moon on the 11th. Times of the tide are taken from the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey tables.

The tides at Kahului and Hilo occur about one hour earlier than at Honolulu. Hawaiian standard time is 10 hours 30 minutes slower than Greenwich time, being that of the meridian of 157 degrees 30 minutes. The time whistle blows at 1:30 p. m., which is the same as Greenwich, 9 hours 30 minutes. Sun and moon are for local time for the whole group.

THE CABLE CARTOONED.

—Washington Star.

CHECK PROVED HER UNDOING

A check for $45 proved the undoing of a demure little Japanese woman yesterday morning. She had come to Hawaii as one of a batch of immigrants, but for some reason she could not be admitted, and it was decided to deport her. She escaped this at first, and would have been free now had it not been for the check.

Over on Quarantine Island a few days ago some one made a mistake. The little woman who was to have been deported was allowed to go free and a woman who had a right to enter the Territory was kept in her place. The mistake was not discovered until a couple of days ago, and then it was impossible to find the woman.

Yesterday she appeared at the office of Hackfeld & Co. with a check for $45 which she wished cashed. When immigrants for Hawaii leave Japan they are required to deposit with the steamship company $90. One half of this is for their passage, and for the other portion they receive a check, which can be cashed if they are permitted to enter the Territory, but which is used for their return passage money in case the Commissioner of Immigration rejects them. It was the $45 check that the woman had. There was some difficulty in cashing it, and she went down to the channel wharf to see Mr. Riley, the man of many parts who handles immigrants, freight and other things. The wrong name was on the check, and she tried to explain to him, but Riley quickly learned that she was the woman who was allowed to enter by mistake, and sending for an immigration official had her detained. She will now be deported and the other woman allowed to enter the Territory.

Optic in Port.

The O. & O. liner Coptic arrived in port early yesterday morning having been delayed on her voyage by heavy weather. She sailed again yesterday afternoon for the Orient.

The Coptic is in charge of former chief officer F. E. Beadnell, owing to Captain Rinder taking ill in San Francisco and not making the voyage. R. Lober is acting as the vessel's first officer.

She has few passengers and one less person on board than she started from San Francisco with owing to the fact that a "lady stowaway" had to be sent ashore in the pilot boat after leaving San Francisco. Purser Rennie found a well dressed lady seated in the saloon after leaving the dock at San Francisco. He asked for her ticket and found that she had no ticket and no money with which to pay a passage so all Rennie could do was to send her back with the pilot. The lady did not disclose her identity but stated that she "had to leave" San Francisco.

Fisherman Had Tough Time.

Awoki Kamijiro, a Japanese fisherman, whose sampan overturned on Monday about nine miles off the harbor, clung to the bottom of the boat for three days and three nights and finally was carried by the wind onto the shore near Pearl Harbor. He had had no food, had lost seventeen pounds in weight, and was cared for by natives when he reached the shore. His sampan was secured at the point where it grounded and is but little damaged. Two steamers passed near the point where the Jap was clinging to the sampan but did not see him.

No Duty on This Tea.

Collector of Customs Stackable has received advices from the Treasury Department authorizing him to allow to be cleared free of duty from all bonded warehouses tea that was there previous to December 31. This decision affects a number of importers and saves them a large amount of money.

Japanese Deported.

Seventy-five Japanese, afflicted with trachoma, were deported on the Coptic yesterday.

Coming to Load Sugar.

The ship Clarence S. Bement sailed from Yokohama for Honolulu on January 1. She is to load sugar at this port for New York.

GUARDS OF PORT DURING THE NIGHT

Many thousand dollars' worth of goods lying on Honolulu wharves are exposed to the view of everybody at night time, but are so well guarded that the possibility of theft is remote. A force of men in blue uniforms, each possessing the latest pattern of revolver and patrolling the wharves, sees that these goods are not harmed.

Cases of silk from China and valuable merchandise, consisting of spirits and all kinds of merchandise, lie on the wharf overnight just after a steamer has discharged her cargo but—the man in blue watches these. That's his business and his sole business. In addition to his revolver he also has a police whistle, and there is a master man that goes around to see that all is right. This is the night inspecting force of the custom house, and constitutes one of the most interesting bodies of men in Hawaii.

On all the wharves one can find them. No one approaches a wharf after dark without being closely scrutinized by them, and nothing can leave the wharf without a permit from the custom house authorities.

One can speculate what the chances are to run off with a couple bales of silk. Why not get a rowboat and, sneaking alongside the wharf, land a half dozen men to overpower the inspector and take the stuff? It would be well nigh impossible. The custom house man, hearing the swash of the boat as it sped along, would say:

"What's that boat?"

This to himself.

A moment later, as the boat touched the wharf, he would say to himself that the boat had no right there.

"What are you fellows doing here?"

No answer would come from the boat, he would tell them to stop, unless they had some business there, and then if the plunderers wished to have trouble—well, the custom's man has a gun.

Some night you will find an inspector watching a big stack of light boxes containing goods from the Orient which are of considerable value, and the next you may find the same man seated on one piece of machinery weighing several tons. Of course, the latter could not be easily stolen, but it might be dutiable goods, and in this case the law requires that it be watched.

Now no one imagines that the cable in the tank near the Railway wharf is going to be carried off by thieves, yet the law requires it to be watched, as it is dutiable stuff.

The night force of the custom house works in two shifts. One gang starts work at 5 in the evening and continues until midnight, while the other goes on at midnight and works until 7 in the morning. Each gang is in charge of a "captain," or a member of the day inspecting staff, and the men on the day force take turns in looking after this night work, each one putting in a month at it.

Work on Dock.

F. J. Amweg, the contractor in chief for the construction of the Hilo dock, was in the city last week for the purpose of getting matters in shape so that work was here last week for the purpose at once. As a result of his visit, together with that of Mr. E. E. Paxton, who has been in the city the past week, the dock work will not be delayed much longer. It is calculated now that construction will begin by January 15.—Hilo Tribune.

Koa for Pullman Cars.

The Mauna Kea Koa Lumber Company shipped 75,000 feet of koa lumber to the coast expecting to market it in San Francisco, but failed to do so. Manager Kendall is negotiating with the Pullman car people and hopes to induce them to introduce the lumber in the manufacture of their cars. The objection by the coast people is on the ground of the koa being so much more difficult to work than ordinary hard woods.—Hilo Herald.

INVESTIGATION AT WASHINGTON

Internal Revenue Collector Chamberlain received instructions by yesterday's mail to withhold duplicate certificates of residence of Chinese until after the Treasury Department has passed upon them.

This will necessitate a long delay in obtaining the certificates in case of loss and Chinese contemplating a visit to China, will have to make their application months before the day of their intended departure.

The change is made at the request of the Commissioner of Immigration who has asked that he be allowed to investigate all cases where a duplicate certificate is required in order to prevent frauds. After the examination has been completed Collector Chamberlain will, if there is a satisfactory report, issue the certificate as usual.

SCOVEL FOUND TO BE INNOCENT

Today Scovel the storekeeper for Onomea Plantation who was charged with having embezzled funds of the plantation store was discharged by Judge Little at Hilo. The grand jury found "no bill."

The grand jury also failed to indict the Olua Porto Rican charged with the assault and murder of a young girl in that district.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The cable will probably reach Manila early in July.

January clearance sale now on at Whitney, Marsh, Ltd.

Bargains that make friends can be had at Sachs' dry goods store this week. See their ad.

The Supreme Court has adjourned for the session. The next session will be held February 23.

Otto Schilling, of the Love bakery, has returned from a vacation trip to his old home on Kauai.

Jordan's cut prices on special goods as advertised won't last much longer; don't delay there are yet some choice goods left.

Mrs. George W. Scott, of Nuuanu valley, was thrown from a brake by a runaway on Friday and narrowly escaped serious injury.

Professor Berger has written to Hilo saying that when the band reaches there he will be at the disposal of a committee of citizens.

Miss Cantor has on exhibition and special sale at Whitney & Marsh, Ltd., a fine stock of the latest style hats. The stock is right up to date.

The work of the New York Dental Parlor challenges inspection, doesn't cause you pain when putting in or afterwards. Give them a trial.

It is enough to say that the 1903 New Year Edition of the San Francisco Chronicle reached the level of its predecessors. Above that there is no room.

The Douglas patent closets are fully warranted and guaranteed against all leakage. Samples can be seen at E. R. Bath's plumbing shop, opposite the Young building on King street.

The Hilo term of court opened last Monday, with Judge Little presiding. E. A. Douthitt is representing the Territory in the prosecution. C. C. Kennedy is foreman of the grand jury, and Little wants the liquor business investigated.

Imoto Katchiro, the Japanese arrested on Wednesday night in Nuuanu Valley for illicit distilling of okolehao, was found guilty yesterday in Judge Wilcox's court and sentenced to three months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $400.

The Burns club will celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns this year at Spreckels' hall on the evening of January 24. A good program of music and other features is being prepared. There will also be dancing.—Hilo Tribune.

C. R. Blacow of Kukuila is in the city attending court. Mr. Blacow reports that during the year 1902, 275.46 inches of rain fell in his vicinity. This was at an elevation of 1,450. At an elevation of 4,000 feet the fall was 180 inches.—Hilo Tribune.

The Notley will case has been set for trial at Hilo on January 22. A number of Honolulu attorneys will go over for the trial. The Richardson will case was settled out of court. Property at Punoe is settled upon Mrs. Wakefield in addition to the bequest of $5,000.

The legislative committee of the Builders and Traders' Exchange met yesterday afternoon to discuss plans of legislation and another meeting will be held Monday evening with the board of directors of the organization, at which time definite instructions will probably be given to the first named committee.

An Omaha dispatch says that a large number of telegraph officials and Railway telegraph superintendents attended the funeral of Colonel John J. Dickey at Benson, near Omaha. The telegraph offices in Omaha and other cities in Colonel Dickey's district were draped in mourning in honor of the dead chief, who was one of the oldest and most popular telegraph officials in the country.

Wants an Accounting.

W. C. L. Whitney, administrator of the estate of C. Ahl, yesterday asked that C. W. H. Ahl, the former administrator, be required to make an accounting, as he has been ordered to do. In default of this he asks that Ahl be cited for contempt of court.
