LIQUID BREAD.

AN ABSOLUTELY PURE EXTRACT OF MALT.

A VALUABLE TONIC AND REMEDIAL AGENT.

ENDORSED AND RECOMMENDED BY THE ENTIRE MEDICAL FRATERNITY.

Of all medicinal preparations that have been put upon the market in recent years, the extract of malt has proved itself one of the most valuable as a tonic or remedial beverage. It has received the unqualified recognition and support of physicians, and is freely prescribed by them in many cases, especially where the nervous or physical systems have been impaired by disease or over-exertion. The house of "DAVID NICHOLSON," of this city, has recently introduced a pure malt extract of high character, made at their request and under their suggestions by Mr. Adolphus Bach, and which is popularly known as "NICH-OLSON'S LIQUID BREAD," from its life-giving and health-restoring properties. A sample submitted to Dr. F. L. Jaurie was made the subject of a chemical analysis by him, and the result of his investigations is given in the appended certificate:

"W. F. COLLEY, Esq., N. Y. and Druggist. Dear Sir: Having submitted the Nicholson malt extract to examination, as requested, I take pleasure in reporting that I find it to be such that the priorities claim for it. The results, as shown in the following summary, are necessarily only approximate, but are sufficiently accurate for all practical purposes.

"The specimens submitted consisted of an effervescent fluid, dark brown by direct and of a deep ruby color by transmitted light, resembling in general appearance and behavior a very superior article of port. Its taste was, however, much milder and more pleasant than port, being somewhat sweeter than beer, the sweetness masked and covered by a very pleasant bitter, derived evidently from hops. The specific gravity of a sample fresh from the bottle is 1.022 plus.
Amount of alcohol per cent. is 7.34 plus.
The extractive matter in 50 cubic centimetres of the fluid is 3.95 grammes, or about 8 per cent. Amount of alcohol per cent. is 7.34 plus.
The extractive matter is apparently identical with the "extractum subtile" of Trimmer, or of the German Pharmacopoeia. It consists almost entirely of malt sugar, dextrine, being free from fat, acids, etc. The fluid contains a very large amount of dextrine, as shown by the fact that it easily liquefies an equal bulk of gelatinous starch.
This fact, its low percentage of alcohol, its efferescence, its delightful taste and odor, all combine to recommend Nicholson's malt extract as being a most nourishing beverage, and the best article of the sort that has ever come under my examination. Respectfully,
"FRANK L. JAMIES, Ph. D., M. D."

THE OPPOSITION FISHING FOR A POLICY.

The "Gazette" prints two columns of editorial matter in its last issue, in which the only sensible point appears to be that men of property and position in the country are interested in the election of a respectable and independent Legislature. If it had made that point and stopped it would have saved a great deal of space and enjoyed the satisfaction of being in accord with the Advertiser, which has striven all along to that end, and has the consolation of knowing that it has not labored in vain.

We are anxious above all things to have a thoroughly independent Legislature elected—one that will keep in mind only the public good; and we are strongly of opinion also that Ministers are embued with similar sentiments, although of course we cannot speak authoritatively for the Administration on political issues as our contemporary does. It seems to know the inner thoughts of the Government, but studiously makes a point of imposing on the public regarding them. For example, it insinuates that the Government does not want a respectable Legislative body, but subservient tools of their own, as if the interests of a Constitutional Government of the country were opposed to the interests of the taxpayers and property owners. This accusation is so ridiculous as to need no reply. Of course the "Gazette" does not believe it, but simply puts it forward as a bit of political pleasantry to stimulate the flagging spirits of its friends in the coming election.

Similarly the "Gazette" holds the present Government responsible for the legislation of 1874, which extended the franchise, and for the defeat in 1878 of the project of law of 1876, which contemplated a restriction of the franchise. Indeed, it is more than insinuated also that the Gibson Administration was responsible for the coup d'état under Kamehameha V., by which the Constitution was changed to suit the King, as well as cherishing a similar design against the existing national Charter. The palpable absurdity of these charges and the arguments built upon them does not seem to strike our contemporary. If the legislation referred to were part and parcel of a deep laid scheme to abolish the Legislature and establish a centralized despotism upon lines which are being strictly adhered to by the present Administration, as has been alleged, it follows that the Government of the day are simply carrying out the policy of the friends and supporters of the "Gazette," who are now in opposition, but who were absolute in Hawaiian politics at the dates mentioned. Mr. Gibson, the present Premier, is not responsible for the legislation of the years past, nor for the policy of those then in office. He first entered the Legislature in 1878. He was not the power subsequently become as leader of the opposition to the policy and methods of the dominant party of that day, the rump of which now constitutes the "Independent" Opposition, nor were any of his colleagues heard of or known in Hawaiian politics, except Mr. Kapena. Whatever is wrong or dubious, therefore, in the evolution of national politics in Hawaii is directly chargeable to the very party whose interests our contemporary seeks to promote, by impugning their Machiavellian tactics to the new and vigorous national party represented by the Administration now in power.

To show the impotent malice of the opposition to the present Government on the points raised by the "Gazette," we have simply to state that the franchise legislation of 1874, which is the foundation of the accusation against them, was perfected under the Administration which followed that of Mr. Bishop, and was composed of Mr. Green, Foreign Affairs; Mr. Widemann, Interior; Mr. Nahaolelua, Finance; and Mr. Hartwell, Attorney-General. Be it remembered also that it was four years before Mr. Gibson was elected to the Legislature, and when he certainly was unable to influence the course of public events. Yet he is held responsible for the broad Democratic policy of Messrs. Green, Widemann and Hartwell. Similarly in 1876, two years before Mr. Gibson's election, a motion was introduced to increase the property qualification, the purpose being to disfranchise the natives to a large extent. This project of law was defeated in 1878, the year the present Premier went into the Legislature, and he is accused of that result. Perhaps this was true, but the responsible Ministry of that day was Mr. Wilder, Interior; Mr. Kapena, Foreign Affairs; Mr. Kaai, Finance; and Mr. Preston, Attorney-General. Seeing that Mr. Gibson did not take office until May 15, 1882, and that the Cabinet as now constituted was subsequently formed, we fail to see how it can be held responsible for the deceptions and conspiracies of preceding Administrations, if such there were. If the Government is to be arraigned, let it be for some act of their own, and not for something done years ago by the political god-fathers of the Independent Opposition.

Quite a number of letters were forwarded by the barkentine Discovery yesterday from the Post Office for San Francisco.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Intermediate Court will be held today at 10 o'clock.

Keep in mind the auction sale of furniture, music, fancy goods and toys at the store of West, Dow & Co., on Saturday evening.

Mr. W. R. Castle has the thanks of the inmates of the Branch Hospital, Kakaako, for a very bountiful supply of cakes and candies received by them yesterday.

Tickets for the grand luau in the basement of the Kaunakapili Church Saturday afternoon are selling rapidly. About $250 worth have been bought by Chinese.

H. B. M.'s Commissioner Major J. H. Wodehouse paid an official visit to H. B. M.'s Constance yesterday afternoon, and was received with the customary honors.

The steamship Eturia, of the Cunard line, has recently made the trip from Queenstown to New York in six days, 5 1/2 hours. This beats the previous fastest time on record by 4 1/2 hours.

A meeting of the Board of Representatives of the Honolulu Fire Department was held last evening. An invitation had been received the previous day for the Department to join in the procession on Saturday. It was declined, on the grounds that there was not sufficient time allowed to notify the members of each company, and also that about two-thirds of the members belong to the military companies.

A Musical Reception.

Last evening the members of the Choral and Quintette Club gave a reception to their friends at the Gymnasium. It was one of the pleasantest affairs that has taken place for a long time. The lower part of the building was used for the audience, while the singers were upstairs, the effect being very pleasing. The programme was excellently rendered from beginning to end. The result of steady practice and the careful training by Mr. Yarnley was very apparent. The following was the programme:

1. A—Solo and chorus
"Thou Earth Wait Sweet Incense."
Solo by Miss Bertha von Holt.
B—Duet
"Children Pray This Love to Cherish."
Mrs. Hanford and Mrs. Brown.
C—Chorus
"Walk Ye Hundred Thousand."
Choral Club.
D—Chorus
"God Thou Art Great."
Spohr Choral Club.
- 2—Song
Violin Obligato, "Sancta Maria," Faure
Mrs. Hanford and Mr. Yarnley.
Chorus—"Serena," Costa
Choral Club.
- 3—Flute Solo
"Romance Italienne," Terschak
Mr. W. A. Morse.
4—Trio, Solos and Chorus
"O Sing to God," Gounod (Ladies' Voices).
Solos, Mrs. Hanford and Mrs. Brown.
5—Part Song
"The Arrow and Song," W. Hay
Choral Club.
- 6—Chorus—Ladies' Voices
"Faithful and True," Wagner
Choral Club.
- 7—Carnival Singers
Chorus, Mixed Voices
Rossini Choral Club.

Miss Minnie Kinney officiated as accompanist and Mr. J. W. Yarnley as director.

After the programme was concluded dancing commenced and was carried on with spirit for about an hour, when a bountiful supply of refreshments were served. More dancing followed, after which the invited guests departed, much pleased with the evening's entertainment prepared for them.

Last Night's Concert.

The band concert at the Hawaiian Hotel last evening, in honor of the Captain and officers of H. B. M.'s Constance, was well attended and a brilliant success. The front of the building was beautifully decorated with colored lanterns, the effect being very pleasing. The programme was a good one and included a new number, "Grand National Fantasia," a synopsis of which appeared in Thursday's issue of the Advertiser. It was magnificently played by the band and will be very popular. During the playing of the hornpipe two of the sailors from the Constance amused the audience in the grounds by dancing to it in first-class style.

Law Library.

The large room adjoining the Supreme Court, formerly used by the Government Survey Department, is now being fitted up as a law library. New matting has been laid on the floor, and two rows of double shelves have been placed in position, and three others will follow. The bookcases used by the late Justice Austin in his chambers have been purchased, and will be used in the new library. The hallway leading to the library will be fitted up specially for the use of the members of the bar, where they can do writing or copying. Mr. Foster, the Clerk of the Court, will have his office in the library.

Honors to Chief Engineer Nott.

The tug Eleu will not go to meet the Alameda with representatives of the Fire Department. The bells of the different fire engine companies will ring as the steamer passes the lighthouse. Should the Alameda arrive before Monday there will be a torchlight procession in the evening of that day. The line of march will be from the Bell Tower, along Hotel street, down Richard to King street, thence to the residence of Chief Nott.

GERMAN HOME LIFE.

THE ECONOMY AND THRIFT WHICH MAKE THE PEOPLE PROSPEROUS.

The Management of the Mistress of the House—German House Servants and Their Good Habits—No Late Hours—Manners.

[Dresden Cor. Detroit Free Press.]

No one can have spent much time among the Germans without having had frequent occasions to observe and admire the economy and thrift which kept them comfortable at home and made them prosperous, often wealthy, abroad. These features extend throughout the entire economy both of public officers and domestic life. Just so much force is applied as is necessary to accomplish the object desired, just so much attention is provided as will be needed, thus much always, but no more.

The hotels furnish but one set table or regular meal daily, the table d'hôte dinner, breakfast and supper being ordered à la carte, and at the morning meal the waiter begs to be informed whether the Herr will dine at table d'hôte that day, and if not, no provision is made for him. Just enough of every dish is provided to satisfy the wants of those who have signified their intention of being present, but there is no surplus, and if you come without notice, fresh food must be ordered and prepared for you. And the same rule prevails in private families where the mistress carves from the dishes prepared, her estimate is always sufficient, there is always abundance for all but no superfluity—there is no carrying off to the stall-pole of piles of plates filled with choice and costly viands, scarcely touched; none of that lavish, prodigal waste which one observes at the tables of our large hotels, when the guest surrounds himself with a barrier of dishes resulting, principally, in the benefit of the scavenger.

A German girl is not thought fit to be married until she is a thorough and efficient housekeeper.

Good mistresses make good servants, and the German house servants certainly seem deserving of the highest praise. I say "seem," for a man is not supposed or allowed by the sex who rule in such matters to know anything about the requisites or qualities which go to the making of a good domestic servant. I cannot fail to observe the amount of work they do, and how thoroughly and cheerfully it is done, how clean everything is kept and how neat they keep themselves; at what astonishingly early hours they commence work, and that they never seem to have time for gossiping or beaux, except on alternate Sunday afternoons, when they walk in the park, hand with a schatz (the military generally preferred) to a hall or garden where there is "balmusick," where they dance all night till broad daylight, and come home to go steadily to work again. Surely it would be a hard-hearted, sour, puritanical mistress that would wish to deny her faithful, hard working servants, and how thoroughly and cheerfully it is done, how clean everything is kept and how neat they keep themselves; at what astonishingly early hours they commence work, and that they never seem to have time for gossiping or beaux, except on alternate Sunday afternoons, when they walk in the park, hand with a schatz (the military generally preferred) to a hall or garden where there is "balmusick," where they dance all night till broad daylight, and come home to go steadily to work again. SHIPPING NOTES.

Walaloa, Oahu, reports a large bark passing that port at 10 a m. November 26th, and was heading toward Kaena point.

The American missionary packet Morning Star will sail next Monday for her mission to the South Seas. She will haul alongside the wharf on that morning to receive water.

The schooner Emma will finish her general overhauling and repairing about the middle of next week. She will afterwards be moved into the stream to be repainted.

While the sloop Sarah was entering the harbor on the 25th instant she got ashore on the eastern end of the harbor, and remained there all day on the 26th. She will probably get off at high tide.

The steamer Walmanalo brought 500 bags sugar from Walmanalo, Oahu, November 26th, which were transferred to the barkentine Discovery.

The steamers Lehua, Iwailani and Kilauea Hou from Hamakua, Hawaii, and the steamer James Mabee from Kapa, Maui, are fully due. They may be expected to-day or to-morrow.

Work was suspended on the foreign vessels in port on November 26th, Thanksgiving Day. The coasting schooners were receiving freight all day. The sloop Kahihani brought 257 bags rice from Ewa, Oahu, November 26th.

The American barkentine Discovery, Captain H. Meyer, sailed November 26th for San Francisco, with 7565 bags sugar, 1265 bags rice, 50 barrels potatoes and 961 bunches of bananas, valued at $51,521. While she was sailing out of the harbor her foresail was split asunder.

The schooner Walele returned empty from Hanalei, Maui, November 26th, and reports very rough weather. She lost both her anchors at Hanalei, and came near getting ashore. She will receive a new forecast today, and sail next Monday with a mackerel mill for Papeete, Pilo, Hawaii.

Fresh mince pies daily from and after date at Meller & Halbe's confectionery.

The Temple of Fashion has vacated the store at the corner of Fort and Merchant streets, used as a gents' furnishing department. We understand it will shortly be opened by other parties in the same line of business.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN HONOLULU.

The last Thursday in November of each year has been set apart as a national festival, or Thanksgiving Day, in the United States; and in order that American citizens in this Kingdom might join in devout thanks to Divine Providence, in common with their kindred in America, His Excellency the United States Minister Resident, Mr. Merrill, issued an invitation to all to participate in the religious ceremonies arranged for the day. The response was spontaneous, business being practically suspended. Indeed, yesterday was observed as a general holiday. The streets presented a deserted appearance, nearly all the larger stores being closed at noon. The Government offices and the banks were also closed about the same time. Thanksgiving services were held at the Fort-street Church, and St. Andrew's Cathedral at 11 o'clock.

Fort-street Church.
The church was filled with a large and fashionable audience. At the back of the pulpit on the choir desk stood a lyre of yellow chrysanthemums, and the platform was one mass of ferns, palms and evergreens. The services opened by the singing of the hymn, "O God, beneath Thy Guiding Hand," followed with prayer by the Rev. S. E. Bishop. The choir, under direction of Mr. J. W. Yarnley, sang the anthem "I was Glad," by Horsley, and then the congregation joined in the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," to the tune of "America." The Thanksgiving sermon was preached by the Rev. J. A. Cruzan, who took for his text "Be Ye Thankful." He said they were met together this morning to obey the words of the text. There were many causes for gratitude to God. They should be thankful for their nativity, citing the love of their native land implanted in the hearts of all nationalities.

It was not for the material greatness of their country that he felt thankful to-day, weighty as that reason of gratitude undoubtedly was. He rather thanked God for the peace and brotherhood pervading their nation, after the terrible disturbance that racked it from center to circumference a score of years ago. It took years to bring about the clasp of hands over the bloody chasm between North and South, but those years had come and gone, landing the country in peace. The completeness of the happy change was exemplified in the peaceful revolution of last autumn, whereby the very political party that had been identified with the desperate attempt to break up the Union had by the peaceful exercise of popular suffrages been returned to power at Washington, from which it had been excluded for a quarter of a century.

As a Christian man, he felt grateful to God for their native land. There was still much to be deplored there, as in every other country, from a religious point of view. Yet the forces of sin were twenty times stronger, and those of righteousness proportionately feebler, a hundred years ago than now. The story of the Cross never carried more influence with humanity than to-day. Never was the Bible so widely published and purchased by the masses of men as at the present time.

God loved them and their nation. Let them plant their feet upon that rock—God's love—and they would be safe and secure against all the storms of life and the forces of evil.

The choir sang the hymn "He Leadeth Me," after which Pastor Cruzan pronounced the benediction, and the large congregation dispersed to the strains of an organ recessional.

ST. ANDREW'S CATHEDRAL.

A fair congregation attended this church. There was no attempt at decorations. The canticles and glorias were sung to single chants by the stippled choir of boys. The hymns were, "Now Thank we all our God" and "We Praise Thee Fields and Scatter." The service was read by the Rev. George Wallace, and the lessons by the Rev. W. H. Barnes. The Bishop of Honolulu preached the sermon from the text, "The Earth is the Lord's and the Fullness Thereof." He said the observance of the day is a recognition of the truth of the text that the earth is the Lord's. Days of thanksgiving are intended to recall to our minds from time to time our dependence upon God, who gives the increase of the fruits of the earth. Nor is it enough that thanks be offered for the mercies of the year, for we are reminded in this service of our obligation to set apart a portion of our substance to the special service of God. Only by a faithful observance of God's laws can we enjoy the fruits of the earth for ourselves and convey our interests to posterity.

The hymn "Who Giveth All" was sung, and then the Bishop dismissed the congregation with the benediction.

Police Court.

BEFORE POLICE JUSTICE BICKERTON.

WEDNESDAY, November 24th.
Tom Mitchell, Henry Kuahini and Kennai, three Reformatory School boys, were charged with violating chapter 30, session laws of 1882. The Principal stated that the boys were a bad lot, and constantly deserting and generally unmanageable. His Honor sentenced each to imprisonment at hard labor for one year, and at the expiration of the sentence to be returned to the Reformatory School.

Kapahu was charged with deserting her husband. She was remanded until the 26th. This is her second offense.

Kimo and Tom Morris forfeited bail of $6 for drunkenness.

THURSDAY, November 26th.
The only case in Court to-day was that of Kapahu (w), brought up on remand, charged with deserting her husband, Yap Sin. A witness stated that the husband had always treated the defendant kindly. As this was her second offense, His Honor sentenced her to imprisonment at hard labor for ten days and to pay $10 costs.

Until noon to-day His Excellency the Minister of Interior will receive tenders for cleaning and keeping in repair the streets of Honolulu, the requirements of which have been published in a "By Authority" notice in this paper the early part of this month.
