What a Man Can Drink to Get Two and One-half Ounces

ENERGY FROM ALCOHOL.

There are few readers of the N. Y. Herald, who were not interested in the account of Professor W. O. Atwater's experiments with the calorimeter and of the conclusions at which he has arrived—namely, that, while alcohol gives energy, it does not make tissue, and that hence stimulants, though useful as fuel in certain cases, cannot build up the human machine or repair it, their efficacy in this direction lasting only a brief period.

There was one question which many persons asked after they had read about these experiments, and that was:—How much alcohol am I consuming every day? A very natural question this was, for, though all the world knows that beer, wine and spirits contain alcohol, very few have ever taken the trouble to find out just how much alcohol each different kind of liquor contains.

Now, comparatively speaking, there is not much alcohol either in ale, beer or stout. On this point the following figures are of interest:

	Per Cent Alcohol.
English ale.....	8.25
Scotch ale.....	4.41
Irish porter.....	6.81
New York lager.....	5.86
German lager.....	4.70

Brandy, on the other hand, is almost pure alcohol and water, the percentage of alcohol in it varying from forty-eight to fifty-six per cent. Besides alcohol and water it contains the volatile oil of the wine, a little acetic acid, acetic ether, aldehyde and a few other materials, together with coloring matter and tannic acid, derived from the bark.

"Pure whiskey," says an expert, "when newly prepared, is nearly colorless, but if preserved in casks it gradually acquires a brownish color. It contains minute quantities of acetic, butyric and valeric acids, and if distilled from a copper still it may also show traces of this metal. It has a specific gravity ranging between 0.922 and 0.94, and it should contain from forty-eight to fifty-six per cent by weight of absolute alcohol."

AMOUNT VARIES IN WINES.

The amount of alcohol in the various wines varies from year to year, but the following table, showing the volume percentage of alcohol, may be accepted as generally accurate:

VOLUME PERCENTAGE OF ALCOHOL.
Rhenish and Moselle.....	9.1 to 12.0
Burgundy, red.....	7.5 to 13.5
Bordeaux.....	7.0 to 11.5
Catawba, Concord.....	8.5 to 12.7
California wines.....	10.5 to 15.0
Port.....	18.0 to 23.0
Sherry.....	18.0 to 21.0
Madeira.....	17.0 to 19.0
Tokay.....	12.0 to 20.0
Greek & Syrian wines.....	14.0 to 18.0

A moment's consideration will show a man that he will not have to drink very much in order to get the two and a half ounces into his system. In regard to ale, beer and stout the case is different. As our figures show, a pint of New York lager beer only contains 5.86 per cent of alcohol, and hence it is evident that two and a half ounces go a long way in the manufacture of this drink.

On the other hand, some of the wines contain a goodly proportion of alcohol. Port stands at the head in this respect, so far as the volume of alcohol is concerned, the percentage of alcohol rising sometimes as high as 23. Tokay and sherry come next, with a percentage of 20 and 21 respectively. Thus, if a man indulges in these wines he may rest assured that a very appreciable proportion of what he drinks is alcohol.

To state exactly how much alcohol there is in any bottle of intoxicating liquor is next to impossible, at least without a chemical analysis, and hence it will not be easy for any one to make an exact experiment like Professor Atwater's unless he obtains two and a half ounces of absolute alcohol and prepares a beverage with it himself.

THE SUNDAY LAW.

Why should not Sunday be a day of recreation and a chance given to those who work during the week to forget their drudgery and enjoy themselves in decent and healthy exercises. In civilized countries is the workingman's day and parks, zoological gardens, museums, theatres, etc., are crowded with those in search of recreation. Bands are playing, Glee Clubs are singing, picnics and dances are going on and nobody feels disturbed, and we hope all go to the same heaven of the Central Union Church. A number of boys were arrested, taken to the Police Station and arraigned in the District Court yesterday, because they had gathered on the plains of Puunui and were prepared to play a game of ball. Certain people living in the vicinity heard the shrill voices of the youngsters and felt very much annoyed by being disturbed in their prayers (for a rise in stocks?) They telephoned to the Police Department thereby disturbing two worthy officers who were dispatched to the scene, and instead of telling the boys to disperse chased them around and arrested them. We would like to know what the disturbed "prayers" expect the boys to do on a Sunday. Every one of the youngsters has to work hard during the week and Sunday is the day when his amusement and recreation should come in. Honolulu is growing and the people in authority have never thought of the poor. The boys cannot play ball or have a frolic in the city proper, and now they are being driven away even from the suburbs because the delicate ears of some person, not even willing to appear in Court to give evidence and explain where the annoyance comes in, has laid a complaint. THE INDEPENDENT has always advocated the strongest measures against hoodlumism and ruffianism but we think the police made fools of themselves by arresting 40 boys at Puunui, because they made a noise preparatory to opening a healthy game with balls and bats. Chinese are being arrested by officers without sense, because they spend their evenings in playing a game of dominoes. Now boys are arrested, put under heavy bail and treated as criminals because they enjoy their day of liberty by gathering together and having a good time. How about the jolly surf riders, and canoe steerers, and the bathers who make noise enough on Sundays at Waikiki, to make the dead wake up? How about the noise church bells and the singing hordes who gather every Sunday and make life a misery to those who want sleep but live near a church or near a corner where the noisy Christians assemble. Give the poor boys a show. They cannot enjoy their day of rest, the only day that they have not to work by enjoying a dolce far niente in a hammock, read novels and take a rest from dissipations of the past week. They cannot hire or buy a surrey and horses and ride to Waikiki to listen to the noisy band which plays there on Sundays. They cannot go yachting and leave their empty bottles floating in the lochs of Pearl Harbor, and they cannot afford to travel to Waialua and take a dinner a la carte at the new hotel. What then are they to do? Do the complaining people who couldn't sleep because the boys made a noise expect them to stay at home in their stuffy small rooms and spend their day of freedom like ascetics waiting for the dawn of the day when they again would be called to work? Or do they wish them to club together, buy a barrel of swipes, get drunk, commit unmentionable offenses, and then become unfit for work, but ready for the life of a vagrant and a criminal? As long as the youngsters behave themselves as decent boys will do; as long as they use no language which can offend the ears of decent people, we say let them lift their young voices, call their umpires down and enjoy their youth and health, even if those living in luxury among God's green hills feel annoyed. We believe the good God will smile approval at those who spend His Sabbath in enjoying the fresh air, their vigor, and youth.

AN OFFICIAL VISIT.

A Large Party Inspects the Leper Settlement—A Pleasant Voyage—No Complaints Made.

The delayed semi-annual visit to the Leper Settlement by the Board of Health took place on Friday evening when officials and visitors to whom permits had been granted boarded the W. G. Hall and sailed for the Settlement, which is the most unique institution of its kind in the world.

After a very smooth trip the party landed at Kalaupapa at daybreak without finding any difficulty in reaching the wharf. It is to be hoped that some day a breakwater will be built. There are any amount of rocks available near the landing place, and at a comparatively small cost the landing at the Settlement could be made perfectly safe. There is nothing new to tell about the Settlement since the last visit. Everything is apparently running and for a wonder there was no "kick" from any of the unfortunate people. The two noble Homes which shield many of those afflicted are conducted in the manner which is a credit to the Sisters who have charge of the Bishop Home for girls and single women, and to the Brothers who, in a model manner, look after the boys and men at the Baldwin Home at Kalawao. In this connection, it may be mentioned that Brother Dutton, the chief of the Boys' Home, completed the thirteenth anniversary of his arrival and work amongst the unfortunate class of our people on this visiting day. The houses belonging to the Government or to private inmates are kept in excellent condition, and since the blessing of an ample water supply, the surrounding grounds and gardens are being cultivated and beautified.

In this connection we will mention the scheme of Mr. W. O. Smith to encourage the planting of trees and the improvement of the grounds around the houses. With his usual liberality Mr. Smith gave notice that in October next year five money prizes, ranging from $10 to $50, will be paid to the five persons who have done the best work in cultivating trees during the year. There are to be given nominally by the newspapers of the city to hide Mr. Smith's modest generosity.

Another set of prizes, from $5 to $25, is offered to those who, during the period, have kept their grounds in the best condition. All the inhabitants can enter in the competition, and W. O. Smith, C. B. Reynolds and William Notley will act as judges. If Mr. Smith sees that his liberal offer is rewarded with success he will see that his plan will be continued annually.

A little extra money is a great thing to many of the lepers, and what is of much more importance is that the plan of Mr. Smith will rouse the ambition of the poor people and give them something to occupy their minds, something to work for instead of brooding over their sad affliction.

The inhabitants greatly appreciate the new policy of the Board of Health in allowing relatives and friends to visit the Settlement at the semi-annual trips in a more liberal sense than heretofore, and Minister Cooper was greeted in a hearty manner.

At 4:15 p. m. on Saturday the steamer returned to Honolulu, arriving here at 9 after a smooth passage.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Perhaps the most interesting news brought by to-day's mail is the practically enforced resignation of Secretary of War Alger through "persistent and pointed official ostracism" and the efforts of Vice President Hobart. He is succeeded by Hon. Elihu Root, who is one of the most successful corporation lawyers New York. Born in Clinton, a small town in Oneida County, N. Y., fifty-six years ago, the son of Professor Oren Root of Hamilton College, he supported himself by tutoring while studying law in the New York University Law School. He was admitted to the bar in 1867 and has won for himself his practice, which is said to bring him an income of $50,000 a year. He first came into prominence as one of the counsel for William M. Tweed in 1873.

Our Courts have been invited to deal with a very important and interesting question. A Chinese woman will appear before the District Magistrate on a charge of Polygamy. The woman, we understand, was married in China to a countryman residing in Hawaii, according to Chinese customs. She had never seen her lord and master to be but friends had arranged the match and the woman was virtually sold into the bond of Hymen. She arrived here under a permit entitling her to land as being the wife of a Chinese, a resident of the country. Not knowing the devoted spouse whom she had never seen, she married another Chinaman, according to the laws of Hawaii, and now she stands in the difficult position of having one husband by letter, and one de facto besides being charged with Polygamy. And yet they prate about the "white man's burden."

The case of the Galician laborers now confined in Oahu jail for refusing to work under the penal labor laws, is being investigated by an official of the government and representatives of the agents and the acting consul for Austria. The easiest and cheapest way to solve the annoying question will be to find some lunas guilty of the charges which it is said the Galicians prefer, and then to cancel the contracts and in a burst of just indignation discharge the lunas and get rid of the "white" labor that really never was wanted. The doors of the prison will then be opened and jailer William Henry will assist his unwelcome guests to depart from his precincts. Those of them who wish for work can easily obtain it as free men; the rest will be looked after by the authorities and be invited to take a permanent trip to the Mainland or go to jail again under the vagrancy act and then the lunas can be reinstated.

CONDENSED FOREIGN NEWS.

GROCERS

Groceries to the Fore.

In Union is Strength, and so it is in Co-operation.

The Yanco-Spanco war brought about high prices for a time, but it has again come down to its former level, and we are getting our groceries as cheap as we ever had them before. If every stockholder in the company were to purchase his or her groceries from the Co-operative Grocery Co., the success of the corporation will be assured.
