KUHO HERE TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN

Party Arrives from Hawaii Declaring Absolute Confidence in Results

Expressing absolute confidence that Delegate Kuhio will sweep Maui and Hawaii by a considerably larger majority over Link McCandless than two years ago, Territorial Chairman R. W. Shingle, the Rev. S. L. Desha, W. T. Rawlins, and the delegate himself arrived this morning on the Mauna Loa from Hawaii, to wind up the Republican campaign with meetings on this island.

No such enthusiasm has been displayed for years as was in evidence on this trip, according to the campaigners. Desha declared this morning that the prince will run far ahead of his vote of two years ago. Making allowance for all the party enthusiasm and natural exaggeration, it is quite evident that the prince and his party feel entirely confident of the results of the election so far as the outside islands are concerned.

"Wherever I held meetings," said Kuhio after his return today, "I found the people, especially the Hawaiians, very much interested in my remarks and particularly with reference to governmental affairs here at home."

Before boarding the Mauna Loa at Kailua, the prince was requested by the people to Kailua to speak to them, and he made a brief address at the boat-landing. Judge J. K. A. Kauai kou presided.

R. W. Shingle, chairman of the Territorial central committee, is happy over the results of the trip and very glad that the prince's illness was of short duration and he was able to finish his trip.

"You may say for me and for the party that the prince will get an enormous vote on Maui and Hawaii," declared Shingle this morning. "He is an overwhelming favorite. That Hilo meeting was a revelation."

Desha says that the outcome of the fight for the delegateship is already settled in the prince's favor so far as the outside islands are concerned. "He will get a bigger vote than ever before," prophesied the Hilo orator.

Desha says that Kuhio's illness, though short, was serious. "When he got to Hilo he was so weak he had to be helped to a car and taken to my home, and for two or three nights his condition was serious. However, he mended rapidly and was able to finish his trip in good shape."

Kuhio may make two speeches tonight at Republican meetings, one at Luso and Punchbowl streets, and the other at Waipahu at the big G. O. P. rally there.

CHILD DROWNS IN ABANDONED WELL

Falling into an abandoned well located on Sheridan street the little six year old Chinese girl named Ah Lum met death through drowning about seven o'clock last evening.

Coroner Charles Rose today empaneled a jury who held an inquiry concerning the demise of the little one.

According to the story related to the officers, the little Chinese girl residing with her parents in a tenement on Sheridan street was last seen playing with a small brother and a sister, near the home, shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon. At six o'clock the two children returned home and reported to their parents that the little girl could not be found. A search was immediately instituted while the neighbors summoned the police.

After about one hour spent in making diligent inquiries, the mother looked down into the well. Using a long pole, she reached down into the water, and her quest was rewarded by the sight of the body of the child that had just arisen to the surface.

Coroner Rose took charge of the remains pending the inquest.

ROOSEVELT'S SHOOTING IS VOTE-GETTER

Washington Observers Realize Sudden Veering of Sentiment Toward Colonel

BY C. S. ALBERT.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—The attempted assassination of Col. Theodore Roosevelt has added many thousands of votes to the number he will receive November 5. Sentiment and sympathy caused an immediate tide-turning in his direction. The undecided and those easily influenced by the dramatic and spectacular leap from the fence and espoused the Bull Moose cause.

Politicians of all factions frankly admit that the Roosevelt vote has been enormously increased because of the attack made upon him in Milwaukee. His friends and managers declare the drift toward him will be sufficient to achieve his election. This conclusion is disputed by the Republicans and Democrats. No conservative man really thinks Col. Roosevelt can be elected, even with the material aid afforded by the physical assault upon him.

That the effect of the shooting of Col. Roosevelt is going to increase his vote enormously is admitted by politicians of every stripe. The friends of the colonel are predicting it will result in his election. His enemies are not denying that it has given an impetus to his cause the strength of which they cannot fathom and which it will require the casting of the ballots November 5 to calculate.

Not merely is it the talk in Wash-

DELEGATE PUTS BAN ON HIS PAINTED LIKENESS

Canvas Sign on Fort Street Must Come Down, Is Kuhio's Ultimatum

Delegate Kuhio took just one look this morning at the gaudy, painted canvas hanging above the First National Bank entrance, portraying an alleged likeness of himself and of Col. Sam Parker and carrying the names of the various Republican nominees. The delegate had arrived from his trip to Maui and Hawaii and that was the first intimation he had of the presence of the campaign portrait.

"Cut down that portrait or I will have my men go there and cut it down," was what the prince said after taking that first look.

Angry! The prince resembled anything but the placid individual who strolls from his office in the Kapiolani block down toward the spot where congenial spirits are wont to congregate in the afternoon. He was sore

SELF-DEFENSE THEORY TRIED IN HENRIQUES MURDER CASE

In an effort to establish a theory of self-defense for John Gomes Henriques, now on trial before Circuit Judge Whitney on a charge of first-degree murder, the prisoner's counsel this morning introduced Dr. H. L. Ross, of South Kona, who was called to the scene of the fracas at Napo-poo, Hawaii, between the Henriques family and the Japanese to attend the wounded combatants.

He testified that a knife wound received by Jose Henriques, father of enough to climb up a telephone pole and pull down the canvas himself. His ultimatum is that the individuals responsible for the enormity in the name of campaign art must get the painted child of a misguided fancy down as quickly as possible or he, Kuhio, will start something.

Walter Doyle, the smiling publicity agent of the Republican organization, pleads not guilty, but there are those in the secret who say that Doyle has been quite proud of the idea and some have even accused him of painting the two portraits.

At any rate, it looks as if the sign, which has become quite an attraction to tourists in the past week, will have to come down. In that case, the county attorney's office will have no more of the visitors who climb the stairs and want to buy their way into what they suppose it is a side-show with a couple of eat-em-alives rattling their chains—all for a dime, ten cents, the twentieth part of a dollar.

CAPT. BERGER DECORATED BY HIS EMPEROR

Service-Cross Given Bandmaster for Long Work in His Adopted Country

Capt. Henry Berger, veteran bandmaster and maker of music in Hawaii for four decades, has been decorated by Emperor Wilhelm with the gold service-cross that is one of the most prized of the German decorations. The news of the honor has reached the German consulate here, and announcement saying:

"It has pleased His Imperial and Royal Majesty the German Emperor, by edict, dated September 12, 1912, to confer the Gold Service-Cross upon the bandmaster, Heinrich Berger, of Honolulu."

Capt. Berger is now upon an extended leave of absence from Hawaii. He has been visiting in Germany and Europe and will return here by the first of December, when his leave expires. He has been honored because of distinguished service to his adopted country, the United States, of which he has been a subject since the days when Hawaii became a territory.

Capt. Berger's friends here are deeply pleased with the honor conferred upon him by the German Emperor and will welcome him home in a few weeks.

Captain Berger entered the Prussian Second Foot Guards at Potsdam, Berlin, on December 1, 1862, as a musician, and saw active service during the Austrian war of 1866, and the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-1871. He came to Honolulu in 1872 on a five-years' leave of absence and detailed to organize a military band for the Hawaiian king. He returned to Berlin before the five years were up and re-entered the Prussian service, but was immediately called back by the Hawaiian government and took his discharge from the German army, applying for and acquiring Hawaiian citizenship soon after.

He has been celebrating this year his fortieth anniversary as leader of the Hawaiian Band, and on October 1 last, that of his entering the Prussian army fifty years ago. The decoration was given him for his faithful and efficient services, both to his fatherland and to his adopted country.

TAX ASSESSOR UNDER FIRE ON MAHUKA FIGURES

Deputy Tax Assessor A. W. Neely, who testified yesterday in Federal court that he valued the Office Supply Company site at $37,775 in December, 1910, on cross examination this morning by Attorney Olson admitted he had assessed the same property at $22,000 in January, 1911, a month later than the date selected for his original figure. He further testified that on January 1 of the present year he had assessed the property at $39,600. Tax Assessor C. T. Wilder this morning made an estimate of the same site, setting his figure at $32,355. J. M. Dowsett today was called to the witness stand in the Mahuka site case to give facts concerning the sale of portions of the property, and asserted that in January, 1908 a one-ninth interest had been sold at public auction for $3,000. He told of two later sales of other shares of the property, which he said went for still higher prices proportionately, due to the fact the real estate values were advancing that year.

DRASTIC AUTO ORDINANCE NOT TO BE PRESSED

Supervisor Murray will probably withdraw the Fort street automobile ordinance at tonight's meeting of the board. Instead of the ordinance a resolution is likely to be adopted setting a time limit on automobiles on Fort and other streets in the business section. Mr. Murray said as much as the foregoing indicates in a talk with a Star-Bulletin reporter this afternoon. "There was a meeting of the police committee yesterday," he stated, "which Deputy County Attorney Milverton and E. C. Peters, attorney for the merchants, attended, when a compromise was practically agreed on making a time limit for Fort street instead of forbidding autos to stand there at all. "Then Mr. Milverton gave the opinion that the object might be gained by a regulation under the old law relating to the reasonable use of the streets. "This would practically put it up to the police department to prevent the abuse complained of, and the board will back the department up with a resolution setting a time limit. "It is proposed to make a time limit of fifteen minutes for autos to stand on Fort street, also on Hotel street between Bishop and Bethel streets, and a time limit of thirty minutes for the section between Nuanu and Alakea streets and between Beretania and Queen streets, outside of Fort street."

down, completely covering the track and thus blocking traffic. The trouble occurred during the night and as the result the passenger trains ran to each side of the obstruction and the occupants of the cars walked around and took the train on the opposite side. The obstructions were cleared away shortly after noon and the regular schedule resumed.

CUSTOMS OFFICER INJURED IN SEARCH FOR DOPE ON CHIYO MARU

The careful inspection of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Chiyo Maru by the attendant search of the big steamer for contraband opium during the stay at this port, was completed with disastrous results before the vessel resumed the voyage to San Francisco.

John K. Bunker, a member of the inspectors' staff, connected with the United States Customs service, was victim of a fall from a lower deck through an open hatchway, with the result that he was hastily removed to the hospital where he was given prompt medical attention.

The Chiyo Maru was given a careful going over by a large delegation of Federal officers. It was near the close of the quest for dope that Bunker was seen to slip backward, and before he could catch himself had fallen through the opening to the deck below. In dropping this distance, the young officer was seriously bruised, besides suffering a broken leg. His injuries included the severing of several arteries and tendons which caused a considerable loss of blood. The wounds will prove very painful and will result in Bunker's being laid up for some time to come.

A few lay-over passengers joined the vessel at this port. The Chiyo Maru was dispatched for San Francisco at ten o'clock this morning, following the discharge of over one thousand tons cargo forwarded to this port from China and Japan.

The Chiyo Maru shows little effects of a succession of bad weather encountered shortly after the liner steamed from Yokohama for Honolulu. Before the Chiyo Maru sailed for the mainland this morning, a large consignment of mail intended for the coast was placed aboard by the local postal officials.

Inter-Island Vessels Meet Bad Weather

Several inter-island steamers arriving from Hawaii and Maui ports today encountered heavy weather in crossing the channels. The Helene from Kukuhae, Honokaa, Paauhau and Kawaihae brings 35 head cattle, a quantity of milling machinery for repairs and empty bottles and gasoline drums. Along the coast the Helene fell in with light trades and fair seas.

The Likie from Lahaina is another arrival but brought no freight for Honolulu. In crossing the channels the Likie experienced some heavy seas.

A moderate east wind and a choppy sea was encountered by the steamer Mauna Kea in returning from Hilo and the way ports. This vessel brought a very small list of passengers as well as freight. Purser Phillips reports the steamer Claudine, Kailua and Konaub at Hilo; the Kauai towing the schooner Spokane to sea while the steamer Maui was passed off Paopao.

Hilo Shipping

Hilo still presents a busy aspect as far as shipping is concerned. Purser Phillips in the steamer Mauna Kea reports the American-Hawaiian freighter as awaiting an opportunity of taking an additional cargo of sugar and pineapples destined for the mainland. Rough weather has caused considerable delay in the securing of lighterage. The American schooner Spokane was standing off port awaiting a favorable wind in which to proceed to sea and the Sound. The bark Nyanu was awaiting the re-shipment of a cargo of hardwood railway ties. This vessel may remain at the port for a week or ten days before receiving the allotment of material. The schooner Tanager was being discharged at lumber at the railway wharf, while the schooner Okanagan and the barkentine Kikist each loaded with Puget Sound lumber were awaiting a berth at the long wharf.

Captain Dempwolf Gets Largest Command

The largest vessel in the Hamburg-American service will soon go into commission with the completion of the big Europa, and Captain Christian Dempwolf, well known at Honolulu as master of the Cleveland is slated to preside over the navigation bridge on the steamship. Captain Dempwolf has made four visits here while in command of the German excursion steamer Cleveland. Captain Dempwolf has been stationed at the building works as the company's expert, and will supervise the construction of many features of the new giant of the sea. As a result of the promotion when the Cleveland arrives in port in January on the fifth voyage around the world, Captain Dempwolf will not be in command.

Photographs of Dacre Castle Wreck Brought to Honolulu

Remarkable Pictures Show How Vessel Broke in Two Pieces

With the massive hull cracked from rail to keel, the British freighter Dacre Castle lies at the entrance of Keelung harbor, island of Formosa, a sad and hopeless wreck, according to reports and photographs received at Honolulu with the arrival of the Japanese liner Chiyo Maru, which vessel was in the Far Eastern waters at the time a disastrous typhoon of unusual violence visited the coast of Formosa and Japan.

According to the story of the disaster brought by the Chiyo Maru, the Dacre Castle was a victim of a storm that swept the harbor on the night of September 15th. The Dacre Castle was moored at a buoy in Keelung harbor near a spot where trans-Pacific liners anchor to take on extensive cargoes of tea.

It is claimed that all attempts to hold the freighter to her anchorage failed, and, the lines parting, the vessel was sent to sea, the master believing that he could negotiate the narrow entrance to the harbor and make for the open sea. This attempt proved unsuccessful.

A huge sea then lifted the Dacre Castle on to a submerged rock in a cove immediately inside and west of the harbor entrance. She struck the rock amidships, and with such force that the hull was cracked from rail to keel. The flood of sea water which rushed into the ship burst all the steam pipes and destroyed the valves. The broken-backed Dacre Castle is still in the same position, lying on the rock with her midships about six feet higher than the bow and stern. There are about six fathoms of water under her bow and the forepart of the ship is articulating like a joint with the stern.

At the time the Chiyo Maru called there, the Dacre Castle officers were standing by the vessel while the crew of Lancans were housed ashore. It was expected that the vessel then resting on a pinnacle of rock would slip off and go to the bottom before the next storm. The statement was also made at that time that the cargo in two hatches remains undamaged, but this story was seriously questioned by those who had visited the wrecked vessel.

At the time of disaster a Japanese war vessel was riding at anchor at Keelung harbor. It is said that this steamer failed to render assistance when the Dacre Castle was in searchlight upon the distressed freighter. Keelung supplies a large amount of tea forwarded to the United States in Pacific Mail liners, and vessels in the trans-Pacific service have of late been making frequent calls at the only port of importance on the island of Formosa.

CORNELL ITEMS SAY HARRIS IS OF INTEREST LOCALLY SORE BECAUSE HE MISSED JOB

The Ithaca Journal.
"The Ithaca Club of Cornell" is the name given to a new club recently organized. The purpose of the organization is to aid men coming from the Hawaiian Islands and to secure publicity for these too little known possessions of the United States. It will work in conjunction with the Cornell Club of Hawaii, which has headquarters at Honolulu in interesting prospective students in Cornell.
Walter G. Smith, '82, official lecturer of the Chamber of Commerce of the Hawaiian Islands, has been secured by the club to deliver an address here in the near future. At the organization meeting the following temporary officers were elected: David Townsend, '14, president; R. W. Hendry, '14, secretary.

Mr. George H. Rockwell, who spent the past summer in Honolulu, as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Lieutenant Pratt, has recently been elected Life Secretary of the class of 1912, Cornell University. At the same election Mr. Albert Horner, Jr., of Hawaii, was elected memorial orator of the class. These are not the only college honors that have been won by these men. Mr. Rockwell being the manager of the basketball team, and Mr. Turner the leader of the glee club.

Holds Track Championship.

Cornell now holds the Chinese track championship of America, if not of the world. It was won at the eighth annual conference of the Chinese Students Alliance, held at Williamstown, Mass., in the week of August 26. In the track and field meet Cornell men captured eight first places and tied for another. Ten Chow, '15, of Shanghai, made the largest number of points, and won a silver cup. The Cornell men earned their victory, for they had trained faithfully for several weeks at Ferry Field.

Their most spectacular victory, was on the cinder path, where they took first place in every event from the hundred yards to the two miles, winning a silver cup, breaking three of their records, and scoring fifty points against twenty-five for Yale, their nearest competitors. K. Y. Chan, '12, won the tennis championship and another silver cup. And it was not only in athletics that they shone. K. S. Lee, '18, won the first prize in English oratory and S. Hu, '14, won the second prize in Chinese oratory. The interesting thing in these contests is that these students from the other side of the world ally themselves so enthusiastically with the university of their selection. Cornell is their alma mater, and in their loyalty they afford a pattern for some Americans. There were 161 students at the conference, and the delegation from Ithaca, numbering twenty-one, was the largest. — The Cornell Alumni News.

No fewer than 145 freshmen have registered for the crew at Cornell. Some sixty freshmen are trying for the class football team.

The senior class at Cornell has elected as its president John Paul Jones, holder of the world's amateur mile record of 4:15.25.

HAMAOKU TOLD OF BODY ILLS

In a number of letters penned but a few hours before stricken by death on board the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Chiyo Maru, Joseph A. Hamaoku makes abundant reference to bodily ills from which he believed were of sufficient seriousness to warrant his taking his life.

Frank Archer, of Pearl City, was steamer to Hamaoku, who took carbolic acid with suicidal intent just as the Japanese steamer bearing him home after a five months' tour of Japan swung at anchor at quarantine, awaiting pratique from the medical officers.

Letters received by W. O. Smith, Frank Archer, Captain Woodus Green, master of the vessel and a missionary directed to the brother all contained veiled references to sickness and disease, which apparently had made considerable progress during the time Hamaoku was absent from the Territory.

The young man was far from being penniless upon his arrival here, according to statements made at the inquest conducted by Coroner Charles Rose yesterday afternoon.

Hamaoku possessed investments in charge of the Guardian Trust Company, and he had cabled to W. O. Smith for funds before leaving Japan. On arrival here the young man would not have suffered through want of funds to carry him through.

In his letters left as a last reminder to his friends and relatives, the suicide declared that he had become tired of living under the shadow of continued illness.

His tour of Japan would indicate that having suicide in mind more or less constantly, he spent his money in lavish and reckless manner, with the result that upon his arrival here he was practically without funds.

The ever-present fear of facing the quarantine medical officers at inspection is believed to have been the direct cause of Hamaoku taking his life at the very last moment.

Frank Archer took charge of the remains today.

received the stab before the shoals were fired by his son, killing Oyama and wounding Matsumura; also that Matsumura was the man who inflicted the knife wound. In this manner an effort is to be made to show that the Japanese opened hostilities and compelled John Henriques to fire in defending himself and his father.

Deputy County Attorney W. H. Heen in his cross-examination of Dr. Ross endeavored to prove that the knife wound might have been self-inflicted. The witness replied that it was "possible, but highly improbable." The hearing probably will come to an end the latter part of the present week.

HARBOR NOTES

Lumber destined for Honolulu has left Wailapa Harbor in the American schooner Repeat. The vessel left the Sound on last Saturday.

A cable received at this city announced the departure of the Pacific Mail liner Nile from Yokohama for Honolulu on October 26th.

The American tanker Marion Chitt made the passage from Honolulu to San Francisco in seventeen days, the vessel arriving at the California port yesterday.

Covering the distance between Honolulu and Grays Harbor in nineteen days the American schooner Mary E. Foster has arrived to take on additional cargo for the Hawaiian islands.

Now is a splendid time to have those pictures taken.

Before the holiday rush begins we can take plenty of time to get acquainted and bring out your best points.

Also—we have some interesting things in new style mountings.

MRS. BLUETT DIES FOLLOWING OPERATION

Mrs. Mary Alice Bluett died at the Pacific Sanitarium shortly after eleven o'clock last evening, death being due to heart paralysis following an operation both in Honolulu and throughout the Clemente Church at four o'clock this afternoon, and the remains will be taken to Kohala tomorrow on the Mauna Kea.

Mrs. Bluett was the wife of P. W. P. Bluett, manager of the Kohala Ditch Company and was well known both in Honolulu and throughout the Territory. She was a niece of Col. Sam Parker and leaves a large number of relatives. Besides those named she leaves a daughter, less than two years old and several brothers and sisters. Her brothers are Frank, Samuel, and Palmer Woods, and a half brother, Charles K. Sullivan, and four sisters, Mrs. H. P. Beckley, Mrs. Walter Ackerman, and the Misses Berle and Maud Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Bluett had been married nine years.

The Clarion's Hotel street window is one of the most attractive in the city. Look at it and make a suggestion to the proprietor, if you can offer where he practiced before the U. S. an improvement in the arrangement.

ARTILLERY WILL HOLD PRACTICE

Tomorrow the First Field Artillery will hold target practice for the inspector general, Major McManus, and with the test the inspection of the entire Department of Hawaii will have been completed. Since coming here three weeks ago Major McManus has inspected the materiel, accounts and personnel of the coast artillery, engineers and of the mobile army, both in garrison and in the field, and the actual firing of the field artillery will wind up a fine-tooth combing of Oahu's soldiery.

Target practice for the field artillery comes nearer to actual service conditions than the firing tests of any other branch of the service. The artillerymen must fire at unknown targets and unknown ranges, it being the duty of the battery officers to go into action, locate the target, get the range and open fire within a given time. It is the hardest kind of a test, and comparing it with conditions of actual warfare, the fact that they are not under fire themselves is somewhat offset by the fact that there is no movement of the targets, and that in the case of a real engagement the enemy would in some way expose himself and help locate his position.

The firing tomorrow is scheduled for 7 a. m. General Macomb, Major McManus and Lieutenant Andrews, aide, will motor out to Schofield to witness it.

Word has been received here that Major E. Winslow, corps of engineers, formerly stationed here, has received his lieutenant colonelcy.

The U. S. S. Supply, station ship at Guam, is expected to arrive here this evening, en route from San Francisco to her home port. The Supply passed through here several months ago, bound for Mare Island navy yard to undergo boiler repairs. The ship is bringing back the members of the Honolulu marine corps rifle team that competed at Bremerton last month. The Supply will take on 550 tons of coal at this port.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The noonday lunch for the employed boys about town still continues to be a popular new feature. There is an average of between twelve and fifteen boys there every noon and for ten cents they get a first-class lunch, of which a generous cut of pie is a big factor. Chef Cross and pantryman Johnson are planning to introduce some hot dishes as soon as "Spider" Larimer can be engaged to rush the eats up from the cafeteria. The little cafe was not introduced as a money-maker but as an accommodation, the food being sold to those who patronize it at cost price.

One person only said that Christians should not take part in politics. He said that he did not vote himself and that it was his opinion that Christians should not concern themselves with things on this earth. His views, however, could find no support. Other speakers held that if Christians refrained from going into politics that they would have no right to criticize the laws and form of government given them by those who were in politics.

Now that the bowling tournament is under way, the pool enthusiasts are planning to hold a meet of their own. Next Thursday night at seven o'clock there will be a meeting of all members who are interested, at which time plans and arrangements for the tournament will be outlined.

RICE IS NOW CERAMIC EXPERT

As "ceramic expert" B. W. Rice, who some two years ago was well known in Honolulu as a promoter, and who was identified with the establishment of a lava brick industry, has blossomed out in Manila, Philippine Islands, as the organizer of the Philippine Brick and Product Company.

Rice has but recently returned from a whirlwind tour of the busy marts of trade along the China and Japan coast. According to the Manila press which heralded the approach of Promoter Rice with much journalistic fanfare, the ceramic expert went to China to secure figures on machinery and boilers for the new brick plant and also with the idea of looking over the field with the view of locating a plant in China when conditions are more settled.

Mr. Rice reports political conditions to be quiet. The southern Chinese, however, are entering serious complaints against their lack of representation in the executive councils of the new republic and he believes from his survey of the matter that if this desired representation is not given the Cantonese and southern Chinese they will throw off their allegiance to the new government and form the republic of South China. Mr. Rice states that the feeling is so strong in the matter that it is anticipated action will be taken not later than the first of the month unless their demands are met.

Regarding the Mahila plant for the brick company Mr. Rice stated that it would be rushed to an early completion. The funds necessary are entirely pledged. It is expected that some 200 men will be employed continuously. The company has offices over the American Drug Store, where all business is now being transacted.

WATCH OUT FOR MOSQUITOES

Following the recent heavy rains the health authorities have issued warning against the mosquito, cautioning all householders to exercise more than ordinary vigilance in preventive measures.

All householders are advised to make frequent examination of their premises, seeing that all possible mosquito-breeding places be eliminated, all standing pools either drained or sprinkled with oil, all tin cans, buckets, tubs or other vessels be emptied frequently of stale water, and garbage collected and disposed of.

The season of greatest danger from disease carrying insects approaches with the heavy, continuous rains when live vegetation attains a rank growth, and dead vegetation, soaked continually, decays rapidly. Back yards, alleys, and vacant lots should be watched closely, and close cooperation with the health and mosquito inspectors is urged.

ington that the strength of Colonel Roosevelt is going to be greatly increased by the murderous occurrence at Milwaukee, by the cool manner in which the Colonel faced danger, and by the sympathy and admiration thus stirred. It is the talk all over the country. From Chicago, the word comes that there has been a violent shift in sentiment and that great numbers of voters have been thrown into the Roosevelt camp. Doubtful voters in great numbers are said to have been decided for him.

row Wilson. Apparently nothing could shake their assumption. Now these same leaders are anxious and worried over what is going to happen. They still insist this will not materially affect Wilson's chances. But they look back over past political campaigns and discern how often it has happened that a political battle won by them in August has been lost in October. They are wondering whether this is to happen again.

Wise politicians here take the view that the shooting of Colonel Roosevelt is going to throw to him an enormous vote from young men, from men of the type that admire a leader who can brave death calmly and pluckily.

It has been apparent all along that many persons who ordinarily would vote the Socialist ticket this fall as a matter of protest would turn to the Bull Moose party. In fact, the Socialist leaders themselves estimate they will lose 300,000 votes to Roosevelt. But now comes the wounding of Roosevelt by a man who great numbers of people have read is a Socialist. It does not appear he is one in fact, or that there is any particular reason for connecting the Socialists with the affair. Still, it is likely to cost the Socialists votes and throw a still larger number of votes from the Socialists to the colonel.

Mudslinging Ceases.

Political mudslinging ceased with the attack on Col. Roosevelt. John M. Harlan and J. Adam Bede, who were trailing the colonel and abusing him without limit, were immediately called in by the Republican campaign managers.

Governor Wilson, who has also shed some pretty live bricks at the colonel, promptly announced that he would make no more stump speeches until the recovery of his opponent. He would simply fill in immediate dates that could not be cancelled and then retire.

President Taft wired messages of regret and sympathy to the Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt. He will more rigidly adhere to his program of making no extended system of speeches. The bitterness and recrimination of the campaign will be eliminated. The number of stumpers will be lessened. Cold water has been thrown on the fireworks of the contest and hereafter it will be tame and insipid.

Governor Wilson is admittedly in the lead for election November 5, with Mr. Taft daily gaining upon him. Regular Republicans are returning to the fold in large numbers and even third termism is waning. The only question at issue, as heretofore, is whether Mr. Taft can make such progress as will prevent Wilson from having a controlling majority on the decisive day.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

MANUFACTURER SMITH — This talk of tariff reduction is all nonsense. Two years ago there was a great hue and cry about the tariff on leather and Congress took the tariff off sole leather. There has been no reduction in the cost of shoes to the consumer that anyone knows of. We will all admit, however, that soles are always at the bottom.

W. R. FARRINGTON — Republican leaders had ample warning that no dependence could be placed in the reliability of W. W. Harris. MULLER HANDED A BAD BARGAIN

It was a mighty bad bargain that fell to the lot of William Muller, who the other day was induced to purchase a collection of clothing easily valued at $25.00 for a paltry $4.00.

In addition to losing the raincoat through due process of law, Muller has been mulcted to the tune of $50.00 and besides all this will have to remain at Hotel Ash for twenty-four hours, there to meditate on the snares and pitfalls laid for the unwary bargain hunter.

Muller was charged and convicted at District Court this morning of receiving stolen property. The clothing that he secured at such ruinous prices appears to have been purloined from a Chinese tailor. According to the story told the police the clothes were removed from the tailor shop by a small youngster who is now doing time at the Territorial reform school. The lad approached Muller and finally persuaded him to give four dollars for the new outfit. Later, Muller was pointed out by the Chinese as wearing the apparel that came from their establishment and for which no compensation had been received.

SUGAR STOCKS SHOW STEADINESS

There were two declines in sugar stocks, but neither of them from yesterday, on the stock sheet today. All of the stocks having sale quotations of yesterday's date held their own. Waialua showed some activity unchanged at 110.25 shares having been sold between boards and 65 in eight unequal lots on the board. Oahu maintained 25.87 1/2 in recess for 10 and 40 shares. Hawaiian Sugar gained a quarter point in sales of 40 shares in recess and 5 at session. The price being 41.25. Ewa is unchanged at 28.25 for 10 shares reported. Waimea holds 200 for 10 shares reported. Pioneer sold down one-half point on the board to 30.50 for 20 shares. Hawaiian Commercial shaded down an eighth to 39.87 1/2 for 5 shares. Honolulu is unchanged at 4.35 for 5 shares. Pahang Rubber sold down five-eighths to 18.37 1/2 for two lots of 5 shares each.

PLUMMER GETS PATENT ON ROUGH WATER DRILL

Mr. H. G. Plummer of the Hawaiian Dredging Company made possible the dredging of Pearl Harbor channel, or at least solved one of the most difficult problems of that big contract.

The last mail from Washington brought to Mr. Plummer through Mr. Pratt of the Honolulu Iron Works a patent granted for Mr. Plummer's "apparatus for drilling in rough water." This is the scheme thought out by Mr. Plummer to overcome the difficulties within the rough waters of the Pearl Harbor channel. The technical details of the patent are not understood only by a technical man. The average man understands that drilling for dredging in rough water is well nigh impossible, or has been in times past. Mr. Plummer's device was so thoroughly new that the patent was very quickly granted, there being no clash with other attempts to solve the same problem.

Arguments in the appeal of the Waialua Sugar company from the decision of the tax appeal will be heard in the supreme court at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Democratic voters in the First precinct of the Fourth-district will gather at Aliiolani school tomorrow evening at which time action will be taken toward the endorsement of candidates for supervisor to represent that district.

WHERE DEMOCRACY WILL STAND ON PROTECTION

On one point at least in the territorial campaign there should be no division of opinion among thinking men; the election of a Democrat to Congress will put Hawaii in the Democratic camp so far as tariff revision is concerned.

Raucous-voiced stump speakers here have repeatedly assailed this paper because the Star-Bulletin pointed out the above fact, and as repeatedly they have stated that the national Democratic policy is for protection of legitimate industry from harmful tariff revision.

McCandless, Democratic candidate, admits that a serious cut of the sugar tariff will be disastrous to Hawaii. His argument, however, has been that a Democratic victory in the national campaign will not impose upon the party the necessity for radical tariff revision.

Here is an answer to that argument, and from one of McCandless's own party leaders, Col. George Harvey. Col. Harvey says, in Harper's Weekly for October 12:

The Charlotte (N. C.) Observer is nowadays a protectionist paper. Possibly we ought to add "Democratic" to the characterization, but the combination of Democratic and protectionist is something we could never quite understand. As to the protectionism, here is an instance from a recent editorial:

"If it is a fault of Simmons (Senator Simmons of North Carolina, a candidate for re-election) to have helped his own people and to have stood up for the south when the tariff was being made, then it is a mighty good fault for a southern senator to have... Why should not the southern people have the benefit of the tariff which is to be laid?"

We will not stop to inquire whether the southern people are all protected manufacturers and none of them consumers; we merely wish to point out what will happen to the Democratic party, even should it carry the presidency and both houses of Congress, if many of its senators continue to display the "good fault" of Senator Simmons. That was precisely the "good fault" of the gentlemen who wrecked the party's program under Cleveland. The Observer can be sure that not a single protected interest in the country will make the slightest complaint if senators only "stand up" for their sections as it wants Senator Simmons to stand up for his. That is all any protectionist wants, and it is all the protectionist law will be amply and defiantly protectionist, that the consumers will be neglected, that the robbery will continue.

Permit us to recall and to reiterate a prediction: If the Democrats carry the country and, nevertheless, come to grief, they will come to grief precisely as they did before—in the same place and in the same way. They will be undone in the senate, and by a handful of men whom they themselves will have sent there.

It is very possible that McCandless doesn't know who Col. Harvey is, and we might explain that he is the editor of Harper's Weekly and a man who stands as prominently in Democracy as Col. Henry Watterson of Louisville.

And here is this great Democrat openly, boldly, emphatically declaring that the Democratic party will wreck itself, if elected in November, should it try to combine Democracy and protectionism!

Is that an answer to the Democratic stump-speakers in Hawaii who are trying to make the people believe their party on the mainland is not making its campaign on tariff-revision arguments?

ROOSEVELT AND THE RECALL

Col. Roosevelt's stand on the judicial recall has been a little vague since the speech in which he was universally quoted as advocating the recall of judges and immediately turned around and said that what he meant was the recall of judicial decisions by vote of the people. In a recent speech Roosevelt went so far as to suggest that he would favor the recall of the president himself. The following is one of the most concise statements on this subject which he has made. It was delivered in a speech at Denver:

"As far as I am concerned," he said, "I should be glad to have the recall for the president. It is not in the progressive platform, and this is merely an expression of my personal feeling. My own experience was that I could do nothing as president except that the people were hearty with me. The minute I ceased to have them with me, whether it was my fault or theirs, I ceased to have power."

"Under such conditions I would prefer to leave the presidency, unless in fair, open fighting on the stump I could bring the people around to my way of thinking; such a course I think would be to my advantage and to theirs."

"As to the number of nonconsecutive terms a president might have, every argument in favor of any limitation of the terms of the president can refer only to consecutive terms. Any third term talk which refers to nonconsecutive terms is an utter absurdity."

"Mr. Bryan professes to believe in the people. It was to the people that I made my appeal, and in the primaries, by votes varying from two to one to fifteen to one, the people decided that the talk of a third term in this case was the veriest bingaboo ever held up to frighten political children."

Col. Roosevelt's position was indicated in an earlier speech in which he said that he never felt comfortable in refusing to do what the people wished him to do, even if they were not able to "get at" him.

"It is my object if I am in public life," he said, "to live up to my oath of office, to serve the people, to follow their wishes as far as I conscientiously can, but never to do anything against my conscience."

"On the other hand, it is the right of the people themselves, after due deliberation, to have their wishes enforced by their public servants. And I know how I would feel at such a time. If I were a public servant and had a break with the people—supposing they wanted me to do something, supposing that there swept over the country a desire to repudiate their debts, I would say, 'You've got to get somebody else to repudiate them.' But I would come right down before them and fight it out."

"People talk of the recall as destroying the independence of the public servant. It will not destroy the independence of any servant who has got any independence to destroy. I think mighty little of the independence of a public servant which is of so frail a quality that it can only exist when everybody can't get at it."

IRELAND'S FLAG A BURNING QUESTION

Good Irishmen and true the world over are much wrought up now over the question of their national flag. True, there have been no heads broken with the convenient shillaly, but the sturdy Celt is likely to break some unless the question is answered to his satisfaction. His soul is torn between various designs; he craves the sight of the golden harp on a green background—what Irishman would not?—but students of design and heraldry dash his hopes by announcing that this design belongs to the province of Leinster. Furthermore, the green of the Nationalists and the orange of the Ulster Unionists are of comparatively recent adoption.

History does not hold out much chance of settling the question. King William's army fought under a green flag, while the white cockade of the Stuarts was borne by the forces of King James. The harp on a blue ground was the standard of Grattan's parliament, and in 1798 the color was changed to green by the Presbyterian leaders of the insurrection, who decided on green for a curious reason—that the blend of the blue and orange which produced green was accepted as signifying the union of north and south. And green is, strictly speaking, the color of united Ireland.

Since that time Irishmen have come to regard green with reverence; it figures in song and story, and a popular vote would hardly change the color, though its significance has probably been forgotten.

Celtic argument has reached such a stage that a prize is being offered in Ireland for a suitable design for a flag, and Ulster, with an enjoyable touch of irony, offers the solution. Francis Bigger, whose feat may yet immortalize his name, says that the national emblem should be of rich dark-green flanked with a Celtic harp on its folds, "such a device on a square, not an oblong, flag, is impressive and artistic, has no obscurity about it and is admittedly national in the fullest sense of the term."

Apparently all the candidates of all the parties are putting it up to the Fourth district to elect them. The Fourth, meanwhile, is having grave doubts as to its ability to elect its own candidates.

Measured by the size of the crowds at some of these Honolulu political meetings, nobody is going to be elected.

Is McCandless tired of spending money in his campaigns, or spending his own money in his campaigns?

Democratic candidates are confining their luanas to feasts of reason and flows of soul.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION FOR THE CHILDREN OF HAWAII

By W. R. Farrington

Commissioner of Public Instruction

Mr. S. S. Paxson, one of the candidates of the Democratic party for the house of representatives, is quoted as saying things about the department of public instruction.

I hope he will take the trouble to get a few exact facts so that he will know what he is talking about and thereby assist in the promotion of practical education, that is education of the youth of this Territory along lines that will make them more efficient workers and better able to care for themselves when they "go out to work."

If he will take this time and make a sincere search, he will find that the department of public instruction is at work and has been at work developing the practical side of education. The department has had this particular subject in mind and has been moving forward as rapidly as the indifference and criticisms based on lack of information will allow.

Quite a number of otherwise excellent and intelligent citizens have criticised the educational department only to find that they didn't know what they were talking about. They have come to realize, and some to admit, that the same energy, if devoted to assistance and cooperation, would amount to something, and be a community help that would be reflected in the future prosperity of the Territory and the better contentment of its people.

Mr. Paxson has taken occasion to criticize the department of public instruction. That's all right. Sometimes a man has to criticize to remind the community that he is not asleep.

Will Mr. Paxson and any like him kindly take the trouble to personally inform himself on what has been done, what is being attempted, what is planned for the education of the children of this Territory on practical lines. By practical lines I think I mean the same thing Mr. Paxson is driving at, and which is variously referred to as manual training, industrial training, vocational education, and which being interpreted means teaching children the A B C of work as well as the A B C of reading and arithmetic.

It is quite possible that he will discover that the progress of the schools in this particular has been impeded, plans for development have been blocked because of time consumed in just such personal, and, in my estimation, petty criticism as appears to have been voiced by Mr. Paxson from the stump.

What absolute folly it must be to hold up a broad and progressive plan of development for industrial training by a running fire of wordy and somewhat acrimonious discussion on personalities carried on by people, very few of whom have even taken the time to visit the schools or ask for information

Wouldn't the cost of your living come way down if you didn't pay any rent?

Why do you put off owning a little land of your own when you know the price of land is rising?

A few dollars will give you possession of a big lot in Kaimuki or a half-acre in Palolo Valley.

With chickens and a garden, and no landlord to support, you can ease up on the pay-envelope.

The dollars you plant there have no wings. They will be with you always for your protection.

PRICES: from 2½c. per sq. foot to 6c.

TO RECOMMEND CREATION OF A UTILITY COMMISSION

Reiterating his statement made before Secretary of the Interior, Fish, Governor Frear has again announced his approval of the formation of a public utilities commission for the Territory, and asserts that in his message to the legislature he will urge the passage of an act creating a body of this character.

Ever since the first few days of Secretary Fisher's investigation it has been known that the cabinet official is convinced the utilities commission will prove a balm for many of the ills that Hawaii is heir to, and toward the latter part of his hearings it became evident the only question in his mind was whether a commission serving under the Organic Act, in the nature of an inter-state commerce commission, or a utilities commission chosen by the Territory itself, would be the most satisfactory.

It is now thought that if steps are taken by the legislature to provide such an organization the federal government will pay no further attention to the matter, though if it is not provided for locally, the President, in his message to Congress, will recommend a change in the Organic Act and advise the creation of a commission controlled by the federal government.

NOT CONTROLLED BY THE BIG INTERESTS

TO THE SALARIED MAN, THE BOOKKEEPER OR OFFICE CLERK; TO THE WAGE-EARNER, THE ARTISAN, THE MECHANIC:

Four years ago I introduced and had passed a bill in the Legislature taking off Ten Dollars per year from your income tax.

If elected, I shall try and take off the balance.

Money earned as salary by the office man, the clerk or salesman, or money earned as wages by the artisan or the mechanic, is not income and should not be taxed as such.

TO THE LABORING MAN WHO IS TRYING TO SUPPORT HIS FAMILY ON $8.25 PER WEEK:

I shall try and raise your wages so that your condition may be better than at present, which is almost poverty. That you may be able to properly clothe and feed yourself and family, your pay should be increased to meet the advanced cost of living.

TO THE MERCHANT:

I shall work for a condition that will put some of the bottled-up prosperity in circulation. Encouragement of new industries means more labor; the more labor and the more wages, the more money in circulation. The more money the wage-earner gets the more he spends. THAT MAKES BUSINESS FOR YOU.

TO THE BIG INTERESTS:

I shall try and prove to you that your present policy is wrong. The people need you, but you, in turn, need the people.

It will help you in the end to adopt a policy that gives more consideration to those who are, in a measure, dependent upon you. Remember that you owe something to the Land and the People who in turn produce the wealth you possess.

TO THE PUBLIC:

I promise the best that is in me—to work honestly and faithfully for what I believe to be your best interests and which will result in A SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL.

KAIMUKI VOTERS HEAR FROM MANY REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

Audience of Fair Size Listens to Appeals for Votes Next Tuesday

There was not as large a turnout of voters as the enrollment might have led one to expect, at the Republican meeting at Kaimuki last night, yet it was a pretty fair-sized meeting. Visitors from other precincts and soldiers from Fort Ruger made it look larger than it was from the first precinct standpoint. Appropriately there was a sprinkling of the gentler sex, and the woman's suffrage plank was not altogether neglected in the oratory.

Albion F. Clark, president of the Republican precinct club, presided and gave a short but sufficient introduction to each speaker. Isaac Harbottle officiated as Hawaiian interpreter when one was required. A native glee club furnished music between speeches, two women coming forward two or three times to sing by themselves. The front lanai of Li-luokalani school, brilliantly lighted, served finely for a platform.

Most of the speeches had a tone of taking for granted that the bulk of the Republican party in the precinct consisted of insurgents that intended to scratch wholesale on election day. One went so far as to discuss a posterous rumor that a plot had been formed to rotten-egg him. Mingled with pleadings for the straight ticket were apologies for the convention's discrimination against every candidate for nomination from Kaimuki. Mr. Bartlett gave some interesting inside glimpses of the combination that controlled the convention, according to which the whole thing was subordinated to the nomination of three men for senators and one man for supervisor.

George F. Renton, candidate for the senate, was the first speaker. He urged the point that loyalty and straightforwardness were the essence of good politics. The Republican party deserved support as a party of constructive work. New conditions required progressive measures. "If you believe us sincere and capable," he concluded, "I believe we are justified in asking for your support on November 5."

Senatorial Candidates Speak.

A. S. Kalelopa, also for the senate, spoke of what the Republican party had done for the roads and schools of the precinct, referring also to the reservoir, all of which he said was the result of team work. If they threw the party down it would take years of hard work to bring it back to a good position. Talk about scratching the ticket had become epidemic—the Chinese had caught it and the Hawaiians were liable to follow suit. Mr. Kalelopa referred to former elections when some of the named from Kaimuki were running, in which straight ticket doctrine was preached, and this election should not be made an exception. "If you do not vote for me," he exclaimed, "you will be sorry for it when it is too late. My remarks may be rather hard, but I cannot help it."

George E. Smithies, candidate for treasurer, said eighty per cent of the Republican ticket were Hawaiians or Hawaiian-born sons of the soil. Efficiency would be his watchword if elected. He urged the straight ticket. J. M. Dowsett, for the senate, referred to the rapid progress with which Kaimuki had built up within the past few years. There was no reason why the differences of opinion that had recently arisen should continue. Mr. Renton and he were on the ticket for the one purpose of the good of the country. "It is only fair that you should stand behind us and give us your support. The Republican platform is the most liberal, the broadest and most progressive that has ever been presented to the voters of this Territory." There was time enough after the election for the people to state their particular wishes, and he pledged himself if elected to do his best to carry out measures for the benefit of that precinct. The fourth district should set a good example by voting for the straight ticket.

Bartlett Talks. Charles G. Bartlett, candidate for supervisor, said it was a pleasure and a privilege to appear there because he had been informed there was a certain element in the community which objected to his appearance, even to the extent of threatening to greet him with overripe eggs. He knew this was simply an idle threat and that the men of that precinct were gentlemen and not hoodlums. Mr. Bartlett then proceeded to deny that he was responsible for the defeat of Berndt, Towse and Affonso in the convention. His precinct delegation were informed that Berndt did not have the support of the 3rd, 4th and 5th precincts, but only of the Kaimuki precinct. They were asked if they would support the open ballot, together with Dowsett, Renton and Kalelopa for the senate, and Paris for supervisor. Their reply was that they had already pledged the delegation to Cohen for the Senate, and to Quinn and Bartlett for supervisors. The reply was that if they voted for the

DEMOCRATS IN BUSY SECTION

Hold Night Meeting for Street Crowd at Bethel and Hotel St. Corner

A crowd of between three and four hundred voters, with a changing fringe of curious spectators, gathered at the corner of Bethel and Hotel streets last night to hear Democratic doctrines expounded by L. L. McCandless, "Hilo" Ryan, Judge R. P. Quarles, C. W. Ashford and other Bourbon orators and a number of candidates who are near-orators. The corner is a busy one in the evening and the Democrats had no trouble in getting a crowd that required the efforts of several police officers to keep clear the sidewalks.

L. L. McCandless repeated his usual stump assertion that the Republicans favor a downward revision of the tariff and the Democrats promise, in their platform, to protect legitimate industry, and that therefore the Republicans are more likely to attack the sugar tariff than are the Democrats. He declared that Kulo should not be sent back to Washington because he spent only two out of the last eleven months of Congress at his post of duty. "Elect L. L. McCandless and he'll spend all the time on the job," he shouted the speaker. He declared that Kulo had failed to introduce a bill for statehood in Hawaii as he should have done. McCandless took some time in emphasizing the assertion that his election to Congress does not mean that the Democrats here endorse any attack on the tariff.

Judge R. P. Quarles made a strong speech and one which drew more applause generally from the crowd than any other address of the evening. Judge Quarles declared that the Republican party, although standing up for the protective tariff, has failed to pass around any of the tariff's benefits to the country at large. He declared that the Republicans have imported ignorant labor and touched for a moment on immigration matters.

Julius Asch, Jr., B. C. Rivenburgh and several others made short speeches that took the fancy of the crowd. A large number of candidates spoke. When not speaking, the candidates and party boosters gathered in the rear of the platform and kept the applause going. In fact, most of the applause came from the candidates themselves.

Another Democratic meeting was held last night at Kalihi-waena and was a successful assembly, both in numbers and in noise. According to reports, the Democrats got most of the crowd at Kalihi last night and the Republican meeting a few blocks away was simply attended. The Democrats were much elated over the showing made last night in the Kalihi section. "We certainly are strong down there," said M. C. Pacheco, chairman of the territorial central committee, today.

open ballot they could also vote for Cohen, Quinn and Bartlett. "Now I claim," said the speaker, "that I had nothing more to do with the defeat of any of these gentlemen from Kaimuki than any other member of the majority. No one regrets more than I do that Towse is not running for a representative of the fourth district." Mr. Bartlett went on to state his cordial feeling for Kaimuki, of which he had been a pioneer, and whose Eleventh avenue he built before the roads were taken over by the county. His present home was only separated from Kaimuki by Diamond Head and he had as much interest in the section as any resident. He contended that ordinary common sense should dissuade them from voting for Hardesty and other Democrats for supervisors, as their intention was reported to be. It would be bad business to scratch anybody on the Republican ticket. If elected he promised to work for a good road into town and the construction of cross streets in both Kaimuki and Palolo.

"Forget the late little differences," Mr. Bartlett concluded. "The platform promises a primary law, under which the residents of Kaimuki will have as good a chance to be elected as anyone else. If I had known how much of my time this campaign was going to take, I would not have accepted the nomination. If you do not vote for me, vote for Sam Parker for mayor and the other republican candidates for supervisors."

John Kamanoulu, Sam Parker, J. H. Boyd, George A. Davis, Norman Watkins and Robert Parker were the remaining speakers, taking up the time until 10 o'clock, when Charles A. Cottrill was called on but gracefully asked to be excused from making a speech owing to the late hour. Samuel Parker made a good-humored speech, being warmly applauded at start and finish. Mr. Boyd also made a good impression.

Watkins in Strong Speech. Mr. Watkins gave the strongest speech of the evening, prefacing it with a statement that what he was going to say might lose him some votes. He spoke of the closing of the poi shops as a temporary grievance which resulted in the people getting clean poi cheaper than the dirty poi that they formerly had. If elected, he would support the board of health, "because it was teaching the Hawaiians to be a living race instead of a dying race." Mr. Watkins expressed regret that Ed. Towse was not going to be in the next house. Having sat beside him in last legislature he could say that there was no more devoted and industrious member there. Mr. Davis spoke hopefully of Taft's prospects and delivered a panegyric on the Republican party, besides devoting a few sarcastic remarks to Charlie Hustace, independent candidate for Mayor, whom he called a renegade Republican.

WILLIAMSON HAS MANY PROGRESSIVE IDEAS

WILLIAM WILLIAMSON

Progressive ideas on road construction and on other matters of direct interest to Hawaiian government for the next two years equip William Williamson, candidate for representative from the Fourth district, for an effective and winning campaign. Mr. Williamson recently returned from California, where he studied direct primary laws, good roads movements, public utilities commission and other subjects that will come before the next legislature.

Mr. Williamson has resided in Hawaii for twelve years, coming here first to teach at Oahu college and later entering business life as a salesman for the von Hamm-Young Company. From this he went into the oil and bond business and is now one of the leading brokers of the Territory. He was elected to the last legislature and took a prominent part in the House work, serving on important committees and establishing a record for faithfulness and efficiency.

INDEPENDENTS BEGIN CAMPAIGN TOGETHER

Tonight the "Independents" begin more of an organized campaign than they have hitherto conducted, speaking at Atkinson park at 7 o'clock and at Magoosville, Kakaako, at 8:30. They will take Hen Wise and his musical aggregation on an auto truck and tour the precincts. J. C. Cohen, Chas. Hustace, Jr., D. Kalaupokalani, Sr., William Ahia, William White, A. Fernandez and others are on the program.

If you want a flat finish for interior painting we recommend Fuller's washable Wall-Finish. Lewers & Cooke, Ltd.

The funeral of Pierre Albert de la Nix will take place tomorrow at 3 p. m. from the Catholic church, Fort street.

Women of San Antonio, Texas, are agitating the question of women's rights. Several wealthy and prominent women are interested in the movement which they claim to be "in the interest of public morals."

KUHIO IN HILO SPEECH POINTS OUT M'CANDLESS'S BITTERNESS

Says Four Years Ago Democrat Attacked Sugar and Still Does in Hawaiian

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

HILO, Hawaii, October 28.—One of the most interesting political meetings which has been held in this city for some time, took place last Friday night in the Armory. Delegate Kuhio was the principal speaker and with the exception of a short but extremely effective speech made by John Loss, candidate for supervisor, there was little else of interest. The meeting was presided over by E. S. Chaplin, of Hakalau and was well attended, the majority of the audience being brought in on a free special train on the Hilo railroad extension, for which the Territorial committee paid.

The first speaker was Henry Beckley, candidate for the Senate, and he was followed by Territorial executive committee chairman R. W. Shingle, who commented upon the lack of harmony which he had found in the Republican party in this city and said that he wished to see an end to this anti-haole, anti-kanaka troubles. He said that in Honolulu the party had had Renton, Dowsett and Paris on the ticket and that he was glad to see them there, even if they did represent the sugar interests, as long as they took their share of the burden and did their part. He made special appeal for the Home Rule candidates to support the Prince and said that anyone who believed that Fisher's visit had done any good must give Kuhio the credit for having brought it about. Shingle was followed by Antonio Fernandez, who spoke in Hawaiian and by W. T. Rawlins, the latter making a long and rambling speech without political significance save in asking those present to vote the straight Republican ticket.

Kuhio Speaks. Kuhio stated that he had heard comments, especially from plantation managers, that he was opposed to the sugar industry. This he stated, was totally untrue but that he was opposed to the existing conditions, which he characterized as un-American. He said that the people of Hawaii had been going along as before annexation and called attention particularly to the many large estates, saying that on Kauai it was impossible for a citizen to buy land. He said that this was all known in Washington and that about the only way to obtain money for Hawaii was to put up a Japanese scare.

In regard to the land laws he stated that the trouble was not with the law, for it did not state that homesteaders were to be given only a few acres of land but left this to the local government. That the administration had been faulty was proved, he said, when Secretary Fisher said in Hamakua that the homesteaders should have fifty acres of land. This statement had been endorsed, he stated, by all the plantation managers. The law simply stated that homesteaders were not to have more than eighty acres. In closing he said:

"I fully understand that the prosperity of Hawaii depends upon the sugar industry and I am not a fool enough to work against and go on record as being against the plantations which mean so much to the islands. Four years ago McCandless went through the Territory damning the sugar plantations from one end to the other. Now he has changed and is claiming the support of the sugar people in his English speeches, while in his Hawaiian talk he is worse than ever before. Do you want such a man to represent you? It is now admitted generally that the bringing of Secretary Fisher to Hawaii was one of the best things ever done here and if the voters believe that, then you must give me credit for having accomplished it and give me your votes on November 5."

Ross Gives Straight Talk.

The final speech of the evening was made by John Ross. It was short and very much to the point. He stated that if the voters should elect him that he would give his best effort to work along the best of straight business lines, with no fancy frills or ruffles and that he would try to handle the public business along the same lines that he handled that of which he had charge at Hakalau. The two important matters upon which he dwelt were the need of keeping the roads being built in repair and looking after the schools, which were out of repair and insufficient to house the pupils properly. He commented upon the waste of $11,000 upon Front street and said that with this sum all the pupils in Hawaii could be given accommodation. In regard to Front Street, he said that he did not know who was responsible that the responsibility was being constantly shifted. First some one hit the county engineer, the latter hit the road supervisor, who punched the board of supervisors, who in turn punched Marston Campbell, and the last named turned around and punched Hilo. Mr. Ross received loud applause.

REPUBLICANS IN WAIPAHU TRIP TONIGHT

Most of the Republican candidates got together at headquarters this forenoon and there ensued a general discussion of the week's campaign program. This is the last week preceding election day and promises to be a most strenuous period.

It was arranged yesterday that there be held a great mass meeting and rally at Waipahu this evening. At 6:30 o'clock a special train will leave Honolulu. No one will be taken from the city on this train except the candidates who are to make speeches at Waipahu. At every station on the railway between Honolulu and Waipahu, the special will take aboard those citizens who wish to proceed to the Waipahu meeting. For those thus taken aboard there will be no transportation charges.

Arrived at Waipahu, the meeting will at once be opened with music, of which a choice band has been se-

FERNANDEZ HAS STRONG BACKING FOR HOUSE

E. K. FERNANDEZ

E. K. Fernandez, who is a Republican nominee for the House from the Fifth district, is a Honolulu boy and has a good record on which to appeal to the voters for their support. He was born in this city on December 14, 1883, was educated in the schools here and later at Brigham Young University, Utah, and then entered business with his father in the hardware firm of A. Fernandez & Son. He was elected to the last legislature and made a winning record there.

Fernandez has been prominent in amateur sport in the islands and is a strong booster for clean sports of all kinds. He has built up a photograph business for himself in addition to his work in the hardware firm of which he is a member.

His father, A. Fernandez, is running for supervisor on an independent ticket. Ed. Fernandez is on the Republican ticket for representative.

cured. There will be singing and instrumental selections. The decorations will lose nothing by an effective electric arrangement, whereby everybody in the audience will be able to see the speakers and the speakers will be able to get a good glimpse at the interesting faces of a large proportion of the crowd.

Following closely on the successful Republican rallies on Windward Oahu, and at Waianae, the mass meeting at Waipahu will catch the same spirit of enthusiasm which seems to prevail wherever the Republican candidates mount the platform.

Five desperate criminals in the penitentiary at Little Rock, Arkansas, escaped at Arling while at work on the railroad.

A terrific wind and rain storm swept over the Texas coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. Six miles of railway is reported under water.

Acting Governor Wallace of California has issued a reprieve granting a stay of execution until November 29 in the case of Manuel Bomilla who was to hang for murder in the first degree.

A railroad engineer believes he has discovered the famous "Lone Spauld" mine near Bronide, Okla. and a company has been formed of railroad men to operate it.

J. Cal Ewing Has Named the Team That He Will Take to Australia via Honolulu—Fifteen Men Carried

J. Cal Ewing, Coast baseball impresario has about completed arrangements for his barnstorming tour of Australia with an all-star aggregation of Coast League ball players. According to present plans, Ewing will make a stop-over in Honolulu, where he will play some exhibition games with teams of the Senior League, and if possible, with the All-Chinese players. The date of sailing from San Francisco is set for November 19.

Out of fifteen men who will constitute the team, Ewing has decided upon thirteen, and is negotiating with two more. The team so far as arranged is as follows:

Pitchers—Jack Killiany, Cy Parkin, Bonner, Charles Baum and Leverenz.

Catchers—Jack Bliss and Dutch Auer.

Infielders—H. Miller of Sacramento Bill Leard, Harry McArdle and Jack Wuffli.

Outfielders—Howard Mundorff and Elmer Zacher.

Most of the pitchers have been chosen with a view to utilize them in other positions, if necessary.

HUSK' CHANCE
DEFIES MURPHY

CHICAGO—"I dare President Murphy to release me. He lacks the nerve to do it. He started something that he can't finish. I am getting tired of this cheap talk and dare him to go through with it. I have started."

This was the husk's challenge to the Cub head recently by Frank Chance. Taunted to desperation by the insulting intemperance of Murphy, the peerless leader is anxious to settle the wordy controversy once and for all.

"I have been telling him for three years his team needs speeding up, but he has kept replying that I had the best ball team in the world and should win with it. I know better than he does what the team has needed, but he has refused to spend money for the players I wanted and there was never a chance to speed up the team."

"I will give Murphy $1000 for every good player he has secured, with the exception of three men, since he has been at the head of the club. I am the man responsible for all the trades the club made which put the Cubs where they are."

"I have almost begged him on my knees to go out and get me certain ball players to help me, but his answer has always been that my team was the best there was and that I did not need any more players."

"If Murphy is so anxious to please the dear public that he talks about so much let him start the building of the new stand for the Cubs' park. He has no idea of starting such a stand, and the reason he gave out that story was to head off any purchaser for my stock if possible."

"What Murphy wants is a manager he can run in his own sweet way. I have refused to let him run the team since I have been there, and that is one reason why he don't want me. In 1910, when we were fighting for the pennant, and every minute it looked as if my pitching staff was going to give out, Murphy ordered me to play three double headers in one week, and I absolutely told him I would not. He would have put the team out of the race at that time by crippling the pitching staff, just for the sake of getting a little larger return from games with the Phillies and the Pirates."

"We could have won the pennant last season if he had given me a little help in getting men for me."

"I am going to stay here for a few days to answer anything he wants to say, and I can tell you just as much as he can."

TOO MANY GOLF
OPEN

BY "T." This is a strenuous tournament time and certainly there seem to be as many golf championship titles as there were colonies in the South at one time. What with western, metropolitan, eastern, southern Pacific coast, trans-Mississippi, north and south, intercollegiate, league of the lower lakes, all the various State, sections of States, and club championships, one almost begins to sigh like a golf critic in one of the British magazines, about the profusion of titles in his country and ask plaintively as he did if it were not becoming the exception not the rule to be a plain, ordinary golfer who had never been champion of anywhere. Are we not overdoing it somewhat in this respect? If almost every one is either a champion or an extirpator, is it not depreciating the value of the word a little? Do not misunderstand this to mean that I do not fully appreciate the value of tournaments with all the experience they bring as well as giving opportunities to watch the play of good golfers; I also realize that countless protests would not reduce the present number of titles, but is it not time to call a halt? The next time some generous soul, and there are many such in our country, feels moved to present a golfing trophy for competition, let him do the unusual thing and not fasten a championship title on to the handle. What amateur would not be proud to be the winner of the St. George's vase, or among the ladies would not be looked up to as the holder of the Ladies' Pictorial trophy, and who professional is not ambitious to be the victor in The News of the World tournament?

I am speaking of British events which carry no titles with them, but the winners of which are honored almost as much as the national champions. There are several other big events similar to these that stir the ambition of every golfer in the British Isles for the entry lists include the names of the most famous players in the country, all of which tend to raise the standard of the games, but are not nearly so lavish with championship titles as we are. If their scribe who lamented the number at present were to visit America one wonders what he would think. We have something which is a move in the right direction, however; the trophies competed for in various invitation tournaments, and I was glad to hear that last year the well-known golf enthusiast of Philadelphia, Caleb Fox, had given a perpetual challenge cup called the Berthelmann cup, for competition among the ladies. Miss Dorothy I. Campbell defeated Mrs. Fox in the final last year and the latter was successful in winning it this season.

What I should like to see would be some large tournaments run on the lines of the national which would be open to every one and not be by invitation. Naturally it would be necessary to charge an entrance fee to compensate the club where the competition was held for wear and tear on the course, and other expenses, but if the trophy were donated there would be no need for other prizes. Surely the most of us can play the game for the love of it, not from pot-hunting motives. The experience to be gained and the chance to learn as well as the pleasure of meeting agreeable people is worth more than silver nick-nacks. Probably I am dubbed an idealist. Well! then I am in good company, for the majority of the British tournaments are carried out on these lines, yet in spite of there being practically no side events and never a consolation competition, they

HELP COACH OARSMEN

English rowing men are to spring an innovation in the coaching line next season. According to a letter in the London Field the cinematograph will be used to take moving pictures of the important crews, not for public exhibition purposes, but to demonstrate to each man his individual faults.

The hardest part of a coach's work is to find words which will adequately describe to a man what a certain fault of his is, even though it be a glaring one. In the crew room at Columbia large mirrors are rigged so that the men may see the errors of their ways. Also when Yale crews rowed in a tank, during the winter indoor work, mirrors were placed on each side extending the whole length of the eight for the same purpose.

But there is a serious objection to this plan, for when a man takes his eyes and attention off the one in front of him to glance at his reflection he cannot keep in time. It is often most amusing to see Jim Rice, after talking most vigorously and in strong language and pointing out in the mirror some Columbia freshman's faults, order the youngster out of his seat, take his place and assume the really grotesque postures that the beginner had struck. But it is the only way to show him wherein he errs.

True, the camera has been much used for showing the pupil his faults. As long ago as 1895 shape-shots were taken of the Columbia varsity crew, and the lessons which the members of it learned from the pictures did much toward giving them the form which enabled them to win that year at Poughkeepsie. Charles Courtney depends greatly on photographs to elucidate the discrepancies that he wants to eliminate from his crews, and he is an expert photographer. Many of the pictures taken during the varsity races of the last few years have shown decided deviations from correct rowing and they have been referred to by oarsmen to settle disputes.

With the cinematograph all of this is obviated and, stroke after stroke, the moving picture will show every little and big fault from beginning to end. If the moving picture machine is worked slowly. Thus every oarsman, literally, will be able to see himself as others see him and the coach's task will be very much lighter. Incidentally it will diminish the self-esteem of any of the oarsmen, which in itself will be salutary. The moving pictures also will show whether a crew is rowing synchronously, i. e., whether each part of each man's stroke is in exact time with those of all the other men in the boat—whether they are "together." And this is a paramount factor in attaining speed.

JOHNSON THROWS BALL
122 FEET PER SECOND

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Two of the greatest pitchers in the world, Walter Johnson, the premier slush artist of the Washington Americans, and Nap Rucker, the peerless southpaw of the Brooklyn, had a speed test yesterday morning in the test room of the Remington Arms, U. M. C., in Bridgeport, Conn. The two noted boxmen flung a regular league ball at the range of five yards, with Johnson recording the better speed.

The "White Hope" of Griffith's team shot the sphere through the air at the rate of 122 feet a second. But this was not Johnson's maximum speed, as he was not warmed up, and threw the ball with his street clothes on. Rucker's best velocity was 113 feet per second.

There has been so much discussion about Johnson's great speed that F. C. Lane of the Baseball Magazine arranged with Manager Dahlen and Manager Griffith to let their stars take a morning off and make the trip to Bridgeport, where the Remington company have an electrical apparatus to test the speed of their rifle bullets.

The pitchers had to make the trip in the morning, as both had to be back in time for the afternoon's games. Rucker was up bright and early and met Johnson. Lane joined them and accompanied by a World reporter the party sped to Bridgeport in an auto.

The two stars were then taken into the test room of the Remington company. Off went the hats and coats of Johnson and Rucker and they began to "warm up." Seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of pitching material were tossed the ball to one another. Neither put his full strength behind the ball, as they were without gloves.

Then the two took turns at throwing the ball against the steel plate of the electrical recording machine. Nap was the first to take a shot at the plate. The ball left his hand with terrific force and bounded back like a flash. Then Johnson let one fly. The ball failed to hit the plate but caromed off the corner of the wooden wall with a crash. By this time things were in readiness for the test.

The pitchers had to fire the ball through a frame of wood about two feet square. Running from top to bottom were ten fine copper wires. These wires are first broken and record the time the ball leaves the wooden frame. Five yards away is a steel plate. This records the time the ball lands.

Johnson may have good control on a ball field, but the thin wires proved a problem to him at first. He had to throw the ball five times before he could break one of the wires. His first throw was calculated at 120 feet per second.

Nap thought it was a cinch to break the wires, but he found out differently after his first try. The trouble was that he let go the ball before completing a full swing. This caused the sphere to go through the wooden frame about three inches from the outside wire. Nap took his second chance, but failed. On his third attempt he smashed two wires and the tester recorded 106 feet per second.

Johnson shifted his position for his second try and thought his gauge was just right for the wires. But Walter missed again and had to try three times before he was able to record his throw. This throw was one foot a second faster than his first.

Rucker then had his second test and his speed was also faster. The record for Nap's second attempt was 109 feet per second. Then Rucker tried a curve ball, but this proved too slow to record.

In his last try Johnson made his best record, 122 feet a second. Rucker also had another chance and he increased his speed by four feet, the ball traveling through the air at the rate of 113 feet a second.

After the test, Rucker said that Johnson had not thrown at his full speed and that if he had he could have thrown over 150 feet a second.

The speed for the new government Colt .45 caliber automatic revolver is 800 feet per second. A high power hunting rifle, .25 caliber, autoloading, has a velocity of 2000 feet per second.

After the throwing contest the two star pitchers had a hit-and-run lunch and then were rushed back to New York.

COLLEGIANS WILL GIVE PLAY FOR TENNIS FUND

The play committee of the College of Hawaii, composed of Dr. Andrews, Miss Bernice Smith and Miss Miriam Clark, at a committee meeting held recently, decided upon a play which is to be given by the students of the college on the night before Thanksgiving. The name of the play is "The Revolving Wedge," a football comedy in one act by Thornton M. Ware and Geo. P. Baker.

The trysts for the characters in the play are to be held today. From the number of students who are interested in the play and intend to try for the various characters there is no doubt but that the ones who are chosen will be well fitted for the position. The characters are original and offer a large field to the individuals who succeed in getting them.

The play is to be given at Punahou in Charles R. Bishop Hall. The purpose of the play is practical. The students want a tennis court for the College and the only way they can get the money is by supplying it themselves. The students, at a meeting held about two weeks ago, decided that the best way in which they could raise the necessary money was to give a play.

The definite positions will be assigned the applicants immediately after the tryout and then the real work will begin. The first rehearsals will be held at the College, but the last ones will be held at the hall in which the play is to be given. The twenty-seventh of November is not far away, but the play committee is assured that all will be in readiness by that date.

WORLD'S MARATHON
RECORD IS SMASHED

NEW YORK.—Three world's professional records were broken by William Kolemianen of Finland on Oct. 20, when he won an international Marathon race around a circular track in the stadium here. He covered twenty-six miles, 385 yards, in 2:29:33.15, bettering the record of 2:31:21, made at Powder Hall, Scotland, in a Marathon race last year by Hans Holmer, who finished second in today's event. Kolemianen created new twenty-five and twenty-six-mile figures, 2:22:29 3-5 and 2:28:32, respectively.

'BUD' MARS MAY
FLY HERE
AGAIN

"Bud Mars," the only airman who has really given Honolulu a run, or rather a fly for its money, will probably make Hawaii another visit soon. Not only is Mars himself coming, but he is bringing with him a varied assortment of performers and paraphernalia which will assure a sort of aerial Wild West show.

Bud has organized a congress of dare-devils, including every form of nerve-shattering stunt from the triple parachute drop to the devil dip on a motorcycle, and he wants to bring his performers here for a meeting.

According to an announcement in the mainland papers, Mars is planning a tour of the world. His itinerary will bring him to Honolulu about the first of the year, and from here he will go on to Manila for the carnival, should negotiations now pending be put through.

His equipment consists of aero planes, hydro-aeroplanes, balloons, kites, rope, parachute drops, loop the loop on motorcycle and automobile, and a number of other stunts.

NEW MARK SET WITH THE 21-POUND SHOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A world's record with the twenty-one-pound shot was made by Patrick McInnis of the Irish-American Athletic Club at Celtic Park today, increasing the distance to 42 feet 3 1/2 inches. The previous record, 40 feet 3 3/4 inches, was made by Ralph Rose of California in 1907.

FIGHT IN AUSTRALIA

SYDNEY, Australia.—Jack Johnson will not fight in Australia.

Hugh McIntosh, the Australian promoter, who had offered Johnson $50,000 for fights with Sam Langford and Sam McVey or Joe Jeannette, cabled today that W. W. Kelly, his representative in Chicago, to cancel all negotiations.

McIntosh explained that Johnson's part in the alleged abduction of Lucille Cameron, a white girl, had so angered the sporting men and public at large of Australia that the matches were no longer possible.

NOTED CRITIC PICKS HARVARD
BACKFIELD AS BEST IN EAST"Right Wing" Praises Power and Speed Behind Crimson Line

"Right Wing," the noted football critic, picks Harvard's backfield this year as the best in the east. After its easy defeat of Holy Cross, the critic wrote:

Harvard's showing against Holy Cross was about what I had been led to expect from the advance reports from the Cambridge camp, with this exception, that the attack was even better than I had thought to witness, and the defense poorer, especially when the substitutes were in. Considerable allowance has to be made for the work of both teams, for the game was played under a broiling sun and the men actually suffered. It was almost too much to expect that under the conditions the Harvard men would be seen at their best. Yet their best was on view, none the less, also their poorest, and the present criticism makes due allowance for the all but unbearable conditions. On a better day there would have been a vast difference, perhaps, in the work of individuals, but enough of the general plan was shown to give some idea of the plan that is to be pursued.

Right here it may be said that the Crimson expects to play the running game up to the hilt, and already has enough of it in hand to create havoc with anything but the stiffest kind of defense. Not on any field this year has there been such an exhibition of ground gaining as the Crimson uncoiled against Holy Cross. It is true, of course, that other teams have run up bigger scores, but they were against opposition far less serious than that presented by the Worcester eleven. Coach Larkin brought down a husky team of real football players, men who could stand up to the work under any conditions. To be sure, the men did not always use their heads, and their generalship for the most part was exorable, but it was a team of willing workers that in the second half seriously menaced the Harvard goal line against a pretty well substituted team, and, but for poor choice of plays, would have had an excellent chance of scoring.

Impressive On Attack. In the first two periods the Harvard eleven showed what it could do on attack, and it was an impressive showing, while in the last two periods the Crimson showed what it could do on defense, and that was far from encouraging. For the moment, then, back to the attack. The Crimson began the game with one of those old-time marches down the field for a touchdown, this time seventy yards, and it was good, fast, hard, standup football every yard of it. Wendell, Brickley and Hardwick, running in the square formation, but with the ball passing through the hands of the quarter, ripped off gain after gain, striking inside tackle and grinding out the distance almost invariably without the necessity of taking thought for the fourth down. This sort of ground gaining would have been as effective, indeed, under last year's rules as it is under this season's code. There was a deadly certainty about the Harvard advance that spelled disaster for Holy Cross, and the stirring running brought the crowd to its feet as football has not done since the old days of the march down the field.

Speed and Power in Backfield. The Harvard back field had speed and power, started quickly and kept on going. The tackling of the Worcester men, of course, was far from remarkable, and, although the visitors were heavier, they did not hit the Crimson runners and too hard, but there was just enough opposition to emphasize the sturdy work of the Harvard backs. Later in the game the Crimson showed other flashes of sustained power on attack, making five splendid advances, but the very first parade was the most imposing of the lot. In the course of this steady drive against the Holy Cross line there was no attempt to open up the defense with the forward pass or kick threats, or the actual execution of these plays, which made the power of the Harvard plunges all the more remarkable. Holy Cross had only one man well back and the secondary defense was up almost as fast as a packed defense as one saw in the old days. Yet even this concentrated defense failed to check the fiery and inexorable Crimson runner and the team swept over the line as it had gone down the field, with a deadly certainty calculated to strike fear into the hearts of the most determined defense.

Now one back, now another, led the attack, the quarter handing the ball from close up under the center, and whether it was a terrific lunge by Wendell, a boring in by Brickley or a slashing, switching dash into a quick opening by Hardwick, everything seemed to go.

Hardwick is one of the best half-backs I have ever seen. He is a terror in a broken field and at the same time is able to work himself free of the hips and smart use of the most effective stiff arms that ever has come under my notice. Strictly speaking, it is not stiff arm, but a bent arm, for Hardwick throws off his tacklers from extremely close quarters and slides out of what seem almost impossible situations. He is not so rugged in appearance as Wendell or Brickley, but he keeps his feet quite as well as either of them and also is useful in interference. This matter of interference, especially of the individual type, has been at the command of the Crimson for some time and I consider it one of Percy Haughton's masterpieces. Even with such a necessarily crude team as Harvard showed itself to be today the red legged players found their men and put them out of the play here, there and everywhere, turning up in the most unexpected places. It was this keen sort of work that helped out the backs a great deal, but they had plenty of go in themselves and would have made ground without any help.

Ends Lack "Football Sense." There were frequent substitutes in the Crimson team in the second half, and the play slowed up a great deal, especially on defense, where it had been none too good at any time. All the Harvard ends were put out of the play repeatedly, and they did not seem to know what they were expected to do at any time. Both teams used a flur kick ending in a forward pass gain, and again with the ends in the forward passing contest and had the second half resolved itself into a easy to diagnose, yet was dangerous. Holy Cross team tried a few when it was on Harvard's 15 yard line, second down, with nine yards to gain, it might have made serious trouble.

The Harvard line played a standup defense that it did not seem to be the native power to get away with, and again and again the Holy Cross play was allowed to form when a little sharp charging would have spoiled it in incipency. The Harvard secondary had a hard afternoon's work. For the men were forced to come up on the run to the support of an extremely weak set of ends. Toward the close of the game the Harvard backs began to show some aptitude in interference, the forward pass and the team improved in its defense against the open game, but on the whole the defense both by the first and second string men was far from what it ought to have been even at this stage of the season.

On one occasion Harvard was within about a foot and a half of a touchdown on fourth down, whereupon the Crimson quarter promptly drove a play straight into the center and lost the ball on downs, which was hardly thinking football.

WEST POINT AND YALE FIGHT TO FINISH

The eastern college football season is now in full swing, and the big universities are working up to their most important games. The following resume of some of the more prominent games of October 15, is taken from the mainland papers.

The scores of last Saturday's games were received by cable by the Star-Bulletin, and published on the day of play, but the scores of the week before are given for the first time: WEST POINT, N. Y.—After two successive years of defeat Yale regained her football supremacy over West Point in a fiercely fought game here today by a score of 8 to 0. The touchdown came at the opening of the second period after the Yale offense had torn through the Army team to the ninety-yard line at the close of the first period. After the rest three Yale rushes brought the touchdown Philbin failed at the goal.

The Yale team was the superior of

ED. FERNANDEZ
RUNS FOR HOUSE

All the sportsmen of the city are getting in and helping Ed Fernandez of the Fifth district, in his campaign for re-election to the House. Fernandez has been prominent in sports for many years and has been one of the best baseball players Hawaii has produced, playing in 21 positions. He is popular with the fans and has a big following from his excellent work in athletic competition.

Fernandez has some part of a fight on his hands for re-election and he needs the support of all his friends. He made a good record in the House two years ago and ought to be given a big vote next Tuesday. In particular all the sportsmen of the city ought to boost a young chap who has done so much for sport and is now aspiring to continue the good record he made in public life.

LOWER SUGAR
VALUES COMING

Willett & Gray's Journal of October 19 says in part in its raw sugar market review:
The week under review has been quiet and steady at 4.11c per lb. until the close, when a sale at 2 3/4 c. & f. of 5,000 bags Cuba Centrifuagals, for prompt shipment, from the only central now working, reduced the quotation to 4.11c per lb., basis 96 deg. test.
15,000 tons of Philippine sugars afloat, of 88 deg. test basis, were sold at 3.35c per lb.

Contracts for the earliest deliveries from the Louisiana cane crop to the extent of 100,000 tons are at or near final consummation.

There are very few remaining Cuba sugars and refiners' supplies must now come largely from Louisiana or the foreign beet countries but with the beginning of marketing of our domestic beet refined sugars, the crop of which is the largest on record, there is to be a curtailing of meltings by our cane refiners for several months to come, leaving the consuming sugar to be supplied very largely from this domestic production.

New crop raw Beet sugars abroad, which were quoted last week at 9s.
6 1/2 d., rose to 9s. 9d., and are very steady and quiet at this basis.

European Beet crop and Cuba Cane crop reports continue highly favorable, and the latter crop will likely exceed the highest yet produced if all the cane in the fields can be turned into sugar by favorable conditions of labor and weather.

No interest is shown by buyers in new crop Cubas for December-January delivery at 2 3/4 c. & f., and the opening price for the campaign is not yet made. February-March shipment can be bought at 2 3/4 c. & f. (3.61c.), and possibly at 2 3/4 c. & f., with speculative buyers at 2c. & f.

All conditions relating to supplies and demand appear favorable to a lower level of values during the season now beginning.

All business is now on the hand-to-mouth basis until the opening of new crop Cuba operations. The earliest deliveries from Cuba will be in December.

Reports from Hawaii, Porto Rico
other West India Islands and Demerara are the reverse of Cuba, these crops being represented as suffering from drought.

Mauritius and Brazil report larger crops than last year, but late in starting.

DRIVE OUT THE RHEUMATISM

You Will Never Be Well While the Poisons of This Disease Are In Your Blood.

"Last winter was the first time in twenty years that I did not have an attack of rheumatism," said a man who was recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for this painful disease. "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People do the only thing that will permanently cure rheumatism. They build up the greatly thinned blood and purify and cleanse it of every trace of the rheumatic poison. They are invaluable both during an attack of the disease and during the intervals between attacks. If you have already passed through one or more sieges of the disease it is advisable not to wait for an attack before using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills but to start taking them now and prevent a return of the trouble. Don't be satisfied until you have thoroughly cleansed your blood, for until this is done you will never be free from rheumatism."

Mrs. N. Robinson, of No. 144 West 14th street, Denver, Colo., says: "After suffering for six months from muscular rheumatism, and using all sorts of external applications with no relief I was about hopeless of a cure. I was unable to work and about discouraged. The rheumatism was in my limbs and my kneecaps. I suffered constantly with sharp pains as if pins were sticking in my flesh. I was sore and stiff and had but little use of my legs. When I got out of a chair I would have to use my hands and arms to raise my body. My kneecaps would swell at night, causing me intense pains. I had almost resigned myself to a life of pain when I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills curing a case similar to mine. 'I bought some and after taking a few boxes I noticed a great improvement in my condition. I could walk some and the pains were not so severe. I took the pills until cured. I have never had a touch of the rheumatism since and I am always glad to tell others what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me.'"

Start today to cure yourself with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, upon receipt of price, 60 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. Send for free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

Over-Night FEDERAL Wireless To the Advertiser

In one of the greatest strokes of their campaign, the Bulgarian troops have cut the railroad between Constantinople and Adrianople, and have thus isolated the latter city.

At the same time the invaders are carrying out a wide sweeping movement, reaching almost to the shores of the Black Sea, and still other columns are completing the circle around Adrianople.

Bulgarians have occupied the Turkish town of Istip, which lies forty-five miles southeast of Uskup. It is said the Turks evacuated Istip without offering the slightest resistance.

Servian troops have taken the town of Mitrovitz, on the railroad to the north of Uskup, and Verizovitz also has fallen into their hands, according to a dispatch from the Servian base at the frontier received today.

Bulgarian troops today captured a military train in the vicinity of Eskibaba, carrying troops and supplies from Constantinople to Adrianople.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was stronger today, but his wound was still open, and he was not gaining strength as rapidly as his physicians hoped he would. He was up early for the second time since his return from Chicago and took a short walk, but was obliged to move more slowly.

The Colonel is anxious to ride in the open air in his automobile to New York City on Wednesday, but his physicians feared that the jolting of the car would be unfavorable to his condition, and he will go by train.

Gov. Woodrow Wilson left Princeton today for Philadelphia and Southeastern Pennsylvania. He spoke in Westchester, Pennsylvania, at noon, and in the evening in the Academy of Music in Philadelphia, under the auspices of a league of independent Republicans and later in a big Democratic rally in Convention Hall.

"I am no longer optimistic that my lawyers will get me a new trial. I might say I am hopeless of a successful appeal."

With these words, former Police Lieut. Charles E. Becker in his cell in the Tombs prison today again lamented the fact that he failed to take the stand in his trial in which he was condemned to the electric chair for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, on July 16.

The navy department's new wireless station at Arlington, Virginia, the most powerful plant in the world, tonight flung from its lofty spiral the first messages which signalized the completion of an important step in the building of a globe-girdling wireless system which will keep every ship of the United States Navy and every insular possession with instant communication of the capital of the United States.

Because of the illness of John R. Carter, the Ariel of J. J. Ector, Arturo Giovannetti and Joseph Caruso for the alleged murder of Anna Lopez was postponed today until Wednesday. Carter, who was taken ill with gripe Friday night, was reported to be improving, but his physicians advised that he remain in his room for two days more at least.

President Taft today plunged into the accumulation of State affairs which has awaited his return from his summer vacation. Secretary of State Knox was his first caller, coming to discuss Great Britain's protest against the Panama Canal bill and the situation in Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Mexico.

The Vienna, Austria, correspondent of the Daily Mail describes an embryo plan which the Powers are discussing for the settlement of the Near-Eastern question. According to this plan, it is proposed to leave Turkey in possession of the territory between Adrianople and the Bosphorus.

While not actually under martial law, Havana is now under absolute military protection against disorders arising from the heat of political campaign.

The Supreme Court of the United States today advanced to December 2 for argument the cases involving the constitutionality of the newspaper section of the postal appropriation laws.

Vice-President James S. Sherman is steadily failing and it is now acknowledged that he is an exceedingly sick man. His kidneys are affected and his heart muscles are softening.

United States investigation under the Mann "White Slavery" law into the character of Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, will be begun before the grand jury tomorrow.

Second Lieutenant C. A. Gardiner, Philippine Scouts, registered in headquarters at San Francisco today en route to Manila, Philippine Islands.

RHEUMATIC WEATHER.

Don't be surprised if you have an attack of rheumatism this spring. Just rub the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it will soon disappear. Sold by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

President Taft has issued an executive order forbidding entrance to foreign vessels to United States naval bases without special authority of the navy department. The seaports are Tortugas, Fla., Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Great Harbor, Culebra, Guantánamo, Cebu and Subig Bay, Philippines.

SPORT

WEST POINT-YALE

The West Point eleven in all departments, but errors of the blue prevented the Elis from rolling up double figures. Full-back Flynn of the Yale team was a brilliant figure on offense work; but made three muffs of cadet punts, each of which gave the ball to West Point. A fourth Yale fumble came on West Point's one-yard line when a touchdown seemed inevitable. Both teams clung largely to the old-fashioned type of football, but West Point was successful in three forward passes and Yale made four complete passes.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Harvard scored its easiest victory of several seasons over Amherst today, piling up 46 points to Amherst's none. The crimson attack included nearly everything possible under the revised rules, while its defense was impervious. Amherst did not score a single first down. The crimson back field was one of great power, despite the absence of Captain Wendell because of injury. Brickley, who scored three touchdowns for Harvard, tore through the Amherst defense and further added to Harvard's total by two field goals. He failed on three other tries.

PRINCETON, N. J.—Princeton completely outclassed Syracuse here this afternoon and when the slaughter was over had piled up sixty-two points to none. It was again a case of the visitors' weakness rather than the Tiger's concerted strength which was responsible for the size of the score. The three sets of back field men which Princeton used had all sorts of speed and power, with the result that they tore through the Syracuse line as if it were paper and circled the ends at will. "Tubby" Waller, Captain Pendleton, H. Backer, S. Backer, De Witt and Emmons, all of whom were in the game at various stages, made most of the gains.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Two touch downs by McAlmon, Minnesota's left half, one of which was made on an intercepted forward pass after a brilliant ninety-five-yard run and a goal kicked by Quarter-back Tollefson, spell the score of 13 to 0 by which the University of Minnesota football eleven today defeated Coach Stebbins' Nebraska corn-bushers. Three times was Minnesota's goal endangered but each time the Gophers braced and their opponents failed to score.

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—The University of Michigan football eleven defeated the Ohio State University football team here this afternoon, 14 to 0, in the last game which will be played by the two universities, a Western conference decree making it necessary for Ohio State to discontinue relations with the Wolverines hereafter.

Warning to
Beer Drinkers

Read every word in this opinion. Remember it is not our statement, but the deliberate opinion of a great scientist working for perfection in beer.

Pure beer is food and tonic.

G. Beck (Bierbrauer, 1881, No. 8) finds that

"beer in light bottles deteriorates more quickly than beer in dark bottles when exposed to the direct sunlight."

His tests were continued for three weeks and proved that beer in light bottles had acquired a very disagreeable, nasty taste and flavor and was unfit for consumption.

The Brown Bottle with Schlitz is not a fad. Its use is based on scientific principles.

We have adopted every idea, every invention, every innovation that could make for purity.

TOO MANY TITLES

It is along that which I have tried to outline here. I tried it in some tournaments I played abroad and can honestly say that it has improved my games immensely and what is more I never enjoyed myself more in my life.

After all, what honor lies in winning a cup for the better four of the beaten eight of the beaten sixteen in a tournament? Seriously, is it not a bit ludicrous? Would not the time of such a player have been infinitely better employed in the way I have described above? True, he would be the poorer for a bit of silver (a trophy without any power to increase his standing in the world of golf), whereas the experience gained the other way might prove invaluable to him the next season and place him among the real winners. Yes, I know this is taking a game seriously, but unless a person takes golf seriously, he or she will never become one of the great golfers of the country. A fine golfing reputation wins more matches than dozens of cabinets of trophies at your home. Few people ever see the cabinets, but a player may be well known to thousands who have never seen him. Which would you rather have? There is only one way to attain it and judging by the records of those who have done so it

When a LAXATIVE IS NEEDED—"CASCAETS"

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are violent—they act on bowels as pepper acts in nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

SLAYER TO SUPPORT FAMILY OF VICTIM

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." John J. Laffey, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." Edward F. Parker, M. D., New York City.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." Victor H. Coffman, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." A. F. Feiler, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." Edward F. Parker, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a safe and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments." J. A. Parker, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

ROOSEVELT, SHOT IN BREAST, MAKES SPEECH FOR CALMNESS

Asks Crowd Not to Grow Violent Because His Life Was Attempted

Shot by an assassin, Col. Roosevelt did a remarkable thing in Milwaukee on the night of October 14. He made his way to the platform and finished his speech. The following is the report of the event:

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 14.—Displaying his bloodstained shirt front and holding the manuscript which, in his breast pocket, had spent the force of his would-be assassin's bullet, Theodore Roosevelt reassured the listening throng tonight that it took more than a bullet wound to kill a bull moose. His speech followed:

"Friends, I shall have to ask you to be as quiet as possible. I do not know whether you fully understand that I have just been shot, but it takes more than that to kill a bull moose. Fortunately, I had my manuscript" (holding up manuscript, showing the audience where the bullet had gone through), "so you see I was going to make a long speech. And, friends, the hole is in it that the bullet went through, and it probably saved it from going into my heart. The bullet is in me now, so that I can not make a very long speech—but I will try my best."

"And now, friends, I want to take advantage of this incident to say as solemn a word of warning as I know how to my fellow Americans. First of all, I want to say this about myself: I have altogether too many important things to think of to pay any heed or feel any concern over my own death. Now, I would not speak to you insincerely within five minutes of being shot. I am telling you the literal truth when I say that my concern is for many other things. It is not in the least for my own life."

"I want you to understand that I am ahead of the game, anyway. No man has had a happier life than I have had—a happier life in every way. I have been able to do certain things that I greatly wished to do, and I am interested in doing other things. I can tell you with absolute truthfulness that I am very much uninterested in whether I am shot or not."

"It was just as when I was colonel of my regiment I always felt that a private was to be excused for feeling at times some pangs of anxiety about his personal safety, but I can not understand a man fit to be a colonel who can pay any heed to his personal safety when he is occupied as he ought to be occupied with the absorbing desire to do his duty."

"I am in this cause with my whole heart and soul. I believe in the progressive movement—a movement for the betterment of mankind, the movement for making life a little easier for all our people, a movement to try to take the burdens off the man, and especially the woman in this country who is most oppressed. I am absorbed in the success of that movement. I feel uncommonly proud in belonging to that movement."

"Friends, I ask you now this evening to accept what I am saying as absolute truth when I tell you I am not thinking of my own success. I am not thinking of my life or of anything connected with me personally. I am saying this by way of introduction, because I want to say something very serious to our people, and especially to the newspapers."

"I don't know who the man was who shot me tonight. He was seized by one of my stenographers, Mr. Martin, and, I suppose, in the hands of the police now. He shot to kill me. I am just going to show you" (Colonel Roosevelt then unbuttoned his coat and vest and showed his white shirt badly stained with blood).

"Now, friends, I am going to be as quiet as possible, even if I am not able to give the challenge of the bull moose quite as loudly. I do not know who he was or what party he represented. He was a coward. He stood in the darkness in the crowd around the automobile, and when he cheered me, and I got up to bow, he stepped forward and shot me in the breast."

"It is a very natural thing that weak and vicious minds should be inflamed to acts of violence by the kind of foul mendacity and abuse that have been heaped upon me for the last months by the papers in the interests not only of Mr. Debs but of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Taft. Friends, I will disown and repudiate any man of my party who attacks with such vile, foul slander and abuse by opponents of any other party."

"Now, I wish to say to the speakers and to the newspaper representing both the republican and democratic and socialist parties that they can not, month in and month out, year in and year out, make the kind of slanderous, bitter and malevolent attacks that they have made and not expect that brutal and violent characters, especially when the brutality is accompanied by a not too strong mind, will be unaffected by it."

"I am not speaking for myself at all; I give you my word I do not care a rap about being shot—not a rap. I have had a good many experiences in my time, and this is only one of them. What I do care for is my country. I wish I were able to impress on our people the duty to feel strongly, but to speak truthfully of their opponents. I say now I have never said on the stump one word against any opponent that I would not defend in the library. I have said nothing that I could not substantiate, and nothing I ought not to have said; nothing that, looking back, I would not say again. I am all right."

COMMENCEMENT

By GEORGE FITCH

Commencement is an annual ceremony in which the pupils who have absorbed an entire course of study submit samples of the wisdom they have acquired to their friends and relatives.

There are many kinds of commencements, including those in High Schools, Universities, Training Schools for Nurses, Business Colleges, Conservatories of Music, Barber Colleges, Veterinary Schools, Theological Seminaries, Boxing Academies and Correspondence Schools. But of all these, by far the most important is the High School Commencement, where the pale young graduate, in his first black suit, plants one foot on the threshold of life and the other in the floral decorations on the village stage, and discovers that beyond the Alps lies Italy, and that beyond the footlights are 10,000 people, each one of whom is glaring at him with two eyes like automobile searchlights.

Commencement lies midway in terror between the first visit to the dentist and the wedding march down the church aisle. After a boy has gotten over these three crises he is tolerably safe for the rest of his life if he is firm in his refusal to respond to toasts. Commencement, like a wedding, consists mostly of clothes for the girl, and embarrassment for the young man. Clothes take away the horror of both occasions for girls, and keep them happy through the ordeal, but there is no opiate for the young man who has to lug his 80-pound feet and ham-sized hands to the front of the stage at commencement and try to illuminate the world with an oration of which all he can remember at that moment is the fourth line from the last.

Educators often wonder why so many young men leave High School to become captains of industry or grocery boys, and thus abandon the cause of education to their sisters. The answer, however, is simple. The boys are not abandoning education, but the commencement oration. If the sterling young athletes in our High Schools were to be allowed to speak at commencement per phonograph, while they themselves sat behind a bank of palms and perspired unseen by the populace, they would not quit school with such firmness and determination in their junior year.

Commencements are held in June at an average temperature of 101 degrees and are a great source of joy to parents, florists and dressmakers. Many entirely new discoveries in history, science and politics are made by the essayists at commencement exercises, but thus far the wicked trust which runs the encyclopedias has scornfully declined to embody this rare wisdom in print.

BARK LIKE A DOG AND BECOME A "REVEALER"

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Men who can bark like dogs are employed by the Paris municipal government at an initial salary of $30 a month as dog "revealers."

Every night the "revealer" goes out on a regular beat, and it is his task to "bark" for five minutes outside the door of each house on the beat. If the house contains a dog it is sure to reply. The human barker then marks the number of the house in his notebook. If the license tax has not been paid on the dog the owner is sued for it on the evidence of the barker.

It often happens that owners throw things at the "revealer." But then, obviously, there are opportunities for graft.

PAIN IN THE STOMACH.

It is most annoying, as well as disagreeable, to be troubled with pains in the stomach, and there is no need of it, for one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will allay the pain. Try it once and be convinced. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.
