SECRETARY STRAUS TALKS TO JAPANESE

Good Counsel To Delegation of Newspapermen

"An ideal condition for the future welfare of these islands would be that there should not be too great a preponderance of any one race, but that an equilibrium be maintained."—Secretary Straus to inquiring Japanese.

The representatives of the Japanese press, numbering four in all, called on Secretary Straus this morning at the Moana Hotel at 10 o'clock. S. Sheba of the Jiyu Shinbun, who gained acquaintance of Secretary Straus yesterday, introduced Y. Soga of the Nippu Jiji. Omodesa of the Hawaii Shimpo and Y. Kimura of the Honolulu-Japanese Chronicle.

The Secretary received his guests in his private apartment and having been provided with seats, the Secretary asked what the Japanese gentlemen wanted.

"Well, your honor, what do you think of the condition of the Japanese here?" asked Sheba. "I mean, what is your general opinion of the Japanese condition here in Hawaii as you find it," continued Sheba.

The Secretary spoke freely to his interviewers, taking care that his private secretary take a stenographic report of the whole conversation.

The interview lasted about three-quarters of an hour and at the end the representatives of the Japanese press thanked the Secretary for his kindly answers and came away. On the way coming to town they said they were very much pleased with meeting such a gentleman whose democratic and straightforward manner quite captivated them.

ner quite captivated them.

"Of course, gentlemen, I am speaking from a short and brief experience and therefore what I say must be taken as that of a careful observer rather than careful student of the conditions here.

"What has affected me very forcibly is the kindly relation of the various people here. This seems to pervade all classes and as a result good feeling and harmonious relations exist. These islands may be characterized as the meeting place of nations, where Americans, Europeans, Orientals and Hawaiians live in the spirit of amity and mutual confidence. Some of the people of Europe who are divided by religious difference and race distinction could learn much of visiting this Eder of the Pacific. That such a happy condition exists, is a tribute in the first instance to the broad and tolerant spirit of America. As it was Americans who primarily shaped the political institutions of these islands and in doing so, they have interpreted the American spirit and given to all of the nationalities, full and equal rights.

"In that respect the political and social conditions of these islands are more American than some sections of our country where the American spirit has in sporadic instances been overriden by un-American practices. I thoroughly agree with the leading men whom I have met here and who to a large extent are responsible for American annexation that these islands should remain American in government and in spirit, and certainly none of the races that dwell here so far as I have been able to

CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO WAIT ON FREAR

Hopes For More Attention From Him Than From Carter

SAM PARKER WOULD BE CONVENTION DELEGATE

Still Uncertain Whether Hawaii Will Be Allowed Two or Six Delegates.

The regular monthly meeting of the Republican Central Committee which had been called for last evening, did not come off owing to the lack of a quorum, although a comparatively large number of members turned up. However, some informal talk was indulged in during the course of which Chairman A. G. M. Robertson announced that Col. Sam Parker had signified his desire to be selected as a delegate to the national convention. He had made this declaration of his desire thus early in the game in order that the Committee would know that he was in the running.

In this connection Robertson stated that it was still uncertain whether the Territory would be given two or six delegates at the coming convention. He recalled the fact that at the last convention Hawaii had sent six delegates, but the committee on rules had in its report accorded it only two. This report had been adopted, but later, on the motion of Foraker, Hawaii had been allowed six delegates. Robertson had had some correspondence about the matter with the committee chairman who has such matters in his charge, and while that gentleman had written that he thought that after the action taken by the last convention Hawaii should be entitled to six delegates, this could not be definitely settled upon until later on.

The date for the next meeting of the Central Committee was set at next Monday. It was pointed out that Governor Frear will ascend the throne on the 15th, and that the Committee should appoint a committee which should wait upon the new executive and extend congratulations to him.

"The Committee might fittingly express the hope that the new Governor will pay more attention to the Central Committee than his predecessor," remarked one of the committeemen. This raised a laugh and the committeemen then went home.

MAN RUN OVER BY DOCTOR SINCLAIR'S AUTO

Another auto accident, but luckily not a serious one, occurred today on the bridge on Beretania street across the Nuuanu river. Dr. Sinclair was coming along in his new machine at a rate of about eight miles an hour, when a Hawaiian, named Kaahala, stepped from the sidewalk of the bridge directly in front of the auto, in spite of the fact that the doctor was tooting his horn.

Had the man stood still the accident could have been avoided, but he did not and furthermore the narrow space prevented any maneuvering by the machine to avoid the collision. The man was knocked down, but escaped with some bruises which will have no serious consequences. Dr. Sinclair attended to him and sent him to the Queen's Hospital.

ROSEHILL RESIGNS AS SNARK'S MASTER

London May Navigate His Famous Vessel Himself

Captain Andrew Rosehill, the well known local mariner, has resigned from his newly acquired position as master of the Snark. In spite of her small size the poop of Jack London's famous craft seems to be predestined to be trod by more commanders than that of any other vessel which has reached this port for many years. It is not known what the reasons are for Rosehill's retirement, but it is definitely settled that he will not guide the Snark on her voyage in South Sea waters. WIFE'S LOVE, KAIWI SAYS, WORTH $5000

Keawe Kaiwi values his wife's affections and her love, comfort, society and assistance at $5000. And because he has lost all these valuable assets through, as he alleges, the act of James Cullen in maliciously enticing the wife away from him and in detaining and harboring her since, Kaiwi sues Cullen for damages in the sum of $5000. He says in his complaint: "The plaintiff has been and still is wrongfully deprived by the defendant of the comfort, society and aid of his said wife, and has suffered great distress of body and mind in consequence thereof, to his damage of five thousand dollars."

Hackdriver Chas. Donahue, who is charged with having embezzled almost $200 from a man named Cameron, was this forenoon committed to the Circuit Court after a preliminary hearing before Judge Whitney.

learn has any reason to complain because of the American spirit.

"What will be your future policy in regard to immigration; would you encourage the European immigration?" asked Mr. Sheba of the Jiyu Shinbun.

"You ask me what will be my policy," said Secretary Straus, who continued substantially as follows:

"The policy of our Government is not controlled or shaped by any executive officer, but primarily by Congress. The executive officers administer under the laws. They are not either law-makers or above the laws. Consequently what I tell you is no more than the expression of opinion, not an official opinion, but of a visitor.

"I certainly think that the Japanese with their skill, enterprise and energy are as valuable for the future prosperity and commercial advancement of these islands for any race, either European or Asiatic.

"It is of the highest importance that the races should continue to work in harmony for the welfare of the islands—not as Japanese or as Portuguese or as natives but as Americans living in Hawaii. Unlike other countries in the past, the American policy is not to govern its territorial possessions for selfish purposes but to endow those possessions with all of the blessings of the American system. She does not govern in order to derive revenues from these territories, but to bring the blessings of liberty and equal rights and the consequent benefits that are derived therefrom for the advancement, moral, educational and political, of people irrespective of race or religion."

"What else would you like to know?" said the Secretary and he continued. "I have been very much gratified to see also the very kindly feeling on the part of the American and the European as well as the Asiatic towards the native Hawaiian population. I have been told again and again by such men as Governor Carter and the leading men in public office of the many excellent qualities of the native Hawaiian, their honesty, their kindness of disposition and amiability toward all other races. They never display any spirit of enmity or antagonism but are peaceful, law-abiding, well intentioned and kind to everybody. In fact I doubt if in any part of the world are found a more amiable people than the native Hawaiian, and I am gratified to know that a number of them are holding important offices, sitting as judges, connected with the schools and members of Territorial Senate and House of Representatives."

"In conclusion I would impress upon you and upon each of the several races here to have a care not to exploit these islands and their resources for the benefit of the country from which they come but to act in the spirit of the Government under which they live, of loyalty to the interest of the islands which afford such happy and ideal homes for them and for their children. I am gratified that the public school system, has such a great influence upon the young who grow up with American spirit and respect for the liberty of the individual.

"I would like to see an increasing number of Americans from the mainland come and settle in these islands, if for no other reason than to guarantee for all time to come the continuance of the American spirit for the benefit and the welfare of all peoples who have made and will make their home here."

LONDON WAVES RED F LAG OF REVOLUTION

Famous Story Writer Delivers Lecture On Socialism

Waving aloft, metaphorically, the blood red banner of the Revolution, a banner which he said signified not anarchy but law, not the shedding of human blood but the blood and brotherhood of man, Jack London last night preached Socialism and spread the propaganda of the Comrades of the Revolution.

The lecture was given before the Research Club practically all the members of which were present at the home of C. J. Hutchins. Mr. London read his famous lecture, called "The Revolution," and at the conclusion of this became the target for a volley of questions that indicated that whether or not he had made any converts, he had at least aroused the interest of his audience in a subject of which most of them knew little before he began to speak.

"Socialism is not anarchism," said London. "On the contrary, it is diametrically opposed to it. Anarchism would do away with all law; socialism means more law. I am a Revolutionist."

This statement seems to be a modification of the reputed utterances of London, he being quoted as having stated that he was not a Socialist but an Anarchist. This he denied being last night.

London began his lecture by saying that some time ago he received a letter from a man in Arizona which began "Dear Comrade," and ended "yours for the Revolution." "I answered the letter," said the lecturer, "and I began my letter 'Dear Comrade,' and ended it 'yours for the Revolution.'" There are seven million men in the world today who begin their letters "Dear Comrade" and end them "yours for the Revolution."

Of these seven million Socialists London stated that about half a million are in the United States. This immense force, greater than the army of Xerxes, is a force to be reckoned with. This is the Revolution. The Revolution will be bloodless if it may, bloody if it must.

"In Russia a man may assassinate one of the enemies of the Revolution. That man is my brother and comrade."

In explanation of this startling utterance, London gave his definition of the various forms of killing, which he illustrated by the statement that if the American Revolution had failed, those farmers who from behind rocks and fences shot the redcoats of England in the back would have been branded on one of the blackest pages of history as murderers and revolutionists, not as heroes; and the best that history could have said of George Washington would have been to speak of him as that rash and misguided young man instead of as the Father of His Country. "If illegal killing continues long enough and enough men are killed," said London, "the killers are recognized by the powers as belligerents and the killing is legalized. In Russia the franchise is a farce. Formerly there was no franchise at all. The Revolutionists of that country can not fight their battle with the ballot box. They must resort to force. In this country we fight with the ballot; there they must fight with the only weapon at hand. We are all brothers and comrades."

"The capitalist class," the speaker said, "has had its chance. It has tried its hand at ruling society and it has failed, failed miserably, absolutely, horribly. It must step down and out and give the working class a chance. Let us give the capitalist class credit for what it has accomplished. It has accomplished the mastery of matter."

It has given us organization. But beyond that it has failed. It has done its work. It is time for it to give way before the Revolution."

Without any of the rapidness that often characterizes the utterances of Socialist speakers London arraigned the capitalist class, bringing charges against it which he defied any one to refute. He drew attention to the fact that the ordinary man of today is not so well off as the cave man. The latter, he said, might starve at times, but never for long periods. He was never chronically hungry. Yet in spite of the fact the circumstances are infinitely more favorable today than they were in the days of the cave man, and that man's efficiency has increased a thousand fold since prehistoric days. There are ten million people in the United States who do not have enough to eat. They are not, he said, people who are dying today, or who will be dead tomorrow or next year or the year after, but they are people who starve chronically; who exist and bring children into the world who are of a lower standard even than themselves. Taking England as an illustration London said that he had lived on the East Side of London, and that there, although in California he himself was counted a small man, yet on the East Side only about one man in twenty was as large as himself. The English race, he said, is slowly dying. And the United States, to the extent of ten million people. These ten million people are degenerating and breeding degenerate children, thus slowly lowering the standard of manhood in the United States. And the reason of this is the centralization and the greed of profit on the part of the capitalist class.

London painted a picture of child labor condition in the South which appealed even to his opponents as a condition which must be remedied, and this condition he charged to the greed and selfishness of capital. "Why," asked the lecturer, "should the laborer of today, when the bread getting efficiency of man has been increased a thousand fold, have to work harder for his daily food than the cave man?"

London spoke for considerably more than an hour, but in a manner that failed to weary any of his hearers. At the conclusion of his lecture he invited his audience to ask him any questions they pleased. They took him up at once and fired a volley of interrogations at him that showed the interest he had aroused. His answers showed that he was a master of his subject. He was never for a minute at a loss for an answer. Doubtless the same questions had been asked him many times before. He spoke with all the vigor and nervous energy that characterizes his writing, propelling himself out of his chair each time as if making a bodily charge upon an attacking force. The connection between labor unions and Socialism was one of the matters which his audience most wanted explained. "When a labor unionist huris a bribe at a scab, do you think that is right?" some one asked.

"Yes, I do," said London. "I believe that the striking union man who throws a brick at a strike breaker's head and calls him a scab, barring a few degenerates, such as may be found among any class of men, thinks he is performing just as right an action as did the Massachusetts farmer who from behind fences and rocks shot the British redcoats in the back as they were retreating from Lexington."

London vigorously defended the right of the unionists to protect their own interests by such methods as they could. "The individual counts for nothing now," he said. There is no such thing as individualism today. Men are no longer pitted against one another as individuals but as groups."

But London explained that he did not believe that the labor unions could solve the problem. "I look upon unions," he said, "as only a great waste of time and energy. They will never bring about the conditions for which they strive. In the end they will discover that unionism fails to accomplish its object, and then the union men will turn to Socialism and help to swell our ranks. You know how many strikes have been smashed with in the last few months. Now you watch the result of the next elections and see how the Socialist vote in the United States increases."

"How does it happen that the highest aims of the pure-thinking, right-living people of San Francisco finds its expression in a Schmitz?" asked one of the audience.

"Who made Schmitz what he is?" returned London. "Who bribed him? It was the capitalists. 'Who made the dishonest supervisors the bribe-takers they are but the men who bribed them?' In the United States we have rule by bosses. It is well known that the whole political strength of one man who gained his power through his ability to rule, the same as the cave man who ruled his tribe gained his ascendancy through his ability to beat in the heads of all the other cave men who opposed him. 'First the bosses bought. Then they found that it was cheaper to create their own bosses and own them and have the goods delivered as they wanted them than to buy the goods as delivered by the bosses. Thus we have Schmitz, the product of his time.'"

London's lecture and the discussion which followed it lasted until after 11 o'clock, and then it was the lecturer himself who said it was getting late.

(SEAL) Anno Domini, 1907:

P. H. BURNETTE,

Notary Public, First Judicial Circuit,

TUESDAY, AUG. 6, 1907.

It is to be hoped that no one will get tripped up in red tape while Hawai is shifting Governors and judges and such.

The instance cannot be recalled

when an executive session of the Board of Education has served a single good purpose.

Even an epidemic of crime is not as expensive in lives sacrificed as a summer turned over almost exclusively to foolish war talk.

If Secretary Straus were to talk to the American newspapermen he would probably tell them to be good and love one another. And would they mind?

An American officer is the last man to offer protest against the order of a brother officer. It is the great American citizen who rises on his hind legs and roars.

Ministers and saloon men of As-toria have compromised on Sunday observance. Now does this mean that the saloon men are improving or the ministers going to the bad?

A color riot following a ball game is no more a race issue than a wild man is like a person overflowing with righteous indignation. It is merely one of the evidences of baseball fervor.

Frenzied New Yorkers stirred by the incompetence of the police are writing a peace editorial by cable for the New York World, is responsible for a new phrase—the Yakkiguma

Yankees, "Yakkiguma" or "thoughtless ones" is a Japanese phrase for

"jingles," and applied to certain hot-headed Yankees, fills the bill nicely.

Secretary Straus in his talk to the Japanese newspapermen, shows that the desire of the American administration is to build up an American community in Hawaii and one fairly well balanced racially. Such a policy places American citizenship and American homes as the ideal for the immigrant. And immigration is the more desirable as it approaches the standard of the Republic.

AN ALLEGED JAPANESE VIEW.

The paramount question is whether Mr. Straus will follow a radical policy or will be more conservative; whether he will assist the European immigration scheme in order to replace the Oriental labor with the white,
to try and seek in them material from which to construct future American citizens; or will he assist Hawaii in her search for the diversified industries and the small farmer, the man who is a builder, not a destroyer, who is a contented, happy, and silent worker. Will his policy be to fill Hawaii with a class of European laborers, whose ideas are foreign to true Americanism, who,
if the right to vote is bestowed upon them, will tear down the order of society, ruin the industry of the islands, fret the President with indolent and insolent delegations, and bring hoodum sway over the order of the state?
Will he care more for the quality of the citizens than the quantity? Which is nearer to the true American ideal—San Francisco or our own beloved Hawaii; a scoundrel like Schmitz
or a man like Dole?—Hawaii Jiyu Shinbun, English section.

This from the English section of a Japanese daily reads so much like articles from a certain journal carrying on a political small farm campaign as to suggest that it was written by the same hand.

Mr. Straus cannot be put down as radical if he assists the so-called "European scheme." He will merely carry out the policy which has resulted in the settlement of millions of acres of American domain by hard working, thrifty, upright farmers who constitute the backbone of the American commonwealth.

The gist of this proposition suggested by the American writer for the Japanese paper is, to supply the alleged small farmer and diversifier of industry with the Japanese laborer. That is, to repeat in a small way that which has already in a large way been stigmatized as contrary to American principle and subversive of a development in keeping with the spirit of American institutions.

No European brought to Hawaii has ideas more foreign to true Americanism than is the proposal to diversify industry with a subject race, a program that leads direct to an industrial condition of feudal lordship.

Delegations of "insolent" citizens who "fret the President" may appeal to the Japanese mind or to some denationalized and disgruntled person
born in America, as an argument.
"Insolent" citizens fretting the President of a republic is good.

It is true that some men, American citizens, feel that it has pleased the Almighty to create just a few men who deserve to enjoy a monopoly of the good things of government. But such persons have been found to endanger the true principles of the Republic quite as much as the firebrand revolutionist who preaches an opposition doctrine of destruction for all governments and governors.

We assume that Secretary Straus

REV. MACKINTOSH SEVERELY SAT UPON

Asks For Long Leave Of Absence But
Wants Salary

Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, principal of the Royal School, in a communication addressed to the Board of Education and read at the meeting of the Board yesterday afternoon, asked for a leave of absence for a year or a year and a half on account of ill health, and intimated that he would not take it at all amiss if the Board should consider the matter of salary during his absence. The suggestion as to salary was promptly and emphatically sat upon by Superintendent Babbitt and all the members of the Board.

In his letter Mr. Mackintosh stated that for some time his health has been poor and it is only with difficulty that he has been able to carry on his working during the past term. The doctors had told him, he said, that it was necessary for him to have a complete change. And in addition to this, his daughter is ill and is obliged to go away, and he feels himself obliged to accompany her.

He called attention to the fact that he was absent during the first two months of the past school year and that for that time he received no pay, a circumstance which he seemed to consider an injustice to him, as he said that the principal of the school feels the weight of responsibility whether he is actually present and teaching or not. Also his long term of service ought to be considered. He relied on the liberality of the Board in this matter.

Superintendent Babbitt after reading the letter to the Board commented upon it and stated that the rules of the Board prohibited the salary of any teacher who was not present at the beginning of school commencing until the teacher began his work. Mackintosh had stated in his letter that he would be in town until some time in September and would be able to organize the school and get it into running order for whoever should carry on the work during his absence.

Mr. Williamson, one of the new members of the Board, wanted to know if the rest of the staff could get along without Mr. Mackintosh. Superintendent Babbitt said that they would have no difficulty in doing so, as they had done so for some time practically.

Mrs. Dousett said she was decidedly opposed to letting Mackintosh organize the school and then go away and expect his successor to carry on the work according to the ideas of the absent man. She thought it was up to Mackintosh to ask for a leave of absence, during which he should give up all connection with the work of the school, or else to resign entirely and take his chances of getting his place back after his return from his trip. Mr. Hutchins agreed in this idea of the matter. The matter finally went over until the next meeting to allow the Superintendent time to see Mr.
Mackintosh and urge him either to resign or to ask for a leave of absence for the time he wants to be away.

NO OUTSIDE WORK FOR TEACHER

The matter of teachers engaging in outside work was taken up again and the Board went on record as being opposed to the practice through the adoption of the following resolution:

"That the Board go on record as being opposed to the practice of its teachers engaging in outside pursuits which may in any way tend to take time or interest from school work. It is felt that with the restoration of salaries, the Board is entitled to the best efforts of all its teachers and that recreation time should be used for rest and recuperation rather than for other vocations."

There was considerable discussion over the revived claim of F. P. Rosecrans, who wants $40 refund for the value of a stable fence and veranda closet which he built on the Punene school premises at his own expense prior to his resignation as teacher here. This claim the Board had once before disallowed. The matter was finally referred to the Attorney General for an opinion as to whether or not the claim could legally be paid.

Mrs. A-I, widow of the late David A-I, a member of the Board up to the time of his death, wrote thanking the

INDIANA SAILS WITH 350 JAPANESE

A. V. Gear Accompanies The Emigrants North

"This is only a sample lot," said Fred Makino as he watched the Indiana pull out with his Japanese emigrants on board shortly after 12 o'clock. Three hundred and fifty Japanese departed on the Indiana. There was also a half dozen cabin passengers. Attorney A. V. Gear was conspicuous as he walked to and fro on the foredeck. The emigrants were seemingly pleased with the prospects of the trip, as none of them showed any signs of regret.

Early this morning Makino bowed the Indiana and spoke to the Vancouver-bound Japanese about as follows:

"My dear friends, I want to say something to you before you leave these islands. You all are aware of the fact that Consul Morikawa at Vancouver is trying his best to prevent you from entering Canada. He has in the past repeatedly sent here cablegrams which have discouraged some of you from going. The Kumerik Japanese have had all kinds of trouble. Out of the 1500 who were to have sailed on the Kumerik three hundred of them have been rejected on account of eye trouble. None of your have been rejected by the doctor, and it means that you have been carefully selected. All of you are well built and handsome looking people. The ladies are especially attractive. (Applause.) I want you to go to Vancouver and work. I know that everyone of you came to Hawaii with the express purpose of going to Vancouver. I am simply assisting you to get there. I have not and am not trying to gather up the plantation Japanese with a view of sending them away from the islands. Those who are satisfied with their work here will not be induced to go away, that is, as far as I am concerned. I am not working against the planters, but am simply sending those whose intention is to go to Vancouver. I want you to let us know through mail of the actual conditions as it exists at Vancouver today. I know Consul Morikawa is trying to discourage the Hawaii Japanese from going there. He does that because he wants to make money. His pocket is somewhat empty now, and for that he and Yoshie entered into agreement that Yoshie should bring to Vancouver 5000 Japanese from Japan. Instead of that the Hawaii Japanese are going, which certainly is detrimental to their money making interests.

"In order to assure your safe landing at Vancouver I have asked A. V. Gear, an attorney, to go along with you. There is no pillage ahead. I hope you will be successful in your effort."

"I will send another lot later on. The Indiana will make another trip," continued Makino, "and it will be a success. I am not working against the interest of the planters and the Territory," said Makino to a reporter. Makino was highly pleased with the result of his work.

PRATT WILL TALK AT MEETING TO ALEWA PEOPLE

Purchasers of lots on Alewa Heights will meet at the makai pavilion of the Young Hotel roof garden tomorrow evening at 7:30 to organize an improvement club. Commissioner Pratt is to be present and will give the club some information about the new road from Wyllie street to Alewa. The question of getting the electric light system extended to the tract will also be discussed.

Quite a number of lots in the Alewa tract were not sold at the last sale, as there were no bidders. The enthusiasm which the lucky purchasers at the last sale have shown over their purchases have aroused the interest of other people who are looking for home sites and it is believed that another sale will be held shortly at which the other lots will be offered. If any advance is offered on the upset price Mr. Pratt will sell them.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the meeting, both of purchasers and prospective purchasers of lots.

DON'T YOU THINK IT WOULD BE BETTER

to so arrange it that after your death, your affairs would pass into the hands of men who make the handling of estates a special object of attention, rather than to name as executors friends who are inexperienced in these matters? Drop into the office of The Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, Ltd., and have a talk in regard to making your will. It will cost you nothing. They are specialists in this line; they make a business of looking after estates, and they are qualified to advise you in these matters.

ANTONIO G. CORREA SUED FOR DIVORCE

Failure To Provide For Wife's Support Is Complaint

Antonio G. Correa is being sued for divorce by his wife, Adelaide V. Correa on the ground of non-support.

The libel states in her complaint that on December 16, 1906, Correa went to Oakland, Cal., with the understanding that he was to send his wife money for her support and that of her minor daughter by a previous marriage, and to enable her to join him in Oakland. But he failed to do so, and still neglects to provide for her, and for more than two years prior to his departure from Honolulu he had failed to supply her with sufficient means to properly feed and clothe herself.

On June 28, 1907, Correa returned to Honolulu, but she has no knowledge of his intentions, although she believes he intends to go back to Oakland again.

Correa has filed his answer denying all the allegations except that of the marriage.

Lupia K. Kahuahineui also asks the court to grant her a decree of divorce from her husband, Kanuua Kahuahineui on similar grounds. She says they were married on Christmas day, 1904, and that for two years or more past he has intentionally refused and neglected to provide suitable maintenance for the libellant and her infant child although well able to do so. He has cruelly, wantonly and without any excuse compelled his wife to support herself and her child.

KAIMUKIITES WANT THEIR ROADS REPAIRED

The presentation of the report showing the financial status of the County was the most important matter presented to the Board of Supervisors at its meeting last evening. It was reported that there ought to be in the treasury $64,597.01, and warrants issued, but not paid $105,112, a total of $169,709.13. In the County treasury there was $100.72 in redeemed warrants; $1985 in gold; $32.25 in silver; Section Director, U. S. Weather Bureau.

$28,183.49 of road taxes in bank, and $35,286.67 in the general fund in bank, a total of $63,468.13.

The Leahi Home petitioned that Twelfth avenue, Kaimuki be macadamized, as the patients who were taken over this road in its present condition were badly jolted. The Sisters of St. Francis, who own block 58 in Kaimuki, asked that the road leading there to be macadamized as at present their property was unapproachable. Theo. Richards asked for permission to run a six-inch waste pipe from his new Vineyard street wash houses to the river. This has the approval of the Board of Health. All these requests were referred to the Road Committee.

Superintendent of Public Works Holloway asked that thirty-five barrels of cement be taken from the Road Department stores and given the Park Commission for the purpose of building a sea wall and bath house at the County Beach Park. It was decided to grant this request with the proviso that hereafter the Commission must stick strictly to its allowance of $700 a month.

Japanese residents sent a letter thanking the County for the use of the band on the occasion of the reception to Prince Fushimi.

The following bills were approved: Koolapoko road district, $274.60. Waianae road district, $254.75. Waianae road district, $44.10. Waianae road district, $99.75. Koolauloa road district, $115.25. Koolauloa road district, $502.15. Waianae road district, $937.25. Ewa road district, $356.75. County office rent, $150. County Engineer, $173.25. Kapitolani Park, $472.25. County Auditor, $75. County Attorney, $75. County Auditor, $38.75. Keepers of parks, $322.85. County Treasurer, $65.00. Road Department, $3069.15. Garbage Department, $590.25. Hawaiian band, $74.74.

SPORTS

NEW DUCK-PIN RECORD

Paul Schmidt, the local bowler, last evening broke the duck-pin record of the Hotel Baths alleys. Schmidt rolled 138, or nine pins better than the former record, held by Jim Winne. Schmidt started in the sixth frame to make marks and made, spare, strike, spare, strike, spare. His frames were as follows: 8, 15, 24, 33, 42, 62, 82, 102, 122, 138.

pieces of property sold at public auction by the commissioner. The appeal is taken on the ground of inadequacy of the price paid by Edgar Henriques. Henriques paid $750 for the property, although at a previous sale he had bid $2770 for the same property.

THIS MIGHT BE TRIED HERE

When a telephone patron rings up central and is informed the line is busy one is obliged to ring again to obtain the desired number. This is not the case in many other cities.

At Huntington (Indiana) the telephone management has adopted a new idea in the workings of the exchange. It is known among telephone people as "the completed busy." At the desk of each operator at the exchange board a small "busy" pad or tablet is placed. When a patron calls for a certain number and the number called is busy, the operator says, "Line busy. Shall I call you?" Receiving an affirmative answer a note is made on the tablet in this manner, "88-256." As soon as No. 256 is again free for service the operator calls No. 88 and gives notice and the connection is made. Thus No. 88 is saved the annoyance of inquiry and gets service at the earliest possible moment. The connection being made the operator runs a mark through the figures on her "busy" pad and this is called "completed busy." Such service is found in all large cities and in all up-to-date exchanges in smaller cities.

THOSE MOTION PICTURES.

Some time ago a motion picture man visited Hawaii and took pictures. He promised to come back. He did not live up to his promise so the Hotel Baths installed a huge Edison machine and will display the finest set of pictures ever seen here. The big show takes place Saturday night at 8:30. Admission 25c.

To fine a monopoly means only to fine the people who must deal with it. To punish the head of a monopoly by incarceration in jail, making him wear the stripes exactly as any other criminal does when caught, would help. But the way to destroy monopoly is to take away from it the unjust privileges which it enjoys, to smash its tariff with the railroads, to break down its political influence and see that it, whether called Standard Oil or Steel Trust, shall no longer be allowed to hold itself superior to the law.—Buffalo Times.

An Old and Well-tried Remedy

DREAM OF THE RAREBIT FIEND

IT'S A FUNNY THING TO ME, THAT YOU SHOULD SAY WHAT YOU DID TO ME A FEW MINUTES AGO. I'VE LIVED WITH YOU TOO LONG TO HAVE TO LISTEN TO SUCH BARBASTIC REMARKS WITHOUT ANSWERING.

NOW! ARE YOU GOING TO START AGAIN? ARE YOU GOING TO REHASH?

REHASH? NO! I'M NOT GOING TO REHASH ANYTHING. I'M SIMPLY GOING TO TELL YOU THIS, MISTER PELTING. I DON'T THINK I DESERVE SUCH TREATMENT.

WHY? I WOULDN'T BE A—

I CAN'T SPEAK A WORD TO YOU BUT YOU DON'T PUT SOME OTHER MEANING TO IT. I'M GETTING FROM YOU.

YES! YOU'RE GETTING TIRED OF ME. I KNEW THAT LONG AGO. YOU'VE SHOWN HOW MUCH YOU THINK IN YOUR EVERY MOVE, FOR THE PAST SEVERAL—

CUT IT OUT! FORGET IT!!! FORGET IT!!!

YES, FORGET IT! HOW CAN I FORGET? WHY DON'T YOU HELP ME FORGET IT? I AM CONSTANTLY REMINDED OF IT, BY YOU, AND YOU KNOW IT! YOU—

KNOW ONLY TOO WELL—AH! EH! OH! WHAT AILS YOU, NOW? WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU, ARE YOU GOING CRAZY, YOU FOOL? OH! EH! I—OH!

DID YOU CALL ME?—GOOD!—

YES! YES! RUN FOR A DOCTOR! OH! QUICK! SOMETHING TERRIBLE HAS HAPPENED TO MISTER PELTING. GO! RUN! FOR MERCY'S SAKE! HE'S GETTING RIDICULOUS! GET A DOCTOR! QUICK!—HURRY!

YOUR HUSBAND HAS BECOME PETRIFIED. HE HAS TURNED TO STONE. I CAN DO NOTHING FOR HIM. YOU ARE NOW A WIDOW. HE'S DONE FOR. IT'S HIS FINEST!

OH! OH! AND HE LEFT ME WITHOUT A CENT! LEFT ME IN POVERTY! WHAT SHALL I DO? OH! OH! WHAT—HOW SHALL I EXIST? OH!

I'LL GIVE YOU SIXTY DOLLARS FOR THE STATUE, AS IT STANDS, MADAME!

IT'S A FINE PIECE OF WORK, BUT IT'S WORTH—

WELL, I'LL JUST HAVE TO SELL IT. I'VE SOLD ALL OF THE HOUSE FURNISHING, HAD TO, TO LIVE. YOU CAN HAVE IT FOR SIXTY.

WHAT KIND OF STONE IS THAT? THAT'S AINT IT?

YES, IT'S A SPECIE OF FEINT. I'LL SELL THIS STATUE FOR SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS, TO THE MUNICIPAL ART SOCIETY. SEE IF I DON'T! THEY'LL PUT IT IN THE PARK.

IT WOULD LOOK SWEET SET UP IN A PARK.

THERE'S A WORK OF ART, YOU CAN BUY FOR $600.00 THAT WILL BEAUTIFY YOUR CITY.

OUR SOCIETY HAS DECIDED TO PURCHASE JUST SUCH A STATUE. WE WILL BUY IT. YOU WILL SET IT UP IN A—

YES, I HAVE BEEN A WIDOW FOR THREE YEARS. I'M ANXIOUS TO SEE YOU, MISTER BAIT, YES, INDEED!

I ONLY HEARD OF YOUR MISFORTUNE, DAY BEFORE YESTERDAY, AND I HASTENED TO YOU TO EXTEND MY SYMPATHY. NOW, MRS. PELTING, I'VE ALWAYS LOVED YOU, AND WHEN YOU MARRIED THAT PRUNE, TWELVE YEARS AGO, MY VERY HEART WAS BROKEN. I HAVE PRAYED THAT SOME DAY I MIGHT SEE YOU AGAIN CLASP YOUR HAND AND SAY, 'PHOEBE! MARRY ME!'

—AND IN PRONOUNCING YOU MAN AND WIFE, I MUST CONGRATULATE YOU BOTH, AND FEEL THAT IF POOR MISTER PELTING, WERE HE ABLE TO DO SO, HE WOULD ALSO EXPRESS HIMSELF AS HAPPY, HAPPY TO SEE THE ONE HE LEFT BEHIND IN SUCH GOOD HANDS.

I'VE STOOD YOUR NAGGING FOR FIVE YEARS, NOW, I'LL TELL YOU SOMETHING. I HEARD, YOUR FIRST HUSBAND, INSTEAD OF DYING, TURNED OUT STONE, OH! I HEARD ALL ABOUT IT, AND IS NOW—

YES, HE'S STANDING IN THE PARK. IF YOU WANT TO SEE HIM, I NEVER TOLD YOU OF IT FOR VERY GOOD REASONS, I WAS PENNILESS.

OLD PAL, I THOUGHT YOU HAD DIED AND WAS BURIED LIKE ORDINARY PEOPLE. BUT NOW THAT I'VE FOUND OUT THE SECRET, I WISH TO HONOR YOU, SHE'S A DEMON, SURE!

YOU CALLED ME A DEMON IN YOUR SLEEP I HEARD YOU, EH!

HOLD ON! NOW, LET ME EXPLAIN! I WAS DREAMING THAT YOUR FIRST HUSBAND CALLED YOU A DEMON, NOT ME. THAT RAREBIT DID IT. I'LL NOT EAT ANY MORE.

Old Band Leader Heads Parade at 84

MR. G. I. PARTRIDGE.

Mr. G. I. Partridge, of Franklin, Mass., who is in his 84th year, led his famous band through the streets of Cambridge at the head of the Knights Templar Parade.

Mr. Partridge has played the fife since he was 13 years old, and at the time of the Civil War was appointed to recruit the regimental band of the 18th Massachusetts Regiment, and had charge of the field music. Later he helped to recruit Neal Dow's famous regiment.

In an interview Mr. Partridge said:

"Last April I took a sudden cold, and I was laid up with a neuralgia in my shoulder, which brought on fever and took away my appetite, but by using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I was cured out all right, and on Memorial Day I was leading my band and playing, as well. I think my Malt Whiskey is just the medicine to tone up and keep up the strength of old people."

"Hoping your medicine will prove beneficial to others, I can truly recommend it as a valuable help."—G. I. PARTRIDGE, Franklin, Mass., Sept. 1st, 1906.

Despite his advanced age, Mr. Partridge can still do as good work as men two score years younger.

This is one of the thousands of cases where Duffy's Malt Whiskey drives out the germs of decay, and renders the system as healthy as that of a boy of twenty. This great tonic stimulant and elixir of life has been the means of prolonging the lives of thousands of men and women, who cannot say too much in praise of it.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions, and take no other medicine. It is dangerous to fill your system with drugs, they poison the body and depress the heart, while Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is recognized as a medicine everywhere. This is a guarantee. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has stood severe tests for fifty years and has always been found absolutely pure and to contain great medicinal properties.

BOCKUS LOST TO CASTLE

The final match in the Beretania tennis tourney for the Wall cup resulted in a victory for Al Castle over C. G. Bockus. Bockus put up a good hard fight and lost out after giving Castle the hardest kind of an argument. Bockus took the first two sets and things seemed to be coming his way. He dropped the third, however, by the score of 6-2. In the fourth he had Castle 5-3 in games and 40-15 in points. Castle finally pulled out in this set 8-6.

In the last set Bockus went all to the bad and weakened noticeably. He played fine in the beginning but could not keep up the good work. Six-love the score resulted in and Castle was on the long end. The courts were very hot and this probably had some bad effect on Bockus. This afternoon Castle will meet Warren at 4:15. This match will decide the winner of the cup. Warren is to give Castle 1-2 of 15 handicap and this should make the play very even. Warren is a favorite in this match.

ENTRIES CLOSE FRIDAY

Entries for the endurance run for the von Hamm-Young Co. cup will close Friday. Entries can be made with any of the members of the committee. There are sixteen entries in up to date. About four more entries are expected.

The handsome silver cup offered for this race is now being displayed in the von-Hamm Young Co.'s King street window. It is a valuable prize and well worth winning.

DESERT AUTO FOR FUTURE FLYING MACHINE

The announcement that C. J. Glidden, of automobile tour fame, will forsake the motor cars and take up ballooning has set motordom wondering if in the near future one may not hear of a Glidden, having toured every quarter of the globe in an automobile, will soon start for Paris to take lessons in aerial navigation, says the New York World.

Many years ago, when the automobile was in its infancy, Glidden became identified with the sport. He has done much to boom the motor car. When others were experimenting, he was performing feats in this country that made people sit up and take notice. After having investigated many of the roads in America, he went abroad and traveled thousands of miles, visiting various countries. He has visited every city of size on the continent, and he took the automobile to places where it had never been seen before.

Mountains were the only things that bothered him in his travels, and possibly he has taken up ballooning in order to negotiate them without climbing. Getting into clouds will be nothing new, however, to this intrepid explorer. Glidden may not entirely forsake the automobile. He has had the balloon hobby for some time. Owing to his avoirdupois, he will need no ballast when the winds are strong, but his weight may have its drawbacks. He will need a machine of great power to draw him high up in the air. However this may be, it is a case of ballooning for C. J. Glidden. When the present Glidden auto tour is over he will sail for France, and he may return to this country in a flying machine, his friends say.

QUEER PLAYS

Bill Reidy sat on the bench feeling like sixty summers and as many winters yesterday. The trouble with Pat is he caught a cold which settled in the muscles of his back and shoulders. He hopes to be able to work it out and be in shape for his turn on the slab. Talking about queer and unusual decisions of umpires, Pat sprung one which is worth repeating. In a game at Brooklyn where he was playing the bases were full, and the umpire was working behind the plate. "The pitcher passed up four balls to the batter," said Reidy, "but the fourth ball got away from the catcher and hit the umpire. Johnstone, who was umpiring, allowed the batter to go to first because of four balls, and then he sent him on to second because the ball hit him, and two runs were forced. There was a lot of arguing over the decision, which was carried up to the league authorities. I believe that the authorities decided that the case was not covered by the rules, as a lot of cases are, and it was left to the good judgment of the umpire. A batter has a slim chance of reaching second on a passed ball.

"Another decision came up back there was a man on first and a man on third, which caused no end of argument," resumed Reidy, "and it was this. The ball was hit to deep center. The man on third waited to see if the ball was caught, but the man on first thought there was no chance of a catch and ran past second, and before he could get back to first the ball was there. In the meantime the runner scored from third before the man at first was retired. The argument was whether the run scored. The American League decided one way and the National League decided the other. I forget which side each took. Players, fans and umpires discussed the play, pro and con. I think the consensus of opinion was that the run didn't count, on the principle that it was a double play, and you know when a double play is made on the infield the run doesn't count when a runner reaches home before the second man is put out at first."

POOR OLD UMP.

It never occurs to players to express themselves to umpires as John McGraw did one day. John sidled up to the umpire and remarked:—

"If I should call you a cheap stiff, a fat-headed lobster and a ring-tailed mangrill, you'd chase me out of the park, wouldn't you?"

"I certainly would," the umpire replied.

"But if I only thought these things, what then?"

"Well," said the umpire, "I have no control over your thoughts."

"Let it go at that, then," said McGraw, and the umpire was left musing deeply.

BATS

"It is a mistake to think that the heavy hitters all use big bats," remarked Van Halten as he exhibited his willow to the writer, which was a medium-sized stick. "Three of the greatest hitters I ever saw—Deleahanty, Brubrouthers and Burkett—swung bats smaller than this one I have in my hand. Old Dan Brubrouthers, who was the daddy of his time, used a weapon that was very small. Of late years players seem to be running to big bats. I see players taking up clubs almost as heavy as themselves, which I think is a mistake. The bats are so heavy that they can't get them around in time to meet the ball squarely. I believe a fellow can hit the ball just as hard with a medium-sized stick as with one of these wagon tongues. I know the best year I had in the National League was the season I used a bat called the 'Jesse Burkett model.' It was very light, but how I could hit. In those days the big stick was seldom seen, but the style seems to have changed."

Notice.

During the dull season, from August first to December first, the

will be conducted as a first-class apartment hotel only. Although the dining-room and kitchen departments will be closed during these months, redoubled efforts will be made by the management to secure both comfort and pleasure for the patrons of this famous and tropically-beautiful hostelry of world-wide renown.

The spacious areas on the wide porches, hitherto occupied in fine weather for breakfasts, luncheons and dinners, will be set with tropical plants in lieu of tables.

THE ALEXANDER YOUNG HOTEL AND CAFE

not more than one hundred and fifty yards from the entrance to the Hawaiian Hotel, will furnish board on the European plan to roomers at the Hawaiian Hotel at regular rates. Meals may also be served in the rooms of the Hawaiian Hotel, when required, at an additional cost of service.

The Alexander Young Hotel dining rooms are located on the sixth floor of the building, away from the dust and din of the street, and are reached by a pair of swift-running elevators in the northern entrance to the building. On the fifth floor there is a lounging room where guests may rest, and adjoining this, there is a roof garden of one-third of an acre, from which beautiful views of the surrounding country may be had.

PUNCHBOWLS CHOICE

Honolulu, Aug. 5th, 1907.
Sporting Editor Evening Bulletin,
Honolulu, T. H.

Dear Sir:—We submit herewith a list of baseball tossers which we think would make a good combination to represent Hawaii in their coming games with the Coast team that is to come here:

Soares or Lyman, c.; Joy or Hampton, p.; P. Gleason, Capt., 1b.; Jim Williams, 2b.; Hampton or Bushnell, 3b.; Evers, ss.; E. Fernandez, lf.; J. Aylett or E. Desha, cf.; En Sue, rf.

We think that with a little practice En Sue would make a good outfielder.

A BUNCH OF FANS.
Residing on the Slopes of Punchbowl.

It looks as though the Punchbowl lads have about the proper dope and if they would include Darcy with En Sue in right field, in our minds they would have as strong a combination as could possibly be chosen to represent Hawaii. Darcy should not be overlooked on account of his sticking qualities. He certainly is a good batter and that is what is needed against the Coast League.

ANOTHER TEAM

Teams are coming in fast and we are glad to see that the fans have such good ideas as to a team:

Honolulu, T. H., Aug. 5, '07.
To the Sporting Editor of the Evening Bulletin, Honolulu.

Dear Sir:—For a team to play the Coast team, the following players should be picked out:

Soares, c.; Jay, Reuter, Hampton, p.; Gleason, 1b.; Jim Williams, 2b.; Hampton, 3b.; Evers, ss.; Edwin Fernandez, lf.; Bushnell, cf.; En Sue, rf.

Subs—Ed Desha, Darcy, J. Aylett, Davis, Jones.

Yours faithfully,

A FAN.

MAUI POLO TEAM HERE.

MAUI POLO TEAM HERE

The Maui Polo team, composed of the following players, arrived from Maui this morning on the Mauna Loa: F. F. Baldwin, Sam A. Baldwin, Leta, David Desha, Ed. Desha, R. C. C. Krumbhaar and David T. Flemming. All these boys looked in first class shape and fit to put up a game that will make the local boys hustle.

Frank Baldwin, the captain of the team, when seen this morning, had the following to say: "We had a pleasant trip down and the boys are all here in first class shape. We have been putting in some good hard licks at practice and feel that we are in the best possible shape. If we do not win it will not be from lack of practice or condition and can only say in that event that the Oahu boys are the stronger team. We have a very strong string of ponies and we think the very best that has appeared here. We all hope that the games will be close and exciting and that the best team wins. We shall certainly do our level best to take this tournament."

Manager Rice met the boys at the boat and took them at once to the Moana Hotel, where they will stop until after the series.

The team will go out to the polo field at Moanalua this afternoon and put in some real good practice.

As the games draw near the local people are beginning to sit up and take notice. The games are sure to attract a huge crowd and the usual pretty scene at the Moanalua field will be seen when the games are in progress.

PLAYERS SHOW PROPER SPIRIT

In view of the fact that a series of ball games, as proposed, between the Coast League Team and a team representing Hawaii, would be of material benefit to local baseball as well as a grand athletic entertainment for the Honolulu public and an advertising project for Hawaii:

We, the undersigned, hereby agree to participate in these games as players without compensation and do our utmost to make them a success and a credit to Hawaiian baseball:
