CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE IN WHIRLWIND WEEK MILLION-DOLLAR COFFEE CARGO SINKS

Parties Ready For Final Week

Democrats Hustling Hard To Keep Political Machine From Crumbling

A week and a day more of whirlwind campaigning, the hardest of the political season, and the Republic will test their case with the voters of the Territory. It will be a week of nightly meetings of both parties in all sections of the city, a week of torchlight, music, speeches and campaign enthusiasm, and the Republican managers today feel more confident of the result than ever before.

Within the past week the evidence of disunity in the Democratic ranks has been so apparent that a child can see them. Starting with the withdrawal of B. G. Elvenburgh as campaign manager a week ago and the selection of Colonel C. J. McCarthy, the lack of harmony in the Bourbon camp has become more and more open. Colonel McCarthy is working hard for the success of the county ticket, but he absolutely refuses to support Boss McCandless in the latter's aspirations for the Delegation.

INDEPENDENT COMPANY TO OPERATE STEAMERS ON RUN FROM COAST TO ISLANDS

The Independent Steamship Company, operating a fleet of six steamers of fair passenger and freight capacity, is now said to stand ready to place one or more vessels in a trade that will include regular visits between Southern California ports and the Hawaiian Islands.

A cable has been received at Honolulu announcing the intention of the steamship company to take care of passenger and cargo offerings from San Pedro or other ports along the Southern California coast.

With the announcement of the present plans of the company also come advices to the effect that the steamship people have secured a big share in the ownership of the American bark Alden Besse.

The sailing vessel left Honolulu some months ago and arrived at San Diego the first of September.

The Alden Besse is reported to have sailed from San Pedro for Honolulu on October 25, taking a large and assorted shipment of merchandise and supplies from that port.

With ample backing of a concern already in the ocean transportation business and the Alden Besse now on her initial voyage to the islands under the new management, the prospect for the long-heralded direct steamship service between Honolulu and Southern California bids fair to become an assured reality.

The promoters appear to see in the new service a promising field of endeavor in that it is claimed that at least 50 per cent. of the tourist business now coming down to the Hawaiian Islands originates at Los Angeles. It is also stated that the vessels would be assured a lucrative return cargo, including quantities of rice, pineapples and other Hawaiian products.

By the operation of a direct steamer to Honolulu would be afforded a much better opportunity for the successful importation of Southern California fruits and other commodities.

There will be a joint meeting of the Committees on Education and Publicity of the Woman's National Rivers and Harbors Congress in the hotel pavilion of the Young Hotel, Wednesday morning, November 2nd, at 10 o'clock. Important business is to be taken up and all members are urged to be present.

SECRETARY WILSON CAMPAIGNING

(Associated Press Cable.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Secretary Wilson is doing some strenuous work in this State in the way of campaign speeches.

HE CAN'T VOTE FOR TRENT AGAIN

"I am not very familiar with the local political situation yet, but I know right now that I won't vote for Trent for treasurer," declares P. C. Jones, who has returned to his home here after an extensive trip on the mainland. Mr. Jones has no "ifs" nor "ands" in his statement. He is willing to go on record as opposed to Trent, because of the fact that Trent has tied up with Boss McCandless.

"I've voted for Trent twice before, and I think he is a good man, but when he allies himself with McCandless and with the forces that McCandless represents, then he has alienated himself from any right to ask for support," says Mr. Jones. "He has deliberately tied himself up with McCandless and that means he is working against the best interests of the Territory. No, sir, Trent deserves no consideration on election day."

LEPROSY CURE WILL BE DISCUSSED

DR. DONALD H. CURRIE TO SPEAK

Expert Will Tell Of Some Conclusions On Sane Care Of Lepers

Some treatment of leprosy and sane efforts to stamp out the disease in Hawaii will be discussed before the Hawaiian Territorial Medical Society at its annual meeting which begins today. This important topic is the theme on which Dr. Donald H. Currie, director of the leprosy investigation station here, will make an address to the members of the society.

The outcome of Dr. Currie's years of investigation of the disease and its possible cure will be watched with interest by the medical profession everywhere, and especially by the profession and the public generally of the Territory. Dr. Currie is a recognized authority on the disease, one of the first men to propagate the leprosy bacillus successfully, and he is now carrying on at the investigation station a series of experiments with vaccine, together with Moses T. Clegg, the expert who arrived a few days ago to work with Dr. Currie.

It is understood that Dr. Currie has some interesting things to say on the treatment of disease at Molokai. He will read a paper entitled, "Some Remarks on the State Care of Leprosy in Hawaii," by "state cure" meaning the eradication of the disease from a locality. His paper is expected to throw some light on the advisability of the treatment of leprosy in a segregated community.

The medical society begins its annual meeting today at 3 o'clock at the University Club, and the meeting will be continued tonight and Monday, closing with a banquet Monday night. Dr. W. G. Rogers will be chairman and will deliver an opening address, following the reading of the minutes, routine business and reports of committees.

Program of Meeting.
The program further is as follows:
Afternoon—Papers: "Concerning Wounds of the Eyeball and Their Treatment," Dr. Armistead; "Modern Quarantine," Dr. Carl Ramus; "The New Science of Eugenics," Dr. J. T. Macdonald. Evening—"Some Remarks on the State Care of Leprosy in Hawaii," Dr. D. H. Currie; "Clinical Observations: Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat," Dr. W. G. Rogers; "Polio Myelitis," discussion general.

Monday, 3 p. m.—"Notes on Ophthalmic Treatment," Dr. Judd; "Cerebral Neoplasms," Dr. Judd; "Temperature versus Temperature," Dr. Goodhue; unfinished business. Evening, 7:30—Banquet. Toastmaster, Dr. C. B. Wood.

Coffee Ship Is Lost Off Cuba

Crown Prince Goes Down and Precious Cargo Is Lost

(Associated Press Cable.)
NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 29.—News was received here today that the big cargo steamer Crown Prince, carrying a full cargo of coffee as well as several passengers, has foundered in the severe gales that have been sweeping the southeast coast and the islands. The vessel was lost off the Cuban shore.

The crew and passengers took to the boats and all were saved, but the vessel and cargo are lost. The loss is estimated at a million dollars. The Crown Prince was on her way to the New York market, and was laden deep with the products of southern coffee fields.

BOARD OF IMMIGRATION HAS PLAN TO SECURE LABORERS FROM ISTHMIAN CANAL ZONE

A plan to secure several thousand immigrants from Panama is now under consideration by the Board of Immigration, and the Board is in communication, through Dr. Victor S. Clark, with the Isthmian Canal officials, taking up the possibilities of the scheme.

The immigrants in view are not natives of the canal zone, but former inhabitants of Northern Spain. They were brought to the Isthmian Canal zone to work on the great canal, and as this work will soon be drawing to a close, they will be out of jobs and looking for permanent location. Already South American countries are trying to secure them, as they have proved to be splendid workmen and make good citizens, and the efforts of South America have turned some that way.

The Board of Immigration will endeavor to turn their attention to Hawaii, with a view to bringing them here as soon as the canal work is finished. Within a comparatively short time a large number will no longer be needed on the canal construction and then it is planned to bring them to the islands.

On the canal they receive about the same wages as plantation laborers here, from eighty-four cents to a dollar a day, and they are highly regarded as laborers. Nine hundred were first tried on the canal work and made good so quickly that several thousand more were than brought over.

The efficiency and desirability of these immigrants is proved by the following statement, taken from the annual report of the Isthmian Canal Commission:

"The experiment with laborers from Northern Spain has proved very satisfactory. Their efficiency is not only more than double that of the negroes but they stand the climate much better. Since the first of January there have been about 900 of these at work on the canal and of this number not one has died from the disease. They have malaria in about the same degree as the white Americans, but not at all to the extent that the negroes have it, and there has not been a single case of yellow fever among them. Their general condition is about as good as it was in their homes in Spain and they stand the climate very much better than the negroes."

POST-OFFICE IS LOW SCORES IN CARS BURNED IN DYNAMITED BY ROBBER FOOTBALL GAMES YARDS AT TOPEKA

(Associated Press Cable.)
LATON, Cal., Oct. 29.—The post-office here was dynamited last night by skillful operators, who blew open the office safe with a big charge of nitro-glycerine, robbed it of $1352 and made their escape. The authorities are now on their trail, but have found no clue.

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—"New" football resulted in some interesting conclusions as an outcome of the big games today, one of which is that the offense has been so weakened by the new rules that it is exceedingly hard to score a touchdown. Yale and the Navy teams were the only ones able to roll up much of a score over their opponents, and in each case the opponents were weak.

The scores today in the East were: Yale 19, Colgate 0; Navy 17, Western Reserve 0; Harvard 6, Army 0; Princeton 6, Dartmouth 0; Pennsylvania 17, Carleton 5.

CONFERENCE ON NEW COLLECTOR

Governor to Name Man Acceptable in Drake's Place.

That there is something on in regard to the appointment of a collector of internal revenue for this district is evidenced by the fact that there were several conferences on the matter held in the office of Governor Frear today.

The Governor admitted that the subject of a successor to Collector Drake had been under discussion, but further than that he would say nothing.

He adopted his usual non-committal attitude, and when the questions asked him were too close to the mark he informed his questioner that he was asking too many questions.

Jack Atkinson and several other men were in conference with the Governor this morning, and the subject in each case was the successor to Drake. It is understood that the President wants further recommendations from Hawaii before he names a successor, now that the appointment of Cottrill of Toledo has been turned down.

CONGRESS FOR GOVERNORS ONLY

Hawaii Must Be Represented By Chief Executive or His Proxy.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—Warning was sent out today by the Director of the Mint and secret service officials that a big issue of counterfeit bank notes, purporting to be authorized by the First National Bank of Portland, Ore., are in circulation. The bogus notes are all set all up and down the coast, it is said, and people are warned to examine their notes carefully.

CHINA PLANS MONEY USES

(Associated Press Cable.)
PEKING, Oct. 29.—The edict has been issued which authorizes the American loan at 5 per cent. It is also planned to use a part of this loan for industrial purposes in Manchuria.

ELKS CARNIVAL WORK BEGUN

Meeting Last Evening Named General Committee of Fifty.

The first step toward the organization for the coming Elk's Carnival for February was taken at a meeting last evening when the general committee, of fifty for the Carnival was named. At the meeting it was also decided to have three additional committees to those of the last carnival, these to be one each for water carnival, reception of visitors and transportation and railroad matters.

With these new committees there will be further subcommittees in charge of the preparations for the carnival itself in addition to the committee of fifty having general charge.

At the meeting last evening at Elk's Hall there was a great deal of enthusiasm.

That Little Hacking Cough

Hard coughs are bad enough, to be sure. But it's often the little, hacking, tickling, persistent cough that means the most, especially when there is a history of weak lungs in the family. What should be done? Ask your doctor. He knows. Ask him about the formula on the label of every bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask him if this medicine has his full approval for throat and lung troubles. Then do as he says.

ARBOR DAY NEXT MONTH

November 11 Set Aside By Governor In His Proclamation.

November 11 has been set aside by Governor Frazier as Arbor Day and citizens and public schools are requested to cooperate with the government in observing the day in a fitting manner.

Thousands of trees have been given by the Bureau of Agriculture for free distribution prior to that day so that everyone who wishes to beautify home and grounds by growing more shade or other trees can easily do so.

For weeks forestry officials have been busy with the trees and plants and as a result of their labors every district will have trees for distribution to citizens of Hawaii for the regular day.

Large distributions will be made from Honolulu and on Hawaii the trees for planting will come from the nurseries of Brother Mathias who has a large number to supply people on the big island.

In his proclamation setting aside November 11 the Governor says:

"The practice now widespread on the mainland of setting aside one day each year as Arbor Day, began in Hawaii five years ago. Since then, here, as well as elsewhere, the larger movement for the conservation and development of all natural resources, of which Arbor Day represents only one phase, has made great progress."

"Last year in consequence of the quickening of the public conscience and interest and the practical results in the inauguration and extension of active work along these lines in the Territory, it was deemed fitting that the scope of the day be enlarged."

TO INCORPORATE WOODS DITCH

Company Formed to Handle Kohala Project For Irrigation.

What has been known as the Frank Woods Kohala ditch scheme is to be incorporated under the names of the Kahua Irrigation Co., Ltd. If the present plans of those interested work out.

It is proposed to incorporate with a capital of $250,000 of which $200,000 will be issued as paid up stock and $50,000 treasury stock.

The officers will probably be Cecil Brown, president; Jas. F. Woods, vice president; Zeno K. Meyers, treasurer; Palmer P. Woods, secretary. These will serve ex-officio as directors with the following: Harry Armitage, Jas. T. Taylor and John T. Baker.

This irrigation ditch will run on higher levels than the present Kohala ditch, that was the first of the Parker-McCrossen enterprises, and the water will probably be taken up by the plantations of the Kohala district.

WILHELMINA REPORTS

BAROMETER LOW AND MUCH RAIN

Heavy rainfall, with an unusually low barometer, is the general report for the past three days, and when the details from the other islands come in, they are expected to show the heaviest precipitation for a long time. Yesterday the rainfall was heavy. The Nuuanu dam and the springs in the outside districts were overflowed with mountain waters, caused by the rainfall.

According to the weather man this morning, the barometer on Wednesday, October 26, was 29.94. This was the lowest register, as indicated by the weather recorder.

On Thursday, the 27th, it was 29.95. Last night it was 29.98. The rainfall yesterday was .17, the average record being .10.

The temperature last night was unusually low. It was 65, and, according to the weather man, it was the lowest register since May 21. The low temperature indicates clearly getting colder. The highest temperature all day yesterday was 72.

The wind, which has been irregular for a few days, is normal. The direction of the wind is northeast. It is a trade wind and is familiar to the people on this island.

Owing to the arrival yesterday of the Mauna Kea, which is a day earlier than usual, reports from Hawaii, Maui and Molokai have not been received by the weather bureau here. No reports of any damages have been heard from the outside districts of this island.

Attempts have repeatedly been made at Chico, Cal., to wreck the trolley cars of that city. Ties placed across the track at night is one of the methods employed.

WILHELMINA IS BRINGING DOWN RECORD FREIGHT FROM COAST

SEVERAL ISLAND STEAMERS ARRIVE AT THE PORT WITH SMALL CARGOES—ROUGH WEATHER PREVENTS WORK ON OTHER ISLANDS—SHIP NEWS AND NOTES.

With nearly seventy-two hundred tons of merchandise and supplies the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina now enroute to Honolulu, is bringing down what is believed will prove a record shipment of cargo from the California coast.

Castle and Cooke, the local representatives of the steamer were advised by wireless last evening that the Wilhelmina was 4280 miles off the port at eight o'clock steaming through moderate southwest winds and seas with considerable cloudy weather prevailing at the time.

The Wilhelmina is bringing down 117 cabin and 11 steerage passengers. The cargo for Honolulu amounts to 5922 tons and in addition to this there is 1247 tons intended for Hilo.

A mainland mail amounting to 66 sacks is expected to arrive by the vessel. Mailing was suspended from rough weather.

Rough Weather Prevents Work. Rough weather along the windward coast of Kauai prevented much work being accomplished by the crew of the Intermountain steamer Nihau. The vessel returned to port this morning bringing a shipment of fifty sacks of rice, 500 sacks of paddy, and a quantity of cases of empties.

There was a delay of over a half day at Kilauea owing to the bursting of a boiler tube. The vessel was obliged to leave about eight hundred sacks of rice and paddy behind at Kilauea owing to the excessive rain and inclement weather.

An extra heavy swell prevailed along the Kauai coast near Kilauea and to this reason is assigned the failure to load some five hundred sacks of paddy. There was no damage to the Nihau or boats reported.

Maui Back from Hawaii. The Inter-island steamer Maui with only a few packages of sundries as cargo arrived at the port this morning and her officers report passing the steamers Mikahala, Mauna Loa, Mauna Kea and Chinle enroute to various island ports. Much rain was met with on the homeward trip and a northerly swell prevented as the vessel steamed across the channel.

Fire Damaged Fooing Suey. It is believed that no great damage has been done to the Honolulu cargo that is reported to have been going into the American bark Fooing Suey lying at the port of New York since the latter part of August. A fire occurred on board the vessel Wednesday according to a brief report received at the local branch of the Merchants' Exchange. It is stated that there was slight damage to the decks and also to several of the bolls while the rigging may have to be replaced to a limited extent because of the emigration.

Notice to Mariners. HUMBOLDT LIGHT-STATION—CAL. Notice is hereby given that about November 1, 1910, the 12-inch steam whistle at Humboldt (Table Bluff) Light Station, entrance to Humboldt Bay, Cal., will be replaced by a first class compressed air siren, without other change.

Lurline Leaves Coast November 2.

According to advices received at the Honolulu agency of the Matson Navigation Company, the steamer Lurline will sail from San Francisco for Honolulu direct on November 2. It is understood that owing to the exceptionally large freight offerings on the Coast, the Lurline will arrive here with a full cargo of merchandise and supplies. The Lurline also brings freight for Kahului.

Few Take Volcano Trip.

The inclement weather yesterday may have had much to do with discouraging those among the Sierra passengers who might otherwise have taken advantage of the opportunity of making a special excursion trip to the Volcano on Hawaii. Less than a dozen arrivals by the Sierra took passage by the steamer Mauna Kea at four o'clock yesterday, destined for Hilo.

Mexican Carried Sugar and Pines. Loaded with a little over a thousand tons of sugar and pineapples, the American Hawaiian freighter Mexican is reported to have sailed from Hilo yesterday with destination as Seattle and Tacoma. The Mexican carried an initial shipment of the 1911 crop of sugar, supplied by Kilauea plantation.

Likeliest Brought Cattle.

A shipment of cattle including 12 head and 17 calves, arrived at the port this morning as part of the freight list of the steamer Likeliest.

Yellow Fever

Scientists now agree that Yellow Fever can be prevented and cured

However, they say whatever is done in cases of Yellow Fever must be done promptly. Plenty of fresh air, cheerful surroundings, absolute quiet, a good nurse, and a pure tonic stimulant like Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, are imperatively required from the outset in the treatment of the disease.

In the early and middle stages Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey may be given with more or less freedom, as the attending physician may deem best, but during the period of convalescence it should be administered in small doses only.

Yellow Fever, like a great many other germ diseases, takes hold of the part of the system in the most weakened condition. It can be prevented by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, a dessertspoonful four times a day in a little water or milk.

Rushing Nevada Repairs.

A large force of workmen is endeavoring to place that vessel in shape for sea, and it is the present intention to dispatch the freighter from San Francisco on November 12, the destinations being Honolulu and several island ports. The Nevada will bring a large general cargo.

Big Tanker at Kaaupali.

With a large shipment of fuel oil, the American oil tanker W. S. Porter has arrived at the port of Kaaupali. The vessel will probably return from there to the coast direct, cutting out Honolulu as a point of call.

Ritnet Ready for Sea.

It is expected that the American bark R. P. Ritnet will be dispatched for the coast about noon tomorrow. The vessel has finished the discharge of her cargo and taken on sufficient ballast for the voyage.

Korea Has Reached San Francisco.

The Pacific Mail steamship Korea departing from Honolulu for the coast on October 21st is reported to have arrived at San Francisco at nine o'clock yesterday morning.

Expansion Has Sailed for the Sound. It is reported that the American schooner Expansion sailed from Kahului with destination as Port Townsend on Thursday.

RUSSIANS NOT HARMING LABOR

Figures Gathered By Immigration Board Prove False What McCandless Says.

The board of immigration yesterday afternoon finished a preliminary report on labor conditions among the Russians in Honolulu, which shows that the presence of the Russians has not lowered the scale of wages and that they have not driven Hawaiians out of employment.

It shows that the Russians are drawing about the same wages as Hawaiians, and that some of them are getting more, due to their artisan skill. Of 389 Russians interviewed by an agent of the board, most were supplied with work or had work in contemplation and are not in competition with Hawaiians for jobs.

In fact, the whole report is an argument that immigration has not harmed the Hawaiian laborers, and it is based on actual facts and figures that are susceptible to immediate proof. Although not a political document, it is exactly in line with the Republican party's attitude and exactly opposed to the apocryphal arguments advanced by McCandless.

Most of the Russians are married, and will make good citizens. The unmarried ones are working for homes here.

The labor bureau of the planters' association reported this morning that the exodus of Russians to plantations has practically ceased, and now very few are left in Honolulu without work. Any of them can get work on the plantations, and during the past few weeks many have gone out to the other islands.

MAILS.

Mails are due from the following points as follows: San Francisco—Mongolia, Oct. 31. Yokohama—Per Nippon Maru, Nov. 5. Australia—Per Zealandia, Nov. 8. Victoria—Per Makura, Nov. 11.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT" IS JAMMING 'EM IN

Howard Company Makes Good With That Funny Shift.

"Charley's Aunt" after jamming them in for two nights and packing the house again this afternoon, will be given its last performance this evening. Like last Saturday night, another standing-room-only house is predicted for this evening. Up to noon today almost every seat in the cosy New Orpheum had been sold for tonight's performance, and up to the time of going to press the demand continued unabated. "Charley's Aunt" is by far the funniest farce ever presented in Honolulu, although it is said that "The Private Secretary," which will be the week-end offering, beginning next Thursday, is not only a par with "Charley's Aunt," but is regarded by many to be better in every respect.

meetings were not held because of lack of attendance. The crowd they expected either stayed at home or went to the Republican meeting, and the Democratic gathering was a ludicrous failure.

Next week will see the wind-up, except for the final sessions on Monday night. The Republicans have scheduled a week full of meetings, and both districts will hold rallies each evening. The list of Republican meetings for next week is as follows:

Fourth District.
Monday—Moana Hotel, Waikiki.
Tuesday—Fort and School streets.
Wednesday—Kaimuki Hill.
Thursday—Kumalea.
Friday—Jack Lane's place, Nuanuu.
Saturday—Undecided.

Fifth District.
Monday—Kalihi school.
Tuesday—Vineyard and River streets.
Wednesday—Kalihi camp.
Thursday—Moanalua and Kaimuki tract.
Friday—Jack Lane's place, Nuanuu.
Saturday—Undecided.

The Friday night meeting will be a monster rally of the two districts combined.

Tonight W. C. Achi's home at Kapalama will be the scene of the big Republican rally. All of the Fifth District and much of the Fourth will be present, and Achi says his meeting will have twice as large an attendance as the Democratic meeting.

The Democratic County and Legislative candidates will go to Waianae this afternoon for a meeting tonight. The two scheduled meetings at Palama and Emma Square have been called off and a soap-box meeting at Aala Park substituted.

THAT JOY-RIDE WAS BIG MYTH

But He Went Some In a One-Horse Hack, Says
P. C. Jones.

That daring automobile dash across Chicago made by P. C. Jones, the Hawaiian capitalist, to catch the Twentieth Century Limited for New York, was a myth, says Mr. Jones himself, who came back to Honolulu on the Sierra yesterday. Instead of an auto, the joy-ride was taken in one of those deep-sea-going Chicago hacks drawn by one of those Chicago hack-horses.

Mr. Jones caught his train just the same, and when he landed in Boston had made the fastest time possible from Honolulu. Enterprising reporters bragged the "story" and when he got to Boston the newspapermen were waiting for him.

Mr. Jones told about it this morning, laughing at the publicity given his little jaunt of a few thousand miles.

"I met Mr. Lynch, general manager of the New York Central lines, before I left San Francisco," he said, "and Lynch must have telegraphed ahead, for when I got to Chicago, there was Mr. Thompson, the Chicago manager. He hustled me into a one-horse hack, and there was another man in it. Afterwards I found that the other man was a reporter. Three or four other reporters wanted to get in, also, but that horse couldn't haul more than us three.

"We got to the station for the Limited and there was a long line of people waiting for tickets. Mr. Thompson got my ticket all right and I didn't have to wait.

"Well, when I got to Boston the story was there ahead of me, and more reporters to interview me. That's how the last story of my record came out."

Mr. Jones says that he didn't go after a record, but that if anybody can beat his time he will pay the fare from Honolulu to Boston.

POULTRY MEN SHOULD WAKE UP

(By Joseph R. Farrington.)

The meeting of the Poultry Association on last Tuesday night was discouraging as a very few turned out and nothing of much moment was done.

It is too bad that the many poultry raisers of Oahu did not turn out and boost the coming show. It has been suggested that this year's poultry exhibition be left out. That would be a great pity as in that case the people would take less and less interest in it until we would have no exhibit at all. This year's poultry show should be made better than any one previous.

To exhibit a bird in the poultry show means more to you than you realize. It advertises your business. People will see what fine birds you have and buy your stock and eggs. Especially are beginners in poultry always very much interested and want to find out where they can get good stock. You are doing other people good if you exhibit your fowls, because they can go there and study the chickens, ducks, etc., and compare and choose the best breed. It pays to exhibit your best fowls.

Do not forget the poultry show this year. Exhibit your birds and if you did not get first prize last year do not get discouraged, but try again, and if you keep on trying hard nothing can prevent your success.

A poultry breeder in discussing the importation of fancy chickens told of his experience. He said that when his chickens arrived here they were not very healthy, as chickens usually are after a sea voyage, and the two cocks did not want to eat. The hens ate all right and were fed first on a little soft food until they got better. One of the cocks after a few days also began to get better and would eat.

The other fellow did not eat at all and simply forgot to eat. The owner let it alone for a few days and then took it in hand. At night he would go out with a lantern and take the cock off the perch and feed it. It got so used to this treatment that when it saw the light it would move over to the door on the perch, and after a few nights more would even get down on the floor to be picked up and carried outside.

After a week or so of such treatment the cock began eating with the other chickens. It is a great mistake when you get imported birds to start off right away and feed them up with too much corn and wheat.

If you put grass into your chicken coop for the chickens to scratch do not leave it there too long, because the chickens will trample it down and it will mould, which will make it very unhealthful.

AUCTION OF LAZARUS LAND

Property belonging to Alexander Lazarus estate on Lunalilo street was sold at public auction at noon today in front of the judiciary building for $7410 to George Freeland of Maui.

E. E. Paxton was the auctioneer in charge of the sale and the bidding at the start was brisk, although at its close the bids only came up ten dollars at a time.

There are two mortgages on the property the first for $6,000 and the second for $750 both assigned to Attorney Watson.

The property consists of 25,750 square feet land upon which are located six cottages and the price obtained is no more than the property is worth, according to local real estate men present at the sale.

WHY THE STRAIGHT TICKET.

Why should I vote the straight Republican ticket?
You hear the question quite frequently from people who have forgotten what happened two years ago. Just to remind such voters of the facts, a letter of A. G. M. Robertson published just after the election two years ago is given herewith:

"The election returns present at least one interesting illustration of how the best man propaganda works out in practice. Norman Watkins was defeated by the votes of white Republicans in the Fourth and Fifth Precincts of the Fourth District who scratched Kane and voted for McClellan. "That Watkins was popular in those two precincts is shown by the fact that he led the ticket for Supervisors with a vote of 469.

"The average vote of the Republican candidates for Supervisors, other than Kane, was 422. Kane received only 258, showing that he was scratched to the tune of 164. The average vote of the Democratic candidates for Supervisor, other than McClellan, was 119. McClellan received 294, showing that he received 175 Republican votes in the two precincts. For the whole county McClellan received 120 votes over Watkins.

"Those who split their tickets expected to defeat a Hawaiian Republican and elect a haole Democrat, but instead of doing that they beat the very man they wanted most to elect.

"In a sense, it served them right, for honesty is the best policy in politics as well as in all other affairs.

"It is to be hoped that the thoughtless 'hens' will realize before it is too late that the straight ticket doctrine is not political buncombe but practical common sense."

A. G. M. ROBERTSON.

WIPE OUT BOSS RULE SCHEMES.

Government by secret clubs as was planned by the Democrats, meant government of the people, by the Bosses, for the Grafters.

And when the Democrats deny vociferously that this is not so the voters should remember that the Democrats also made a sweeping denial of the existence of such clubs.

After the Bulletin brought out an ex-member of a secret club and spread the System before the public, the Democrats forgot their denials and declared their right to organize.

At the same time the men through whom the treachery of the Democrats was exposed, were threatened and brow-beaten by a Democratic police officer sworn to protect citizens. The same day that Democratic managers denied any connection with the secret clubs, an ex-officer of one of the clubs told the story of the Democratic manager demanding the money that was in the club's treasury.

Those clubs are now pretty generally broken up. The members find that they were being misled and made the tools of Boss-rule. So they have quit the clubs and quit the Democrats.

But that should not make the Honest Voter withhold from marking his ballot in a manner that will completely wipe out the clubs, and the secret System and the Bosses that planned the scheme.

The straight Republican ticket will do the business. The straight Republican ticket will put the politics and the business of the people on an honest basis. See that you do your share for the cause of square politics and honest government.

ELKS CARNIVAL WORK BEGUN

JUDGE LYMER SITS MONDAY

Second District Court Judge Weaver was on the Police Court bench this morning and he had some fourteen cases to dispose of. The new Judge, W. Lymer, was present in court, and he made notes on the various cases as they came up before Judge Weaver.

Picture Framing,
Pictures, and Printing

Soon after court adjourned, Judge Lymer said that he would some time this afternoon decide upon the appointments to the clerical staff of his court. Five applications are in for the positions vacated by Ben Zablan and Henry Clark, and the judge is considering them now.

It is certain that Eli Crawford will retain his position, and there is a probability of his being promoted. Crawford has done good work since the recent mixup at the Police Court, and he has performed three men's work lately.

Prosecutor A. M. Brown and Judge Lymer met in the judge's room after court adjourned this morning, and they had a consultation over the state of the criminal and civil calendars.

The new judge will take his seat on the bench on Monday morning.

Chief McDuffie is rounding up all the loafers of the city, and he will arrest any man he knows is not at least trying to get work.

TUG HERCULES IS OFF PORT

Brings Turbine Dredger Down
From Columbia River.

The powerful sea-going tug Hercules with the turbine dredge in tow, from Columbia river port, was sighted off the islands at noon today.

The Hercules was about five miles off Waikiki shortly before 2 o'clock and it is expected that the vessels will be inside the harbor by 5 o'clock.

The Hercules is reported as in command of Captain Dan Thompson and sailed from Astoria eighteen days ago. The machinery for the turbine dredge is already here and by the Oceanic steamship Sierra, arriving yesterday, came Captain E. S. Johnson and several men who will serve as crew on what will be known as the largest and most powerful dredge in the world.

50 HIGHEST AWARDS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA

PROGRESSIVE STORE'S PRIZE

The most valuable holiday prize ever offered in Honolulu, by a single firm in the dry goods line, is to be presented to some popular person by Jordan & Co. The prize is a high-grade Foster piano worth $500.00. Even in large mainland cities prizes of this value are usually given away by several firms conducting contests in conjunction, but the progressive firm of Jordan & Co. have such confidence in the response of their customers, that they have more than tripled the value of the prize usually offered.

The awarding of this piano is to be decided by the store customers. Every purchaser of fifty cents worth of goods will be given one vote which they must cast for themselves, their friends or give to some one else, to cast for one of the many popular people, who are certain to try and secure this valuable Christmas store gift. Any one is eligible to enter this contest, excepting store employees who are restricted from participating either directly or indirectly.

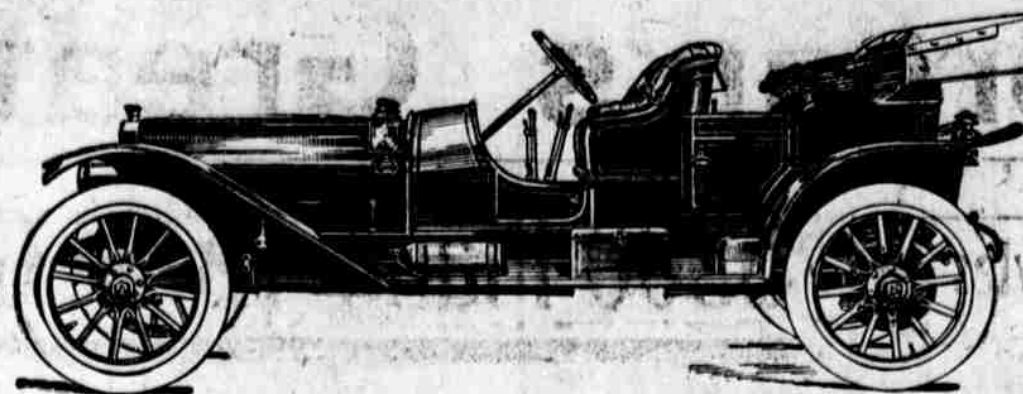

The piano voting contest will close at 6 p. m. on Saturday, December 24th and after a count of the ballots by a selected committee the piano will be awarded to the person found to have the most votes.

During the piano contest at Jordan's the high quality of merchandise will be maintained in every particular as regards variety and good values. The piano will not be paid for by an addition to the selling price of the goods, but by a deduction from the usual store profits made possible through increased sales.

People who intend trying to secure the prize will find it to their benefit to notify friends at once, and by requesting that these friends trade at Jordan's during November and December. The first votes will be issued on Tuesday.

Senator Aldrich was hit by an electric car recently and received a number of bruises.

N. FERNANDEZ IS APPOINTED

Judge Lymer announced this afternoon that he had appointed Nagra Fernandez, the well known no-ary public, as first clerk of the District Court. The appointment of the second clerk will be made later on in the day. Judge Lymer stated that he had received many applications for the position of first clerk, but had decided on Fernandez as being the best of the applicants.

Fernandez will take up his new duties on Monday morning at the police court, and Crawford will then hand over everything to him. Crawford will be retained in his old position and everybody is glad to hear that it is so.

MAUNA KEA ON VOLCANO TRIP

The Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea is expected back from the special excursion trip to Hilo about 8 o'clock Monday morning. Owing to the very limited number of passengers who availed themselves of the opportunity of participating in the excursion, it is possible that this will be the last to be run for some time unless improved business would warrant a continuance.

GROSS CHEAT IS CHARGED

Russian Alleged to Have Swindled His Fellow Immigrants.

Five Russian men and one Slav woman fled into the police court room this morning, and each swore to a warrant for the arrest of interpreter Drombisky, who is charged by his fellow countrymen with gross cheat. The particulars of the case are heartless, and the way the well-known interpreter played on his unsuspecting friends is as bad, if not worse, as the celebrated Vastelle's methods.

According to the story told by the Russians to County Detective Harry Lake, Drombisky's way of getting coin out of the simple peasants was to tell them that if they paid him $3 cash and $7 later on, he would see to it that they were landed in San Francisco within a few weeks. The $7 was to be paid when they went on board the steamer, en route to the Coast.

It is alleged that a large number of Russians fell for the scheme and that Drombisky has been living on the money deposited as first payment for a ticket to San Francisco.

Some of the Russians waited a long time in hopes that the onetime interpreter would fulfill his promises, but they finally got disgusted and informed the County Attorney's department about the matter. The man who is alleged to have fleeced his poverty-stricken countrymen will appear in the police court on Monday morning.

The two cases against Mrs. Yin Fat, who was charged by her son-in-law to be, with having kidnapped her own daughter, and also with having assaulted the youth who would marry her daughter if he got the chance, were dismissed this morning.

WANT BELT ROAD TO MAKAPUU

Long Petition Requests That This Work Be Done.

The plan to complete the construction of a belt road that will include a highway of sufficient width for vehicle traffic to Makapuu point through Waimanalo and Kailua and then to connect with the present belt road system at Nuuanu Pali has again been brought to the front and center through a long petition filed with the City and County Supervisors.

The matter has been brought to the attention of Mayor Fern by the request from property owners and residents of that district known as Kaimuki Hill.

A protest has been made concerning what is termed the frightful condition of the roadway leading down in the direction of the beach. The thoroughfare is considered by the petitioners as almost useless; it abounds in wallows and irregularities that make traffic by night extremely hazardous.

The contention is raised that the reconstruction of the road leading down from Kaimuki and also the building of a road through to Makapuu Point would prove a material benefit to a large number of residents besides affording a valuable asset in affording entertainment to the tourists. This portion of the island of Oahu is at present barred to the large percentage of visitors owing to the many difficulties at present encountered in reaching the district.

THOMPSON CASE HAS BEEN SETTLED

A cable has been received at Honolulu this morning announcing that the case against A. W. E. Thompson who according to a Los Angeles paper of October 15th was arrested upon a charge of embezzlement, has been settled. The paper alleges that the complaint, issued by the district attorney's office, was sworn to by William H. Thompson. Thompson was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Baird, who set his examination for November 11.

DRAWING FOR THIRD DISTRICT

But 28 Applicants For 110
Homestead Lots at Kau.

There were but nineteen applicants for land at Kamooa who reside at Waiheo when the box of applications for homesteads in the third land district was opened this morning, this being the district where considerable controversy came up over a year ago in regard to the impossibility of getting homesteads.

In the third district, covering Kau, there are 110 homestead lots, and for these lots there were twenty-eight applications made to the Commissioner of Lands, several of the applicants residing in Honolulu and other places outside the district where the land is situated.

In speaking of the matter this morning at the drawing, both the Governor and Land Commissioner agreed that there must have been a great deal of talk by irresponsible persons at the time the controversy was started about these lands, nearly two years ago, shortly after a visit of the two officials to the district.

At that time surveys were put in the field, so the officials say, but shortly after, during a visit of Prince Cupid to the district, the residents claimed that they had tried to get the lands opened for homestead and could not do so.

"When these statements were made," said the Land Commissioner this morning, "some of the persons making them knew better, for there were surveyors in the field at that time and one was staying at the house of one of the men making the talk to Cupid."

Governor Peary, in commenting on the matter, stated that it was gratifying to see by the actions of the persons that they did not even want the land after it had been opened for them, as was evidenced by the few applications received, and that the talk they had made at the time amounted to nothing.

When told that the Democrats were making political capital out of the matter of the Portuguese not being able to get homesteads, the Governor asked how many Portuguese were among the applicants today and was informed that there were none, and these were the ones who made the talk before. He said further that there were some good men in the Democratic party, but that they were keeping rather quiet in the present campaign in referring to the public land question.

Again today in the applications received was shown the care that land agents are taking in having applications put out the blanks properly, for there were none in the lot which were not made out correctly.

The names of the applicants and the order in which their applications came out of the box follow:

1. Joe Palaualelo; 2. Don J. Jarvis; 3. Kahuaka Kulu'po; 4. Wm. S. New; 5. Henry J. Pinehon Jr.; 6. Christovergia Carcanti; 7. Mrs. Abbie Beke; 8. Edward K. Kalkaina; 9. Plla Beke; 10. ## BUILDINGS WILL BE RECONSTRUCTED SOON

Bishop Street Extension Survey Completed and Plans Drawn.

Bids will be called for next Wednesday or Thursday for the reconstruction work made necessary by the Bishop street extension. The extension has been surveyed by Baldwin & Alexander, engineers, and Architect Walter L. Emory, of Emory & Webb, has completed the plans for the remodeling of the Schuman Carriage company building and the Associated Garage building, both of which stand partly in the new street.

The work will be let under one contract, and tenders will be ready soon. The cost of reconstruction will be something over $10,000, and the work will not be of an expensive character owing to contemplated future changes on the site. The Spreckels estate, landlord of the two companies, is doing the work.

The street is to be sixty feet wide, the same width of the street now, and the block is slightly over 200 feet in depth.

SIMPLY LIGHT AND INSERT TUBE Warmer does the rest

The Welkom Warmer

Size 3 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, weight 4 1/2 ounces.

The only modern, safe, effective and sensible substitute for the antiquated Hot Water Bag.

No water to heat—no rubber to rot. Will last for years.

The Warmer is made of metal heated within one minute by the lighting and insertion of a paper tube containing a blazeeless, smokeless and odorless fuel generating a uniform heat which lasts over two hours at a cost of less than one cent. It is curved to fit any portion of the body and held in place by means of a bag and belt allowing the wearer to move about at will.

AS A PAIN KILLER

The Welkom Warmer has no equal. It can be put into constant action and is indispensable in cases of rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, sciatica, cramps, etc.

By placing the Warmer on the affected part the heat being dry, not moist, takes out the cold. Physicians say that the moist heat of the hot water bag will not cure but aggravate the ailments above mentioned.

Many have been sold—not a single complaint.

Complete outfit including Warmer, bag, belt, coil and 10 tubes of fuel sent prepaid to any part of the U. S. upon receipt of $1.00.

If you wish to know more about this wonderful device write today for free descriptive booklet.

BIJOU THEATER WILL BE RUSHED

Work On $10,000 Amusement
Resort Has Started and Manager Engaged.

Work has been already commenced on the erection of the new Bijou Theater. Negotiations have been going on for some time and have been concluded whereby the Princess Rink property on Pauahi street has been turned over to the management of the new theater. Plans and specifications have already been completed and work started on the construction of an open air theater taking in the whole area of the premises. The size of the main building will be 80 feet wide by 140 feet long. There is to be a stage 10 feet deep by 80 feet wide, which will be large enough to accommodate any theatrical production which may come to Honolulu. The cost of the construction of this theater will approximate $10,000. It is to have a seating capacity of 1500, making it the largest by far in the Islands.

It is the intention of the management to have the work rushed to completion, so that the theater may be open to the public on December 3 next. No expense will be spared to make this place of amusement the best in town.

Samuel Kube, who has been actively engaged in the theatrical business on the Coast for the past five years, has accepted the position of manager, and before his return here will have attended to the securing of the necessary talent, the engagement of the orchestra, all the arrangements for an up-to-date film service and other details.

A section of the auditorium will be reserved as a garden, where light refreshments, such as ice cream and cold drinks, may be enjoyed, at the same time witnessing the entertainment.

PUNAHOU SOCCER MEN GET TOGETHER

Punahou footballers are getting together, and last night the soccer men held a meeting at which several officers were elected. The spirit of the meeting showed that the Puns are going to be in the game this season, and that they intend giving the rest of the teams a run for the honors.

Most of the old players are going to play this season, and some good new men have been discovered. The prospects for good lively soccer appear to get brighter every day.

The meeting last night elected "Farmer" Clark as captain; F. Jamieson as vice captain, and R. Sinclair as secretary. The greatest enthusiasm was evinced and the war cry of the Puns will be much in evidence this year.

MOTOR CARS

THE Chalmers "30" is the only medium priced car that was ever awarded the Glidden Trophy

Of all the Glidden Tours, that of 1910 was the longest, and by far the hardest. It lasted for sixteen running days and covered 2,851 miles. It started at Cincinnati and went "by way of Dallas, Texas," through thirteen States to Chicago.

Words and pictures cannot make plain the racking cobblestone roads of Kentucky—the stump-studded forest trails of the Tennessee mountains—the swamps of Arkansas—the deep, treacherous sands of Texas—the mud of Kansas—the bridgeless southern streams or the sweltering heat that punished cars and men alike.

It is the opinion of experts who made this tour that no car in the world could have completed it with a perfect score. Yet, from Cincinnati to Louisville—to Nashville—to Sheffield, Ala.—to Memphis—to Little Rock—to Hot Springs—to Texas—then to Dallas—to Lawton, Oklahoma—to Oklahoma City—to Wichita, Kansas—eleven consecutive days out of the sixteen, through the hardest part of the trip—and for five days after every other car on the tour had been penalized, not a single point could be assessed against the Chalmers "30"—the $1500 car—$1600 with magnets, Frost-O-Lite tank and gas lamps.

In all the history of motoring, there is no performance like this. The Glidden Trophy has never been won before by a car costing less than $4000.

If you are thinking of buying a car, what better proof could you ask of reliable performance under all conditions than you have in the Glidden Tour record of the winning Chalmers "30"?

The Chalmers "30" has never been defeated in any important motoring event by any car of its price and power class. The Chalmers "Forty" won the Detroit Trophy in the 1909 Glidden Tour. Chalmers cars have won more events of all kinds in proportion to the number entered than other cars.

In addition to perfect mechanical performance, you get in the Chalmers all the beauty of line and finish that you can find in any car.

What more could you ask in any car at any price than you get in the medium-priced Chalmers?

We have never had so large a volume of business as we have now. There has never been so satisfying a demand for Chalmers cars as there has been since we announced our 1911 models. Yet this demand will not affect the Chalmers policy of building cars for quality, not quantity.

We suggest, therefore, that you place your order now, so as to be sure of getting the car that is your first choice. Chalmers cars are the first choice of those who look most carefully into the automobile question and know the most about automobile values.

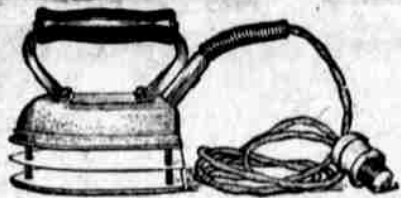

1911 cars are now on exhibition. Deliveries are being made according to schedule.

M'CANDLESS IS GIVEN THE LIE

Kuhio Hands Boss a Jolt That Closes Him Up Tight.

DELEGATE REFUSES OFFERED HANDSHAKE

Will Not Be Friends With Man Who Is Misrepresenting Him from Island to Island in Campaign.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
WAILUKU, Oct. 27.—The Republican and Democratic candidates for Delegate to Congress arrived in Wailuku Tuesday and both put up at the Maui Hotel. Link McCandless, accompanied by Hon. H. M. Kenyon and G. K. Lowe, arrived in the morning from Hana, and in the evening Delegate Kuhio arrived from Honolulu by the Mauna Kea and was escorted to the Maui Hotel from Mcgregor's Landing by Captain Sam Keilicki, Republican candidate for Representative-at-Large, who was selected to receive the Delegate.

The Delegate was on a hurry-up mission, being scheduled to be at Kaneohe the following day, which meant a long overland ride on horseback after leaving the country residence of Supervisor Pogue at Kailua. On arriving at the hotel, Captain Keilicki conducted the Delegate to the dining hall of the hotel. Mr. McCandless later went to have his dinner, and on seeing Delegate Kuhio approached to shake hands with him, but Kuhio motioned to him to stay away. Kuhio declared he did not care to shake hands with one who has been carrying on from island to island a campaign of falsehood. The Delegate used the shortest and more effective term to express his disgust, and it was effective indeed, for McCandless for a while stood nonplussed and motionless. Later friends in the dining room took the boss to another seat, after which everything was apparently smooth.

Republicans to Waikapu.
Delegate Kuhio and suite went to Waikapu to speak there with the Republican Senatorial and Representative candidates, while McCandless, who was billed to talk at Waiehu, changed the program set by Campaign Manager M. K. Kookakole, and talked for over two hours on Market street to a fairly large audience of natives, haoles, Portuguese and Orientals.

Mr. McCandless was preceded by Mr. Lowe, who spoke in Hawaiian, English and Portuguese. About half-past seven o'clock McCandless mounted the forum, and from this prominence McCandless commenced his harangue, first in Hawaiian and then in English, telling them how some of the provisions of his land bill were incorporated in the amendments to the Organic Act which passed Congress.

Among the things that McCandless said were these: "During my recent trip on Hawaii and Maui, Jas. Harbottle Hakuole was delegated by the Bulletin as a special representative of that paper to report truly what I had to say wherever I went. Mr. Hakuole understood both the English and Hawaiian languages, and my speeches were all reported by Mr. Hakuole in the Bulletin. "I never said anything about aloha for the Queen. The Republican Delegate said that he had many friends in Washington, and with such he could get appropriations."

Boss Arguments.
Mr. McCandless went on on the same kinds of argument, telling the people that it was ridiculous for the government to advertise for public lands at Kahakuloa apportioned in half-acre lots, just big enough for a house, and no place to plant. He also told them that the planters are paying some of the laborers sixty-five cents a day and they board themselves, whereas if anyone should require the services of a mule a dollar and board would be the price.

During the middle of Mr. McCandless' speech, Delegate Kuhio arrived, and for his benefit the speaker reiterated what he had already stated minus the flimsy part of it. After McCandless came Sam Kuula, Democratic candidate for Representative, who gave as his chief claim for legislative honors now the fact that he had served minor positions in the old legislative hall in the Judiciary building during the historic Legislatures prior to the overthrow.

AUTOS AND AUTOISTS

One of the prettiest cars seen on the streets today is Mrs. Riggs' new 1911 Packard roadster, which she has just purchased from the von Hamm Young Company. This is the first 1911 Packard roadster to be delivered here and, in fact, is the first Packard roadster with double doors which has yet been seen in Honolulu, and is attracting considerable attention because of its fine appointments.

C. J. Schoening of the von Hamm Young Company called this week for Maui with an Overland demonstrator, with which he expects to take orders for this popular make of car. Mr. Schoening expects to be gone about three weeks, and will thoroughly canvass the whole island of Maui.

The sale is reported by the von Hamm Young Company of a Cadillac touring car to Y. Maruoka of Maui. By the Sierra yesterday the von Hamm Young Company received four Cadillacs and two Baker Electrics. The Cadillacs are to be delivered to Mr. Hammett of the Mutual Telephone Co., Frank Halsted, G. Nakatani and Geo. Lyurgas. One of the Baker Electrics is to be delivered to Mrs. Alfred Castle.

As a result of the advertised bargain, the von Hamm Young Company has sold this week three second hand cars, one to Sergeant Hole, one to Mr. Kona of Waipahu, and another to a business man on Maui. Mrs. C. M. Cooke's Packard touring car arrived on the Mexican this week from London. Mrs. Cooke purchased this car from the von Hamm Young Company some months ago, taking delivery of same in the East, and since then has toured Europe in this machine.

The Waterhouse Company is shipping its little Buick White Streak to Singapore to use for business purposes in its interests there. This only goes to show the great commercial value of the up-to-date run-about.

The von Hamm Young Company reports the sale of a Buick 10 White Streak runabout to the Volcano Station and Transportation Company, of Hilo, for use in their rent business.

Manager Seymour Hall of the Associated Garage reports receiving five cars by the Sierra yesterday morning. The machines are all of the 1911 model, and were sold to arrive. Two of the cars were of the celebrated Pierce-Arrow make, and are of 48-horsepower. Two other cars were Chalmers of 30-horsepower, and the fifth was a Chalmers touring car of 40-horsepower. Francis Gay has purchased one of the Pierce-Arrow cars, and another has been sold to a well-known man.

As soon as the Sierra arrived the five cars were driven up to the garage and there cleaned and fitted up. Today the 1911 models will be on exhibition and all the enthusiasts of the city are sure to take a look at them.

The Hudson car is just as popular as ever, and the demand for them is so great that the factory is making no change in the model. The demand is so steady that there is great trouble in supplying the local people, who are always inquiring when their cars are to arrive.

The Associated Garage will soon be fitted out in a way that will make it one of the best in the city so far as conveniences go. With entrances from Bishop, Merchant and Queen streets, the garage will be a model one. The fitting and repair shops are being arranged on the ideas of Manager Hall, and he has thought out a very satisfactory way of accommodating every department under his control.

The Schuman Garage is expecting the first shipment of the 1911 Locomobile to arrive on the Lurline, November 3. These beautiful cars are always noticeable on the streets. They run so easily and quietly that they have been alluded to as being like a watch. The 1910 models that are to be seen in Honolulu have been improved on somewhat, and the new cars will cause a sensation when they arrive next week.

The ever-popular E. M. F. has been reduced in price, and the local agents are prepared to sell the machine at $1350. This is quite a big cut in price and it is caused by the ability of the factory to turn out as many cars as it does every day.

Gus Schuman considers that the E. M. F. is as good a car as can be obtained for the money anywhere. The E. M. F. is to be seen everywhere, and now that the price has been reduced, there is no doubt that the machines will become more popular than ever.

The Schuman Garage is kept busy in the repair department, and the expert mechanics at work there are kept on the go all the time.

Three years ago it inaugurated this custom by showing a suburban car, the interior of which was finished in hand tooled Cordovan leather. This was a new material as applied to motor car upholstery but so cordial a reception was it given that it has now become a stock material for this purpose. Two years ago the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car company had on display a car finished in the style that took its name from Louis XVI. As an example of the exquisite in motor car body construction this car, in the opinion of those artistically inclined, has never been approached. At the last show the special part of the Pierce-Arrow exhibit consisted of a six-cylinder, 66-horsepower landau fitted for long distances touring. It was fitted with a number of baggage and toilet facilities that would appeal to the tourist and was received with such approval by the public that it is now one of the company's regular stock models.

No announcement has been made as yet by the Pierce-Arrow company about what it will show at Madison Square Garden at the coming A. L. A. M. exhibition and it is not expected that any announcement will be made until a week or so before the show opens.

One hour and ten minutes were knocked off the Pittsburgh to Philadelphia overland record on Tuesday, September 20, when S. D. Waldon, vice-president of the Packard Motor Car Company, driving a 1911 Packard "Thirty" touring car, covered the 363 miles over the mountains between the two cities in 12 hours, 51 minutes. The trip was made with just one stop—eleven minutes at McConnellsburg for gasoline and oil.

The previous record of 14 hours, 1 minute was made by Mr. Waldon, September 12, 1908.

The first 175 miles of this trip are entirely over mountains, and the road is a particularly difficult one on account of the worn condition of the road, which is an old stage route, from which the surface dirt has long since been washed away, leaving bare rocks and loose stones on the shelf-like course which winds over the many ridges. Water breakers, or, as they are familiarly known in automobile circles, "thank-you-ma'ams," are about seventy-five yards apart for the entire distance, even on the leveler and smoother highway east of Gettysburg.

On the trip last week, Mr. Waldon started from Pittsburgh at 3:45 a. m., reaching Bedford at 8:20. Glidden tourists of three years ago who went over this part of the trip will appreciate what it means to cover this distance in 4 hours, 35 minutes, without a stop. McConnellsburg was reached at 10 o'clock, twenty-three minutes ahead of the previous time, no stop having been made until then. After refilling with gasoline and oil, the flying trip was taken up and the car sped on to Philadelphia without a stop, reaching the North Broad street garage of the Packard Motor Car Company of Philadelphia at 4:36 p. m. At McConnellsburg, Mr. Waldon was handed a telegram from J. M. Murdock of transcontinental fame, who wired from Philadelphia that he had made the run from McConnellsburg to Philadelphia in 6:48 the day before, and inviting Waldon to beat it if he could. This trick was turned nicely, Mr. Waldon doing that part of the run in 6:25.

The original purpose of the run was to give several Packard dealers a mountain tour, the Packard Company having promised a trip of this kind to the leaders in truck selling proportionate to the pleasure car business of the respective Packard dealers. The winners of seats for the tour were B. H. Ooley of Dayton, C. E. Morton of the Standard Auto Company, Detroit; L. C. Long of the Chicago Motor Car Company, and E. P. Moriarty of Kansas City. Moriarty backed out at the last minute, having recollections of a previous bouncing over the mountains, and had place was filled by E. R. Estep, advertising manager of the Packard company. On the two succeeding days, a leisurely return trip was made via the national Pike, through Baltimore and Cumberland.

Philip Neen and his family of Portland, Ore., recently returned from a 2500 mile tour in a Cadillac Thirty that was notable for the character of the territory covered and the fact that no serious trouble developed throughout the long grind.

The route selected is one of the grandest scenery in the northwestern country. San Jose, Cal., was the objective point, reached through the Willamette, Rogue River and Crater Lake districts of Oregon, and the Mount Shasta, Sacramento and San Francisco Bay districts of California.

On the journey south the party passed through the big forests of southern Oregon before the forest fires had attacked the splendid trees. On the homeward leg of the trip, the car was driven through the burned area. At times the smoke was so thick that it was almost impossible to see the road a hundred yards ahead. Numbers of fires and many home-steaders were seen fleeing from the flames with their household goods and personal belongings.

Throughout the long trip there was no delay or inconvenience due to trouble with the car, though the party made stops here and there, and side trips to enjoy the scenic beauties of certain regions.

Just two thousand three hundred and thirty-six miles in ten days, or an average of two hundred and thirty-three miles per day, making the tour from Cleveland to Buffalo, Boston, New York, Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Hamilton, Ontario and Detroit, was the unusual record made by W. H. K. Herron, a Cleveland Rambler owner, in his seven-passenger Fifty-Five.

On the first day out Herron reached Canandaigua, N. Y., the speedometer registering two hundred and ninety-five miles. The next evening he was in Pittsfield, Mass., two hundred and sixty miles away and on the following evening he was at York Beach, Maine, two hundred and thirty-five miles from Pittsfield. On the tenth day he returned to Cleveland.

The car was not shipped at any point and no repairs were made on the way, except the spark plugs were cleaned once.

The school of instruction for chauffeurs, owners and mechanics, conducted annually at the plant of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company at Buffalo, will be opened two months earlier than usual this season. Several causes are responsible for this, chief of which is the fact that by adding at least two months to the time of the school it will be possible to give each student better individual attention than has been possible heretofore. Each class receives instruction for two weeks, and by the lengthening of the school year the classes will be made smaller.

A chassis and touring body are installed at the school, and, under the charge of a mechanical expert, the students are grounded thoroughly in the principals of design and construction, adjustments and care of the car, and are given practical experience in driving. No charge is made, but entrance to the school is confined to owners of Pierce-Arrow cars, their drivers and garage men who have occasion to handle the cars of this make. The present year will make the fourth the school has been conducted.

During the year special classes are held. One of these is for owners who take care of and drive their own cars, and another is for colored chauffeurs. The class for owners this season will be from March 20 to April 1, and that for the colored drivers from January 2 to January 14.

Three important questions confront every automobile dealer and owner and demand careful investigation. These are: Can I get duplicate parts for my car in years to come? Can I get them promptly and at a fair price? Does the manufacturer actually make these parts so that he can make good his present promise in years to come?

Charles T. Jeffery, General Manager of The Thomas B. Jeffery Company, says that the manufacturer who cannot satisfactorily answer these questions cannot properly serve the owner.

The policy of making all Rambler parts in the Rambler factory was inaugurated by the Rambler maker, although he knew that he could for a time make more money by buying these parts elsewhere and assembling more cars. But, in order to provide for the few repair needs of Rambler customers, it was necessary to control the basis of supply.

Independent of the parts order and repair departments this company maintains a service department which is primarily for the convenience of owners. The inquiries about adjustments and care of cars are answered and suggestions are given which assure greater reliability and comfort to the owner.

The Rambler company, because of the independence of its supply basis, is, therefore, unique among automobile concerns. Raw material is practically always obtainable and should the parts supply for any model become exhausted, it can be quickly duplicated with raw material and the die, fit or pattern from which it was originally made.

Besides the large stock of Rambler parts maintained at the factory, complete stocks are carried at the principal distributing centers throughout the country. These stocks are maintained at Boston, New York, Cleveland, Louisville, Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Omaha, San Antonio, Dallas, Sioux City and San Francisco. Thus, practically any Rambler owner may obtain within twenty-four hours a part or duplicate of any part that he may require.

BIG FIFTEEN MILES RACE TOMORROW—KAOO AND KING

CHAMPION LONG-DISTANCE RUNNER OF HAWAII WILL MEET ARMY WONDER AT ATHLETIC PARK—CLOSE FINISH IS ANTICIPATED—KAOO SLIGHT FAVORITE.

Tomorrow afternoon at half past two o'clock, the great race that everybody has been looking forward to will start at the Athletic Park. Antone Kaoo, the champion of Hawaii, will go up against Soldier King, who has put up some great performances on the mainland tracks in competition with the world's best long-distance men.

Both men have trained faithfully for the race, and it remains to be seen which is the better of the two. King has shown some remarkable form on the track, and the times he has put up over five, ten and fifteen miles have astonished the local sports. However, times are not everything, and many a fast trial has to be discounted by the fact that amateur timers held the watches, and it is a common thing for one of them to drop or take on a minute. Another thing is that the tracks where the great stunts are put up are sometimes a few yards in each fifth or sixth of a mile that they are supposed to measure.

King Is Fast. There is no doubt, however, that King is a flyer, and although he did a lot of running indoors in the States, he also has won crosscountry races through mud and water. The soldier is a fine runner, and he will be at his best tomorrow, notwithstanding the fact that he had a bad spell the other day when he was running at the park.

The greatest interest is being taken in the affair, and every afternoon crowds attend at the Boys' Field and the Athletic Park, where the rival runners are training. The general public seems about evenly divided on the proposition as to which man will win. The people who know Kaoo, and who have seen the old fellow run all kinds of races against all kinds of men, feel sure that he will once more show his heels to his opponent tomorrow, as he has done repeatedly in the past.

Kaoo would probably be a red-hot favorite if he were going to meet King over the full Marathon distance. Everybody has confidence in the old Waiwala Horse over a 25-mile course, but the feeling is not so strong in a 15-mile race. However, there is a strong backing behind Kaoo, and tomorrow the Hawaiian will have a pile of money behind him.

King Followers Confident. King's supporters are equally as confident and they are ready to bet anything from a hat to a suit of clothes that the man from the Coast beats Kaoo. And judging by the way the soldier has been running in his trials, Kaoo will have to be better than he has ever shown himself to be on the local tracks. The whole army is behind King, and the men will be present in thousands to see the race. There will be enough excitement tomorrow to keep the sports going for the next few months.

Yesterday afternoon King ran at the Boys' Field, and he did a fast five miles. He covered the distance in 28:13, and then continued and did six miles in 31:15. He ran well within himself and it is evident that unless Kaoo keeps right with King for the first five or ten miles, the soldier will be sure to get so far ahead that the race will be practically over.

Kaoo and his trainers know what they are up against, and it is their intention that Kaoo keep close on King's trail every inch of the way. The wonderful spirit that the old fellow has is expected to land him a winner at the end of the grueling contest.

All the arrangements are complete for tomorrow's race, and a plentiful supply of sawdust will be on hand to sprinkle along the track and make the going as good as possible.

If heavy rain does not fall tonight or tomorrow morning the ground will be all right, and the crowd that will attend will surely spread itself all over the grandstand, bleachers and around the sides of the field. Lieutenant Charlton and W. T. Rawlins will act as judges, and they will select a third judge on the ground tomorrow. Kaoo's interests are being looked after by Manager Simpson, and Nigel Jackson is taking care of King's. The race should be a most interesting event, and it Kaoo wins, Hawaii will be on the map as regards long-distance running.

DOES AND DASHES.

The Y. M. C. A. indoor baseball series got started last night, and the Blues beat the Whites by a score of 11 to 6. It was a good game and the fans were worked up over it. The lineups of the teams were as follows: Blues—H. Klemme, c.; Joe Honan, p.; G. Dwight, 1b.; M. V. Unto, 2b.; N. McGuire, 3b.; K. McGuire, ss.; G. Stewart, rf.; H. Nott, lf. Whites—C. Lewis, c.; E. Cannon, p.; L. Rosa, 1b.; M. Ferreira, 2b.; W. Rasmussen, 3b.; Harold Nott, ss.; P. Nottage, rf.; J. Marcus, lf.

Tomorrow at Waipahu the second game of the final series of the plantation baseball league will be played. Ewa and Alea will go up against one another, and a great game is expected. The first game was won by the Ewa boys by a score of 13 to 9, and they are determined to repeat the trick tomorrow.

The annual meeting of the Healan Boat Club will be held on November 14, and at it the election of officers for the coming year will be proceeded with.

This afternoon the Healan interclub shell race will be pulled off, and another good close struggle is expected.

Palama and Kalihi will meet at indoor baseball on Tuesday evening next in the Kalihi hall.

PORTUGUESE RISING AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Spaniards Had Planned to Revolt Also but Were Taken By Surprise.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—Dispatches from Madrid make Dr. Esquedo, the Republican leader, in confirmation of the statement that a definite plan existed for simultaneous revolutionary movements in both Spain and Portugal. Dr. Esquedo has just returned from Lisbon, where he had conferred with the late Dr. Bombarda and other Portuguese Republicans in order to further the plan. They decided on October 13, the anniversary of Ferrer's death, as the date of the uprising. But Bombarda's assassination precipitated the attack on the Portuguese throne. The blow thus suddenly and successfully administered, took Bombarda's Spanish comrades completely by surprise. The Spanish Republicans are loud in their resentment against the Government's severe attitude toward them. They are venting their wrath in the press. The chief radical newspaper accuses the government of fearing to make a comparison between the situation in Spain and that in Portugal. It adds pointedly, that "in Portugal also, the army was believed to be loyal."

IN BUSINESS CIRCLES

"I don't know anything about the sugar market."

This statement made during the week by a man very largely interested in sugar business, the state of mind of everyone in the sugar business who may be considered as an authority.

Expectations of most all the forecasters have been upset. The writer read recently a letter from a Wall Street man interested in Hawaii, Cuba and the Philippines, and one generally classified as one of the best judges of sugar market conditions. He refused to offer any definite statements regarding the future sugar market, and what intimations of possibilities he did make, all went astray before the letter reached Honolulu.

In other words, the best of them are "up in the air" on account of the exceptionally large crop of European beets.

The Bulletin's prediction of three-and-one-half cent sugar has every indication of being realized sooner than was anticipated, when the advice was given that investments based on that rate for raw sugar would be safe.

Readjustment of Dividends.

As the situation looks now, it would not be surprising if on or about the first of the new year there would be a general readjustment of sugar corporation dividends and sugar stock prices based on the prospects for the coming campaign. It may be accepted as certain that no extras will be continued next year, and no surprise need be occasioned if there is a reduction of dividends in some instances.

Unless something very unexpected happens Hawaii is looked for a period of low sugar prices and reduced dividends.

As New York Sees It.

The review of the sugar market as given by the Federal Reporter under date of Oct. 14 follows:

Raw Sugar.

The market has been quiet but steady, and no business reported until yesterday, when Messrs. B. H. Howell, Son & Co. bought 5,200 tons Javans, per S. S. "Drummond," due to arrive next week, at 10s 1 1/2d, c. i. & basis 96 deg. and parity of 3.90c, duty paid. There is a cargo of Javans now at the Delaware Breakwater, for which sellers are asking 10s 4 1/2d, c. i. & c. It is claimed that 10s 1 1/2d could be secured, but whether or not this is true at the close is somewhat doubtful. Stored sugars are offered at 3.85c, without finding buyers, and the closing is quiet, with buyers and sellers holding off, and the spot quotation on the basis of 3.90c duty paid for 96 deg. Centrifugals, 3.40c duty paid for 89 deg. Muscovades, and 3.15c duty paid for 89 deg. Molasses Sugars. The world's visible supply is 940,000 tons, as compared with 830,000 tons a year ago. Messrs. Willett & Gray estimate the total stocks and floats together as showing a visible supply of 983,938 tons, an increase of 49,126 tons from last year. Stocks in the United States and Cuba together are 198,938 tons, an increase of 28,156 tons from last year. Estimated floats to the United States total 150,000 tons, against 151,000 tons last year.

Cuba.

There is nothing new in the situation. There is a cable reporting a hurricane passing over the Isle of Pines, but nothing to indicate that any damage has been done to the cane crop in Cuba. The weather of late has been very favorable for the growing cane. Guma's estimate of the total production to October 1 is 1,192,500 tons.

Europe.

There is every indication that the weather abroad during September and October has been exceptionally fine for maturing beets. F. O. Licht wires us today, increasing his estimate for Germany to 2,475,000 tons, as compared with his previous estimate of 2,250,000 tons. At the same time Mr. Otto Licht cables increasing his estimate for Germany to 2,580,000 tons, or 110,000 tons more than his previous estimate. On this basis Otto Licht's estimate for all Europe would be 7,460 tons. The closing quotation shows little change, with the market dull on the following basis:

October buyers 9s 5 1/2d, equals 3.90c duty paid New York.
November buyers 9s 5 1/2d, equals 3.90c duty paid New York.
January-March buyers 9s 7 1/2d, equals 4.01c duty paid New York.
May buyers 9s 9 1/2d, equals 4.06c duty paid New York.
Javans.
There is nothing new to report.

Domestic Beets.

The Michigan refiners will undoubtedly begin making shipments next week.

Refined Sugar.

All prices and market conditions remain unchanged, with the Federal Sugar Refining Company and the W. J. McCahan Sugar Refining Company quoting 4.90c, each less 1 per cent for granulated, and the other refiners naming 4.95c as their lowest basis. Buyers continue to operate on a strictly hand to mouth basis, and there is but a moderate daily demand.

Pineapples Prosper.

In the meantime the diversified or minor industries are enjoying a season of present prosperity and very attractive prospects. The pineapple pack this year is larger than ever before and it is practically all sold. This is a most unusual condition for the local pineapple growers, who were very much afraid that they would have the world's markets overstocked. For the first time in many years Hawaii's surplus canned pineapple stock has been taken up and the next season will start with this year's crop cleared from the market.

Hawaii's pineapple growers and canners have profited first from the protective tariff that has practically shut out the Singapore pine. They have also been helped by the cold weather that hit the fruit crop of the middle west. As a matter of fact the situation is such that this Territory practically supplies the mainland market and has the fields with which to keep pace with the increased consumption.

This pineapple men have been developing a European market with good success.

Owing to the reduction of prices made during the period when pineapples were a glut on the market, the prices for the standard grades are not such as to give a great profit, but the pineapple grower who has been selling his product at twenty dollars a ton has done mighty well.

Pineapples and Trusts.

One of the interesting developments of the week is the announcement made through the Bulletin that the famous Armour interests are looking toward Hawaii with a view to securing control of one of the large canneries and the fields from which to obtain a permanent supply of pines. This calls to mind the fact that the pineapple industry of these islands is now practically under the control of capitalists outside the Territory. It is not at all impossible for Hawaii to wake up some fine morning and find that all its canneries have been absorbed by a fruit packing trust that receives orders from San Francisco, Chicago or New York. This will be a new sensation as the people of the Territory have hitherto been proud of the fact that they have kept the control of their industries within the Territory. The Sugar Trust, big and powerful as it is, has never taken a hand in running the plantations, as the fruit packing trusts may now do in the management of the pineapple canning factories.

Tobacco Prospects.

Promoters and workers in the tobacco industry are also quite cheerful over the outlook. Kona seems an ideal place for growing a first class tobacco leaf, and the only serious problem now apparent, is the curing and preparation for market. A report on the leaf of the Kona Tobacco Company recently received from the east was that the experts classed the leaf as good or better than the Sumatra or Florida leaf.

Mr. Daniels, a tobacco expert, arrived by the Sierra and left immediately for Kona, where he will take charge of the preparation of this year's large crop for the market. Mr. Daniels previous to coming to the islands visited tobacco sellers and manufacturers. He knows what they want. He will have charge of sorting and picking this year's crop and he will then proceed with it to the market. On the result of this work much of the future of the Kona tobacco enterprise will depend.

Politics Coming.

Ed Pollitz, the San Francisco broker, will arrive in town by the Wilhelmina. He comes on one of his regular trips, and will no doubt incidentally look into the great project of J. T. McCrosson for carrying water to the Kau district.

Kahului Protest.

Contractors who filed a protest against the bid of the Kahului railroad in connection with the bid for the construction of the Kahului breakwater, have withdrawn their objection, and the proposition might cause a delay in forwarding the improvement of the harbor.

Admiral Hillyday has called for tenders for dredging at the naval station at Honolulu, the same to be opened in Washington January 11, 1911.

Five hundred shares of Hamakua Mill stock were sold this week by beneficiaries of the Nottley estate to Theo. H. Davies & Co. The price is given as $200 per share net.

Waiting For Elections.

General business is reported as rather dull and the election excitement is given as the reason for it. Within the next two weeks the stores will begin to show the advance interest in the holiday season, which will begin early and probably be a record breaker.

Finances Satisfactory.

General financial conditions continue very favorable. Deposits in the banks are holding up well in total and the number of depositors. The slump in the price of sugar has not reached the small depositor and it is not likely to for some time to come, on account of the great amount of work now being and to be done by the Federal government. Money is easy but loans are made on a more conservative basis than would prevail if sugar prospects were different.

It is not probable that the stock market has yet reached bedrock. Stable conditions will not prevail until the policies of the corporations are outlined on the first of the year.

K. S. Gjerdrum's resignation as manager of Honokaa was one of the interesting news items of the week for the financial world. Mr. Gjerdrum has accepted a position in Porto Rico. The position has been offered to Mr. Morrison, who was formerly with the McBryde plantation and is now in Porto Rico.

Real Estate Future.

It seems impossible that the investing public can much longer remain indifferent to the real estate opportunities of this city. There is a constant and growing demand for small homes furnished and unfurnished and it stands to reason that this demand must steadily increase. The tourists are looking for such houses and the people coming here in connection with the Federal departments have to have homes. There is much talk of several large building propositions down town or in the line of hotels. But the active demand is for the small homes that cost from two thousand to three thousand dollars and rent from twenty-five to thirty-five dollars a month.

Mainland Situation.

Henry Clevs' banking circular for October 15 says: The political outlook, another well-worn element of doubt, is steadily improving. Radicalism is being rebuked in all directions; issues have now been clearly defined, and seem to depend very largely upon personality. The comparative lack of interest in election issues is shown by the falling off in registration in all parts of the country compared with previous years. It is taken for granted that Republicans will have to face

In no year of its history has the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company deemed it either expedient or advisable to sacrifice any of the high qualities that mean satisfaction for the motorist in order to sell its cars at a lower price and in greater quantity. What this means to the users of Pierce-Arrow is more apparent in the new models than ever before. In addition to providing a chassis of the highest character the company also offers a range of body styles, color schemes and upholstery designs wide enough to meet any preference.

HOT WATER

The Ruud Automatic Gas Water-Heater is different—essentially better than all other water-heaters. The difference is a pronounced betterment in hot water service.

Imagine for a minute an ideal hot water service—wouldn't it begin and end at the faucet? The has done just this, it has reduced the hot water problem to a turn of the faucet—it's as easy to get steaming hot water now as cold water—you don't go near the Ruud itself—you don't have to strike even a match.

The Ruud differs from ordinary water-heaters in efficiency—it is independent of the kitchen range—a luxury in summer time—stands in your basement—self-operating and safe.

Finally, there's a difference in the hot water—never "lukewarm," but always heated to a fixed temperature predetermined by yourself—and the water is fresh, taken clear and cold from the water mains and heated instantly as it flows.

The initial cost of the Ruud is the final cost—so moderate that you cannot afford to buy a cheaper water-heater—or to put up longer with the vexations of the old one. Study this mechanical masterpiece at close range. Investigate NOW.

Society

FRAEWELL parties in the nature of informal teas, dinners and "showers" furnished society with a variety of entertainment for the past week. The young matrons planning to leave shortly for the mainland have been the motif for a number of these affairs, while the brides-to-be have had an equal share of attention. Miss Daisy Gras, who will leave on the Sierra, accompanied by her aunt and sister, has been the incentive for numerous affairs. The "souvenir shower" given last Wednesday in her honor proved an enjoyable affair. Miss Gras will join the ranks of young matrons before long. Her departure from Honolulu will be keenly felt by the younger set.

Mrs. Ralph Forster, wife of the English Consul, has been the guest of honor at many functions. Miss Katherine Robinson, who will become the bride of Mr. George Kinney on Monday next, has been in a whirl of gaiety for the past fortnight. Miss Robinson is an extremely pretty girl, and is well liked in Honolulu. Her wedding will be beautiful in its appointments, but will savor of understatement which is characteristic of the English women. Miss Robinson's picture appears on the society page. She is a tall, willowy demi-blonde, with violet colored eyes and dark wavy hair. This young girl returned recently from a two years' European trip. She is extremely accomplished, being a fine musician and a finished linguist.

Tennis Tea at Davies.

The tennis tea given on Saturday last by Mr. and Mrs. Clive Davies was a distinct success. On this occasion Mrs. Ralph Forster was the guest of honor, this entertainment being in the nature of a farewell for Mrs. Forster, who will embark November the second for Paris. Saturday a number of good matches were played, and proved interesting to the spectators. Mrs. Walter Francis Dillingham put up a splendid game. Captain Low of the U. S. Marine Corps, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Mr. Gerald Irwin and Mr. A. Graham were in splendid form.

The tennis court of the Davies is ideally situated, being surrounded by tropical palms and gigantic trees. Mrs. Davies and her guest of honor received their friends on the tennis court, the tropical verdure making a beautiful setting for the function. Mrs. Davies wore a cream lingerie, with a large black hat covered with roses. Her guest of honor was clad in a French creation, a toque of cerise completed the costume. Refreshments were served at small tables, placed near the tennis court—this function was distinctly an out of door affair. Mrs. Bernice Walbridge served the punch, while Orientals attired in spotless white, served the ices, tea and cake. The lack of formality lent added enjoyment to the affair, and the women folk in their foulards, light-weight silks and dainty lingerie frocks added to the beauty of the environment. Mrs. George Cleveland Bowen looked a picture in a pink lingerie over silk, with a large black and gold hat, ornamented with a black willow plume; Mrs. Arthur Cecil Mackintosh wore a smart two piece suit of white broad cloth, a white hat with blue ostrich feathers, completed the costume; Mrs. Winslow, wife of Major Winslow, was clad in a white lingerie, a blue turban was worn with this costume; Mrs. Walbridge wore a white dress, embroidered and inserted with motifs of lace, a becoming hat of black was worn; Mrs. Marx looked stunning in white broad cloth. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Clive Davies, Consul and Mrs. Ralph Forster, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Francis Dillingham, Mrs. Bernice Walbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cecil Mackintosh, Major and Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. George Cleveland Bowen, Miss Daisy Gras, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bottomley, Captain and Mrs. Low, Captain and Mrs. Estee of Fort Shafter, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, Mrs. Ballentyne, Miss Ballentyne, Miss Hartnagle, Major and Mrs. Kennedy of Fort Shafter, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marx, Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham, Mr. Gerald Irwin and others.

A picture appears on this page of Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney. Miss Tenney returned on the "Wilhelmina" from an extended trip through California—by the way the steamer Wilhelmina was named after her. This charming young girl is a great social favorite where ever she goes, but she does not devote her entire time to society, for she is extremely athletic, being devoted to golf, is a splendid shot, is enthusiastic over tennis and is an expert motorist. She can be seen nearly every day, driving her large seven seater touring car. On account of the out-of-door life that Honolulu affords, Miss Tenney is devoted to the islands and while she and her family go to

Mr. and Mrs. Hepburn's Halloween Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marlin Hepburn will entertain at a Halloween party on Monday evening. This will be in the nature of an old-time Halloween party—fortunes will be told, and the future. The house will be decorated to carry out the Halloween idea.

Captain and Mrs. Marx' Dinner.

Captain and Mrs. Arthur Marx entertained a coterie of friends at dinner on Sunday last. The table was a-bloom with yellow chrysanthemums and lace ferns. Attractive place cards ornamented and designated where each guest should sit. Among those seated at this flower bedecked table were Paymaster and Mrs. Stevens of the U. S. Navy, Captain and Mrs. Lewrenz of the Navy, Doctor Tucker Smithies, Captain and Mrs. Marx, their niece, Miss Katherine Stephens, Lieutenant Blair and Lieutenant Parsons of the U. S. Marine Corps.

News has been received that the U. S. S. Maryland has been ordered to Honolulu. This is welcome news, for most of the officers aboard this cruiser are well known in the society circles of Honolulu.

Mrs. Henry Castle and daughter, Eleanor, will winter in Munich. The latter will attend school in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lillie, after a pleasant sojourn in San Francisco, were returning passengers on the Sierra.

Reverend and Mrs. Erdman returned to Honolulu on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Erdman express themselves as having had a delightful trip, but are glad to be home again.

Mr. P. C. Jones was an incoming passenger on the Sierra Friday.

Mr. A. R. Restarick was given a royal welcome Friday, when he arrived on the Sierra.

Admiral and Mrs. Rees to Leave.
The numerous friends of Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees are grieved to learn that this charming couple will leave shortly for the Coast. While it was understood the Admiral would leave Honolulu, it was hoped that his orders would be deferred until spring. Admiral and Mrs. Rees have endeared themselves not only among the social set in which they move, but the whole community as well, for they are both noted for their charm of manner and their great courtesy. The going away of this couple will prove a severe loss to Honolulu.

Mrs. Watson Entertained.
Miss Daisy Gras is receiving many of the social compliments of the week. Wednesday Mrs. Edward Watson gave a souvenir shower in her honor. Sixteen of her close friends were invited, each guest coming with a souvenir for the prospective bride. The guests arrived about half after three, most of them bringing their sewing. While they were plying their needles and indulging in chit-chat, so dear to the feminine heart, the four-year-old daughter of the house dressed as a fairy appeared. This dainty apparition clad in canary colored silk with gauze wings carried a basket which was filled with beautiful gifts for the guest of honor. They consisted of souvenir spoons, brasses, silver sugar tongs and bon-bon dishes, and even a miniature calash, which will make an appropriate souvenir of the islands in the bride's new home. After the ribbon and tissue paper were taken from the gifts and they were duly admired an impromptu musical program was rendered. Later in the afternoon delicious refreshments were served at small tables on the mauka lanai. These tables were ornamented with yellow chrysanthemums. The drawing room and dining room were also decorated with these flowers. On this occasion the hostess wore a flowered lavender chiffon that was very becoming. Miss Gras was attired in a white silk, cut in the prevailing fashion, a modish turban completing this costume. Mrs. Ralph Forster wore a Copenhagen blue foulard with a picture hat. Miss Hartnagle was clad in a French hand-embroidered gown; a black plumed hat was worn with this creation. Mrs. Harry Marlin Hepburn's costume was much admired. It was a cream peau de crepe with motifs of lace. A large white picture hat trimmed with chiffon and white wings was worn. Miss Irma Ballentyne was clad in lavender chiffon with a deep band of lavender satin outlining the bottom of the skirt. Miss Blair looked extremely well in a white lingerie. A shower hat was very becoming. Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse wore a stunning frock of chiffon with plastrons of Paisley chiffon. This was a New York creation and was much admired. Miss Lucas was clad in a flowered pink chiffon. Among those present were Mrs. Edward Watson, Miss Daisy Gras, Mrs. Ralph Forster, Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse and sister, Miss Harding, Mrs. Harry Marlin Hepburn, Mrs. James Cockburn, Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne, Miss Hartnagle, Miss Katherine Stephens, Miss Blair, Miss Irma Ballentyne, Miss Lucas, Miss Marie Ballentyne, and others.

Captain Cowles of the U. S. Navy is expected on the next liner. When Admiral Rees leaves the Captain will assume command of the Navy Station.

Captain and Mrs. Marx' Dinner.
The handsome home of Captain and Mrs. Arthur Marx was the setting for a beautiful entertainment on Friday evening. During this week this hospitable couple gave two dinners in honor of the new Service people. This last function was in the nature of a farewell to Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees and Mrs. Ralph Forster, the guests of honor, who leave shortly for the mainland. On this occasion the artistically appointed table was decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and violets. The place cards were dainty and contributed to the color scheme. After dinner the host and hostess and their ten guests played bridge until a late hour. Among the guests were Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, Consul and Mrs. Ralph Forster, Major and Mrs. Timberlake, Major and Mrs. Payson, and Judge and Mrs. Wilder.

Mrs. Alexander Isenberg in Munich.
Mrs. Alexander Isenberg has leased a palatial house in Munich, Germany. This house belongs to a renowned artist who on account of ill health is compelled to spend his time in Italy or the South of France. Mrs. Isenberg is hospitably inclined and her home is the scene of many social functions, mostly of a literary and musical nature.

Mrs. Ballentyne's Bridge Party.

In compliment of her sister, Miss Hartnagle, Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne entertained with four tables of bridge at her home on Thurston avenue Tuesday afternoon. Miss Hartnagle has been visiting her sister for the past two months, but will leave in November for her home on the mainland. Miss Hartnagle has been frequently entertained during her visit in Honolulu, and she is charmed with the people, and many pleasant memories will linger concerning her trip to the Paradise of the Pacific. Miss Hartnagle is an enthusiastic bridge player. The affair of Tuesday was one of the most enjoyable of the week. The prizes were exceptionally pretty. Mrs. Arthur Marx won the first prize, a picture frame in filigree silver. The second prize was a sandal wood fan, and was awarded to Mrs. Hepburn. Yellow chrysanthemums made an effective decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elgin at Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elgin arrived Friday on the Mauna Kea and are registered at the Young Hotel. These young people are extremely popular in the society circles of Honolulu. Although Mr. Elgin is on a business trip of short duration, even a brief visit is welcomed by their numerous friends.

Mrs. Geo. Robertson's Pol Luncheon.

Under the arbor of roses and clematis vine Mrs. George Robertson entertained seven intimate friends at a delightful pol luncheon. The table was decorated with feathery yellow chrysanthemums, lilacs, leys were found at each place, and the entire color scheme for this affair was in yellow. The table was placed under "Bud's Arbor"—an arbor so called because it is covered with roses and buds during most of the year. This entertainment proved an enjoyable one. After luncheon the guests and their hostess adjourned to the mauka lanai and viewed on dainty fancy work, preparatory for Christmas.

Miss Lucas' Thimble Party.

Now that the holiday season is approaching one of the forms of diversion and entertainment are thimble parties. This is not only a pleasurable way of spending the afternoon, but one feels as if they had accomplished something. Miss Hattie Lucas entertained Thursday afternoon a bevy of her friends. All of these young girls brought their fancy work. Later in the afternoon a delightful hour of chit-chat was spent around the tea table, where delicious refreshments were served. This young hostess presided over the tea urn in a graceful manner. Among Miss Hattie Lucas' guests were Miss Violet Makee, Miss Mina Berger, Miss Florence Hoffmann, Miss Helen North, Miss Katherine Stephens, Miss Mary Lucas, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Phillips have as house guests, Mr. Mark Green of San Francisco, and his daughter, who arrived Friday, on the Sierra. Mr. Green is a capitalist of San Francisco and is also interested in several local firms. During their visit in Honolulu, Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Phillips will give several entertainments in their honor.

Mrs. von Holt's Garden Party.

From 4 to 6 Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Henrik von Holt entertained at a garden party in honor of Mrs. Arthur Cecil Mackintosh, at her home on Judd street. Mrs. von Holt and her guest of honor received on the lawn, under tall palms. Mrs. Robert Bond and Mrs. Albert Waterhouse were also in the receiving party. Refreshments were served in the large dining room, this room elaborately decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and palms. At a large mahogany table, tea and coffee were served, at one end Mrs. Moutague pour the tea and Miss Goodale dispensed coffee. This was not a large affair, only sixty guests were invited, most of them belonged to the set of young matrons, and young debutants. A Hawaiian orchestra was placed on the lanai and played and sang Hawaiian airs.

At the Orpheum.

The appearance of the George B. Howard Co. at the New Orpheum has attracted fashionable audiences during the week, in fact ever since they arrived. Every night this excellent company have played to packed house, the audience has shown its appreciation by applauding and applauding, until the stars would have to respond to four or five curtain calls.

"Christopher Jr." played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening, was one of the most popular pieces that they have played. Mr. Howard is a born artist, the play did not drag from start to finish, every one that attended pronounced it a fine production, splendidly portrayed by the star and his supporters, and left the theatre well satisfied, with the intention of coming again in the near future. Miss Betty Jonson has won every one by her charm of manner and her extreme naturalness. In the third act of "Christopher Jr." she looked exceptionally pretty in a wonderful toilet.

easy chairs, cushions and potted plants, the main room of the building was transformed into a spacious drawing room, of which the stage formed an alcove. There was no set program of entertainment. Mrs. Bobo charmed everyone with her delightful singing, as she always does and Miss Reynolds, niece of the Rev. Hiram Bingham of honored memory, played beautifully two piano solos. Both of these ladies are musicians of a high order, and not the least of their charm is the ready graciousness with which they use their talents in the giving of pleasure. A number of lansic lovers of Honolulu. Mr. Hall has not been heard much in concert here, and many have wished for an opportunity to do so since his return to the city some months ago. The program which is being prepared with much care will doubtless be an interesting one for it will include numbers composed by artist well known to Honolulu.

Among those who will act as patronesses are Mrs. W. F. Frear, Mrs. E. A. Mott Smith, Mrs. S. B. Doie, Mrs. Ballou, Mrs. Galt, Mrs. W. F. Whitney, Mrs. Hugo Herzer, Mrs. Hobbs, Mrs. Westervelt, Mrs. Lowrey, Mrs. Herbert, Mrs. Galties, Mrs. A. Lewis, Jr., and Mrs. Insalls.

Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club.

The Wednesday afternoon Bridge Club met with Mrs. Smith, wife of Doctor Smith of Fort Shafter. Four tables were arranged to accommodate the guests, who all belonged to the service. This bridge club meets fortnightly and is an enjoyable affair. Later in the afternoon delicious refreshments were served. After the refreshments, the first prize a Canton cup and saucer was awarded to Mrs. Marx, wife of Captain Marx of the U. S. Marine Corps. A beautiful salad bowl in the same ware was presented to Mrs. Turner, wife of Lieutenant Turner of Fort Ruger. Among those who enjoyed Mrs. Turner's hospitality were Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, Mrs. Arthur Marx, Miss Stephens, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Falls and others.

Cannon-Rosenberg.

The following announcement is made:

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cannon invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter Flora to Albert Rosenberg on Saturday evening, October twenty-ninth, nineteen hundred and ten at the Kalih Chapel, eight p. m.

A beautiful picture appears of Mrs. Edward Tenney on the social page of the San Francisco Chronicle, which was published October ninth. The following clipping accompanies the photo:

Mrs. E. D. Tenney of Honolulu, whose picture appears today, sailed last week for her home in the islands, after a delightful visit in San Francisco which has extended over a period of several months. With her attractive daughter, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, she was the inspiration for much entertaining preceding her departure for her home.

Miss Center's Tea.

A bevy of young girls enjoyed the tea given by Miss Center on Wednesday. On this occasion Miss Katherine Robinson was the complimented guest.

Mr. Cleghorn, a nephew of Ex-Governor Cleghorn, is convalescing at the Queen's Hospital after undergoing an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Cleghorn is a younger brother of Mr. Percy Cleghorn, who recently returned from a trip through Germany and the British Isles.

Mr. and Mrs. George Angus, have been the motif for much entertainment since their return from a lengthy trip abroad.

Mrs. Stephen Norton Bobo to Sing.

At the eleven o'clock service Sunday morning, October the thirtieth, Mrs. Stephen Norton Bobo will sing at the First Church of Christ Scientist, at Fraternity Hall, Odd Fellows' Building. All are cordially invited to attend.

MISS KATHERINE ROBINSON

ette executed by a celebrated Chicago modiste. The blending of colors produced a recherche effect. The latter part of the week, "Charley's Aunt" is being played. This mirth provoking piece, holds the audiences, convulsed with laughter, during the entire rendition. Among Mr. Howard's numerous accomplishments he is a wonderful comedian, and in this play he can not be surpassed. He is well supported by the rest of the company. During the week numerous theatre parties have been given; Wednesday evening, Miss Alice Macfarlane entertained a party of eight, among them were Mr. and Mrs. Monell, Miss Lady Macfarlane, Mrs. Berger, Miss Mina Berger, Mr. Mark Robinson and Mr. Guy Macfarlane; Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Haneberg entertained a theatre party of sixteen in honor of Captain Walter of the Herzogen Cella and his officers. The Robert Shingles also entertained Thursday evening, a number of their friends. Many other parties were given, but owing to lack of space they can not be given.

Princess Kawanakao Entertains in San Francisco.

Next week will open brilliantly with the first concert of the St. Francis Musical Art Society, which will be given as usual in the Colonial ballroom at the St. Francis on Tuesday night. Princess Kawanakao will entertain a box party on this occasion, as will Mrs. William G. Irwin, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. James Ellis Tucker, Mrs. Frederick Tillman, Mrs. James B. Coryell and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst. With Scotti and Pasquelli contributing the numbers on the program, society is assured of an evening of artistic pleasure as well as one of social enjoyment. A number of large dinner and supper parties have been planned, which will add much to the brilliancy of the occasion.—S. F. Call.

Miss Ada Rhodes Entertained.

Mrs. Charles Gibson gave a small tea Thursday afternoon at her home on Pierce street in honor of Miss Ada Rhodes of Honolulu, who is the guest of Princess Kawanakao at the Palace. Twenty four friends were entertained informally and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Walter Gibson and Mrs. Harry Gray. Among others present were Princess Kawanakao, Miss Helen Gray and Miss Jennie Lee. Miss Rhodes will return to her home in Honolulu on the steamer sailing October 25th.—S. F. Call.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Wilcox' Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin Hepburn were the guests of honor at a dinner given Thursday evening by Lieutenant and Mrs. Wilcox of the U. S. S. revenue cutter service. The dinner was given at the Courtland, where the Wilcoxs have apartments. The table decorations were in yellow, the place cards and favors being in that color.

Reception at St. Clement's.

On Friday evening of last week a very pleasant reception was held by the vestry-men of St. Clement's church in their comfortable parish house. The invitations, to which something over a hundred people responded, were given through the daily papers. By a judicious use of rugs, draperies, tern slides of old Honolulu modiste. The blending of colors produced a recherche effect. The latter part of the week, "Charley's Aunt" is being played. ## ARMY AND NAVY

Want to Merge Army and Marines.

Cavite, Sept. 29.—Private advices received here from Washington state that quite a determined effort will be made at the coming session of Con- gress to merge the Marine Corps into the Army, in all probability the Coast Artillery. It is said that the only thing that saved the Marine Corps from being placed under Army control eighteen months ago was the lack of time that was attached to the naval ap- propriation bill whereby not a cent was available unless the Marines were re- stored to their former duties aboard ship. Advice state however that the above move will be defeated in that the President is averse to dissolving the corps, which is the oldest defensive arm of the government.

Quite a large number of enlisted men of the Marine Corps will be sent to the United States via the Army transport sailing on or about October 15th. Following is the official list of men who will go:

Gunnery Sergeant Montreville M. Cornwell, Sergeants Frank Berlin- guet and Edward McAvoy.

Corporals John F. Arthur, James O. Donahue, Guy M. Elliott, James Hill, Robert J. McCreary, and Charles S. Ryan.

Trumpeter George Martin.

Privates William J. Barnes, James N. Becker, Carl O. Brown, Leslie C. Carpenter, George T. Coffin, John J. Coogan, James Cox, Willie J. Cox, Reuben S. Culver, William G. Fitzsim- mons, Charles H. Harris, Fred G. Hatcher, Harry E. Henderson, John Hoedel, William Morgan, William Hull, Hubert G. Johannes, John A. Juber, Frank Junge, Roy B. Ketcher, Archie Kilpatrick, Fred C. King, Wal- ter A. Knight, Frederick Kreutzberg, Arthur Lang, Henry E. Logsdon, Charles Lyons, Walter E. McIntyre, Henry A. Mehlberg, John W. Miller, John St. J. Munnagh, James O'Far- rell, Michael O'Leary, Mike E. Patel- ske, Frank Paukovich, Alfred E. Pich- ard, Albert O. Pohlman, Ernest R. Potter, William F. Purdie, August Reich, Charles A. Reinhardt, George T. Ripple, James H. Ritchie, William F. Robertson, Andrew M. Saunders, Walter H. Schofield, Hance H. Schwanz, Edward F. Sheedy, Otto H. Sipple, James E. Smith, William C. Smith, Arthur E. Stanley, John J. Strack, Frederick H. Teesch, Rudolph R. Thom, Walter H. Trimble, John A. Trojanowski, Charles H. Walsh, Jr., August G. Weiner, Charles E. Wick- er, Harvey E. Weber and George Zeig- ler.

The sending of the above-named men will leave the Marine brigade now on duty in the Philippines in quite a depleted state, but it is ex- pected that the department at Wash- ington will send several hundred more men to this station before the end of the present year.

New Riding Test.

Officers not only will have to take the horsemanship test, ninety miles in three days, each year, but will be compelled to go through a certain amount of prescribed exercise regu- larly, according to general orders is- sued by Major-General Wood, chief of staff, revising the old test orders. General Wood's order had been sub- mitted to President Taft, who readily granted his approval. The only mod- ification in the new order is that per- manent staff officers who are near the retiring age may be excused from tak- ing the test without jeopardizing their chances of promotion, and that half an hour more is given for the ride, six and a half hours being granted for one day's ride, instead of six hours, as prescribed by the old order. Gen. Wood says:

All officers of the active list of the army who are on a duty status will keep themselves at all times in a fit physical condition to perform active duty with troops under war con- ditions. To this end, regular system- atic physical exercise throughout the year is essential, and will be required of all officers by their immediate com- manders. At posts the kind and amount of such exercise, the con- ditions under which it shall be taken, and all other similar details, will be arranged by post commanders and adapted to the local conditions of climate, duty, individual officers, etc., obtaining at their respective posts. Department commanders will enforce conscientious compliance with this order throughout the limits of their commands, and will require that the orders of post commanders be ade- quate to secure the physical condition above prescribed.

This is an entirely new feature of the physical test, which means that every officer in the service excepting general officers, will be required to take regular physical exercise. In addition, all officers, from second lieutenants up to and including colonels, must make a physical examination once each year to prove that they are fit for service. The annual test ride in- cludes only officers of the grades of major, lieutenant-colonel, and colonel, as in the old order. All staff officers of field grade will be compelled to ride, and will not be given the option of walking. Coast artillery officers will continue to walk in their tests if they prefer, making fifty miles in three days. Officers stationed in the tropics will walk or ride two-thirds of the distance in two-thirds of the time each day.

Cable News ROOSEVELT FOR THIRD TERM

(Associated Press Cable.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Summing up in a speech in this city the political situation as regards the Presidential possibilities in 1912, Elihu Root tonight conditionally advanced Theodore Roosevelt for a third term.

Root stated that under ordinary conditions such as have prevailed during the past years of Republican administration, William H. Taft would be the logical candidate of his party for reelection following the precedent.

He stated, however, that if the strength of the administration was reduced by the results of the State and Congressional elections which are scheduled for this year, and an increasing strength on the part of the party's opponents, it would be forced to nominate Roosevelt.

Root modified his statement to the effect that if Roosevelt could not be nominated, a more radical man than Taft has proved himself to be should be chosen to lead the national ticket in order to combine the ranks of the Republican party into a solid front.

SIMPLE LIFE FOR ROOSEVELT.
ROCHESTER, Oct. 28.—Declaring his intention to retire to Oyster Bay and cultivate for a longer period his famous two weeks' "oysterosity" after returning from Europe, Theodore Roosevelt spoke here tonight on his future plans regarding his public career.

He stated further that he would retire to his sequestered home immediately following the elections, no matter which turn they might take, and stay there. In closing he stated "that he would not menace any who did not menace him."

POLITICS IN URUGUAY.
BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 28.—Rumors which have reached this city from Montevideo tonight were to the effect that the situation in Uruguay is critical. The political animosity which is apparent is taken as being a herald of a revolution, and a crisis is feared in the affairs of the republic.

PERU HAS NEW CABINET.
LIMA, Peru, Oct. 28.—Political changes during the last few weeks resulted today in the formation of a new cabinet, with Salvador Caverio as premier.

REFINED SUGAR DROPS LOWER.
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Refined sugar was further reduced this afternoon by five cents the hundred pounds. This reduction followed a previous one of fifteen cents a hundred noted earlier in the day.

DOCTORS WILL REPORT CASES

Infantile Paralysis to be Guarded Against Carefully.

At the meeting of the Board of Health, held on October 25th, a communication from Dr. W. D. Baldwin was read stating that there were several cases of infantile paralysis in the city at the present time, and as this disease had spread to a more or less extent in epidemic form in the eastern states, and is now generally recognized as an infectious, and possibly contagious disease, he suggested that the matter be taken up by the Board and that the physicians of Honolulu be notified of the existence of the disease and requested to report promptly all cases coming within their practice to the Board in the same manner as is now done with other infectious and contagious diseases.

In discussing the situation, it was suggested by Dr. Hoadly that a resolution should be passed to the effect that where a school child was found to be afflicted with the disease the remaining children of the family coming in contact should be kept from school. If this were done and reports made as suggested by Dr. Baldwin no further steps would be necessary under existing conditions, but in case of a serious outbreak it would be well to close all the schools. At the present time it is difficult to determine the source of infection, or the means by which the infection could be carried. He suggested also that the resolution should provide that bi-weekly reports should be made by the Board to all physicians in Honolulu as to the location of such cases.

The resolution was then moved, seconded, and carried.

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909 by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"You have overstepped?"
"No, on the contrary."
"You are disturbed. I'd like to know what's going on in that bullet head of yours."
"I have resigned the consularship."
"And for what reason?"
"Carmichael has suddenly drawn on his coat."
"Ach! So you have one too?"
"One what?"
"One secret."
"Yes, but it's the kind we can't talk about."
"I understand. Have you had breakfast?"
"No."
"Neither have I. Let us go together."

There was a large crowd outside the palace that night, which was clear and starry, because of a great ball. A troop of cavalry patrolled the fence. Carriages after carriages rolled in through the gates, coming directly from the ocean.

And close by the sentry box Carmichael saw Gretchen and her vintner. Carmichael could not resist stopping a moment. He raised his hat to Gretchen to the wonder of those near.

"Do you know where the American consulate is?" he asked her, so that some but Gretchen and the vintner heard.
"Yes," said the vintner, blushing with shame. "I live above the agency."

"Good! I shall expect to see you in the morning."
But the vintner was determined that he shouldn't. He would be at work in the royal vineyards on the morrow.

"Tomorrow?" repeated Gretchen, to whom this display was a blank. "Why should he wish to see you?"

"Who knows? Let us be going. It is half after 10," he added, as if to put forward some logical excuse for leaving at this moment.

A man followed them all the way to the Krimerweg.

Carmichael threw himself eagerly into the arms of the vintner. He was an accomplished waiter, after the manner of that day, when one went round and round like some mechanical toy wound up. This would be the last night of the kind for him, and he wanted a full memory of it. Between times he exchanged a few words with the chamberlain or talked with the old Duke's wife. Thrice while on the door her highness passed him. But there was never a smile, never a glance. He became careless and reckless. He would seek her and talk to her and smile at her even if the duke threw a regiment in between. He saw Grumbach in the gallery.

"Now, what the devil is the Dutch man doing with a pair of opera glasses?"

Later her highness stood before one of the long windows in the conservatory, looking out at the people in the square. Was that some one coming for her? She turned.

It was Carmichael.

What an opportunity for scandal! She laughed inwardly. The ladies and their wives, the ambassadors' wives and their daughters, would miss them both. And the spirit of devilry lay also upon her heart. She smiled at the man and with her hand held him by the side.

"You have not asked me to dance to-night," she declared.

"I am neither a prince nor an ambassador."

"But you have danced with me."
"Yes, I have been to heaven now and then."
"And do you expect yourself this evening?"

"By turning myself out my self-esteem remains unharmed."

"Then you expected to be turned out?"

"As I have said, I am not a prince. I am only a consul, not even a diplomat, simply a business arm of my government. My diplomacy never ascends above the quality of hops and wines imported. I am supposed to and ship him home. I am also the official guide of all American tourists."

"That is no reason."
"Your father?" He should have said the grand duke.

"Ah, yes, my father, the chamberlain, the ambassador and their wives and daughters! I begin to believe that you have grown afraid of them."

"I confess that I have. I had an adventure last night. Would you like to hear about it?"

"Tell me."

"A velvet lady," she mused. "What would you say if I told you that your mystery is no mystery at all? I am the velvet lady. And the person I went to see was my old nurse, my foster mother, with whom I spent the happiest, freest days of my life in the garret at Dresden. But! All mysteries may be dispelled if we go to the right person. So you are to be reconciled?"

"I have asked for my recall, your highness."

"And so Dreilberg no longer appeals to you? You once told me that you loved it."

"I am cursed with wanderlust, your highness."

"You promised to tell me what she is like."

Suddenly all his fear went away, all his recollection. The spirit of reckless youth which had visited him a little while ago again empowered him. He was afraid of nothing.

"How shall I describe her?" he said. "I have seen only paintings and marbles, and these are inanimate. Have you ever seen a live woman in a rain storm? That is the color of her hair. There are jade and lapis lazuli in her eyes."

He bowed toward her. "And I love her better than life, better than home, and between us there is the distance of a thousand worlds. So I must give up the dream and go away, as an honorable man should."

Neither of them heard the chamberlain's approach.

"And because I love her!" Her fan dropped to the floor.

"Your highness," broke in the cold, even tones of Herbeck, "your father is making inquiries about you."

Carmichael rose instantly, white as the frill in his shirt.

Hildegarde, however, was a princess. She gained her feet leisurely, with a half smile on her lips.

"Count, Herr Carmichael tells me that he is soon to leave Dresden."

"Ah!" There was satisfaction in Herbeck's enunciation. But there was a glint of admiration in his eyes as he recognized the challenge in Carmichael's. "We shall miss Herr Carmichael."

Her highness moved serenely toward the door. Carmichael waited till she was gone from sight; then he stooped and picked up the fan.

The entrance to the vast dural vineyards was made through a small lodge where the dural vintner lived and kept his books and money till such time as he should be required to place them before the proper official. Upon the morning following the ball at the palace the vintner was reclining against the outside wall of the gates, smoking his china pipe and generally at peace with the world. He discerned a solitary figure approaching from the direction of Dreilberg—a youthful figure, buoyant of step and confident. Herr Hoffman was rather interested. The youth paused at the gate and inspected the old man highly.

"Herr Hoffman, I want work."
"So? What can you do?"
The youth recounted his abilities. "I have a letter to you also."

"Let me see it."

Hoffman saw it, but with starting eyes. There was, then, something new under the sun. A picker of grapes recommended by a princess!

"Du lieber Gott! You are Leopold Dietrich?"

"Yes, herr."

"How did you come by this letter?"

"His serene highness is patron to Gretchen, the goose girl, at whose request the recommendation was given me."

This altered matters. The two entered the office.

"Can you write?"

"A little, herr."

"Then write your name on this piece of paper and that. Each night you will present yours with the number of pounds, which will be credited to you. You must bring it back each morning. If you lose it you will be paid nothing for your labor."

Dietrich wrote his name twice. Still Hoffman was not wholly satisfied with his eyes.

"Gottlieb," he said to one of the men, "take him to terrace 08. We'll see what sort of workman he is." He spoke to Dietrich again. "What is Gretchen to you?" For Hoffman knew Gretchen.

"She is my sweetheart, herr." And there was no mockery in the youth's eyes as he said this.

"Take him along, Gottlieb."

Terrace 08 was given over to small grapes. Thus many ladders had to be picked to fill the basket. But Dietrich went to work with a will. His fingers were deft, and his knife was sharp, and by midday he had turned his sixth basket, which was fair work, considering.

As Hoffman did not feed his employees, Dietrich was obliged to beg from his coworkers. Very willingly they shared with him their coarse bread and onions. He ate the bread and stuffed the onions in his pocket. Once more the youth was alone. He set down his basket and laughed. Was there ever such a fine world? The very danger of it was the spice which gave it flavor.

"I love her, I love her!" His face grew bright again, and the winking blood ran tingling in his veins. "Am I a thief, a scoundrelly thief, because I have that right common to all men to love one woman? Some day I shall suffer for this; some day my heart still aches. So be it!"

His fingers were growing sore and sticky and there was a twinge in his back as he shouldered his eighth basket and scrambled down to the man who weighed the pick. He was beginning his ninth when he saw Gretchen coming along the purple aisle.

"What a beautiful day!" said Gretchen, with a happy laugh.

"Kiss me."

"When you fill that basket."

"Not before!"

"Not even a little one," mischief in her glance.

Out came the knife, and the vintner plied himself furiously. Gretchen had a knife of her own, and she joined him.

"There!" he said at last. "That's what I call work. But it is worth it. Now!"

Gretchen put her hands behind her back, closed her eyes and rubbed her chin. He kissed not only the lovely mouth, but the eyes and cheeks and hair.

"I ask only for your love, Gretchen—only that." And he pressed her hands. "All men are rascals more or less. There are so many currents and eddies entering into a man's life. It is made up of a thousand variant interests. No man's love is never like a woman's. But remember this, Gretchen—I loved you the best I know how, as a man loves but once, honorably as it was possible, purely and dearly."

She shook her head. He explained. "This lunch will do very well."

He took one grape at the bottom in his teeth. Gloriously Gretchen did the same. Their lips met in a smothered laughter. Then they tried it again.

And this Vatteau picture met the gaze of two persons on the terrace below. The emporium face of one threatened an explosion, but the smiling face of the other restrained this vocal thunder. The old head vintner kicked a stone savagely. Gretchen and her lover turned.

CHAPTER XVII.
A WHITE SCARF.

"YOU!" began the steward.

"Patience, Hoffman!" warned her highness. Then she laughed blithely.

"Your hat, second!" cried Hoffman.

The vintner snatched off his hat apologetically and swung it around on the tips of his fingers.

"Is this the way you work?"

"I have picked nine baskets."

"You should have picked twelve."

It interested her highness to note that this handsome young fellow was not afraid of the head vintner. So this was Gretchen's lover? He was really handsome. There was nothing coarse about his features or figure.

The pause was broken by Gretchen.

"Pardon, highness?"

"For what, Gretchen?"

"For not having seen your approach."

"That was my fault, not yours. When is the wedding?"

"After the vintage, highness."

Her highness then spoke to the bridegroom elect. "You will be good to her?"

"Who could help it, your highness?"

The pronoun struck her oddly, for peasants as a usual thing never used it in addressing the nobility.

"Well, on the day of the wedding I will stand sponsor to you both. And good luck go with you."

She passed down the aisle, the head vintner following, wagging his head.

The day was ended. The lad swung the basket to his shoulder, and the sun, flashing upon its contents, turned the bloody globes into dull rubies. He presented his card at the office and was duly credited with three crowns, which, according to Gretchen, was a fine day's work. Hoffman said nothing about dismissal.

"Come day after tomorrow. Tomorrow is a feast day. You are always having feast days when work begins. All summer long you loaf about, but the minute you start to work you must find excuses to lay off. Clear out, both of you!"

"Work at last," said Dietrich as he and Gretchen started for the city.

Arm in arm they went on. Sometimes Gretchen sang. Often he put her hand to his lips. By and by they came abreast of an old cypress. He wore a coat of Joseph's, and his face was as lined as a frost bitten apple.

"Will you tell me how to find the Adlergasse?" he asked in broken German. His accent was that of a Magyars.

They carefully gave him specific directions and passed on. He followed grudgingly, like fate, whose agent he was, though long delayed. When he reached the Adlergasse he looked for a sign. He came to a stop in front of the dingy shop of the clock mender. He went inside, and the ancient clock mender looked up from his work, for he was always working. He rose wearily.

"The gypsy smiled mysteriously and laid a hand on his heart."

"Who are you?" sharply demanded the clock mender.

"Who I am does not matter. I am he whom you seek."

"God in heaven!" The bony hands of the clock mender clutched the other's coat.

"But first show me your pretty crowns, and the paper which will give me immunity from the police. Your crowns, as you offered, and immunity; then I speak."

"Man! I can give you the crowns, but God knows I have no longer the power to give you immunity."

The gypsy shouldered his bundle.

"For God's sake, wait!" begged the clock mender.

But the gypsy walked out, unheeding.

Two days later, in the afternoon.

"Grumbach," said Carmichael, "what were you looking at the other night with those opera glasses at the ball?"

"I was looking into the past."

"Oh, please! You were following her highness with them. I want to know why."

"She is beautiful."

"You made a promise to me not long ago."

"I did?" noncommittally.

"Yes. Soon I shall be shaking the dust of Dresden, and I want to know beforehand what this Chinese purple is. What did you do that compelled your flight from Ehrenstein?"

Grumbach's lips hung pendulous in his hand. He swung it to and fro absently.

"I am waiting. Remember, you are an American citizen for all that you were born here. If anything should happen to you I must know the whole story in order to help you. You know that you may trust me."

"It isn't that, captain. I have grown to like you in these few days. Those opera glasses—it was an idea. Well, since you will know, I was a gardener's boy. I worked under my brother Hermann. I used to ask the nurse, who had charge of her serene highness, where she would go each day. Then I'd cut flowers and meet them on the road somewhere and give the bouquet to the child. There was never any escort—a footman and a driver. The little one was always greatly pleased, and she would call me Hans. I was in love those days." Grumbach laughed with bitterness. "Yes, even I. Her name was Tekla, and she was a jade. I wanted to run away, but I had no money. I had already secured a passport—no matter how. It was the first affair, and I was desperately hurt. One day a gypsy came to me. I shall always know him by the yellow spot in one of his black eyes. I was given a thousand crowns to tell him which road her highness was to be driven over the next day. As I said, I was mad with love. Why a gypsy should want to know where her highness was going to ride was of no consequence to me. I told him. I was to get the money the same night. It was thus that her highness was stolen. It was thus that I became accessory before the fact, as the lawyers say. Flight with a band of Magyar gypsies; weary days in the mountains, with detachments of troops scouring the whole duchy. Finally I escaped. A fortune was offered for the immediate return of the child. At the time I believed that it was an abduction for ransom. But no one ever came forward for the reward. There was a price on my head when it was known that I had fled."

"And no one ever came for the reward? That is strange. Was immunity promised?" Carmichael asked.

"It was inferred, but not literally promised."

"Fear kept them away."

"Perhaps. And there is Arnsberg."

"Was he guilty?"

"I never saw his hand anywhere."

"So this is the story? Well, when a man's love is more or less in the clutch of temporary insanity, I've a wild streak in me also. But what I can't understand is why you return and put your head in the lion's mouth. The police will stumble on something. If you are arrested I could do little for you. The United States protects only harmless political outcasts. Yours is a crime such as nullifies your citizenship, and any government would be compelled to send you back here if the demand was made for your extradition."

"I know all that."

"I suppose that when conscience drives me must go on. But the princess has been found. The best thing you can do is to put your passports into immediate use and return to the States. You can do no good here."

"Maybe." Grumbach refilled his pipe, lighted it and without saying more went out and down into the street.

Carmichael watched him through the window.

"He's a queer codger, and it's a queer story. I don't believe I have heard it all either. What was he really hauling for with those glasses? I give it up."

He was not sorry with Grumbach. Either he seemed to be drawn to him more closely than even M. and J. looked at each other's faces. He seemed to have, and over and over, that excited many things.

Grumbach would have been glad to see this man often. The result of what he had said told him that. And after a time he was in the A. language. And all that happy, and a really only he and Hermann left in one of the even dozen. It was a warm, a final caress of wind, the summer, he saw a fat, young woman kneeling in prayer about her knees. There was that perfume of it, and forehead which in the old days had been of the court the married.

"Tekla!" Grumbach murmured. He was not certain that he had pressed, but the woman was, she eyed him with the mild influence of the boy. Then she dropped her hands, and the slender needles clicked a note. Grumbach turned his eyes toward him. And for this? He laughed at himself. The woman looked at him again with a derisive smile. Now, why should this stranger laugh all by himself like that? He saw the sign of the Black Eagle and directed his steps thitherward. He sat down and ordered a beer, but did not touch the glass. And what right, he pondered, had come here to drag him back to Ehrenstein, where he had known the bitterest and happiest moments of his life? And yet, still as he might at this invisible restraint called come here, he saw God's dire then in this return. Only he, Hans Grumbach, knew and one other. And that other, who?

Fat-Tekla was fat, and he had longed the fair picture of her youth long years. Well, there was an end to that. Little fat Tekla, to have nearly overturned a duchy! And then Hans became aware of voices close at hand.

"Yes, from, he is at work in the grand duke's vineyards. And think, the first day he picked nine baskets."

"That is good, but I know many a one who can pick their twelve. And you are to be married when the vintage is done? You will make a fine wife, Gretchen."

"And he a fine husband."

"And you will bring him a dowry too. But his own people—what does he say of them?"

"He has no parents, only an uncle, who doesn't count. We shall live with grandmother and pay her rent."

"And you are wearing a new dress," admiringly.

love he is more or less in the clutch of temporary insanity. I've a wild streak in me also. But what I can't understand is why you return and put your head in the lion's mouth. The police will stumble on something. If you are arrested I could do little for you. The United States protects only harmless political outcasts. Yours is a crime such as nullifies your citizenship, and any government would be compelled to send you back here if the demand was made for your extradition."

"I know all that."

"I suppose that when conscience drives me must go on. But the princess has been found. The best thing you can do is to put your passports into immediate use and return to the States. You can do no good here."

"Maybe." Grumbach refilled his pipe, lighted it and without saying more went out and down into the street.

Carmichael watched him through the window.

"He's a queer codger, and it's a queer story. I don't believe I have heard it all either. What was he really hauling for with those glasses? I give it up."

He was not sorry with Grumbach. Either he seemed to be drawn to him more closely than even M. and J. looked at each other's faces. He seemed to have, and over and over, that excited many things.

Grumbach would have been glad to see this man often. The result of what he had said told him that. And after a time he was in the A. language. And all that happy, and a really only he and Hermann left in one of the even dozen. It was a warm, a final caress of wind, the summer, he saw a fat, young woman kneeling in prayer about her knees. There was that perfume of it, and forehead which in the old days had been of the court the married.

"Tekla!" Grumbach murmured. He was not certain that he had pressed, but the woman was, she eyed him with the mild influence of the boy. Then she dropped her hands, and the slender needles clicked a note. Grumbach turned his eyes toward him. And for this? He laughed at himself. The woman looked at him again with a derisive smile. Now, why should this stranger laugh all by himself like that?
