HONOLULU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1904

PRICE 5 CENTS

Amount of Robbery Alleged in Land Office Will Never Be Known

Hawaii will never know the exact amount of the alleged defalcation in the office of the Land Commissioner. It is believed now that hundreds of minor fees for the copying of deeds and land records, leases and so forth, were, during the period in which systematic embezzlement is said to have been carried on, received by the alleged guilty party or parties and never entered on the books of the bureau, this income going the way of the fifteen or twenty thousand dollars wrongfully used.

Auditor Fisher is still working on the books of the Land Office, assisted by Land Commissioner Pratt and his assistants. The exact amount of the public land rentals steal is not yet known and will not be until the leaseholders are all communicated with and it is learned who has and who has not paid in dues which have not been recorded.

Following is the blank which is now being sent to all persons whose names are on the Land Office books:

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC LANDS.
Honolulu, June 1, 1904.

Your account on the books of this office shows a debit of $..... for rent due under Lease No. Should this amount be incorrect, please present your back receipts at once for comparison.

Commissioner of Public Lands.

Upon the return to the office of these blanks, filled out, the Commissioner and the Auditing Department will be able to say exactly what the alleged defalcation is, as far as land rentals are concerned; but, in regard to the moneys taken in as minor fees, for the copying of deeds, leases and other records, inasmuch as hundreds of such items are supposed never to have been entered on the books, the amount unaccounted for will never be known.

There is some discussion in Government circles as to how best to provide for a successful check on the possibility of embezzling fees of minor importance. It is suggested that any person applying, for example, for a copy of a deed, be required to file an application for such deed or lease or record; but the majority of people doing business with the Land Office would not likely be familiar with any such requisition unless informed of the rule at the time of his application. It is objected that if a permit was required from the Auditor for such matters, too much power would be concentrated in the Auditor's Office, thus defeating the decentralized power idea.

An interesting fact has been noted in the Land Office in the matter of land exchanges for public improvements. Under the preceding administration it was the custom to give land in the country districts on this and the other islands, farm, ranch and other lands, to parties in Honolulu and other towns of whom was required strips or sections of real property for street widening and other public improvement purposes.

Had this custom been allowed to continue, it is said, the result to the Territory would have been disastrous. City property is so much more valuable, or is held at so much greater value by those who happen to own it that, when any is given up for street

MURDER WITNESSES AT LAST SET FREE

An unanimous decision was rendered by the Supreme Court this morning in the habeas corpus matter of three Japanese witnesses in the Kaula Glennan murder case, claiming to be wrongfully held by Sheriff Coney, the opinion of the Court declaring that the men have been unlawfully restrained.

Says the syllabus, which tells the story in a few words:

Witnesses confined in jail by virtue of an order of arrest made by a Circuit Judge, prior to the trial in the Circuit Court, under authority of Section 1397, C. L., are entitled to be discharged after the trial on the indictment and cannot be restrained under such order pending the hearing of the defendant's exceptions in this Court.

Associate Justice Galbraith writes the opinion.

WAS NOT ANARCHIST

On board the cruiser Liguria the story that Amodeo Storace, the sailor who deserted the vessel at San Francisco and was brought here by a secret service agent in the Sonoma today, created a great deal of amusement.

A Bulletin reporter boarded the cruiser this afternoon. He asked the officer of the deck about how much truth there was in the statement that Storace was an anarchist. The officer could not hide his very evident amusement. "Oh no, oh no," he said. "No such thing. Storace is a deserter pure and simple. He left the ship in San Francisco for some reason I do not know but he is certainly not an anarchist. I read the story in the papers. It is very amusing but certainly not true. Storace's punishment has not as yet been decided on."

The delegates to the Republican National Convention at Chicago sailed yesterday in the Ventura. They were Prince Cupid, W. T. Robinson, A. G. M. Robertson, E. A. Knudsen.

KONA JUDGE'S REFUSAL TO KILL ACT AVOIDED

AWARD TO KAPIOLANI ESTATE WAS WRONG—THE SUPREME COURT'S UNANIMOUS DECISION.

Supreme Court this forenoon unanimously set aside the Kona District Magistrate's allowance of a motion for a writ of possession to the Kapiolani Estate to the Kailua Sugar Company's property and his refusal to allow the motion to set aside the same in the matter of Clinton J. Hutchins, trustee, in the Kona Plantation controversy, saying, in part, in the opinion written by Chief Justice Frear:

C. L. Sec. 1658, which in terms requires the defendant to file a bond for rent to accrue in order that he may retain possession pending appeal from a judgment against him in a summary proceeding for possession, is repealed by implication by L. 1892, Ch. 57, as amended by L. 1903, Act 32.

This court may on certiorari issue a writ of restitution but does not do so at present in this case because no notice of the issuance of the writ of certiorari was made to the plaintiff below and no motion for a writ of restitution was made or notice thereof given to the plaintiff below.

The respondent contends that petitioner was not entitled to retain possession pending the appeal because the bond filed was insufficient.

It is next contended that the petitioner waived his rights by reason of having asked the Magistrate to overrule his motion to vacate the writ of possession. The petitioner contends that he asked merely for a pro forma ruling in order that the matter might be taken to a higher court, and that the Magistrate apparently did not understand him.

The record supports the allegations of the petition that the writ of possession was issued pending the defendant's appeal in the summary proceedings and without giving him an opportunity to be heard or to file a supersedeas bond. It follows, as we practically held on the motion to quash the petition, that the action of the Magistrate in this respect must be set aside.

The petitioner suggests that a writ of restitution be issued to restore him to the possession of which he was deprived by the illegal issuance and execution of the writ of possession. In our opinion this court may issue a writ of restitution in a proper case on certiorari. This view is supported by C. L. Secs. 1163, 1165, 1632, as well as by decisions elsewhere, although there are decisions to the contrary in the absence of statutes or under different statutes. And if notice of these certiorari proceedings had been served on the plaintiff below, we might be in a position to issue such a writ, if necessary, under the prayer for "other relief." Fine But Not Finished Says Hoogs Of St Louis Exhibit

[Special to The Bulletin.]

St. Louis, May 19.—The Universal Exposition, as it is now called, is open but it is far from being complete. The exhibition buildings are up and ready for occupancy but the majority of exhibits are yet to be placed in order. Freight cars, teams and an army of workmen decorate the grounds. Desperate efforts are being made to get things in order, but the task is a great one and several coming months will pass before the Exposition can be said to be complete.

The executive officials of the Fair have worked hard and are now working hard to make the Exposition a winner and it is believed that finally success will be gained and people will be attracted from all parts of the world. Only a visit to the grounds can give any idea of the magnitude of the enterprise or of the work accomplished. The handsome and stately buildings (Continued on Page 4.)

SCOTIA WRECK STORY

WENT TO PIECES A WEEK AFTER GROUNDING

NO CABLE LOST EXCEPT THE SHORE END DESTINED FOR THE MIDWAY ISLAND
CABLE.

G. I. Whaley, who was on board the cableship Scotia when she was wrecked on one of the reefs surrounding the island of Guam, arrived in this city this morning as a passenger on board the steamship Coptic. Whaley is assistant engineer of the Pacific Commercial Cable Company. He came to Honolulu in order to go to Midway Island, where he will be stationed. Mr. Whaley, when seen by a Bulletin reporter this forenoon, told a graphic version of the wreck of the cableship. Mr. Whaley's story is of especial interest as many contradictory versions of the accident have been published here and elsewhere.

"The cableship Scotia was wrecked on a reef by Guam on May 11," said Mr. Whaley. "The accident took place in the morning at about 6 o'clock. It was a very fine morning, the weather was clear and bright and there was no reason of that kind to cause the vessel to go ashore. The reef on which the Scotia was wrecked is given on the charts. I do not know exactly what reason the captain of the Scotia gives for going ashore. The fact is that the Scotia was endeavoring to go through a channel in the reef but got too far on the port side of the entrance and got stuck on the reef."

"The accident caused absolutely no excitement or confusion on board the vessel. When we found out what had happened steps were immediately taken to land those on board who could be of no assistance to the vessel. The wife of the chief engineer of the cable company, the wife of the captain of the Scotia, some Japanese and a few others, whose services we did not need, were sent ashore in boats. As the weather was fine this was accomplished without the slightest difficulty.

"The captain, the crew and most of the cable company employees remained on the Scotia. I was among those who stayed on board. We stayed there for several days, almost a week, until the weather became worse. Waves began to break over the Scotia and the steamer started to bump on the reef on which she was lying. At this time it became evident to us that it would be very dangerous for us to remain on board so everyone went ashore. Shortly afterwards, a week after the Scotia had stranded, the weather became very bad indeed. Gigantic waves broke all over the vessel and finally she broke amidships into two separate pieces. The after part of the steamship fell back into the deep water and disappeared from sight. The forward end of the ship remained standing as it was firmly wedged in the reef.

"The Scotia is beyond all doubt a complete wreck which can never be salvaged. The stories about valuable long strands of cable which the vessel had on board are all untrue. All the Scotia carried was a shore-end for the Midway Island cable and some pieces to be used on general repairs of the Pacific Commercial Cable Company. The shore-end for Midway was especially constructed in England for that particular purpose and was to have been installed by the Scotia on her arrival at Midway.

"The chief engineer of the cable company remained in Guam. The rest of the company's employees, with the exception of myself, and the officers and crew returned to England. I have been ordered to go to Midway Island, where I will go as soon as opportunity offers."

KOLB & DILL WIN

LAST ACT
AT HONOLULU

Kolb and Dill, the Travesty Star comedians came very nearly staying behind today when that gay and festive troupe of charmers and entertainers were leaving by the Ventura for the Colonies. The twain of fun-creating Dutchmen didn't like the way they had been treated on the bills and in the press notices. One of the terms in their contract was that they were to be "featured." The company's management, so they alleged, had failed to do this and unless the kinks were taken out of the contract they positively refused to budge from the Paradise of the Pacific. They had planned an indefinite surf-bathing season at Waikiki and swore by all the gods of fun that they would see the manager, the chorus girls and the whole troupe stranded in the antipodes before they would take a single step toward the steamer Sonoma, unless their terms were agreed to. The twain had even planned to sign with some Australian play manager by cable, take the next boat for the Colonies and leave their whilom companions to play to empty seats.

When they had thoroughly read the riot act the manager of the company came gently and with alacrity from his lofty perch and fixed it all up with the inimitable comedians and the Travesty Stars are all off in a bunch at 4:30.

SECOND IWA STRIKE

The Japanese laborers on Ewa plantation today indicated to Manager Renton that they would go on a strike again tonight or tomorrow morning. They gave as their reason the fact that a certain luna whom they wanted discharged was still retained by the plantation. Manager Renton telephoned to the High Sheriff for assistance. A squad of police will be sent to Ewa on the 3:15 p. m. train.

TO JURY TOMORROW

The Kumale-Johnson conspiracy case will go to the jury at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Defense rested this afternoon and counsel are now submitting instructions for the jury.

The people who take part in the production of "Carmen" are requested to be present at the rehearsal at the Symphony Club rooms at Haleiwa lawn tonight at 8 o'clock.

CONCERNING YACHT RACE

Editor Evening Bulletin—I wish through your courtesy to disclaim any intentional injustice to the speed of La Paloma in Sunday's race. All on board the Gladys were and are enthusiastic of La Paloma's splendid showing and Captain Macfarlane's handling of her.

In the article referred to I state that after finding what we thought was a helping current we followed the Paloma mile after mile almost in her wake. Consequently, whatever the conditions, both the yachts were subject to them and La Paloma derived no advantage from any conditions that we failed to share.

I make this communication purely in the interests of good sport. After the splendid race La Paloma sailed I would not mar the general satisfaction in such a close contest by any verbal misunderstanding.

Sincerely,

ALLAN DUNN.

Torpedo Boats Are Delicate War Engines

St. Petersburg, May 26.—The official report of Viceroy Alexieff, of the torpedo boat destroyer fight of March 9, in which the Stereguschich was cut off and sunk by Japanese cruisers, and the flight of the following day, in which a Japanese torpedo boat was sunk by a torpedo, is published here. The Viceroy lays stress upon the great delicacy of the destroyers and torpedo boats and the ease with which they are disabled by a projectile in the engine room. The whole engine-room crew of the Vlastini were driven to the deck by the escaping steam and the boat was saved by the heroism of the engineer, who, though burned and scalded, went below and succeeded in again getting up steam.

Although the loss of a Japanese torpedo boat on March 10 has not been admitted by the Japanese, the Viceroy positively and officially affirms this.

Alexieff Shuts Out Foreign Correspondents

St. Petersburg, May 26, 2:30 p. m.—Viceroy Alexieff has decided not to allow any more foreign newspaper correspondents to join the Manchurian army, at least for the present. None of those at Mukden have yet been allowed to go to Liao Yang, much less to the front, and when permission is granted it is probable that some sort of pledge will be exacted which will require them to remain through to the end of this year's campaign on the ground that if they depart at will they would take away information concerning the Russian dispositions, equipment, guns and transportation facilities which would be published beyond the jurisdiction of the Russian military censors and might prove of great value to the enemy.

QUEEN LILUOKALANI RETURNS
FROM AN EXTENDED TRIP
THROUGH THE UNITED STATES.

The Oceanic steamship Sonoma arrived off port from San Francisco at an early hour this morning. She was docked at the Oceanic wharf at about 8 o'clock. The Sonoma brought a large list of passengers for Honolulu, most of them being island people returning to their homes from the mainland.

Among the passengers was Queen Liliuokalani, who returns with her suite from a lengthy stay at Washington. With the Queen were Miss M. Heleluhe and J. Aea. A number of Hawaiians, friends and retainers of the Queen, were on the wharf to greet her. As Liliuokalani came down the gang-plank she stopped for a moment and with a smile said "Aloha" to those waiting below on the wharf. The Queen's greeting was returned with enthusiasm.

Among the other passengers for Honolulu were Miss L. Aholo, J. D. Almo-kee, H. D. Cousins, Miss E. Cummings, Geo. Fuller, S. Mahelona, Miss J. McStocker, Miss L. McStocker, Miss Gertrude Renton, Miss C. Renton, Miss Marion Roth, Count Senni, Miss C. Shipman, Miss Clara Shipman, Miss Mary Shipman and others. Of the above a number are young island people returning from schools and colleges on the mainland to spend their summer vacations in Hawaii.

The Sonoma brought 600 tons of freight for Honolulu. She sails for the Colonies at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. Among the passengers booked to depart in her are the members of the Travesty Stars Company, which has recently been giving a series of successful performances in this city.

He whitens his boots instead of blackening them.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1904.

Thousands of registered warrants in the Treasury represent hundreds of dollars paid out in discount by the beneficiaries to obtain their money at the banks. The Territory is fortunate in having good credit at the banks, but the discount represents a special tax citizens pay for doing business for the Territory.

It is easy to believe Manager Melville E. Stone's statement that London newspapers were largely responsible for forcing hostilities between Japan and Russia. Later day American opinions of Russia have been influenced by the London dispatch editors and Stone has done a public service in securing for the Associated Press the St. Petersburg news direct.

HAWAII KNOCKING ITSELF.

State Senator Andrew Hemrich of Washington was regarded as friendly to Hawaii during his stay in the city. Nothing has yet occurred to suggest that he is an enemy, but his reported statements regarding conditions in the islands sent out from Tacoma do not do this Territory any good.

The Bulletin is disposed to believe that Hemrich's talk, if correctly quoted, is more the reflection of calamity howlers here in the islands than a determined intent on his part to do us harm. This solution is taken because altogether too many of our own people seem to think that only by crying wolf can they secure what is needed. We can very well believe that Mr. Hemrich met men who told him Hawaii is bound for the proverbial demerit howl unless the Territory is granted a return to contract labor or a colonial form of government. It is not difficult to believe that someone who ought to know better told Hemrich that only one sugar plantation made money last year and then paid only six per cent dividend. But these statements are not true.

What some citizens or residents of this Territory expect to gain for themselves, their posterity, fellow citizens or the country at large by the everlasting knocking of their own country is more than this paper can attempt to explain. They can't explain it themselves unless they confess to chronic business or political dyspepsia or rank disloyalty to our country.

There is just one way for these islands, the big industries and the little ones, the citizens and the residents, to move along the lines of progress—make the best of existing conditions, work for improvement without knocking. No man wants to invest money in a country whose people represent themselves as being headed for bankruptcy unless the home government comes to their rescue. No visitor feels comfortable in a city or town whose citizens are forever saying unpleasant things of their own town, criticizing their neighbors and apparently engaged in promoting a spirit of backtracking and backbiting.

The town or the Territory that goes ahead is propelled by united, energetic work for improvement through broad gauge wholesome methods. A constant cry of hard times is a drag, a system of business suicide and all round throat cutting that will wear out and let the life blood from the most fertile fields and greatest opportunities that God's sun ever shone upon. Periods of financial depression are not such extraordinary affairs in the history of the world, our country or this Territory that men should hold up their hands and cry out to high heaven that all is lost. At all events a pessimistic howl is not a modern or even sensible method for conquering the situation and reversing the current into channels of prosperity.

It is about time the people of this Territory quit making faces as if they were taking disagreeable pills every time they discuss business conditions with visiting business men. A community forever kicking itself doesn't create any sympathy. Average humanity lets such alone. If citizens want to knock themselves into a hole, observers will pass by on the other side and allow them to pull the hole in after.

To say something good of the Territory is a habit the people should cultivate. They will mark time and eventually move backward unless they do. An optimistic habit back by hard, united work will accomplish results wanted.

COUNTY COMMISSION

TO ORGANIZE

THURSDAY NIGHT

H. E. Cooper, chairman of the commission appointed by Governor Carter to frame a county law for the Hawaiian Islands, will call the first meeting of the commission to meet at his office tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The members of the commission are H. E. Cooper, T. McCants Stewart, C. L. Crabbe, F. C. Beckley and E. M. Watson.

The meeting tomorrow night will be largely preliminary and devoted to organization. While Mr. Cooper called the meeting and was named by Governor Carter as chairman, he disclaims the distinction, holding that the commission should properly select its own chairman. Regardless of this view it is more than probable that Mr. Cooper will be unanimously chosen by the commission to preside over its deliberations.

HEMIRICH IS QUOTED

AS SAYING

THINGS OF HAWAII

Tacoma, Wash., May 19.—State Senator Andrew Hemrich, just returned from Honolulu, declares that trade conditions in Hawaii are very much depressed, and unless the Government soon permits the use of contract labor the sugar industry will die out. Briefly stated Hemrich believes that the Hawaiian Islands will never become prosperous unless the Federal Government either grants them some form of colonial government calculated to raise revenue or permits the use of contract labor for cultivation of their chief agricultural product. Hemrich found conditions at Honolulu anything but healthy and declares the outlook is extremely gloomy for commercial interests there unless some way can be speedily devised to enable the big sugar plantations to secure at fair prices with which to harvest and manufacture the raw product.

Not only has Hawaii been deprived of an annual revenue of more than a million and a half dollars by the loss of custom duties, but plantations are now confronted by a crisis in the labor market which has nearly bankrupted every planter over there. Hemrich was told that only one plantation is now a paying investment, that one declaring a dividend of 6 per cent last season.

Bunting represented Axtell; A. G. M. Robertson appeared for Defendant Hendrick.

APPEAL FROM EWA

DISTRICT COURT

ON FOUR FISH NETS

A case in which little of material value is involved but which covers principles as broad as any cause at bar, has come to the District Court on appeal from Ewa District. Hina, a lady, declares that Kaina, a gentleman, is wrongfully in possession of her fish nets.

The following is taken from the record sent up from Ewa by District Magistrate Hookano:

Hina (w) sworn: I live at Moanaloa. I have several property at Pau loa—canoe, nets, wagon and house. I have 12 pieces net. Four pieces are in possession of Kaina (defendant). When I went to Moanaloa I placed my properties in charge of Hookano and Makaipo. I got these nets through my labor and my former husband. And soon he got money from fishing or any other way, he handed me the money, then I bought lines and made nets out of said lines. I made these four nets by my own hand. I know how to make nets and it cost me $7 a net. These nets are called Malua-Owa. They are for mullets, lauhai and oio.

Hookano testified that defendant, Kaina, had claimed the nets as his. Hookano says Kaina must have taken them during his absence.

Kaina said: Kualaku owns the nets. I got them by his order. I have title in this net through Mrs. Kualaku.

By the Court: In replevin the question is who is entitled to the possession of the property in dispute when the action commences. After hearing all evidence in the above mentioned cause I found the following facts: Plaintiff claimed the nets are her own, proving that she bought the stuff or line and made nets out of said stuff or line by herself. Defendant claimed he have interest or title through Mrs. Kualaku.

From the appearing of the above facts, I believe the plaintiff Hina got better title than defendant Kualaku; therefore I hereby give my judgment in the favor of the plaintiff for restitution of the four pieces net in dispute with damages of $1.00 and for her costs of $1.70.

ENOCH TELLS HOW HE EARNED HIS FEE

Prosecution rested in the Kumalee-Johnson alleged conspiracy case before Judge De Bolt this morning and the defense began to put on witnesses.

Enoch Johnson, who with Jonah Kumalee, is accused of conspiring to defraud the people in the matter of expenses of the House of Representatives. In 1903, apparently told all he knew on cross-examination.

He had charged and received $50 for advising the Chinese Fund Committee that the Territory was not liable for money stolen from the fund. He had based this opinion on the Organic Act and did not need to look further. He had given the advice verbally to Kumalee, as chairman, in the former's office.

Superintendent Public Works

Of Lexington, Ky., Says:

"Peruna is an Excellent Medicine."

J. H. HIPPLEGATE.

J. H. Hipplegate, Supt. of Public Works, 61 West 6th St., Lexington, Ky., writes:

"I find that Peruna is an excellent medicine especially for catarrhal affections and all diseases leading to consumption, bronchial troubles or stomach troubles. It also acts as a preventative and keeps the system in a healthy condition so that it easily throws off disease. It is an excellent tonic and a great appetizer and as a large number of those who have been using it speak very highly of its curative powers, I am satisfied that my opinion of it is correct, and that it is deserving of high praise."

—J. H. Hipplegate.

Peruna is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by hearsay and thousands know it by experience. Catarrh in its various forms is rapidly becoming a national curse. An undoubted remedy has been discovered by Dr. Hartman. This remedy has been thoroughly tested during the past forty years. Peruna cures catarrh in all phases and stages. There is no remedy that can be substituted.

If you do not desire prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

A address Dr. Hartman, President of the "Hartman Sanatorium," Columbus, O. For special directions every one should read "The Ills of Life," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at one dollar per bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those wishing direct correspondence with Dr. Hartman and can wait the necessary delay in receiving a reply, should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A.

Benson, Smith & Co. will supply the retail drug trade in Honolulu.

CONFER DEGREE OF PERFECTION

A new epoch in Scottish Rite Masonry in Honolulu was marked last night by the initiation into the mysteries of the Degree of Perfection a class of twenty-one candidates. The Scottish Rite Masons look upon the present as their period of renaissance in Honolulu and will inaugurate a vigorous campaign for the order. They expect to build a temple of their own in the not distant future.

The Degree of Perfection was conferred last night upon the twenty-one candidates at the Masonic Temple. The work was done by Venerable Master J. D. Tucker, K. C. C. H., assisted by Henry E. Cooper, Inspector General thirty-third Degree.

The degree work was followed by a banquet, covers being laid for eighty. Henry E. Cooper presided as toastmaster and in introducing the speakers, made an interesting and instructive speech concerning the early history of Scottish Rite Masonry in the islands.

Judge Geo. D. Gear also indulged in stories of the early day work of the order in Hawaii, coupling with his reminiscences a comprehensive disquisition on the objects of the order and its benefits.

Geo. A. Davis made a brilliant speech on Scottish Rite Masonry and the field presented by Honolulu and Hawaii for its expansion.

In behalf of the candidates Frank E. Thompson responded in his happiest vein.

Dr. Grossman and B. Griggs Holt each made speeches in which they dwelt on the delights, benefits and troubles coming to those who pass over the Wela Ka Hao sands.

The list of the initiates follows: Charles G. Bartlett, William Bell, Charles Bon, Charles G. Bockus, Edgar M. Brown, John R. Collins, William H. Goetz, William C. Harless, Clinton J. Hutchins, Merle M. Johnson, Herman W. Lake, Thomas H. Little, Roli, H. P. Lishman, John Melanphy, Joseph M. McKinnon, William A. Meyers, Kirk B. Porter, Milton C. Pressey, Frank E. Thompson, Frederick L. Waldron, William A. Welbourn.

COPTIC FROM ORIENT

The Occidental and Oriental steamship Coptic arrived from the Orient this morning. She was docked at the Hackfeld wharf at about 8:30 o'clock. The Coptic experienced a pleasant trip, leaving Yokohama May 23. On May 24 the Coptic sighted the new Pacific Mail liner Mongolia at about 6 o'clock in the morning. The two steamships passed each other at quite a distance. The officers of the Coptic are quite curious to know what the Mongolia really is like. They take especial interest in her on account of the fact that Captain Rinder and Purser Rennie of the Mongolia formerly filled these same positions on board the Coptic.

The Coptic carries an unusually large list of cabin passengers, no less than seventy-seven altogether. Of the passengers three will lay over at Honolulu while the others will continue their voyage to the mainland in the Coptic.

Among the lay-over passengers is Viscount T. Torii, a prominent diplomat and member of the Japanese parliament. He is being entertained at the Japanese consulate here. Viscount Torii visited Honolulu eleven years ago.

C. Poma, the Italian consul at Tientsin, will also remain in Honolulu for a short time.

G. I. Whaley is the assistant engineer of the Pacific Commercial Cable Company. He will remain in Honolulu until he has an opportunity to go to Midway Island. Mr. Whaley was on board the cableship Scotia when she was wrecked at Guam last month.

Among the through passengers are F. W. Teal and M. Gallagher, who are on mining men returning from Korea. Captain R. Kilber-Stuart and Captain Fortester are British army officers returning home to England from service in India. Captain Stuart is accompanied by his wife.

Judge A. C. Carson is a judge of the Philippine Court of First Instance.

Miss Maya Das and Miss Dora M. Maya Das are young Hindu ladies on their way to Boston where they will complete their education.

J. S. Stanley is the deputy collector of customs at Manila.

T. C. Reiser is connected with the customs service at Manila.

The officers of the Coptic report that nothing, or at least very little is to be seen of the war in Japan. With the exception of an occasional procession or parade nothing goes on beyond the usual run of affairs to indicate that the country is in the throes of war.

The Times' dispatch boat Harman was still laid up at Nagasaki when the Coptic was in that port.

The Coptic brings 624 tons of freight for Honolulu. She brings in her Asiatic steamer 127 Koreans, 327 Japanese and 12 Chinese for this port.

The Coptic is scheduled to sail for San Francisco at 6 o'clock this evening.

FORT STREET.

FINE BUT NOT FINISHED

ings are a feast to the eye. The Festival Hall and the approach thereto is a sight that a visitor will never forget. It is all grand and beautiful and inspiring. All the labor was accomplished by a number of energetic citizens of this city. Their work was practically completed in time, but the American exhibitors were slow in shipping and their goods now rest in freight cars distributed along the tracks on or about the Fair Grounds. These exhibitors, by their dilatory action, have injured the Exposition in a great degree and it will take some time for the Fair to recover from the setback.

The average attendance to date has been disappointing. It is generally known that the Exposition is not complete and people are holding back preferring to visit later in the season. Strange to say, the foreign exhibitors have their booths ready and their exhibits are on view. All of the important countries are represented and they have sent much that is interesting, valuable and instructive. In the building of Fine Arts, France Germany Austria, England, and other countries show some of the works of their best artists. The American paintings are not on exhibition at this writing. Without any question this building houses the best feature of the Exposition. Other buildings contain many interesting exhibits—the best that the world affords—but the paintings in the building of Fine Arts attract a never-ending crowd.

Admitting that the Exposition is not complete, yet there is enough and more here to interest the visitor. It is worth a long trip to see the Exposition buildings and the structures erected by the States, Territories and Foreign Countries. The buildings and grounds are illuminated at night with countless electric lamps and globes. The sight is indescribable. An illuminated cascade rolls from the Terrace of States down to the Grand Basin; light shines from the eaves of buildings, the arches, the steeples, the windows. The result is one vast blaze of light and is a sight never to be forgotten. The exhibition buildings are not opened at night, but visitors are entertained by Souza's, Innes's and other bands, not so famous as the two organizations mentioned, but just as good. The Pike or "Midway" is a great attraction in the evening. It extends for a mile and one-half. The best shows have not opened as yet, but work on their buildings is progressing. The Hagenbeck animal show offers the best entertainment at present. The other attractions run from fair to very bad. But one soon tires of the Pike and returns to the Exposition proper to enjoy a second time its beauty and many solid attractions.

There is no Hawaiian exhibition on the Pike. A party of six Hawaiian musicians left Honolulu two weeks ago en route to St. Louis, so it was claimed. Upon inquiry, it was ascertained that the boys were on their way to New York to play at summer resorts and had no intention of stopping at St. Louis.

The Exposition grounds is composed of 1,240 acres of land. To quote David R. Francis, President of the Exposition, "It is twice the area of the Columbian Exposition; four times that of the last Paris Fair; over four times that of the Pan-American and over five times that of the Centennial. Or to put it another way, the Universal Exposition embraces within its six-mile boundary line an area larger than that of the Chicago, Buffalo and Philadelphia Fairs combined."

Visitors are complaining about high living rates. The hotels have increased their prices since the Fair opened; laundries have commenced to squeeze the stranger, ten-cent barbers have blossomed into 25-cent artists. If one desires to dine at a decent restaurant he must have a purse full of gold. This is no place for a man with a few dollars unless he can live on a diet of coffee and doughnuts. The only cheap things to be had are newspapers and car rides. Both are first-class and offer the only bargains to be found in St. Louis. The people here are keen for money. Every other house on principal thoroughfares advertises for roomers with signs which mean "World's Fair Visitors taken in". The foregoing quotation is about true, so when you come to this city say you are a drummer from Kansas City—say anything but that you are a "World's Fair Visitor". They are waiting for you.

But St. Louis is no worse than other Exposition cities. The law of demand and supply works here as well as elsewhere. But travelers are expected to pay and if occasionally one meets with a reasonable charge it is as an oasis in the desert. FRANK L. HOOBS.

Hearts Courageous

HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES

Copyright, 1962, by THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

A scant 200 yards was all there was between the two boats when Armand sprang upon the wharf of Gladden Hall. "Leave me," she begged faintly, "and save yourself! You have yet time."
 "Give me your hand," he commanded peremptorily. He took it and led her, running up the sloping lawn.
 Its unkempt forlornness was softened by the kindly moonlight, and not until they reached the front of the house did its gray desolation become all at once apparent. The panes in the windows were broken, the white pinars battered, the front door swinging, the yard unsightly with rubbish.

"The deserted!" Despair was in his tone.
 "I told you that."
 "Are there no horses?"
 "The barns are burned. Leave me, leave me and go!"
 He hurried her to the front door, and they entered, hearing as they did so the larger boat bump the plank. Without a word he shot home the bolts in the great door and drew her into the dining room, now overscattered with broken crockery. He locked both doors of this room, smashed the sashes of the porch windows with a chair, brought together the heavy outer blinds and slid the bars. As he fastened the second the pursuers came tumbling to the porch. Anne, meantime, taking a clem from him, had managed to fasten one of the windows in the opposite side. He sprang to secure the other before the soldiers reached the back of the house.

This shut out the last of the moonlight, and the room became a black darkness. Outside was a delirious clamor, curses and shouts to fetch ship's lanterns and search the empty quarters for an ax. Anne could hear Armand's convulsive breathing.
 She had groped her way to the sideboard and opened its candle drawer. A tiny half inch candle, rewarded her. Flint and steel still hung in their accustomed place. She struck them and lighted the wick with trembling hands.

As she did so a heavy body came hurtling against the other side of the inner door. "Better give up, you wretch," panted a voice.
 Armand answered loudly, "If I do will you promise to let the lady go?"
 "No, no!" Anne besought in an agony. "You shall not give yourself up to them! They would not hold to such a promise."

With her cry, however, whirled a scuffle of curses. "We'll lay you by the heels and take the girl back, too, curse you!" And a rain of blows descended on the door, while a crash against one of the blinds shook the wall.
 Leaping back, Armand dragged out the heavy mahogany sideboard, now slashed and dented, and set it against one door. The other he re-enforced with the overturned table and bound this to its place with the twisted window curtains. Last, he wrenched an iron from the fireplace and stood waiting. At the same moment the candle end collapsed, the wick dropped, flickered and went out, and darkness fell around them again.

A lull had come in the attack. Evidently a consultation was being held. The blackness seemed to lie upon Anne's soul like a heavy weight, and Armand's silence became unbearable.
 "What shall we do?" she asked dubiously. "We cannot hold out for long."
 But there was no reply.

"I—I am so frightened," she said piteously. "Tis dark! Come to me, Louis!"
 She listened, but he made no stir. "You will not come to me, will not pity or comfort me?" she entreated through the void. "Yet tonight I tried to save your life!"

"For what end? You who took from it all that makes life sweet! I trusted you!" She shrank at the ring of scorn in his voice. "I trusted you!"
 "And I you," she answered. "I loved and hoped and trusted too. After they took you from here that evening, every night when I went to bed I said a prayer and kissed my poor hand to you 'in the dark. And I have done so every night since then—every night, Louis."
 Something like a sob sounded in the room, and she stretched out her arms toward it.

"I tried to keep my promise. You remember when they lashed the bond-woman? She woke with a crazed brain and the packet—your packet—was gone. All those months I searched and found it at last by chance. I did not get to Philadelphia with it till that morning."

There was no further answer, and she slipped on her knees, feeling a yearning that was like a poignant sickness.
 "You must hear," she went on pleading, clasping her fingers, "and believe me or my heart will break. Fate put me in the recess of the window at the Red Lion tavern, Louis. I saw Jar-jar give you the forged message—saw you fight and run him through. I knew you were true—true to your master's honor and your own."

"You accused me!" The words stung her. "Accused me to the Continentals!"
 "Listen! Listen to me!" she prayed desperately. "I must tell you it all now—now at the end. Jar-jar showed me the paper—the contract that bound you to give your life—your life! And I knew you would do it. Oh, what that meant! I would have given my own life a hundred times to prevent it. Can you think what it cost me to stand in that room and say that—that of you? Your face was dreadful! I thought I should die when you looked at me!"
 "No, no! Not that—I did not mean that, Louis! I had such little time to think—such small time to reason. I had only time to feel—to feel as a woman will, and to act. I had to defeat the contract to keep you from going back to the prison—to death. I thought I could clear you at the last. I who knew you were true, because I had the packet—the true message. Only I promised my soul that I should not speak within the month."

Her voice broke a little here, then went on in a sudden pathos of pleading. "What know we women of soldier's duty or soldier's honor—we who are cherished and toasted all our lives?"

WINE OF CARDUI

We know only to love, to follow—and—and—to save what we love in spite of all the world!"

There was a movement now, a step. "Then I took the packet, Louis, into the congress to Dr. Franklin that very hour, and I could not tell you what I had done—and you escaped them. I thought you had gone to your death. And you didn't know! You never know. Oh," she sobbed, "if you would only forgive me, only touch me, only lay your hand on my head!"

She heard a stumble, a smothered cry. The iron bar clanged against the floor. An arm, groping, trembling, touched her wet cheek.
 "My God! And I doubted you!" Armand's voice thrilled her in a great burst of grief-wound joy. "You gave the message? My darling, my darling!"

She felt herself caught up in his arms in the dark, shuddering, crying, panting incoherent phrases, kissing his face, his rough coat, his capote, struggling with fierce terror and ecstasy of love and feeling his passion strain and fold her. It seemed to her that all of life and death was concentrated in that one embrace—that nothing existed in the world but the delirium of that single sweet bitter moment.

A medley of shouts and ax blows on both of the doors at one time sent her into quick spasms of dread. A panel splintered, a shaft of light and an arm thrust in. Armand released her, struck once with the iron bar, and the man fell back, crying, with a broken arm.

"Shoot!" one shouted. "Are we to be bayed by this rat!"
 "Don't fire," came the response. The order was imperative.

The blows began again. Another panel crashed, and the holes let in more light. It fell upon Anne's pallid lips and showed her Armand's white sleeves and pale face, set, but calm. A blow struck the lock of the other door. It yielded, and the oak swung in against the stout sideboard.

Anne felt her limbs grow cold.
 "Lost! lost!" she murmured and leaned dumbly against the wainscoting. Suddenly a fusillade of musketry woke the echoes out of doors, and a crisp shout garnished it. "Fire out of that hall and lay down arms!"

There arose a saturnalia of revilement from the hall. Then, as it died, the voice asked, "What mean these active hostilities in a period of armistice?"

"Tis a sortle for an escaped prisoner," came the jarring mirth of Jar-jar. "Well, major, I think you will have need yourself for all the prisoners to be found here."

Anne had gone from one terror to another and bitter one. "The Continentals," she moaned.

ROOSEVELT ON FORESTRY

(By JNO. M. HORNER)

In an address delivered March 26, 1903, before the Society of American Foresters, a professional body, of which President Roosevelt is an associate member, he said: "I have felt that the meeting this evening was of such a character as not merely to warrant but to require that I should break through my custom of not going out to make speeches of this sort, for I believe that there is no body of men who have it in their power today to do a greater service to the country than those engaged in the scientific study of and practical application of approved methods of forestry for the preservation of the woods of the United States. . . . And now, first and foremost, you can never afford to forget for one moment what is the object of our forest policy. That object is not to preserve the forests because they are beautiful, though that is good in itself, nor because they are refuges for the wild creatures of the wilderness, though that, too, is good in itself; but the primary object of our forest policy, as of the land policy of the United States, is the making of prosperous homes. It is part of the traditional policy of home making of our country. Every other consideration comes as secondary. The whole effort of the Government in dealing with the forests must be directed to this end, keeping in view the fact that it is not only necessary to start the homes as prosperous, but to keep them so. That is why the forests have got to be kept. You can start a prosperous home by destroying the forest, but you cannot keep it prosperous that way. . . . You yourselves have got to keep this practical object before your mind: to remember that a forest which contributes nothing to the wealth, progress, or safety of the country is of no interest to the Government, and should be of little interest to the forester. Your attention must be directed to the preservation of the forests, not as an end in itself, but as a means of preserving and increasing the prosperity of the nation.

"Forestry is the preservation of forests by wise use. . . . keep before your minds that definition. Forestry does not mean abbreviating that use; it means making the forest useful not only to the settler, the rancher, the miner, the man who lives in the neighborhood, but, indirectly, to the man who may live hundreds of miles down the course of some great river which has had its rise among the forest-bearing mountains. . . . The very existence of lumbering, of course, and lumbering is the fourth great industry of the United States, depends upon the success of our work as a nation in putting practical forestry in to effective operation. . . . I believe that the foresters of the United States will create a more effective system of forestry than we have yet seen. . . . No where else is the development of a country more closely bound up with the creation and execution of a judicious forest policy. Not only is a sound national forest policy coming rapidly into being, but the lumbermen of the country are proving their interest in forestry by practicing it."

We don't feel obliged to apologize for having copied and reprinted so largely from our President's forestry speech, as it comes at this time as a voice of inspiration to at least the people of these islands, who are at this time quite excited over forestry production and forestry protection.

If the people of these islands will heed this wise counsel, we are fully convinced it will produce millions for our people and become home capital for working up a prosperity and a happiness that cannot come to us in any other way.

It may be true, the plan proposed for putting the President's wise counsel in motion on these islands is not the best, but the way is open for a better, if it can be produced. Certain it is, all details of the work are not yet complete.

Let us look at the working of the proposed plan and its reasonable and sure effects. If put in motion all native forest in reach of the people for fuel or lumber is opened for the grazing of stock. This will insure their safety from fire, until they can be cut away "for use," and reset with the more valuable tree for lumber and wood—the eucalypt, that will grow more in fifteen years than the native forest will grow in 100 years. This is not an imaginary statement but a positive fact. Kukui plantation and ranch have eucalypts growing at an elevation of 3,500 feet now nine years old, seventy-five feet high, one foot in diameter at the butt, growing beautifully straight, and tapering regularly to the top. It has young eucalypts thirty-five feet high grown from stumps cut three years ago. It has a grove of young ohas fifty-five years old, forty-five feet high, hardly large enough for a telegraph pole. These can all now be seen at Kukui, and is a valuable lesson for future guidance when growing forests "for use." If the growing of this young and more valuable forest is commenced in 1901, as it can and should be, and kept up until all the old native forests with their diseases and death-dealing insect pests are out of the way, and the young, healthy, rapid-growing and valuable eucalypt timber tree is growing on all the land where formerly stood the almost useless native forest. This new forest at the age of six years will yield telegraph poles; at the age of ten or twelve years piling, and after fifteen years' growth it may be worked up into lumber. To do this work saw mills must be erected wherever this new tree has been liberally planted. From that time on nine-tenths of all the lumber required for all purposes in these islands could be supplied from home-grown forests. From that time on the forests will grow faster than the lumber and fuel will be wanted. This case will solve the mystery of eating the cake and keeping it too, as by the time the old forest is out of the way under this program the young forest will be growing on all the forest land and the new set forest will be ready to work up into lumber, and by the time the new forest is cut over it will be ready to cut over again, as it grows rapidly from its stumps. You can use this valuable forest and still keep it.

The setting and working up these eucalypt forests into lumber and fuel and transporting them to market will give remunerative employment to many homesteaders and return a satisfactory income to freight carriers and forest owners, and retain in the country yearly the money now sent abroad for lumber, which must surely help business.

This Roosevelt policy of "growing forests for use" in these islands will not require the Territory to expend large sums of money to purchase the rights of settlers, renters, and owners of lands formerly desired for forest reserves, but may continue to collect rents and taxes from those now occupying these lands as homes, and perhaps a slight income from the wood of the old forests, and a comparatively large and continued income from the new forest as soon as it gets large enough for use.

If the people of these islands hearken to these wise practical suggestions of Teddy Roosevelt and adopt the method proposed for carrying them in to effect, they and their children will have cause to kindly and thankfully remember Teddy for all time for the blessings that will come to them by practically putting his wise forest suggestions into use, and the time to commence it is now, as everything is on hand to do it with, even practical foresters are here ready for the work; and procrastination is said to be the thief of time, and in this case the thief of other values as well as of time.

HO! MR. JOHN GREIG!

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Allow me a space in your valuable paper to respond to Mr. John Greig of Kailua, Hawaii, like a friend of good and clear conscience and not like an old enemy. I have, with care, noted his letter of the 13th of May, calling me lord of Kona, unfit for position, one that has no money, etc., and therefore I could not go to Chicago. He also mentioned about my cattle, hogs, rats, etc., and that the prominent people of the district have tried to get me removed from the office which I am holding, but failed. If Mr. Greig had sentimentally read my letter of the 26th April last, he would have known in a better light that I had two reasons for my objection to the carrying out of the system for delegates used by the Republican meeting held in Honolulu.

First—There being no delegate from the island of Hawaii.

Second—There should be among the delegates some pure Hawaiians, not half-caste, no matter who they might be, and this to me would be fair and just.

I have worked hard for it but when it failed, I did not cry after the spilled milk; there it ended. But afterward I found that a friend of mine unknown to me talked very much about my cattle and so forth.

I know that Mr. Greig is an old enemy of mine at law, and I may say he is a lawyer of one hundred years ago. Mr. G. F. Maydwell is an up-to-date attorney. Much useful information have I received from him, and I have very much appreciated him. In court he acts in a gentlemanly way, polite in his pleading, and I admired him; but not so with Mr. Greig; he is a "dolo." He spoke that I was not fit to be a deputy sheriff of North Kona. He tried to rip me out of the position, but dared not succeed; because all the complaints he charges against me are air-bubbles, scattered to the wind. Mr. Greig was the ring-leader, and a well-directed blow on his head will put him under control. I do not mean to say that I am like an angel, or one who possesses the learning of Solomon; but at any rate I have the knowing to see what is right and what is wrong, and I act upon sound reason and good common sense. The Honorable Frank A. Greenwell, who is a well-known Kamaaina of Kona, was a captain of police, and we have worked together for over a year and he resigned, having too much work on his own estate. The Greenwell family are well off and good people. Alex. Lindsay Jr., who is now Magistrate in Honolulu, was also a captain of police for over two years. We have worked together faithfully, and on account of his own business in the mercantile line which gave him too much to do, he also resigned. Both Greenwell and Lindsay will stand witnesses for all my doings, whether I am competent or incompetent in my position. And now, who is Mr. Greig? I cannot see him, for he is away off in the dark; although I thank him (Greig) for the honor he gave me by calling me his lord—lord of Kona. But I say, Johnny, I am a servant for all the rest of Kona. I was told by my white friends, and it may be true, that you, John, are very anxious to get my position as deputy sheriff of North Kona. Yes; you will make a pretty toy. You are a Home Ruler; go ahead, Johnny; that's all right; any old crank will do. I see, John, that you have very little water left in your tank; the dirt is rising to the surface. I do not know why you gave up the position as Second District Magistrate of North Kona. Why did you not hold on to it? It may be, perhaps, you were found incompetent, very little knowledge about law.

Now I let you off, John, to seek in the Home Rule party all you can find to profit you. I am a Republican for ten years past and still am a Republican today, a solid one that no sword can rip in twain. Therefore, John, do not brag, trespass not upon the right of others, and remember that all stars shine, but one shines more than the other. Aloha.

J. K. NAHALE.

TO PROVIDE FOR POOR.

Honolulu, Hawaii, May 11, 1904.
To the Public:
The last Legislature having failed to provide funds for the maintenance of the Government Dispensary or provide medicines or supplies therefor, and also having failed to provide for a Government physician for the District of Honolulu, the undersigned physicians have mutually agreed to render their services free of charge for the care of the indigent sick and helpless through the Dispensary until July 1st, 1905, or until the Legislature meets and otherwise provides.

The necessity of this step is disclosed by the fact of there having been 266 treatments at the dispensary and 62 outside visits in the month of April. There will be an increase of calls upon the dispensary. To meet expenses $125 per month will be required. We believe the object will appeal to the charitable and the funds be voluntarily forthcoming.

Contributions may be handed to the undersigned physicians, or forwarded to the President of the Board of Health.

ALLEGED ANARCHIST IS Brought To Honolulu TURNED OVER TO LIGURIA

Storace Amedeo, the alleged anarchist who deserted from the Liguria and was arrested in San Francisco, was brought to Honolulu a prisoner on the Sonoma in charge of Officer Woods, a United States Secret Service man. At the Oceanic wharf the prisoner was turned over to the officers of the Italian cruiser. On the trip down the alleged anarchist was not kept in irons or confined to his apartments, but was, however, under the eagle eye of Woods until he was turned over to the Italian officers.

San Francisco, May 26.—Storace Amedeo, deserter from the Italian cruiser Liguria, which was in this port last month, has been ordered deported from this country by United States Commissioner of Immigration Hart North, because from evidence gathered by the officials, it is believed that the sailor is an anarchist and therefore a menace to the peace, law and order of the nation.

A special board of inquiry met yesterday in the Commissioner's office to investigate Amedeo's case. He, with two other friends of anarchistic tendencies, were present. The sailor stoutly denied that he was a follower of the red flag, but claimed that he was so considered by certain Italian of the city because he had openly expressed his disapproval of all royalty and stated that he fervently hoped that some day Italy would become a republic.

From the inquiry held yesterday, however, some interesting facts were gleaned. It was learned that Amedeo is an expert in all that pertains to the manufacture, handling and treatment of explosives, and is therefore a valuable man to the royal Italian navy.

He arrived in this port on the cruiser Liguria on April 23d and soon thereafter deserted. He was met by another ex-member of the Italian navy, who had deserted some three months before. This man directed him to the home of Arturo Rossi. As soon as he became acquainted in the domicile of the latter, he was given pamphlets and other reading matter containing the precepts and doctrines of anarchy and advocating the abolishment of all laws.

Soon Amedeo was introduced to Cesare Crespi, who edits and publishes an Italian paper in this city. Both Rossi and Crespi have long been accused by certain Italian residents here of being anarchists, and during the recent visit of the President both men were kept under strict surveillance by the secret service men and the police.

During the investigation yesterday Amedeo was asked the following questions by Commissioner North:

"If Mr. Rossi asked you to manufacture a bomb or an infernal machine would you do so?"
