GERMANY WARNS OFF U. S. SHIPS

"CHANCE FOR REPEALING FREE SUGAR," SAYS DELEGATE KUHIO

In Letter to Legislators, He Forecasts Change in Tariff Bill

URGES LARGE PARTY OF CONGRESSMEN BE INVITED

Legislature Should Double Appropriation, Ask President and Other Distinguished Men to Come

"There is a chance of repealing the free sugar clause before May, 1916, provided we can persuade the leading men in Congress to come to the islands and see at first hand the sugar situation there."

This significant statement is contained in a letter sent by Delegate Kuhio to members of the territorial legislature and received yesterday, urging that the legislature appropriate $15,000 for the purpose of bringing a large party of congressmen and other leading government officials to Hawaii this spring.

There is an appropriation of $15,000 for such a purpose, made by the last legislature and still unused, but the delegate believes that the amount should be doubled and the visiting party be as large as possible.

He points out a number of urgent matters in which Hawaii is interested which might be settled by congressmen after they had seen conditions here, among them the Kilauwea national park scheme, the Rapid Transit franchise extension and the Lever-Smith vocational extension plan.

Delegate Kuhio suggests that the legislature invite President Wilson to visit the territory.

His suggestions, as contained in the letter received by members of the legislature, are as follows:

Dear Sir: In view of the advisability of having a Congressional visit to Hawaii next spring, it would be to our best interest that there be a large and representative party. The appropriation of $15,000 made by the legislature in 1912, which is available until June 30, 1915, seems hardly adequate for such a purpose. I would urge that an additional appropriation of $15,000 be made at this next session, making a total of $30,000. I would further urge that the appropriation act be so worded as to include distinguished visitors as well as members of Congress, and that the act of 1912 be amended to read likewise.

It is apparent that the next Congress will be an important one to us inasmuch as free sugar goes into effect in May, 1916; but there is a chance of repealing the free sugar clause before that time, provided we can persuade the leading men in Congress to come to the islands and see at first hand the sugar situation there.

I have introduced bills for harbor improvements. Honolulu harbor needs enlarging and, owing to the present congested condition the extension to Kihuna harbor is absolutely necessary. Pearl Harbor, where will be located the largest naval station in the world, should prove of great interest to the legislators. Of no less importance are the improvements needed on the harbors of the other islands.

There has been pending before Congress for several years a bill for a national park at Kilauwea. The reason that we have not been able to pass the measure is due, no doubt, to the fact that Congress is loath to create

TWELVE BRITONS LEAVING HAWAII TO JOIN COLORS

Twelve sturdy Britons will sail on the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara tonight for Vancouver, on their way to join the British colors.

Most of them have seen active service before, a number being veterans of the South African war. Seven have come from the island of Hawaii and the others are Honolulu men. For several months Britons have been leaving Hawaii quietly for the front, one delegation of nine shipping as members of the crew of the British steamer Glenroy and thus going to Vancouver.

Last night the departing Britons were given a rousing send-off at the Country Club. Nearly every one made a brief speech and there was music and patriotic songs. E. W. P. St. George presided.

The British association has now opened headquarters in Honolulu, room 22, Campbell block, being fitted up for systematic business. The Sons of St. George, Sons of St. Patrick, Sons of St. Andrew and other organizations are cooperating in relief work, in raising pension funds and in assisting British subjects who wish to go to the front.

Those who are to sail on the Niagara tonight include T. P. Williams, formerly with the Hilo Iron Works; Frank Brolan, former luna for the Onomea Sugar Company; R. G. Macdonald, a machinist with the Hawaiian company; F. W. Shepherd, Paauhau luna; J. G. Mutch of Hilo; A. C. I. Coulter, assistant engineer for Onomea; John Bain, Paauhau luna, and the following Honolulu residents: A. Hunter, G. Shackleton, P. Quinn, J. S. French and W. Heron.

"SHO-GUN" AND ALL THE MERRY CROWD REHEARSE TONIGHT AT THE ARMORY

A full chorus rehearsal in "The Sho-Gun" will be held this evening at the armory. The chorus is getting into fine shape now, says "Sonny" Cunha, and will have its songs and dances perfect long before the performance is given.

Every member of the chorus has been given a book with the songs that they may practise them outside. One or two persons who signed up for the chorus have lately dropped out and have neglected to return their books for the use of their successors. Cunha is anxious to have the books returned this evening.

The rehearsal will begin at 8 o'clock. "The Sho-Gun" will be as big a hit and success as "The Mayor of Tokio" was last year," declares Director General Dougherty, who is following the rehearsals with closest interest.

"The Sho-Gun" will be produced on the grounds of Oahu college.

Among the pets shown at the Cigar Poultry and Pet Show is a decorated skunk named "Jerry," alias the "Sachet Kitten."

The Jackson Coal Co. of Charleston, W. Va., has purchased the Holiday-boro mine and 5000 acres of land near Duquoin, Ill., for $500,000.

WILSON'S VETO O. K. IN HOUSE

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.—BY A VOTE OF 261 TO 136 THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES TODAY FAILED TO OVER-RIDE THE PRESIDENT'S VETO OF THE IMMIGRATION BILL. REPRESENTATIVE OSCAR UNDERWOOD, THE HOUSE LEADER, VOTED AGAINST THE PRESIDENT.

HAWAII WIRELESS BRIDGES PACIFIC

The western Pacific ocean, 4000 miles of it, has been bridged by the wireless, adding another to the brilliant achievements that in the last five years have centered the attention of engineers and scientists on this part of the world.

A message sent from the Kahuku station of the Marconi company has been received and clearly read by the Japanese government station at Ochiai, Hokkaido, Japan. This news came today in a cablegram to the Hawaii Shimpu. It is understood here that the Japanese government is using the Poulsen system or a modification of it, and that Japan praises the Poulsen system highly.

Manager Hawk of the Marconi company says that while he had not heard of the success of the tests, he was aware that the Kahuku station has been working for some time preparatory to establishing communication with Japan.

FEDERAL BUILDING BILL NOT HELD UP BY BITTER FILIBUSTER, IS REPORT

According to news in the Congressional Record, the federal building bill is not being held up by the anti-shipping bill filibuster. Before the filibuster had got into full swing, the senate conference committee had been appointed to compose differences between the house and senate on minor features of the bill. The senate committee is composed of Swanson, Warren and Martin, all said to be strongly in favor of the measure.

RIVENBURGH SAILS AS HAWAII'S REPRESENTATIVE

Bertram G. Rivenburgh sailed for the mainland in the Manoa yesterday as representative to Governor Pinkham at two conventions to be held shortly in San Francisco and as deputy Hawaii resident exposition commissioner. Shortly before he boarded the steamer Mr. Rivenburgh was commissioned by the governor as delegate to the tenth annual convention of the Navy League of the United States to be held in San Francisco March 25 to 27. He also will represent the governor at the convention of the Inland Waterways Association in San Francisco March 25.

CRUISER WRECKED

[Associated Press Cable]
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., FEB. 4.—ADMIRAL HOWARD, COMMANDING THE PACIFIC FLEET, REPORTS FROM EISENHARDT, LOWER CALIFORNIA, THAT THE JAPANESE CRUISER ASAMA HAS BEEN WRECKED AT PORT SAN BARTOLOME, 40 MILES SOUTH OF CEDROS ISLAND, WHERE THE STEAMERS ISTHMIAN AND MALAKKA WERE WRECKED. NO LOSS OF LIFE HAS OCCURRED. IT IS REPORTED THAT THE ASAMA STRUCK MONDAY. DETAILS ARE NOT YET OBTAINABLE.

The Asama is well-known in Hawaii waters, having visited at this port. The cruiser, of 9500 tons, is part of the Japanese fleet patrolling the seelanes, and is presumed to have been in search of the German cruiser Dresden.

HOLD PLEASANTON LIQUOR LICENSE PETITION VOID

Hotel Will Lose Fight, if Commission Acts on Opinion of Attorney-General

RIGHT TO WITHDRAW APPLICATION DENIED

Failure to Get Enough Names in First Tender is Final, Says Stainback

The Pleasanton hotel loses in an opinion submitted by Attorney-General L. M. Stainback to the liquor license commission today, and if the board acts in accord with his opinion it will proceed to confirm its denial of the hotel's application for the liquor-selling privilege. The lengthy discussion and extensive searching of statutes on this application probably will come to an end at the board's next meeting, which likely will be held next week.

After threshing over a vast number of legal questions, the application and petition, carrying the names of property-holders who approved of the proposed license, were taken up for action at the board's last session, when the discovery was made that the petition did not carry the number of signatures required by law. Then the representatives of the applicant sought permission to withdraw it, that the defect might, if possible, be remedied and the petition introduced again at an early date. If the application is directly denied the applicant is barred from presenting another for a period of two years from the date of refusal.

The commission was uncertain whether it was required by law to act, once the subject was brought directly before it for consideration, or whether the applicant might be permitted a withdrawal. The question was put up to the attorney-general and he, concluding a written opinion, says:

"On the whole, although I am not fully satisfied as to the intent of the legislature, I am of the opinion that the petition may not be withdrawn at this stage of the proceeding, that is, after an actual motion to refuse the application is before the commission and the withdrawal is merely for the purpose of defeating an adverse decision."

In the same opinion the attorney-general comments: "The provision in section 25 (section laws of 1907) to the effect that an application shall be refused upon the ground that the necessary consent of neighboring property holders has not been obtained seems to be a useless provision and can serve no purpose if we take the view that an applicant can render such provision nugatory by merely withdrawing his petition after it appears that the decision will be adverse."

"It can be urged that even though the petitioner has no absolute right of withdrawal, the board can consent to the withdrawal of the petition where there is a case presenting equitable grounds and that such an interpretation would enable the board to protect itself against the withdrawal of the petition merely for the purpose of preventing an adverse decision. The statute contains no such provisions and it is difficult to see how such interpretation can be arrived at from a consideration of its intent and purposes."

"Further, one of the purposes in section 25 may well be to prevent the continuous agitation of the establishment of a saloon in certain premises even though the board may be willing to see the question again go before the voters of that district."

ARMY AIRMEN DEMAND BIGGER APPROPRIATION

Lack of Funds for Repairs Means Certain Death to Them, They Say

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 4.—The California Air Pilots' Club has wired a formal request to United States Senators Perkins and Works of this state to urge Congress to increase the appropriation for aviation in the army bill from $390,000 to $1,000,000.

The club contends that the present sum is insufficient to make needed repairs on the air craft and will mean certain death to many air pilots.

HONOLULU TO GET ORPHEUM CIRCUIT VAUDEVILLE, PLAN

Theatrical Men Here With a Proposition to Put Up Theater and Give Regular Bills

Honolulu will be the site of a Martin Beck's world-wide Orpheum vaudeville circuit and a new thoroughly modern theater may be erected to house the new production, according to an announcement made to the Star-Bulletin today by Edward C. Hayman, Chicago theatrical man who arrived on the Matsonia yesterday in company with F. B. Malcolm, Martin Beck's personal representative.

The proposal to book the world-circuit Orpheum acts is only tentative, Mr. Hayman announced, and another proposition is under consideration, either of which in all events will be accepted and Honolulu will be a regular "stopping place" for three or four weekly vaudeville acts. The second proposal "tips off" what is believed to be the rumored west coast popular-price vaudeville wheel.

According to this latter report a vaudeville circuit is to be established on the coast. A latest mail despatch from Portland states that the promoters of the circuit intend taking over the Lyric theater in Portland. When asked if he was interested in this movement and if it was the "other" proposition under consideration in which this city is to be on the "wheel" Mr. Hayman refused to commit himself.

However, he made detailed inquiries of a Portland man, recently located in Honolulu, about the Portland theatrical situation. Mr. Hayman for many years past has been the owner of the Kedzie theater and the Kedzie Annex theater, both located on West Madison street, Chicago, and also of the Edward C. Hayman Theatrical Booking Agency of the same city.

"Honolulu will have the best vaudeville on the theatrical market," he said when interviewed at the Alana hotel, "and probably will be a part of Martin Beck's world circuit. According to our present plans, which are only tentative, we will show about four acts of good vaudeville and a couple of reels of motion pictures."

"We will have two shows nightly, at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m., and the price will be within reach of all, probably not in excess of 50 cents. If a theater is erected it will be a credit to this city and will be thoroughly modern in every respect. Especial attention will be given to the comfort of patrons in the way of seating arrangements. We do not expect to ask theater-goers to sit for hours on 12-inch hardwood seats. At least we should have softwood seats."

"You can rest assured that we mean business, for I have closed out my interests in Chicago for the express purpose of instituting a high class show here in Honolulu. I am fascinated with the climate and the country and I'd like to stay here."

Mr. Hayman intimated that Sam Blair, manager of the Popular theater, is interested in the proposition.

DANGER FOR AMERICANS IN TOUCHING NORTHWEST COAST OF FRANCE; BATTLE LIKELY

Land Conflict Shows Little Progress Today—Roumania Holds Foodstuffs Consigned to Germany and Austria—Rebels in South Africa Surrender—American Christmas Gifts to Saxony Declined on Ground U. S. is "Hypocritical"

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.—Germany has served notice upon the United States that American vessels should avoid the northwest coasts of France.

(This despatch strengthens the intimation that Germany is preparing for a naval dash against the British transports and convoys that are carrying soldiers and munitions across the Channel.)

Berlin Claims Gains in West; Russians Repulsed in Poland

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 4.—Official.—"German forces in the Argonne forest stormed French trenches on three consecutive lines near Massiges and forced the defenders out after close-range fighting. The German troops occupied principal positions on a front of two kilometers and repulsed the enemy's counterattacks."

"In Poland repeated night attacks by Russians south of Sochczew have been repulsed with heavy losses. The German advance near Bolinow is progressing. In the Carpathians the combined German, Austrian and Hungarian forces, fighting shoulder to shoulder, have achieved several successes in the last few days."

German City Rejects U. S. Gifts; Calls Neutrality "Hypocrisy"

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Feb. 4.—The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger prints a despatch saying that the war committee of Zweibraken, Saxony, has voted to decline the American Christmas gifts brought in the Jason because "American neutrality is a mere hypocritical cloak of aid to Germany's enemies through shipment of munitions."

Paris Bulletin Tells of Hard Fighting

PARIS, France, Feb. 4.—Official.—"Our artillery has dispelled a determined German assault at Notre Dame de Lorette. In the German attacks reported last night we were assailed by three separate battalions at Werthes, Mesnil-les-Hurlus and Massiges. The artillery shattered the first two. The third, operating in conjunction with a mine explosion, made headway. We later recaptured the positions and built new trenches within a few yards of those the mine had rendered untenable."

MAYOR OF TOKIO QUILTS WHEN PET PLAN FAILS

(Special cable to the Nippon Jiji.)
TOKIO, Japan, Feb. 4.—Baron Y. Sakatani, mayor of Tokio, today formally presented his resignation at a meeting of aldermen. This move on the part of the executive head of the city is an outcome of his failure to perfect a consolidation of the local electrical companies and bring them under municipal control. Many of the aldermen expressed an unwillingness to accept Mayor Sakatani's resignation and a movement to retain him in office now is under way. It is reported, however, that the movement will meet with but little success.

Kanichiro Matsuoka, superintendent of the electric department of the city, has resigned.

A remarkable man is one who does a remarkable thing and doesn't talk about it.

GERMAN OFFICIAL CABLEGRAMS

The following cablegram was received last night from official German sources:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—Headquarters report, February 3: "French attacks against the German positions have been repulsed. On the rest of the western front there are only artillery duels. "From the East Prussian frontier there is nothing new. "In Poland, north of the Vistula, the Russians were repulsed in cavalry fights. South of the Vistula the German attacks on East Bolinow ended with the conquest of the villages of Humin. "Fighting for Wolaszlewiczka still continues. "Since February 1 here more than 4000 prisoners have been taken and six machineguns captured. "Russian night attacks against the German positions near the Bzura river have been repulsed."

The following cablegram was received early this afternoon from German official sources:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.—Headquarters report, February 2: "On the front between the North sea and Rheims there are only artillery duels in progress. Renewed French attacks near Perthes have been repulsed with losses for the enemy. North and northwest of Massiges and northwest of Menihould the Germans attacked yesterday and stormed three successive trenches, one behind the other, and occupied the French main position two kilometers large. "All the French counter attacks, which were continued during the night, were repulsed. Seven officers, 601 soldiers were taken prisoner and nine machine guns and nine smaller guns as well as much material captured. "In the middle Vosges the fight of the German ski-troops against the French chasseur was successful for the Germans. "In East Prussia the Russian attacks against the German position south of the Memel river were repulsed. In Poland north of the Vistula there have been skirmishes of small mixed detachments connected with cavalry fights, already reported on. About South Sochczew a repeated night attack broke down under heavy losses. The German advance in Bolinow is progressing in spite of violent Russian counter attacks. The number of prisoners is increasing. In the Carpathians for some days since the German have been fighting shoulder to shoulder with the Austro-Hungarian troops. The allied armies have obtained a series of good successes in difficult, snow-covered and mountainous country."

SMART ESTATE NEGOTIATIONS TO TAKE MONTH

Selection of Guardian for Boy Is First Problem to Be Settled

Negotiations for the amicable settlement of the Thelma Parker Smart will not be concluded this month. That much is admitted today by the attorneys for both sides, those representing Henry Gaillard Smart, father of little Richard Smart, as well as those representing Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight, mother of the late Thelma Parker Smart.

Since the negotiations began, two weeks ago, there never has been any question concerning guardianship of Richard Smart, say the attorneys. But the daily conferences at present deal entirely with the subject of a custodian for the child—the choice of some woman acceptable to both sides who shall rear the youngster until he reaches the age of 16 years, when he will become a "free lance," so to speak, until he attains his majority. Settlement still indefinite.

Only in general terms has a compromise of the big fight been agreed upon. The custody of Richard Smart is only one of many details remaining to be determined, say the lawyers, and after this is disposed of a vast number of other points must be threshed out before the interested parties are prepared to go into court and ask for legal confirmation and approval of the terms of the agreement.

It is possible the custodian of Richard Smart may be selected today. If it is not done today the conferences will be suspended until next Monday, as Attorney Frank E. Thompson, of counsel for Smart, the father, expects to go to Kauai tonight, returning Sunday or Monday.

"We will never consent to the appointment of a guardian other than a temporary one pending this litigation," declared one of Smart's attorneys today, when questioned concerning a statement published this morning as coming from one of Mrs. Knight's lawyers. The attorney was quoted as saying Mrs. Knight was determined she should have the selection of the minor's guardian.

"Before we will agree to that," said Smart's counsel, "we will throw up the whole matter, go back to Kailua, Hawaii, and fight it out in the court for the guardianship. The question of a guardian has not entered into our negotiations, however."

"At the same time, we do not seek to place the child in a custody that will prevent Mrs. Knight from visiting him. On the contrary our endeavor is to find some one mutually satisfactory, who will take the youngster with the understanding that the relatives on both sides shall have access to him at all times convenient with ordinary etiquette."

For the last day or two the lawyers have been in lengthy but thus far futile conference in their effort to discover some woman as custodian who will be agreeable to both sides. It is understood a tentative proposition was advanced originally that each side should submit the names of three persons, then together they should go over the lists, each in turn striking out a name until only one was left. But to date the actual program has been that each side submitted one name.

Their efforts were almost rewarded with success yesterday, when they struck upon a name which at first appeared entirely satisfactory. The woman selected was one of the best

FIRE-FIEND IS RESPONSIBLE FOR FAMILY'S NEED

The January report of the humane officer, Miss Lucy Ward, shows that of the 18 children's cases handled cruelty and neglect predominate. Two cases of tuberculosis were handled during the month.

A Hawaiian family was found destitute and starving. The work of an incendiary had left them homeless. The case was reported by the mayor's secretary, the man having appealed to the mayor for work. In cooperation with the Associated Charities the family was supplied with food, clothing and lumber for temporary shelter. The man was given a position by the road board.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Parke a travelling library consisting of 48 volumes and a stereopticon exhibit of animals were tendered the society and gratefully accepted.

Of the 57 animal cases there were 21 cases of lameness, the majority of which were due to improper horse-shoeing. The matter of examination of horse shoes and the "pound" question were referred to the committee for the prevention of cruelty to animals, of which Miss Wilhelmina Tenney is chairman.

Miss Ward was granted a leave of absence. No substitute has yet been appointed.

GAMBLING DEFENDANT FORFEITS $100 BOND

Edward H. Lewis, charged with taking part in a gambling game in a Guile avenue house, which was recently raided, forfeited a $100 bond in the district court this morning. Lewis returned from a business trip to the Coast in the Matsonia yesterday. He was placed under arrest by Captain of Detectives McDuffie. Lewis had deposited a cash bail bond to insure his appearance in the lower court.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Verdict for Alexander L. Koch in the sum of $1157.50 was returned by a jury in Circuit Judge Stuart's court yesterday in the suit brought by Koch against Heinrich Weck and others for an accounting.

Damages in the sum of $800 for assault and battery received at the hands of Joe Perry were returned Joe Aboo yesterday afternoon by a jury in Circuit Judge Stuart's court.

Judge Whitney has cited Daniel Helehihi to appear before him tomorrow afternoon and show cause why he should not be fined for contempt of court, in his failure to pay $5 a week alimony to his former wife, Elizabeth Helehihi, who was divorced from him recently.

M. Rosenbiedt, appointed January 9 as receiver for Walkiki Inn, has filed accounts in circuit court showing that the property on that date showed a valuation of $44,658.13. Of this, $20,000 consisted of capital stock.

M. T. Simonton, receiver for the Model block, today filed his first annual account in circuit court. It shows receipts of $4,200 in rentals and disbursements of $3,781.60.

Known women in Honolulu, but it is understood today that for reasons foreign to the case she was unable to accept the office, though it is said she personally was willing to assume the responsibility.

SUPT. KINNEY'S REPORT SHOWS GREAT PROGRESS IN SCHOOLS

The biennial report on the public schools of the territory, submitted by Superintendent H. W. Kinney to the governor and just issued in pamphlet form for general distribution, contains an introductory discussion of educational affairs of remarkable interest. In it the superintendent sets forth briefly the results accomplished the last two years and the initial steps taken in pursuing the new school policies, outlined by Governor Pinkham at the time Mr. Kinney was appointed to the office less than a year ago.

The report shows the total school enrollment of 1914 to be 28,286 pupils throughout the territory, a gain of 2,34 per cent over the enrollment of 1913 and a gain of 88.50 per cent in the last ten years.

It shows that the budget for the next two years will call for a smaller expenditure of money than that of two years ago did, despite the increased attendance.

The method of employment of instructors has been altered, so that teachers having certificates are employed by contract, thus assuring them employment for at least a year, a feature noticeable by its absence until the present administration.

Less money is to be spent the next two years on new school buildings than was set aside for that work two years ago. This, the superintendent attributes to standardization of buildings and adoption of the "Kauai bungalow style" of architecture in the leeward districts.

"Teaching Fade" Discouraged

The new course of study, compiled last summer, takes as its foundation the old familiar "three Rs"—reading, writing and arithmetic—and to a certain extent tends to discourage "teaching fade."

As an innovation, graduates from the eighth grade now receive diplomas. Examinations for the four grades up to and including the eighth have been standardized, prepared by a committee at headquarters in Honolulu and the questions of which are sent out to the instructors throughout the islands.

Vocational work now is expected to be self-supporting. Superintendent Kinney has been making a close, careful study of this new feature in the public schools and is taking a deep interest in it. He discusses the subject at length, a part of his comment being as follows:

"Vocational training on the mainland is as yet in the experimental stage. After considerable study and reading of reports on the work in this line done on the mainland, I have come to the conclusion that Hawaii will do well by working out her own salvation on plans adapted to conditions here, which are in many respects different from those found on the mainland."

"Since September of this year a number of changes have been made in the vocational instruction department of the local system. First of all the department has insisted that the work must be self-supporting. In the case of a school where vocational work is taken up de novo, in either cooking, carpentry or agriculture, the department furnishes the raw material needed and the necessary equipment. After the school has been given this start, it is, however, expected to supply itself with raw material, paying for this by the proceeds received from the sale of the articles manufactured. This has worked satisfactorily. Since September, Honolulu has added instruction in carpentry in the Royal, Kalihiwaena, Liliuokalani, Kaahumanu and Central Grammar schools, and cooking departments being installed in the Kaahumanu, Liliuokalani, Central Grammar, Royal, Kalihiwaena and Kaimuki schools. On the other islands, cooking and carpentry are also being extended considerably."

"One of the great difficulties experienced at present lies in the securing of time for this work. The department began the work this fall on the theory that it would be best to have the boys who desired carpentry do this outside of school hours as volunteers. In the beginning results fully justified this theory, as in many cases the shop facilities were swamped by volunteers. In the long run, however, the experiment was a failure. Many of the boys who wanted to work and who should have had it, could not take it because their parents required them to come home and do work for them. Baseball games and other amusements sometimes proved too much for the good resolutions of the volunteers, and at times the classes dwindled down to only two or three pupils. It is plain that the vocational work should be placed under our law of compulsory attendance. However, it will be decidedly detrimental to the schools if the four hours and fifteen minutes allowed each day for academic work is reduced. As it is, this period is shorter than that required in most places on the mainland, and we cannot provide the improvement in public school education if the time allowed for academic work is cut down. The only solution seems to be that the department be authorized by law to require, in the case of schools where vocational instruction is provided, that children above a certain age, say 12, or above a certain grade, say the fifth or sixth, must remain in the school not more than four or five hours extra each week.

"This phase brings up the proposition of releasing from ordinary school attendance children who have finished certain school work. In other words, will it be advantageous to allow children, who have finished, say, the fifth grade, to finish their attendance, if they wish it, thus making the amount of education absorbed, rather than a certain age, the governing factor for the release of pupils? The adoption of some such plan may encourage pupils to work harder in the lower grades. In case such a plan should be adopted, the question arises whether children thus released should not be required to take the vocational instruction wherever this is available. The appended table of statistics showing the attendance and age of pupils in the various grades is illuminating."

"The great difficulty now encountered in the problem of extending the vocational instruction in the schools is the lack of instructors. The present system of having an itinerant vocational instructor on each island, covering as much ground as physical limitations allow, has been valuable, but only as a start towards the solution of the problem. If vocational instruction is to amount to anything really valuable, it must be handled in a more comprehensive manner in the future. To secure more teachers in the vocational branches from the mainland is out of the question, partly because of the tremendous expense, this would involve, and partly because even on the mainland the demand for such instructors is greater than the supply. As a matter of fact, it is far more economical and far more desirable to train our own Normal students, who furnish material for capable and satisfactory vocational instructors. A start has already been made in this respect by selecting a number of pupils from the present senior class of the Normal school, to qualify for vocational work in addition to their ordinary qualifications as instructors. Far more pupils volunteered for the work than could be used, and the response has been very encouraging."

"In the past the Normal students were given instruction in cooking, carpentry, millinery, sewing, etc., but owing to lack of practical experience they feared to take up their work in the schools. While they were skilled cooks, carpenters, milliners, etc., they did not have confidence in themselves when it came to buying supplies and making their departments self-supporting in the school. To meet this difficulty the volunteers mentioned are being sent daily, one to each of the large schools in Honolulu, where they are given charge each of a cooking or carpentry department under the general supervision of the vocational instructors in these branches. They are given credit for this work as practice teaching, and it is expected that after they have actually handled such departments in the larger schools they will, when they graduate from the Normal School, be competent to handle such departments in the schools to which they are assigned. If this system is followed out for a few years Hawaii will soon have a corps of well-trained vocational instructors, who will be able to cope with local conditions far better than it would be possible for even the most thoroughly trained mainlanders to do."

"In this connection I would respectfully recommend that, as these teachers will be required to do extra work and give extra time, they be given extra pay at the rate of $10 a month during the ten months of actual work in the school year. On the basis of 30 such instructors this amounts to $30,000 a year. The estimates prepared and adopted by the commissioners a short time ago include this proposition, and, much as I dislike asking for any additional outlay, I do so in this case with the realization that the outlay is very small considering the results to be obtained."

"In this same connection I wish to point out the desirability of having the control of the furniture and fixture items in the school budget revert to this department. One of the many difficulties with which the vocational work in the schools must contend is that of being compelled to turn out articles which can be disposed of. The consequence has been that it has been necessary in some cases to turn out a rather large number of lawnmowers and similar articles, for which there is demand, than is consistent with the best ideas for instruction. If the school carpenter shops can be used for furnishing school equipment such as benches, cupboards, chairs and the like, an outlet will be furnished for the production of articles which will be of real use to the department and which will do away with the necessity of hunting for orders. Furthermore, the making of school furniture is of far greater educational value than the making of some of the articles which must now be produced. Of the same value will be any legislation which may be passed which will allow the pupils in the school carpenter shops to repair the school buildings and, in some cases, to build school structures of not too involved a design.

"The vocational work which is done in the grammar grades cannot and should not claim to turn out carpenters, milliners, farmers or chefs. It is, as a matter of fact, mainly pre-vocational, teaching the rudiments of useful arts, which serve at least an occasional purpose in almost every walk of life. The main purpose of the work is, however, to place these arts before the pupils in such a manner that an opportunity is given to bring forth from the individuals such aptitude as they may have along these lines and to encourage them towards development in this direction rather than along lines to which they may be unfitted."

"At present, however, our vocational work ends with the eighth grade. The pupils who wish to prepare for the professions have the colleges and high schools to go to. Those who wish to enter business have the business course. Those who wish to train themselves further in the mechanical arts have nowhere to go. I think that the equipment of the College of Hawaii, as far as it is not used for the purposes of the college, may be used for an institution for vocational training for those who have left the government schools, it being understood, of course, that while such a school is furnished accommodations and equipment at the College of Hawaii, it will be a separate and distinct institution and its pupils will secure no credit from the college. I offer this suggestion as one which will fill a very distinct want in our educational system without any material outlay, and which will make use of the splendid equipment of the College of Hawaii when it cannot be used for the purposes of the college proper."

TO ASK LEGISLATURE FOR STRICTER INSURANCE LAW

Stricter insurance laws will be asked when the new legislature meets, it is learned. The present regulation is too loose because the law is too indefinite, it is said. Among the changes asked will be a provision that foreign companies doing business in the territory be compelled to have assets in the United States.

A general redrafting of the law which will go down to the fundamental principles of insurance will be asked.

DELEGATE KUHIO TELLS OF WORK IN WASHINGTON

The Chamber of Commerce has received a letter from Delegate Kuhio, dated January 22, telling about the work he was doing on behalf of the territorial harbor appropriations. He reported that he was working for a senate amendment to the rivers and harbors bill asking that provision be made for the west breakwater at Kahului and that Honolulu be allotted $200,000. Since he wrote the amendment failed of favorable action.

He says that Kahului was considered a new project and had small chance of approval. "I do not understand why Honolulu should have been left out," he comments on the harbor bill.

He says that the chief of engineers advocates the moving of the U. S. quarantine station and is backed by the treasury department, and adds that he is asking that the appropriation for this be included in the sundry civil bill.

Korea Bringing Few Passengers.

The Pacific Mail liner Korea will bring few passengers from the mainland to Honolulu, according to a wireless message received at the agency of Mackfield & Co. The vessel is due off port at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon with 43 cabin and a small number of second-class passengers. Leaving the coast for the Orient were 61 cabin, 16 second-class and 191 Asiatic steerage passengers. It is intended to despatch the Korea for Japan and China at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The vessel will leave less than 30 tons of freight.

Kauai Sugar Report.

Sugar awaiting shipment on the island of Kauai include the following lots, according to officers in the steamer W. G. Hall: Lihue 4000 Keolu 11500, Kilauea 7000, MCB 10, 642, M. A. K. 1052, K. P. 9390, K. K. B. 2800.

To take 400 tons of bunker coal, the British freighter Wasmata from the Orient is reported due at Honolulu tomorrow. The vessel will steam for the east coast of the United States by way of the Panama canal after receiving its fuel.

Several large tramp freighters, each loaded with merchandise and foodstuffs from the Far East, are reported on the way to Panama canal and New York. Each is scheduled to call at Honolulu for bunker coal.

At the rate that coal is leaving the Japanese steamer Tsunagumo Maru, now at the Inter-island bunkers, the vessel will be ready to steam for Ocean Island on Saturday afternoon.

AD CLUB'S 'FENCE DAY' PLAN IS POPULAR; NEXT TUESDAY THE DAY

Community to Tear Down Old Fences and Clean Up Lawns Before Carnival

"Fence Day"—next Tuesday—is going to see a city actively at work for the improvement of Honolulu's good looks.

The movement launched by the fence committee of the Ad Club yesterday has taken a big hold on the people of the city. Letters, telephone messages and personal talks with the members of the fence committee and to the Star-Bulletin show that "Fence Day" is going to be a real community clean-up day.

"I am very glad to hear of the movement to destroy the ugly and unnecessary fences over the city," declares Supervisor Horner, chairman of the police committee. "Now that the Carnival is almost here, which means that we will be the hosts to many visitors, we should take pride in making our city as well appearing and beautiful as possible; and the blow planned to be struck at these hideous fences is one that I am sure will meet with the ready support of the board of supervisors."

"As chairman of the police committee, I am willing and anxious to do all I can to make the movement successful. There is no doubt in my mind but many of these fences are insanitary, and should be destroyed for that reason if for no other."

"The time is drawing very short now," added Supervisor Horner, "and we should not wait until even Tuesday, but get busy at once."

A Citizen's Appeal.

Here is a contribution from an interested citizen:

"Honolulu is to have no more fences, if the plans of the 'Fence' committee receive the support of the people of the city as they should.

"The gentlemen of this committee have been instrumental in preventing many thousands of feet of unsightly fence from being erected, likewise active in tearing down much that has been a detriment for years."

"They are anxious, however, to go further and consider these few days before the Carnival the appropriate time to ask the cooperation of the public, in doing away with disfiguring and unnecessary fences; hence 'Fence Day'."

"All Honolulu people should be inculcated with the 'boosting' spirit and feel an individual responsibility in the developing and improving of the city. It is the duty of every one as a citizen."

"Every person in Honolulu benefits in some way from the tourist traffic, therefore every person should be willing to work to increase it. In all the large tourist centers, time, money and careful thought are given to the appearance of the town or district, and Honolulu is beautiful in spite of her many disfigurements."

"Let every one, then, 'get busy' on Tuesday and help the Ad Club in this clean-up program."

"Don't sit back and allow the Carnival committee to do all the work, and therefore get all the credit in the next two weeks. Get behind them, and by individual effort and enthusiasm, become bone fide members of the committee and feel a pride in being a necessary factor in the Carnival. For the Carnival will be greatly augmented by a clean city."

"See if we cannot accomplish a Honolulu without fences, with green hedges and blocks of well-kept lawns, a veritable park, as it could easily be."

"Down with the fences," is the slogan for the coming week. Do not forget Tuesday, February 9. It is the eventual day.

SPECIAL SHIPPING

Japanese Consulate Cargo.

Merchandise consigned to German firms along the coast of Asia found at Tsingtau at the time of Japanese occupation will be confiscated according to a government announcement. The cargo is said to be in the custody of the Japanese military authorities. The marks, numbers and quantities of the goods, as well as the formalities necessary for their recovery have been published at Tsingtau. The formalities may be summarized thus: The goods will be handed over to persons who present bills of lading, or receipts issued by the former chief officer of Tsingtau, or other reliable certificates and also to persons who deposit in cash the value of the goods, on and after the 25th of December. No goods under any circumstances will be delivered to German and Austrian subjects. Goods that have not been thus delivered by the 1st of April next will be detained in the custody of the authorities until the 1st of June, when they will be confiscated provided that in the meantime no demand has been made for them.

Manila Steamship Line Quits.

The Manila firm known as the Yangco Steamship Company, capitalized at $1,500,000, has filed in the Manila courts a petition for dissolution and that such disposition of its assets and property remaining be made by the court as the law may direct. The petition sets forth that the corporation at the present time has no liabilities nor obligations of any kind, save and except the sundry accounts of the said corporation, all of which will be duly liquidated and satisfied prior to the period of dissolution. This corporation, it is alleged, was duly organized under the laws of the Philippine Islands, and the capital stock is divided into 15,000 shares of P100 each, all fully paid. At a meeting of the stockholders, held in Manila, the dissolution of this company was resolved upon by the affirmative vote of stockholders representing more than two-thirds of all shares of stock.

Fire on Japanese Liner.

356 Waltham owners have sent in their movement number. Where's Yours?

A Waltham runs the "Morning Star."

Honolulu, Hawaii, Feb. 1, 1915.

H. F. Wichman & Co.

Sirs: I would state that my Appleton Tracy open-face Waltham Watch, No. 979,043, with bullseye crystal, was presented to me by Boston friends when leaving home in 1878, to come to Honolulu to take command of the missionary brig "Morning Star." It has therefore been in constant service for thirty-seven years, without any expense except necessary cleaning and two renewals of springs.

It was guaranteed to be of the best and most valuable make. At that time a stem-winder was unknown, I think, and for thirty-seven years I have patiently wound with key (13,875 times). It has sailed down the Atlantic to Cape Horn, and through the Magellan Straits, up the Pacific as far north as Alaska. It has been through the Marshall, Gilbert, Caroline, Ladrone and Philippine Islands, to China, Japan, and across the American continent seven times, without any appreciable error from climatic changes.

It has been three times immersed in the ocean—once while I was swimming with an overturned boat for two hours—without stopping, changing time, or needing cleaning or repairs. I learned to have such perfect confidence in its accuracy that on starting on my long sea voyages I had it rated with my ship's chronometers, and found it as reliable for obtaining the longitude as any chronometer I ever used.

In fact, on the voyage from the Caroline Islands my two chronometers became so erratic and untrustworthy that I relied only on my Waltham. On sighting Oahu I found the longitude only seven seconds out.

Again, when I took the steamer "Lehua" from Honolulu to San Francisco, I navigated the 2100 miles entirely by my Waltham Watch. On sighting the Farrallones I found the landfall, or longitude, absolutely correct.

The watch is keeping as perfect time today as when I first received it, thirty-seven years ago, and I have perfect confidence that it will as faithfully serve me for the balance of my life.

(Capt.) ISAIAH BRAY.

Are YOU going to win this $100 Waltham?---

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1915.

THE PRESIDENT AND BUSINESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.—In an address made here yesterday before the National Chamber of Commerce, President Wilson urged strongly the cooperation of organizations of business men with the government in framing legislation. The president said such an arrangement would benefit everybody. He advocated the pooling of interests in all public problems. Associated Press despatch.

Has two years in the White House changed Mr. Wilson's attitude toward business?—not necessarily Big Business with capitals emphasized, either.

If there is anything fresh in Hawaii's memory it is the inability of the sugar producers of Hawaii to get their case before Congress. Only when they were called upon to testify as part of the alleged "insidious lobby" did they get an opportunity to be heard.

The representative of the Chamber of Commerce had the greatest difficulty in arranging an interview with the president. The interview was cancelled, under circumstances still in dispute, but the point is that never, at any time, did the sugar producers of Hawaii feel that their aid in solving a great tariff problem was sought; never did they feel that the legislation was based on intimate knowledge of the industry; always they ran up against a blank wall of opposition.

If the president wishes the "cooperation of organizations of businessmen with the government in framing legislation," Hawaii now stands, as Hawaii stood then, ready to place the facts of sugar production before him. And Hawaii agrees with Mr. Wilson that such an arrangement would "benefit everybody." That is, nearly everybody. It wouldn't benefit the sugar refiners, who stand to get all of the advantages of free sugar now. But it would benefit the producer of raw sugar and it would benefit the ultimate consumer.

President Wilson once said he had a "single-track mind." When the tariff was being framed he was on the single track going irresistibly in one direction. Now if he is welcoming the cooperation of businessmen, that same single-track mind, alert and singularly clear as it is, and his undoubted moral fibre, inflexible and upright, should be as forceful in modifying an unjust tariff measure as it was forceful in framing that measure.

RADICALISM'S STRANGE BEDFELLOWS.

Perhaps the most interesting factor in the wave of self-examination that has been passing over the United States in the last three or four years is the attitude of the men of large fortunes. Men who might naturally be expected to resent fiercely the intrusion of government in the distribution of the world's wealth, to fight to the last ditch any social control of the individual, to stand unswervingly as proponents of things as they are—these men are not only calling attention to social unrest but are proposing remedies that in the mouths of radicals would be jeered at by press and politics. Phrases that a few years ago were known only to people with red shirts, flowing ties and wild eyes today are uttered in ordinary fashion by railroad presidents, trust heads and "captains of industry" generally.

E. H. Gary and George W. Perkins have long been familiar in this role. Now comes Daniel Guggenheim, head of the American Smelting and Refining Company. Testifying before the federal commission on industrial relations in New York, he advocated the taxation of large fortunes on the death of their owners to aid the poor, the establishment of government agencies to find work for the unemployed, and old-age pensions. Also he spoke emphatically in favor of the eight-hour day and of the right of workers to organize. Further he said he wants to see a more extended "industrial democracy," in which workers might receive a portion of the profits derived from the product of their labor.

He was asked directly if he did not realize that these remedies were included in the principles of the Socialist party. He said that he did and that he favored them anyway.

Can you imagine a capitalist of two decades ago talking that way? Can you imagine the associates of Mark Hanna advocating a tax on large fortunes? Social unrest! Industrial democracy! Fancy those words in the mouth of a Wall street man of 1890!

The world does indeed seem to be going radicalism-mad. Can it be that the reconstitution of society is to be brought about not by the agitators, not by the discontented, but by those whom the present system benefits?

One doesn't have to be frivolous to construct a fantastic mental picture of the social revolution led by Captains of Industry.

WELL WORTH IT.

An additional appropriation of $15,000 by the coming legislature, to bring a large party of congressmen and other public officials to Hawaii this spring, will be money well spent if it results in giving the congressmen an accurate idea of Hawaii's conditions and Hawaii's needs.

All that Hawaii asks—all that this territory needs to ask—is a fair, thorough inspection of the industrial situation here. If that does not result in a suspension or an abrogation of the "free sugar" clause, nothing will.

Delegate Kuhio's suggestions are timely. One of the first duties of the legislature should be to take them up for consideration.

Honolulu's businessmen are already carrying out the plan recommended by President Wilson at the meeting yesterday of the National Chamber of Commerce in Washington. The Chamber of commerce of Honolulu has a legislative committee organized and practically at work now for the purpose of cooperating with the governor and legislature during the coming session. We may also take credit to ourselves that this plan has been followed for a good number of past legislative sessions in Hawaii.

Chancellor David Starr Jordan says that President Wilson would not be refused were he to offer his services as a peace mediator just now. No, not refused—just kindly and diplomatically thrust aside.

Simultaneously with the rise in the price of foodstuffs, there is an exodus of waiters from American to join the Greek army. No wonder the cost of living is setting altitude records.

A Russian soldier, a veteran of nineteen battles, has been found to be a woman. It will probably be hard for her to go back to afternoon bridge and presiding at the samovar.

The muscular gentleman who exercised his biceps beating his wife will now have sixty days of opportunity for even more strenuous exercise.

Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island hints that there won't be any "free sugar" in 1916. But there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the Lippitt.

Senator-elect Harding couldn't have a better introduction in Hawaii than as a man who believes in a square deal for the sugar producer.

Director-general Dougherty wants to wallop the Carnival knockers. All right. But every man with a suggestion is not a knocker.

It's hard enough to get a paving laid that will stay, without having holes chopped in it, even for Carnival purposes.

Pulling down unsightly fences is a great deal more to the point than trying to pull down neat billboards.

It's safe to say that there won't be any political fences torn down next Tuesday.

The Turks are beginning to wonder who put the grand slam over on Islam.

The kaiser's ban on duelling evidently did not extend to artillery duels.

Mexico will issue a book in seven colors, most of which run.

These days perhaps not even the Smart child knows its own lawyer.

Herr Van Horn jumped into the spotlight in a hurry.

Seventeen more days till the Carnival opens.

Cracow is still uncracked.

Get The Carnival Spirit A Talk With The Director-General

By JAMES D. DOUGHERTY,
Director-General Mid-Pacific Carnival.

Let us begin now with a sermon on behalf of the Carnival spirit. Within a short time we will all join in the opening of the celebration. The events which will be given from time to time during the Carnival week have been carefully planned out by men who have given a great deal of their time to make these events a success.

But the fact remains that they cannot and will not be the success we wish unless we all get the Carnival spirit. It takes that enthusiasm and "hurrah" attitude to make this or any other celebration of the kind a success. The men who have the Carnival in charge can work as hard as they wish, and spend all the fortune of the Yukon, and yet if the people stand around, calmly and indifferently, as if they were on a coroner's jury, and fail to respond the celebration will go down on the records as a dismal and signal failure.

The Carnival will be given the people practically as outlined now in the program. There will be few changes, and what changes are made will be minor. There will be the masked ball—the Mardi Gras ball—the military parade, the children's chorus and dances, and all other events. Each particular feature on the program promises to excel any other similar feature last year. In other words, the program this year is more promising than the one of 1914.

But what we must have, and what the committeemen cannot themselves give, is public enthusiasm. The Carnival spirit is another way of putting it. Strangers coming here for our different celebrations have remarked on the lack of apparent enthusiasm among the people, the apparent dislike of applause and loud, joyous shouting. Their observation, I think, has not been incorrect. We have not, for some reason or other, caught in full that Carnival spirit which permeates New Orleans, Los Angeles and San Francisco, on occasions of like nature. I name these particular cities being the first ones to come to mind.

In the last few years we have evinced more of this desired spirit. But we haven't enough yet. There is no reason that I am aware of why the people of Honolulu should not show their appreciation and enthusiasm in the same way as people of other cities do,—no reason why they should not shout, and laugh and applaud and fall into the spirit of Carnival as completely as is done in New Orleans, say.

Such a display of happiness is really the highest reward the workers for the celebration receive. It is worth all the time and pains and thought put into the Carnival to see the people enjoying themselves and showing it in this splendidly human way. And when we come to think of it there is no reason—not even esthetic ones—why the people should not thus show their appreciation and enthusiasm. On the other hand there is every reason why they should.

While the opening of the Carnival is still several days off, I wanted to make this—did I call it sermon? I wanted to ask the people to cooperate with the directors and committeemen, and give us this support when the celebration opens—the Carnival spirit.

Personal Mention

JOHN L. HAMILTON of Cleveland is expected to visit here shortly with a large party of friends.

T. M. DRUESBURY of Hartford, Conn., has written friends that he expects to visit Hawaii this summer. He is a prominent manufacturer.

ELMER M. O'BRIEN, formerly of Honolulu and now homesteading on Kauai, is a visitor in the city on business connected with the proposed railroad extension through the Kapaa district.

CHARLES R. FORBES, superintendent of public works, goes to Hilo on the Matsonia today to inspect the repair work progressing on the Kuhio bay wharf. He will return on the same steamer Sunday morning.

C. J. WHEELER, pineapple planter of Pukukae, is in the Kahuku hospital today suffering from injuries which he received in a runaway accident near Waimea, Oahu, Tuesday evening. He is reported to be rapidly recovering.

MRS. ALICE SMYTHE BURTON JAY, local pianist, announced yesterday that she will claim that the chorus of "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" composed by Harry Williams and Jack Judge, was stolen from a copyrighted song she wrote in 1908 at the Yakima apple show.

FREDERICK L. HOFFMAN, statistician of the Prudential Insurance Company of America and one of the country's foremost actuaries, will arrive in Honolulu March 3 for a two weeks' stay. He will spend his time investigating race mortality in the islands. He also will visit the leper colony on Molokai. Arrangements are being made by the Insurance Club of Hawaii to entertain Mr. Hoffman.

TRANSPORT LOGAN IS BRINGING OFFICERS FOR LOCAL GARRISON

The transport Thomas, due to arrive from San Francisco about Feb. 13, has on board the following officers for Honolulu and Manila:

For Honolulu—1st Lieut. John M. True, 1st Infantry; 1st Lieut. C. S. Gee, C. E.; 2nd Lieut. C. W. Chipman, 5th Cavalry; 2nd Lieut. John E. Hatch, 5th F. A.

CARNIVAL LEIS NOW ON DISPLAY

A window full of leis—Carnival leis—yellow with a thin streamer of green coiled around them—is now displayed by the decoration committee of the Mid-Pacific Carnival in a show window of E. O. Hall & Son.

"These are samples of the thousands of leis which will be used during the Carnival," said Emil Berndt, chairman of the decoration committee, today. "We have put them in the window so that everybody may see them before they are put on sale. They are the official Carnival leis and are well worth seeing."

DON'T GIVE UP.

If fortune frowns upon your labors,
Keep right on;
If hard it seems to win her favors
Keep right on;
If hard your climb, if drear the day,
Should dark clouds gather on your way,
At such a time, my friend, I say
Don't give up, keep on.

Should all the world seem hard and cold,
Keep right on;
'Tis just the time you needs be bold,
Keep right on;
Face every storm with head held high,
Those storms then, friend, will pass you by;
And, passing, leave a clearer sky;
Don't give up, keep on.

What matter, friend, if fools may scoff,
Keep right on;
The smooth road lies beyond the rough,
Keep right on;
Fortune will smile on you then,
She's frowned, then smiled, on many men,
So if you fall, get up again;
Don't give up, keep on.

EXTRA! NEW LIGHT ON WAR THROWN BY PRZEPLYNELA!!

Honolulu, Feb. 1, 1915.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: In view of your recent editorial remarks as to Przemysl, I would call your attention to the enclosed clipping from a Slavic newspaper:

Wtem cos zalsnito w poblizu palacu i raki ujrzaly obrazy rybe, ktora plynela wprzet do palacowch krugankow. Raki zlozily kleszcze przy glowie i ryba przeplynela miedzy nimi. Zatrzymala sie przed srebrnymi podwojami palacu i uderzyła o nie.

Please note particularly the statement about "kleszcze przy glowie i ryba przeplynela." Doubtless you will dissent from this view, but I feel sure that mature reflection as to the exact nature of "wprost" as applied to "palacowch" will give rise to grave doubts in your mind as to the correctness of your attitude towards the unfortunate Przemysl. You will notice that the author distinctly says "wprost DO palacowch." Of course, this positive statement is slightly modified in the following sentence where he so aptly uses the euphonious word "zlozily" as qualifying the pyzy glowie of the przeplynela.

At all events I believe that a careful reading of this clipping will throw an entirely new light on the causes of the war and the hatred of the Teuton for the Slav.

STAR-BULLETIN SPECIAL EDITION HIGHLY LAUDED BY COLORADO NEWSPAPER

Here is what the Delta, Colo., Independent says of the Star-Bulletin's Hawaii-Panama edition:

"The Independent has just received a copy of the Industrial edition of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, the publication being a complete product of the Star-Bulletin office, dated December 18, 1914.

"This edition is one of the best publications that we have ever seen. It contains over 150 pages of the size 9x14, with a handsome cover printed in a number of colors. The general get-up of the edition is grand, together with the beautiful natural colored inserts added, places the publication in the high ranks.

"Every industry on the islands is handled in an able and intelligent manner. The sugar industry, the many plantations of other sorts, the army, the ship and transportation facilities, the power and light service, the railroads and every other industry including a summary of the buildings and factories, are treated in an excellent manner.

CARNIVAL DECORATORS MUST REPAVE STREETS TORN UP FOR POLES

After considerable discussion over the right of City Engineer Whitehouse to grant permission to the Carnival Decorating Company to dig holes in the pavement for posts a compromise was effected today and the posts will be installed as a part of the unit decorating system.

J. A. Gilman, local representative of Warrentite and bitulthic paving, complained because the Carnival decorating concern was digging holes in pavement on which he had signed a guaranty. It developed that the permit was issued by C. A. Widemann, chief clerk to Whitehouse, with the provision that the city was to repair the street after 30 days at the expense of the decorating company. The latter concern has filed a $1500 bond to secure its part of the contract.

Whitehouse has agreed to let Gilman repave the street where the holes are made at the expense of the decorating company.

HELP THE FENCE CAMPAIGN.

Honolulu, T. H., Feb. 4, 1915.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: I was much pleased to see in your paper last evening that the Ad Club had taken up the subject of fences.

It is to be hoped that the people of Honolulu will enter into the campaign with much enthusiasm, as it is one that every individual would benefit by. Just now, the style and assortment that decorates our principal thoroughfares would rival Helms's "57" varieties. This hibiscus hedge is much admired by tourists, is easily obtained and cultivated, and if possessed have their property individually their own why not have the boundary line at least artistic?

I would suggest that each householder should make the effort to conform to the majority of residences on his block, provided it would add to the attractiveness of the block--if not--be the pioneer that submerges his identity in a "fenceless" hedge-growing park, that will add a hundred-fold to the beauty and therefore to the assets of Honolulu.

Yours for "fence day."

readers of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, after they read the account of the murder of William De Friesse in the issue of Monday morning, February 1.

The securing of all evidence that prompts the police department to hold Benjamin Sinton as the one responsible for this outrageous deed was worked out and secured by A. McDuffie, captain of detectives of this department.

The reading of the article above mentioned would infer that I alone was responsible for the running down of this man Sinton, when, in fact, the case was turned over to Captain McDuffie by me about 45 minutes after the body of the murdered man was found, with the result that at 2:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon Sinton was held by this department for the murder of William De Friesse, a lapse of about 14 hours after taking hold of the case, which I consider excellent work on the part of Captain McDuffie when you take into consideration the fact that this was the time of holding the body, and that he also worked on.

This letter is not inspired for the fact of lending any, but merely from the spirit of giving credit to one to whom credit is due.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN W. WADMAN, ASCH,

BOOZE IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: In a written decision rendered some few days ago by one of our circuit judges in a case wherein a husband sues his wife for one-half of her property on the ground that he had advanced one-half of the purchase price, the facts stated by the judge are as follows:

"The plaintiff is an African, 45 years of age; the defendant is a Portuguese, 35 years of age. The defendant had been previously married and had three children, boys; the plaintiff married her about one week after he became acquainted with her. The evidence fails to show that he had any money or property whatever at the time he was married, although he was 33 years of age. The defendant is a hard-working woman, who had in hand at the time of her marriage, according to plaintiff, about $54. She also had amounts due her from her former husband, possibly $150 and it may be more. She had her household goods. Still later she received from her father $425. The evidence in this case shows that she has remarkable ability in the acquiring and taking care of property. Every movement made in this direction by her seems to have been opposed by the plaintiff, and in the two investments that she made of buying and improving property, building houses, obtaining loans and paying them off, she was remarkably successful. The parties that she dealt with seem to have had much respect for her judgment and she made no mistakes. Her dealings were all fair and her gains were through her good judgment. The care of her home and of husband and children is not complained of. Not a single unkind act has been shown upon her part, while she has been the recipient of many; and this for the sole reason that she would not give up money to her husband to buy strong drink. The husband does not compare with the wife either intellectually or morally. He indulged himself liberally in the use of intoxicants. Commencing two months after the marriage and extending on up to the time he left his home in March, 1914, his abuse of his wife has been such that one would think it would not be tolerated in such a community as Honolulu. He has frequently beaten her; two or three times she has been carried to the hospital, the last time remaining here 13 days. I fully believe that had not his own counsel persuaded him to keep away from her home that he would have murdered her, and probably himself been executed for such murder before this time. He does not show any shame or contrition in regard to these beatings, but says on the witness stand that she deserved them. He is shown by the evidence to have been extremely brutal in the treatment of his wife, the cause always being that he asked money of her to buy strong drink, and she refused. There is not one instance of disagreement between them as stated by him and his witnesses, where the cause was anything different than here stated."

Following closely upon this carefully prepared decision on the part of one of our able judges, showing so clearly the havoc that strong drink is making among the homes of our people, causing wives and mothers to suffer, unspeakable hardship and pain, was a statement made only a few evenings ago in a public address by another judge presiding over a circuit court, to the effect that fully 90 per cent of all the cases coming to his court are directly traceable to strong drink. The name of the judge is well known. He is making a record for just and upright rulings while the star he takes on all questions where the public welfare is concerned commends itself to the intelligent public of Honolulu. Nor is he a gentleman who speaks except after careful and matured thought as well as from honest conviction.

Yours sincerely,
JOHN W. WADMAN.

WAKE UP!

Honolulu, February 1, 1915.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Sir: "Keeping everlastingly at it" is a phrase that I have heard used in Honolulu a good many times, and in this connection it must be applied times without number, if Honolulu ever expects to keep pace with the rest of the world. Honolulu will grow commercially that's true, but oh how slow, unless she makes some move that will start the wedges under her keel and she shall get a move on.

We are face to face with the problem of being the "Cross-roads of the Pacific" in its true sense--that of furnishing ships with what they might desire in the line of commodities, that they may continue on their voyage to the Orient. And what are we going to do about it? Ships that call here for coal, fuel oil, water and other supplies not only want but must have a safe place to berth, and that is right where we are up against it. At the present time 17 ocean-going vessels will fill all the space available for dockage in the harbor of Honolulu, and as there are from five to seven occupying the berths along the waterfront daily one can see where we are going to "fall down" when the present war in Europe comes to an end and the ships of the world commence to come through the Panama canal on their way to the Orient and stop at Honolulu for their supplies.

Since November 17 to date there have been 18 big liners arrived here and transacted business with the port and went on their way. These ships all came through the Panama canal and were in addition to the regular lines that make this harbor a port of call.

As to furnishing the ships with needed supplies after they have been berthed the city has made some advance. Water can be furnished to ships at nearly every wharf right from the pipes or from the water boat. Coal can be delivered to all ships and fuel oil can be furnished from eight of the waterfront wharves.

It is the consensus of opinion of the shipmasters that visit this port that we are letting slip through our fingers the greatest coup or business opportunity through inaction. We know that San Francisco is making a bid for the very business that we should have and will have if there is a spark of get-a-move-on in the embers of that prosperity fire that at times flashes up here and then subsides.

It is no secret that Nanaimo, B. C., is making a bid for the very business that Honolulu thinks is as good as secured. And Nanaimo is making things hum in her endeavor to place an attractive proposition before the world in regard to having ships call there for supplies. We may think of Nanaimo as away off up in the north some place, and would have no chance against what we have to offer. Consult the distances on the chart and be appraised of the fact that Nanaimo is only a matter of 200 miles further on the voyage from Panama to Yokohama than from Panama to Yokohama via Honolulu.

Hawaii is the logical point; the real cross-roads. Shipmasters have been consulted for many months regarding the different points on the Pacific where ships may replenish their needed supplies in coal, fuel oil, water, etc., and they all, with no exception, favor Hawaii on account of its geographical position which guarantees fine weather at any season of the year, while along the parallels of latitude that embrace Nanaimo are to be found bad weather, fogs, head winds and other atmospheric conditions that sea captains class as "nasty," and this at all seasons of the year.

Honolulu has but to get busy to get a "lead pipe clinch" on the immense amount of business that will offer. What is the first requisite of Honolulu to place herself in a position to make a bid for ocean business, and in the event of capturing it, make good? More wharf space is the answer. There is no new idea being advanced when it is suggested that Kalia bay might be employed in the scheme of enlarging the harbor area to increase the docking facilities. While the dredging, clearing and wharfing of Kalia bay may seem to be beyond us in connection with our financial status at the present time, we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that we have "lots of room for improvement" with the area now acquired. Rebuild channel wharf. It is useless in its present state. Carry out the scheme of the two coal wharves where the marine railway now operates. Build Piers 8 and 9 between Fort street and Alakea wharf. This last construction alone, situated as it is right on the principal center of our waterfront will make berths for five more large, seagoing steamships that can be accommodated at the present time. If it is thought that the Kalia bay scheme is beyond our means certainly the construction needed right on our waterfront is not. Before the Panama canal opened to traffic there have been many times when ships desiring to transact business with the port of Honolulu could not do so for the want of docking facilities and must wait for days or sail away to another port.

What are we waiting for? The area that would comprise Piers No. 8 and No. 9, between Alakea wharf and Fort street, has been dredged, cleared, surveyed and the plans and specifications made for the new piers that are to be of concrete and steel. Honolulu needs wharfing facilities a blamed sight more than she needs a new road up to Tantalus. Inquiry has brought the fact to light that with berthing facilities a ship can call at Honolulu, be placed in a berth, given her demands in coal, fuel oil or water and any other supplies that she may want and sent on her way in the space of a few hours.

Honolulu has not seen an atom of the trade that will be hers with proper management, that will come through the big canal, and probably will not until the big conflict is finished. Are we ready for any such volume of business with a lot of broken and rotting wharves and the center of the city's waterfront for 1270 feet in an unfinished condition and worse than useless to the shipping that must come?

What are we waiting for? Possibly waiting for some Aladdin to come along and rub his lamp. In the meantime, keep your eye on Nanaimo and San Francisco.

BATTERED CAMINO DEFENDER IN PORT NEW MOTOR-SHIP AWAITS COMING OF SUCCOR IS SAVED AFTER HARD FIGHT COMPETES WITH STEAM CRAFT

News received on the Coast concerning the California relief ship Camino, which sent out a call of distress, was to the effect that the steamer was 300 miles off Halifax, with her rudder, decks and anchors gone. The British steamer Kanawha was reported to be standing by while the United States revenue cutter Androscooggin and the Lady Laurier of the Canadian government were on their way to succor the vessel.

The owner of the Camino, R. H.
Swayne of San Francisco, is in New York and received a communication from the captain of the steamer concerning her condition, stating that she was expected in the port of Halifax Wednesday and that arrangements for her repair had been made.
The Camino is laden with a cargo of 4000 tons, given by the state of California for the relief of Belgium.
The cargo is valued at $300,000, according to the Commission, and is the largest contribution of any state thus far. The steamship and cargo are fully covered by insurance.

IF HEADACHY, DIZZY, BILIOUS, "CASCARETS"

Your Liver is full of Bile; Bowels
Clogged, Stomach Sour, Tongue
Coated, Breath Bad

Get a 10-cent box now.
You're bilious, you have a throbb-ing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physic that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never grip or sicken—advertisement.

At a banquet at the Chicago Athletic Association, Chicago, Dr. Richard J. Tiven defined bile as a disease. Its name is anaphraxia.

The schooner Defender, which went on a reef off Lanai, is safe in the harbor here.

With rudder cut of commission and many feet of shoe and keel ground to splinters while pounding on the Keo-moku reef, the schooner arrived in tow of the Matson Navigation tug Intrepid, with the United States revenue cutter Thetis bringing up the rear.

Despite a pessimistic report concerning the vessel's plight received at the local branch of Hind, Rolph & Co. to whom it is chartered, the Defender was successfully hauled off its dangerous position early yesterday morning.

Young Brothers' sea-going tug Ma-kaha had left for Honolulu when the Intrepid and the Thetis again took lines from the Defender and began to pull. Two hours before the high tide Capt. Erickson noted a gradual movement to deeper water. A constant strain was maintained by the two steam vessels, with the result that the Defender slowly moved off the rocks and was soon riding on the gentle swell then prevailing off shore.

The Defender is reported to be entirely free of water. Although it remained on the Keomoku reef for about 24 hours the bottom is said to be intact. The vessel now lies at a berth at the Channel wharf awaiting advice from its owners. The presence of the submarines on the Inter-Island floating drydock may delay the repairs which have to be made before it can proceed to San Francisco.

HARBOR NOTES

The Inter-Island steamer Claudine from Maui ports brought 1368 sacks of sugar, 56 sacks of taro, 17 sacks of peanuts, 23 sacks of potatoes, 31 sacks of beans, 10 barrels of wine, 63 crates chickens, 13 hogs and 115 packages sundries. The vessel met with rough weather off the Maui coast.

The American-Hawaiian freighter Georgian is reported to be delayed in making a return cargo of sugar. The vessel was yesterday at Kahului, where a portion of the shipment of product destined for the east coast of the United States was placed on board. The Georgian will complete cargo at Hilo.

The war will delay the payment of the insurance on the ship and cargo lost in the sinking of the American-Hawaiian steamer which went down off the Delawares breakwater with a cargo of sugar and pineapples worth a million dollars. One-tenth of the insurance carried on the ship and cargo was with foreign companies with offices in the countries at war. For this reason payment may be delayed some time.

Logan for Coast Tomorrow.

The United States army transport Logan will be dispatched for San Francisco tomorrow afternoon, according to schedule. The Logan is steaming from Manila for Honolulu and San Francisco by way of Nagasaki, Japan. The vessel was supplied with several thousand tons of coal at the Japanese port. A late wireless message received by the local army quartermaster department from the Logan states the transport may arrive here at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

A motor-ship of the type which threatens to succeed the steam vessel as the latter did the windjammer, and named after the port of San Francisco, will shortly come to the Coast in the service of the Johnson line, according to an announcement made by H. E. Moore, traffic manager of W. R. Grace & Co., Pacific coast agents for the new service which is to connect the Golden Gate with Scandinavian ports.

At the present time four motor-ships are engaged in the Johnson line service between Scandinavia and San Francisco, via the canal and intermediate ports. In addition to these, three new vessels, each with a cargo capacity of 7000 tons, are now under construction in the old country. The San Francisco is one of these. The motor-ship Kronprinz "Gustaf Adolf," which inaugurated the service, was despatched by Grace & Co. for home several weeks ago laden with a capacity cargo of California and Pacific coast products. The next ship in the service to come to the Coast will be the Pacific, due late this month.

The San Francisco will be similar to several other motor-craft already turned out for the company. It has been clearly demonstrated that motor-ships can be operated at a great saving over coal or oil burners, and owners or agents are thus enabled to associate business for this port which might otherwise be unavailable. The motive power is generated by Diesel engines operating wind screws, and without reduction in speed there is the added feature of increased cargo space.

A FLEET OF OIL TANKERS

Can you imagine 60 large oil tank steamers coming into Honolulu harbor, each tanker loaded with 40,000 barrels of oil? This amount represents the yearly contract just closed with the Associated and Standard Oil Companies of California—two and one-half million barrels.

Four years ago, after making a careful and exhaustive investigation of the Lakeview No. 2 Oil Company's prospects to deliver the goods, I decided to sell their stock in Hawaii. It was at that time simply a hole in the ground, but with every prospect of success. My friends and others bought stock in the company solely through confidence in my statement. The company, later on, brought in the largest oil well ever discovered in the United States. They have on hand over 3, 000,000 barrels of oil in surface reservoirs and an unlimited supply under ground.

My satisfaction, after many months of anxiety, is that the stockholders' confidence was not misplaced.

Four hundred shares former selling price $100, are now worth TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLARS, this big profit only being possible in the oil business, and explains John D. Rockefeller's great accumulation of wealth. Our first dividend is payable March 15. I look for this stock to go to $10 per share within twelve months.

Men or women, if you wish to better your condition in life and be-somebody, now is your opportunity.
I predict that if you buy some of this stock, you can drive your own automobile and live on easy street. Why not? Read this advertisement over again, then come and see me.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

STANFORD PRESIDENT THINKS EUROPE RIPE FOR PEACE.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 4.—Chancellor David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford University, in an address yesterday, said that conditions in Europe have now shaped themselves so that the president of the United States may offer his services as a mediator in the war and that his offer will not be refused. He denounced the war as utterly useless to humanity and civilization, and made the statement that Holland, while obliged to remain upon a war footing, desires nothing so much as to remain at peace.

VIENNA REPORTS RUSSIAN REVERSE.

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 4.—The Russian troops were defeated by an Austrian army at Beskid pass, in the Carpathian mountains, with heavy losses in killed and wounded. The enemy lost 1000 prisoners, and a number of machine guns were captured.

CANADIANS ON GUARD AGAINST DYNAMITERS.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 4.—The Canadian parliament will open today. As a result of the attempt made on Tuesday by a German sympathizer to dynamite an international bridge, the authorities will take precautions against a possible attack. Extra armed guards will be placed over the parliament building.

TURKS DEFEAT SMALL RUSSIAN FORCE, IS REPORT.

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 4.—A Turkish victory over the Russian army in the Caucasus is reported in despatches from Constantinople.

The Turkish headquarters announce that a Russian detachment made an attack upon the Turks at Erivan, north of the Persian border, and that the attack was repulsed with heavy loss to the Russians.

The Turks then delivered successful attacks against a Russian force, consisting of two battalions winning a complete victory.

TURKS FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO CROSS SUEZ CANAL.

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 4.—Turkish forces were defeated yesterday in two attempts to cross the Suez canal into Egypt. One attempt was made at El Kantara, north of Ismailia, and the other at Toussoum, near the Old Bitter lakes.

BREAD RIOTS IN SARDINIA: STORES SACKED.

ROME, Italy, Feb. 4.—Bread riots in the island of Sardinia are increasing.

HOW SOLDIERS LIVE AND FIGHT IN THE TRENCHES

LONDON, Feb. 4.—When it rains the trenches are half filled with water. The cold is always of the damp, penetrating, dreadful kind that chills to the very marrow. Hot food is served three times a day to the men in the trenches by other soldiers, who scurry like rabbits through long uncovered tunnels running back from the works concealing the guns.

These men in the trenches must have good food in order that they can have good blood, and if they have good blood, they have good courage, they keep warm because their circulation is good and their extremities are warm from exercise. Many men are invalided, however, because their blood and their stomach were not right to withstand the awful hardships of this winter campaign.

When you do not properly digest your food your blood becomes thin and every organ of the body soon feels the effect. The result is—headaches, sleeplessness, nervousness and many other symptoms—due to accumulation of poisons in the body. Unless the stomach is given aid at this stage—more serious illnesses follow. Now is the time to help your weakened stomach—now is the time to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (in tablet or liquid form). It has the same power to set you right as it has been proved to have in thousands of other cases. It will help your stomach so that the food you eat will nourish and sustain you and make good reviving blood. It will enable you to get rid of the waste a sluggish liver and irregular bowels have permitted to accumulate in your system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is composed of known native healing remedial roots and herbs with no alcohol nor narcotic drugs to give you harmful habits. It can now be obtained in tablet or liquid form from dealers, or send 50 stamps for box of tablets.

Address: Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

The high price of bread has seriously affected the poorer population, and the agitation growing out of this is assuming a graver character.

At Sassari, capital of the province of that name, in northern Sardinia, mobs again paraded the streets yesterday and broke into and sacked stores and bake-shops.

To prevent the further spread of these disorders the small garrison at that place will be increased, and troops have been ordered to proceed there without delay.

GREECE MOBILIZING.

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 4.—Despatches received here yesterday from Greece report that the Greek military establishment, which has been maintained partly on a war footing, is now being mobilized for war, simultaneously with the preparations going on in Roumania. These two nations had been negotiating with Bulgaria with a view to arriving at some understanding that would cause that country to remain neutral.

SALE AT SILVA'S SETS PRECEDENT AND GETS CROWD

It was quite an event in local merchandising, when Silva's Toggery determined to have a sale—for this haberdashery has never previously had a sale. However, the store did have a surplus of stock that it needed to dispose of, in order to make room for new spring goods. Mr. Silva determined to break all precedents and hold a two weeks sale. In the three and one-half days already gone a good many people have taken advantage of the fair bargains.

There has been no sacrifice in quality, of course—Hart Schaffner & Marx suits are staples, as are Knox hats and other nationally advertised goods the Toggery sells—and good dressers have been able to add to their wardrobe at a considerable saving in money.

The sale continues until the 15th—and many lines have been added to the original ones, in order to make a well-balanced sale.

HOW TO SAVE YOUR EYES

Try This Free Prescription.

Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time. Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as if by magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wideawake drug store and get a bottle of Optona tablets; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one tablet and allow it to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment, but marginally effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes and you are likely to thank us as long as you live for publishing this prescription.—Adv.

SEVERANCE AND HARDING GUESTS AT BAR BANQUET

Hawaii's Aloha Extended to Distinguished Visitors at Dinner Given by Lawyers

Attorney C. A. Severance of St. Paul and Senator-elect Warren G. Harding of Ohio were guests of honor and speakers at the banquet given by the Bar Association of Hawaii at the University Club last night. Nearly fifty local barristers attended.

President C. R. Hemenway of the association acted as toastmaster and addresses of welcome extending Hawaii's aloha were made by Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson, D. L. Withington, Judge S. B. Dole and Lorrin Thurston.

Attorney Severance entered into a general discussion of judicial and legal affairs of the country as well as international matters, touching briefly on the peculiar condition confronting the United States at the present time.

Senator Harding spoke at some length on legislation, making the comment that the lawmakers at last appear to be getting away from the freak measures which in the last 25 or 30 years have encumbered the statute books. The people are coming back, he said, to the elementary ideas and ideals in law anticipated by the constitution. He urged the maintenance of a high standard among the members of the bench and bar, to the end that the tendency toward the recall of the judiciary may be checked because unnecessary.

He touched lightly on the sugar tariff situation, remarking that he believed Hawaii faced conditions similar to the beet sugar industry of the state of Michigan, which only the European war had saved from annihilation. Both speakers were interrupted frequently by applause.

Those present at the dinner were Senator W. G. Harding, W. W. Frear, Judge R. P. Quarles, William R. Castle, Judge S. B. Dole, C. R. Hemenway, Attorney C. A. Severance, John W. Cathcart, Judge E. M. Watson, Judge C. F. Clemons, Judge A. G. M. Robertson, D. L. Withington, W. F. Stanley, B. L. Marx, Lorrin Andrews, Major D. B. Case, E. A. Mott-Smith, E. W. Sutton, Judge W. L. Whitney, R. B. Anderson, L. J. Warren, W. A. Greenwell, A. M. Brown, E. A. Douthitt, W. J. Robinson, J. A. Magoon, A. L. Castle, W. B. Lymer, L. A. Thurston, W. C. Parke, R. W. Breckons, C. F. Peterson, A. P. STOMACH TROUBLES DUE TO ACIDITY

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and yawns that fill, oppressive feelings, sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M.
