OREGON BADLY KEPT FILIPINO STRAINED IN CALE

GAELIC BRINGS NEWS THAT THE PRIDE OF AMERICAN NAVY SUSTAINED VERY SERIOUS DAMAGE IN TYPHOON LAST NOVEMBER.

Reports brought from the Orient by the S. S. Gaelic are decidedly far from reassuring regarding the condition of the U. S. battleship Oregon. The battleship is reported on some very good authority, to have been badly strained in the typhoon she encountered while going from Honolulu to Yokohama last November. The strain is understood by people in a position to be informed of such things, to be general about the vessel. Her entire hull appears to have been badly strained and it is now said, on the quiet of course, among seafaring men in the Orient, that the Oregon is no more the stalwart that she once was.

The battleship went into the dry dock near Yokohama some months ago and was there given an overhauling and the repairs made necessary by the storm, completed. She was in commission at the time that the Gaelic left Yokohama and was at Shanghai.

The storm that the Oregon encountered was the worst reported this winter from Pacific waters. The S. S. Gaelic was in the same storm and within 200 miles of where the Oregon was struggling with the elements. The Gaelic was hove to for nearly 24 hours, an occurrence which is very unusual with her, for she is one of the best sea boats.

On the other hand, the Oregon is an ungainly vessel, and was not built to cope with the elements. She proved very unyielding in the storm and was practically helpless. "All hands save the ship," was piped that night and of the 500 and some odd men aboard, none thought that the vessel would ever emerge safely from the storm. But she did, and when she went limping into Yokohama, it was with her superstructure damaged and twisted, all of her life boats smashed or swept away and a vast quantity of other damage done to her. The amount of this damage represented in the neighborhood of $75,000.

Every one was satisfied with even as bad a bargain as this condition. The pride of the Navy had lived through the gale and people felt delighted over the fact that she had not been lost.

But this good news does not prove to be so gratifying as had been first reported. Instead of the damage being only to the superstructure, the very hull of the vessel itself was damaged. To a seafaring man to strain a vessel has a very great significance. Should the report regarding the Oregon prove to be correct, a very hard blow will have been struck Americans for, while the Oregon is not now the crack of the Navy, she is by long odds the favorite in the hearts of the American people.

RECARTE BRAINS OF AGUINALDO'S INSURRECTION, REFUSED TAKE OATH ALLEGIANCE SO WAS DEPORTED FROM MANILA.

Quite a distinguished passenger boarded the S. S. Gaelic at Manila and went as far as Hong Kong on her. He was a political outcast and was denied a landing in his native land. General Recarte was his name. He was one of the three famous Filipino generals who had been held as prisoners of war on the island of Guam by the United States army. He was refused a landing at Manila by the American authorities because he refused to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. The incident of his being placed aboard the Gaelic and practically deported from the Philippines seems a little irregular.

In company with the brothers Mabini, Recarte was taken to Guam after his capture had been effected. He was admitted to be the brains of the Filipino insurrection. He refused to take the oath. Of all the hundred and more political prisoners who were kept on that island, Recarte was the most obstinate. He always insisted that he was a Filipino and he would never swear allegiance to the nation that had conquered his country. When he heard that Aguinaldo had taken the oath, Recarte's indignation knew no bounds. He was for days so enraged that a special watch was kept over him by his American guards.

He was among the last of the political prisoners to be taken from Guam. Last month the transport Thomas stopped at Guam en route to Manila and took off Recarte and the two Mabinis. It was thought that he would take the oath. The two Mabinis did, but when the Thomas dropped anchor in Manila Bay, Recarte was still as obstinate as ever.

His declaration of unswerving hate against the United States and his refusal to take the oath, were made known to the authorities. It was decided that he should not be permitted to land. The question was, what disposition should be made of him. The Gaelic came into port the latter part of the month. The United States officials at Manila interviewed the Gaelic people to see if they would not take Recarte away. The authorities were informed that the man would be accepted as a passenger and be treated as such if his fare were paid, provided of course he was not a criminal. Recarte was not regarded as a criminal so on February 26 when the Gaelic sailed the Filipino general was escorted aboard her by two secret service men who remained with him until after the vessel was well under way.

Recarte's passage was paid to Hong Kong. The United States customs authorities paid the man's passage. Recarte did not especially mingle with the other passengers on the vessel. His idea in going to Hong Kong was to meet some of his friends, for a large number of Filipinos are living in that portion of China as they are dissatisfied with the conditions in their native land.

Durbar People Coming This Way

THOUSANDS OF TOURISTS FROM THE DELHI CELEBRATION CROWDING THE HOTELS OF ORIENT—HONGKONG, SHANGHAI AND OTHER PLACES SAID TO BE CROWDED WITH THEM.

Honolulu is likely to be visited by a large number of returning tourists from the Durbar. News by the S. S. Gaelic is that the tourists are leaving India by thousands and are traveling toward these islands. All of the tourists will not come by the Hawaiian route of course, but a large number are certain to do so.

The hotels in Hongkong, Shanghai and various Japanese cities were crowded with the visitors. Accommodations could not in fact be given the various travelers. The hotel and lodging house people were preparing a harvest. But the people who had attended the Delhi did not mind a little inconvenience in the way of their living quarters. They had been quartered in tents at Delhi during the memorable celebration and they were perfectly willing to put up with a few more inconveniences of service in Chinese and Japanese cities. The Osaka Exposition will attract a large number of these visitors.

Charles D. Blackburn and F. J. Burnley are a couple of English tourists who are returning from the Durbar. They are on the Gaelic. They have some fine pictures of the celebration.

"At the time that we left Delhi," said Mr. Burnley, "Mrs. Leiter and Miss Daisy Leiter, the mother and sister respectively, of the Vice Reine, were still in Delhi. They expected to remain there for some time, as there were to be a series of elaborate entertainments in honor of the Viceroy and Vice Reine. It was not known at that time when Mrs. Leiter and her daughter expected to return to the United States. It is not improbable that they may decide to take this route home, as they came out by the Suez Canal. This matter had not been definitely settled however."

Messrs. Burnley and Blackburn are about the first of the returning tourists from the Durbar to pass through this port. They assert that there will be many others to come by Honolulu. It will be several weeks, however, before the big homeward rush starts from Oriental ports.

A LIVELY TILT IN THE SENATE

McCANDLESS SAYS AN ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO COERCE HIS ACTION AS A LEGISLATOR.

There were a few minutes of a strained situation in the Senate this morning. Senator McCandless asked for the floor on a matter of personal privilege, and started to tell of a proposition he alleged had been made to him in connection with two bills now before the legislature. He said that C. W. Booth had come to him and said that he Booth had a bill before the legislature in which he was interested, the bill for the purchase of the springs in Pahoehoe Valley, and that McCandless had a bill in which he was interested, the bill for an electric railway up Kailua valley. If McCandless would support Booth's bill in the Senate, Senator McCandless told the Senate Booth had said to him, Booth would help McCandless' bill in the House where he had influence. But, Senator McCandless emphasized this part of his disclosure, Booth said, if McCandless antagonized the Pahoehoe Springs bill in the Senate, he Booth would antagonize the McCandless bill in the House.

At this point of the disclosure, Senator Cecil Brown rose to a point of order, claiming that Senator McCandless was not in order in what he was saying. Senator Paris, who was in the chair held that the point of order was well taken. Thereupon Senator McCandless introduced the following resolution:

"Whereas Senate Bill No. 122, providing for the purchase of certain springs in Pahoehoe valley for the Honolulu Water Works, involves the expenditure of a very large sum of money, viz., $250,000 and the bill, providing for the purchase of the Pahoehoe Water Works, involves the expenditure of a further large sum of money, viz., $100,000,

"And whereas, the development of the water system of Honolulu should be carried on intelligently and systematically so that the greatest supply of good water may be obtained for the least expenditure of public money,

"And whereas, it is impossible to intelligently consider either of said two bills separately from the general question of the water supply of Honolulu,

"Resolved, That the Superintendent of the Honolulu Water Works and the Superintendent of Public Works be requested to report to the Senate as soon as practicable upon the following points, viz.:

"(1.) What is the present daily average consumption of water in millions of gallons, in the city of Honolulu furnished by the Honolulu Water Works?

"(2.) At what rate is such consumption increasing? Give average daily consumption during the past ten years?

"(3.) What sources of water supply are now available to the government, naming each, and the maximum, minimum and average amount of water which can be obtained from each source?

"(4.) What is the average cost to the government per million gallons, to obtain water from each of said sources?

"(5.) What other sources of water supply for the furnishing of the city of Honolulu are there? How much can, on an average, be obtained from each such source? What are private rights therein worth, and how much it will cost to develop and make available the water from the said several additional sources?

"(6.) Have the officers named any plans or recommendations for the improvement and increase of the system for furnishing Honolulu with water? If so, they are requested to present them to the Senate as soon as reasonable."

Senator Cecil Brown moved that the resolution be referred to the committee which had under consideration the two bills relating to the Pahoehoe Springs and the Pahoehoe Water Works. Senator McCandless said he did not want the information called for by the resolution "smothered." Immediately Senator Cecil Brown retorted that the committee of which he was a member did not "smother" information whatever those of which Senator McCandless was a member did. Senator McCandless said he did not intend to cast any reflections. The resolution was referred to the committee which is considering the water supply bills.

A CHANCE TO GO TO ANNAPOLIS

DELEGATE KUHIO WANTS A LIST OF ELIGIBLE YOUTH TO SELECT HIS NOMINEE FROM.

Prince Kuhio has sent a letter to Superintendent of Public Instruction A. T. Atkinson asking him to send out circulars to the public schools generally in order that examinations may be held to select a candidate for Annapolis. Hawaii is entitled to one midshipman there and the nomination is to be by the Delegate to Congress. Kuhio's letter says:

"The duties of my position require me to nominate one principal and three alternates and in the case of the principal failing to pass the examination the first alternate to take his place and so on in succession.

"I especially desire in making my nomination to have the benefit of the knowledge of what young men are available and eligible for this position so that my choice can be of the best.

"If you find the time is so limited that you are unable to furnish me with all the names desired and you have a list of certain young men that you know or have heard of who can pass the requirements, please communicate with me as early as possible for my consideration.

"I have the honor to remain, yours respectfully,"

LAND OFFICE NEEDS HELP

HOUSE COMMITTEE SAYS THAT AT LEAST TWO MORE EMPLOYEES REQUIRED FOR THE WORK.

The House Finance Committee this morning presented a report on the land office income and work, based upon reports by R. R. Elgin and A. Barnes, who were employed as expert accountants. The report states that the present force of clerks in the Land office is inadequate for the work of the bureau and the appointment of two more men, a bookkeeper at $1,800 per year and a clerk at $1,200 are recommended. The present system of keeping the records is such that it is impossible to get at the facts, says the report and the business of the office has so increased that it has become impossible for Commissioner Boyd to improve the system or keep up with the work, and some entries are far behind. The report also recommended that auditor Fisher provide a new system of bookkeeping for the department.

Harris moved that the report and schedules be printed and stated that his revelations were of the highest importance. "The schedules show about $7,000 delinquent in the revenues of the bureau, being money due the government and not yet collected," said Harris. "The report also shows a difference of $100,000 in the estimated income of the bureau. The land commissioner's estimates placed the income for the period at $216,000, while it will be seen from the report that the amount is $316,000."

The motion to print the report and table it for consideration with the appropriation bill was carried.

The committee on Public Health and Education reported against House bill number 25, which provides for general treatment of lepers, outside of the settlement, by anyone who thinks he has a cure. The committee reported that such a law would nullify the laws as to segregation of lepers. Chillingworth moved to adopt the report and Andrade seconded but the report was tabled for future consideration on motion of Paele seconded by Kumalea.

A letter was received from Superintendent Atkinson asking for an appropriation of $600 for services of an engineer in charge of construction of buildings at Waiiale.

STORMS ON SOUTH ATLANTIC.
Associated Press, Morning Service.
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 20.—
Heavy gales are reported all along the South Atlantic Coast. Three schooners are reported lost with all on board and further casualties are expected to be made known when telegraph communication is restored.

NICARAGUA REVOLUTIONISTS.

formation from Minister Merry is to the effect that another revolution in Nicaragua may break out at any time.

HAYTI REBELS WIN A VICTORY.
Associated Press, Morning Service.
CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, March 20.— During an engagement between the government troops and a large force of revolutionists the federal troops were driven from a share of the growing trade of North China. The rebels lost 5 killed and the list of wounded on each side is very heavy.

AFTER ORIENTAL TRADE.
Associated Press, Morning Service.
VIENNA, March 20.—The government is supporting the establishment of a bank at Tien-Tsin with the object of trying for a share of the growing trade of North China. The move is made owing to the pressure of many of the leading business men of the empire. The capital of the bank will be 25,000,000.

AFTER SESSION OF SENATE.
At the afternoon session of the Senate yesterday, the House's hackman's bill passed first reading.

The bill providing for the inauguration of the Territorial Land System passed third reading. The amendment permitted publication to be in a paper of general circulation. Another change requires that money collected shall be paid into the treasury daily instead of monthly.

Senator McCandless introduced his bill turning the "Chinese Fund" into the Territorial Treasury, as a "Government" realization. He said that under the bill that had been discussed in the morning, the Territory would lose about $12,000 interest annually which the bank to be created as a trustee would get. Senator C. Brown opposed McCandless' bill. Some lively debating resulted. A motion to table the bill was lost and the measure was passed its first reading.

BAILEIFF ACT REPEALED.
The House yesterday afternoon passed the Senate act to repeal the bailiff act passed by the legislature. Several of the members of the last House came to the defense of the bailiff law, but the act repealing it was passed by a vote of 21 to 5.

C. E. WAITE.
The C. E. Waite whom the cable said yesterday had committed suicide in San Francisco was formerly employed at the Honolulu Stock Yards before the fire destroyed that property a year and a half ago. Later he worked as a blacksmith at the Capitol Shoeing shops on King street. He was considered an excellent horse-shoer. He had been unfortunate in financial matters and sailed from here for the coast
by the Ventura, March 17.

Important Reasons

Why Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Co.'s Safes and Locks are the Best?

The concrete filling makes these safes absolutely Fire-Proof and positively Damp-Proof. The solid angle corners add greatly to their security in time of fire, and form the only solid corners made. The patent Bolt Work is superior to any in use and does not require the constant oiling, cleaning, and repairs that is acknowledged in other makes of safes. That although 600,000 of these safes are now in use and many thousands have been tested by some of the most disastrous conflagrations in the United States, THERE IS NOT A SIN-GLE INSTANCE ON RECORD WHEREIN ONE OF THEM EVER FAILED TO PRESERVE ITS CONTENTS PERFECTLY. They make safes for county treasurers, county recorders, county clerks, jewelers, Hotels, residences, churches and corporations. We have a large assortment of safes on hand and will be pleased to show same.

HISTORICAL WHISKERS

WHAT THE SPRINGFIELD REPUB-LICAN SAYS OF THE ACCIDENT TO GOVERNOR DOLE.

Monday was a fatal day for beauty,
and two harrowing accidents were reported. The long luxuriant locks of Prof. Mommusen were burned away by the flames of a candle in Dresden, while on the other side of the world Sanford B. Dole of Honolulu was gazing about endowsing a quail a conflagration in his flowing beard. The Dresden fire was most pathetic. The aged, seer, perched upon the top round of the faithful ladder in his great library, was peering among the dust-covered tomes which were illuminated by the flickering light of a tallow dip held craftily in the hand of knowledge. Then came a puff, a bright flame, a cloud of pale blue smoke, and the library was heavy with the suggestive odor of burning hair. Like the poetical raven, the wise man sat high among his books and croaked. He called for help, and when it arrived the head which has caused consternation among the German socialists was found wrapped in the august coat, while the professor bitterly declared with truth that his beauty had been completely wrecked.

The resident of the balm Pacific,
Governor Dole, disguised as Santa Claus, was hovering around a Christmas tree, while children gazed in open-mouthed wonderment. The noble beard of the ex-president played an important part in the holiday masque, and as the children looked upon it they could hear the jangling bells on the stamping reindeer on the roof above.

The governor had rescued several presents from the tree and deposited them among their rightful owners, and the true Christmas spirit filled the air.
As Santa Claus he entered into the game, and toiling about the tree, laden with flashing candles and tissue paper bundles, he made a grab for a present growing high up among the branches.
The beautiful beard, which has been as the plume of Navarre in the distant islands, swayed into the flame of an insignificant candle, and in an instant was afire. But only two inches were destroyed, although the smoke is said to have damaged a part of the middle section. It is understood that neither loss was fully covered by insurance.—
Springfield Republic.

A KAMAAINA DEAD.
Associated Press, Morning Service.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 30.
—Captain Ferdinand Clark, at one time a confidential adviser to King Kalakaua of Hawaii, died here today.

Ferdinand Clark was one of the supporters of the regime of Walter Murray Gibson, the one-time premier under King Kalakaua. While Gibson held the reins of state Captain Clark enjoyed more or less prominence in governmental affairs and had access to the king through his intimate friendship with the premier. He was a strong supporter of Gibson at all times and conferred with him on state matters.
Clark was in charge of the agricultural school at Haleakala, Maui, during the early 70's and this brought him into contact with Gibson. When Gibson came into power Captain Clark had charge of the taking of a census of the islands, and he also headed a political expedition to the South Seas undertaken with a view to establishing the primacy of the Pacific, which was one of Kalakaua's ambitious desires. This expedition was undertaken before the ill-starred voyage of the Hawaiian warship Kaimukia, which attempted to meet the primacy a certainty. Captain Clark was also a writer on the Advertiser under Gibson as editor. Captain Clark left the islands about thirteen years ago and went to Southern California. He had two daughters, one of whom married a Mr. Dudott.

THE KING AND QUEEN.
Associated Press, Morning Service.

LONDON, March 30.—King Edward left for Portugal today to pay a visit to King Carlos and Queen Alexandra left for Copenhagen to spend a few weeks with the Danish royal family.

On their return preparations will be made for a visit to Ireland in August and it is believed that they will have a great reception in that country, owing to the repeal of the Unionist in many districts, and the work of Parliament toward securing lands for the Irish peasantry.

The friendship between the Royal houses of England and Portugal has lasted more than a generation. King Carlos and Queen Alexandra were among the closest of friends of the Prince Consort and Queen Victoria.

The visit also has its diplomatic side.
Great Britain wants the territory now held by Portugal in East Africa. This territory includes Delagoa Bay, the door way to the riches of the Transvaal.

CAR STRIKES OFF AND ON.

TACOMA, Wash., March 30.—The strike of street car men is now ending and the men are returning to work.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 30.—
The United Railways Company has refused the demands of the unions and a strike of carmen is likely.

THE GRAND JURY IN SEATTLE.
Associated Press, Morning Service.

SEATTLE March 30.—The Grand jury today returned indictments against Mayor Humes and Chief of Police Sullivan for malfeasance in office; Police Judge George, for failure of duty, and Justice of the Peace Cann, for extortion. The charges against all of them involve violation of their oaths of office, allowing bare games to be run in gambling houses, and many petty crimes. Fifteen minor officials and persons connected with the gambling joints were indicted at the same time.

The indictment has caused no sensation here as the Grand Jury has been in session nearly two months and has devoted most of its time to an investigation into the question of who was responsible for allowing Seattle to be run wide open. The public expected the indictments. Previously wholesale indictments had been returned against many of the keepers and attaches of the gambling joints and houses of ill repute which have flourished under the present regime.

MORE THAN KING.

President Diaz, who has just had such an ovation in Mexico, is indeed a wonderful ruler. He is much more a king in than many an hereditary monarch, and has certainly done more for his country, not but that he has done well for himself also, for the President is a rich man. He is one of the instances where a soldier of fortune and a conspirator has proved an able organizer and a just, though inflexible ruler.

Diaz first came to the front in 1867 when the ephemeral empire of Maximilian was overthrown, and that unfortunate monarch was shot at Queretaro. There were then three men who were struggling for the Mexican presidency, Juarez, Diaz and Ortega, with Juarez in the lead. The latter held the power for five years, but it was not till 1877 that Diaz became president, though he had the highest number of votes in the 1872 election. During the ten years 1867-1877, Diaz was alternately conspirator, insurgent, and anointed revolutionist.

From 1877 Diaz has held the presidency practically uninterrupted and though his rule was in its early days attacked by revolutionists there is little likelihood of its being shaken now, for Diaz is practically Mexico. He gave a distracted country tranquility, reformed and cleansed the administration, put the army on a good footing, and created enough navy to guard the coasts. Under him railways have been built, commerce has grown, the finances have been put on a solid basis and agriculture has been fostered. Large mining interests have also been developed and foreign capital has been attracted to the Republic. The United States alone has $500,000,000 of capital invested in Mexico, according to recent information, and both Germany and England own large interests.

This is undoubtedly a brilliant record, and it must be remembered that this regeneration of his country has been accomplished by the man himself, and not through the help of others as most monarchs do. Take for instance the Emperor of Russia, he is really the creature of the council of state and of the naval forces of his Minister of Foreign Affairs, his Minister of Interior and the Metropolitan. It is impossible to compare Diaz with a really elective president, like our own. He is really a despotic sovereign, but a most excellent despot.

To gain his position and keep it Diaz has had to be extraordinarily firm, and in his early life some blots may be found. But his success covers his sins, and a prosperous country is his atonement for cruelty and perhaps some injustice. No wonder that Mexico heaps honors on Diaz. But who will follow him?

ASIATICS ON PUBLIC WORKS.

There can be no doubt that it is utterly wrong to employ Asiatics on government work, such as road making or construction of any kind, yet there have been cases where even Federal work has gone to this class of people. However what officials of the Federal government may do is not our business. What we have to do is to attend to our own affairs and our own officials.

Much of the trouble lies in sub-contracts. The Government department giving out the whole contract will not give it to an Asiatic, but all the same much of the work may be done by Asiatics through the sub-contractor. The proper way to deal with the matter is to have a clause in every contract that no Asiatic labor, in any form should be employed, and this, the Star understands, is done in some departments.

The point of view taken by the Central Committee is a correct one. Public work should go to the citizens and the voters, public work should not go to non-citizens and non-voters of a class that never can become citizens and voters but must always remain aliens. A German, a Portuguese, a Frenchman, or a Britisher may not be a citizen at the moment, he may not be eligible for a citizenship on account of his term of residence, but he can give notice of his intention to become a citizen, and would become a citizen in due course. Such a man should be eligible for any employment, but the case of the Asiatic is totally different, and he is certainly ineligible for territorial employment.

This matter is an important one, but it can be settled easily if contracts are made void when Asiatic labor is employed upon government work. It is one thing to say that Asiatic labor shall not be employed, and it is entirely another thing to say that contracts will be void if Asiatic labor is employed. The one proposition is a negative which can be avoided. The second proposition is a negative which is enforced by a very serious penalty.

It is long since we have had the yellow flag in the harbor. The Gaelic had a case of variceloid on board. The prompt measures taken by Dr. Cofer however show how excellent is the Marine Hospital Service. It is not likely with such a medical officer guarding the port that any contagious disease will creep in.

The Floods on the Mississippi are likely to seriously injure the crops, and great misery upon the poorer class of the population will be entailed, while the wealthier classes, who own and cultivate large estates will find themselves very seriously crippled. The Floods do not yet seem at their height, and further destruction and damage is likely to be reported for several days.

The Presidents of Guatemala and San Salvador are to confer upon their differences. The settlement will probably depend upon who has the bigger escort and the least faith. An early telegram may tell us that one or other president is prisoner to his colleague, or has been shot by the opposing escort. Central American Republics are notoriously prone to broken faith improved and heightened by a little murder.

There is an opportunity for a young Hawaiian to obtain a place at Annapolis and train for an officer in the navy. Delegate Kalaniana'ole will make nominations on April 11. There is one nomination and three alternates. There is time for the nominees to make preparations for the entrance examination. It is to be hoped that an Island boy will be successful, and that the nomination will not go out of the Territory as was the case with Delegate Wilcox's nominee.

A protest from the practical engineers against Representative Damien's bill for examining and licensing local engineers was to be expected. The bill itself is well enough, but it certainly bears hardly upon the class of men who are protesting. The bill might easily be so amended as not to interfere with these men, but call for examination for those coming on, or certificates upon a showing of work might be issued to these men. Certainly no legislature ought to pass a measure which will injure or throw out of work practical Hawaiian mechanics because they are lacking in theoretical knowledge. The bill should be very carefully considered before it is passed.

Knew a Good Thing

From a speech delivered by the "Silver Tongued" orator before the International Congress:

"And furthermore, do not lose sight of the examples held up before us, worked out by our predecessors. We have seen immortal Rome rise, fall and decay; Carthage is now but a limping memory of the gorgeous splendor of Cleopatra's reign; glorious Athens of the past now rests silent and sad among the Grecian ruins, monuments of architectural beauty laid low by the ravages of time; and the Egypt of the Pharaohs has passed under the rule of the 'barbarian.' Thus time levels all, but the works of man shall proclaim his worth and shall measure the scope of his attainments. In our own day we behold the handiwork of man, in a markedly rising grade, advancing toward the pinnacle of perfection. Witness man's bequests to posterity: the countless applications of electricity, the greyhound of the waves, the searching eye of the heavens, the steam engine, the cotton gin, the printing press, and finally that greatest of all inventions, the DOUGLAS PATENT CLOSET."

REPORT AGAINST THE LOAN BILL

HARRIS AND ANDRADE PRESENT
A STRONG MINORITY REPORT ON THE SUBJECT.

The Finance Committee reported against the Kumalee liquor license bill, to allow sale of liquor at retail in restaurants in Honolulu, Hilo, Lahaina and Waialua. The committee declared that such a provision would be unfair to the retail liquor men who pay $1000 for a license.

The same committee reported against the claim of L. C. Ables for $936 on account of the unexpired Pantheon Saloon license. The committee stated that the amount should have been $680.48, but that the owners of the Pantheon had been offered a chance at another location and their place had been condemned as unsanitary, wherefore they should not be reimbursed.

Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, Ltd., corner
Fort and Merchant Sts.

The House this morning received a strong minority report from Chairman Harris and Frank Andrade of the Finance Committee against the loan bill. The report stated that the county bill would change the system of public finances and that further increase of public debt was inadvisable. The following estimates of county income were given:

County of Oahu	$800,000 00
County of Maui	147,298 70
County of East Hawaii	229,411 95
County of West Hawaii	70,438 22
County of Kauai	135,906 28
Total	$1,373,755 15
Income tax paid in Honolulu for all counties (say)	100,000 00

Grand Total $1,473,755 15
Territorial receipts are estimated at $500,000, while the estimated Territorial expenditures are given as $1,000,000.

"Now from the above," says the report, "if your committee's figures are correct it will be seen that an additional $200,000 must be met by the respective counties, to cover the expenditures of the Territorial Government. This amounts to about 15 per cent of the total receipts of the respective counties." If the Territory borrowed the full amount allowed by the Organic Act this would add $2,460,000 and with the present indebtedness and the fire claims bonds would make an indebtedness of $3,717,970.310.

This would require an annual outlay of $430,000 and would mean about 30 per cent additional revenue. The necessary result, to meet the expenditures, would be an increase in taxation of 1/2 of 1 per cent.

The tax per capita has increased from $6.23 in 1890 to $10.76 in 1901, says the report. In conclusion the report of the minority says that the Territorial bonded indebtedness should be decreased rather than increased.

HOW TO ENTER
THE TIGER'S LAIR

THE WAY THAT VISITORS TO NEW YORK GAMBLING ESTABLISHMENTS CAN GET PAST GUARDS.

To those who have never penetrated the mysteries of one of these resorts, a description of a typical gambling house may be interesting. Take one in West Thirty-first street, Manhattan, familiarly known as "The Awaiting," because the ground floor was until recently used as an awning store and awnings covered the windows on all the floors above. This place was also referred to as "The Eagle Bird," from a large gilt eagle over a large safe in one corner of the place.

The place, like all others, is guarded on the outside by an "outside lookout" who while apparently strolling casually alone the street, keeps a sharp watch for raiders and carefully scrutinizes all who approach the entrance. If any thing seems wrong he may press an electric button concealed under some adjacent stoop, give a loud and peculiar whistle, knock in a prearranged way on the door, ring the bell vigorously, or, as in one particular instance, push the lid of the letter slot in the door violently back and forth. In this case the metal slot, when pushed back struck two nails driven into the door just above it on the inside. These nails were connected with electric wires, and the circuit being completed a warning bell was rung upstairs.

If all is well, the regular client knocks at the door or rings the bell, and immediately a little wicket in the door is opened and a negro's face looks out. If it be night time a light behind the guard shines full in the visitor's face. If the doorkeeper, who in the more pretentious places is always in full dress after nightfall, recognizes the caller, he opens the door and carefully looks it behind him again. He then calls to a second doorkeeper who unlocks a second door, and the visitor is now within the place proper.

Before you climb the steps to the second floor you may notice a lattice-work door of thick iron bars folded back against the wall. This is an innovation that has only been brought into general use since Jerome began his raids. It can be stretched across the narrow hall and locked in a few seconds, and is stout enough to withstand many minutes' battering, during which time the authorities upstairs "get busy" and secretly behind secret panels all the gambling utensils, while their patrons are racing over the roofs or passing into adjoining houses through secret doors.

The second floor of the house is mainly taken up by one long room running the entire length of the house. In the front left hand corner is the safe, with its genius "the Eagle Bird" against the right-hand wall at the rear is a large sideboard, covered with eatables and liquors, and the remainder of the room is occupied by three roulet and one faro table. Two of the former are double and one single, the latter having the green baize cloth divided off into squares and number, only on one side of the wheel.

Regarding the professional gamblers themselves, there is little to distinguish them from the ordinary habitue of the Tenderloin, whose tastes incline to be sporty. As a general thing a professional gambler is clean shaven and wears considerable jewelry, although the gambler of the comic papers, with a diamond headlight in his shirt front is an extinct type, at least in New York. They are almost invariably half fellows well met, and are exceedingly superstitious on the subject of luck. As they make money easily, so do they spend it freely. A middle-aged gambler who has saved enough to enable him to retire from the business is a rare exception. Broken down specimens of this class are as thick as leaves in Vallambrosa. Perhaps the most marked characteristic common to them all is their contempt for the great public upon whom they prey and whom they generally refer to as "suckers."—Brooklyn Eagle.

SHIPWRECKED ADAM AND EVE.

Henry Ward Beecher was amused when he went into a Bowery restaurant on one occasion and heard the waiter give such orders to the cook as "Ham and —," "Sinkers and cow," etc. "Whatch me feaze that waiter with an order which I believe he won't abbreviate," remarked Beecher at length as the waiter approached. Then he said: "Give us poached eggs on toast for two with the yolks broken." But the waiter who was equal to the emergency, walked to the end of the room and yelled: "Adam and Eve on a raft. Wreck 'em." It is related that Dr. Beecher nearly fainted.

THE MEANEST MAN.

The meanest man in Kansas has been found at Wellington. He hired a negro boy to carry a ton of coal upstairs, paying him only 15 cents for the job. Then he got some dice and played craps with the boy until he won the 15 cents back. The boy testified to this fact in a case in court.—Kansas City Star.

It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Taken before meals it improves the appetite, makes fat, restores vitality, enriches the blood and cures those weaknesses peculiar to the sex, which are the seat of their troubles. It is a blessing to Tired Wives, Nursing Mothers and Girls growing into womanhood. It colours the pale faces and rounds out the hollow cheeks. In a word, it nourishes and develops the entire body, and brings happy surprises to feeble, hopeless and discouraged sufferers.

Dr. E. J. Boyes says: "I have found it a preparation of great merit. In a recent case a patient gained nearly twenty pounds in two month's treatment, in which it was the principal remedial agent." It is the typical medicinal success of our age, for time has proved our claims are supported by results, and a remedy which acts in harmony with nature's own efforts and processes. ## NOTICE TO ARCHITECTS AND BUILDERS.

From and after this date, no portion of any building erected upon the line of any public street, road or highway, will be allowed to occupy or encroach upon any portion of said street, road or highway.

Excepting however, specially approved ornamental structures at an elevation of ten feet or more above the sidewalk level.

Before beginning the erection of any building for which an application or permit is now required by law it will be necessary to obtain from the Surveyor, a certified plat and memorandum of the street lines and grade upon which the building is to be erected.

This plat shall show two or more duly attested set-off reference marks in the street from which the established street line for the erection of the building may be obtained.

NOT ENOUGH PAID FOR WORK

House Public Expenditures Committee Reports on Some Road Bureau Contracts.

The House yesterday afternoon received a report from its Committee on Public Expenditures on the resolution of inquiry regarding work done by the Road Bureau at the residence of Superintendent Cooper. The report is as follows:

"The accountant of this committee, W. R. Sims, has examined the Road Bureau records and questioned the government employees connected with the work, and has determined that the services rendered have been insufficiently paid for, although he is unable to state definitely as to the amount, as no complete record of the work has been kept. His report to the committee is submitted as a part hereof.

"The accountant also finds that the Road Bureau served H. A. Isenberg during the current month, and that for this work the government was not properly paid. His report on this matter is also submitted herewith.

"Your committee deprecates and strongly condemns the practice of doing work of this nature by the government for private parties, and particularly for government officials, as the government has more than enough work of this class to perform. We are of the opinion that the practice should be stopped, and so recommend.

"Respectfully submitted,

"HENRY C. VIDA,
Chairman Public Expenditures Committee,
"W. A. HATA,
"D. M. KUPIHEA,
"D. DAMIEN."

The accountant's report is as follows:

"Hon. Henry C. Vida, Chairman: Referring to your inquiry as to work done and macadam delivered by the Road Bureau on premises of Henry E. Cooper, Superintendent of Public Works, I beg to report to you of my investigations as follows:

"Record shows in the Public Works office, payment, viz.:

"Receipt 3,612, March 17, 1903, Henry E. Cooper—
18 cubic yards No. 3 macadam, delivered, at $2. .... $36.00
4 cubic yards No. 4 macadam, delivered, at $2. .... 8.00
3 days labor, spreading macadam, at $1.25. .... 3.75

$47.75

"Same was billed to Mr. Cooper by Road Bureau on February 19, 1903.

"Time record by William C. Cummings, time-keeper of teams in Road Bureau, shows the delivery to Mr. Cooper:

"February 13, 1903, five loads No. 4 macadam.
"February 13, 1903, three loads No. 3 macadam.
"February 17, 1903, two loads No. 4 macadam.

"Total, ten loads, averaging one and one-half cubic yards, equalling ten and one-half cubic yards No. 4 macadam and four and one-half cubic yards No. 3 macadam. Upon the basis charged this would amount to $30.

"I find, further, that work had been done under the former time keeper, David Dayton, Jr., of which no account whatever appears in the Road Bureau records.

"After interrogation of employees of the Road Bureau, past and present, I am unable to determine what amount should have been charged, as this information is based on memory, but have come to the conclusion that the government has been inadequately reimbursed for the services rendered in the work.

"W. R. SIMS, Accountant.

THE WILL OF PAUL ISENBERG.

Last Testament Disposing of Property Valued at Over Three Millions.

The will of the late Paul H. F. Isenberg was admitted to probate yesterday by Judge Gear, and W. Piotehauer, Clarence H. Cooke and James E. Fullerton were appointed appraisers. The widow, Mrs. Beta Isenberg, J. F. Hackfeld and H. A. Isenberg, J. F. Hackfeld and H. A. Isenberg were appointed executrix and executors without bonds, as provided in the will.

The will disposes of property valued at $3,155,924 in bonds, notes, stocks and accounts and $10,000 real estate. To the two sisters of the deceased the sum of $400 per annum is given, to be equally divided and all to go to the surviving one. To Marie Duden the sum of $300 per annum for life is given. The residence in Bremen is left to Mrs. Isenberg, widow of the deceased. All the rest is left to the widow and eight children, the widow to take such share of the property in Hawaii as would fall to her naturally as dower, under the law. The sum of $100,000 advanced to D. F. R. Isenberg and the same sum advanced to Johannes Carl Isenberg, also $20,000 advanced to Julie Marie Pauline Barkhausen are to be deducted from their shares.

All the shares owned by the decedent in H. Hackfeld & Co. and open accounts with the firm are left in trust, the income to be paid to the widow and children.

DOLE'S SUPPLEMENTAL BRIEF

THE LATE ATTORNEY GENERAL FILES ANOTHER BRIEF IN THE MANKICHI CASE—TAKES THE POSITION THAT HAWAII BECAME A PART OF THE UNITED STATES BY CONTRACT.

The late Attorney General Edmund P. Dole has filed a supplemental brief in the Supreme Court of the United States in the Osaki Mankichi case. In this brief the argument is that these islands became a part of the United States by contract, and that it being competent for any two independent nations to make any contract not violative of natural law, the contract by which Hawaii became a part of the United States, and its reasonable intentions and consequences, must be looked to as showing what was the governing principles of criminal prosecutions here until congress established such principles by enactment in accordance with the terms of the contract. The principal points in the brief are thus stated:

"Annexation was by contract, and was not a mere taking by Congressional authority, as claimed by appellee.

The Provisional Government of Hawaii was created in January, 1893, mainly with a view to annexation to the United States. The Provisional Government and President Harrison's administration agreed upon the terms of a treaty, which was submitted to the United States Senate for ratification. Before it could be ident Cleveland withdrew the treaty.

There being no prospect of annexation for at least four years, a more permanent form of government for the Republic of Hawaii was established in 1894. Article 32 of its constitution was as follows:

The president of the Republic of Hawaii, with the approval of the cabinet, is hereby expressly authorized and empowered to make a treaty of political or commercial union between the Republic of Hawaii and the United States of America, subject to the ratification of the senate.

The terms of a treaty of annexation were subsequently agreed upon between President McKinley's administration and President Dole's administration. They were ratified in the Hawaiian senate in September, 1897. Later it was thought advisable to adopt the form of a joint resolution, and the Newlands resolution, so-called, was identical in its terms with the proposed treaty ratified by the Hawaiian senate.

A joint resolution of Congress annexing a foreign country is of no legal validity per se. It requires the assent of the other party, which makes it a contract. It became a contract when it was acceded to by the Hawaiian Government in the proceedings set forth on pages 8 and 9 of my printed argument. All the elements of a contract existed. It was a contract and nothing but a contract.

II

In interpreting this contract, the intention of the parties is the polestar of the court. If the written instruments, taken by themselves, are ambiguous, the court will take into account everything that can shed light upon the transaction; its history, existing conditions, the advantages which the parties expected to realize by the contract, the evils which they expected to escape, and the construction which they themselves put upon it by their contemporaneous and subsequent acts. In considering such a contract, the court will also take into account considerations of justice and humanity and well-settled principles of international law, and will not lightly presume that a civilized government intentionally surrendered the elemental rights of its citizens to protection from crime. The law is made for man, not man for the law, and a construction which would leave society powerless to protect itself from murderers, rapists, robbers, and other like criminals, and powerless even to detain the perpetrators of such outrages, is not to be favored.

III

If the fifth and sixth amendments to the Constitution of the United States became applicable to the Hawaiian Islands with the surrender of national sovereignty, then, for a period of nearly two years, the people of those islands did not have, and could not have, any legal machinery for the protection of life and property or for the punishment of criminals, or even for their detection.

For more than half a century Hawaiian law had provided another mode of prosecution and trial. * * *

For more than half a century Hawaiian law (except from 1842 to 1847, when capital cases required unanimous verdict) provided that—

No jury, for the trial of any case, civil or criminal, shall be less than twelve in number; but when nine of such jury shall agree upon a verdict, they may render the same, and such verdict shall be as valid and binding upon the parties as if rendered by all twelve. (Sec. 1345, Civil Laws, 1897.)

All native Hawaiians, accused of any crime, shall be tried by a jury composed entirely of natives, and all foreigners, by a jury composed entirely of foreigners, who shall be drawn from the array of native and foreign jurors respectively returned to serve at the term. (Sec. 1332, Civil Laws, 1897.)

Racial juries were instituted with the beginning of the jury system in the Hawaiian Islands, and were continuously in force until the taking effect of the organic act.

Hawaiian law also provides that—

The common law of England, as ascertained by English and American decisions, is hereby declared to be the common law of the Hawaiian Islands in all cases, except as otherwise expressly provided by the Hawaiian judicial precedent, or established by Hawaiian national usage. Provided, however, that no person shall be subject to criminal proceedings except as provided by the Hawaiian laws. (Sec. 1109, Civil Laws, 1897.)

It is obvious that the foregoing provisions are foreign to the grand and petty jury system contemplated by the fifth and sixth amendments to the Constitution of the United States. These amendments are not automatic. The Hawaiian courts could not work under them without the aid of appropriate legislation. The Newlands resolution provided no such legislation and made no reference to these amendments. When national sovereignty was surrendered the next regular session of the legislature was about eighteen months in the future, and Congress had adjourned. Assuming that it was advisable to legislate, it would have been two or three months before appropriate legislation could have been passed and have taken effect. Meanwhile, the people of Hawaii (assuming that the fifth and sixth amendments were then applicable) would have been without legal protection from crime, and without legal power to detain criminals. When the next regular session of the Hawaiian legislature approached President McKinley, by virtue of the powers vested in him by the Newlands resolution, postponed its meeting for a year in order that the situation might remain unchanged until Congress should provide a new scheme of government. I have quoted his order in full on page 11 of my first brief. Under these circumstances the legislation to make the fifth and sixth amendments operative for the indictment and trial of accused persons was impossible, and if they were applicable to the Hawaiian Islands at that time, they operated simply as a guaranty of immunity from punishment or detention for any and every crime that might be committed.

Moreover, if legislation had been possible, intelligent legislation would have been impossible, for the status of the islands was merely temporary, and no one could know what their permanent status would be.

IV.

If there had been legal machinery for judicial work under the fifth and sixth amendments, it must have failed for want of duly qualified citizens of the United States to operate it. No one can be a citizen of an American State or of an American Territory unless he is a citizen of the United States. The fifth and sixth amendments contemplate common-law grand and petit juries, and no others. No one can be a grand or petit juror pursuant to these amendments unless he is a male citizen of the United States of full age and a resident of the judicial district in which the court is held. There is not a line in the Newlands resolution which can be construed as conferring citizenship upon anyone in Hawaii. The organic act conferred this nearly two years later. Section 4 provides:

That all persons who were citizens of the Republic of Hawaii on August twelfth, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, are hereby declared to be citizens of the United States and citizens of the Territory of Hawaii.

TOWED UNDER WATER BY SHARK

UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE OF NATIVE SAILOR ON THE CLAUDINE WHILE AT HANA.

It is not often that any one is towed under water by a shark and then to tell the tale, but this is precisely what happened last Thursday to Joe Kauwila, a native sailor aboard the steamer Claudine. Not only did he survive the experience, but at last accounts he was showing a truck at the Wilder wharf today helping to load the steamer Claudine with freight.

On Thursday at Hana while the Claudine was in that port, the sailors heard that a dead horse had been moored near one of the buoys, for the purpose of attracting a shark. A big shovel nose shark about 12 feet in length, came circling in the vicinity of the horse. Captain Parker took a boat crew and went over by the buoy. J. Welch, a man from the shore, shot at the shark with a rifle and struck the shark in the head and evidently stunned it. The idea of Captain Parker and the men in the boat was to get a line on the shark and haul it aboard. There were two young natives in the boat one of them Joe Kauwila. Joe is about 18 years of age and the other man about 20.

The shark could be seen a few yards away lying on its back. Some thought the shark had been killed. The natives talked of going over with the line. "I think he no make," ejaculated one of the men.

"Oh! I think he make, all right," declared Joe. "Any how, plenty more kaka-kaka. I try get line on him." Joe hauled off his shirt, seized the line and started swimming toward the shark. He caught hold of the shark's tail and began to put the line over the tail. The instant that the shark felt the boy catch hold of its tail, the shark sprang into sudden life, and started to swim. Joe held onto the shark's tail though. Down went the shark intending evidently to dive under the boat.

By this time, Joe began to think that it would be safer for him to be in other company. He was game to the end, though, for he held on until he got the line fast about the shark's tail, then the boy let go and rose to the surface on the opposite side of the boat from where the shark made its appearance. "He no make," shouted the native.

coming out of the water. "I got line on him. He no make," he said. Then the crew started to tow the shark to the steamer. It was finally decided to take the shark ashore so the boat was steered toward Hana and the shark landed and there dispatched. The catch caused delight among the natives. There is a pork butcher in Hana but they say that there was no pork sold that day. People ate shovels nose shark instead, and enjoyed it too.

Half a dozen men worked all one day in a Greenwood (Me) mill recently, trying to get it started and two of them continued the next day. Finally the engine was taken to pieces and several quarts of nuts, bits of bark and other fine stuff found in the cylinder. A squirrel had entered through the exhaust pipe and appropriated the space for a storeroom.

MRS. ANNA GERTZ' DREAM

SHE TELLS ABOUT IT IN A LONG BRIEF FILED IN THE SUPREME COURT AND GIVES IT AS A REASON FOR HER PRESENT PROCEEDINGS—MAY BE A BAD DREAM FOR SOME ONE.

Mrs. Anna Gertz has filed another long "brief" in the Supreme Court, asking for a "writ of false judgment" in the matter of her petition to reopen an old foreclosure of mortgage. Mrs. Gertz applies such terms as Robber and Thief with liberality to those who are opposed to her, including both the lawyers and the court.

Her petition sets forth that on January 28, 1897, ten days after the death of petitioner's husband, she was dragged out of her homestead on ejectment proceedings brought by the purchaser, Mrs. Maria Forbes, who got a judgment from a jury of "twelve of her warmest friends." Cecil Brown also comes in for attention having, according to the brief, sold "the remainder what was not taken by Robber Magoon. And such Robbers do we want to make laws. No nation of the three large nations, America, England and Germany, needs to be proud over the other that she holds the most honest men. American missionaries took the property and the German Imperial consul put the seal of the German Empire to it, and an Englishman Cecil Brown had to do the rest. "The petitioner says that Magoon is a Mexican and has a "thieving eye."

Regarding Gear and the efforts to get a hearing before him, the brief says:

"That Hon. Judge Gear remained quite a while in Hilo and after his return petitioner did inform him that the bill filed did state facts enough to show that defendant J. A. Magoon did act against the statutes and George Davis he attorney acted like a monkey in Hon. Judge Gear's chambers and petitioner told him he had no right to interfere when he said he was Judge Gear's adviser. He did not stop interfering until Judge Gear did forbid it. Ever since he did get a compliment from petitioner by Postal card he anyhow looks out that he is better dressed."

Mrs. Gertz says that Gear tried to tire her out by making her wait and that he finally agreed to hear the amended bill, but trouble began again in getting a decision and she finally ceased to call on him because he sat studying and did not listen to her. Then the brief tells of a dream:

"Petitioner put up her mind not to be tired out a dream on going up a high ladder with a book which was wanted up on the platform. It seems the platform was the Judiciary building. The ladder was about 20 feet high and commenced to slip on top. Petitioner held on to the platform and commenced to scream. Two young girls were sitting below and they laughed at the danger as death would have followed by the high fall. Petitioner was raised up on the platform. So now petitioner is still on the platform and is still danger to fall down the high ladder.

"After that dream mortgage decision appeared in newspaper, which was the signal given to drop the cause. The high ladder did give the signal to act and hold on and this quickly. For that reason the motion was filed on November 25 or 26."

WINDFALL FOR THE HOSPITAL.

By the death of the late Prince Albert Kumulakea, the following lands, which were left to him for life by the late Queen Emma, become the property of the Queen's Hospital. Had Prince Albert left heirs of his body lawfully begotten, according to the will they would have inherited the property in fee simple. It is thought the property will yield an annual income of $4,000. The lands are these: The Ahupua'a of Kalaheua, in the Kohala district, island of Hawaii. The Ahupua'a of Kawaihau, also in the Kohala district of Hawaii. The Ahupua'a of Kamaomoa in the Puna district of Hawaii. The Waiakaeke in the Puna district of Hawaii. The land of Halakaa near the town of Lahaina, Maui.

MISS WALDORF'S BENEFIT.

Tonight will see the close of the present successful season of the Waldorf Company and also the end of Miss Waldorf's long tour. The benefit organized by the members of the company to celebrate the occasion will doubtless be patronized by a crowded audience the booking being already very large. "The Wrong Mr. Wright," which will be the bill for the evening, is a comedy which had almost a record run in London and was also highly successful in America. It belongs to the smart and snappy school of Broadhurst comedies and is reputed to be one of the best. Miss Waldorf has no doubt held back in this one of her leading attractions and a thoroughly enjoyable performance may be safely predicted. In farcical comedy the company have proved their worth a fact testified to again by the large audience which witnessed the production of "Turned up" last evening. It is to be hoped that Miss Waldorf's farewell tonight will be fittingly supported.
